PUTTING GOD'S KINGDOM FIRST

LESSON TEXT—Matthew 6:19-24.
GOLDEN TEXT—But seek ye first the kingdom of God, and his righteousness.—Matthew 6:33.

Said the Robin to the Sparrow:
"I should really like to know
Why these anxious human beings
Rush about and worry so."

Said the Sparrow to the Robin:
"Friend, I think that it must be
That they have no Heavenly Father
Such as cares for you and me."
Elizabeth Cheney.

Most men are rushing about madly.
Worry presses them down.
They wonder whether life is worth-while,
Whether somewhere there is not relief
From this nervous tension that is destroying mind and body.
Well, there is relief and it consists of but one ingredient. Give God His proper place, the first place in your life, and "all these things" (Matt. 6:33) will take their rightful places. Seeking first the kingdom of God will settle every problem about money, about food and clothing, and about the future.

L. Money (vv. 19-24).
The word in our text is "treasures," and we know that it has a broader meaning than money, but since in our day men seem to translate all values into dollars, we feel free to use that word "money" to express our thoughts.

The treasure is something that one has placed somewhere in order to keep it for himself. It is not a thing gathered for the purpose of using it to serve others or to serve God, but something put away on the shelf to be kept for one's own enjoyment.

There are two places in which a man can lay up treasure, on earth or in heaven; but it is only as he becomes selfish that which he sends on to heaven by his devotion of life and in service to Christ, by his sacrificial giving to the cause of Christ, by his encouragement of those who are witnessing for Christ, all this is done for the glory of God and without hope of reward. How great will be the surprise of some when they come to heaven and find what they have thus laid up for eternity.

Laying up treasures on this earth, on the other hand, leads to covetousness, to enslavement to one's possessions, the great or small, and to the evil that follows like a train in the wake of a love of money.

II. Food and Clothing (vv. 25-32).
Some who have no great desire to amass riches are nevertheless in constant anxiety about food and raiment for the morrow; in fact, it is true of some who have great riches that they live in fear lest next month or next year or ten years from now they may be in need.

What is the answer of the Lord Jesus? Consider the birds. They are not able to work nor are they able to pray, but God feeds them. Consider the glory of the flowers of the fields, for not even a king can dress himself in such beauty. "Are ye not much better than they?" (v. 26).

"As far as known, no bird ever tried to build more nests than its neighbors; no fox ever fretted because it had only one hole in which to hide; no squirrel ever died of anxiety lest he should not lay up enough nuts for two winters instead of one; and no dog ever lost any sleep over the fact that he did not have enough bones laid aside for his declining years" (Public Health Service).

Proper forethought is good and right for we are intelligent beings, but anxiety about our daily needs is always dishonoring to God.

III. The Future (vv. 33-34).
Why will we fret ourselves about the future? It is in God's hands, and even if it were in our hands, what could we do about it? Even tomorrow, with its needs and its blessings, is not yet here, and when it does come, there will be God's gracious provision for each passing hour.

Unsaved friend, will you not take the Lord Jesus Christ just now as your personal Saviour and let Him solve the problems of your life as you put the kingdom of God first? Christian friend, if you too have been bearing burdens which are not honoring to God, will you not tell Him just now, and put them down at the feet of the Lord Jesus? "Casting all your care upon him; for he careth for you" (1 Pet. 5:7), which might properly be translated, "Casting all your worries (or distractions) on Him, for He worryeth about you."

Be Still Then and Know
Only in the sacredness of inward silence does the soul truly meet the secret, hiding God. The strength of resolve, which afterwards shapes life and mixes itself with action, is the fruit of those sacred, solitary moments when we meet God alone.—F. W. Robertson.

Gone Are The Insignia—

Yes, gone is the freshmen insignia! This freshmen class must have been exceptionally good sports about wearing the insignia in order to be free of it so soon. Usually, due to penalties, the "freshies" are wearing green until Thanksgiving. Monday was the last day, and on that day the freshmen girls had to wear odd shoes and stockings, their clothes inside out, make-up on one side of their face only, and wear their hair in pig-tails. On Tuesday the freshmen were allowed to retaliate, and so the sophomores were made to wear odd shoes and stockings and to wear their clothes backward.

Roller-Skating—
On Wednesday the Outing Club of the W.A.A. sponsored a roller-skating rink at the Delaware roller-skating rink. About fifty girls attended and had a fine time.

Weekly Sermon

"I GO A FISHING"

By George S. Schuler

Member of Music Faculty Moody Bible Institute, Chicago

Text—Simon Peter saith unto him, I go a fishing. They say unto him, We also go with thee.—John 21:3.

Peter—a man of impulse and action, many times acting first and thinking later—impetuous, perhaps, of latching on to the promised descent of the Holy Spirit, uttered words which struck a sympathetic chord in the thought of the other disciples when he said, "I go a fishing," and the echo was, "We go with thee." They therefore made the necessary preparations for the night's outing. Most of them were no strangers to the art of fishing; three years before this had been their trade, but they had left their nets to follow Jesus.

The text states that "they toiled all night," but without a catch. What disappointment! What chagrin to a company of professional and experienced fishermen! The cause of their failure is not disclosed, for net fishing out in the deep, such as they did, was always rewarded, if only with a few fish. But they caught nothing!

At daybreak, depressed with failure, they made for the shore, as the time for fishing was past. Grouching displaced merriment and light-heartedness. Why? They had caught nothing!

A stranger appeared on the shore, calling to them. "Children, have ye any meat?" Their empty nets and boats tragically of their failure. The stranger, who was none other than Jesus Himself, needed not to hear their answer. His command, "Cast the net on the right side of the ship, and ye shall find," must have startled and perplexed them, for net fishing is not carried on at the shore, but in the morning. However, their obedience to His command was richly rewarded, as is always the case when one obeys the Lord.

This miracle taught them—and us today—that fishing expeditions, which in themselves are not objectionable, will not satisfy Christ nor us when He commands tarrying. In this case, tarrying in the upper room was for the important endowment of power from on high, so indispensable to their future ministry. For us it means obeying His Word concerning our life or service.

As they drew in the fish-laden nets, they noticed "a fire of coals there, and fish laid thereon, and bread." Apparently, breakfast must have been ready for some time. One wonders about that breakfast at which Jesus was the host. How delectable the fish and bread must have been to the "inner man," how warming the fire to the "outer man," and yet, they dared not ask Him, "Who art thou?"

Foolish, indeed, is the Christian who willfully says, "I go a fishing," when Jesus bids him "tarry." The Saviour follows the words of warning, "Without me ye can do nothing," with the precious promise, "If any man serve me, him will my Father honor." If after nights of futile toiling, disappointment is our reward, why not acknowledge defeat and make for the shore where Jesus awaits with a breakfast of spiritual refreshment? After all, living one's life contrary to the will of the Lord Jesus spells certain defeat—and a defeated man is one not blessed.

Medicine Lodge, Kan., is preserving as a memorial the home of the late Carrie Nation, who gained fame in the early nineties as a smasher of saloons. Among the mementoes displayed is the hatchet with which she wrecked the Cary saloon in Wichita at the outset of her smashing career.

Thanksgiving Query—'When Do We Eat?'

Divided response was accorded President Roosevelt's action in setting Thanksgiving a week ahead. Twenty-two states will celebrate on November 23, the new date; 24 will celebrate traditionally on November 30; Texas will have two Thanksgivings and Mississippi was undecided. Delaware will observe the new date, Nov. 23.

JACKSON WAS NOT BORN QUEER

JANETTE STEVENSON MURRAY

Fred Jackson had lost his position again. He had been clerking in a clothing store and just before that had been selling autos. He had a way of drifting from one thing to another, never holding any position long. He was intelligent and did his work satisfactorily, but he could not get along with people. His friends said, "Well, Fred is just a bit queer, you know."

