Local Tank Plant To Be Sold After Removal Of Machinery

Defense Department Rejects Senate Request Concerning
Reconsideration Of Order Closing Lenape Plant; Army
Engineers To Arrange For Disposal; Date Unsettled

The Lenape Tank Plant at Newark will be offered for sale as soon as the machinery is removed, the Defense Department announced this week.

Defense Secretary Robert F. McNamara has rejected a request for reconsideration of his order closing the tank plant, it was learned Tuesday.

A spokesman said 42 per cent of the machinery has been shipped elsewhere.

The plant has been set for disposal by the Army Corps of Engineers, according to the Pentagon. Final arrangements will be made by the U. S. Army Corps of Engineers regional office.

The Lenape Plant was among 73 bases, arsenals and factories closed by a Pentagon closure order last summer. The Senate Services Committee, however, asked McNamara to reconsider his decision in light of the fact that a number of other bases were not closed.

No change in the decision was made, and the plant would be closed. The plant had several years ago been converted from the Chrysler-operated plant to its own operation.

The plant, which covers 1,000,000-sq. ft. of space, and a test track, was built in 1951 and cost $90 million.

The plant was built here after April, 1945, when the plant was moved from the Chrysler plant in Detroit.

"The purpose of the annual Hallowe'en Mardi Gras is to make the occasion constructive instead of destructive," Bill Hart said, "and to provide more fun for all concerned."

A Jack-o'-lantern contest will be conducted, with registrations and entries accepted at the Eagle Furniture store next Monday and Tuesday from 3 to 5 p.m.

With the cooperation of local businessmen, art students at Newark public schools will provide Hallowe'en paintings on various show windows throughout the city.

Donations To Be Sought
Starting Next Wednesday

Coverage of an estimated 257 possible Red Feather campaign contributions in the residential Newark area will be the responsibility of women's volunteer teams headed by Mrs. Hugh P. Gallagher, Jr., and Mrs. J. H. Cronin.

Covering the southwestern part of Northern Delaware's United Fund geographical area, the Newark corps has seven districts, each with a captain. Last year's efforts raised $1,784, but new prospects increase the new potential. Contributions will be sought from those who have retired and are not canvassed at work; of those who work outside of Northern Delaware, and from those who operate a business from their homes.

The Newark drive will not attempt to duplicate pledge contacts at work.

Assisting Mrs. Gallagher and Mrs. Cronin as district captains are: Ann Ritz, Mrs. F. W. Van Name, Jr., Mrs. B. C. Lutz, Mrs. J. R. Egnor, Mrs. T. L. Dickey, Mrs. E. R. Wilder, Mrs. M. H. Palmer.

Nearly all of the 37 Red Feather agencies to share results of the $2,394,675 goal campaign, provide service for the Newark area as well as all areas of upper New Castle County.

The Newark Recreation Association may obtain $33,000 of its $51,225 estimated 1962 budget from the current goal; the branch YMCA and YWCA share in tentative allocations of $38,116 for YMCA extension work and a total YWCA share of $156,000, and Boy and Girl Scouts, the Visiting Nurse Association, and Goodwill Industries are represented locally.

The general public phase of the campaign opens next Wednesday, and will continue through Nov. 3.

6th All-Star Game At Newark Nets $36,000 To Aid Children

Annual All-Star High School Football Game In August
At Delaware Stadium Returns Six-Year Total $157,000
To Aid The Delaware Foundation For Retarded Children

The sixth annual Delaware All-Star Football Game played in Newark at Delaware Stadium last Aug. 26, earned $36,000 for the cause of retarded children, game co-chairmen James W. Williams and Edward D. T. Trevor announced today.

This brings total receipts for the six all-star games to more than $157,000.

From this sum, the Delaware Foundation for Retarded Children has contributed $65,000 toward the construction of an All-Star Rehabilitation Center at the state hospital site near Stockley. Construction on the $280,000 center began late in September.

Bob Carpenter Reports
According to R. M. Carpenter, Jr., president of the Delaware Foundation which promotes the All-Star Game, receipts from this year's contest have been allocated to other projects which the game has been supporting. These include scholarships for teachers training to work with mentally retarded children; a curriculum study conducted by the Wilmington public school system, and a dental clinic for retarded children.

