HEALTH PROGRAMS PLANNED

Recreation And Rehabilitation On Schedule

Plans for programs of recreation and rehabilitation for patients at Brandywine Tuberculosis Sanatorium are being considered by the State Board of Health. It was announced last week by Dr. A. C. Jost, executive secretary of the State Board of Health.

Based on the idea that recovery is bound to be more certain and more speedy if a patient finds proper means of diverting his mind during the long period of rest many must undergo, the recreational program will seek to furnish them with activities individually suited to their physical conditions and their inclinations.

Earn Own Living

The rehabilitation program will seek to suit each patient to earn his or her living, after release from the sanatorium, in a means not conducive to a relapse. It is explained that if a man, upon release, must return to strenuous labor to which his conditions make him un-suited, he will soon lose the gains he had made in the sanatorium. It is planned to aid "graduates" in finding employment suited to furthering their recovery.

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

Lesson for December 5

CHRISTIAN REBEL

LESSON TEXT—Matthew 11:28-30.
 REFERENCE—1st Peter 4:14.
 GOLDEN TEXT—Come unto me, all ye that labor and are heavy laden, and I will give you rest.—Matthew 11:28.
 PRIMARY TOPIC—When We Are Tired.
 JUNIOR TOPIC—God's Great Invitation.
 INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—How Christ Gives Us Rest.
 YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—Christian Rest.

"Time, like an ever-swinging stream, bears all its sons away," so sang Isaac Watts in 1719. One wonders what he might say today! The road rush of modern life—its terrific tempo—leaves us distraught, nervous, overwrought. Nervous disorders are on a rapid increase, even among children. The condition prevails in the country as well as in the city, although it is aggravated in metropolitan centers.

Let us lay down the burdens of the universe for a bit and counsel quietly about that almost forgotten Christian virtue, rest. Nowhere can the troubled spirit find calm of soul as surely and as quickly as in God's Word—and in the One revealed there, for true rest is found not in a theory, but in a Person.

I. Found in Christ (Matt. 11:28-30).

Rest for our souls is found not in the cessation of activity, but rather in joining with Christ as our yoke-fellow and in going on with him in meekness and lowliness of heart. Most of life's restlessness is the result of pride, of driving ambition to be somebody or to attain something. True humility removes all such disturbing factors.

But we do have a yoke and a burden to bear. Yes, it is true that not all is easy in the Christian life. But as someone has suggested, the burdens are like the burden of feathers on a bird. They may seem to be too heavy for his little body, but as a matter of fact they are the thing his life with. Such are the "burdens" of Christ.

II. Received by Faith (Heb. 4:3).

Those who believe enter into rest. Faith in God through Jesus Christ brings a man into an abiding peace that the storms of life may beat upon but can never move. Fair weather followers of Jesus who fall into a frenzy of fear and worry when sorrow or loss comes upon them need to learn to walk by faith. "Be not dismayed while'er betide, God will take care of you," is more than the pious expression of a hymn writer. It is a statement of fact.

III. Rejected by Unbelief (Heb. 4:1, 6:11).

"The worst thing in the world" is unbelief—because it effectually closes the door to God's blessing. Jesus could not do "many mighty works" in his home town of Nazareth "because of their unbelief" (Matt. 13:58). Unbelief will keep us from the rest that God has prepared for his people, for it not only hinders men from coming to the Saviour, but keeps them from resting in him after they are saved.

IV. Necessary to Useful Living (v. 11).

Only when the follower of Christ appropriates that rest of soul which results from turning from his own efforts and trusting himself fully to Christ will there be that absolute surrender of every detail and problem of life to him which will bring out in daily living the glorious beauty and power of a life at rest with God.

A poem by Fay Ingham which has blessed the writer's soul is here passed on, with the prayer that it may help you who read these notes:

"Well, I am done. My nerves were on the rack,
 I've laid them down today;
 It was the last straw broke the camel's back.
 I've laid that down today.
 No, I'll not fume, nor fuss, nor fight;
 I'll walk by faith a bit and not by sight.
 I think the universe will work all right,
 I've laid it down today.

"So, here and now, the overweight, the weary,
 I'll lay it down today;
 The aching, aching heart; the tearing hurry;
 I'll lay these down today.
 O weary hunch, O feet so prone to run,
 I think that He who made the stars and sun
 Can mind the things you've had to leave undone.
 Do lay them down today."

How true it is that we are prone to bear all the burdens of the universe when God's Word has told us to cast all our care upon Him, for He careth for us (1 Pet. 5:7). It is a powerful testimony for Christ when distraught and worry-ridden non-Christians see God's children walking steady and true in the midst of disappointments, trials, and sorrows. And the opposite is also true, that failure to trust God is a practical denial of our professed faith.

Words Without Action

Few men suspect how much mere talk fritters away spiritual energy—that which should be spent in action, spends itself in words.

Effect of Little Things

The influences of little things are as real and as constantly about us as the air we breathe or the light by which we see.

Your Tax Bill

State and local government costs now total up to $9,000,000,000 a year. Federal costs add $8,000,000,000 more. Which averages out to a load of about $134 a year on the back of every man, woman and child in the country.

WHAT MRS. GRESHAM OVERHEARD

HILDA RICHMOND

There is an old saying to the effect that listeners never hear any good of themselves, and Mrs. Gresham thought of that saying as she waited in a secluded corner of Mrs. Gray's library for the time to send her precious, beautiful little daughter, in her exquisite new silk frock, out to entertain the club ladies with a new little song. It made her very angry, and at that time she thought it was unjust, but she could not very well burst out from her corner to challenge the speaker. "That poor little Nancy Gresham," the unseen speaker had said, "her foolish mother is making a perfect prig of her, pushing her forward at every entertainment." Then the two ladies passed on, little thinking that Mrs. Gresham had heard.

