Dr. Burton K. Fowler Addresses Local P.T.A. At Meeting Monday

Socialized Recitation and Student Government Chief
Topics of Discussion.
Students Talk.

At an regular meeting of the Newark Parent-Teacher Association held in the High School Monday evening, Dr. Burton K. Fowler, principal of Tower Hill School, in Wilmington, was the principal speaker.

In his address, Dr. Fowler explained the real citizenship among young men and women, and how Education can help them attain the interest and ability in political and civic matters which should be theirs.

He spoke particularly of the changes that are coming about each year in the classrooms, as compared to the autocracy of the old school-house.

He stated that the two great handicaps of the American social system today are illiteracy and a general ignorance of the fundamentals upon which the Government is built. He pointed to the great body of people who do not vote, and who do not take a part in the life of their communities.

Socialized recitations, a term used now in connection with teaching current political and social machinery, has taken great steps ahead in the average schoolroom, said Dr. Fowler. Pupils are learning things now because they want to learn them, said the speaker.

In concluding, Dr. Fowler said that the younger generation today will be the citizenship of tomorrow, and that to prepare them now for the responsibilities ahead will make for a better and finer State and Nation.

Pupils In Talks

Several members of the student body of the school headed by Martin Doordan, president of the Student Council, made short addresses on the work of that organization in the school life.

Little business was transacted other than the appointing of a nominating committee by President Medill. The committee includes Mrs. Laura Rossing, Mrs. Doordan and John S. Shaw. The next meeting will see the election of a new set of officers.

Dr. Fowler was called upon during the meeting by Mr. Shaw to give his opinion on the Child Labor Amendment pending in Congress. The latter replied by saying he thought the matter rested more with the states than with the Government.

There appeared to be some feeling on the amendment evidenced by several present, and it is known that a general lack of knowledge of the measure is rampant in the community. The Post this week on another page, publishes some views on the Amendment, for information purposes only.

DR. RULON DARE DIES FOLLOWING OPERATION

Was Resident of Newark, 1907-1912, and Frequent Visitor in Late Years

Newark friends of Dr. J. Rulon Dare, of Jamesburg, N. J., were shocked to hear of his sudden death yesterday in Lankenau Hospital, Philadelphia, following an operation performed about ten days ago for appendicitis. He was 57 years of age.

Dr. Dare resided in Newark for seven years, and was well known to the entire community. For most of that period he was surgeon to the Pennsylvania Railroad. In 1912 he was transferred to Jamesburg.

Dr. Dare is survived by his widow and one son, Rulon, Jr., a graduate of the University here, class of 1922.

Another son, Mark Donald Dare, was also a student at Delaware College. He died in the service of his country during the World War.

The funeral services for Dr. Dare will be held at his birthplace, Greenwich, N. J., Friday of this week.

Deceased was a frequent visitor to Newark during his residence in Jamesburg, and attended many college functions.

Another National "Frat" For The College Campus

Gamma Delta Rho to Be Installed as Chapter of Phi Kappa Tau, National Body, on Dec. 4th

The Gamma Delta Rho Fraternity, which has been in existence at the University of Delaware for four years as a local fraternity has received recognition, and final arrangements have been made for its being received into the national organization of Phi Kappa Tau. The installation into this fraternity will be a noteworthy affair at Delaware, lasting for three full days and being brought to a close with a banquet in Old College. The days set are Thursday, Friday and Saturday, December 4, 5 and 6.

At this time the College will act as host to Phi Kappa Tau men from many, if not all, of the twenty-seven chapters of this organization. Mr. Cotton, Grand President; Mr. Bowers, Grand Secretary; Mr. Boyer, a member of the Grand Council; and Dr. Taylor of the Nebraska Wesleyan University are some of the notables who will take part in the installation. The grand opening will take place on Thursday, December 4, at nine o'clock in the morning. As soon as this is over, individual initiations will begin and will last throughout the larger part of the three days. In all, forty-eight men will be received into the Phi Kappa Tau at this time.

On Friday night, there will be a gathering and a big smoker at the house. On Saturday evening the Installation Banquet will take place at the Commons at Old College. Here, in addition to the officers of the national organization of Phi Kappa Tau and visitors from other chapters, there will be representatives from the Faculty and the other fraternities of the University.

Phi Kappa Tau is represented in the following colleges: Miami University, Ohio University, Ohio State University, Centre College, Mount Union College, University of Illinois, Muhlenberg College, Pennsylvania University, Coe College, Kentucky State University, Purdue University, Lawrence College, University of California, Franklin and Marshall College, Pennsylvania State College, University of Southern California, Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute, Syracuse University, University of Michigan, Nebraska Wesleyan University, Bethany College, North Carolina State College, University of Colorado, University of Wisconsin, Michigan Agricultural College, New York University, Case School of Applied Science.

Tablet Unveiled Here During Armistice Day Ceremonies Yesterday

Spot Where County Service Men Took Oath Becomes Permanently Marked

MAJOR C. A. SHORT

The memorial tablet to New Castle County's selective service men, made possible by voluntary subscriptions last Fourth of July, was unveiled with appropriate ceremonies yesterday morning at the "boulder" on the upper University campus.

The unveiling was the center of Newark's Armistice Day celebration, the sixth anniversary of the cessation of hostilities in the World War.

Five hundred school children, the entire student body of the University, both men and women, and two hundred or more townspeople witnessed the exercises. Prior to the ceremonies the University R. O. T. C. Battalion paraded. The school children marched to the boulder in a body, marshalled by Superintendent Owens and the teaching staff.

Impressive Meeting

Dr. W. Owen Sypherd, secretary of the draft board which inducted the rural New Castle County men into the service, presided at the meeting.

Major Arthur W. Underwood, in charge of military affairs at the University spoke briefly on the correct form of respect to the colors and during the playing of the national anthem.

Rev. Frank Herson offered the invocation, in his usual earnest manner. He was followed by Major Clarence A. Short, who made the address of the day.

In speaking of the men who served under the Flag during the Great War, Major Short stated that there was glory enough for all—for those straining at the leash in training camps as well as those meeting the test of steel on foreign battlefields.

The speaker offered the hope that in years to come all wars shall be abolished, but said he never wanted to see the day when America would submit without a struggle to wrongs placed upon her.

Referring to the oft-repeated opinion that the part the United States took in the war, "was not worth while," Major Short vehemently refuted the charge in vigorous terms.

He concluded a splendid address by urging a reconsecration to the ideals for which the boys under the Stars and Stripes fought and died, and in particular, plead for this community not to "forget the spot we are marking this day," adding that a finer type of patriotism will grow out of a reverence and respect for the dead of a great conflict.

