STRONG SENTIMENT FROM MANY SOURCES VOICED AT DOVER IN SUPPORT OF RELIEF PROGRAM

A Million for Direct Relief—A Million and a Half for Jobs Are Main Features Action Expected

A review of proceedings and opinions at Dover during the past week shows that both legislators and the various groups of citizens attempting sincerely to promote immediate and adequate and wisely handled direct relief and work, have been coming to a better understanding upon the main features of such a program. Most of the disagreements and the clashes of ideas reported in detail in the daily papers, have had to do with these details. The details are important. They cover the size and personnel of the Commission, its appointment; how the money is to be raised, how spent, whether to keep restrictions in the bill or to put full responsibility for the exercise of reasonable judgment upon those who must direct the work.

The unemployed who are in desperate need of continuing relief or jobs should be relieved of the fear that the legislators may not provide for them. No such faithlessness can be believed in. The adjourned session has done real work, through its special committee and through other committees and individuals. The final action upon the main plan for a million dollars of direct relief, which will

DELAWARE SECTION OF AMERICAN CHEMICAL SOCIETY MEETS AT OLD COLLEGE

University of Delaware Department of Chemistry is Host to 125 Guest Members of the Society at Dinner Visiting Chemists Praise Local Facilities

In welcoming the Delaware Section of the leading national chemical group in this country to the University last evening, at a dinner in the dining hall of Old College, Dean Dutton of the University spoke of the honor to the institution in entertaining this group of men. Most of those present last night are distinguished by achievements of importance in their special fields. They are drawn to Delaware by the large opportunities centered in the chemical industries of the Wilmington area. Their work is worldwide in its significance and application. Dean Dutton's welcome, therefore, expressed the appreciation of these facts by the University and especially by the departments of chemistry.

Members of the Society said last night that the 125 members present represented the largest attendance at any monthly meeting of this section for a good many years. Before the dinner the guests were taken on a tour of the University grounds and buildings by members of the chemistry staffs and senior and graduate students. Many of the visiting chemists had not realized that the University was so well equipped for chemical work, and comments of surprise and appreciation were frequent.

FINE DOGS WILL DISPLAY HUNTING POINTS IN LOCAL FIELD CLASSIC

Tomorrow and Saturday the Delaware Setter and Pointer Club Will Conduct Field Trials On the Club's 500 Acre Preserve East of Glasgow Many Entries Reported

On Friday and Saturday, April 20, 21, beginning at 8 o'clock in the morning and continuing all day, the Delaware Setter and Pointer Club will hold their field trials on the new field, near Glasgow. There have been many entries sent in with the result that there is very much enthusiasm in evidence. The awards in the winners class, in which only amateurs can compete, will be: 50 per cent of the entry fees to go to the winners, divided on a 50, 30, and 20 per cent basis for the first, second, and third dogs. This is a departure from the former way of making awards. An amateur puppy class will be run, as in the past, with silver trophies to the first, second, and third dogs in each event.

Each visiting guest will be presented with a courtesy membership card which will entitle the holder to enter dogs and enjoy all the privileges of the club without having to pay the customary membership dues.

The field trials are to be held on the Townsend farm, located two miles east of Glasgow. After leaving Glasgow on the road toward Middletown watch for the arrows which will direct you to the trial grounds.

The Delaware Setter and Pointer Club, of which Dr. W. E. Harris, of Wilmington, is president, and Frank H. Clark, of Elsmere, secretary, has leased the game rights on the 500 acres of land where the field trials

S. Grant, pastor of the church, accompanied them and delivered a very fine sermon. A large crowd was present.

STEEL TRAIN STOPS HERE TOMORROW

The "Zephyr," Three-Car, Diesel Engine, Shining Steel Speed Train To Stop At B. & O. Station, Newark, 11:30 A. M., Friday.

Builder A Delaware Man

A silver streak moving at the rate of 104 miles per hour has been flashing across stretches of New Jersey and Pennsylvania landscape. The effect of seeing this rapid, silvery, new vehicle of travel, in motion, will doubtless be entirely different from the first view of the great air ships. The "Los Angeles," for instance, moving majestically out of a cloud and across the sky does not suggest "speed" because of its location in the wide sky space over the earth. It suggests rather a deliberation of motion that adds to the impressiveness of its beauty. The great airships might be the plaything of the gods. The new train will surely seem an exquisitely practical toy of men.

The "Zephyr" on its trial trips in Pennsylvania and New Jersey makes 104 miles per hour on the open stretches and is believed to be equal to 110. The contract speed was 100 miles per hour. The train has three cars joined together without the usual vestibule. It has sixteen wheels and its center of gravity is so low that it "hugs the rails." This character in its construction combined with the special shock absorbing devices cushioned with heavy rubber at 32 points, eliminates all jolting at high speed.

The new train has been built for the Burlington Railroad to run between Kansas City and Lincoln, Nebraska. It was constructed by the Edward G. Budd Manufacturing Company, of Philadelphia. Mr. Budd is a former Delaware boy, who grew up in Smyrna. He rode in the operating cab on the official trial trip and operated the train for part of the run. These trains are lighter, cheaper, and believed to be greatly more comfortable and satisfactory to passengers than any train previously built.

The "Zephyr" will leave the Wilmington, Baltimore and Ohio Station, after a half hour stop there, tomorrow, Friday, at 11.15 a. m., and is expected to be at the B. & O. Station, Newark, at 11.30, where it will stop for five minutes. The Baltimore and Ohio Company cordially invites the public to view the train.

Two Fires In Same House

Loss Probably $1500 to $2000

On the Glasgow Road below Newark, on Saturday night, fire was discovered in the kitchen of a dwelling on the land of Mr. Archie L. Peel and owned by him. The family occupying the house gave the alarm and the fire was extinguished after considerable damage had been done by the flames. On Sunday evening fire broke out again in the second floor and the fire department was again called and extinguished the fire. After this fire the family boarded up the windows and moved into Newark temporarily. After the family left the home was broken into and all belongings thoroughly ransacked. Origin of the two fires and the purpose of the ransackers are unknown.

GARAGES ENTERED; CAR STOLEN

Places of A. F. Fader and Earl Dawson Invaded by Thieves No Trace of Mr. Fader's Car

On Tuesday night, about 10.30, A. F. Fader put his car in the garage without noticing anything unusual and locked the door. The next morning when he went for the car at 7.30 it was gone. The garage door had been opened apparently from the inside and Mr. Fader and chief Cunningham are inclined to the belief that the thief was hidden in the garage when the owner put the car away. There has been no clue to the car or the thief. On the same night the garage of Earl Dawson was broken into and an attempt made to steal the car of Courtland Houghton by cutting a hole in the top to get at the ignition. Switch keys of Mr. Dawson's car were stolen. There are no clues so far.

Arrests for the week reported by Chief Cunningham are David McNatt, of Marshallton, for assault and battery on complaint of Deputy Sheriff Clarence Pool. McNatt was held in $500 bond for later appearance.

Andrew Breeding, of Newark, was arrested for trespassing on the property of Samuel Dameron, for wreckless driving, and for driving without a license. In default of fine he was sent to the workhouse for 90 days.

Arthur Smith, of Bear, arrested at the same time for the same trespassing, was fined.

Israel Rosenfeld, of Philadelphia, was fined $10 and costs for having improper brakes.

