106 VOTERS LOSE CASE IN TOWN ELECTION

Lost Ballot Due To Own Fault, Claims Judge Speakman

Judge Speakman discharged a petition of 106 Newark voters in town election of last April, saying it was more their own fault than the councilmen who were elected as follows: Norman E. Battersby, George E. Ramsey, and Rodney H. Dann.

However, Daniel L. Herrman of the firm of Lynch and Herrman—representing those seeking the quo warranto proceedings—immediately filed a motion for a reargument of the matter.

According to the information filed in the case, the non-property owning residents who were not permitted to vote were qualified to do so except for the fact that they had not paid a capitation or poll tax for the year preceding the election. Through an agent, Harry H. Cleaves, they made unsuccessful attempts to pay the tax on election day last April and the day before. But the town assessor and town treasurer refused to assess or receive a capitation or poll tax from any of the individuals represented by Cleaves.

ORATORIO CHOIR TO PRESENT "REQUIEM"

Thomas Hilbish To Direct Choir Of 76 Picked Voices

Music-lovers throughout the state have been invited to share with the University of Delaware staff and students the opportunity to hear the Oratorio Choir of Westminster Choir College present Verdi's "Requiem" in Mitchell Hall on Tuesday, November 25, at 8:15 p. m. No tickets are required and no seat reservations can be made, according to an announcement made by representatives of the Student Government Association and the Department of Music, joint sponsors of the concert.

Thomas Hilbish has been selected to direct the choir of 76 picked voices. Soloists, all students at Westminster, include Miss Martha Godfrey, soprano; Miss Joyce Barkman, alto; James Campbell, tenor, and Paul Snyder, baritone.

John Davis, of the Westminster faculty, will provide the organ accompaniment.

A special informative lecture on Verdi's "Requiem" will be offered to any interested persons on Friday, November 21, at 4 p. m., in Old College by Prof. A. J. Loudis, head of the Music Department. Recorded excerpts from the oratorio will be featured.

History records that the "Requiem," first performed in St. Mark's in Milan in 1874, touched off a musical controversy because its dramatic sweep seemed out of focus with its intended religious background. Composed in honor of the Italian patriot Manzoni, the oratorio has out-lived the fame of the man it commemorates, and ranks today as one of the giants of all choral literature.

ROTARY CLUB WINS CONTEST

Larry Carothers Chairman

Silas W. Pettit, member of the Newark Rotary Club, addressed the meeting of the club last Monday evening on the subject of "Recent Improvements in Television."

He stated that changes are being made in broadcasting stations which would result in greatly improved television reception within the next three months. Even in the last few months, he pointed out, the quality of television has improved to the point where Newark residents can enjoy the programs being televised.

Edwin C. Moore and Joe Kleckner, members of the New Castle Rotary Club, attended the meeting. They brought with them an invitation from the New Castle Club to the Newark members to attend their meeting in New Castle on Tuesday, December 9, as guests of the New Castle Club.

During a recent five week attendance contest between the two organizations, the Newark members achieved a 96.4% attendance record to surpass the New Castle record of 92%. It had previously been agreed that the winning club would be entertained by the losing club at dinner at the expense of the loser.

Mrs. Reed To Be Principal Speaker In A Special Program

Mrs. Dorothy Reed, a Smith College graduate who with her husband administered World Student Service Funds in post-war Greece, will be guest speaker at a special University Hour program sponsored by the University of Delaware's World-Relief Fund Committee. Mrs. Reed will not only describe the situation as she found it in Greece, but also the state of the present emergency in that part of Europe.

This lecture is part of an indoctrination program planned by the University World-Relief Fund committee to illustrate the need for help which exists among students in Europe and in Asia.

The committee, of which Dr. Carl J. Rees, chairman of the department of mathematics, and Miss Dolores Tondat, president of the International Relations Club, are co-chairmen, has set a goal of $5,000 to be contributed towards the relief of such scholars. Sale of chrysanthemums at the University of Delaware, Franklin & Marshall football game initiated the campaign, when a total of nearly $200 was cleared toward the project.

FREE FOODS TO DELAWARE SCHOOLS

Body Building Foods To Be Granted

Free distribution of large quantities of body building foods by the U. S. Department of Agriculture to Delaware school children participating in the National School Lunch Program was announced by J. J. Ditttrick, in charge of food distribution programs of the Production and Marketing Administration in the Northeast.

