

O. P. A. DIRECTOR ANNOUNCES REGULATIONS

Illegal Use Of Ration Book Explained To Public

November 23 is the last day on which deliveries of fuel oil may be made to customers on an I.O.U. receipt basis. After this date deliveries of oil may be made only in return for coupons equivalent to the amount of the delivery.

This means that all consumers of fuel oil must get their applications in to their local rationing boards immediately in order that these applications may be processed and ration coupons distributed to enable those who may need fuel oil to purchase same on and after November 23.

All persons and commercial houses who sell oil to the consuming public at a profit must register with their local rationing board on November 23rd, 24th or 25th. By so doing they will be enabled to receive their allotted inventory for the next two month period. Those who fail to register will not be eligible to receive such an inventory.

Stamp No. 27 in War Ration Book No. 1 will become valid at 12:01 o'clock, November 23, for the purchase of 1 lb. of coffee per person for all those who are over 15 years of age. All retailers selling coffee should check the data on the face of War Ration Book No. 1 to see to it that those who seek to buy coffee are of the prescribed age.

MOTORISTS REGISTER AT SCHOOL

Tires Listed By More Than 2,000 Owners

The entire Newark Public School faculty worked in staggered shifts as registrars for the gasoline mileage rationing conducted in the corridors of the local high school on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday afternoons and evenings of this week.

The school was open and registration took place from 3:30 until 8:00 p. m. each day. Twenty tables were placed in the main corridors of the building at which the car owners were registered.

Monday was expected to be the largest day but registration proved light with only 503 forms being turned in. Tuesday proved more strenuous for the teachers with close to 900 car owners registering. It was estimated that close to 1,000 would register on Wednesday to bring the total to 2,426, the original registration for "A" ration books.

The local registration was in charge of William K. Gillespie, principal of the high school who stated that members of the local Boy Scout troop and senior students at the school proved a great help.

The corridor of the local school proved an ideal location for the registration and there was no congestion at any time.

Seventeen local women's groups are sponsoring the daily sale of stamps in the State Theatre lobby and have been responsible for the continuous operation of this booth for several months.

With church groups, stores and all organizations working to increase the sale of War Bonds and Stamps, women of America are to be made to realize the importance of putting tanks, planes and guns in the hands of our men on the fighting front.

More than 600 hundred tires were turned in at the local American Express Agency located at the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad Station. It was stated today by W. V. Crossan, local agent. Fourteen tires was the largest number turned in by any one individual while there were a great many turning in lots of four, five and six.

One large automobile which ordinarily carried a spare on each side of the hood was seen leaving the Express Office with only one spare tire and the other side of the machine looked "undressed" with the bare rim fastened to the car.

FOLDING ARMY COTS NEEDED FOR DEFENSE

Bonham Appeals For Cots To Be Used At Sector Dressing Stations

Harry L. Bonham, chairman of the Newark Council for Civilian Defense has issued an appeal for the loan of folding army cots to be used at sector dressing stations.

The defense committee has attempted to purchase cots but they are not obtainable from the manufacturers. The dressing stations have all other supplies including sheets, blankets, medicines and bandages but need about twenty-four cots.

Mr. Bonham feels that many families have these cots that they have used for camping and other purposes and he feels that they would be doing a patriotic duty if they will loan them to the committee.

At the Civilian Defense staff meeting on Monday evening plans were discussed for the coming test blackout to be held during the week of November 18 to 25. Those attending the staff meeting were: Harry L. Bonham, defense council chairman; Arthur W. Perry, assistant chairman; Russell T. Silk, chief air raid warden; F. URGE EARLY MAILING

Help Shortage Hits Postoffice

Postmaster C. E. Rittenhouse this week issued an appeal to all patrons of the Newark Postoffice to do their Christmas shopping and mailing early this year.

This plea has special significance now, Mr. Rittenhouse stated, due to the lack of adequate help. With several members of the postal force lost to the Army and Navy recently, there is an acute shortage of available workers for temporary employment.

Persons contemplating mailing Christmas packages will be wise to mail early — not only to avoid the rush but to insure delivery of their packages before the holiday.

All packages should be securely wrapped and tied and plainly addressed. Perishable items should not be sent through the mails.

AIRPLANE SPOTTERS URGENTLY NEEDED

Many Spots Left Vacant Due To Enlistments

Anyone feeling that they would like to help out in aiding the war effort are urged to volunteer their service as airplane observers.

