PRICE FIVE CENTS

AETNA CO. TO STAGE CARNIVAL IN SUMMER

Officials List
Plans For Big 8-Day Fete To Start June 27

Plans for an elaborate firemen's carnival here this summer, to be climaxed by a full-dress parade, were announced yesterday by the Aetna Hose, Hook and Ladder Company. The fete will be held in the vacant area next to the fire hall from June 27 to July 5, with the parade scheduled for July 1.

Ground prizes will be offered every night, and the featured award, a new, popular model automobile, will be awarded at the final evening. All concessions, it was said, will be operated by the firemen.

Details for the big event are being worked out by a committee including: C. Shellenbarger, chairman; Edwin Shakespeare, secretary-treasurer; William T. Warwick, advertising; Fred Zingernack, lighting; George N. Neighbors and John Tweed, decorations; Elmer Ellison, police. The parade committee consists of Irvin Chalmers, William Fraser and Clifford Moore.

Four calls in town with a loss of $300 were listed in the January report of the Recorder Charles E. Moore, submitted at the monthly meeting of the company last Friday evening in the fire hall, with President Dan Stoll presiding.

There were four district calls out of town with a loss of $5,200 and one call out of the district with a loss of $3,000. Fire Chief Elmer J. Ellison reported an ambulance runs for the month with a distance travelled of 1030 miles. Three new members were admitted to the company.

E-52 GROUP REHEARSES NEW DRAMA

To Present
"Storm" On March 6-7

The University's E-52 Players are currently rehearsing for the next drama, "Storm," a new and unpublished play based on the life of Mary Todd Lincoln.

Written by Edith Mirick, the play has already had a few performances in university theatres. However, a revised version recently completed by the author will be presented for the first time at Mitchell Hall on March 6 and 7. The author herself will attend the performance of the premiere.

This 36th major production of the E-52 Players, now in their 15th season, has been selected not only for its historical merit but also in accordance with the policy adopted several years ago to present one new play each season.

In the past the Players have offered each new drama as Saroyan's Jim Gandy, Elmer Rice's Flight to the West and Maxwell Anderson's Eve of St. Mark.

It is believed that this is the first attempt to dramatize the life of Mary Todd Lincoln.

Dr. C. Robert Kase, head of the University's Department of Dramatics and Speech, will be the director.

VFW POST TO EXPAND

Survey Sat.
By Architect

Plans for enlarging the Veterans of Foreign Wars Post, No. 475, will take shape forward this Saturday, when architects are scheduled to inspect the present building and prepare to draw a detailed draft of expansion.

Ideas and suggestions will be welcomed from the membership, it was said, and all members are urged to be heard.

Post officials also announced that the membership renewals were received this week. At a recent meeting, plans were also considered for erecting an outdoor shuffle board.

Commander Drexel Harrington is now in the Delaware Hospital undergoing eye treatment, it was further announced, and Ernest Smith is convalescing in the Veterans' Hospital.

Dr. Walden Pell Is NHS Assembly Speaker Tues.

The Rev. Dr. Walden Pell, II, Oxford scholar and headmaster of St. Andrew's School, Middletown, Del., made a plea for racial tolerance Tuesday at a Lincoln Day Assembly at the Newark High School.

Every youth, Dr. Pell said, should set for himself some high purpose or "sacrificial goal." An ideal life aim, he said, would be the furthering of tolerance and unity among religious and racial groups in this country.

Several men who have devoted their lives to this end were described by Dr. Pell, who drew several examples from his personal acquaintances. The talk was eloquent and instructive.

The special assembly also featured some scenes from the Dramatic Class' forthcoming production of the "Little Minister" to be given next Wednesday and Thursday. Assembly chairman was Horace Pratt, and George P. Nickle was the introductory speaker.

NHS POSTURE PLAN SEEKS ASSISTANCE OF PARENTS

Demonstration
Tomorrow Of Exercise Aids
By 150 Pupils

A group of 150 Newark school pupils, who have been found with posture defects that may possibly lead to serious consequences, will give a demonstration tomorrow of corrective exercises individually prescribed for them by the orthopedic specialists of the A. I. Institute for Crippled Children, Wilmington.

