TOUR GROWING AS PLANS ARE TAKING SHAPE

Fourth Annual Affair Leads Delmarva Party To Cleveland

STARTS ON AUGUST 22 Lake Trip To Detroit After Stop At Exposition; Peninsula Unites

A day at the Great Lakes Exposition in Cleveland is in store for those who are planning to join the fourth annual Delmarva Tour which is scheduled to leave Wilmington on August 22 for Cleveland and Detroit. The Delmarva Tour, which is sponsored annually by the Delmarva Tour Association in cooperation with the Agricultural Extension Departments of Delaware, Maryland, and Virginia, was originated in Delaware in 1934 to give persons living on the Delmarva Peninsula an opportunity to find out how people in other sections of the country live and to obtain "information and inspiration" in line with the recommendations made to State Agricultural Extension Departments by President Theodore Roosevelt's Country Life Commission which suggested that the work "... so managed as to reach every person in the land with both information and inspiration." A more recent official statement of the scope of extension work adds that "... the aim of extension work should be towards better, happier and more comfortable homes."

Widely Varied Interests

In scheduling a visit to the Great Lakes Exposition for the 1937 Delmarva Tour, extension officials agreed that the exposition would do much to provide information and inspiration to tour members as well as be an interesting stop for a group of people with widely varied interests. The tour is scheduled to arrive in Cleveland Sunday evening, August 22. Hotel accommodations for the group, which is expected to include almost 200 residents of the Delmarva Peninsula, will be provided within easy access of the exposition grounds on Lake Erie and Monday, August 23, will be devoted entirely to the exposition.

From Cleveland, the party will proceed to Detroit, via a lake steamer, and will remain in the Motor City (Continued on Page 2)

POSITIONS ON STAFF OPENED

Unemployment Commission To Conduct Examinations For Applicants

All positions on the staff of the recently organized Unemployment Compensation Commission will be filled by competitive examination, according to a statement issued by that body this week. The law creating the commission states:

"... the commission is authorized to appoint ... such officers, accountants, attorneys, experts, and other persons as may be necessary in the performance of its duties ... It shall provide for the holding of examinations to determine the qualifications of applicants for the positions, and except for temporary appointments not to exceed six months duration, such personnel shall be appointed on the basis of efficiency and fitness as determined in such examinations."

Wharton-Rosbrow Exceptions

In accordance with these provisions, the commission has announced that all appointments made within the next several months shall be for a maximum period of six months, subject to the commission's approval. The only exceptions from this general rule are the positions of executive director and technical advisor. Dr. Charles M. Wharton, executive director, has been appointed for a term of six years, in accordance with a provision in the law.

James M. Rosbrow, technical advisor and former editor of THE NEWARK POST, has been appointed to serve at the pleasure of the commission, without further examination, on the basis of his experience and federal civil service status.

To List Specifications

Within the next few weeks, Dr. Wharton and Mr. Rosbrow will confer with members of the classification section of the Federal Social Security Board with regard to setting up minimum specifications for each post to be filled. Even temporary appointees will be required to meet these minimum specifications.

Commission To Receive Bids For Colony Needs

The Delaware Commission for Feeble-minded announces that bids for all supplies for Delaware Colony will be opened at regular meetings, held on the third Saturday of each month, and that anyone interested in bidding on any supplies needed at Delaware Colony may secure a list of same and bid sheets by writing to Superintendent Howard T. Ennis, Stockley, Delaware.

St. James' Church Group Entertained By Greenwalts

The young people of St. James' Episcopal Church spent an evening last week at the Greenwalt cottage, Briscoe's Beach, following a "straw ride" in President Robert Justis' truck.

Mrs. Ricker, wife of the rector, and other friends trailed the party in automobiles. A campfire meeting, followed by a marshmallow roast with watermelon and cantaloupe, completed the evening.

MERCHANTS IN UNITED DRIVE FOR BUSINESS

Chairman Enthusiastic Over Prospects For "Dollar Days" Aug. 3 and 4

SHOW READY RESPONSE

More than 50 Newark merchants have signified their intentions of cooperating in two special "Dollar Days" being sponsored by the Chamber of Commerce on August 3 and 4, Myer Pilnick, chairman of the mercantile section, stated this morning.

"The wholesome and unanimous response is surprising," Mr. Pilnick said, in lauding the spirit shown by merchants contacted by the committee in charge, which consists of President George F. Jackson, Herman Handloff and Louis Miller.

"We were hopeful that this affair would be the greatest cooperative sales venture ever offered in Newark, and the response far exceeds our expectations," he added. "Real bargains will be offered in Newark on August 3 and 4, because merchants are out to attract people with worthwhile values for their money," he indicated.

Fifty Have Signed

More than 50 merchants have already signed as participants in the event designed for the double purpose of bringing shoppers here and to concentrate the buying done by Newark people in Newark, rather than in neighboring towns. Merchants are preparing to offer the finest and most outstanding values to conservative shoppers ever extended here.

Under discussion for weeks, the plan was inaugurated recently and the prompt response stirred Chamber of Commerce officials into immediate action. Merchants have been combing wholesale markets and laying plans for drastic reductions on their present stocks as offerings to buyers from adjoining sections of Maryland and Pennsylvania, in addition to nearby Delawareans.

To Display Emblem

Official "Dollar Days" stores will display a distinctive emblem and price cards, both of which will be provided by the Chamber of Commerce. Shoppers will be urged by the committee in charge to limit their buying to Newark stores and to stores displaying the uniform signs and price tickets.

Banners will be strung across Main Street announcing the sale, with appropriate "Dollar Days" pennants being hung throughout the (Continued on Page 8)

State Lecturer Points To Definite Aims Of Grange As Declared In 1874

By Robert Yearsley

Lecturer, Delaware State Grange

All worthwhile organizations have some definite aim. The aims of the Grange are set forth in its declaration of purposes which was adopted at the National Grange session in 1874. The Grange organization was spreading into nearly all the states at that time. It had attracted wide attention in newspapers and among the people. This document has become the Grange creed, and shaped its policies in the past and is still the statement of fundamental principles which are accepted by Granges everywhere today after nearly 70 years have passed. For this reason the writer is quoting liberally from it.

