Aetnamen To Call This Sunday For Donations To Fund Drive

Newark Volunteer Firemen To Visit Homes In District For Contributions To Annual Fire Protection Budget With $29,650 Goal For 1966; Brochures Distributed

Volunteer firemen of the Aetna Hose, Hook & Ladder Co. plan to call at homes in the Newark fire district this Sunday for donations to the annual Aetna fund campaign with a 1966 goal of $29,650. Appropriations from city, county, and state are insufficient for the $62,050 budgeted for continued provision of fire protection services in the Newark district, and the Aetnamen are seeking the necessary supplement of $29,650 with cash contributions from area residents.

Brochures explaining the Aetna fund campaign, were distributed at homes in the area last Sunday in house-to-house calls by Newark's volunteer firemen, but this schedule of initial visits was interrupted by the Pennsylvania Railroad freight train wreck near Elkton with its blazing tank cars. Aetna firemen responded to the call for assistance.

Names and Address

Officials of Newark's volunteer fire department request donors to include their names and addresses on envelopes distributed with campaign brochures last Sunday, so that acknowledgment may be mailed each contributor.

Persons missed in the area canvass, are requested to send their contributions to the Aetna Hose, Hook & Ladder Co. during November.

Direct mail is being utilized in the fund campaign for the first time, in the Chestnut Hill Estates area. In other portions of the district, Aetna volunteer firemen are endeavoring to make house-to-house visits.

Educator, War Vet Dr. Glenn Skinner Dies At Age Of 75

Retired UD Chemistry Prof
Served in France in WW-I,
Headed Local Legion Post

Retired University of Delaware chemistry professor, Dr. Glenn S. Skinner, 75, died Tuesday in the Veterans Administration Hospital, Elsmere.

Residing at 74 Amstel Avenue in Newark, Dr. Skinner retired in 1938 after 30 years on the university faculty. During his tenure he supervised instruction in organic chemistry and taught thousands of chemistry, chemical engineering and pre-medical students.

Born in Columbus, Kan., he was president of the first class to graduate from Kansas State Teachers College, where he received his bachelor of arts degree. He later earned his master's and doctor's degrees at the University of Illinois.

Former commander of the J. Allison O'Daniel American Legion Post in Newark, he served as a first lieutenant in the Chemical Warfare Service in France in World War I, completing his duty in 1919.

Before coming to Delaware in 1928, Dr. Skinner taught at Oberlin College and the University of Wisconsin.

After World War II, he held the rank of captain in the U. S. Army Reserve and, in the early 1950s, was headquarters deputy chief of state civil defense.

Dr. Skinner worked closely with youth, not only as a teacher but as leader in the Boy Scouts and as faculty adviser to Alpha Phi Omega, a Boy Scout fraternity.

His many research papers in organic chemistry were published by the American Chemical Society.

A history hobbyist, he was interested particularly in New Jersey's Revolutionary War period, and in gardening.

Among his affiliations were the American Chemical Society, American Association for the Advancement of Science and Phi Lambda Upsilon, Sigma Xi and Phi Kappa Phi, national chemical societies.

Surviving are his widow, Mrs. Pauline K. Skinner; two sons, Dr. Glenn S. Jr., a physician in Corning, Calif., and Dr. Charles K. Skinner, a Newark dentist; a daughter, Mrs. Marcelle Marie Mace, assistant professor of music at Northern Illinois University, DeKalb, Ill., and two grandchildren.

Dr. Skinner was a member of the American Legion, the American Association for the Advancement of Science, and the Phi Lambda Upsilon, Sigma Xi and Phi Kappa Phi.

Distinguished Alumnus

Joseph A. Shields

Mayor Of Newark Lauded By College As Alumni Leader

One of 12 outstanding alumni selected by Springfield College to be honored at special ceremonies last week at the college in Springfield, Mass., Mayor Joseph A. Shields of Newark was lauded for "distinguished service to profession and community."

While attending Springfield, Shields was elected to membership in Kappa Delta Pi honor society at the same time that he was building up a reputation as one of the college's all-time athletic greats. As football captain in 1934, he received All American rating, and was named by Holy Cross as their "toughest competitor." He also won varsity letters in swimming, tennis, and basketball.

Harold Lynch, alumni secretary, writes: "As vice-president of Student Cabinet, member of the Judicial Board, Music Club, campus publications board, the Honor Society, and as a college tutor, combined with his enviable record in sports, Joe Shields is something of a legend even to today's students."

"As a college dedicated to the international development of the individual, the University of Delaware is proud to acknowledge Joe Shields as one of its distinguished alumni. We wish we had more like him."

Christmas Cards Sent To Viet Nam By Local Students

Students at the University of Delaware mailed 300 Christmas cards to U. S. soldiers in Viet Nam on the first day of a Young Americans for Freedom campaign, the state YAF chairman reports.

Meanwhile, paperback books for American troops in Viet Nam are being collected in four Delaware communities, and plans are to make the drive statewide.

John Tobin, state YAF leader, said he has been promised a contribution of 140 cards from a women's dormitory.

Students are being asked to write a message on cards, sign them and leave them unsealed.

The cards were sent to Viet Nam Monday after being checked "for any nuts," Tobin said.

The collection is part of a nationwide campaign, started by a Pennsylvania University, to collect Christmas cards for American troops in Viet Nam.

The Dover United Service Organization is behind the proposal to extend the book collection. This drive, under the auspices of the program planning council and headed by Airman 3 C Steve McFarland, has already collected 1,600 books.

Students at Forwood Junior High School in North Gralyn Crest and the American Legion Post in Rehoboth Beach have also begun collections. The drive working with the Philadelphia USO. Books may also be left at the program office of the Wilmington YWCA, 11th and Washington Streets.

The book drives are in response to a national USO survey of soldiers in Viet Nam. Along with letters and home-cooked food, the servicemen listed paperbacks as most wanted gifts from home.

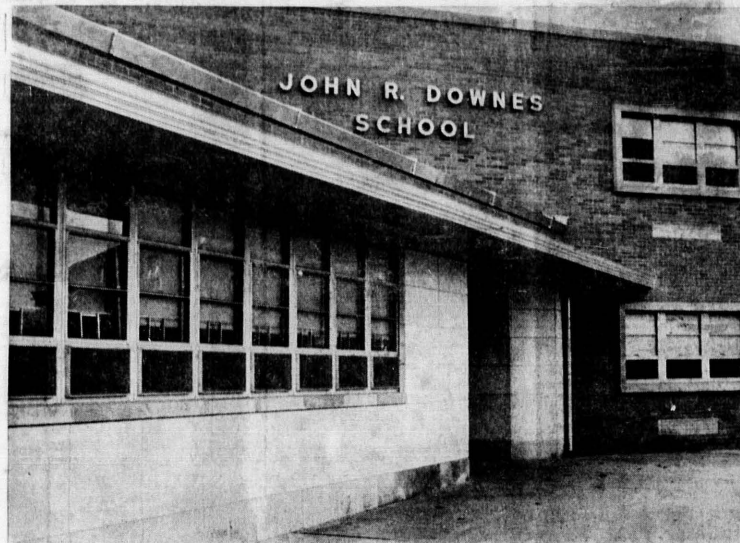

Sgt. George Keith Retires After 20-Yr. Army Service

Sgt. 1c George S. Keith, with the University of Delaware military department staff since 1962, retired from the U. S. Army last Sunday, closing out 20 years' service.

Keith was assistant advisor to advanced ROTC cadets during his three years at the university.

The Keith family resides at 212 Catalina Drive, Newark.

He has taken a job with Kirkwood Tire Service, Inc.

New John R. Downes Elementary School To Be Dedicated With Sunday Ceremony

The John R. Downes School, the Newark district's newest elementary school, will be dedicated this Sunday in ceremonies to be held at the Casho Mill Road site.

Presiding at ceremonies to begin at 2 p.m. will be Superintendent of Schools Wilmer E. Shue.

The John R. Downes School is named for the late local physician, counselor, and champion of youth, Dr. John R. Downes, friend of the Rev. David Sheehan, Jr., vicar of St. Nicholas Episcopal Mission in Newark.

Richard C. Higgins, president of the Newark Lions Club, will speak on "Dr. John R. Downes, Friend of Youth," and Capt. Robert N. Downes, (U. S. Navy-ret.) son of the man for whom the school is named, will present a portrait of his father for the new building. It will be accepted on behalf of the district by President Albert H. Jones of the Newark Board of Education.

Mrs. Jeannette B. Woodhouse, Downes school choral director, will lead children of the fifth and sixth grades in a special presentation for dedication ceremonies.