The demonstration, which will be held in the school gym at 8:45 a. m., is aimed at acquainting parents with the nature of their children's defects as well as the schedule of exercises prescribed to correct them. Cooperation of the parents is vital to this success of the project, since most of the exercises must be performed at home.

The demonstration is a phase of a posture corrective program which has been underway at the local school for several months. Originally, some 350 pupils were found with posture flaws. Of these, 150 were screened as more serious cases and given a diagnostic examination at the A. I. Institute, where each was prescribed a special set of exercises. The remaining 200, with less serious defects, were given a general routine of exercises by the school staff, which the pupils have been performing at home for some months.

A check on this latter group will be made some time in March to determine the extent of improvement.

After today's demonstration, which marked the beginning of work on the more serious cases, parents were given a list of the exercises to be supervised at home. In addition, an effort is being made to fit a portion of the program into the regular school schedule, and a meeting for the elementary faculty was held this week to instruct teachers in the techniques of giving the exercises to the younger children.

However, the chief responsibility for seeing that the exercises are carried out will rest with the parents, it was said.

The program is being carried out by the school's physical education staff, including Walter Matt, Mrs. Grace Gibbs, and Mrs. Martha Coverdale.

P-T. A. MEET HEARS KUTZ

School Testing
Plan Discussed

The program for the February meeting of the Newark Parent-Teacher Association on Tuesday evening featured a report by Principal Frederick B. Kutz on the school testing program and a discussion by Miss Mary McCloskey, Speakers Bureau, Delaware State Education Association, of the proposed teachers' legislative program in Delaware.

The testing program, Mr. Kutz said, has a two-fold purpose, serving as a guide to evaluate and improve present teaching methods and also as a basis for giving individual assistance to the student. Three types of tests, covering aptitudes, achievements and personality traits, are now in use here, he said.

The seventh and eighth grades are being given vocabulary tests and the Traxler Reading Test. The high school students are taking the Iowa Silent Reading Test, the Cooperative English Test, the Otis Intelligence Test and the Rorschach Diagnostic Test.

SKOGLUND ADDRESSES ROTARIANS

Importance Of State's Poultry
Industry Told

The major part played by Delaware's poultry industry in the agriculture of the state was discussed by W. C. Skoglund, extension poultry specialist of the University of Delaware, at Tuesday's meeting of the Newark Rotary Club. Vice-President W. S. Hamilton, presided.

Pointing out that Delaware's poultry business accounted for 69 per cent of the entire farm income of the state in 1945, Mr. Skoglund said the state had over 65 million broilers in that year or one quarter of the nation's total. He traced the origin of the industry here to Mrs. W. Steel, who started with a few chickens and a single brooder stove in Lewes, Del., some years ago. The venture was so successful that others rapidly entered the field.

Delaware soon outstripped its nearest sectional competitor, New England, which in 1920 had a corner on the poultry market. Reasons for Delaware's rapid rise, Mr. Skoglund said, were a milder climate, cheaper lumber, fuel and labor, as well as a sandy soil, which provided good drainage and prevented disease spread. In addition, credit extension played a large part in the development of the industry.

Mr. Skoglund also pointed out the welcomed stimulus which Delaware's flourishing poultry trade provides for other industry in the state, especially the feed supplies, coal and lumber supplies fields. Over half a million tons of feed are annually consumed by Delaware broilers, he said, and approximately a million dollars in coal is used by growers.

The post voted its approval of the teacher's legislative program proposed by the Council for Del. Ed. Inc.

COMMUNITY CHEST PLAN CONSIDERED

Jaycees To Study
Project; Approve
CDEI Proposals

The need of a Community Chest Fund in Newark was the topic of discussion at the meeting of the Newark Junior Chamber of Commerce last Thursday at the Academy Restaurant.

Dr. John R. Downes, veteran of numerous local fund-raising campaigns, led the talks and pointed out that previous drives here proved that the residents of Newark respond generously to a good cause.

Jerry Weinberg was appointed chairman of a committee charged with conducting an exhaustive study of the feasibility of organizing a local Community Chest.

A discussion of the current legislation concerning improvements in Delaware education was terminated by unanimous endorsing the program of the Council for Delaware Education, Inc., which has been introduced into the Legislature in the form of four bills dealing with teacher's pay.