General Objects

1. "United by the strong and faithful tie of Agriculture, we mutually resolve to labor for the good of our Order, our country and mankind."
2. "We heartily indorse the motto, 'In essentials, unity; in non-essentials, liberty; in all things, charity.'"
3. "We shall endeavor to advance our cause by laboring to accomplish the following objects: 'To develop a better and higher manhood and womanhood among ourselves. To enhance the comforts and attractions of our homes, and strengthen our attachments to our pursuits. To foster understanding and cooperation. To maintain inviolate our laws, and to emulate each other in labor, to hasten the good time coming. To reduce our expenses, both individual and corporate. To buy less and produce more, in order to make our farms self-sustaining. To diversify our crops, and crop no more than we can cultivate. To condense the weight of our exports, selling less in the bushel, and more on hoof and in fleece; less in lint, and more in warp and woof. To systemize our work and calculate intelligently on probabilities. To discountenance the credit system, the

Negro Arrested

Earl Pendleton, troublesome Negro, recently released on bail after being charged with stabbing his brother, James, was arrested by Officers Leroy C. Hill and Samuel Tibbitt, Tuesday night, on a charge of assault and battery on Ruth Moore, colored.

According to reports, Pendleton knocked the Moore girl down near the B. and O. Restaurant and proceeded to kick her in the ribs. He was arraigned before Magistrate Daniel Thompson and fined $5 and costs.

Falling to bring his machine to a halt at the "stop button" at Orchard Road and Amstel Avenue, David Ribman, 18 Church Street, Coatesville, Pa., crashed into Fader's Bakery truck, driven by George Wood, 19, on Tuesday.

Damages were estimated at $125 to the truck and $75 to the car. Ribman was taken before Magistrate Thompson by Chief of Police William H. Cunningham, who investigated the accident, and fined $10 and costs on the charge of reckless driving.

SECEDERS MAY NOT APPEAL

Expense Involved May Stop Followers Of Rev. Welbon From Taking This Step

Former members of the congregation of the historic Head of Christiana Church, second oldest Presbyterian Church in the state, met last night at the home of Mr. and Mrs. James E. Beers, Capitol Trail, for the purpose of discussing the recent opinion and decree of Chancellor Josiah O. Wolcott that the secessionists from the Presbyterian Church in the U. S. A., have no control of the church property.

No Appeal Planned

"No appeal will be made at this time," Rev. Henry G. Welbon, pastor, announced this morning, "due to the expense involved. We have, however, six months to take this step," he added.

The present situation has come about through the recent schism in the Presbyterian Church. Out of the controversy was formed the Presbyterian Church in America (Fundamentalists) to which most of the congregation of Head of Christiana Church and Rev. Welbon belong. A vote taken last year showed Rev. Welbon's congregation favoring secession by a 33-17 majority.

Most of the meeting was taken up in a discussion of turning books and papers over to the church. It was also decided to hold Sunday's services at Pencader Church.

Discusses Split

In discussing the split in the Presbyterian ranks, Rev. Welbon stated that it had come about "through the tolerance of the Presbyterian Church of the U. S. A. which has adopted too liberal an interpretation of the Scripture and permitted too liberal interpreters to take offices in the Presbyterian ranks."

"We want to stand by the Bible without a liberal interpretation," he said.

In spite of his leaving the Presbytery of New Castle and the Presbyterian Church in the U. S. A., Mr. Welbon with his followers continued in possession of the little church and he continued to preach until last Sunday when he and his supporters left the building.

Pit Fire At Wilmington Auto Halted By Aetna Men

Wearing one of the new smoke masks purchased by the Aetna Hose, Hook and Ladder Company, Fire Chief Elmer Ellison directed members of the local group in fighting a blaze at the Newark branch of the Wilmington Auto Co., Monday afternoon.

Extinguished before any damage could be done, the fire started when an automobile backfired over the oil pit which started the pit burning. Dense smoke and fumes were emitted by the blaze.

LIGHTS CAUSE AUTO TROUBLE AT TEST LANE

Brakes Bring Rejection To Many As 577 Cars Are Turned Back Here

CLOSE LANE SATURDAY Inspection Crew Tests 1769 Vehicles With 1192 Being Passed As Safe

Insufficient or improperly adjusted lights and poor foot brakes caused trouble for more than 500 motorists attempting to get their cars passed through the Academy Street lane being operated by the Motor Vehicle Department in the ninth annual inspection of automobiles and trucks. The inspection opened in Newark on July 14 and will be continued through Saturday of this week.

A crew of six men, working under the direction of John Fisher, who hails from Milton, handled a total of 1,769 cars at quitting time last night. Of this number, 1,192 were passed as being safe for travel on the highways. Temporary rejections were handed to 577 owners pending adjustments and repairs, according to Mr. Fisher's report.

Lights Lead List

Improper lights lead the list of difficulties with 293 cars being turned back for changes. Many motorists have attempted to have their cars passed while carrying bulbs with dark facings in their headlamps. A ruling from the Dover headquarters of the Motor Vehicle Department forbids the passage of cars using that type bulb.

A close second to improper lights, foot brakes have brought woe to 220 motorists. Rejections have been handed out on other inspection points as follows: Licenses and plates, 12; tires, 9; mirror, 1; windshield, 3; windshield wiper, 2; horn, 7; emergency brake, 24; steering, 4; clearance lights on trucks, 1; and flares, 1.

Expresses Appreciation

In disclosing the information that serial numbers on cars are no longer being checked, Mr. Fisher expressed appreciation to Newark's motorizing public for the courtesy and consideration shown his force during the current tests. "We have done our best to cooperate and have endeavored to extend every courtesy possible to owners in Newark," Mr. Fisher said, "and we have been treated in the same manner. We appreciate it, too."