Dr. Frederick E. Williams, chairman of the school building commission, will discuss features of the new building, and Harry B. Bissell, Jr., of the Delaware State Hotel-Motel Association, will present a new American flag for the building.

Dr. John X. Auletto, principal, will receive the flag on behalf of the students and invite parents and others gathered for the ceremonies to the building.

The benediction will be pronounced by the Rev. David Sheehan, Jr.

41 Cars Derailed In Freight Wreck With Fire Threat

Train service on the Pennsylvania Railroad through Newark was halted for a 48-hour period after 41 cars of a 118-car northbound freight were derailed at 5:29 a.m. last Sunday near Elkton at the U. S. Route 40 bridge.

Highway traffic was routed away from the area, and some 400 persons were evacuated from the Hollingsworth Manor development near the train wreck, as six tank cars containing liquid petroleum gas caught fire with the threat of poison gas and explosion. Other cars were loaded with caustic soda and carbon disulphide.

No one was injured in the wreck of the train with its five-man crew. Limited train traffic was restored early Tuesday morning, but volunteer firemen and railroad crews were still working amid the wreckage yesterday.

Southbound rail traffic has been moving since Tuesday morning on the one undamaged track of the Pennsylvania main line, and northbound trains have been routed around the wreck on some 1 1/2 miles of temporary rails.

A glass door leading from the mezzanine balcony to the cocktail lounge at the rear of the Newark Country Club, was smashed early Sunday morning; vending machines were damaged; and $30 in cash was stolen from an unlocked safe in the basement office.

This was the third time the club has been burglarized within six months.

The downstairs bar, pro shop, and storage room were ransacked, and the main office was forced open.

Newark police are conducting the investigation.

Eastbound Traffic On Kennedy Pike To Get 396 Ramp

Newark Mayor Seeks Study
To Reduce Turnpike Tolls
On Delaware Road Portion

An additional ramp at the Newark interchange on the John F. Kennedy Memorial Turnpike has been approved to permit eastbound vehicles to leave the turnpike at Route 896 for Newark or Glasgow, but present tolls on the Delaware portion of the pike may not be changed without recommendations by two sets of engineers, the City of Newark was informed last week.

Ernest A. Davidson, director of operations for the State Highway Department, made the statements in response to a request by the City of Newark for a study for reducing or eliminating ramp tolls on the Delaware turnpike.

The request was sent by Mayor Joseph A. Shields of Newark to George V. Wickstrom, director of the New Castle County land use and transportation planning program.

"It is our belief," Shields wrote, "that the interstate highway system in Delaware would better serve the needs of the state if ramp tolls could be eliminated or reduced."

Davidson, chairman of the program's executive committee, said the highway department would be happy to see the study made, but does not have the power to change or drop tolls.

He said the indenture under which bonds for the turnpike were sold provides that no changes in toll arrangement may be made without the recommendation of two sets of engineers.

The ramp toll for getting on or off at the Newark interchange is 25 cents.

Other ramp tolls are 15 cents at Delaware 273 and 10 cents at Delaware Route 7.

Musselman will represent 41 District dentists from New Jersey, Maryland, Delaware, the District of Columbia, Federal Dental Services, Panama Canal Zone and Puerto Rico at the 1965 annual session of the American Dental Association, Nov. 8-11 in Las Vegas, Nev.

In his capacity as 4th District trustee, Dr. Musselman will participate in a series of business meetings of the association's board of trustees, administrative authority of the association.

Attendance of 20,000 dentists, dental educators, dental manufacturers and guests from around the world is expected.

Driver Attacks Policeman For Report Of Summons

"Don't give me a warning—I'm driving on probation," a 22-year-old driver urged Patrolman Charles Kowalski of the Newark Police Department early last Sunday morning, when Kowalski stopped the man driving a weaving vehicle from side to side on East Main Street from the Newark Shopping Center.

"I'm going to give you a summons," the local policeman replied—and was attacked by the driver.

Subdued, Jerry Blankenship of 123 Birch Avenue, Elsmere, was fined $50 and costs by Alderman Richard McCann for being drunk and disorderly, and arraigned before Magistrate Horace H. Best on charges of reckless driving and assault and battery, was released under $400 bail.

He faces a charge of resisting arrest, before the Court of Common Pleas.

Mrs. J. Leslie Ford, Correspondent
Phone EA 8-6484

Mr. and Mrs. Norman R. Seymour of Kirkwood are receiving congratulations on the birth of a daughter on Oct. 25, at Riverside Hospital.

The community progress program committee with Mrs. J. Leslie Ford, chairman of Pencader Grange, held a Halloween party in the grange hall on Monday evening.

About 75 attended with 40 masked. Mrs. George Townsend, Mrs. Ellen Snyder, and Mrs. Harvey Ogden, judges, selected the following: Ugliest, Guy Robinson; Prettiest, Debbie Laws; Most comical, Sharon Laws; Most original, Richard Correll; Best couple, Connie Robinson and Dee Dee Brooks. The grand prize was awarded to Guy Robinson.

Games were enjoyed and refreshments of spiced cookies, cider and apples, were served.

Mrs. Ellen Snyder spent the weekend with her daughter and family. Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Allen of Rising Sun.

Miss Christine Bohner of Newark spent several days this week with her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. A. Astolfi.

On the sick list during the past week were Joyce Lee Moore, Mrs. Sara Dayett, Mrs. Chester Harden, Mrs. Harry Bishop, and Mrs. Myrna McElwaine.

Harry Moore and Reece Holloway are patients in the Veterans Hospital, Elsmere.

There will be a covered dish supper with a Navajo Indian dish, Indian artifacts, and slides on the Presbyterian Mission at Canado Mission Night on Nov. 17, with Mrs. Howard McCauley in charge in Pencader Presbyterian Church.

On Sunday night, Nov. 21, there will be a Union Thanksgiving Service with Pencader Presbyterian and Glasgow Methodist churches in Pencader Church. The Rev. Irwin Pusey.

IMMUNIZATION

Long ago it was discovered by physicians that once a person had a contagious disease he was not apt to have that disease again because his body had built a lasting active immunity against the illness.

This discovery led to development of the immunization procedure whereby the body reacts to a vaccine or toxoid as though it had the disease without suffering the illness. This active immunity also is lasting.

As medical knowledge has broadened, the number of diseases that can be prevented by immunization has increased greatly. Some of these diseases are smallpox, diphtheria, tetanus, typhoid fever, whooping cough, poliomyelitis, influenza, and measles.

It is common practice now to give smallpox vaccinations at 6-12 months, repeated every five years or sooner during an epidemic or when leaving the country.

The United States Public Health Service will not let anyone enter the United States who hasn't been vaccinated within the past three years.

If you are going to a foreign country, you must have an immunization for smallpox. It would be wise to be immunized against typhoid fever also, since these two diseases are prevalent in many parts of the world.

Tetanus, diphtheria and whooping cough vaccine are usually combined and are begun at two months of age for a total of three doses a month apart. Booster doses are given a year later and at four and eight years. Tetanus booster shots should be repeated every five years in adults as well as children.

Poliomyelitis Sabin oral vaccine should be given as early as two months and at present does not appear to require "boosters."

The Salk vaccine is an injected vaccine and does require a booster shot every three years.

Measles vaccine is relatively new and very effective. It is usually given in infancy, but schedules are changing, however, and it is best to follow the advice of your doctor.

Disease prevention through immunization is a personal health responsibility. Advice about immunizations can be obtained from one's personal physician.

This column is a weekly service of your doctor through the Medical Society of Delaware.

Day At University
Offered Parents,
High School Pupils

Delaware high school juniors and seniors and parents are invited to spend "A Day at the University of Delaware" on Saturday, Dec. 11.

The date for the annual orientation for prospective college students was announced by Dr. Edward R. Ditt, director of admissions.

High schoolers and their parents may visit the Newark campus to learn about university programs, student life, expenses, admission policies, and other subjects.

Last year, more than 800 students and parents attended the day-long event.

Registration forms will be available in high school counseling offices throughout the state, Oct. 11.

The program is sponsored by high school guidance counselors, the Delaware Congress of Parents and Teachers, and the university.

Centipedes? Boys
Offers Measures
For Pet Control

Neither centipedes nor millipedes actually have hundreds of legs—they just look that way. In this part of the country, they do not even bite, but millipedes may be garden pests, says Frank Boys, extension specialist in agricultural chemicals at the University of Delaware.

Centipedes, millipedes and symphylans—the so-called garden centipede—all prefer dark, damp spots. They look superficially alike, but they are not controlled in the same way. Boys describes their appearance, habitat, life cycle and control methods in a new publication, "Centipedes, Millipedes and Symphylans."

