Glasgow Post Office Closed

Postal Inspector Plummer of Wilmington, was in Newark on Monday and stated that the post-office at Glasgow, is to be discontinued.

Mr. Plummer said he thought the office had been there for about one hundred years. Z. T. Harris, who was elected State Senator last month, recently resigned as postmaster and it was then that the government decided to discontinue the office.

Inspector Plummer stated that Glasgow is now entirely surrounded by rural delivery service from Newark, Elkton and Porters Station. After the discontinuance, arrangements for which are now being made, the Glasgow mail will be thrown at Porters, as the rural carrier from there already serves the Glasgow Postoffice. There will be no change in his schedule or route. A U. S. mail box will be placed in front of Albrecht's store in Glasgow.

Inspector Plummer also visited Bear Station this week relative to recommending the appointment of a postmaster to succeed Mr. Burris, resigned.

Engineer Hatton Meets With Sewer Commission

By invitation, Engineer Hatton of Wilmington, met last Friday evening with the new Sewer Commission and discussed plans for the installation of a plant here.

Nothing definite was given out except that the Committee engaged Mr. Hatton to present tentative plans and offer suggestions in drawing a bill suitable to the needs of the town, to be presented to the main session of the General Assembly. As soon as these plans are completed, Mr. Hatton will meet again with the Committee. Following this, a citizens' meeting will be held and the subject brought up for public discussion.

Mr. Hatton will likely be present and explain the proposed system and point out its merits.

There is much rivalry between the two classes. The sophomores won in the annual rush, but the first year boys have the annual football game to their credit. In addition to the boxing and wrestling bouts there will be a number of other athletic events.

New Century Club News

(By The Press Correspondent.)

This week the New Century Club met at the home of Mrs. J. P. Wright.

A short business session was held, during which, owing to the absence of the president, the vice-president, Mrs. Wm. Evans, presided.

The Club was then entertained by the hostess, when familiar and amusing games were played in progression.

Miss Buealoh Thompson and Mrs. Eastburn were the fortunate prize winners.

The house was very beautifully decorated with Christmas trimmings.

After enjoying abundant refreshments, the Club adjourned until after the holidays, Jan. 6th.

Preparing For Corn Show

It is the desire of the Corn Growers' Association to have its exhibition in conjunction with the fruit exhibit of the Peninsula Horticultural Society, which will be held on January 13 and 14 in the DuPont auditorium, as well as continuing the corn show the three days following.

The exhibits will have to be arranged to allow ample space for meetings of the Horticultural Society and Corn Growers' Association.

WEDDINGS

SCOTT-BOUCHELLE.

A pretty little wedding took place last Wednesday afternoon at the Head of Christian Church, the contracting parties being Mr. Wilmer H. S. Bouchelle and Miss Agatha R. Scott, both of Cecil County, Md.

They were accompanied by the groom's brother, Mr. Henry W. Bouchelle, as best man, and Miss Minnie B. Bouchelle, a cousin of the groom's, as bridesmaid. The ring ceremony was used, Rev. A. Van Overen officiating.

Mr. Warren of Elk Mills drove the wedding party to the church in his automobile, after the ceremony continuing to Wilmington, where the young people took their train.

Mr. and Mrs. Bouchelle have returned to the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Scott, where they will reside for a few months, until the completion of their new home on a farm near Rock Church.

GODWIN-FRAZER.

Frank A. Godwin and Miss Elizabeth Frazer of Covington were quietly married at the Head of Christiana parsonage by the Rev. A. Van Overen, on December 11th.

Mr. and Mrs. Godwin will reside on the Bower farm near town.

Granges' Appreciation Of Athletic Field

One of the last acts of the State Grange in session here last week was to pass resolutions expressing appreciation of the gift of the Frazer Athletic Field to the College. The resolutions as adopted follow:

WHEREAS: the State Grange in annual session met, has just learned of the magnificent gift of an athletic field to Delaware College by the parents and brother of the late Joe Frazer; and

WHEREAS: This marks the first private gift to Delaware College, be it therefore resolved that the State Grange expresses its appreciation to Mr. E. B. Frazer for this beautiful memorial to his lamented son, and

Be It Further Resolved: that it is the opinion of the State Grange of Delaware that Delaware College is worthy of gifts that have for their intent the welfare of the young of our State.