Overheard Truth

Well after the first burst of anger was over Nancy's mother, even while the applause was greeting the little girl in the parlor, had to admit that there was a good deal of truth in what she had overheard. Proud of her pretty little girl, she had angled for invitations and offered the child's services, but up to that hour she had not suspected that her carefully laid plans had been recognized. Nancy loved to do it; Nancy was so charming; people said such beautiful things about her; the other children envied her. As Mrs. Gresham reviewed the little girl's short period of existence she was startled to think how she had tried to make the world—her world—revolve around Nancy. The family doctor had warned her and Nancy's father had protested, but she had felt that as the child's mother she knew her better than anyone else. She could hardly wait until Nancy ran off waving her little hands before exclaiming herself to her hostess and taking the child home.

Delicious Dinner

That evening Mr. Gresham sat down to a most delicious dinner instead of the cold lunch he had expected. His wife had told him "The neighbors' children all like Nancy now and she is far happier than when I used to dress her up and cheat her of her play time," confessed the mother. "Her health is better and she has a better disposition since she gets to sleep early and does not eat party food prepared for grown people."

"And we are happier too," said Mr. Gresham.

"O. Frank, have you seen improvement? Or are you saying that just to be polite and encouraging?" asked his wife.

"I really and truly have seen improvement in all of us, my dear," said the satisfied husband. "You and I have our rightful places in this home, now, and we are not bringing up a girl who might spoil her own and some young man's life later on. Simple living, early hours and plenty of play are worth more to our Nancy than all the hand clapping in the world."

"It hasn't been easy for Nancy or for me, but I thank God I overheard what the woman said on that eventful day," said Mrs. Gresham.

Sure To Be Bothered
 While affecting to dread observations, Tennyson was none the less no little vain. He and William Morris were once walking together on a road in the Isle of Wight. Suddenly in the distance appeared two cyclists wheeling towards them.
 Tennyson immediately took alarm, and turning to Morris, growled out, "Those fellows are sure to bother me!"
 "Keep close to me," he said. "I'll see that they don't bother you."
 Thereupon Morris drew him actively to his side.
 "The cyclists came on, without a sign and presently passed on the other side. Tennyson, evidently baffled and disappointed, once more growled out: "They never even bothered me!"

FHA Handles Loans In 28 State Banks
Approved Lending Institutions In Delaware Increased

Twenty-eight financial institutions in Delaware are now approved by the Federal Housing Administration to handle loans, according to Leo A. Kirk, district director for FHA in Pennsylvania and Delaware. The latest bank approved by the FHA administrator is the Peoples Bank of Harrington.

Mr. Kirk stated that with this number of approved lending institutions qualified to handle FHA loans, home owners and prospective home owners of Delaware have adequate facilities available to them for negotiating mortgage loans through FHA.

Wilmington Office
The service office maintained by the Federal Housing Administration in Wilmington, under the supervision of the district director for Pennsylvania and Delaware, is equipped to disseminate information on the FHA single mortgage system.

Under the FHA plan, you can build, buy or refinance your home. A loan can be secured up to 80 percent of the property value for a term of as long as 20 years. Payment is as easy as rent, and it includes reduction of the principal, interest, taxes and fire and other hazard insurance.

The Wilmington office, located at 511 Industrial Trust Building, will continue to cooperate with individuals and approved mortgages in the proper preparation and presentation of applications for the Wilmington office since last May has been operated as a service branch under the supervision of the Philadelphia office which is headquarters for the Pennsylvania-Delaware district.

"Undersoused" Society Started At Swarthmore
Swarthmore College undergraduates last week formed the United Scions of the Aristocracy, an organization claiming 215 members, promptly drafted a program for "uniting the scattered crumbs of the upper crust," planned to agitate for free caviar and champagne for "impetuous aristocrats," according to TIME News magazine.

First to receive their attention will be the "underserved and undersold one-third of the Nation's population." Their legislative aims include pensions for indigent debutantes and for "well-bred worthies who can prove they have never soiled their hands with labor."

Cried an aristocracy-raouser: "What will happen to our American culture if our upper crust is robbed of the substance with which to endow our art galleries, the opera and racing stables?"

The society's shield: a button bearing a top hat with U. S. A. on the crown and a cane and gloves rampant on a blue field. Its slogan: "He who walks backward never stubs his toe."

Success
Who has achieved SUCCESS who has laughed often and much. Who has gained the love of pure women and the love of little children. Who has filled his life with accomplishment. Who has found the world better than he found it. Who has been a beautiful poem, or a beautiful song, or a beautiful deed. Who has looked for the best in others, and given the best in himself. Who has been a success in life, whose life was an inspiration, whose memory is a benediction. This constitutes SUCCESS.

GOOD FARM PRICES ATTRACT IMPORTS

The value of competitive farm imports varies with farm income. From 1925 up to 1936, farm income was high. During that period farm imports were greater than for any other year shown in the chart. In 1932 when income was at its lowest, imports were at their lowest. As income increased up to 1936, the value of shipments from other countries increased. At no time is the value of farm imports more than a small fraction of the value of the farmer's income.

Safety Assembly

On Wednesday, November 24, an assembly was given with a movie of safety on the stage. Grouped around the screen were all of the Thanksgiving donations for the baskets. The cheer leaders, Ruth Wilson, Anne Morrison and Virginia Stickleby gave a short dramatization. A pep fest followed, to prepare for the Conrad game.