Centipedes range in size from one to 18 in. The larger ones are found only in the tropics.

They have 15 or more pairs of legs with a single pair on each body segment. Found in rotten logs and under bark or stones, centipedes prey on earthworms, snails, spiders and insects. They are best controlled with chlordane, says Boys.

Millipedes are unlike centipedes in that they possess 30 or more pairs of legs; each body segment has two pairs. They feed on vegetable matter, small roots, bean, corn and pea seeds. Often they are attracted to greenhouse soil rich in organic matter. Dust infested areas with liberal amounts of five per cent Sevin.

Symphylans are much smaller than either centipedes or millipedes—only 1/4-in. long. They have 15 to 22 body segments and 10 to 12 pairs of legs, with no more than one pair per body segment. Symphylans are a menace to vegetable and greenhouse plants because they destroy fine roots and scar underground parts of stems, according to Boys. Complete directions for their control are included in "Centipedes, Millipedes and Symphylans."

Free copies of the publication are available from the University of Delaware, Agricultural Hall Mailing Room, Newark.

CHILD PSYCHIATRIST
The University of Delaware Student's Wives Association will meet next Tuesday at 7:45 p.m. in the Morgan-Vallandigham Room of the Student Center, with Dr. Charles Katz, child psychiatrist, as guest speaker.

Red Cross Offers Voice Recordings For Servicemen

Christmas can be the loneliest time of the year for a serviceman away from home, but hearing the voices of his family can do much to lessen his loneliness by letting him know he is missed.

Families of servicemen overseas or stationed at distant points may come to the Red Cross chapter house in Wilmington and make a free record to send them.

"A Voice from Home" holiday message to your son or husband stationed in Viet Nam will be an ideal holiday remembrance this Christmas," said Lloyd R. Leslie, chairman of Red Cross service to military families.

"If your man in service—Viet Nam or elsewhere far from home—hasn't heard your voice in a long time, you can be sure he will appreciate your thoughtfulness in sending him a record. Take advantage of this service—someone far from home will be glad you did."

The whole family, from grandparents to youngsters, can take part in making the recording.

The service is also available to foreign students attending schools in Delaware who may wish to send records to their families overseas, and to families of Peace Corps volunteers.

It will cost only the postage to mail the "Voice from Home" record. Everything else is provided without cost by the Red Cross.

The taping letter may be made in Wilmington at the Red Cross chapter house, 910 Gilpin Avenue, from Nov. 18 to Dec. 17, from 9:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m.

Appointments may be made by calling the chapter house in Wilmington.

New Downes School PTA Plans Open House Event

The first meeting of the PTA at the new John R. Downes Elementary School, will feature an open house program next Wednesday at 8 p.m.

Robert Stevens is president of the Downes PTA; James Tiffin and Mrs. Charles Day are vice-presidents; and Mrs. James Draper is secretary.

Dr. John X. Auletto is principal of the John R. Downes School. Parents are urged to attend this initial meeting; inspect the new school; and to meet the teachers. A member of the school board will be present to discuss the Nov. 11 referendum.

Record Artist Alan McGill Red Lion Church Singer

The Red Lion Methodist Church will present a program of sacred music this Sunday evening at 7:30 with Alan McGill, nationally known recording artist.

A nursery will be provided, and the public is invited by Pastor Irvin R. Pusey.

THE CLOSING TOUCH

A FAIR BREAK FOR HOME OWNERS

The average American family's principal lifetime investment is in a home. From the time the initial agreement is signed, until the final mortgage payment has been made, investments in homes help make any community a better place to live.

The home is also a major tax source for the running of the community. When the home is well cared for—and improved, it increases in value both to the owner and in community betterment.

Sometimes it is necessary to sell a home—so it is placed on the market. Then the federal government steps into the picture. If through diligence and care and other factors the value of the home has increased, the profit from the sale is subject to a federal capital gains tax.

To be sure, this liability can be deferred by investing in another residence, or if the owner is 65 years old or over, an exemption from capital gains of the first $20,000 is permitted under certain conditions. But if the home is sold at a loss, the federal government will not permit a tax deduction.

The National Association of Manufacturers in a move to get a better break for home owners, recommends that the tax be entirely eliminated from the sale of personal residences.

Letters To The Editor

315 Wilson Road
Newark, Del.
Oct. 27, 1965

The city of Newark is a fine place to live and I am proud to be a part of it.

We have been particularly fortunate to have a continuous stream of good citizens sacrificing their time as members of council. It is certain that I have not always agreed with some of the thinking, but have always been impressed with the honesty of purpose shown by our councilmen.

We have been fortunate to have for such a long period of time, a man frequently a forceful minority but always working for the interests of our city.

Bill Coverdale has found it necessary to move to a larger home in a different district, and as a result can no longer represent the Eastern district.

The City of Newark will be the poorer for his absence at the council table. Most of his colleagues have frequently disagreed with his views but always respected his acumen and civic service.

It is regrettable that an official "thank you" from the council was not considered in order, but as a citizen it is my opinion that I speak for thousands when I say "Thank you" Bill and enjoy yourself after 15 years of effort on our behalf.

Harold Bruce To Address African Violet Society

Harold Bruce of Newark will address the monthly meeting of the Delaware African Violet Society to be held in Hanover Presbyterian Church, Wilmington, next Tuesday at 2 p.m., with his subject "Gesneriads."

There also will be a "Little Show" of white, pink, and variegated specimen violet plants displayed by members, and the public is invited.

Airman Norris P. Cornell Promoted To First Class

Norris P. Cornell, son of Mr. and Mrs. Norris M. Cornell of 1013 Cooch's Bridge Road, Newark, has been promoted to airman first class in the U. S. Air Force.

Airman Cornell, an electrical power specialist at Andrews AFB, Md., is a graduate of Newark High School.

His wife Linda, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hise H. Whitehead of 19 Mercer Drive, Newark.

Specialist Wm. L. Short, Jr. With Army In Vietnam

Specialist IV William L. Short, Jr., whose parents live at 22 Cordrey Road, Robcett Manor, Newark, has arrived in Vietnam with the Army's new 1st Cavalry Division.

Short is a member of the unit which was ordered to Vietnam on July 28, when President Johnson announced that U. S. troops would be increased in Vietnam.

He entered the Army in November, 1963 and received basic training at Fort Gordon, Ga.

McDonald's Awards For High School Students Offered

Three McDonald's Employee Achievement Awards for high school students have been inaugurated at McDonald's Drive-Ins at Newark and at 3924 Kirkwood Highway, by Managers Leonard Dukart and Leo Chirtel.

High school sophomores and juniors are eligible for U. S. Savings Bonds of $100, $75, and $50 from each of the two McDonald's units, to be presented at an awards banquet the week before graduation.

Winners will be determined on the basis of efficiency and attitude after working 1,000 hours annually for a year and a half after school and on weekends.

The awards are offered to encourage industry on the part of high school students.

YWCA Bus Trips For International Food Fair Planned

The YWCA of New Castle County is offering bus trips to Washington on Monday, Nov. 15, to the International Food Fair to benefit the YWCA World Fellowship program.

Embassies will "present their countries in food" at a bazaar in the Washington Hilton Hotel from 11 a.m. to 4:30 p.m.

Dolls and other gift items from around the world will be on sale, as well as food specialties.

A fashion show with international models, music, and dancing will be featured in the afternoon, with hostesses from the embassies.

Buses will leave the YWCA Center in Newark at 8:30 a.m., returning around 6:30 p.m.

Reservations must be made by November 11.

Good! Senator Boggs Samples Prize Delmarva Chicken

No mean hand with a barbecue grill himself, U. S. Senator J. Caleb Boggs of Delaware can appreciate the best in cooking when he tastes it. He's shown here sampling a prize-winning dish from the National Chicken Cooking Contest.

Other poultry cooking experts awaiting his decision are (left) Jim Beard of New York, famed cookbook author and frequently a judge at the cooking contest; (center right) Bill Murray of Frankford, Del., president of the Delmarva Poultry Association which hosts the national chicken cook-off each year; and (right) Alvin Kerr of Gourmet magazine, chairman of judges for the barbecue division of the contest.

Entry blanks for the 1966 contest are available now through Delmarva Poultry Industry, Inc., Box 47, Georgetown, Del.

Local Man, Driver In 2-Car Collision Near Jennersville

A Newark man was driving one of two autos involved in a collision last Friday night which resulted in injury to two persons, according to Pennsylvania State Police.