Moving from Newark after the inspection has been completed Saturday, the crew operating the lane here (Continued on Page 8)

Chief Engineer Asks Motorists To Be Cautious

Chief Engineer W. W. Mack, of the State Highway Department, issued the request this week that motorists observe extreme caution in passing the many highway crews of men who are at work during the summer months quickly patching the bulges that the heat produces in the roads, setting in new strips of concrete where they have been damaged by the weather conditions and clearing the roadsides of the unusually vigorous growth of weeds, grass and underbrush in order that this growth will not interfere with the motorists' vision of roadside warning and direction signs.

Danger of Accidents

The nature of the work makes it necessary for the men to stand, to some extent on paved portions of the roads, so there is danger of accident if the drivers of passing motor vehicles do not slow down and exercise care. Sizeable temporary signs, warning that a road gang is working ahead, are being displayed at both ends of the work area, a sufficient distance from the workmen to give ample warning of their presence but despite that, some motorists insist on rushing by at high rates of speed. The work is being done by the highway department's own roadside and maintenance forces and in justice to the men who make the good roads possible, motorists should give them every courtesy while they are working in dangerous positions.

IMPROVED UNIFORM INTERNATIONAL SUNDAY SCHOOL Lesson

By REV. HAROLD L. LUNDQUIST, Dean of the Moody Bible Institute of Chicago. © Western Newspaper Union.

Lesson for July 25

LESSON TEXT—Exodus 12:21-23. GOLDEN TEXT—The Lord thy God hath chosen thee to be a special people unto himself.—Deuteronomy 7:4. PRIMARY TOPIC—Ready for the Journey. JUNIOR TOPIC—Ready to Start Home. INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—How God Prepares a People. YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—Equipped for a New Era.

"Let my people go"—such was the word of the Lord to Pharaoh through Moses and Aaron. "Who is the Lord, that I should obey his voice to let Israel go? I know not the Lord, neither will I let Israel go"—thus hardened Pharaoh his heart. The issue was so drawn for one of the great struggles of history. On one side was a bold and mighty monarch with all the resources of the empire of Egypt, and on the other an unorganized multitude of slaves. No, wait, on the other side was Almighty God! The outcome was never in doubt and through the unspeakable horror of the plagues we come to consider the last of the ten, the death of the first-born, with which is joined the establishment of the Passover.

The Passover is of sufficient importance to justify careful study simply as the perpetual feast of Jews, but to the Christian it is also a most blessed and instructive type of Christ who is, according to Paul, "our passover" (1 Cor. 5:7). Let no one who studies or teaches this lesson fail to point to "the Lamb of God which taketh away the sin of the world" (John 1:29).

I. A Lamb Slain (v. 21). The sacrifice appears, a gentle, submissive lamb, a male without blemish, which is separated for the giving of its life that the first-born in Israel might be saved.

Notice that God's instructions were explicit, and were to be obeyed if there was to be redemption. There are those in our day who would substitute any and every other method of salvation for God's revealed plan. They talk about character development, the redemption of the social order, peace and politics, and forget the Lamb of God.

II. A Blood Salvation (vv. 22, 23). The act of faith in marking the lintel and the doorposts with the blood, brought salvation to the families of Israel. Had they waited until they could reason out the philosophy of their promised redemption, or had they shrunk from the blood as their covering, their first-born would have been slain. It was when the destroying angel saw the blood that he passed over them.

Many there are in our time who speak disparagingly of the blood of Jesus Christ, but it is still the only way of redemption. "Without shedding of blood there is no remission." It ill befits an age that is so blasé and sophisticated as ours to attempt to cover its dislike for God's way of redemption by suddenly becoming too cultured and sensitive to hear of the blood of the Lamb of God shed on Calvary's tree for our cleansing from sin.

III. A Perpetual Memorial (vv. 24-28).

God wants his people to remember. We, like Israel, are to remember the bondage from which we were delivered. Down through the ages the Jews have kept the Passover. Our Hebrew neighbors do it today. Let us honor them for their obedience to God's command and at the same time seek to point them to the One who is the true Passover, Jesus Christ.

IV. Christ Our Passover (1 Cor. 5:7).

Let us add to the assigned lesson text this New Testament passage which speaks of our Lord Jesus Christ as "our passover . . . sacrificed for us."

The bondage in Egypt was terrible in its afflictions and sorrows, but far more serious is the bondage in which men find themselves under sin and the rule of Satan. Surely there is need of divine redemption, and there is none to bring it to us but the Lamb of God. He was the One who without spot or blemish (1 Pet. 1:19) was able to offer himself in our behalf that in him we might find "redemption through his blood" (Eph. 1:7, Col. 1:14).

"Is the blood upon the house of my life? Is the blood upon the doorpost of my dwelling place? Have I put up against the divine judgment some hand of self-protection? Verily, it will be swallowed up in the great visitation. In that time nothing will stand but the blood which God himself has chosen as a token and a memorial. 'The blood of Jesus Christ, his Son, cleanse us from all sin' (1 John 1:7) (Joseph Parker).

Exclusive Patented Safety Features
Unlike ordinary tires, the Air Coaster has an extremely wide and level riding surface that meets the flat road surface naturally. This eliminates tread distortion that causes rapid wear and carcass distortion which generates heat that results in blowouts. Well placed center non-skid blocks give you skidless safety while the shoulder riding bars make steering finger-tip easy. The Air Coaster is genuinely safe.

Every Armstrong Tire is insured against all road hazards, blowouts, stone bruises, fabric breaks, glass and spike cuts, gouges and everything else that make a tire unserviceable . . . at no added cost.

