Critic Commends Show

I cannot think of anyone who would regret paying the sum of six bits for the performance that was staged by the Footlights Club last night, unless it be a Scotchman, and I must admit that in Scotland there is something I could better devote six bits to than to any show. Folk Dances A Feature

The annual celebration of May Day took place on Saturday the seventeenth. For a short time the Women's College reverted back to the time of queens, elves, gypsies and fairies; the youths and maids of the countryside, once again wound the May Pole; the villagers frolicked on the green in folk dance and song; and the May Queen was crowned mid shouts and applause of approval.

The rarity of good weather made everyone doubly grateful for the perfect day on which the May Day celebration took place. Red Men's Grove, where the exercises were held, made an excellent background for the scene. The trees in the grove proved able protectors from the direct rays of the sun; yet the trees produced a soft and sunny light-

ROTARY CLUB TO PAY VISIT TO WOMEN'S COLLEGE ON MAY 31

To Be Hilarious Occasion

The Rotary Club of Wilmington is again to visit the Women's College. The Club and their families are to arrive on Saturday afternoon, May 31, and from all accounts of last year's frolic a roaring good time is to be forthcoming.

The members have demonstrated their ability to recall the spirit of their more youthful days and to rival their hostesses in exuberance. The girls of the College, consequently, look forward with great expectation to the repetition of last year's baseball game and the exceptionally original stunts which were equally participated in by the Club and the College.

Three Juniors Receive Gold Watch Charms For Service In Orchestra

In recognition of their excellent work as members of the Delaware College Orchestra, Harold Hedger, Herbert Lank, and Cornelius Tilghman have been awarded charms by college authorities.

The charms are of a unique design. They are in the form of a lyre, which is of dull gold, with a D, of bright gold, surmounted on the strings.

The bestowing of these charms is in keeping with an established custom of the College. All Juniors who have played in the Delaware College Orchestra for two successive years are eligible to receive these awards.

Hedger is a pianist, and both Lank and Tilghman play saxophones. Lank who is at present in France with the other members of the Foreign Study Group will be awarded his charm upon his return to the University in the fall.

It has been decided that a bronze tablet will be placed on the boulder on the University campus. This weather-beaten old rock marks the spot where the men of New Castle County were sworn into service during the World War. At present

Close Competition Expected in Every Event

Probably New Records

The Twelfth Annual Track and Field Meet of the Middle Atlantic States Collegiate Athletic Association will be held on Frazer Field today and tomorrow.

The Middle Atlantic States Collegiate Athletic Association was formed twelve years ago, and it has grown until now its membership comprises seventeen universities and colleges. The members of the Association are: Bucknell, University of Delaware, Dickinson, Drexel, Franklin and Marshall, Gettysburg, Haverford, Johns Hopkins, Juniata, Lafayette, Lehigh, Muhlenberg, New York University, Rutgers, Swarthmore, Union and Washington and Jefferson.

Almost every member of the Association is represented by a large number of athletes, most of whom have already made exceptionally good records and who expect to establish better ones. Some excellent records have been made in previous Middle Atlantic States meets, but it is probable that some of these will be broken tomorrow afternoon.

Among the entries are several Olympic prospects, the most prominent of these is perhaps Booth, formerly of Delaware, but now at Johns Hopkins.

One of the many proofs, which foretells the end of the school term, and which ranks as important as the ominous mutterings of the professors, is the "sign-up" slip for the Farewell Hop. This dance is to take place in the Hilarium on Friday, June 6, at 8 o'clock.

The Committee on Decorations have been very secretive as to the manner of atmosphere they intend to create. Nevertheless, they have admitted that it will be in keeping with the warm June days and will be redolent of the lazy summer to which

During the year the Council gave three informal dances, which totalled up as self-supporting, there being one where slight losses were incurred and another where these losses were made up. These dances were the Fall dance, the Christmas dance, and the Spring dance for the visiting high school athletes on Interscholastic Day.

Miss Ellen Samworth Discusses Politics At Women's College

At the college hour on Tuesday, May 20, in Science Hall, Miss Ellen Samworth, of Wilmington, addressed the students on "The Principles of the Democratic Party."

During her remarks, Miss Samworth said that women are apparently uninfluential in politics. Nevertheless, it must be remembered that women acquired the vote over night; whereas, men have grown up with the idea of voting.

In summing up her remarks, the speaker declared that since this government was that of a party organization the best way to accomplish reforms was to join one party and to work with it.

Sons of Delaware Had A Successful Visit To College

The Philadelphia Sons of Delaware made their annual visit to the University, Saturday, May 17. More than three hundred former natives of Delaware took the trip.

Arriving in the early afternoon, the visitors were cordially welcomed by a committee of reception, headed by Dr. Hullihen, and were then taken to witness the May Day exercises of the Women's College. After this they proceeded to Frazer Field to see the baseball game between Delaware and St. John's, of Annapolis, and the Delaware-Swarthmore track and field meet.

In the evening a banquet was held in the Commons of Old College Hall. After dinner speeches were made by President Hullihen, Samuel A. Townsend, and Charles R. Miller. The address of the evening was delivered by the Rev. Warren Giles, of Orange, N. J. Community singing completed the program.

DR. THOMAS S. BAKER TO DELIVER ADDRESS COMMENCEMENT DAY

Reverend H. F. Randolph To Preach Baccalaureate Sermon

Dr. Thomas S. Baker, president of the Carnegie Institute of Technology in Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania, will deliver the Commencement Address on June 9.

The Baccalaureate Sermon will be delivered by the Reverend Herbert F. Randolph, pastor of the Calvary M. E. Church in Philadelphia, in Wolf Hall on Sunday morning, June 8.

Dr. Baker is a graduate of Johns Hopkins University in Baltimore and received his Ph.D. from the same institution. Shortly afterward he was called to the head of Tome School at Port Deposit, Md. From Tome Dr. Baker went to Carnegie Tech., where he was director of the Institute of Research for several years. A few years ago he was appointed president of the college. He is widely known in the fields of science and education and his writings are very important contributions to those departments.