The Foundation also contributes to the support of Opportunity Center, where vocational training is conducted for the handicapped, including the mentally retarded. Job placement and follow-up is carried on by a vocational counselor.

Other projects under study by the Foundation in cooperation with the Delaware Association for Retarded Children, include a downstate Opportunity Center in the Dover area. If this establishment proves a feasible, current and future All-Star Game receipts may be used for this project, Williams said.

Newark Athletes and Coaches
Newark High School football stars have played for the Gold squad in each of the six All-Star High School Football Games for the benefit of the Delaware Foundation for Retarded Children, and two Newark High School coaches—Don Miller and Bob Hoffman—have been head coaches for the Gold squads.

Last August, the Newark Yellow-Jackets were represented by All-State Halfback Lloyd Wells, who suffered a leg injury in the contest; Fullback Frank Subach; Art Carney and Bill Mowll, guards; and Tackle Don Frank.

Enrollment Of 110

A total of 110 students enrolled in the adult education program in the Newark special school district as classes began last week.

Courses include Fundamentals of High School English, Conversational French, Conversational Spanish, A Look at Modern Mathematics, Typing, Short-hand, Business Machines, Bookkeeping, and Sewing and Tailoring.

Participation in the adult program is almost three times what it was during the last school year, and the number of course offerings has more than doubled.

Most popular courses in the program are those in business fields and modern mathematics. The latter course is designed particularly for parents to acquaint them with latest developments.

Several courses originally offered had to be withdrawn because of insufficient enrollment. These included: Offset Press Operation, Wood Shop, Mechanical Drawing, and Basic Arithmetic.

Newark CAP Cadets Aid
In Effectiveness Test

Cadets of the Newark CAP squadron participated in the USAF-CAP Effectiveness Test on Oct. 8, providing VHF radio communications out of Baker Field, and maintaining two mobile ground teams in the field between the Chesapeake and Delaware Canal and Taylor's Bridge.

After the crash of an L-16 search plane in which Lieut. Charles Hamner of Middletown lost his life, and Pilot John Pennypacker was seriously injured, the Newark squadron established a security guard until state police arrived, and brought in generating equipment for lighting night salvage operations.

FLOWER ARRANGING
A few registrations can still be taken for a course in flower arranging using dried materials and fall garden flowers. Mrs. Lewis P. Kelsey will teach the class on six consecutive Thursdays from 9:30 to 11:30 a.m., starting this week.

Concrete Shell Attention-Getter Termed
"Hyperbolic Paraboloid" For Onlookers

A thin shell concrete structure in the shape of a hyperbolic paraboloid is attracting attention on the University of Delaware campus.

Constructed by graduate civil engineering students under the direction of Dr. Thomas Brockenbrough, the shell is an example of one of the newer types of structures under study. It stands between DuPont Hall and Academy Street.

The structure is 16-ft. square, with a thickness varying from two to three inches.

Dr. Brockenbrough explains that doubly curved, thin shells of this type are capable of spanning considerable distances without beams or girders. One such shell under construction in Paris has a clear span of 720-ft. and roofs an area of more than five acres.

The shell will remain on exhibition for the rest of the semester, after which it will undergo tests for strength and capacity.

Another, much larger example of modern structures now is under construction behind South Hall. It will be a space framework covered by polyethylene and will resemble half of an eight-sided sphere.

Also a civil engineering graduate project, under the direction of Dr. Robert L. Nicholls, it will house equipment for "trafficability" research study in connection with the Delaware State Highway Department.

Soil will be placed in the enclosure and mixed with chemicals for stabilization. Traffic tests will be run on the stabilized soil to prove existing laboratory findings.

The study in its second year, is tied in with the highway department's planned dirt road improvement program for Kent and Sussex counties.

AMERICA'S HOME-TOWN PRESS

This newspaper—along with the 9,000 other weeklies nation—takes prideful note of the 22nd annual observance of National Newspaper Week beginning Oct. 15. We'll be continuing business at the same old stand—getting the very best issue we can.

Meanwhile, Guy Easterly, hard-working president of the Editorial Association and fellow publisher of the (Tenn.) Press, has a few words to say about America's home-town press—words that express why we publish this newspaper. Take it away, Mr. Easterly.

