SCHOOL BOARD AUTHORIZES ELECTION TO DECIDE UPON PUBLIC SUPPORT FOR TOWN LIBRARY

One Thousand Fund Proposed Will Require Only Small Rate, Probably 2 Mills. Election May 5

As the result of action by the Newark district School Board on Tuesday evening last, voters of this district will decide upon a tax for support of the Town Library at an election May 5, this year.

The General Library Law of Delaware makes mandatory for Boards of Education, upon a petition of twenty or more electors to issue a call for a special election, to give the citizens an opportunity to decide whether they wish to lay a special tax on property to maintain a Free Public Library.

The Law governing the petition follows: "1933, Section 7. (Revised Code Delaware 1919 as amended) District Free Public Library; Election; When Held; Notice of; How Petitioned For:—Every Board of Education or Board of School Trustees shall submit the question as to the establishment of a free public library in the School District under the jurisdiction of the Board to the qualified Electors of such District, at a special election to be called by said Board whenever petitioned so to do by twenty (20) or more Electors of the District if the District be of the First Class or by ten (10) or more Electors of the District if it be of the Second or Third Class. Such special election shall be called by the Board for a day not later than sixty (60) days after such petition. The said Board shall give notice of the day or place and purpose of such special election by printed or written advertisements posted in at least five (5) public places in the District at least ten (10) days prior to the day of such election. In case the Board shall neglect or refuse to give such notice, any qualified Elector of the District may do so and the notice so given shall be as effectual as though given by said Board.

COMMANDER OF LEGION SPEAKS FOR DISABLED

Chief Edward A. Hayes and Auxiliary President Mrs. W. H. Biester, Jr., are Honored by Legion

Throughout a two day program of speaking and entertainment in Delaware the national commander of the American Legion, Edward A. Hayes, gave Delaware audiences the essentials of the legislative campaign of the legion and the supporting arguments as seen by the members of the organization backing the official decisions. Emphasis was put upon the importance of adequate support for the disabled.

"The Legion program," he asserted, "is admitted by all who have given it careful study in the light of experience with the disabled veterans' problems, as the most conservative yet conceived and the fairest to the truly disabled and to the government alike."

Commander Hayes said the Legion's program of restoring benefits of the service connected disabled veterans is the first major objective of the organization at this session of Congress. National defense and the passage of the universal draft act to be used in time of war, to prevent profiteering and insure equal service by all are the other two major efforts.

He said that the Legion believes that immigration quotas should be reduced by 50 per cent down to 10 per cent allowed under the 1924 laws. "We must sponsor Federal laws that will exclude alien communists and that will send back to the country of their origin those aliens who would overthrow our government or who are beholden to the Third International," he declared.

In closing he appealed to members of the Legion and the Legion Auxiliary to strive for unanimity of thought, expression and then action. "It will take this teamwork in our organization if we are ever to develop it beyond the mark of a million members," he said.

He directly charged the veterans present with the responsibility of building up the strength of the Legion now in membership in order that the objectives of the Legion program can be accomplished. "We can accomplish any task so long as it is unselfish and right," he declared, "if we can say half the eligibles from the World War are supporting us in these tasks."

Both the commander and the Legion Auxiliary president Mrs. William Henry Biester, Jr., praised local Legion work in Delaware.

BOY SCOUTS FEED BIRDS, ENTERTAIN PARENTS AND ENTER CONTESTS

Team Will Take Part In First Aid Contest at Marlinton Tonight

Last Sunday morning when the snow storm abated, local scouts made a trip to supply wild birds with grain and to clear feeding places of snow. Bird shelters had been put up through nearby woods sometime ago. On Monday evening of this week the Scouts entertained their parents in the Legion room of the Academy Building. The program consisted of music, skits, and demonstrations of scout activities.

Tonight a team of local scouts will take part in a first aid contest at Marlinton. This is a district contest in which the various local groups compete, the district comprising the part of the county south of Wilmington and north of the canal and known as the New Castle district. The winners in the Marlinton contest will represent the New Castle district in a meet at Wilmington on March 27. Members of the local team contesting tonight are Donald Wilson, Arthur Huston, El A. Tiffany, Jr., Reid Stearns and Raymond Burnett. The Scout membership in Newark is 24.

Furniture Arrangement Exhibition Continues to March 24

Divided into hall groups, sofa groups, window groups, and living room and tea table groups, the good and bad in furniture arrangements occupies the gallery of the Fine Arts Society in the Wilmington Public Library. Space, simplicity, and color harmony enter into the attractive arrangements, yet originality and high contrast are also there. The sofa group in purple and gold is winning much approval.

SUPT. BRINSER NOT TO RETURN NEXT YEAR

Newark School Board at Recent Meeting Makes This Decision

MR. BRINSER DOES NOT COMMENT

Upon inquiry, The Newark Post has from R. S. Gallaher, president of the School Board, the statement that Superintendent Ira S. Brinser will not return to the Newark schools next year. Mr. Gallaher said the agreement of Board members was unanimous in the decision. When the Post asked Superintendent Brinser if he wished to make a statement in view of the action of the School Board, he said he preferred to make none.

DR. GUNBY ISSUES CONFERENCE PROGRAM. NEWARK M. E. CHURCH WILL BE CENTER OF SESSIONS

Conference of Ministers and Laymen from 14 Counties of Delaware, Maryland and Virginia To Bring Several Thousand Persons Here April 3 to 8

The official departments of the Wilmington Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church, which opens in Newark on the morning of Tuesday, April 3, represents all of Delaware and the peninsula, including the Virginia counties. The official membership of the conference is 400 persons. In addition, laymen and visitors will attend all the public sessions, and will come from the 186 churches embracing 310 churches within the area of the Conference and those who come from neighboring areas. Bishop Edwin Holt Hughes of the Washington area will be the chairman of the Conference. There has been an effort to balance the daily programs to serve a wide variety of interests and provide each day's session for all groups an enjoyable series of meetings. Music will be a prominent feature of the sessions. The Post will give details of arrangements in next week's issue. Meanwhile we print in full the daily program of the Conference arranged by Dr. Walter Edwin Gunby, pastor of the Newark M. E. Church. (Complete Program will be found on page 8)

COL. SAMUEL J. SMITH IMPROVED IN HEALTH

He and Mrs. Smith Hope To Be at Home in April

(Special to Newark Post) Fort Monroe, Va., Mar. 12.—Colonel Samuel J. Smith who has spent several weeks as a patient at the military hospital, Fort Monroe, is able to be out and take short rides. The Colonel is still undergoing treatment at the hospital. Mrs. Smith who suffered a broken arm last December, is almost fully recovered and is able to accompany Colonel Smith on his drives. They hope to be able to return to their home on S. College Avenue in the early part of April.

FIRE DAMAGE AT HOME OF DAVID STONER

Firemen Save Dwelling and Prevent Spread of Flames to Nearby Property

Fire was discovered about 10:30 last Saturday morning in a partition on the second floor of the house on New London avenue occupied by David Stoner. The small frame house would have been quickly destroyed but for the quick action of the Newark Fire Company. Two engines and three lines of hose were got into play and saved part of the house. The damage amounts to a third of the value of the property, which is assessed at only $300. The property is owned by John Boyd and is in the rear of his building. Concern that the flames might spread to adjoining property spurred the work of the firemen. No other buildings took fire.

The fire department was called into action for a grass fire at Ruthby last night. No buildings were damaged.

