Spartan spikers fail to find Archmere's achilles heel

by David Woolman

One of a coach's jobs is to find the weakness in the opposing team and create a strategy to exploit it.

But when the St. Mark's High School volleyball team went up against Archmere Thursday, Spartan coach Dave Stover had a problem.

"They didn't have any one weakness," he said, adding that Archmere is probably one of the three or four best teams in the state. "Archmere just doesn't make mistakes."

"They make the other team play defense," continued Stover. "We are a good passing team, but what hurt us today was lack of offense."

Stover stressed that the St. Mark's team is still somewhat inexperienced and has not quite meshed yet. This is most visible in the difficulties St. Mark's is having with its transition game.

And against a team like Archmere, lack of a transition game can be deadly. Their defeat of St. Mark's shows that.

Both teams came out strong for the first few points of the first game, making few errors and maintaining long rallies. Archmere continued well, taking advantage of a number of missed spikes by the Spartans.

"We were really psyched up for the first game," said Rhonda Simmons of St. Mark's. "That's why a lot of shots went long — we had lots of energy."

Archmere took an early lead of 7-1, but St. Mark's fought back to a 5-8 deficit, helped in part by the serving of Kim Knotts.

Archmere took over from there winning the first game 15-7. The Auks opened another large lead early in the second game, and kept the pressure on St. Mark's, keeping them on the defensive.

Despite some very good blocking by Simmons, Archmere handily won the second game 15-3.

Concerning the blocking, Simmons said, "I hurt my hands a couple times. We've worked on that all this week."

According to Stover, St. Mark's needs to play well in the rest of its Catholic Conference matches, particularly against Ursuline, in order to have a chance at the state tournament.

Earlier in the week, St. Mark's defeated St. Elizabeth 15-13, 16-14.

Newark runners capture title at Salisbury

Yellowjacket boys take crown; girls finish in second place

by David Woolman

The Newark High School cross country teams had successful weeks, capped by fine showings at the Salisbury State College Invitational in Maryland.

The boys squad started the week with two wins in a tri-meet, a 27-30 victory over William Penn and a 24-34 victory over Dickinson. John Brannon, Tom Klemas and Lee Brannon were the top finishers.

The boys team finished in first place among 18 teams at the Salisbury Invitational. John Brannon finished in eighth place overall, Tom Klemas in 13th, Lee Brannon in 18th and Dave Winter in 25th. John Williams ran fifth overall in the JV meet.

Coach Bob Ward is surprised and happy with his team's success. "They are about a year ahead of where I expected them to be," said Ward.

The girls team finished second behind Padua for the second year in a row at Salisbury State. Dale Reed finished 10th overall, Emily Ludman finished 17th and Cheryl White finished 18th. The teams face Wilmington and A.I. duPont Tuesday.

The St. Mark's boys team defeated Archmere 20-38 as all 14 members of the team ran personal bests over their home course. Tim Bardsley finished first overall, with Ted Milyo third and John Ormsby fourth.

The team finished sixth of 19 in the Salesianum Invitational meet. Bardsley finished 13th overall, Vinnie Houck finished 36th, Ormsby finished 38th, Dan Keefer finished 46th and Milyo finished 50th.

The girls team lost 19-38 to Archmere in a performance that coach Joe O'Neill called "a definite show of improvement." He said good efforts were put in by Denise Cybak, Jessica Woodill, Kim Reyburn, Danielle Dorsey, Kara Franklin and Melanie Avenarius.

The girls team meets Padua and the boys team meets Howard on Thursday, and both teams travel to New York City for the Manhattan Invitational Saturday.

The Glasgow boys team handily defeated Wilmington and Claymont in a tri-meet, 18-41, 18-43. Mike Jones finished first overall, and Andy Kirk ran second, in a meet where coach Ron Hull said the whole squad ran well.

The team finished in second place at the Salisbury State Invitational, where Kirk finished eighth overall, and Mike Jones finished 11th.

The girls team won the tri-meet against Wilmington and Claymont by forfeit, and finished sixth in the invitational. Lori Berkholder finished 24th and Deean Rudisil finished 26th, as top runner Kathy McGraff did not run.

The teams meet William Penn and McKean this Tuesday.

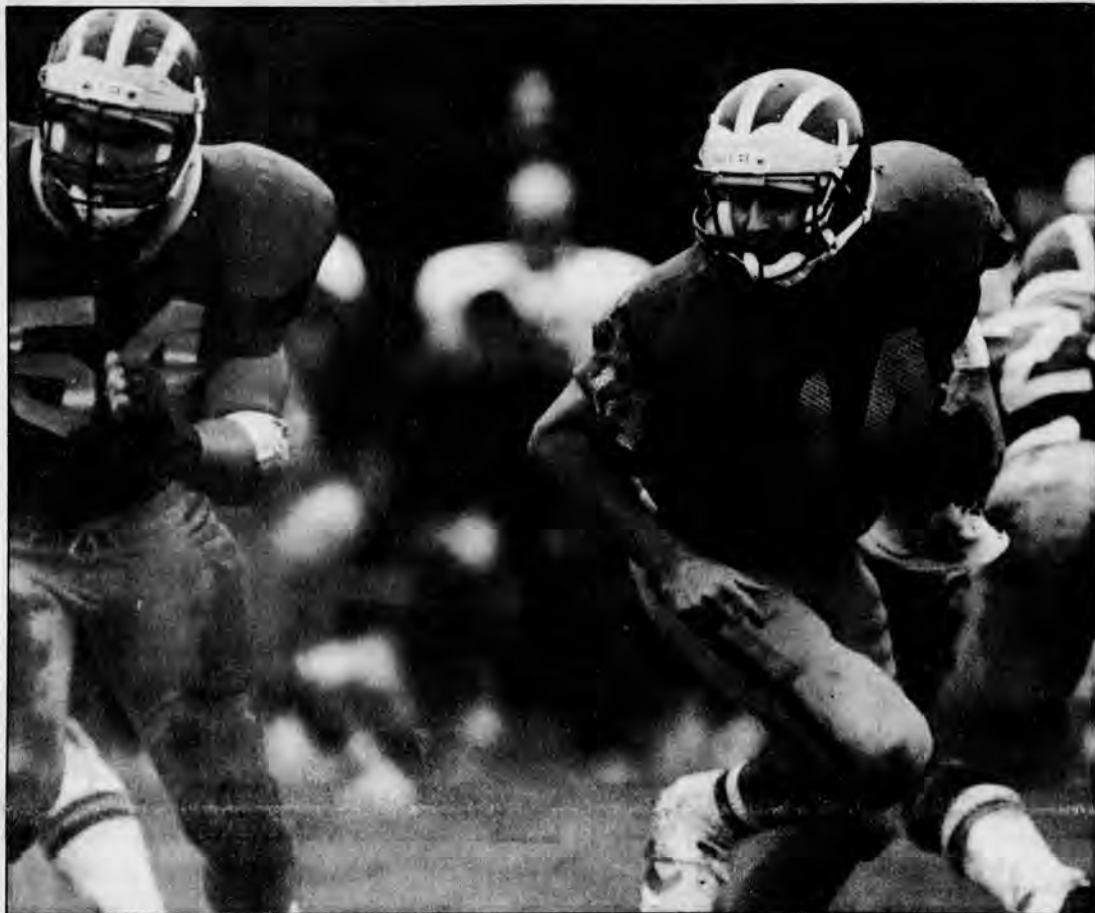

The Christiana boys squad lost both ends of a tri-meet with Howard and Mt. Pleasant, 22-37, 26-29. Andy Lennon, Brian Shores and Eric Morgan were the top finishers.

The team finished a disappointing 18th at the Salisbury State Invitational, with Lennon finishing 39th overall, Morgan finishing 51st and Jim Bingham finishing 71st.

The girls team defeated Howard 23-36 and Mt. Pleasant 21-39 at the tri-meet. Diana Pitts finished first overall at the meet.

