Enrollment Increase At U.D. Greatest Since 1945 - 46 Vets

Registrar Robert Gebhardt reports 1,140 Freshmen, Special Students Already Registered; Undergraduate Total 3,100 Expected in 11 Per Cent Rise Over 1960

Increased enrollment at the University of Delaware was reported today by Registrar Robert Gebhardt following tabulation of preliminary registration figures, and Gebhardt states that this year's increase is the largest since the 1945-46 veteran's bulge. With 1,140 freshmen and special students already registered and more to come during registration periods, the final undergraduate total is expected to top 3,100.

The increase is approximately 14 per cent above last year's total, and is a predicted six per cent rise in college enrollments nationwide. The University of Delaware's enrollment is expected to be one of the highest in the nation.

At School Sets Pace

A dramatic change came in the field of agriculture with 32 students more than in the year 1960. Other major increases were reported in the schools of education and arts and sciences. The preliminary registration to the University of Delaware included 1,140 freshmen and special students, and 1,960 graduate students.

Graduate students' enrollment was up 10 per cent over last year's. The increase in graduate enrollment is principally due to the university's expansion of its graduate programs.

Four Lettermen In Yellowjacket Line-Up As Champs Face Conrad Saturday Opener

Coach Bob Hoffman has announced his tentative starting line-up for Newark High School's Yellowjacket co-champions of the Blue Hen Conference who face Conrad this Saturday, away, at 2 p.m. in the opener of a nine-game football season.

Hoffman plans to go with his four returning lettermen — Arnie Saunders at end; Martin Clancy at tackle; and Teddy Atkinson and Joe Hughes at halfbacks.

Walt Jones, a 175-pounder, is slated for a starting assignment at end; Gerald Godbey, a 245-lb. bul-work is expected to anchor the line as a tackle opposite the 190-lb. Clancy; and Mike Drendall, 160, and Tom Hannagan, 150, are slated for starting guard spots.

Martin Whiteman, light but fast and aggressive at 155-lbs. is scheduled to start at center.

A pair of Mike-Sinclair and Kubicek are a toss-up for starting quarterback. Sinclair weighs in around 150, and Kubicek is a bit heavier.

With the veteran letter-winners Atkinson at 160, and Hughes at 165 as halfbacks, Hoffman will call on Lee Hackney, a 170-pounder, for his first line fullback.

handle kick-offs, Hoffman reports. Arnie Saunders and Joe Brothers — Brothers is a reserve end — are scheduled for the Yellowjacket kick-off assignments, with Brothers to Coach John Gauger's Yellowjacket jayvees will open at Woodcrest against the Conrad junior varsity next Monday afternoon.

Richards Defeats McMinn On 24th

Sank Richards had to go 24 holes before defeating Doug McMinn in the quarter finals of the Oaklands Tournament last weekend.

Art Matthews trounced Dick Bauer, 5-4; Steve Macuga turned back Bill Whitman 3-2; and Mike Turnbull topped Chauncey Dean 3-2 in other matches.

Semi-finals will pit Richards against Matthews, and Macuga against Turnbull.

In the second flight, Warren Anderson beat Bill Tapani, 6-4; Rod Matheson stopped Don Buckman, 5-4; Gordon Cannoles beat Bob Angstadt, 3-2; and Harold Meade downed Frank Miller, 1-up.

In the semi-finals, Anderson meets Matheson and Cannoles plays Meade.

Several four-pounders.

Bottom fishing with peeler crab early that afternoon just out of Rock Hall, we quickly boated some three dozen big white perch, a dozen unwanted toadfish, and surprisingly enough for the salt Chesapeake, a common sunfish and a pair of husky channel cats.

Well, we had forgotten that last—six great strippers between 13 and 15-lbs.—taken some six years ago in a couple of hours of fishing just ahead of a delayed hurricane.

Mr. Neide required no persuasion, either, and so last Friday evening, we rode a roller coaster of great waves bowling before a northeast wind, southwest down the bay.