The accident occurred at 7:30 p.m. at the intersection of U. S. 1 and Pennsylvania 896 at Jennersville.

The drivers were identified as Jack Shehan, 21, who recently moved to Newark where he is employed at the Chrysler plant, and Jacob Hodge, 24, of Nottingham, Pa.

Shehan, his wife, Clair, 21, and their nine-month-old son, David, were released after treatment at the Community Memorial Hospital, Jennersville.

Laura Hodge, 19, wife of the other driver, was admitted to the hospital where her condition was reported fair.

Two of the Hodge children, Jerry, four, and Rodney, two, as well as two other passengers in their car, Dorothy Abel, 24, of Oxford, and her one-year-old son, Kenneth, were released after treatment for minor injuries.

Police said Shehan was arrested on a charge of failing to yield the right of way and fined $10 and costs after a hearing before Justice of the Peace Hoopes Yarnall, Oxford Township.

A government for the people must depend for its success on the intelligence, the morality, the justice, and the interest of the people themselves.

Academic Key For High School Achievement

One of the designs under consideration by the Newark Board of Education for a key to honor scholars at both Christiana and Newark high schools is shown above.

While final adoption of the design for the key is yet to be made, the board has decided to use a medallion or key to replace the "academic letter" currently used to honor outstanding academic achievement.

The center of this key is the Lamp of Knowledge, ancient symbol of learning, surrounded by orbiting electrons—symbol of more modern knowledge.

King, Loudis Head Sunday's Seminar On Theatre Music

Local Singers To Present Changing Musical Styles In Sunday Alumni Series

"The Changing Language of the Musical Theatre" is the theme of the third Sunday evening alumni seminar scheduled at the University of Delaware on Nov. 7.

Sponsored by the university Alumni Association and the extension division, the program will feature Professors Anthony J. Loudis and J. Robert King.

Illustrating the changing musical styles will be a group of outstanding local singers including Jerry Alexander, Pete and Evelyn Goldberg, Jerry Todd and Alan Stewart. All are experienced soloists with such musical organizations as the Brandywiners, Brecks Mill Cronies, and the Wilmington Opera Society. Loudis, chairman of the music department since 1945, has founded the annual Contemporary Music Festival at the university.

From 1931 to 1937 he worked with the Schola Cantorum, Oratorio Society and Desoff Choir, all professional choral groups in New York. He is a member of Kappa Delta Pi, Musica Educators National Conference, and the College Music Association.

A large part of his professional career has been connected with two-piano performances in concert, and he has performed and lectured in colleges throughout the country.

King is known for his musical activities throughout Delaware. A member of the Delaware Music Educators Association, he has worked with instrumental teachers of the state as a clinician, adjudicator, and guest conductor; has been musical director for the Brandywiners, and will act in that capacity again next summer.

At the university, he was acting chairman of the music department, and in addition to his work with university bands, King has developed a course in the history of American music which has become a part of the American studies curriculum.

The 88-piece Delaware marching band and the Symphonic Wind Ensemble receive King's special attention.

Sunday evening's musical program and lecture will be preceded by a dinner in the Faculty Club dining room of the Student Center.

Food Fair Wins Honors For Entries In Egg Show

Food Fair's private label brand eggs captured two Blue Ribbon Awards this week at the annual 14-state poultry and egg show sponsored by the Northeastern Poultry Producers Council in Harrisburg, Pa.

Judging was based on uniformity of size, color and shape, shell texture, exterior condition, and interior quality.

The "large white" and "medium" prize winners sold in Food Fair supermarkets under the name "Food Fair Eggs," competed against entries submitted by 25 companies from all northeastern states.

Social Security Changes

By Myron Milbourn, Manager
Wilmington Social Security Office

Several extensions of coverage for Social Security purposes were included in this year's amendments. Among these groups affected by these extensions are doctors of medicine and people who receive tips as part of their pay. Benefits are now payable to certain divorced wives and surviving divorced wives of deceased workers.

Physicians' self-employment income from the practice of medicine will be covered for Social Security purposes for the first time beginning with taxable years ending on or after Dec. 31, 1965. In addition, coverage was extended to medical and dental interns employed by hospitals starting in 1966 on the same basis as other employees of the same employer. This means most interns will start paying Social Security taxes on their earnings, will earn Social Security credits, and they, their dependents and survivors will be eligible for monthly cash benefits as soon as they have earned sufficient credit and met other requirements in the law.

Cash tips received by an employee on his own behalf will be counted as wages for Social Security purposes starting in 1966. The law requires these employees to make a written report to their employers within 10 days after the end of a month in which the employee received $20 or more in cash tips.

The employer will deduct the employee's share of the Social Security taxes due on the tips from the regular wages of the employee or from funds the employee may provide if unpaid wages held by the employer are not enough to cover the Social Security deductions on his reported tips.

The employer will report the worker's tips along with the worker's regular wages for Social Security.

Employers should get in touch with the Internal Revenue Service if they have questions concerning their responsibilities in reporting of tips. One provision of the amendments will permit certain divorced wives and surviving divorced wives of deceased workers to receive monthly cash benefits.

In order to get benefits, a woman must have been married to her former husband for 20 years before the divorce, must not be re-married, and must meet one of the following three support requirements at the time her former husband became disabled, became entitled to benefits, or died. She received one-half her support from her former husband; received substantial contributions from him under a written agreement; or a court order for substantial contributions to her support from her former husband was in effect.

Payment of benefits to a divorced woman would not affect payment to anyone else entitled on the same account, nor would the divorced woman's benefit be affected by the entitlement of others.

I suggest that if anyone has a question about their rights or responsibilities under the Social Security law, they write, phone, or visit the Wilmington district office at 504 West 10th Street, Wilmington.

Tanganyika Churchmen To Speak To Lutherans

St. Paul's Lutheran Church will have a congregational dinner as part of the Every Member Response program next Monday at 6:30 p.m. at the Aetna Banquet Hall on Ogdontown Road, cooked and served by the Aetna Ladies Auxiliary.

Abraham Shaidi, secretary of the Lutheran Church of Northern Tanganyika, will bring a message on stewardship to a discussion of the Lutheran Church program in Tanganyika.

Visiting the United States to study and observe the work of Lutheran churches in the areas of stewardship and evangelism, he will spend most of his time in America visiting two parishes—one in Hollidaysburg, Pa., the other here at St. Paul's.

Maryland Highway Deaths 120 Ahead Of Last Year

Maryland's highway death toll for the first 10 months of 1965 is 120 more than for the same period last year.

"The current highway fatality picture is not a pleasant one to contemplate especially when we see, as we did last week, nine lives lost in a single accident," commented Col. Carey Jarman, superintendent of Maryland State Police, "and there is no indication that there is going to be any improvement during the next two months. Unfortunately, it's an almost sure thing that 1965 will top the record for deaths on Maryland highways."

"Everyone was shocked by the tragic head-on collision on Route 15 near Emmitsburg," continued Col. Jarman, "in which seven college boys were killed along with a man and wife from Pennsylvania."

Two Wilmington Freshmen Win Class Offices At U.D.

Two freshmen from Wilmington and two from Pennsylvania were elected to office by the 1,719 members of their University of Delaware class last week.

Robert Stevens Advises On Caring For Azaleas

Azaleas respond to good care, so many of the problems gardeners have with azaleas can be remedied, according to Robert Stevens, extension horticulturist at the University of Delaware.

At this time of year, some gardeners find leaves yellowing on their azaleas. Yellowed leaves are danger signs and if not properly cared for, plants may soon be dead, Stevens warns.

Too much fertilizer, too close cultivation or too little moisture are frequent causes of yellowed azalea leaves. All can be taken care of easily.

SPECIAL WASHINGTON REPORT

A Program To Combat Heart Disease, Cancer And Stroke

By Senator LISTER HILL (D.-Ala.)
Senator Hill is Chairman of the Senate Committee on Labor and Public Welfare

The toll of heart disease, cancer and stroke in terms of human suffering cannot be measured. But we do know that these three killers and crippers of mankind in this country alone affected the lives of 30 million persons and their families and friends in 1963, and took the lives of 1,187,538 Americans.

Heart disease, cancer and stroke account for 71 percent of all deaths in this country.

COST HIGH

The economic cost to the Nation for the ravages wrought by heart disease, cancer and stroke amounts to in excess of $4 billion each year for medical care and treatment, and amounts to in excess of $30 billion if we take into account the loss in productivity and earning power due to premature deaths and disability.

To combat heart disease, cancer and stroke, President Johnson in March of 1964 appointed a Commission of our country's most distinguished medical authorities and laymen under the chairmanship of the internationally famous heart surgeon, Dr. Michael E. DeBakey, holder of the Distinguished Service Medal of the American Medical Association.

