

Major Changes Seen Here With Erection Of Huge Tank Plant

Chrysler Expansion May Transform This Community Into Bustling Boom Town

Rapid transformation from a quiet residential and college community to a bustling boom town faced Newark following last Friday's announcement that the Chrysler Corporation would erect a huge assembly plant here for the production of Army medium tanks.

As estimated three to four thousand workers will be needed to staff the new plant, which will be one of the two largest tank production units in the nation.

The announcement caught this community completely by surprise and immediately gave rise to speculation

Robert T. Keller, works manager of the Chrysler Tank Arsenal during World War II, today was appointed general manager of the Chrysler tank plant to be erected here, L. L. Colbert, president of Chrysler Corporation, announced.

"Bob Keller, who is also president of the Marine and Industrial Engineering Division of Chrysler Corporation, brings to this job a wealth of tank manufacturing experience."

During World War II, he was associated with Chrysler Corporation tank work from the very beginning. In 1941 he became assistant master mechanic of the Chrysler Tank Arsenal and in the next year was made staff engineer.

All haste will be made to turn out tanks as quickly as possible and work will begin on the new plant immediately. Mr. Colbert stated, however, as in all cases where facilities and machinery have to be created from scratch, months must elapse before volume production can be attained.

Concerning where the workers would be secured and where they would be housed.

Some said that many would come from communities within commuting distance of the plant. However, the limited labor market here and throughout the state ruled this out as a complete solution. Others theorized that the government would erect a house settlement, similar to the new Village project built here during the last war.

Certain it was that, aside from the employment and housing problems, the sudden expansion would sorely tax the facilities of this town of 6700. Business leaders and town officials called the new plant as a boon to the town, but all were unanimous in the belief that it would require a major adjustment here.

Mayor Wallace Johnson said he was pleased the town had been selected to play a vital part in the nation's emergency defense program and added that he felt certain the plant would prove beneficial both to local business and the citizenry in general. The announcement from Detroit said the assembly unit, a one-story structure, except for the administrative section, will contain 1,000,000 feet of floor space and will be located just south of the present Chrysler parts depot. The corporation will begin producing tanks on a $160,000,000 "preliminary contract to pave the way for volume output in the future."

Work on the new plant, which will be operated independently of the parts depot, will begin "immediately," according to Brig. Gen. David J. Crawford, commanding general of the Detroit Arsenal, who first announced the new contract, largest tank award since World War II.

Pointing up some of the difficult problems the expansion program would pose for this community, Mayor Johnson said that increased facilities would probably be needed on all levels, including more fire and police protection, traffic controls and housing. The traffic congestion is already a municipal headache, especially during the morning and evening rush hours. Proposals for through streets and one-way traffic have been under study for some time.

A sudden influx of families would also overtax the local schools, already straining at the seams despite the opening last April of a new elementary building. Another grade school is regarded as necessary to handle even the present enrollment.

Councilman Samuel Diehl said one of the town's big problems would have to be worked out with the state highway department "to enable us to handle increased traffic. The proposed bypass around the lower side of town will require immediate attention."

Councilman Frank Durnell claimed the new plant would not provide merely a temporary boon here. He predicted it will be converted to produce car production when and if the present emergency passes.

Donald Switch, president of the Chamber of Commerce, promised full cooperation from the businessmen. "The town is growing up," he said, "and we will do all in our power to ease its growing pains."

Food Baskets Given 54 Needy Families Here Christmas Eve

Toys, Candy, Clothing Accompany Baskets From Mayor's Committee

Fifty-four baskets, brimming with food and candy for a bounteous holiday meal, were distributed to needy families here on Christmas Eve.

Toys accompanied the baskets given to families with children, and extremely needy cases also received clothes and orders of coal. A small ham was included in each basket, along with canned goods, two pounds of sugar, two pounds of flour, 10 pounds of potatoes, one pound of oleo and several loaves of bread. Turkeys were added to the baskets given several aged couples.

The canned food and toys were collected in a town-wide drive by local boy and girl scouts. Additional food was purchased with funds donated by civic organizations and numerous individuals. The total was swelled by a food and cash collection carried out at the schools.