Immediately after the conclusion of Major Short's speech, the tablet was unveiled by representatives of College, Town and Veterans of the War. These representatives were:

Miss Marion Neide, of the Women's College; James L. Mannix, of the Men's College; George E. Michael, of the Veterans of Foreign Wars; and Martin Doordan, representing the townspeople.

During the unveiling, the College Band played the national anthem, while the battalion and civilians stood at attention. This ceremony concluded the exercises.

20 ACRES BURNED OVER DURING WOODS BLAZE

Neighbors Fight Flames On Gaiter Farm Near Newark Sunday

Battling valiantly to save nearby buildings and valuable timber from the leaping flames, a score of men fought a bad woods fire on the Jacob Gaiter farm in the Milford Cross Roads section north of Newark late Saturday night and Sunday morning.

The fire is believed to have started from a spark emitted by a locomotive on the Pomeroy and Newark branch line. It broke out with great intensity late Saturday night, after several hours of smoldering.

Back firing, trenching and beating were the methods used by the volunteer fire-fighters. Their efforts were finally rewarded when the blaze was trapped and put out Sunday morning. The men worked the most of Saturday night fighting the fire.

From 15 to 20 acres of valuable woodland were reported to have been burned over in the conflagration.

CAR DROPS INTO CANAL; OCCUPANTS RESCUED

Group of Negroes From Elkton Have Narrow Escape At Chesapeake City

Three Negroes, two men and a woman, narrowly escaped death by drowning Monday night when the Ford sedan in which they were riding ran over the embankment at the drawbridge in Chesapeake City and hurled into the canal.

George McCabe, driver of the car, managed to break the glass in the windows of the sedan, and aided by canal employees, helped rescue his two passengers.

Bystanders were of the opinion that the car was in good running shape and that the accident was caused by extreme negligence on the part of the driver.

INSURANCE CO. STOCKHOLDERS IN FIGHT TO CONTROL

A struggle for the control of the Continental Life Insurance Company, a Delaware corporation, whose stock is held here in some quantity, has been precipitated between the directors and a group of the largest stockholders as a result of the action of the Board of Directors in asking stockholders to relinquish their voting powers under a five-year voting trust agreement.

According to George E. Saulsbury, of Baltimore, Md., vice-president of the company and leader in the move to block the proposed five-year agreement, the fight began with the refusal of the directors either to buy his stock or sell to him. When he found another purchaser for his stock the directors sought to retain control by soliciting five-year proxies from the other stockholders, he charges.

By way of counter attack, Mr. Saulsbury and Harvey L. Cooper, of Denton, Md., inserted advertisements in the newspapers offering all stockholders a price $8 above market quotations for their holdings. The Franklin Trust Company, of this city, was designated to receive and hold this stock for the accumulation of the 37,000 shares sought by Saulsbury and Cooper.

This public offer was made necessary, according to the advertisement, because the management of the company refused to furnish a list of stockholders, to whom private offers might be made.

"No sane man owning stock in this or any other company will surrender his vote for five years to a directorate, no matter how able they are or what the purpose claimed," was the statement of one of the largest Philadelphia stockholders. "I certainly have no intention of signing any such agreement."

The appeal for the surrender of the voting privilege was made in a circular letter issued to stockholders by Philip Burnett, president of the company, in which it was requested that the stock be surrendered under a voting trust agreement.

Season On Saturday

Local sportsmen are eagerly awaiting the dawn of Saturday, November 15th, at which hour it becomes lawful to shoot rabbits and birds in this State.

Many Newarkers are planning expeditions through the hills and ravines around town. Rabbits are reported fairly plentiful. There appears to be an abundance of partridges this fall.

Last night's slight rainfall helped relieve the long drought. The woods and thickets are still fire traps, however, and many farmers are barring hunters until a heavy rain comes.

Newark Mill Nearing A Full Time Basis

National Vulcanized Fibre Co. Increasing Output—Running Night Shift

An encouraging note was struck in Newark industrial circles Monday of this week, when the employees of the laminating and sheet departments of the National Vulcanized Fibre Co. plant here went on full time schedule, for the first time in several months.

An appreciable increase in orders has prompted the management of the company to take this step, and the outlook is bright for a steady winter's run. The increase follows similar advances made in many industries following the national election last week.

Aside from the departments mentioned above, the balance of the employees started Monday on a 49-hour week, or about 4 hours short of full time. During the summer months, the plant operated on a 26-hour basis. A month ago, the schedule was raised to 45 hours.

Superintendent D. A. McClintock also announced to THE POST that two night machines started operation this week, giving an additional production unit. Several additional men were taken on by the "old mill" this week.

ROAD NEEDS REPAIRING

No Action on 1100 Ft. Stretch Along Kemblesville Highway

Despite offers of Contractor Campbell of the Lincoln Highway Construction Company to build the piece for cost, no action has been taken on the improvement of the 1100 foot stretch of dirt road connecting the Delaware line and the Pennsylvania line along the Newark-Kemblesville highway.

With winter approaching, residents of that section are alarmed over the prospects of enduring long months of impassable road conditions. They point to the fact that although the piece of road is less than a quarter mile in length, it will become practically impassable in a month or two.

It was reported a few weeks ago that the Cecil County Commissioners were about to authorize the repairing of the road, but to date, there has been nothing done.

DOCTOR MARRIES

Dr. Wallace M. Johnson Weds Michigan Girl in Wilmington

Dr. Wallace M. Johnson, of Newark, and Miss Ethel R. Gray, of Hillsdale, Michigan, were married by the Rev. George Allison, pastor of the Second Baptist Church, Wilmington, last Saturday.

The ceremony was performed by Rev. Allison at his residence in that city.

Dr. and Mrs. Johnson will live in Newark at the Walt H. Steel home on Amstel avenue.

Dr. Johnson recently took over the practice here left by Dr. Steel's death. He is a graduate of the University of Michigan medical school.

A marriage license was granted last week by Clerk of the Court Lewis in Elkton to Susan E. Backoff, aged 19, of that town, and John S. Morrison, aged 25, of Newark.

Red Cross Drive Here Began Last Monday; Off To Good Start

21 Women Aiding in Local Campaign—Decide Not to Canvass Town for Members

With twenty-one ladies of the town doing active duty at two main booths, the Newark Chapter of the American Red Cross started its annual drive for membership yesterday.

For the second consecutive year, it was decided that there would be no house-to-house canvassing. This departure from the regular custom took place first in 1923. While the total membership gained was not as large as some past years, it was felt by local Red Cross leaders that the new system of booths would appeal to more people and eventually result in just as heavy enrollments as have been the rule in Newark.

