In spite of the fact that practically all of the students of Delaware College have scattered to ship yard, farm, or training camp, officials of Delaware College are looking forward to the greatest commencement in the history of the institution. Many departures from the customs of past years are noted on the program. For the first time the exercises are held at the week-end, for the greater convenience of alumni and out of town visitors; for the first time women will be graduated from the state college; and for the first time an ex-president of the United States will speak at the commencement exercises.

The series of events opens with Farmers' Day at the College Farm, as announced in another column. Speakers of national prominence the community is most cordially invited to share this pleasing feature.

The Sunday services to be held in Wolf Hall are planned to be in every sense community services. The churches of the town have been invited to unite, suspending for the day their usual services. R. P. Koehler, principal of the Newark Schools, is organizing a chorus from the choirs of the various churches who will render a number of anthems and lead the singing. Honorable Josiah Wolcott, U. S. Senator from Delaware, will be the morning speaker, and the Right Rev. Frederick J. Kinsman, Bishop of Delaware, will deliver the sermon in the evening.

WILLIAM H. TAFT

are included on the program. Class Day exercises at the Women's College which follow the program at the Farm, promise to add color to the exercises and afford one of the most pleasing features of commencement week. The program includes the "Ivy Planting" ceremony; a Daisy Chain procession; and the "Color Ceremony." Dr. and Mrs. Mitchell will receive the graduates and their friends following these exercises at "The Knoll." Invitations have been extended to friends of the colleges and citizens of the community through the churches and the press. In the evening at eight o'clock there will be college singing on the terrace at the Women's College, and again

Catholic Festival Announced

DR. ANNA H. SHAW

On Monday morning at ten thirty on the campus, commencement exercises of Delaware College will be held. A class of thirty will be graduated at the time, many of the men, however, being already in active service. The diplomas awarded to these will be received by members of their families. Honorable William H. Taft, will deliver the address. As a compliment to the distinguished visitor, the merchants of Newark will close their stores from 10.30 to 12.30. This action is the result of a committee of merchants, led by J. R. Chapman.

Exercises will be held at the Women's College in the afternoon, when degrees will be conferred upon thirty young women. Dr. Anna Howard Shaw, writer, lecturer, publicist of international reputation, will address the graduates.

Services at Head of Christiana
Rev. Walter Clyde will preach at the Head of Christiana Church next Sunday at 2.45. His subject will be "The Missing Mark." Sunday School will be held at 1.45.

BANK BUYS PURE BRED CALVES

To be Sold to Boys and Girls of the Community

The Farmers' Trust Company of Newark is laying plans to bring in from Michigan a car load of six months old pure bred heifer calves and distribute them among the boys and girls of the county between the ages of 12 and 21 years. The Bank is carrying out this project cooperatively with State Club Leader Theodore T. Martin and County Agent R. O. Bausman.

It is the plan to bring in calves that are not only pure bred, but calves that are backed by high records on both the sire and dam's side. The calves will be bred similar to the cows that were imported into the county in March and will be the type that will form the foundation for a pure bred herd. Six months old calves of this class will cost from $75 to $100 with transportation cost of $6 or $7. The calves will be put out to the boys and girls at cost.

It is the plan that the boy own his own calf and the bank will arrange this for him. The bank will take his note with security and the boy can pay for the calf as conditions permit.

This car load of calves will be shipped in the latter part of June. Boys and girls who are interested in this project will please get in touch with Treasurer H. E. Vinsinger, State Club Leader T. T. Martin, or County Agent R. O. Bausman at once. These persons can be phoned or written to at Newark.

Returns from France

Mrs. Clifford J. Sawdon has been notified of the return of her husband, Lieutenant Sawdon, in the Aviation Section, Signal Corps, who is now recovering from the rigors of military service in France. He is at present in a New York hospital.

SCHOOL CHILDREN PARADE ON MEMORIAL DAY

CARRY FLAGS AND FLOWERS

Rev. Frank Herson Delivers the Address

School children over four hundred strong, each carrying an American flag, and laden with flowers, formed an impressive procession on Memorial Day. After visiting the Episcopal cemetery and strewing flowers on the graves of the soldier dead, the procession moved to the M. E. Cemetery where the exercises for the day were held. Mr. Koehler, principal of the Newark schools, led the patriotic songs which were sung.