This distribution in Delaware, in addition to the foods normally purchased by the schools to make up the balanced lunches served under the program, includes over 7,000 gallons of canned tomato juice, over 30 thousand pounds of canned tomatoes, as well as sizeable quantities of non-fat dry milk, concentrated orange juice, dried fruits, dried whole eggs, Irish potatoes, and sweet potatoes.

Some of these foods, among them the canned tomatoes, tomato juice, concentrated orange juice, and the non-fat dry milk, were acquired by the Department of Agriculture with funds specifically earmarked for this purpose by the Congressional appropriation for the National School Lunch Program. In the case of non-fat dry milk, schools which receive this commodity will be required to certify that none of it will be used as a substitute for normal purchases of whole fresh milk.

Other foods allocated to Delaware schools—Irish potatoes, sweetpotatoes, dried whole eggs, and dried fruit—were acquired by the Department of Agriculture under its price support operations. These foods are also being made available to welfare institutions in Delaware.

4-H CLUBS MEMBERS IN DEBATE

Plans For A Dance On November 25th

The Rural Extension Club of New Castle County heard an interesting debate at their regular monthly meeting held at the Middletown Fire Hall, on the question, resolved—"That rural life offers more advantages than city life." Charlotte Laws, Norman Collins, and Joseph Maloney were members of the affirmative. Katharine Frazee, Jean Lee, and Linwood Conner, were the negative. Miss M. Katharine Jones, home demonstration agent, Mr. James Owen, University of Delaware student, and Mr. Cortland Schoonover, of St. Andrew's School, served as judges. In presenting the decision of the judges, Mr. Owen commented that while the judges were unanimous in their opinion that rural life had many advantages over city life, that they were also unanimous in their decision that the negative team was the winner.

The debate was followed by an active game period led by Mr. Raymond Lindell, which the entire group of 35 enjoyed immensely.

The business session was presided over by club president, Edward Williams. Miss Hannah Mitchell made a report on the recent tour of the club to Rutgers University.

Mr. Maurice Field, agricultural extension advisor of the group, reported on the Older Youth section of the Northeastern States Extension Conference which he attended recently at Jackson's Mill, West Va.

The group also decided to make plans for a Square Dance to be held at the Middletown High School on November 25th, the Tuesday night before Thanksgiving and a December Christmas Party featuring a play at St. Georges School on December 8th, the regular meeting night of the club.

The congratulations of the club was made to the program committee, Charlotte Laws, Evelyn Boyd and Raymond Lindell for the very interesting and educational meeting.

POULTRY GROUP OFFER 4-H AWARDS

650 Members Set For Goal

Awards to the outstanding 4-H and FFA Poultry Boy or Girl of the year have been made available by the Delaware Poultry Improvement Association, as a means of encouraging rural young people with poultry project work, announces J. Frank Gordy, secretary of the association.

Separate awards, as yet undetermined, will be given the 4-H and FFA members.

The outstanding boy or girl from each organization will be chosen by leaders of their respective groups. Awards will be presented at the annual banquet of the DPIA next January.

A DPIA county medal will be presented to the 4-H members who excels in poultry project work and records, demonstrations, or who wins first prize in poultry judging at the Kent-Sussex Fair. A similar medal will go to the FFA member winning first place in poultry judging during the annual FFA convention, or for the best record in poultry projects or demonstrations.

Making available these awards to recognize young poultry growers is one of the activities of the Delaware Poultry Improvement Association. During November, a membership drive is underway, with a goal of 650 members for 1948.

The DPIA, an organization to promote the general welfare of the entire poultry industry in Delaware, is co-operating with the University of Delaware Agricultural Experiment Station, the Extension Service and the State Board of Agriculture.

Ware Abouts

Whoa! As usual, we opened our big mouth and put our feet in it . . . when we stated last week that there was space available to advertisers in the small Newark telephone book soon to be published. We have been deluged with space until there just isn't any left. So, if you were left out we're sincerely sorry but to keep accepting advertisements means more pages and be adding more pages we would defeat the very essence of brevity which makes this handy, convenient local directory so popular.

Distribution of these books is tentatively scheduled for December 1 . . . every subscriber listed under the Newark exchange will receive a copy in the mail—free of any cost or obligation. Additional copies will be available—also free—at the Newark Post office on and after that date . . . and you're welcome to all you need—if you'll just call for them.

Answering many questions received this week—this newspaper will publish as usual on Thanksgiving and Christmas days, which both fall on Thursday, and subscribers should receive their Post in the mail Friday morning—as usual.

