Plans For Lenape Plant Sale
To Chrysler, Reported By GSA

General Services Administration Reports To Congress On Proposal To Sell Lenape Ordnance Plant At Newark To Chrysler For $476,750; Facility Closed Since 1961

The General Services Administration has informed Congress it plans to sell the Lenape Ordnance Plant at Newark to the Chrysler Corporation.

GSA Administrator Bernard I. Boutin notified the government operations committees of both houses that the U. S. agency has agreed to a proposed purchase price of $476,750 for the factory which has been closed since 1961.

Rep. Harris B. McDowell Jr., (D-De.) pointed out last May the disparity between appraisal and the construction cost of $3,929,337.

The plant was built in 1933 on land owned by Chrysler, and its Newark auto assembly plant Chrysler used the building for tank modification until the work was shifted to Detroit.

Declared Surplus

The building was declared surplus in June, 1962, but disposal was delayed because the government held title only to the building and not to the land.

The building was appraised at $300,000 by Fred H. Bietsch, Philadelphia.

At justification for the sale, GSA reports that cost of demolition and removal of the building would exceed any proceeds from salvage.

By law, disposal plans of this type are submitted to the two congressional committees where they rest for 30 days to permit filing of protests by members of Congress.

McDowell said he was trying to work out an arrangement for another industry to acquire the plant, but negotiations bogged down because the government does not own the land under the plant.

The land leased from Chrysler Corporation at $1 a year includes 14.79 acres.

17-Year-Old Newark High Senior Presents Reports For Congress, Officials

Newark Eagle Scout Thomas Y. Davies III, joined 11 other Boy Scouts in presenting his organization's "Report to the Nation" to United States Capitol Hill.

The son of Mr. and Mrs. T. Y. Davies Jr., of 721 Bent Lane, T. Y. Davies addressed a Boy Scout birthday breakfast attended by 100 scouts and congressmen.

He told officials he was expressing appreciation of the Boy Scouts of America for opportunity to meet the men who "make the government work."

The 17-year-old Newark High School senior said, "It's a thrill to meet the people you read about all the time."

Davies represented the BSA region in a series of reports on Scout achievements during the past year, to Secretary of State Dean Rusk, FBI Chief J. Edgar Hoover and other officials.

A high point of the Washington visit was to have presentation of reports to President Johnson, but the White House meeting was cancelled because of the Guantanamo situation in Cuba.

Ellen Foster Wood
Exhibition Of Art
Planned At YWCA

Interest in art is high at the YWCA and much of that interest is manifested in the series of art exhibits held there over the past months.

Ellen Foster Wood, a native of Newark, will be exhibiting in the Keshner Gallery of the Alice P. Smith Center, Feb. 16 through March 7.

Ms. received a BA degree in Fine Arts with honors from the University of Delaware. While working as a commercial artist in Philadelphia, she attended evening classes in advertising, drawing and painting at the Philadelphia Museum School of Industrial Arts and the Pennsylvania Academy of the Fine Arts.

In 1948-49 she lived in England and traveled on the continent. More recently, she has studied at the Delaware Art Center and with the late Gayle Hoskins, a student of the Howard Pyle School of Art, who exhibited at the Delaware Art Center and the Philadelphia Art Alliance. She is a member of the Wilmington Society of Fine Arts and is the 1964 chairman of the Newark Art Festival.

The show is open to the public and the gallery hours are from 9 to 5 Monday through Friday, and from 10 to 12 on Saturday.

Biologist Franklin Stahl
To Lecture Next Tuesday

The third series in the University of Delaware Philosophy of Science seminars will open next Tuesday with a lecture by Dr. Franklin W. Stahl, Columbia.

Professor Stahl, a staff member of the Institute of Molecular Biology at the University of Oregon, will speak in Room 101, Sharp Laboratory on the Delaware campus at 8 p.m. — the first of eight lectures biologists scheduled to appear in the seminar series coordinated by Dr. Lucio Chiaravallotti, department of philosophy at Delaware.

60-Days Notice Scheduled Before Eviction Notices In Sub-Standard Housing

Mayor Carl S. Rankin and Councilman Joseph A. Shields voted against enforcing the municipal building code with eviction of some 50 residents of sub-standard homes in the New London-West Cleveland Avenue area, at the regular meeting of the Newark City Council last Monday—a meeting that lasted until after midnight.

Eviction will be required by magistrate order if the buildings remain in sub-standard condition 60 days after official notice of non-conformance with the housing code.

The mayor agreed that the law has to be enforced at some time, but opposed immediate plans for eviction with "what you're going to do with the people, I don't know."

Among sub-standard houses reported by City Manager J. Francis Neide, 70 and 70½ West Cleveland Avenue were cited as having 10 occupants each—more persons than permitted for the dwellings under the municipal building code.

Ordinances providing a fee of $10 to be paid for filing a petition with the Board of Adjustment, with $5 to be paid each of the three councilmen serving on the board; for the election of a city charter commission with the April 14 municipal voting; prohibiting parking near fire hydrants; and to permit the city to discontinue water service for overdue water bills, were approved at second, final readings.

Walter Abel Of Stage, Screen, TV Fame
Rehearses On Campus For Local Theatre

Stage screen, and television actor Walter Abel is rehearsing at the University of Delaware for his guest appearance in the title role of Moliere's "The Imaginary Invalid."

Major production by the E-32 University Theatre—will be presented in Mitchell Hall on Thursday, Friday and Saturday, March 5-7. A Saturday matinee will supplement the customary evening performances because of the heavy demand for tickets.

