E 52 Players to Present Comedy Mrs. Moonlight

November 11 is Date For First Play This Term; To Perform At Temple Two Nights During December

The romantic comedy, MRS. MOONLIGHT, in which Edith Barret rose to stardom several years ago, will be performed by the E 52 Players as the first production of their eighth season.

The performance is scheduled for Thursday evening, November 11.

In December the Players will take the same production to Temple University where it will be presented for two nights in the Mitten Hall Theatre under the auspices of the Temple Players.

The cast for the play was chosen only after the stiffest of competition. Two of the leading roles go to two sisters, Dorothy Counahan, a senior, and Edith Counahan, a freshman at the Women's College.

The role of Mr. Moonlight will be played by Herbert Warburton, the Players' all-around man.

Jacob Kreshtool, the Krackles promoter in Swenhardt's original play last Spring, will make his debut in his first full length play and in an entirely different type of role. William Whedbee, the romantic young hero of THE SCHOOL FOR HUSBANDS, is again a charming man about town.

New faces on the Mitchell Hall stage will be Joseph Tatnall and Helen Adams. Sybil Keil, a veteran of some seasons, plays the role of the sister of Mrs. Moonlight.

The understudies include Joseph First, Ralph Margolin, Thomas Warren, Mina Press, Betty Grimm, Eleanor Robbins, and Barbara Hutchins.

The play is being directed by Miss E. Jeanne Davis. The set will be designed by Herbert Warburton. Thomas Warren, star of last Spring's THE SCHOOL FOR HUSBANDS, acts as stage manager for this production.

MRS. MOONLIGHT should be a colorful production, and will almost be a fashion show, as the characters wear costumes covering the entire period from 1879 to the present day.

Dedication Past, Work Ahead

The steady road of bunsen burners in the laboratories and the busy clatter of glassware echoing up and down the long halls proclaim that the new chemistry building is starting out to seek the ends to which it was dedicated. Dr. A. S. Eastman, head of the Department, is shown at the lower right.

Chemical Laboratory Made Part of University

First Smoke-Talk Is Thursday Night

The first Smoke-talk of the current year will be held in the Lounge of Old College next Thursday night immediately after dinner. Dr. W. O. Sypherd, head of the English department, will preside over the informal discussion of Margaret Mitchell's widely read novel, "Gone With the Wind." All students and faculty members of Delaware College are cordially invited to attend.

According to Dr. C. L. Day, chairman of the Smoke-talk committee, these informal discussions are designed to provide a subject of general interest, and are not too far removed from the usual thoughts of the mind.

Dr. Able, a member of the English department, will open the discussion with a short talk on the novel.

President Hullihen Presides At Dedication Exercises; Architect Delivers Keys

By EDWARD F. CURREN
The colorful and impressive ceremonies on the lower campus, early last Saturday morning, officially made the Chemical Laboratory a part of the plant of the University of Delaware, and signified the opening of a new era in learning.

In the bright sunlight of the typical cold autumn morning, the academic procession formed in front of Wolf Hall and proceeded down the middle of the campus to the Chemical laboratory. Delegates took their places in seats in front of the building on the campus. The distinguished visitors, representatives of collegiate associations and faculty members occupied chairs placed upon the broad walk immediately outside of the building.

The dedication exercises were presided over by President Hullihen, and were opened with an invocation by The Most Reverend Edmond J. Fitzmaurice. The keys to the building were delivered by Mr. C. Z. Klauder, Architect, and were accepted by Mr. W. H. Heald, for the Board of Trustees, President Hullihen for the faculty of the University, and Professor Eastman for the department of chemistry.

Following the acceptance of the building, greetings to the University and the assembled visitors were extended on behalf of the National Association of State Universities by Professor Wilber E. Bradt, University of Maine, for the Association of Land-Grant Colleges and Universities by Dean Jacob G. Lipman, Rutgers University, for the Association of American Colleges by Dr. Guy E. Snavely, Executive Secretary, and for the General Alumni Association by Archie H. Dean, Class of 1914.

The ceremony of the conferring of honorary degrees next took place. Dean R. L. Spencer presented the degree to Warren K.

Director Shields Announces Rules For Intramurals

The rules and regulations for Intramurals:

1. No fraternity man may represent his fraternity on any intramural team during his Freshman and Sophomore years. He may, however, participate in the program by representing his class, his department, or chosen group.

Class standing shall be determined on the basis of two semesters constituting a school year. Therefore, to compete with a fraternity under this regulation a competitor must have attended school, either here or elsewhere, for four complete semesters or their equivalent.

