

$4,822,730 Budget Approved; Bond Hearing Planned Feb. 19

Council Endorses $365,500 For Recreation Allocation In Final Section Of 1968 Budget For Total Approval; Public Hearing On $2,110,000 Bond Vote Scheduled

Continuation of the present 65-cents per $100 tax rate with a 1968 municipal budget of $4,822,730, and a proposal to conduct a referendum for approval of a $2,110,000 bond issue for capital improvements were approved at a special meeting of Newark City Council last Monday night with final consideration and approval of a $365,500 allocation for the recreation department. Other portions of the 13-part revised budget had been approved at earlier meetings, and the final section — the recreation department — was approved Monday night.

City Manager Edward R. Stiff offered a reduced budget of $110,025 for capital expenditures in the recreation department, with elimination of land acquisition and development costs for parkland — reductions that Councilman David H. Daiber referred to as "cutting the very heart out of the program I am opposed."

The $110,025 proposal was defeated 7-0 in a 1-4 vote with Councilman William M. Covaditas, Arthur P. Mayer, and Olan R. Thomas favoring the measure.

Recreation Approved
The $310,000 for capital outlay in the recreation department was approved in a 4-2 vote with Mayor Norma B. Handloff and Councilmen Doehbert, William E. Frame, and Frank J. Osborne, Jr., as proponents.

Operating costs of $46,500, with $25,000 allocated for the phase-out of the Greater Newark Recreation Association program, $12,000 in maintenance costs, and $7,000 for a recreation department director, were approved unanimously.

A resolution to conduct the $2,110,000 bond referendum was approved in a 6-1 vote with Covaditas in opposition, and a public hearing on the proposed referendum was scheduled for Feb. 19.

Councilman Mayer cited the likelihood of a 35-cent tax increase for a $1 per $100 assessed property valuation to finance the municipal budget in 1969, and Doehbert suggested consideration of his proposal to "raise property taxes and reduce electricity rates" to derive added income from right industrial firms in the area that purchase current direct from Delmarva Power & Light.

Doehbert said that the "whole electrical system yields 33 per cent" of the city's profit, but a reduction in rates would offset individual costs with increased property taxes, and provide added income with taxes collected from the eight firms not purchasing power from the city.

Tampering
Covaditas countered with "the sale of electricity by the city provided approximately one-third of its revenue. Any sound tampering with this source or any other, frightening Newark was on the losing side in court action on this same problem. We would be gambling with a sizable sum of money in court action — $200,000 or more."

Councilman Covaditas said that tax-exempt land in the city exceeds taxable land by some 30 per cent, and urged that relief be sought from the state.

Speakers in the audience opposed any cutback in the recreation department budget.

Robert E. Snyder, chairman of the parks and recreation advisory committee, said that the "alternate proposal is very disappointing. No other section suffered such a drastic proposed cut. He urged that 'instant swimming pool' be provided in the College Park and New London Avenue areas, and pointed out that the proposed reduction from $110,000 to $110,025 in the capital budget would result in an annual tax saving of but $4 on property assessed at $10,000.

Necessity Not Luxury
A mother in the audience cited recreation as a "necessity rather than luxury," and that adequate recreational facilities would result in savings with less required police protection.

"Any recreation specialist will tell you that parks are not the answer to delinquency," Mayor Handloff replied.

Mrs. Ralph Purcell urged the "now we have something moving. It's a shame to back down. I don't know you should do the whole job as should be done."

Covaditas said "I wish that the group here represented the entire voting public. The manager was asked to reduce the amount to meet the issue more palatable."

Concerning continuation of the present 65-cent tax rate for 1968, with the prospect of a 35-cent increase in 1969, Councilman Osborne mentioned the "big jump," but City Solicitor Clyde M. England, Jr. advised that the city was "not permitted to collect funds in advance."

Crossan Advises Perpetuating Open Land With Needs For Agriculture In Delaware

Delaware farmers play an important part in the agricultural and business economy of this section of the United States, according to Dr. Donald Crossan, assistant dean of the college of agricultural sciences at the University of Delaware, in addressing the Jan. 31, luncheon for candidates for Delaware's outstanding young farmer award.