Incidentally, Newark won the Newark-Conrad game on Thursday with a score of 13-0.

Songs and Dances

Mr. Helms, the vocal instructor, gave entertainments to the intermediate grade and the Senior High School on Tuesday. He gave imitations of various instruments and had a remarkable range of singing voices. The entertainment was closed with a demonstration of modern dancing assisted by Miss E. Johnson, the girl's physical education teacher.

Invitations are out for the annual football banquet for the Newark squad on December 6 in the cafeteria. Awards of letters will be made and an address will be given by Rev. Park Huntington.

Faculty Meeting

A meeting of the faculty was held on Monday for routine work and for the purpose of planning for the next faculty play. Several teachers will be in attendance at the American Vocation Association in Baltimore on Thursday and Friday of this week.

Miss Dorothy Markert will succeed Mr. Overly as teacher of mathematics in Junior High School. She was head of the Student Council at the University of Delaware last year.

Christmas Toys

to balance himself and avoid falls. Rag or oilcloth picture books will give him quiet entertainment. They are light, easy for him to manage and have no hard pointed edges that might inflict little hurts.

The child from one and a half to three likes to take his toys apart. To counteract this destructive tendency, he should have toys that can easily be put together. Blocks that look or large, simple puzzle boards will interest him. Guard against the flimsy miniature wagon or train whose wheels may come off. Children are apt to swallow parts of toys they have taken apart. Manufacturers of better toys have given special attention to this detail and have made toys of this type so sturdy that the young investigator will find himself balked.

Unbreakable Dolls
Unbreakable dolls are best for the very little girl. Agate or beetle ware dishes will make her house-keeping safe. Since her playthings should stimulate imaginative play, it is neither safe nor desirable from the viewpoint of her development to give her an electric stove or iron.

These realistic toys are for sister who has passed her eighth birthday and is responsible enough to use them without endangering herself and the household. In selecting electrical toys for the older members of the family, those carrying the label "Underwriters' Laboratory—Inspected" are safest, but certain amount of supervision and inspection is necessary if any electrical toy is to be used with complete safety. Even grown-ups have been known to leave their pressing iron turned on.

Every boy seems to be a born carpenter but first attempts to drive nails may disclose a painful lack of skill. Junior carpenter's sets give the little boy plenty of opportunity to pound without endangering his fingers. For the very youngest there is a board in which colored pegs are set. They can be hammered down but cannot fall out, and when all of them have been driven in, the board can be turned over—and there they are all ready to go to work on again. Other sets have wooden guards with holes into which nails can be dropped, thus keeping fingers at a safe distance from the hammer. Strong, workmanlike tools contribute to the safety of carpentry sets for older boys.

Teaching With Toys
Two types of gifts which definitely call for safety rules are small vehicles and guns. When four-year-old David receives his velocipede he can begin then and there to learn something about good driving. He can practice consideration for those who share the sidewalk with him and learn something about giving and taking the right of way. The older boy who wants a wheel should understand thoroughly the hazards of riding a bicycle today. The giver, whether parent, older brother or sister, uncle or aunt, should feel satisfied that he will ride carefully before he decides to give a shining new wheel a place beside the Christmas tree. It is necessary to give a little time and thought to presenting safety problems of this kind and securing the cooperation of the child, but it can be done. Every Christmas in innumerable families the questions of firearms is raised. Since every Christmas also brings its gun accidents, there seems to be only one answer to the problem. When a safe rifle range can be provided with a responsible person to superintend the shooting, then and then only should a boy have his first shooting experience.

For a merry Christmas that will bring year-round happiness, choose wisely when you go to the toy department with its tempting displays of gay and beguiling playthings. With the wide field of delightful, well-made and inexpensive toys from which to choose, there is no reason why Christmas 1937 can't be entirely safe and happy.

No Leisure
A farmer who went to a big city to see the sights engaged a room at a hotel and before retiring asked the clerk about the hours for meals. "We have breakfast from 7 to 11, dinner from 12 to 3, and supper from 6 to 8," explained the clerk. "Look here," inquired the farmer in surprise, "what time am I going to see the town?"

TWO NEW FORD V-8 CARS FOR 1938

THE DE LUXE

85 HORSEPOWER

DE LUXE FORD V-8... 112" wheelbase; 85-horsepower engine; Improved Easy-Action Safety Brakes; Center-Poise Ride; All-steel body; Mohair or Broadcloth upholstery; Walnut-finished trim; Twin horns, tail lights, sun visors; Clock; 600" black tires, white side-walls are extra; 8 body types; 6 colors.

THE STANDARD

60 OR 85 HORSEPOWER

STANDARD FORD V-8... 112" wheelbase; 65 or 80 horsepower engine; Improved Easy-Action Safety Brakes; Center-Poise Ride; All-steel body; Broadcloth or Mohair upholstery, Mohair extra in "60"; Mahogany-finished trim; One tail light, sun visor; Twin horns; 3 body types; 3 colors.

FORD offers two new cars for 1938—the Standard Ford V-8 and the De Luxe Ford V-8. They are different in appearance—but built to the same high standard of mechanical excellence—on the same chassis.

Because people liked our 1937 car so well, they bought more than of any other make. They liked its looks, its smooth performance, and the way it handled. We have improved on that car in the newly styled Standard Ford V-8.

But some folks wanted still more size and style, with the same Ford advantages. For them, we designed a new De Luxe line. The De Luxe Ford V-8 Sedans are longer with more room, larger luggage space, and finer appointments all around.