Day Captains at both the Chestnut Hill and the Possum Park Post are at their wits' end to get substitutes for those observers who have to report off duty for various reasons.

When an observer reports to his Day Captain that he will be unable to spot at his regular time, the Captain then has to set at his telephone for as much as two hours at a time in an effort to secure a substitute and then in many instances, the Captain will have to fill the spot himself.

The greatest need is for volunteers who can fill what is known as the "Grave Yard Shifts" or those shifts early in the morning, 12 to 2 and 2 to 4 o'clock.

The airplane observer is the first line of defense. It is the airplane observer who notifies the interceptor command upon the approach of an enemy plane and the interceptor command then sends planes out to intercept and shoot down the invader.

It is men and women who are needed for this vital job that we are appealing to. Many husbands and wives are now going to the observation post together and in many instances fathers are taking their sons and daughters.

Some of the Day Captains are on duty for four, six and eight hours every time their day rolls around and it has been felt that there are enough patriotic men and women in and around Newark to man these Posts without imposing too much on anyone. If everyone would do their share it would not be hard on anyone.

Persons wishing to volunteer two hours a week are asked to call The Newark Post—Phone 4941.

FIREMEN ESCAPE INJURY

Ellison And Crowe Trapped By Timbers

While fighting a fire at the Old Krapf Farm along White Clay Creek on Sunday morning, Fire Chief Elmer Ellison and pipeman Earl Crowe were pinned under burning timbers when the roof collapsed.

Chief Engineer Eugene Stiltz and Town Officer Walter "Bud" Wassner who were in the upper room of the building at the time seeing the plight of their comrades, turned a stream of water on their fellow firemen and then extricated them, and carried them to safety.

Chief Ellison was wearing a helmet and heavy coat which probably saved him from serious injury. Young Crowe who was without a helmet was knocked out and after receiving first aid treatment at the scene of the fire was taken to his home where it was found he was suffering from shock.

The fire which burned the roof off and destroyed the third floor of the building started from a defective chimney when Dr. Albert J. Strikol of Wilmington, who recently purchased the farm, started a fire in an old fire place in the basement of the house.

Lack of water hampered the efforts of the firemen who had to rely on the water in their booster tanks. When the fire engine arrived on the scene it was found that help was needed so firemen were sent back to town for a second piece of apparatus and the Christiana Fire Company made a record run when they received a call for help.

WOODFORD SPEAKER AT CHRISTIANA LIONS CLUB

Newport Fire Prevention Essay Winners Announced

Newport, Nov. 19th. (Special)—More than 500 people attended the Armistice Day Program presented Wednesday by the Newport Civilian Defense Council in the auditorium of the Conrad High School. Stanley W. Kessel was chairman of the program. C. C. Collingwood, sector commander, spoke briefly, commending his assistants on the work they had conducted. Commander Collingwood presented the Rev. Ralph L. Minker, Coordinator of the New Castle County Civilian Defense Council, who warned his audience that "We can't let up for a moment in the work of the civilian defense, in fact from now on, we must be even more on the alert than we have been." He stated there is no question from now on about the heat and fury of the war; we are in it to the fullest extent, and we may expect more sabotage from now on. The speaker said we must fight just as hard as our Army and Navy and experience personal sacrifices; that we must re-dedicate ourselves to the task of true Americanism and to the task of freeing the world of everything that Hitler stands for.

The Council announced twenty awards of War Bonds and Stamps which sale had been conducted for the purpose of defraying expenses.

The Christiana Hundred Lions Club held its weekly dinner meeting on Tuesday evening in the Conrad High School. A special Armistice Day Program was presented, with Professor C. W. Cummings, Principal of the Conrad High School, as chairman for the evening.

A play, "The Unknown Soldier", was presented. Michael Broujos, bugler, sounded taps. Miss Shirley Dunlop, a member of the faculty of the Conrad School, presented a poem, "Unknown But to God." Miss Jacqueline Bratton placed the wreath on the replica of the Unknown Soldiers Tomb, which had been arranged as a background for the play, and J. Harry Taylor sang "My Buddy." Miss Elizabeth Fisher, also a member of the Conrad Faculty, gave vocal musical selections. The guest speaker was J. Wallace Woodford, Mayor of Dover, Del., who reviewed briefly World War No. 1, stating if the victims of that war could view the situation today they would feel their efforts were of no avail, and we had not gained a lasting peace. He said, however, it is very necessary that we gain a lasting peace in the present conflict.