THIS WEEK—150 YEARS AGO

The Story of the Constitutional Convention of 1787

BY RAYMOND PITCAIRN
"THE GREAT COMPROMISE"
In mid-July of 1787—just 150 years ago this week—the founders who wrote our Federal Constitution concurred in an action which historians ever since have characterized as "The Great Compromise."
There were, in fact, two important compromises, both of which solved differences that had caused dissension so serious as to threaten disruption of the Convention meeting in Philadelphia's famous Independence Hall.
The first compromise resulted in formal adoption of a resolution which recognized the claims of the larger states for representation in the National Legislature on the basis of population and, at the same time, the demand of the smaller states that all be equally represented.
Thus was established the form we know today—a lower house of Congress based on proportional representation, and an upper house, or Senate with the same number of members from each state.
The second compromise also dealt with representation in the proposed Congress—but from a different angle. It involved the question whether or not slaves should be counted in determining population of the separate states—and, therefore, in apportioning representation in the first branch of the Legislature.
On this question vigorous discussion had been aroused, which ended in an agreement to count for purposes of representation all free whites and three-fifths of the slaves.
As occurred so frequently during the Convention the debates of this significant week reflected again and again the determination of many delegates that in the new government the will and the welfare of the people must predominate.
"The majority of the people, wherever found, ought in all questions to govern," pronounced, for example, James Wilson of Pennsylvania. In later debate he characterized "the cultivation and improvement of the human mind" as "the most noble object" of government.

Opposition to any possible return of that despotism against which the Colonies had rebelled was similarly evident.
"For," said George Mason, of Virginia, "from the nature of man we may be sure that those who have power in their hands will not give it up while they can retain it. On the contrary we know they will always, when they can rather increase it."
To which James Madison, of Virginia, added that "all men having power ought to be distrusted to a certain degree."
Speaking on another occasion against a proposal that the Executive hold office "during good behavior," Mason pointed out that this was "a softer name only for an Executive for life."
"And the next," he added, "would be an easy step to hereditary monarchy."
Swayed undoubtedly by this argument, the Convention rejected the "good behavior" proposal and agreed that the term of office of the Chief Executive should be limited, but that he should be eligible for re-election. During the week the delegates agreed also on several other powers and duties of the Chief Executive, but final action was postponed until later sessions.

Sheppard Descendants Hold Eleventh Reunion at Beach

The descendants of Edgar and Susanna Sheppard held their eleventh reunion at Riverview Beach, N. J., last Saturday with more than 150 present.
Following a picnic lunch, a business meeting was held. The following officers were named: David W. Sheppard, president; Ethan Sheppard, vice president; Annie J. Stone, secretary and treasurer. Entertainment was furnished under the direction of Laura Warrick, Bessie Wilson and Irma Jaquette.

It was decided that the newly elected president, being the only direct male descendant living, remain at the head of the group for the balance of his life.

Mrs. Cora Wilson, Delmar, Md., the oldest living descendant of the couple, was unable to attend the gathering due to illness. She was remembered by cards of condolence and gifts from members of the family.

Gifts were also presented to David W. Sheppard, Newark, and Mrs. Elizabeth Jaquette, Wilmington, the only other direct descendant living.

Awards were made to the one having the most members of an immediate family present, the one traveling the longest distance, the newest bride and youngest baby.
The next reunion will be held at Riverview Beach on the third Saturday in July 1938.

BECAUSE in Firestone Standard Tires —
YOU GET EXTRA PROTECTION AGAINST BLOWOUTS—eight extra pounds of rubber are added to every 100 pounds of cord by the Firestone patented Gum-Dipping process. By this process every cord in every ply is saturated with liquid rubber. This counteracts internal friction and heat that ordinarily cause blowouts.
YOU GET EXTRA PROTECTION AGAINST PUNCTURES—because under the tread are two extra layers of Gum-Dipped cords.
YOU GET EXTRA PROTECTION AGAINST SKIDDING—because the tread is scientifically designed.
YOU GET LONGER NON-SKID MILEAGE because of the extra tough, long-wearing tread.

Automobile Parking Hazards

A bulletin recently issued by the National Board of Fire Underwriters points out automobile parking on streets is becoming one of the greatest menaces to effective fire service. This is particularly true in business and manufacturing districts, and around apartment houses and theatres.

The hazards of parking are evident. Ladder and rescue work may be retarded because of the inability of equipment to get near a burning building. Hydrants may be obstructed, and alarm boxes hidden from view. Increased traffic congestion may prevent fire apparatus from getting through without long delay. The chance of traffic accidents is increased.

The smaller towns and cities of the nation should pay attention to this problem, as well as the metropolises. Indeed, in smaller town double-parking and disregard of hydrant zones is usually more flagrant than in well-policed large cities. Many a fire that could have been quickly controlled, had parked cars not hampered fire fighters, has developed into a major blaze.

The National Board suggests that city authorities and Chambers of Commerce consider the parking problem, study local conditions and formulate legislation. Some communities have found it necessary to completely ban parking in certain congested areas. Angle parking should never be permitted except on extremely wide streets, and double parking is a menace under any circumstance.

To prevent and control fire, a long succession of corrective steps must be taken. Proper parking control is one of the most important of these steps. An adequate, strictly enforced law may save a community great loss.

Fairest Farm Prices

In a period such as the present, the work of the better agricultural marketing cooperatives becomes even more than ordinarily valuable and necessary.

Today prices for all manner of commodities are rapidly fluctuating. Market conditions are changing. Fiscal problems that directly affect agriculture are in the limelight. The foreign trade picture is confused.

The marketing cooperatives, with their expert management and staffs, are able to keep up with changing conditions and advise their members of necessary adjustments that must be made. By use of coordinated bargaining power, they are able to get the fairest prices for what their members sell. They can develop and hold markets.

That progressive farmers really appreciate the soundness of this type of business management is evidenced by increased rolls of marketing cooperatives.

said Tuesday that services may be held in the church this Sunday, with the Rev. H. Everett Hallman, of Newark, moderator of the Presbytery of New Castle, in the pulpit. Last Friday, Chancellor Wolcott appointed Mr. Hallman receiver of the church and its records.