UNIVERSITY DROPS PLAN

Student Wives
Lack Interest

In response to 276 questionnaires seeking to find what sort of program would interest wives of students at the University of Delaware, only 39 replies were received, Dean Amy L. Rextrew, of the School of Home Economics, said this week.

The results indicate that a university-wide project is neither desired nor warranted at this time, officials said. Of the 39 reporting, all are wives of veterans; 25 are employed, and one is herself a student.

Fifteen are living in Newark, 14 in Wilmington, 6 in New Castle, while the others are from separate communities.

If wives in any of these areas wish to organize local groups, a list of others in the area who may be interested, can be obtained from the committee which conducted the original inquiry, including Dean Gwendolyn S. Crawford, Miss Harriet Bally, Miss Beatrice P. Hartshorn, Dean J. Fenton Daugherty, Mr. Charles W. Bush, and Mr. W. D. Murray.

DELAWARE TO HAVE SHRINE TEMPLE SOON

Committee Is Working On Project

Establishment in the near future of a Shrine Temple organization for Delaware by the A. A. O. N. M. S. is being furthered by a committee of Shriners from all over the state, with Richard Van Deventer of Wilmington as chairman.

Heading the local phase of the organizational work is J. H. Rumer, local magistrate.

Delaware, the "First State," is the only state in the Union without a Shrine Temple. To correct this situation, every Noble in Delaware is being afforded an opportunity to participate in the furtherance of the movement by advising the local committee representative of his interest and approval.

The activities of the Shrine Temple include many civic and charitable projects, such as the Shriners Cripple Children's Hospitals throughout the United States and Canada, to which they have contributed millions of dollars without reference to race, creed, or color.

Nobles Attention

All members of the Ancient Arabic Order Nobles Mystic Shrine residing in Delaware, who have not yet assented to the establishment of a Shrine Temple in Delaware, are invited to communicate with

Wareabouts

When space permits we often run a feature captioned "Wareabouts in Review," which has proved itself very popular especially with the older residents of town who apparently enjoy reminiscing of the days that used to be.

During the past decade there has undoubtedly been a large number of families moved and settled in Newark in whom the quiet happenings of "25 Years Ago" mean little or nothing in point of fact we ourselves might correctly be placed in this category.

We were rather surprised one day not so long ago by a telephone call from a lady who was very difficult to understand—over the phone.

This good lady wanted to know if we hadn't made a mistake in stating that "Beginning Thursday, Sept. 21, The Yellow Arm," a Chinese mystery serial in fifteen chapters, would be presented at the local Opera House.

The item appeared in The Post under the "Newark In Review" column, bearing a sub-head "Opera House Thriller" and we had one dickens of a time convincing our reader that the Opera House is now the Academy Apartments and that the September 21 date was a mere quarter-century ago.

Looks like we're going to have to quit voicing personal opinions or continually be deluged with objections, protests and vociferous squawking of those whose personal rights, liberty and pursuits of gainful occupation have been jeopardized (so they claim) by the glare of public scrutiny.

In response to last week's column we had no less than four protestations—two mild, one heated and one torrid.

Classified as "mild" was one from ever-reliable Barney who said: "Being forced to read your column to protect my own interests, I see where you are wondering if Willie (the groundskeeper) saw his shadow. So let me tell you what happened. Willie peeped out and saw a professor and his wife looking for a home and decided he had better stay in for fear they would move into his hole."

The second mild protest came from an admired and well liked member of a local Scout committee who appreciated our plea that funds be given direct to local troops instead of subscribed to the Delaware Council in the current Boy Scout Campaign, but who could not, officially sanction such action.

Well, sanction or no sanction—the local troops need and can well use any funds contributed their way and we still hope that any of you who have a contribution to make will see that a share of it is given directly to one or both local scout troops . . . as the Newark troops do NOT get directly ANY funds contributed to the Delaware Council.

The "heated" protest . . . probably the only one with any foundation of fact in it . . . came from Richards Dairy over our item that: "The price of milk is DOWN 1-cent in Wilmington. Newark has always been quick to receive price increases made in the Wilmington area and we wonder how why we aren't also subject to the downward revision."

