Poultry Tour Ends With Banquet

Largest Ever Held; State Poultry Association Organized

On Wednesday and Thursday of last week the poultrymen of Delaware and the Extension Department of the University of Delaware took part in the largest and most successful farm tour that was ever held in the State. At 9:00 a. m. Wednesday, thirty-nine cars containing 118 poultrymen from Delaware, New Jersey and Maryland were assembled on the Dover Green anxious to see how the other fellow does things. By the time the last stop was reached on the following day there were eighty-three cars with 256 poultrymen.

Decision to conduct such a tour was reached during a meeting of the poultrymen at the University of Delaware on Farmers' Day last August. At that time W. V. Cosden, of Dover, was appointed chairman of a committee to make general arrangements for the tour and Mr. H. R. Lemex, of Milford, was made chairman of the banquet committee. The task of selecting the farms to be visited and securing speakers for the program at Milford was left to the Extension Poultrymen, University of Delaware, and the three County Agricultural Agents. Farms were selected on which certain definite phases of poultry management were outstanding.

Following are the farms visited and the points observed: K. J. Karbaum farm, Dover—1. Pullets housed according to maturity; 2. Hens lighted to maintain fall production; 3. Chickens and layers fed on home mixed feed. 4. Cost of rearing pullets to maturity; 5. Record of eggs and cost of production; 6. Oil-can water fountain. W. V. Cosden farm, Dover—1. Roofs for poultry houses; 2. Yarding system for sanitation and green food; 3. Management of breeding cockerels on range; 4. Preparing eggs for market.

Mayor Of Elkton Dies Suddenly At His Home

William H. Mackall Stricken With Heart Attack; Succumbs In Two Hours

William Hollingsworth Mackall, for the last twelve years mayor of Elkton, died at his home on Bridge street, about 11 o'clock Sunday night as the result of dilation of the heart. He was in the 68th year of his age.

Mayor Mackall was in his usual good health up to 9 o'clock in the evening as he sat at home. About that time he complained of feeling some pains about his heart. These grew worse, and, despite everything that physicians, who had been summoned, could do for him, he expired about two hours later.

He was the only child of the late Dr. and Mrs. Richard H. Mackall, and was born in Elkton in 1859 and spent practically his entire life in Elkton. He was a graduate of Lafayette College and for several years was manager and vice-president of the Scott Fertilizer Company of Elkton. Several years ago he succeeded the late Frank R. Scott as the president of this company.

Mayor Mackall was vice-president and director of the National Bank of Elkton; president of the Elkton Cemetery Company, and also a director of several other financial concerns of the town. He was a Democrat but never aspired to any political office. He was a vestryman of Trinity Episcopal Church for more than 30 years, and was active in church work.

His widow, who was Miss Rebecca Evans, of Bel Air, and one daughter, Mrs. Harry S. Young, survive him.

Funeral services will be held Wednesday afternoon at 3 o'clock in Trinity Episcopal Church in charge of Rev. Fredrik Virgin. Interment will be in Elkton Cemetery.

DANIEL STOLL AWARDED SEWER CONTRACT

At the meeting of the City Council, held last week, Daniel Stoll was awarded the contract for a new extension on the Kentway into the sewer in Depot road. The bid was for $975, and was reported to be much lower than another submitted. The specifications call for an eight-inch terra cotta sewer.

Drunken Driver

Last Saturday, New Castle County Officer Leach arrested Clifford Reynolds, of Rising Sun, for driving while intoxicated. Reynolds, driving a truck, had struck several pieces of machinery being used in putting in the new gas line.

Reynolds was brought before Magistrate Thompson, but was too intoxicated to make a coherent statement. He was locked up for three hours to sober up and then the hearing was renewed. He was fined $200 and costs and in default of payment committed to the Work House. Monday friends paid his fine and he was released.

Dr. and Mrs. Hullihen Return From France

Had Successful Trip Taken In Interests Of Foreign Study Group; Dr. and Mrs. Odell Remain In Paris

Dr. and Mrs. Hullihen have returned to Newark from their trip to France, which was taken for the purpose of bringing certain proposals before the faculty of the University of Paris. These proposals were for the benefit of American undergraduate students, who are in the Foreign Study Group at the University of Paris, commonly known as the Sorbonne. Dr. and Mrs. Odell, who accompanied them on the trip, have remained in Paris.

It was necessary that Dr. Hullihen make this journey after the opening of Delaware University, because October was the only month in which the faculty of the University of Paris could be assembled.