HIGH SCHOOL SORORITY TO GIVE DANCE

A dance will be held in the Newark New Century Club building, Friday, from 9 p. m. until 1 a. m., under the sponsorship of the Kappa Gamma sorority of the Newark High School. The officers of the organization are: Miss Margaret Burnett, president; Miss Catherine Morris, vice-president; Miss Margaret Murray, secretary; Miss Beatrice Jamison, treasurer. They have engaged an orchestra conducted by Robert Livingston.

BUCK APPROVES U. OF D. STUDENT AID FUND

Disapproval at First Due To Misunderstanding

After fuller understanding that the Federal funds allocated to Delaware for the assistance of University students who, because of the depression, are unable to continue to pay their expenses, were not contingent upon lack of resources of the State in its educational fund, Governor Buck has approved the student loan. This loan is amply safeguarded from use by students who do not need it.

"None to Burn"

Workmen on the Lincoln Highway broke the gas main feeding Newark, while making repairs. Newark has been without gas for several hours this afternoon, as we go to press.

LEGISLATURE CONSIDERS ACTION UPON RELIEF AND UNEMPLOYMENT

Joint Bipartisan Committee Holds Daily Sessions

The members of the legislature, which reconvened its adjourned special session at Dover last week to consider unemployment and relief needs of the State, have listened to several proposed programs for either or both of the two main courses of action—the provision of direct relief and a program of public works. The legislators have heard the complaints and criticisms of various groups who are interested in emphasizing one aspect or another of the need for relief; they have had the usual partisan bombardment; partisan bait has been dangled, and red herrings drawn, but that all the latter have fallen flat with both legislators and people is evidenced by the bipartisan action of the legislators themselves and the ban on politics by the joint committee chosen by the two houses to work out a plan from the facts at hand that will do most for the unemployed and the destitute.

Speaker Robinson, in the House, appointed Representatives Jackson and Bennett, Democrats, and Representatives Abrahams and Burris, Republicans, to the conference committee. In the Senate, President Pro Tem Simonton appointed Senators McCabe and Neugebauer, Democrats, and Senators Davis and VanSant, Republicans.

This committee is holding daily sessions. It asked Governor C. Douglass Buck to attend a conference which was held with the Governor present. The burden of working out a statesman-like handling of the problem has been put upon the legislators. They have gone to work and the people are gratified.

The State Relief Commission reports enough money to pay the relief rolls until March 25th.

"The urgency for speedy action," Mayor Collins writes the Governor, "is again emphasized by reference to the fact that in February, 35,490 citizens, or one out of every seven persons in the State, were dependent for the necessities of life upon this agency of the State."

TWO MORE DAYS OF FLOWER SHOW

Delaware Exhibits Take Prizes

The Philadelphia Flower Show, open this week in the Commercial Museum, is drawing the usual thousands of flower lovers, yet the large exhibition space and the long hours daily mean a lack of crowding which enables all visitors to gain the full effect of displays and make careful studies of individual items.

The Wilmington Garden Club has won prizes for flower arrangements through its committee. Mrs. William K. du Pont won first prize as usual for an arrangement of varieties of orchids. This exhibit is like an exquisite tapestry in design and color though such description gives only faint suggestion of the charm of both flowers and arrangement.

Other Delaware exhibitors have carried off prizes, and all add to local enjoyment in the exhibition.

Ag. Seniors Enjoy Radio Hour with Prof. and Mrs. Heim

At the close of the lecture hour on Monday, the seniors majoring in the Department of Agricultural Education, were invited to the home of Professor and Mrs. Heim to hear the addresses of Dr. George F. Zook, United States Commissioner of Education, the Hon. Henry Wallace, Secretary of Agriculture, and Dr. C. H. Lane of the U. S. Bureau of Education on the National F. F. A. monthly program over the N. B. C. radio hook-up.

Following the program Mrs. Heim served lunch.

EXPERIENCE OF SEN. TOWNSEND RECOGNIZED

Appointment To Federal Insurance Board for Six-Year Term Proposed

Delaware Senator Does Not Accept

Because of U. S. Senator John G. Townsend's experience in banking before he entered the Senate, and during his membership in the United States Senate Committee on Banking and Currency, the Treasury Department at Washington has proposed him for an administrative position as member of the Federal Insurance Deposit Board, which is to consist of two Democrats and one Republican. Assurance has been given that the Republican Senator from Delaware would have the confirmation of the Senate Democrats as well as Republicans.

When spoken to by a representative of the Post yesterday, Senator Townsend said he did not see his way clear to accept. He expressed his appreciation for the confidence shown in him and said his decision would not be a personal consideration but based upon what he regarded as his best opportunity to serve this State and party.

The insurance appointment would be for six years at a salary of $10,000 per year.

ASCO Orchestra On the Air

A delightful musical program has been specially arranged for the ASCO Orchestra and the romantic tenor for this Friday's Broadcast at 11:30 a. m., over Stations WFBL, Syracuse; WBRE, Wilkes-Barre; WJSV, Washington; WCAO, Baltimore; WNEP, Newark; WCAU, Philadelphia. These entertaining musicales are sponsored by the American Stores Company.

ACHIEVEMENT DAY FOR HOME DEMONSTRATION CLUBS

Music, Spring and Summer Styles and Sandwich Lunch at Mitchell Hall, March 22

The Home Demonstration Clubs of New Castle County will hold their Annual Achievement Day early this year, Thursday, March 22, has been set as the date. "The reason for the early date," states Mrs. Kate Henley Daugherty, County Home Demonstration Agent, "is that Miss Catherine Cleveland of the Cotton Textile Institute, of New York City, can show to the women of Delaware the new spring and summer styles in cotton textiles. The Home Economics Department of the Women's College is co-operating in securing the young ladies to model the costumes for the Style Show."

"The program," continues Mrs. Daugherty, "will be held in Mitchell Hall, Newark, and begins at 10:30 in the morning with vocal and organ music, this to be followed by an illustrated talk on 'Spring Textiles' by Miss Cleveland."

Those attending are invited to bring a sandwich lunch and eat with the group in Wolf Hall. oHt coffee will be furnished by the Extension Service. The afternoon program consists of instrumental music by some of the Women's College students, an illustrated talk on "Control of Insects" by Donald MacCreary of the Entomology Department, University of Delaware, and this to be followed by the Style show put on by Miss Catherine Cleveland.

Mrs. H. Wilson Price of the Middletown Demonstration Club, who is president of the County Home Demonstration Council, will preside over the meeting.

St. Patrick's Day Saturday March 17th

To Graduates and Friends of The University of Delaware: The Centenary Celebration of The University will be held at Newark, May 11, 12, 13, Friday, Saturday, Sunday. Make your plans now to keep this week-end free for "Old Delaware."

This Week's News Letter From the Centenary Committee

The subject of Gifts that may come to the University of Delaware in commemoration of its Centenary has been given earnest attention by the committee in charge of this aspect of the celebration. Knowing that various individuals, groups, and organizations will desire to testify to their appreciation of the institution's faithful service to State and Nation during one hundred years, a comprehensive list of "real needs" of the University has been tabulated.

The items on the list include both larger and smaller needs, and the purpose of its preparation has been to give direction to such offerings as shall be made in order that the genuine and pressing wants of the institution may be given first place.

The smaller gifts needed are quite numerous and range from $10 up for the Library, and from $50 to $500 for departmental equipment.

