Delaware-Rock Hill Game Ends In 3-3 Tie

On last Saturday Delaware and Rock Hill College played ten innings to a 3-3 tie. The game was called at this point on account of a thunder shower. The game was very close and extremely exciting at times.

The pitching of Clancy showed improvement over his work in last Saturday's game. He was wild at times but pitched consistent ball in the pinches.

In the first inning Rock Hill got going with two hits in succession and a sacrifice netting the visitors two tallies. However, the Blue and Gold came back strong in their half by scoring on a couple errors and a pass.

After the first inning both teams settled down and no scoring was done until the fifth when each put a tally across. Rock Hill made their run by Collins walking, stealing second and being knocked home by Parrott. Delaware tallied theirs by Clancy getting safe on Cummings' error and scoring on D. Horsey's single.

Both pitchers pitched equally good ball. Clancy whiffed nine and Cotter had seven strike-outs to his credit. Cotter allowed four hits while only three were made off of Clancy's delivery.

In the hitting line Ferguson showed up well, while D. Horsey played a fine fielding game at second for Delaware. Barella and Parrott featured for Rock Hill.

Student Council Proposes Revision Of Constitution Of The Student Government Association And The Honor System

The Student Council soon after the recent mid-year examinations appointed a committee, consisting of H. W. Horsey, chairman, Irving Reynolds, A. L. Lauritsen, and W. S. Fitzpatrick, to meet with the class advisors, to discuss the elaboration of a more definite constitution for the honor system. At a preliminary conference, it was decided to appoint a sub-committee which should study the subject thoroughly, and also suggest revisions of the whole constitution of the Student Government Association which would render it adequate to meet every emergency. This committee as faculty advisor committee, in order to be fully informed, procured copies of the constitutions which have been successful in other schools; and reported the result of their work to the main committee last week, after a thorough-going canvass of the whole situation. Their report was adopted; and the proposed constitutions were considered and passed by a unanimous vote of the Student Council on April 17. They are now in shape for consideration by the student body, which will be given an opportunity at an early date to vote upon them.

Kappa Alpha Fraternity Holds Thirteenth Annual Dance

On Tuesday evening last Beta Epsilon, the local chapter of the Kappa Alpha Fraternity, held its thirteenth annual dance in the Newark Armory. The affair was a great success in every respect; and was thoroughly enjoyed by all who were present.

This dance was undoubtedly one of the most elaborate ever held by the chapter and gave evidence of much individuality on the part of its members in both the program and the unique decorations. The former were made up of mahogany colored folder with cord and tassel in the fraternity colors.

The decorations were most attractive. Strips of crinkled paper of the fraternity colors, were draped in double loops from the center of the room to top of the walls, giving a canopied appearance to the hall. At one end of the room was an electrical representation of the fraternity badge. At the end of the first half of the program a silk American flag was unfurled and made to flutter by means of an electric fan. At a given signal all the lights were extinguished with the exception of those directly in back of the flag, and the orchestra played the "Star Spangled Banner". It was a most inspiring scene.

Including the members of the chapter and guests, about 100 couples were present. In addition to the local guests there were others, representing in all practically every part of the State. The music rendered by Jacob's Orchestra, was of exceptionally fine quality. Refreshments were served between the halves of the program.

The following acted as patronesses: Mrs. E. S. Smith, Mrs. G. E. Dutton, Mrs. W. H. Steel, Mrs. F. I. Reynolds, Mrs. S. J. Wright, Mrs. S. C. Mitchell, Miss W. J. Robinson, Mrs. C. B. Evans, Mrs. J. Pilling, Mrs. C. A. Short, Mrs. R. R. Pailthorpe, Mrs. W. F. Hoey, Mrs. G. S. Counts, Mrs. J. P. Wright, Mrs. J. P. Cann, Mrs. T. B. Wright, Mrs. Herman Tyson.

Why A New Constitution Is Proposed

The present constitution of the Student Government Association was drawn up by a committee of seniors in the spring of 1915 and represents the first step of the student body in self-government. It was drafted hastily in order to provide a working basis for the new experiment before the final examinations in June, in which it was proposed to launch the honor principle. The result was a scheme which met admirably the need of the moment for action, but which failed to provide for emergencies which at that time could not be foreseen. Its main fault was in its omissions, and the work of the committee has been not to change it, so much as to fill in its deficiencies, as developed in the experience of the Council, and in a comparison with the constitutions of other student bodies.