Hollingsworth Herd Inspected by Farm Organization

Enjoyable Entertainment and Meeting Held at the Home of Mr. and Mrs. M. M. Hollingsworth

Mr. and Mrs. M. M. Hollingsworth entertained the West Grove Farmers' Club at the Hollingsworth farm near Landonberg, last Saturday. There was an inspection of the registered Guernsey herd of Mr. Hollingsworth. Dr. C. C. Palmer talked on Bangs disease and Mr. George Worrlow spoke briefly on Calf Club work. The organization includes almost 18 families from various parts of Chester County and northern Delaware. Women members and young people have their share in the work and meetings. Dinner was served at noon. About 60 persons were present.

Boy Scouts To Learn Camp Craft

Tomorrow, the local Scouts will take a hike along hite Clay Creek and receive instructions in camp craft.

FINE COLOR PRINTING ON EXHIBIT

Reproductions of Famous Modern Paintings Can Be Seen at U. of D. Memorial Library.

Color reproductions of Modern Paintings from the Museum of Modern Art, 11 West 53rd Street, New York, are on view at Memorial Library, University of Delaware from April 15-29. These reproductions of famous modern paintings are examples of the highest development of color printing in the world.

The process of printing these pictures is known in Germany as "lichtdruck," in England as "Colotype." The lithographer, Franz Hausaenger, played an important part in developing the process.

Unlike other printing processes, no screens nor system of colored dots and dashes are used. The printing is done from thick gelatin-coated glass plates, one for each primary color. This process has been in use for nearly seventy years and is constantly being refined. Even today, however, it is not practical for large scale commercial printing. In some cases, the preliminary expense required to make a single reproduction is more than $3,000.

The Museum of Modern Art has been able to render a great educational service by circulating this color reproductions show throughout the country. The exhibition has been held by museums, colleges, schools and clubs all over the United States and by the Vancouver Art Gallery in Canada. The cost of the show, including transportation and insurance amounts to less than one twentieth of the expenses to exhibit a loan show of only mediocre originals.

Special Council Meeting For Organization

On Tuesday evening last, the recently re-elected members of the Town Council were sworn in. This meant no change in the personnel of that body. The same committees were reappointed, and all the regular employees, also.

It was decided to call in $10,000 in outstanding bonds, which the Council has money to pay off now, and save the interest of the next two years.

Lions Club Members To Have Special Part at Centenary

New Castle Presbytery Holds 433rd Stated Meeting at White Clay Creek Church

The Rev. Thomas A. Williams, of Wicomico Presbyterian Church, Salisbury, Maryland, Was Elected New Moderator

On Monday and Tuesday, April 16 and 17, the White Clay Creek Presbyterian Church was the setting for the 433rd stated meeting of the New Castle Presbytery. The two-day session was opened at 2 o'clock Monday afternoon, with prayer, and a sermon by the retiring Moderator, Rev. William Gibson. Mr. Gibson urged all who profess to be followers of Christ to make a closer examination of their lives and acts, in order to discover whether they are really living Christian lives or simply ones but weakly patterned upon that of Christ.

The Rev. Thomas A. Williams, of Wicomico Presbyterian Church, Salisbury, Maryland, was elected as the new Moderator. Mr. Williams was nominated by F. Leonard Waller, an elder, from Salisbury. The Rev. J. P. Clelland, of Eastlake Presbyterian Church, of Wilmington, was the only other nominated. Mr. Williams announced the appointment of the Rev. Richard T. Billingsley, of Ocean City, Md., as the Vice-Moderator.

At the public meeting at 7.45 o'clock, the Rev. Samuel M. Zwemer, D. D., professor of the History of Religion and Christian Missions, at the Princeton Theological Seminary, delivered an address upon the subject of "Backseat Driving," or "Re-thinking Missions With Our Predecessors." Dr. Zwemer spent more than forty years of his life in the Moslem World, and is a fellow of the Royal Geographical Society of London. Dr. Zwemer asked what can be learned from predecessors in the missionary field. In answering, he said, they had vision of the whole task; decision of character; knowledge of human heart and the heart of God; passion; self-sacrifice; self-effacement and the courage to suffer the loneliness of leadership in the missionary field.

Presbytery re-convened Tuesday morning with a fifteen minute devotional service, in charge of the Rev. R. Bert Graham, pastor of the Middletown Church. Much interest was shown in the nomination of commissioners to the General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church to be held in Cleveland, Ohio, in May. The ministerial nominations were: The Rev. Herman Bischof, pastor of the Rehoboth Presbyterian Church at Rehoboth, Md., one of the churches which the Rev. Francis Makemie, Presbyterian pioneer founded; the Rev. John D. Blake, pastor of the Red Clay Creek Church; the Rev. Harold S. Laird, pastor of the First and Central Church, of Wilmington; the Rev. C. C. Wier, supply pastor at Hanover Church, of Wilmington.

The elder nominations were: William B. Steel, of Port Deposit, Maryland, and elder for more than 53 years and had never served as a delegate to the General Assembly; F. Leonard Waller, of the Wicomico Church, at Salisbury; Lawrence T. Bliss, of Westminster Church, of Wilmington, and J. F. Deakney, of the Hanover Church, of Wilmington.

Mrs. Charles W. Reed, 805 Capitol Street, Washington, D. C., has sent a copy of the Delaware College Review of July, 1884. The copy is in magazine form, consisting of 32 pages bound with an artistic cover-design. It details much of the Semi-Centennial exercises of 1884, and includes the historical address given by Dr. William H. Purnell, President of Delaware College.

Mrs. Reed was Miss Armitage Evans, of the Class of 1884. The Editorial Board consisted of Louis L. Curtis, George A. Carpenter, William R. Huston, Victor B. Wooley, Edward M. Purnell, William DuHamel, and George A. Cameron. Charles W. Culen was business manager, and William DuHamel his assistant. The circulation is given as 1,000 copies. The issue is No. 10, Volume II. The Library has no copy of the Review back of Vol. XVIII.

Louis J. Deputy, of Laurel, Del., has sent in a copy of the Delaware College Catalogue of 1872.

Zook, United States Commissioner of Education, is calling a conference of Adult Education Workers from all parts of the country to meet at this time, in Washington, to discuss important plans for extending adult education. Between 25,000 and 30,000 unemployed teachers are on the list of available workers in the Emergency Education program of the federal government. Education in the Civilian Conservation Camps has been so eagerly responded to as to become a challenge to the States to give all adults who desire it, a similar opportunity, says Dr. Zook. Delaware is a pioneer in adult education; the State department under Miss Marguerite Burnett, conducts classes in the counties and in Wilmington, which are attended by many hundreds of students. The work of these classes has attracted the attention of Dr. Zook and of other states and the Delaware department is being studied for adoption by other communities.

THE OLD FASHIONED READING CIRCLE BECOMES MODERN DISCUSSION CLUB

New Castle County Teachers Bring Traditional Literary Gatherings Up to Date

A great deal of reading on a wide range of subjects has been done this year by groups of teachers in New Castle County, each following his or her own bent as to what fields were browsed in. The reading was done before the groups met. The meetings were for report and discussion. Often no two persons had read the same book, but the individual reports raised questions or brought out information which could be generally discussed in regard to present day living, experience, and perhaps teaching. Such a plan of reading is in no dull sense, "shop," say the teachers, and they have got a great deal out of it.

These modern reading circles are formed with relation to school association and location, however, and common interest and experience in professional work provides a basis of understanding upon which the teachers meet, and a contribution to very free and frank expression of opinion.