The project was directed and the baskets were packed by the Mayor's Committee under the joint chairmanship of Mrs. J. Harvey Dickey, Mrs. Robert Lewis and Mrs. A. P. Colburn. The distribution was by municipal trucks under the direction of Irvin Chalmers and Elmer Ellison, assisted by William Burke and the boy scouts.

The food collection was carried out door to door by scouts of Troops 55 and 56 and the sea scout ship Admiral Blandy, under the direction of Dr. Glenn S. Skinner, chairman of the local American Legion boy scout program. Scout leaders Ford McBerty, Robert Thompson and R. A. McLain were in charge.

The cash contributions, which totaled $220.32, came from numerous individuals and civic organizations. Outstanding donations were from the Loyal Order of Moose, which gave 50 pounds of candy and the Women's Auxiliary of the Aetna Fire Company, which contributed 50 dozen oranges. The Soroptimist Club gave gifts to the patients at the Flower Hospital and also provided for a needy local family of eight. Canned goods were donated by the Veterans of Foreign Wars Auxiliary and the Lions Club.

Cash donations were also received from the J. A. O'Daniel Post and Unit No. 10, American Legion, the Women's Business and Professional Club, and the Women's Auxiliary of the First Presbyterian Church.

Roseville Park Youth Serves On Minesweeper

Walter E. Reigen, engineer, third class, USN, of Roseville Park, Newark, is serving aboard the minesweeper USS Redhead in the Far East.

The Navy man has seen action in Korean waters aboard the ship, which is part of the United Nations Blockading and Escort Force.

Minesweepers, despite their small size, are important in the war zone. They clear the approaches to harbors infested with mines so that supply and troop ships can safely carry out their missions of providing logistic support to ground forces. Without minesweepers, many delays and heavy casualties would result during assault and supply operations.

Battery 'C' Receives Gifts from Hometown At Camp Yule Party

Dr. Downes Travels To Georgia
To Give Unit's Greetings
From Newark

Newark has sent its Christmas greetings to Battery C of the 736th Anti-Aircraft Artillery Gun Battalion, now stationed at Camp Stewart, Ga.

Members of the battery, the activated National Guard unit from Newark, took time off from their intensive training Monday night, Dec. 18, for a Yuletide party.

A 12-foot high Christmas tree, with packages flowing out six feet from its base, stood at one end of the C Battery mess hall. The officers and enlisted men of the battery and 40 of their wives and friends were seated at the tables for the party.

Dr. John R. Downes, prominent Newark physician, was guest of honor at the table of Lt. Col. Frank T. Lynch and Major Leonard L. Millar, both of Wilmington, commanding officer and executive officer, respectively, of the 736th.

Dr. Downes drove from Newark for the party, bringing with him a dozen large boxes filled with gifts donated by the citizens of Newark. Every one at the party received a Christmas stocking filled with candy, playing cards, shaving cream, tooth paste, fruit cake and other items contributed by the home town of the battery.

The best wishes of the season from the people of Newark to the men of the battery were expressed by Dr. Downes. He said the town was very proud to remember at Christmas both the former Delaware National Guardsmen and the newly assigned men, draftees, from more than 12 states.

Col. Lynch praised C Battery for its fine record, and reminded the men of the pride their Battery Commanding Officer, Capt. Austin C. Chidester, Jr., of Elkton, Md., had in the gunnery marksmanship of the battery. Major Millar expressed the hope that next Christmas all the men will be with their families.

Sgt. Donald Emerson of West Grove, Pa., played Santa Claus for the party. Sgt. Edward Dill of New Castle, Del., Sgt. Jim Paisley of Avondale, Pa., and Pvt. Sexton Hagon of Whitesburg, Ky., provided music for the party. With two guitars and a mandolin they led the group in singing—ranging from late hit tunes to age-old Christmas carols.

Immediately after the party, half of the men in the battery left Camp Stewart for eight-day Christmas furloughs. The remainder will spend their Christmas on duty, but will receive similar leaves over New Year's.

A daughter of Patrick and Fannie Dougherty, Mrs. Soreth was born in Wilmington and had lived at Newark for a number of years.

