LEGISLATORS MAKE BI-ENNIAL VISIT

ARE TOLD FINANCIAL NEEDS OF BOTH COLLEGES

LEVY COURT COMMISSIONERS AND PROMINENT STATE OFFICIALS ACCOMPANY LAWMAKERS

On last Friday, January 24, the legislature of the State of Delaware paid its biennial visit to Newark. Senator Richards, Representative Dean and the College Commission with the cordial cooperation of townspeople who assisted in conveying the legislators from place to place in machines had every detail in readiness and a regular itinerary mapped out. The lateness of the train and other delays hindered the latter part of the schedule which included inspection of the Women's College. Here an entertainment had been planned and refreshments prepared by the students in the Home Economics Department. The lateness of the hour, however, made it impossible to follow the schedule closely. Tea was served in Warner Hall while the Mandolin Club rendered several selections. The members from Kent and Sussex were due to arrive on the 11:01 train from Porter and the various committees together with the battalion from Delaware College assembled at the Pennsylvania Station at that time. Here, however, it was found that there had been a wreck on the road which held up the expected train over an hour. Governor Townsend, Ex-Governor Miller, Lieutenant Governor Eliason, members of the New Castle County Levy Court, and other State and County officials had in the meantime arrived by automobiles and after the officers of the U. S. Army who have returned to college and the officers of the battalion had been presented to the Governor by President Mitchell, the battalion with the returned commissioned officers at the head, lead the way to the college farm. Upon entering the grounds, the battalion was drawn up on one side of and facing the road and stood at present arms while the Governor and his staff passed by. The men were then taken back to await the tardy train. It finally arrived, but so late that the legislature decided to go directly to the college without first visiting the farm. Then with the band playing the column headed up Depot Road. Just before the column reached Main Street the battalion was again drawn up on the right of the street and presented arms while the legislators of the State rode past.

The Legislators greatly enjoyed the dinner, which was served in Old College Hall, and Miss Stewart, was highly commended for the excellent dinner served. Governor Townsend presided, but because of an engagement in Wilmington, had to leave before Ex-Governor Miller made his statement relative to the financial needs of the institution. Governor Townsend, however, before going, made a few remarks, in which he thanked the college officials and the people of Newark for the welcome extended. He also commended the work of the colleges.

In the course of his speech former Governor Miller said: "You are here for information. That is why the Board of Trustees and Faculty want you here. It is your duty to vote appropriations for the various state institutions and consequently you should have the right to know just how such monies are to be spent."

He then stated that he desired any member after he made his statement to ask any questions they desired and they would be answered by himself or other college officials. It was here that he told of the work of Mr. Wilkinson, the business administrator, and stated the college would be run on a modern business basis.

"What we want," said Mr. Miller, "is $112,890.87 for 1919 and $83,044.61 for 1920." He explained that some of the items are increases, but this is necessary because of conditions. The various amounts that are needed were read as follows:

$30,000 each year, which is an increase of $16,000 over the last two years.

Chair of history, $2,500 for each of the two years, no change.

Summer school, $4,000 for each year, an increase of $500 a year.

Agricultural department, maintenance, $10,000 each year, no change.

Appropriation to enable the college to accept funds from the Federal Government on the Smith-Lever act, $4,478.26 for 1919, and $5,544.51 for 1920.

War emergency expenses, $26,912.61 for 1919.

Stock machinery building, agricultural department, $5,000 for 1919.

Short winter agricultural course, $1,000 for 1920.

Women's College, maintenance, $30,000 each year, which is an increase of $2,500 over amount received during past two years.

Ex-Governor Miller also emphasized maintaining the standard of educational institutions. He said the need during reconstruction that in the past he had always found the members of the Delaware Legislature broad-minded in all educational matters and had no doubt but what the present members were equally broad-minded on the subject.

The need of a sidewalk along Depot road to avoid the dangers of students and others being run down was also pointed out. In this connection he said if the county would build the sidewalk the trustees of the college would give the necessary land on the east side of the road from Main street to below the Women's College but would probably have to go to the Legislature for authority to deed the county such land. He also referred to the fact that President Isaac C. Elliott and other members of the Levy Court were present and hoped they would consider the proposition. The members of the court went over the ground during the day and discussed the matter with some of the trustees.

Dr. Mitchell, in a few remarks also referred to the new system of bookkeeping and the budget system installed by Mr. Wilkinson and expressed the gratitude of the faculty for the attendance of the members of the Legislature and other officials.