The team finished fifth at Salisbury. Pitts finished 28th overall, Beth Otter finished 28th and Cindy Harvey finished 32nd. Coach Greg Schneck says the team is getting better as the times continue to improve.

The teams face Middletown and Howard Tuesday.

David Sierer will continue to be Delaware's starting quarterback, although Blue Hen coach Tubby Raymond will not hesitate to turn to relief QB Craig McCoy.

Mistakes plague 'green' Hens

Raymond hopes Delaware can bounce back against U Mass

by David Woolman

University of Delaware head coach Tubby Raymond complained about his team's mistakes after the 45-21 loss to New Hampshire last Saturday. Some things never change.

"Some of our people who we've depended on, and who have played real well are pressing," said Raymond. "I think that caused some errors."

On the positive side, he said that running back Admiral Sydor "gave us some spark." Raymond also said, "I thought this was (defensive end) John Levelis' best game."

While the team still suffers from its inexperience, Raymond will continue to use two fullbacks, start David Sierer at quarterback and give a number of the young players experience.

"We're going to continue on our march towards making a football team," said Raymond. The way its going, he could have made Mao envious.

Saturday's game against Massachusetts (1:30 p.m., Delaware Stadium) is a meeting between the teams picked in a preseason poll to finish first and second in the Yankee Conference. Delaware has beaten Mass all 11 times they have played.

According to Raymond, Massachusetts is much like Richmond and New Hampshire in their style of play, utilizing the I-formation, as well as having a large defensive line.

Raymond calls them the biggest team in the conference. Quarterback Dan Palazzi is "dynamic," and linebackers John McKeown and Vito Peron are among the best in the league at their position, said Raymond.

Massachusetts coach Jim Reid said he sympathized with Delaware's problems, as they resembled his own. Mass is 1-3, and he claimed the big play is what has hurt his team.

However, he credits his team with not having given up despite their slow start, and said they have impressed him by continuing to play with good intensity.

Reid said that his offensive line has played better each week, and that Palazzi has put in solid performances over the last three games.

Tracy Lebreton tends to horse after workout at Delaware Park.

This trainer is a good bet

Determined Lebreton one of racing's few female trainers

by David Woolman

"Most trainers are 50 years old and smoke cigars," says Tracy Lebreton.

Not all though. Lebreton is a trainer, and she is only 21.

And she doesn't smoke cigars.

She does bring a fresh approach to her field. As a graduate of the University of Delaware with a degree in animal science, she takes a scientific approach to training thoroughbred race horses. Currently, she has five horses at Delaware Park in Stanton.

"There are a lot of people here that have been trainers for 30 years and still believe in witchcraft and practice things that are totally unscientific," Lebreton said.

Her education is often her guide. "There's many things that pertain to training, like anatomy and physiology of the animal. Those go hand in hand with the training of the thoroughbred race horse."

It has done her well so far. In the first start of her career, she won a race. Pokey Lady, a first time starter herself, bred and owned by Tracy's father, Leon, won the fifth race on Sept. 7, only a week after Lebreton received her trainer's license.

All of the horses Lebreton trains currently were bred and are owned by her family. The family started developing the farm, now Pilottown Stables Inc., in Harbeson, Del. 10 years ago. That was her first major exposure to thoroughbred race horses; before and after school she would take care of the animals. For a while she did it all herself.

"When I was in my last year of junior high and my first year of high school, my father had a massive coronary. He was in the hospital for over a year after surgery. I would have to go every morning before school and take care of horses."

"At that time my brother wasn't much help (he has allergies and asthma that prevent him from being with animals for any length of time) and my mom is from Brooklyn; she's not a real farm girl."

"It was a lot of responsibility. I was pretty young at the

Viking kickers top McKean

Christiana squad now 6-1

The Christiana High School soccer team defeated McKean 2-1 at home Tuesday, Sept. 29.

David Wellborne scored both goals for the Vikings, the first in the first half off an assist by Keith Kendall and the second with eight minutes remaining in the game with the assist by Pat Ward.

Goalie Mark Puican had 11 saves in a game which saw Christiana outshoot McKean 18-15.

Christiana defeated A.I. duPont 1-0 Friday on a goal by Paul Richardson 18 minutes into the second half. Jerry Whitton had the assist.

Mark Puican logged his fourth shutout with four saves. Fullbacks Chris Yeager and Brian Duzan keyed the defense.

Christiana is now 6-1-0, 5-1-0 in the Blue Hen Conference. They play William Penn Tuesday, and Salesianum Thursday.

Glasgow played "like a completely different team," said coach Vince Decaria in their defeat of Salesianum 2-0 Tuesday. Reid Hubbard and Scotty Mosier scored the goals in the second half with assists from John Thomas and Donny Davis.

Skip Thorpe had six saves. "The defense was just incredible," said Decaria. "Paul Thomas did and excellent job at sweeper." The defense was completed by Mitch Tidwell at left fullback, Pat Cahil at right fullback, and John Thomas at stopper.

Glasgow lost to McKean 3-2 Friday, as McKean scored three times in the first 20 minutes. Mosier and Davis had the goals for Glasgow.

"The team was flat," said Decaria. "We didn't get into the game until the second half." They play Mt. Pleasant Tuesday and William Penn Saturday.

Newark lost to Brandywine 1-0 Tuesday, the lone goal being scored by Jack Moore with eight minutes remaining in the game. Kurt Kingham had 23 saves, including a penalty kick with three minutes remaining in the game.

Newark had 11 shots on goal. Coach Charlie Blackwell pointed out that nine of these came in the second part of the second half, as the offense picked up as the game went along.

Newark defeated Concord 1-0 Friday. Kurt Kingham had the shutout with 12 saves. Dan Pellitier scored the winning goal 21 minutes into the first half.

The Brandywine game will be shown on Heritage Cablevision Channel 22 at 8:30 p.m. Wednesday.

Newark is now 6-1, and will play Wilmington Monday, Sanford Wednesday and North East Friday.

St. Mark's improved its record to 4-0-1 with two shutouts last week. Avon Grove fell 3-0, as Jon Sturmfels had one goal and two assists. Jim Lacey and Brian Northey scored the other goals, and Ben Piper had the other assist.

Eric Hedding and Chris Faust shared the shutout with a combined six saves. Faust played the last 15 minutes of the game.

Coach Tom DeMatteis felt the defense played well. Sweeper B.J. Reiser "has really anchored the defense," along with left fullback Pat Doyle.

St. Mark's defeated Dickinson 4-0 Friday, with Sturmfels scoring three goals, and Lacy getting the fourth. Mike McFarland, Chris Smith and Kyle Mayhew each assisted Sturmfels once, and Northey got the assist on Lacy's goal.

Hedding and Faust again shared the shutout with nine saves.

Brad Mundy and Brent Stitik filled in at stopper for James Papas. DeMatteis said that the midfielders played particularly well, especially Smith.

This was Andy Tarburton's first game of the season. The Spartans play Archmere Tuesday, Friends Friday, Caesar Rodney Saturday, and, in a rematch of last year's state final, Salesianum next Tuesday at Baynard Stadium.

Caravel Academy lost a frustrating game to Mt. Pleasant 5-2 Tuesday. After being tied 1-1 at halftime, Caravel took the lead nine minutes into the second half, and then "fell apart," according to coach Bill Bussiere.

Tino Cronenberg scored a goal with the assist by Pat Joyce. Dave Bugher scored a goal with the assist by Toma Tanaka. John Hedges had 15 saves.

Caravel defeated Glenn Mills 4-1 Friday. "We finally put it together," said Bussiere. Tanaka had two goals and one assist. Joyce had one goal and one assist, as Bugher had one goal, and Tripp Way had one assist. Hedges had three saves.

"We felt that we had more ability," said Bussiere. The game plan was to settle down and play the ball on the ground and "make them chase us," he said.

Caravel is now 2-5. It plays Garnett Valley Monday, and West Nottingham Thursday.

