HEALTH FOR CHRISTMAS

"Health is one of our most precious weapons to fight this war and Delawareans can guard this strength by taking the holidays in moderation this year, avoiding over-eating, over-indulgence of all kinds, and especially over-fatigue, in order that the New Year will find them in good health and ready to give their best to the war effort," says Dr. Edwin Cameron, executive secretary of the State Board of Health.

"Family physicians often say that they are their busiest after the Christmas holidays. Then the cold weather, the abundance of 'flu' or gripe infections, added to the wide-spread weariness and often digestive upsets of both grown-ups and children, acquired from a holiday spent 'not wisely but too well', leads to much illness.

"Complete physical check-ups for both grown-ups and children may not sound in the holiday mood but may prove of much more use than gaily wrapped packages of non-essentials, especially during these times of war emergencies which tax people's strength. And, finally, when the check-ups are made, follow the doctor's advice about any needed corrections and preserve that vital health for the task ahead.

"Let us give gifts of health to our children this year," says Dr. Marion Hotopp, acting director of the Division of Maternal and Child Health for the Board. "Before spending much money for toys and other frivolities, let us make sure that all our children have warm coats or snow suits, sturdy large-enough shoes, good rubbers or galoshes, warm underwear and night clothes.

"A new snowsuit, with its suggestion of happy outdoor play, or a new pair of cotton flannel pajamas, all gay with color can bring much joy to a small feminine heart, as Sonny may like a sheepskin-lined coat like his father has, or a bright plaid mackinaw, and a cap with ear-laps like a woodsman. All these will satisfy the children's love of 'dressing up' and also help protect them against the cold. Sweaters and robes may be bright and appealing as you please, yet very practical in fuel-rationed households.

Keep the spirit of fun with your gifts—Let them be surprises—but let the main cash outlays first be for things that will promote health and the toys be less expensive items this year. Put any extra dollars into those needed glasses for your daughter or your niece and nephew and see that the youngsters' teeth have a dentist's care. So let us think before we buy. Family incomes will only stretch so far—let us use our money wisely.

"Parents should see also that youngsters have their needed 8 to 12 hours of sleep, according to age, and naps for the younger ones—especially those over-stimulated by Christmas visitors and excitement. Mother, too, needs cautioning that staying up until all hours of the night to prepare for holiday festivities is apt to affect her own health.

"Finally, do not let little children eat rich foods. Rather, dress up wholesome foods with gay garnishes for them on the feast days.

"Let's have abundant health for Christmas and for 1943."

NO SHORT CUT

William M. Jeffers, rubber czar, recently struck hard at "loose and careless" talk about the rubber problem. The rubber problem is not licked; there is a definite rubber shortage; there will be tires for all only if the most stringent measures are applied and received with 100 per cent cooperation on the part of the public. That is the grim truth.

There is no easy short cut to rubber conservation, or to the production of more rubber. "The facts are," Mr. Jeffers said, "that the Japanese cut off 90 per cent of our supplies and as a result the United States is compressing into two years the building of a tremendous synthetic rubber industry which ordinarily would take a dozen years to build.

"The greatest reserve supply of rubber we have in this country is in the million tons of rubber in the tires of our passenger cars and trucks. We must stretch that million tons as far as it will possibly go—and maybe a little farther."

RATIONING HEADACHES

The Government reports that petroleum shortage has been intensified by heavy requirements for the North African front. Orders that call for less heat in homes have been very unpopular. Coffee, sugar, meat, milk, butter and other food regulations are questioned and challenged in legislative headquarters.

Plans and programs by the Administration for the allotment of manpower have met an air of skepticism and resistance in Congress. That does not mean opposition to this big idea—but the trouble is that ways and means for moving millions of men and women over this great checker board is too much like the 47th problem of Euclid—or in popular language, it's a headache.

A LONG HIGHWAY

The first link of the Alaskan highway from the border of British Columbia to Fairbanks is 1600 miles long, and it will be opened December 1. The plan is to make this Alaskan highway a great link that will connect the whole territory of Alaska with the borders of the United States, so that it will join the networks of our national highway.

That's only the half of it. The rest of the story is that highways are now being constructed down through Mexico and Central America to and beyond Panama and into Colombia. When you get to the Andes there are highways that will tap existing national roads into Brazil.

OPA INSISTS ON BURNER CONVERSION

Oil Shortage Forcing Use Of Other Fuel

Due to the growing seriousness of the fuel oil shortage on the Eastern Coast, the Washington headquarters of the OPA has directed all local War Price and Rationing Boards to insist upon owners of apartment houses, hotels, commercial structures and small industrial plants to re-convert their oil burning furnaces and boilers to the use of some other fuel other than fuel oil if feasible.

These owners are being requested to furnish their local Board with detailed certifications from a qualified heating engineer, plumber, heating contractor or architect as to the type of equipment they are now using, and the cost and time it will take to make these changes.