SOCIAL DOINGS

Mr. and Mrs. E. S. Armstrong of Cooches' Bridge, were visitors to Philadelphia last week and attended the Opera Tuesday evening, as the guests of their daughter, Mrs. James G. Duffy, whose husband is the editor of the Philadelphia Press.

Mr. and Mrs. Alfred A. Curtis entertained delightfully at bridge and 500 last Thursday evening in honor of Capt. Robert Mearns, U. S. A. Miss Alice Kerr won the ladies' bridge prize—a handsome silver chess knife—and Mr. Joseph Hossinger was the winner of the gentleman's prize—a smoker's set.

The ladies' 500 prize—a beautiful cut glass dish—was captured by Mrs. Neale, while Mr. Wilbur Wilson was the successful gentleman and carried off the "Bridge Set," after which a buffet supper was served.

Mrs. Lee Cooch who is playing as a substitute this season, proved a hospitable hostess last Friday when she entertained the Bridge Club at her residence, Cooches Bridge.

Mr. and Mrs. John Penrose Wilson have issued cards for a large affair on Friday evening, Dec. 20, at their residence on Main street.

Miss Eleanor Harter is hostess to-day for the luncheon bridge Club which has been meeting every week.

Dr. W. Owen Sypherd entertained nine tables at 500 on Friday evening at the Sigma Phi fraternity. After refreshments were served, dancing was indulged in, adding much to the enjoyment of the young people.

Owing to the Penrose Wilson's party next Friday evening, the 500 Club changed their meeting from Wednesday to Monday evenings, when Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Hossinger were the genial host and hostess.

Members of the Omega Alpha entertained a number of young ladies very delightfully at their fraternity house on Main street, Friday evening last. Mrs. Nell Bennett chaperoned the party.

The High School students who took part in the play given last week tendered a surprise party to Mrs. Jane Murray, on Monday evening, in recognition and appreciation of her untiring efforts in coaching them, and which was largely responsible for the great success it proved to be. The "embryo actors and actresses" laden with edibles, proceeded to the Delaware Duncery in a hay wagon, where their arrival was a great surprise, but a cordial reception was given them. After spending a thoroughly enjoyable evening the party was voted as successful as the play.

Criticism Of Public Speakers

The December number of the Public Speaking Review contains an article by Dr. W. J. Rowan of Delaware College Faculty.

To the question, "Is there need of criticism in platform speaking?" the writer replies in the affirmative. He finds two serious defects common among prominent orators: (1) Carelessness in sentence construction with some grammatical blunders, and (2) The fault of mispronunciation.

Dr. Rowan believes no public speaker can afford to jeopardize the effect of his subject-matter by the habitual ignoring of these laws, and therefore it is to his interest to be criticised both privately and publicly, in order that he may see the error of his ways.

To Attend Services

The Junior Order of American Mechanics will attend services in the Episcopal church on the second Sunday in January.

By Order of Committee:

H. F. Smith,
A. K. Brooks,
Charles Medill.

College Basket Ball Schedule

Manager Byron R. Foster and Coach William J. McAvoy, have completed one of the most satisfactory schedules for the Delaware College basketball team, that the College has ever had. The schedule, which calls for the first game with Drexel Institute of Philadelphia, on Jan. 15, ends on March 7, with Washington College of Chestertown, Md., has been approved by the Faculty. There are twelve games on the schedule and all of them with possibly one or two exceptions will be played at home. The schedule follows:

January 15 (Wednesday) Drexel Institute at Home.

January 21 (Tuesday) Pratt Institute of Brooklyn, at Home.

January 21 (Tuesday) Franklin and Marshall, at Home.

January 24 (Friday) St. John's College of Annapolis, at Home.

February 7 (Friday) Gettysburg, at Home.

February 8 (Saturday) Alumni, at Home.

February 12 (Wednesday) Philadelphia College of Pharmacy, at Home.

February 15 (Saturday) Catholic University of Washington (pending).

February 20 (Thursday) Catholic University, at Home.

February 28 (Friday) Muhlenberg, at Home.

March 5 (Wednesday) Lebanon Valley (pending).