Richard Buckingham, commander of Reynolds Post, No. 9, presided. Following a prayer for the defense of our armies and the rededication of the American people, by the Rev. W. J. Rowan, of the Newark Presbyterian Church, the Rev. Frank Herson of the M. E. Church, delivered the Memorial Day address. Mr. Herson said:

"I believe that if the German hordes could hear the singing of these children, and hear the words they sing, they would realize how terribly futile their efforts are going to be. This is a new Memorial Day. We have been accustomed on such occasions to looking backward, and thinking of great deeds that have been done. This morning while we shall think a little of these things, we shall remember, too, the great deeds that are now taking place on the battlefield. There is in our hearts a great note of thankfulness for those men who stood between the living and the dead when the fate of this nation was at stake; when brother fought brother. They counted their lives as little. They stood for the freedom that this nation has always been anxious to obtain; for the freedom that it is striving today to obtain. These men have answered the last roll call; they have laid the rifle and sword away, and are at rest. It is a blessing that we have still a few of these veterans, as an inspiration, spared to us. We are thankful today that we are a united nation. We are not thinking of the old days with hatred in our hearts. We know that

DRAFTED MEN TO TRAIN HERE

Two Hundred to Arrive July First

Two hundred drafted men will arrive in Newark July first, to be trained at Delaware College, in engineering repair work and "Buzzer" classes. The school will be in charge of Dean A. R. Cullimore, released from Washington for the purpose, and will continue for eight weeks. A second contingent, according to a telegram received by Dr. Mitchell this week will arrive on September first. One hundred twenty four of the men will be quartered at The Army, and eighty two in the College gymnasium. Meals will be served to all at "The Commons." The men will be instructed in automobile, electrical and mechanical repair work. Class will be held in the Shops at Delaware College, and in no way interfere with the Summer School for teachers which opens July 8th, and centers at the Women's College. The men will be under their regular officers, and the school conducted on a strict military basis.

NEWARK CENTER TO ORGANIZE

Farm Bureau Meeting at Welsh Tract

A meeting of the Newark Center of the New Castle County Farm Bureau will be held at Welsh Tract schoolhouse on Wednesday evening, June 12, at 8 o'clock. The purpose of the meeting is to elect a permanent chairman and secretary. Mr. Bausman, Farm Agent for New Castle county, and Miss Blodgett, State Leader of Home Demonstration Work, will be at the meeting. A full attendance is requested.

COUNCIL TRANS. ACTS BUSINESS

Concrete to Replace Flagstones

Council met in special session last Monday evening, only items of routine business being transacted. The treasurer's report showed interest on bonds amounting to $843.75, paid June first. Receipts to June 3rd, amounted to $3,221.27, which after payment of May bills, left a balance on hand of $995.14. Bills ordered paid on Monday amounted to $928.96, and the sum of $1000 was borrowed for 60 days, until taxes are due next month.

It was announced at the meeting that Delaware College has agreed to remove the flagstone in front of the new College dormitory as soon as possible. A concrete pavement will also be laid in front of Dr. Mitchell's residence on South College Avenue.

The secretary was instructed to request the Sewer Commission to forward its final report.

SCHOOLS CLOSE FRIDAY

Pupils Taking Standard Tests

Examinations are being held in the Newark Public Schools this week. The questions used in a number of the grades are standard tests used throughout the country, upon which good averages are available, enabling the teachers to determine the relative efficiency of the work in the local school. Grades will be given in the elementary and grammar grades on Friday; in the High School on Monday.

Owing to the fact that the standard of the school has been raised one year, no class will be graduated this June, and there will be no closing exercises. Twenty pupils enrolled in the junior class, upon their successful completion of the year's work will make up the Senior Class of next year.

Many pupils of the school are enrolling for work in the Demonstration School to be held at Wolf Hall, under the principalship of Mr. Koehler, for six weeks, beginning July eighth. The school is attracting wide attention and inquiries are received daily from parents relative to enrollment of children.

BAZAAR AT HOCKESSIN

Fort DuPont Band to Play During the Evening

A patriotic bazaar, for the benefit of the Hockessin branch of the American Red Cross, will be given next Wednesday, afternoon and evening of June 12th, at the home of Alfred W. Walker, Little Baltimore, one mile west of Hockessin. Sandwiches and coffee will be on sale after five o'clock. There will be fancy booths, and ice cream and cake will be sold. Music will be furnished during the evening by the well known Fort duPont band.

Hockessin has a live Red Cross, and the occasion promises to be a splendid success. Motor parties will receive a cordial welcome. If stormy the bazaar will be held the following evening.