Other survivors include a son, Francis J. Garvey of Newark, a grandson, Joseph S. Garvey, a student in an Oblate Fathers' seminary at Lewiston, N. Y., a sister, Mrs. Andrew T. Peterson of Wilmington, and two brothers, James A. Dougherty of Carneys Point, and Joseph C. Dougherty of Philadelphia.

Mayor Promises Full Data On Civil Defense In Weekly Items

Series Of Articles Covering All Aspects Of Emergency
Preparedness To Begin Soon In Post; Volunteer
Units Will Be Organized

A series of weekly articles, offering vital information on both the local and national aspects of civilian defense, will start in the POST in the near future.

The articles, authored by Mayor Wallace Johnson, who is now working with state authorities in an effort to tie in the Newark area with the overall state defense organization, will cover all phases of civilian defense.

Mayor Johnson, who hopes to start the articles within a week or two, says the first will give a definite outline of the proposed local civilian defense set-up, including its functions and method of organization.

Other articles will deal with such things as the basic facts of first aid, practical nursing care, methods of sabotage, effects of atomic weapons, air raid warning signals, and survival under atomic attack.

Mayor Johnson has gathered a wealth of information from state and national defense authorities. Recently, he attended a meeting of state civilian defense chiefs in Dover and a month ago he went to Washington, D.C., for a national meeting on the effects of atomic weapons.

Earlier this month, he appointed John Fader as Newark's civilian defense coordinator. Mr. Fader's first step will be to appoint chiefs for various volunteer units, including auxiliary police and firemen, medical and public health corps and a number of block wardens.

The latter will form the largest group in the local defense organization. They will be responsible not only for enforcing dimout and blackout regulations during emergencies and "dry runs", but they will also be charged with seeing that every family in their sector is provided with complete information on all phases of civilian defense.

Once organized, the local defense setup will reach into every home, according to the Mayor. Not only will every family be called for some sort of volunteer work, but it is hoped that each will have one or two of its members trained in emergency first aid.

"I extend to Jack McDowell my sincere best wishes for outstanding success in his new and responsible position," Representative Boggs continued. "His demonstrated executive ability, when coupled with the extensive experience and knowledge he has acquired, will enable him to render immeasurable service to the company with which he will be affiliated and to its clients."

Report Drop In State Revenue From Delaware Park Meeting

Attendance And Betting Figures For 1950 Season Show
Decline From Previous Year; Annual Report
Lists State's Share At $891,601

The net revenue to the state from the 1950 Delaware Park meeting was $891,601.18, a sizeable drop from the $979,874.54, turned over to the state after the 1949 meeting.

This was disclosed in the official report of the Delaware Racing Commission submitted recently to Gov. Elbert N. Carvel and made public by John K. Johnston, commission chairman.

Attendance at the park continued to decline, despite the fact that for the past two years the length of the meet has been 32, rather than 30, days long. The 1950 attendance of 313,154 was about 17,000 less than in 1949, and about 32,000 less than the 1948 figure.

Parimutuel sales decreased from $26,062,236 in 1949, to $22,761,763 this year, and ended a steady climb in these figures which saw last year's sales exceed those of 1948 by more than $85,000.

The net income to the state, from a three-and-a-half per cent cut of the parimutuel sales and a 20-cent tax on admissions, also reversed a former rising trend. The net revenue figures are: For 1950, $939,292.51; for 1949, $978,329.48, and for 1948, $978,329.29.

The state's total take this year was $864,292.51, but, from this figure, the expenses of the racing commission must be deducted. Total expenses for 1950, with expenses for November and December estimated, are $2,691.33.

A total of $903,500 was distributed in purses at the 1948 meet. This was $36,850 less than that of a year ago.

The percentage of winning favorites was 28.51 in 1950, as compared with 37.35 in 1949, and 35.42 in 1948—a three year average of 33.76 per cent.

There were six disqualifications, nine suspensions, and two fines in 1950, compared with four disqualifications, four suspensions, and one fine in 1949, and two disqualifications, one suspension, and two fines in 1948.

Rail Figures Given

During the 1950 meet, 29,766 patrons came to the track by Baltimore and Railroad from Washington, Baltimore, Philadelphia, Chester, Wilmington, and

Deer Hunters May Aid Defense Effort

The Tanners Council of America said recently the Army needs deer skins for combat troops in arctic climates.