De Luxe cars are equipped with the 85-horsepower engine only.

The Standard is even lower priced than the De Luxe. It has graceful new lines and well-tailored interiors—with a choice of engine sizes—65 or 80 horsepower.

Before Ford made V-type 8-cylinder engines available to every one, they were used only in expensive cars. Since then, four million Ford owners have learned the genuine enjoyment of driving an eight-cylinder car with all-around economy. The thrifty "60" engine, especially, makes possible in Standard models a very low first cost and equally low operating cost. With two distinct designs, two engine sizes and two price ranges, you'll find a 1938 Ford car to fit your needs exactly.

PRICES FOR CARS DELIVERED IN DETROIT—TAXES EXTRA

Standard Ford V-8 (60 hp.)—Coupe, $599; Tudor, $644; Fordor, $689. Standard Ford V-8 (85 hp.)—Coupe, $629; Tudor, $669; Fordor, $714. De Luxe Ford V-8 (85 hp. only)—Coupe, $689; Tudor, $729; Fordor, $774; Convertible Coupe, $774; Club Coupe, $749; Convertible Club Coupe, $804; Phaeton, $824; Convertible Sedan, $904.

Standard and De Luxe cars equipped with bumpers, bumper guards, spare wheel, tire, tube, tire lock and band, cigar lighter, twin horns, and headlight beam indicator on instrument panel, at no extra charge.

In addition, De Luxe cars are equipped with extra tail light, windshield wiper, sun visor; also de luxe steering wheel, glove compartment lock, clock, and chrome wheel bands, at no extra charge.

MEDDLING CANNOT HALT PROGRESS

Improvements by way of more efficient and economical machinery in industry cannot be halted by individual or collective groups. Congress cannot legislate against advancement. Organized labor is powerless to stop it.

Thus the Train-Length Bill now before Congress is as sure to die as Japan will continue to molest China. Should the bill be written into the code by this session of Congress it will merely be dropped at a later session.

Organized labor can do much for the workingman. It can better his conditions, shorten the working day and increase his pay. But organized labor cannot halt the wheels of progress.

If the railroads of the United States see fit to build locomotive equipment large enough to haul 200 loaded freight cars that's the railroads' business. And larger locomotive equipment, the same as improved machinery for the printer, automobile manufacturer, mill owner—every line of industry—is a progressive step.

Organized labor should concentrate on a 25 or 30-hour week as a means of distributing work. To oppose the wheels of progress, battle the natural trend of development and attempt to stifle industrial initiative is foolhardy and a waste of time.

Progress made this Nation. Progress made it possible for organized labor to exist. And progress will not be halted, despite attempts to slide a train-length bill through a jittery Congress. Progress even over-rides Congressmen and Senators.

FALSE IMPRISONMENT

In spite of the many legal safeguards which surround those accused of crime, a good many innocent persons suffer imprisonment, and even death, as the result of perjured or otherwise unreliable evidence. A few instances are related by Margaret W. Stewart, of the Library of Congress, in a recent article.

There is the case of William Wilson, of Alabama, convicted in 1914 on the charge of murdering his wife and given a life sentence. After he had served more than three years the supposedly murdered woman was found living in Indiana, and Wilson was pardoned. He was given $3,500 by the state as partial recompense for his wrongful imprisonment.

Another victim, J. B. Brown, of Florida, served 12 years for a murder of which he was finally found entirely innocent. The state gave him $2,492 in installments, or about $200 for each year in prison.

Mississippi was not quite so liberal with Moses Walker, who served five years under a false charge, but awarded him $500 upon his release.

These payments by the states concerned were made through the passage of special bills by their Legislatures. Two states, North Dakota and Wisconsin, have permanent laws providing compensation for wrongful imprisonment.

It is hard to imagine anything more tragic than the punishment of an innocent person. When such unhappily occurs, it seems that compensation should be made a fixed public policy in every state. No money payment can really compensate for the mental and physical suffering experienced by the victim of false imprisonment, but it would at least assist him in making a new start in life.

In an article giving safety advice to motorists, Ab Jenkins, holder of 14 international speed and endurance records says "Above all keep both hands on the wheel. The only two people I know who are competent to drive one-handed are Eddie Rickenbacker and Ralph de Palma—and both of them use two hands.

Hilary Kennedy, of Reedsport, Ore., can play two trumpets at one time.

A student at the high school in Winslow, Me., is named Harvard Yale Brown.

Questions From War Veterans

Questions and answers will be printed in this column to acquaint veterans of the World War with privileges and benefits to which they are entitled by the Veterans Administration. Replies are being furnished by J. Q. Smith, past commander of the J. Allison O'Daniel Post No. 10, American Legion, and special representative for veterans in this area. Questions can be sent to this paper or to Mr. Smith.

Q—What can a veteran do to protect his honorable discharge and privileges it entitles him to, against possibility of discharge becoming lost?
A—An honorable discharge from the Army, Navy, or Marine Corps may be registered in the office of the Recorder of Deeds without cost. Veterans in this area may have a copy of their discharge prepared and registered with the Town Clerk of Newark. Forms for such copies will be prepared by the Town Clerk on request. HOW TO DO THE "BIG APPLE"

No dance in years has caught the public fancy like the Big Apple which originated in South Carolina, and has been sweeping the country like a tropical hurricane. It is a natural and inevitable subject for a short film, and Educational Pictures has been quick to put it on the screen. Featuring Arthur Murray "Shag" Dancers, this feature, "The Big Apple," gives an authentic presentation of the new dance in a light little story of college boys and girls. Murray, who is perhaps the world's best known authority on dancing, recruited his dancers from the finalists in the famous Harvest Moon Ball in New York. Under the direction of this famous teacher, their "Big Apple" will be accepted as the last word in what's right in the new dance. This popular short will play the State Theatre this week, Friday and Saturday.