At Welsh Tract, recently, the teachers of one-room schools in the western section of the county who form one group, had their last meeting of the season. At Newark, next month, the elementary school teachers in Western New Castle County will have a social meeting to end their season of book talks. This group of schools includes Stanton, Newport, Yorklyn, Christina, Hockessin, and Newark.

A glance at the book lists reported as read in the various groups is assurance to the citizen interested in the schools, that the wider interests and broad point of view which all persons who deal with young people must have if they are to train young citizens, is being actively sought of their own accord by many local teachers.

Books on England, Germany, Russia, Italy, China, the United States, reported on and discussed in the reading circles are those which have received the best reviews from able critics. Some of the best current fiction, biography and poetry were the choice of others. Hobbies as represented by other choices include "Art in Everyday Life" by Goldstein; "Color Schemes for the Flower Garden"—Jekyll; "Birds Worth Knowing"—Doubleday; "Handbook of Nature Study"—Comstock; "American Glass"—Northern. The following are a few from the many in the general lists: "More Power To You"—Wiggam; "United States in World Affairs"—Lipman; "Crowded Hours"—Longworth; "Rockwell Kentiana"—Kent; "Native Return"—Adams; "Testament of Youth"—Brittain; "At 33"—Le Gallienne; "Shadows on the Rock"—Cather; "Age of Innocence"—Carroll; "As the Earth Turns"—Carroll; "Handbook of Children's Literature"—Gardner and Ramsey; "Our Indians of Early Delaware"—Lincoln.

Taste

Of all tastes, I think none compares to these three—the light tang of cinnamon, the brown crust of cold fried chicken, and the zip of very young onions.—O. O. McIntyre.

New Repeal Body Studies Control of Liquor

Former Repeal Leaders, Including P. S. du Pont, Irene du Pont, and Captain Stayton to Gather Experience From All States.

A number of anti-prohibition leaders, who took active part in the movement for repeal of the 18th Amendment and return of liquor control to the States, are now undertaking a thorough study of the various control systems in all the states in regard to their successful provisions—that is of the methods which prevent abuses and make for temperate communities. Conditions that still present problems, and the changes indicated as needed by experience in the several states, will also be studied. The findings and experience will be published to aid in the nation-wide improvement of liquor traffic conditions.

The new organization, called Repeal Associates, will have headquarters in Washington. Captain W. H. Stayton, well-known Delawarean, formerly of Smyrna, will be the executive. Prohibition leaders as well as the former repeal leaders are to be included in the advisory direction of the work.

The organizers of the movement are Robert K. Cassatt, of Philadelphia; Benedict Crowell, of Cleveland; Irene du Pont and Pierre S. du Pont, of Wilmington; Grayson M. P. Murphy, of New York; Ralph M. Shaw, of Chicago; J. J. Shouse, of Washington; W. H. Stayton, and James W. Wadsworth, Jr., of Geneseo, N. Y.

ACCIDENTS DECREASE 10% ON HIGHWAYS

Fatalities Decrease Only 3%; Highway Department Regards Accidents As More Dangerous.

Speaking before the regular meeting of the Board of Directors of the Delaware Safety Council, W. W. Mack, Chief Engineer of the State Highway Department, summarized Delaware's 1933 traffic accident facts. Mr. Mack declared that during the year there had been a 10 per cent decrease in the total number of accidents and only a 3 per cent decrease in the number of fatalities. This serves to indicate that accidents are becoming more dangerous. He attributed this fact to the increased speeds. There has been a decrease in the number of injured of 5.6 per cent and a decrease of $69,000 or 28 per cent in the total amount of property damaged. Pedestrian deaths have decreased 41.4 per cent. Mr. Mack reported that every day in the week showed a substantial reduction in accidents. Fatalities on Saturday and Sunday decreased 25 per cent over previous years. There has been a gradual decrease of accidents at intersections. As a whole, the law is being better observed regarding stopping at intersections before entering the main arterial highway.

Accidents caused by sleeping drivers decreased 24.4 per cent. This decrease is attributed to the campaign conducted by C. C. Reynolds, of the State Police, against sleepy commercial vehicle operators. Mr. Mack stated that sufficient time has not elapsed since the repeal of the 18th Amendment to make an official analysis of accidents attributed to drunken driving. Mr. Mack called attention to the Safety Council's slogan "If you want to drink don't drive and if you want to drive don't drink" and suggested that every one subscribe to it. It is evident that our major highway accident difficulties are not with people who are actively engaged in safety work. It comes from the more or less irresponsible operators and those who have not enlisted in active safety work.

Radio Gadget For Grown-Ups

To those who dislike jazz singers and crooners, for instance, the new voting-by-radio device, (invented by Dr. Nevil Monroe Hopkins, of New York University) may become a life saver—if, in the near future we are able to press a button on a cigar-like box and register our disgust. That will give a certain amount of satisfaction whether it is heeded or not.

Hash Is An Old Dish of Royalty

In the days before forks were known, hash was a dish often served for kings and queens, and indeed, a well-prepared hash is not to be despised.

Corned beef hash is perhaps the most popular of its kind. Here is the way Inez S. Willson, home economist, prepares the very best corned beef hash that one could wish.

Corned Beef Hash
Wash the corned beef and freshen it for several hours. Then place it in a heavy kettle, and pour hot water over it. Cook it over a slow fire until it is done, but not cooked so much that it is ragged.

In the meantime boil or bake potatoes in their skins. Let them cool, then remove the skins and dice them as for creamed potatoes; that is, dice them very fine.

Cut, do not grind, the beef until it is about the same size as the potato dice to be used with it. Carefully combine the beef and potatoes in the proportion of about one part of corned beef to one of potatoes. Season to taste with onion juice, paprika, or minced green pepper; and for 2 cups of beef and potatoes, add ¼ cup cream.

Melt about 2 tablespoons butter in a frying-pan, put the hash in, and cook slowly until it is thoroughly heated. Then turn it out on a serving platter and garnish it with parsley and bright red radishes.

Hindu Belle Brand Now In the ASCO Stores

The advent of springtime, with a big seasonal increase in fresh fruits and vegetables, starts homekeepers' thoughts towards the more frequent inclusion of salads in the daily menus.

To supply a first grade quality product for those who prefer a salad dressing, the American Stores Company have developed Hindu Belle Salad Dressing.

Many months were spent in research and experiments before the company's technicians obtained satisfactory results and were able to produce a salad dressing that was outstanding in flavor and quality, yet economical in cost. The pleasing salads that can be prepared with Hindu Belle and the very low prices are ample proof the company successfully achieved their objective.

Action the Measure of Good Faith

If there has been the slightest doubt that the State as a whole favored the main program proposed at Dover of a million dollars for direct relief, a million for public works, and $500,000 for job relief, that doubt must now be removed. Financing by bond issue also seems to have become well understood and accepted as best adapted to the State's sound financial condition but absence of immediate cash revenue resources for the purpose. Other details could doubtless be agreed upon if responsibility for carrying out the relief program is put squarely upon persons of experience and ability. Meanwhile the end of emergency funds for those who must be fed has come. In the presence of one child whose lip quivers because it is hungry, and one parent in helpless terror for the hunger of his children, each legislator would become the human friend in need. Statesmanship, members of the Legislature, and the friend in need, are today one and the same. A few hours work, perhaps less, will give assurance and make available the main provisions of the relief program by specific acts. The details can then also be the more quickly and effectively agreed upon.

Prophet In His Own Country?