The larger needs include much needed work on buildings and grounds, and Endowments. The former comprise such items as permanent steel bleachers for Frazer Field, enlargement and re-arrangement of the University Library, A Chemistry Building, etc. The latter embraces, besides Departments of Music, Foreign Study, and Scholarships, the important needs of the Institute of Graduate Study and Research, in Government, Economics, History, Chemistry, Mathematics, Modern Language, English and Engineering. The endowment of chairs in such an institution connected with the University but financially separate from it, for research and graduate courses, is sought.

Folders containing these details are being sent out to all graduates. Special class gifts will be arranged for by the class representatives, who form the Committee of 100 Alumni-Alumnae.

The appeal of the Centenary Executive Committee of the University of Delaware that owners of relics of the past hundred years of the institution send them in for filing in the Memorial Library has met thus far with a most gratifying response. In addition to contribution already acknowledged, these parcels of programs, exhibitions, and other college exercises were sent in last week from three different sources to aid in forming the collection.

From Mrs. Dorsey R. Rodney (Julia Brinckle Rodney) 523 Abbot Road, East Lansing, Mich., there have come six separate items, as follows: Commencement Program of July 3-4, 1855; Exhibition of the Junior Class, March 25, 1856; Commencement Program, July 1, 1856; Athenaeum Literary Society Program, July 1, 1856; Invitation to Athenaeum Society, June 17, 1884, announced as the Semi-Centennial of Delaware College; Athenaeum Program, June 15, 1886.

Mrs. Rodney's father was Col. John R. Brinckle, of Wilmington, who, with his brother, Dr. Samuel C. Brinckle, was graduated in the Class of 1856.

From Miss Audrey Miller, of West Delaware Avenue, Newark, has come an announcement of Commencement Exercises and Semi-Centennial of Delaware College, Wednesday, June 18, 1885, giving the names of the graduating class of the Semi-Centennial Year, as George A. Carpenter, Calif.; Louis L. Curtis, Delaware; Armitage A. Evans, Delaware; W. Rankin Huston, Pennsylvania; H. Greeley Knowles, Delaware; Maurice MacKim, New Jersey; Alfred B. McVey, Maryland; Imogen Polk, Delaware; Alexander M. Polk, Delaware; and Edward M. Purnell, Delaware.

Miss Margaret McMullin, of Port Penn, Del., has sent in nine separate items, as follows: College Catalogue of 1853; Athenaeum Literary Society Catalogue for 1853; Delaware College Annual Examination and Commencement Program for 1871; Delta Phi Literary Society Program, July 5, 1871; Commencement Exercises for 1855; Commencement Exercises for 1857; Delta Phi Program, June 16, 1875; Invitation to Private Soiree in College Oratory, Friday, February 5, 1869 (this reveals the fact that the temporary closing of the College, 1859-1870, for social affairs of Newark); Newspaper account of Prof. E. N. Vallandigham's history of Delaware College.

These items will be carefully preserved in files at the Memorial Library. There is still a large number of gaps in the chronology, and those having such relics in their possession are again urged to send them in while preparations are being made for the Centenary.

PARENT-TEACHER GROUPS MEET

Excellent Reports of Health Committees. Talks Given On Special Work

WORST WINTER DAMAGES STATE AND COUNTY ROADS AND PILES UP REPAIR COST

Highway Department Expects Concrete Roads to Break Under Heavy Loads. Full Damage Not Yet Apparent

In discussing the damage done the roads of the State by the storms this year, W. W. Mack, Chief Engineer of the Department, stated that not since the organization of a Highway Department has the weather ever injured the roads so badly. This damage has been especially noticeable in the secondary roads throughout the State although the concrete roads have also been harmed, the real damage probably not appearing for several months.

Last August's rain storm started the heavy road damages just as the fiscal year had started and this winter has added a heavy toll of impairment with more to be expected as the thawing out process takes place.

In the summer many bridges were washed out, road beds were undermined and for several days general damage was done in all parts of the State; this winter's snows and extreme cold has also left its toll and the maintenance force of the Department throughout the State will be busy for several months restoring the roads to their former condition. Cost of removing snow has been quite costly because of the constant repetition of the storms.

With the revue to the Department cut down by a lowering of automobile license fees, a general overhauling of the budget is in prospect.

The drastic order of W. W. Mack, Chief Engineer of the State Highway Department in cutting down the axle loads of all trucks to 12,000 pounds while traveling our State roads during the period of ground thawing, brought forth the usual criticism that follows such rules which effect so many people.

This week, following the travel of many Delawareans to other states where such restrictions were not made and where state roads have been severely damaged, commendation for the regulation is coming in from all sides.

One owner of large trucks which make regular trips through several States but who resides in Delaware, stated Saturday, while discussing the Department's ruling, that the past week has thoroughly convinced him of the wisdom of the embargo after comparing the roads he travels in other states with our highways following last week's thawing out. At first, he said, he was very much opposed and considered it entirely unnecessary but since having trucks break through the road in two other states he has been firmly convinced that not only is the arrangement a very sound one for the State but also proper for the users who have to pay for them.

In discussing the injunction which continues in force, Mr. Mack stated that just as soon as the danger of damage is removed the Department will rescind the order and notify the public but until that time he asks every truck owner to continue to cooperate with the Department in this very necessary plan.

"Pain In The Neck"
Winter and snow may be beautiful to some people but to the employees of the State Highway Department it is just a "pain in the neck."

While most people have been sitting by a comfortable fire during the past three Sundays, members of the Department have been out on the job, two Sundays forking the snow plows and one Sunday coping with small floods produced by the melting snow. They are looking forward to next Sunday wondering if it will be a real "day of rest" for them.

For one week snow plows were busy in some part of the State both day and night and with Saturday night and Sunday work added, there is not any of the men who haven't seen enough snow for one winter.

As it takes some experience to handle a snow plow properly, extra men could be hired only in part, in all cases, experienced men being in charge, thus compelling the experienced force to do double duty during the past month.

Contracts Under Way

Bids will be opened in Dover by the State Highway Department, March 28, on three projects, two of which are the beginning of important highway plans. One is the widening of West and Washington Streets in Wilmington, marking the beginning of new North and South bound routes through the city; the other is a two mile fill over the marsh as the initiation of a solid road to Port Mahon, a natural Delaware River harbor which is expected to develop into a valuable State asset.

The third contract is for the link of the dual highway which passes through Smyrna, a distance of 1.7 miles.

On the Smyrna and Wilmington contracts employment will be through the Federal Re-Employment Bureau with men being hired both in the Dover and Wilmington branch and on the Port Mahon fill local workers will be used by the successful bidder.

PRODUCTION LOANS AID FARMERS

County Agricultural Agents Receiving Applications

Applications for production loans to farmers in Delaware are now being received by H. E. Coverdale, secretary-treasurer of the Delaware Production Credit Association, Dover, Delaware, and the County Agricultural Agents. All loans will be made on a business basis and according to the security furnished by the applicant.

"The loans that will be made must be good loans and loans that are collectible if the association is to continue as a permanent service to farmers in this and other communities, as intended."

"Fortunately, not all farmers in this state need credit," "but for those who do the association stands as a business organization—not as a charity institution. Loans may be obtained for periods of 3 to 12 months by any eligible deserving farmer who needs credit and has security; but if a farmer is eligible for credit it must be extended on a business basis."

Each applicant has to state in his application what property he is offering to secure the loan. Security for these loans will consist of first liens on crops, livestock or other personal property on which a lien, or chattel mortgage may be taken to secure the loan adequately. The lien may be taken on property already in the possession of the borrower, or to be purchased with the money borrowed. It is not intended that production loans shall be secured principally by mortgages on real estate. Where this type of security is taken it will be regarded only as additional collateral.