March 7 (Friday) Washington College, at Home.

While the candidates have had a little practice the real work will start when they return on January 6th, following the holidays. Coach McAvoy is pleased with the outlook for a fast team, notwithstanding the fact that Captain Sawdon and Cann are the only two letter men of last year's who are back at College this year. There are a number of the last year substitutes, however, who will be out, including McNeal, Foster, Dean, Gibney, McCafferty, and Hoch. It is the fine material in the freshman class that makes the prospects for the good team so bright. Hirsman, who made the Varsity football team and Harty and Kyle, who also played several games on the eleven, come to Delaware with good basketball records made in Preparatory schools. Daley, for several years a star on the Wilmington Friends School five, is looked on as almost sure of a place on the Varsity quintet. There will be a number of other candidates in addition to those mentioned. The fact of all games being played at home will no doubt be a great advantage and give the team confidence.

Purchases Thoroughbreds

James Smith, of Strickersville, visited the College Farm last week and purchased three registered Guernsey cows which are to form the foundation of his thoroughbred herd.

PECAN BALLS.

3 cups granulated sugar.
 1/2 cup Karo syrup (white).
 1 cup water.
 1 teaspoon vanilla.
 Few drops green candy coloring.
 Whites of 2 eggs.
 Put 2 cups of sugar, 1/2 cup syrup, 1/2 cup water in one pan. Put 1 cup sugar, 1/2 cup water in another pan. Beat whites to a stiff froth. When the second mixture forms on the bottom of a cup of water, pour into whites, beating briskly, and add vanilla. Let the first mixture boil until it forms a soft ball when dropped in water; add coloring and beat until stiff enough to stand when dropped on oiled paper. Put 1/2 pecan on each.

COCONUT KISSES.

1 grated coconut.
 3 cups granulated sugar.
 1 1/2 cups water.
 1 tablespoon white Karo syrup.
 1 teaspoon vanilla.
 Stir until dissolved. Cook quickly until it forms a soft ball in water test. Set aside until cold. Beat briskly. When the mixture thickens add the coconut. Drop from fork on oiled paper. It is best to prepare the coconut several days before using, so it will become dry.

BROWN SUGAR DIVINITY.

 1 cup maple syrup.
 1/2 cup white Karo syrup.
 1 1/2 cup water.
 1/2 teaspoon salt.

 Put sugar, syrup and maple syrup, water and salt into saucepan and stir until dissolved. Cook quickly until soft ball forms in cold water test. Pour into buttered pans and when cold cut into squares.

BOILED FONDANT.

4 cups granulated sugar.
 1 1/2 cups cold water.
 1/2 teaspoon cream of tartar.

Stir sugar and water together well. Put on back of stove till dissolved. Draw front. When boiling point is reached add cream of tartar. Cook quickly. As sugar boils, wipe sides of pan free from crystal. When a soft ball is formed by dropping in cold water, take from fire and pour in an earthen dish. Set aside till perfectly cold. Then beat with silver fork. When too stiff to handle with fork, knead with hand. Can be flavored to suit taste.

This fondant may be covered with a cloth tightly wrung from cold water, set in a covered dish, and kept for several days before molding into the various shapes for English walnuts, dates, grapes, etc.

CHOCOLATE NOUGATINES.

1 cup granulated sugar.
 1 1/4 cup white Karo syrup.
 1 1/2 cup honey strained.
 1/2 cup water.
 1/2 teaspoon salt.
 1/2 cake of Baker's Chocolate.
 Whites of 2 eggs.
 1 cup of nut meats. Any kind desired.
 Put sugar, honey, Karo, and water in sauce pan and beat till dissolved. Cook quickly. When soft ball is obtained by testing in cold water, pour slowly, beating all the time, on the stiffly beaten whites of eggs. Add 1 teaspoon vanilla and the chocolate which has been previously melted over hot water. When mixture begins to thicken add nuts and pour into buttered pans. When cold, cut into squares.

MAPLE WALNUTS.