In addition to being highly satisfactory neighbors, the Richard Stouts who live across the street from us on exclusive Linden Street, are the parents of twin sons who so closely resemble each other that often we have to shake our head to make sure we're not dreaming . . . or seeing things.

That in itself isn't so strange for we also have another lovely set of twins in our immediate neighborhood—Rosetta and Mary Elizabeth Pettit, gracious and attractive daughters of the Silas W. Pettits, 39 N. Choate Street. But what we started out to say about the Stout twins is that they both play the same position on the Salesianum football team . . . and they're both pretty darn good football players, too.

In fact they're so well thought of by Sallies rooters that their picture appeared in the sport section of last Sunday's Star with this comment: "Ed and Joe Stout . . . They bear such close resemblance that Father O'Neill, Sallies coach, seldom knows from appearance which one he's sending into the game. They fight each other for the tackle slot."

The 106 Newark residents who were refused the right to vote in the Town Election, held last April, lost their ballot due to their own fault is what Resident Judge Frank L. Speakman said, in effect, when he discharged the petition to require Councilman Battersby, Ramsey and Dann to show by what warrant they claim to hold office.

Instituted last April when the Town Assessor and officers of the Council refused to permit their alleged agent, Harry H. Cleaves, to pay their capitation or poll tax on election day in order that they might vote despite the fact that they had failed to comply with the registration requirements, the suit was delayed, postponed and not acted upon definitely for nearly seven months and then the decision was just what everybody except the petitioning parties expected it to be.

We sincerely hope none of our bar-risters take this yarn seriously for it is not so meant . . . it just strikes us as being worth a chuckle and in the hope that maybe you haven't heard it before, here 'tis:

"A man who went away from home to attend a convention of church people was struck by the beauty of the little town in which the gathering was held. He had plenty of time and while wandering about, walked into the village cemetery.

"It was a beautiful place, and the delegate walked around among the graves. Seeing the largest monument in the cemetery, he read with some surprise the inscription on it:

"A Lawyer and an Honest Man."

"The delegate scratched his head and looked again. He read the inscription over and over. Then he walked all around the monument and examined the grave closely. Another man in the cemetery approached and asked him:

"Have you found the grave of an old friend?"

"No," said the delegate, "but I was wondering how they came to bury those two fellows in the same grave."

We wouldn't know about such things but maybe some of our readers can appreciate Police Chief Vandervalk's (Hawthorne, N. J.) observation that drunks come in an even dozen varieties. According to the Associated Press story carried in daily papers on November 13: "Some sing, some cry, some pray and some want to fight. Each must be placed in his proper category and treated accordingly for best results. The 12 types, he said, are:

1. The leaning drunk—wants to lean on something or somebody.
2. The singing drunk—harmless but a nuisance.
3. The crying drunk—wants to weep on some convenient shoulder.
4. The running drunk—half runs and half staggers as he goes.
5. The fighting drunk—gets nasty after a few drinks and wants to fight everyone.
6. The wife beating drunk—always wants to pick a fight with his wife.
7. The charitable drunk—gives away money or anything else he has with him.
8. The religious drunk—heads for the nearest church and goes to sleep.
9. The suspicious drunk—always suspicious of everyone.
10. The talking drunk—wants to make a speech.
11. The important drunk—feels big and knows all the important people.
12. The loving drunk—wants to hug and kiss every woman he meets.

The Sports Post

By Sean N Hurd

That strange sound you may have heard in Newark at about 4:40 P. M. last Saturday which increased steadily in volume has been identified. It was the full-blown groan emitted by the hundreds of Blue Hen fans who hugged their radios jubilantly for more than 59 minutes of playing time as Delaware held the upper hand over Muhlenberg. But the groan was caused by the final seconds of action. On the final play of the game a razzle-dazzle Mule pass play clicked—and with it vanished what had been a mighty clear vision of a Blue Hen upset victory.

It was hard to believe and hard to take, that 20-14 defeat by Muhlenberg. It was all right to report here in previous weeks how Ohio State licked Northwestern 7-6 after time ran out; and how Dartmouth, trailing 10-7, won over Brown 13-0 by scoring a touchdown in the last eleven seconds; and how Navy gained a 14-14 tie with Duke by scoring and converting in the last ten seconds. But it was never supposed to happen to our own Blue Hens. Yet we've pinched ourselves again and again—and still the big, bold, black type shows Muhlenberg 20-Delaware 14.