The proposals that Dr. Hullihen had to make were considered favorably after numerous meetings with the faculty, the Dean of the College, the President of the College and Minister of Education Herriot, but were not acted on finally. A later meeting will be held, and if proposals will go to the Senate of the University for confirmation. If the action is favorable, many of the difficulties arising from the different educational standards and practices between the American and French systems will be eliminated for the American students. These conditions cannot be changed without considerable deliberation, because they are the result of tradition and standards going back a thousand years, and the fact that the French education system is under government control, makes any departure from standard methods a matter of legislative action.

Dr. Hullihen said that their party was shown every kindness and hospitality and had so many invitations they were unable to accept them all. They were to be entertained at luncheon by former Prime Minister Herriot.

Walter Heiser Shoots Himself

Walter Heiser, who was employed by the Fleischman Yeast Company and delivered yeast on the Newark route, was found dead in the company garage, at 906 Orange street, Wilmington, this morning.

Heiser had apparently committed suicide by shooting himself through the mouth. As yet no motive has been discovered for the act.

NEW ENGLAND SOCIETY ORGANIZED

A meeting formally to organize the New England Society of Newark, was held on Wednesday evening last at St. Thomas' Parish House. The following officers were elected: President, Lester Tarr; vice-president, Raymond Baker; secretary and treasurer, Mrs. S. A. Turner. A committee to be announced later, will take charge of drawing up suitable by-laws for the society. After election of officers there was a general discussion of plans to be carried out by the organization. A cordial invitation is still being extended to any native New Englander to join. Meetings will be the first Tuesday of each month.

JOINT MEETING

The Missionary Societies of the Methodist and Episcopal Churches will join with the Woman's Home Missionary Society of the Presbyterian Church this week. The meeting will be held in the Lecture Room of the Presbyterian Church, at 8 o'clock.

Red Cross Drive

Mrs. J. O. G. Duffy, local chairman of Red Cross, has announced that the drive for membership in this town will begin Monday, November 15, and continue during the week. Mrs. Ernest B. Wright is first vice-president of the local committee; Miss Eleanor Todd, second vice-president; Miss Jane Maxwell, treasurer, and Miss Lydia Fader, secretary.

It is desired that all residents of Newark should join through Newark, and not in Wilmington, as so many have done in former years. Booths will be placed at the Farmers' Trust Company and at the Newark Trust Company, and all are urged to join early. No canvass of the town will be made. Newark has always responded generously to this call, and it is hoped that this will be a banner year.

Man Taken to Hospital Sunday, Dies Monday

Last Sunday morning, George Webster, 48 years old, colored, living on Iron Hill, was brought to the office of Dr. Burton Pearson in a critical condition from a strangulated hernia. Dr. Pearson decided that an immediate operation was necessary and called the Newark ambulance. Ira Shellander took Webster to the Delaware Hospital, Wilmington, where he died early Monday morning.

RARE MUSICAL TREAT

The Women's Guild, of St. Thomas' Church, will sponsor a concert to be given at the New Century Club on Friday evening, November twelfth, at eight o'clock, by the faculty and pupils of the Valentine Conservatory of Music, of Wilmington, of which Mrs. Constance Killen is president.

The famous children's orchestra of the Conservatory will take part in the program, which will be made up of vocal and instrumental music, and readings.

This concert will give a rare opportunity for music lovers, especially for parents and children interested in music. There will be no admission charge, but a silver offering will be taken.

Schools Have Armistice Day Program Today

As Part Of Education Week Activities, Exercises Held At High School At 1.55

Because of the meeting of the State Education Association at Dover, Thursday and Friday, which will be attended by all the teachers of the Newark School system, the National Education Week program was condensed so that it might be fitted into school activities of the first three days of the week. Today, at 1.55, at the High School, elaborate exercises were held for Armistice Day.

Paul McMurray, '27, was the chairman, and the program was opened by the school orchestra. This was followed by The Gloria and the Lord's Prayer by the entire school. The school sang the "Star Spangled Banner" and saluted the flag, led by Oscar Morris, '27. Katherine Pie, '27, read a verse from the Scripture and the school sang "America." Paul Pie, '28, recited "In Memoriam." The Newark School with chorus sang "The Long, Long Trail." This was followed by an oration, "Armistice Day," delivered by James Crooks, '28.