2. Divisions such as the Arts and Science Department, Mechanical Engineers, Agricultural Department, etc., may not band as a representative department more than two of its classes. These classes to represent the upper and lower flights.

(a) Examples: The Agricultural Department may have two teams—one composed of Freshmen and Sophomores and the other of Juniors and Seniors. However, the teams may not be made up of Freshmen and Seniors.

3. An independent group may draw its representatives from but one class.

4. During practice and contest, appropriate athletic costume must be worn.

5. A guarantee fee of $0.25 per person or $1.25 (maximum fee) per group must accompany each application blank to show good faith. Said fee to be returnable upon completion of specific tournament. Failure to complete tournament applied for constitutes the forfeiture of guarantee fee.

6. A minimum of two defaults (team), constitutes failure of completion of tournament play.

7. Only registered players may compete.

8. Practice periods will be post-

Rush Week On; Houses Holding Smokers Dances

"Silent Period" Will Come In Wednesday At Noon; House Parties Scheduled For Tomorrow Evening

Rush Week officially started last Wednesday at Delaware. This rushing period will last until 12:00 noon this Wednesday after which time there will be a "silent period" until the list of Freshmen fraternity pledges is published by Dean Dutton.

These rules concerning Rush Week procedure were drawn up through the Inter-fraternity Council. Sigmund Lipstein is the president of that organization this year.

All of the Greek letter fraternities on the campus have opened their doors and have started the rushing period off with a bang. Smokers, house parties, and other forms of social activities will predominate this week. Sigma Nu, Sigma Phi Epsilon, Kappa Alpha, Sigma Tau Phi, and Theta Chi have been entertaining the freshmen in the form of social smokers, motion pictures, lectures, hand-outs, and dances.

Most of the smokers have already been held. But some of the frats will in all probability hold additional entertainments in the early part of next week. House parties are slated for all the corners of the campus for tomorrow night.

This colorful period of seething activity is a yearly occurrence and from all indications this Rushing Week will excel any previous one held on the College campus.

The presidents of these organizations are: K. A., Joshua West; S. P. E., Randall Carpenter; Sigma Nu, James Stewart; Theta Chi, Arnel Long; Sigma Tau Phi, Sigmund Lipstein.

With the Council...

Parliamentarian Sigmund Lipstein gave mimeographed copies of parliamentary procedure rules to the members of the Council on Monday night. Each man is to study these rules and assist in obeying them at future meetings. Two outstanding innovations are the practices of addressing the chair, and that of limiting general discussion to the time allotted to Good and Welfare discussion.

Hial Pepper (Chm. Honor Points Comm.) reported the execution of Tap Day and announced his committee's intention to make an honor point file for the coming year. Edward Wilson (Jr. K. A.) brought the specific case of a student who claimed sufficient points for admittance to a society, to Mr. Pepper, who explained that the man in question could not be given points for a fraternity office to which he was appointed and not elected.

William Wells (Chm. Social Comm.) announced that, although financial reports are not complete, he thought the Welcome Dance would definitely be a financial success.

Tom Ryan (Jr. T. C.) announced a treasury balance of $201.80 exclusive of the term fees from the Business office of the University.

President Lattin read a letter from the Rifle Team manager requesting a $15 appropriation. The letter was referred to the Athletic Council.

Dean Dutton Lists Honor Roll For Delaware College, Spring Term

The index numbers used in the following report of Dean G. E. Dutton of the scholastic standing of students of Delaware College for the second term of the college year of 1936-1937 have the following significance: the number 3 denotes an average of A (the highest possible average); the number 2 denotes an average of B; the number 1 denotes an average of C. No student who is taking fewer hours than 12 is eligible for the Honor Roll (except those required in his curriculum is eligible for the Honor Roll (except students who have accumulated extra credits).

Kings For A Week . . .

Rush Week officially starts this week for the Class of '41. During this period you will be overwhelmed with smokers, house-parties and other forms of entertainment. You will be feted, applauded, and made to feel that the world is revolving at your request. This is a universal procedure, based on ballyhoo and propaganda, used the world over wherever organizations are seeking recruits. Now we are not ridiculing fraternities nor do we particularly resent their method of obtaining new members.

Fraternities are undeniably an integral part of Delaware College. Socially, scholastically, and athletically they have consistently led the way to further accomplishment. The Rush Week procedure is a simple case of cause and effect—a dire necessity due to the system which is organized on a competitive and cut-throat basis.

With this in mind we offer you, the potential fraternity candidates of the freshman class, these suggestions.

(1) Decide just what fraternities have to offer you individually. Have a definite reason for joining.