He had no inclination toward crime as often happens with people who find themselves at odds with the world; his danger was drifting into some form of nervousness or melancholia.

Trouble As Child
At this juncture, a former college friend persuaded Jackson to see a psychiatrist, to try to learn the cause of his trouble. Tracing backward, this specialist found Jackson had been considered queer and off-kilter in college, in high school and all through the grades. These same characteristics had been noticeable also, in his home life, down through all the different age periods, to the time when he was a mere toddler. There, it appeared, the trouble had started.

When Fred was two years old, unwise behavior on the part of the adults in the family had caused the coming of a baby brother to be to him a real tragedy. A jealousy had developed that had been fatal to his success and happiness.

How could a childish jealousy have warped this man's life?

DIVERSION HINDERS INDUSTRY

One of the greatest single assets of the state is the highway system, according to Horace V. Daniel, secretary, Associated Petroleum Industries of Delaware, in a statement issued today.

"Delaware citizens optimistically look forward to the continued industrial expansion of the state," Mr. Daniel declared, "but they must bear in mind that no state has ever achieved or maintained industrial greatness and sustained growth without adequate facilities for the prompt and speedy movement of persons, materials and finished products."

Motor Transport Grows
"Almost one half of all Delaware communities, in which are located many small and thriving industrial establishments, depend solely on motor transport. Industry located in the larger centers, where other transport facilities exist, are leaning more and more on the convenience, economy, and dependability of motor transport."

"The Delaware Highway System is a primary asset of the state and upon its continued excellence and proper expansion depends the future prosperity of our business and industry. Industrial and business leaders, with a full realization of the necessity of keeping all transport costs to a minimum, are distinctly worried over legislation recently passed which merges all special funds, such as gasoline and motor tax and which provides that one-quarter of all state gasoline tax revenue be used for non-highway purposes."

Highway Improvement Urged
"They are generally agreed that all gasoline tax revenues should be devoted exclusively to highway improvement and that the taking of $500,000 annually of highway fund money for other purposes should be discontinued. Tax economists are of the firm opinion that such a policy would so encourage highway use in Delaware that the additional revenue, plus the normal annual increase, would produce much more money for the highways than is now available."

An unusual robbery is reported from Harrison, N. J., near where four men held up J. F. Thomas and G. L. Campbell with a truck load of rayon and a trailer. They locked Thomas and Campbell in the trailer, transferred the rayon to another truck and fled.

Pre-Fabricated Houses Exported By Sweden

Sweden is exporting the prefabricated houses which have steadily increased in popularity among its own people in the last few years. Official figures increased from 1,546 units in 1933 to more than 5,000 in 1938.

Two main classes are manufactured. One is the light summer cottage type. The other is the fully timbered house, manufactured in all types, including bungalow, cottage and villa for which cement and brick foundations are required. Prices range from $250 to $6,000. Sales have been made in Norway, Great Britain and South Africa.

Poor Sterilization Causes Jelly To Spoil

Sometimes an incompletely sterilized glass will cause jelly to spoil. To sterilize them, put them on a cakeholder or some other rack in the bottom of a large pan. Cover by four inches with water. Slowly bring to the boil fifteen minutes. Keep in the water until needed, then quickly fish them out, wipe dry and use immediately. Before sealing the filled glasses with melted paraffin, wipe off the space between the jelly and top rim of the glass with a damp cloth. Cover at once with hot, melted paraffin.

Airplane Maintenance Base Tourist Attraction

A favorite tourist attraction, the Lincoln Highway motorcade, which is being held by the United Air Line, has a maintenance base at the New York World's Fair. So numerous are visitors to the plant that company officials have established a special guide to take them through the shops.

Leonard Controne, Brooklyn dealer, was named the "most successful man" in a recent poll at the New York World's Fair.

NEWPORT BOARD IN SESSION

Special Meeting To Be Called Friday Night

By Miss Emma S. Maclary
Newport, Nov. 8.—The Newport Town Commissioners at their monthly session on Friday evening, placed an order for a meter which will be installed on the discharge line at the pumps, which will register the rate of pumping, the amount of water pumped, and the pressure. The equipment will be installed within 30 days. With this device, the commissioners will always have a close check on the water consumed, and will check the supply by totaling the meters in houses of the town. The meter was purchased at a cost of $500.

Outstanding Taxes

It was revealed at this meeting that the town had on hand Nov. 1, a cash balance of $5,754, after having paid off $4,000 in bonds this year. It was also stated that there is now less than $1,000 outstanding in taxes, both real estate and water tax for years prior to 1939. A special meeting of the commissioners will be held next Friday evening for the purpose of discussing the refunding of $20,000 worth of outstanding callable bonds.

Special Unit Work

Various groups at the Krebs School are carrying out special units of work. The first grade, with Mrs. Ruby Porter and Mrs. F. L. Wharton, are studying "The Home Helpers," which teaches the children to be mother's helpers. They are also erecting miniature houses of wallboard in their class rooms and conducting nature studies. The third grade pupils with Mrs. Elsie Lynch, teacher, held a Halloween party, and have arranged a model town of Newport on their sand table. They also have a nature museum. The fourth grade pupils, accompanied by Miss Jennie Rickards, teacher, visited the Sun-Nap-Pak Paper Mills in connection with their study of paper manufacture. They also visited the Obery Brick Plant. They have completed their Egyptian unit, and are now studying about Babylonia.

The sixth grade pupils, Miss Edith Patterson, teacher, are studying about European countries. In a project they are dressing paper dolls to represent the people of the countries they are studying about, and have just completed work on Norway and Sweden. They also are making products maps of the countries studied.

Seventh grade pupils, under the direction of Miss Belle Chambers, have completed the study of the development of the French Empire, and are now proceeding with the developments of the German Empire. In their general science classes, they are studying about oxygen.

Pupils of the Krebs School have prepared essays on fire prevention which will be entered through the Minquas Fire Company in the New Castle County essay contest.

Grange Progress

The annual New Castle County Grange program was presented on Wednesday evening in the Krebs School. Delaware Grange at its meeting Monday evening conferred the first and second degrees on a class of candidates. In the absence of the Rev. J. C. McCoy, pastor of the Newport M. E. Church, who is suffering from injuries received in an automobile accident a week ago, the Rev. Wm. Allen Weiss, retired pastor of Wilmington, was the guest speaker at the Sunday morning service. The Epworth League group had charge of the evening service, and officers of that organization were installed by the district officers. Mrs. J. D. Gonet is leader of the Epworth League, and William Richey is president. The Junior Choir of the Newport M. E. Church, under the direction of Mrs. Bluma J. Tatum, director, sang "Hear Us Holy Jesus" at the Sunday morning service.

The Newport Branch of the W. C. T. U. met on Thursday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Blanche Mahan, who led the devotional program. Reports were made from the city federation meeting and the memorial for Frances Willard's 100th anniversary. Mrs. Victoria Meyer and Mrs. Anna Murphy made reports from the recent state convention. A covered dish luncheon will precede the next meeting on Wednesday afternoon, Dec. 6.

The New Castle County Teachers' Training Class as conducted in the Newport M. E. Church for a period of six weeks was brought to a close on Monday evening with a banquet in the assembly hall, with 110 guests present. The Rev. Richard M. Green, Pastor of Hockessin M. E. Church, was dean of the school, and presided at the dinner.

Plans have been completed and construction work started by the Industrial Trust Company, working with the Town Commissioners of Newport, for the development of a 15 acre site at Newport. The property being developed is the old sand pit at Newport, formerly operated by the Kiamensi Clay Company. The Winslow contractors of Wilmington are leveling off this site, fronting on the Stanton-Christiana Turnpike. The Newport town limits will be extended to take in this 15 acre plot, and the town facilities will be made available. It is the plan of the Trust Company to immediately erect five modern homes which will comply with the building laws. This development will provide a beautiful building site at good elevation and permit considerable expansion of the town of Newport, westward.

