"The Truth About Blayds" Tonight In Wolf Hall

UNIVERSITY OF DELAWARE REVIEW

Interscholastic Meet Next Week

VOLUME 42 NEWARK, DELAWARE, APRIL 30, 1926 NUMBER 22

Mr. John Shaw Thrills Y. M. C. A. Audience Gives Powerful Talk On Success In Life

Mr. Shaw, Personnel Administrator of the Hercules Powder Company, addressed a group of Y. M. C. A. men in the Student Activities Room, Monday evening. The speaker apologized for his lack of training in public speaking and proceeded to read an address on "The Essentials of the Qualities of Leadership." Mr. Shaw defined the fundamentals of leadership as honesty, comprising sympathy, justice, and frankness; faith in one's enterprise; adaptable energy; and accurate judgment. He described the man with adaptable energy as the go-getter. After the talk, Dr. Crooks led the discussion. He asked Mr. Shaw to state definitely just what qualities he had discovered in his experience that were responsible for the success or failure of men in business. From the stories that Mr. Shaw told, it seems that honesty and observance of the Golden Rule make for success. Dr. Crooks questioned the compatibility of the Golden Rule with the spirit of competition that is the ruling force in business today.

The ten members of the Y. M. C. A. who were present last Monday elected their officers for the coming year. Ira Ellis received the office of the retiring president, Pippin, Richard French was elected vice-president; Kerbin, secretary, and Ralph Baker, treasurer.

Prizes Offered For Military Essays

Major Underwood has announced an essay contest that is being conducted by the "Army and Navy Journal." The topic is "The Value of Military Training for American Youth." Essays must be no longer than 500 words and must be in the hands of the publishers of the magazine before June 22.

The prizes are as follows: For a college man, a round-trip ticket from his home to Yellowstone National Park, with $25 toward expenses.

For an R. O. T. C. student, a round-trip ticket this summer to Europe on a first class steamer, with $50 toward expenses. A file of the magazine may be found in the military office.

New W. C. D. Buildings Ready for Use In Fall

Work on the new buildings at the Women's College is progressing rapidly. During the winter months the construction was retarded by the severe weather and lack of materials. It is expected that both the dining hall and dormitory will be ready for occupancy at the beginning of the new school year in September.

Swarthmore and Navy Next Rivals on Diamond

The game with Dickinson this week was cancelled because of wet grounds. Next Wednesday the local boys will travel to Swarthmore to meet the Main Liners and on Friday Navy will be met at Annapolis.

Class Elections Begin Week of May 10

The class elections of all classes will be held the week of May 10, and according to Student Council regulations, they must be over by May 15.

Delaware Makes Good Showing at Penn Relays

Take Fourth Place In Mile Relay

The mile relay team made a good showing at the Penn Relays last Saturday although they failed to place. The event was a Middle Atlantic championship and five colleges were entered. Swarthmore won in the good time of 3:31. Dickinson was second, Haverford third, Delaware fourth, and Muhlenberg fifth. The Delaware team, which was composed of Roser, Evans, Steel, and Loveland, made the mile in 3:34, which is the best exhibition of running that they have made this year.

Roser, although set back a yard for jumping the gun, sprinted into the lead at the first turn only to drop to fifth at the end of his lap. Perk Evans took the baton and passed man after man on the back stretch until he was pounding the heels of the Swarthmore man who was in the lead. On the final stretch he fell back to fourth. Steel and Loveland both made good time, holding their own and running steady races with strong finishes.

Interscholastic Meet On Saturday, May 8

On May 8, Frazer Field will be enlivened with the many and interesting feats performed by the athletes of the nearby high schools for on that day the Annual Interscholastic Track Meet will be held. The Track Management has sent invitations to about 150 high, preparatory, and normal schools in Delaware, Pennsylvania, New Jersey, and Maryland; of that number it can be safely estimated that 100 will be represented.

The events of the day will be the same as in the collegiate meets, the dashes, the hurdles, and all the field events.

The meet is scheduled to start promptly at 1 o'clock and will be conducted by competent track officials.

After the meet the Student Council will hold their dance in the Commons and will offer tickets to the scholastic competitors at special rates.

Kappa Alpha Formal A Colorful Affair

One of the prettiest dances held on the Campus this year was given last Friday night when the Kappa Alpha Fraternity held its twenty-second Annual Formal Dinner and Dance. The dinner was held in the Commons, and afterwards the members retired to the Armory for the dance. The Armory was beautifully decorated with an Oriental background; the orchestra was placed in a pagoda in order that they might fit in with the surrounding decorations. The music was furnished by George Madden and his orchestra.