This year's celebration is being launched under the theme: "Your Newspaper—Heritage of Truth, Frontier of Progress." Nowhere than in Home-town America is this slogan more apt.

For your community newspaper stands sentinel to the American way of life. That is our responsibility. Here in the heritage of freedom, handed down by our fathers. We believe in an honest day's work for an honest day's pay. We believe in self-government—that in the hands of the people, our way of life is safe. And we believe that a civilized state or regimented society can replace that which we now enjoy."

Hofstra Hands Hens First Loss, 14-0; Delaware Draws Open Date Before Ohio

Delaware dropped from the unbeaten ranks last Saturday as an inspired Hofstra eleven engineered a stunning 14-0 upset at Hempstead. L. I. Dave Nelson's Fighting Blue Hens have an open date this Saturday, returning to action against Ohio University on Saturday, Oct. 28, in the homecoming test at Delaware Stadium.

The Flying Dutchmen, who fought as if this were the toughest test of their lives—and it may have been—turned loose a 192-pound terror who ran, passed and kicked his team to revenge over a Delaware squad that downed Hofstra 20-0 last year.

"Look out for Ron Zoia" had been the warning of Delaware scouts, and the big junior lived up to his reputation by passing for one touchdown; running for another; completing a two-point conversion toss and rolling up a total offense of 176 yards. He also turned in a 40-yard punting average.

Zoia gained 110 yards rushing in 10 carries, and completed six of 24 passes for 66 yards. Averages considered, he was outpassed by Delaware's Ted Kempki, but Zoia consistently was able to deliver the crucial yardage that kept the Long Islanders' offense moving.

Zoia was assisted by fullback Don Hanington, who gained 82 yards in 14 carries; halfback Jim Stamos, who caught two passes for 35 yards and made a timely runback of an intercepted pass for 18; and a hard-charging Hofstra line that contained Delaware's formidable running game.

Despite the whitewashing, the Hens' individual statistics suffered little. The visitors penetrated deep into Hofstra territory five times, but the Dutchmen consistently stopped their opponents on fourth down-and-short-yardage situations.

A standout in defeat was quarterback Kempki, who threw only one less pass than he had thrown in all of the previous three games. The Wilmington native hit on seven of 18 passing attempts for 138 yards. Cool while facing the toughest line to date, the 174-pound junior kept the Hens threatening in all four quarters.

Total offense leader Joe Slobojan, Glenside (Pa.) junior, carried the ball 17 times for 75 yards, including a 28-yard jaunt early in the first quarter. His halfback counterpart, sophomore Mike Brown of Wilmington, gained 38 yards in 12 carries to finish second among Hen rushers.

Delaware ends were busy: Tom Harrison, like Kempki, a Salesianum School product, caught two for 31 yards; Barry Fetterman nabbed one for 29; Ollie Baker snagged one for 25; and Wilmingtonians Dick Broadbent and Mike Brown caught one each for 16 and 17 yards; while Johnny Wallace, a sophomore, received a 10-yard pass.

Another luminary under a dark Long Island sky was sophomore end Arnie Rozenal, a native of Latvia who now lives in Long Branch, N. J. The 185-pound Rozenal punted four times for 187 yards and an impressive 47-yard average. He also made his first non-punting appearance for the Hens, and the injury which had hobbled him now appears to have healed. A speedy, elusive wingman when healthy, he bolsters the Hen passing attack.

Hofstra, noticeably up for their biggest contest in years, amassed a 292-yard total offense to the visitors' 273. The Dutchmen gained 210 yards rushing, 82 passing; Delaware totaled 135 rushing, 138 passing. First downs were divided—16 for Hofstra, 11 for Delaware.

Despite the loss, Delaware retained its Middle Atlantic Conference lead. The Hens, 2-0 in league competition, were aided by a Rutgers win over Bucknell; the Bisons had been tied with Delaware for first place. Rutgers is now 1-0 in MAC standings.

Delaware's overall mark is now 3-1. Hofstra, by winning, stretched its season log to 3-0; they're now 19-1 in games since 1959.