An attendance campaign has been instituted by the Lions Club, with Edward Bratton, Harvey E. Gregg and Ray King as captains of the three teams. Each member was also given a dollar to invest in some plan to increase the Club Treasury, which will later be used to defray expenses of this service club in its various projects, and the losing team will treat the winners.

SAVE SUGAR

EVERY TIME A 16 INCH GUN IS FIRED
IT CONSUMES THE DISTILLED PRODUCT
OF 1/4 OF AN ACRE OF SUGAR CANE

5 FIELD GUNS FIRING FOR ONE HOUR
CONSUME THE DISTILLED PRODUCT OF 2 ACRES OF SUGAR CANE

NYA for OWI

It's nice, of course—that extra spoonful in your cup of coffee. But it's a matter of life and death OUT THERE ON THE FIRING LINE! As between the two, you a patriotic American will have no trouble choosing. With sugar, as with other scarce commodities, rationing means UNIVERSAL SHARING—an American principle as old as Plymouth Rock. So remember, every time you save sugar you not only help to "keep them firing"—you also help to assure yourself and your neighbors a continued fair and equal share.

He gave more than 10% —what about YOU?

...and you're not even being asked to give, but to invest in your own future and make a handsome profit besides!

THE STORY OF SCARSDALE JACK of the Flying Tigers

He had a lot to live for. Ask his father. Or ask the kids who knew him—his Scout troop—or his classmates at Rensselaer Polytechnic.

Ask his widow. Scarsdale Jack, Squadron Leader John V. Newkirk on the Flying Tigers' roster, blasted 28 Japs out of the sky before they got him.

He gave all a man can give of courage, guts, gallantry, the will to fight... and keep on fighting. Not 10%... but everything! His life.

You're being asked only to pledge 10% of your income, a dime of each dollar for War

Bonds to give all the Scarsdale Jacks in Navy blue and Army O. D. and Marine forest green the planes, machine guns, bombs, bullets, torpedoes, tanks, and ships and every other weapon they need to give the Herrenvolk, the "sons of heaven," and the road-company Romans the bellyful of steel they asked for.

These men who are fighting for your homes, your children, your future, your freedom aren't stopping at 10%.

That's all you're asked for—but why stop at 10%—if you can do better?

BUY WAR BONDS—everybody at least 10% every pay day

This space is a contribution to America's all-out war effort

Now look at the selfish reasons for buying your share of WAR BONDS

War Bonds, first of all, are for winning the war. Without that what future will any of us have?

But beyond that there are many advantages that make a 10% pledge add up to solid business sense.

You get back in ten years $25 for every $18.75 you put in.

They are the direct obligation of the United States Government.

You can get back every cent you put in after sixty days if you suddenly need money.

You get a handsome interest, 2.9% compounded—1/4 more money back at maturity than you put in.

Inflation is the dreaded threat of every American. Systematic savings in War Bonds by each and every American is our major protection against inflation.

Think ahead to that day your bonds mature. It will be wonderful to have that money then, instead of frittering it away now.

When you think of what you have at stake, 10% seems almost too little. So make it more—if you can!

BOWERY BALL AT THETA CHI FRATERNITY

Frat Members
And Faculty
Guests at Affair

The Theta Chi Fraternity at the University of Delaware held their second annual Bowery Ball in the Fraternity House on Saturday evening attended by over eighty couples, including members and pledges of the Delaware Chapter, members of eight other Theta Chi chapters, guests from other Delaware fraternities and faculty members.

The Bowery Ball, which is recognized as the most distinctive function of the Delaware campus, was as usual, a continued affair. Every member of the fraternity followed the tradition of growing sideburns for the dance.

The fraternity house was decorated to resemble a Bowery scene. The recreation room was outstanding in its decorations resembling portrayal of a Bowery dive with its swinging doors, checkered table cloths and bar where cider was served.

A typical 1890 melodrama was presented by members of the fraternity and a barbershop trio composed of Bob Schumacker, chapter president, James Gottschall and Harold Shaub accompanied by Arthur Carrol led in group singing of such songs as "The Bowery", "A Bicycle Built For Two" and other songs of the period.

Dr. and Mrs. Charles Lannier and Prof. and Mrs. Ralph Jones acted as chaperones.