We could hardly help being familiar with an attitude that shows itself frequently in this State, by an unthinking demand that every post to be filled in any field, be given to a Delawarean. "Be given" is the emphasized point. A Delawarean should "get" what the post has to offer. The person who makes the proposal defends himself, when attacked upon the sense of it, by the flattering conclusion "well we've got just as fine people as there are anywhere and you can't tell me there isn't some Delawarean qualified for the job—for every job." That may be, but the number of Delawareans truly qualified for specific jobs, and who would leave what they were doing to take them, has too frequently turned out to be just no one at all, for anybody who knows public work in this State, to be justified in subscribing willy-nilly to the Delawarean-for-every-job policy. It has often amused us to picture the confusion that would arise if other states sent all our native sons and daughters who are ably filling positions all over the country—packing home because, forsooth, these states would have none but Kentuckians or Ohioians or New Yorkers et al., filling their respective jobs. We have given of our best to other states, because we could not hold them here. We should take as freely the best wherever we can get it, when our need is great for training and experience in the service of our own best interest.

For some jobs, able but green hands can be employed. They get their experience as they work and perhaps nobody suffers much from their greenness. But this does not apply, for example, to the trained worker who is essential for the handling of relief,—to insure its doing what relief is meant to do and to make it go as far as it can be made to go. Even with trained supervision, the lay worker without experience causes untold misery by mistakes and unintended cruelty, and wastes often many times the cost of a trained worker. We know personally what some of the destitute and the workers as well, went through, when the relief work was new in Delaware. The trained supervision was excellent, but there was not enough of it. It was cruel to green workers as well as to the unemployed to put so many families in charge of one green worker and so many green workers in charge of two or three trained and experienced supervisors. The tremendous waste and suffering, all to go over again if the experienced supervision is removed, is one of the truly serious concerns of anyone who knows this work. The depression has pressed into service throughout the country all the trained relief workers. A state that has good ones no matter where they come from, is fortunate. A state that upsets a trained working organization in direct relief, because native Delawareans, who have not even been looked up as to birth place, are believed to be outsiders, or because a Delawarean of long standing originally from another state is employed, is trifling with its own present and future welfare and truckling in misery for the unfortunate whom the state is bound to serve.

Reading Circles

We have not seen anything more heartening for a long time than a list of books (borrowed from the NNew Castle County Library), read from choice by New Castle County public school teachers and reported upon and discussed at their group meetings. It was only a partial list, but it was sufficient to prove that some of the best that is being written today is being read from choice among groups of the persons in each community who have most influence upon the taste and ideas of children.

We All Need A Library

Never have we realized so feelingly as now the truth of the copy-book text of our youth: "A little learning is a dangerous thing," nor of the equally frequent admonition: "Get wisdom—with all thy getting, get understanding." We had the "little learning" through all the blissful years when we accepted material prosperity as the natural reward of hard work or high flights in finance, but we had neither the wisdom nor the understanding to know what to do when this deepest of depressions struck us without warning. For most of us had not read the books, nor done the thinking that the few warning voices in important books had urged us to do. Fortunately a great many persons in most communities are through for good and all with the "little learning," that characterizes specialists who know only their own subject as well as it does the average person.

We now know that the person who has no grasp of what is going on in the world, who cannot even let his mind range over two sides of any question in an effort to reach the unbiased truth or solution of it, is a drag upon community and nation in our effort to bring about better conditions now and permanently. Not only from books on present problems as such, do we gain the knowledge and confidence to test our own thinking and to weigh and judge the thinking of others. But also from general literature—from the best fiction, from poetry, drama, art, science, we learn to be at home in the world we live in, to know what to expect of ourselves and of others, to rid ourselves of prejudices and notions, and to be as healthy and happy and as useful as we are able to be.

It is all of this, for himself and for others, that the citizens of Newark will vote for on May 5, when he says, "yes," to the addition of a small fraction of a cent to his tax rate, in order to insure the beginnings of a Town Library. Hardly anyone can add enough books to his private library from week to week to give him the wide choice and range he needs. And most families can now afford little or none of music, plays, lectures or other recreations that together with books make us the all-round persons we need to be. So books from the public library are all the more needed and used. If the library has an adequate range of subjects and the best on each, we can there discover the book that we must own, if and when we have the money; and meanwhile we discover and use the best books on all the subjects that relate to our interests and our part in life.

Newark Garden Club To Hear Plant Talk

Professor L. R. Detjen Will Give Demonstration

Members of the Newark Garden Club will meet in Room 218, of Wolf Hall, on Monday evening, April 23, at 8 o'clock, to hear a lecture by Professor L. R. Detjen on "Growing Plants from Hardwood Cuttings." Professor Detjen, in addition to the lecture will give a demonstration in the laboratory of Wolf Hall, covering the actual process of setting the cuttings, and the proper construction of cold frames or other protection while the cuttings are taking root. Distinction will be made between shrubs easy to propagate and those which are difficult, and many other details given. Since much beautiful and effective planting can be produced from hardwood cuttings the April 23 program of the Garden Club has a practical and economic connection with the work of the garden lover and of those interested in conservation of native trees and shrubs.

Centenary Committee Expects Thousands of Visitors

Buildings and Campus Now Spick and Span After Weeks of Work. Preparations Made For Parking.

The thousands of visitors who are expected to visit the University of Delaware on May 10, 11 and 12 for the centenary celebration will not only see some fine programs including pageants on those days, but will also see the University at its best. For weeks preparations have been going on for this celebration which is to be the greatest in the one hundred years of the institution. The buildings and campus will be spick and span and not only the university but the town of Newark will be decorated for the occasion.

As the time draws nearer for the great event the general committee in charge is greatly encouraged and agreeably surprised at the keen interest that is being taken not only by hundreds of alumni but also thousands of friends of the university. An elaborate plan is being developed to take care of the great number of visitors especially as to parking space.

A Day In Old New Castle May 19

The fascination of old New Castle still holds for Delawareans and visitors alike. The announcement of this year's open house day for Saturday, May 19, is sure to be welcomed for a week-end pleasure in what the weatherman promises is to be a fair and lovely month. Those who plan to see "Old Dover" on May 5, to enjoy the University of Delaware Centenary at Newark the following week-end, May 11 to 13, and then the day in New Castle, May 19, will have a delightful course in the State's history, obtained with enjoyment of an unusual kind. As part of New Castle's day, "Buena Vista," on the du Pont Road, the house built by John M. Clayton, Secretary of State of the United States in President Taylor's administration, and now the home of his descendant, Governor C. Douglass Buck, will be open to visitors. Collections of paintings, old and modern, add to the interest of Buena Vista. Mrs. Buck is descended through her mother from Nicholas Van Dyke of New Castle, one of the early governors of Delaware, so Buena Vista now has double ties to Delaware's interesting history from the earliest days.

EIGHT STATES FORM GAME ASSOCIATION

Middle Atlantic Fish and Game Commissioners Elect C. S. Foster, Dover, Secretary.

Meeting in the Hotel du Pont, Wilmington, on Monday, fish and game commissioners of the Middle Atlantic States formed a permanent organization with C. S. Foster, of Dover, chief game warden for Delaware, as secretary. Major H. J. Burlington, of Trenton, N. J., executive secretary of the New Jersey Fish and Game Commission, was elected president. Sveson Earle, of the Maryland Department of Conservation, was elected vice-president.