Kiwanians Make Annual Visit To University

The Sixth Annual Visit of the Wilmington Kiwanis Club to the University of Delaware was made Wednesday evening, April 21. The Committee in charge of the Visit was headed by A. G. Wilkinson. During the banquet, a well arranged program was offered including an address by Dr. Hullihen. After the banquet the festivities were brought to a close with a dance, the music for which was furnished by the Student Orchestra.

Host Students Named By Dean

Fifty-Four Men With Grade of "B" or Better For the Work of the First Term

Fifty-four students in Delaware College of the University of Delaware had an average grade of B or better for the work of the first term of the present collegiate year and are therefore on the academic roll of honor. The complete report of these students was compiled by Associate Professor Carl J. Rees, of the Department of Mathematics, for the Office of Dean Dutton.

Table with 4 columns: Rank, Name, High School, Class Average. Lists 54 students and their academic performance.

Delaware Drops Game to Haverford

Visitors Make Four Home Runs In Game

In a game featured by four home runs, all of them, unfortunately, made by the visitors, the University of Delaware baseball nine suffered defeat at the hands of the Haverford team to the tune of six to one. Except for the heavy hitting, the game was rather dull and listless.

CALENDAR listing events from April 30 to June 7, including dances, banquets, and formal dinners.

Pryor, although touched rather freely, did not pitch a bad game. He succeeded in striking out nine batsmen, while the best Kingham, the visiting moundsman could do was to strike out one Delaware man. The Delaware team lost because they did not make the most of their opportunities and convert their hits into runs.

New Tennis Courts Under Construction

Delaware has long needed a set of adequate tennis courts. Last season the team was forced to play several of its matches at Wilmington because of the poor condition of those they were forced through necessity to use. The athletic council has at last come to the team's aid and is having four made on the ground opposite Wolf Hall. They will be in condition to use the first part of next week.

Co. B Wins Annual Competitive Drill

Capt. Hanson and Lt. Hayes To Be Awarded Sabres

Military brought a very successful year to a close with the competition for company and platoon honors last Friday morning. Cadet Captain Hanson's "B" company was adjudged the best company, and the same company's first platoon under the leadership of Cadet First-Lieutenant Hayes was declared the victory over the other five platoons. The head inspector, Major K. B. Lemmon, was assisted by Major W. A. Baldwin, and Colonel Tanner. Major Lemmon is on duty in the Reserve Officers Corps at Wilmington, while Col. Tanner is in charge of Ferris Industrial School.

As a reward for excellence in military tactics, the men in "B" company will be the guests at the annual banquet tendered the best company. The date will be announced in a short time.

In commenting on the distinguished college inspection held several weeks ago, Major Underwood stated that it was the best inspection ever conducted here and a decided improvement over that held last year. Although the results will not be announced until June, the current opinion on the campus is that Delaware will again gain the coveted honor.

Sam Brown belts which are furnished to officers of the Reserve Army will be distributed to the Seniors some time in May. Students in the R. O. T. C. are not permitted to wear the belts until they receive their commissions.

The play, which is a comedy, tells of the domestic complications of the Blayds family in England. It is written by A. A. Milne. Among the cast are: Myrtle Simpler, who took the lead in the prize winning Freshman play; Jimmy Challenger whose dramatic ability is said to rival his Charlestown accomplishments, and Justin Steel, the K. A. lady-killer.

MEMORIES

During these last few weeks of the college year the Senior's mind is filled with memories of days that have passed and of hopes for days yet to come. Pleasant memories of happy hours, of golden friendships, of kindly deeds come thronging in and will not be dismissed. Thoughts of the first class fight, of pep-fests and football games, of all-night arguments in the "dorms," of dances, of interesting classes, and of jolly companions cannot be forgotten. Every memory is suffused with a soft, mellow light which changes into gold all that it touches.

Not until now does the Senior realize what his college days have meant to him. When they are well nigh over he catches a fleeting glimpse of their deep significance, before he is whisked away to other fields. These balmy spring days are transitional days for him. And, after all, life is itself but a series of changes and of transitions, one merging into the other. These are happy days—happy in memories of the past and in hopes for the future, since true happiness is never to be found in the present. . . . Happy days for the Senior, yes, but days with a tinge of sadness in them, for he is saying "adieu."