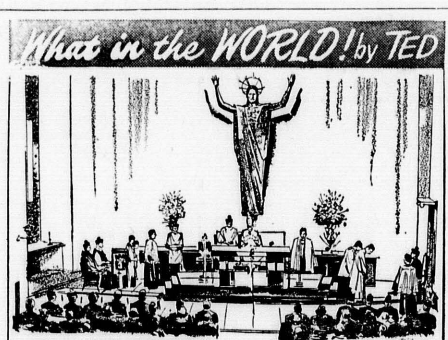

At the end of a careful study, the Commission concluded: "America need no longer tolerate several hundred thousand unnecessary deaths each year from heart disease, cancer and stroke. By bringing to all the people the full benefit of what is now known of prevention, detection, treatment, and cure, we could save each year, a number of lives equal to the population of a major city."

FOR FULL BENEFIT OF MEDICAL PROGRESS

I was privileged to sponsor the legislation to carry out the recommendations of the Commission. As signed into law, the legislation authorizes the Public Health Service to award funds to assist in carrying out new programs of demonstrations, consultations, research and training in order to assist physicians and hospitals in bringing to their patients the latest advances in prevention, diagnosis, and treatment in the fields of heart disease, cancer and stroke.

Some of the diseases we faced in the past, such as yellow fever, malaria, typhoid fever, smallpox, and polio, are no longer threats to our health. Now we must minimize the toll of heart disease, cancer and stroke. Our efforts will lead to a healthier and stronger America. The words of the eminent British statesman, Benjamin Disraeli are no less true today than they were a century ago when he declared that the health of the people is really the foundation upon which all the happiness and well-being of a state depend.

Great Religions Express Support of U.N.

Four of the world's great religions have built or blueprinted New York centers that are, or will be, showplaces of their support for the United Nations. All four combine places of worship with facilities for meetings, lectures and cultural activities.

The newest is the just-dedicated Holy Family Church and Catholic Center opposite the U.N. grounds. It was rebuilt in handsome contemporary style from a 40-year-old church that had been converted from a stable. Upstairs offices serve as the "embassy" for Msgr. Alberto Giovannetti, the Holy See's first permanent observer to the U.N.

A synagogue "to fill the needs of the local Jewish community while ministering to the international family of the United Nations" will be the next U.N. religious center to rise. Later, a mosque and Islamic center will be erected with funds contributed by Moslem United Nations delegations.

The first such facility was the 12-story Protestant Church Center for the U.N., dedicated 18 months ago. Supported by the National Council of Churches, the center has attracted some 36,000 clerics and laymen to its training and orientation programs.

For further information on the U.N., write to: United Nations Association of the U. S. A., 345 E. 46th St., New York, N. Y. 10017.

Visiting Scholar, Textiles Authority In Public Lecture

An authority in the field of textiles will give a public address at the University of Delaware on Tuesday, Nov. 16, with Dr. Jules Labarthe speaking on "Role of the Consumer in the Acceptance of Newly Developed Textile Products" at 4 p.m. in the Rodney Room of the Student Center.

The talk will wind up a two-day visit by Dr. Labarthe to the university's college of home economics as a visiting scholar. He also will speak at several regular textile classes in Alison Hall, and consult with students and faculty members in the college of home economics.

Labarthe, with a PhD in chemistry from the University of Pittsburgh, is professor of textile technology at Carnegie Institute of Technology, and has served as consultant to business and military establishments.

Affect Of Alcohol On Drivers Cited By Safety Council

"Most drivers don't believe that a few drinks can affect their driving," President James T. Ferri of the Delaware Safety Council warns. "The increase of accidents involving drinking teenagers indicates that they believe it also. This belief contributes to about half of all motor vehicle accidents," he continued, "and out of 19 teen-agers killed in Delaware last year, seven had been drinking."

Everyone's driving is affected to a degree by even the smallest amount of alcohol, Ferri said. It first attacks the "judgment control" section of the brain, dulling normal inhibitions and confusing reasoning, while increasing confidence.

Alcohol's affects are far more deadly to a teen-ager than an adult, Ferri warns. An experienced driver is more likely to know how he will act and feel after a few drinks and adjust his driving to this impairment.

The teen-ager driver is not only inexperienced at driving, but at drinking as well.

And the affects of alcohol's dangers to teen-agers is "psychological intoxication." Although not really intoxicated, a teen-ager may psychologically convince himself that he is and actually shows symptoms of abnormal excitement, recklessness and poor judgment; hardly a safe condition in which to drive an automobile.

Studies show that teen-agers learn to drink by observing their parents. Since alcohol is commonly kept in the home and consumed on many occasions without misfortune and with apparent enjoyment, teen-agers adopt their parents' attitude that drinking is not morally wrong and associate it with adulthood. In an effort to assume adult roles, they begin drinking at an illegally early age.

Ferri suggested that parents discuss disastrous consequences of drinking and driving with their teen-agers.

"Your teen-ager can learn the realities of alcohol and driving from you," Ferri said. "Kids, cars and alcohol are a potentially dangerous mixture."

Diabetes Detection Service Offered By State Board

The Delaware State Board of Health will conduct three diabetes detection stations (one in each county) during National Diabetes Week—Nov. 14-20—in Georgetown, Dover, and New Castle.

Diabetes is one of the most common diseases, and in the United States it affects an estimated 2,000,000, with another 4,750,000 potential diabetics. About half of the two million who have diabetes do not know it.

"Diabetes is easy to detect. Found early enough, it can be controlled. Overlooked or neglected, it can lead to serious trouble. Get your check-up now, this service is free," Victoria Worden of the Delaware State Board of Health, advises.

24,921 Needy In Delaware Provided Food By USDA

The U. S. Dept. of Agriculture reports that 24,921 needy persons in Delaware received USDA-donated food commodities during August—1,201 less than the number of recipients during July.

USDA foods distributed to Delaware families include canned beef, cheese, cornmeal, flour, lard, milk, peanut butter, rice and rolled wheat.

These foods are made available under price support and surplus removal programs.

Textiles Expert Janet Reed Offers Tips On Fibers, Blends In Selecting Blanket

Cool fall evenings remind homemakers that it's time to get out winter blankets. If you need new blankets this fall, you have a wide range of colors, sizes and fibers from which to choose, says Janet Reed, textiles specialist at the University of Delaware.

No matter what the color, size or fiber, the basic purpose of any blanket is to provide warmth. Heat from the body is trapped by the nap of the blanket, keeping a layer of warmth next to the skin.

The warmth of a particular blanket—other than an electric blanket—depends on construction as much as on fibers used. Thickness, density, and resilience of the nap are guides to quality, Miss Reed says.

Look for a firmly woven fabric in addition to a thick nap, she advises. Hold a small section of the blanket to the light to see if there are gaps or fraying. Rub the nap between your fingers to be sure the nap does not shed.

Thermal blankets do not depend on nap for their warmth. Their "leno weave" resembles a loose crocheted stitch. Thermal blankets are used the year around, but for winter use, an additional cover often is needed.

About two-thirds of the blankets on the market are woven of synthetic fibers. Nonetheless, natural fibers have many advantages also, Miss Reed says. Wool blankets are exceptionally warm and serviceable with a soft feel. However, wool may shrink unless carefully laundered or dry cleaned. High quality wool blankets may have a mothproof finish. Some of these finishes will last the life of the blanket.

Blends of different fibers are often used. The larger the percentage of a particular fiber, the more the blanket will take on the properties of that fiber.

Acrylic fiber blankets, such as acrilan and orlon, are lightweight; wear well; give an acceptable warmth, and are naturally mothproof. However, they may tend to fuzz with wear and laundering. Some of these blankets are static prone. Higher quality blankets are now treated to resist static, Miss Reed says.

Rayon is used extensively in blends with orlon, nylon, acetate, cotton and wool. Blankets in these blends are attractive, soft, fairly warm and lightweight. Less expensive than pure wool or all-acrylic fiber blankets, they generally do not stay as attractive as they should for long.

Proper laundering of these blankets is particularly important to prevent shedding nap and rippling edges, Miss Reed warns.

Fiberwoven blankets are the newest on the market. Rather than being woven as usual, fiber loops are mechanically interlocked in tight chains. Miss Reed says these are still very new, and exhaustive studies of their wearing qualities are not yet finished.

Anti-bacterial finishes added to some blankets supposedly help control the spread of disease by preventing germ growth. However, recent studies show that such finishes at present, have little or no effect on growth of germs, says Miss Reed. Repeated washing seems to be the best bacteria control method, she adds.

