BOARD OF EDUCATION CALLS FOR REFERENDUM ON BOND ISSUE

SPECIAL ELECTION TO BE HELD SATURDAY, DEC. 18th

DELAWARE SCHOOL AUXILIARY ASSOCIATION OFFERS $225,000 TO SUPPLEMENT $155,000 RAISED BY LOCAL DISTRICT

The Board of Education of Newark Special District at a recent meeting decided to hold a special election at the Academy Building on Saturday, December 18, to decide whether or not the citizens desire to bond the district for the purchase of ground, the erection of a new school building and the installation of permanent equipment therefor. The sum determined upon is $155,000.

Delaware School Auxiliary Association to Give $225,000

At a recent conference with the Delaware School Auxiliary Association of the Service Citizens of Delaware, the Association agreed to furnish $225,000 provided the district raised the above amount. The members of the local Board considered that this generous offer should not be refused, inasmuch as the town of New Castle stands ready to accept in the event of an unfavorable vote here.

Dr. Walt H. Steel, president of the Board, in an interview this morning stated that while this may seem like a large bond issue for the district, and may seem to imply a large tax rate for the coming years, this will in reality make little difference since the present tax rate of 75c on the $100 is covering the interest and a portion of the principal of a $140,000 bond issue proposed by last year's Board of Education which previous to the passage of amendments to the school law had sole power to declare such bond issue. The additional $15,000 would mean little increase in tax rate.

Taxpayers Now Decide on Bonding Districts

Under the amended law as passed by the Special Session of the Legislature the taxpayers decide whether or not the District shall be bonded, the valuation of the property owned determining the basis upon which the votes shall be counted.

In order to avoid confusion at the polls the voters are asked to bring with them their tax receipts.

ELKTON AVENUE NOW OPEN TO TRAFFIC

Work on Water Plant Addition Progresses Rapidly

Contractor F. W. Lovett has completed the work on Elkton Avenue and that roadway is now open to traffic. A "silent policeman" has been placed at the junction of that avenue with Main Street. This is illuminated at night and directs traffic at this busy point.

Workmen finished the concrete base for the standpipe yesterday and will begin next week the erection of the standpipe which arrived about a week ago.

The force of men released by the completion of the standpipe base will begin some time today the erection of the large receiving basin which will be placed directly in front of the pumping station. This will be 9 feet deep, about 50 feet in diameter, and have a capacity of approximately 100,000 gallons.

MINNEHAHA BAND PARADES SATURDAY EVENING

Minnehaha Band was out in force last Saturday evening, to advertise their Pow-Wow bazaar which will be held in the Armory next week. The parade through the streets with banners flying and with spirited music. This unusual performance on a rainy evening caused a general exodus from the "movies" of those who want to be "in" on everything that is going on.

The band advertised the fact that since they are dependent upon their own efforts for support and since it is necessary now to procure new instruments they desire the aid of the citizens in the affair to be held on Thursday, Friday and Saturday evenings of next week. They ask for cooperation and pledge assistance in the future as has been their custom in the past, to all who help to make the bazaar a success.

It's Service That Measures Success

It isn't the cut of the clothes that you wear,
Nor the stuff out of which they are made
Though chosen with taste and fastidious care,
And it isn't the price that you paid;
It isn't the size of your pile in the bank,
Nor the number of acres you own,
It isn't a question of prestige or rank,
Nor of sinew, and muscle and bone;
It isn't the servants that come at your call,
It isn't the things you possess,
Whether many, or little—or nothing at all,
It's service that measures success.

It isn't a question of name, or of length
Of an ancestral pedigree,
Nor a question of mental vigor and strength,
Nor a question of social degree;
It isn't a question of city or town,
Nor a question of doctrine or creed,
It isn't a question of fame or renown,
Nor a question of valorous deed;
But he who makes somebody happy each day,
And he who gives heed to distress,
Will find satisfaction the richest of pay,
For it's service that measures success.

For The Homemaker's Eye

Every locality has its own favorite method of cooking rabbit and the aggregate of these methods gives a number of succulent dishes which will give variety to meals of these sufficiently fortunate to obtain by skill in marksmanship or by gift one or more of these "Molly Cotton-tails" so highly prized at this time of year.

In the North fricassee and potpie are the favorite dishes; in other localities various forms of rabbit stew are popular.

Preparation for Cooking

Rabbits weigh from 3/4 to 1 1/4 pounds. One rabbit will serve four persons unless the rabbit appetite is abnormally developed.

Skin the rabbit thus: Sever the head, cut off the feet, and with a very sharp knife slit the skin on the stomach side from the neck to the tail. Pull off on each side to the center of the back. Split the rabbit lengthwise, wash in cold water and wipe dry. Cut into six or eight pieces in very much the same manner as a chicken is cut. If the carcass has been badly shot-up and bloody, soak in salt water for a couple of hours on until the clotted blood is withdrawn.

Fried Rabbit, Country Style

Cut up the rabbits, roll each piece in crumbs, then in beaten egg to which two tablespoonfuls of cold water is added, then again in crumbs. Fry in fat (about 4 tablespoonfuls) until well browned. Turn frequently. Remove to a hot platter. Add 1/4 cupful of flour, 2 teaspoonfuls of salt and 1/4 teaspoonful of pepper to the fat in the pan. Stir until flour is slightly brown, remove from the fire, add 1 1/2 cupfuls of milk, return to the fire and stir constantly until it boils.

Rabbit Pie

Stew two rabbits until done and save the stock. Remove meat from bones and place in a well greased baking dish.

In an agate or other pan, melt 3 tablespoonfuls of butter or any fat, add 5 tablespoonfuls of flour, 2 teaspoonfuls of salt, 1/4 teaspoonful of pepper and mix thoroughly. Add 2 1/2 cups of the stock in which the rabbit was cooked, 1 finely chopped onion and 1/2 cupful of finely chopped celery. Boil for five minutes. Pour over the rabbit meat and spread over the top a crust made of two cups of mashed potato well seasoned. Bake in a moderate oven for about 35 minutes. Brown the crust and serve.

Pastry may also be used for the crust.

Rabbit Stew

Remove meat from bones of one stewed rabbit. Make a brown sauce of the ingredients named above and made in the same manner. Add 3 cups of stock, rabbit meat, 1 cupful each of cooked turnips, carrots and potatoes, diced, and 1 finely chopped onion. Bring to the boiling point and serve.

Rabbit Fricassee with Dumplings

Cup up two rabbits and soak for a half hour in salted water. Wipe dry, dredge slightly with flour and fry in pork or bacon fat turning frequently until well browned. Place in a casserole. Make a gravy by adding 6 tablespoonfuls of flour and 3 cupfuls of water to the fat in the pan. Season to taste. Pour over the rabbit and cook in a slow oven for several hours.

Serve with steamed dumplings made thus:

Sift together 1 cupful of flour, 1 cupful of white corn meal, 5 tablespoonfuls of baking powder and 1 teaspoonful of salt. Cut in 2 tablespoonfuls of fat and add liquid slowly mixing to keep the mixture light. Roll into one inch thickness, cut with round biscuit cutter, place in steamer, cover closely and steam for 15 minutes.