The present Council first felt the inadequacy of the old regulations during the recent mid-year examinations. When irregularities in the conduct of the examinations occurred, the Student Council found no definite rules in the constitution by which to shape its action. Its powers were not clearly defined. No rules for procedure in the conduct of investigations, and in trials, were provided. This year an Investigating Committee was appointed to handle cases that had arisen; but this method resulted in much misunderstanding and confusion.

Another deficiency of the old system, which will serve to illustrate its shortcomings, was found in its failure to provide a method for raising

New Rules For Student Government Association

The encouragement of the adoption of the new constitution for the Student Government Association the Student Government Association probably raise questions in the minds of most of the students. To those not familiar with the conditions with which the present Student Council has had to deal during the past year, a new constitution may seem unnecessary; and we have felt it our duty as representatives of the students to investigate these conditions and make them known. If the students decide to adopt the constitution now proposed, as we not only believe, but urge that they will do, it seems to us that they will take a step forward which is necessary if student government is to succeed.

In view of the circumstances under which the old regulations were drawn up, it is not surprising that their usefulness has already been outgrown. The original constitution, as we all know, was an experiment, and more or less makeshift. In the first place, it was formulated by a group of students, who were necessarily inexperienced in such matters, and who could not foresee the conditions and problems which would arise. Secondly, it was adopted when student government was in its infancy. No one knew at that time what the response of the students would be. It was impossible for anyone to draw up a set of rules which would satisfactorily meet the demand for immediate action, and at the same time be permanent. Times have changed since then, conditions have changed, and it is imperative that the Student Government regulations be adapted to meet these changes.

The constitution proposed by the special committee of the Student Council has been given a prominent place on the first page of this issue of the Review, in order to bring it before the students for discussion, since it is the student body who must take the final action upon it. Believing it vitally important that the discussion should be as thorough and intelligent as possible, the Staff has had members of the Council prepare two special articles, in one of which the conditions that seem to demand a revision of the present constitution are set forth, and in the other, the methods and procedure of the committee in drafting the new instrument. The remainder of the committee's work, which consists of a more definite statement of the principles and rules of the honor system, will be presented for discussion in a later issue.

The committee in formulating these rules seems to have weighed every possible consideration, and we feel safe in saying that if the student body does agree to pass them, they will furnish the Council for the future with a set of regulations that are adequate and workable. The only thing now requested of the student body is that they study carefully this new constitution.

Since the declaration of war by the United States, the students in the battalions have assumed a very different attitude toward military training. The seriousness of the situation has awakened the students to the fact that in case war is actually fought between Germany and the United States the battalion at "Delaware" will be called upon to do its part. In order to be prepared for any such emergency, the student body has started to work in earnest, and their improvement in military in the past few weeks has been remarkable. Instead of looking upon drill as a bugbear as many students have done in the past, all of the students now welcome the drill period with the same enthusiasm and interest as they do their college recitations. The college band, which has heretofore been made up of more "slackers" than musicians, has felt the call of duty and they, too, are drilling with the battalion. Such a response by the entire student body of "Delaware" speaks well for true spirit of the corps at this time.

As a result of this increased interest, Lieutenant Hoey, who has worked earnestly and conscientiously all year in order to put military on a firmer basis at Delaware, has agreed to extend the military course so that "Delaware" students may have an opportunity to become "Reserve officers" in case they are called upon to serve. This extended course is elective, but practically all of the students who are eligible have already expressed their intention of taking it up. The new course will continue for three weeks, six hours recitation work being required each week. At the conclusion of the course, the "Reserve officers" examination will be held at the college. In order that students may not be rejected for physical deficiencies after they have passed the mental examination, arrangements have been made whereby a physical examination may be given before the course begins.

The Faculty have co-operated with Lieutenant Hoey in this new plan, and have kindly agreed to make allowances for any conflicts which may result from the extra military work.

The earnestness of the student body the untiring efforts of Lieutenant Hoey, and the co-operation by the Faculty, express to the utmost degree the attitude and stand that "Delaware College" as a unit has taken in regard to the present crisis. The entire college has acted calmly, and wisely, as far as their knowledge of the situation has permitted. No hysterical action has been taken by any and none of the students has rushed into the matter with "heads down", and yet we feel that when the call does come, when our services are needed, that the students of Delaware College will respond promptly and willingly, and will be among many other Delawareans who will give up all for the sake of their country.