The school sang "Keep the Home Fires Burning." Two poems by the same title, "In Flanders Fields," by John McRae and Edwin Miller, were recited by Lillian Brown, '29, and Margaret Wilkinson, '29, respectively. The next number was in pageant form; Wilmer Riley, dressed as Uncle Sam, delivered an oration, "Memories." He was attended by pupils of the primary grades, dressed as soldiers, sailors and nurses. The school sang "America the Beautiful" and the exercises were closed by blowing "Taps."

FOOTLIGHTS CLUB

The "Footlights Club" are casting for a production of "A Successful Calamity," by Claire Kummer. This will probably be given about the middle of December. The cast will be composed entirely of men.

The Flower Hospital Opens

It is one thing to start a drive for a hospital in a town of the size of Newark, and to go through all the months of work and doubt incident to such a drive; it is quite another thing to have an up-to-date hospital materialize in a few short weeks, without any effort or expense, except that borne by two brave women.

That is just what has happened in this town and the result is The Flower Hospital, at 172 West Main street, open for inspection by every one to-day from four until ten o'clock. And you should not miss calling. You will find there the charm of an old-fashioned home and the attractiveness of white-curtained, white-linen rooms, clean and comfortable. Waiting for the patient there is professional care of the highest standard and the atmosphere of a home. There the Newark person who is ill or convalescing may be nursed back to health, with

Mrs. Isabella Pilling Wright Dies Suddenly

Widow Of S. J. Wright, Ill For Sometime, Expires Sunday

Newark was saddened early Sunday morning to learn of the death of Mrs. Isabel Pilling Wright, widow of the late Samuel J. Wright. Mrs. Wright was seriously ill at the time of her husband's death, September 18, and has been under the care of a physician and nurse since that time. Her condition was, however, thought to be much improved and her sudden death at eight-thirty Sunday morning was a great shock to her family and friends.

Mrs. Wright, who was the daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. John Pilling, had lived in this town most of her life. She was a devoted wife and mother, and beloved by a host of friends. She has always shown a great interest in the Newark New Century Club and has continually helped that organization by her counsel and financial aid. She was a friend of the poor, and a devout Christian woman, a member of the Methodist Episcopal Church of this town.

Mrs. Wright is survived by two daughters, Miss Elsie Wright and Mrs. Benjamin F. Proud; and three sons, J. Jilling, Norris N., and Ernest B. Wright, all of whom live in Newark.

The funeral and interment yesterday were both private.

Roy L. Dickson Speaker at "College Hour"

Roy L. Dickson, naturalist, was the speaker at "College Hour" held this morning in Wolf Hall at 11 o'clock. Mr. Dickson's topic was "The Humane Side of Plants." Mr. Dickson has written eight books popularizing, for grown-ups, various phases of nature study.

Because of the limited accommodations at Wolf Hall, the University is not able to invite the general public to these interesting lectures. In fact, for the past two years, the crowded conditions have necessitated excluding the freshmen classes from "College Hour."

CENTURY CLUB PROGRAM

Next Monday at 2.30, the Newark New Century Club will meet as usual. Mr. N. E. Leopold, of Wilmington, will be at the club to talk about organizing a class in which he will teach design, cutting, fitting and finishing of women's and children's garments. The program for the afternoon will be given by a group of ladies from Wilmington, after which tea will be served. The program follows:

"The Lure of the Out-of-Doors," Miss Mary R. de Von; "The Lure of the Fireside," Mrs. J. Frank Ball; "The Lure of the Bridge Table," Mrs. E. M. Barsham; "The Lure of the Theatre," Miss Mary A. Rossell; "The Lure of Music," Mrs. M. A. Tarumianz. Mrs. Tarumianz will also play several numbers.

ORCHARD ROAD LOT SOLD

Middleton W. Hanson has recently bought a building lot, 100 feet by 180 feet, on the corner of Park Place and Orchard Road, between the lots owned by Carl S. Rankin and Ed Willim. The contract has not yet been given for Mr. Middleton's house, which is to be of English design, of stucco construction.

his own physician, his family and his friends within easy call.

The two women who have made this venture are Miss Mary C. Ford, trained at St. Joseph's Hospital, at Lancaster, and Miss Anne E. Keegan, trained at St. Joseph's Hospital, in Philadelphia. They are cheerful, capable women, anxious to serve the community and to succeed. They have arranged six beds, four rooms, two private, two semi-private. In addition to these is the operating room, immaculate and well-equipped. There, yesterday when we called, bandages were being made and an emergency closet was being fitted up. We were told that all minor operations could be taken care of; major ones only in emergencies. Tomorrow, Dr. Davis, specialist of Baltimore, will perform four tonsil and adenoid operations there. No cases of contagious diseases will be taken into the hospital.