STATE THEATRE BRIEFS

Friday and Saturday

Those dizzy, daffy Ritz Brothers so collegiate in their first starring musical comedy riot of haywire hilarity, "Life Begins in College," 20th Century-Fox tunesmith hit featuring Joan Davis, Tony Martin and Gloria Stuart and an outstanding cast of many players. Merrier and madder than they were in their other film plays dizzy in football frenzies screwier by far than anything they have ever done before. In a picture teeming with songs, love, laughter, beauties and cuties. But the Ritz Brothers aren't the only ones on the collegiate path of giddy songs and gags, there's Joan Davis on a heartthrob for an Indian, of all things. Tony Martin, singing, swinging leader of the band; and Gloria Stuart, lovely queen of the campus. The supporting cast also featured Fred Stone, Nat Pendleton, Ed Thorngerson, Dick Baldwin, Joan Marsh and Dixie Dunbar.

"North of the Rio," a thrilling western, will be added to the bill on Saturday.

Monday

Harry Berry's All New, 1937 Edition of his famous "SUNKIST VANITIES" will be on the stage at this theatre this day only. A flashy All-Girl Band, a troupe of outstanding acts, attractive settings and showmanship production combine to make this 1937 Edition one of the very best Roadshows on tour. Headed by the versatile Harry Berry himself, and featuring such splendid performers as Wallin & Barnes Broadway Comedians; Mary Keith, America's Sweetheart of the Violin; Pullman & Dornier, in "Fly Sports of the Golden West"; Fanny, the Yodeling Canine; Richard Newell & Company, held over from last year's show due to their tremendous success; The Four Johnsons, a "Ripley, Believe it or Not" sensational dancing band plus Harry Berry's All Girl Band, who are without a doubt one of the finest combinations of Girl Musicians ever presented with a Road show of this type.

In addition to this stage show the featured picture will be "Blond Trouble" starring the real-life sweethearts of Hollywood, Elenore Whitney and Janny Downs.

Tuesday and Wednesday

Something breath-taking new in screen entertainment comes to this theatre these two days in Walter Wanger's "Vogues of 1938," in preparation for many months and representing a staggering investment, the film offers screen audiences a preview of next year's fashions in fun, girls, music, dances and Technicolor. This gay musical stars Warner Baxter and Joan Bennett at the head of an imposing cast including Helen Vinson, Mischa Auer, Alan Mowbray and the Walter Wanger Models, "the most photographed girls in the world," whose beauty and shapeliness the producer has framed in style creations from three famous designers, and furs and jewels valued at $1,000,000. Several new song hits were written especially for this production, including "That Old Feeling" by Lew Brown, and Sammy Fain, "Lovely One," "Red Hot Heat" and "Fall Fashion Forecast." Seymour Felix, winner of the dance direction award of the Academy of Motion Picture Arts and Sciences, handled the dance routines and Wanger imported Rocco and Sauter from the Harlem hot spots to head the colored performers used in the Cotton Club sequence.

Thursday

A smash musical comedy goes to the head of the class among Paramount's successes for the year with the release of the hilariously funny comedy romance, "This Way Please," starring Charles (Buddy) Rogers and Betty Grable. This film also marks the screen debut of Mary Livingstone, Jack Benny's Mary to be exact, whose infectious laugh has endeared her to millions of radio fans these several years. Also seen for the first time on the screen are Fibber McGee and Molly, who are Jim and Marion Jordan in real life. Ned (Sour Puss) Sparks will be seen as a press agent whose loony ideas of publicity provide plenty of headaches to every one.

WASHINGTON NEWS

FROM OUR CONGRESSMAN
WILLIAM F. ALLEN

WAGES AND HOURS — The wages and hours bill introduced by Ex-Senator Black and Congressman Connery was passed by the Senate last session. It is now on the calendar of the House but it is blocked by the opposition in the House Committee on Rules. The only way to bring the bill to the floor is by petition to discharge the bill from the Rules Committee. 218 signatures from Representatives would automatically bring the question of consideration before the House of Representatives but so far only 152 signatures have been secured.

PRIVATE CAPITAL

Private capital is to figure a great deal in bringing the nation back to recovery, according to President Roosevelt. People put off building homes and buying durable products. Economic advisers as well as the President believe that the way to solve these problems is to put public capital to work and try to create employment.

FORECLOSURES

The costly, time-consuming, and often unnecessary foreclosures procedures required in many States have hampered mortgage-lending activity, according to the Federal Home Loan Bank. The high cost of foreclosures in some States serves automatically to reduce the value of the mortgage security. This burdens the borrower who must pay higher interest rates and who receives more restricted loan terms.

FARMERS' SHARE OF CONSUMER'S FOOD DOLLAR

IS 46 CENTS—Farmers by the end of this year will have received an average of about 46 cents of the consumer's dollar spent for a list of 58 foods. The farmers' share in 1936 averaged 44 cents. In 1935 it was 42 cents, and in 1933 it was 35 cents. The figure for 1929 was 47 cents.

FISH FOR FRIDAY WITHOUT APOLOGY!

Baked Stuffed Haddock—Try It This Week, Advises Mary Talbot

Mary Talbot

FISH without odor? It's almost too good to be true, isn't it? Yet a new household odorant has made its appearance which takes the curse off Friday cooking because it wafts smells into nothingness! So here's a quick, easy way to serve up haddock to the queen's taste—flaky, whole fish. Skewer opening to gullet. Transfer to a well greased, paper lined baking pan, brush with softened butter, or lay bacon strips over the top. If desired, bake in a moderate oven 275° F., about 1 hour.