Hallowe'en Party At Christiana Saturday Night

Reports On Scholastic And Attendance Records At School Are Given

By James T. Moore

Christiana, Nov. 8.—Saturday night, a Hallowe'en party was held in the school, sponsored by the P.T.A., and the C.I.A. It is estimated that 175 people were present. Games were played, prizes were awarded for the best costumes, and refreshments were served. Messrs. Jesse Dever, Stanley Lane, and William Spry furnished music for dancing.

The first and second grades entertained Tuesday morning with an assembly program. Among those who were on the program were Joan Ford, Ruth Ann Lockard, Nancy Murray, Donald Vincent, Fay Lane, Peggy Lane, Ralph French, Betty Ann Cleaves, Billy Morrison, Jean Elliott, Raymond Murphy, Lawrence Abrams, Bernard McHugh, Billy Davis.

Report cards were given on Wednesday. Among those who were on the honor roll are: Third and fourth grades—Doris Abrams, Richard Lambert, Raymond Thorpe, Charles Bury, Delena Amoroso, Lois Coleman; fifth and sixth grades—Elva Edwards, Louise Morosek; seventh grade—Charles Lebergren, Louis Hutchison; eighth grade—Marion Elliott, Catherine Lebergren, Patricia Morgan, and Thomas Moore.

The monthly meeting of the Christiana Society, of the Christiana Methodist Church will be held at the church on Wednesday evening, November 15, at eight o'clock. Final preparations for homecoming will be planned at this meeting.

Plans are being made to hold a united Thanksgiving service in the Presbyterian Church, Wednesday evening, Nov. 22. The Rev. V. Myers Goodhand, of the Methodist Church, will bring the message.

After playing a medley of Georgia tunes, celebrating "Georgia Day," the World's Fair band in New York forgettfully struck up "Marching Through Georgia."

In spite of the fact that he has undergone 136 major operations since he was ten years old, H. B. Smythe of St. Louis is hale and hearty at 69.

is the plan of the Trust Company to immediately erect five modern homes which will comply with the building laws. This development will provide a beautiful building site at good elevation and permit considerable expansion of the town of Newport, westward.

HALLOWE'EN MARKED AT STANTON

Fire Prevention Essays Prepared By Students

By Miss Emma S. Maclary

Stanton, Nov. 8.—The Rev. David W. Baker, pastor of the Stanton M. E. Church, continued his series of sermons on the Lord's Prayer on Sunday morning, speaking on the topic "Thy Will Be Done." Youth Night was observed Sunday evening, with Mrs. Anna Leasure speaking on "Living Message and Acts."

Hallowe'en festivities were held during the past week by the children of the Stanton School, having parties in their class rooms. They are now preparing programs for Armistice Day which will be presented in their club hour programs.

Fire Prevention Essays

Pupils of the fifth, sixth, seventh and eighth grades of the Stanton School are preparing fire prevention essays, which are being entered through the Minquas Fire Company of Newport, in the New Castle County Contest.

The Stanton Lending Library last month report 600 books exchanged. For the first two days of November, 143 books had already been circulated. Mrs. Lula Chambers, librarian, is in charge, with members of her committee assisting.

A case of scarlet fever has developed in Stanton, and Ann Boyce, age 6, is suffering from the disease. Her condition is improved, however, and no new cases have developed.

The Young Women's Class of the Stanton M. E. Church held a monthly business meeting and social on Monday evening at the home of Mrs. Jeannette Newcomb, of Stanton Heights.

Mayor Fred J. Huester, of Scranton, Pa., set aside August 21 as "Glenn Jean Day," in honor of the homecoming of the city's 11-year-old soprano prodigy, Gloria Jean, for the world premiere of her first motion picture at a Scranton theater.

EXCITEMENT IS HUB OF HOLLYWOOD LIFE

"THE Hollywood social secretary must be a human dynamo, moving in an atmosphere of volcanic activity," says one of them in an interview with Palma Wayne in October Cosmopolitan. "The first establishment I entered was one of the most brilliant in the cinema world. 'See my secretary' was the household password and everything from selecting the armchair carriage robe for Joan Blondell's new baby to deciding the color of the new car, was left to me."

"My office was in the upper hall of the house," the Hollywood social secretary continues. "About me eddied the Hollywood scene, cyclonic and spectacular. I was the center of incessant voices, demanding, clamoring, tearing the air. There was no privacy and no retreat. Here I was served my luncheon on a tray which might be shared by some visiting star because it looked appetizing. There were thirty-two house telephones, the control board centering on my desk. All calls were handled by me personally. That was my job."

"Large dinners are planned on the spur of the moment," she writes, "and all dinner invitations in Hollywood are sent by telegraph. The telegraphic 'dinner-at-eight' will bet any amount of anything from the number of gallons of water in a swimming pool to the sex of someone's expected baby."

"The Hollywood social world is composed of two distinct sets. One includes the stars, successful producers, ace directors and their wives. The other, dovetailing with it at times—in it but not of it—consists of women with Social Register backgrounds who have married into the film colony. In this group are Mrs. Gary Cooper, Mrs. Henry Fonda, Mrs. Fred Astaire, Ellen Barlow, Whitney Bourne and Madeleine Carroll, who has been presented at the British Court."

BOOK SHELF

Farrar & Rhinehart, those far-sighted and resourceful publishers, have done it again. They have given us another book about New York State by Carl Carmer. We refer, of course, to The Hudson. What more anyone could want in the way of history well leavened with anecdote we can't imagine. Put us down as voting the straight Carmer ticket.

An furthermore, Carmer's book is built upon the sound foundation of many scholarly books, such as LOYALISM IN NEW YORK DURING THE AMERICAN REVOLUTION, by Alexander C. Flick; the ten-volume HISTORY OF THE STATE OF NEW YORK; THE PATRON'S DOMAIN, by S. G. Nisenson; ANNALS OF THE NEW YORK STAGE, by George C. D. Odell. And there is a quotation from Harry B. Yosphe, whose DISPOSITION OF LOYALIST ESTATES IN SOUTHERN NEW YORK will be published this fall. Thus does one university press contribute to a book which will bring pleasure to thousands who think university press books are only for absent-minded scholars.

BOOK SHELF
Speaking, as we are, of New York State history, its richness in anecdotes, and university press books, we suggest that Mr. Carmer would enjoy JEDEDAH BARBER, 1787-1876, by Herbert B. Howe. Mr. Howe is a fellow author whose eye for stories rich in human interest is as sharp as Mr. Carmer's. Let him tell a few about Jed Barber, proprietor of the Great Western Store in Homer, N. Y.

"On a winter day a stranger arrived in Homer and, hearing the usual boastful statement that no one could ask for an article which the Great Western Store could not produce, decided to make a test. Said he, 'Mr. Barber, I have heard that you can furnish anything that anyone can call for.' 'Yes,' answered Jedediah in his loud, assertive voice. 'I have said it and I say it now.' At that the stranger remarked that he would like to buy a load, a live load. 'Yes,' said Jedediah, 'you go down in the cellar and in the southwest corner is a board about four feet long. You raise up that board and you will find a load.' The man did as directed and there was the load."

BOOK SHELF
"Another day a woman came in from Scott and inquired, 'Have you got any cheap tobacco, Uncle Jed?' Jedediah admitted he had some that he would sell cheap. It had been wet and was a little musty. 'Never mind,' replied the economical patron. 'I'll take two pounds. It will do for my son, John, to learn on.'"