"In leaving the old church," Mr. Welton said, "some of the congregation are leaving the church of their fathers, where their ancestors are buried in the little cemetery adjoining the building."

Elders Present

Among those who attended the meeting last night were: Mr. and Mrs. James Frazer, Cowdowntown, Md.; Mr. and Mrs. Joseph C. Brown, Claymont; Mr. and Mrs. James E. Beers, of near Newark; and Raymond Watkins, Chesapeake City, Md., elders of the church; Mr. and Mrs. John Howell, and Joseph A. Brown, Iron Hill; Mr. and Mrs. Harry S. Beers, Claymont; Oliver Watkins, superintendent of the Sunday School, of Chesapeake City; Miss Lillian K. Brown, of Newark, Miss Marguerite Barrow and Mesdames Edward Russell, Alice Beers and Margaret Creswell, of Cowdowntown, and Messrs. Cecil Creswell and James Frazier, Jr., also of that community.

SCREEN SNAPS

By "SNAPPER"

State Theatre News Friday and Saturday

A spectacular drama that storms in epic sweep over half the world, "Slave Ship" stands head and shoulders above the general level of film fare to take its rightful rank as the mightiest of all sea sagas. The new 20th Century-Fox film, which stars Warner Baxter and Wallace Beery, pictures the adventures of the last slaver as, with mutiny reddening the decks, it sails on its last desperate voyage. To Warner Baxter falls one of the most colorful roles of his career, as a romantic scourge of two oceans, defying the navies of all the world and fighting at last for love in the greatest adventure of all. Opposite him is Wallace Beery, in a role that dwarfs all of the famed actor's previous sea roles. As the villainous mate of the last slaver, Beery makes the big-fisted, bull-headed seaman a figure of continuous interest, genial and treacherous to his dying breath. Mickey Rooney, Elizabeth Allen and Joseph Schildkraut head the supporting cast in the film.

Monday and Tuesday

With Spencer Tracy, ladys George and Franchot Tone in the leading roles, "They Gave Him A Gun," is said to be one of the most important releases from the Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer studios this year. Tone deserts genteel characters to play a "tough guy"; Tracy deserts the "tough guy" character for a kindly adviser of a wayward youth; and Gladys George, following her success in "Valiant Is the Word for Carrie," plays another valiant role as a war nurse who marries a racketeer she fails to save. The picture is based on the novel by Major William Joyce Cowen, which deals with the effect of war on the psychology of youth, tracing the transition of a kindly young clerk who goes through war into a dangerous post-war racketeer.

Wednesday and Thursday

Grim mystery among a group of people gathered around a table for a seance, and solution of a baffling murder by the use of a second seance, with murder weapon's location known only to the audience, are but a few of the exciting elements in "The Thirteenth Chair." A notable cast lends itself to the excellent quality of this picture. Dame May Whitty, the famous English star, plays the occult who solves the mystery. Madge Evans and Thomas Beck furnish the romantic interest, and other outstanding featured players are Lewis Stone as the Inspector, Elissa Landi, Henry Daniell and Ralph Forbes. Cash prizes will again be given away to holders of the lucky tickets.

An Unknown Quantity

Algebra would be easy if "x" were not the "unknown quantity."

You know what quality is you know what value is . . . but you puzzle over what comes between them and price. The "x" in that problem is indirect distribution; lack of control of production.

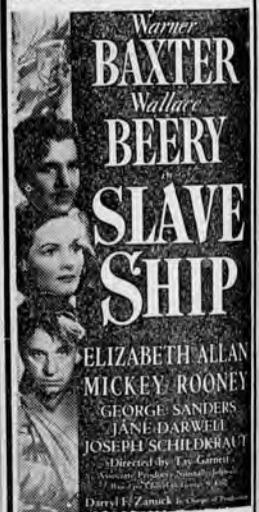

There is no algebra in shopping from the ads in this newspaper. Quality offered is a known quantity. It is so plain that you see it. It is so tangible that you keep it.

WEDDINGS

HEALY-BERRY

The home of Mr. and Mrs. William I. Berry, of near Newark, was the scene of a very pretty informal wedding at four o'clock today when their younger daughter, Edith Corinne Berry, became the bride of Mr. John H. Healy, Jr., son of Mr. J. Henry Healy, of Germantown, Pa.

The Rev. Leonard White, pastor of the Newark Methodist Episcopal Church, performed the ceremony. Mr. Berry gave his daughter in marriage. The couple's only attendants were Miss Gladys M. Berry, of Philadelphia, sister of the bride and Mr. Robert N. Healy, of Beach Haven, N. J., brother of the bridegroom.

Miss Nellie B. Wilson played the wedding music.

Following the ceremony, a wedding breakfast was served for the immediate families at the College Inn. From there, Mr. and Mrs. Healy left by automobile for their wedding trip through Canada and the New England states. Upon their return, they will make their home in Philadelphia.

ROAMIN' WITH RUTLEDGE

It Was Bad News

Cut down last week by one of man's most useful and dangerous instruments—electricity—Jimmy Martin, one of the better known and better liked sports figures in this section, was almost killed. Horribly burned, when he picked up an exposed cable that endangered patrons at Holloway Beach, Charlestown, Md., Martin was jolted by a charge of 2300 volts of electricity.

"THE ROAMER"

That he is alive today is little short of miraculous. It was thought for a time he would lose his left hand. Two fingers were finally amputated at St. Francis' Hospital, Wilmington, Monday. The hand is still endangered, however.

It's a sad story about a great guy—and Jimmy Martin is a great guy. A native of Wilmington, he landed in Newark several years ago, reestablished a billiard business that was not too savory in reputation, and rapidly gained the respect of everyone with whom he came in contact. His friends are legion.

R-W-R

A Funny World

If Martin has an enemy in the world, and that's more than doubtful, it's a cinch there's something wrong with the guy who doesn't respect him. A product of carnival lots and small traveling shows, Jimmy is a thorough gentleman, with a quiet, reserved and dignified bearing. He believes his heritage, yet he never forgets it and the friends he knew in show business.