Abel's long experience in playing comedy makes him a natural for the role of the outrageously funny hypochondriac Argan.

In London Walter Abel played Michael Jeffrey in the hilarious "Cocolette." He appeared as John Stand in "What Every Woman Knows" and recently played 14 months on Broadway with Cyril Ritchard and Cornelia Otis Skinner in "The Pleasure of His Company."

Abel is remembered from his appearances on television as the father in "Meet Corliss Archer" and starred with Bobbie Clarke in the television spectacular "Le Bourgeois Gentilhomme."

His film credits include "The Raintree County" with Elizabeth Taylor, "Oh Men, Oh Women" with David Niven, and "The Indian Fighter."

The E-32 University Theatre is accepting mail orders for reservations. Special reduced rates are being offered for theatre party orders of 10 or more.

Other contestants were introduced on the stage, and the three finalists were Mrs. Bukowski, sponsored by Food Fair, Carol Davis, sponsored by Kiddie World, and Bonnie Tjaden, sponsored by M&M Drive-In Cleaners.

Phyllis Eskin, sponsored by the New Castle County Water Company won top honors for poise and grooming. Sara Crosswell, Brookside Beauty Shop, won homemaking honors, and Grace Love, Molly's Beauty Shop, was judged "Mrs. Popularity."

Mrs. Bukowski was crowned by the winning Mrs. Brookside of 1963—Julie White.

Harold Rappaport, speaking for the Brookside Merchants Association presented a gift to each contestant. "They are all winners," Rappaport said.

Other contestants were Irene J. Abe, Jean Atkin, Jennifer Bass, Nancy Blignani, Shirley Elwood, Mary Foster, Ruth Jones Kathryn Ralph, Marilyn Rosenberg, and Ellen Shanahan.

Kenneth Pyle of the Brookside Toastmasters Club, was master of ceremonies at the Mrs. Brookside Ball.

Detective Wm. Brierley, Newark Detective Sgt. William Brierley has been appointed to attend the FBI session of the FBI National Academy in Washington beginning March 16.

Newark police officials said this is the first time that an officer of a Delaware police agency, with the office of Wilmington and state police, has received such an appointment.

Judith E. Kelley, a senior at Christiana High School, has been named homemaking of Tomorrow as a result of a written knowledge and aptitude examination given by General Mills.

Judith lives with her mother, Mrs. Alice H. Kelley, at 2 Carlin Lane, Newark.

She took home economics as an eighth-grader but has not since been enrolled in any home economics courses.

As the contest winner she has been accepted at the University of Delaware and plans to become an elementary school teacher.

Active in school affairs, Judith is a member of the yearbook staff, the Christiana High School Color Guard, and is taking part in the senior play scheduled for April.

Winning this local contest entitles Judith to take part in the State Homemaking of Tomorrow $1,900 college scholarship contest.

Newly-Formed Polly Drummond Hill Civic Association Objects To Request For Rezoning 1142-Acres To Permit Construction Of Row Houses, Apartments By Developers

Members of the Polly Drummond Hill Civic Association, with other civic organizations of Mill Creek Hundred, are opposing approval of the rezoning request by Mill Creek Ventures covering an 1142-acre tract in Pike Creek Valley.

Combined efforts of these organizations are being brought to bear to acquaint the public with facts in the case.

"We are alarmed and deeply concerned about the impact of such a decision on the future social and economic life of all citizens of New Castle County," a Polly Drummond Hill Association spokesman said yesterday.

"In complete agreement that wisely planned and properly executed development of urban and rural areas is desirable and essential for orderly population expansion, why, then, are we opposed to the Pike Creek Valley development as proposed by the builders?" the spokesman asked.

The following reasons were given. "Population Density. This community, by population, will be larger than any now existing in Delaware except Wilmington and Newark. It is to be unincorporated and to look elsewhere for fire and police protection and other municipal services normally self-provided by an incorporated area.

Since 32 per cent of the land area is plotted for R-4 high density, multi-family dwellings, such as row houses and apartments, this could be the largest concentration of this type of dwelling anywhere outside of highly industrialized areas.

The builders insist that minimum zoning is necessary to permit "flexibility" for changing economic conditions, land utilization problems, and contingencies. They admit that the minimum zoning classifications R-1C and R-4 requested by the developers would give them the right to create an even higher residential density than the estimated 15,000 residents in the proposed 4,000 housing units.

Changes and Schools — The builders insist they have reserved land for churches, schools and recreation. To our knowledge, no church group or school district has agreed to accept the land for this purpose. By the builders' admission, it otherwise would be used for additional housing units. To admit that this area is reserved, we suggest that it remain zoned R-2.

Even the builders have plotted east-west easements for access roads. Responsibility for construction of roads of this nature is not normally assumed by the builder. The State Highway Department has no firm plans, nor the public, to create an arterial highway, and existing roads, already overburdened, will be subjected to considerable additional traffic.

"We question first, the need and justification for such a high density population in this section of New Castle County at this time or in the foreseeable future," the group states, "and the right of the builder to expect blanket rezoning of the entire tract in one time when there is no existing legal mechanism to guarantee their compliance with expressed intent."

The heart of Mill Creek Hundred, one of the most picturesque countryside in northern Delaware, stands on the threshold of suburbanization under an invading sea of roof tops and backyards. Is this planned development? The Polly Drummond Hill Civic Association concludes.

Home Economics Open House Slated Saturday At U. D.

The University of Delaware annual home economics open house program will be conducted this Saturday, from 9:30 a.m. until noon in Alton Hall.