FIND WAY TO GROW POINSETTIAS

To get poinsettias ready for market by Christmas is a problem that has worried florists ever since the bright red flowerlike leaves of this beautiful plant took their place as a favorite holiday decoration.

The problem has been reduced to a practical solution through the work of Dr. W. W. Garner, tobacco specialist, and H. H. Allard, plant physiologist of the United States Department of Agriculture, who discovered the possibility of advancing or retarding the growth of plants by controlling the period of light each day. Where the light period is shortened the plants reach maturity much sooner than where they are given the natural length of day. In the greenhouses on the department's experimental farm at Arlington, Va., it has been found possible to bring poinsettias into full form as early as August by shortening the daily exposure to lights.

In fact, department specialists are confident that there is practically no limit to the extent to which the Garner-Allard discovery may be applied in the ordinary florist establishment in bringing various flowers into bloom outside of the customary season. Iris in December and chrysanthemums in the spring are among the accomplishments already attained, and it is the intention of these specialists to bring together a group of flowers, all of different natural seasons, into bloom at the same time. One value of the discovery lies in the fact that it can be applied with only simply and inexpensive additions to the facilities of any greenhouse.

A WOMAN'S SENSE OF HUMOR

"Don't tell me a woman ain't got no sense of humor!" said Constable Sam T. Slackpooter, of Putnam. "I know a dad-blamed sight better! Every once in a while when I crank a lady's flivver for her she starts her car before I can get out of the way, and runs over me; everybody but me has a hearty laugh."—The Press.

THE DAUGHTERS' TURN

Lay the book down, Isabel, before the story's done;
Leave your picture, Marion, though the piece be just begun;
Come from the dreamland, Miriam, however sweet the dream,
Wash the dishes, bake the bread, sew the waiting seam,
School is over; hasten another task to learn—
Mother's worn and weary; it is now the daughter's turn.

Watch lest you be wanting in what her heart most needs—
Ernest, thoughtful service, gentle, loving deeds.
As her footsteps falter, O may she never miss
A daughter's strength to lean on, a daughter's tender kiss.
A lifetime is not long enough your filial debt to learn—
Mother's worn and weary; it is now the daughters' turn.

WHAT THE JAPANESE THINK OF WOMEN

Many foreigners have been pleased to call my country, Japan, the land of proverbs, says Saito-man in the Continental edition of the London Mail. A large percentage of our proverbs, it is needless to say, concern women.

Most of the old, widely known ones have been freely translated, or stolen, by foreign writers. But we are not worried. New and clever proverbs are fast being created by the new generation of men and women.

I translate here some of the gems which have recently come under my notice. They do not necessarily represent the opinion of the present-day Japanese people, but they are at any rate a contribution to the abundant world wisdom on the immortal problem:

"If you want to love women, begin by loving money."

"Women who remember shop signs and trademarks make good wives."

"Very jealous women are easy to control."

"Pride goes before a fall, especially in beautiful women."

"Women and mountains should be looked on at a distance."

"Women fall in love with their protectors; men with women."

"Men who can neither brag nor flatter need not fear being loved by women."

"Rather than make love in clumsy language bite your tongue out."

"Plain women bewail their misfortune in proportion to their learning."

"When marriage agents praise any woman for her virtues, you may be certain that it is another way of saying that she is ugly."

"Women who seek liberty too often lose it."

"A wife who does not know how to please her husband makes him commit no end of blunders."

"Men who like to take photos with their wives are henpecked."

"Tis women who know they are ugly powder their faces."

"Women admire women of their own type."

"The secret of winning the woman who jilts you is—perseverance."

"Women understand men; those who understand women are also women."

"Poisonous flies carry shiny wings; bad women pretty faces."

"Men laugh with their hearts; women only with their mouths."

"Women who habitually bite their lips are jealous."

"War makes men strong and women lovely."

PUBLIC CRITICISM

Good, absent-minded old Doctor Wilder was greatly dependent upon his practical wife. One Sunday morning Mrs. Wilder sent up an announcement after he had entered the pulpit, with a footnote intended to be private.

"The women's missionary society," he read aloud, "will meet Wednesday afternoon at 3 o'clock sharp." And then he proceeded to read the footnote: "Your necktie is crooked; please straighten towards the right."—Watchman Examiner.

Opera House Offerings

Small Town Characters in Tomorrow Night's Show

"Pink Tights" is to be shown at the Opera House Thursday, December 2, and patrons of that playhouse may expect to laugh heartily as well as to enjoy some exciting drama.

It is the romance of the big show, in which Gladys Walton and Jack Perrin are co-featured in the respective roles of the circus performer and the parson. It is essentially a drama of thrills and action, yet the author has provided an abundance of comedy relief, and the casting director at Universal City has seen to it that the principal comedy roles are in able hands.

The chief comedy roles are those of Mrs. Shamfeller, the leader of the Ladies' Aid Society, who heads the movement to keep the circus out of town; Mrs. Bump, another scandal monger of puritanical cast, and Smiley Dodd, the village undertaker who can see virtue in nothing that does not send business in his direction.

What Pauline Frederick

Would Like to Do

One might imagine that a picture star earning a fabulous salary could entertain no further ambition, but it seems that Pauline Frederick, the Goldwyn luminary, wants to direct a few stories of her own without any outside help. She has made some very valuable suggestions from the actor's standpoint. She says that a director should keep five cameras on a set and take the close-ups with the long shots, so that the actors will not have to wait ceaseless hours and become tired out and mechanical in their work while waiting for the cameramen to adjust their cameras and lighting effects. She also thinks a camera should be used in the very first rehearsal of the business of a scene.

Pauline Frederick displays some of the inborn sensible economy of womankind, for she says that she would not have very expensive sets for her pictures, but instead would spend a fortune for a splendid story. "The Paliser Case," directed by William Parke, is Miss Frederick's latest Goldwyn picture.

Did You Ever Hear of an Heiress Who Wrote a Novel?

"Who ever heard of an heiress writing a popular novel?" inquired an incredulous male person during the filming of Elsie Ferguson's new Arteract photoplay, "A Society Exile," which is coming to the Opera House Wednesday.

"Lots of them have," a woman came right back. "There's Mrs. Leonard Thomas, who writes poetry under the name of 'Michael Strange,' and Carmen Sylva, the well known poetess and novelist, was not only heiress to millions, but the Queen of Roumania besides."

The question was occasioned by the fact that in "A Society Exile" Miss Ferguson plays the part of Nora Shad, the daughter of a millionaire and the author of a "best seller." She is taken to England by an aunt, where she is courted by a dissolute lord. Nora refuses him, and in revenge the thwarted Britisher has her hooted out of England on a trumped up charge. She flees to Italy and becomes a resident of Venice, where happiness finally comes to her. The picture is from the well known English play, "We Can't Be as Bad as All That," by Henry Arthur Jones, and was directed by George Fitzmaurice.