We were advised by Mr. Richards that the 1-cent price reduction went into effect in Newark on February 1. We are grateful for this information and glad to pass it on to users who otherwise had no way of knowing that their milk price had been dropped until they paid their bill or made personal inquiry.

We no doubt would pursue the better part of wisdom if we chose to completely overlook such responses or protests, to our utterings but guess we're too much like the women . . . we gotta have the last word or bust (and that definitely is an ill-used word, but expressive).

Our favorite Falls, Pa. subscriber will no doubt get a kick out of our being in hot water for he writes that the Newark Post is well worth two bucks a year if only to read Wareabouts. Personally, we can't even agree with that.

Plagiarized from the "Curtis Gazette" is the one about a small boy who, with his father, was watching a session of the House of Representatives.

"Who is that man, father," asked the boy, pointing to a man standing on the dias.

"That, son, is the Chaplain," said the father.

"Does he pray for the members?" asked the lad.

The father thought a moment before replying: "No, son, he looks at the members then prays for the country."

No matter who reads proof or how careful you try to be, some one always overlooks a misplaced word. However, the last place in the world we would have that happen is in a church story . . . and that's just where it DID happen last week.

We are terribly sorry. We are mortified. We are chagrined. We apologize, humbly and sincerely. A bronze plaque honoring 43 members of the St. Thomas parish, the gift of Mrs. J. P. Wright, was erroneously referred to as "The dedication of the plaque . . ." in last week's issue.

And the one person who didn't catch this inadvertently misplaced word is the foremost and most devout churchgoer in our organization. This is made all the more reprehensible because this person always reads proof sitting on our 6-inch thick, 1,440-page Universal Dictionary.

"Lash Rahn's Lion Lines says: 'It's one thing to itch for something, but another thing to scratch for it.'"

DUKES STILL MAINTAIN LEAD IN COMMUNITY CAGE LOOP; 2 GAMES TONITE END RACE

Unbeaten Dukes Meet Pinballs, Spiders Face Red Men Tonight In Loop Finale; Play-Offs On Feb. 27; 2nd Half Tie Possible

Already the title winners in the first half of the Community Basketball League, the Dukes, who have not suffered a setback since the loop opened, continued to hold sway this week and appeared well on their way to clinching the league title, as the second half moved toward a close.

Last Thursday, they knocked off the Red Men by a 48-45 count, while the Spiders were trouncing the Pinballs, 38-33.

In tonight's twin-bill, which will wind up the regular season, the Spiders are pitted against the Red Men, and the Pinballs are granted their last opportunity to knock the all-powerful Dukes. If the latter lose, which appears unlikely, the Red Men can, by squashing the Spiders, earn a tie for second half honors. Both the Red Men and the Dukes would then have won two and lost one.

Even if the Dukes win, however, Coach Walter Mann, recreation program director, promises there will be a play-off with the Dukes taking on the best team in the standings for a final tie. The play-off, he said, will be on February 27, meaning a breathing spell of a week after the loop finale tonight.

No recreation association events will be held next week. Mann further announced, both basketball and girls' basketball on Wednesday and boys' basketball on Thursday will be postponed until February 26 and 27 respectively.

Jim Davis paced the Dukes in their win over the Red Men last Thursday night. Davis collected 11 points on five field goals and a foul. For the Red Men, Steele carried the brunt of the burden and kept the Indians in the running until the final quarter. He poured in ten shots from the field and three from the penalty line for a 23 point total.

In the first game, the Spiders sought out a close one over the Pinballs, winning by a five point margin, 38-33. The Dukes' attack revolved around McNeil, who flipped in nine from the field for 18 points. Carroll was top man for the Pinballs, scoring five action goals and two fouls for a total of 12.

ARMORY MAT SHOW TONITE
Sharkey Meets Golden Terror

Texas Babe Sharkey, former heavy-weight wrestling champion of the world, will collide with the Golden Terror of California in the featured one-fall to a finish wrestling bout at the State Armory tonight.

The semi-windup bout finds another of the ever-popular team matches listed, with a new twist added. Sander Kovacs, Hungarian bad man, pairs off with Henry Piers of Holland, in the best-of-three-falls bout against Jan Blears, the English mat king, and Stu Hart, popular Canadian wrestler.

Instead of the usual tag team bout, which finds only two men in the ring at a time, all four will wrestle at the same time.