While it is hard to ascertain the actual net proceeds to date, it is understood that the first two days of the campaign compare favorably with previous years.

The drive opened on Armistice Day and will continue through the present week only.

Attractive booths have been set up in Rhodes' Drug Store and in Faders' Bakery, where each day and evening a member of the local chapter is stationed to enroll members. Buttons and membership cards are given to those who take part in the drive.

Many Aids Listed

Mrs. James O. G. Duffy is general chairman of the campaign this year. Assisting her as vice-chairman are Mrs. Ernest B. Wright and Miss Eleanor Todd.

Other officers of the Newark chapter are: Treasurer, Miss Jane Maxwell, and Secretary, Miss Lydia Fader.

Twenty-one aides have been enlisted for the drive this week. A schedule has been arranged so that each booth has a member in charge during the campaign both day and evening. The aides are as follows:

Mrs. William Holton, Miss Jane Maxwell, Mrs. Lasher, Mrs. E. B. Crooks, Mrs. H. E. Hallman, Mrs. R. B. Mathews, Mrs. Richard Cooch, Mrs. Henry Winter Davis, Mrs. George Medill, Miss Florence Cook, Miss Sarah Lovett, Miss Martha Wollaston, Miss Anna Frazer, Mrs. James M. Barnes, Mrs. Thomas Baker, Miss Nell B. Wilson, Mrs. A. D. Cobb, Miss Dorothy Stoll, Miss Eleanor Duffy, Miss Alice Kerr, and Miss Edwina Long.

ARMISTICE DANCE IS WELL ATTENDED HERE

Football Association Sponsors Novel Affair In Armory

Scores of couples from Newark, Elkton, Wilmington and nearby points attended the second annual Armistice Eve dance in the Armory Monday night.

Music was furnished by Madden's Orchestra, and the dancers voted it just right.

At eleven o'clock, an impressive tableau was unveiled, depicting a portion of an American cemetery in Flanders. Crosses and poppies dotted the greensward. The scene was cleverly executed by the young men in the Football Association here. Charles Green, a Senior at the University recited "In Flanders Fields," and "America's Answer." Then followed the blowing to Taps, and the National Anthem. It was a very well arranged feature of the evening.

President Sheaffer, of the Association, was on hand during the evening, and Howard D. Jester, business manager, had active charge of the dance. Dancing continued from nine until one. The Armory was beautifully decorated for the occasion.

MARYLAND GOVERNOR ASKS COOPERATION

Urges Hunters to Stay Out of Woods Until Rain Comes

Governor Ritchie, of Maryland, has issued a proclamation appealing to hunters not to exercise their legal right of gunning because of the extremely dry condition of the fields and forests. He also appeals to campers and others who go afield or into the woods before rainfall occurs.

The Governor says that the danger is so real that in other States where the legal authority exists the public officials, by proclamation, have postponed the opening of the hunting season until rainfall. He says the Maryland law gives no such authority, but he considers the situation sufficiently serious for a public appeal to all those who go into the woods.

In case any hunters decide not to comply with his appeal, the Governor requests them to use the greatest possible care and do nothing which may set fire to dry vegetation of any kind.

Mountains swept by fires during the last week will add to the flood danger in Western Maryland in the spring, Frederick W. Besley, State Forester, said. Without trees to hold rains and melting snow the rivers will fill too rapidly and floods will result, he explained.

PLAN RE-ASSESSMENT OF TOWN OF ELKTON

Council Decides On Measure Following Neglect of Years

At a regular meeting of the Town Council of Elkton, last week, it was decided by the board to have a reassessment of all real estate in the town. The town has not had a reassessment for a great many years and property that has a value today of over $10,000 is still being assessed at $1,500 and $2,000. The board believes that with a reassessment of all property in the town their present tax rate would be reduced to nearly one-half its present rate. Manly Drennan and Charles P. Bartley, two real estate brokers, have been appointed the assessors.

SENATOR BALL SLATED FOR COMMISSION POST

May Receive Appointment on Canadian-American Border Board

A Washington dispatch to Delaware late last week indicated Senator L. Heister Ball, who retires from the upper house March 4th next in favor of General T. Coleman du Pont, may receive the appointment to the International Joint Commission taking the place vacated by the death recently of the late Senator Townsend, of Michigan.

The International Commission has as its work, the adjusting of boundary difficulties between the United States and Canada, and sits as a court of arbitration in many other matters involving both governments.

The report that the President had under consideration the appointment of Senator Ball to this place, followed Senator Ball's call at the White House, Friday. However, Senator Ball said he called to congratulate the President upon his election. Thomas E. Peeney and Mrs. Peeney, of Wilmington, accompanied Senator Ball to the White House and shook hands with the President.

Secretary Slep was asked some time ago regarding the possibility of Senator Ball's appointment to the Joint Commission, but at that time he had no information on the subject, and said it had not been brought to his attention.

The salary of members of this commission is the same as that of members of the United States Senate. The appointment is for life.

The plans for the year were discussed, and the survey of the district seemed to be considered a fine thing to do. All the members will enter into the work with great interest and zeal. The chairman of the program committee is planning a cantata for the Thanksgiving meeting, to be held on Saturday, November 22nd. The children of the school are to take part in this entertainment.

Centre Grove Community Club held their second meeting of the fall on Wednesday evening, November 5th. The program dealt with "Safety"; accident prevention was discussed; and the children gave a little play, "Safety First." Plans were laid to have an entertainment sometime during December. Miss Paulie O'Donald, the teacher of the school, is to serve as Publicity Chairman.

There were about 135 parents and children present at the meeting of the Oak Grove Home and School Association on Friday evening, November 7. This was a result of the efforts on the part of some of the members to have everyone in the district show their interest in the progress of the school. A fine attendance record has been kept by the students this fall. The speaker for the evening was Mr. Walter Dent Smith, of the Delaware Safety Council, who was well fitted to tell of the importance of safety measures and the need for co-operation of the schools in carrying out a safety program.

AUTO TIRES AND TUBES STOLEN IN STANTON

Boyce Brothers' Stock Room Entered Friday Night; $140 Loss Estimated

Thieves raided the stock room of Boyce Brothers, general hardware, feed and grain merchants, of Stanton, late Friday night last and escaped with auto tires and tubes valued at $140.

Entrance was gained to the store by forcing a rear window; after first removing a heavy screen. They were not disturbed in their hunt, and got away with three casings and 26 inner tubes.