AERO MAIL TO CUBA

Cuba is soon to be linked with the United States by aero mail routes. The air service will be opened regularly this fall. The mail carried on a train leaving New York one morning and arriving at Key West the next will be rushed across the ocean in time to be delivered in Cuban cities in the afternoon of the same day. The return mail will leave Havana at five o'clock in the afternoon and connect with the train leaving at nine o'clock the same night for New York. Mail will be carried over the new air route at the rate of six cents an ounce and packages weighing four pounds six ounces may be mailed in this way. More than a day will thus be saved between Havana and New York.

SHALL WOMEN PROPOSE?

Chicagoan Assails Old Idea of Waiting to be Sought

More and more it becomes evident that great and solemn referendum is needed to settle the question: Shall women propose? This matter has been agitating men and women for more than six months. When 1920 opened, some newspapers called attention to the fact that it was leap year and suggested and even advised women to tackle men who were hanging back, and see that they did their duty and assumed the burden of marriage. They told women to boldly propose to men and see that they gave the right answer—an affirmative. There is no person quite so much of a slacker as a smugish bachelor, and if he possesses not the nerve to ask a woman to marry him, then it is the right of the woman to demand that he marry her and see that he does. Weak arguments have been offered against woman proposing. Some say it is unwomanly, that it belittles the girl, and a lot of nonsense like that. If persons will look at the matter reasonably and realize that it is the duty of every healthy person to have a mate through life, they will understand that it is as much a woman's right to request a man to marry her as it is the man's right to put the question to her. Wherefore we repeat what we have said before, that women should do the proposing in cases where men show an inclination to hang back or are bashful. If left to a referendum we feel sure the woman's right to propose will be sanctioned. — Chicago Evening Post.

THE BUILDING HOLDUP

Conspiracy, profiteering, bribery, corruption, blackmail and "graft on a royal scale" that makes the late convict Sam Parks seem "only a cheap grafter," enter into the intolerable and scandalous building situation in New York City, according to testimony before the legislative Housing Committee. The metropolitan press appear to accept the revelations without much question as to their face value, approve the summoning of a special grand jury to deal with legal aspects of the investigation, and insist, as we read in the Journal of Commerce, that the "inquiry should be prosecuted with utmost vigor and guilty parties brought to justice, no matter who they may be." Mayor Hylan canceled contracts for the new $6,000,000 court house when it appeared that a representative of the "system" had proffered political support of labor unions if he would sign certain bids. Labor men are quoted as saying that collusion and graft are not merely local. In any event, adds the New York Globe, "what effects New York will directly and indirectly affect conditions elsewhere." And Attorney General Palmer, promising all possible cooperation by the United States Department of Justice with Samuel Untermyer, chief counsel for the investigating committee, refers to Federal suits already instituted against cement manufacturers and hardware manufacturers under the Sherman Anti-Trust Act. The Topeka Capital concludes that the investigation early bears out the charge of "the existence of a combine or trust of employers and labor unions which holds up the building trades throughout the United States."—Literary Digest.

TAKE CARE OF FARM MACHINERY

Proper Repair and Storage Saves Valuable Time in Spring

The high cost of farm machinery within the past few years and the consequent need of prolonging the life of every implement as long as possible makes pertinent a few hints with regard to the care of these when not in use.

Store Plow in a Dry Place

When laid by, say the implement experts, the plow should, if possible, be stored in a dry place, away from contact with the ground. In any case, the bright parts should always be coated with grease to prevent rust. Once the mold board and share have become pitted with rust, an efficient job of plowing can be done until the corroded parts again have acquired a polish by use.

Harrows, also relatively simple but tremendously important implements, are, next to plows, most generally neglected. Many farmers who would not neglect an expensive harvesting machine, say the experts, are careless as to harrows and other implements of this type. But these, also, represent capital invested, and a larger return is possible if they are properly cared for at the end of the season.

If harrows are stored under a shed, the teeth should be supported by blocks or boards, so that they will not become embedded in the ground. All accumulation of earth and trash should be removed. This is especially applicable to wooden-frame harrows. The earthy accumulations retain moisture and accelerate decay. When the wooden parts have dried out sufficiently they should be painted, to prevent season checking and splitting. As the harrow works in wet earth and close to the ground, deterioration is rapid once checking has started.

If the disk harrow is stored in a shed or other floorless building, the disk gangs should be run upon boards so the disks will not become embedded in the ground. Whether housed or not, the implement should be carefully cleaned of all accumulations of soil, and the disks should be greased with a heavy grease to prevent rust. The paint, particularly on the wooden parts, should be renewed frequently.

Get the Mower Under Shelter

Mowers, more generally than plows and harrows, are put under shelter, but many of them spend the winter at the end of the meadow where the last cutting of hay was made, and in most cases they are not properly greased, even when sheltered. Get the mower under shelter, if possible. In any case, clean the knife bar, wipe it with a greasy rag, and store in a dry place. Place a block of wood or other support under the midpoint of the tongue, so that it will not acquire a permanent sag. If the mower is stored with the cutter bar in a vertical position, place a block of wood under the shoe to take the weight off the frame. All accumulations of vegetable matter and dirt should be removed and all bearings and other bright parts of the machine oiled or greased. Much the same rules apply to reapers and binders.

The time to care for each implement is when its work is finished. Pressure of other work, however, frequently makes this inconvenient, but nothing should be allowed to interfere with getting all machinery greased, and, if possible, under cover before the beginning of winter. Then, as early in the winter as you can find time for it, go over every piece and see what repairs are needed. If new parts have to be ordered, order them at once. A great deal of valuable time is lost every spring waiting for repair parts to arrive from the city.

The best possible use should be made of such housing space as is available and grease and paint should be used without stint. Any farm implement with bearings and bright parts well protected with heavy grease is better off out in the weather than standing in a shed without any protection by grease or oil.

TEACHER SHORTAGE STILL SERIOUS PROBLEM

Many States Report Conditions Still Bad

An impression prevails that the teacher shortage throughout the United States is no longer a serious problem. Recent reports received from county and district superintendents in every State clearly indicate that such a conclusion is erroneous. While the average condition is slightly better than last year, due to marked improvement in States where salaries have been greatly increased, the general situation remains practically unchanged. The number of schools without teachers and still larger number taught by incompetent teachers show that a very serious situation still exists, particularly in those states where salaries are lowest.

On September 1, 1920, the National Education Association sent a letter to every county and district superintendent of schools in the United States, enclosing a return postal card upon which were asked ten questions regarding the teacher situation in their respective counties. The following are three of the questions asked: (1) The number of teaching positions in the county or district covered by the report; (2) the shortage of teachers at the opening of school in September, 1920; (3) the number of teachers below standard whom it had been necessary to accept in order to keep as many schools as possible open. The standard referred to is, of course, the minimum for the given county or district, and teachers below standard are admittedly incompetent. The real shortage is, therefore, the sum of the actual shortage and the number of teachers below standard.

Inquiries were sent to 3,468 superintendents and 1,492 replies had been received at the time this was written, October 12. Every report is signed by the county or district superintendent making it, and the information is, therefore, the most reliable that can be obtained.