During the session, North Carolina was voted a member of the group of states forming the new association. The states represented at the meeting were Connecticut, New York, New Jersey, Pennsylvania, Delaware, Maryland, North Carolina, and the District of Columbia. Former Governor Robert P. Robinson, president of the Delaware Board of Game and Fish Commissioners presided.

Protection for migrating fish and wild birds in a cooperative program between the states was the chief topic discussed. The new president will prepare such a program based upon the recommendations of all states in the association.

NEWARK HOME AND SCHOOL LEAGUE ACTIVE

Organization Presents Varied Program of Work and Entertainment At Last Meeting. Will Elect Officers At Next Meeting.

The Home and School League met in the Newark High School auditorium on Friday evening, April 13. Mrs. Guy Hancock, vice-president presided in the absence of the President, Mrs. T. A. Baker.

The delegates to the Parent-Teacher Association's State Convention to be held at Dover on April 28, were selected as follows: Mrs. T. A. Baker, Mrs. H. K. Preston, Mrs. Paul Lovett, Mrs. Robert Bausman, Miss Clara Davis, Miss Mary Harmon, Mr. Ira Brinser and Mrs. Harry Gabriel.

Mrs. Mildred Preston, chairman of the Health Committee, reported that about 17 children's eyes needed attention. Through the co-operation of the School Nurse, Mrs. Plummer, the local doctors and a specialist, all the children have had the opportunity of an eye examination, and those needing glasses have been cared for.

Mrs. Hancock named the following to act as the nominating committee to present names for the election of officers for the coming year. The election will be held at the next meeting. The Nominating Committee consists of Mrs. Lee Lewis, Mr. G. Schuster, Mrs. Joseph McVey, Mrs. Arthur Tomhave and Mr. A. B. Eastman.

The Program Committee, under the chairmanship of the Rev. Andrew Mayer, consisting of Mrs. G. L. Schuster, Mrs. Lester Tarr, Mrs. Carl Rankin presented a series of moving pictures due to the courtesy of the Bell Telephone Company, entitled, "The Gateway of the World," and "Getting Together."

Dr. M. F. Thurston entertained with a selection of songs, accompanied by Mrs. Thurston.

Dr. A. J. Strickland gave a talk on the subject of "The Common Cold." Dr. Strickland used a skull to illustrate the necessity for preventing colds.

Following this part of the program, a social hour was held, punch and cookies being served by the Social Committee, with Mrs. Robert Jones, chairman.

DR. SPEER SPEAKS IN NEWARK

The Business Women's Club of Newark will hear Dr. William H. Speer on the subject of Medical Engineering at their next meeting, Tuesday evening, April 24. The Club has invited the Lions Club to hear Dr. Speer, and the Lions have accepted. The talk will follow the regular supper meeting of the Business Women.

Dr. Thurston On The New Deal

Speaking on the topic "The ABC of It" over station WDEL Tuesday at 2:30 p. m., Dr. M. F. Thurston, of the University of Delaware, pointed out the dual character of the New Deal program, and some of the difficulties which arise from that fact. While the program was made possible by securing emergency authority, it was probably not expected or intended, he said, either by the public or the administration itself, to be confined to merely temporary measures; but its long run aspects and its temporary expedients tend to oppose one another. As a result, there may be some danger that those parts of the program which would be the best insurance against future difficulty will be abandoned, if recovery appears to be definitely on the way.

Next week, Tuesday, at the same hour, Dr. Thurston will again be on the air.

Cow Testing Association Invites Farmers To Banquet

IN MEMORIAM

In loving memory of our beloved son and grandson, Herman A. Messick, departed this life April 19, 1928, six years ago today.

You, my son Have shown me God. Your kiss upon my cheek Has made me feel the gentle touch Of Him who leads us on. The memory of your smile when young Reveals His face.

As mellowing years come on apace, And when you went before You left the gates of Heaven ajar, That I might glimpse, Approaching from afar, The glories of His grace.

Hold, son, my hand, Guide me along the path That coming I may stumble not Nor roam, Nor fail to show the way Which leads us—Home.

NEWARK WINS BASEBALL
OPENER WITH F. I. S., 6-4

Friday's visit to Ferris Industrial School ended in a blaze of victory for the Newark team. Cage made Newark's first score on an error, while Daqui, of F. I. S., scored on a sacrifice in the same opening inning.

Newark got the jump on Ferris in the second inning when Perry scored on Cage's single, and F. I. S. failed to score that inning. However, Ferris again tied the score in their half of the fourth inning. Newark pushed over a run and Ferris followed with two more making the score 3-3.

In the sixth inning Newark added two more runs to her score. With two outs on Ferris, Slaughter connected with the ball and made the only home run of the game. The scoring stopped in the last inning after George batted Herdman home from second.

SPRING HAS COME!

Spring cleaning has begun in Newark High School. It started with the painting of the corridors and the walls of some class rooms in which pupils got artistic with ink. However, it has been found that ink spots do not make the most attractive designs on walls.

Now the floor of the gymnasium has been scraped and cleaned to erase the marks of wear made by this winter's indoor activities. The floor will then be covered with wax to protect it.

Further steps toward preservation have been taken by not allowing pupils to use the floor unless they are wearing soft-soled shoes.

"THE LADY OF THE LAKE"

Another benefit movie was given Tuesday afternoon to raise money for the General Association. It was a portrayal of the story, "The Lady of the Lake." Unfortunately not as many people contributed as last time, but the picture was delightful.

These movies have created a great deal of discussion among the pupils. The general opinion seems to be that more modern pictures would draw a greater crowd. We don't know how this can be managed but every one has agreed to co-operate if some move is made to modernize the pictures.
Roberta Spencer.

SHIPS

I stood upon the hill one day,
And looked out to the bay,
Where all the ships from all the ports,
Of all the world did lay.

I looked and looked and wondered when,
All these ships would come again,
And bring the sailor boys,
Who brought to us from all the world—
A great variety of toys.

I looked again at the white capped bay,
Where rich treasures lay,
The secrets of the sailor men,
Of the ships who return again and again.

Where do you go and from whence do you come?
Oh great ships who follow the sun,
Come again, come again to end your roaming.

But be sure to come when the rest of the ships are homing.
Jane Hastings, 8-C.

STRANGE FACTS ABOUT
AVIATION AND AVIATORS

Wiley Post and James Wedell, two of the greatest flyers of this country, have only one eye apiece.

The speed record for airplanes is about 425 miles per hour, and was established by an Italian last year.

One of our air transport companies maintains a daily 20-hour schedule from coast to coast.

The first public demonstration of balloon flight was given by Joseph and Steven Montgolfier, on June 5, 1783.

Benjamin Franklin predicted that aircraft would "convince sovereigns of the folly of war."

Matthew Sellers flew with 5 horsepower.

ELEMENTARY ASSEMBLY

On Monday, April 16th, Grade 3-C under the guidance of Miss McLees had charge of the assembly. The members and faculty of the Junior High School were guests. Albert Sweetman, as chairman, announced the following program:

Here the third grade turned the program over to Mrs. A. D. Warner, a representative of the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals, who addressed the group on the subject of "Kindness To Animals" in the interest of this week, which is known as Kindness to Animals Week. She told some very interesting stories, showed some posters made by pupils of Milford, Delaware, and after teaching the assembly the pledge of the S. P. C. ## An Accident

One day about two years ago I was climbing a tree. I was about forty feet above the ground when I stepped on a dead limb, and down I went. I was unconscious for about five minutes. When I woke up I tried to get up, I could not do it. I cried for mother. She said I had broken my leg. She looked at it. It did not feel well. She took me to the hospital.