When the theft was discovered Saturday morning, State and county police were notified, and efforts are being made to run down the thieves. Auto supply dealers are being advised of the theft, so that they will be on the lookout for the stolen goods.

A similar theft was committed at the Cole and Mackey store in Providence, Md., about two weeks ago, and local police are of the opinion that the same group may have had a hand in both thefts.

The First Armistice Day

From "Win The War," Delaware's Journal of Patriotism during the great struggle

Delaware Awake! The very words themselves inspire. With Delaware Awake, Caesar Rodney leaves Dover Green on his famous ride to vote for Independence. With Delaware Awake, our fathers give us the proud heritage of being citizens of the First State in the Union.

Tradition whispering, History calling, Nations in distress, Humanity pleading, Christianity standing at bay—then indeed always is Delaware Awake. With Delaware Awake, Liberty stands defended and Democracy is no longer a National theory but a world-wide living fact. With Delaware Awake, we give of our time, our thought, our wealth to the cause of Right as expressed in American Democracy, against the theory of Might interpreted by Prussian Autocracy. With Delaware Awake, we offer gloriously our Sons and Daughters to give their best and all, that the Rights of Men and Nations be maintained and that the Material, wrongly exercised, shall not dominate the Ideal, earnestly striven for.

In this, the greatest contest in the World's History, America after three long years of waiting at the Cross Roads of Destiny took the Road to the Right. Thanks be to the God of Courts and Men, we have been thus fortunate to express in words and blood what we in our better selves felt.

*Ye Flanders dead,
The fight that ye so bravely lead
We've taken up.*

When the Nation called—immediately was Delaware Awake. She has responded nobly. In time and wealth, in thought and sons, she has proved worthy of her boasted Past by contributing her proportionate share—and more. In all the War Activities she has maintained her proud position. Her daughters tonight keep faithful vigil in the hospitals of war-swept France, the blood of her sons has tinged the shell-shot soil of the Western Front. Delaware boys tonight, dream of home at the very outposts of the Allies. Delaware was on the firing line when Autocracy surrendered to the Champions of Liberty, of Thought and Action. Delaware has done well her part—and proudly have we shared.

*So let your rest be sweet and deep
In Flanders fields.*

*Fear not that ye have died for naught,
The torch ye threw to us we caught.
Ten million hands will hold it high
And freedom's light will never die!
We've learned the lesson that ye taught
In Flanders fields.*

And now Peace! Far be it from us to attempt to express the thought or interpret the heart beat of the homes of fair Belgium, sturdy England, beautiful Liberty-loving France. Far be it from us to assume to depict the gladness in our own glorious America.

But the work is not done—the task of making Democracy safe is not complete. Liberty, with the practical freedom of Thought and Action, is not yet secure. Secure from Militarism, yes. Secure from Autocracy, yes. But the task of Industry, Health, Education, relations and adjustments of the various forms of thought and society, are yet to be done. Germany, Austria, Russia, are about to be free but the yare to be taught the responsibilities of Freedom. Peace, yes. But here in America, right here in Delaware, the work of this generation, glorious as it has been, is not finished. In the Crisis, wealth, labor, profession and clergy, irrespective of thought or circumstance, have sat side by side at the Council table, harmoniously devising ways and means to win this War. To practically and most effectively celebrate Peace is to so continue to work to make Democracy better fit for the world. Delaware Awake! In a Crisis, we respond. We boast of our position in National affairs. First in Parade, but not in Education. First in Red Cross for suffering in War, but not for Health in Peace. First in Liberty Loan National support, but not in State's interest. Delaware Awake! The problems of Reconstruction and Peace, while not so dramatic, are just as vital. With the same thought, the same time, the same energy, the same undreamed-of Cooperation given to Delaware's coming problems, with Delaware Awake to the facts—we should celebrate indeed.

Delaware Awake! Men and Women of Delaware let us Carry On and see to it that these dead, our own boys, shall not have died in vain. Let us see to it that we hand down to our children, not only Democracy defended but Liberty ennobled. The War has broadened our vision. We think internationally. That is well. But that we may so serve, it is essential that we look about us and think and act locally. We owe an interest in State affairs as well as National needs and only by giving attention to local problems can we best serve America's welfare—and America is a word whose meaning is the Ideal for which Mankind is striving.

ENTERS COMMUNITY LIFE Few People Realize How Great a Service Grange Is Constantly Rendering

Few people realize the extent to which the Grange organization of the country enters into the community life of its local fields, in addition to the individual service it renders its members and the broad legislative program of the organization in a national way. Some outstanding phases of this branch of Grange work indicate the breadth of the Grange vision:

In Delaware each subordinate Grange is appointing a "public affairs" committee, which seeks out channels of local betterment and enlists Grange energies to meet them. In Massachusetts prizes are offered in substantial cash amounts to the 20 local Granges which carry out the most effective community service program during the year. In New Jersey the Grange has gotten together conferences with other agricultural and rural organizations and a combined program, including many local improvement projects, has been gotten under way. In Ohio the Grange initiated a similar conference with other farm organizations and all agreed to a "division of labor" program in rural affairs, whereby each has its own part in the year's outline for rural welfare.

In several states a definite policy of local school improvement is headed up by the Grange, committees co-operate with the churches, with village improvement societies and with other organizations for bettering local conditions in civic and appearance lines; while scores of Granges offer prizes in various community betterment directions. Active Grange workers are almost invariably community leaders, not only backed in such work by their Grange, but inspired to undertake it by all the teachings of the Order itself.

Radio Knife Used In Operating Room May Revolutionize Modern Surgery

Philadelphia Surgeon Demonstrates Wonderful Invention In Actual Case At Hospital; Watchers Astounded By Results; May Be Used For Cancer

A major operation performed without a single drop of blood issuing from the knife wound was successful Saturday, when Dr. Barton Cook Hirst, professor of obstetrics in the University of Pennsylvania, experimented for the first time in Philadelphia with the most recent development of radio science, the radio surgical knife.

Before beginning his experiment, Doctor Hirst told the members of his clinic that a successfully performed operation with the radio knife would mark the beginning of a new era in surgery. When the operation, a particularly serious one, was over, the professor spread his hands in a gesture of relief, and said:

"You have seen something I did not believe was possible."

Doctor Hirst admitted to his clinic that he did not understand the knife, and asked the class to watch carefully what it did. They watched, and this is what they saw:

A black rubber tube, looking much like a black lead pencil, attached to what appeared to be an ordinary radio set. A high-powered electric motor being started and a flashing of bulbs in the radio set. An eminent surgeon rather gingerly taking up the black pencil-like cylinder. Nurses and other surgeons crowding close.