The Rev. Edwin A. Lane To Speak On Unitarianism

The Rev. Edwin A. Lane, minister of the Unitarian Church of South-east New Jersey at Cherry Hill, will be the second speaker in the fall series on Unitarianism this Sunday at the Unitarian Fellowship on Willa Road at the 11 a.m. service.

His topic will be "A Philosophy of Unitarian Universalism."

The public is invited to hear the Rev. Lane, and a nursery and Sunday School are held at the same hour.

Terry Proclaims Nov. 11 As Veterans Day In State

Gov. Charles L. Terry, Jr., this week proclaimed Nov. 11, as Veterans Day and urged all patriotic groups, school, veterans, and civic organizations to stage appropriate local exercises on or near Nov. 11 to give recognition to all men and women who wore the uniform of their country.

Special exercises to be held at Delaware Memorial Bridge Plaza on Sunday, Nov. 7, are being planned by a statewide committee, and widespread display of the American and state flags on Nov. 11, is requested.

SCOUTS SOUGHT

Delaware boys are urged to join a Cub Boy Scout, or Explorer group, in a statement issued in Dover this week by Gov. Charles L. Terry, Jr., in support of the National Boy Scouts of America fall membership round-up.

What Quality Beef Does A&P Sell?

That's a fair question. But not an easy one to answer because we have our own quality standards, different from any other meat merchant.

These standards don't fit exactly the familiar terms you know for grades of meat. As an example, did you know that some beef, graded U.S. Choice, just doesn't meet our "Super-Right" specifications? It's true! You see... we don't buy by grade. We use our own high standards to bring you the best values.

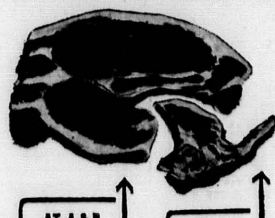

That doesn't mean we don't approve of such grading—not at all. It just means we're very fussy about the beef we label "Super-Right." It stands to reason we have to be or A&P wouldn't be America's number one meat merchant.

Are "Super-Right" Meats a good reason for shopping A&P?

They're one of many!

Halfback Dick Kelley Scores Three TD's As Newark Wins; WHS Title Test Ahead

Halfback Dick Kelley, a junior, paced Coach Bob Hoffman's Yellowjackets to a 48-6 victory over DeLaWarr's Lions on the Newark field last Saturday afternoon, by scoring three touchdowns with a 70-yard sprint, and a pair of 40-yarders.

Co-Capt. Dick Fulton scored a Newark touchdown with a 10-yard drive, and place-kicked six extra points for a total 48 and lead for the state scoring championship.

DeLaWarr, with a 1-5 record for the season, led the second place 5-1 Yellowjackets 6-0 at the end of the first quarter, as the Lions' Ratcliffe played five yards for the DeLaWarr touchdown.

But Newark came to life in the second quarter, when Kelley scored the 27-0 halftime edge. Kelley broke away for a 40-yard touchdown sprint; Co-Capt. Bob Fulton at center recovered a DeLaWarr fumble in the Lions' end zone for the second Newark TD; Fullback Don Walp intercepted a pass to step 15 yards for another score; and End Bob Hubbard was on the receiving end of Quarterback Lou Stenzler's pass for a 70-yard touchdown, and Fulton kicked three extra points. Fulton, with the DeLaWarr defenders keyed in on the state scoring leader, eluded Lion tacklers for 10-yards and a touchdown in the third quarter, and with Fulton's successful conversion, Newark moved out to a 34-6 lead with the fourth period coming up.

It was Kelley for 40, and Kelley again for 70-yards and two touchdowns in the final frame, and Fulton's kicks were good for the final 48-6 count.

20 Years At Races Hold No Regrets For Otis Crawford

Twenty years ago Otis (Jack) Crawford decided to quit the hotel and restaurant business and spend the rest of his life doing what he loves—horses.

Today he has no regrets and is convinced he made the right move. "Racing has been good to me. I live fairly comfortably and have earned enough money to acquire some property without touching any of my original capital," he declared.

Crawford, who celebrated his 65th birthday last August, has been racing eight horses at the Kent and Sussex Raceway at Harrington since the 40-night racing meet opened Sept. 8. He also has three horses racing at Lebanon, Ohio, and three others at fairs in California.

During the off-season Crawford makes his home in Shafter, Calif., where he operates a public stable, training and driving horses for other people. He plans to continue in the harness racing business until he is forced to retire.

Over the past 20 years Crawford has owned several horses, but the one he has brought him considerable profit. One of these was Model Heir who earned $100,000 from 1954 to 1957 after he was nine years old. Red Streak was the 10th highest money winning horse when he retired to stud in 1947. Another horse, Hawthorne, earned him $70,000—and is still racing.

Crawford has been working with horses since he was nine years old. When he was 15, a veterinarian owed him $15 and settled the debt by giving him a 15-year-old horse named Oncon. The horse won the first time Crawford raced him.

At the age of 21 Crawford joined his father in the hotel and restaurant business and raced only at fairs in Arizona and California. In 1935 he became fairly active in the racing business and became part owner of eight horses. He enjoyed it so much that 10 years later he decided to devote his full time to harness racing.

Crawford believes that older drivers are involved in fewer accidents than younger men.

"Over the years you acquire the knack of being able to see the accidents coming, and in most cases you are able to avoid them," he said.

Improvements At Pimlico Ready For Nov. 13 Opener

With varied improvements awaiting the public, finishing touches are being put on Pimlico Race Course for its 28-day meeting opening Saturday, Nov. 13.

The most extensive refurbishments are in the area of the members' clubhouse, where the parking lot has been paved for the first time, and the exterior of racing's oldest edifice has been completely repainted.

Newark Notes

by GIBBY YOUNG

Undeclared Wilmington High School Yellowjackets this Saturday afternoon at 1:30 in what may decide the Blue Hen Conference championship.

Playing for Hoffman's Yellowjackets last Saturday were Stenzler, all the way at quarterback; Fulton, Kelley, Dave Word, and Jim McDonald; halfbacks Walp, Bob Vance, and Tyrone Wood; fullbacks: Hubbard, Larry Tucker, Conway Hayman, and Orville Wright; ends: Bill Murphy, Pat Walker, and Gary McCormick; tackles: Mike Turner, Rowan Perkins, Bob Jones, and Tom McDonald; guards; and Ewing and Kenny Woodward, centers.

Senior Guard John Ingold did not play because of a bruised shoulder muscle, and may not see action this Saturday.

The Yellowjackets meet Wilmington High School, away, at 1:30 p.m. in a game that may decide the Blue Hen Conference championship.

Unbeaten Wilmington has six wins, including a victory over William Penn, and the 5-1 Colonials of William Penn share second place with Newark.

It was Kelley for 40, and Kelley again for 70-yards and two touchdowns in the final frame, and Fulton's kicks were good for the final 48-6 count.

A cold wind out of the northeast was piling roaring breakers on the beach at Cape Hatteras last Friday evening as we fished fresh mullet, numbed fingers for a first fling with the last of the pale yellow sunset, at the famed North Carolina channel bass in the Hatteras surf. But the following two days were warm and wonderful.

With the Lady of the House, young Phil Gibbs, and Billy, we had driven from Newark down the Delmarva Peninsula and across the Chesapeake Bay Bridge-Tunnel to Norfolk and onto North Carolina's Outer Banks, under sunny, blue sky—but with the car heater going. And it was still cold when we arrived at Cape Hatteras.

At the Lighthouse View Court motel in Buxton, with the magnificent black and white spiral striped tower and its light flashing in the dusk, we hurriedly changed into heavy fishing clothes to try the surf. I caught a few flounder, Mr. Sherwood said, "but I saw a lot of puppy drum caught—up to five and six pounds. Whatever I was doing wrong, I hope I don't do it tomorrow," he added wistfully.

Jim and Iris Etheridge joined us at the Lighthouse View Court that night after driving over from Plymouth on the distant mainland—most welcome and pleasant additions to our Newark foursome—and Carolina Jim provided experience and assurance for some success in the surf with Saturday's session. We dropped off to sleep with the sweep of the Hatteras light flashing against the window blinds, and the Atlantic surf thundering on the beach some 100-yards to eastward just beyond the dunes—and awakened with the dawn to discover that the wind had dropped during the night—the stars were paling in a cloudless sky overhead—and the thunder of the surf had moderated into a gentle rumble.

Even the ladies couldn't resist the charm of the Cape Hatteras dunes, and instead of sleeping late as planned, joined us at a very early breakfast.