Many Children Undernourished

Reports from such sources as Consumer's Guide, Children's Bureau and other groups, bring forcibly to our attention the fact that our children are being seriously affected by present economic conditions, says Miss Pearl MacDonald, Extension Service, University of Delaware.

Some six million children are in families which are being cared for by Emergency relief and it is said that about one fifth of the pre-school children—that is, children between ages one and six—are seriously undernourished.

What can be done to help this situation? Certainly, for the rural family the "live-at-home" garden will provide adequate food and for the town family that has a plot of ground, the garden part of the "live-at-home" program will partly solve the problem.

Just what does this "live-at-home" program, which has been so much talked of, mean? It means that each farm family should produce on the farm food enough to provide an adequate diet throughout the year.

And what should such a diet include? You ask? The following according to our leading nutrition authorities:

Milk—a quart a day for every child and a pint for every adult as milk to drink or used in cooking.

Cheese and butter—dairy products—used generously.

Eggs—an egg a day for every child or at least every other day and for adults as well.

Fruits—twice a day—either fresh, canned or dried. Some fresh fruit or vegetable every day. (Tomatoes or oranges everyday for children).

Vegetables—two a day besides potatoes—using a variety—leafy vegetables every other day.

Grain products—some whole grain product, either in bread or breakfast foods—every day.

Meat or fish—about once a day.

Dried peas or beans—once or twice a week.

How can the farm family provide these, you ask?

I—By keeping one or two cows which would provide an ample supply of dairy products—milk, cheese (both cottage and cheddar), butter, milk and dairy products rank foremost among our foods for the quality of food materials supplied, milk is our one indispensable food.

II—By keeping a farm flock to supply eggs and a part of the meat.

III—By raising one or two pigs for the home meat supply.

IV—By growing a variety of small and other fruits—used fresh in season and canned for winter use.

V—By having a home garden—spring, summer and fall. This is one of the most important parts of the "live-at-home" program and one that the town family can carry out, even with a small plot of ground.

Many families have a garden but they do not plan to have as great a variety of vegetables as is desirable from a nutrition-health standpoint. In two particulars, especially, do they fail in the home garden. One is in not having a spring, summer and fall garden with a succession of plantings.

The second is in not planning for and growing sufficient leafy greens which have a special value because they are rich in vitamins and minerals. Leafy greens include such vegetables as lettuce, cabbage, chard, kale, romaine, spinach, turnip tops, beet tops, dandelions.

lions and others. As asparagus and green stringbeans are similar in value to the leafy vegetables.

Until the spring gardens come on, suggests Miss MacDonald, there are wild greens that may be used; dandelions, upland or winter cress, poke are among the early ones to be had now.

Dandelions—Wilted—Gather young, tender dandelions, clean, wash thoroughly and cut slightly. Melt 2 tablespoons butter in sauce pan, add 1-2 teaspoonful sugar and a dash salt and

2 to 4 tablespoons vinegar (not too acid). Heat until mixture steams, add the greens, turn lightly until wilted slightly, then serve.

For variation, 2 tablespoonfuls of bacon fat may be used in place of butter and bits of crisp bacon added.

Dandelion Salad: is also very good when the dandelions are very young and tender. Clean and wash very thoroughly and serve with French Dressing. Use 3 tablespoonful salad oil, 1 tablespoonful vinegar seasoned to taste with salt and paprika. Beat well and dip over the salad.

To Cook Greens (Dandelion, winter cress, turnip tops, etc.)—Wash thoroughly. Cook in plenty of water, until they can be cut easily with a sharp knife. A two-inch cube of salt pork adds to the flavor—When tender, drain and season with butter, pepper and salt. Add a little vinegar if desired.

Poke Weed, when it first comes up, is tender like asparagus or spinach and requires little cooking. Poke greens are very delicious. Cook until

A Storm
We had a snow storm Saturday. It blew down a tree. It blew down a hen house and killed all the hens. It blew down an old, old house. It blew down a bird's nest. It was a very bad storm.

AN Exciting Time

I had made a little play house in the front room. I played with my dolls. One little doll had the stomachache. I had to send for the doctor for some medicine. He gave me some, and that night she was better. She is gay now.

KINDERGARTEN NEWS

The kindergarten is an inviting and attractive place. Sunshine glints through the clean parted curtains, a bowl of fresh flowers brightens the teacher's desk, plants lend grace and beauty, an earthen vase of simple line and deep rich hue adorn the open piano, pictures low on the walls suggest good times, story books on the reading table lure the attention. An air of readiness and expectancy prevails. The kindergarten invites, welcomes, holds joy and safety, it seeks to know you, help you, inspire you, challenge you, induce you to plan, to think, to accomplish. It is a pretty room in which to enjoy, participate, and share. It is a workroom in which to plan, to strive, to preserve, to dream, to create.

The kindergarten adopts modern principles of education, democratic ideals. It retains the conception of education through activity in a social environment.

It may be noted, the roots of familiar subject may be found in kindergarten through activities have been carried on. Some social study made were Animal, Pet Life, The Postoffice, Study of Indians, Unit of Work on Transportation, and a study of nature.

In the kindergarten today we find a well planted area of a farm. This unit provides opportunity for teaching reading to beginning children. There is practice in oral English because children are discussing questions which they are especially interested in. Throughout the unit there is opportunity for health study, and science activities.

The children are being prepared to meet the necessary requirements of the first grade. Through guided, instructed play all mental, social, physical development are insured.

Kindergarten is the beginning of one's schooling and is very important project for the child.

Juvenile Court Judge Speaks At Men's Club

Probation Officer J. P. Green Also Speaker at Blue Rock Men's Club, of Gordon Heights.

The Blue Rock Men's Club, of Gordon Heights, devoted a recent meeting to consideration of the delinquent child problem, by having as speakers, Juvenile Court Judge, Charles M. Curtis and Juvenile Probation Officer, Attorney J. Paul Green. Judge Curtis emphasized the responsibility of the parent for so training the child to make him a responsible young citizen whose pranks are not of a law breaking tendency. Parents of children brought into the court are often on trial as much as the children in Judge Curtis' experience. That many of the children who come before the court are of low mentality is a distressing fact, said Judge Curtis. That in these cases the problem is one for the community as much as for the parents was indicated by Judge Curtis' statements.

J. Paul Green, attorney and probation officer of Juvenile Court, said that suburban communities had fewer cases of juvenile lawbreaking than cities. He urged that club members assume the responsibility of helping boys in the community to keep out of trouble.

Delaware Section American Chemical Society Meets

M. Field, head of the department of geology at Princeton University. His subject was "Disagreeable Professors." In developing this theme he painted the able professor as one who disputes upon important issues, as he must, and who is not a disagreeable person in the ordinary sense. Tracing the history of universities as such from the earliest days, Dr. Field showed how the medieval concept of the university is still retained by us in so far as the university is regarded as an association of scholars and the doctor's degree signifies an admission into this fraternity of learned men. Implied here the leveling down through democratic as opposed to distinguished achievement standard, of the meaning and significance of the degree. Dr. Field advocated the protection of the doctor's degree in its high and special meaning. Some countries, he said, have already acted toward this end. England requires all candidates for a doctorate to be examined by a national commission of men best qualified to judge the fitness of the candidates' work and ability on high and disinterested grounds. In this country a different but equally disinterested group could give the same protection.