"Often there were a large number of barrels of pork stacked behind the store in a long row, on the south side of Wall Street. Early one morning the proprietor was out looking over his barrels and found one missing. He said nothing to anybody but quickly put an empty barrel in its place. Some time

Newark, Delaware, November 9, 1939

DIG DEEP

Thirteen years of unselfish, unstinted service to humanity with never a thought of self-remuneration is the milestone the Flower Hospital approaches on Saturday, November 11.

Thirteen years—day and night—the facilities of the Flower Hospital have been at the disposal of the sick and injured. The only first aid station of its kind in our community—the only institution, we dare say, in the State that takes them in, hurt and bleeding, without asking "can you pay."

Many are they among us who have felt the benefit of this local institution.

Thirteen years is a mighty long time. Yet they have been years of joy and happiness to Mary C. Ford, co-founder and present head of the Flower Hospital, for she has been actively engaged in her chosen profession.

Saturday, November 18 has been designated as DONATION DAY for the Flower Hospital. Little is known of the financial struggle this institution has for its existence. Little is said of those who receive aid and never pay. But much is known and said of the value of such a haven to our community.

Money talks loudest. So, let's dig down deep and chip-in to help a worthy cause. Bring, send or mail your contributions to the Flower Hospital, Town Council or the Newark Post. Contributions may consist of non-perishable foods, surgical dressings and supplies, linens, etc.

Lets all do our bit to help make the thirteenth anniversary of the Flower Hospital profitable as well as pleasant.

LOOK BEFORE YOU SHOOT

Countless hundreds of ambitious nimrods will take the field, with gun and dog, at the crack of dawn next Wednesday morning when the 1939 season on rabbit and quail officially opens.

Gunning for such small game as is found in this section is a popular sport. Marksmen, kennel masters and cart-road gunners enter enthusiastically into the spirit for the duration of the forty-five day open season.

Of all the gunning afforded each year we look forward most eagerly to the 'first day.' It seems that on the 'first day' we get the most shots, the dogs work hungrily and more often than not we have more success than any succeeding day.

Often, too, on the 'first day' is the greatest toll of accidents taken. In their eagerness to make the kill, impulsive gunners are prone to take a pot-shot at anything that moves. Indistinct motions in the woods, waving grass or moving objects in the sage or weeds are likely to bring a rain of shot upon unsuspecting heads of innocent gunners, fired by those who sometimes fail to "look before they shoot."

Just a word of warning. Keep visible as much as possible; wear the red side of your hunting cap outside; be sure your sights are lined upon your quarry before pulling the trigger.

Gun for sport—not for lust.

NOTHING TO DO SATURDAY?

Saturday will be a busy day for the Newark citizenry. Coincidentally several events of more than passing importance fall on the same day.

First, Saturday is the twenty-first anniversary of the signing of the Armistice. It is also the thirteenth anniversary of the founding of the Flower Hospital. Newark High Schools' Yellowjacket football team engages the strong P. S. duPont high eleven on the local athletic field at 10:30 Saturday morning.

Following upon the heels of the high school game will come the local Armistice Day observance. Then the migration to Atlantic City to witness the annual tussle between our Blue Hens and the P. M. C. Cadets.

Not to be outdone, George Jackson has announced the opening of his Toyland for Saturday morning. This is the first pre-Christmas announcement of the year and is likely a forerunner of the effects of the week-earlier-Thanksgiving.

Try covering all these events scheduled for Saturday and we believe you will agree that it will be a busy day.

Fidele Di Parsio charged in an Atlantic City court that his wife had deserted him because his 17 children were always quarreling with her 11 children by a former marriage.

A Rochester, Ind., widow asked police to prevent three divorced wives from decorating her husband's grave. "He was mine last," she explained, "and I think it's my privilege to say who should place flowers on his grave."

James Murphy of Albuquerque, N. M., in court for intoxication, told the judge: "I don't drink anything but whisky, coffee and water. When I can't get whisky, I take coffee, and when I can't get coffee, I take water."

Thomas Booth of Detroit suddenly stopped speaking to his wife after 21 years of married life. Recently, after 10 years of silence, she won a divorce.

POULTRY INCOME LARGEST

Figures Show
Average Of
$34.25 An Acre

Delaware agriculture is big business!

This fact was brought out by a study of the statistical supplement to the Year Book of Agriculture, which is published annually by the United States Department of Agriculture, and which show that the average farm income in Delaware for 1938 was more than $31,000,000.

A study of the 1938 statistics, the latest available, made recently at the Agricultural Extension offices at the University of Delaware, showed that Delaware farmers collected or realized a total of $31,553,250 in gross income.

These figures, when broken down to a "per farm" basis, using the latest available figures on the number of farms in Delaware, further show that the average farm in Delaware in 1938 grossed $3030.79, or an average of $34.25 per acre of farmland. A further study of the statistics shows that, in 1938, a total of 320,000 acres of Delaware farmland were devoted to grains and hay (corn, wheat, rye, buckwheat, soybeans, and tame and wild hay) which grossed an average of about $11.75 per acre or a total of $4,568,220.

"Truck crops accounted for 51,500 acres of Delaware farmland. These crops, including asparagus, lima beans, snap beans, cantaloupes, watermelon, cucumber, sweet corn, peas, tomatoes, potatoes, sweet potatoes, and strawberries, grossed an average of about $59.50 per acre or a total of $2,748,680.

Fruit growers grossed a total of $1,539,350, (no acreage figures available). Crops included in these figures were apples, peaches, pears, and grapes.

The dairy business in Delaware a total of $3,511,000 while meat animals, including beef cattle, swine and lambs, accounted for a gross of $1,168,000.

Surprising as it may seem, the poultry business in Delaware produced the largest gross income of all the purely agricultural production businesses, with a total of $17,419,000 or more than half the total. The broiler business accounted for most of this with a conservatively estimated total of $15,000,000. A total of 9,333,333 dozen eggs were sold for $2,054,000, while turkeys brought their growers $365,000.

The total gross income also includes $405,000 paid to Delaware farmers for following practices recommended in the Agricultural Conservation Program.

FARMERS' PERCENTAGE INCREASES

Wholesale
Prices Show
Sharp Advance

The Bureau of Agricultural Economics reported recently that in the first seven months of this year farmers receive about 40 cents of the consumers' dollars spent for 38 foods, according to word received at the University of Delaware Extension Service headquarters.

The farmers' share rose from a low of 35 cents in 1932 to a high of 45 cents in 1937. The farm-to-retail price spread has remained remarkably stable during the last 4 years, but the share of the consumers' food dollar received by farmers has varied greatly, the Bureau said.

According to "The Agricultural Situation," published by the Bureau of Agricultural Economics, farm price increases seem to have maintained a normal relationship to retail prices from August 15 to September 15, but wholesale prices rose to a higher level.

Some of the most spectacular advances in retail prices during this period occurred in sugar, lard, fresh pork, and navy beans. Both retail and wholesale sugar prices advanced more than a cent a pound.

Among meat products, sharp retail increases were chiefly confined to lard and to a few fresh pork cuts, with cured products, beef, and lamb, showing moderate increases in the Bureau's calculations. It appears that wholesale meat prices advanced more rapidly than either retail or farm prices.

Bread prices at retail have not changed, it was reported, although the retail price of flour is about 10 per cent higher. The increase in retail flour price is somewhat below the rise in wholesale quotations from $4.60 to $5.85 to the advancing wholesale price of flour.

Retail and wholesale prices of butter each rose almost 4 cents a pound while the advance in the price paid the farmer for the butter fat equivalent was less than half this amount. Prices received by farmers for potatoes changed little from August to September, but the level of wholesale potato quotations in New York and Chicago rose sharply by more than 30 per cent.