Thus three road trips by Mentor Murray's men this year resulted in triple disaster. The first journey resulted in a 43-19 rout by Maryland which abruptly wrecked the Hens 32-game undefeated streak. Then Bucknell bumped the Big Blue 13-12 as the Hens attempted to rebound. And finally a Frank Merrywell finish by Muhlenberg wrote finis to Delaware's journeys from home.

But all that's past. Now the men led by Marusa and Messick have another record to defend. Never has a Delaware eleven dropped a decision in Wilmington Park. To uphold that remaining record come Saturday afternoon the Hens will have to be at the peak of their playing ability—for they face the gridiron forces from Washington and Lee who have played an almost major league schedule which included clashes with Richmond, West Virginia, Virginia, Army, and William and Mary. The generals include in their line-up a lad named Dick Working who is one of the nation's leading collegiate passers. Two of his tosses went for touchdowns against Army. The Blue Hens will have to organize some kind of strike to keep Dick from working.

Saturday's set-to will be the finale for both clubs and not only will a win for Delaware be an added feather in the Hens' raiment but it would give them a favorable five to three balance for the season.

GRID GRITS. Another flashy finish took place up at Cambridge last Saturday when an underdog Harvard team scored a touchdown in the final 90 seconds to bump favored Brown 13-7. . . . And here's still another furious finish. Trailing 7-0 Susquehanna marched 91 yards on seven consecutive passes in the last 60 seconds to gain a 7-7 stalemate with Allegheny. . . . Dropped from the ranks of the nation's major undefeated and untied teams were Georgia Tech, Utah, and neighboring Pennsylvania. . . . Penn's 7-7 tie with Army blasted the Quakers hopes for their first perfect gridiron season. However, with only Cornell to be met, George Munger's team should certainly go through undefeated. . . . Last week as undefeated Penn State faced hard-luck Navy, many asked disparagingly "Who has Penn State licked?" Those folks received a sharp answer as the Nittany Lions sank the Navy 20-7 to remain the only major undefeated and untied eleven in the east. . . . Last year one team which continually nudged Delaware for the smaller college spotlight was Wesleyan. Last Saturday Wesleyan won its 15th straight and completed its second successive perfect season by taking previously undefeated Trinity by a 13-0 score. . . . And speaking of stainless records here's a bow to West Chester T. C. With nine straight victories this year the Teachers now have gone through 14 games without a setback and will be one of the participants in the Burley Bowl game down in Johnson City, Tennessee, on Thanksgiving Day. . . . Running true to form Michigan State topped Temple 14-6. Captain of the strong Spartan eleven is a lad named Bob McCurry. You're right, it's the same McCurry who played center for the Blue Hens before going off to the wars. . . . Maryland's Terrapins met a tartar in North Carolina's Tarheels and went down 19-10. But a closer view of the game shows that North Carolina scored all of its points on two Maryland fumbles and an intercepted pass in the final period. . . . On Saturday morning last Dr. Eddie Anderson, Iowa coach, announced his resignation, presumably because of a poor season. That afternoon his Iowa team upset favored Minnesota 13-7. That seems to be going to extremes in order to reach a victory. . . . Our personal feud with Wake Forest is still on. For the fourth straight week we failed to get together. This time we picked the Deacons again so they dropped a 20-0 decision to North Carolina State.

THIS WEEK'S PREDICTIONS. It doesn't take too much to encourage us and a .771 selection record last week has caused us to extend our neck again by telling you that we believe it will be: Alabama over L. S. U.; Boston College over St. Mary's; California over Stanford; Clemson over Auburn; Colgate over Boston Univ.; Columbia over Syracuse; Florida over Miami; Georgia

MUHLENBERG TRIUMPHS OVER DELAWARE IN LAST MINUTE PLAY, SCORE 20-14

On Saturday Afternoon The Blue Hens Will Meet A Passing Machine Of Washington And Lee At Wilmington Park; Kick-Off 2 P. M.

In a super thriller that was decided on the last play of the game, Muhlenberg College defeated Delaware 20 to 14. It was revenge for the 20-12 beating Muhlenberg received from the Mud Hens in Wilmington last year but until the last minute of the game it appeared the Delaware visitors were again destined to master the Pennsylvanians.

Thirty seconds of play remained when Coady punted on fourth down to Muhlenberg's 40. The Mud Hens held an apparently safe lead of 14-13. The Mules had been unable to break loose for long runs at any time in the contest and their passing game had been pretty well smothered.