Trolling briefly just south of Rock Hall, we headed up the Chester River after failing to get a strike from any sunset feeding rock, and anchored in the calm shallows of a northern lee shore while the wind whistled just over the cabin roof.

All hands were comfortable enough until a radio announcer from Baltimore's WFER reported over Ben Scott's portable that the temperature at North and Charles streets was 67 degrees, with a low of 42 predicted that night in the suburbs.

"It is getting cold!" Mr. Neide said with a shiver as a scheduled fish fry degenerated into a celery soup and baked bean supper as a result of a total lack of cooperation on the part of the marine residents of Chesapeake Bay.

The air became more and more chilly until a bucketful of the Chester River dipped up for dish washing felt like warm water from the plumbing back at home, and after the radio weatherman confirmed his previous prediction, we zipped up the sleeping bags and settled down for what had all the earmarks of being a long, rough night.

But a good sleeping bag is the answer to outdoor nocturnal comfort, and after a sleepy blink or two, a heaven full of bright stars had given way to a glorious sunrise, and the only hazard remaining was that of climbing out of bed into what was a cold, cold morning.

Hot coffee, bacon and eggs dispelled some of the early morning chill, and the fast rising sun took over from there as we headed out toward the Love Point light, trolling four lines with a variety of spoons and bucktails at varying depths.

Swarms of birds were hovering over the rough water, and although breaking rock were hard to see in the welter of whitecaps driving down the bay before a nasty northwester, we could occasionally see the foaming lunges of a rockfish beneath the shrieking gulls.

Francis had a good strike, hooked the fish, and had it almost to the boat when somehow the fish got off. And then he had another strike from a fish that stripped nearly all the line from his big reel before Gibby could bring the boat about. And we lost that one, too, without seeing it.

The third and last strike of the trolling trip resulted in a large oyster shell that was safely boated after it had been snagged by a bucktail and reeled in twisting and tugging against the drag of the boat and water to simulate a very real rock, indeed.

Putting into Rock Hall for gas at noon, we learned that fishing had been on the slim side even for the pros, but that one boat had come in with 80 pounds of pan rock, including several four-pounders.

Wegman Bowlers Lead As Classic League Opens

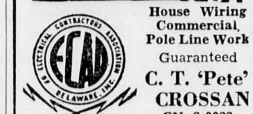

Wegman Brothers swept three games in Newark Classic League opener last Thursday to take undefeated first place, with Jim Alphin rolling a 586; Frank Dunn, 577; Joe Delcollo, 566; Frank Porter, 567, and Mox Brown, 557.

The Browns defeated Stimmel, 2-1, with Lou McCleary's 576 and Bob Hopkins' 531 pacing the victors, and Dave Stimmel's 577 and Walt Mackey's 547 leading the losers.

Harold Annabell's 534 and Fred Eldreth's 526 aided Eldreth's 2-1 win over Calvert's Sunoco, although Ken Griest and Bob Calvert rolled a big 562 and 529 for the losers.

We had that fish fry after all—a day late, but better late than never—in a beautiful cove at the mouth of Fairlee Creek, on the way home.

Chicks Aid Hens With Preparation For Lehigh Test

Coach Scotty Duncan's freshmen are helping prepare Delaware's football team for its opener with Lehigh here this Saturday.

And the freshmen include three of the best scholastic football players in the state last season—Conrad High's Ron Bianco; Newark's Lloyd Wells; and Milford's Jim Smack.

The freshmen held their first practice on Sept. 11, and have been running against the varsity.

Bianco, a tackle, and Wells, a halfback, were first team All-Staters. Smack, a fullback, was third team All-State.

Bianco was chosen the Outstanding Linemen in the recent Delaware All-Star High School Game.

Wells was high in the running for the Outstanding Player prize until receiving a leg injury late in the first half.

In recent scrimmage, Luke Lackman, junior end from Newark, incurred a laceration above his eye that required seven stitches.