Senator Asa Bennett of Sussex County, paid tribute to Delaware College declaring that it is held in high esteem by the people down the State and that they will learn to love it more as they get to know it better. "I have no doubt," he said, "but what Delaware College will get anything and everything she asks for."

In addition to State officials and members of the Legislature there were present many county officials and residents of Newark. Dean Winifred J. Robinson of the Women's College and Mrs. A. D. Warner, a member of the Advisory Board of that institution occupied places at the table with Governor Townsend, former Governor Miller and other officials. Following the luncheon the visitors were taken on an inspection trip which lasted more than an hour. They visited Old College Hall, Mechanics Hall, Recitation Hall, Purnell Hall, Library, Harter Hall and Wolf Hall and finally the Women's College. At the latter institution they were welcomed by Dean Robinson and members of her faculty.

Those who attended the luncheon were: Ex-Governor Miller, Governor Townsend, Hon. I. D. Short, Dean Robinson, Hon. John F. Richards, Lieutenant Governor Eliason, Isaac C. Elliott, Hon. Alexander C. Corbett, Hon. George M. Fisher, Hon. William D. Dean, Hon. Everett C. Johnson, Hon. Daniel Thompson, Arthur Wilkinson, Hon. E. B. Frazer, Hon. James W. Rob-

Brings 137 Wounded Soldiers Destined for Camp Merritt

Dr. and Mrs. Samuel C. Mitchell were agreeably surprised on Sunday evening to receive a telephone message from their son, Lieutenant Morris R. Mitchell announcing his arrival in New York on Sunday morning. He stated that he was sent over in charge of 137 wounded soldiers destined for Camp Merritt. A second message received yesterday brought the welcome news of a probable 24 hours' leave which will enable him to spend a few hours with his family here. He expressed uncertainty as to whether he would receive an early discharge or be transferred with his soldiers to Camp Lee.

Lieutenant Mitchell was in the thick of the fighting during the summer and was for a time under treatment in an army hospital.

A committee of fifteen to twenty farmers from Kent and Sussex counties will be the guests of the dairymen of New Castle County on a dairy tour to be held on next Friday, January 31, in accordance with an invitation extended by the dairymen of this county at a meeting of the Delaware State Holstein-Friesian Association held at Dover on Tuesday, January 21.

The guests from the lower counties will arrive at Middletown by train at 9:15. Here they will be met by twenty to thirty farmers with machines and taken to inspect the herd of J. S. Moore, Middletown. At 10:15 they will inspect the herd of P. B. Messick and at 11:15 that of Jehu Alfree also of Middletown. They will then proceed to Newark where dinner will be served at Old College Hall for 75 cents a plate. During the course of the dinner F. A. Carroll of Trenton, N. At 1:30 they will inspect the herd of J. Irvin Dayett at Cooch's Bridge and complete the trip by a visit to Winterthur Farm.

Every farmer of New Castle county is asked to take this tour since it will afford an unequalled opportunity to see the good herds of the county, to become better acquainted with the methods of other dairymen, and to hear how the neighboring state of New Jersey is meeting the dairy problem.

The dairy community committee-men or the County Agent for this county will be glad to furnish any additional information concerning the tour.

Local Teachers Hold Meeting Here Saturday

Discuss Provisions of S4987

Girls of Home Economics Department Serve Appetizing Luncheon

The local Teachers' Institute held in the High School building on Saturday was well attended by teachers of Newark and vicinity. At the morning session Miss Mary Hoffer, a teacher in the local grammar school, conducted a demonstration lesson on the teaching of fractions to the fourth grade. After a short discussion on methods of presenting this subject Principal Phineas Morris introduced Superintendent Schilling of Kent County who addressed the teachers on the provisions of the Smith Education bill known as S. 4987 which is now in committee. He outlined briefly the achievements of Senator Hoke Smith of Georgia and the provisions of the various educational measures which have been passed as a result of his efforts, the Smith-Hughes, Smith-Lever and Smith-Sears, all of which have operated to increase the educational advantages of the American youth.

He explained briefly the provisions of the bill now pending stressing particularly the provision to establish a National Department of Education headed by a Secretary who should sit in the President's Cabinet. Under this provision all activities now handled by dozens of different bureaus, many interlocking and overlapping, frequently antagonistic, will be co-ordinated. The matter of Education is entitled to as much consideration at least as that of Labor or Agriculture and to consequent representation in the President's Cabinet.