The affair was in charge of Dick Alt-haus, Joseph Coleman and James Gottschall.

TELETYPE OPERATORS, REPAIRMAN JOBS OPEN

Government
Needs Services
Of Experienced
Operators

Federal offices in Washington, D. C., need teletype operators and office appliance repairmen, the U. S. Civil Service Commission announces. In addition, Federal laboratories throughout the United States are in need of Junior Chemists and Chemical Aids.

Operators of multiplex, simplex, or teletype machines may qualify for the Washington positions if they have had at least 2 weeks of appropriate training or experience and can type accurately by touch 35 words a minute on a communications machine. Positions pay $1,440 and $1,620 a year.

Office appliance repairmen with 1 year of experience maintaining, repairing, and overhauling typewriters, calculating machines, addressograph and graphotype machines, folding machines, teletype machines, or similar office equipment may qualify for Washington jobs that pay $1,860 a year. Typewriter repairmen are especially needed.

In the field of synthetic rubber, particularly, expanded research may double the demand for chemists during the coming months, the Commission reveals. Many Junior Chemists and Chemical Aids must be recruited for Federal service thereof, and college men and women, especially women, with appropriate chemistry training are urged to file their qualifications with the Commission.

Four years of college training with 30 semester hours in chemistry is required of applicants for the $2,000 Junior Chemist positions. Three years of college training with 24 semester hours of chemistry is required of applicants for the $1,800 Chemical Aid jobs. Applications will be accepted from senior and junior students who expect to complete the specified requirements within 4 months after filing.

There is no written test and no maximum age limit for any of these positions. Applications should be filed with the United States Civil Service Commission, Washington, D. C., and will be accepted until the needs of the service have been met.

Fingerprint classifiers are requested to note the closing of the U. S. Civil Service examination for Assistant Fingerprint Classifier. Applications for this position must be filed with the Commission's Washington office on or before November 21, 1942.

Full information as to requirements, and application forms, may be obtained from Ralph B. Kee, Secretary of the Board of U. S. Civil Service Examiners at the post office or customhouse in this city, or from the Secretary of the Board of U. S. Civil Service Examiners at first- and second-class post offices.

Applications are not desired from war workers unless higher skills would be utilized in a change of position. War manpower restrictions on Federal appointment of persons engaged in certain critical occupations in specified areas are given in Form 3909, posted in first- and second-class post offices.

The Newark Chapter, Future Farmers of America, will hold their annual F.F.A. Fair and Farm Show in the Main Street School building on December 3, 4 and 5.

"Made In U. S. A."

"Made in U.S.A." has long been a symbol for quantity production of high-grade material.

This recognition has not come to us by accident. We earned it. Gas and electricity helped America earn this distinction. The flexibility and perfect control . . . speed and precision . . . time and energy-saving characteristics of these two fuels made it possible for all industries to produce more, in shorter time, with less effort than any other country.

Truly, GAS and ELECTRICITY are the backbone of "the arsenal of democracy"! We are proud of the part they are playing today.

U. OF D. GRIDDERS BLANK WESTERN MARYLAND TEAM IN FINAL GAME SATURDAY

Barney Hancock, Local Star, Intercepts Pass and Races 43 Yards For Score; Coaches Murray, Adkins And Martin Duck Under Shower After Game

Saturday's victory extended the Blue Hens' undefeated string, started during the 1940 season, to 21 straight games and ran their current winning streak to 15 in a row.

Taking over on their own 44 after an exchange of punts, the Blue Hens opened up when Paul Hart hit Lee Baer with a pass that netted a first down and put the ball on the Terror's 45. With Hart and Walt Paul doing most of the ball-toting, the Hens continued their uninterrupted march of 56 yards with Hart smashing across from the one-foot line for the initial score. Walt Malyk, on a quarterback sneak, added the extra point to give the roaring Hens a lead they never relinquished.

The Blue Hens struck again early in the second quarter when Tom Terry, speedy Western Maryland back, quick-kicked from his own 34 into the end zone. Taking over on the 20, Hart smashed through for four yards and then Paul faded back, faked a kick and shot a short pass to Hart on the Delaware 30 from where the big fullback, aided by sensational downfield blocking, raced the remaining distance to the goal line for his second score of the game. The play covered a distance of 76 yards.