The charges on production loans will be as low as possible in keeping with business credit. A small fee is charged to inspect the property offered as security by the applicant, but usually no charge will be made for inspection if the loan is not granted.

The minimum amount of a production loan is $50.00. The interest rate at present is 6 per cent, charged only for the actual number of months the loan is outstanding. The interest is not collected until the loan is due.

Loans may be obtained to purchase such items as seed, equipment, and fertilizers, or to cover the cash costs of growing, cultivating, or marketing crops; and for the production of livestock, and dairy and poultry products.

Most of the loans will run from 3 to 12 months, and are to be due and payable at the time when the crops and livestock financed are sold. Loans such as those on dairy cattle may extend longer—up to 18 months—and ordinarily will be repaid from the sale of products of the dairy financed.

Each farmer borrowing for the first time automatically becomes a member of the association, since each is required to own voting stock in the association equal to 5 per cent of the amount he borrows. The stock may be purchased with a part of the loan proceeds. It is the only voting stock of the association and may be purchased only by borrowers, each having only one vote regardless of the amount borrowed.

A farmer who becomes a member of an association does not have to "stand for" the loans of the association or the debts of other borrowers. The stock carries no double liability. Any possible impairment in the value of the stock of the association will affect the individual borrower only insofar as his own stock holding is concerned.

Most of the capital of the association is provided by the Production Credit Corporation of Baltimore which is supervising the work of the Delaware association.

Maryland Cow Makes High Fat Yield

Charles H. Anderson, of Woodlawn, Md., is the owner and developer of one of the highest record Holstein-Friesian cows to be recently reported by the Holstein-Friesian Association of America. This cow, Prospector Avon Fobes, was started on official yearly test as an eight-year-old and produced 1,046.2 pounds of butterfat in 28,030.9 pounds of milk with an average test of 3.7 per cent. She is the 201st Holstein to exceed the thousand pounds fat mark. Prospector Avon Fobes was bred by Carnation Milk Farms, Seattle, Washington, being sired by Carnation Prospector and out of a daughter of Avon Pontine Echo. During the time she was making her fourteen tons of milk she was fed from 16 to 22 pounds of grain a day and her roughage was silage, alfalfa hay, mixed hay and clover hay.

Another cow in the Anderson herd, Anderson Farm Doris, has also completed an excellent yearly record as a six-year-old. She is credited with 24,611.9 pounds of milk and 815.8 pounds of fat. Since freshening as a two-year-old, Doris has produced almost thirty-eight tons of milk.

DELAWARE IN FEDERAL ROAD BUREAU REPORT

Local Road Projects Underway

On March 3, 75.3 per cent of the total $400,000,000 Federal highway appropriation had been allotted to work in progress. On the same date, 72.2 per cent of Delaware's $1,819,088 apportionment of the total fund had been put to work.

In Delaware, a total of 22 projects, estimated to cost $1,314,000, had been advertised for contract; 21 projects had been awarded to contractors or started by day labor; and 12 projects, employing 903 men, were under construction. The public works funds involved in the advertised projects amounted to $1,314,000.

The National Industrial Recovery Act, which created the Public Works Administration, and carried the $400,000,000 appropriation for highways to be built by the State highway departments supervised by the Bureau of Public Roads, modified to some extent the older Federal-aid procedure. Federal grants under this act do not have to be matched with State funds. Apportionments of the new appropriation are available for building roads on the Federal-aid highway system (not more than 50 per cent of the funds), for extensions of Federal-aid system roads through municipalities (not less than 25 per cent of the funds), and for the construction of secondary or feeder roads (generally not more than 25 per cent of the funds). State apportionments are made seven-eighths in accordance with the Federal Highway Act of 1921 and one-eighth according to population. Apportioned funds may be used to match regular Federal-aid appropriations, and are available until expended. Maintenance of public works highways included in the Federal-aid system is an obligation of the States; in the case of municipal extensions of the system and secondary or feeder roads, the maintenance responsibility by agreement may be transferred to appropriate municipal or county authority.

Public works highways authorized under the act must be built in such a way as to relieve unemployment as much as possible. In general, a 30-hour week is required, minimum wages are prescribed in all contracts, and labor is obtained through agencies designated by the United States Employment Service.

To get projects under way as quickly as possible, with due regard to safety of public funds and economical work, the Bureau of Public Roads has modified its requirements by shortening the time of advertisement for bids on work to two weeks, permitted the approval of projects in the field, allowed abbreviated plans in certain cases, and provided other expedients to hasten construction. Funds are advanced to States that experience difficulty in paying the cost of work done pending reimbursement by the Federal Government.

The Size of all Pea Coal until two years ago looked like this

Many people found it too small. It fell through the grates and was wasted, or it packed so that enough draft could not be obtained for efficient burning. • • • The size was increased to overcome these objections.

NOW OLD COMPANY'S LEHIGH Pea Coal looks like this

The price of Pea Coal is lower than bulky substitutes. We suggest that you take advantage of the saving and burn straight Pea Coal or a mixture of Chestnut and Pea. • • • It is our responsibility to help you get satisfactory heat at the lowest cost.

Guests "Drop In"
At Osceola Lodge

On Monday evening Osceola Lodge was visited in Newark by a delegation from Morning Star Lodge, Knights of Pythias, of Grubbs Corner. It was an unannounced visit but a large number of the local members were present. Among the visitors was Past Grand Chancellor Trump, who spoke upon the activity that Osceola had been displaying and promised the co-operation of his lodge in the campaign for an Albert T. Abernathy Class.

During the course of the meeting the Osceola Degree team bestowed the rank of Esquire upon two candidates. There will be given the rank of Knight at the Lodge rooms next Monday evening. All members of the Order are invited to attend.

Last Sunday, despite bad weather, a large number of the members turned out and attended the meeting of the Methodist Men's Bible Class, where the lesson was taught by Professor Wilkinson.

Do You Realize
That A Bank Pays You
To Save Money?

YOUR MONEY INVESTED in a Savings Account draws interest regularly.

You can do your part by making regular deposits each week or each month. The Bank will pay you interest while you are saving.

Your Savings Account also is a Reserve Fund of cash which may be drawn upon for an emergency or future need.

You can put a dollar in a bureau drawer but it will never grow—and it might be stolen. It is much more profitable and safer to deposit your dollars in a Savings Account at regular periods.

AN APPEAL TO STUDENTS OF THE NEWARK SCHOOL

With the closing of basketball season, a new problem confronts the Newark School—the matter of financing the baseball and track teams. Never before has such an earnest appeal been sent out to the students of this school. This year, more than ever, the school needs the wholehearted support of every student as well as the alumni of the school.

Two suggestions for carrying out the activities of the season have been received: The first suggestion is to have a spring dance. The second plan was to sell season tickets for the benefit of the baseball team. There is no reason why we can not carry out both these plans. We must remember, however, that no undertaking can be successful without the proper backing. In a short time tickets will be on sale for the dance, and if we all pull together the success of the season is insured. Remember it's your team and its success is dependent upon you! Can we depend on you to do your bit?

MUSICAL PROGRAM ENJOYED BY HIGH SCHOOL STUDENTS

The assembly program given on March 13th, was in charge of Miss Hinkle. The first numbers were played by Virginia Hurlock on the accordion. They were entitled, "Musical Treat," "My Wild Irish Rose," "When Irish Eyes Are Smiling." Next on the program was a trio composed of William Wilson, Eric Mayer, and Joseph Maxwell. The selections played were, "When Irish Eyes Are Smiling," and "Mother Macree." Lastly, Mr. Mohr favored us with two violin selections entitled, "Play, Fiddler, Play," and "Berceuse."