Rev. Randolph is well known to Delaware people, having been for several years pastor of Grace M. E. Church in Wilmington. He is a native of New Jersey and first came into prominence as pastor of the Pleasantville M. E. Church in that state.

Following his charge in Wilmington, Rev. Randolph was transferred to Washington, D. C., as pastor of the Foundry Church there. This church has one of the largest congregations in the country. Recently he was called to the pastorate of Calvary M. E. Church in Philadelphia, probably the largest Methodist Church in the city. Rev. Randolph left Wilmington about five years ago. He was extremely popular there, being particularly beloved by the young men of the city.

cial speaker, Dean Ralph L. Watts, of the Penn State School of Agriculture.

Dean Watts is one of the most prominent horticulturists in the East and is the author of many books and treatises on "Vegetable Growing" and kindred subjects, and is also a noted contributor to the agricultural press. In his address, he stated that he was very favorably impressed by Delaware College's Agricultural School. He also said that agricultural students at Delaware possessed more advantages than those at "Penn" State. There are six hundred agricultural students at "Penn" State compared to thirty-two at Delaware, and consequently they lack the personal contact with the members of the faculty, such as is obtained at Delaware.

The versatile "Bill" Hill furnished those present with many hearty and vociferous laughs by the presentation of the "Ag Club Revue."

The officers of the "Ag" Club for the coming year are Paul Skewis, President, who delivered an interesting address, setting forth an outline of activities for the coming year; James Marshall, Vice-President; Raymond A. Fox, Secretary, and Wilson Hatfield, Treasurer.

in football games, but there has never been an official edition issued by the college. The other programs were private commercial ventures.

Paul R. Rinard, '25, was chosen by the Athletic Council to handle the job of putting out the program. In that capacity Rinard has been working for over a month, and has a splendid booklet ready for issue. The editor has stated that the program is the finest kind of an affair, containing thirty-six pages plus a cover. The cover design is a tinted photograph of Old College with the title of the booklet done in Blue and Gold.

The paper stock used in the work is of high grade glossy paper that gives an exceptionally fine tone to all photograph engravings. The programs contain a picture of each letter-man in track of last year who is doing track work this year and who will compete in the meet. There is also an excellent cut of the trophy which will be awarded the winner of the meet. Pictures of executives of the track meet and of the association will also be found. Group pictures of the entire base ball and track squads will be included in the program.

There will be a picture of nearly every college building; for the program is to be not only a container of necessary information for the spectator, but a souvenir of the college. There are numerous action pictures of the finishes of last year's meet included. There is also the name, contestant number, and the college of every athlete who is entered in the meet. There are several pictures of athletes from other colleges who will compete in the events held here.

The editor and manager has had the men who are trying for track managership to help him in his work, and under his direction these candidates have rendered very good service. The book will be sold for twenty-five cents a copy.

CONCRETE WORK OF MEMORIAL LIBRARY NEARLY COMPLETED

Be Done January First

The New Memorial Library is now about fifteen per cent. completed, according to an estimate made last week by Samuel Steele, general foreman of the construction. Since the weather has improved, rapid progress is being made on this building, which is to commemorate the Delaware heroes, who gave their lives to their country during the great World War.

The contractors were delayed for about two weeks, because some consignments of steel were late in arriving. But now the men are all back on the job again, and the clatter of electric riveters can be heard any time during the day.

The concrete work in the basement, except the floor, is now completed, and the steel frame of the main floor is being erected. As it is without a blemish, the concrete work on the New Library is considered to be one of the finest examples of work of this kind in the country.

The concrete work on the first floor is also completed. The floors will be tiled throughout the entire building.

When it is completed, the Library will be one of the most compact concrete structures in the United States. It will be one hundred and eighty feet long, seventy-three feet wide, and sixty feet above the ground. Mr. Steele believes that the Library will be ready for use by the first of next January.

people than have even been present at an annual meeting. The majority of the speakers who lectured to the large audience were specialists in Art Education. In addition to those who had specialized along some line of Art Education were Dr. Payson Smith, the Commissioner of Education in Massachusetts, and Dr. Snedden, the Professor of Education at Teachers College.

The exhibition of art work was excellent. It was a collection of work from different art schools, colleges, normal schools, and public schools. This exhibition was somewhat smaller than usual, because of the limited exhibition space. The work that was shown did credit to the schools exhibiting, however, and gave the members of the Association a splendid opportunity to compare the work of different localities.

In the Middle Ages
The Oxford Student
Lived On $12 a Year

It cost an Oxford student in the Middle Ages less to live per day than it costs the modern young man for his carfare to the office in the morning. The expense account of a medieval student, which is reprinted in Albert Mansbridge's book, "The Older Universities of England," published by Houghton Mifflin Company, shows how the magnificent sum of $12.20 was distributed over the school year of thirty-eight weeks. Even allowing for the appreciable difference in money value, we are assured that this youth must have lived very frugally. Here are his expenditures:

| Rent of room | 2.00 |

SEVEN ATHLETES OF DELAWARE TEAM ARE ELIGIBLE FOR "D'S"

McKelvie High Scorer

With the exception of the Middle States Meet, the track season of the Blue and Gold track team was completed by the meet with Swarthmore on Frazer Field last Saturday, May 17. This has been one of the hardest and most discouraging seasons that Delaware has had for a long time. Coach Keyes and the team are to be congratulated upon doing as well as they did.

The three high scorers on the track team for this season are McKelvie, Baxter, and Elliott. McKelvie heads the list with fifty points, having taken three first places in the discus, two firsts in the javelin, three seconds in the discus, four seconds in the javelin, and a second and a third in the shotput.

Baxter, who holds the University of Delaware high jump record at five feet and nine inches, is only four points behind McKelvie. Baxter has won three firsts and a second in the high hurdles, two seconds in the low hurdles, two firsts in the high jump, and four seconds in the high jump, for a total of forty-six points.

Captain "Ike" Elliott ranks third with a total of thirty-four points to his credit. He won two firsts, a second, and three thirds in the shotput, two firsts, two seconds, and a third in the broad jump, and a third in the discus.