Wedding Invitations Out

Invitations are out for the wedding of Miss Edythe Whittingham and Lieutenant Frank Homewood Dean, U. S. Navy, in the St. Thomas P. E. Church on Saturday, June 22nd, at four o'clock. Admission will be by card only.

Farmers' Day Next Saturday

Statewide Interests Represented

Demonstrations and Speeches Arranged by the Committee

Saturday is Farmers' Day at the College Farm. The day this year promises to be different from any heretofore, different in that the Pomona Grange of New Castle County will co-operate with the College in entertaining the farmers of the state, and different, too, in that this year for the first time in the history of Delaware the executive committees of the Farm Bureaus of the three counties will meet in joint session at the Farm, to consider ways and means for the welfare of agriculture in Delaware.

Instead of issuing the Farmers' Day Guide as heretofore, Professors McCue and Grantham have prepared a number of charts, showing the most important results obtained in a number of long period experiments, carried on during the last ten years. These results have to do with the maintenance of fertility under different conditions, the effect of nitrogen, phosphorus and potassium when applied to different crops on a rotation, and other similar experiments.

Dr. F. A. Hays who has charge of the investigation work in live stock, will show in a very striking manner, results obtained in feeding tomato waste and garbage to pigs. There will be a live stock parade at noon. Animals will be shown that have been produced with the same line of breeding that produced a $7000 bull, a $1000 bull, and a $1750 cow as recently sold from the College herd.

At noon there will be a basket (Continued on Page 4)

RETURNS FROM BAZAAR

One Hundred Forty Dollars Cleared

Members of the Red Cross Committee, who assisted at the Bazaar held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Thomas last Saturday evening, report a splendid response on the part of townspeople. With the great Red Cross drive completed only a week previously, over $200 was taken in on Saturday. Over $140 will be added, as a result, to the local treasury. The ladies asked for a silver offering at the gate. Dancing to music furnished by the Newark Band, and pool and billiards provided the entertainment for the evening. Ice cream, cake and cones were sold.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas, members of the band and the Red Cross committee are to be complimented for their leadership in the movement.

WHAT THE DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE IS DOING

Little Items about Big War Jobs That are Helping American Farmers to Feed Nations

Millions of dollars worth of food and clothing intended for use overseas and stored in the Government warehouse at the Bush Terminals, New York, will be protected from damage by insects through arrangements whereby the War Department will use the knowledge on stored-product insects in the possession of the Department of Agriculture. The stored supplies originated in all parts of the world and are likely to contain insects that will multiply and cause great damage in storage, particularly during the summer. To search out and treat infestations in the early stages may save millions of dollars. Dr. E. A. Back of the Bureau of Entomology has been placed in charge of the work in cooperation with the War Department.

A new strain of asparagus that is larger, more uniform and more productive than the old varieties and in addition is highly disease resistant, has been developed through ten years of work by J. B. Norton, a plant breeder in the Bureau of Plant Industry, who introduced, tested and hybridized asparagus from all parts of the world. Introduction of the new strain is expected eventually to stamp out the "rust," a destructive disease that swept over the country a few years ago. Commercial quantities of the new type recently sold in Washington, D. C., for more than double the price of other asparagus.

Additional help to harvest the wheat in the central western States will be supplied by an army of workmen moving from Texas to North Dakota with the season of harvest. Definite plans for distribution of this labor have been made by the Department of Agriculture's farm help specialists cooperating with the Department of Labor and with county agents in these wheat-producing States. It is estimated that 80,000 men will be needed to harvest the wheat crop in Kansas; and that about 50,000 of this number will be furnished by the towns and cities of that State while the remainder will go into Kansas from Oklahoma and Texas when the wheat harvest is finished in these States.

Forty-seven additional veterinarians making a total of seventy, have recently been detailed by the Bureau of Animal Industry to protect horses, which are being transported for war purposes, from influenza, distemper or shipping fever, diseases which have caused enormous losses.

In cooperation with the Signal Corps, United States Army, the Weather Bureau is providing for and maintaining for the duration of the war aerological and meteorological observations at a number of aviation and artillery fields. For use at these fields tables of mean values of atmospheric pressure, temperature and density and a paper on "Meteorology and Aeronautics" have been published.

over there, the secretary of the navy of that country proposed to the German government, a few years ago, a naval holiday. The taxes to maintain the British navy were enormous; people staggered under the load. Affairs were even worse in Germany. Isn't there a possibility of these two great naval powers declaring a naval holiday, the secretary asked; can we not have an era of good feeling and peace between two people?