Crossan pointed out that the important part agriculture plays in Delaware's economy proves people wrong who feel that farmland is the most readily available source of expendable land, for housing, roads, and factories.

Crossan believes this is one of the greatest challenges to the planners in Delaware, or any state.

"They must realize that our cropland is our most valuable natural resource; the farm economy is one basic reason we are the nation we are. The problem of growing food, clothing, and shelter should not be solved by using up an irreplaceable resource—cropland," Crossan said.

Crossan called upon every agricultural man in the state to set up his will so that his land would be used by his heirs or all others (except solely for agriculture or open space).

"I think we owe it to future generations to take the long look ahead when the numbers to feed will be great, and the pressure on land use, enormous. It's too late to act when the land is paved," Crossan concluded.

Crossan said that of the northeastern states, Delaware has the largest percent of its total land in farms, and the largest percentage of farm land in crops.

An order for nearly twice as many Plymouth Puffs as last year has been placed by the New York City Police Department with the Newark assembly plant of Chrysler Corp.

They were accompanied by Nathan Koepfel of Airport Motors, Inc., Jackson Heights, N.Y., the Plymouth dealer who again made the fleet sale, and Herbert Ferris, Chrysler fleet sales manager in New York.

The 1968 order includes 402 patrol cars and 146 pursuit cars. The majority will have special green and white paint applications, others will be unmarked and painted in standard colors.

All 608 Plymouths are standard pursuit and patrol cars with special equipment refinements.

Production and delivery of the total fleet order will be scheduled over a four to five months period.

Fair Housing Poll Results Reported By Newark Ass'n

No Opposition Offered By Majority For Negro Move Into Neighborhood

A public opinion poll conducted by the Newark Civic Association indicates that most Newark citizens would not oppose the movement of Negro families into previously white neighborhoods. The poll also suggests strong local support for fair housing legislation and the belief such legislation is inevitable.

The association asked a representative sample of local citizens to respond to three questions.

What would be their personal response if a Negro family moved next door?

Did they favor open housing legislation?

And did they think the state would have fair housing legislation within five years?

Of 333 people polled, 391 answered they would either "welcome" the Negro family or would remain "neutral."

Only 14 people answered that they would move or sell their homes.

With 79 per cent favoring fair housing legislation, 80 per cent replied that in their opinion, the state would have such legislation by 1973.

The six Newark Civic Association representatives who conducted the door-to-door survey took several precautions to obtain an accurate sample. Using demographic data originally compiled by the university department of urban affairs, they mapped out the city and assigned the number of homes each pollster would approach on the basis of neighborhood population densities. They also followed explicit instructions in selecting individual homes on particular blocks. At least one household on each block in the city, as indicated in urban affairs department materials, was contacted.

Lee Smucker, chairman of the housing committee of the bi-racial Newark Citizens' Council, expressed confidence that "there is not a strong opposition to housing legislation in Newark."

Daiber received his PhD in hydrobiology in 1950 from Ohio State University. He assumed responsibility for developing the ichthyology and fisheries programs at Delaware's M. Daiber will direct not only the Newark campus marine laboratories, but the Lewes Bayshore Laboratory; the tidal marsh program; Benthic invertebrate studies, and an increasingly important oyster culture program.

Rep. Everett Hale

Delaware is losing over $1-million per year in federal Medicare funds because of confusion and lack of coordination, House Majority Leader Everett Hale of Newark declared Tuesday.

In a letter to Harris B. McDowell, Jr., Gov. Terry's federal-state coordinator, Hale asked McDowell to correct the situation. "I believe that this type of coordination is one of your specific responsibilities," Hale wrote.

The Newark Republican noted that state enabling legislation was enacted June 7, 1966, and it was the legislative intent that this bill would make available federal Medicare funds to state institutions.

"Based on estimates from several sources, the amount involved is in excess of $1-million per year," Hale stated.