The need is so great, the Council said, that game-hunting states are being asked to reopen or extend their deer seasons.

"The Army Quartermaster Corps has found that only gloves made from native deer skin give combat troops protection and freedom of action necessary under battle conditions in arctic climates," the Council said in a statement.

NHS Yellowjackets came through with a 45-34 win over Mt. Pleasant in championship form last week. Blaney led the local cagers with 24 points. Bueche was behind him with ten scores. The local boys were the favorites but by only a few points before the game started.

The Jackets' team has been rated third in the state in the pre-season poll sponsored by the News-Journal Company. The poll was taken by the basketball coaches throughout the entire state. Only Sallies and P. S. duPont have been rated ahead of Newark. The expectation is that Newark may move up to and beyond the third position before the season closes.

Bunny Blaney was expected to be top man on the court in the tilt with the Green Knights. He was, as most people know, the 1949-50 high scorer for the Yellowjacket squad. Jim Bueche looks as though he can fill the spot left vacant by the graduation of Phil Harrison last June.

As we have said before, the team did not score as much as was expected in the opening game. This can be attributed to the fact that most of the squad members were playing their first varsity game last Friday. Another point is that scoring was cut considerably by Coach Ciesinski's many substitutions.

Floyd "Pigeon" Croll, a transfer from Smyrna, is a new member of the Newark squad. Although only five feet tall he plays basketball. He is little in stature but big in heart and is known as one of the most happy-go-lucky fellows you could ever know.

The next Yellowjacket encounter will be Tuesday with A. I. duPont, following on Jan. 5 with the powerful P. S. duPont. P. S. lost to Archmere 53-40, so we wonder how powerful she really is. In addition to P. S., Newark will face some tough opposition this season.

The Unusual Happens In Mt. Pleasant

In the Mt. Pleasant game played on the foreign court, Bob Kase, a Yellowjacket forward, dropped in two points. The unusual feature was that Kase dropped into the bucket two points—two points for Mt. Pleasant.

Ebenezer Methodist Church

Watch night services will be held here on New Year's eve in charge of the MYAF. This group will hold a Christmas party Saturday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Under on Kirkwood Highway.

The Sunday school held its annual Christmas program Saturday evening in the church social hall. Mrs. Anna Cameron, superintendent of the youth department, was in charge. The beginners recited poems, sang carols, and gave exercises. Jerry Knotts was reader for the primary class who presented the nativity scene in pantomime. A girls' chorus sang. The juniors had a play "The Visit From Mr. and Mrs. Santa Claus." Those participating were Carol Moore, Virginia Starkey, Corinne Maguire, Jack Maguire, and Bobby Dempsey. Santa Claus arrived at the close of the entertainment with a treat of candy for the children. The pastor, the Rev. Edwin Horney, received a gift of money from the official board and the men's class. The teachers presented the members of their class with gifts.

The MYAF members went carol singing Christmas eve. They visited the home of thirteen members who are either ill or shut-in. They also carried baskets of cheer to several members.

Pencader Grange No. 80 at its semi-monthly meeting held a Christmas party for the children of the community. More than fifty were given candy and fruit by Santa Claus. A movie entitled "The Night Before Christmas" was shown. Mrs. Ann Wilhelm entertained with guitar music and songs, after which the usual meeting was held.

The literary program, in charge of Lecturer Mrs. Florence Ford, included the singing of Christmas carols and readings by J. Leslie Ford, Mrs. Jeanette Brooks and Edward Williams. A skit entitled "Jason Pipe Gives a Present," was offered by Mr. and Mrs. Delbert Gooden.

Miss Jean Sheldon and George Butler entertained with Christmas music on their guitar. An exchange of gifts was held among the members. Two families were remembered with baskets. Fruit was sent to patients in hospitals and cards to boys in the Army.

An excellent report from State Grange was given by Mrs. Henry Brooks. A committee of three was named to arrange for a heater. The next meeting will be on Jan. 8, and new officers for the year 1951 will be installed by Joseph Mitchell and his staff from Harmony Grange. It was announced by C. C. Brooks that a card party would be held in the hall each Saturday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Leslie Ford entertained at a family dinner on Christmas day. Those present were: Mr. and Mrs. Paul Burge, Mr. and Mrs. James L. Ford, Mr. and Mrs. George Moore, Robert and Judith Moore.