"You know how they scorned it; how they went on in mad haste to increase the fleet; how they nourished the hellish hate down in their hearts. If they had been looking for freedom, or anxious for the peace that their emperor says he was looking for, this proposal would have been seized upon, and not rejected."

"But Germany has not been content with the place she had in the sun. Any man, sane and sensible, will not try to break down the place the German people had gained in the world. And back of the German people was the wealth of their nation. Were an American to attempt to use his government as the German was permitted to do, he would be placed under lock and key. But not content with what they had, they looked for more. Looking to the new world, the one dream of Germany has been the dream of expansion. Longingly she has turned her eyes westward. Longingly she has looked forward to the day when she should lay her hands upon the western hemisphere. It became a question then, of fighting yonder or of fighting here; of standing there with the democracies of Great Britain and France or fighting here alone. That thing, that militarism, that dream of expansion, must perish from the world forever. The principles of democracy must live, they are the rights of nations, for if these things should go into the dust, the world goes with them, and slavery will be all that we know."

"Let each one of us, at this hour, dedicate ourselves to this great burden. I know you are being asked for money, here, there, and everywhere. But it's a thousand times more pleasant to give than to have it dragged from us. Remember it isn't simple men, munitions, and money, it is not because we are wealthy, and a great prosperous power that we shall triumph. These things cannot win for us. There must be something else if the conflict is to be decided for us. Every nation engaged has lived as though God were not. This nation has been going the way of the others. Let us call a halt; let us spend a few minutes in contemplation. Are we a righteous people? Are we Godlike? Are we anxious for the better things to come? Get a little bit closer to the God of battles, the God of this nation. Get a little closer in a bond of fellowship, and God shall bless our cause."

Following Mr. Herson's address the children sang the National anthem, waving with great vim the starry flag as they sang out the words, "and the Star Spangled Banner in triumph shall wave, O'er the land of the free and the home of the brave."

A feature of the exercises was the singing of The Battle Hymn of the Republic by Grothman.

DEMAND FOR WHEAT ABROAD INCREASES

American Farmers Urged to Give Up Every Grain in Warehouses.

So great has become the European demand for flour that the Food Administration is urging farmers not to hold wheat for seedling their next crop except in a few states where the period of harvesting winter wheat overlaps the period of planting.

While it has been the practice in many communities for farmers to hold over wheat for seed, the Food Administration regards it as unnecessary. It is almost beyond belief that in any part of the country the yield from the next harvest will be insufficient to meet all seed requirements for the succeeding crop. It has never failed in the past; there is no reason to believe it will now. In some sections conditions are such that it would be practically impossible to put in a successful crop except with seed that had been held over from the previous year. The Food Administration recognizes these conditions, however, and applies its requests only to those sections where the only reason for holding over wheat would be to protect against the possibility of failure of the crop now growing—a contingency which at present seems very remote.

Even should there be local crop failures, it would be entirely feasible to ship in from other sections seed that is known to be adapted to conditions ruling in the afflicted communities.

Never before has there been such urgent need for wheat. Every ear of wheat, every bushel and every grain that can possibly leave the farm may within the next few months play an important part in our war program. Throughout the country millions of people are cutting their consumption to the barest minimum, many of them going entirely without wheat. The release of thousands of bushels ordinarily held for seed would do much to relieve the present situation and to insure exportation conditions.

At the present rate of consumption each bushel would provide bread for at least one soldier in Europe until the next harvest relieves the necessity for such individual sacrifice at home. And with every indication of bumper crops the wheat seed can easily be thrown on the market.

HOW TO GET SUGAR

FOR PRESERVING

Plan of Distribution, It is Hoped, Will Prevent Temporary Shortage.

The submarine has forced fighting Europe to a very strict sugar ration and compelled America to look the situation squarely in the face. There is only so much sugar, there are certain definite needs, and the problem before us is finding a practical plan of distribution. The Food Administration has adopted a certificate system to meet the household needs during the coming fruit season, and to guard against temporary shortages that may occur if more vessels are diverted from the Cuban trade.

The consumer is asked to estimate his needs and fill out a certificate which will be furnished him by his grocer. The dealer is required to forward his certificate to the Federal Food Administrator within one week after it is turned in to him.

This plan puts the question up to the individual, and the Food Administration asks the assistance of every householder in bringing about a practical distribution. The success of the plan depends on the good sense and good will of the American citizen. Cooperation, prompt action, and a democratic sense of fair play will prevent a sugar shortage in America during the fruit season.