The speaker for the regular meeting, Dr. Raymond E. Kirk, Dean of the School of Chemistry, Brooklyn Polytechnical Institute, spoke upon the subject, "Unorthodox Inorganic Chemistry." In a highly technical talk, Dr. Kirk gave briefly an attempt to rationalize the existence and properties of complex inorganic compounds on the basis of different types of linkages between atoms and atomic groupings. This is an extension of the application of the theory of coordinate compounds first proposed about 40 years ago.

Dr. George G. Lahr is chairman of the Delaware Section of the American Chemical Society. At last night's meeting nominations were made of officers for the coming year: chairman, Dr. Marshall Sanders; vice-chairman, Dr. Hitch; secretary, Dr. Julian W. Hill; treasurer, Dr. James Peterson.

Among the local members of the Society who had charge of making arrangements for the meeting are: Dr. G. S. Skinner, Mr. George L. Baker, Dr. E. C. Markham, Prof. W. C. Witham, Mr. C. C. Lynch, Dr. A. A. Horvath, Mr. Gerald Gilligan and Mr. Goodman. Members of the Society from the Women's College are Dr. Quaceta C. Drake, Dr. Elizabeth Dyer, and Miss Jean Peck; at the Continental-Diamond Company, Mr. L. W. Tarr, Mr. A. Haroldson, Dr. W. H. Adams, Jr., and Mr. D. W. Hollingsworth. Mr. F. L. Stigle of National Fiber Company.

Local guests of the Society were President Hulthen, Dean Spencer, Dean Dutton, Dean McCue, and Dean Robinson.

Conservation At Glasgow School

The pupils of Glasgow School have expressed their interest in conservation of wild flowers, birds, soil, fish, as follows:

Our Streams and Their Value To Us
Our streams are very valuable to us. They give us occupation and recreation.

The fishermen of Delaware obtain many kind of fish as sunfish, catfish, shad, crabs, oysters and herring. Some of these fish are sold, canned, and others as the herring and king crab are made into fertilizer.

As for recreation, who does not enjoy going fishing and crabbing. We must conserve the fish by throwing back into the water the small ones and by observing the game laws.

Harold Laws, Grade 5.

How I May Help In Keeping
Delaware Woods Beautiful

I can help to keep the woods beautiful by not destroying the trees or having a fire. The woods might catch fire and burn down the trees and fire will damage any woods.

I can help take care of the wild flowers by not taking all of the flowers and leaving some of them for beauty along the roadside and in the forests.

The flowers that I may pick, a few are columbine, dog-tooth violet, May apple, wild ginger, jack-in-pulpit, spring beauty.

The ones that I will not pick are dogwood, arbutus, ground pine, holly, gentian, swamp honeysuckle.

We can do many things to help keep the woods of Delaware beautiful.

Louise Laws, Grade 5.

How To Prepare Soil for a Garden

There are several ways to prepare a garden. Here are some ways which you may prepare a garden.

You can put manure, fertilizer, or line on your garden, then plow the garden and then work it about five or six times, then you are ready to plant your seed.

Another way to prepare a garden is to gather up the leaves in the fall and pile them up and let them rot, when they have rotted put them on the field and plow them under, preparing it in the usual way.

FOREST SERVICE ESTABLISHES NEW REGIONAL OFFICE

Secretary Wallace Approves Division of Eastern National Forest Region; Offices In Atlanta and Washington.

Division of the Eastern National Forest Region of the Forest Service into two separate units was approved by Secretary of Agriculture Wallace today. The change, affecting more than a score of national forests in the territory stretching from Maine to Texas, was recommended for convenience of administration by Chief Forester F. A. Silcox and will take effect July 1.

"The realignment of national forest regions in the East is necessary in order to deal more effectively with one of the most extensive forest areas in the United States," Chief Forester Silcox stated. "It is a territory which involves not only problems of acquisition of additional forest lands, but probably the most complex problem of lumber code enforcement in the country. It should bring the Forest Service more directly in contact with local agencies, the States, and counties, where, through emergency relief plans, efforts are being made to work out ways and means to get numbers of people now on the land on a self-supporting basis again and to utilize timber resources fully. The national forests, I feel, must play a vital part in this social-economic approach to our relief problem."

Regional Forester Joseph C. Kirchner, who has been in charge of the Eastern region (Region 7) for several years, will take charge of the new Southern National Forest Region and will open a regional office at Atlanta. The Southern Region will be designated as Region 8 and will include the States south of the southern line of Virginia and Kentucky and as far west as Texas, where four new national forest purchase units were established recently by the National Forest Reservation Commission.

The Northern portion of the old region will retain the designation Region 7, and will continue to be known as the Eastern Region. Robbie M. Evans, present assistant regional forester and chief of forest management in Region 7, will become Regional Forester, in charge, and will retain regional headquarters offices in Washington.

The order approved by the Secretary will also bring the field inspectors who handle the administration of the Clarke-McNary forest law in the East and South under the direction of the Regional Foresters. They formerly reported to the central offices of the Forest Service in Washington. This plan of organization for co-operation with the States in fire protection and reforestation under the Clarke-McNary law has been followed from the first in the Western regions, and the change will make the arrangement uniform throughout the Service.

The Alaskan National Forest Region, now designated as Region 9, will have its designation changed to Region 10. The territory in the new Region 8 will comprise the States of North Carolina, Tennessee, South

My Garden
I am going to have a garden.
I am going to put fertilizer on my garden.

I will plow my garden.
I will plant the seed.

Care of the Birds
I can feed the birds in winter.
I can keep my cat away from the birds.

I will not kill them.
I will not harm the nests.

What We Owe the Soil
We owe a lot to the soil because if it were not for the soil and also the climate the farmers could not have fields of corn and wheat. We could not have a garden either. If we did not have gardens we would not have much to eat. We could not buy much from the stores and markets either because other people would not have good soil either. We must also have plenty of rainfall to make the seeds grow. We need rain after they come up out of the ground, too.

We owe very much to the soil and the rain.

LOCAL NEWS OF ATHLETES

Larry Brown

Newark, sports capital of rural Delaware, is preparing her spring and summer sport schedules. Great activity is listed at the Newark County Club and for the local baseball teams. Track will be confined to the two institutions of learning.

Local Baseball

It is expected that another baseball league will be formed since last year's group was such a success. This league is one which caters to the unsung warriors who are not stars in the local diamond world but men and boys playing for the exercise and enjoyment acquired.

The town team, under "Shorty" Chalmers, will again be represented in the Del-Mar League. Providence, who withdrew from the race during last season, will be replaced by Hillcrest, who have had a fast club in independent circles for several years. The remainder of the teams are the same as last year. The season opens on Saturday, April 29, and will play games Saturdays, Sundays, and holidays throughout the summer.

Delaware, after their unsuccessful invasion of Dixie, returns to do battle on home soil. The way "Bony" Jackson handled Haverford last Saturday seems to point to a good ending after an unfortunate beginning.

Ex-Highlights Abroad

"Vic" Willis started his career as a collegiate pitcher by shutting out Cornell University 5-0 after "Steve" Physic, star twirler for the town team last summer, had lost the first game to the Big Red team 3-2. "Dick" Roberts is catching for Beacom this year and will be one of their chief threats in the Newark-Beacom game this Friday. "Jim" Marsey is also a member of the business school lads while "Bill" Holloway, "Mickey" McVey and "Rog" Dobson are candidates for the Red and Blue team. Paul Whiteman is back in Goldey uniform and pitched a five-hit game to down Harrington High.