(2) Discriminate wisely among the fraternities. Remember that this decision of yours, theoretically at least, involves a lifetime agreement.

(3) If you conscientiously feel that you can get along without fraternal guidance—don't join. Any agreement made half-heartedly will inevitably result in dissatisfaction and hypocrisy.

(4) Take your time in making your decision. The rushing period lasts for a week. This gives the fraternities a chance to look you over and you in turn have ample time to make your decision.

In short—you are about to make one of the most important judgements of your college careers. Disregard the Rush Week fanfare and think things over—slowly and shrewdly.

Whatever your choice may be—here's wishing your success and satisfaction.

Tell Us All . . .

The College Hour address of Dr. Michael Dorizas was very informative and entertaining. He spoke from experience, stated his views clearly and definitely, and simplified for us the confusing situation in Europe and the East. Concerning Communism and Fascism Dr. Dorizas affirmed that these movements were bad and stated his reasons for this conclusion.

We have had several fine speakers at these exercises, very entertaining, very enlightening and comprehensive. But why must we always hear just one side of the question? It is the privilege of a speaker to air his views and it is the prerogative of his audience to either accept or reject them. That is all very well and good.

But we are not concerned about whether a certain "ism" is "good" or "bad." We want to hear the fundamental principles on which these theories are based—everything possible about them—what they are trying to accomplish and how. It is up to us to decide whether we will tolerate them or not. As future law-makers, administrators, and intelligent citizens of this democratic government it should be part of our college training. What we want are speakers who will authoritatively present to us all of the facts—not a personal opinion—but an unbiased explanation.

Now please do not misinterpret these statements. We do not favor Communism or Fascism. As forms of government directly hostile to our American Democracy we condemn them. But we feel that these or any other questions of a controversial nature should be presented in their true light. We were instructed in our courses in social sciences to adopt a "scholar's view-point," a broad conception. The very inscription upon our University seal reads "Knowledge is the light of the mind." It is this "knowledge" that we are seeking.

Quotable Quotes . . .

(By Associated Collegiate Press)

"The problems of today can be solved and will be solved through an intelligent and trained leadership," said acting Pres. Herman B. Wells of Indiana University to freshmen.

"The students who rank highest in scholarship are also the students who take an active part in extra-curricular activity." Dean G. Herbert Smith of DePauw University hastened to add that "bookworms" rarely make the highest grades.

"Each generation has its own kind of literary measles." So says Dr. J. D. Fergusn, professor of English at Cleveland College.

"Although there is a much-lauded American tradition of 'working one's way through college,' the frequency with which students have actually been able to earn their maintenance during the four-year period in which they completed the Bachelor's Degree is so small that to attempt to do so may . . . be considered poor judgment.—C. L. Murray, Registrar, Ball State Teachers' College, Indiana.

Beat Dickinson! . . .

Walking past the wall the other afternoon, a little silver-haired lady heard a group of Freshmen shouting "Beat Dickinson! Beat Dickinson!" We were standing nearby. She saw us and walked over. "Excuse me young man. But who is it that all those boys want to beat?" "Dickinson," we answered. "But why?" she asked us. "What on earth has the poor fellow done?"

Sock In the Nose . . .

A friend of ours was playing badminton the other afternoon, and after taking his shower, he jammed his white sock into his coat pocket so he wouldn't have to return to his room before supper. He had a slight cold, and when he went to Swinnen's recital that night he sniffed during the entire first number. When the lights went up during the intermission, he reached into his coat pocket for a handkerchief. Majestically he withdrew a white sock, fluttered it carelessly, and raised it to his face. Horrified, he rammed it back in his pocket, squirmed uncomfortably in his chair, and then settled down for an all night's snuffle.

A New Locomotive . . .

Toward the end of the second period of the Lebanon Valley game one of our iron-lunged cheerleaders started to cajole the rooters to give the New Locomotive Yell.

"A New Locomotive for the Team!" he cajoled. "C'mon. Everybody. A New Locomotive for the Team!!! Are you ready? . . ." A voice from high up in the student bleachers interrupted him. "No! Sammy, No! no!!" Grayson stopped in his tracks. "Whaddya mean no? WHY NOT? Just cause you're on the Student Council, you wanna run our yells?" he sneered. "Now c'mon everybody, a New Locomotive for the Team!"

"NO!" his tormentor yelled back. Grayson started to get red. "WHY NOT?" he screamed.

The Student Council member's voice came back promptly. "Sorry, Sam," he said gravely. "We can't afford it."