In the case of where the commercial structure is required to convert and is using boilers up to 300 H.P. capacity, and will, for the most part require class "A" stokers, OPA has been advised by the War Production Board that they are now available and can be obtained by application through the local War Production Board District Office on Form PD-608. The plumbing and heating division of WPB has established reasonable criteria for determining which applications to approve. Practically no one in this class of fuel oil users need be deterred from undertaking conversion because of a shortage of conversion parts.

The Office of Coordinator of Solid Fuels for War has reported that there are no grounds for misgivings on the coal supply situation anywhere within the limitation area.

U. S. SEEKS STUDENT DIETITIANS

Good Paying Jobs Must Be Filled At Once

"Student Dietitians," Mr. Kee reported, "receive subsistence, quarters, and a small remuneration during their 6 months training at the Army Medical Center. They are then raised to Apprentice Dietitians at $1,440 a year, an 8 months later, may be promoted to Staff Dietitians at $1,800 a year."

Full information as to requirements and application blanks may be obtained from Mr. Ralph B. Kee at Newark Delaware P. O., or from the U. S. Civil Service Commission in Washington, D. C.

While strolling through the corridors of the Newark High School on Monday I met our old friend Admiral Joseph Moore who said that the Navy was the only place in the world but he still had a warm spot in his heart for Coach Bill Gillespie.

Well, R. V. Buckingham took another first place on Sunday when he "went to the dogs". We mean by that, that at the big field trial held by the Garden City Beagle Club, Buck's hound, Black River Mij, showed the judges that regardless of the weather, she was a mighty good hound. She hung up 35 points toward becoming a field champion.

Coach Bill Gillespie is hard at work this week with his cage squad. Every year Coach Bill has his troubles. This year Coach Bill with about 35 candidates out for basketball is trying to build a bangup squad around the four lettermen back from last years squad.

A plug for the Red Cross. Are the women of Newark going to let their loved ones in the service down? There is an urgent need for women and girls to make surgical dressings for our brave fighting men. Mrs. Spencer said that there was some response to the last appeal for workers but it was not enough, so, won't you women and girls get busy. Thanks.

Sureshot gets bawled out. One afternoon this week our editor was frantically going through his files for an important document which had been mislaid when yours truly suggested that if anything was lost he should advertise for it in the Newark Post. The boss said don't bother me, I am mad enough now. Anyway an advertisement sometimes helps.

So the Wilmington Housing Authority will lease George Read Village and run it in conjunction with their own projects. Possibly no one in Newark is capable of taking care of this project. The first thing Newark knows some bright person will want to place some of Wilmington's slot machines in Newark (parking meters). It is understood that the Wilmington Chamber of Commerce refers to Newark as a suburb.

The local firemen had a turkey banquet last week and can those Newark firemen eat turkey. Well, from all reports, they can eat turkey, and did eat turkey.

We understand that Jack Dempsey has been promoted from a Lieutenant to a lieutenant-commander in the Coast Guard. Now, Dempsey, who has been serving as the officer in charge of the physical development center at Manhattan Beach, one of the nations largest Coast Guard Centers, is just one half a stripe behind Gene Tunney. Commander Tunney rates three full stripes.

Two Newark Bowlers qualified for the News-Journal Bowling award this week. Kinsey Whitman rolled 200, 212, 211, Kinsey rolls for the Texaco Monday Night League. B. Marquess rolled for Elkton in the Wednesday Night League rolled 200, 202, 202. Good bowling boys, I usually bowl about 272.

Word has been received that Battery C of the 198th Coast Artillery has captured the volleyball championship of Bobcat Island. Battery C is commanded by Capt. Bud Naggerly, former U. of D. football captain and the volleyball team is coached by Lieut. George F. Kelly, Jr., battery executive officer.

Delaware 4-H Club Scrap Winners Receive Awards

Four $25 war bonds have been awarded to Delaware 4-H Clubs who were winners in the farm harvest scrap metal drive conducted by the Delaware State Salvage Committee.

During the drive, Delaware club members collected a total of 217 tons of scrap metal.

The Delmar 4-H Club of which Mrs. Edward Krawatz is local leader collected 71 tons of scrap and was awarded war bonds as the winning club in the county and in the State.

The winning club in Kent County was the Westville 4-H Club of which Isaac Thomas of Maryland is local leader. The Westville Club collected 7 tons of scrap.

The New Castle County winner of the war bond award was the Middletown 4-H Club of which Mrs. Willard Robinson is the local leader. The Middletown Club collected 7 1-2 tons of scrap.

During the drive, C. E. McCauley, county 4-H club agent supervisor, for the Delaware Agricultural Extension Service, reports that these rural boys and girls worked week-ends, after school hours, and even at night in some communities. The 4-H clubs donated their scrap to their local U.S.O., Red Cross, local fire companies and their school collections.