DELAWARE FARM LABOR BUREAU

What It Is and How It Works

Early in April, the State Defense Council realized that to enable the farmers of Delaware to produce the maximum amount of food, some steps must be taken to furnish them with help at the critical times of seeding and harvesting. In consequence a joint meeting was called of representatives of the State Council of Defense, together with Mr. Armstrong, then Director of the Boys Working Reserve; Mr. Charles Warner, Director of the U. S. Public Service Reserve; Messrs. Saylor and Benckhard of the U. S. Employment Service in Delaware; and Mr. M. O. Pence, State Leader of County Agents, who it was felt could speak more authoritatively of farm conditions than any other man in the State.

At this first meeting tentative plans were drawn up for the organization of the Delaware Farm Labor Bureau. Later these plans were practically all approved by the State Defense Council and the Delaware Farm Labor Bureau became an active organization on May 13, and is today doing much to supply a part of the 4000 farm laborers, which the survey, taken through the schools early this spring, proved to be the need of the farmers of this state, if they are to produce a maximum amount of food this crop season.

The organization of the Delaware Farm Labor Bureau consists of a combination of the agencies which can supply labor, together with a series of offices, one in each county, which were established for the purpose of collecting the demands of the farmers for help, and to serve as a place where a farmer could go and make arrangements and explain his need for any particular kind of farm help. The three agencies which are supplying farm labor in the state consist of the U. S. Boys Working Reserve; the U. S. Public Service Reserve; and the U. S. Employment Service, all of which have an office in Wilmington. The U. S. Boys Working Reserve has about three hundred High School boys between the ages of 16 and 21 years, who will work on the farms of the state during the summer vacation. The U. S. Public Service Reserve has enrolled a large amount of short time help in the towns of the state. It has persuaded many factory owners to grant extra long vacations to employees, who will spend these vacations working on a farm, and it further plans to enroll town men of former farm experience for short time work in the harvest fields. The U. S. Employment Service is supported by the National Government and it hires men for all branches of Government work including Agriculture. Its services are free to both employer and employee. These three agencies are now united under one direction, for the purpose of supplying farm help, in the Old Federal Building at 6th and King Streets, Wilmington, Delaware. Therefore all the help made available by them can be drawn on immediately by the Secretary of the Delaware Farm Labor Bureau, who received the requests for help which come from farmers throughout the state through the local offices in each county. These local county officers are in charge of the County Agents and are located in Sussex County, at Georgetown with County Agent Kauffman in charge; in Kent County, at Dover with County Agent Zimmerly in charge; in New Castle County at the Old Federal Building, Wilmington, with Mr. Ryan in charge. The office of County Agent Bausman at Newark also serves as a local branch of this organization. A farmer sends in a request for help to his County office from which it is forwarded to the Secretary the Wilmington office, who then obtains a man from either the U. S. Employment Service, the U. S. Public Service Reserve or the U. S. Boys Working Reserve.

How the Delaware Farm Labor Bureau Works

The following is a typical illustration of the way in which the Delaware Farm Bureau operates to supply help to the farmers of the state:

Mr. S. H. Green of Wyoming, Delaware, is right in the midst of corn planting when one of his hired men is drafted. Immediately he thinks of a card, which he has received a few days before from the Delaware Farm Labor Bureau, which was to be filled out by him in case he needed help. After searching around he finds the card and fills it out, indicating the kind of help which he wants, the time when he wants it, and the wages which he will pay if the man is satisfactory. He mails this card in an envelope, which requires no postage, to his County Agent, Mr. Zimmerly, at Dover. Mr. Zimmerly notes the request and immediately forwards it to Mr. Ryan, the Secretary of the Delaware Farm Labor Bureau at the Wilmington office. Mr. Ryan consults his file and find that the U. S. Employment Service has three men in the office that particular morning who are looking for farm work. He calls these men in and looks them over and picks out one of them. He tells this man to take the 3.45 Delaware Road train for Wyoming, and then he calls up Mr. Green by telephone and tells him that he has sent a man who will reach Wyoming at 5.30 o'clock that evening and requests him to meet this man at the station.

News Items From the Women's College

The chief event of the week to all students of the Women's College was the beginning of finals on Saturday. They will last until next Friday, when Commencement exercises will begin.

The delightful surprise of the week came on Monday evening when Mrs. A. D. Warner visited the college and had dinner with the Seniors. In the evening she had a meeting with them in which she gave them a Student Government table and seven chairs for the Board to use in meeting. The Seniors are to present the table to the college. They had wanted to make a Student Government table their parting gift, but decided to buy Liberty Bonds for the College instead. Now thanks to the thoughtful kindness of Mrs. Warner the girls can realize their first ambition.