To be eligible to receive a letter a man must earn eighteen points or more. Those who are eligible for letters, which will be awarded at the commencement exercises, are Captain Elliott, McKelvie, Baxter, R. France, Christfield, Evans, and Manager Shockley.

MAY DAY EXERCISES

ing effect which would have been hard to rival. Two of the trees formed a natural arbor under which was placed the throne where sat the Queen, waited on by her Court.

Promptly at one-thirty the procession began to progress across the Campus. The University Band came first, dressed in costumes of red, white, and blue—French or Russian origin, it has not been determined which. After them came the different groups of dancers and entertainers. Finally came the queen and her attendants.

Emily Roe made a very attractive and gracious May Queen. She and the Court, in their light summer dresses, made a pleasing picture against the dark green laurel in which the throne was decorated. Those who attended Miss Roe were: Vera Edwards, Maid of Honor; Josephine Burnett, Senior Duchess, attended by Elizabeth MacIntyre and Sara Hatfield; Mary Bradley, Junior Duchess, attended by Unity Jones and Charlotte Dayett; Georgia Wiggin, Sophomore Duchess, attended by Louise Harris, and Carmala Carletta and Katherine Ady; Freshman Duchess, attended by Jean Middleton and Marie Jackson.

As soon as the Court was seated, the dances began. The exercises were in the form of a story called a "Spring Fantasy."

A small boy, played by Esther Ruston, falls asleep and dreams of the wonders of fairy land. The fireflies flit around him; Fairy Snow-Flake dances for him; the flowers open and cluster around him; a band of colorful gypsies pass by, dancing and singing; the summer breezes dance and play in the leaves. The boy awakes, sees the Queen of the May and brings to her a crown.

The maids and youths then appeared and wound the May Pole under which the entire procession marched.

Much credit is due Miss Prugger, who spent time and energy in transforming college girls into sylph-like creatures with aesthetic mannerisms and atmosphere. Linda Bassett, Bertha Staats, Helen Cohen performed very well in solo dances. Mildred Tolson sang a very charming solo. Indeed the entire college deserves credit for having put forth such a worthwhile production.

MIDDLE STATES MEET

We heartily welcome the many athletes, coaches, managers, guests, and spectators who are visiting the University during this week-end.

The Middle Atlantic States Athletic Association is a rapidly growing institution, an organization which is doing much to develop a healthy interest in athletics, and a power which is raising the term "sportsmanship" to a moral plane level with that one occupied by "truth" and "honor." It will be interesting for the spectators to watch the events with this thought in mind.

Among the hundreds of contestants entered in this athletic carnival, are several who are being considered as material to represent the United States in the Olympic Games. The records of all the men entered in the Middle Atlantic this year are splendid. With such athletes, competition will be unusually keen, and new records are not improbable.

Frazer Field is about to add, to its already crowded collection, another and a greater set of memory pictures—the greatest it will ever have, perhaps.

ROTARY CLUB

Once again the Women College is to be honored by a visit of the Rotarian Club. We have always felt that the friendship and goodwill of the Rotarians are and will be of inestimable value to our college in its struggle to give to the students of Delaware the best in education. In behalf of the University, it is indeed a pleasure to extend a welcome to the Rotary Club whom we feel will always support us faithfully and loyally; and to extend to the club an invitation to make this an annual visit.

WHAT ARE YOU DOING THIS SUMMER?

College ends in two more weeks. Have you made your plans for the coming vacation? There are four months of opportunity ahead of you. Opportunity to become more closely acquainted with your selected vocation. Are you considering taking advantage of this chance?

Perhaps you have not decided upon your life's work, and you will just pick up the first job that happens along this summer. If this is the case, you are not giving yourself a fair start in life. You are starting late.

Life is not a cross country run where the start does not particularly matter. Life is a short dash where the race is to the swift—and this despite all the popular magazine philosophies to the contrary. In our present age of machinery and efficiency, speed is a great factor to success, and an early start is an essential part of swiftness.

Thus the question is not, What are you going to do this summer, but, Why.

WOMEN IN POLITICS

"Women are failures in politics." This statement is fast becoming a stock phrase in mentioning the fact of universal suffrage. Is this really true? If so, it certainly is appalling.

One cannot expect women of the older generation to feel concerned with such a radical change in affairs. Rather the women who should feel the need of women in politics, are our own generation. As future voters and participants in civic affairs, it certainly should be our duty to know and understand party principles, to start thinking and talking of our ideas of government, to become true citizens.

THE BASKETBALL LETTERS

We agree thoroughly with Captain France's sentiments in regard to the uncomplimentary method by which the members of the basketball team were recently awarded their "D's".

Sending these awards through the mail without even a note of explanation certainly cheapens the worth of the awards, hurts the pride of the receivers, and indicates an inexcusable carelessness and lack of interest on the part of the Athletic Council.

COMMENCEMENT

Another commencement will soon be here. Once again, will a Senior class be forced to assume a new phase of life, to take on greater responsibilities. In fact, every class in college, from Freshman to Junior, have acquired obligations. Now is the time to become introspective. What have you acquired in the manner of new ideas, and thoughts? Do you really feel that this year of college has been a worth while period?

Every one, undoubtedly, has his or her regrets, has a sense of not having taken every opportunity to prove his ability. Nevertheless, we are fortunate in having a period to start anew. For the Seniors it is an entirely new life under new conditions; for the returning students, it is a new year, new courses, new tasks. Let every one begin to prepare to make next year worth while.

STUDENT ELECTIONS

We wish to congratulate those honored by the recent student elections. In no case do we think that there has been an unwise choice.

We want to congratulate the Student Body of Delaware College upon having their elections more free from indications of petty politics than it has ever before been our privilege to witness.

We are proud to belong to an institution where selfishness does not blind the students to the qualities of the "other fellow."

STUDENT OPINION

May 19, 1924.

Editor-in-Chief

University of Delaware Review.

Dear Sir:

Through the "Review" I wish to express my opinion of the manner in which the Athletic Council conferred the "D's" upon the 1923-24 basketball team.