The agencies involved, Hale said, include mental health institutions, the State Home at Smyrna, and the Emily P. Russell Hospital.

This includes golf course superintendents, grounds maintenance supervisors, commercial turf specialists and home lawn enthusiasts.

The association is governed by a four-man board of directors and its officers.

Recently elected board members include Percy Vickers, Rehoboth Beach, chairman of the DuPont Country Club; Nicholas Merriman of the Hercules Country Club; and James Janis, Newark.

Officers for Edgar Downs of the Rehoboth Country Club, president.

City Council

And to reduce expenses. DuPont moved City to eliminate the $100,000 not very heavy losses by proper mechanism means.

Parking Proposal

Resolving for the Newark Parking Authority, Rockwell B. Rockwell said that the authority's request for $10,000 from the city to pay for a feasibility study of an elevated building to be used for public parking and office rentals, was made at a public hearing. Rockwell's recommendation, "to clear up any legal problems."

Rockwell said the study is needed before we take the proposal to "forward institutions" and that the building is to be financed by "mortgage" without involving city credit.

"When the Newark Parking Authority was approved, we were informed there would be no expenditure," Councilman Thomas said.

Evangel advised that the study was necessary to "justify ratio of leased to parking space."

Coverdale proposed that the study be financed by the merchants who will benefit, and asked what would happen if the study did not justify the proposed multi-million dollar building.

Rockwell replied that there are no private sources for financing the study, and if "the study sets out the parking authority does out of business — nothing can be done about downtown Newark."

DuPont said that the city "set on the parking authority — help them out."

And with the meeting extended from the 10:30 deadline, the Newark Parking Authority discussion was tabled with adjournment at 10:45.

NO-CALORIE DIET

No fats, no carbohydrates, no proteins, no nothing. That's the kind of diet (or close to it) 10,000 men, women and children in underdeveloped countries are dying on every day.

Simply because there's not enough food to go around. And not enough know-how to grow more.

What you know about farming (or what we can teach you) can mean the beginning of the end of starvation to people in the 50 nations where the Peace Corps works. What you know about planting, for instance. Or irrigating or fertilizing or crop rotation or growing livestock. Or anything else you can help them help themselves with.

What will you get out of it? Two years of being completely on your own in a completely strange environment. Hard work and challenge and frustration. But maybe for a lot of people you'll have changed a diet of ignorance into one of knowledge. Sickness into health. Despair into hope. And can you think of a better diet?

TRAGIC TOLL IN VIETNAM

Marine Lance Corporal Robert C. Anderson was killed in action last Saturday in Vietnam while most Delawareans were spending a relaxed, routine weekend with little thought for the tragic toll exacted in stemming the tide of terroristic catastrophic communism.

Bobby is the 14th Delawarean to lose his life in the fighting against the Viet Cong—and he was born 13 years ago last June as a neighbor and lifelong friend of an editor's son who was just two months older.

We saw Bobby Anderson grow from an infant to a fine young man, a transition that involved a move from the suburbs of Wilmington to a farm near Port Penn where he became an enthusiastic outdoor sportsman; a move to Middletown where "Sparky" Anderson starred as a Little League catcher; and schooling culminating in a scholarship awarded by the Marlboro Hall Military Academy in Maryland, and graduation from Salesianum High School.

Bobby graduated from Salesianum in June, 1965—when his lifelong friend graduated from Newark High School—and Bobby enlisted in the U.S. Marine Corps. He arrived in Vietnam last October.

Another neighbor, who lived across the street from the Anderson family in Elmhurst, was killed fighting as a Marine in Korea when Bobby Anderson was three-years-old. And we had seen Billy Worthington grow from a 12-year-old schoolboy to a Korean War hero.

Mechanical Harvesting

Reality With Vegetables

Mechanical harvesting of vegetables has become a reality, and in some instances, a way of life in American agriculture, according to William L. Hollis, assistant director of the agricultural division of the National Canners Association.