Stage Door Johnny

By Herb Warburton

PROFUSELY—

Johnny apologizes—an error occurred in report of cast last week for "Mrs. Moonlight." Jake Kreshtool has been selected for the part of "Peter" rather than Joe First as announced. Sorry, Joe.

PLAY REHEARSALS

Are going at a great rate. Dr. Kase, we hope, wasn't too badly disappointed at what he saw. The play looks good.

The set is being stage-managed by Tom Warren. Victorian in style—the same room is carried through from 1881 to 1928. But the properties must be changed three times—which means the "props" committee will deserve a big hand.

BOUQUETS

To this committee, while we're on the subject—Try and realize how you'd feel if someone asked you to lend your favorite chair or to remove your davenport for three or four days. Then try to imagine how to feel if you had to do the asking. So here's something that'd help—if you have any old furniture up behind the colored photo of you at the age of four in a bathing suit at Ocean City, N. J.—give us a buzz at the Hall—we'd like to add it to our property list—it might help us out of a spot sometime.

TEMPLAYERS

Will be down here January 19. The value of this exchange cannot be too greatly emphasized. It's a step forward—a few more additions to the list, now that the ice is broken, logically follows.

ADVANCE PUBLICITY

The Templayers show promises to be a real hit—but here's the story—with two endings it depends on the audience's reaction as to which one is produced—even the director's in the dark—so check the date to come and help produce a play.

Letters

To the Editor . . .

Editor, THE REVIEW:

May I register my utter disgust with the students of the University who failed to attend the dedication services on Saturday morning? One of the speakers referred to the eminent Dr. Svedberg as "the man who sees beyond the microscope." Dr. Svedberg is a man who will go down in history as one of the men who made "better things for better living through chemistry." And what did the students do to show their appreciation? They stayed away by the hundreds. Shame on them and their weak bodies which kept them in bed on that morning.

Sincerely yours,
Paul J. Bruno.

WITH THE BLUE ★ AND GOLD ★

By Steve Saltzman

Intramurals are getting under way again; they started with a general meeting last Wednesday a week. Fellows, we urge you to get into Intramural Athletics. It is an acknowledged fact that competitive sports develop one, in respect to physical and personality development. This program of sports has been created for you; you're the ones who will benefit by getting into the competition. You don't have to be what is sometimes referred to as a "flash." All our "flashes" are playing varsity sports. Intramurals on the campus of this college have a great future, provided they're backed by the student body. Take an example from the position of Intramurals on other campuses throughout the country. Get into it, men, enjoy it, back it wholeheartedly, and may the best teams win!

We were perturbed no end when we heard that there was a move underfoot that will cause the fraternities on the campus to buck Intramurals if they are not given the privilege of running Interfraternity competitions. We have been unable to get straight whether the fraternities wanted Interfraternity competition or just the old Interfraternity relay, but we do know that this old trouble has cropped up again and must be settled once and for all—immediately! We must have JUST action, and the opposing sides in the question MUST abide by decisions made, without resorting to the cheap method of refusing to cooperate, when they know that each side is vital to the carrying-on of Intramurals! If Interfraternity competition is allowed, Intramurals will have no room on this campus! What, then, will the non-fraternity men do in order to benefit by competition of this sort? It has narrowed down to a case of ethics. Are you fraternity men going to be so selfish as to disregard what the effect of your demands will have? Hell, fellows, that's the wrong attitude to take! Let's get together on this question, and, above all, be gentlemen!

We've been told that the Temple University newspaper contained the following statement after the soccer game with Delaware: "Pete Stevens (the Temple coach) considers Temple's holding Delaware to a 1-1 tie a great moral victory." May we gloat again, Andy? You have a team that's being rated up around the top in collegiate soccer circles, and we're proud of it! Yes siree!

Those Red Devils from Carlisle are stepping high this season . . .

Undefeated thus far . . . Tied, once, though . . . Guess who? . . . None other than Washington and Jefferson . . . W. and J.'s "hot"! . . . Dickinson ran roughshod over Gettysburg, Moravian, and Ursinus . . . But! And here's a glimmer of hope . . . The same Doc Daugherty mentioned above, who claims Dickinson as his Alma Mater, promises that if they have fraternity Rush Week up there this week, Delaware will win tomorrow's game! . . . Why, Doc? . . . "Well . . . rush week knocks the hell out of Dickinsonians, always did!" . . . Here goes a silent prayer (from your columnist) that those Red Devils have been out looking for pledges every night this week . . . We'll know soon, anyhow . . . But, Dickinsonians looking for pledges or not, we'd like to ask the Clarkmen to play as they have in every game this season . . . We'll

Clarkmen Receive Hard Conditioning; Red Devils Next

After suffering three consecutive setbacks, the Blue Hens will be out to annex their initial triumph in their fracas with Dickinson. Realizing that he will face a strong Red Devil juggernaut on Saturday, Coach Lyal Clark drilled his cohorts hard all week in spite of the inclement weather.