Hodgson Vocational Technical Center's soccer team is in its second year on the varsity level, and the team is progressing, maintaining a 3-4 record. The team has only 13 players, 12 sophomores and one junior.

The team lost 14-0 to Perryville, and 7-1 to Wilmington Christian. They held Christian to a 1-1 tie in the second half.

Hodgson's goal was scored by Eric Moore off an assist by Jeff Mullen. Tracy Cordell and Frank Smith shared the goalkeeping.

Coach Jim Mullins was very impressed by the second half. "It was really a thrill. The team played on guts alone."

Christiana gridders play tough

Vikings improve in 19-6 loss to conference power Brandywine

Slowly but surely, the Christiana High School football team is getting better. Not enough to defeat Brandywine this past Friday, but enough to encourage coach Marty Cross to say "we've improved."

Christiana lost to Brandywine 19-6 in a game in which they were never out of it until the end. Brandywine scored first after a pair of turnovers. They ran the opening kickoff to the Christiana 20 yard line, but fumbled during their first series.

Christiana attempted to punt after four downs, but it the kick was blocked by Brandywine, which scored a touchdown on the play.

In the second quarter, Christiana drove to the 11 yard line but failed to score, and the half ended with the score 6-0.

Christiana tied the score on its first possession of the second half, on a 45-yard touchdown pass from Kevin Mullins to Brad Wenger. But Brandywine bounced back to score on its next drive to take the lead again.

The Bulldogs scored once more on a late drive, as Christiana stunted most of its defense in order to force a fumble.

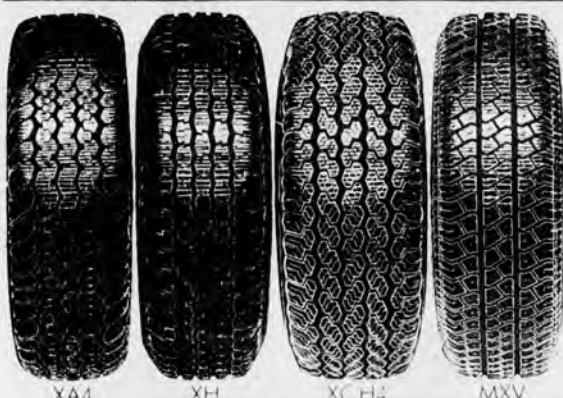

"We got the offense rolling now," said Cross. Mullins, who was 12 of 25 for 135 yards. Wenger had six catches for 98 yards and Carl Hariston ran 13 times for 115 yards.

"I think a lot of our inexperienced errors are over with," said Cross. "We made the early mistake that has plagued us this year."

"We started to become a seasoned team in the second, third and fourth quarters," he added.

Christiana hosts William Penn Saturday.

Penn stops Glasgow

William Penn High School defeated Glasgow 21-0 at New Castle's Cole Stadium Saturday on two touchdown runs by Dave Balbach.

Penn drove the ball 65 yards on their first possession, scoring on Balbach's 25 yard run. "They just kept pushing our people (defense) back," said Glasgow coach Rennie Clements.

From then on, the Dragon defense got it together, according to Clements, and played a good game. The offense could not, taking the ball inside the Penn 25 twice, but not scoring.

A Glasgow turnover in the second quarter led to a touchdown, capped by an 18 yard pass from Scott Smith to Matt Brainard.

The last touchdown was scored in the fourth quarter on a 38 yard run by Balbach.

Clements said the game plan was ruined by the weather and the Colonial defensive line. The intent was to run to the outside and pass, but the wet conditions made both difficult, and the huge Penn put quarterback Matt Olson under too much pressure.

"The wet field was to their advantage," said Clements. Despite the size advantage of Penn, Clements said, "I don't feel they outthit us."

Caravel downs St. Elizabeth

Caravel Academy defeated St. Elizabeth 28-14 in football with what Caravel coach Bill DiNardo called "the best half I could ever imagine."

Caravel scored all of its 28 points in the first half, while allowing its opponent its two touchdowns in the fourth quarter.

Buccaneer quarterback Tom Lyons threw a two-yard touchdown pass to Ned Mechling on its first drive. Lyons was seven for 11 on the day for 142 yards, in the first half. Mechling played his first game since his injury.

Drek Shaw, who had 111 yards on 19 carries, ran 35 yards for a touchdown on Caravel's second possession. The score was set up by a fumble recovery by Kenny Jackson.

Lyons hit Shaw for a 60 yard touchdown pass on Caravel's third drive, making the score 21-0 in the first half.

Lyons threw a third touchdown pass 39 yards to Shrosh Havewala. Havewala also kicked the four extra points for Caravel.

Chris Harris had nine tackles and one fumble recovery, and Keith Hutchinson had five tackles, including two quarterback sacks.

"We feel we're making a step in the right direction," said

DiNardo. "The young kids are coming right along."

Caravel, now 2-2, travels to Oxford, Pa. Friday night.

Hodgson Vo-Tech was defeated by Friends 37-6. "They were too experienced for us," said Hodgson coach Bill Billings.

Hodgson had the lead, if only fleetingly, when Tez Lively returned the opening kickoff for a touchdown. "He's a great little runner," said Billings.

Friends went on to score 24 points in the first quarter. Billings credits his defense with a good second half, as they held Friends scoreless for all but the last few seconds of the second half.

H'son handles Spartans

by Bruce Johnson

The St. Mark's High School football team came out of the Baynard Stadium locker room Friday night as a team united with one point to prove.

Spirited and determined, the Spartans took on nationally ranked West Chester, Pa. Henderson to prove that they deserve respect.

And despite falling 17-8, the Spartans walked off the field with heads held high, having made their point.

"I'm really proud of those kids," said Jack Smiley, St. Mark's head coach, as he watched his team stream off the field. "They played really hard against a great football team, and didn't back away at all. In fact, we took it to them."

The Spartans, now 0-4 on the season, did indeed take it to the Warriors. And with the elimination of a few key mistakes, they might have pulled off a major upset.

St. Mark's controlled three of the four quarters of play, and matched West Chester Henderson in total offense.

"They played us tough, and I was really impressed with them," said Mike Hancock, West Chester Henderson coach.

West Chester Henderson running back Jim Joiner is stopped by St. Mark's linebacker Joe Kreisher (58).

"They had us in trouble all game. Even when we were up 14-0 we were not in control of the game."

Hancock added, "If they had gotten something in (the end zone) early, it would have been a completely different ballgame. They have a good ball club."

The inability of the St. Mark's offense to put the ball in the end zone once again proved the difference. However, the Spartans did move with more proficiency than in their first three games, gaining 231 total yards.

St. Mark's invaded West Chester Henderson territory on numerous occasions, and reached inside the 20 yard line four times.

Unfortunately, it took the St. Mark's offense a while to start clicking. In the first quarter, it gained a mere 12 yards, held the ball for just one minute 12 seconds and committed three turnovers.

The Warriors converted two of those errors into touchdowns to take a 14-0 lead at the 10:06 mark of the second quarter.

Finally, the Spartans' offense began to move, churning out 219 yards in three quarters. But the only time St. Mark's could manage to reach the end zone was when tailback Ken Testa bulled over from three yards out with 1:02 left in the game.

Quarterback Tim Sullivan hit Jeff Simendinger for the two-point conversion.

Although it was too little, too late, the St. Mark's scoring effort showed that the Spartans never gave up hope.

"You certainly have to praise their heart because they played with a great deal of heart tonight," said Hancock. "Certainly with more than we did. They almost put one on our chin."

For St. Mark's, the game renewed team confidence. "Even though we lost, this is going to turn our season around," said Joe Kreisher, captain and middle linebacker. "This could be the big turning point for us. I think we're going to go someplace now. We've got Dover next week and I think we'll be ready for them."

Dover High School is one of the best teams in Delaware, and Smiley hopes the Spartans can play the role of spoiler.