Some 300 Delaware high school students attended the 1963 conference, continuing the growth in number of registrations since the first open house in 1948.

This year, Delaware high school students in the 9th and 11th grades taking the college preparatory course, have been invited, along with their parents, teachers and guidance counselors.

Purpose of the open house is to acquaint college preparatory students with opportunities available in the home economics field.

Tours and small group sessions will be conducted by students in the school of home economics at the university.

Registrations will begin at 9:30, with tours scheduled to start at 10 a.m.

School Enrollment Of 8,904 Reported

Robert W. Mayer, assistant superintendent for students services in the Newark special school district, reports that enrollment figures for local public schools with a record 8,904 children.

Within the one-month period from Jan. 6, when students returned from Christmas vacation, to Jan. 31, the school district enrollment had increased by 31 pupils.

The largest growth experienced was in the elementary schools—Jennie Smith, West Park, and Medill.

WAGNER CONSULTANT James Krieger, assistant director of admissions at Wagner College, will be available for consultation at Newark High School at 10 a.m. next Thursday.

Wagner College, which has been a member of the Delaware State Association of Colleges and Universities since 1958, is a private, Catholic, liberal arts college.

The college is located in Camden, N. J., and has a campus of 100 acres. It was founded in 1862 and is one of the oldest colleges in the United States.

Wagner College is a member of the Middle States Association of Colleges and Universities, the National Association of Independent Colleges and Universities, and the United Methodist Church.

Importance Of Credit For Farm Profits Stressed By UD Management Specialist

It is not unusual for a modern farmer to have $100,000 tied up in his business. While this doesn't seem like a great deal of money to business and government people who talk in terms of millions, $100,000 is still a sizeable investment for one person to manage and make pay, says W. T. McAllister, University of Delaware farm management specialist.

In many instances, a substantial part of the invested money of a farmer or businessman is borrowed money. As farm businesses increase in size, the need for additional credit increases to expand and improve the efficiency of the business and for operating capital, McAllister reports.

With increasing frequency, farmers say they and their credit agency are operating in partnership. As the size of the loan increases, lending agencies serving farmers are taking more interest in the farmer's business — his plans, yields, net worth and financial growth. When the farmer asks for a loan for his farming

Mrs. Mary Jordan Dies In Hospital

Mrs. Mary A. Jordan, 77, of 463 Papermill Road, Newark, died Feb. 12 in Wilmington General Hospital after a short illness.

She was a member of the White Clay Creek Presbyterian Church. Mrs. Jordan is survived by her husband John H.; a daughter, Mrs. William E. Thorp, Newark; a son, Robert, at home; several grandchildren; a sister Mrs. Emma Lambert, Port Deposit, Md.; three half-sisters, Mrs. Roberta Dempsey, Marshallton, Mrs. Clara Bowley, and Mrs. Catherine Kerris, both of Reading, Pa.; two half-brothers, Richard Boyd, Reading, and Edward Boyd, Wilmington.

Services were held at 2 p.m. last Friday at the Robert T. Jones and Son Funeral Home in Newark, with interment in Red Clay Creek Cemetery.

Beauty For Homemakers Cited By Corning Expert

"Beauty is a pleasurable response to what we see, hear, touch and even taste and smell," said Mrs. Mary Zachary, home economics representative for Corning Glass Works at a Farm and Home Week program for homemakers.

Since one of the major functions of the homemaker centers around the kitchen while cooking and preparing food, Mrs. Zachary said she should have her beauty at her fingertips — in the tools she uses — beautiful and purposeful.

business today, he is likely to have to prove to the lender that he is a good credit risk.

Here are some questions you should be prepared to answer when applying for a farm loan, McAllister advises.

Can you show that the proposed loan will earn enough extra income to pay interest, pay back the principal, and add to your income? A good loan must do more than trade dollars. It must provide an opportunity for the borrower to add to his net income.

What type of a farmer are you — average, above average, below average?

What is the income potential of your farm in terms of its size, production capacity, and present farming program?

What factors limit the profit of your farm? Will the proposed loan correct this situation?

Does farming provide the income and personal satisfaction that you and your family really want? Will the proposed loan help achieve these desires, or would some other course of action be more practical?

What is your credit history? Do you pay your bills and meet your obligations on time? Do you get most of your credit from one source? Are you straightforward in your dealings with lenders? Are you and your family adequately protected against catastrophes?

Even if lenders don't ask all these questions, you should know the answers, McAllister stresses.

Borrowing money to finance a farm business that cannot provide an adequate income is a disservice to both borrower and lender.

On the other hand, many farms could be more profitable if farmers could use more credit and apply it in a more businesslike way to management.

Appliance Values Depend On Usage Expert Cautions

Christmas morning in many homes found the woman of the house as delighted with gifts of gleaming new appliances as her young ones were with their new toys from Santa's pack.

These hints from Coral K. Morris, extension home management specialist at the University of Delaware, may help get the most use from the new appliances.

Store it where it is accessible, says Miss Morris. Its uses may be many, but only if used will an appliance have real value for you.

The point of first use should determine the location of any storage space, notes Miss Morris. Thus, toasters and juicers can be stored near the breakfast area; fry pans near the preparation area; and pressure cookers near the range.

Base cabinets with pull-out shelves; recessed cabinets at counter level; and revolving corner shelves are good ways to utilize space in storing small electric appliances.

Large appliances such as roasters and rotisseries deserve base cabinets in convenient locations.

"One-use" appliances have their biggest limitation in that the space they take up for storage may prevent you from buying a more useful appliance at a later date, Miss Morris says.