The bill calls also for an appropriation of $100,000,000 annually for education in the states which will match their proportionate shares with equal appropriations. The specific purposes for which the money is to be expended are definitely stated. Americanization, the removal of illiteracy, equalization of educational opportunity and provision for teacher training each receive a proportionate share.

Superintendent Schilling urged the necessity of organization to carry through desired legislation and secure adequate compensation closing with an appeal for those present to ally themselves with the National Education Association.

At the close of the morning session the Home Economics class of high school girls served an appetizing luncheon which they had prepared under the direction of Miss Masker.

A brief afternoon session was presided over by County Superintendent Jump of this county. Principal Morris was appointed chairman of committee to draw up resolutions favoring the passage of S. 4987, which will be presented through the N. E. A. to the Senators and the Representatives from this state.

DO YOU KNOW THE MEANING OF MEDALS AND CHEVRONS?

Every Type of Service has its Special Insignia

Since the boys have begun to return from overseas, much speculation is rife concerning the meaning of the various medals and chevrons that they are wearing. While few are wearing medals nearly all are entitled to gold chevrons for one of these means six months' overseas service, two indicates a full year's service when worn on the left sleeve. When worn on the right the wearer has been wounded or gassed. Sailors and marines wear the chevron with the V reversed. Officers and enlisted men who did not see foreign service wear one silver chevron for each six months of service. Honorably discharged soldiers wear two scarlet chevrons on the left sleeve. Men who went overseas but served less than six months in the expeditionary forces wear a blue chevron on the left sleeve.

Few have received the Distinguished Service Medal which is of bronze, suspended from a red, white, and blue ribbon. This medal is awarded to any man or woman who has distinguished himself or herself in a duty of great responsibility. One of these medals has been awarded to General Pershing.

There are two types of the Medal of Honor; one for the navy and one for the army. This medal ranks with the Victoria Cross, and is awarded for heroic conduct, "even at the risk of life" in the performance of duty. The navy medal of this type is suspended from a bronze anchor attached to a blue ribbon, while the army medal is suspended from an American war eagle attached to a red ribbon.

The Distinguished Service Cross, a new decoration, is of bronze with a ribbon, and is awarded by the President to any person who since April 6, 1917, has distinguished himself by extraordinary operations superimposed on the bronze cross is an American war eagle. The medal is suspended from a blue ribbon fringed with white and red stripes. Ribbons, or bars, as they are styled by service men are a bit more difficult for laymen to understand.

A common type is that worn by fighters who saw overseas service. This is a long, narrow bar bearing three bands of red and an equal number of blue and white bands. Another type, worn by men who enlisted for war service, is a simple bar bearing three single bands of red, white and blue.

Many of the soldiers are veterans of other wars and entitled to wear the service ribbons awarded in those struggles. To guide you the following list of such decorations is given:

Spanish War campaign—Ribbon of silk composed of two bands of blue, separated by a band of yellow with a border of yellow on each side.

Philippines campaign—Ribbon of silk composed of a broad band of blue between bands of red, with a narrow stripe of blue on either end.

China campaign—Ribbon of silk composed of a band of yellow, with ends of blue.

Mexican service—Ribbon of silk composed of two yellow bands separated by blue band, with narrow blue bands on either end.

Cecil County Plans Memorial for Heroes of Recent War

At a meeting held in Elkton on Monday to discuss plans for a suitable memorial to Cecil County heroes who participated in the recent war, Dr. Howard Bratton was made chairman and superintendent, H. W. Caldwell, secretary. Speeches were made by prominent Cecil Countians and two resolutions passed, one by Dr. McDougal voicing the sentiment of the meeting as favorable to the establishment of a memorial; and one by Frank E. Williams providing for the appointment of a committee of 18 persons, consisting of a man and a woman from each of the 9 districts in the county empowered to take steps necessary to secure funds for the memorial. Various forms of memorials were discussed, including a granite shaft, tablets in a new Court House, an annex to Union Hospital, a new hospital, a library building and an endowed scholarship.

Krupp Plant Working Now for Uncle Sam

The Krupp plant at Essen began working for the United States Government Tuesday. The task undertaken by the Krupps consists of making parts for seventy-five incomplete cannons, rejected by the American authorities as part of the war material offered by the Germans under the terms of the armistice.