1/2 cup milk.
 1 cup maple syrup.
 2 cups granulated sugar.
 Butter size of walnut.
 Put in saucepan, and stir till sugar and syrup are well mixed, then draw to the back of stove till dissolved. Boil quickly. Test by dropping in cold water. When soft ball is formed, pour on large meat platter, and let get perfectly cold. Then beat with silver fork until mixture will stand up when dropped on oiled paper. Drop from fork and put 1/2 of English walnut on top of each.

THE OPEN ROAD

My open Road leads not only to beauty, not only to fresh adventures in outer observation, I believe in the open Road in religion, in education, in politics; there is nothing really settled, feared in, nor finally decided upon this earth. Nothing that is not questionable. I do not mean that I would consciously tear down well-built fences or do away with established a "scale of values." By no means. The wisdom of past ages is a treasure richer than any hasty conclusions of mine. I would have a better person to follow my lead until I had won my way toward truth than that which time had set. I would have every man tread the Open Road; I would have him upon occasion question the smuggest sanctities and askance upon the most ancient habit. I would have him throw a doubt upon Newton and defy Darwin. I would have him look straight at men and nature with his own eyes. He should acknowledge no common gods unless he proved them gods for himself. The "equality of men" which we worship; is there not a higher inequality? The material progress which we defy; is it real progress? Democracy—is it after all better than monarchy? I would have him question the canons of art, literature, music, morals: SO WILL HE CONTINUE YOUNG AND USEFUL.

Most of us are in some respects drunkards. We don't give it so harsh a name, but we are just that. Drunkenness is not a mere matter of intoxicating liquors; it goes deeper—far deeper. Drunkenness is the failure of a man to control his thoughts. —David Grayson.

NEWARK MERCHANTS UP-TO-DATE

Newark is surely in holiday attire. The merchants are congratulated on the Christmas displays made this season. With few exceptions the window trimmings have the real city touch that is deserving of recognition. Never so well have Newark merchants met the demands of the holiday season. The "Shop at Home" idea can be put in practice with success and all should co-operate and show their appreciation to the merchants who have met this need. But even yet, far too many of our citizens feel it necessary to have the Chestnut Street Stamp on all their purchases. The package delivery from Philadelphia shows not only a lack of town and State pride but is illustrative of economic loss. A saving of time and money would be realized by buying at home. "If you can't get it in Newark, buy it in Wilmington." Keep the money in circulation at home.

IS THE POST WORTH WHILE?

Words of suggestion or criticism from those interested are always gratefully received. Some changes in the arrangement and make-up of The Post are being contemplated and we are asking for an expression of opinion from our readers. This paper is, in most part, a Newark institution. Its Editor and publisher has endeavored to keep himself in the background. With the exception of a small space wherein he expresses some of his personal views, the material used is unbiased news, and articles written by our good friends urging toward a betterment of our institutions and life. Not by virtue of any superior knowledge or peculiar fitness but because of our position, constantly rubbing up against the views of all classes, are we able to give at times the trend of opinion and perhaps sense the situation better than those in other walks of life. In an expression of this general opinion, Newark, like most rural communities too often presents a criticism as a personal reflection when in fact it is an honest opinion based on personal observation. To mention a town library, the sewer, to question the action of the School Board, to call attention to some slight neglect of the Board of Health, to question the wisdom of Council in their purchase of supplies, to smile at the Bull Moose 500 party—all these are considered a personal reflection on somebody's ancestral name or honor, rather than a kindly suggestion. And often the editor receives a severe rebuke from the "best people in the town, don't you know."

This is distinctly a rural view and is not a condition tending toward healthy progress. In this day of constant change and improvement, every public official and institution, worthy of the name, must accept with good grace, suggestions, and with resignation bear the criticism coming from an unselfish yet well intentioned public. There is, of course, a difference of opinion just how far the rural paper should go in suppressing news of public interest rather than the policy of "all the news that's fit to print." But the extreme rural citizen, prominent perhaps in his community resents public criticism of his acts and often shows his seclusion and inexperience by refusing an interview to the representative of the country weekly. This does not tend toward co-operation, without which the town cannot measure up to its possibilities. A country weekly is more than a business proposition. A live newspaper can be made an asset to the town. With the aid and co-operation of the citizens, the rural paper has a mission to fill. At least this is our opinion. Granting of course that the man behind the paper is willing to work and has common sense.