And here's how you banish odors: Get a can of this new odorless household deodorant powder at the drug store. Mix a little of it with water to form a solution so harmless you could drink it if you wanted to. Then spray it into the air during or after cooking. For once no undesirable odors will precede the fish to the table. If you are extremely fastidious, spray the solution in the dining room after dinner. You and the haddock will have to make no apologies to family or guests.

A Golden Opportunity

Odds on favorites—with plenty of reason—to knock New Castle High School's football players for a loop earlier in the season, Newark High School's Yellow Jackets (why don't they spell it as one word?) were victims of over-confidence and fell easy prey for an aroused contingent of Madliffers.

Bill Gillespie's kids have been winning games with plenty of reason—over that attack ever since. Bitter disappointment has been somewhat tempered by victories over Wilmington High and P. S. du Pont, but the sting of that New Castle defeat still exists.

Talk to any of the little Jackets about football and sooner or later they'll express a wish to play New Castle again. Since time refuses to turn backwards (don't we all know that?), another crack at the Castles is out of the question in 1937.

A bigger and better opportunity for personal satisfaction and state renown lies ahead for the Jackets, however, in their post-season battle with Salesianum School Saturday at Pennsy Field, Wilmington.

RWR

Situation Reversed

Instead of being favorites in the battle, the New Yorkers will find themselves on the short end of the odds. The Sallies, playing at home and on the field that is most familiar to them, will have somewhat of an edge as far as conditions go. Then, too, the Catholics have been stacking up against more experienced and generally stronger opposition than the Jackets have been facing.

But pre-game conditions, past performances and advance odds mean little or nothing. The Jackets learned that truth in the New Castle game, when an underdog team upset the apparent, as it were, New Yorkers to avenge that stinging setback and do a bit of upsetting on their own—at Salesianum's expense.

RWR

Support Merited

Bill Gillespie has had better teams than the present aggregation at Newark High School, according to the records. The current Jackets, however, have managed to hold their own in state competition, despite the New Castle affair.

In addition to humbling Wilmington and P. S. du Pont, they succeeded in stopping eleven opponents and an "opposing" referee, if accounts of the game mean anything, by being an undefeated Dover team.

On top of that, West Nottingham Academy, which completed its regular schedule without a setback, was held to a 7-7 deadlock in a torrid contest.

Aided by Irish O'Connell, who has been developing players on a light but fiery jayvee team, Gillespie has done a whale of a job in carrying the 1937 Jackets to their present status in the state.

Newark people to the man—and woman—should support the team Saturday for more reasons than one. The Jackets' work to date merits it and the backing of a friendly gallery will no doubt prove helpful to a game gang of kids who are stacking up against a really strong foe in Mike McCall's Salesianum squad.

Life Saver

Cool, calm and sensible under any and all conditions, Dr. George W. Rhodes has a knack of telling appropriate stories. No doubt inspired by criticism leveled at the University of Delaware in particular, Dr. Rhodes spilled the following tale in his drug store the other morning: "An old graduate of a well-known college was hunting in a forest when a storm came up. Looking about for shelter under the rain, he found and crawled into a hollow log, which fitted quite snugly. The rain lasted for hours and soaked through the wood. The log began to contract. When the storm was over the hunter was unable to get out. The log held tight, and finally, exhausted, the man gave up, knowing that he would starve to death. His life flashed before him. Suddenly he remembered that he had never contributed a cent toward the support of the alumni association of his alma mater. This made him feel so small that he was able to crawl out of the log without difficulty."

RWR

A Final Hope

He hasn't said so, but we'll bet Bill Gillespie is hoping that former high school "stars" play hands-off in their current gridders until after the Salesianum affair. The back-in-my-day-boys can make it tough for a coach and his charges.

Locals Drill On Fundamentals For Post-Season Clash

By Bill Fletcher

Coach William K. Gillespie's Newark High School eleven, boasting victories over Wilmington's leading grid machines, will attempt to add more laurels to its football crown when it faces Salesianum Catholic High in a post-season clash at Pennsylvania Field, Wilmington, on Saturday afternoon.

Annually looked upon as the most outstanding football team in the state, the Sallies aggregation has never shown any distinct superiority over the local combine and followers of the pigskin sport will probably find the 14-mile drive well-worth their while.

Twice downed by the Wilmington team during Coach Gillespie's coaching regime, in 1933 by a single touchdown, and in 1934 by a pair of tallies, the Jackets are anxious to take a step toward balancing matters and they have all the necessary qualifications to do so.

Heavily endowed with an unusual backfield, one which boasts of three speedy and shifty ball carriers, the Newark team is also blessed with a forward wall which is a tower of strength when coordinating properly.

Leads Sallies Against Jackets

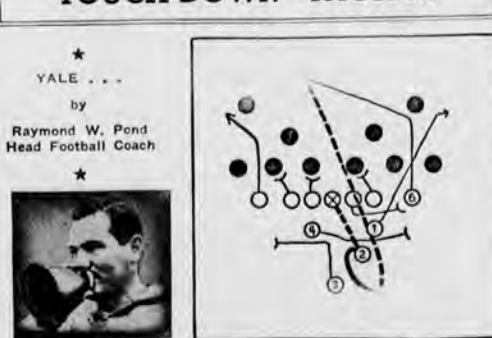

Captain Dom Montero

When Mike McCall's Salesianum School eleven trots out on Pennsy Field Saturday afternoon to battle the Newark High School Yellow Jackets in the big post season tilt, Dom Montero, brilliant tackle, will lead the Gold and White forces. Montero, a sensational performer, has come through a hard season in great shape and promises to cause the Jackets plenty of trouble.