One of his greatest joys in life, though his charitable deeds are never mentioned, is to aid down-and-outers on their way. A couple of bucks and a kind word are always ready at Martin's.

Religious theories contain the lesson "as ye sow, so shall ye reap." We hope it works out that way for Jimmy Martin. He most certainly has marked a path of kindness and consideration for others. His reward should be in kind.

RAIN STILL BLOCKS NET TOURNEY

Don Pierce Captures Newark Pocket Billiards Title At State

MATCHES HELD UP; MCCULLY-BRIDGewater TEAM IN FINALS

Defeat Miller-Mix Combine In Four Sets; Wheelless Enters Semis Via Easy Victory Over Chris Laskaris; Miss Ann Chalmers, Undefeated Thus Far, Conceded Female Title

By Ace Seeds

Ned McCully and Jack Bridgewater, conquerors of the Marshall McCully-Tom Laskaris duo in their first test in the Newark Post doubles tourney, advanced to the final round by virtue of a well-earned victory over the El Miller-George Mix combine.

Goes To Four Sets

Well-played throughout, the match was extended to four sets as the losing team broke through to capture the third set 6-4, after dropping the first two by 6-1, 6-3 counts. The fourth and last chukker was forced into deuce scores when all men held service until Mix weakened to end the fourth set and the match at 7-5.

Spotted with long rallies and a horde of deuce games, the contest was undoubtedly the best played and most interesting of the doubles tourney thus far. The winners will meet the coppers of the Chris-Lio Laskaris and Bob Hancock-Dave Cronhardt match.

With two singles matches scheduled for Tuesday, rain once more intervened and washed out hopes of playing those remaining before the latter part of this week.

Lew Carey, scheduled to oppose Harry Williamson in the lone quarter-final match remaining, and Chauncey Wheelless slated to pit his strokes against Steve Bartosheski, were both rained out by an unexpected turn in the weather.

Wheelless Wins

After a slow start which saw him trailing 3-5 in the first set, Chauncey (Sonny) Wheelless, second seeded star, put on the clamps to sweep through the remainder of the first chukker and all of the next with the loss of but a single game, to score an easy win over Chris the last of the Laskaris clan.

By virtue of this conquest, Wheelless became the third of the four seeded players to advance to the semifinals. Carey, seeded number one, is still in the quarter-final bracket. Besides Wheelless, Ned McCully and Steve Bartosheski, both seeded stars, waltzed into the semis with little trouble.

Miss Mary Lou (Reds) Gaffney clinched her hold on second place via an easy 6-2, 6-2 victory over Mrs. Louise Goddin. The win gave the Wilmington ace a percentage of .750 with three victories against one loss.

Evidently annoyed and a bit upset because of the enthusiasm of the gallery, Miss Gaffney played spotty tennis in the opening games, but settled down after the initial stanzas to go through the contest in easy fashion.

Miss Ann Chalmers, the lone entry to hand the Wilmingtonian a setback, still retains her strangle hold on the first spot, sporting two wins against no losses.

Women's Champion?

With two remaining matches, the former Newark High School athletic star is generally conceded the local women's championship. Matches yet to play will pit the expected champ against Mrs. Elizabeth Reese and Mrs. Louise Goddin, both of whom will conclude their play with the match with Miss Chalmers.

Mrs. Connie Goodwin, having played all her matches, rests in the third position with a mark of .500. Her victories were won over Mrs. Goddin and Mrs. Reese.

Sporting one conquest against two setbacks, Mrs. Reese, with an average of .333 for the tourney thus far, is now in fourth place. Her lone victory was a win over Mrs. Goddin.

Should either Mrs. Goddin or Mrs. Reese upset the dope and score a victory over Miss Chalmers, this turn of events would throw Miss Gaffney into a tie for the top position and a play-off would be necessary.

Forced to withdraw because of a sprained back, all matches won or lost by Mrs. Carol Ball have been struck from the records. A similar action was taken when Mrs. Marjorie Squire found it necessary to discontinue play because of a tonsil operation.

Big Catch Reported

Not content with capturing Newark law breakers, Officer Sam Tibbitt showed a skilled hand at reeling in finny inhabitants of the briny deep. Fishing with a group of friends off Bowers Beach, Tibbitt returned with a catch of 168 specimens of trout, croakers and sea bass last Sunday.

SMALLEST EXHIBIT

Two square feet of exhibition space, the smallest at the Century of Progress exposition, were reserved by a Montreal woman for a doll display.

Milford Here Sunday

Following a lay off last weekend, when Taylor Biles was forced to cancel the scheduled series between the Jackets and Oxford, due to a shortage of players, Cleaver Potts' Newark tossers will return to action at Continental Field Sunday with the strong Milford team furnishing the opposition.

Independent champions of the Delmarva Peninsula last year, Milford's classy delegates took a fall out of the Jackets here in May, when Howard Killen, now with the Dover Orioles in the Eastern Shore circuit, outpitched Reggie Conway. The score was 8-3.

With Paul Whiteman on the mound, the Jackets turned the tables at Milford in June, coping a thrilling 3-1 verdict in 13 innings. The game here Sunday should go a long way toward determining the independent diamond titlist for the state and peninsula this year. Both Milford and Newark hold an edge over the Wilmington Dicos, following series of three games each.

Competition For President's Award Gets Under Way At Newark Country Club

LOCAL CHAMP ADVANCE

By Tee Spoon

Local golfers settled down in earnest this week with clubs pointed toward annexing the President's Cup in the annual competition staged for this award.

Weather Bad

Despite the tricky turns the weather has taken, fifteen of the scheduled first round matches were played, leaving a single contest in the opening battles yet to be played. B. F. Richards, last year's runner-up in this event, is slated to cross drives with J. Harvey Dickey in the remaining mix-up.