The tip of the black cylinder, the radio knife proper, lightly touched the flesh of the patient on the operating table. A sharp sizzling, resembling the sounds of sparks leaping from a spark plug, a little smoke, the smell of burning, and the flesh parted, leaving an absolutely bloodless incision. In a minute the underlying tissues were laid bare, ready for the surgeon's deft hands to remove the cause of the trouble. Not a drop of blood to be seen.

Then Doctor Hirst turned to his clinic with what was unconsciously a dramatic gesture and explained:

"I am a beginner at this as much as you," he said, "and my amazement is as great as yours. Here you see a great development of modern science, a surgical knife operated by radio, at I am informed, 3,000,000 oscillations a second. I will endeavor to tell you what it does."

"The frequency is so great that as the knife cuts it coagulates the blood, automatically sealing the blood vessels. This eliminates bleeding from the wound. The knife sterilizes itself and saves us much time. It also sterilizes the wound. I am also told that it leaves the wound in such a condition that healing is twice as rapid as when the ordinary surgical knife is used."

"You can see what this will mean to surgery of the future. Bloodless and absolutely clean operations. Rapid recovery by the patient. Gentlemen, you are seeing something today well worth noting."

The knife, invented recently by an eminent Chicago surgeon, was brought to Philadelphia for experiment by Doctor Hirst, known as one of the leading surgeons on maternity cases. It is understood that the professor will make his opinion known shortly to the American Medical Association.

The inventor of the knife claims that its greatest benefit will be in operating on cancer cases. It will not only make the clean, rapidly healing incisions, but the high frequency current will kill the cancer germs and heal the diseased parts, he claims.

"The great oscillating electric force with its healing and sterilizing qualities will be cancer's greatest foe," he has announced. "The knife will soon be used, I predict, by every great surgeon in treating cancer. It will take the place of all serums."

Cuts Bone Like Butter

"As the knife cuts its ways through the flesh it seals the tissues, much as a singeing in a barber shop seals the tips of the hair. In cancer cases it will make possible the complete removal of the diseased parts. I think that the knife, properly handled, can effect outright cancer cures."

It is claimed that the radio knife, in reality not a knife at all, but a pin point of flashing electric current, can take the place of the ordinary operating knife in all cases except where layers of fat must be cut through. Flesh and bone will part before it like soft butter under a knife, it is said.

It will not cut through fat, it is explained, as that form of tissue is a non-conductor. The principal on which the knife is based is the ready response of the body to electric current.

The high-frequency current from the radio set passes completely through the body. A wire carries the current to the end of the "knife." The current passes out of the body to a copper plate directly under the part being operated upon, and another wire carries the current back to the radio set.

Doctor Hirst performed two operations in his clinic Saturday morning with the ordinary operating knife. Then, when the third patient was being wheeled in, he said:

"Gentlemen, I am trying something new this morning. I am experimenting with something I know little of. It appears to be one of the greatest inventions of modern times. It is a surgical knife operated by that thing we have heard so much about and know so little of—radio."

"All I can say to you is to watch closely and see what I see."

"MICKEY" IS DEAD

Famous Dog of Late Dr.
Charles Blake Succumbs

Friends and neighbors of Mrs. Charles H. Blake were saddened by the news that "Mickey," the handsome French bulldog, for several years an institution around the Blake home on West Main street, had passed away, following an operation performed for the removal of a growth on his hip.

"Mickey" was a close and faithful companion of the late Dr. Blake and was a favorite with everyone in the neighborhood. At the time of Dr. Blake's death, "Mickey" mourned for his master for several weeks in a way which only a dog can mourn.

The dog died suddenly after Dr. Palmer had operated on him yesterday morning. The operation was successful, and Mickey recovered and seemed all right. But the staunch little heart suddenly stopped beating and he expired.

Robert T. Jones made arrangements for a handsome funeral for the pet. He was placed in a small white coffin, and laid to rest in the oval of grass immediately to the rear of the Blake home.

Henry Wier of St. Paul was found dead, standing upright against the door of his room.

AMERICAN UNIVERSITIES BABES IN EDUCATION

In the United States we look upon Harvard and Yale as being venerable institutions of learning. But they are mere babes when compared with some in other lands. Harvard dates from 1638 and Yale from 1701.

The oldest educational institution in the world is the university of El Ashar, Cairo, Egypt. It was founded in the year 988 by the great Saladin. It is the central seat of learning for the Mohammedans, as well as the foundation of spiritual life.

The oldest university in the Western Hemisphere is the University of San Marcos, at Lima, Peru, founded in 1561. The second oldest is the University of Cordoba, Argentine Republic, founded in 1713. The oldest university in territory controlled by the United States is the University of St. Thomas, at Manila, in the Philippines.

THE COMMUNITY'S NEWSPAPER

TRUST COMPANY ASSETS SHOW GAIN

Trust Company of Delaware for the year ending June 30, 1924, has reported an increase of $9,488,311.75, an increase of 89.4 per cent over 1923, according to "Trust Companies of the United States," just published by the United States Mortgage & Trust Company of New York.

The Middle Atlantic trust companies reported assets of $7,383,200,100. The totals for the country were $1,055,580,000, a gain of $1,584,042, or nearly 11 per cent over 1923. Deposits increased from $11,828,900 to $13,289,700,000, or more than 12 per cent.

Commenting on the figures for 1924, John W. Flannery, President of the United States Mortgage & Trust Company, says:

"The significant fact Trust Companies have in the United States is more than doubled in eight years and have practically tripled in ten years. These tremendous increases, together with the rapidly increasing volume of corporate and

Sunset Lake Dam Is Practically Completed

Secretary Miller Says Last Filling Will Be Made This Week—Newly Stocked With Fish

John B. Miller, secretary of the Newark Anglers' Association, sponsors of the fishing dam "Sunset Lake," a few miles south of Newark, stated yesterday that the dam will be sound again, following a few more days labor.

In commenting on the project, Mr. Miller said:

"The breach in the bank at Sunset Lake has been repaired successfully by the erection of a coffer wall extending from the spillway wall over and inside the heart or center of the bank, twenty-four inches wide at the bottom and running upwards to twelve inches at the top. The filling of clay will be finished this week on both sides, weather permitting. The old bank should be widened and strengthened by a deposit of clay from the top downward before the water is turned in for the winter, but this will depend upon how much money is left in the treasury after the filling of the wall is completed.