Admitting such for The Post if you can for the sake of argument, are you willing to help? Would you like to see more or fewer articles on questions of education? Would you consent to comment in print as you criticize in conversation, questions relative to town affairs? Would you like to have a series of letters from the "Old Man Around Town" or "Sparklets?" Would you like to have more rural news or social doings—which?

Shall we talk or "shut up" about the Sewer? Have you any features that we could make more prominent? Shall we continue to talk Board of Trade, Free Library, Y. M. C. A., Pool Rooms, etc.? Shall we dare criticize Council or even make a suggestion, if we hear one? Shall we ever print stern facts or merely go into rural-editor ecstasy over our foremost citizens and those most prominent socially in our midst?

It is not asking too much of our readers to consider these things for lots of us will never get a newspaper notice when we are except from the home paper. To wind up this call for "liter"—Is The Post worth while? If not—why not? If so—how can we improve it and will you help? Give us solid facts. We like them. (Small The Post continue)

Governor-elect Improving
Governor-elect Charles R. Miller is reported as much improved from his recent illness. At present, he is recuperating at the seashore but is expected to return home by the holidays. To date, he has received no callers except his immediate family. It is not likely that he will take up any subjects regarding his administration before the New Year.

Mr. H. S. Garrison, Delaware College, Agriculture, 1911, has been appointed superintendent of a branch truck Experiment Station on the Eastern shore of Virginia.

This is a new addition and Mr. Garrison will have a large part in developing both its scientific work and usefulness to the farmers of that section.

The ladies Missionary society of the first Presbyterian church will meet at the home of Mrs. Emma Jones on Thursday evening.

Principal R. F. Friedel has recovered from the severe cold which confined him to his home for several days last week.

PENNSYLVANIA RAILROAD

Bulletin.

CONVENIENT TRANSPORTATION FACILITIES

The Pennsylvania Railroad, by main lines, branches, subsidiary lines, and connections, covers the Eastern country so completely that the people of almost every community may avail themselves of its facilities.

The lines reach the cities, the big towns and the little towns, so that whether the impulse to travel be for business, pleasure, or social purposes, it may be satisfactorily carried out, as far as transportation facilities are concerned, by taking a Pennsylvania Railroad train at the nearest point.

Through cars are operated over the lines between all important centres of population, and an excellent dining car service is available at the usual hours for meals on the through trains. The all-steel equipment of the trains adds greatly to the security and comfort of passengers.

The spirit of the holiday season stimulates the wish to travel, and the facilities of the Pennsylvania Railroad and its connections appeal with equal force to the homecoming young folks and the migrating people of maturer years.

The comprehensive train service, apart from the local trains well known in each community, covers a wide extent of territory.

BETWEEN THE EAST AND THE WEST

There are splendid limited trains between New York, Philadelphia, Baltimore, Washington, Harrisburg, Altoona, Pittsburgh, and points in the West, notably Chicago and St. Louis. Included among these are the "BROADWAY LIMITED," the 20-hour train between New York and Chicago; the "24-HOUR ST. LOUIS," to St. Louis and Chicago; "THE PENNSYLVANIA LIMITED," to Chicago, St. Louis, Cleveland, and Cincinnati; and the "CHICAGO LIMITED," to Chicago, Cincinnati, and Cleveland. These are all Pullman trains and provide the highest grade of service. In addition there are a number of express trains to Chicago, St. Louis, Cincinnati, Louisville, Indianapolis, Columbus, Cleveland, Toledo, Detroit, and other important centres of the Middle West, which provide both Pullman and all-steel coach service. Among these are the "Chicago Special," "Chicago Express," "St. Louis Express," "Western Express," and the "Cleveland, Cincinnati, and Chicago Express."

TO THE SOUTH

Those contemplating a trip South, to the resorts of the Carolinas, Georgia, Florida, and the Gulf Coast, will find a number of fine trains between the important terminal cities of the Pennsylvania Railroad; and cars to the more important cities of the South, running through from and to New York via Washington, Baltimore, and Philadelphia. On January 6, 1913, the through Limited Trains between New York and Florida will be placed in service.

COMMERCIAL CENTERS LINKED

An examination of the time tables of the Pennsylvania Railroad will show that practically all important commercial centres on its lines and connections are linked by through trains, through cars, or convenient connections, affording accommodating service.

