Mrs. Philip R. Shays, Jr., general chairman of the Fair, is stressing more activities for children this year. Senior Citizens Hold Open House At New Center.

Senior Center Sparked
By Soroptimist Club
Draws 400 Attendance

Over 400 persons visited the Newark Senior Center during its open house last Saturday at the old Municipal Waterworks Building, 300 East Main Street.

Built in 1888 and used for various purposes over the years the city turned it over to the Newark Soroptimist Club last October to be remodeled as a Senior Center with the aid of contributions from numerous building firms, contractors, the city, and interested citizens. And last Saturday the doors were opened to the public.

U.S. Sen. J. Caleb Boggs and Representative and Mrs. Harris McDowell were among those offering congratulations to the Center's board of directors and to the Soroptimist Club for the creation of this gathering place for Newark's senior citizens. They were joined by State Senator Margaret Manning, Representative Ralph Edmundson, Mayor Norma Handloff, and Councilmen Fred Wakefield, Henry Folsom, Vernon Steele, and presidents of Newark's various service organizations.

The Division of Aging, under whose sponsorship the Center operates, was represented by Delaware Chairman, Mrs. Herbert Dobbs, Executive Director Dr. Hector LeMaire, and emissaries from both the regional and national offices. Guests were served fruit punch and cookies by members of the Senior Citizens group in the activities room. Many of those attending the open house program were in the 60-and-over age and will be back again to make use of facilities offered at the center.

The first arts and crafts workshop was held Monday morning, with Mrs. Henri Dorsman of Hobbi-Art, Inc., instructor. This will be repeated next Monday morning and all interested persons are urged to attend.

This Friday, the Newark Kindergarten will offer entertainment to all those who come to the Center.

"We feel we are off to a flying start," said Mrs. Jean Anthes, director, "and hope everyone of Newark's Seniors will stop in any day between 10 a.m. and 4 p.m., Monday through Friday."

"There is no charge, and no requirements other than age," Mrs. Anthes said.

The Newark Senior Center is for all persons 60 and over.

Grace Hartigan To Appear Tuesday In 1st Of Seven Even With Artists

The first of seven evenings with an artist at the University of Delaware will feature Grace Hartigan, painter from Baltimore.

Miss Hartigan will discuss and demonstrate her work at 7:15 p.m. next Tuesday in Room 130 of Sharp Laboratory. Her art career began modestly in 1940 when she attended drawing classes in Los Angeles. But it wasn't until 1949, after many discouragements and hours of effort, that she began to produce paintings that she felt could be shown.

In New York City, she and a group of other young artists organized a show of their paintings through which one of Miss Hartigan's canvases was selected for an exhibition for the Kootz Gallery with "Talent 1950." The exhibition attracted attention, and in 1951, Grace Hartigan was the first painter to have a one-man--or woman--show at the newly-established Tibor de Nagy Gallery in New York.

Since then, Miss Hartigan has had 15 one-woman shows, and her work is exhibited in major public collections in art galleries and exhibitions across the country and abroad.

In addition, prints of her paintings, stories of her philosophy and speculations of her future have appeared in more than 100 publications since 1953.

In 1957, Miss Hartigan received the Mademoiselle Magazine Merit Award of Art, and in 1965, the Who's Who Citation for Art.

The series has been arranged by Julio Acunda, chairman of the university's art department.

The 75 X 30-ft. swimming pool at the Alice P. Smyth Center in Newark, will be dedicated Sunday, Oct. 23, and the public is invited to tour the facilities at that time. Formal pool activities will begin next January.

The pool is 3 1/2-ft. deep at the shallow end and 10 ft. in the deepest part. Other features include a one-meter diving board, underwater lighting, and underwater speakers.

The new YWCA pool will welcome all women and girls, men and boys from "two to 102," Mrs. Gordon Shell states.

Pool activities which will begin in January will include swimming skill classes, junior and senior lifesaving, diving, synchronized and competitive swimming, shows, demonstrations, recreational dips, and a program for the handicapped. Swim dip tickets also will be sold.

According to the YWCA agreement with the United Community Fund, pool income must cover expenses involved in running the pool program. In order to meet this commitment, a pool membership fee will be charged.

A YWCA membership will be required of all participating in pool activities.

Pool and YWCA memberships may be taken out now at the YWCA, 318 South College Avenue, Newark. They will become effective next January.

John Hopkins, public education officer of Flotilla 14, said that not only boat owners and prospective owners, but also ladies and young people are invited to enroll.