Miss Judith Moore was the winner of a cocker spaniel given away on "Mr. Goodwill" on WDEL on Saturday morning. She named the dog "Chimes."

The following took part in a program at the Pencader Presbyterian Sunday School on Friday evening: Gracie Brayman, Nancy DePrisco, Elsie DePrisco, Allan Brown, Betty DePrisco, Charles DePrisco, Grace DePrisco, Alfred and Bobby Lum, Dorothy DePrisco, Christine Zeitler, Danny Palmer, Leslie Ford, Charlotte DePrisco, James DePrisco.

Each child was presented with candy, orange and apple and exchange of gifts. Eden School had a 99.6 percent attendance for December.

At club meeting on Friday the following officers were elected for January: president, Herbert Barnes; vice-president, Robert Sweetman; treasurer, William Adams; secretary, Ronald Sweetman. Wilbur Gregory, program chairman, presented the following: Play, "Pioneer Xmas" reading, "Santa's Helpers," Ronald McCracken; poem, "Mrs. Santa Claus," Eleanor Ennis; "Word Scramble," Robert Emmert; "The Night Before Christmas," Robert Walker; "The Little Star and Christmas Eve," Ronald Sweetman.

A Christmas party was also held on Friday. An exchange of gifts along with games and refreshments were offered.

The Rev. Ashworth Burslem, Allen Brown, James Frazer visited Mrs. Mary Frazer at Maryland State Sanatorium on Saturday.

The Bear discussion group held its Christmas party on Thursday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles B. Moore. Guests were: Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Phillips; Mr. and Mrs. William A. Calvert and daughters, Ann and Cindy; of Newark; Mr. and Mrs. Robert Stevens, of Smyrna. Christmas carols were sung.

John Jordan is spending the Christmas vacation with his family. His health is much improved.

We are sorry to report that Cliff Soliday has had quite a bout with being under the weather. Said bout involved a lot of diagnostic fol-de-rol which wasn't too comfortable, but Cliff took his hospital stay very nicely, and was back in school this week.

The Christmas party at the Home and School League was a truly memorable occasion. It took place on Dec. 12, which is the second Tuesday, regular meeting date, and was at Southbank. The January meeting will be at Northbank. Don't forget, according to the policy of alternating the meeting place between the two schools.

Gifts were exchanged, and the theme was a humorous one, mainly. It caused a bit of concern when Mr. Owen's accordion solo was interrupted by the thumping which issued from one of the presents, a big box sitting near the beautifully decorated tree, but the program went on, replete with carols, and a visit from an appropriately garbed St. Nick. Santa presented Mrs. Walker, teacher at Southbank, and Mrs. Ford, teacher at Northbank, with presents from the Home and School League in appreciation of their efforts.

Mrs. Richard VanSant became quite ill the evening of Dec. 8, and the story, both dramatic and distressing, of the heroic attempts of her husband to find medical aid for his lady in distress, makes much listening. It seems that there was no doctor available in a nearby town, at 2 a.m., even when the various doors were pounded upon frantically, and the poor girl, in extreme pain, was taken to a Wilmington Hospital, where, according to her family, the person who examined her said they "thought" she had appendicitis, but a blood test would be required, and in the meantime they gave her a hypo-dermic to relieve her extreme pain, and sent her to her home, some eighteen miles away, until morning. Next morning, when her husband took her to their family physician (who had been out of town), an ambulance was called to rush poor Shirley Hollett VanSant to the hospital, where an operation was performed immediately, and the appendix had ruptured in the meantime, of course.

Shirley is a very sick girl, but is going to survive, because she has a rugged constitution, and is under good care.

Cynthia Lee and David Arthur Nees had a marvelous trip to the Fels Planetarium with their Sunday School groups December 17, and judging from the reports, it is something no child should miss. For that matter, this adult intends to take it in soon. There are so many wonderful things to be seen about this part of the country.

We are so sorry that Spotty Cramer, a nice spaniel if there ever was one, had to just up and die, from mysterious causes. Seems like too many loved pets are having to be given up these days. Never mind, little Cramers, we know a secret!
