Annual Fund Drive Scheduled By LWV For Local Service

League Of Women Voters To Seek Public Support For Program Continuance

The League of Women Voters of Newark will conduct its annual fund drive next week, Sept. 10-17, as once a year the league asks interested people in the community for financial assistance to continue the LWV program as an effective public service.

The league is a non-partisan organization to promote political responsibility by keeping the community informed with public meetings and voter service work.

"The league's work is supported by member dues and through the generous support of public spirited men and women in the community who believe in our program," said Joseph Perkins, president, said.

"Our fund drive also provides us with an excellent opportunity for reporting to our friends in Newark and explaining our objectives and program."

This year, the local league will study "Home Rule" legislation passed by the General Assembly; will continue its study of the Levy Court; and at the state level, complete a study of financing quality education.

Nationally, all leagues are studying the United Nations foreign policy.

"Little David" — Boy Evangelist

David Walker will open a two-week series here on Sunday. Better known as "Little David" he began preaching at the age of nine, and for 15 years has traveled throughout 29 nations of the world, including Russia.

Healed from total blindness at the age of five, he later survived an apparent "fatal" accident.

Mr. Walker has produced four motion picture films—one each in India, Palestine, and Russia (parts of which were smuggled out by an escaping air pilot), and one film in the Orient. He will show these during his meeting under a tent in the Brookside Shopping Center. Services will begin at 3 p.m. Sunday and continue each night at 7:45 throughout next week.

Cattle Show, Six-Race Events Slated Saturday At Fair Hill

Program Sponsored By Cecil County Breeders' Fair, Inc. To Feature Pari-Mutuel Betting, Fair Hill Steeplechase At Nearby Maryland Estate Of William du Pont, Jr.

The Cecil County Breeders' Fair, Inc., will present a cattle show beginning at 9 a.m. this Saturday, followed by a six-event card of flat racing and steeplechasing at the estate of William du Pont, Jr., in Fair Hill, Md., for the benefit of Union Hospital in Elkton. The six-race program will feature the Fair Hill Steeplechase with a field of 14 for a purse of $3,500 added money, as the fifth event of the card.

Named among the 14 jumpers in the feature is Bugle Call II, winner of last year's Fair Hill Steeplechase.

Pari-mutuel betting, under jurisdiction of the Maryland Racing Commission, will prevail but there will be an earlier post time this year. Mr. du Pont, after discussion with his committee members, advanced the post time to 2:30 p.m.

Last year's post time was 3:15 p.m. for the first race.

This change is for the convenience of the patrons since receipts from the races and other activities benefit the Union Hospital.

The hospital derived $3,502 from last year's two-day race meeting.

Delaware Park's E. J. (Jim) Langford again will be in charge of mutuels, and a daily double innovation which has been adopted with double betting to open at 1 p.m., 30 minutes before post time.

The first two races will be on the flat with the Lewisville and the Cherry Hill events.

The Christmas Hurdles will be run in two divisions, followed by the Fair Hill Steeplechase, and the Cowtown Hurdles.

Members of the race committee are William du Pont Jr., Donald Ross, Mildred E. M. Pike, William A. Shelton, Mrs. Marion du Pont Scott, Alfred E. Bissell, Morris H. Dixon, John B. Hannum III, Stuart S. Janney, Jr., Sidney Watters, Jr., Donaldson Brown, and J. H. Tyler McConnell.

Edward Platts, is working on this project, and one concrete abutment has been completed, with the second expected to be completed within two weeks.

southeast suddenly built up to make casting a real chore. After the first hour, we battled this wind and belling lines until bait and time ran out as the wind died near sundown.

Driving down to the Indian River Inlet for a last chance fling, we saw three bluefish that had been caught, and several hundred fishless fishermen hard at work.

With a shod spoon on fresh water spinning tackle, Billy W. engendered some sudden enthusiasm in the defeated Indian River Inlet contingent by immediately getting several solid strikes from hickory shade feeding on silversides in the flooding tide, and he caught one of these miniature tarpon to prolong our stay well after dark.

Over the CLOVER

by Dean Belt
4-H Club Agent

I have cleared my desk of papers of camp and the summer fair. I am ready to give the results. First, I want to thank all of you leaders who took part in preparation and exhibit of the fair.

All style Revue was a success with members taking part. They were able to model in skirts, aprons, suits, coats, dresses or nightgowns.

The County Favorite Foods Contest had 44 participants. Here the girls—and some fellows, too—prepared some part of a meal and were judged on preparations as well as finished product. There were 14 blue ribbon winners and these people will now take part in the State Cook-Off Contest in Dover, Sept. 28-29.

In the breakfast division, Barbara Lewis, Georganna Perry and Barry Fisher won blue ribbons.

In the dinner division, blue ribbons were won by Roberta Hopkins, Nina Tammi, Sara Newman and Sandra Gonc.

Desert division honors were won by Leo Tammi, Beverly Butler, Mary Woodmansee and Eleanor Hamilton.

If you have enjoyed this 4-H project year, why not share your experiences with your friends by inviting them to join a 4-H club?

Corn Crop Prices For 1962 Receive $1.34/Bu. Support

Prices for the 1962 corn crop will be supported at a minimum of $1.34 per bushel in Delaware, according to Jacob Zimmerman, chairman of the stabilization and conservation state committee. This is three cents higher than the 1961 support rate.

Zimmerman said that the minimum rate will not be reduced, but may be increased if the final 1962 crop corn support price determined on the basis of data on Oct. 1, is higher than minimum price announced last spring.

Mr. Zimmerman stressed the importance of a full understanding by growers of how the 1962 feed grain program affects price supports for the crop.

"Corn producers who participate in the 1962 feed grain program will be eligible for price support on their 1962 production," he declared, "but there will be a limit on the amount of corn from eligible farms that can be put under support."

"Quantity eligible for support will be based on the farm's established per-acre yield, based on the 1959-60 average, times the 1962 corn average as determined by the ASC County Committee."

"Producers of corn who do not participate in the 1962 feed grain program will not be eligible for support on the 1962 corn crop," he reports.

To be eligible for support, corn also must have been produced in 1962; must grade No. 3 or better, or No. 4 because of test weight only; must meet certain moisture requirements, and must be in adequate storage. The schedule of premiums and discounts is unchanged from the 1961 program.

As in the past, price-support program for 1962-crop corn will be carried out through farm stored loans and purchase agreements.

Seed Lawns, Now For Dense Stands Prior To Winter

Start your new lawn now so the seed has a chance to develop a dense stand before cold weather, County Agent Edward H. Schabinger advises.

The first step in establishing a successful lawn is a soil test, Schabinger suggests. A test will tell the homeowner if his soil is acid or alkaline and how much plant food it needs. Before seeding is the best time for the homeowner to correct soil conditions.

Seed used depends largely upon the conditions under which the grass must grow. Some grasses tolerate dry, sandy conditions, while others can be grown in heavy moist soil. Watering plays an important part in successfully establishing a new lawn, says Mr. Schabinger. Soaking the top one or two inches will be sufficient, since the seed is at the top. As the seed germinates, gradually increase the amount of water and decrease frequency.

For more information on establishing lawns, see your county agent at Agricultural Hall, Newark, or write to the Mailing Room, Agricultural Hall, University of Delaware, and ask for "ABC's of Good Lawns."

Dr. Lillian Batchelor, superintendent of junior and senior high school libraries for the Philadelphia Board of Education will be the instructor for the course on Monday evenings at P. S. duPont High School, Wilmington, beginning Sept. 24.