The German commission, which has been in Berlin considering the question of the heavy guns turned down by the American authorities, has arrived at Coblenz and reported that eighty cannons have been shipped to the headquarters of the American army of occupation, to replace big guns which failed to meet requirements. With the delivery of the parts for the seventy-two cannons and the arrival of the other eighty, the delivery of heavy artillery to the Americans will have been completed. The American allotment called for 150 heavy guns.

Delaware Soldiers Have Memorable Christmas

Third Battalion Gives Exhibition of Yankee Pep

Old Company E Boys 36 Strong Have Part in Celebration

The following account of the Delaware soldiers' Christmas in France was received the first of the week from Lieutenant J. R. Shultz:

"Yankee Doodle came to town," Yankee Doodle being the 3rd Battalion of the 59th Pioneer Infantry, formerly the 1st Delaware Infantry, the town Boucq, Meurthe, France, the time a few days before Xmas 1918, and Xmas being the second gladdest in the world's history, it was proper that it be celebrated in a fit manner. The decision being unanimous it was decided to give an exhibition of Yankee pep, in the form of an entertainment, that this little old world town will long remember.

The decision made, all, from the Commanding Officer to the last private, got busy. Committees were called and plans outlined. Men in trucks, wagons, and motorcycles searched the country for commissaries, canteens and stores where supplies might be found. The entertainment committee declared open season on all local talent and the catch was given intensive training in "How to entertain in public." Decorators and mechanics were set to work arranging the stage effects.

Like small boys at Xmas time everybody wanted to help. Trucks laden with mysterious boxes and bundles rolled up to Headquarters and immediately Mr. O. D. Kanke tendered his assistance.

Even the placid townsfolk caught the spirit. They viewed with interest and curiosity the mad Americans' preparation for the celebration of "Noel."

Securing a tree was a matter of some moment. For France being an old and thickly populated country has little timber. The available supply has been further greatly decimated by this war. Forestry laws are very rigid. The Major du Cantonment was consulted. This gentleman kindly assisted personally in locating a suitable tree. Permission generously given by General Morlaincourt, owner of a beautiful chateau and large grounds in the town, to cut a tree on his estate. The tree was borne in state on the shoulders of husky Pioneers to the place of honor in the Place de la Marie, or Public Square. Its progress was in the nature of a triumphal procession. People dropped their work to come and watch. Children followed the procession, dogs barked and mild excitement prevailed.

Officers shed their coats and dignity and served as privates in the army of Santa Claus. Even the Major insisted on being enrolled. Each man was to be given a stocking filled with goodies in the approved Xmas style. The officers worked, filling the stockings hours after taps—the soldiers good-night—that echoed among the hills around Boucq. The stockings, a pair to each man, were donated by the American Red Cross.

So well did each worker perform his part that Xmas Eve showed all arrangements complete. A light snowfall added further to the decorative effect and the spirit of the season.

Dawn of Xmas Day brought with it promises of more snow and several flurries punctuated the program. All calls were suspended and the boys ears were not assailed by the Bugles imperious command to crawl from a warm bed into the darkness of early dawn. A late breakfast "like the folks back home," then each company marched to the Square where the program was to commence at 9.00 o'clock.

The hard working committee headed by Chaplain Joseph M. Kelly, had preceded them and the program commenced promptly on the hour. The program as arranged follows:

1. Opening Prayer, Chaplain J. M. Kelly.
2. Christmas Carol, "Adeste Fidelis," Battalion Choir.
3. Salutatory, Col. J. Warner Reed, Commanding 59th Pioneer Infantry.
4. Selected, 59th Pioneer Infantry Band.
5. Chorus, La Marseilles, by the children of Boucq.
6. Caricature, Pvt. John Vanyo, Company "I."
7. Clog Dancing, Pvt. Frank Centuro, Company "M."
8. Battalion Chorus, Selection.
9. The Human Comptometer,

Pvt. Albert Gamble, Company "K."

10. Musical Selection, Waggoner Workman, Supply Company.

20. Ensemble, Star Spangled Banner.

Colonel Reed was warmly cheered. He said in part:

"There still seems to be a number of the regiment present. According to the papers back home the 59th Pioneer Infantry was annihilated.

"Some of the presents which will be given have been secured thru our own efforts. Part of the committee and myself went to get them. We went to Metz to get these presents. We beat the M. P.'s by five seconds before they put a ban on entering the city. We had arrived and when the ban was put on we were in.