Startling upsets were not in evidence in this early round, as those generally conceded victories, managed to cop wins. J. D. Conahan succeeded in downing Harry Williamson to a 5 and 4 tune, the worst defeat to be administered.

George F. Anderson, fresh from his victory in the club championship play recently, entered the second round via a 3 and 2 defeat of C. O. Houghton, while Bob Stewart, Jr., runner-up in the same tourney, edged out a one-up win over L. A. Stearns.

In the upper sixteen, Wayne C. Brewer dropped the verdict to R. H. Morris by a 3 and 2 count, while Dr. G. W. Rhodes fell before the superior stroking of H. F. Richards, 2 and 1. Dr. W. O. Sypherd advanced to the second session by virtue of a one-up victory over J. A. Giamateo while M. J. Fidance also moved up a notch by trouncing D. H. Stearns to the tune of two up and one to play. Wallace Williams found himself on the bad end of a 2 and 1 score against Paul F. Pié, Jr.

Lower Bracket

In the lower bracket, W. C. Northrop won by default from E. C. Graesser while C. H. Hopkins annexed a decision from D. M. Darrell, Jr. 4 and 3. T. W. Shenk, pitted against H. B. Fisher, found himself on the short end of the one-up score while J. A. Julian also dropped a 3 and 2 verdict to A. B. Collins.

While H. B. McCaulley was awarded a 2 up conquest over M. D. Darrell, Sr., Don Tammany, 16-year-old Wilmington pill chaser, was being handed a 2 and 1 setback at the hands of J. I. Crowe.

This week's slate lines the players up in the second round as follows: Richards vs. Conahan; Sypherd vs. Anderson; Fidance vs. Pié; Northrop vs. Hopkins; Stearns vs. Fisher; Collins vs. McCaulley; Crowe vs. Anderson.

Continental Tossers Engage Non-League Opponents This Week

CONWAY SHOWS FORM

Manager Ellis Peabody Cullen's Continental Diamond Fibre tossers, undefeated leaders in the second-half chase for the Newark Twilight League title, will face two non-league opponents in Warner Brothers team from Wilmington, and Glasgow of the New Castle County circuit.

The theatre outfit, boasting a winning streak of 13 straight, plays at Continental Field tonight, while the Glasgow contingent makes its appearance on the same diamond Tuesday night.

Cullen's mighty crew chalked up their fourth consecutive triumph of the second half last night, downing Jackson's Hardware, 2-0, in a well-played battle. Reggie Conway fanned 11 Jackson batsmen, while limiting them to three scattered blows.

Bill Deaver and Bud Lloyd shared the hurling assignment for the losing team, fanning six and granting a like number of hits.

Jackson's Down National

Jackson's defeated National Fibre, 4-1, at Continental Field Monday night with Lloyd and Hawthorne forming the winning battery. Sid Argo and Rennie George worked for the Nationals.

Continental racked up a victory over the Junior Legion last Friday night, 7-5. George Anderson and Jack Daly served them from the hill to Perry for the Fibremen, while Gregg and Grundy pitched for the Legion. Burke was the losers' receiver.

In addition to playing a whale of a game at short, Daly banged out a home run and entered the box in the final inning to retire the rallying Legionnaires who had chalked up three markers and were threatening to tie the score.

Ciggy Butts, last year's star of the Legion team, rapped a pair of hits against his former mates.

TOURNEY ENDS AS THREE TIE IN RUNNER-UP

Pierce Repeats Amateur Win Scored Last Year; Drops Two Games In "Open"

BUBS EUBANKS FIFTH

Harrington, Vandergrif And Pryor Tied For Second; To Stage Early Playoffs

By "The Roamer"

"Dandy Don" Pierce, winner of the Newark amateur pocket billiards crown last year, crashed the gates of the mighty in capturing the title in the Newark open pocket billiards tourney which ended at the State Parlors last Friday.

Sporting a handicap of 20 balls, Pierce won nine matches against a pair of setbacks. Bus Vandergrif, Elkton, and Harrington, of the local fraternity, were the only entrants able to stop the young star. Pierce completed his efforts with a sterling 80-70 win over the ever dangerous Bubs Eubanks last week.

Three-Way Deadlock

The finish of the tournament found Arnold Pryor, Chesapeake City; Vandergrif, and Harrington in a three-way deadlock for the runner-up position. A possible four-way tie for first place was shattered when Pierce upset the dope to floor Eubanks in the finale. No date has been set for the playoffs to decide the eventual standings of the contestants. Prizes go to the first three positions.

Finishing in fifth place, Eubanks won seven matches in eleven starts. He was one game ahead of Jack Fossett, an early favorite who slumped to the sixth spot when overcome by illness that handicapped his efforts.

Tony Sanborn and Don Hill were deadlocked in seventh place, with George Laskaris and Maurice Adams, the latter an Elktonian, finishing tied in ninth position.

Jackie Myers, of Havre de Grace, and a better ball player than cue welder, occupied the cellar with Harry Williamson. Each player dropped nine matches.

Junior Matches In Question

While it is customary to start the amateur tournament immediately following the open affair, there is a possibility that the event will be passed up this year.

With Jimmy Martin, operator of the State layout, a patient in St. Francis' Hospital, Wilmington, as a result of an accident last week, and Fossett listed to go to the Wilmington General Hospital for an operation in the near future, the amateur test may be cancelled.

Fossett, who handles tournaments at the State, may arrange the match and turn them over to Pierce for guidance. (Continued on Page 8)

THERE COMES A TIME in every man's life when the opportunity for vengeance falls like the gentle rain-drops on a parched desert. Opportunity knocks, so to speak, and it is only the fool who lets the chance for "sweet revenge" slide away. We do not intend to pass this one by. Better still, "BILL" FLETCHER we intend to place this in the files of this paper in black and white to be preserved for posterity for what it is worth.

A grudge is a nasty thing to harbor and we hasten to add that this is not a child nursed on such a thing so despicable nor so malicious.