Safety precautions which you take guard you and your family, and prolong the life of appliances. Be sure you have sufficient 110-120-V circuits without using extension cords. Large appliances, such as roaster and fry pan, should never be plugged into extension cords because the wires are too small for satisfactory heating. Connect them directly to a wall outlet.

For all appliances, read the manufacturer's instruction booklet carefully for hints on cleaning and operation. File it in a handy place for future reference.

A quick rub with a slightly damp cloth removes grease and finger marks to keep your appliances shining.

When washing, know whether the appliance can be immersed in water completely, partially, or not at all. Consult the instruction book if in doubt.

To clean nickel or chrome, rub gently with a soft cloth dipped in alcohol and whiting. Cream silver polish, special liquid wax for appliances, or ammonia diluted with water also serve well. Never use gritty abrasives on these surfaces, says Miss Morris, and always allow the appliance to cool before cleaning.

The 4-H program at Farm and Home Week was attended by 76 Delaware 4-H leaders. The program was divided into morning and afternoon sessions, with a dinner break at the Swiss Inn.

The morning session was led by Eleanor Wilson, program leader from the Federal Extension Service.

Miss Wilson provided information on how leaders through 4-H could meet needs of today's youth.

Ronald Aronson, state 4-H leader from Connecticut, directed the afternoon session on "How to Reach New Audiences Through 4-H." The attendance was excellent and the leaders I visited felt a great amount of helpful information and usable ideas were presented. Perhaps some of the leaders can present some of the comments at the next Leaders' Association meeting on the

Good Fit Of Shoes Prevents Foot Ills Specialist Advises

Eight out of 10 adults have foot troubles, recent reports show, and most of these can be blamed on the shoes they wore before the age of 15.

When feet are uncomfortable, efficiency is reduced and poor posture and all-over body discomfort may result, says Janet Reed, extension clothing and textiles specialist at the University of Delaware.

Children's shoes are especially important. It takes 20 years for foot bones to calcify. Until that time, they are susceptible to strains of ill-fitting shoes. Foot misery usually begins after these bones have hardened, Miss Reed notes.

Each child in your family has a different fit. The few dollars saved by handing down out-grown shoes are not worth foot discomfort in the child's later years. From ages two to six, have your child's shoe size checked every other month, Miss Reed suggests. Even at ages 15 to 20, size checks should be made every six months.

The widest part of the shoe should be at the ball of the foot, the main support. Greatest flexibility is needed here.

Extra length is always necessary to give toes enough room to move. One-half to three-quarters of an inch is sufficient. The width of your thumb can serve as a guide, Miss Reed says.

Four Zeidler Guernseys Win Cattle Club Laurels

Four registered Guernsey cows in the herd of Zeidler Brothers, Newark, recently completed top official HIR actual production records, according to the American Guernsey Cattle Club.

Testing was supervised by University of Delaware officials. In 305 days Zeidler Ambassador Royal Gem, a five-year-old, produced 12,125 pounds of milk and 605 pounds of fat; Holliston Sea, a junior three-year-old, 12,047 pounds of milk and 550 pounds of fat; Holliston Lass, a junior two-year-old, 10,186 pounds of milk and 550 pounds of fat; and Zeidler Prediction Bridget, a junior two-year-old, produced 10,968 pounds of milk and 521 pounds of fat.

Airman Norris P. Cornell Aids Fight In Viet Nam

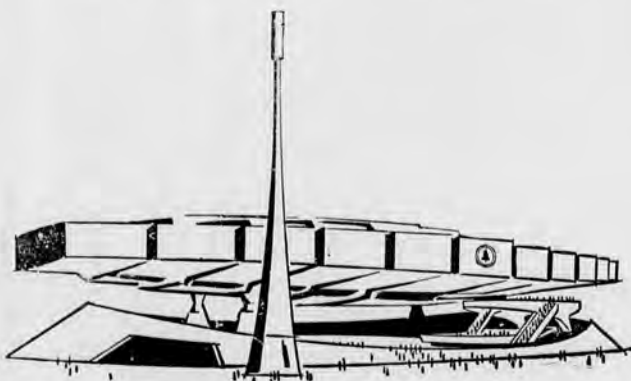

Airman Norris P. Cornell of Newark is on duty with a U. S. Air Force advisory unit assisting the armed forces of Viet Nam in their fight against Communist aggression.

Son of Mr. and Mrs. Norris M. Cornell of Cooch's Bridge Road, Norris is a graduate of Newark High School.

24th Kina Tammi, a Hill 'n' Valley 4-H'er, and Mrs. Alice Hopkins, Forest Oak Leader, left today for Kansas City, Mo., to attend the annual Junior Poultry Fact-Finding Conference. Flying by jet, they will participate in sessions to develop ways in which young people can be- come involved with production and distribution of poultry.

Nina was selected because of her outstanding 4-H record in Delaware and her leadership abilities. Nina also has been asked to give the 4-H response to the donors at a banquet to be held there Friday evening.

Necessary steps are being taken toward the preservation of the Old Greenbank Mill located in the Old Greenbank Hundred. The historic building, which was built in 1780 and the other in 1812.

Presently, it is a mill owned and operated by Roy Magaral, T. C. Marshall, Jr., of Yorklyn, is president of the Association.

Much concern is being expressed by many residents of this hundred over the proposed master plan set up for the Pike Creek development. Most local people do not want row houses or multi-family apartments in the area.

Harmony Grange has placed 103 plastic hearts throughout the area as its part in the annual Heart Fund campaign this month.