I realize, as does every one connected with the University, that we did not have a very successful season. Almost every student has some knowledge of the difficulties that the team had to face. Any of these difficulties was sufficient to dishearten any group of players.

But was the team such a disgrace to the University that the Athletic Council was ashamed to award the letters in any way other than to put them in our mail boxes? Are these symbols of service of no more value than ordinary advertisements?

When I took the yellow envelope from my mail box on last Saturday morning, I started to tear it up without even opening it, because I thought it was just another of those advertisements which we are continually receiving. But I happened to notice the word "basketball" after my name. I opened the envelope and a felt "D" dropped out on the floor. There was nothing else in the envelope—no letter of explanation, not even a note of appreciation for our attempts to win games, and add to Delaware's reputation.

Of course it is somewhat embarrassing to stand before the whole student body at College Hour and receive one's letter, but when that short ordeal is over, one experiences a feeling that one has done a little for his university, and that one's efforts are appreciated and respected. But when one gets his letter through the mail, in an envelope without even a stamp on it, one does not exactly feel inspired to great and noble deeds for his Alma Mater.

After having conversed with the other members of the team, I find that I am not alone in this feeling of "cheapness." The entire squad feels as I do. We think that this method of awarding letters is not merely uncomplimentary to those who receive the awards, but that it approaches almost to being an insult.

Hoping that this way of "handing out" the formerly much-valued "D" is only a temporary device, and not to be a permanent custom, I am,

Very truly yours,

Ralph L. France,

Capt. Basketball, '23-'24.

Warner Omitted Last Week

In last week's issue of the Review, the name of Francis Warner was accidentally omitted from the list of new Derelicts.

The Editor apologizes to "Sap" for this omission—something is always going wrong with this darn paper.

EUROPEAN TRAVEL-COURSE ABOUT ART AND ARCHITECTURE

The Arts travel-course will begin with the sailing of the "Carmania" from New York on July 5th. Members will visit London, Cambridge, Ely, the University Club

House On Market
Between 12th and 13th

Like most of the other cities, Wilmington has organized a University Club. The ultimate object of such an institution is to create a better feeling of good-fellowship among those alumni of the various colleges who are in the vicinity of Wilmington.

Although it is in its infancy, the club has already secured a home on Market Street between Twelfth and Thirteenth. The members are anticipating extensive alterations on their new house so that they may be considered as having typical quarters for college men. When completed, the home will assure not only a common meeting place for members and friends, but also dormitory facilities for college men, both resident and traveling.

The immediate aim of the club is to secure as early as possible a membership of three hundred. In order to achieve their aim, the committee in charge has decided on an initiation fee of $15 and annual dues of $20 payable in $5 installments, quarterly. The amounts herein stated are but temporarily fixed, and will doubtlessly be changed when the desired membership quota has been obtained.

There is romance in life, if one sets out to get it in a scientific way.

Progress is not a case of social reorganization, but of the development of man through education.

Hague, Amsterdam, Haarlem, Brussels, Bruges, Ghent, Paris, Chartres, Avignon, Nice, Genoa, Rome, Perugia, Assisi, Florence, Venice, Verona, Milan, and Lucerne.

Two colleges have announced that they will grant academic credit to their students for work done by them as members of the travel-course. It is expected that other colleges will take similar action shortly.

Information regarding conditions of membership, etc., may be secured from Irwin Smith, the Institute of International Education, 522 Fifth Avenue, New York.

SOME PITHY REMARKS ABOUT RECENT BOOKS

THE LIFE OF CAESAR BORGIA

Rafael Sabatini

A biography, of the most colorful rascal in the history of the Italian Renaissance, by one who actually brings to life the arch-rake, Caesar Borgia.

As exciting as his "Fortune's Fool."

THE HIGH PLACE

James Branch Cabell

The story of a boy who aspires for perfect beauty in childhood, and who attains his greatest desire at maturity.

Done with Cabell's cynical and sardonic merriment, his enchanting style, and rich imagery.

I'LL SHOW YOU THE TOWN

Elmer Davis

The story of a young college professor who, endeavoring to have his father's college endowed, escorts three ladies, all millionairesses, around New York City during the summer vacation.

A rollicking tale!

A LOST LADY

Willa Cather

All are united in praise for this picture of a woman. There is an artistic restraint about the book that magnifies its radiance and its charm.

This work places the author-ess on a par with Mrs. Wharton.

WELDED

Eugene O'Neill

Nethan said: "The theme of O'Neill's play is love. Not the candy-box top love of the Broadway piffle mills, but love as it actually blooms in the hearts of men and women: a thing of hate, self-torture, misery, beauty, exaltation, degradation, and iron chains, all compact."

We say ditto; O'Neill is America's greatest living dramatist.

ESCAPADE

Evelyn Scott

Another autobiography pleading for the installation of modern plumbing in the wilds of Brazil.

Too daring, except for the paranoiac erotica.

THE ROVER

Joseph Conrad

A romantic tale of Peyrol, a retired buccaneer, with the charm of southern France as a background.

There is a brooding irony running through the story that is magical.

that it cost to see it is a chronic kicker. The entire performance was good.

Mr. Hill and his chorus in the curtain raiser were at least provocative of laughter. After looking over his bevy of beauties, I am not sure but that Dean Dutton would do well to send the credits of these young men to Dean Robinson. Personally I have always entertained the idea that Robbins would be more properly enrolled there than at the Men's College, and after viewing the performance I am more convinced than ever. However, they were entertaining, and they showed up very well in their sister's clothing.

Madame Za-Za and her oriental dance was perhaps the most finished performance of the evening, and it incidentally nearly finished several of the audience. We hear a great deal about Swiss and Elgin movement, but I think that a great deal could be said about the Egyptian as well. The unfortunate part about Madame Za-Za's performance was that his mother was in the audience.