On the strength of pre-game performances, the Red Devils will enter the game as favorites. To date the Devils have won three and tied one. One of these victories came at the expense of the Ursinus Bears who previously defeated the Mud Hens 11-6. Last Saturday they tied the strong Washington and Jefferson team, 7 all. Although entering the tilt as underdogs, the improving Clarkmen loom as a possible victor.

Disappointed with the play of his veterans, Coach Clark has made a few changes in the lineup for the Dickinson game. The biggest change will be at tackle where Olaf Drozdov will be replaced by Fritz Ware. Jack Daly will resume his old end position. As the rest of the team came out in good shape, the rest of the lineup will probably be intact.

be satisfied if they do . . . They're real "Ironmen," and deserve loads of credit!

Can Ya Yell?

If you can, and will, get down to the Pep Fest tonight at Wolf Hall. Things'll start popping at 7.00 p. m. Bring your females to hear all those big, rugged grid Huskies make their usual pre-game statements! Admission, of course, is free, and look at what you get!

Dedication

Lewis, Professor of Chemical Engineering, M. I. T. Frank C. Whitmore, Dean of the School of Chemistry and Physics, Pennsylvania State College, was the recipient of a degree presented by Professor Quaesita C. Drake. The Svedberg, of the University of Upsala, was presented with a degree by Professor George H. Ryden, who addressed the assembly in Swedish and in English.

The dedication exercises were closed by The Reverend Charles L. Candee. Immediately after the dedication, the conferences were resumed and finally closed by a luncheon in Old College.

Today, delegates and visitors have long since left our campus, and the dedication ceremonies are a thing of the past. The steady road of bunsen burners in the laboratories and the busy clatter of glassware echoing up and down the long halls proclaim that the new building is starting out to seek the ends to which it was dedicated.

"Roguary is never quiet"

So said Chicago's chief of police in 1880—the year that city speeded up its war on crime with the world's first police telephone system. From that day to this, the telephone, the teletype and more recently police radio—an outgrowth of Bell telephone making—have made "roguary" harder and harder to get away with. Just one more way in which the telephone helps to make your life happier, broader, safer.

ed. Arrangements may be made through coach or supervisor.

9. No competitor may play with more than one team during the current sport activity. He may, however, upon completion of tournament, change to some other group when a new activity is presented for tournament.

10. Substitutes, in order to get participation points and "win bonus," must play at least a quarter in a game such as basketball—two innings in a game such as playground ball.

11. In event a varsity team man should leave the sport in which he is participating, (whatever the reason), he may not compete in the intramural program until the intramural activity in session is finished.

The following year he may not compete in that intramural activity in which he gained his varsity standing without permission from the intramural director and advisors.

Example: A varsity basketball player, because of financial difficulties, decides to drop the game. The following year he decides to forego varsity competition for the intramural basketball team. In order to do this he must get permission from the intramural director and his advisors.

12. Letter awards will be made to individuals gaining 125 points (total) in at least four different activities. This point score may be accumulated over a period of two succeeding years, but not exceeding this period. Bars or stars to be awarded for each additional 80 points after award of letter.

13. Participant gaining greatest number of points during the year, (total to be gotten in at least four different activities) will receive a gold ring emblematic of athletic achievements. Succeeding four high score participants will receive similar awards in silver and bronze.

14. Total individual four year high scorer will receive an appropriate silver loving cup.

15. In event winner of gold award wins again in the following year, the ring will not be given. Instead, the point score will be credited toward the cup. However, other four high scorers are eligible for gold ring award.

16. In event of a tie duplicate awards will be made.

18. No varsity player may compete in the intramural program in the sport in which he gained his varsity standing.

19. Varsity standing to be defined as: a player having competed to the extent of one quarter (15 minutes) in football; one half (15 minutes) in basketball; one point in track; two points in swimming; six innings in baseball; two sets in tennis; one half (40 minutes) in soccer.

20. No varsity or Junior Varsity player may compete (in the intramural program) in any other branch of the program (other than that in which he gained his varsity standing) without permission from his coach and Director of Intramural Athletics.

21. Participating teams may protest any competitor on an eligibility basis. The protest must be lodged at least five days before tournament play.