DELAWARE TRACKMEN BEAT JOHNS HOPKINS; BASEBALLERS TROUNCE HAVERFORD

JOHNS HOPKINS VICTIMS OF BLUE HEN TRACKMEN, 67-59

Boney Jackson's arm and bat helped Delaware open its home baseball season with an 8-3 win over Haverford, Saturday.

Pitching on a cold, damp day, Jackson allowed only six hits and fanned eight. In addition he drove in four runs and scored one himself.

It looks now as if Jackson will be the mainstay of the pitching staff all season.

Hopkins at Short

Hopkins, a junior, broke into the varsity lineup for the first time this year and collected two hits after he replaced Crompton midway in the game. "Hen" Brady, right fielder, also collected two hits for Delaware.

Errors Mar Game

Three errors by Delaware and two by Haverford marred the game, but

Golf Season Opens Saturday

A Kickers' Tournament Saturday, April 21, will officially open the Newark Country Club season. This event, wherein a player is permitted to once replay any shot except putts, is one which hasn't appeared on any recent schedules of the club. The program closes October 20 with the Sweepstakes.

The women's schedule has also been posted and opens with a Handicap Tournament. The last event is listed for October 10 but has not been decided on yet.

Golfers Out Early

A large number of the club members as well as the aspirants for the University golf team have been out with the first signs of warm weather and the tournaments are expected to draw a large number of contestants.

The men's schedule is made up by a match committee consisting of F. C. Houghton, chairman; Paul F. Pié, H. C. Souder, E. B. Wright, Dr. W. O. Sypher and H. A. Turner. The associate match committee consists of Mrs. J. F. Anderson, chairman; Mrs. A. F. Fader, Mrs. B. H. Mackey, Mrs. W. C. Northrup, and Mrs. J. B. Taylor.

Highlights Nose Out Cadets

Newark High started the season in an auspicious fashion by defeating Ferris Industrial School in a close battle at Marshallton, 6-4.

The score will be found in the School News.

The remainder of the schedule is as follows: April 20, Beacom at Wilmington; April 24, duPont at Wilmington; April 27, Goldey at Newark; May 1, Wilmington at Newark; May 4, New Castle at New Castle; May 8, Beacom at Newark; May 11, Wilmington at Wilmington; May 15, Goldey at Wilmington; May 16, New Castle, at Newark; May 25, du Pont at Newark.

GOLFERS OPEN SEASON TROUNCING TEMPLE 6-0

The golf team opened their season yesterday by blanking Temple 6-0 on Temple's home course. Benton, S. Wilson, Pié, and Moore won their singles, and Benton and Wilson, Pié and Moore teamed up to win their foursumes.

there was a cold wind blowing and rain fell during several innings. The team is still handicapped due to lack of sufficient practice, caused by the unusually bad weather.

Trailing by one point, 58-59, when the final event was called, Delaware's trackmen took all three places in the Javelin to defeat Johns Hopkins in their first meet of the year.

Carey Sets Record

John Carey, one of Bowdle's three student coaches, bettered his own school record for the shot when he made the 16 lb. shot fly 40 feet, 11 1/2 inches, 1 1/2 inches better than the record he made last year in the St. Joe meet. He also won the javelin throw and the discus.

Lambert, another of the assistant coaches, won the 100 yd. dash, the 220', and the broad jump.

Perkins, a freshman won the '440.'

Newark New Century Club News

Mr. C. B. Root, Superintendent of The Boys' Club, Wilmington, gave a most interesting address on the subject "Making the Spare Time an Asset or a Liability," before the Newark New Century Club at the regular club meeting on Monday afternoon. He especially dwelt upon the constructive planning of the under-privileged boy's time and explained how boys' clubs help the boy left on his own resources.

Mrs. H. K. Preston, chairman of American Homes Committee introduced the speaker. Three committees gave excellent reports of outstanding work of the year and accordingly turned over their report books. Mrs. C. R. Kase, chairman of Dramatics; Mrs. J. F. Daugherty, acting for Mrs. C. Emerson Johnson, chairman of Art, and Mrs. G. H. Sinclair, chairman of Library, reported. Mrs. Sinclair expressed appreciation for the help given her and her committee this year by Miss Morton, New Castle County Library Association, and Mr. W. D. Lewis, University of Delaware Librarian, and also for the aid given by the Club's Publicity Committee.

The term of office of Mrs. A. L. Neale and Mrs. R. W. Heim of the Corporation Board expired this year.

Mrs. Neale was re-elected to her office. Mrs. Heim declined re-election and Mrs. F. A. Cooch was elected to replace her.

The outstanding feature of the meeting was the posting of the slate of officers for the next ensuing two years by Mrs. W. J. Ellis, chairman of the nominating committee. The slate was as follows:

President, Mrs. L. A. Stearns.
First Vice-President, Mrs. M. W. Hanson.

Second Vice-President, Mrs. W. J. Barnard.

Recording Secretary, Mrs. Chesley Stewart.

Corresponding Secretary, Mrs. Francis Squire.

Treasurer, Mrs. Harvey Steele and Mrs. Irvin Dayett.

The regular food sale was held at the close of the meeting with Mrs. G. W. Rhodes, chairman of Ways and Means, in charge. Mrs. Rhodes again urged the club to continue their aid in raising the needed $100 by giving the promised benefit to card and bridge parties at their homes.

The club hostesses for the afternoon were Mrs. Harvey Steele, Mrs. A. C. Huston, Mrs. W. D. Holton, and Mrs. Paul Lovett.

Weak In Distances

Delaware lost all three places in the '880', the mile, and the two mile. Unless men are developed for these events, Delaware will be facing a terrific handicap in their remaining meets.

"Stretch" Pohl was elected captain of track. Pohl won the pole vault, and the high jump resulted in a four way tie among Anderson, Crowe, Pohl, and Cotty, all Delaware men.

Pen Relays April 27-28

The next meet for the team will be on April 27-28, when Coach Bowdle will take some of his team to the Penn Relays. It has not yet been decided definitely just who will be entered there from Delaware.

Team Meets Rutgers, Fordham
The golf team, led by Captain Charlie Pié, left today for Rutgers, whom they will meet Friday. Saturday they will encounter Fordham. Benton, S. Wilson, and Leahy will be the other members of the team.

Professor F. C. Houghton is coaching the team.

TENNIS TEAM MEETS MARYLAND SATURDAY

Captain Joe Walsh will lead his recruits against the University of Maryland Saturday on the home courts in Delaware's first match of the season. Walsh is the only letterman back this year. Ralph W. Jones, popular mathematics instructor, is coach of tennis.

BIBLE CLASS

The Women's Bible Class of the M. E. Church held their regular monthly meeting Monday evening with a very good attendance. Mrs. Orville Ottey was in charge of the program. This was followed by a social hour.

The class will hold a covered dish supper at next month's meeting. All members are requested to be present.

George F. Jackson Makes Record In Advertising

The four page advertising section appearing in last week's Post was the largest advertisement ever used by a local business man. Comment on this aid to local business has been very favorable. Newark is prepared to take care of a large volume of business from the town and surrounding districts, and every good advertising appeal adds interest.

CHICKEN SUPPER

The members of the Progressive Club will hold a chicken supper in their club house, West Main street, Elkton, on Thursday evening, April 26. Supper will be served from 5 p. m. The public is cordially invited to come out and enjoy a good supper.