"The work that you boys have been doing has been very, very efficient, and has been trying. You have made good. You had the nerve to do what you were told to do. It does not take as much courage to go over the top in the inspiration of the fight as it does to build a railroad, or lay pipe under shell fire with no means of fighting back. We all have our part to do in the fight and we did our part well. We are all part of it. The fighting branch of the army could not fight if they could not obtain the necessary ammunition and supplies.

"There are a number of men present who have been soldiers with me for a good while. This is the third Xmas we have been away from home. We have answered Duty's Call. In 1916 we were in Deming; in 1917 in the Sunny South where it never gets cold; in 1918 we are in Sunny France where the sun never shines. I can promise you that you will be home by next Christmas. But now is the trying time. We are thinking about going home, and our minds are far from work, but we have a great reception coming, don't forget it!"

Major LeFevre, commander of the battalion, was received with cheers. He spoke as follows:

"I want to wish all you men a merry, merry Christmas. And I thank all you men of this Battalion for the work that you have done and the way you did it.

"You did what you were ordered to do and did it well. No higher praise can be given to a soldier. It was hard to do this work, and as the Colonel has told you, without the inspiration of going over the top under the fire of shot and shell. I am proud of you, the Colonel is proud of you and the people back home are proud of us all. (I say us, because I want to be in it too).

"Most of the presents we have here today are due to the people back home and came from the U. S. A. They came thru the organizations that the home folks have supported; the Red Cross, Y. M. C. A., K. of C. and Salvation Army. We can feel deeply thankful for the hearty sympathy and support that the folks back home have given us.

"We must now be prepared for the happy time when we go home. Go home clean! Do nothing that will be a discredit to you, to the regiment or above all to the folks back home. Go home clean, so that you march up the streets back home with your heads up in the air.

"There is one man whom I wish to especially mention for the work that he has done. It is difficult to make special mention of anyone for there is so many deserving I mention, but the one man whom I wish to speak of has been with this Battalion thru the most discouraging difficulties and has labored incessantly for us. Boys, three cheers for Chaplain Kelly. (cheers).

"Also I wish to say that we love France. She has always been our ally and friend. She helped save us in times past and made it possible for us to help save her in this war. Three cheers for France. (cheers).

"And now once again, and above all, three cheers for the U. S. A. and the folks back home. (cheers, big cheers).

Hearty cheers greeted the Major's reference to Chaplain Kelly. Father Kelly, a Hoboken, N. J., product, joined the regiment a few days before it left Camp Dix. As the boys say, "He's little but he's all man." With true Irish spirit he meets adventure more than half way. He was with the Third Battalion all the time it was working near the front, traveling from company to company. If transportation was lacking, with his pack on his back he hiked. Father Kelly was Chairman of the Entertainment Committee and the smooth manner in which the program moved was a reflection of the spirit displayed in all his work.

Chaplain Harold Davis also addressed to the men a few words of Xmas greeting and an appreciation of the work of Chaplain Kelly.

The entertainment committee was as follows:

Chaplain Joseph M. Kelly, chairman; Lt. Byron R. Foster, Lt. Alexander J. Conlon, Lt. Robert D. Simmons, Lt. D. Gallagher, Lt. James P. Brown, Lt. August A. Wick, Lt. Allan A. Lowe, Lt. John R. Shultz, Sgt. E. T. W. Edsalle, Sgt. S. W. Jackson, Cpl. Alfred Knight, Sgt. S. Ableman, Mus. A. A. Stille, Pvt. Albert A. Gamble, Sgt. Louis Zebly, Pvt. John Scurry, Sgt. Josiah P. Lyons, Ppl. Fred J. Morris, Pvt. J. Rappaport, Harold M. Layton, Pvt. R. Cummings, secretary.

This committee on entertainment has been made permanent during the stay of the Battalion in France. Its work will be to provide clean, wholesome entertainment for the boys.

The Battalion Chorus consisted of:

Sgt. A. Spence, Co. "K"; Sgt. J. Brouski, Co. "K"; Sgt. J. Benson, Co. "M"; Sgt. D. W. Laubach, Co. "M"; Cpl. J. McGovern, Co. "M"; Cpl. E. Helbing, Co. "M"; Cpl. R. Blanchfield, Co. "M"; Cpl. A. Madison, Co. "K"; Pvt. F. Haley, Co. "M"; Pvt. E. Jordan, Co. "M"; Pvt.

Frank Baier, Co. "M"; Pvt. Harry Albert, Co. "M"; Pvt. Harry Lyons, Co. "K."