TOUCH-DOWN TACTICS

This is the sixth in a series of nine outstanding diagram plays by nine leading college coaches from Grantland Rice's Cities Service Football Guide.

THIS play resulted in the only score of the Yale-Princeton game in 1934. It is better when used on the 2nd or 3rd down in a team's own territory with large yardage to make. The pass is thrown from punt formation, and this is the way it worked.

Morton, No. 1, as a decoy, pulled the defensive left half back toward the side line. Train, L. E., also as a decoy, pulled the defensive right half back toward the side line.

HEN CAGE SQUAD NOW NUMBERS 30

Face Rutgers Sat.; Tank Team Works Out

With five days in which to win his charges into shape, Coach Lyle Clark sent a squad of 30 basketball candidates through its first serious drill of the year in preparation for the initial tilt with Rutgers University at New Brunswick, N. J., on Saturday.

Four lettermen are among the candidates who have been working out all week, including Captain Lew Carey, Jack Daly, Ferris Wharton and Earl Sheats.

Carey, who led the scoring for the Hens' last year, will be well-supported at the forward posts by Daly and Wharton, local boys, while Sheats is expected to hold down the regular pivot position.

In Tommy Ryan, the varsity center has a capable substitute who can also do all right for himself at one of the guard berths, which are wide open. With the guard positions in doubt, the most serious bids for the jobs are expected to be made by Bruce Lindsay, who was ineligible last year; Earl McCord and Jack Kern, who saw some varsity action last season; Eddie Anderson, a former junior varsity man; Fred Mitchell, of Lynchburg, Va., a freshman, and Dan O'Donnell, a Salesianum and Archmere Academy turn-out.

Other freshmen vying for positions are: Ken Mink, Alden, Pa.; Ted Mercer, A. I. du Pont High School; Bill Wendle, P. S. du Pont High; Ken Marvel, of Milford, and Carty Douglass, of Newark.

Members of the 1936-37 squad working out are: Sully Davis, Jack Schaefer, Bill Gerow, Bill Ratledge, George Anderson and Phil Reed. Other candidates are: John Healy, T. J. Healy, George Anderson, John Johnson, Bill Duffy, Alex Cobb, Bob Anderson, Bob Ferguson, George Knox, and Fran Jamison.

Three tilts are slated for the Christmas holidays. Following the Scarlet battle, the Hens will play hosts to Philadelphia Textile School and Hampden-Sydney in Taylor Gym, the former on December 10, the latter three days later.

Swimmers Work Out
Coach Ed Barde's squad of men-men expanded to 20 candidates this afternoon as they got down to serious work in preparation for their home tilt prior to the holiday recess with West Chester State Teachers' College at West Chester, Pa.

Four lettermen, including Captain Hyman Swartz, Charles Kenworthy, Bob Lippincott and Olaf Drodzow, are among the candidates. Members of last year's squad who have again reported are: Reid Stearns, Gordon Little, Steve Saltzman, Bill Henning, Bill Gregg, Fred Myer and Nicholas Zebank.

Freshmen who have turned out for the term are: Al Mock, Salesianum; Bill Foster, Wilmington High School; Emil Such, Sayville, N. J.; Bob Monahan, Ocean City, N. J.; Chester Benson, A. I. du Pont High School; Bill Lippincott and Henry Stearns, of Newark.

Handicapped by a lack of experienced material, Coach Barde again faces a tough proposition in developing his novices in the winning stride enjoyed a few years ago when the Blue Hen tankmen were bowling over records like tin cans.

The limited squad of a few weeks ago, however, has swelled considerably and the Hens' mentor has an abundance of material with which to work.

Half an acre of garden can easily produce $150 worth of food.

FORMER CHAMPION TO SHOW AT STATE

Has Held Title Three Times; Many Lengthy Runs Recorded

Erwin Rudolph, three time holder of the world's title in pocket billiards, will be seen at Jimmy Martin's State parlors, Saturday afternoon in the first of a series of exhibitions sponsored by the proprietor of the local academy.

"Rudy," as he is known the country over, needs no introduction to the pocket billiard fans of this or any other vicinity. He won the world's title in 1927 from Earl Greenleaf, in a three-night match again led the pack in a 12-hand tournament in 1930, which fielded Greenleaf and all the leading players of the country.

Won Again In 1931
Rudolph won his third championship in the 1933 tournament at Chicago, defeating such stars as the leaf, Ponzi, Kelly, Mosconi, Bill Allen and others of championship calibre.

He holds the accepted high record for exhibition contests, a break of 277 balls, made at Falls, S. D., in 1935. This on an x9 table. On a regulation championship table "Rudy" has a cluster of 254 balls, made in a money match. His highest in the world's championship competition is 111.

Fossett In Test
In touring the country, Rudy stands ready to meet any player selected to oppose him, no matter how good, and Martin, proprietor of the State parlors, will pit Jack Fossett against the National Billiard Program star in a match of 11 balls. Rudolph will follow after and will instruct all spectators to improve their game, a mission will be free.

Textiles On Display At Women's College

Work Of Former Students And Other Artists To Be Shown At School

An exhibition of ceramics and hand-woven textiles will be displayed in the art gallery, Memorial Library, by the art department of Women's College, University of Delaware, from December 1 through December 12, it was announced by Miss Harriet Baily, director, this week.