Unquestionably the greatest educational problem before the American people is the securing of competent, well-trained teachers for every teaching position in the country, in rural as well as in city schools. At least two years of professional training beyond a four-year high school course is the generally accepted minimum standard for teachers. The replies of county and district superintendents to the question, "What per cent of your teachers have had two years or more of training beyond high schools," shows that in only a few states have one-half the teachers had that amount of training, and that in a large majority of the states less than one-half had that much. Some superintendents report as few as ten per cent of their teachers having attained that standard.

The drive should be for a competent, well-trained teacher for every boy and girl in America. Until this shall have been accomplished, approximately, it cannot be said that the teacher situation is not a serious problem.

WHAT SHALL IT PROFIT A MAN?

If he earns big wages but saves none of it?

If he gets money only to let it master him?

If his pay envelope be fat and the paying off of debts makes it flat?

If he hides his money under his pillow and is robbed of all he has saved?

If he builds an imposing financial structure and fails to put a protecting roof over it?

If opportunity knocks at his door and he has no money to accept her invitation?

If he gains the only woman in the world and has no safe financial prospects to offer her?

If he gains a fortune and loses the vision of usefulness and responsibility which it entails?

If he lays by a fortune for his children and fails to see that they are trained in thrift?

If he wastes his money and then wastes his time wondering why he was ever so foolish?—American Building Association News.

ROAD WORK PLANNED FOR NEXT YEAR

Approximately 125 miles of State roads will be surveyed during the winter, by the engineering department of the State Highway Commission. From the surveys thus made the Highway Commission will determine late in the winter what stretches of road shall be built next spring, summer and fall. In other words, its really up to the taxpayers of the various sections to be surveyed, to convince the Highway Commissioners why they should build their particular stretch of road before others.

The sections tentatively outlined to be surveyed comprises the following: Milford to Lewes; Milford to Harrington, east and west road; Harrington to Blackbird and Dover west to Maryland line; Newark to Canal bridge and Hockessin and Newport pikes.

By having the engineering department do the surveying during the cold weather when it is not possible to build roads, enables the Highway Department to keep its engineering forces intact the twelve months in the year.

This year there has been about 55 miles of stone roads built throughout the State. This is not all of the extensive program that was contemplated. The delays in receiving stone and cement prevented other stretches from being completed. There is now a splendid stone road from Middletown to Selbyville, with the exception of the nine miles between Frederica and Milford.

WOULD HAVE A CITIZENSHIP 100% INTELLIGENT

That is a wise decision of the League of Women Voters, to start a national campaign for the establishment of citizenship courses in all institutions of high learning, and it is encouraging to hear the reports that such courses have already been established in universities in twelve states, and that the League has now a citizenship school in every county in the State of Missouri. It has been one of the anomalies of American civilization that it has conspicuously neglected the education of the people in the very thing upon which America most prides itself, namely, self government. We have too much proceeded upon the theory that knowledge of citizenship, as Dogberry said of reading and writing, "comes by nature." If the League of Women Voters can correct this error, and secure us a citizenship 100 per cent intelligent, it will perform one of the best works of the age.—Harvey's Weekly.

WHAT ARE VITAMINES? Definition Best Given in Telling What They Do

"What are vitamins?"

This is a question asked repeatedly since the importance of these compounds in foods has come into prominence, but no definite answer has yet been given. Investigations by scientists at universities, agricultural experiment stations, and institutions for medical research have revealed much information regarding the function of vitamins in body maintenance and buildings, and the parts of the various foods in which they are to be found.

That vitamins are compounds absolutely essential in the food, in order to maintain the weight of the body and produce growth, has been definitely proved. The lack of vitamins causes deficiency diseases, so named because they are due to lack of something in the diet. Vitamins are present and are needed in such small quantities in the food that chemists have not yet been able to isolate them from the many other compounds which are in foods. For this reason, we know very little of the actual character of vitamins.

Three Types of Vitamins According to a statement by Dr. Carl O. Johns, formerly in charge of nutrition work in the Bureau of Chemistry, United States Department of Agriculture, vitamins have been classified into three different types depending upon the functions which they have in promoting well-being and growth.

The first type is known as water-soluble vitamins, and these are necessary in order to obtain growth from food. Lack of these causes beri-beri, which manifests itself by disease of the nervous system and by other symptoms. These vitamins are found in seeds, in green plants, in certain bulbs and fleshy roots and fruits, and in milk and eggs, as well as in certain organs in the animal body. The seeds referred to include beans, nuts, and the various cereal grains. When cereals are very highly milled in order to obtain a very fine white flour, a large part of the vitamins may be removed. Vitamins are also lost when rice is polished in order to remove the outer layers which contain most of the vitamins. It is for this reason that a diet consisting mainly of polished rice may cause beri-beri, while unpolished rice does not cause this disease.

The second type is known as fat-soluble vitamins, and these are found in butter, eggs, milk, and in certain animal organs such as the heart, kidney, and liver, and to some extent in other fats as well as in green vegetables. They also exist in smaller quantities in certain seeds. When fat-soluble vitamins are absent from the diet, animals and man are subject to a disease of the eyes, which appears to be related to xerophthalmia and which, if prolonged, may produce blindness.

Best Source in Vegetables

The third type is known as antiscorbutic vitamins—that is, those which prevent scurvy, which manifests itself by disease of the bones as well as in other ways. These vitamins are found in oranges, grapefruit, lemons, and other citrus fruits, and in green vegetables, such as tomatoes, spinach, and lettuce, and in eggs and raw milk. The drying of vegetables frequently destroys the activity of the antiscorbutic vitamins. The best source of vitamins is in the leafy parts of vegetables, and this is one of the reasons why spinach, lettuce, and cabbage are valuable foods.

MAKING MONEY

Some men make their money in business—some in stocks—some by tall, some saving of their daily wages. A word to the wise is enough. Watch your neighbors gradually rise in the world and then ascertain how they are doing it.

In nine cases out of ten you will find they have purchased their home or farm—often on easy terms—while their less enterprising neighbor is still paying rent.

"GOOD ROADS" EXHIBIT IN WILMINGTON THIS WEEK

Delaware Highways Talk of Country, Says Distinguished Visitor

The State Highway Department is holding its second annual road exhibit and convention at the Hotel du Pont this week. The exhibit includes models, maps, photographs and other interesting features descriptive of and explanatory to the work of the State Highway Department.

On Saturday the state highway engineers will meet for an all day conference. Papers will be presented, followed by discussions on various phases of highway work, particularly on new developments and problems which have arisen during the past year.

The public is invited to attend both the exhibit and convention.

The last concrete of the season to be laid on the state road south of Wilmington was poured Saturday at Farnhurst. The concrete pavement is now complete from about one mile south of Hare's Corner to a point about half a mile north of Farnhurst. This road is now open from Hare's Corner to Taylor's Corner and will be open the entire length about December 15.

The wonderful strides in the construction of Delaware roads and their superb construction is being talked about all over the United States, according to Kenneth Leydecker, of the general sales department of the White Company, Cleveland, Ohio, who is the guest of Charles M. Upham, State highway engineer, to address the road convention which started at Hotel du Pont yesterday.