A play that will be remembered for years brought the payoff score. Russ Strait, Mule back, started a straight buck toward the Delaware line. As he hit the line he lateraled to Bell, but kept going full tilt down the field. The quarterback (Bell) threw a 30 yard pass, which the same Strait caught, and continued on to a touchdown. The Mules crossed the Hens on the extra point, too. They elected to pass instead of kick, and again Strait gathered the ball into his arms for the extra tally. Just after the catch, the gun ended the contest. During the rest of the contest, Muhlenberg played as though it were allergic to pigskin. Although it rolled 10 first downs to five for Delaware, it fumbled nine times two of the muffs being indirectly responsible for Mud Hen touchdowns.

Bell, Muhlenberg's quarterback, fumbled on the very first play, the opening kickoff and Mettenet recovered on Muhlenberg's 14. Delaware was held for downs and Mules were forced to kick and Delaware took over on the 21. After two losing plays Stalloni passed to Mettenet for the score and Bilski kicked the extra point.

Muhlenberg tied it up in the second quarter by intercepting a lateral on Delaware's fifteen and went on to score. Another Muhlenberg fumble enabled Delaware to grab the half-time lead. Delaware recovered the ball on the Mules' 35 and Stalloni scored from the two with Bilski kicking for the extra point.

Hope was aroused in Muhlenberg's breasts in the fourth period when the Mules staged a 54 yard drive from their own 46, racking up three first downs in the process. Strait went over from the eight, but gloom fell when Bell's attempt for the extra point was blocked, making the score 14-13, with three minutes to play Delaware took over and was forced to kick on the fourth down and the Mules took over on the 40 and then came the pass of the afternoon which won the game.

SOCCER TEAM WINS TWO

Delaware's soccer team won its first in eight starts on Thursday by upsetting West Chester, 5-4, on Frazer Field. Bob Brodie booted a penalty goal in the last minute of play to break a 4-4 tie, its first win. The Blue Hens took an early 2-0 lead in the first period on scores by Travis and Richards. Travis added another in the third period and Ewing booted one to put the Hens well on top, 4-0.

On Saturday the soccer team caught fire again and trimmed a highly-rated Johns Hopkins eleven at Baltimore, 6-2. The soccermen will close their campaign Friday when they will seek to make it three in a row over the Gettysburg Bullets.

LOCAL TEAM TO TACKLE DEEPWATER

Newark Team Won Last Three Games

The Newark Athletic Club Football team, coached by "Cue Ball" Martin, continued its winning streak by defeating Stanton of the Suburban League, 19-0. Robert Reed got away on several long runs, which one was a touchdown run of 55 yards and called back because of a man in motion.

The fullback positions were held down by Billy Lewis and Harvey Hackett, on the line Andrew Gaston, Jim Gatewood, Punt Blocker Wollaston and the ends, Donovan, and Saunders with Doc Dougherty throwing passes.

If the team can defeat Happy Valley of the Senior League, on Sunday, November 30th, they will challenge the winners of the Wilmington Open League later in the season, for a post-season game and the state championship. This Sunday, November 22, the Newark team will tackle Deepwater Eagles on Stafford's Field with the kickoff at 2:30 p. m.

YELLOW JACKETS NOSE OUT A. I. DUPONT FOR FIFTH WIN OF SEASON

Newark Idle This Week-End Will Invade Conrad On Thanksgiving Day To Complete Their Season; Kick-Off Scheduled For 11:00 A. M.

The Newark eleven nosed out A. I. duPont 13-0 for their fifth win of the season Saturday, November 15, on a sloppy field.

A. I. duPont's only threat came in the beginning of the first period when Wollaston fumbled and the Tigers recovered on Newark's 30. Newark's defense held on downs and took over. Throughout the second period Newark marched down the field only to be stopped on penalties. The Yellow Jackets were not to be denied when Tom Murphy, brilliant halfback, romped 12 yards for the first score. Bob Gregg converted to give Newark a 7-0 lead at the half.

Gettysburg scored three times in the first half to take a 19-0 lead. All three Orange and Blue scores were made via the air with two of the scores coming in the first period.

The Chicks scored in the third quarter on a line buck by Bob Hogan after they had recovered a Gettysburg fumble on the 14. Bill Butterbaugh converted.

A MAN OF THE WORLD

Yes, and we mean in an important sense, for the eyes of the World are upon him.

He is the American farmer.

He, alone, among the farmers of the major nations, is able to feed his own countrymen and hungry millions in other lands. Last year he sent 20 million tons of food abroad while maintaining our own diet level—already the best in the world.