Apricot or peach halves or pineapple slices, browned and spread generously with mint jelly and a dash of cinnamon make a fancy garnish for chops, roasts, steaks or fowl.

To give zip to tomatoes, cut them in inch-thick slices and cover them with sandwich spread or minced potted ham. Broil and serve on toast, pass cheese sauce. Grand for luncheon or supper.

Argentina Buys Diesel Trains From Hungary
Ten articulated, or streamlined, Diesel trains of three cars each and seven single motor Diesel motor coaches have been ordered by the State Railways of Argentina from a firm in Hungary. The purchase will total $1,435,000.

Each train now in use over the State Railways has three articulated cars, and the new trains will replace steam powered trains. State Railways is intent upon standardizing all equipment possible, according to a Buenos Aires report.

FREE USE OF ROADS NEEDED

Restrictions Would Hamper Farmer Daniel

Any restriction of the free use of Delaware highways would not only seriously hamper the efficient operation of Delaware farmers but would also cause noticeable increases in the prices of such commodities as milk, poultry and farm produce. Horace V. Daniel, secretary of Associated Petroleum Industries of Delaware, declared this week in a statement to the press of the state.

Farmers And Trucks
"Motor transport is being rapidly adopted by Delaware farmers," Mr. Daniel declared, "and its use has served to benefit farmer and consumer. Our farmers now own and operate a substantial portion of all trucks owned in the state. It has been estimated that fully one-fifth of all passenger cars are owned by farmers. This means that nearly 11,000 passenger cars in Delaware are farm-owned."

"Week-end restriction and elimination of motor truck transportation has been advocated by certain selfish interests. This would exact heavy penalties from Delaware farmers. The cash represents a major asset to all Delaware citizens and represents farm products which are transported to market by motor transport."

Weekend Shipments High
"Studies of these shipments indicate that a high percentage occurs on week-ends, reaching the consuming market fresh and ready for week-end purchases. While much of this cash income represents purchases made by Delaware housewives, an important volume represents Delaware farm products sold in other states. Restriction of the free use of the highways, therefore, would almost automatically close outside markets and result in additional market losses by placing Delaware farmers in an unfavorable competitive position with farmers residing in other states."

"Delaware farmers realize the full value of good highways, open to all, and restricted only in the interests of safety. They will oppose, along with consumer groups, any legislative efforts to impose unreasonable and punitive highway restrictive measures on a necessary and jointly owned and supported facility."

First Concert At Mitchell Hall Tonight
Student-artists of the Curtis Institute of Music will give the first of a series of three concerts at Mitchell Hall at 8 o'clock this evening.

The series will be sponsored by the Newark Music Society and will be free to members and their guests. University students and all music lovers of the community.

Artists who will appear are: Robert Groeters, a student of Emilio de Gogorza, teaches in the Delaware School of Music, Wilmington. He is soon to appear with the Curtis String Quartet at the Philadelphia Academy of Music.

Miss Marguerite Kuehne, violinist in her fourth year as a pupil of Efram Zimbalist, has been selected by him as one of his special students. She has appeared with the Los Angeles Philharmonic Symphony in Hollywood Bowl.

Louis Bush, pianist, a pupil of Harry Kaufman, is in demand both as soloist and accompanist.

Workers at a flour mill in Petersburg, Ill., who had searched in vain for a cat and her kittens, received this letter from a customer in Peoria, Ill.: "Car of flour received, but contained a cat and kittens we did not order."

CONVENTION HALL, SCENE OF THE UNIVERSITY OF Delaware team's sixth grid combat is a big place to scour for that elusive victory that has failed to make its appearance thus far this season.

ACCORDING TO INFORMATION received from Atlantic City, the structure, located between Georgia and Mississippi Avenues, was erected at a cost of $15,000,000, an amount which wouldn't touch the national debt but would certainly provide a thrifty person with a little pin money for a few years.

It is 350 feet wide by 650 feet deep, providing a total seating capacity of nearly 75,000, the main auditorium alone seating 41,000. Atlantic City's permanent population of 65,000 could be provided with seating accommodations in the structure with room to spare.

The housing of the largest of the national conventions is only one of the many uses to which this building is devoted. Hundreds of other attractions find their way into this superstructure throughout the year.

THE FLOOR OF THE MAIN AUDITORIUM is 168,000 square feet in area, while an additional space of 100,000 square feet is provided in the basement.

One of the unique features of the main auditorium is a floor space, 50 by 200 feet, which can be converted into an ice skating rink in a comparatively short time. Hockey has been one of the outstanding sports at Convention Hall during the past six seasons and two years the Atlantic City Gulls won the national amateur hockey title. The ice in the rink can be melted in a few hours and the floor restored to its former condition.

Some idea of the immensity of the main auditorium may be gained from the fact that a 13-story building, 500 feet in length and 200 feet wide, might be erected within its walls, leaving a space of 100 feet on all four sides. The main auditorium is large enough to permit the playing of baseball and football games.

Every fall, turf is laid out and football played regularly at night on a regulation gridiron with special illumination that gives the entire place a daylight appearance. Seats for 12,000 are provided for football games and 41,000 for the major prize fights.

Just remember to remember, if you can, that you're witnessing (if you can penetrate the fumes and smoke) a game that's being played on the only indoor gridiron in the world.

MANY OF YOU ARDENT GRID fans are probably debating whether or not the trip to Atlantic City where the Hens meet Pennsylvania Military College in the annual nocturnal classic will be worth the expense of the trip to the shore and admission to the game.

If you ask just how much chance Delaware has against the Cadets, we'd give you a vague answer, but it might be well we bear in mind that the Blue Hens are "due"—that they've played three crackerjack ball games this year—that the bad ones are out of their system (Hamden-Sydney and Randolph-Macon) and that the law of averages is due to smile on the Hens. Not that we think Father Time is going to use his gout-infested foot to boot a ball out of bounds on the one-inch line to aid the locals, but the Hens are "due."

We're thoroughly convinced that if Steve Grenda's gridders have their attack well-oiled and the goodly supply of lubrication in the form of precision in their deceptive maneuvers enables them to click with the finesse with which they have clicked periodically in the past, you'll see a Delaware team that will put a lot of surprised looks on a lot of faces.

WELL, ANYWAY, IF THE HENS aren't well-oiled, we know plenty of people who will be.

Last week's 10-2 triumph over St. Joseph's was the first victory registered by the Cadets since their opener when they trounced West Chester State Teachers' College, 23-0.

Since that time, the Chester outfit has dropped four decisions. New York University conquered, 43-0; Ursinus (3-0 winners over Delaware) chalked up two safeties to hang up a 4-0 win, Franklin and Marshall College triumphed by one touchdown and Lebanon Valley pounded out a 31-0 conquest.

The Chester team wants victories. It'll be a tough team to beat.

CHICK CHATTER

By
Walter T. Smith

Like Sherman, Delaware marches to the sea. That has been the slogan every year for Delaware's gridiron invasion against P. M. C. at Convention Hall in Atlantic City. The victoryless Hens, suffering from five straight setbacks this year, will meet the four times defeated P. M. C. eleven who have won only twice.

Friday night the Blue and Gold supporters will arouse the spirit of every Delaware rouser with a brilliant pepfest. There will be a parade with torches and the University band. A huge bonfire at the grounds by the Newark High School and songs and yells, will feature the occasion.

CHICK CHATTER
Then, on Saturday every laddie that can get his lasses into his car and step out for Atlantic City. Others will ride down on the special football train. No matter how they go, there will be plenty of Delawareans there, all yelling for a Blue Hen victory.

The Cadets snapped out of a losing streak last week against St. Joe's. They also have a veteran team which will outweigh the Hens. The Hens, although not winning any games, have showed some very good football this year, but have lacked that certain scoring touch. We're hoping to see them find that touch, and wouldn't be surprised if they do. However, it should be a fierce struggle with both teams keyed-up for the biggest fight of the year.