Anyone who wishes to go anywhere should consult the nearest Ticket Agent of the Pennsylvania Railroad. He can give all the information a traveler requires.

A Christmas Souvenir will be given to each customer during Christmas week.

It is a common and well known fact to make punishments fit, not the offense but the offender. The head of an American slave lived in a prison where he never would dare to show his head, becoming sick in at such treatment, while the hosts of convicts dying of tuberculosis in the average prison are forced to pass swiftly down the incline to the needlessly early grave. The wealthy Mr. Hyde, convicted of high crimes, is given a furnished room with all comforts, while supposed to be in the Tombs prison of New York, while the man convicted of being poor, out of work and seeking it, is sent as a mere tramp to serve months in dirty surroundings and with hard fare in a place of correction for the chronically discouraged. To cheat a wage earner out of his wages is not a felony at all, but to cheat an employer out of money paid and due the employer, is embezzlement and punishable by years in a stone cell and a prison workshop. To murder an employer with an axe is a plain murder and punishment is death, but to murder a noted employee or keeping them in unsanitary, slum, ill-lighted or otherwise destructive conditions is not murder at all but merely a matter of business. To turn a tenement house is a serious matter for the incendiary, but to maintain a tenement house with water in the cellar, and coming through the stairs and with disease germs in every corner, is no crime but merely a matter of property rights. This policy on the part of the government is in part an inheritance from the days of Lord Baltimore and his kind, when they ruled in this locality and elsewhere in this country, and slaves were bought, over the block, in Philadelphia. White slaves, men, women and children, English, German, Scotch and Irish, to be free after a term of years, were probably in the majority among the early settlers of Delaware and Maryland.

Though the adapting of punishment to offenders rather than to offenses is ancient, it has been more noticeable in these two states than until 1820 white slaves were being held in servitude here. And where slaves are, or where a slave system has been, the punishments are always severe upon the poor and no punishment ever devised quite so fully answers the need of a master class, and so well fits a subject class, as the whipping post. It has the merit of being very unpleasant without taking too much time from the laborer. And this is a great point, for all our millionaires, capitalists and the idle rich: all whom do not produce as much as they consume of the products of labor, depend upon the labor of some one else to produce for them what they ness. And the interruption of labor is a loss to the suffering slave and to the rich and to all who profit by the labor of others through slavery; or through inheriting money in large sums, as they are able to be idlers, and are such. The shipping post, therefore, arrived in Delaware and Maryland at the same moment as the first gentlemen indentured, who came with a few servants and imported many slaves both black and white. And when they put the whip upon white women for having children without the masters' consent, or flogged the captives taken in battle from the bloody fields of Worcester, or when they flogged the men and women and girls and boys who were stolen by kidnappers, by the thousands, in England and other countries and sent here, they were using an economic method of getting obedience, and dividends from their investments. A few days at most would heal the physical wounds and jail sentences were not necessary. It grew to be a custom to keep the whipping post in evidence and the post were always the victims. If any one can find any record in history that the shipping post in Delaware or Maryland or other American commonwealths, ever was used to hold fast a rich man while he was whipped it would be interesting to have it published for a curiosity. In modern times it is only the poor who get the lash.

Delaware still maintains the whipping post and it is the last of civilized states in the entire world to continue its legal use. It is urged that it is useful for offenders against women and children, but there are forty-seven other states in the Union in which it seems not necessary, and in some of them it has been abolished for nearly a hundred years and in others it never existed. Is Delaware so desperately wicked that it must have this sort of torture as a legal protection? If the Black Belt in Alabama can do without it, and the slons of New York do not make it necessary, though in those slons every crime against womanhood and childhood is repeated over and over, why must comparatively peaceful and educated and civilized and quiet little Delaware maintain it?

It is urged that some criminals fear nothing else, but the criminal who is so stupid, so lacking in forethought, that he fears no term of dreary years in cells where honorably is shut out and only weariness and despair are guests, has not the foresight and mental power to retrace himself before any fear. And the man who is savvy, who is capable of being reformed and of being a good citizen again, is likely to be made beastly to a whipping. And the man who is so quickly a merely tortured without any goal and being gained.