A refreshment break will be a regular feature, and classes will be over promptly at 9 p.m. The classes are free, but there will be a nominal charge for teaching materials.

The faculty will consist of officers and members of the USCG Auxiliary, and guest lecturers from the Delaware Valley area.

Subjects to be covered include seamanship, safety on the water; fire prevention; aids to navigation; rules of the road; knots and splices, and compass and charts.

All persons completing the course will be awarded Coast Guard certificates.

Ferry Appointed Alderman; Muffler Noise Ban Planned

Council Names Newark Native, Attorney, To Take Post Resigned By McCann; Traffic Noise Control Demonstration Presented; Housing Code Amended

Daniel Ferry was appointed to succeed Richard S. McCann as city alderman at a salary to be determined; the noise of traffic recorded in front of the Chrysler plant, at Newark High School, and on South College Avenue resounded to more than 100 decibels with the second, "first" reading of a proposed ordinance to control vehicular noise in the city; and two new laws were enacted at the regular meeting of Newark City Council last Monday night--for erection of stop signs on Apple Road at Dallas Avenue, and amending 15 sections of the minimum housing code to permit building inspectors unrestricted action under the amended ordinance.

McCann's resignation effective this Saturday, was accepted "with regret" by council, and at Mayor Norma Handloff's suggestion, it was resolved that a letter be sent him expressing city appreciation "for the fine work he has done in establishing this office" as alderman.

DEMURRER

Councilman Arthur P. Mayer, who had submitted a memorandum recommending the appointment of Ferry as McCann's successor, demurred against presenting his nomination in view of indecision on the alderman's salary. Mayer had proposed a starting annual salary of $9,000, with a maximum of $10,000 to be paid after a year of satisfactory work.

Councilmen Fred Wakefield and Olan R. Thomas urged that the new alderman "be appointed tonight," although Solicitor Clyde M. England, Jr. pointed out that present ordinance stipulates a $5,000 salary -- a rate that cannot be increased until the second reading of a proposed ordinance scheduled for Oct. 10.

"I can't quite see what the rush might be," City Manager J. Francis Neide said concerning immediate appointment of the alderman. "All cases will be taken to the magistrate," Neide added, pointing out that there will be times when the alderman will not be available, anyway, because of vacation, for example.

Mayer nominated Ferry for the post, and his appointment was approved unanimously. Ferry's acceptance is pending, along with settlement of the salary scale.

"Our new alderman, we hope, will be Mr. Daniel Ferry," Mayor Handloff said.

LOCAL

Born in Newark in 1925, Ferry graduated from Newark High School and the University of Delaware, receiving a master's degree at Delaware, and law degrees from Temple and George Washington universities; served with the U. S. Air Force in combat in the South Pacific from 1943 to 1946, for which he received the Air Medal and Gold Star; was admitted to the Delaware Bar Association in 1964; and is engaged in private practice as an attorney.

Mr. and Mrs. Ferry have five children and reside in Newark at 523 Nottingham Road.

Approved at a first reading last Aug. 12, Councilman David H. Doehliert's proposed ordinance prohibiting motor vehicle muffler noise in excess of 95 decibels recorded by sound survey meter at least 10-ft. away, was approved for a second "first" time as the scheduled final reading was deferred pending study of information to be obtained from manufacturers on muffler provisions.

Al Lechner of the DuPont Co., presented a tape recording of seven minutes of representative vehicular noise from a 30-min. test tape prepared with the assistance of Newark Police Sgt. George Getty at three locations in the city -- at the Chrysler plant; at Newark High School on Delaware Avenue; and on South College Avenue.

Decibels ranged from 75 to more than 100, with a motorbike traveling 20 mph on South College Avenue, registering 91 decibels.

NOISE LIMIT

Doehliert proposed that muffler noise be limited to 85 decibels on the sound survey meter between 7 p.m. and 8 a.m., and to 95 decibels during the other 12 daylight hours.

"I talked with the rock trucks this morning," Councilman Mayer said, reporting the drivers' query of "How are we going to get through Newark?"

Lechner said that some trucks employ "a straight-through muffler," and "a few bucks will quiet them."

Robert W. Rohm in the audience invited council down to West Park Place where "you can hear this sheet any time," he said of the tabulation of decibels and vehicles registered.

"The solution is the outer beltway," Rohm said. "I'm not in sympathy with the rock trucks which use West Park Place for expediency," he added, citing damage to the roadway from heavy truck traffic.