In spite of the rain Saturday two delightful little affairs were given. Miss Mary Mitchell, president of the Freshman class, entertained her fellow classmates at a garden party on the lawn of her home. The same afternoon Miss Churchman took the Senior girls on a picnic in the woods, where they feasted and frolicked until late in the evening. Saturday evening Dr. Foster read War Poetry to the Social Service class. He said that in the first month of the war, millions of poems were produced and they had been coming ever since. These were mainly of four kinds—narrative poems, patriotic poems, poems of pathos, and poems of hope. He read a few of the best from each group.

The results of this week's elections is as follows:

Officers on the annual associate editors: Misses Kathryn Robbins, Lillian Butz, Nellie Campbell.

Assistant Business Manager—Misses Anna Beebe and Helen Bishop.

Junior Class Representative on Student Board—Miss Alice Anna Rouse.

Officers of incoming Sophomore class: President, Miss Agnes Fowler; vice president, Marie LeCates; secretary, Edna Pratt; treasurer, Margaret Groves; secretary of Student Government, Miss Anna Beebe.

Monday was Red Cross Day in chapel and Miss Beckett took charge. Reprints were made by various chairmen and the college proved that it had done a fair amount of work. $478 was given in the last drive, nearly 200 articles had been knitted besides surgical supplies made. Eight girls completed the course in Surgical Dressings. They are Misses Edwina Long, Anna Beckett, Emily Frazer, Elizabeth Houston, Kathryn Jackson, Margaret Gray, Alice Roop, Bertha Welcome.

Sunday evening the Young Women's Christian Association meeting was devoted to Social Service work. Miss Helen Bancroft was the leader. The leaders for Eight Weeks Clubs were given their commission. The girls who will lead Eight Weeks Clubs are Misses Mary J. Wright, Helen Bancroft, Marie LeCates, Mary Evans. The names of the delegates to Eagles were announced: Miss Helen Mackey, Madge Nickerson, Bernice Hastings, Helen Bancroft, Pauline Marvil Marie LeCates, Alice Roop, Agnes Fowler.

FARMERS DAY NEXT SATURDAY

Luncheon at which the College will furnish ice cream and coffee. Sandwiches and other refreshments can be purchased on the grounds.

The "past prail" exercises will begin at one o'clock. Horace L. Dilworth, master of the State Grange, will preside. Dr. Mitchell, president of the College, will extend the greetings of the College to the guests of the day. Mr. Kegley, lecturer of the National Grange from Michigan, will make an address. Mr. Kegley has given thought to the agricultural questions of the day and comes well prepared and is a pleasing speaker. Farmers of the State are fortunate in being able to hear him.

The National Council of Defense is sending to Delaware for the occasion one of its best speakers in Dr. J. A. B. Scherer, president of the Institute of Technology at Pasadena, California. Dr. Scherer is a student of note, who has given a great deal of thought and study to national and international questions. As a member of the National Council of Defense he has traveled extensively over this country and Europe during the present crisis. He is sure to bring a message that Delaware will be glad to hear. A record breaking crowd is anticipated.

PROMINENT SPEAKER AT FARMERS' DAY

Closely in Touch With all Parts of the Nation

Among prominent speakers who will take part in the Farmers' Day exercises at the College Farm on Saturday, June 8, is Dr. J. A. Scherer, special travel representative of the National Council of Defense. Dr. Scherer is a capital speaker with a fund of information gathered in conferences with State Defense Councils in every section of the country. A native of Salisbury, North Carolina, he was graduated from Roanoke College, Virginia, in 1890. He received the degree of A. M. at Roanoke in 1895, the degree of Ph.D. at Pennsylvania College in 1897, and the degree of H. D. from the University of South Carolina in 1905. From 1904 to 1908 he was president of Newberry College, South Carolina. Since 1908 he has been president of Throop College of Technology, Pasadena, Calif. In June, 1914, he was lecturer on the Garton Foundation at Oxford and Cambridge Universities, with the subject, "Economic Causes in the American Civil War."

He is author of several volumes on Japan and of a book published in 1916, "Cotton as a World Power."