There are three main classes of criminals: the men of animal nature who are lacking in self-control; the men who have suddenly gone wrong under stress of toil and discouragement; and moral idiots.

The man of animal nature can not be broken to harness by a whip. You can not even make a mule a good worker on a farm. The man of animal nature on a ship is a liability. He will not do the duties. The man who has yielded to temptation needs, not a whipping which destroys his aspiration for self-respect and a redeemed life among his neighbors, but a season of isolation, a season of discipline and education. How senseless then is the whip, and even the present spirit of revenge which is back of prison laws and prison rules. As for the moral idiot there are many of them in prisons. There are a class, not so very numerous but still not hard to find in any town, who have no more idea of self-respecting with the rest of humanity, of loving right rather than evil, than has another kind of idiot of the laws of hydrostatics. And such moral idiots can not be made anything but idiots by any punishment, any more than the mentally idiotic can be cured by punishments. It is wrong to whip such creatures, no matter what their motive, just as it is wrong to whip a lunatic or an idiotic. Yet it is probable that a large percentage of the men who go to the whipping post are men born mentally defective and quite incapable of being made to understand the desirability of honesty and justice.

The whipping post is a relic of working class subjugation and of the days when, like Lord Baltimore secured control of the land and then control of the people. It has never done the wage-earning or farming class any good, and has always been a cruel and useless part of the crime machinery by which governments have sought to control the socially submerged. In the coming session at Dover the representatives of Delaware will have an opportunity to take the state out of its present disreputable position as to this matter, and there are indications that the conscience and common sense of the people will find expression in a law abolishing an instrument, which while it degrades and makes more animal the victim, fails to benefit mankind in any way whatever.

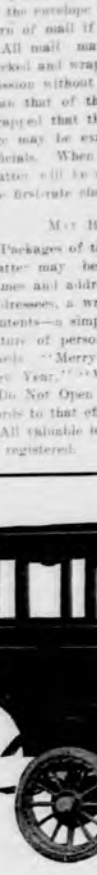

Iron Hill, Md. O. E. Washburn.

FIRE ALARMS

In case of fire call the following numbers in succession:

27 D

99 A

33 D

172

31 D

By order of Fire Chief WILSON.

Two Words.

Just a short, sharp word,
 But the one who heard
 Was weary and sick at heart;
 And her strength so slight
 Led a wavering fight.
 When she tried to do her part.
 So that quick word flung
 From a thoughtless tongue
 Pierced deep, like a poisoned dart.
 Was that word yours?

Just a bright, sweet word
 To the one who heard,
 When body and soul were bent
 But it wakened strength,
 To begin at length,
 The task she believed God sent.
 So that kind word came
 As in His own name,
 To finish the work He meant.
 Was that word yours?

Absence makes the heart grow fonder but the memory of the absent one becomes vague and dim.
 You long to picture in your mind just how "HE" or "SHE" would look, but there's a mysterious something which makes the mental pic-

But if you had a photograph be-acts, the gentle words.

Wouldn't that "ONE" so far

Popular Lecturer

Here This Evening

Frank E. Freen, popular lecturer of New York City will speak in the College Oratory this evening at 8 p. m. Mr. Freen is an entertaining speaker who arouses enthusiasm wherever he goes. He was born in the Mormon Church. His mother was a plural wife, and his father was one of the early Mormon settlers who walked from Council Bluffs to Salt Lake City.

As a mere lad he came under the influence of Christian missionaries sent out from the East, and at seventeen began to work his way through college. After graduation he became a lecturer for the Presbyterian church for two years, and now continues his work in the lecture field after graduate training at Columbia, in the City of New York.

Mr. Freen is a conspicuous figure at the various Chautauques. His lectures will be very timely for they will throw much light on the inter-denominational Home Mission Study text-book for next year: "Mormonism, the Islam of America."

Dear Old Chris:

Will you please be so kind as to bring me a Fire-Engine with two Horses attached, also a Pair of Rubber Boots and Drum with Drum-Suit. I won't ask for more but please Dear Santa remember my "Big Brother Charles" and "Baby Brother Stanley." 12-16-1912. LEON A. POTTS.