"We desire the members inspect this work as it proceeds, and consider the advisability of this treatment of the old bank. It should be done; and in order that all concerned shall pass upon it, we ask the membership at large to personally inspect conditions now. The new fill will be carefully puddled in under the supervision of Mr. William Dean, our foreman of construction. We re surfaced the old deck with concrete from three to six inches making it water tight and secure from frost and ice.

"Last Monday we secured and delivered about 1200 white and yellow perch and several hundred sunfish which are a necessary part for the feeding of bass in their native element. They were planted at the Glasgow bridge at the head of the stream and are fully protected during the winter. We have an option on bass as soon as the fill is completed and the water cut off to protect them.

"Mr. Dean is a valuable asset to us in this work at this particular time, and his experience in building large mountain dams in different parts of the country is very valuable to us in the completion of this work. He will be glad to see any member and give them any information and will listen to suggestions from any source interested or concerned in this project. Mr. Samuel Little, our well known mason contractor constructed the wall and his work is open for inspection to all who are concerned."

PUBLIC ACCOUNTANTS' EXAMINATION NOV 13-14

Opportunities Offered for Degree of C. P. A. On Those Dates by Delaware Board

The Accountancy Board of Delaware announces an examination to be held November 13 and 14 for those who wish registration as certified public accountants in this State. The examination will be held at the office of the president of the board, Peter T. Wright, 301 E. Baltimore Building, Wilmington. Applications should be addressed to the secretary, Clifford E. Izard, 2054 du Pont Building, Wilmington, before November 1, accompanied by his examination fee of $25.

Delaware is one of the thirty-four States where the American Institute of Accountants is holding semi-annual examinations for those who wish Certified Public Accountant degrees. The Accountancy Board of Delaware has co-operated with the Institute in preparing the questions to be propounded at the coming examination. Much time and effort are put into the preparation for these questions by the Institute's Board of Examiners and by the Accountancy Board of Delaware. Special attention is paid to the time required by the average accountant to answer the questions included in the examination. After the test has been prepared by the examiners, several accountants who recently have been granted certified public accountant degrees are asked to take the test with a view to determining whether it is possible to answer the questions within a reasonably short time, and whether it is a thorough test of the candidates' knowledge of the theory and practice of accounting. The same examination is used for admission to the American Institute of Accountants. The candidates may make the examination do for both purposes by announcing their intention in advance.

In the tests conducted in November, 1923, and in May, 1924, by the various State Boards of Accountancy, 963 candidates for certified public accountant degrees were examined. Of this number, 306 were passed, and thus became eligible for the State degrees; 407 were conditioned, and 250 failed.

ALSO NECKWEAR AND HOSIERY

There are some ties that are so smart that one feels like giving them a title—hence, Neckwear. The same is true of socks—there are some that really are Hosiery.

That's especially true this season, for men are going in more for color. You will find them wearing shirts that would have seemed pretty vivid two years ago. Socks and ties are the same way.

It's a change that nearly everybody likes, because it does give men more individuality. At best, a man's attire is rather sober. In the matter of suit fabrics, the inconspicuous thing is still the correct thing. Here is the cut that counts. But how smart that can be nobody knows till he has worn a suit of Society Brand.

America's Duty
We are bound to maintain public liberty, and, by the example of our own systems, to convince the world that order and law, religion and morality, the rights of conscience, the rights of persons and the rights of property, may all be preserved and secured in the most perfect manner, by a government entirely and purely elective. If we fail in this, our disaster will be signal, and will furnish an argument stronger than has yet been found, in support of those opinions which maintain that government can rest safely on nothing but power and coercion.

THE CHILD LABOR AMENDMENT

What Does It Mean; What Are Its Aims, and The Restrictions Under It? Various Views for Information.

The Post herewith prints some views, along with parts of the text of the Child Labor Amendment pending in Delaware and in the Congress of the United States.

This is done for the purpose of familiarizing the community with the measure:

The text in brief:

Section 1. The Congress shall have power to limit, regulate, and prohibit the labor of persons under 18 years of age.

Section 2. The power of the several States is unimpaired by this article except that the operation of State laws shall be suspended to the extent necessary to give effect to legislation enacted by the Congress.

Broad and general in terms as any Constitutional amendment should be to meet changing conditions and national developments.

Prescribes no particular kind of child labor law except to fix an upper age limit beyond which Congress may not legislate. Is an enabling act only.

Does not prohibit labor of children up to 18 years of age.

Does not contemplate a Federal law with general prohibition up to 18 years.

Does contemplate Federal regulation in accordance with majority sentiment of the States through their representatives in Congress.

Contains no prohibition whatever.

Congress.

Makes possible Federal law similar to many existing State laws regulating employment of boys and girls of 16 and 17 years, as well as younger, in extra hazardous occupations and at night work or overlong hours.

Farm Work and Domestic Service not exempted in amendment because proper place for exemptions is in statute Congress may enact under this grant of power.

State Rights

The amendment does not take away any State's right to regulate or prohibit child labor.

It gives Congress the right to establish a minimum standard of protection for all American children.

It safeguards the right of the State to give greater protection than Congress may give.

It gives Congress no right every State does not have.

—Del. League of Women Voters.

"We commend Congress for its prompt adoption of the recommendation of President Coolidge for a constitutional amendment authorizing Congress to legislate on the subject of Child Labor, and we urge the prompt consideration of that amendment by the legislators of the various states."

ANOTHER SOCIAL TIME AT UNIVERSITY OVER THE PAST WEEK-END

Dance and House Parties Follow Big Game With Haverford Saturday

The campus of the University presented a jolly scene Saturday evening last, when practically every student was in attendance at the various parties arranged for that evening. Following the defeat of Haverford by the Blue and Gold earlier in the day, the festivities were in the nature of a celebration of the victory.

The Kappa Alpha Fraternity held its annual fall informal dance in Old College Saturday evening. Dancing continued from eight until twelve. Madden's Orchestra furnished the music for the party.

The guests were received by John G. Leach, president of the fraternity and were in turn presented to the patronesses in the receiving line. The latter were Mrs. George E. Dutton, Mrs. Norris N. Wright, Mrs. James C. Hastings, Miss Clark of the Women's College, and Mrs. Carl S. Rankin.

In addition to the members of the active chapter, and guests from the college circles, a large number of Alumni were present to enjoy the affair. About 125 couples were on the floor. At the intermission refreshments were served to the guests.

Sigma Phi Tau and Party
Following the game Saturday, a tea was held in the Sigma Phi Epsilon house on the University campus, to which a number of members, guests and alumni were present.

In the evening a large house party was held, and scores of young people attended. Dancing and cards featured the evening. Refreshments were served later.