"Bunny" Walter Announces New Billiards Tournament

Charles "Bunny" Walter has announced that entries are open for the annual Newark Billiards Academy Championship Tournament, which is scheduled to begin next month in two classes—Class A, and Class B handicap.

Neil Beckett is the Class A defending champion, and Ron Huff is the defending champ in Class B handicap play.

Chum Tweed and Warren Four-acre finished second and third in Class A play last year, and Lou Fisher and Lum Thorpe were runners-up in handicap competition.

by Gibby Young

Hofstra's Flying Dutchmen blasted Hen hopes for an undefeated season with an unexpected broadside to sink Admiral Nelson's Delaware crew last Saturday at Hempstead.

But the Delawareans have plenty of company with last Saturday's first setback suffers—Maryland and Duke, to name just two, had holes punched in unbeaten cards. But all is not lost in the Hen camp. Delaware leads its Middle Atlantic Conference division—unbeaten in conference play—and the Hens draw a free week-end coming up in preparation for a tough Homecoming test with Ohio. And Ohio is in for a tough afternoon here on Oct. 28.

THE NEWARK POST

The Newark Post, Newark, Delaware, Thursday, October 19, 1961

Six

Mississippi's Truitt Ginn, fishing recently with his party of six out of Bowers Beach aboard Capt. Gummy Faulkner's party boat Delaware Bay, reports an impressive catch of 120 trout and kingfish.

With Truitt and Capt. Faulkner were DeWitt Smith and his Dad; Jack McHenry, John Redmond, and Bob Lawson—and all caught fish aplenty.

"We caught some sharks, eels, and oyster crackers, too," Mr. Ginn continued, "and DeWitt's Dad wouldn't let us throw the eels back." Truitt concluded, still puzzled.

"I like 'em," Mr. Smith said simply. "Eels are good eating." Happy Harold Wilkins, the Elsmere fire-fighter and Newark Post compositor, finally showed up at long last a couple of Saturdays ago on the oceanfront beach below Dewey with surfman companion Bill Wright, for a long delayed go at the Delaware bluefish.

Messrs. Wilkins and Wright took a stand some 100-yards south of us in the glare from a perfect bit of October's bright blue weather, and from time to time, Harold would glare, too, at the trio to the north as they dragged a bouncing blue from the foaming white wash of the sea.

One "big blue" proved to be a medium-sized skate, and Mr. Wilkins felt better about that one. But it is a bit irritating for the best of sportsmen to see others hauling fish while their personal lines are unattended.

One-Quarter Blue
With Lindsey Reynolds, Little Bill, and Chesapeake Buck, we had five and one-quarter bluefish in the bucket when Harold and Bill Wright trudged up to us with their announced intention of quitting the chase and driving down to the Indian River Inlet for some improved fishing.

That quarter of a bluefish resulted when something big hit in the surf bit off a blue close and clean, just off the gills, as a snapper-size blue was being reeled in by Lindsey.

We caught two more blues after Harold and Bill departed—not good, but not too bad, either. And still the fatback or migrating mullet had not put in an appearance. We fished with butternut and imported, big mullet obtained from Pleasant McCarty at Mack's in Dewey Beach.

Young Lindsey Reynolds, making his first start in the surf, handled a surf spinning rod like a veteran. Skeins of surf scooters or New England coots were flying low and black just off the ocean; a great flock of cormorants beat their way south right overhead, and to the west, wedges of geese were on the move as sure signs of fall. And if there was any doubt remaining as to the arrival of autumn, the chit in the air as the sun set behind the dunes over the Sussex Shore, was a real convincer.

Fog on the River
Last Friday morning in the heavy fog over the North East River, we managed to get well lost and picked up the same shore we had started from some half hour before.

With Gibby Young, Francis Neide, Bruce Sharp, and Bill Murray aboard the Young Un III out of the Pen-Mar Marina, we tried again, and although we still couldn't find Carpenter's Point in the mist, we did find likely looking grass beds on the western side of the river—and some action.

Bruce Sharp came up with one of the biggest yellow perch we've seen, and Francis Neide caught a smaller but still big yellow ned, and followed this with a whopping big mill roach—taken costing small spoons from spinning tackle.