The townspeople were invited to the entertainment and the entire population turned out in its est bib and tucker. Small detachments of other troops stationed in the town were also invited and attended. Children under direction of their schoolmaster sang La Marseilles.

After conclusion of the entertainment the gifts were distributed. Here a surprise awaited the boys. Santa Claus refused to do business by proxy and appeared on the scene, heralded by Buglers and escorted by the regimental band. The snow being too light for sleighing Santa drove up in a cart with old "Dobbin" in the shafts. Santa Claus was represented by Lt. A. A. Lowe.

The men were marched past the piles of gifts, each man receiving a stocking filled with goodies, a souvenir of France, a cigar, several packs of cigarettes, a cake of chocolate, a calender, and a piece of home-made nut fudge.

The fudge was made by the ladies of the Salvation Army stationed at Boucq. These good folks rendered much valuable assistance towards making the day enjoyable. They also donated the trimmings for the 35-foot Xmas Tree.

Each company was issued sufficient extra Xmas supplies to give each man one pound of candy, one-half pound of nuts, one-quarter pound of dates, one-quarter pound of figs and one-half pound of grapes.

Each child in the town was presented with a small gift.

Those long suffering beings, the company cooks, for days had been preparing the big eats. The manner in which the boys stowed the chow under their belts showed how well it was appreciated. Following is the Bill-of-Fare: Cream of Tomato Soup, Celery, Roast Turkey, Dressing, Mashed Potatoes, Gravy, Stewed Tomatoes, Peas, Mince and Pumpkin Pies, Cake, Candy, Grapes, Dates, Nuts, Coffee, Cigars and Cigarettes. "SOME FEED," declared the boys.

THIS IS CARNATION DAY

Seventy-fifth Anniversary of the Birth of William McKinley

Today, January 29, is the 75th anniversary of the birth of William McKinley, the twenty-fifth President of the United States, and on that day, according to the custom established by the Carnation League of America, thousands of persons throughout the country will wear a carnation in silent memory of one of its most distinguished dead. Many churches and patriotic societies will pay tribute to the martyred President, who on September 14, 1901, died, the victim of an assassin who shot him immediately after the delivery of an address at the Pan-American Exposition at Buffalo on September 6.

The fondness of William McKinley for the carnation is said to date back to his visit to the Lake Erie College at Painesville, Ohio, when he was governor of the state. A bevy of girl pupils greeted him, and after telling him that they had made him an honorary member of their class, they pinned to his coat their class flower, the carnation. From that day to the day when he was shot he always wore this flower in his buttonhole. Mrs. McKinley also took a great interest in the class and its token and was wont to provide a bunch of carnations for her husband's room every morning.

Always Wore a Carnation

Often times the President would wear a hundred flowers in one day. The late Senator Mark Hanna, in telling why he needed so many blossoms, once said:

"Mr. McKinley always appeared at the executive office in the morning with a carnation in his buttonhole, and when it became necessary to turn down a candidate for office who had succeeded in obtaining a personal interview he frequently took the flower from his own buttonhole and pinned it on the coat of the office seeker. It was generally understood by the officials in the outer rooms that when a candidate came from the President's office thus decorated the carnation was all he got."

The idea of carnation day originated with Lewis G. Reynolds, of Dayton, Ohio.

MARIA BE. COMES A LEADER OF HER PEOPLE

Finds Happiness in Making Little Foreigners into Americans

Maria understood very little English. But then there were so many things in America that she didn't understand. All day long she worked in a big factory, sewing on other peoples' clothes until life turned into one long monotonous seam. At night she was very tired, almost too tired to remember her beloved Italy. And she never met anyone who spoke her language. One day when things seemed darkest, an American lady stopped by the side of her machine and spoke to her in Italian.

"At home I was trained to teach little children. But over here I can only sew—and sew," she explained wearily to the Young Women's Christian Association worker.

Now, Maria isn't spending her days in a factory. She is in charge of a "kindergarten" in one of the Italian districts of a large city. Making little foreigners into Americans is a job much more to her liking than making gingham into gowns. And the miracle came to pass through the International Institute, which is the Y. W. C. A. translated into other languages.