The assembly was closed by the singing of "Relieve Me If All Those Endearing Young Charms."

NEWARK UPSETS DELAWARE CITY 37-26

Newark added another victory for her nine out of fifteen wins by trouncing Delaware City on her own field. At the very outset of the game Delaware City took the lead, but she was soon ousted from it by the fast playing of the Newark team. Although Delaware City made one of the best come-backs ever staged on any floor, Newark was a trifle too strong for

SENIOR SOCIAL

The members of Miss Gallaher's senior home room gave a tea Wednesday, March 14, in the home economics room from four to five o'clock in honor of Miss Hess' home room. The Senior High School teachers were our guests.

The receiving line was made up of the home room officers for the first semester. They were: Margaret Murray, Beatrice Jamison, Ernest Smith, and Ferris Wharton.

The guests were served with punch, cakes, nuts and candy by a committee, consisting of Florence Mercer, Elizabeth Murray, Catherine Morris, Marguerite Poe, Carolyn Johnson, Mary Jane Rose, Betty Wood, Bayard Perry, and Howard Dunlap.

This was the first social affair of the kind to be held in the High School and a very enjoyable time was had by all. A Senior.

AIMS OF THE AUDITORIUM COMMITTEE

1. To have a general discussion in every home room concerning "Better Assembly Programs."
2. To plan for an assembly program to be given by the members of the Auditorium Committee.
3. To have everyone in the Junior and Senior High Schools to participate in at least one program during the school term.

4. To distribute the song books evenly, thus having more and better singing.
5. To have more musical programs.
6. To have more variety programs.

THE INTERNATIONAL HUMANE POSTER CONTEST

The girls of Mr. Boone's room who take art the second period on Thursdays are participating in the International Humane Poster Contest of the Latham Foundation.

This contest is headed by John T. Lemos of Stanford University, California. The purpose is: To inculcate the higher principles of Humaneness; to promote an understanding of unusual kinships in the child; to foster a deeper understand and sympathy with the animals.

There are four groups for prizes: Grades 1, 2, and 3; Grades 4, 5, and 6; Grades 7, 8, and 9; and high schools.

The contest closes April 15, 1934. Pupils may use suggested slogans or originate their own.

SIT DOWN, YOUNG MAN!

When William Carey died he was known as a very successful missionary. What an humble start he had, though! He was poor in purse, but rich in desire for knowledge. When a man he cobbled shoes on Saturday, but preached on Sundays.

On the walls of his shop was a map roughly sketched, the work of Cobbler Carey. Various items in the world's statistics were spread out on this rude drawing. On a heap of leather scraps were Carey's books. Look at them! What! French, Latin, strange characters in Greek, queer ones in Hebrew! Yes, all in this rude cobbler-shop.

He had a luring desire to get the light of the knowledge of Christ to the dark heathen world. He expressed his opinions to a meeting of preachers. They didn't give him sympathy. On the other hand he met rebuke. The presiding officer flung the title "miserable enthusiast" at him. It is said they shouted at him, "Sit down!"

But William Carey was not the one to be suppressed and to sit down; he was the very one to stand up. He persisted in his ideas. Others, at last, stood up with him, and William Carey's destiny turned a corner.

In connection with India, his labors will always be gratefully remembered. What a difference, though, it would have been if he had taken his seat to keep it in dumbness—to be a block, a silent show, a mouth with a padlock on it. He was not that kind of a Carey.

God wants in men not only ideas, but their active, enthusiastic interest, and their refusal to "sit down." Golden Rule.

Georgia McMillan.

THE LEANING TOWER OF PISA

The Leaning Tower of Pisa would probably never have been particularly noticed except for its odd slant, which was caused by the foundations sinking on one side of the building. As it is, it slants from the ground at an angle of about 85 degrees which gives it an unstable look. The whole tower is made of white stone which glistens in the sun. At the base is a narrow door and surrounding the base are arched columns slightly higher than a man. Between the tops of these arches are geometric designs. Looking up you see six rows of arches all of exactly the same height. At the top of the sixth row of arches is a very low railing. Set back from this slightly is the top of the tower, where the bells are kept. This part has several arched openings with two columns between each and a design of small arches above them. Through these arches the shadows of the seven large bells can be vaguely seen. At the very top is a higher railing. Leaving this tower one's deepest impression is the queer slant which makes the tower look as if it might topple at any minute.

ELEMENTARY ASSEMBLY

Monday morning, March 12, Miss Trotter's fifth grade had charge of the elementary assembly. Anne Richards was chairman.

Lois Detjen played a piano solo. A play "Adventures of the First Spring" was given. The characters were: Mr. Sparrow, George Danby; Mrs. Sparrow, Anne Nichols; Pussy Willow, Dorothy Ritchie; Fern, Conrad Lewis; Crocus, Ann Smyth.

Violet, Eva Tweed; Children, Sotera Pappas, Lavere Breitigan; Mary, Lois Detjen.

Eleanor Mumford recited the poem, "Wild Geese," by Celia Thaxter.

During our program two songs were sung by the entire assembly, "Our Robin" and "Welcome Sweet Spring Time."

Anne Richards, Grade 5.

EARNING MY FIRST MONEY

I was very happy when I knew I earned my first money. One day my friend called me over to her house. While I was playing with some of my playmates she asked me if I would go up town to the store for her. I said, "I will be very glad to do it for you."

Soon I had come home with her groceries. She then handed me fifteen cents. I said, "I am afraid I can't accept this money," but she said, "Go ahead and take it." I thanked her very much for giving me the money. I then went home and told mother I had earned fifteen cents. Mother was very proud of me.

MOONRISE

Shadows are falling,
 Twilight is calling,
 And I wonder, dear,
 If you're longing to be here,
 Where the moon shines bright,
 And the breeze stirs the leaves by night.

Now the moon comes over the hills
 To the soft chant of whippoorwills,
 And I am alone by the brook,
 Sitting in a little nook,
 Where birds sing happily,
 By the light of the moon to me.

JOE THE VIOLIN PLAYER

Joe was the violin player in the Teatime String Quartette which played every afternoon over Station WLM. He was in love with the radio announcer, Miss Frances, who announced the Teatime String Quartette's selections. That was why he worked in Station WLM—because he was in love with Miss Frances. He was such an excellent player that he might have chosen any of the stations in the city over which to display his talent, but not even a higher salary held any lure for him because of Miss Frances.

Joe's love for Miss Frances was abstract. He worshipped her from afar. He never told anyone about it, nor ever hinted it by word or gesture to the lady herself. Miss Frances was a debutante, working in the radio station for excitement. Every morning at six o'clock her fiancé, Bob Jones, called for her in a long black roadster. Every evening Joe would hang over the window sill of the tenth floor of the WLM building and watch Miss Frances and Bob Jones, looking like ants from the height, get into the long black roadster. He would watch the roadster as it wove in and out of traffic and finally spurted out of sight. Then he would sigh, turn back to the studio, pack his violin in the case, and set off for the restaurant around the corner where they sold macaroni in yard-long pieces.