Mr. Leydecker said that the various States in the Union are watching the problems of the State of Delaware and that Mr. Upham has taken such an active part in the development of modern highways and surfaces that his recommendations are given serious consideration.

Roads are necessary for the development of the State of Delaware, according to Mr. Leydecker, who said that the railroad system cannot reach remote points and that it is necessary for the highways to act as laterals or feeders to railroads in order that the transportation problem can be worked out to the highest degree of efficiency.

Mr. Leydecker said that in the transportation of all commodities, in some form or other, it has been found necessary that the articles be transported over the highways.

Before joining the White Company, Mr. Leydecker was connected with the Standard Oil Company of New Jersey as road engineer. Mr. Leydecker pointed out the interest of the White Company, in road building, is shown by the educational film on good roads which is being shown throughout the country, and which has already been shown in 20,000 moving picture theatres. This film Mr. Leydecker said, is not an advertising film. This picture, "Open Roads to a Greater America," will be shown at the Hotel du Pont Thursday evening.

LEM PRICE TO BE HANGED FRIDAY

For the second time, Lemuel Price, negro murderer of Policeman Thomas L. Zebley, Thursday was sentenced to be hanged. Chief Justice Pennewill, who pronounced sentence, fixed the date of execution as Friday, December 5, just a year and a day from the date of his conviction and first sentence. Under the law execution of sentence must not take place less than ten days from pronouncement of it. Preparations for the hanging are being completed at the workhouse. The law moved swiftly Thursday against the man who had once escaped its grasp and gone as far as France and Alabama footloose. The chief justice recited the circumstances, asked the negro if he had anything to say. The murderer briefly asked for mercy because he said he had not killed Zebley intentionally.

SALE OF CHRISTMAS SEALS BEGINS TODAY

In every home that believes tuberculosis in Delaware should be prevented and has the means to aid the fight financially—a health bond.

In the minds of every resident of the State who needs treatment to prevent tuberculosis—a clear conception of the service which the Delaware agencies that are fighting tuberculosis are prepared to offer gladly and without charge.

Agencies Do Great Work

How important a work the three associated agencies in this sale are accomplishing is pointed out in a letter that is being sent out to friends of the cause by these agencies, signed by Mrs. Julie A. (Donald) Ashbrook for Sunnybrook Cottage, Miss Emily P. Bissell for the Anti-Tuberculosis Society and David Snellenburg, for the State Tuberculosis Commission. This letter says in part:

"We have had during the year six school nurses at work examining thousands of children, and seventeen doctors working as medical examiners. The traveling tuberculosis exhibit has gone through the state from end to end, and is now working in the industrial plants. Much educational work has been done and special health moving pictures have been shown.

"The great fact that deaths from tuberculosis have shown a decided decline this year is proof of the value of our campaign. People are learning how to prevent tuberculosis, detecting it in early stages, and curing it as it can be cured at that period. We believe that with your help we can bring this most dreaded of all diseases under control. The good work must go on because—in spite of the decrease our death rate is still one of the highest in the country.

"This year we plan to aid the prevention for children now running at Sunnybrook Cottage near Wilmington. It has brought more than fifty children back to health this summer, and needs only funds to become more and more valuable in the tuberculosis campaign. We also wish to establish an executive staff and to have an office. The school nursing and the exhibit must be kept going and the sick patients sent to sanatoria."

"There is every reason to believe," said a committee member, "that the Merry Christmas and Happy New Year greetings sent out in the form of the little Christmas seals will serve to point out Delaware as a model in its methods of tuberculosis prevention."

The funds derived from such bond issue to be used to provide and purchase new grounds, new buildings and new permanent equipment for said special school district. equipment for the work is to be given by the Delaware School Auxiliary Association.

The rapidity with which the school enrollment is outstripping the quarters provided is making imperative some permanent measure for relief of the situation. This can best be provided in the opinion of the local Board, the Alumni Association and the friends of the children who are acquainted with existing conditions, by providing at the earliest possible time an adequate school building under one roof.

Ground Procured by Previous Board

Sufficient ground for the new building was purchased more than a year ago when a portion of the Lewis property south of the present Grammar School building was purchased. Unsettled conditions with regard to the school law coupled with the high cost of labor and of building materials delayed the work of building at that time. The referendum feature of the amended law altered the conditions of bonding and the more generous offer of the Delaware School Auxiliary Association together with the crowded and unsanitary conditions in the public schools frequently referred to in these columns, makes early action desirable.

MANY ATTEND FUNERAL OF PRINCIPAL A. H. BERLIN

Many alumni and friends of Principal A. H. Berlin of Wilmington High School, attended the funeral which was held in the auditorium of the First and Central Presbyterian Church last Friday afternoon. Rev. Josiah H. Crawford, a former pastor of Central Presbyterian Church, and Rev. Richard W. Trapnell, rector of St. Andrew's Episcopal Church, conducted impressive funeral services. Relatives of the deceased, members of the Board of Public Education and active and honorary pallbearers occupied seats near the chancel, the alumni, teachers, students and other persons thronged pews that had not been reserved.

Dr. Crawford offered prayer, and Dr. Trapnell read selections of scripture. Mrs. Robert Wilson Sachs, accompanied by John Thoms, sang, "My Jesus as Thou Wilt," and "Abide With Me," which were Professor Berlin's favorite hymns.

In a brief address Dr. Crawford spoke of life in the light of immortality of influence, which, he said, reaches on, on until time is no more. He highly eulogized Professor Berlin, who spent 32 years in Wilmington. When other men were making money Professor Berlin was making character. Dr. Crawford stated. When other men were building reputation Professor Berlin was building young lives in manhood and womanhood. Professor Berlin did not labor in vain. Dr. Crawford declared. Professor Berlin gave himself with the love of a crusader for an ideal, and when life was nearly spent he could not ask anything better than his resting place be in sight of the school where he labored. Dr. Crawford said Professor Berlin's ideal has been reproduced in scholars. He believed fear of the Lord, he feared God in the right sense and served Him as elder in church. Today he lives in the land of many mansions; he lives here too in the lives of the men and women whom he served and loved.

After being viewed by many persons the body was borne to the Wilmington and Brandywine cemetery for interment. A blanket of roses, presented by the High School teachers, was put over the casket.

MIDDLETOWN TO TALK NEW HIGH SCHOOL BUILDING

The Parent-Teachers' Association of Middletown is arranging for a big meeting at the Middletown Opera House on Monday evening, December 13, for the purpose of obtaining sentiment of the public on the question of building of the new school house, the ground for which was bought several months ago. It was decided to have several speakers of prominence present the question in all its phases. Henry P. Scott, Wilmington, and Everett C. Johnson, Secretary of State, have been invited to speak. The schools of Middletown are overcrowded, there being more than 300 scholars enrolled with the prospects of several more country districts sending their children to Middletown. A majority of the parents feel that more accommodations are needed. The portable school house is nearly completed but with it the school will be crowded. The meeting it is understood will agitate the question of erecting the new building. The movement is popular and a quiet canvass of many of the large property owners is showing they are in favor of the movement.