Driving south of the lighthouse and over a board ramp in the dunes to a parking area nearest the cape for its 28-day meeting opening Saturday, Nov. 13.

Upset by William Penn, Newark High School shares a 5-1 second place in the conference with the Colonials of Coach Billy Cole, and if the Yellowjackets manage to take Wilmington—and we believe they will—Newark will tie the Red Devils of WHS for first place. And if William Penn wins this Saturday, there will be a three-way tie for the BHC title—with a couple more games apiece to be played.

3-1 Blue Chicks In Friday Finale With Owl Frosh

Coach Jimmy Flynn's Delaware freshman football team will carry a 3-1 record into its final game of the season, against Temple at Newark this Friday.

Scoring 22 points in the second quarter, the Blue Chicks walloped Bullis Prep 40-14 at Silver Spring, Md., last Friday.

Delaware scored three touchdowns on passes. Harry Bailly passed 12 and 20 yards to Jim Dolente for two of them, and George Karabinos whipped a 20-yard pass to Chuck McCallion for the other. Karabinos himself had scored the first two touchdowns on runs of one and four yards.

Jim Lazarski accounted for the other Delaware touchdown on a 27-yard run.

Athlete Studies For PhD

Joseph J. Talarowski

Former University of Delaware athlete, Newark High School baseball coach and teacher, Joseph Talarowski, 32 Madison Drive, is among six students from Delaware registered this fall at the University of Denver, with 7,900 students enrolled at the 101-year-old largest private university in the Rocky Mountain region.

Talarowski, a member of the University Drama Group, is studying for his PhD in drama at the University of Denver.

great fish scattering silvered sheets of bait—and from positions far offshore, thousands of sea birds followed the fish into the beach.

We had been having fair fishing with strips of mullet, and were catching blues and flounder—but this was something else. Great albacore shattered the water within casting range around the point, and changing to bucktails and spoons, we ran across the sand to fire away at surface swirls beneath the hovering birds.

A sportsman on the very tip of the cape, hooked a big albacore with a Hopkins on a light spinning rod, and with consummate skill and some legerdemain, managed to fight this offshore, free-swimming slugger to a standstill as his companion, afeared yard-long, tuna-like torpedo in the surf, dragged it up on the sand.

The albacore moved out to sea; the birds quieted down; and we resumed some quiet fishing with our much-tried strips.

Gentleman Jim Etheridge hooked a good fish that broke his monofilament spinning line, and then tied into a golden puppy drum or young channel bass that fought mightily against the light tackle.

Again and again the fish surged anew in the surf, stripping line from the reel, but at last Jimbo had things going his way, and Phil Gibbs ran down the stand to drag a five-pound beauty from the foaming wash.

Jim pretty well wiped our collective faces with his stand of a rod and reel, and then he walked along the spiderweb line, beaching several good three-pound flounder along with some lesser specimens of flatfish, and a spot; and Billy caught a nice gray trout.

Ruth and Iris, too—Jim Etheridge's wife—were named Iris and Ruth. To—joined us on the Cape as we fished, but in mid-afternoon, Mr. and Mrs. Etheridge left us to drive back to their family in Plymouth before dark.

And something good went out of the day with their departure. A rod of sadness crept in as we watched them walk away into the distance down the beach.

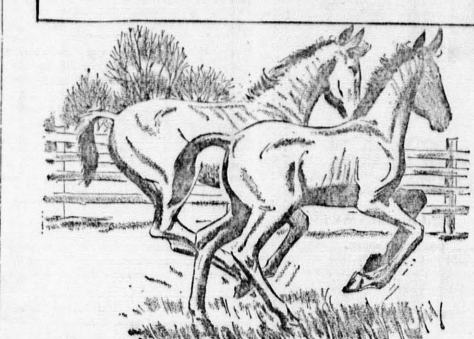

Late in the evening with the sun setting just off the tip of Hatteras Island and into the sea to the southwest, we walked some 100 yards across the cape to investigate some gulls soaring over a quiet cove in the beach. And on a first cast—before the sinker had settled to the bottom—felt the surge of a striking trout. In six successive casts, we caught nine gray trout or common weakfish—a pair of double-headers—and just as quickly as the bait hit the water.

Running across the sand, we called the two boys from their stand in the surf—Billy had just caught a double-header of a trout and common weakfish—and was a bit reluctant to leave—but we took 29 trout in some fabulously fast fishing at sunset to wind up a perfect day.

At the Chanee's Bass Inn that night, Tom Sherwood was a changed man—a converted Hatterasman. In casting near the Hatteras Inlet with a Hopkins Lure, he had caught nine puppy drum weighing up to six pounds—and in some classic conversation, had released all but three.

The next morning at dawn, the ocean beyond the dunes at our motel, lay like a billiard table to the pink horizon, and with time fast running out, we passed up break-

OFF AND RUNNING by John I. Day A Double Take

Several items for the book have turned up among Thoroughbreds this year which didn't make headlines but are worth noting. In Kentucky the program at Keeneland listed a white Thoroughbred for the first time in anyone's memory, including that of The Jockey Club, which has registered all Thoroughbreds since 1898. At Saratoga Downs this summer, an eleven-year-old named Tarn Man himself had scored the first two touchdowns on runs of one and four yards.

Jim Lazarski accounted for the other Delaware touchdown on a 27-yard run.

Dave Nelson's Blue Hens Face Buffalo U. At Newark Stadium After Upset By Owls

Buffalo's football team, described as "big, tough and fast" by Delaware coach and scout Irv Wisniewski will offer stiff competition for Coach Dave Nelson's Blue Hens in Delaware Stadium this Saturday at 1:30 p.m.

Listening to Wisniewski describe an offensive line that averages over 217 pounds per man and a defensive end who weighs in at 227, one might think he scored the 27-point victory of the American Football League instead of the collegiate Buffalo Bulls.

"They are the biggest team we will play this year," Wisniewski noted, "and they like to hit."

Buffalo sixth in the country in rushing defense in last year's statistics, and the defensive backfield has also been stingy in giving up yardage.

Defensive tackle Greenard Poles (218) is an All-American candidate and Capt. Joe Holy (204) is a fine linebacker. That 27-point defensive end is Gerry LaFontaine, who the Bulls are pushing as a possible All-East candidate.

But while the Bulls have been stubborn on defense, their offense has been sluggish and gets most of the blame for their 2-2 record. The defense has allowed 101 points per game, but the offense has scored only a 9.3-point clip.

"Their offense has definitely been hampered by the loss of Rick Wells," Wisniewski said. "He was a very fine quarterback."

Wells, a 190-pound sophomore, suffered a broken leg in the Bulls win over Richmond and will miss the rest of the season. A glance at the Buffalo statistics gives an indication of what Wells meant to the Bulls' attack.

Despite missing the last two games, Wells still leads the team in rushing with 286 yards in 97 carries and in passing with 23 completions for 349 yards and four touchdowns.

Buffalo Coach Dick Offenhamer thinks he can score the quarterback Ron Ridolfi against Dayton, but Ridolfi was somewhat less than expected as the teams struggled to a scoreless tie. Junior Nick Capuana got the starting nod at quarterback against Holy Cross and will probably be in the controls this week.

fast for a last chance in the morning when a lazy sur creamed over an outer bar, and a deep slough of quiet water lay between the breakers and the beach.

Billy and Phil each caught a small flounder; they hooked and reeled in several bouncing baby bluefish, and then there came a hard fast surging strike that put a bow in the big Calcutta pole—and we thought that at long last, connections had been made with a puppy drum.

The fish fought in strong, sweeping surges parallel to the beach and just beyond the surf, and at last we drew a flapping two-pound blue onto the sand.

Tombo Sherwood joined us just as we were unhooking the blue—and just as swarms of gulls and terns appeared over fish breaking far out at sea.

"I have a boat on the top of the car," Sherwood said. "Let's go out there." But we were extending our time to the limit with this last chance stand on the beach. At sea with Tombo's boat, we may never have gotten home.

Tom Van Grofski, Mike Purzycki Bid For Hen Records

Delaware's passing combination of Quarterback Tom Van Grofski to End Mike Purzycki, with threatening several marks in the Blue Hen record book.

Purzycki, a junior from Newark, N. J., and Van Grofski, a senior from nearby Bloomfield, hooked up six times for 66 yards in the Hens' 31-22 loss to Temple last week.

The 194-pound Purzycki, a graduate of Seton Hall Prep, has caught 22 passes for 254 yards and one touchdown. He also pulled down a two-point conversion pass against Temple. His six catches against Delaware moved Van Grofski to striking distance of Wes Fritth's 1964 season record of 36 receptions.