COLLEGE HOUR ATTENDANCE

The problem of attendance at College Hour seems to us to be a simple one. Instead of having recourse to extremes why not seek a medium in the matter? Compulsory attendance and optional attendance both are extremes and should be frowned upon. We advocate a system whereby a student is allowed a larger number of cuts. The student could, in that case, attend those lectures appealing to him and cut those which would bore him. His interest in the lectures which he would attend would be greater and the benefit to be derived from them would be commensurable with his interest.

THE DELAWARE OF TOMORROW

The Delaware of Tomorrow is made of cardboard and is enclosed in a glass case in the south corridor of the Memorial Library. How much finer looking it is than the Delaware we know. See the beautiful campus with its shaded walks and imposing new buildings. Some day that card board Delaware will be a reality of mortar and brick. Others will rejoice in its beauty. Strange voices will be heard in its halls. Old familiar scenes will disappear from year to year. But the spirit of Delaware which you and I know and honor will live on unchanged by time—in the Delaware of Tomorrow.

This is the last issue of "The Review" to be published by the outgoing staff. Next week the new editor will send his first copy to the printer. The pleasures of seeing his first issue come hot from the press, of seeing people read his paper and enjoy it, lie in store for him. We set up no criterion for him to strive for save that of impartiality of judgment and a keen desire to make "The Review" a finer and more worthwhile paper. If he follows the dictates of his conscience and reason he cannot go far wrong in any policy which he pursues.

Give "The Review" your support. Subscribe to it and help to put it on a sound financial basis by backing up any movement for compulsory subscription. Realize, if you will, that "The Review" is your paper and that it is a vital factor in the life of Delaware.

And so Gentle Reader—as Meredith might call you—we entrust the discussion of the momentous problems of a busy age to another. We thank you for bearing with us during a whole long year, and now a fond farewell.

Up and off to tea and a chat with our old friend Joe Bush . . .

Faculty Members Visit
State High Schools

Dean George E. Dutton, Dean M. V. G. Smith, of the School of Engineering, Professor W. A. Wilkinson, head of the department of Education and Director of the Summer School, of the Faculty of the University of Delaware are on a two-day visit to high schools in the lower part of the state. This trip is the first this year of a series that will take in all the high schools in Delaware. The purpose of these visits is primarily to enable members of the University faculty to become better acquainted with the teachers in our schools and to learn at first hand more of the work of preparing students for college. The schools that will be visited on this trip are those at Frederica, Milford, Milton, Georgetown, Lewes, Millsboro, Frankford, Selbyville, and Ocean View (Lord Baltimore school).

That Senior Banquet
Sh!! Sh!! Sh!!

The plans for the forthcoming Senior Banquet are being carefully shrouded in a veil of mystery by the committee in charge of the affair. The chairman of the committee wishes to state, however, that unless more Seniors signify their intention of attending the banquet will not be held.

Three More Games
On Tennis Schedule

Tennis enthusiasts of this vicinity will have the opportunity of seeing the University of Delaware tennis team in three matches during May. After the game today with Blue Ridge College, away, all the remaining games will be played at home. Saturday, May eighth, St. Joseph's College will be the guest. On the fifteenth, Delaware will meet the University of Maryland, and on Friday, May 21, will meet the crack team of Franklin and Marshall.

Thus far the Blue and Gold racket wielders have lost one match and tied one. Haverford College won by the score of 5 to 1, and Drexel Institute won three games out of the six played.

Track News In Brief

Today Delaware meets the strong Swarthmore team on Frazer Field and on next Friday travels to Philadelphia to meet Drexel on the cinder path. Although a victory over Swarthmore is very dubious, the Blue and Gold should romp away with Drexel. In the Penn Relays, Delaware ran fourth, falling behind Haverford, Swarthmore and Rutgers, but beating out Muhlenberg and other colleges. Garrett, the Freshman from Wilmington, is showing up well in the javelin throw and should develop into a second Betzmer before he graduates. Johns Hopkins, with a fine track team, having conquered St. John's and Maryland, will be met on May 15 in Baltimore.

The Somnambulist

(The Somnambulist is pleased to submit the following book review for the edification of the student body, especially in view of Dr. Ben Hur's unholy clamor in the classroom on this subject. It is fitting that the book reviewed is that of Dr. Ben Hur's, proving how easy it is for a college professor to "midflop" a publisher.)