Billy Joe Chaney of Georgetown, Youth Chairman of the Delaware State Grange, spoke at the membership drive in Sussex County.

Mrs. Phoebe Johnson, a member of Old Worrick Grange in Rhode Island, was a guest.

Paul W. Macdonald discussed the R. P. Robinson educational fund which is available to students entering the University of Delaware in home economics or agricultural courses. They must be grange members.

MEMO FROM YOUR DOCTOR

SHOVELING SNOW

Shoveling snow and pushing stalled cars out of snow banks can be very dangerous, especially for men of middle age who are overweight and who do not lead very active lives.

Snow-shoveling can be excellent exercise if you are in reasonably good health. However, it should be done only for short periods and at a moderate speed. On a snowy morning, allow yourself an extra 15 to 20 minutes, so you can clear the driveway at a moderate pace. It is this extra effort under tension, when you realize that every shovelful is making you late at the office or for an appointment, that adds to the strain on your good health.

A heart attack is the most common serious health result of over-exertion from snow-shoveling. Since you cannot be certain that this won't happen to you, it is advisable to use caution when you are engaged in any unaccustomed activity, especially once that demands extra physical effort such as shoveling snow.

Any increase in the amount of work you do—especially the kind that calls for a sudden effort—increases the amount of oxygen needed by the heart. Since this oxygen is brought to the heart by the coronary arteries, these arteries must be able to take care of the additional flow of blood. If they cannot do this because they have become narrow due to disease or injury, this sudden flow of blood will cause one to choke and the result will be a heart attack.

If your heart is sound, it most likely won't be damaged. However, if you have heart trouble or have been living a sedentary life, the extra exertion of shoveling snow or trying to push your car out of a snow bank can bring on a heart attack.

It is a wise precaution to take it easy and not overdo.

Be sure to have regular medical checkups by your doctor so you will be aware of any likelihood of your having a heart ailment, and can take necessary precautions.

This column is a weekly service of your doctor through the Medical Society of Delaware.

Snow? Take Steps To Prevent Harm Of Trees, Shrubs

Snow is usually of great benefit to plants, for it serves as a natural mulch and as an insulating source of moisture. Yet, accumulation of snow and ice on trees and shrubs can be quite destructive, says Dave Totnall, assistant county agent in ornamental horticulture.

Heavy, wet snow can break and destroy trunks and branches of plants. Evergreens, such as yews, junipers and arbor vitae, are most susceptible to this kind of damage.

There are several precautions that can be taken to protect trees and shrubs. One of these is pruning. Plants that are carefully maintained by proper pruning are dense and well-shaped, and thus are better able to withstand the damaging effects of snow and ice.

Many plants can be effectively protected by securely binding branches with twine. And, of course, the vigilant homeowner will help to prevent possible harm by promptly shaking or brushing the snow from endangered trees and shrubs.

Particularly valuable plants may sometimes require more elaborate protection, especially if they are located directly under eaves of buildings. Lath structures built over the plants will break the fall of snow sliding off the roof. These temporary coverings can look attractive and can be easily and inexpensively built.

An open mind is all very well in its way, but it ought not to be so open that there is no keeping anything in or out of it.

Suburban Women's Club To Sponsor Fun Night

Mitchell, Saunders Pace Yellowjackets; Vitcusk, Palmer Lead In Viking Score

Coach Francis Folghum's Yellowjackets face DeLaWarr of the Newark High School gym this Friday at 6:30, and enter the Dickinson at 7:30 next Tuesday, while Coach Ron Miller's Vikings play away at Conard tomorrow, and host P. S. du Pont next Tuesday at the Christiana gym, with both games slated to start at 6:30 p.m.

The two Newark teams have but one Blue Hen Conference win apiece, and both lost their last two outings.

The Yellowjackets lost 87-43 to visiting Mt. Pleasant on Friday, and last night at Brandywine, the Bulldogs defeated Newark 99-38 in a game rescheduled from Tuesday because of the snow.

The Vikings lost 73-33 at Brandywine on Friday, and were stopped 62-44 last night by the visitors from Mt. Pleasant.

Steve Mitchell paced the Yellowjackets against Mt. Pleasant with 21 points, with Norris Saunders runner-up in scoring 12.

At Brandywine, Saunders set a 21-point scoring pace.

Flynn's Champions Face Eight Meets In Outdoor Track

Coach Jimmy Flynn's Delaware track squad, winner of 39 consecutive dual meets, and Middle Atlantic Conference university division champion, will enter eight meets during the 1964 outdoor season.

The Blue Hen squad, considered the strongest in Delaware track history, opens against a new opponent — American University — on April 4.

Gettysburg, Temple, Lehigh and Bucknell, all MAC rivals, will face the Hens in dual meets.

Delaware will make its annual appearance in the Penn Relays at Philadelphia and Flynn will enter members of his squad in the Quaker Relays for the first time.

The Hens will defend their MAC crown May 8-9 in Bethlehem, Pa., where Lehigh will be host.

Flynn has never been defeated in these seasons of coaching track at Delaware and has directed the team to a 23-0 record during that time, after inheriting members of squads that had won eight straight under Ken Stivers.

The 1963 Hens finished 7-0 and won a record 119-11 victory over Johns Hopkins, a traditional Hens track opponent — now no longer on the schedule.

Board of Game and Fish Commissioners under the Accelerated Public Works program has been approved for Sussex County, according to John S. Gottschalk, director of the Northeast Region Bureau of Sport Fisheries and Wildlife, U. S. Department of the Interior.