ENGAGEMENT OF FORMER CHINESE STUDENT ANNOUNCED

Much Interest Manifest in the Betrothal of Popular Oriental

Announcement has been received by friends here of the engagement of Chindon Yui, the Chinese girl who was a student at Women's College last year, and who spoke on Chinese traditions and customs at the churches and missionary meetings here and at other places throughout the State.

According to the ancient Chinese custom Chindon was betrothed in her childhood to Mr. C. Y. Ting. Since the passing away of the old dynasty, the younger generation has not felt under obligation to be bound by the customs of the old regime. In this case, the young people, so betrothed, met in this country and fell in love.

Mr. Tang has studied in this country for several years. This year he had leave of absence from Columbia University, where he is taking a course leading to a doctor's degree, to attend the meetings of the League of Nations as assistant to the Chinese secretariat.

The young people will doubtless marry in this country and tour Continental Europe for a wedding trip. The little bride-to-be writes concerning this latter event, "He wants me to go back to China in the future by way of Europe, so that I can explore the Old Continent, and take in, among other things, the splendor of Athens, the beauty of Venice, the view of Geneva and the grandeur of Rome."

Much interest is manifest among her friends concerning the wedding, which will doubtless be according to the ancient Chinese custom so often described by Chindon and by Tse Tsu Tsa, the first Chinese student to register at Women's College.

COMMUNITY CORN SHOW AT MIDDLETOWN A SUCCESS

Boys Make High Production Record and Arouse Much Interest

At the Community Corn Show held in Middletown last week under the direction of County Agent R. O. Bausman and E. P. Vogel, instructor in vocational agriculture, Victor H. Kohl, Jr., secured high honors. His yield was an average of 77.24 bushels of crib corn per acre from five acres of corn. He was closely pushed for the honors by Gordon Armstrong, McLonough, who received a yield of 75.43 of shelled corn per acre. The lowest yield was at the high figure of 63 bushels an acre, which is a very creditable yield for any year or in any state. The average yield of corn for the six boys was 69 bushels per acre, which is more than 2½ times the average yield for the state.

The winner of the contest in each county will be given a free scholarship to the Junior Short Course at Delaware College during the last week of December under the direction of the Delaware College Extension Service. These scholarships are offered through the Delaware Corn Growers' Association, which supervised the contests through the county farm bureaus, the Delaware College Extension Service and the Vocational Agricultural schools. The prize winner in each county is selected through the point system of yield, 70 per cent quality of corn, 15 percent, "How I Grew My Five Acres" including a record of labor and all costs, 15 per cent.

BISHOP McDOWELL TO HOLD M. E. CONFERENCE

Wednesday, March 30, Fixed as Opening Date

The Board of Bishops of the Methodist Episcopal Church, whose semi-annual meeting was held last week in Atlantic City, N. J., has fixed Wednesday, March 30, 1921, for the opening of the 53rd annual session of the Wilmington Conference, which will continue until Monday, April 4, and has assigned Bishop William F. McDowell, of Washington, D. C., to preside. The conference will meet in Immanuel Church, Crisfield, Md., of which Rev. L. Johnson is pastor. Bishop McDowell has presided over the conference on three previous occasions—at Seaford in 1917, at Chestertown, Md., in 1919 and in Wilmington eight months ago—and has charge of the Washington area, which includes the Wilmington Conference territory. The conference met at Crisfield in 1887, 1902 and 1913.

Bishop Joseph F. Berry, of Philadelphia will preside over the Delaware Conference composed of Negroes, whose annual session will be held at Salisbury, Md., from March 30 to April 4.

Because next Easter comes in the middle of March, when the churches will have special services and the pastors desire to occupy their pulpits, both conferences will assemble later than usual.

DELAWARE FIGURES IN GOOD ROADS "MOVIE"

Many a woman more blessed with a sense of the ridiculous than she is with tact has remarked to Friend Husband as he climbed from underneath the car stalled on a muddy country road after a struggle with recalcitrant machinery, "if only a movie photographer were around."

Her wish would have been gratified this summer in many places in Delaware and New Jersey, for movie operators from the United States Department of Agriculture were there filming good roads with the assistance of engineers from the Bureau of Public Roads. The resulting picture, "Modern Concrete Road Construction," is now ready for lending to interested persons who make application for its use at "Good Roads" meetings, schools, colleges and meetings of engineers.

Every process involved in the construction of a concrete road is shown in the film from the heavy grading to the completed road. The picture opens with a view of an automobile stuck in the mud of an unimproved country road. After the spectator has been shown all the steps in the construction of a modern concrete road, the picture closes with a thrilling race between a railroad train and a motor truck on a concrete highway—a feature calculated to show the possibilities of rapid transit of freight traffic on good roads, but not to encourage speeding.

Ears are "coming in" again. At least, they're coming out again.

REPUBLICANS TO GIVE DEMONSTRATION OF EFFICIENCY

Will Plan Soon Entire Legislative Program for Short Session

Determined to give the country a demonstration of Governmental efficiency, Republican leaders in Congress plan to map out within the next few weeks the entire legislative program which they hope to enact at the special session following President-elect Harding's inauguration on March 4. It was learned today.

Following the conference Saturday between Senator Lodge, Republican leader of the Senate, and Senator Penrose, finance committee chairman, at Philadelphia, there will be a series of meetings of Republican leaders, which are expected to result in formulation of this program.

The general plan, as tentatively worked out, is:

1. Limit the short session beginning December 6 to appropriation bills.

2. Put all the major committees to work on the short session on the big problems the Republicans expect to solve when they take control.

3. Present bills covering these problems in rapid-fire order after the special session gets under way.

Harding will be conferred with, and congressional leaders said every effort will be made to have the legislative and executive branches of the government co-operate to the fullest extent in working out such changes as are deemed needed.

Among the problems on which committees will be put to work during the short session are these:

Tariff and tax revision, immigration, high cost of living, reorganization of government departments, agricultural questions, labor and railroads.

Congressional leaders said it will be impossible to make plans absolutely until they know more about Harding's plans with respect to peace and the proposed association of nations. Many lawmakers favor immediate action on domestic questions, letting the association wait until home problems have been solved.

KEEP BROOD SOWS ON ECONOMICAL FEED

Expert Tells What Roughage May Be Used

During the winter the brood sows should be maintained as cheaply as possible, but at the same time they must be properly fed in order to farrow a large number of healthy, well-grown pigs in the spring. Best results are obtained when sufficient food is given to produce daily gains on the sows of one-half or three-fourths of a pound. To do this the grain feed must be limited, and diluted with some roughage, for unless the ration has sufficient bulk, the sows will become constipated and hungry, due to the undistended condition of the digestive tract. Legume hays are the chief roughage available at this season, and their use will cheapen the cost of feeding.