Bill Murray moaned loudly and with good reason after a big pickerel that followed his lure to the boat without striking, and we had one good bass strike on a surface plug; hooked and lost a nice pike and two better bass on a spoon and pork rind; and missed a couple of other underwater smashes.

The fog finally lifted enough for us to find Carpenter's Point and a sportsman fishing with his wife and daughter from a boat on the edge of the weed beds, who lifted up a trio of three-pound bass for our inspection.

The total kill included nine bucks and three does.

Joe Gaglia Paces Ciesinski's Squad In Two Victories

After losing the first two meets of the cross country season by one point each—and by a shoe lace and a Charlie horse—Coach Ray Ciesinski's Yellowjackets romped to successive wins over Conrad and De La Warr by scores of 47-16 and 41-20.

Joe Gaglia led the Yellowjackets and their opponents to win first place in both meets over the 2.3-mile course at Rockford Park.

Only one Conrad runner—a fifth place finisher—was in the forefront, with Gaglia, Ed Kremer, Gerry Meyers, and Jonathan Owens taking the first four places, and with New York's Richard Hawthorne, Tom Davies, Bruce Jones, Leon Wood, Terry Crowe, Richard Chittenden, and Matt Cray finishing in that order behind Conrad's fifth place man.

Gaglia stepped the distance in 11:57.7 against Conrad last Thursday, and bettered this performance with a time of 11:53 last Monday against De La Warr.

Dickson of De La Warr finished second behind Gaglia, followed by Yellowjackets Gerry Meyers, Jonathan Owens, and Eddie Kremer, with New York's Richard Hawthorne seventh, followed by Tom Davies, Leon Wood, five De La Warr Harriers, and Yellowjacket Terry Crowe.

Ciesinski's squad runs against P.S. du Pont this afternoon, and faces William Penn and Dickinson at Rockford Park next Monday and Wednesday.

Gauger Announces Line-Up For JV's Against Colonials

Coach John Gauger has announced his tentative starting line-up for the Newark Yellowjacket Jayvee football team which meets the William Penn JV's next Monday on the Newark High School field at 4 p.m.

Gauger plans to start with Ends Mike Walker and Nick Nickler; Tackles Charles Straughn and Terry Hicks; Guards Sam Yarrington and Doug Hunt; Center Tom Brown; Quarterback Ken Eggleston; Halfbacks Ralph Conkey and Jan Eachus; and Fullback Russell Roderick.

Last Monday, the Newark Yellowjackets were trampled by the Mt. Pleasant Jayvees on the Green Knights' turf, 34-0.

Gauger's junior varsity opened the season with a 13-0 win over the Conrad Jayvees, but the Yellowjacket juniors ran into successive setbacks by P. S. du Pont, 13-0, and Dickinson, 20-0—and then came Mt. Pleasant.

Hughes, Atkinson, Saunders Score As Newark Loses To Mt. Pleasant

Leading 19-14 with two minutes to go, Coach Bob Hoffman's Yellowjackets had victory turned into defeat as Mt. Pleasant's Ron Pierson broke loose for a 43-yard touchdown, and the Green Knights' Lanny Tindall kicked his third extra point of a gloomy, rainy afternoon at Newark last Saturday for Mt. Pleasant's 21-19 win.

The Yellowjackets with a 1-3 season record, play away at New Castle with Coach Billy Cole's Colonials of William Penn this Saturday at 2 p.m.

In the final minutes of last Saturday's setback of the Blue Hen Conference champions, Pierson's effort capped two successful fourth-quarter drives that enabled the Green Knights to overcome a 19-7 Yellowjacket lead.

Seconds earlier, Mt. Pleasant had moved 77 yards for its second score behind Tindall's passing, with Pierson going across from the seven unmolested after aerials to halfback Dick Lindsay and end Phil Boyle ate up 63 yards.

The Yellowjackets romped to a two-touchdown lead at the start of the second half as a blocked punt and pin-point passing by Quarterback Mike Sinclair.

After End Jim Smith crashed through to smother a kick on the enemy's 13, Halfback Joe Hughes went off-tackle for the score.

Newark then went to work, playing with Halfback Tindall leading over the field with a 33-yard Sinclair shot to Jones at the 17.

Mt. Pleasant struck back in the second period when Tindall downed and one play failed to mark on its own 26.