Rain holds off, Yellowjackets win

by David Woolman

Some of the girls on Newark High School's field hockey squad looked at last Wednesday's clouds and prayed for rain, preferring a postponement to facing highly-touted William Penn.

Now they are glad the rains never came, as they defeated Penn 3-2 in an impressive show of determination and teamwork.

"We really thought we were going to get beat," said Jennifer Taggart. "But once we started, we felt like we had to keep it up."

Coach June Smith hoped the win would add to the confidence of her team. "Today, this was a nice surprise. We're thrilled to death with the win."

William Penn had most of the chances early. Newark goalie Pam Wisniewski saved a shot by Penn's powerful Laura Knorr early, but Knorr scored on her next shot.

Newark tied the game on a goal by Taggart, assisted by Suzanne Sysko. Sysko scored one of her own not much later after a corner shot by Taggart.

The second half opened with Sysko injuring her hand while on defense, but she remained in the game and made an important clear moments later. Taggart scored off a rebound from a save to make the score 3-1.

The Newark squad maintained its lead through intense play and teamwork, stopping a Penn team which is blessed with a number of very talented performers, but which seemed to lack cohesiveness shown by the Yellowjackets.

With a minute remaining, Wisniewski saved two point-blank shots by Holly Hockenbach. A leg save by a Newark player in the goal area led to a penalty shot for Penn, which was converted by Knorr, but that was all the offense the Colonials could muster and Newark held on to win 3-2.

"Last Friday's game (a 3-0 loss to Christiana) we weren't in sync," said Smith, who said this game her squad showed 100 percent effort.

"I can't say enough about Suzanne Sysko. She's the anchor," said Smith.

Co-captain Whitney Townsend is still out with a broken finger, but hopes to be back next week.

Newark traveled to Claymont Friday, and won 5-0. Sysko scored three goals and had one assist. Laurie Hargrove and Jennifer Taggart each had one goal.

Newark is now 2-1, 1-1 in the Blue Hen Conference. The Yellowjackets play Dickinson Wednesday and Delcastle Friday.

Newark volleyball team 'reloads' with Crook, Kahn

by David Woolman

The Newark High School volleyball team reached the quarterfinals of the state tournament last year before falling to tournament champion Archmere. And that was a young team.

Nine lettermen return from last year's team. "I think we're going to be a contender this year," says coach Barbara Jo Apichella. It sounds like an understatement.

"Playing younger players paid off," says Apichella, "because now I have good depth this year."

The depth includes Jessica Crook, a second team All-State and first team All-Blue Hen Conference player last year, and Snow Kahn, honorable mention All-State and first team All-BHC.

Both seniors are Academic All-State in addition, maintaining grade point averages of over 3.2.

Senior Trish Hendricks, second team All-BHC last year, also returns. Christy Langston and Molly Martaza round out the returning seniors on the squad. Martaza has a broken foot, and will return later in the season.

Juniors returning are Terry Pedrotti, Diana Rewa and Andria Miller. Nora Spielman is hurt, and is out for the season.

According to Apichella, the team is well rounded, hard working, and intelligent. "They're a great team to work with." The team is currently 5-0, and begins to play conference matches next week.

On the other side is coach Dave Stover's St. Mark's team, which has reached the state tournament finals in each of the past two years, but has yet to find itself this year.

"In the last two years, we've had more than our share of success," says Stover. After graduating a number of servers and passers, he says that this year's team has "not meshed well yet."

Stover says he did not settle on one lineup until last week. He says the back row is inexperienced, but "the talent's there to be a really good team," and the team practices and plays very hard.

The team lost two All-State players to graduation, but second team All-Catholic Rhonda Simmons returns to the starting lineup, as do seniors Amy Carello and Jen Jeffries. Other returning lettermen include seniors Kim Knotts, Kerry McCall, Judy and Patty Conomon, and junior Jess Janicki.

Thus far into the season, Stover sees the transition from defense to offense as the squad's greatest difficulty.

Overall talent in the state is better than in the past two years, according to Stover.

He says that the team is constantly improving. "I think we'll be real good by the end of the year."

Coach Jo Syndor expects her Glasgow team to be much stronger this year, because it is

SUPER E+ HOMES: WHERE ENERGY SAVINGS ARE BUILT IN.

The Super E Plus symbol on a home means it's one of the most energy efficient homes you can buy. That's because a newly constructed Super E+ home meets some of the most stringent energy standards — from the use of specific materials to the thickness of insulation, and more.

These standards ensure that you'll enjoy greater comfort and big savings on your home's energy bills, plus a higher resale value when you're ready to sell.

So tell your agent, realtor or builder you want to see only Super E+ homes. And look for the symbol at the house before you buy. Don't settle for less.

SPORTS

HORSES/from 1b

time." She continued to work with horses at the farm and elsewhere through high school, then went off the University.

She spent the breaks in between semesters working as a groom for George Hayes, a trainer on the Maryland circuit. "He's been training for 25 years, he knows a lot of tricks of the trade."

She trained horses for other owners this summer, before she received her own license, turning them over to licensed trainers when they were ready to run in races because only a licensed trainer can start a horse in a race.

She does most of the work herself. She has no hot walkers or grooms. "Since I'm young and aspiring, I can't really be choosy."

She does have an exercise rider, who takes the horses on their morning workouts. But that is out of necessity.

"The summer after my freshman year at college I was galloping a horse and the horse went through a fence and I broke my back. After that, I never really had the nerve to do too much riding. I lack that little bit of nerve you really must have to be a good rider."

As it is now, the care of five horses make for a long day. From 6:30 in the morning to about noon she takes care of the horses — seeing that they get out to the track for their exercise, mucking out their stalls, hotwalking (walking a horse after exercise to help it cool down) and grooming them. And then she comes back in the evening to feed them and put them away for the night. Seven days a week.

Some days are even longer. "Days when you have a horse running, you're here all day. Days when I go downstate (to the farm) to get my hay are usually 6 (a.m.) to 8 (p.m.) days."

It's certainly not a nine-to-five job, but as far as Lebreton is concerned, "That's one of the advantages. It's never routine, except maybe when you've got horses running, and there's always the added pleasure when it's your own horse. That's the thing I like about having my own horses rather than someone else's."

"And I'm certainly not the hardest working person at this track. Many people work a lot harder than I do, put in a lot more hours. I don't know how."

One of the problems with not having more help is that sometimes two horses need to be taken care of at the same time. So far this hasn't been too serious, as her exercise rider, Carrie Barton has been willing to fill in and saddle or walk a horse when necessary. "She's been wonderful about that."

"If I got one more horse, I would have to get someone to help me. I'm just at the line right now."

"I personally would like to get a good number of outside horses, maybe 10 outside horses and keep four or five of our own, our family's horses."

Her personal preference is to stay at Delaware Park "indefinitely." A local resident, she says "I like the Newark area."

"I'm going to be staying here for the winter and probably through the next meet at least." When racing leaves Delaware for the winter, she will ship her horses to Pennsylvania, New Jersey and Maryland to run.

The future depends on the quality of horses she is training. "If I had good horses I would probably go to Maryland. Maryland is a good circuit."

Training horses was not what Lebreton originally planned to do. She had hoped to study animal science as a prelude to veterinary school. "I worked for veterinarians on and off. That's something I wanted to go into professionally."

"I've always had a very high respect for vets. They've always been kind of like gods for me. That's one of the things that motivated me, my respect for them."

But competition for the limited number of positions in vet school is fierce and she decided not to apply. "I feel that I would probably enjoy doing this much more than going to vet school for the next four years."

"I like this a lot. I say, stick with a good thing while you've got it."

She says there was little thought of doing anything outside of working with horses. "I guess I never thought of doing anything else. It's always been my life. I grew up with it."

"At one time I thought maybe I'd like to actually run my own business, but something like that takes a lot of financial backing and I'd have to control it myself because I really don't like the idea of working for somebody else."

"But in a way, this is a business; I'm pretty much running my own business here."