Since June, 1917, he has been chief travel representative of the Council of National Defense, going about from State to State to study and discuss and stimulate the work of the State Councils of Defense. He has been admirably successful as a speaker before their meetings, and has in many cases been an adviser to the chairman. His travels to consult with the State Councils have taken him all the way from Massachusetts to California, and from Louisiana to Oregon, more than once. Within the past few months he has served the Shipping Board jointly with the Council of National Defense as special travel representative. I suppose he knows as well as anybody in the country just how people all over the United States feel about the war and just what the possibilities and achievements of the State Councils of Defense are.

Those acquainted with Dr. Scherer declare that there is a treat in store for all who hear him.

IGNORANT OR MALICIOUS—WHICH?

Every Evening Again Discusses Farm Problem

"What doth it avail if by being reasonable in my prices, and thus win a big trade, I lose my own extra profit?"

That's the twisted pretzel-shaped logic of the King Street farmer marketeer. It is, was and ever shall be, no doubt, unless some titanic mental upheaval readjusts things and places foresightedness where high-sightedness, now rears its solid wary head.

No greater evidence of the curb profiteers' capacity—and that's the only word for it—was needed today than a tour of the street market. In the first place there was plenty of foodstuffs, stocks being larger and more varied than on any market day this spring, a fact due largely, if not entirely, to the advance of the season. Next, there wasn't as much trade as usual, because street car travel throughout the city is tied up by the trolleyman's walkout, and housewives from the more remote sections of town decided that Saturday's marketing would have to be done some other way than by walking to and from King Street and toting a heavy market basket on the return journey, or paying somebody else to tote it.

Great Chance for a Blind Man

One would suppose that light demand and heavy supply would make prices low, but this phase of the law of supply and demand never has appealed to the curb marketeer and never will. So today they kept the prices up, doubtless because those superior minds, the Elder Statesmen, had it all doped out that business wouldn't be overbribe, so figures must be set correspondingly high for the farmers to "get theirs."

Not one—not even the ultra-superior Council of Perfection, which is supposed to know more than the Elder Statesmen, secured the chance to put one over on the sophisticated housewives, who have learned to shun the King Street lure, to buy elsewhere and to tell their friends to do the same, and also to show Every Evening a thing or two about what it doesn't know concerning the market. Yes, mam, not one saw the chance to make folks believe that the farmer marketeer is a good, hard-working, poorly-rewarded tiller of the soil, eager to sacrifice himself and his goods for the benefit of his fellows, and not a "hard-boiled" "tightwad" hoarding up potatoes and pelf, getting three separate and distinct profits and automobiles, and buying four-and-a-quarter per cent Liberty bonds instead of chipping in a ten-spot for the Red Cross.

Lo, the Cloven Hoof

Oh, the lost opportunity! Oh, the what might have been!

But the public is thankful, because it's only been proved again that even a gum-shoe can't disguise a cloven hoof.

And so the farmer marketeers asked 45 cents a dozen for eggs again. You see, they're starting in early for that Christmas time dollar a dozen, which they boasted they'd get last year, but didn't.

Butter was 60 cents pretty generally, although some, either camouflaging for the others to make it appear there's no price-standard or suffering from colic in the conscience, would graciously let you have a pound for 55 cents.

And strawberries at 20 cents! One would imagine that this rare day in June would see the best of them down to 15 cents. Nothing stirring, although there were lots and lots of nearby berries in market. Even the modest gooseberry, which emerges from its striped cocoon to make one of the best pies that ever went under the great American Pie Belt, showed a high tendency on making its debut for the season, being priced at 15 cents a box. Last year, if our mental register serves us right, they were 10 and 12.

Beets also have in sight on the farmers' stalls today. Fifteen cents a bunch! They ought to be good food for pigs at that price.

Now about potatoes: This is an awfully sore spot for the farmer-marketier. When he views the hoard he has from last year's crop, held for stiff prices this spring, he has a real old style "conniption fit." Just look at the money lost! And his trying heaven and earth and his very last hope—cutting prices—to "get shut of" them. Today you could buy a bushel of them from $1.10 down to 90 cents, dependent upon how you camouflaged your willingness to purchase. If that isn't remarkable we don't know a world's wonder when we see it.

Asparagus, nearing its journey's end, for 1918, was 20, 25 and 35 cents, according to quality. Some of the lower-priced stuff was mighty weedy-looking.

Peas and beans—not from nearby farms, but sold by the fruiterers and stores, were fairly plentiful at 25 cents a quarter for the former and 15 cents a quarter for the latter. Tomatoes were 15 and 20 cents a box—poor buying. Big husky eggplant, from Southern farms, were 20 and 25 cents.