Under the nationwide program for conducting game and fish restoration projects, Delaware has been able to use $73,716 in Federal funds.

Principal purpose of the program is to provide local employment to help the area economy and to accomplish useful public works of lasting benefit.

Work under this project will take place at Pepper Pond where the outlet structure will be rebuilt, restoring this pond to its original 30-acre size.

Federal funds in the amount of $25,000 will be matched by $25,000 in state funds.

Another Federal Aid project to be undertaken by the Delaware

Department of the Interior.

Jim Hackney Tops Colonial Champion In Viking Defeat

Viking Jim Hackney won a decision over Wm. Penn's previously unbeaten defending champion Clyde Leonard at 180-lbs. but Coach Ken Klimek's Christiana High School varsity wrestlers lost 120-15 in entertaining the Colonials last Friday night.

Kenny Reed wrestled to a draw in the 95-lb. opener for the Vikings; Eddie Lee drew with the Colonials' Gregg at 115-lbs.; and Dick Baechtel wrestled to a draw with New Castle's Hughes in the 154-lb. event.

Jack Hopper, 127, and Co-Capt. Allen Stoddard won decisions for Klimek at 127 and 165.

The Vikings' Gary Huggler was pinned in the 103-lb. event; Pete Bazzel dropped a decision at 120; Glen Hall lost a decision at 133; and Larry Spayd was pinned by MacMullen at 138.

Christiana forfeited to undefeated Tom Karush at 145; and Steve Horn was pinned by Roebke of William Penn in the heavyweight division.

The 2-5 Vikings face the Green Knights at Mt. Pleasant this Friday at 7:30 p.m.

Stretch Runners Of Burch To Meet Again At Bowie

Mrs. Violet Stewart's Space Skates and R. S. Reynolds, Jr.'s Bonny Johnny — hero and runner-up in the recent Burch Handicap — head an expected field of 10 of the best distance horses on the grounds Saturday when Bowie stages the $200,000-added Southern Maryland Handicap.

Space Skates and Bonny Johnny turned in one of the most thrilling contests of the Bowie season when they hooked up at the top of the stretch and matched strides through the final lap.

Ronnie Ferraro kept Space Skates on the rail, while Ron Turcotte had to take Bonny Johnny to the outside. And at the wire, Space Skates was in front by a neck.

Dave Sysko Tops 1000-Point Mark In Navy-Hen Test

A 26-point performance at Navy last Thursday was more than enough to enable Dave Sysko to become the fifth player in University of Delaware history to score 1000 points.

The 6-5 senior forward, from Penna. Grove, N. J., a mechanical engineering major at Delaware, had 140 career points with eight games remaining, and must average 29.6 during the rest of the schedule to surpass all-time high scorer Raymond (Skip) Crawford, who rang up 1205 in three seasons between 1951 and 1953.

Other Hen 1000-point men and their totals include Nate Cloud 1,167; Frank Wickes, 1089; and Jim Smith, 1053.

Sysko fouled out with slightly less than five minutes remaining against Glassboro State last Saturday scoring 18 points before departing.

Interscholastics Swim Meet Slated Here On Saturday

Taylor Pool at the University of Delaware will be the scene of the ninth annual Delaware Interscholastic Swimming Meet this Saturday at 1 p.m.

Last year's state high school championship was won by Mt. Pleasant, which defeated eight other entries from New Castle County to take ten honors.

Mt. Pleasant is favored again this year, with P. S. duPont, Newark and Brandywine conceding the best chance for ending the reign of the Knights.

Harry W. Rawstrom, University of Delaware swimming coach and meet director, anticipates little difference between the number of schools competing this year and last. Few high schools in the state have full-scale swimming programs.

1,000 POINTS! Congratulations to Delaware's Dave Sysko for joining the select circle of 1000-point makers in the Fighting Blue Hens' basketball history. Sysko scored his 1000th point against Navy last week in a 26-point performance that set the pace for both teams.

And speaking of the Hens and Navy, former Blue Hen basketball captain Fred Mitchell photographed Navy Capt. Bill Busick's program at the recent WSEA sports banquet — at Busick's request. The two first met at Annapolis on the basketball court before their World War II service.

OFF AND RUNNING by John I. Day On Top of the World

Balding, wrinkle-faced millionaire, John Longden has been denying rumors of his imminent retirement for some 15 years. In pro football, Y. A. Tittle is considered a bit "long of tooth" at age 37; Duke Snider and Yogi Berra are "old men" as baseball players are measured, but John Longden, at 57, is mending from a fall last month and planning to add to his 5,777 winners before Santa Anita closes. Longden demonstrated a whim of iron many years ago when as a youngster, borrowing tack to ride an occasional race on the Pacific Northwest fair circuit, he was advised to give up the idea of becoming a jockey. Instead, he went on to win more races than any rider in the world. In his 37 years of riding, purses won by his mounts have amounted to close to $23,000,000. He has been financially more than 3,000 winners before, but to the urging of well-meaning friends, he has said, "Why should I quit? I'm still good."

Two years ago, when he accepted the Thoroughbred Racing Association award as one of eight jockeys to ride more than 3,000 winners, he hinted he might be "fixin' to get ready" to retire. He has since added several hundred winners to his score, but is now reported to be shopping for a ranch in the Northwest... and specifications call for pasture land suitable for raising Thoroughbreds.

Coach Paul Billy Loses Nightmare With 123-lb. Star

University of Delaware wrestling coach Paul Billy's recurring nightmare about forfeits in the 123-pound class have been ended by the best kind of psychotherapy.