The prize of the evening goes to the two young gentlemen called Deputy and Hobbs. I understand that Mr. Deputy is the author of his rollicking hiccupping sketch, "Fomeo and Brewinyet." He is to be congratulated upon his work, and should Jane Cowl ever see his performance, I scarcely know whether she would die of mortification or of laughter. Incidentally the whole skit is an excellent knock at prohibition and a glowing compliment to General Butler, who, by the way, was commented upon liberally in other skits. Butler seems to be the popular thing of the day, although at present one hardly knows whether the Butler of Philadelphia or Columbia is the most discussed. At any rate, Deputy and Hobbs were an excellent pair of Thespians and their little drama was enough to make anyone laugh. As both gentlemen took double parts they are to be doubly congratulated.

Charlie Green and Emmie Maxwell are good negroes, and knowing Emmie as I do, I am in doubt as to whether his hunger was feigned or not. Green has always been used to throwing it, hence his voice throwing was no surprise. It is true that a couple of jokes that they pulled were somewhat risqué, but then one must have a little spice in such an entertainment.

About Truitt and Hill, I can only say that I shall never play poker with Truitt nor allow Hill to come around my barn with a bunch of Easter egg dyes—it would be entirely too hard upon the feathered stock.

John Dale and his recitation en masse were good. He is clever with such work and did this particularly well.

Akin and Smith presented a few bits of life as it should be, which of course wasn't realism. But it was really funny.

Len Daly and his jokes are always welcome back again. He can always be depended upon to entertain anyone at any time, and the fact that "Jo" Brandt failed to show up for his share of the performance in nowise injured Len's act. Len is trying valiantly to live down the fact that he took an Ag course while this novel place Monsieur Curwood on a financial plane with Harold Bell Wright, bucket-shop brokers, bootleggers, and colored porters.

in college, and really, to look at him, one would scarcely believe he did. I have heard his Chinese joke only six times, but I have never failed to enjoy it each time.

George Madden does not need any comment. He is so used to praise and compliments that anything said here would be meaningless to him. But it is needless to say that he is the last word in jazz and that he is a true alumnus who never fails to come back and lend a hand to the undergraduates when they are in need of help. He was endorsed the most of any act.

Clarence Woolery and his solos were well received, despite the fact that his selections were new to him, and he experienced a great deal of difficulty in reading them in the poor light.

Last, but not least by any means, was the patronesses corner. I have always looked with suspicion upon these institutions, and now I shall actually fear them. Heavens! Where can one be above criticism: I cannot think of anyone that did not get their just slam at this little performance. I am glad to learn so much about our new library, too. We innocent ones who have to work late at night never are hep to any of the goings-on around here. I often wondered why so many of the boys used to come home with mud on their shoes.

Summing the whole performance up, I think that the Footlights Club is to be congratulated upon their presentation of the evening, and that Duke Smith and Fuzzy may leave college in June with the feeling that they really gave a worth while program in their last work.

THE EDITORSHIP OF COLLEGE PAPER BEST OF STUDENT OFFICES

The much-abused, seldom-lauded, hard-working editor of a student publication has a position which will prove of more value to him after graduation than the leadership of any other campus activity, in the opinion of the students of Colby, a poll conducted by the Echo, student weekly, discloses. The captain of the football team might just as well take all the pleasure in his position that he can during his term of office, for, after graduation, the fact that he headed the eleven will mean next to nothing, the students of the college believe.

According to the returns to the questionnaire, distributed among the students by the weekly, the student office which is the most valuable in after-college years is the editorship of the weekly. Second in importance are the various managerships of the different sports and publications. The office considered the third most valuable is that of president of the Student Council. The votes were cast as follows:

- 65—Editor-in-chief of weekly.
- 52—Manager of some sport or publication.
- 33—President of student council.
- 23—Editor-in-chief of Oracle (year book).
- 14—President of senior class.
- 5—President of any class.
- 4—Captain of football.
- 2—President of Y. M. C. A.
- 2—President of athletic association.
- 1—Class treasurer, captain of baseball, member of deputation team, president of checker club.

In the women's division the chief competition was between the president of the Student beat out Jackson and Cann as Senior representative by nine and seventeen votes respectively. Mannix and King won their elections by slightly greater majorities, and Harper received twenty-two votes more than Maguire.

Rinard, Torbert, and Lohman became automatic members of the Student Council when they were elected president of their different classes. Tilghman is the representative from the University of Delaware Review.

The members of the new council will elect their vice-president, secretary, and treasurer at a meeting to be held in the Student Council office today.

John Schaefer, the retiring president of the Student Council, is planning a "get together" dinner for the old and new council. The time for this banquet has not been decided upon yet, but it will be at some early date.

SPLENDID SPIRIT OF R. O. T. C. UNIT BRINGS MEMBERS A HOLIDAY

The military inspection was a huge success in every respect. The elaborateness of detail with which the military department planned the affair, and the splendid spirit and enthusiasm shown by the members of the R. O. T. C. unit, left nothing to be desired.

The inspecting officers appeared to be satisfied with the results attained by the R. O. T. C. department. Needless to say, no intelligence of any sort has been received to indicate the success or failure of the University to be honored a second time with the rating of "Distinguished College."

Colonels Haynes and Maybach expressed hearty appreciation for the cordiality shown them by the members of the faculty, student body, and citizens of the community at large.

everyone is looking forward. The Program Committee have also followed suit and have refused to divulge the nature of the programs. It is whispered about, though, that the programs will be out of the ordinary and will doubtlessly be dubbed by the fair sex as "perfectly precious."

George Madden's Orchestra will play. The dance, which is given by the Seniors, will be the last of the season. Every one expects it to be a successful and representative "Hop."

TEMPLE UNIVERSITY WINS FROM DELAWARE IN EXCITING GAME

Roth Pitches Well

Our baseball squad met its first real defeat at the hands of the Temple University nine last Monday, with a score of 3-1. Jensen, the twirler for the visitor, gave the finest exhibition of pitching seen on Frazer Field this season. Besides fanning thirteen men in the course of the game, Jensen, himself, smashed out a homer in the first inning.

In the 9th inning Delaware rallied, and Jackson scored a run. Later in the inning when second and third bases were occupied, with two out, and a very favorable opportunity of tying the score presented itself, a fly to first base ended the game.

Roth, pitching his first game for Delaware, did creditable work. He did not give a single walk, and fanned seven men. The game was probably the fastest of the year.