Last week Blears and Hart avenged a beating given them by Kovacs and Abe Stein of New York several months ago. But Kovacs contends that Jesse James, who filled in for Stein on last Thursday's show, failed to provide any assistance and that with a more capable partner the story would have been different. So he lined up the burly Henry Piers to aid him this week.

A pair of half-hour preliminary bouts round out the card with Jesse James, Washington, colliding with Rudy Valentino, of Mexico City in the second bout. Valentino, a newcomer to the scene, is rated as one of the most clever men on his feet in the ring today. He has the grace and poise of a bull-fighter—which he has been—or a professional dancer—another job he has handled.

Girls' Intramural Court Schedule Being Organized

The girls intramural basketball teams of N. H. S. are being organized by Mrs. Grace Gibb, girls' physical education instructor. Temporary captains have been appointed for the various sections. The eighth, ninth, and tenth grades are represented by two teams.

Since a large number of the junior and senior class girls are participating in the varsity and junior varsity basketball teams, there will probably be only one team from each of these sections.

Games are now being played in the Friday activity periods, when the boys and girls varsity teams complete their season, the intramurals will be played after school.

JACKETS TO FACE CONRAD TOMORROW

Remain Home Tuesday For Tilt With Friends Sch.

The Jacket cagers will be hoping to duplicate their previous victory over Conrad High, when the two clubs met here in a return engagement this Friday evening. Newark will also be at home next Tuesday, when they take on Friends School in the only meeting of the teams this season. The game will be a matinee affair at 3:15 p. m.

Newark continued on the skids this past week, bowing to A. I. duPont, 44-32, on Tuesday, then prevailing before Wilmington High, 31-23, on Friday.

Against Wilmington, the Jackets were powerless as the Devils stepped off to a hefty, 19-2, lead in the first quarter and maintained a wide margin throughout the contest. Only session in which the Jackets exhibited any sting was the second when they outscored Wilmington, 13-11.

Tony Cosetti accounted for over half of Newark's points, but couldn't keep the local club in the running. He netted four from the field and four penalty throws for 12 points.

Earlier on Friday, A. I. duPont's Tigers defeated the Jackets for the second time this season by a 12-point margin. The Tigers held a 17-8 advantage at the end of the first quarter and hiked the count to 23-16 at half-time. Barton McCash led the scoring for A. I. with six goals and a free toss for 13 points. Gregg topped the Jackets with 11 points on five field goals and a foul.

In the preliminary game, A. I. duPont Jayvees defeated Newark's by a 27-26 count.

DELAWARE FIVE IN SECOND MEETING WITH DREXEL SAT. FACES HAVERFORD ON WED.

Downs P. M. C., 64-63, In Overtime Session At Chester Last Saturday For 6th Triumph Of Campaign; Loses To Fast West Chester Club Last Wed.

Collecting a victory and a defeat the past week to put the season's record at six wins and three losses, the Blue Hen courtiers are set for two return engagements this week. On Saturday night they meet Drexel's Dragons in Philadelphia, then return to the Field House here next Wednesday to take on Haverford College. The Hens defeated both outfits in previous contests, this season.

Delaware split its games with two Pennsylvania rivals the past week, going down to a fast-stepping West Chester combine, 64-47, in the Ram's gym last Wednesday, later reviving to eek out a night 64-63 win over P. M. C. on Saturday night in Chester.

At West Chester, the Hens ran some slick operators who latched on to 12-15 lead in a close-fought first quarter, then constantly widened their margin to breeze to a 17-point victory.

Bill Nash did his best to keep the Hens in the running, flipping in 14 goals for ten points. Bill Cole added nine points on three field goals and three fouls.

The Hens again appeared in the drums on Saturday night, when P. M. C., but snapped out of it in the third quarter to salvage the victory in an overtime period. Delaware was behind throughout most of the contest, and it wasn't until the final quarter that Barnstanny rallied to tie the count at 59 all.

In a frenzied overtime session, Cadets poured in two field goals which the Hens sharpshooters duplicated, then slipped in a foul which spelled the victory.

Accurate penalty tosses, which netted 16 points in the Hens' favor, meant the game, since the Cadets topped in goals from the foul line to 74.