Delaware Victorious
Over Haverford Team
In Thrilling BattleLast Quarter Spurt by Blue and Gold Results in Winning Touchdown—
Score, 8-7

BY T. R. DANTZ

In a game replete with thrills and packed full of breath-taking plays, Delaware downed her ancient rival, Haverford, in the annual struggle on Fraser Field last Saturday.

The score, 8-7, partially indicates the strain under which rooters for both camps labored. And it was not until the game drifted to a close that McAvoy's men unleashed the punch which brought victory.

For the first time this season, the Blue and Gold backs carried a consistent offensive down to the goal line. Taking the ball on a fumble by Middleton, a Haverford back, inside the 30-yard line, following a series of forward passes and off-tackle plunges which had brought the ball deep in Haverford territory, Jackson, Hubert and Weggenmann cut loose with everything they had, and slowly but surely forced the visitors to the shadow of defeat.

With ten yards to go, Weggenmann dashed off the "short side" on a line buck, wriggled loose from a tackler and fell across the last chalk mark, amid wild cheering. Nearly everybody left the stands during the last few plays and gathered along the rope barrier near the goal line to see the final score.

Haverford Dangerous

Throughout the first half, Haverford out-gained and at many points outplayed the Delaware eleven. The one bright spot in an otherwise drab article of football from a local standpoint was the punting of "Scoop" Hubert. His boots averaged well over 50 yards, were well placed and most timely. On the other hand Billo's kicks for Haverford were very ordinary.

Unleashing a splendid line and tackle offensive, Haverford kept the ball down in Delaware territory most of the first half but could not muster the strength to shove it over the goal line. In the second quarter, a Hubert punt went out of bounds on the Haverford 10-yard line, and after two plays, Billo punted. Two Delaware linemen sifted through and threw themselves at the kicker. The ball was blocked, but Billo recovered in the end zone. Two points for the Blue and Gold on a safety.

Second Half

From then on the battle raged back and forth across the field. Considerable fumbling and errors of judgement marked both offensives. It was a case of two good teams held at bay.

Haverford got its chance about the middle of the third quarter, however. Receiving the ball at mid-field, the Red and Black warriors opened up a plunging offensive, which for a few minutes ripped the Delaware line to pieces.

For eight consecutive plays Middleton, the Haverford halfback carried the ball, and eight times did he pierce the home line. He was unstoppable. Tackle, guard, through center, he hit them all. And on the eighth attempt with four yards to go, he threw himself into the center of the line and just made the touchdown. It was a rare bit of call carrying, reminiscent of the old days of the Carlisle Indians. It was a favorite stunt of Glenn Warner's before the day of multiple backfield plays.

Delaware, as a whole, played its best game of the season. For once they had a punch, a good sustained punch. Again, their passing game looked better than ever before.

They had everything to gain Saturday. A record crowd, an old rival, and a puzzled student body. It was theirs to make good, or lose caste. They made good.

Wooten, Kramer, Jackson, Hubert, Creamer and Weggenmann looked best for Delaware taking the game in its entirety. For Haverford, the work of Middleton in the backfield and Harvey at tackle stood out above the rest. This fellow Harvey played a whale of a game, and impressed everyone who watched his work. The line-up:

Delaware	Haverford
Creamer L. E.	Lamberti
McKelvie L. T.	Sumwalt
Owens L. G.	Hollingshead
Kramer C.	Miller
Reybold R. G.	Montgomery
Torbert R. T.	Harvey

WILL PLAY LAUREL FOR TITLE THANKSGIVING

Sitting proudly on its record for the season, Newark awaits eagerly the call to battle with Laurel High School for the championship of D. I. A. A. football teams for 1924.

For the sixth straight year, Newark has reigned supreme in the upper half of the State. This season, the local gridiron heroes have rolled up a total of 223 points to 6 for opponents. The only team to have crossed their goal line was Wilmington High School Junior Varsity last week.

Coach Horace Nunn has built up another splendid team, despite gloomy prospects early in the season. The loss of Townsend and Hopkins, Manns and Grant on the line and several other good men by graduation left a big job on the shoulders of the new coach.

However, he went to work and developed a fast, aggressive team, masters of ground gaining plays, and holding within their ranks two or three men who should make the mythical All-Delaware eleven.

In Laurel, Newark meets an old rival, and worthy foe. The down-staters have swept aside the opposition, but not without several scares. They have been scored on frequently, and in some cases have won with only one touchdown to spare. On the other hand, Newark rode roughshod over every D. I. A. A. opponent.

Rules At Meeting; Urge
State Athletic Coach

Officials of the Delaware Inter-scholastic Athletic Association met at Camden on Friday evening and mapped out a rough draft of the rules that will cover the basketball contests among the various high schools of the State this winter. Realizing their embarrassments of last winter, the officials have devised rules and regulations governing all cage contests that they feel sure will avoid any repetition of some distressing arguments of last year.

Within a few years, the representatives of high schools in all sections of the state will receive invitations to meet in some central section of each county at which time they will arrange their schedule.

One of the big things which the Delaware State Education Association will endeavor to arrange for at its meeting this week, will be an athletic coach. The need for such an official is well known and has been the subject of much discussion for several years.

It is expected that the Delaware Inter-scholastic Association will make an offer to the teachers to help defray the expenses of such an official.

At the present time there is no money at the disposal of the State Board of Education for such an instructor and the expense of his salary must, for the time being at least, be met by private sources. The Inter-scholastic Association has enough funds at hand to warrant it, some officials believe, in offering to give $1,000 towards the salary of an athletic coach for all the schools, if the teachers will agree to a self-imposed levy to meet the remainder of the salary, this levy being raised by the teachers and students of each school. There are various ways in which the levy might be met such as holding bakes, bazaars, entertainments and if these are arranged the burden of the financial responsibility would be lifted from the individual pocket-books of the teachers and students.

There is a division of opinion over the matter and it is likely that it will result in wide discussion. The need for such an official is admitted by all the members of the State Board of Education, but without funds, the Board is helpless. Those favoring athletics for all children, however, are pushing the plan hoping that it or something to take its place may develop from it.

Hot On Cold

COLD days are almost here. And what is better on a cold day than plenty of hot water? The whole family cries for hot water on a cold day, and the cry is a very natural cry.

Father wants hot water for shaving. Mother wants hot water at the kitchen sink for washing dishes.

Everybody wants hot water for bathing.

What is home without hot water? It is a place in which to breed a family grouch.

To keep everybody happy, as well as healthy, keep the home supplied with plenty of hot water.

You wouldn't think of going without plenty of warm clothes in winter, would you? Then why think of going without plenty of warm water?