Rev. Hallman Talks At Vesper Service At Women's College

Everyone who attended the Vesper service at the Women's College on Sunday evening enjoyed the excellent talk given by Rev. Hallman, pastor of the Presbyterian Church in Newark. Mr. Hallman's talk was particularly interesting, because it dealt with one of the questions which often confronts the college student.

The topic of the address was "The Value of Lost Causes," and Mr. Hallman chose the close of the life of Moses as a typical example of what we would consider a lost cause. He said that Moses' life was not a failure, but it was an example of the benefit that may be gained from that which is often thought of as a lost cause.

The evening service was led by Elizabeth Hutt, who is a member of the Freshman class and a representative on the Freshman Y. W. C. A. Cabinet.

ST. JOHN'S COLLEGE DECISIVELY BEATEN BY DELAWARE NINE

Pryor's Fifth Victory

The University of Delaware baseball team defeated St. John's College of Annapolis in a one-sided game on last Saturday. The score was 16 to 4. Every man on the Delaware team got at least one hit. "Jack" Williams and Mannix each hit three singles, as many hits as the entire St. John's nine were able to get.

This makes Pryor's fifth win out of six games. The only time that Pryor appeared to the slightest disadvantage was in the eighth inning, when the cadets scored two runs, but he "pulled out" in his easy, careless manner, and sent the St. John's players to the showers in short order.

Captain "Mike" Underwood played his usual game at short—consistent and dependable. Gibson handled all his chances well, but his throws to first base were poor. The score:

SWARTHMORE TRACK TEAM EASILY WINS FROM UNIV. OF DEL.

Final Score 77 2/3 to 48 1/3

In the last dual meet of the season, Swarthmore defeated the Delaware track men by nearly twice the number of points as the Blue and Gold athletes earned.

Delaware only won three first places out of a possible fourteen. Captain Elliott's leap of 19 feet and 4 inches took first place in the broad jump; Baxter won the 120-yard high hurdles; and R. France was first in the 220 low hurdles. McKelvie, who usually places first in the weight events, found the competition too keen for him to get better than seconds in the discus and javelin, and third in the shotput.

Lewis, who won the two-mile for Swarthmore, equalled his college's record in that event by doing the eight laps in 9 minutes and 59 seconds.

The summaries:

Shotput—Won by Wilcox, Swarth.; second, Elliott, Del.; third, McKelvie, Del. Distance, 39 ft. 4 in.

Javelin throw—Won by Gutormsen, Swarth.; second, McKelvie, Del.; third, Seymour, Swarth. Distance, 161 ft. 1 in.

Discus throw—Won by Wilcox, Swarth.; second, McKelvie, Del.; third, Humphries, Del. Distance, 119 ft. 5 1/2 in.

High jump—Won by Blair, Swarth.; second, Baxter, Del.; third, France, McKeag, Vanderkleed. Height, 5 ft. 9 in.

Broad jump—Won by Elliott, Del.; second, Seymour, Swarth.; third, Burr, Swarth. Distance, 19 ft. 4 in.

Pole vault—Won by Cliff, Swarth.; second, Martin, Swarth.; third, Lohman, Prettyman and Pikus. Height, 10 ft. 3 in.

100-yard dash—Won by Nuchols, Swarth.; second, Burr, Swarth.; third, Ableman, Del. Time, 10 3-5.

One-half mile run—Won by Hemmerly, Swarth.; second, Purdue, Swarth.; third, Gregg, Del. Time, 2:02 3-5.

220-yard dash—Won by Rumble, Swarth.; second, Nuchols, Swarth.; third, Evans, Del. Time, 23 2-5.

Two-mile run—Won by Lewis, Swarth.; second, Skewis, Del.; third, Redifer, Swarth. Time, 9:59 sec. (Equal to Swarthmore record.)

Kirkbride Will

Return On 26th

Professor Kirkbride, in charge of the Foreign Study Group, is expected in Newark on or about the twenty-sixth of this month. He will remain here about two weeks, and will then return to France to be with the students in preparation for and during the final examinations, which occur during the last week of June.

As these examinations cover the work of the entire session of the purely lecture and reading courses, they are, of course, of even greater importance than the final examinations of American Colleges.

U. of D. Summer School

Under Prof. Wilkinson

To Commence June 23

Announcement has been made that the Summer School of the University of Delaware will open on June 23 and Close August 1. Professor W. A. Wilkinson will again have charge of the work and has arranged an attractive program. A feature this year will be the course in Rural Community Organization, in charge of Mrs. F. C. Beverly, of Virginia, who has a national reputation in this line of work.

There will be special recreations and social features to the school again this year and Director Wilkinson is anticipating a record enrollment. The Service Citizens will provide the usual high class program of lectures and musicals.

ARMY CONQUERS

DELAWARE NINE

BY A LONE RUN

Underwood Hits Homer

Army won a game from the University of Delaware Wednesday in the first inning. The cadets' big start stood them in good stead for Pryor was invincible from that time on. The final score was Army 3, Delaware 2.

A single by Dasher, a double by Ellinger and a pass to Bill Wood filled the bases in the opener. Baird's screaming triple to center sent all three of the runners home.

Delaware scored its two runs in the second. Captain Underwood's home run drive to center, one of the features of the game, was responsible for the first tally. Murray followed with a safe hit to right and went to second on Hunt's sacrifice. Gibson walked and on an attempted double steal Murray was caught going to third. Gibson moved up a peg when Bingham fell down on Pryor's grass-cutter, and he scored a moment later on Mannix's drive through the box.

Delaware threatened in the seventh, getting two men on via the free ticket route. Merkle, however, tightened up and retired the side. Wet grounds forced the players over on the grass plain for the contest. Hunt's work around second was a feature. Score:

Juniors Ape Seniors

Wednesday evening at dinner the Juniors gave a novel and interesting form of entertainment. The Seniors gave themselves a picnic at Chesapeake Haven; the Juniors were left as the oldest class. They proceeded to take off the different members of the Senior class in quite an amusing and effective way. The entertainment lasted during the dinner hour during which certain characteristic traits of the Seniors were displayed by actions and announcements.