We predict that The Flower Hospital will be a success.

NEWARK PUBLIC SCHOOLS REPORT FOR MONTH OF OCTOBER

The attendance in the Newark Schools for October was an improvement over the preceding month. With but one exception, the percentage of attendance for October was over 90, and that one exception had an attendance of 88 per cent. The Junior class in the High School had the most nearly perfect attendance, with an average of 97.6 per cent.

LOCAL TEACHERS REORGANIZE CHAPTER

The faculty of the Newark School System reorganized the Alpha Chapter of the local Teachers' Association, at a meeting held at the High School, a week ago tonight. They elected the following officers: Miss Anna Galaher, president; Mrs. Josephine Hancock, secretary; Earl Keller, treasurer.

It was decided that the officers should act as delegates to the convention of the State Education Association to be held in Dover tomorrow and Friday. Alternate delegates to the convention were chosen as follows: Thomas Malin, Mrs. May Robinson and Miss Marion Pixley.

The association also voted to join the National Education Association with a 100 per cent membership.

BROWN OF HARVARD

On November 15 and 16, the Newark Theatre will present a picture about Harvard University, written by a Yale man. Donald Ogden Stewart wrote this scenario while he was living with Robert Benchly, who is a graduate of Harvard, so he typed most of the manuscript with his tongue between his teeth instead of in his cheek.

A crew race and football game, with attendant celebrations, allow plenty of action. William Haines, Jack Pickford and Frances X. Bushman, Jr., seem to have caught the Cambridge collegiate spirit, of which there is no other. Mary Brian is charming as the heroine.

Lest We Forget Armistice Day—November 11 The Red Cross Call

I never complained of the vicissitudes of fate since the day I walked along the road to Kufah barefoot, not having the money wherewith to buy a pair of shoes, and when I entered the gate of the city I saw a poor creature seated there who had no feet.—Saadi.

There is always some one whose lot has been harder than ours; some one whom we can help. Frequently we see him at "the gate of the city," but more often we but read of the unfortunate one's sad plight. That no one may be missed who needs aid, there has been organized a band of help and mercy, a band which operates all over the world. As this organization has helped us to help others, and thus to comfort ourselves, we need only to be reminded of its needs.

Broad and Gracious

The following editorial, reprinted from Every Evening of November 2, is merely another example of the broad fairness and generous spirit back of that paper's every opinion.

MR. HUSTON'S VICTORY

From the first this newspaper has recognized that Congressman Robert G. Houston is all that is desired in a man personally. We stated as much when he was nominated. And though we oppose his political views and are against the policies his party stands for, we believe he has the personality and the ability to make a creditable representative for Delaware in the Lower House of Congress.

In the circumstances, we believe Mr. Houston's victory is a personal one. He is an excellent orator; and he is capable of discussing the campaign issues, from his party's viewpoint, clearly and concisely. Suffice it to say that he conducted his campaign on a high level, which is to his credit. We regret the lack of organization in our own party; we regret the apathy on the part of Democratic voters; and we are truly sorry, from a purely political standpoint, that the Democratic ticket in Delaware lost; but we are glad that the victory went to a man of Bob Houston's calibre, and we unhesitatingly congratulate him on his fine showing at the polls.—Every Evening.

McCue, University of Delaware; Prof. W. H. Allen, New Jersey Poultry Specialist; Carl H. Monsees, Director of Research and Extension, Del-Mar-Va Association, and Prof. James E. Rice, Cornell University. The expense of securing these speakers ran around $100, all of which was donated by public spirited poultrymen.

Perhaps the most important thing that took place at the Milford meet-

A Message for You About Your Schools

The following bulletin is the first of a series of weekly reports that will be prepared by the Joint Education Committee. Each of these articles will be illustrated by a picture of a child dependent on Delaware Schools for its chance in life.

Have you heard of the Joint Educational Committee? It is composed of representatives of eight associations—the American Legion; the State Federation of Women's Clubs; the Rotary Clubs of Georgetown, Laurel, Milford, Dover; the Kiwanis of Milford and Seaford; the State Grange; the Quota Club of Wilmington; the State Parent-Teacher Association; the Del-Mar-Va Press Association—all aspiring, because of their existence, in some way to make Delaware a finer "home."