It is easy to have all the hot water you can use. And the cost, if compared with the comfort, is very little.

though the quality was slightly lower. It was also found that at the end of the experiment the plots with the reduced number of cuttings were in perfect condition, whereas those handled on the old plan were seriously depleted, carrying a large percentage of grass and weeds. It seems that this plan enables the alfalfa roots to store up more strength, giving them more vitality and endurance to go through the winters. Observations made in this state substantiate the results of this western test.

I have been looking around for a farm on which a demonstration of this nature could be conducted. I realize that this is a type of farming which is practical only for a limited number of farms in each community. If such a farm is located the idea will be to gradually work towards a plan of this kind, as it is demonstrated that it is practical to do so. In this section it would seem that an acreage of soy beans and corn would work in splendidly with alfalfa as a commercial crop. The soy beans are seeded before the harvesting period for alfalfa and the harvesting of the soy beans comes after the alfalfa work is complete. This avoids any labor conflict. A limited acreage of corn can be tilled in conjunction with alfalfa without serious labor conflict. On a 300 acre farm a practical plan would be 150 acres of alfalfa, 50 acres of permanent sweet clover pasture, 50 acres of corn and 50 acres of soy beans.

Wheat Grading

The laboratory work covering the project on grades of wheat is now complete. As soon as possible I expect to complete the compilation of the data and make a determination using these grades as a basis, of the increase in value of the Delaware wheat crop during the years 1923 and 1924 had it been marketed through a modern grain elevator.

Poultry Culling and Vaccinating
Demonstrations

On the farm of J. F. Brackin, Marshallton, a demonstration has been conducted in vaccinating poultry for rousp. This treatment is proving very successful in the control of rousp in poultry. The Department of Animal Husbandry at the University in co-operation with the State Board of Agriculture is producing the rousp serum and providing it to farmers without charge. The purpose of this demonstration was to show how the

OVER $4,000,000 NEEDED
FOR STATE SCHOOLSBudget of State Board of Education Filed Before
Governor

According to the budget filed by the State Board of Education at the hearing before Governor Deane last Friday it will require $4,894,936 to meet the expenses of the public schools of Delaware for the two years beginning July 1, 1925. The amount asked for the year beginning July 1, 1925 is $2,322,74 and $2,372,462 for the two years beginning July 1, 1926. The last General Assembly appropriated for this purpose $2,000,000 each year of the present biennium and added for the present year $300,000 contingent upon the collection of school taxes. The budget of the State board, therefore, represents only about one per cent increase over this latter sum. The board spread before the Governor the composite budget made compiling the budgets of the various districts, special districts and the city of Wilmington. The grand total of these for the year 1925-26 was $3,270,210 but from that the board had deducted $947,736, which it is not customary to add in the general school budget, such items as debt service, transportation of pupils, Americanization, Wilmington's contribution to the support of its schools and funds obtained from the sale of bonds. Similarly for 1926-27 the grand total was $3,092,590 from which was deducted for the same reasons the sum of $720,128. The supplementary budget which is recommended for the decision of the General Assembly carries the following items for 1925-26:

Scholarships and Other Items Included

Scholarships for training elementary teachers at University of Delaware (same as formerly), $12,000; Americanization (same) $25,000; Smith-Hughes matching fund, (same) $20,000; transportation of pupils, ($25,000 increase), $130,000; debt service carried by State up to 1923, but not since, $178,736. For the year 1926-27 the supplementary budget is work is done in order that farmers may vaccinate their own flocks. During the month the flock of Wesley Maclary, Newport, was culled. The culling was done by Mr. E. R. Mumford who has charge of the poultry flock at the University farm.

as follows: Scholarships (same), $12,000; Americanization (same), $25,000; Smith-Hughes (same), $20,000; transportation of pupils ($30,000 increase), $135,000; debt service, $135,928.

anecdote to emphasize his point, that one never receives a benefit, unless he puts something into Life and his Community.

Other Speakers

Following Rev. Wells' speech, Chairman Griffin called upon several other diners for remarks, suggestions, and impromptu discussion.

Among those who responded were Rev. Frank Herson, A. G. Wilkinson, Edward L. Richards, Dr. W. Owen Sypherd, Prof. and Mrs. W. A. Wilkinson and Rev. R. B. Mathews.

After another song or two, the dinner was adjourned by Mr. Griffin.

The committee in charge of the affair beside Mr. Griffin consisted of Warren A. Singles, Sol Wilson, and R. W. Heim.

Laughing too heartily at the antics of some playing children, Mrs. Elizabeth Sherman of Chicago burst a blood vessel and died.

Feed for a Thrifty Moul

We used to think, just as lots of people do, that it doesn't make much difference what you feed hens when they moult. We changed our notion after we saw what Purina Chows will do.

Building Up Hens During the Moult Means More Eggs

When not fed properly at moulting time, a hen robs her flesh of protein to make feathers. This stops her laying. By feeding Purina Chows, you help her make feathers quickly and get eggs sooner. Get your hens in shape for big production. See us today.

Aviators Cut Capers

It was originally planned to have the flowers dropped on Frazer Field just before game time by the aviators, Captain Bob Hewitt and Lieutenant Curry, but a 45-mile wind made it a dangerous move and the plan was given up at the last minute.

However, Captain Hewitt thrilled the spectators for several minutes by an exhibition of stunt flying over the field. His plane is said to be the smallest two-seater in America. It measures exactly 20 feet from tip to tip of wing, and is mounted with a 70 h. p. rotary motor.

Accompanying Mr. Blackson and the aviators to the field was Harris Samonisky, of the Every Evening staff. The group watched the game from the players' bench.

ducks have arrived on the ducking grounds. There are, however, not very many of the better grade, canvas-backs and redheads.

The weather, it is believed, has been too warm to cause these ducks to make their flight from their northern habitat, and lakes of Canada. A few cold days will cause them to arrive more abundantly, old-timers say.

E. Lee LeCompte, State Game Warden, visited Havre de Grace last week in a motor boat of 200 horsepower, capable of 25 miles per hour, in order to patrol the flats to protect the fowl from the night gunners.

The State Game Department is determined to break up violations of the ducking laws. The boat was built especially for use on the flats.

We are now in a position to completely and satisfactorily handle your most rigid requirements on delivery, promptly.

We have established a record this year and we are endeavoring to make 1924 one that will never be forgotten! During the first ten months of 1924 we have done as much business as the entire twelve months of 1923!

With two months left to go we have made up our minds to set up a record that will be an outstanding one in furniture history in this city.