Miss Frances was Joe's inspiration. While he played his violin he always sat so that as he could see her. He gazed adoringly on her curly hair that shone like real gold. If she smiled on him with her deep blue eyes, it sent a tremor through Joe which produced an effective result on the violin. He sometimes looked at her hands because they reminded him of the cool moonlit nights he used to know when he was a little boy. The Teatime String Quartette specialized in dreamy, almost sad music, and Joe played doubly well because that was just the kind of an effect Miss Frances produced on him.

Joe had been playing at Station WLM for a year, and one day Mr. Pent, the man who owned Station WLM, stopped him as he was about to go to his restaurant around the corner.

He said, "Joe, the Teatime String Quartette has been playing for a year now. That's long enough to run any feature. We've assigned you all to different places. From now on you are to report with the Rollicking Seven over at Station WSM every day at 4:30." Mr. Pent turned on his rubber heels and left Joe standing there with his mouth open.

The next day Joe went to Station WSM at 4:15. He walked shuffling, as if he were in a daze. As he unpacked his violin and tuned it, he looked dumbly about the strange studio. He discovered that the first piece was to be a popular fox trot which he had often played to himself in his room. It was a gay little piece, and one of Joe's favorites. The Rollicking Seven started off, with Joe struggling to keep up with them. Mechanically his eyes sought Miss Frances. Of course she was not there. He dropped. The leader of the Rollicking Seven glared at him.

MARY'S LITTLE LAMB IS GOING TO SCHOOL UNDER CWA SCULPTOR'S CHISEL AND MAUL

The Following Article is a Boston Newspaper's Account of Art Work for Schools Under CWA Assistance to Unemployed Artists. The Country Schools, Which Can Seldom Take Children to Exhibits Have Even More Need of the Artists' Work.

Mary and her little lamb are really going to school—just as soon as Mr. Frederick A. Brunner carves them out. Under the CWA Public Works of Art Project this sculptor in wood and stone has been assigned wood carving for the Boston public schools.

In a dingy storeroom over a warehouse in the South End he cuts, from the original basswood block, a pair of sea gulls of such birdlike strength and live delicacy that one expects them to take wing and soar through the open window. Two pairs of these gulls, one on top of each pillar, will adorn the mantelpiece in the headmaster's room at the Joseph H. Barnes School. Shellac and a dark glazing will make them a lasting thing of beauty.

Mr. Brunner is also making, for the East Boston High School, several six-foot panels representing the locality, its art and industry portrayed in the old clipper ships and the modern airplanes; and the activities of students in library classroom and gymnasium.

The traveling exhibits which he is preparing for kindergarten and primary school children include, besides Mary and her lamb, squirrels and pigeons from the Common, and various other small creatures of local popularity. This artist has spent many hours studying animals and birds, for which he has a deep affection. He began wood carving at the age of 11, and served his apprenticeship in his home town in Alsace-Lorraine. During the World War he entered the Cathedral School at Metz.

SEVEN ACRE ROSE GARDEN ABOUT TO BLOOM ON RECLAIMED LAND

Experiment With Many Varieties of Roses Attracts Thousands Daily

Nature's drama of color in which 16,000 rose plants of all sizes and hues appear is about to be produced in Los Angeles in one of the largest rose gardens in the world.

The site is a seven-acre garden almost within the shadow of the Olympic Stadium, soon to be a mass of blooms. Reclaimed from dusty, weed-covered land, the garden is part of Exposition Park. More than 170 varieties of roses are growing there.

City park officials, estimate that when the blooms are in their full season, usually in April, an average of 40,000 persons a day stroll through the garden. At night a huge center fountain is illuminated by lights of rainbow hues.

Besides affording a small floral paradise for visitors, the garden serves as a sort of testing ground for such well known rose hybridizers as the Howards, Armstrong and Germains—men who sometimes work for years "crossing" roses to produce satisfactory new blossoms. They conduct experiments at one end of the garden, putting out beds of seedlings and obtaining comments of visitors. Rose plants are sent here from other countries for tryouts.

One of the most noted of the garden's displays is the Los Angeles rose, evolved by Fred Howard, who is a well known in Europe as here in his home town. The Los Angeles is cultivated now in South Africa, Australia and other such faraway places.

Each variety in the exposition park collection is segregated in its own plot of ground and carefully marked for the information of home planters. From a distance, this plotting arrangement gives the effect of a huge, brightly checkered quilt.

APPLETON

The Willing Workers of Christ—Christiana Church held their March meeting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Martens. In spite of the drifted condition of the roads there was a very good attendance. Plans were made for a concert to be given at the church on April 9th, by Prof. Charles T. Edwards with his Con Temple Entertainers. There will be featured solos, duets, etc., on various instruments. A small admission will be charged. A very pleasant social hour was spent by all.

Elmer Miles is suffering from an attack of the measles.

J. Elwood Zebley, Jr., who has been ill is improving.

Miss Nora Finley is spending some time with her sister in Wilmington.

Lesson for March 18 JESUS RESPONDS TO FAITH

LESSON TEXT—Matt. 13:54-58:14:13, 14:21-31.
GOLDEN TEXT—Ask and ye shall find, knock and ye shall be opened unto you.—Matt. 7:7.

PRIMARY TOPIC—Jesus Helps a Stranger.
JUNIOR TOPIC—When People Trust Jesus.

INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—A Mother's Love and Faith.
YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—Faith Tested and Triumphant.

I. The Unbelief of Jesus' Own Countrymen (13:54-58).

Jesus shared the common fate of men, unacknowledged in his own country. Even his own brothers did not believe in him until after his resurrection (John 7:8-8; cf. Acts 1:14). Because of this unbelief only a limited work could be done there.

II. Jesus Responding to the Faith of the Multitude (Matt. 14:13, 14).

1. He retired to the desert (v. 13). The news of the cruel death of John the Baptist brought grief to the heart of Jesus and he withdrew to a place of quietness to commune with the heavenly Father. Jesus accepted John's death as typical of his own.

2. Followed by the people (v. 15). The people were so greatly interested in him that they followed him on foot out of the cities.

3. Jesus healing the sick (v. 14). Although the rulers had broken with him, he did not abandon his work. Though desperate and hopeless cases were brought to him, none was found too hard for him.

III. Jesus Responding to the Faith of a Woman of Canaan (Matt. 15:21-28).

1. The mother's awful distress (vv. 21, 22). Her daughter was grievously vexed with a devil. The daughter was the one who was afflicted, but it was the mother who carried the burden. No doubt this Gentile woman had heard of the fame of Jesus. His power to heal had come to her notice and doubtless many times she longed for him to come her way that her daughter might be healed. Now that he was in her neighborhood she came straightway to him.

2. The mother's fervent appeal for help (vv. 23-25). She humbly fell at his feet and pleaded for mercy. She besought him to cast the demon out. Her appeal may be considered as a model prayer.

a. It was sincere and earnest. From the depths of her heart she cried to the Lord for help.

b. It was brief and definite. In a few well chosen words she besought the Lord in behalf of her daughter.

c. It was personal and humble. The Lord is pleased when we beseech him in behalf of personal friends as well as ourselves. She came humbly, for according to Mark's account she fell at his feet (Mark 7:25).

d. It was believing and persistent. Though she was outside of the covenant people, she believed the Lord would hear a cry of need. All who accept Christ are his covenant people. She persistently begged help of the Lord. She would not accept a refusal. The Lord is pleased with the soul who will not let him go until the blessing is granted (Luke 11:5-10, 18:1-8).