Having been the subject of an attack by one of the movie columnists of this sheet, we do not intend to turn our broadsides upon this "muckraker," nor do we propose to lay bare this man's most intimate secrets. Be at it, oh, "town hero."

We credit ourselves with having more intelligence than to tell "all we know" in one tempting, delicious plurge which would give the scandal mongers of our fair city and overspill of nasty meat upon which to chew. Then it would be all over, and we should find ourselves deprived of ammunition—weapons which are intended for future use.

MATERNAL INSTINCT is an admirable trait to possess but after all Monsieur X, don't you think that episode at the races was carrying it a little bit too far?

Pardon us folks, for neglecting to disclose the facts of this case which have placed one of the more prominent members of our society in the role of a Romeo, Don Juan, Lord Byron, or what have you.

It goes like this: MUSEL tensed our hero eats spinach—he gets a chance to see all the Popeye shorts) eyes glued to his horse, our hero watches, heart in mouth, as his pony drops behind, moves up, stumbles, takes time out for oats, and performs a few more horse-like antics and then, leaping apples at the end of the trail, puts on a spurge of speed to bring him thundering home in front of the field.

A YOUNG LADY, standing nearby, watched "Maternal Instinct" with misgivings, expecting him to fall over in a faint, turn a triple flip-flop (he IS athletic), walk on his hands, give a

Auto Accident, Ira Kilmon

Walter R. Powell's automobile was nearly demolished on Sunday evening on the Faulk road near Blue Ball, while being driven by Ira E. Kilmon, who is employed by Mr. Powell. The latter was not in the machine. How Mr. Kilmon escaped serious injuries is nothing short of a miracle. The driver evidently got off the proper course and suddenly struck a concrete abutment along the side of the road which he did not see. The sudden stopping of the car threw Mr. Kilmon violently against the steering wheel but he was only slightly bruised. The machine was a total wreck and it was necessary to get another car to tow it to Wilmington that night. It was towed to Fader's garage here on Monday where it will be repaired. The repairs will probably cost several hundred dollars.

OBITUARY

Mary J. Lumb

The funeral services under the direction of Rev. Alderson will be held at the residence of Miss Pennington on Thursday afternoon. Interment at Methodist Cemetery. Husband, two sons and daughter survive.

LOCAL NEWS

Friends will be glad to hear from Dr. Dare, who for some years was a resident of South Newark.

Dr. Dare is now stationed at Treson, Pa., where he is medical examiner for the Pennsylvania railroad. Dr. Dare returned recently and took the examination for the practice of medicine in this State.

Newark friends hope to see him return here.

Residents of Depot Road just beyond town limits are still troubled with mosquitoes.

The Minnehaha Band is simply outdoing themselves. Fine thing and good work. That order of Red Men certainly has got some "go" in it. Just glance at their truck patch down at the home. It's a fine sight. As Paul Steele says, it's some order, believe me!

Baseball and benzine buggies are putting our summer horse racing in the background. Newark in blooded speed can well take the lead in New Castle county. It is a matter of regret that our old matinees of recent years have been abolished. In winter the Newark speedway is the talk of the county, but as a summer recreation we are sadly neglecting that gentlemen's sport.

PINKEY WHITNEY IS MAKING GREAT COMEBACK

"Pinkey" Whitney, "Phillies" third baseman, is having one of the finest seasons of his entire career. He is hitting well above .300 and fielding in magnificent fashion. The failure of Bill Terry to pick him on the National League All-Stars caused a storm of protest that swamped sports writers as well as radio announcers.

Whitney's splendid showing is another example of the maxim "a poor beginning means a good ending." This spring at Winter Haven the Texan had the poorest record he had ever made during training season. His batting average was close to .100.

Rail bird critics promptly wrote the word "finis" on his career and even the staunch Jimmy Wilson shook his head questioning. But with a group of hustling young fellows to work with Whitney found a new spirit and today he is playing the best ball of his life.

Ogletown 4-H Meeting Sees Officers Named

The July meeting of the Ogletown 4-H Club was held last Thursday evening at the home of Mrs. J. Leslie Ford. Miss Laura Rutherford, county leader, presided while Miss Margaret Lynam was being elected president. The newly named head assumed office immediately following the election.

Miss Betty Geesman was named secretary, while Miss Mary Kennelly was chosen as club reporter. The "New Castle 4-H Club News" and enrollment cards were handed out, while an August picnic was discussed. Due to illness, Miss Louise Steel, sewing leader of the club, was unable to attend.

She was disappointed however (or was she?) for this gentleman did none of these things, but—we shouldn't tell this, but he, with a wild burst of emotion, threw a pair of strong (we told you he eats spinach) arms around this young lady and proceeded to toss his heart at her feet.

What's that you say? Oh, yes! We stand corrected, that wasn't his heart that fell at her feet, that was a nice, shiny set of beautiful morals, we mean molar's, that took flight. (Listen! Kirkwood?)

Why should they leave home? Well, maybe they ain't bein' fed right.

AN ODD QUESTION—The non-infirmed mother who asked her daughter why she didn't play that horse "Daily Double," because it won every day.

Try asking the next ten people you see how they like the races. You'll get an assortment or replies that varies from a broad grin signifying unstinted approval, to a worried frown with the reason more than apparent.

You'll never get the same verbal replies—you may get an "The races, Oh!" or just a plain, "Ah!"

Should you hear the first answer, remember immediately that your sick aunt is waiting for very necessary medicine, or you'll find yourself passing hours away, lending your ears to "hunches," what he was gonna play, what he did play, what he was told to play, why the nag should've won, why it didn't win, what it's bound to do the next time, and what it'll probably do if the track's fast, slow or indifferent.

Bob Stranhorn seemed to be doing an excellent job of umping the McCully-Bridgewater, Mix-Miller doubles match Sunday morning. Perched high up a sky-scraping step ladder, this very efficient arbiter boomed out his decisions with a precision and accuracy that would have made any pro ref turn green with envy.