Hard work, long hours, and too little help are not the only obstacles Lebreton has had to overcome. In the old fashioned world of thoroughbred racing, her age and gender go against tradition.

"Classically, trainers are from the older generation and male. When you get up to the management positions, people with more power, it's very male dominated."

"There's quite a few female riders and female grooms, but when you get to the trainers, the ratio goes way up for the males."

"Some trainers take me seriously, some don't. Some think I'll probably be here maybe a year at the most. Others would like to see me have a very successful career out of it."

"When you apply for your trainer's license, you have to go talk to the stewards and when I went in to speak to them they more or less had the attitude of 'what makes you think you're going to be a trainer.'"

"(There are) a lot of people saying 'you'll never be able to do that,' but Delaware Park is small, people like to see somebody moving up more. There are a handful (of people) on this track who have given me a lot of very appreciated support."

She has no qualms about going against the odds and making a career as a trainer.

"I believe that after four years of college and working with horses for a large majority of my life that I couldn't see any reason why not."

pretty much the same squad as last year.

Last year, the entire team moved up from the JV ranks. The year's experience has created a more skillful, seasoned team.

"They scramble a little bit better than the team last year," says Sydnor. In addition, the coaching staff of Dr. Jack Bartley and Mary Kate McDonald has remained the same. "That's one of the things that's helped us," adds Sydnor.

Returning this year are Kizzi Cobb, Carrie Klein, Laura Lawlor, Amy Mackey, Sharine Nisar, Phoebe Folke, Tamara Mims, and Erika Ohliger.

Laura Stell, coach of the Caravel Academy team believes that her team is as strong or stronger than last year's team, which went 6-7.

Returning starters include seniors Betsy Czeimer, Kristin Hart, Latoya Briscoe and Colleen Slater. Senior Giselle Massa, a new addition to the team, will start, as will Keum Soo Cho, an AFS student.

"I think we should do .500 or better, at least," says Stell.

Jazzercise offers kids' program

Junior Jazzercise, an aerobics program designed to introduce children ages 8-12 to dance, music and fitness, is being offered in Newark.

Jazzercise instructor Sue Dayton said the program will meet at 5:30 p.m. Wednesdays at Kingswood Methodist Church on Marrows Road, beginning Oct.

Dayton will teach students dance position, terminology and proper execution as she leads routines designed to improve body control, flexibility and coordination.

The workout picks up tempo as students perform routines designed to strengthen their cardiovascular systems. Each class ends with a slow cool-down.

Dayton said recent studies have shown a decline in the fitness level of children nationwide. She added that Junior Jazzercise is designed to help acquaint young people with a healthier lifestyle.

THE ARTS

Chorale Delaware moves to Grand

Chorale Delaware is a newcomer on our musical scene, having bowed only one year ago. It is an exciting group of professional singers offering us something different. This year Chorale Delaware takes a giant step forward. It will present its three concerts at the Grand Opera House.

To add to the excitement, they will perform with the Delaware Symphony Chamber Orchestra. With the old and the new coming together at Delaware's Center for the Performing Arts, audiences will be the winners as the music begins.

The season gets underway this Friday with a performance of Handel's "Israel in Egypt." This oratorio should provide a tour de force for Chorale Delaware. The work is scored for double-chorus, orchestra and soloists.

According to Music Director William Owen, because the members are all professional singers and soloists at many concerts in the area, the soloists for this oratorio will be drawn from the members. What a great opportunity for us to hear what Chorale Delaware has to offer.

"Israel in Egypt" is the dramatic retelling of the triumph of Moses and the Israelites over their Egyptian oppressors. The performance begins at 8 p.m.

A beautiful Christmas program with sing-along carols and a performance of Vaughan Williams' "Hodie" is set for Dec. 19. Chorale Delaware and the Delaware Symphony Chamber Orchestra will be joined by the St. Peter's Boys Choir and Philadelphia for this event.

"Hodie" is both a dynamic and festive telling of the Christmas story by one of England's greatest composers. With the second oldest choir in our nation joining Chorale Delaware, the sound should be extraordinary. The program begins at 8 p.m.

William Owen is pulling out all the stops for the season finale, March 25. The group will present Bach's B Minor Mass. This is, in my opinion, the greatest choral work ever written. For this evening, Chorale Delaware has engaged four outstanding soloists.

The soprano will be Julianne Baird who has both performed and recorded Bach and Handel with world famous conductors. Metropolitan Opera baritone David Arnold, who has made still another career for himself in performing the B Minor Mass, will be on hand. Newark's own Glenda Maurice will be the mezzo-soprano. Jon Humphrey, nationally famous for his choral singing, will be the tenor. As with the other two programs, curtain is at eight.

The music director who has brought all these voices and the Delaware Chamber Symphony together at the Grand is William Owen, organist and choirmaster at Christ Christiana Hundred. He teaches organ at the University of Delaware as well. He was a Fulbright Scholar, attended the Vienna State Academy of Music, Bowdoin College and Harvard University. He also served as research assistant to Aaron Copland.

Season tickets are now on sale and range from $12 and $50.

They may be purchased at the Grand Opera House box office. Single concert tickets are also on sale and range from $5 to $20.

Chorale Delaware celebrates its first birthday by moving its concert season to Wilmington's Grand Opera House. The season begins this Friday night.

Book signing

A book-signing party celebrating recent publications by three University of Delaware authors will be held on Friday, Oct. 16, at the Newark Newsstand, 70 East Main St.

• Dr. Bernard Herman, associate director of the Center for Historic Architecture and Engineering in the College of Urban Affairs and Public Policy, is author of "Architecture and Rural Life in Central Delaware, 1700-1900," published by the University of Tennessee Press. He will sign copies of his book from 11 a.m. to 6 p.m.

• Dr. Helen Gouldner, dean of the College of Arts and Science, is coauthor with Mary Symons Strong, of "Speaking of Friendship: Middle-Class Women and Their Friends," published by Greenwood Press Inc. of Westport Conn. She will autograph copies of her book from noon-1 p.m.

• Dr. Harry L. Shipman, professor of physics and astronomy, is author of "Space 2000: Meeting the Challenge of a New Era," published by Plenum Publishing Corp. in New York. He will sign copies of his book from 1-2 p.m.

With 150 illustrations, "Architecture and Rural Life in Central Delaware, 1700-1900," examines the building and rebuilding cycles in southern New Castle County that reflect the cultural and social changes, of an agrarian community. Herman's study surveys homes from impermanent homes to family "monuments," and out-buildings, tools and documents relating to farm life.

Based on interviews with 75 women, "Speaking of Friendship" is the first in-depth study of the friendships of middle-class American women. The authors trace friendships from their beginnings to fruition, and in some cases to their endings, and reveal the importance women place on friendship.

A consultant to NASA, Shipman, in his book, assesses today's US space program and projects future programs in space. Based on detailed analysis of NASA's plans, he predicts the space projects and challenges that lie ahead.

1,000 pack AI duPont gym as Tiger spikers stop Newark

The Newark High School volleyball team traveled to AI duPont Friday night and lost a very tight match in front of a crowd of more than 1,000 vocal fans. The 13-15, 14-16 result was one that Newark coach Barbara Jo Apichella called "a good argument for best of five (matches)."

"It was definitely the best volleyball I've seen yet from both teams," said Apichella. "I think we learned survival lessons that will be helpful on the way."

The Yellowjackets are now 8-1.

Newark defeated Dickinson earlier in the week, 15-4, 15-6, as Trish Hendricks and Andria Miller combined for 13 service aces. Newark hosted Glasgow Tuesday, and travels to Christiana Friday night to play what is likely to be another well attended match.

On the subject of Christiana, they improved their record to 8-0 by defeating Mt. Pleasant 15-7, 15-2 Wednesday, and beating Glasgow 15-3, 15-9 Friday. Kim Huggins, Rochele Roberts and Micki Hamilton combined for 24 service points against Glasgow, as Krista Kendall had seven kills.