CHICK CHATTER
We did not see the Randolph-Macon-Delaware clash last Saturday, but we understand from reliable sources that the Blue and Gold first line of defense was miserably weak. The Virginians completely outwitted the Newark boys and tore enormous holes in the line for the swift backs to race through. The Delaware secondary did splendid work in holding down the gains by the southerners as much as they did.

On the offense the Hens were decisively stopped, only gaining one first down during the game, and that with the help of a five-yard penalty for a Randolph-Macon offense.

Be that as it may, we think that after four Saturdays of good football, all of which ended in defeats, the morale of the Hen forward line had just cause to falter. Most of the men playing for the Blue and Gold played almost sixty minutes every game. And that is too much for one man.

We have seen the Blue Hens go down to defeat four times this season, but they have never quit fighting. Win, lose, or tie, a fighting

Nocturnal Meeting At Shore Saturday

BLUE HENS AND CADETS TO BATTLE ON GRIDIRON

Delaware Salvation Seen In Forward Wall's Return To Early Season Form; Tilt Scheduled To Start At 8:30

By Bill Fletcher

Thwarted in their quest for victory in five starts and with a dismal picture of the two more recent overwhelming defeats at the hands of a pair of aggressive southern clubs before them, the University of Delaware gridders will face Pennsylvania Military College in their annual nocturnal clash at Convention Hall, Atlantic City, on Saturday. The kickoff is scheduled for 8:30 o'clock.

Chances At Minimum

It'll be a tough time to call on the victoryless Blue Hens for a conquest. Playing conditions on the indoor gridiron will demand a lot more resources than the Blue and Gold eleven has been able to muster thus far this season and with the Chester, Pa. team, characteristically powerful and fast, providing the opposition, Delaware's chances of breaking out of the red are at a minimum.

Not blessed with an abundance of capable reserve material as necessary when two teams clash under lights on the indoor field, time and temperature are expected to combine with the Cadets in creating a formidable blockade for the Hens to hurdle to their initial conquest of the 1939 campaign.

Forward Wall In Ashes

Delaware's forward wall, reduced to ashes by determined Hamden-Sydney and Randolph-Macon onslaughts, may prove the Blue and Gold's salvation. If it can return to the standard of play produced in the first three games of the season.

Dickinson, Ursinus, and Lebanon Valley, all highly-rated clubs in small college circles, found their ground attacks stymied by the aggressive play of the Hens' line and forced into the air, chalked up victories by narrow margins as the locals' pass defense faltered.

The last two games have showed a complete reversal of form on the part of the Blue and Gold team's functioning, however, as the fast crumbling line shifted the brunt of the ground protection back to the secondary.

Coach Steve Grenda, hopeful of breaking into the victory column, and seeking revenge for a 32-2 humiliation last year at the hands of the Cadets, is grooming his charges for lightning-like deceptive thrusts designed to keep the Soldiers back on their heels.

Challenge To Squad
Outweighed and out-manned, the Delaware squad will be called on to produce an impenetrable defense, a sharp ground attack and more "will to win" spirit than they have shown thus far in order to avoid a repetition of the 1938 catastrophe.

Rebounding from a losing stretch of four games the Chester outfit, in its last appearance, came up with a 10-2 conquest over St. Joseph's after failing to cop a verdict since the opening 23-0 victory over West Chester State Teachers' College. New York University, Ursinus, Franklin and Marshall, and Lebanon Valley all number the Cadets among their victims.

On the basis of comparative scores, the Hens, turned back by Lebanon Valley, 7-6, should breeze to an easy triumph. The Flying Dutchman shelled P. M. C. 31-0, all of which makes Coach Grenda's combine an easy victor.

TRIALS STAGED SUNDAY

Concord Chief First In 15-Inch Class

Concord Chief, owned by William Winant, of Wilmington, took top honors in the 15-inch class of an informal field trial staged Sunday on the S. Hallock duPont estate, near Milford Cross Roads, under the auspices of the Eastern Beagle Club. Jack Collins' Capitol Trail Belle, third in the thirteen-inch class, and Raymond Vansant Buckingham's Oak Wood Joker, reserve in the same group, were the only local dogs to win places.

With an entry list of 85 hounds, the trials got underway at 8:30 in the morning. A large gallery followed the dogs throughout the trials.

Judges For Event

Judges were: 15-inch class, William P. Fisher, Jr., of Wilmington and Joseph P. Daugherty of Richardson Park; 13-inch class, Wilmer Bucknahan of Nottingham, Pa., and Charles Marlowe of Elkton, Md. Other results were: 15-inch class, Second, Elk Creek Script, owned by Henry Augustine of Baltimore; third, Beckers Hi-Star, owned by J. Wallace B. Pollitt of Salisbury, Md.; fourth, Aravis Shorty, owned by Otis McGrath of Cambridge, Md.; reserve, Shambler's Buster, owned by Everett Shambler of Reisterstown, Md.

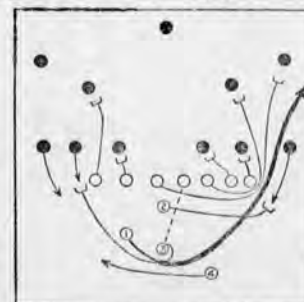

A luncheon was served in the club house by members of the club auxiliary, with two prominent game wardens of the state as guests. Mr. Buckingham, club secretary, announced that on Saturday evening there will be a party at the club house. The annual business meeting and election of officers will be held Dec. 14. The next informal trial will be held on Sunday, Dec. 3.

TOUCH-DOWN TACTICS

UNIVERSITY OF TENNESSEE
By
R. R. Neyland
Head Football Coach

This is the fifth of a series of six outstanding diagrams by leading college coaches from Grantland Rice's new Game Service Football Guide.

THIS play scored the first touchdown against Oklahoma in the Orange Bowl game. It consists of a fake spinner to the strong side, ending in a reverse play outside the weak side tackle. The center, Niles, snapped the ball to the No. 3 back, Coffman, who spun, pretending to give the ball to the No. 4, Cato, who faked a run to the strong side. Continuing the spin, Coffman handed the ball to the No. 1, Fox, and then cut out the defensive tackle, Meanwhile, the No. 2 back, Bartholomew, blocked the defensive left end, and our right end, Hunter, blocked the left tackle in. Led by the guards, Sniffbridge and Molinski, Fox cut through the gap thus formed and scored from the 8 yard line standing up.

GIBB IN FRONT FOR HONORS

Highlanders' Ace Still Pacing Loop For Trophy

By Ned Ball

Blasting out a 4-2 victory over their nearest competitors, Jack Bridgewater's league-leading Highlanders gained a tighter hold on first place in the Newark table tennis loop by turning back Bill Fletcher's Bearcats.

Tigers Still Toothless
Len Fossett's Crescents shelled Ted Ingham's Tigers, 6-0, to keep a tight hold on the third spot, while Bill Gillespie's Pedagogues maintained their grasp on fourth position by pounding out a 5-1 conquest over Mervin Dale's Darkhorses. Ned McCully's Pingers slipped a little, but stayed in the fifth spot as they dropped a 4-2 verdict to Grover T. Surratt's Travellers, who by virtue of their victory, shoved the Darkhorses into seventh place. The Tigers continued to bring up the rear with no wins against 30 defeats.

With Charlie Gibb, a Highlander, pacing the pack, sporting 18 wins against one defeat, the race for top individual honors is still wide open. Bridgewater, Highlander captain, is in the second spot with 30 wins against three defeats for an average of .940; Reed Stearns, Bearcats, is third, with 24 wins and three losses for an average of .889; Len Fossett, Crescents' captain, and Del Stearns, Bearcats, are deadlocked for fourth with 26 wins and 10 losses for an average of .722.