The "doctor" is sophomore Dick Hamilton, of Havertown, Pa., who recently was declared eligible for second-semester action after transferring from the University of Pennsylvania. Hamilton appeared in two matches against Johns Hopkins and Muhlenberg, and pinned both his rivals, getting the Blue Hens off to 38-0 and 34-6 victories.

Previously, Coach Billy had had to forfeit the class four times out of six.

Against Swarthmore, Billy moved 130-pound veteran Bill Ashley down to 123, choosing to forfeit the 130-pound class instead.

Ashley, junior of Freeport, N. Y., has six wins in eight bouts — four at 120, two at 123.

He's back at the higher weight, class now and should be a man to watch for the Middle Atlantic Championships coming up next month at Bucknell.

Harold Raymond's Baseball Blue Hens Face 29-Test Card

The University of Delaware baseball team is slated to play 29 games in 1964, opening March 23, at Glassboro State, and with a seven-game southern trip planned from March 30 to April 4.

Coach Harold (Tubby) Raymond's nine will meet East Carolina and Williams in Greenville, N. C., in a twin bill on March 30, then will face Atlantic Christian, North Carolina State, Hamden-Sydney, Randolph-Macon and Georgetown.

Two other doubleheaders are on the schedule — with Bucknell on April 11, and Penn State on May 23. Last year, Raymond's team finished 15-10, the eighth consecutive winning season for the former University of Michigan athlete at Delaware, despite a disappointing southern trip which produced only one victory in six games. The Hens had a 5-3 MAC record.

Marcantonio JV's Continue Unbeaten In Dickinson Win

Coach Andy Marcantonio's unbeaten Newark junior varsity Yellowjacket wrestlers defeated Dickinson's Jayvees 27-14 in preliminary to the varsity matches at the Newark High School gym last Saturday afternoon.

Newark's Bob Jackson won a 6-2 decision in the 95-lb. opener; and David Cross won by forfeit in the 103-lb. class.

Bruce Jones lost a 2-0 decision to Dickinson's Harper at 112; but Steve Kubicko and Creighton Bedlow scored on 4-2 and 2-0 decisions for Marcantonio's matmen in the 120 and 127-lb. events.

Newark's Bobby Hall lost a 5-4 decision at 133, and Carleton Strahan was pinned by Dickinson's Whitaker in 2:36 at 138-lbs.

The junior Yellowjackets won decisions in the next four matches with Tommy Borchardt winning 2-0 at 145-lbs.; Billy Richards, 6-1 at 154; Matt Zeisberg taking a 1-0 nod at 165; and Ken Lomax winning 3-2 at 180-lbs.

Newark newcomer Chris Owens lost an 11-3 decision in the heavyweight division.

Billy Matmen Face Bisons At Home This Saturday

Delaware's freshman and varsity wrestling teams will meet the Bisons of Bucknell this Saturday in matches beginning at 2 p.m. in Carpenter Field House.

Coach Paul Billy's Fighting Blue Hens wrestle away at Drexel next Wednesday.

Harvey Folk, Bob Rawstrom Save Newark With Pin, Decision For 22-21 Mat Win

Newark Co-Captain Harvey Folk's first period pin win for six points at 154-lbs., and Bob Rawstrom's three-point decision at 180-lbs. provided the Yellowjacket varsity wrestlers of Coach Andy Marcantonio with a one-point marginal victory over the unexpectedly powerful Dickinson High School matmen at the Newark High School gym last Saturday afternoon.

Newark, with a 6-1 record for the season after a setback by the unbeaten defending champions of William Penn, share second place with DeLaWarr in the Blue Hen Conference race.

YOU CAN'T HAVE IT BOTH WAYS

ECONOMY MUST APPLY TO ALL

Some members of Congress have indicated that while they are strongly in favor of over-all federal budgetary economy, they will resist cut-backs in spending that affect their particular districts.

If that attitude persists and spreads, we believe that a very serious blow will be dealt economy efforts.

Federal spending cannot be effectively reduced if a lot of pockets of immunity from its provisions are set up. It has to apply to all areas and all situations with equal force if sizeable deductions are to be realized.

There is another serious aspect of the issue that should be constantly borne in mind—the danger that loudly voiced opposition to cuts will be used by the big spenders as a "mandate" to increase rather than decrease expenditures.

John H. Watson Dies At Age Of 69

Services for John H. Watson, 69-year-old newspaperman who was found dead in his kitchen at 10 Wilson Street on Feb. 8, were conducted Sunday afternoon at the Edward R. Bell Funeral Home in New London Avenue, with interment at St. John's Cemetery.

David, George Edward R. Bell said that Mr. Watson had been dead about two days after an apparent heart attack in his home.

Watson entered the house and found the body.

A retired employee of the City of Newark, Mr. Watson was the father of seven daughters—Martha, Grace, Cora, Saunders, Sarah, Joann, Barbara Morgan, Myrtle, Frances, and Dorothy Watson; and three sons—John, Jr., Gilbert, and David.

Varying Factors Cited Influences On Eating Habits

Social and emotional factors often determine our eating habits says Suzanne Tattall, New Castle County home economics extension agent.

Many likes and dislikes for foods are formed early in life, she notes, and since eating is usually in the presence of others, they play a part in how we feel about food.

If older brother feels that he doesn't want spinach, says Mrs. Tattall, the younger might adopt the same attitude.

Advertising can be a primary emotional factor in eating habits. Many advertisers aim their sales for children, because they have found that parents are less sales-resistant when buying for youngsters.