ADVERTISING ART EXHIBIT OPENS HERE

Ad Designs By Top Artists On View At U. Of D.

An exhibition of 36 outstanding advertising designs illustrating salient aspects of a modern "big business" approach to the consumer is open to the public in the Memorial Library art gallery, University of Delaware, from February 9 to March 2, inclusive. The display will include a comprehensive selection by 37 contemporary artists, many with an international reputation.

Designed by the Addison Gallery of American Art at Phillips Academy, Andover, Massachusetts, this group of reproductions from the original designs is sponsored by the Container Corporation of America and circulated throughout the country by The American Federation of Arts, Washington, D. C.

All of the works represented in the exhibition were commissioned by the Container Corporation for use in its national advertising, a campaign long familiar as one of the most progressive advertising art programs to evolve in this country.

A few of the artist represented in the collection include A. M. Cassandre, Herbert Bayer, Gyorgy Kepes, Jean Carlu, Herbert Matter and Man Ray—all pioneers in modern advertising design and many famous painters who never before had used their talents in this field.

Her talk here should be of special interest, since one of her principal projects is the development of a more efficient kitchen. On Wednesday afternoon, Dr. Gilbreth will turn to another field in which she is an authority and address a group of engineers at the university, after which she will discuss careers for women with a class of women students. On Thursday, she will be the principal speaker at the University Hour.

DELAWARE FARM FRONT THIS WEEK

Potato Goals Are Revised

The U. S. Department of Agriculture has announced a revision downward of 1947 potato goals. The revised goal has been set at 2,517,000 acres as a result of recent data which reveal that potato acreage has been declining nationally, while yield per acre during the same time has been increasing at a more rapid rate than had been previously estimated.

Only a slight revision has been made in Delaware's acreage goal. Previously announced goals called for 3,600 acres. The new revised goal is 3,500 acres.

Improved varieties of grain and forage crops have given greater yields than varieties in use 25 years ago, but improved varieties alone cannot do the job, says C. E. Phillips, extension agronomist.

While reviewing average yields of grain and hay in Delaware at one of the Farmers' Week sessions, Phillips pointed out the need for heavier fertilizer use to increase yields to profitable levels. Yields can be increased only from the "ground up," he said, and this means not only increased use of fertilizer, but greater attention to green manure and cover crops if Delaware farming is to be a profitable business.

Delaware's final farm production goals for 1947 have been announced by C. E. Ocheltree, state director of the Production and Marketing Administration and chairman of the State USDA Council.

The final goals, as suggested by the State USDA Council and approved by Secretary of Agriculture Anderson call for another year of farm production in line with that of the 1946 goals.

In setting up the goals the Council reviewed suggestions from the U. S. Department of Agriculture for crop acreages and livestock marketings desired from Delaware as its share of the Nation's requirements.

The final goals are: Wheat, 70,000 acres; rye, 15,000 acres; corn, 135,000 acres; barley, 14,000 acres; oats, 6,000 acres; soybeans for beans, 26,000 acres; potatoes, 3,000 acres; sweet potatoes, 3,000 acres; hay, 80,000 acres. Beef cattle on farms at end of 1947, 2,000; milk produced on farms, 185 million pounds; number of cows on farms, 37,000; sows to farrow this spring, 3,000; sheep and lambs on farm at end of this year, 2,000; chickens on farms other than broilers 2,450,000; turkeys raised 115,000; bees, 3,000 colonies.

Formal announcement has been made by the Department of Agriculture that there will be no corn marketing quotas and no corn allotments for the 1947-48 corn production and marketing season.

Rayon Output At New Peak In 1946

Rayon production in 1946 hit a new high of 833,900,000 pounds, 7.50 per cent higher than 1945, the Textile Economics Bureau reported recently.

Filament yarn output was 8.50 per cent above 1945 and double that of 1939, and rayon staple output was five per cent above 1945 and more than double the 1940 figure, the bureau reported in its annual review of the industry in the February issue of its statistical publication, Rayon Organon.

World rayon production was estimated at 1,800,000,000 pounds, an 18 per cent jump over 1945, but 37 per cent under the record 1941 output of 2,835,000,000 pounds. Stagnation of the industry in Japan, once the world leader, accounted for the drop from 1941.