Match Results

Results of the individual matches were as follows:
Crescents vs. Tigers (first contest)—Bellinger, Crescents, defeated Ingham, Tigers—21-15, 21-19, 21-15; Fossett, Crescents, defeated Moore, Tigers—21-11, 21-15, 21-6. Second contest—Bellinger, Crescents, defeated Ingham, Tigers—21-15, 21-19, 21-15; Fossett, Crescents, defeated Moore, Tigers—21-15, 21-19, 21-14.

Travellers vs. Pingers (first contest)—Jones, Travellers, defeated Mencher, Pingers—21-13, 19-21, 21-17, 21-15; McCully, Pingers, defeated Surratt, Travellers—22-18, 21-19, 21-11; Fossett, Crescents, defeated Moore, Tigers—21-15, 21-19, 21-14.

Darkhorses vs. Pedagogues (first contest)—McKenry, Darkhorses, defeated Parsons, Pedagogues—21-11, 20-22, 21-15, 21-17; Steele, Pedagogues, defeated Kraemer, Darkhorses—21-19, 21-19, 21-19; Gillespie, Pedagogues, defeated Rohm, Darkhorses—21-14, 21-18, 15-21, 21-12. (Please Turn To Page 8)

ALL-STARS DEFEATED

Wilmington Table Tennis Team Triumphs

A repetition of the first meeting as far as victories are concerned, a crack Wilmington team invaded local table tennis circles Tuesday night and took a picked Newark combine into camp, 4-1. The matches were played in St. John's R. S. Church basement.

Reed Stearns, one of the top-ranking local paddle-wielders, was the only Newark star to cop a verdict, taking his opponent, Bob Johnson, over in three straight games.

Exhibition Staged
An exhibition match between Paul Capelle, high-ranking national star, and Mike Green, undefeated in the Wilmington loop, followed the contest. The former won easily, displaying a brilliant repertoire of shots that had his opponent completely baffled.

Results of the matches were as follows:
M. Green, Wilmington, defeated J. Bridgewater, Newark—21-13, 21-10, 21-15; R. Rosenbloom, Wilmington, defeated D. Stearns, Newark—21-12, 22-24, 22-21, 19-21, 22-20; R. Stearns, Newark, defeated R. Johnson, Wilmington—21-17, 21-12, 21-17; T. Brawer, Wilmington, defeated F. Bellinger, Newark—21-15, 21-16, 21-12; A. Hart, Wilmington, defeated J. Parsons—21-10, 21-11, 21-15.

Delaware's Viden In Action

Captain Howie Viden

While his performances have not proved as impressive as expected in Delaware games thus far, the Blue and Gold combine's leader is "due" for a big day before completing his intercollegiate grid career. Hen followers are hoping it will be Saturday night when Coach Steve Grenda's charges tangle with Pennsylvania Military College in the annual shore classic at Atlantic City, N. J.

MIDGETS TRIUMPH

Young Jackets Eke Out Win; Cataldi Scores

A second-period touchdown plunge by "Rudity" Cataldi, substitute back, and a line buck by Brandon Davis, another reserve ball carrier, for the extra point gave the Newark Midgets a 7-6 victory over Sunny Hill's 85-pounders last Friday.

Jackets Rally

Played on the Sunny Hill gridiron, the game saw the hosts forge into an early lead when Bill Collins climaxed a series of end runs with a five-yard buck through the center of the Jackets' line. Jack Harrington's placekick for the extra point was wide.

Rallying their forces, the locals, coached by Ackie Stiltz, started on a 40-yard advance that was climaxed by Cataldi's score midway in the second period. Davis cracked the line to hang up the extra point and provide the winning margin.

The Lineups

Sunny Hills: Newark
Center Wiley Beers
Right guard Sylicon Knighton
Right end Pickering Wells
Quarterback Gibstone Hamilton
L. halfback Forkins Gillespie
R. halfback Harrington Vogel
Fullback Collins Foster

Score by periods

Newark 0 7 0 0—7
Sunny Hills 6 0 0 0—6
Newark subs: Cataldi, Talucci, Davis, B. Gregg, D. Hamilton, Morrison, Rhodes, Holton, Cameron, Daly, Hanson.
Sunny Hill subs: Reilly, Jenkins, Smith, Brownson.

Coach Crisler Tried Hard Not To Score

Coach Fritz Crisler had this comment on Michigan's 85-0 victory over Chicago:
"I never tried to score so hard in any game in my career as I tried not to score against Chicago!" Michigan kicked on first down, started its second team, used only half a dozen plays, had the quarters cut to 12 minutes apiece and asked to be penalized, but still earned a score mindful of the point-a-minute days of Fielding H. Yost.

JACKETS TO PLAY SATURDAY MORNING

Locals Groom To Meet Potent Passing Barrage Kickoff At 10:30

Blasted from the gridiron last week when Wilmington School's Red Devils staged a vicious second-half attack, Coach W. K. Gillespie's Newark High Yellowjackets are again expected to take the short end of the count as they face Pierre S. duPont School on the local field Saturday morning. The kickoff is scheduled for 10:30 o'clock.

Undeclared Invaders

Undeclared in their 1938 campaign, and with only a deal with West Chester High School, the invaders are expected to have powerful aerial offensive in their bid for victory.

With Henry Skomrocha projecting end of the pass play frequently find their way to the Crowl, fast stepping ball carrier, and a capable receiver, the Wilmington outfit will present a balanced offensive that is as potent in the air as it is on the ground.

Although their opponents ranked as one of the best state combines in the state, the Jackets are inclined to look upon Saturday's clash as just another battle and prefer to look ahead to the Castle and Conrad battle which will wind up the program.

Aware of the team's weak taking care of aerial attack, Coach Gillespie has emphasized the phase of the game in practice sessions this week in an effort to make the locals less immune to an attack from the sky. Lack of height proved the main handicap, however, and while they are well in their assignments, they themselves physically unable to handle their tasks.

Should the Jackets' backfield succeed in turning back the attack, however, the locals will have a chance for the work of the ward wall has been outstanding games played to date.

Arnold Wells, a hard-runner, shifty leather-lugger, who is expected to have a good day, many local followers are carrying much to produce the team's second victory.

Angelo Cataldi, Newark first and Bill Bellman, the squad's consistent ground game and kicker, will round out the local "Ace" Alton and Art Smith expected to get the flank of Francis Hill and Ray Ewing on outstanding tackles; Charlie McGee and "Buck" Gregg will provide start at the guard berth while Harry Wiggins will again hold the starting pivot position.

Schrafft Again Heads Motorboat Drivers

For the second consecutive year George Schrafft, of Newton, Mass., is top among the nation's drivers of 225-cubic-inch hydroplanes in power-boat regattas.

Charles F. Chapman, racing commission secretary of the American Power Boat Association, announced Schrafft, piloting Chrissie III, had scored 4,669 points in 14 races for a winning percentage of 83.3 to lead all 225-cubic-inch hydroplane pilots. One of Schrafft's victories was in the John Charles Thomas Trophy race, emblematic of the national championship.

As in 1938, Jack Coper, 63-year-old grandfather, of Kansas City, placed second, with 3,294 points and a winning percentage of 74.7 in 11 races. W. Earle Grem, of Cambridge, Md., was third, with 1,938 points and a winning percentage of 69.5 in eight races. Another Cambridge driver, W. L. Barrett, Jr., ranked eighth.

WEDDING

Suits-Richard
William James Suits and Miss Goldy Richard were quietly married last Saturday evening at the home of Christina Manse, by Rev. A. Van Overen. Mr. W. J. Ellison and Miss Ruby Robinson attended them.