Speaking at the vegetable session of Delaware Farm and Home Week, Hollis said that mechanical harvesting has made tremendous strides in the past five years. It now remains to develop new varieties and to adapt cultural practices to the over-harvest.

The total catch about the Applegate boat consisted of a small shark, a beryl (and neither Joe nor the editor can spell this minute marine specimen) and a 22 codfish.

The cod caught the boat pool—and neither Joe Maroussek nor Max Rowe caught it.

CHS Heavyweight Dennis McAlexander Wins Final As Klimek Matmen Tie WHS

A forfeit with no contest in the 95-lb. opener, put Coach Ken Klimek's Vikings down by six points, but Bob George and Kurt Lovejoy evened things by taking 7-4 and 6-0 decisions over Brown and Layman in the 103 and 112-lb. events for a 4-4 count. And Heavyweight Dennis McAlexander won an 8-4 decision over Seastall in the final bout to provide the 1-4-1 Vikings with a 22-22 tie with 6-4-3 Wilmington High School in the Christiana gym last Saturday afternoon.

After the 6-6 team deadlock, Roger Reed wrestled Dodd to a 6-6 tie in a 100-lb. event, but Klimek's Vikings moved into an 11-8 lead when Brant Perkins lost a 13-0 decision to Klimek in the 127-lb. match.

Clyde Brown, who set this column in some tough combat between Newark and Haver de Grace, is a Southerner fisherman by way of Missouri. And in reminiscence of some boyhood fishing with his Dad in Old Mizoo, Young Clyde mentioned catching buffalo — the funny, not four-footed variety. Both were native in the wild state of what was once the wild state of Missouri, but the latter have been long gone except for zoological specimens, including those in Wild Kingdom's Martin Perkins' St. Louis corals. But the marine buffalo — a whopping big member of the sucker family and resembling the familiar carp — is a common heavyweight in the Mississippi watershed, although virtually unknown to eastern anglers.

We had heard of buffalo-fish—but not much, until Clyde Brown mentioned the species. And as so often happens with a novel topic, a magazine "Nebraska" published a handsome and monthly by the Nebraska Game and Parks Commission with Dick H. Schaffer as editor, arrived at the Post desk that same week with a feature article on buffalo fishing.

Author Bob Snow in "Nebraska" writes that "The buffalo, a pushy member of the sucker family, is a real challenge to any fisherman, for it takes a special knack to hook him. A sensitive mouthed fish, just a prick from a sharp barb sends him scurrying in his buffalo exploits."

Lee Swayze Leads Ex-Pittsburgh Outfielder Brandy Davis To Manage Astros' Carolina League Club

Scoring With 23 But Vikings Lose

Co-Capt. Lee Swayze was high scorer with 23 points, including a perfect five-for-five from the free throw line, but Coach Al Mann's Vikings suffered their third straight setback of the season last Tuesday night in losing 49-45 to Wilmington High School in the Christiana gym.

Christiana, trailing most of the game, finally caught Wilmington midway through the fourth quarter and took a 41-40 lead. Antoine Harrison, however, came off the bench to give the Red Devils the lead seconds later, and Wilmington stayed on top.

Down the stretch, with Wilmington barely clinging to an advantage, Harrison hit another field goal and then scored on the verdict with 10 seconds left on two free throws.

In his abbreviated playing time, Harrison scored 14 points.

"We shut off Woodruff," a dejected Christiana Coach Al Mann said, "but they still beat us. They had us outscored and out-quickened, but neither of those things beat us. Harrison did the job."

Crawford Woodruff, leading scorer in the conference, was held to eight points by the close guarding of Swayze.

Mann's Vikings play at Conrad this Friday, and host Dickinson in the Christiana gym next Tuesday, with Jayvees games scheduled to start at 6:30 p.m.

Co-Capt. Craig Nau, Mike Strengari, and Sam Overman scored pins for the Yellowjackets as Coach Andy Marcantonio's matmen threw DeLaWarr for a 34-9 loss in the Lions' gym last Saturday afternoon.