They travel to Brandywine Wednesday before hosting Newark.

Glasgow defeated McKean 15-4, 15-5, on Wednesday. The loss to Christiana makes them 6-2. The Dragons play at Newark Wednesday, and host Delcastle Friday.

St. Mark's upset Ursuline

16-14, 15-9 Sunday in a performance that coach Dave Stover said was "the best we played all year." Danielle O'Brien had 13 service points, and Jess Janicki had eight, while Rhonda Simmons had six kills.

Stover hopes the performance will inspire his team. "This might be the day they turn things around."

Thursday, the Spartans defeated Sanford 15-11, 15-8, as Mia Papas had eight service points. They defeated Dickinson 17-15, 15-9 the next day. Katy Linsay had seven service points. The Spartans travel to Kennett Square, Pa. Tuesday, and host Elkton, Md. Friday.

Hodgson lost to Chichester, Pa. 5-15, 10-15 Tuesday and to St. Andres 3-15, 13-15 Thursday.

Teamwork key to St. Mark's soccer success

by David Woolman

The St. Mark's High School soccer team is undefeated, and it showed why in a strong showing Friday, defeating Friends 5-0.

The Spartans, defending state champions, showed off their balance and depth in the performance. Mike Manelski, the third string goalie, needed only three saves to record the shutout, benefitting from the play of the defense. Five different players scored the goals.

"This is what this team can do when they put two halves together," said coach Tom DeMatteis. "The passing was outstanding."

Also, Manelski's game was an "outstanding effort," according to DeMatteis. "We're really playing as a team; that's the key."

The teamwork kept the ball in the Friends half of the field much of the game. St. Mark's took 41 shots on goal, and made the best of their opportunities.

Mike McFarland started off the scoring in the first half, off an assist from Brian Northy. Less than a minute later, Andy Tarburton chipped one in from five yards out, assisted by Chris Smith.

The second half had Jon Sturmfels get the credit for a goal on a throw in. Sturmfels threw the ball in, and the Friends goalie touched but could not control it. A Friends fullback kicked the ball into the net attempting a clear.

With five minutes remaining, St. Mark's fullback Greg Hall scored his first varsity goal after a direct kick by Sturmfels. Sturmfels got his second assist when Chris Smith kicked one in from the top of the box.

"We're pretty much on a roll now," said Sturmfels. "We're starting to click."

Hall had more to say about the strength and depth of the defense than his goal. "A lot of us have played together for a long time. We know how to work together."

Eric Hedding, the starting goalie up to this point, broke his thumb in practice and will not be back until the last game of the season against Tower Hill. His usual replacement, Chris Faust, has a sprained ankle and is out for a week.

Manelski said he was a little nervous to start, but calmed down in the game. He gave no small credit going to the defense, which he said "controlled everything, and made sure everyone was marked up."

St. Mark's faced Salesianum Tuesday night, Oct. 13 at Baynard Stadium, in what DeMatteis calls "the biggest rivalry in any sport in Delaware." The game was too late for press time.

Earlier in the week, St. Mark's defeated Archmere 6-0 on a school-record five goal performance by Sturmfels. Mike McFarland had the other goal.

Sturmfels minimized his performance, saying it was "a team effort." "We're pulling together real well," he said of the two games.

Saturday, the team beat Caesar Rodney 2-1. Sturmfels scored off an assist by McFarland, and Lacy scored the winning goal, assisted by Sturmfels. Minelski started in goal, but was injured in the first half.

Chris Faust, still troubled with a sprained ankle, came in to play the last three quarters of the game.

Glasgow, Newark fit to be tied

Yellowjackets battle back to tie underdog Dragons, 14-14

by David Woolman

A tie is what you make of it. For the underdog Glasgow High School football team, Saturday's 14-14 standoff with Newark was a chance to show that it has arrived. For the favored Yellowjackets, it was yet another disappointing performance in a troubling year.

"I thought we played a great game," said Glasgow coach Rennie Clements. "We had a good game plan; it worked well."

The tie meant a great deal to Clements. "First of all, it says we're for real this year because Newark is a very good team. Second of all, we only have 11 seniors this year. We're still a young team. A lot of these guys will be back next year."

"The intensity was definitely there," said Glasgow end Lawler Rogers. "Our defense played extremely well."

These factors were reflected most in the hitting. "I knew from the beginning of the game that we could hit with Newark," said Rogers.

"When you hit that hard," said Clements, "you make things happen."

"It was for us a game of futilty," said Newark coach Butch Simpson.

"We have always felt good about getting better as the season goes on, and I don't feel that's happening here," said Simpson. "The response we'd like is not there."

"The problem is we cannot pinpoint one problem and work at it," he continued. "We have developed no consistency in any phase of the game, emotionally or physically."

Neither team showed much consistency on offense in the first quarter, with receivers dropping passes and backs fumbling a number of times.

Newark received the first big break of the day, recovering the ball after a fumble on a punt reception by Glasgow late in the first quarter. The Yellowjackets got the ball on the Glasgow three yard line, but lost the ball two plays later when Glasgow's Stephen Jones pounced on a Newark fumble.

The Dragons could not move the ball on four downs, and a good punt return by Curt Bedford gave Newark the ball on the Glasgow 30 yard line. Halfback Glen Thompson carried the ball four of the next five plays, the last a one yard dive into the end-zone to give Newark its first

Raymond sees Hens making 'great strides'

by David Woolman

There's nothing like a win to change a coach's attitude.

"In this stage of the game, in the condition we've been in, this was a very pleasant experience for our football team," said University of Delaware head coach Tubby Raymond of Saturday's 37-34 win over Massachusetts. "I think we made great strides."

Improvements Raymond noted were the quality of the hitting, the lack of damaging mistakes in the first half, and the poise shown in the final drive that led to Don O'Brien's winning field goal.

O'Brien has been named Yankee Conference and ECAC rookie of the week.

Delaware edges UMass

Hens squander huge lead, rally for 37-34 win

by David Woolman

Homecoming is a time of tradition, but the University of Delaware football team broke with what has become a 1987 tradition in Saturday's game with Massachusetts. The Blue Hens took the lead in the first quarter, something they had yet to do this year.

What's more, they won the game, though it took a field goal by Don O'Brien with seven seconds left to push the Hens over, 37-34.

Another feature unique to the Delaware performance Saturday was the ability to make the big play work for the team instead of against it.

And, finally, the running game got going. Though the ground game managed only 82 yards in the first half, the total at the end of the game was 248 yards. "Our ability to drive the ball in a conventional manner late in the game ended up winning the ball game for us," said Delaware head coach Tubby Raymond.

Raymond was reasonably satisfied with his team's performance. "I thought we hit well for 60 minutes and stayed with it." Considering last week's drubbing at New Hampshire, Tubby said, "I'm extremely pleased that our football team came back and played."

Delaware experienced an early lead for the first time this year, scoring 24 unanswered points in the first 20 minutes of the game. The first score came off an over the shoulder catch by James Anderson of a Sierer floater. O'Brien kicked the first of four point after to give Delaware a 7-0 lead.

An option pitch to running back Randy Holmes accounted for the second touchdown, and another Anderson reception gave the Hens a third. Anderson caught the ball in the air a dozen yards downfield, and was hit by two Massachusetts defensive backs but neither could bring him down and he ran the ball in for the score.

An interception by David Ochs set up O'Brien's first field goal of the game, and all of a sudden the Blue Hens had what appeared to be an insurmountable lead.

Which they soon began to give up. Two possessions later, Massachusetts drove 69 yards in 12 plays for their first touchdown. A pass from quarterback David Palazzi to Dimitri Yavis gave UMass the two-point conversion, and the score stood at 24-8.

The Minutemen took advantage of an interception by John McKeown to build their second drive of the second half, and put another eight points on the board after a touchdown and

Newark soccer team rolls up 8-1 record

The Newark High School soccer team continued its winning ways with three victories this week, raising its record to 8-1.