This department of Association work was started eight years ago to protect, befriend, and educate immigrant women and girls. The original seven centers have now increased to twenty-eight. An Institute is an American gathering place for girls and women of every nationality. Here the newcomer can learn how to make buckwheat cakes, find a remedy for baby's cough, be instructed in reading and writing English, and discuss the latest developments of European politics in whatever language she prefers. There's always somebody to talk to, somebody who will give advice upon the choosing of anything from a new dress to a husband, or explain the intricacies of casting a vote or keeping a household budget.

Nor does the International Institute wait for the new comer to find her way to its doors. A staff of trained foreign language workers visits strangers in every community where foreign born women live. This year over 1,535 strangers who crossed the sea in spite of the dangers of war time have been called on by Y. W. C. A. European visitors. Workers of nineteen nationalities made 13,346 home visits, leaving behind them, not little slips of white calling cards but happiness and a new love for the new land. The Institute is in touch with 30,000 families and through its educational classes interprets not only the customs and laws, but also the ideals of America to these strangers.

Girls from other countries are very eager to learn the American language and are grateful for the hand of friendship which the Association extends. As on newcomer expressed it, "We have come to this country to live, and we want to be American."

The training of young women of foreign birth for leaders among their own people is one of the most important phases of Institute work. There are in this country many hundreds of young women of Polish, Serbian, Croatian, Bulgarian, Czech, Slovak, Hungarian, Armenian, Syrian, and Finnish birth who have gained a new vision of life. Independence, the nobility of labor, the wide field of service and opportunity open to women are parts of the stirring message which they will carry to their people here.

PLANS FOR "DEMILITARIZATION" OF SERVICE FLAGS

War Camp Community Service Suggests Fitting Program

The War Camp Community Service has issued an eloquent plea for the service flag, urging that a special service be conducted for its "demobilization" and that this emblem of all our hopes and fears for nineteen months be not laid aside without fitting ceremony.

The service flag has been the one central emblem that has represented the sons, the brothers, the fathers and the sweethearts of those who have remained behind. It has appeared everywhere throughout the country as a great sign of reverence, an emblem of pride and hope. Great mansions and isolated little huts have displayed it alike, and flag has waved to flag from the humblest milk wagon or peddler's cart to the most gorgeous limousines.

War Camp Community Service suggests the period in which Washington's Birthday falls as a fitting occasion for the first ceremony of the "demobilization of the service flag." February 22 is a national holiday, and on Friday the 21st, the schools will be holding Washington's Birthday programs. On this same day, factories, department stores, office buildings, banks, industrial institutions and fraternal orders might well also have the exercises of the "demobilization of the service flag." On Sunday, the 23d, the churches should have their demobilizations.

A well defined program is presented and suggestion offered that a specially designed permanent service flag known as "Gold Glory" be substituted for those service flags whose stars have turned to gold.

No Soldier to be Discharged Against Desire

To solve the problem of unemployed discharged soldiers, the War Department has ordered that no man be discharged from the army against his desire until such time as he can obtain employment in civil life.

It was announced recently that orders had been telegraphed to all department and division commanders, at Secretary Baker's direction, to retain all men who desire to remain temporarily in the service, without prejudice to their subsequent discharge to take employment.

In connection with this policy, adopted after orders were issued last week for demobilization of the combat divisions in the U. S., it was said that action to prevent a large proportion of these men from facing unemployment was taken not only to protect the soldier individually, but because of its effects upon employment conditions throughout the country.

Another aspect of the new policy is that the families of married soldiers will continue to draw their allotments from the government during this temporary service. For the time being at least, the War Department will have ample work to keep the men busy in handling demobilization of other troops and in storing war material and in similar tasks.

American Soldiers May Have Furloughs to See Europe

American soldiers overseas will be given opportunities to see something of Europe before returning home, Secretary Baker said in a letter to Representative Young, of North Dakota, in response to an inquiry as to whether more liberal policy in granting furloughs abroad could not be adopted. Secretary Baker said that, as far as practicable, leaves would be given to officers and enlisted men of organizations ordered home. This policy was recommended by General Pershing and approved by the War Department.

SEND DAINTIES TO ARMY HOSPITALS

Women of County Respond Nobly to Plea for Home Made Preserves

The women of the New Castle County Farm Bureau contributed splendidly of their surplus canned products when the plea came for home made preserves for the sick and wounded in the army hospitals.

In this work the Farm Bureau was co-operating with the Red Cross and the Council of Defense. The New Castle women furnished the fruit and time, the Red Cross furnished the jars and through a gift from Mrs. P. S. duPont 2,000 pounds of sugar were made available for the work.