This high production efficiency—achieved by the persistent application of new tools and scientific discoveries—must be maintained in months to come. For food is still fighting for peace.

And so is steel.

Steel companies, which already have set new peacetime production records, are spending more than one billion dollars on improvements and expansion to meet the needs of reconstruction abroad and our expanding economy at home.

Through steel and farm production lies a great source of American strength. And only the strong can hope to keep the peace.

DELAWARE PEACE PLATE

Homemakers To Cooperate

The "Peace Plate" is a familiar term to most homemakers who are cooperating in the nationwide food conservation program. Menus featuring dishes made from foods which are not on the critically needed list are being made available to homemakers all over the country by the Citizens Food Committee.

For Delaware homemakers in their efforts to cooperate in the food conservation program and at the same time utilize poultry from Delaware farmers, a "Delaware Peace Plate" menu is suggested by Miss M. Gertrude Holloway, Nutrition Specialist, Agricultural Extension Service. The Delaware menu would feature chicken or turkey, sweet potatoes, a green vegetable possibly broccoli or turnip greens, a salad and an apple dessert. "All of these foods are available in Delaware just now and using them will save grain, vitally needed in the European Aid program," says Miss Holloway.

Broilers, turkeys, and fowl are available as a result of the cooperation of Delaware farmers in the grain conservation program.

106 Voters

Referring to this, and to the actions of the town assessor and town council, Judge Speakman wrote: "The assessor plainly fails to perform his duty to assess citizens of the town for a poll tax. Likewise, the notices of the inferior 'registration days' and the notices concerning the assessment of real estate (both made by council) did not constitute a compliance with charter requirements so far as notification of the time and place of hearing appeals with relation to the poll tax is concerned."

"However, the failure of the assessor and of the council fully to perform their duty does not aid the relators' case. The charter prescribes periods during which assessment shall be made and notices of hearings of appeals shall be given. Any resident who felt aggrieved because of the neglect or default of the assessor to assess him for a poll tax could, within the respective periods, have applied to the assessor, appealed to the council, or resorted to the courts. It does not appear that any of the 106 persons now objecting took any such steps. Rather, they waited for months after the time for appeals to council and until a few days before the election."

Warren H. Watson In Collision

Warren H. Watson, Newark, was fined $10 and costs by Magistrate Pedrick, of Wilmington, following his collision with a car operated by Roy C. Burris, Holloway Terrace. The collision, which occurred just outside of the city limits on South Market Street, caused $300 damage to Watson's car and $35 to Burris' car.

Engineers

Three juniors and five seniors at the university are also among the initiates. All are veterans whose original studies at college were interrupted by war service. Seven served overseas for an average of two and one-half years.

Six Delawareans are among the students honored by election. They include Daniel DuHamell, Jr., a junior in mechanical engineering, from Newark; Robert L. Hunter, a senior in chemical engineering; John T. McDonough, a junior in electrical engineering; and Edward A. Mulrooney, Jr., a senior in mechanical engineering, all of Wilmington; Richard W. Kunstman, a senior in chemical engineering, from New Castle; and James B. Clements, a junior in chemical engineering, from Milford.

Other students include Henry Brainard, senior in mechanical engineering, from Norwood, Pa., and Robert R. M. Simon, senior in chemical engineering, from Brooklyn, N. Y.

Election to Tau Beta Pi is based upon both scholarship and character, and represents the highest engineering honor open to students. Arnold Schueler is president of the Delaware Alpha Chapter of the national organization. Dr. Jack A. Gerster is faculty adviser.

Delaware Runners Trail In M. A. C. Meet

The first Middle Atlantic College Track and Field Association cross-country meet in 12 years was won by Johnny Kelly and his St. Joseph's teammates of Philadelphia.

Kelly won the individual title by a margin of eight yards over James L. Essig, Rutgers, and James R. Grosholtz, Haverford, who finished in a dead heat for runnerup honors. The St. Joe runner was clocked in 23:33.6 for the four and one-quarter miles.

St. Joe took the team crown with 36 points. Rutgers was second with 66½, Alfred third with 106; and Lafayette fourth with 122. Other teams scores were: Franklin and Marshall, 159; Lehigh, 160; Muhlenberg, 164; Swarthmore, 212; Haverford, 230½; Delaware, 266; Washington College, 291, and Ursinus, 388.

That the average purchaser recognizes quality in merchandise is proven by the increasingly large numbers of customers who insist on Frigidaire.