Knocked back on their heels, the Green Terror's opened up their vaunted aerial game after the ensuing kick-off. Terry passed to Bernie Guskey for the Terror's initial first down of the game, but after a running play and another aerial failed to bring any yardage, Terry faded back and heaved another pass that Dan Wood plucked out of the air on the Delaware 26. With the same brilliant blocking that featured Hart's long run, Wood raced to the Western Maryland two-yard stripe before being brought to earth. On the next play, Joe Coady smashed across the line for the third Delaware score.

Center Barney Hancock provided the Hens' fourth score by intercepting a Terry-pitched pass on the Western Maryland 43 from where he raced over for the six-pointer.

The Hens made it five touchdowns when they put on the power late in the same period with a 74-yard drive from their own 26 after Paul had run back a kick from the 18 to the 26. Highlighting the lone drive was a Hart pass to Pless Poole for 35 yards that put the ball on the Western Maryland 14. On the next play, Hart smashed across for his third touchdown of the game.

Late in the final quarter Paul, playing his final game for the Blue Hens, faked another kick from his own 13 and raced 87 yards through the Western Maryland defenders for a touchdown. Don Bohan, Green Terror halfback, fumbled the ensuing kick-off and Hancock recovered on the visitors' 13 to put the Hens in scoring position again. With Hart, Al Newcomb and Baer carrying, the Hens made it 45-0 when Baer smashed over from the four for the final tally of the game.

Murray and his assistants, Emory Adkins and Bill (Shack) Martin, were given a ducking under the showers by the victorious Blue Hens when they returned to the dressing room.

Henderson estimated the cut in "A" coupons will save 20,000 barrels per day and the current transition of commercial gasoline rations from the unlimited "S" allotment to a specifically limited "T" ration book will save another 43,000 barrels per day.

The petroleum shortage, he explained, was in transportation facilities, to bring petroleum products to the East. Now, the East Coast shortage has been intensified he explained "by heavy military requirements (from East Coast ports) for the offensive in Africa."

Henderson also warned other petroleum cuts were in store for the near future, including a possible reduction in home-heating oil. In the latter connection, however, there was no indication of plans for cutting fuel oil rations below a point at which house temperatures may be maintained at 65 degrees, the standard previously agreed upon.

Reds Proxy Prophecies Baseball Will Carry On

Powell Crosley, Jr. was reelected president of the Cincinnati Reds baseball team this week at the annual meeting of stockholders.

Crosley prophesized that major league baseball will carry on in 1943, but added that the game "must be secondary to matters directly affecting the war effort and we must forget profits for the duration."

Warren Giles was reelected vice-president and general manager and all of the club's present directors were retained. Crosley said the Reds suffered an operating loss last season of $451.33. Home attendance was reported at 427,301 paid admissions and the team played to 523,319 customers on the road.

GAS COUPONS MUST BE MARKED

Extra Farm Tires Must Be Turned In

Beginning Sunday, when the No. 3 "A" gasoline coupon becomes valid, all coupons, including A, D, C, D, and S units, must carry the name of the state and the license number of the vehicle when they are presented to dealers for use.

The information should be written on the back of the coupon.

The announcement made by State OPA Director James L. Luke, Jr., added that owners who have registered their vehicles as a fleet must write the fleet number on the coupons.

Except when licensed with the ODT, all bulk coupons must carry the users name or the company name.

All operators of farm machinery must turn in, by Sunday, every tire for that equipment except those tires actually on the ground. Mr. Luke added, These "spare" tires must be sold to the government through the Railway Express Agency.

The order includes lawnmowers, bulldozers, road scrapers, tractors, and similar equipment.

Next Monday is the last day on which deliveries of fuel oil may be made on an "I.O.U." receipt basis. After that, deliveries must be made only in return for coupons equivalent to the amount of delivery.

All users of fuel oil, Mr. Luke said, now must get in their applications to local rationing boards immediately so that the applications may be considered and ration coupons distributed to enable those who may need fuel oil to buy it after Monday.

Munger Urges Football Continuance During War

George Munger, University of Pennsylvania head coach favors the continuance of football throughout the war because the game "is part of America."

An official of the Office of War Information supported his stand, before the New York Football Writers' Association, with a revelation that the first request of troops in the field is for sporting interests.

"Critics of intercollegiate football say that this season should be the last of the game for the duration," Munger said. "I think they are making a great mistake."

"Personally, and not just because I'm a coach, I hope we have football as long as we have universities. Every boy on the Penn football squad is enlisted in some branch of the service, so we might have to play the Penn ROTC against the Columbia ROTC, but I say play it."