Monday, the Yellowjackets defeated Wilmington 6-0, as five players scored and four goalies combined for the shutout.

Wednesday, Newark defeated Sanford 1-0, with goalie Kurt Kington getting the shutout. Fullback Davin Rudy scored the goal off an assist by Dan Pelletier, in a game which saw both Rudy and Melvin Heath sustain injuries that forced them out of the game.

Saturday, the Yellowjackets beat North East, Md. 2-0, Kington again getting the shutout. Miles Dean scored with the assist from Gary Hendrixson, and Pelletier scored off an assist from Dean. Newark hosts Dickinson Friday.

Glasgow High School improved its record to 6-3 with two victories this week. The Dragons beat Mt. Pleasant 3-0 Tuesday, and William Penn 2-0 Saturday.

Against Mt. Pleasant, goals were scored by Joe Thiravon, John Thomas and Donny Davis, as Jimmy Kane had two assists, and Scott Mosier had the other. Skip Thorpe had three saves for the shutout.

Glasgow defeated William Penn 2-0 with Mosier scoring off an assist by Davis, and Kane scoring off an assist by Mosier. Thorpe had six saves in the shutout. Glasgow travels to Delcastle Friday.

Goalkeeper Mark Puican had his fifth shutout of the season as Christiana High School defeated William Penn 2-0 Tuesday.

Pat Ward scored off an assist by David Wellborn in the first half. Chris Ashby scored unassisted in the second half.

The Vikings lost to Salesianum 2-0 Thursday. Puican had seven saves. Christiana is now 6-1 in Blue Hen Conference Flight A, 7-2 overall.

The Vikes travel to Mt. Pleasant Thursday.

Caravel Academy lost both of its games this week, 5-0 to Garnett Valley, Pa. Monday and 3-2 to West Nottingham, Md. Thursday. The Bucs travel to Tatnall Wednesday.

Christiana defenders prepare to put the clamps on William Penn halfback Kevin Allen.

Penn tops improving Christiana squad

by David Woolman

Just about the last thing an 0-4 team needs is to play a team that has allowed just 10 points in its first four games. Christiana High School faced this discouraging task Saturday, but went at it with all they had against powerful William Penn.

Though they lost 21-7, the Vikings continued to show signs of improvement.

"I think we played better today than last week," said coach Marty Cross. "Our effort's been there all year. It's just a matter of becoming more experienced."

Christiana took the ball 63 yards on the first possession of the game on the strength of a 19-yard run by Chris Paris and two passes from Kevin Mullins to Karl Hairston for 42 yards. Penn stopped the drive with an interception by Dave Balbach.

The Viking defense held William Penn on fourth down, and the resulting punt gave Christiana the ball on the Penn 45 yard line. They drove the ball to the 17 yard line, but could get no further, and handed the ball to William Penn on downs.

Three plays later, the Colonials' Scott Smith passed to Derrick Chandler on a slant in pattern, and Chandler outran the defense on the right sideline, only to trip on the 9 yard line. Smith found Kevin Allen open on a screen for the touchdown, and Matt Brainard's point after made it 7-0.

The Christiana defense stopped Penn twice deep in Viking territory, while the offense continued to move the ball well, mostly through the air. "I have a lot of confidence in our quarterbacks and our receivers," said Cross.

"I give all the credit to my offensive line," said quarterback Kevin Mullins. "We practiced all week on stopping Charlie Hope and their defensive tackles."

"I'm glad the coach had confidence in us to go to the pass."

The second half began with two fumbles that led to the second William Penn touchdown. Penn received the ball first, but Smith fumbled on a sack and Dan Meadows recovered for Christiana.

The Vikings fumbled the ball two plays later, with Smith recovering and running the ball 47 yards to the Christiana 13 yard line. Two runs by Balbach later, Penn had a 13-0 lead.

Penn opened the fourth quarter by scoring on a 63 yard drive. They faked a kick and scored a two point conversion to make the score 21-0.

Christiana became the first team this season to score on Penn in the second half when they reached the endzone on a three-play drive. A fumble gave the Viking the ball on the Penn 39. Mullins passed to Paris for 30 yards, and then to Craig Hable for seven yards.

Hairston ran the ball in from the two yard line, and after Paris' point after, Christiana was on the board.

The Vikings threatened again with two minutes remaining, driving the ball 40 yards before giving it up on downs on the Penn 37 yard line.

Drek Shaw gains 100 yards, but Caravel loses 6-0

Caravel Academy played tough both offensively and defensively, but just barely lost to Oxford, Pa. 6-0 last weekend.

"I was very happy with my kids," said coach Bill DiNardo. "They played an excellent game."

The offense had the ball deep inside Oxford territory three times, but failed to score. Drek Shaw ran for more than 100 yards for the third straight game.

Oxford began their drive for the touchdown with four minutes remaining in the game, "ruining a super day by our defense," said DiNardo. The Bucs' Chris Harris had 17 tackles total, and Juan Carter had 15 tackles total. Rich Zoeltch had two sacks, and blocked a field goal.

Caravel travels to Vally Forge, Pa. Saturday.

Hodgson was defeated 27-6 by Tatnall, the lone touchdown being scored by runningback Tez Livley set up by a forty yard pass from Wayne Wilson to Charlie Rouse. They play at the RCA School Friday.

St. Mark's traveled to Dover Friday night, and was defeated 16-7. The touchdown was scored on a run by Ken Testa. The 0-5 Spartans travel to Elkton, Md. Saturday.

BUY A

A heat pump can keep your house warm in winter and cool in summer while saving you money all year long. Even on the coldest winter day, there is some warm air outside. A heat pump finds this warm air and draws it inside your home. Adding a heat pump to your fossil fuel furnace helps it work more efficiently. And because a heat pump reduces your furnace's work load, it helps your heater last longer.

So no matter how cold it gets, a heat pump helps keep the temperature up and your heating bills down. And in summer, by reversing this process, the heat pump cools your home as effectively as central air conditioning. That's why installing a heat pump is the best choice to keep your home comfortable throughout the year. For a free heat pump information brochure, call your local Delmarva Power office today. Yvonne Purnell, St. Mark's goalie, sets the defense before Ursuline penalty stroke.

Spartan hockey team falls

Ursuline scores in waning moments to break scoreless tie

by David Woolman

St. Mark's High School hosted Ursuline in field hockey Thursday, and both teams spent 58 minutes running up and down the field to no avail. Then with just two minutes remaining in the game, Ursuline's Jacqui Ruston got free in the crease and scored the only goal of the game, as Ursuline won 1-0.

It was "a carbon copy of the first game we played against them," said St. Mark's coach Bill Eichinger, referring to an earlier St. Mark's-Ursuline contest which was also a tight, defensive game.

"We put a lot of pressure on their goal," Eichinger said. "We spent a good amount of time in their circle but couldn't get it in."

"We made a couple of mistakes, and they took advantage."

The first half featured good defense by both teams, and some sharp passing by the Spartans, but no real opportunities for either squad. The best chance in the half came on a breakaway by St. Mark's Lynn Deck which was broken up by the Ursuline defense.

Ten minutes into the second half, St. Mark's sweeper Suzanne Yourinson made a good save on a hard shot close in. "It got behind (goalie) Yvonne (Purnell). I just flicked it out."

With 12 minutes remaining in the game, St. Mark's Sara Turnbull received a cross from Suzanne Song a few feet from the goal and took a shot which was blocked, but a penalty stroke was ordered. Turnbull could not convert.

"We played a better game there," said Deck, referring to the first game with Ursuline. "They've improved a lot," added Yourinson.

"The effort was there," said Eichinger. "Nobody gave up." The team traveled to Archmere last Tuesday, playing to a 1-1 tie. Archmere scored its goal in the first half. Turnbull scored off an assist by Caryn Welsko in the second half.

Eichinger said the team was flat in the first half, but played much better in the second half. He said that offense has been a problem for his team, as they scored one goal in their past three games.