Either alfalfa, clover, soy-bean, or cowpea hay makes an excellent roughage, and when fed, little or no high-priced protein concentrate is needed to balance the corn. Bright, leafy alfalfa hay gives the best results of any of these roughages. Alfalfa meal is simply the best grade of alfalfa hay chopped into a meal. Clover hay contains almost as much nourishment as alfalfa hay, and soy-bean hay, cut and cured when the beans are almost ripe, is a very nutritious feed. Cowpea hay should be cut when the first peas are ripening and consequently does not have as high food value as soy-bean hay. Great care must be exercised in curing soy-bean and cowpea hay, for the stalks are very heavy and succulent and unless thoroughly dried are apt to mold. Under no condition should a brood sow be fed upon any roughage which is not bright, nutritious, and free from smut or mold. She does not relish or thrive on such inferior feed. It is very apt to cause severe digestive troubles and may lead to the loss of her litter.

An Appeal

To the Republicans of the Country and All Those Who Aided Them:

The Republican success in the 1920 election has been commensurate with the quality of our candidates and the righteousness of our cause.

This success is the partnership accomplishment of all Republicans everywhere and of hundreds of thousands of well-wishers of good government regardless of past party affiliations.

To all of these we now appeal, because it is the mutual responsibility of us all who will share alike in the consequent mutual benefit of good government.

The plan of limiting campaign contributions to $1,000, adopted by your national organization, has left your party unmortgaged.

It has been a most advanced step in placing the business of politics on the highest plane, and has brought an interest on the part of thousands who never before have been concerned with politics.

Some weeks before election it was apparent that the expenses provided for in our budget, with the strictest economy, would exceed the contributions, but we were unwilling either to leave undone any legitimate effort essential to complete success or to change the method of raising money. We were then sure and we are now sure that every Republican desires that the expenses of the campaign be distributed in this manner.

Your presidential campaign this year cost no more than that of 1916, when a dollar went nearly twice as far as it does today.

Four years ago the bulk of the campaign fund came from 750 contributors, while this year the approximately $2,000,000 contributed to date for the presidential election has come from 60,000 givers.

The victory won, the raising of the deficit would be easy, indeed, if your committee were willing to abandon the policy of keeping down the average of contribution. This we are determined not to do. It was a fight of all the people. The result speaks for itself. It lifted a burden from the minds of millions and points the way to better and happier days. We ask now for that additional help from all which is merited both by the successful conclusion of the effort and by the consequent contribution to the welfare of all of our people and the glory of the nation.

Let us now have help from every American who is grateful for the victory and all that it means to the country. It might well be in the nature of a thanksgiving offering for the return to a certainly safe, sane, constitutional progressive government.

Let us by general and generous giving put the seal of approval upon the policy of putting a national administration in power free from any possible embarrassment of special obligation to any man, men or group of men. Let us make the contribution, whether large or small, and whether or not we have heretofore given, commensurate with our means and our appreciation, always within the maximum limit heretofore fixed.

Let us get our names on the cornerstone of a sturdier political structure, upon the roll of those who have helped make possible a campaign of which, in methods and result, we may as Republicans and patriots be justly proud.

Most earnestly we urge that this aid be given quickly, that your committee may be enabled to discharge the party's obligations and turn to further constructive work in behalf of party and country.

REPUBLICAN NATIONAL COMMITTEE,

Will H. Hays, Chairman.

Checks should be made payable to Fred W. Upham, Treasurer, or James G. Blaine, Jr., Eastern Treasurer, and sent to the Committee's Office, 19 West 44th Street, New York City, N. Y.

DISTINGUISHED SPEAKERS TO ADDRESS CHILD WELFARE CONFERENCE

"CHILDREN'S STATESMAN" TO GIVE VIEWS ON THEIR PROTECTION AND EDUCATION AT DOVER NEXT FRIDAY AND SATURDAY, OTHER PROMINENT SPEAKERS TO BE PRESENT

OWEN R. LOVEJOY
General Secretary of the National Child Labor Committee

The list of speakers for the child welfare conference scheduled for Dover on December 3rd and 4th is headed by Owen R. Lovejoy, General Secretary of the National Child Labor Committee, and Wiley H. Swift, Special Agent on Laws and Administration for that organization. Mr. Lovejoy, whose subject will be "Foundations of Good Citizenship," is recognized as one of the greatest leaders in child welfare work in the world. He is called the "Children's Statesman," because of his long years of successful service for the protection and education of children. Unquestionably the country's foremost authority on child labor, he is also deeply interested and thoroughly practical in regard to the whole broad field of humanitarian service. He views child welfare in all its relations and aspects. He considers health, education and other advantages for children of equal importance. Mr. Lovejoy is a platform speaker of exceptional distinction and power. It has been said of him that he has the rare ability to make figures and facts as interesting and thrilling as a chapter in a novel. Added to his mastery of whatever subject he talks upon is the eloquent charm of his personality, that combines force, warmth and the grace of a ready sense of humor. He challenges the interested attention of his audience at all times by his message, expressed in a logical, convincing way, full of delightful surprises at every turn. A strong common sense that commends him to all, runs through his arguments and suggestions. Wiley H. Swift, special agent on laws and administration for the National Child Labor Committee, who has chosen for his subject "Laws and the Child," is another man of unusual attainments. He has made a study of laws relating to children and is broadly conversant with their operation. He is imbued with a deep sense of the cause of childhood, tempered with an unusual balance and sense of proportion. He is never over serious, and always ready with a "human interest" story to illustrate his point. He will outline what are the approved standards for legislation to meet the various needs of all classes of children and will be glad to discuss local problems of law and administration with those caring to do so.

Other speakers on the program are the executives of organizations promoting the conference. The conference program offers an unusual chance for people to become informed on the interdependence of various branches of child welfare work, and to learn what is going on or is contemplated for such work in Delaware. All who are interested are urged to attend the meetings, and take part in discussions following the addresses, if they care to do so.

LOCAL MAN TO ADDRESS HORTICULTURAL SOCIETY

Arthur W. Rounds to Tell How to Raise Tomatoes

Many farmers and others from this vicinity are interested in the meeting of the Peninsula Horticultural Society being held at the Hotel du Pont this week. Yesterday the opening session was one of much interest to orchardists. L. R. Detjen, of Delaware College, was one of the speakers. His subject was, "A Prune of American Origin." Much interest was displayed in the practical and illuminating address by Hale Harrison, of Berlin, Md., who told of "Varieties of Fruit Recommended for the Delaware and Chesapeake Peninsula."

Last night the session opened with singing led by William P. White, of Wilmington. Governor John G. Townsend, Jr., delivered an address; "Landscape Gardening," with lantern slides and views, was explained by Mrs. Frances V. Kite, of Philadelphia. The "Rogues' Gallery," a lantern slide lecture was given by Professor E. N. Cory, of the University of Maryland. An address was also delivered by Edward James Cattell, city statistician of Philadelphia.

Arthur W. Rounds to Speak Tomorrow

Much local interest centers around tomorrow morning's meeting when Arthur Rounds, of Newark, whose success in the growing of tomatoes has earned for him the title of "Tomato King," will make an address on "The Growing of Tomatoes." Mr. Rounds has given much valuable information from a fund of rich experience, through farmers' institutes and through the columns of the Farm Bureau News. His utterances are always heard with much interest. Prof. Thomas H. White of the University of Maryland, will talk on "The Future of the Tomato Industry." William Wighton, of Berlin, Md., will deliver a lecture on "The Need of a National Marketing Organization." At 2 o'clock on Thursday afternoon, Dr. Thomas F. Manns, pathologist of the Delaware Experiment Station, Newark, will give a report on fungus diseases. There will be a round table discussion on "The Control of Apple Scab," following which Dr. Thomas F. Manns will make an address on "The Control of Sweet Potato Diseases." Dr. D. N. Shoemaker of the U. S. Department of Agriculture will deliver a lecture on "Better Seed."