The farmers had plenty of young onions and radishes, the latter ranging from two for 5 cents to ten cents a bunch, the former at last week's figures.

Cherries were also fairly plentiful at two boxes for a quarter for ordinaries and 15 cents a box for the better ones.—Every Evening, June 1st.

MACHINISTS URGED TO REGISTER

Delaware Department of Labor Issues Statement

The Delaware Branch of the Department of Labor, Charles Warner, Federal State Director, on Saturday issued the following appeal to machinists in Delaware:

The ship-yards have been drawing very heavily on the boiler makers who are used not only for making boilers, but for riveting, chipping and caulking and as shipfitters. With the increase in the order for steel ships, there will be a further demand for boiler makers, and at the present time we hardly know where to turn for them in any number. It is necessary for the protection of the country in this critical time that every machinist and boiler maker should enroll in the U. S. Public Service Reserve if he wishes to be patriotic to his country. There are important war plants in the State of Delaware at present, that are seriously slowed down on account of the lack of help. These plants should be kept going at full capacity if we are to win this world war and the importance of securing these men is so great that it becomes second only to sending the fighting force to France. Every man who has the spirit of patriotism at heart should be willing to be transferred from the less essential work by the request of the Government, when it means so much to the success of our arms.

We ask every machinist and boiler maker who is not engaged in shipyard work to enroll in the Reserve. It is understood that you have the option of accepting or refusing any position offered you and we wish to lay stress on the fact that we will not request you to take a position unless it is for the good of the Government at this time. Send your application or call in person at the office at the office of the United States Public Service Reserve in the Old Federal Building, 6th & King Streets, Wilmington, Delaware.

GO INTO POLITICS

Editorial From Advertisement by David Snellenburg

No matter what we may do; what we do, in a governing way will be politics. We submit therefore, that all talk about taking our governing out of politics or the like is nonsense.

It is a trite saying that there is no sentiment in business but any force in this saying must justify itself by proving that business is always a perfect thing.

It might then be urged that business is far from being what it should be and any infirmity of business is because there is no sentiment in it.

One thing you may be sure of and that is you will either rule or be ruled. There is no middle ground and ruled or ruling is politics. You will realize your duty and obligation to your government and without sentiment and if you call it business then all we can say is: look at what you have; but it will not be business, it will be politics.

We believe there is sentiment in real business. We understand it as something which makes a man understand that he is a human being doing his share in the great human endeavor; that he is under an obligation to do right by them he cannot do right to himself.

We call that sentiment and we think it is an absolutely necessary equipment for a successful business.

We cannot abandon politics, what we do in governing will be politics in spite of ourselves. Politics is the expression of what you have in your minds.

We advise you not to try to abandon politics because if you would govern you cannot abandon politics.

We advise you to go into politics with the best that is in you and if you do we assure you that you will find enough to be partisan about.

Yes there is sentiment in business or it ceases to be. Business is the expression or utilization of a human feeling and it cannot be separated from other human feelings. Doing is a motion motivated by a thought. Politics are the motions given power and expression by what you think. Business is a link in the chain which holds for the preservation of the man but it is not the chain it is a link in the chain.

You need not worry yourself about politics for it is the creature of your thoughts and will be so. If the evil you deplore is politics and good which may come to you from government must be politics.

Don't try to do away with politics for you can't do it. Think and cherish and open your minds to sentiment and your affairs will express your thoughts and be chastened and hallowed by your sentiment.

We are not suggesting that you would tear down anything; we are asking you to begin to think and things will begin to build themselves up before your eyes.

GO INTO POLITICS!
(Signed) N. Snellenburg & Co.
June 2, 1918.

Avoid False Economy

ECONOMY that decreases your personal efficiency is false economy. It is as great a crime as waste. For it is waste.

Today everyone should develop their personal efficiency to its highest point.

We should all talk, act, believe and work to one end---success.

And nothing breeds success like confidence, for confidence and efficiency spell success.

Self-confidence is our greatest National asset.

What breeds confidence?

In the language of today, "looking the part."

Good clothes not only make you look the part, but feel the part. They add to your self-respect and make others respect you. They add to your self-confidence and make others have confidence in you. They make you look successful and thereby proclaim that you are successful.

Good clothes do not mean extravagance. To the contrary, they mean economy. First, because of the part they play in your daily life. Second, because one good suit will outwear two ordinary suits and look better, fit better and stand up better. Thrift in clothes buying means getting one hundred cents value for every dollar you invest irrespective of the price you pay.

The clothes this store offers are 100 per cent LOYAL in this.