3. The woman's faith rewarded (vv. 26-28).

a. Jesus' apparent refusal (v. 23). He answered her not a word. This seems strange that to her distressing cry he was unresponsive. Scarcely ever did anyone have to ask the second time. Frequently he did not wait to be asked. The reason for his silence was that a real difficulty lay in the way. He was sent to the lost sheep of the house of Israel. This woman was a stranger to the covenant people. Her appeal was on the wrong basis. She addressed him as the son of David, which only a child of the kingdom, an Israelite, had a right to do.

b. The woman's quick response (vv. 25-27). As soon as she perceived the difficulty she worshiped him as Lord and cried for help. While only the Israelite could approach him as the son of David, all can come to him and own him as Lord. She willingly took her place as a Gentile "dog," recognizing that salvation is of the Jews. The word for dog is a diminutive term used for the pet or household dog which had a right to the crumbs which fell from the table.

c. The glorious issue of her faith (v. 28). She received more than she asked. Her daughter was healed at once while the instructions she received were worth much to her. She goes down in history with the Savior's commendation of her faith.

When Age Comes
Now they that are younger than I have me in derision, whose fathers I would have disdained to have set with the dogs of my flock. And now I am their dog; yea, I am their byword.—Job 30:1, 6

Liberty
What is your besetting sin? Christ can turn that bondage into liberty and more. What can be more than liberty? To have the power to liberate others.

EARLY CHICKS RETURN GREATEST PROFITS By E. D. Griffin, Formerly Extension Poultryman, Purdue University

If we stop to consider the primary reason for raising chicks each year, we will soon realize the importance of getting the baby chicks at an early date. Probably no less than 90 per cent of all baby chicks hatched are produced with one idea—pullet layers at maturity.

It is, therefore, advisable that consideration be given the important question of the best time to procure the baby chicks. When do we want egg production from the pullets? The answer should be—at the time of the year when egg prices are the highest.

For many years market figures on egg prices have shown that the fall and early winter months command the best prices for eggs. November is usually the peak month, with October, December, September and January following in about that order. The reason for higher egg prices during these months is smaller supply due to lower production. Good hens that have gone through a year's production are normally in molt and low production at this season. Hence, production must come largely from the pullets.

In order to get profitable production from pullets in October, November and December, the pullets must be started at a time that will allow them to mature and be on the job when prices are highest. For the light breeds five to six months will be necessary to get 40 to 50 per cent production and desirable egg size. For heavy breeds four to six weeks additional time will be necessary.

Many successful poultrymen plan to get their heavy-breed chicks during the period from March 1st to April 15th and chicks of the light breeds from April 1st to May 15th. Thus they assure themselves of pullet production when production means most in dollars and cents.

The program just suggested has one other feature that is often overlooked. Half of the chicks will be cockerels that need to be disposed of as broilers. The earlier the chicks are started, the better will be the income from the cockerels sold as broilers, because they can be sold before the heavy supply reaches the markets and causes the price to decline.

We went out front where there was a pond almost frozen over. The ice was strong enough to hold us. We brought out some boats and we selected a spot for "Little America." Some snow was in the water and looked like icebergs. We were very sorry when the day was over.

Lois Detjen,
Grade 5.

A SNOW MAN

On day when I got home from school I decided to make a snow man. I went out to see if my friend could come out. She came out and we started to make our snow man. When we had the two big balls made for the body, Mary ran up to me and said, "Shall we try to make legs for the snow man to stand on?" We tried to make the snow man stand on legs, but he always fell down. We just could not make him stand up, so we made him without the legs. We thought he looked just as well without the legs as if he had them.

Eleanor Mumford,
Grade 5.

A SNOW MAN

One afternoon my girl friend and I decided to make a snow man. The first thing we did was to roll two big snow balls for the body. Then we made the head and put stones for the nose and eyes. We put a stick for the mouth. We tied a piece of cloth for the dress. Just then my brother and his friend came along. They thought they would have some fun. They made some snow balls and knocked our man down. My girl friend and I were so angry we went into the house and gave up making snowmen.

Lillian Beeson,
Grade 5.

"WHAT THE MONTHS BRING"

I
In Spring, the snow begins to melt
And birds begin to sing
And every little girl and boy
Welcomes muddy Spring.

II
In Summer when the roses bloom
And the year is at its best
The boys and girls in schoolrooms
Are very full of zest
Because the Summer brings vacation
In the month of June.

III
You'd better think of Autumn
With all of its great joys
Such as Halloween and Thanksgiving
With pumpkin pies and Jack O'Lanterns.
We all are on our toes
At all the joys that go
With Jolly Autumn.

IV
Then, too, boys and girls should think
Of Winter, as a friend
With Christmas that brings Santa
And toys and things to send
Away to other children
Whose lives aren't fully lived
Unless some toy or present
Another child should give.

V
And, too, Winter brings othe joys
Not only little tinkertoys
But a sport that all should like
Big and small alike
Riding on a winter's night
On a bob-sled.
Sledding is a great, great joy
To every little girl and boy.

Gertrude Knighton.

LIFE!

I.
Isn't life sweet, when you're full of glee,
Isn't life sour, when you're blue as can be.

We all have troubles, one by one
And must face them as they come.
Life—education and experience are all in a great big net.
True—you shall be changed, when all of them you have met,

FUN IN THE SNOW

One day this winter Edson and I took our sleds and went up to our hill to coast. Edson decided that we do tricks. We did all the fancy tricks we could think of. We then decided to do something else.

We had a snowball fight. We each built a fort and got behind it. We made twenty snowballs. When I said "Go!" we started in. Neither one of us hit the other because we ducked.

We then made a snowman. He looked very wise with his cinder eyes and nose, his tall hat, his glasses, his scarf, his gun and his whiskers. He scared some of the little children.

Lose Fat Safely and Quickly

Kruschen Salts—(a perfect combination of the six mineral salts your body should possess to function properly) purify your blood of harmful acids, and aid the kidneys and bowels to throw off waste material—the continual formation of which is probably the cause of your fat.

But don't worry just as long as you have Kruschen Salts. Take a half teaspoon every morning before breakfast in a glass of hot water—little by little that ugly fat disappears, you'll feel better than ever before—years younger, more energy. You'll soon possess that enviable beauty, clear skin, sparkling eyes, superb figure which only perfect health can impart.

An 85¢ bottle (lasts 4 weeks) at Rhodes' Drug Store or any progressive druggist in America. Money back if Kruschen doesn't convince you that it is the safest, quickest, easiest way to lose fat.

OLDEST GRADUATE DIES

Thomas Lumb Last Survivor of Class of 1874 Was Oldest Living Graduate. Has Newark Relative, James S. Lumb

George Morgan, Noted Journalist, Now Senior Delaware Graduate

Information has reached the Centenary Executive Committee of the University of Delaware, which is planning for the celebration of 100 years of activity of the institution, that the oldest surviving alumnus, Thomas Lumb, of Campbell, Calif., died in that place recently at the age of 81. Mr. Lumb was the last survivor of the Class of 1874.

The venerable graduate died from a paralytic stroke at his residence in Campbell, to which place he had retired in 1919, after serving for many years in the railroad service at Red Oak, Iowa. One year ago, he returned to Red Oak on a visit, at which time he selected his pallbearers and made all arrangements for his funeral. This took place in Red Oak, as he had planned.

Born August 9, 1852, young Lumb removed with his parents to Newark, Delaware, where his father purchased a large tract of land, subsequently divided by the building of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad. Part of this tract was for years a station called Lumbbrook, after the Lumb farm.