Many baskets of fruit were given as individual contributions which in most cases were made in to preserves in the Liberty Kitchen by the women of Middletown.

The enthusiasm which was put into this work both by the women who contributed fruit and preserves and the women who had charge of collecting and preparing the fruit for shipping is worthy of much praise and is typical of the response which women all over the country made to the urgent demands of the war.

The communities contributing fruit and the amount follows:

Blackbird, 65; Centerville, 150; Delaware City, 188; Fairview, 158; Hockessin, 510; Kirkwood, 162; Newark, 1009; Odessa, 400; Middletown, 1212; Smyrna, 84.

"In a Republic Every Man Should be a Politician"

There are some business men who take pride in boasting that they are "not politicians." Whether that is a cause for pride depends upon what is meant by a "politician." In a Republic where every man takes a direct part in government, it is the duty of every man to be a politician to the extent of helping secure the best candidates to represent the best government principles and politics. It is every man's duty to help see that the men selected to serve in public office render that service in the most acceptable manner. If work of this kind is being shirked, it is something to be ashamed of, rather than to be boastful. With each succeeding year government is exercising more and more influence upon business, for good or ill. More and more, therefore, business men should exercise an influence upon government. Leaving it to the professional politician is neither good citizenship nor good business.

Destructive Fire at Bowers Beach

Early Friday night twelve cottages at Bowers Beach were totally destroyed by a fire which started in the cottage of Potter Coffin of Milford. The origin is unknown, as none of the cottages were occupied. They were all two-story frame structures and are occupied by the owners every summer. They were all in excellent shape. Last spring the tides considerably damaged this row of cottages. As a result of this damage they were rebuilt and moved farther back from the beach and placed on new foundations.

The owners of the destroyed cottages, in addition to the Coffin cottage where the blaze started, are: Rogers family of Frederica; John George of Frederica; Mrs. Ida White of Camden, N. J.; Mrs. Florence White of Magnolia; John Barnard of Camden, Del.; Daniel Barnard of Wilmington; Mrs. Davie of Wyoming; Talley cottage, owned by Philadelphia parties, and Mrs. Maude McNichol of Cambridge, Md.

As the cottages were not occupied, it is thought by many persons that the buildings were set afire.

Use of Pay Car Abandoned

The Pennsylvania Railroad will no longer run its pay car along the line to pay its employees. Beginning last Monday the use of the pay car will be abandoned, except in paying a few of its employees in the cities where the pay car remains. In the past 10 years or more the employees have received their pay in coin, but this, too, has been done away with, and in the future a draft will be issued to each individual. The company's agents at the different stations on the divisions will receive the drafts and will deliver them to the proper employees on certain days named by the company. It will then be up to the employees to endorse the checks and have them cashed. This change will benefit many of the employees, who heretofore were obliged to remain at their places of employment many hours on pay day to wait for the pay car. The pay will be semi-monthly as heretofore.

THE FEBRUARY SALE OF FINE FURNITURE WILL BEGIN NEXT SATURDAY AT MEGARY'S

A Megary February Sale means more than an ordinary furniture sale. FIRST---In the immensity of the stock offered, the variety of woods, finishes, designs and prices.

SECONDLY---In the quality of the merchandise---not sale goods, but our own regular Megary standard stock, and

THIRDLY---In the genuineness of the reductions. Here is over three hundred thousand dollars' worth of fine home furnishings, covering seventy thousand square feet of show space. Here are complete stocks of furniture, floor coverings, draperies and glassware, the biggest stock of its kind in the State.

And this entire stock---with a few exceptions, is offered during this month of February at attractive prices. The reductions are not less than ten per cent, and in many cases you can save as much as one-half.

But more important still is the firm behind this sale---"Megary."

For over fifty years we have helped furnish and beautify many homes. And during these years we have learned many things.

We know that good furniture, dependable, durable, with life long service built into it is after all, the only kind to sell.

We know that courtesy, honesty and service mean much more than price cheapness.

We know that a satisfied customer is the one we want and our ledgers, showing accounts of ten, twenty, even thirty years' continuous patronage, proves we are right.

Now that the tension and uncertainty of the past months is over, we think instinctively of home and its proper furnishings.

The Megary February Sale offers you the opportunity of furnishing your home either complete or any part of it at worth while savings. Stocks are now ready awaiting your selections. Sale and deliveries date from February first.

And remember, the early buyer will necessarily have the widest choice. Therefore come early in the month.