Van Grofski, also a Seton Hall Prep graduate, has completed 58 of 113 passes for 840 yards and eight touchdowns. His 78 yards rushing gave him a total offense of 924 yards in six games. The slim signal-caller also leads the Hens in punting with a 39.2 average on 23 kicks.

Van, a 185-pounder, is a threat to his own Delaware season records for completions (85) and total offense (1,043 yards).

Delaware Capt. Paul Mueller of State College, Pa., caught another Van Grofski pass for a touchdown against the Owls to maintain his team scoring leadership. He has scored 30 points in 18 for halfbacks Brian Wright and Ed Mason and fullback John Spangler.

Wright, a sophomore from Rockville, Md., is still the team rushing leader with 433 yards in 83 carries. He is the second best receiver with 15 catches for 197 yards and two touchdowns.

Mason, a sophomore from Springfield, Pa., and Spangler, a sophomore from Baltimore, are second and third in the rushing race with 234 yards and 164 yards, respectively.

Wisniewski's Hens Exhibit Promise For Winning Card

After two weeks of practice, Delaware's 1965-66 basketball team is showing signs of a return to the form that gave the Blue Hens three straight winning seasons before last year when Coach Irv Wisniewski's team wound up with a 3-17 record, one of the worst in Delaware history.

Probably the most pleasant development for Wisniewski has been the return of Capt. Mike Purzycki, who sat out last season with a knee injury. The 6-5 center-forward has sparked early practice without any apparent ill effects from his layoff.

Wisniewski also has been pleased with the play of sophomore guards Rick Wright and Vic O'Neil, two stars of last year's freshman team.

The presence of Wright and O'Neil makes guard the strongest position on the team. The two sophs are backed up by juniors Herb Messick, shooter who averaged 10.7 points per game last year, and Lew Blum.

Steady Eddie Szerzba and Dave Mountz also are experienced veterans from last year's squad.

Oswoski offers experience and a soft shot at center. He will be relieved by 6-7 junior Harry Griesbach, a transfer from Wesley Junior College.

The Hens could stand more depth at forward. Co-Capt. John Himes and junior Bill Morley are proven performers, but juniors Bill Drescher and Frank Szerzba and sophomore Bill Boland have been erratic in the past.

Himes is small for a forward at 6-2, but he has the moves and strength to do the job. He was the Hens' leading scorer last year, averaging 13.8 points per game.

Morley (6-4) averaged 10.2 points per game last year and hauled down 152 rebounds, two less than team leader Bill Scott.

Scott is the only letterman missing from last year's team.

"We should benefit from experience and speed last year," Wisniewski said, "but we still have a long way to go."

The Blue Hens will play a 25-game schedule, including the Wooster Classic in Ohio, during the Christmas holidays.

Son of Mr. and Mrs. Howard M. Cagle of 828 Lehigh Road, Newark, Guy Cagle has been promoted to airman second class in the U. S. Air Force.

Vikings Hold Wilmington's BHC Leaders Scoreless For First Period; Lose 28-0

Coach Bill Horney's Vikings held powerful Wilmington High School scoreless in the first and last quarters of the game played last Saturday on the Newark field, but the undefeated Blue Hen Conference leaders rolled to three touchdowns in the second period, and added another in the third for a 28-0 triumph over Christiana.

Wilmington Quarterback Steve Mahon hit Halfback Art Madric with a pass for a 90-yard touchdown play—the longest pass scoring maneuver in the conference season.

The Red Devils tallied their first TD when Madric intercepted a Viking pass, and ran for 16 yards to the Christiana end zone.

The 90-yarder followed, and then Mahon passed to Halfback Jim Lothrop for a 33-yard, third touchdown.

Richard Arimoto Scores Three TD's To Lead VFW Win

Richard Arimoto ran for 30, 45, and 40-yard touchdowns to pace the defending champion VFW to a 19-14 win over the Green Raiders last Sunday, with senior division play in the Capitol Trail Junior Football League. The Vets' Ricky Matthews ran for an extra point.

The VFW is tied with Stanton for first place in league standings. Both teams have 4 records, while the Crusaders with an open date last Sunday, are 3-1.

Max Matthes threw 15 and 35-yard touchdowns passes to Billy Stewart and Randy Spinks for the Raiders' TD's, and Max passed to Stewart and to Dale Stanton for extra points.

Stanton walloped Central 33-6 in other senior play, as Jim Wilson ran for 14 and nine-yard touchdowns; Ken Norris scored on a 30-yard pass play; Joe Resende picked up a Central fumble and ran 30-yards for another TD; and Rick Wilson plunged five yards for another.

Pat Lattis ran for an extra point; Norris caught a pass for another; and Resende ran for the third point after touchdown.

Gary Hays scored the Central touchdown by taking a 10-yard pass for 20-yards more into the Stanton end zone.

In junior division play, unbeaten Stanton won its fifth game by stopping Central 18-7.

Greg Dambach, with a quarterback sneak and a 15-yard run, scored two TD's for Stanton, and Darrell Dunn added another with a 20-yard end run.

Central's Paul Jones ran a kick-off back for a 50-yard touchdown, and Randy Piekarski ran for the extra point.

Jim Ford scored both touchdowns for the senior Vets as they defeated the Green Raiders 13-6. Ford blocked a Raider kick and picked up the ball to run for the score, and returned a kick-off for a 70-yard touchdown, with Don McElwee running for the PAT.

Harry Cooke passed to Mario Benedetto for the Raider touchdown. The Crusaders play Central at Stanton, and the Vets face Stanton on the Kells Avenue field in this Sunday's schedule at 1:30 p.m.

Family Pet Horse Provides "Extras" For Dudley Home

A family pet—a six-year-old gelding named Uncle Dudley—was competing with more than 575 horses for racing honors at the Kent and Sussex Raceway in Harrington.

Uncle Dudley was given to Mrs. Patricia Hayden of Griffith Lake near Milford, two years ago when his original owner became disgusted with his bad manners and lameness.

Through pampering and perseverance the Hayden family cured Uncle Hudley of his lameness and cantankerous habits and he returned to the racing circuit last year.

In 1964, Uncle Dudley won more than $800 in purses. This year in nine starts he has three wins, three seconds, and two thirds.

Mrs. Hayden's husband works as a crane engineer in a Dover plant to provide the family of seven with the necessities of life, while his wife tours the racing circuit in an effort to provide the family with a few extras.

The Haydens have five children, two boys and three girls, and last spring, Patricia, Jr., won a ribbon with Uncle Dudley at the 4-H horse

Matusiak kicked three conversions, and Wilmington led 21-0 at the half.

In the third quarter, the conference leaders were able to muster but one touchdown—on a 12-yard run by Tishamp. And again, Matusiak kicked the point.

Christiana faces Dickinson away this Saturday morning at 10:30, and Dickinson is 2-3-1 for the season.

In the lineup for Christiana against Wilmington High, were Quarterbacks Dave Claus and Co-Capt. Roger Barnes, with Barnes majoring as a halfback; Jerry Perry was the Vikings' full-time fullback; and John Belcher, Bob Hall, Jeff Heath, and Joe Thomas played at the halfback posts.

The Christiana defense were Roger Hunt, Greg Kracher, Mike Gray, Bill Rust, and Jim Spinks; Co-Capt. Harold Boyer, Chuck Garber, Gary Lloyd, and Al Dagger, the tackles; and George Arbeiter, John Bonner, and Al Peoples, the guards.

Three Viking centers set action—Ed Ridgeway, Rich Olin, and Dick Rhodes.

Capt. Bill Bailey TD Club Speaker On Viet Nam War

Capt. Bill Bailey of the military science department at the University of Delaware, will be the guest speaker for the Newark Touchdown Club luncheon meeting next Monday at noon in the Horseshoe Carriage Restaurant on Ogletown Road.

A veteran of Viet Nam, Capt. Bailey will discuss the Vietnamese war from a military point of view. At last Monday's club meeting, Joe Johnson presented "How To Watch Pro Football," a color film sponsored by the Farmers Bank of the State of Delaware.

President Albert S. Priestley invites all interested persons to attend these Monday luncheon meetings, and to join the club.

Sam "Buckshot" Mehl won the weekly football pool last week with a perfect set of picks—excluding the Delaware-Temple upset.

Mrs. Russell R. Menard Heads NCC Women's Golf

Mrs. Russell R. Menard has been named chairman of the women's golf committee for the 1966 season at the Newark Country Club.

She succeeds Mrs. John N. McDowell as women's golf chairman at the Newark club.