The Joint Educational Committee has been organized for a definite purpose—to search out facts concerning Delaware schools. Through the courtesy of The Newark Post, it is able to make a brief weekly report to the people of Delaware. Every article published by the Committee will be marked by the picture of a child who is dependent upon Delaware schools for his chance in life. Individual citizens are asked to follow the reports and thus play in on the Committee's program. Delaware schools are what public opinion in Delaware demands they shall be. Shall we not first know the facts then pull together to make creditable and satisfactory conditions?

Eight years ago, Leonard P. Ayres, Statistician of National prominence, worked out a method of comparing the educational advantages offered by the various states. Each state was rated on ten different points. From these a general average of "index figure" was struck. Delaware's avering was the organization of a State Poultry Association. The object of the poultrymen in forming this association is to bind themselves closer together in order that they may reap the benefits of a united effort along social, educational, business and legislative lines. One of their first tasks will be to secure appropriations from the State legislature with which to maintain a State Poultry Specialist if they wish his services continued. The following officers were elected for the association: W. V. Cosden, Dover, president; Warren C. Newton, Bridgeville, vice-president; H. R. Lemex, Milford, treasurer; H. S. Palmer, Newark, secretary. Also the following members of an executive committee at large: Asa Reynolds, Georgetown; Gus Swanson, Milford; and W. C. Mathews, Hockessin. The four officers and three executive committeemen at large will constitute an executive committee for the association.

Mr. Cosden has called a meeting of the executive committee at Dover on November 17 to prepare constitution and by-laws, and appoint members on social, education, and legislative committees. Also a membership committee will be appointed that day and a canvass for membership will be started. The annual membership dues will be $1.00. Every poultryman in Delaware who has at heart the advancement of his own industry will join.

age was 42.48. Her rank was 38th, among 48 states!

The State was shocked into action. Surveys have been made; school bills rewritten; the State attendance—through the efforts of boys and girls, fathers and mothers, officials and teachers, raised from an average of 90 days per child in 1919 to an average of 154 days in 1925. More than a hundred old, dilapidated, out-grown school buildings have been abandoned, teacher training scholarships have been created; teachers salaries raised; the number of experienced teachers employed in the State increased.

Where does the State stand now, as a result of this activity? The State Board of Education has recently revealed, by the Ayres System of calculation, an index figure for the school year 1925-26 of 86.14 points. Delaware is now 27th among the States in education. That is, in 26 states in the Union, boys and girls have a better chance to get what they should out of the schools, than they have in our home State of Delaware. Are you, as a Delawarean, satisfied with this condition? What things are pulling the State's record down? When we discover the cause can we afford to change them? These are the queries Delaware readers are asked to consider, for the next six weeks, with the Joint Educational Committee.

Delaware Swamped By Swarthmore, 47 To 7

Diversified Attack And Brilliant Defensive Made Blue And Gold Efforts Futile; Loveland's Score Sensational

The sun was shining brightly most everywhere last Saturday afternoon, but a Swarthmore football team stood between Delaware and the sun to cast deep and direful shadows on the Blue and Gold hopes. 47 to 7 is the story in cold type. The 7 stands for the only balm on Delaware's hurt which was provided by Dave Loveland in the final period when he intercepted a pass, and circling the ends, twisted and dodged 90 yards down the field to prevent Delaware from being goosessed.

Delaware showed no outstanding weakness. Swarthmore had a better team which, although rated comparatively weak, prevented the Blue and Gold from starting anything in the way of a sustained offensive, and bewildered the Delaware defense with its change of pace in attack. There was a large contingent of Delaware rooters who cheered lustily and loyally, but without any provocation till Loveland made his bid for fame in the last few minutes of the game.

Swarthmore took the upper hand from the kick-off. Beatty, of Delaware, sent the ball on its initial journey and the Garnet after two plunges kicked. Creamer fumbled the punt, which Richards, Swarthmore captain and candidate for All-American position, fell on. A pass, and the oval rested on Delaware's 3-yard line. With their tackles up Delaware flung back plunges by DeGroot, Garber and Widing. On the fourth try DeGroot dove under center and made the distance. All this had taken about 5 minutes, and with that start, the Garnet ran amuck.

Delaware fought valiantly and gave all they had, but they were in much the same position as Dempsey against Tunney. They were willing and had a lot of stuff up their sleeve, but the other fellow wouldn't let them use it. Richards, Swarthmore center and captain, was everywhere and smeared play after play before it could get started. He matched speed with Dave Loveland a number of times and brought that fleet gentleman to earth.