Fairgrounds Special Race Declared Off

The Fairgrounds Special, $20,000 classic scheduled at New Orleans Dec. 12, when Alsab was expected to duel it out with Whirlaway, has been called off because of inability of Alsab, recently injured, to be there then.

Whirlaway, Riverland and other leading horses will be eligible. Nominations close Nov. 28.

Baltimore & Ohio Railroad

ONE OF AMERICA'S RAILROADS—ALL MODERNIZED FOR WAR

"WOULDN'T ADOLF LIKE TO HAVE THIS!"

Like to have it? Why, he'd give Goering, Goebbels, Himmler and a dozen Panzer Divisions for it right now—and throw in Benito for good measure.

Yes, Adolf knows that America's Railroads represent the greatest transportation system in the world. Covering our Nation with a network of strategic rails...with 410,000 miles of track...2,000,000 units of equipment...operated by a loyal army of 1,400,000 skilled workers...the American Railroads are proving themselves, as never before, the lifelines of America.

Over these strategic rails are executed the orders of our Military and Naval leaders...troops to guns to planes to tanks to food to vital orders...executed smoothly, efficiently, on time.

As they shelter all wartime transportation records, the Railroads are prepared to continue keeping our steel lifelines open and flowing as military plans call for still greater movements of men and materials.

Peacetime foresight readied the railroads for their vital wartime role...a role that's indispensable in the strategic plans of the United Nations.

DITCHING METHODS TESTED AT U. OF D.

Farmers See New Ditches As Improvement To Crop Yield

Tests of new-style farm drainage ditches this year on nine Kent and Sussex county farms were so successful that specialists from the University of Delaware and the Soil Conservation Service believe a partial solution of the long-standing Delaware drainage problem is near at hand.

According to Richard Snyder, Delaware representative of the Soil Conservation Service, the new ditches are broad and shallow. He says they are actually troughs instead of ditches. This makes it possible for farmers to build and maintain them with machinery such as road graders instead of resorting to slow and laborious hand labor as was the case with the old ditches. Also, farm implements can cross the new ditches handily, making it unnecessary to detour from one part of a field to another when plowing, cultivating or harvesting.

Each of the nine ditch systems built this year were laid out by an engineer with the help of the farmer concerned, Snyder said. Ditches were actually dug with a special tractor and terracer outfit loaned for this purpose by the Soil Conservation Service. In many cases, farmers built at least part of their ditch systems without any further help, once they had been shown how. No ditch systems were constructed unless a suitable outlet was available, such as an existing road ditch, a stream or an old tax ditch.

Farmers are enthusiastic because the new ditches are boosting crop yields, county agents say, but they caution that the ditches are not a complete answer to wet land problems. They advise farmers also to follow a good soil-building program including liming, suitable crop rotations, green manure crops, use of stable manure and the planting of winter crops. All these methods will help increase the productivity of Delaware soils and enhance the effectiveness of the ditches, they say.

FIGHTING REPORTERS ON WAY TO WAR FRONTS

Marine's Combat Correspondents Trained to Fight As Well as Write

The "fighter-reporters" of the United States Marines Corps have "shoved off." They are now on their way to battle stations in all sectors of the globe, according to Brigadier General Robert L. Denig, director of the Marine Corps Division of Public Relations, Washington, D. C.

The combat correspondents, as these reporters and photographers are officially designated at headquarters, have quickly jumped from civilian life to the front line as full-fledged Marines.

These men, picked for their ability to fight as well as write, were given the training treatment which goes into the making of a 100 per cent. Grade-A leatherneck. Each went through P. I., the famous "boot" camp on Parris Island, S. C.

All are qualified with the rifle, pistol and bayonet. The writing will come after the fighting is done.

Toughened and tanned, the combat correspondents reported to Marine Headquarters from P. I. indoctrination followed to familiarize them with Marine Corps tradition and history, censorship regulations, office routine, the geography of their destinations and various other facts and phases of the job they had to do.

Inspirational and instructional movies were shown. Prominent officers in the Navy and in the Marine Corps lectured the group.

And when the indoctrination course was over, they were prepared in every way for the two-fold task in hand—that of fighting for America and telling the folks about that fight.

In the interests of military security their destinations, naturally, cannot be revealed, but America has heard and will hear more from them.