A Rousing Celebration
A rousing celebration of the football victory last Saturday was the order of the hour last Monday. All the afternoon the boys scoured the stadium for all boxes or any light-inflammable material and by evening had a huge pile on the open lot opposite the Women's College. About seven o'clock the student body formed in line for a great snake dance. Headed by the band they covered the greater part of the town. Leading the parade was a squad of Freshmen carrying an imaginary corpse representing the Catholic University.

The students carried Coach McAvoy and members of the football team and hauled them to the scene in a wagon. After the torch was applied the coach and members of the team were called on for speeches. Several hundred persons in addition to the students were on hand to see the bonfires.

Social Notes
Young folk made merry last Friday evening at the Omega Alpha Fraternity, the occasion of a Halloween Masquerade, given by "frat" brothers to their fair friends. Gorgeous autumn leaves and grinning pumpkin faces, tastefully arranged, added color and cheer to the attractive "Frat" home, while crackling logs on the hearth blazed a warm welcome.

Music was furnished by Strauss's Orchestra of Wilmington. Truly a motley crowd of guests assembled to do honor to the occasion. There were sweet colonial dames, rollicking clowns, and the spooky goddess of night. The girl dressed in pennants personified the spirit of the college and the Yama Yama added fun to the hour. A feature of the evening was the masked promenade, following which the guests indulged in quiet square dances—the Virginia Reel, the Quadrille, the Lancers, and the Rye Dance. Other amusements included bobbing for apples, fruit telling, a peanut and chestnut hunt, and a clever little southerner, designed in orange and black, which gave the program of the evening.

Members of the Fraternity follow: Zachary H. Sager; active members—Presley D. George, Edward Laeklen, Herman J. Little, Francis P. McCarthy, Eugene R. Manning, James H. Moore, Jr., Linden G. Owens, Thomas V. Wingate, Eugene R. Woodman, Harvey M. Foster, Augustus H. Graham, J. Avery Mather, A. Bailey Thomas, Wesley de Valinger, Robert W. Wallace, Edward H. Dawson, Vaughn A. Hastings, Arthur G. Helmer, Robert H. Popper, Robert C. Hill, Jr., Clyde S. Hollands, William Price.

Miss Hood and Miss Heron of Nashville, Tenn., are the guests of Professor and Mrs. C. L. Penny. Miss Hood and Miss Heron have lately returned from Europe where they have been travelling for over a year. They encountered many interesting war experiences.

"Charter Night" To Be Marked By Newark Lions

"Charter Night," marking the eleventh anniversary of the founding of the Lions Club of Newark, will be celebrated at the organization's regular weekly meeting Tuesday evening at the Newark Country Club. A committee, consisting of A. E. Tomhave, chairman; John R. Fader, and Leonard Fossett, is making arrangements for the program which will start at 6:30 o'clock.

Several guests have been invited to attend although no lengthy speeches will be given. Professional entertainment has been secured. Four new members were added to the local service club this week.

Miss Ford moved the institution into its larger and better equipped quarters on the corner of Delaware and College Avenues.

Many residents of the town and county have received benefit from the Flower Hospital. It is the only hospital Newark has and serves innumerable cases of emergency and accident first-aid treatment.

It is indeed a valuable asset to our community and the service it gives would be difficult to evaluate. Plans are under consideration for holding a card party or other social functions benefits from which would go to the Flower Hospital.

A meeting of the committee will be held within the near future and complete plans announced. It is hoped that the local citizenry will rally to the support of this worthy project and help to make this, the thirtieth anniversary of the Flower Hospital the most profitable in its history.

Donations of money and other items should be turned in at the Town Council office, the Flower Hospital or the Newark Post. If it is not possible to bring your contribution, telephone any of these three places and a representative will call.

Governor McMullen, Mayor Bacon Wilmington, the City Council and distinguished guests will review the parade from a special reviewing stand at the Public Buildings. An idea of the size and nature of the parade may be gained from the fact that such corporations as the Pennsylvania Railroad and the Delaware Power and Light Company are arranging to enter out-standing features, and for the first time in years several of Wilmington's leading banking institutions will show beautiful floats. Many prominent firms also will participate.

Friday, November 17, will be devoted to visiting historic spots in and near Wilmington, and on Friday night there will be elaborate fireworks display and band concert at the Baynard Stadium at Eighteenth and VanBuren Streets, where arrangements will be made to care for at least 25,000 people.

The festivities will end with a dinner dance at the Hotel DuPont on Saturday night, November 18. George Madden's Orchestra has been engaged for that evening, and there also will be a floor show by professional talent.

Night Clash

In six appearances on the Atlantic City field, the Hens have come out on the short end four times, while the lone victory was recorded in 1936 when Fenton Carey broke away for the only score of the game. One deadlock has been played.

Despite the shortage of shore conquests, hundreds of Blue and Gold followers flock to the scene for the annual classic and there is no reason to believe that this year will prove an exception. Colorful and unique, the game has proved as big a drawing card as the battle with Washington College, the Hens' traditional rival, as a horde of Delaware enthusiasts once a year "march to the sea" via automobile and train in the hopes of witnessing a Blue and Gold triumph.

A special train will leave on the Pennsylvania Railroad from Newark at 2 p. m., Saturday. Departure from Atlantic City will be made 45 minutes after the game. Stops, coming and going, will be made at Wilmington, Chester, and North Philadelphia.

DUPONT EXPANDS

Major Addition To Be Started At Edge Moor

E. I. du Pont de Nemours and Company announced plans today for a major addition to its large titanium pigments plant at Edge Moor. Construction work will begin within the next two months and will be completed by early fall of 1940.

Plant Size Increased
This construction program will provide additional plant capacity for producing titanium dioxide and extended titanium pigments, which are sold under the trade names "Ti-Pure," "Ti-Cal," "Ti-Bar," "Ti-Sil" and "Ti-Tint" and are well established with the consuming trade. In fact, these titanium pigments are being widely used in increasing quantities in paint (including enamels and lacquers), paper, rubber, linoleum, rayon, printing ink and many other products.

DuPont's Edge Moor plant is three miles north of Wilmington on the Delaware River, permitting important raw materials to be transported by water. The property comprises 95 acres, which is more than ample to accommodate the projected construction program.

26 Buildings
The existing Edge Moor plant, comprising twenty-six buildings, was completed and put into operation in June, 1935. It is one of the most modern industrial units of its kind in this country, incorporating a number of engineering innovations in pigment manufacture. It is of fireproof construction and contains the latest safety equipment.

Although the du Pont Company is one of the oldest producers of pigments in the United States, its first pigment operation in Delaware was in 1925 when it acquired the Krebs Pigment and Chemical Company's plant at Newport, which began business in 1902. At that time the sole product was lithopone, which continues to be produced in large tonnage and is sold under the trade name "Ronolith."

In 1931, the company again expanded its operations in the white pigment field, acquiring a large titanium dioxide plant in Baltimore, Md. In addition, the company owns a pigments plant at Newark, N. J., where dry colors are made. Operation of du Pont's four white pigment and dry color plants is under the Krebs Pigments Department. DuPont's combined plants, producing zinc sulphide pigments and titanium pigments, make that company one of the largest producers of these white pigments in the world.

It is stated by the management that the merits of its titanium pigments are being recognized more and more by the many consuming industries and that the growing demand for these products now justify increasing the production capacity of its Edge Moor plant.

Seven of the eight pitchers on the Redleg roster hold victories over the Boston Bess this season. Buckey Walters has beaten them four times. Dorringer, Moore, Grissom, and Vander Meer twice each, and Thompson and Davis once.

A beaver is impeding the progress of a CCC camp in Deer Lodge, Mont. Each night he stealthily dams up spillways which are draining his lake.