Interesting Exhibition

In connection with the convention there is an exhibition of fruit, vegetables and nuts, held also in the Hotel du Pont. The officers in charge of the display are Dr. H. B. McDowell, president of the society; G. Hale Harrison, first vice-president, and Wesley Webb, secretary and treasurer.

All who comply with the rules in regard to the exhibition are eligible to win prizes. Cash prizes will be awarded as follows:

For the best general display of all fruits, first, $200; second, $150; third, $100.

In awarding these prizes, the judges will take into consideration the following points:

First, the total amount, quality and variety of the fruit exhibited for the barrel, box and plate premiums and a table or other display, which exhibits shall be scored as follows:

Number and value of varieties, 20.

Quality of fruit, 40.

Attractiveness and educational value, 40.

This special display shall not count a greater number of points than the remainder of the display of the exhibitor.

Prizes will be awarded for the best display of apples, pears, quinces, nuts, cabbage, potatoes, sweet potatoes, carrots, table beets, celery, lettuce, kale, onions. There will also be a number of prizes awarded to best display of apples, in different manners, by amateur exhibitors; that is, those who have never won first prize on any prior exhibit. The rules governing the general class will apply to amateurs, also.

COLLEGE DRAMATIC CLUB TO GIVE PLAYS

Just previous to the Thanksgiving holidays the tryouts for the two plays to be given by the Women's College Dramatic Club were held. Nine of the students for the English play, "The Man Who Married a Dumb Wife," were chosen as follows: Helen Fisher, Teddy Foster, Elizabeth Taylor, Marion Rodney, Edith Leonard, Hannah Hollingsworth, Winifred Hanchett, Emma Dayett and Louise Jackson.

Parts have been assigned and intensive work on rehearsals will begin this week. Scenery is being built by Dr. F. M. K. Foster and Professor J. E. Brinton. Miss Taylor's class in scenery design will also have some practical work in connection with the scenery. One act of Rostand's Les Romanesques will also be given the same evening, Friday, December 10, at Wolf Hall.

DELAWARE COLLEGE LIBRARY RECEIVES GIFT OF BOOKS

Alumnus of Class of '74 Makes Valuable Addition To Reference Shelves

A valuable gift of 105 books in the fields of Agriculture, Education, French and German Literature, Marine Engineering and Military Science was made recently to the Delaware College Library by Alexander F. Williamson of the class of 1874. Through the years since his graduation Mr. Williamson has retained his interest in his Alma Mater, an interest which is now shown in so practical a manner. This gift of books is the third of such gifts during the last year by members of the Sons of Delaware of Philadelphia. Mr. Walter T. Bradley, who has manifested for some time an active interest in the work of the library, presented 111 volumes in the fields of English Literature, Biblical Literature and Art. A select library of about 500 volumes had already been given to the library by Mr. Bradley. Mr. R. G. Wood and Mr. Bradley jointly presented 109 volumes in the fields of Physics, Chemistry, Astronomy, Mechanical Engineering, Economics and Sociology, and Law. All of these books are being used by the various departments as reference books for teachers and both men and women students.

LOVE KNOWS NO FEAR

Love seems to have no holiday. The record of marriage licenses issued just before Thanksgiving Day was four times larger than the average number, just as it always is at such periods. Even when houses are not to be had and coal is $15 a ton and hard to get, Twentieth Century lovers shut their eyes to a cold winter and trust to Cupid to supply all of the needs and blessings that seem to make life worth while.—Every Evening.

DELAWARE HOLDS P. M. C. SCORLESS

Stages One of the Greatest Comebacks in History of Blue and Gold

Hundreds of loyal followers of Old Delaware, undergraduates and old "grads," friends of the players and friends of the college, hoping against hope for the crippled "Yellowjackets" to make a creditable showing against the heavy P. M. C. team, had their faith rewarded on Thanksgiving Day when a last gallant stand they held the Chester aggregation to a 0-0 tie.

With many of the varsity men crippled as a result of the season's grind, the battered remnant of the old guard surprised both their opponents and their friends by putting up one of the gamest fights in the history of the Blue and Gold.

Captain McCaughan Stars

Captain McCaughan, playing his last football game for Delaware, was the big feature of the day's attraction. Taking backs' places and plowing through the line for huge gains, intercepting forward passes, outpunting Poole, his renowned adversary, and playing one of the best tackling games of his career, Sank proved he was all which has been said of him in the past. "Kid" Donaldson, Magee, Holton, Schaffer and Elliott all featured on the defense and the two latter men were good for many gains. The remaining men of the Delaware team did fine work, too.

Paul Steel, a Newark High star of last year's eleven, played a fine game and was a consistent ground gainer for Delaware. John Williams, another local lad, was in the game only at the start for the kickoff. His ankle, which had been sprained in a previous game went bad, however, and he was replaced by Rothrock early in the game. Wintrup replaced Steel for a brief period. He was taken out later by Coach Shipley who feared injury to the big player's knee which has been dislocated several times this season.

Poole and Lyster were the best bets for the soldier players. Campuzano was stopped with ease in the greater number of cases, but succeeded several times in getting through the line for long gains.

The field was very wet and slippery. As a consequence many long runs were ended abruptly and P. M. C. was on the long end of the fumbling column. Delaware only fumbled once and it was due to a high pass that this happened.

The lineup:

Delaware P. M. C.
Magee left end Trump
Lilly left guard Dale
Donaldson center Perry
Miner right guard Mueller
Williams right tackle Fried
Betzner right end Lawshe
(Capt.)

Elliott left halfback Crow
Steel right halfback Lyster
Schaffer fullback Campuzano
McCaughan quarterback Poole
(Capt.)

Substitutions—Delaware: Rothrock for Williams, Wintrup for Steel, Magaw for Magee, Steel for Wintrup, Leamy for Rothrock, Rothrock for Leamy, Jones for Steel, Records for Jones; P. M. C.: Clause for Lyster, Malinowski for Dale, Lyster for Fried, Dale for Malinowski. Referee—Gorges, Temple, Umpire—Tyler, Princeton. Head linesman—Palmer, Colby. Time of quarters—15 min.

FITS UP OLD

NEW GARDEN HOMESTEAD

Mark Sullivan, distinguished writer and editor, who has been living in Fredericksburg, Va., has disposed of his Virginia holdings, and is fitting up the old homestead at New Garden, Pa. Mr. Sullivan was born just across the Delaware line near Avondale, and he was graduated from the West Chester Normal School, class of 1892.

It is not definitely known whether or not Mr. Sullivan is planning a return to the old homestead, but presumably that is the reason why the place is being fitted up.