One does not feel happy or unhappy; he thinks happy or unhappy.

DRAMATIC CLUB AT WOMEN'S COLLEGE HAS BEEN SUCCESS

Louise Jackson Is Reason

It is very interesting, when the school year is drawing to a close, to note the progress of certain college organizations. This time it is very interesting to regard the Dramatic Club. When Louise Jackson first took charge of the club, it was sadly in need of organizing. Up to this time it had been a one-woman organization, run by the president and a chosen few. The productions were very few and very far between.

Miss Jackson took charge and soon began to swing affairs into a more orderly arrangement. The first important change was the doing away with the playthings. These were small plays given in the dining-room during the dinner hour. However, small amusement was derived from them, since they could hardly be seen or heard from all points. Instead was inaugurated the ten-minute plays which were given under the management of Louise Marvel. These plays made up in quality what they lacked in quantity. Among the most notable of them were: "Three Pills in a Bottle" and "The Candle of Romance."

It was a very happy time for the board who acted as stagehands and errand boys, when the curtain fell on the very successful play, "Tygmalion," by Bernard Shaw. It was carried off by the different characters in true Broadway style. Even the time co-incided with the length of time allotted a successful Broadway drama. During the try-outs for this play, a great deal of valuable talent was discovered, especially in the Freshman class. Margaret Wiggle was a shining example of this fact, although only a Freshman she played the role of Eliza in an admirable fashion.

Later, a good deal of interest was created by the announcement of the competitive class plays. These were one-act plays given by the four classes who chose their play, their players, and coached them. The plays were judged on the different merits of acting, costuming, scenic effect and cost. It was during the planning of these plays that the board decided to get a new curtain to replace the old background of hideous green.

The club as a unit became active, and met on certain Tuesdays to study the different angles of the stage. The club studied the choosing of characters, makeup, stage lighting and managing.

The year has indeed been a very great success. No amount of praise is too great to offer Louise Jackson, who made the Dramatic Club an active organization. It is certainly hoped that the board of next year will carry on the work of the present board.

Sigma Nu Informal

An informal dance, the last social affair of the year for the Sigma Nu fraternity, was held in the Armory Saturday evening, May 17. More than one hundred couples were in attendance. Excellent music was furnished by the Lehigh Six, an orchestra composed of students of Lehigh University. Refreshments were served after the dance.

A Near Tragedy

Margie had disappeared. For hours I searched for her, but in vain. I was almost frantic with grief and despair at the thought that perhaps she had left me never to return. I could not forget that more than one man had fallen victim to her charms. Neither could I forget that she belonged to me, body and soul. It had been but yesterday that I had embraced her, fondled and caressed her, had felt her hot, panting breath on my face, had felt her heaving bosom against mine. How could I ever forget her beautiful hair and sparkling eyes, her graceful form.

Yes, she was gone. Never again was my pillow to feel the weight of her dainty head, nor my arms the touch of her body. Why had I been so foolish as to believe that she had forgiven me last week when I had kicked her so brutally, as if she were a mere dog. Bitterly I vowed that if she would only return to me she would never have cause to leave me again.

"Margie!" I shouted and looked around eagerly for signs of her presence. Could that be my beloved in the distance, becoming nearer and nearer. Yes, it was Margie, there was no one like her in the world, and I ran toward her with outstretched arms, hysterically sobbing her name aloud. How sweet was that embrace, and how beautifully she wagged her tail, and how melodiously she barked. Margie was not an ordinary canine.

How Many of These Records Will Survive On Tomorrow

Some exceptionally good records have been made in the Middle States Meet during the past twelve years. The present records and the record holders in the fourteen events that are contested annually follow:

100-yard dash—9 4-5 seconds, LeConey, Lafayette.
220-yard dash—21 3-5 seconds, Bostock, Gettysburg, and LeConey, of Lafayette.
440-yard dash—50 3-5 seconds, Martone, Franklin and Marshall.
880-yard dash—1:59 1-5, Burke, Lehigh.
One-mile run—4:27 3-5, Kleinspehn, Lafayette.
Two-mile run—9:45, Histler, Drexel Institute.
220-yard hurdles—24 1-2 seconds, Meyer, Rutgers.

Broad jump—23 feet, 4 inches, Courtois, New York University.
Shot put—45 feet, 3 inches, Cann, New York University.
Discus—130 feet, 5 inches, Tallman, Rutgers.

RIFLE CLUB WON FIFTEEN MATCHES IN PAST SEASON

Individual Records Broken

Under the tutelage of Captain Sparks, the captaincy of John B. France, and the managership of J. E. Mortimer, the Rifle Club has just completed a highly successful season, despite the handicap of having only two men back from last year. Matches were arranged with twenty-nine colleges, fifteen of which resulted in victories for Delaware. Some of these colleges were Nebraska, New York, Iowa, Vermont, Michigan; Minnesota, Missouri, Kansas, Oregon, California, Chicago, Illinois, Washington, Kentucky, Porto Rico, Rhode Island, and other institutions that rank among the best in the country.

The Rifle Team stood second in the Second Corps Area match, Syracuse winning first honors, with eleven colleges entered in the match. By reason of Delaware's standing in this match she was entitled to compete in the National Intercollegiate Match, the results of which are as yet not known.

Great interest in rifle marksmanship has been evidenced by the student body during the past year, there being more than fifty active members in the Club, and an average of thirty men shooting every afternoon at the range.

One of the most interesting matches of the year took place on April 1, when the men defeated the Women's College Team by one point—486 to 485.

That there has been great improvement in marksmanship is shown by the increase in average individual scores from 168 at the beginning of the season to 183 at the close. Many individual records were also broken. E. H. Jackson and W. H. Hill equalled France's prone record of 100 x 100. Shuster with a score of 97 broke the sitting record of 96 made by H. W. Cook. J. B. France with a score of 93 broke the record of 89 standing, made by Reynolds, and also broke Pierce's record in all four position with a score of 193.