Thomas Lumb graduated from Delaware College, and then went West to teach school. He married one of his pupils in Iowa, but his wife died within a few years. He then married Miss Agnes Replogle, of Red Oak, Iowa, and made that town his residence until his retirement. He leaves, besides his widow, three children by his second wife, Mrs. Hugh Tolman, of Bryan, Ohio, and Helen Lumb and Thomas Lumb, Jr., of Campbell, Calif., and a son by his first marriage, Clarence Lumb, of New York.

James S. Lumb, of Newark, who still resides on a part of the Lumb farm, is a nephew.

George Morgan, noted author and journalist of Philadelphia, and especially active in Alumni affairs, is now the oldest surviving alumnus. Mr. Morgan is a member of the Class of 1875, which numbered twelve. Eight are deceased; the other three members happen all to be women of the period of co-education at Delaware College. They are Mrs. A. F. Williamson, Philadelphia, who was Elizabeth S. Bland; Mrs. Delaware Clark, Wilmington, who was Harriett H. Curtis; and Mrs. James Rockey, who was Ella Y. Mackey.

ST. PATRICK'S DAY SOCIAL AT HARMONY GRANGE HALL, SAT.

White Clay Creek Improvement Society Will Give Program and Serve Refreshments

The members of White Clay Creek Improvement Society will hold a St. Patrick's Social in Harmony Grange Hall, Saturday evening, March 17, at 8 o'clock. An interesting program of music and readings has been prepared by the committee in charge.

Among the talent that has been secured are: Mrs. Abram Dennison, Miss Sara Pennington, Mrs. Cloward, of Newark; Miss Dorothy Cloud and Mr. John C. Johnston, who will entertain with readings. The musical numbers will be given by Mr. James Kelly, who has the leading role in the musical comedy being prepared by the University of Delaware Glee Club, Mrs. Hawthorne, Mr. P. C. VanSant and the orchestra of the Swedish Baptist Church of Wilmington.

The admission price, which includes cost of pie and ice cream, will be 35 cents for adults, and 20 cents for children 12 years of age and under.

MUSICAL TREAT COMING SOON

Lions Club Brings Guilford College Choir Mar. 26

Through the efforts of the Newark Lions Club the Guilford College Choir of fifty trained voices will again be heard in Newark, on the evening of Monday, March 26th at 8:00 o'clock in the Community Hall of the Methodist Church.

Just a year ago an audience of four hundred Newark music lovers sat almost breathless through a program of the most remarkable and perfect choral perfection ever presented locally, when the Guilford College Choir was brought here by the Lions Club. This announcement of a return engagement will undoubtedly meet with the unanimous approval of all devotees of choral singing.

In announcing the completion of arrangements for this concert, members of the Lions Club desire to emphasize that the program at 8:00 o'clock will be open to the public, and no admission will be charged. During an intermission in the program a silver offering will be taken and all of the money received will be turned over to the Choir to help defray the traveling expenses of their annual northern tour.

Earlier in the evening members of the Choir and their Director Max Noah will be guests of the members of the Lions Club and their wives in the dining room of the Newark Church, the regular time and place of the weekly meeting of the Club having been transferred for this purpose.

Officials and members of the Methodist Church are giving splendid co-operation in securing this concert by providing the facilities of their building and the dinner practically at cost. Details of the program will appear in next week's issue of this paper.

LADIES OF DESTINY BY MISS FRANCES HOMER AT UNIVERSITY HALL

Students Choose World Figures In Preference to American Women

Given their choice of two programs in the repertoire of Miss Frances Homer, dramatic interpreter, who will appear on the University Hour Program next Monday, March 19, at 8 p. m.—the students of the University of Delaware choose the more adventurous title and world figures rather than American.

The two programs presented to the students for their selection were "Ladies of Destiny," and "Famous American Women." The former was chosen by the students, and in it will be presented such famous personages, among others, as Nell Gwynn, 17th Century actress and mistress to Charles II, Isabella of Spain, who indirectly made possible the discovery of America through her grant of money to Christopher Columbus, and the Empress Josephine, wife of Napoleon. The program of famous American women included Sally Fairfax, the sweetheart of George Washington, Peggy Shippen, wife to the famous traitor, Benedict Arnold, and Peggy Eaton, disrupter of Jackson's cabinet.

Miss Homer is said to be one of the outstanding dramatic interpreters of today, and her reincarnation of famous historical personalities will provide a most entertaining part of the University Hour Program for this year.

CARD AND BINGO PARTY

The Ladies of the Golden Eagle will hold a card and bingo party, March 24, in their lodge room in Odd Fellows Hall at 8:30. Refreshments will be served and a door prize given. Everyone is welcome.

Newark New Century Club News

Mrs. Anne Rowe Stevens, Superintendent of the School for the Blind, 7th Street, Wilmington, Del., and Director of the Blind work for the State will speak before the Newark New Century Club next Monday afternoon at the regular club meeting. The Hospitality Committee, Mrs. Wm. J. Barnard, chairman, will serve refreshments at the social hour which will follow the address. The club hostesses will be Mrs. Harvey Steele, Mrs. S. A. Slack, Mrs. G. D. Plummer and Mrs. C. M. Myers.

The Ways and Means Committee, Mrs. G. W. Rhodes, chairman, reports that it is delighted with the splendid response which club members have made to their call for Bridge Benefits and food for the food sales at the Club House. About $30.00 has been raised so far. The club luncheon brought in $20.00. Mrs. Louise Hendey, a member of the committee entertained five tables of Contract Bridge at her home on Sunset Road Wednesday evening for this fund. Mrs. C. A. McCue won first prize. There will be a food sale at the Club on Monday afternoon.

Mrs. Warren J. Ellis, chairman of the nominating committee reports that about 25 club members have turned in their slate for club officers. The election will be held May 14.

The School Board passed on the petition presented to them by the Library Committee of the Club on Tuesday evening. May 3 was the date for the special election to determine whether this school district should take over the support of the town library. Local opinion seems very much in favor of such a move. Mrs. Morton, New Castle County Librarian reported that the Newark circulation of books for February was 1500 books, she says, is unusually low due to bad weather and the short month. This shows the great popularity of the library and the great demand for books. Talk to your friends and urge them to vote.

SCHOOL BOARD AUTHORIZES ELECTION

The petition and petitioners follow: "To the Trustees of the Newark Special School District we, the undersigned electors of the district, hereby petition you to call a special election for the purpose of deciding upon the establishment of a free public library as set forth in Chapter 939 Section 7.

George W. Rhodes, Daniel Thompson, P. K. Musselman, H. L. Bender, Lester W. Tarr, T. A. Baker, Walter M. Johnson, Charles P. Steele, A. Fader, Robert C. Lewis, W. Waples, William J. Lovell, W. Wilson, Herman Wollaston, E. Bausman, J. E. Dougherty, George L. Schuster, M. W. Hanson, T. Manns, C. E. Rankin, Jay Robinson, Catherine Ritz.

The petition having been presented in accordance with Law, and in compliance with Law the Board authorized the election for May 3, 1934.

Who may vote? Chapter 939 Section 8 says:

"Every person above the age of twenty-one (21) years, residing in the District and paying taxes therein and who is not delinquent in such payment shall be entitled to vote at such election."

Mr. Brinker was authorized by the Board to ask for the Attorney General's opinion on the taxpayer's question. This question arose because of the wording of the law "every person above the age of twenty-one (21) years residing in the District and paying school taxes therein and who is not delinquent in such payment shall be entitled to vote at such election."