Psychologically, people see themselves as average. Mrs. Tattall reports. Being too fat or too skinny is not socially acceptable. All too often, Mrs. Tattall says, this may lead to unhealthy eating habits.

Letters To The Editor

Dear Bill: After all these years of publicizing the activities of the University Drama Group in Newark, I think you and the members of the staff of the Newark Post deserve a great big "Thank You!"

The director, the members of the cast of "Good No No Flowers," the production staff, the UDG membership—and of course yours truly—are most appreciative for this fine assistance for, let us say, more than a quarter of a century.

I believe our first news release for the UDG was sent to the Newark Post in 1936.

Sincerely, Taggart Evans For the UDG

221 Saturn Drive North Star Feb. 10, 1964

Dear Editor: Residents in and around Newark are greatly concerned about the way Pike Creek Valley is to be developed.

The builders involved in this venture—namely Robinson, Weiner, Johnson, and Fortunate—are asking for minimal zoning on this 1142-acre tract. The news stories concerning the plan build it up as a self-contained city. There are many discrepancies in what they say they will build and the actual zoning requested by them.

For many years, residents between Newark and Wilmington have been asking for a master plan for zoning from the Regional Planning Commission. For many years we have been told they are working on it. It is now too late! The largest tract of land in this area has been purchased (for steps have been taken to purchase it) with the idea of putting high-density housing on it—extremely high density.

We all recognize that land in Mill Creek Hundred is going to be developed. Zoning laws were set up to give some degree of protection to the existing property owners of an area. You, the taxpayers in the Newark school district and citizens of New Castle County all over, have until Feb. 20 to write to the Zoning Commission, Engineering Building, Kirkwood Highway, to let them know that you have an interest in how this now-beautiful tract of land will be developed. If you feel like saying, "We can't fight city hall," then I beg you to remember that as long as we live in a country we like to call "free," we the voters are city hall.

We elect the Levy Court, and as good politicians, members of this body respond to wishes of the voters. They welcome our support and suggestions on issues. Let them all know how you feel about the place where you have invested your life's savings—your home, your school district, and your part of Delaware.

If you don't like the idea of 370 acres of row houses in your back yard, say so.

If you don't like the 100 acres they say is reserved for schools and churches to be rezoned R-4 and R-1-C permitting high density housing if the groups cannot afford to buy this ground for schools and churches, say so.

We spend much time and money combating problems of juvenile delinquency, unemployment, school drop-outs, inadequate education, and related social problems. Here is an excellent opportunity to effect "an ounce of prevention" before the "pound of cure" becomes an intolerable burden on us all.

Frances Price

Vegetable Color Offers Buyer Key To Vitamin Supply

When buying vegetables, color can sometimes be a guide to those richest in nutrients. Vegetables are our primary source of vitamins A and C, says Suzanne Tattall, home economics extension agent for New Castle County.

Carrots, sweet potatoes, tomatoes, and lettuce can be judged by color. The bright orange of mature carrots and the deep orange of sweet potatoes signify greater amounts of vitamin A. Mrs. Tattall reports.

Dark-green leaves of leafy vegetables are richer in nutrients, particularly vitamins A and C, than light-green leaves.

Tomatoes that ripen outdoors in sunlight are twice as rich in vitamin C as those grown in greenhouses in winter.

Tattall Cites Oil Spray In Winter Pest Control

Miscible oil sprays when applied to trees and shrubs during the dormant season, offer effective protection against certain plant pests, according to Dave Tattall, assistant county agent in ornamental horticulture. These mix with water.

Such spray should be applied on a mild day, and early enough to allow the material to dry before evening. A repeat application should not be given during the same season. Oil sprays should not be used on maples, several nut-bearing trees, and a number of evergreens.

Worrlow Reports State's Expansion With Agriculture

Dr. George M. Worrlow, dean of the school of agriculture and vice-president of the University of Delaware, spoke during the Farm and Home Week program on expansion of the State of Delaware in population and agriculture. Worrlow emphasized that in the past 10 years, the state has increased its agricultural production as much or greater than that of its surrounding states.

Dean Worrlow also said interest in agriculture has been increasing constantly in urban areas. This is evident, he said, from enrollment in the school of agriculture at the university.

Approximately half of this year's freshman class enrolled in agriculture, are from urban areas.

Family, Dairy Cow Shelter Offered In Fallout Event

Family shelter, and protection for up to 40 cows are combined in a newly designed dairy barn fallout shelter from the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

Placing the family shelter and barn under one roof would permit the dairyman to care for his livestock during a fallout emergency without leaving the sheltered area, says E. W. Walpole, extension agricultural engineer at the University of Delaware.

Free copies of plan No. 3837 "Dairy Barn Fallout Shelter" may be obtained from the Mailing Room, Agricultural Hall, University of Delaware, Newark.

Closing dairy seasons, Dr. William M. Crosswile, agricultural economist at the University of Delaware, spoke on dairy production in Delaware.

MEMORIAL BRIDGE TRAFFIC

January traffic over Delaware Memorial Bridge increased 7.6 per cent over the same month in 1963, according to General Manager Frank J. Harty. There were 799,811 crossings last month as compared to 743,622 in January, 1963—an increase of 66,289 vehicles.

University Holstein Sets 199,622-Lb. Milk Record

The career production of a registered Holstein cow in the University of Delaware herd recently topped 150,000 lbs. of milk in the official testing program of The Holstein-Friesian Association of America.

U. of D. T. Chief Bersa has a lifetime record of 199,622 lbs. of milk and 7,563 lbs. of butterfat. Her production to date averages out at more than 40 lbs. of milk for every day since she reached two years of age.