The exhibition features the work of May Kedney, Camilla Downing Day, Mary Breaume Seasholtz and Louise Burke White, the last three of whom are graduates of Women's College.

Former Teachers

May Kedney, who taught art for several years in Delaware public schools, has studied weaving in Sweden. She now has her own studio in Middletown, Conn. There are 34 pieces of her weaving in various sizes and styles in the display.

Camilla Downing Day, an alumna of the Women's College, was a member of the art department at the local institution for four years. She has devoted most of her attention recently to pottery. Some of her work done on a "kick wheel" is in the exhibition.

Uses Vegetables

Louise Burke White, who taught art at Newport, Rose Hill and Oak Grove for several years, has for the last year been experimenting with unusual weaving. She dyes her materials with vegetables for achieving distinctive colors. She is represented in the exhibition by three table runners and a small rug.

Mary Breaume Seasholtz is teaching art at Claymont. Last year she studied in New York and has contributed ceramics in a lighter vein and a small piece of serious sculpture.

The gallery is open to the public every week day from 8 until 6 o'clock, and on Sunday from 2 until 5.

Edward did not have to leave England.

Knitwear Rates A+ for Campus Wear

Courtesy of the Knitwear Institute

The two-piece suit at the left is in a smooth cashmere knit, perfect for travelling and perfectly at home on the campus. It is in natural color with a maroon zipper extending almost to the leather belt. Note the heart-shaped breast pockets. The suit at the right is knitted in striped design of wool ratine and zephyr using the popular dubonnet shade combined with navy blue. The two flap pockets at the hips are echoed by simulated ones above. The low V neck has a turned-back collar and a silk kerchief worn ascot-style. One of the leather belts is in blue, the other dubonnet.

PERFECT for travelling, and perfect for the campus! That describes the new machine-knitted suits to a T. Starting off for school and college in a burst of self-confidence that comes from knowing that she is clad in the very smartest of apparel, the young girl student is all set to make straight A's right through her courses.

Simplicity is combined with practicality in the clothes offered for college wear this fall. So many new ideas have been worked out by American manufacturers in both designs and colors that the jaded Senior has become just as enthusiastic as the timid Freshman.

The two suits shown above illustrate all these points: They are simple in silhouette and carefully tailored, and extremely practical, since they don't wrinkle when packed or worn for travelling and emerge from airplane, boat, bus or train fresh and ready for classroom wear.

Sweaters and skirts are the hardy perennials, of course, although the popular culottes are ranking high in the fashion textbook. Contrasting sweater sets—navy blue with orange, brown with bright yellow, black (brand new and very chic) with smoke gray—pass all exams with flying colors. Silponas under classic cardigans, of course—but also the new combination of sleeveless slip-on over long-sleeved turtle-necked sweater.

The dressmaker type of sweater is another campus style that has high ranking. These are on the "feminine" side, having absorbed a little from the dress fashions now being highlighted. They have broad shoulders, new necklines—either high V, or standing collars, high square effects, drawstrings or soft bows—and sleeve interest.

by members, thereby keeping the expense at a minimum.

The Ladies Aid Society of the Newport M. E. Church held its monthly business meeting and social on Wednesday evening in the social hall of the church. Mrs. Alvin Ruth was chairman of the program committee.

Christmas Bazaar

The Newport Woman's Club will serve a chicken patte supper on Thursday evening in the clubhouse. Mrs. Harrison Day, chairman of ways and means committee, is in charge. The annual Christmas bazaar will be held in conjunction with the supper.

Services in the Newport M. E. Church on Sunday were in charge of the Rev. J. C. McCoy, who spoke in the morning on "The Living Hope," and in the evening on the theme, "Christ Before Pilate."

The Guild of St. James' P. E. Church, Newport, will hold its annual Christmas party, Friday evening, at the home of Mrs. Fred Huber, Richardson Park.

The Newport Branch of the W. C. T. U. held its monthly business meeting on Wednesday afternoon in the church.

QUESTION: How is it possible to prevent fruit pies from boiling over in the oven?

ANSWER: Have you ever tried putting a loose top crust on fruit pies? You simply fit bottom crust into pan, flute edge and add filling. Cut top crust just large enough to fit over filling, and meet the fluted edge of lower crust; prick pastry, place on pie, and bake. When filling expands, the top crust rises making it impossible for the juice to run out.

QUESTION: Which type of electric oven cookery is preferred—starting with a cold or preheated oven?

ANSWER: That is a question which only you can decide, particularly if you have a Hotpoint range. Many foods—cakes, pies, meats, hot breads, etc., are equally successful when the baking begins in either a cold or a preheated oven. The "one-step" cold-oven-start method is, of course, ideal for cooking meats when you are away as well as convenient for the homemaker who forgets to preheat the oven. Both methods are successful, however, so it is recommended that you use the particular one which best fits your needs.

QUESTION: How can one cream butter quickly without waiting for it to soften?

ANSWER: First, rinse out mixing bowl with hot water and dry. Then add butter and cream it with a wooden spoon. To speed up the process even more, place bowl in pan of hot water. In a short time the butter will be fluffy and soft.

QUESTION: What remedy can you suggest for coarse granular refrigerator ice cream?

ANSWER: Equally as important as using a good tested recipe for making ice cream is freezing it properly; that is, freezing it so quickly that large ice crystals haven't an opportunity to form. To accomplish this, set the cold control at the lowest degree possible. This varies with most refrigerators but there is a new one on the market with an exceptionally efficient speed-freezing unit. In it ice creams freeze very rapidly and as a result are smooth and velvety.