TENNIS TEAM FROM CATHOLIC "U" BEATS DELAWARE PLAYERS

Malloy Wins His Match

The Catholic University Tennis Team won five of the six matches of their tournament with Delaware. Malloy was the only Delaware man to win his match. Although all the sets were more interesting than the scores indicate.

There were two love games, and fifty deuce games. Considering the condition of the courts, all the games were fast. Our team played hard and well, but Catholic University had a very good and well-balanced team. Regan, who reached the semifinals in the Intercollegiate Tennis Championship last year, is without doubt their best player. The summary:

Regan defeated Barker 6-0, 6-1.
Kuwaski defeated Johnson 6-2, 6-3.
Malloy defeated Kirby, 2-6, 6-3, 6-4.
Hicks defeated Turner 6-2, 6-2.
Kuwaski and Kirby defeated Turner and Johnson 6-3, 6-2.
Hicks and Regan defeated Barker and Malloy 6-2, 6-2.

Rain Holds Up Work

Continued rains are holding up very seriously the work on the Memorial Library. Up to the present time the progress of the work has been very satisfactory. The walls of the east wing and of the central portion of the structure are completed to the second story. Once the roof has been put on the building, the weather will no longer impede the construction.

The Rhythm of Prose Dr. Patterson's Book In College Library

Among the new books recently added to the Delaware College Library, is one which should prove to be of interest to every person in the University. This is Dr. Patterson's "The Rhythm of Prose."

Although Dr. Patterson's treatise was at first received rather coldly by American and English critics, the French welcomed it warmly. The French critics praised "The Rhythm of Prose" highly, and it has gradually been attracting more and more attention.

The book is liberally illustrated with "sound" pictures, and diagrams of sound waves. Dr. Patterson's conclusions are interesting.

MID-ATLANTIC STATES TRACK MEET

Hopkins, are the favorites. They both are consistent ten-second men, and both have done the hundred in 9 4/5 seconds. Tempelin, of Dickinson, will probably be a prominent figure in this race, too.

Booth, of Johns Hopkins, Hemmerly, of Swarthmore, and Powell, of Rutgers, will be the main features of the half mile run. These men will have Siegmund, Williams, West, and Furbach to push them.

The 120 high hurdles will probably be a close race among Smith, of Lehigh, Lochler, and Allen, both of Lafayette, Edson, of Rutgers, Unger, of Swarthmore, Lowry, of Haverford, Weyerl, of W. and J., Maxwell, of Hopkins, and Tempelin, of Dickinson. This event promises to be the closest battle of the meet, although it is not likely that Meyer's record of 15 4/5 seconds will be shattered.

The 440 yard dash is another event that will be closely contested. Croll, of Lehigh, West, of W. and J., and Hemmerly and Rumble, both of Swarthmore, are without doubt the most likely candidates for the winner of this race. But they will have keen competition as there are several 53 second men entered from some of the other colleges.

Carol and Smith, of Lehigh, Allen, of Lafayette, Entwistle, of Rutgers, Jones, of Gettysburg, Lowry, of Haverford, Maxwell and McLane, of Johns Hopkins, and Baxter and France, of Delaware, should furnish a great deal of excitement in the 220 yard low hurdles. It is not likely, however, that any of these men will do better than 26 seconds.

Carol and Croll, of Lehigh, and Clarke, of Johns Hopkins, will be the chief contestants for the 220 yard dash. Clarke holds the record for this race at 21 1/5 seconds.

Booth will undoubtedly win the two mile run. This year he lowered his own record to nine minutes and thirty-six seconds, which is nine seconds better than the Middle States record in this event. Booth is Intercollegiate Cross Country Champion, and also National Intercollegiate Two Mile Champion. The other men who will most likely place are Workman, of Dickinson, Lewis, of Swarthmore, Powell, of Rutgers, and Sassaman, of Haverford.

In the javelin throw, Montgomery, of Haverford, appears to stand out as the most probable winner, but he will have to do his best to win. West, of W. and J., Jones, of Gettysburg, Wilcox, of Swarthmore, Gutormsen, of Swarthmore, and McKelvie, of Delaware, are all strong contenders.

Booth will find formidable rivals in the one mile run. Among his opponents will be Workman, of Dickinson, Hemmerly, of Swarthmore, Nuss, of Gettysburg, Sassaman, of Haverford, and Powell, of Rutgers.

Richards, of Drexel, Allen, of Lafayette, and Blair, of Swarthmore, appear to be the most prominent high jumpers. However, they will find no mean opposition from Sheppard, of Lehigh, Gibson, of Rutgers, Proctor, of Johns Hopkins, Kenworthy, of Dickinson, and Baxter, of Delaware.

The men who are expected to throw the discus the farthest are Gisriel, of Lehigh, Keegan, of Rutgers, Lochler, of Lafayette, Beck, of Gettysburg, Tempelin, of Dickinson, Thomas, of Haverford, Hambleton, of Johns Hopkins, and McKelvie, of Delaware.

Jones, the Freshman star from Gettysburg, is the first choice in the broad jump. He will have no easy task, though, to win from such men as Rogers, of Haverford, Sanford, of Lehigh, Proctor, of Drexel, Griffin, of New York, Proctor, of Johns Hopkins, and Elliott, of Delaware.

In the pole vault, Watson, of Rutgers, Shea, of Lafayette, Pardu, of Muhlenberg, Heyn, of Johns Hopkins, and Kenworthy, of Dickinson, are expected to be the principal entries.

Hazel, of Rutgers, is the favorite for the shotput. The other chief contestants are Lockler, of Lafayette, Grisriel, of Lehigh, Wilcox, of Swarthmore, Wilbur, of Haverford, Beck, of Gettysburg, Tempelin, of Dickinson, Hambleton, of Johns Hopkins, and Elliott, of Delaware.

The officers of the Middle Atlantic States Association are: president, Dr. E. L. Mercer, of Swarthmore; vice - president, Professor J. T. Thompson, of Johns Hopkins; secretary and treasurer, F. C. Garwood, of Lancaster; executive committee, F. E. Carver, of Dickinson, W. P. Garrison, of Rutgers, C. E. Keyes, of Delaware, and Dr. J. A. Babbit, of Haverford.