Nau, state and conference champion at 95-lbs. last year, and now wrestling at 112, pinned Burns in 1:30. Strengari, 145, flattened Williams in 3:34, and Overman pinned Hall in 3:11 of the 165-lb. event.

Neil Desmond, substituting for Joe Sobot at 85-lbs., lost a 3-0 decision to Brooks, and then the Yellowjackets moved into a 12-3 lead as Matthews defeated Sheppard 4-0 at 103. Nau pinned Burns, and Mike Kerstetter edged Mattucci 5-2 at 120.

Dennis Stiff lost a 13-0 decision to Thomas at 127, and Steve Jones launched a string of six successive wins for his Yellowjacket teammates by winning a 14-2 decision over Wilson at 131.

Co-Capt. Bradley Lane stouped Sheppard 9-0 at 138 to remain unbeaten for the season. Strengari pinned Williams; Don Early won a 12-2 decision over Gregory at 154. Overman pinned Hall; and Grier Murray, moving up to the 160-lb. class, defeated Grace 7-2.

The 4-3 Yellowjackets entered Dickinson at 2 p.m. this Saturday, and host McKear to a non-conference clash next Wednesday evening at 7:30. Jayvee matches precede the varsity contests by an hour.

Quintanes scored their first win of the season in edging Sigma 8-6. Gamma Phi Beta (4-1) remained in contention for league honors by defeating Tau Theta Psi 17-0, and Omega Chi upset previously unbeaten Ateca, 21-14.

In the most evenly matched game of the day Alpha Psi Omega nipped the Thailians 7-6.

The defending champion Almetta Blue Bombers paced by Sally Peto's seven points won their third game in a row, defeating Omicron Omega 25-3.

Suzanne Mangold of Almetta and Jody Faulkner, Omega Chi, are tied for the Tri-Hi-Y league scoring lead.

Bret Roland Paces Unbeaten Templars To Fourth Straight

In last Saturday afternoon's Western Branch YMCA Hi-Y and Tri-Hi-Y basketball league action at Central Junior High, the unbeaten Hi-Y Templars made it four in a row by trouncing the Corinthians 55-32. Bret Roland of the Templars was high scorer with 16 points.

In other Hi-Y action, the Spartans behind league scoring leader Fred Funk's 19 points defeated the Gladiators 56-41, and the undefeated Trojans thumped the Tritons 49-31.

"I was extremely pleased with Jimmy's and Frank's performances," Delaware Coach Jimmy Flynn said.

"Smith ran a good tactical race, taking the lead early and avoiding the traffic."

"Gordy is only a sophomore, but he runs well enough to compete in the big time," Flynn concluded.

In the past seven years, Newark's Brandon Davis has been appointed manager of Houston's Greensboro club in the Carolina League.

Former player-manager in the Los Angeles Dodgers organization, Davis also served with the Detroit Tiger and Pittsburgh Pirate farm systems after his major league playing career under Branch Rickey with the Bucs.

A Newark High School athlete, Brandy Davis, served with the U.S. Marine Corps, and then went on to star as a baseball player and trackman at Duke University, stepping the 100 in 9.8 in his heyday.

Following graduation from Duke, he was signed by Pittsburgh and began playing Class D ball with the Bartlesville (Okla.) club.

The following spring, an opening day at Sportman's Park in St. Louis, Brandy Davis was the Pittsburgh centerfielder between Ralph Kiner and Gus Bell, as the Bucs faced the Cardinals to launch the 1957 season.

A bit fight with the 300 for a major league outfielder, and after a spring-training leg injury, Davis decided upon an executive career in baseball which included service with the Dodgers and now Houston.

In an organizational change in 1965, Davis left the Astros to become a scout with the Atlanta Braves, returning to the Houston organization in January, 1958 as scouting supervisor.

Son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert G. Davis, he resides with his wife, the former Miss Sue Ware, at 222 Cheltenham Road, Newark, and during the baseball off-season, is employed as a public safety officer, and as a basketball official in the area.