THE FEDERAL INTERMEDIATE CREDIT SYSTEM OF OVID

By Professor Ben Hur, University of Oshkosh, Macdillan and Company, 1926 1/2 B. C.

At last Dr. Ben Hur has forsaken the Malthusian Theory and harkened to the call of the Muses. Here is a book that we safely predict will cause a sensation in all the backyards of America. The Monday wash and the gardens will all be neglected while the dames hang over the fence and discuss in whispers the tragic fate of Susan B. Good, the heroine who is tarred and feathered by the local chapter of the Women's Christian Temperance Union for taking her brother to too many dances and thus alienating his fiancée's affections. Under the innocent and unassuming title of THE FEDERAL INTERMEDIATE CREDIT SYSTEM Dr. Ben Hur has concocted a tale that makes THE PLASTIC AGE and MANHATTAN TRANSFER and all of Elinor Glyn's books sound like the squeak of a toy teddy bear in the face of a thunderstorm. To be more specific, Dr. Ben Hur's book outscores all of these works by two seduction and one seduction, to say nothing of the bedroom scenes. If the story only contained a few cemetery scenes we would rank it higher than Mr. Asbury's HATRACK in the current issue of the American Mercury.

We really cannot give you the plot of the story because we go around with the official censor's daughter, but you won't regret investing six bits at Doc Rhodes' where this sensational book is on sale. From recent telegraph dispatches we learn that Boston has already banned the book, so get your copy now.

WRIGLEY'S P.K. More for your money and the best Peppermint Chewing Sweet for any money 613

Decorate yourself with the degree of P. A.

THAT means "Pipa Amoroso" in the Latin, or "pipe-lover" in plain campus English. P. A. has certainly endeared a pipe to more men than any other letters in the smoke-alphabet. Because Prince Albert lets a fellow smoke all he wants to—and makes him want to!

Cool as the stare of a marble Venus. Sweet as the approach of vacation. Fragrant as spring blossoms. Think up your own similes, Fellows. You will when you pick P. A. and a jimmy-pipe for permanent roommates. Prince Albert is great tobacco, and that's not blah.

Get yourself a tidy red tin of Prince Albert today. Fill the bowl of that old jimmy-pipe to the brim and borrow a match. Then you're set for some great smoke-sessions, as sure as you're a foot high.

P. A. is sold everywhere in tidy red tins, pound and half-pound tin humidors, and pound crystal-glass humidors with sponge-moistener top. And always with every bit of bite and punch removed by the Prince Albert process.

Here's A Way to Make Money After Graduation In Your Own College Town

TAKE this Flower Shop at Wellesley, Mass., for example. It is located handy by, just outside the college grounds. It wasn't so long ago that all there was to it was a plain little frame building, with some rather diminutive green-houses hitched to it.

Now the shop is a most attractive brick building, with up to date greenhouses, and this show house opening right off it.

You should see the way the college girls come here and buy flowers! Christmas and Easter week, the Western Union brings a private wire right into the shop, and has an operator on the job to take the Florist Telegraph Delivery orders that come from parents and friends, for flowers to the girls.

From one of his rose houses alone, this man took $9,000 last year. Doesn't all this start you thinking?

Man alive, where is there a business as healthy, fun-filled and profit yielding?

Just the kind that to-be-wife-of yours would like.

Had you ever stopped to think how many graduates are going into the greenhouse flower growing or shop business?

Hadn't we better start in getting acquainted so you can have the facts. Write us.

Ask us the hundred and one questions you have on your mind.

If interested, write to the Manager of our Service Department, 30 East 42nd Street, New York City, who will give it his personal attention.

ber of Delaware's graduating class of 1925, has been honored by the University of Pennsylvania for the second time within a year. He received a scholarship in romanics upon graduation, and last week he received a fellowship in the same course of study.

In spite of the fact that he is afflicted by blindness, Cummings is an excellent student. While a member of the Foreign Study Group, he received a medal for unusual merit at the University of Nancy, France.

Haverford Swamps Delaware In Meet

Frank Forstburg's track team went down to an overwhelming defeat on Tuesday afternoon at the hands of Haverford College. The final count of points gave Haverford 109 as compared to Delaware's 17. Haverford has beaten Delaware in five sports this year including everything but swimming; Haverford has no swimming team. The visitors took every first except in the 440. Dave Loveland won this event with a brilliant sprint at the finish. Paxson's services in the hurdles were missed, Delaware getting only third in both the high and low.