Delaware didn't even threaten till the end of the 3rd period when they worked the ball within shooting distance of the Garnet standards, but Creamer's kick failed by inches.

In the last quarter Swarthmore had pushed Delaware down the field to their 10-yard line, and just for variety, DeGroot snapped a pass to Palmer, standing on the goal line. At this the Blue and Gold, hopelessly outclassed but still in the fight, gave a final convulsion and saved itself from a white-washing. Loveland was really responsible for this, for he grabbed the ball out of the air in front of his own goal posts and circling widely eluded two tacklers and distanced the rest of the Garnet team for a 90-yard run and a touchdown. Rose kicked the extra point.

If it weren't for the fact that a week before Swarthmore took a bad drubbing from the Princeton team that made fair Harvard pay through the nose last Saturday, Delaware might offer as an alibi the bruising they received at the hands of Rutgers. Undoubtedly, the Rutgers game shredded some of Delaware's silk, but Swarthmore seems to have benefited by their big-time licking. Delaware has played in and out football all season and they were decidedly out on Saturday—this may be a good omen and this week against Gallaudet they may have everything that goes to make winning football.

Newark Boys Help North East Beat Aberdeen, 12 to 6

The local boys in the lineup were: Irvin Chalmers, Phil Cornog, Joseph Lutten, Jack Keeley, William Crow, and Beck. It was largely due to their efforts that North East came out on top.

Hale, for Aberdeen, and Haggerty, for North East, each made touchdowns early in the game. From then on the teams fought each other to a standstill till, in the last period, Captain Preston of North East sprinted across the line for the winning touchdown.

Phil Cornog started in the backfield but was soon shifted to center to strengthen the defense. Haggerty replaced him at left half.

made up of Sgt. Harrigan, Sgt. Weaver and Privates White, Smith and Webber.

This is the first time Battery E has competed in the championship shoot and they made it very inconvenient for Battery H of New Castle, who came in second in the rifle competition. Battery H had three consecutive legs on the National Defense Trophy and a win this time would have given them permanent possession. Lt. Cook, Sgt. Sullivan and Sgt. Shaeffer are seasoned veterans of range competitions. All three have gold medals for placing in the first ten at the National competitions between picked teams from all over the country, held at Camp Perry, Ohio, annually.

Wesley Spoils Newark's Record

Miserable Football Gives Newark First Defeat Of Season, 12-0

Friday afternoon last, Wesley Collegiate Institute football squad came to Newark and won a certain renown for themselves by white-washing the Northern D. I. A. Champs 12 to 0. Physically, Wesley appeared equal to the task, for they were a heavier and more mature looking crowd than the High School boys. A number of them looked as if they had been shaving twice over for some time. However, this game wasn't decided on looks, and Newark, who had trimmed Wesley 20 to 6 in their first game, brought the debacle on themselves by indifferent and erratic football.

The first period was fairly even and scoreless. Wesley showed a good defense and made some good gains through the line. In behalf of Newark, "Rip" Smith, the diminutive half-back, knifed the line in two plunges for about 10 yards each. Morris, in returning a punt, covered 30 yards, assisted by Riley who made a beautiful take-out of one of Wesley's tacklers.

The second quarter opened with the ball in Newark territory. Torrey, Wesley quarter and star, shot around end and covered thirty precious yards before he was tackled. Chism smacked the line twice and scored for Wesley. A drop-kick by Torrey for extra point was blocked. The half ended, Wesley 6, Newark 0.

Newark fans were not downcast by this for their team all season has played its best football under pressure. The third quarter opened with Newark showing its regular stuff, but it was only a flash in the pan and Newark fizzled badly on several opportunities to score. Riley tried one place kick but it was blocked. Wesley showed no let down and Torrey and Chism ripped the line for sizeable advances. No score.

In the last period Newark acted as if this game was an unpleasant affair that should be disposed of along the lines of least resistance. The Institute lads let down a little themselves, but Torrey, unsatiated, banged his way through center and galloped unopposed for 40 yards and another touchdown. The kick again missed. Riley, for Newark, passed feverishly and fruitlessly, for Wesley had the Newark wings covered every time.

It was just one of those let-downs that happen now and then, and which, after Coach Malin delivers his post-mortem address, had best be forgotten. It had no effect on Newark's D. I. A. A. standing as Wesley is not a member. It was a bad game from all angles and marred by penalties for off-side and holding. Newark should have an easy time next week with du Pont and will probably take the opportunity to regain lost prestige.

The line-up:

Dayett center Bard
Cole right guard Meekins