Now that the Faculty has agreed to aid Lieutenant Hoey and the students by allowing Military Drill to interfere to some extent with regular recitations, there is a tendency on the part of some of the students to neglect their college work. This attitude should not be spread among the student body. It is true that the extra course in Military will take up a great deal of time, and it will be difficult for many students to bear this added responsibility in addition to their college recitations. But it should be remembered that in the present critical situation it is the duty of all to shoulder a little more responsibility and to be willing and anxious to do some extra work. Real patriotism demands sacrifice, and Delaware students can best show their loyalty by doing those things which are now expected of them—and doing them in a commendable manner.

MANDOLIN CLUB RENDERS CONCERT

Well Received At Middletown

Under the auspices of the Queen Esther's Circle of the M. E. Church at Middletown, Del., the Mandolin Club gave its third concert of the season in the New Century Club auditorium.

In no previous concert has the club displayed its talent to such good advantage as at Middletown. The audience was extremely appreciative, and voiced their approval by vigorous handclapping after each number. The club showed more expression and precision in the classical numbers, and displayed much more snap in the lighter selections than in former concerts. Patriotic numbers had a very prominent place on the program. The audience rose several times during the playing of national airs. The Alma Mater at the close of the program revealed a good following of students who made the trip. Miss Murgatroyd, elocutionist, of Wilmington, added variety to the program by giving some very good readings of a humorous nature. Miss Murgatroyd brought forth genuine laughter from the men, and also caused many of the fair sex to blush when she very vividly and only too truly portrayed "Mary Cary" and her troubles.

The College Quartette more than pleased. Everywhere comments were heard, complimenting them upon their splendid singing. They evidently had recovered from the stage fright shown in previous concerts by the manner in which they handled "Harmony in the Dorms." These short numbers served to appeal most to the audience, as the quartette was encored several times.

After the concert the members of the club and quartette were cordially invited to the home of Mrs. Truitt. Here sumptuous refreshments, consisting of cigars, cake, ice cream, and candy, were served. The committee on entertainment was kind enough to invite an equal number of the fair sex. The social continued until a late hour and then the club returned by auto.

Owing to the present war situation it will be impossible for the club to take its previously arranged tour of the State. It is the purpose of the manager to fill engagements for one evening at towns where the clubs' services are being sought.

RELAY CANDIDATES RUN FAST TRIALS

Chances At "Penn" Appear Bright

Coach Keyes has been putting the men through some stiff trials during the past week. On last Wednesday all the relay candidates ran time trials for the quarter mile. Two watches were held on the race and the average time of the first five men are as follows: Marshall, 53-4; Steele, 54-2; Craig, 55-4; Crockett, 55; Fitzpatrick, 55-1.

Marshall, who runs for the fourth time on the relay team is running stronger than in any previous year. Last year he did not show up so well but this year he has come back strong, and is leading the candidates in the trials. The quarter-mile he ran last Wednesday is the fastest one which has been run on Frazer Field. The college record 52 1-2 was made on a horse race track by Buckmaster in '09.

Steele has been running a close second on Marshall's heels. He is running consistently and is as good as ever. His place on the relay team which competes at the Penn Relays next Saturday is assured.

Craig, who finished third in the time trials is running stronger this year than last year and can be counted on to come across.

Crockett, the holder of the two hurdle records at Delaware is not showing the stuff in the 440 which he has generally had with him. He showed up best in the time trials last Wednesday.

Fitzpatrick, the substitute on last year's team, ran two nice races during the past week. He seems better than last year and there is a chance that he might run in the Relay Carnival next Saturday.

On last Saturday final trials for the fourth man were held. Fitzpatrick won by ten yards, with Williams second and Hearne a close third. On account of Fitzpatrick's showing it is dubious whether Coach Keyes will run Crockett or Fitzpatrick.

Fitzpatrick has it over Crockett on the finish, yet Crockett has run as first man on Delaware's relay team for two years and has had more experience.

Marshall, Steele and Craig are sure to run, but the name of the fourth man is still a question.

This is the best chance that Delaware has had to come across at the Relays. It is the fastest team that has worn the Blue and Gold colors for a long while. There is an advantage in the fact that the team has the pole in the race. Maryland State is the team that has to be beaten and George Washington University considered, but all conditions considered Delaware has an even chance of winning.

How It Was Drawn Up

The Student Council found that it would be necessary to add a number of amendments to the old constitution of the Student Government Association, so they decided it would be far better to devise an entire new basis for student government. They instituted a questionnaire which was sent out to all the prominent colleges. The questions that were asked of the colleges were:

"Do you have the Honor System?"

"Has it been a success?"

"Will you please send copies of your Honor System and Student Government Constitutions?"