Offense continued to be a problem for the team Saturday, as it lost to Brandywine 2-0. "The defense played pretty well," said Eichinger. "Offensively, we're still not doing what we have to do to score."

The Spartans host Kennett Square, Pa. Monday and Tatnall Thursday, and travel to Elkton, Md. Friday.

Newark's Wisniewski records shutouts

The Newark High School field hockey team recorded two shutouts last week, improving its record to 4-1 overall and 2-1 in Blue Hen Conference Flight A.

The Yellowjackets topped Dickinson 1-0 and Delcastle 3-0. Suzanne Sysko scored unassisted off a corner shot in the Dickinson game. Sysko scored three more the same way against Delcastle. Goalie Pam Wisniewski stopped every shot sent her way.

Newark plays at Wilmington Wednesday, and hosts Middletown Friday.

Glasgow High School lost to William Penn 1-0 before winning two other games later in the week. The Dragons topped Claymont 2-1 and Dover 3-1, to boost their record to 2-3-3.

Regina Foreman scored both goals, one unassisted, in the Claymont game. Lisa Zasowski assisted on the second goal.

The Dragons took the measure of Dover as Foreman, Jean Nolan and Laura Mazza had the goals. Nolan, Zasowski, and Donna James had the assists.

Glasgow hosts Middletown Wednesday, and travels to Delcastle Friday.

Caravel Academy notched two ties this week, 2-2 against Sanford Tuesday and 0-0 against Archmere Friday. Lisa Costonzo and Melanie Corrie had the goals in the Sanford game. Now 0-3-2, the Bucs play at Tatnall Tuesday and host Pauda Friday.

HENS/from 1b

two-point conversion.

Delaware stopped the bleeding by taking the next drive 58 yards to set up O'Brien's second field goal, and push the lead up 27-16. The Hens took their next drive 71 yards on 14 plays and scored their fourth touchdown of the day three minutes into the fourth quarter. Delaware now had a 34-16 lead. And again they could not hold it.

A game UMass team scored on its next possession, and converted another two points after the touchdown to draw within ten points. Delaware could do nothing on the next drive and decided to punt. Long snap center Ken Truitt was out with a sprained ankle, so Chris Coyne stayed in to snap, and sent the ball over Slerer's head and into the endzone where Delaware recovered for a safety.

Massachusetts took the next possession inside the Delaware 20 yard line and faked a field goal, as holder Trifani ran the ball in for the touchdown. Massachusetts' fourth two-point conversion of the game tied the score at 34 with 5:33 remaining in the game.

One minute and two turnovers later, Delaware began a drive on its own 40 yard line that brought the Hens to the Massachusetts 11 yard line with seven seconds remaining. O'Brien went out to attempt a field goal that would tie a stadium record for field goals in a game if it were good, and give O'Brien seven scores on the day.

Massachusetts called time out. Just what O'Brien wanted. "I like the extra time to go out there and go through my steps a few times and make everything consistent. I'm glad they did it."

And O'Brien proceeded to make the Hens 2-3.

Outside of the safety, Delaware avoided giving up the big play, as Massachusetts scored on extended drives. "We didn't let them do that today," said defensive end John Levelis.

"The intensity was incredible before the game," said Levelis. "It was mostly a feeling of disgust. We're sick of losing."

Thus, alumni in for homecoming saw the team resurrect another Delaware football tradition — winning.

Delaware halfback Shawn Kelly bolts up the middle.

TIE/from 1b

score. The point after try by Brian LeFevre was wide, leaving Newark a 6-0 lead.

Glasgow quarterback Matt Olson drove his team 70 yards — mostly on his own effort — in Glasgow's next possession, running twice and passing four times to tie the game. Glasgow scored on a shovel pass to Sean Lea, who ran 30 yards into the endzone. Bob Arehart converted the extra point to give Glasgow a 7-6 lead.

Fumbles and penalties marked the next few possessions for both teams, as neither could get anything going from midfield. Finally, Olson and end Kris Hull broke it open with a 50 yard touchdown play. Hull caught a quick out pass, turned the corner and ran over 40 yards for the score. Arehart's point after was good, and Glasgow now led 14-6.

On the first play of the next series, Newark quarterback Bob Sonchen was hit while preparing to throw and fumbled. Glasgow's Jones again recovered.

With time running short in the half, Arehart attempted a field goal after three downs. The 45 yard try was no good, and the half ended soon after.

Newark received the ball first in the second half, and drove 66 yards for a touchdown. A diving catch by LeFevre on a 29 yard pass from Sonchen capped the drive. Sonchen found Ted Rafterovich open in the endzone, and completed the pass for the two point conversion that tied the game at 14 at 9:16 of the third quarter.

Glasgow had a difficult time moving the ball in the second half, partially because Newark began to contain Olson's sprint out passes, forcing him into a less productive dropback approach to passing.

"They were starting to get better coverage on short patterns," said Olson. "We started to go dropback. We figured we'd get the tight end across the middle more."

As it worked out, most of the passes across the middle were unsuccessful, causing the Dragon offense to stagnate.

Newark had a number of chances, particularly when a personal foul on a punt return gave them the ball on the Glasgow 40 yard line. A penalty against Newark brought back a 35 yard pass to Leshawn Washington, and put the 'Jackets in a hole from which they could not escape on that drive.

Newark received a break on their next possession when a roughing the kicker penalty sustained a drive. But the effort ended when LeFevre missed to the left on a 41 yard field goal try.

Glasgow put together a 59 yard drive on the next possession, but Arehart's 38 yard field goal attempt was short. This gave Newark the ball on their own 20 yard line with 1:30 left in the game.

Newark moved the ball to the Glasgow 29 yard line, but could move no further.

"If we don't get any better, we've had our win for the year," Simpson said.

W&amp;M/from 1b

With a win tucked away, Delaware must now pack its bags for an away game with William and Mary, which split a pair of games with Delaware last year. The Indians won the first 24-18, but were clobbered 51-17 by the Blue Hens in the first round of the NCAA I-AA championship tournament last fall.

William and Mary is currently 2-3 after losing to Yale 40-34 last week.

According to Raymond, a number of last year's starters return for William and Mary, including most of the offensive line. The two wide receivers, Harry Mehre and Dave Szydlak, also return. "Mehre is as good as we will see. He runs real well," said Raymond.

The Indians have installed an I-formation offense, and run the option more than in previous seasons. Also, the defense has been altered and now operates with a four-man front.

"We've been kind of up and down this year," said William and Mary coach Jimmie Laycock.

"We're a very different football team without Kenny Lambiotte and Michael Clemmons," he said, referring to last year's star quarterback and running back, both of whom graduated. "Defensively, we still are very sporadic."

"Delaware is kind of like us," said Laycock. "They have new people in important positions."

DOLLARS AND SENSE

By Charles E. Kennard

Question: I am married with two children and wonder whether it is necessary for my wife and I to have to a Will since most of our assets are held jointly.

Answer: The main point of making a Will is not a remembrance of things past but avoiding future problems. A Will is the vehicle necessary to make sure your assets are distributed the way you want them to be. A Will can apportion your assets according to what you see as your family's needs or merits instead of following a legal formula (interstate laws) that would prescribe how your property would be distributed. You are correct that property held jointly does pass by operation of law to the surviving spouse. Your Will will only dispose of property held in your sole name. Other kinds of property such as life insurance and property held in trust also pass according to their own provisions. It is still important, however, to have a Will in order to make provisions for your children in the event of a simultaneous death. A guardian should be named and trusts should be considered for the management of your assets for the benefit of your children. Other factors that must be considered when drafting your Will are: choosing an estate administrator, and letters of instruction for specific bequests. Everyone wants a simple Will. But a simple Will may not be enough if your estate is large and if you own a substantial amount of life insurance. We suggest you meet with a financial planner to discuss your estate planning goals and objectives as part of your overall financial plan.