Approximately forty replies were received and constitutions were forwarded from Princeton, Virginia, Amherst, Williams, Washington and Jefferson, Washington and Lee, Gettysburg, Lehigh, Franklin and Marshall, Vanderbilt, Georgia Tech, Cornell, Yaverford, Swarthmore, Oberlin and Stevens. In drawing up both the constitution for the Student Government Association and for the Honor System we consulted these constitutions frequently. The experiences gained by the whole student body in the one year that the present constitution and honor system have been in effect were also invaluable to the committee.

Owing to the rapid development of Delaware College the Council deemed it well to provide for many things that either the constitutions of other colleges pointed out to them or they were able to foresee. For instance, a regular monthly meeting of the Student Council is one of the basic laws of the new constitution, whereas there was no such provision in the old constitution. The present Student Council has not had any by-laws, so the Gettysburg and Washington and Jefferson Constitutions furnished a majority of the by-laws recommended by this committee. Majorities, quorums, a better system of representation, a fixed date for elections, and other matters of vital importance were provided for.

Book Store Schedule

For the convenience of the Student Body, notice is given here that the Delaware College Book Store will be open on the third, fourth, fifth and sixth periods Mondays, Wednesdays, and Fridays; the third, fifth and sixth periods, Tuesdays, Thursdays and Saturdays.

Your patronage is earnestly solicited.

By patronizing the Book Store you help the Athletic Council, and by helping the latter you keep athletics at "Delaware."

Doll And Newspaper Found In "Old Dorms"

While working on the chimney of the old dormitory building last Tuesday, a bricklayer discovered a small doll and an old newspaper. The paper was dated October 9, 1865, and stated that it was printed for the purpose of obtaining sufficient funds to erect a statue in memory of the Delaware heroes who were killed in the battle of Antietam. The paper was in such a poor condition it could not be saved. The doll was placed in a bottle, and at the request of several students, was inserted in the new wall by the bricklayer.

Professor Thompson Addresses Arts And Science Club

On Monday night, April 1, the Arts and Science Club held its regular meeting. Professor Firman Thompson of the Agricultural Chemistry Department, spoke upon the subject, "What should a Graduate in Agriculture learn in His Four Year College Course."

Throughout his talk the speaker emphasized the fact that specialization should not begin too early in the course.

Historically, agricultural education is similar to that of medicine. At first medical treatment was a side issue of the barber's trade. No preparation was required. Now a four-year course is not sufficient. In agriculture no preparation was required at first. Later came two year courses and then four-year courses. Now we have longer courses extending into the University.

At Delaware College the question is how to arrange the four year course to give maximum benefit to the students. Such an education should consist mostly of fundamentals. The student must have the underlying principles. Later, he may specialize in one branch. To show the necessity for the fundamentals, Professor Thompson referred to the emigration of farmers from Ohio to Kansas. These men were very successful in Ohio; but different conditions prevailed in Kansas. They failed completely and all returned excepting those who did not have left the means of returning. These latter finally succeeded because they learned in time, the specific conditions of climate, rainfall, etc.

In conclusion, the speaker said that thoroughness is the most important thing. The student should study not to get a degree, but to know the reasons.

This is the second of a series of talks on the ideals of the Engineering, Agricultural, and Arts and Science courses. Dean Smith will represent the Arts and Science department at the next meeting.

funds. This omission threatened in several cases to put the Council in an embarrassing position.

For instance, to take the case of the two dances that have been held this year, under the auspices of the Council, for the student body. They were given solely to contribute to the social pleasures of the student life. The Council, in arranging for these affairs, calculated on just meeting expenses, and as it happened, succeeded, but if a deficit had occurred, they would have had no means, under the constitution, of indemnifying themselves, and would have been compelled to bear the loss personally. These examples are given merely to show how much the present rules needed revision because they are not complete or thorough. It is very difficult to make them thorough, because it is impossible to foresee what emergencies will arise in the future of a college that is to grow and to change as rapidly as Delaware; and the committee could only guide itself by the brief experience of the Council during the past year, and the experience of Student Government bodies elsewhere as embodied in their constitutions. Now it proceeded in making use of this latter body to date is set forth in another article in this issue of the Review.

DIRECTORY OF ADVERTISERS

We believe in reciprocity. "If you deal with us, we will deal with you" is a fair and square business proposition.

The Review is dependent upon its advertisers. Without their help in the form of advertisements it could not be published. Therefore it is only right and proper that the students and entire constituency of the College should patronize those concerns which patronize the Review. Your trade and business dealings should preferably go to them.

Below is a classified list of those advertisements which appear in "Our" paper and "Your" paper. Look it over and then follow that doctrine of Reciprocity.