Vaughn Hill, who with Lechner, volunteered his services as a consultant on noise control, cited control measures enacted in Chicago, New York, Milwaukee, and Memphis, and said that "uncontrolled vehicle noise is unnecessary...a nuisance," and that it was the "responsibility of those who run communities, to control noise. There are mufflers available to control noise," he concluded.

DMTA LEADER

Dick Barnard, general manager of the Delaware Motor Transport Association at Dover, pointed out that proposed noise control legislation may divert truck shipments from Newark, and that "merchants will complain," but added "I don't like to think of our trucks, so vital to our existence, running through South College Avenue."

"Your organization would not approve of a truck running with no muffler at all?" Doehliert asked, and Barnard replied "Certainly not."

Councilman Thomas said that some fire trucks come from the factory with no mufflers, and Councilman Henry R. Folsom, Jr. said "I think we want the fire company trucks to make a lot of noise."

"Would your staff help us with some guide lines" for muffler noise control, the mayor asked Barnard, and the DMTA general manager said that he would request such assistance. He said that the trucking industry is "working on this."

"We are not discriminating against trucks," Mrs. Handloff assured Barnard, but seeking to "control any vehicular noise."

"Do you feel that any of these vehicles are violating our present ordinance?" Neide asked Police Sgt. George Getty, and Getty said that most mufflers "meet Motor Vehicle Department requirement," pointing out the difficulty of local conviction with appeal to a higher court under state law.

"It is my understanding that a proper muffler will produce less than 95 decibels," Doehliert declared, and further information is to be obtained from the industry before a final reading of the proposed ordinance.

Councilman C. Vernon Steele opposed approval of the second "first" reading in the 6-1 vote.

HOUSING CODE

Fifteen amendments to the municipal minimum housing code were adopted unanimously at a second reading of the ordinance -- amendments governing light and ventilation per sq. ft. of floor area, ceiling height, basements, and sleeping space requirements per person -- to make the minimum housing code

North Delaware's Suburban Growth Twice That Of U. S. National Rate

Between 1940 and 1960, the population in metropolitan Northern Delaware grew twice as fast as the population of the United States as a whole. This growth was concentrated in the suburbs, according to a new bulletin, "Suburban Development in Metropolitan Northern Delaware."

Written by Dr. William Crosswhite, associate professor of agricultural economics at the University of Delaware, and Gerald F. Vaughn, former agricultural economist for the U.S. Department of Agriculture, it explains that Northern New Castle county is a rapidly growing commercial and industrial area. This area also provides a desirable distribution center serving a huge market area.

Industry provides the stable employment base needed for residential development. However, several additional factors influenced the pattern of development around Wilmington. Access to Wilmington has been easy; transportation and sewer lines aided development, particularly in Brandywine and Mill Creek hundreds.

Chrysler Plant Fills $122,205 Overseas Orders

Foreign aid financed orders for $122,205 worth of parts and accessories for automobiles have been filled by the Chrysler plant at Newark for firms in Vietnam and Turkey, the Agency for International Development reports.

Commodities financed by AID are part of United States assistance programs to help people of developing countries achieve economic and social progress.

Vietnamese purchases of $98,758 in Chrysler parts were financed under the U. S. economic development program in South Vietnam, which helps provide material needed in industrial, commercial, and agricultural growth.

The AID program is aimed at helping the Vietnamese achieve a stable economy. It consists of local divisions and a near $1 million U. S. loan to Turkey to aid in financing imports of goods and services needed in Turkish development programs.

tation facilities and recreational areas.

The public is increasingly concerned about poor drainage, inadequate water supplies, congested traffic and increased costs for public services.

All too frequently, the pattern of land use in suburban areas is haphazard, the authors say. Some steps toward area-wide planning have been taken, however. Regional and state planning agencies are organized and increasingly active, according to the publication.

This study documents the growth of residential development in Northern Delaware and illustrates the need for cooperative planning by all agencies. It shows the important relationships existing between soil characteristics, transportation, availability of community service facilities, and the location and concentration of urban and suburban growth.

"Suburban Development in Metropolitan Northern Delaware" was published by the Agricultural Experiment Station and the Cooperative Extension Service at the University of Delaware. Copies are available from the Mailing Room, Agricultural Hall, University of Delaware, Newark.

HJ Motor Lodge Plans Expansion With 40 Units

Howard Johnson's Motor Lodge at Newark is being enlarged by the addition of 40 units. It was announced today by Vice-President Granville H. Smith.

"The addition was required by increased volume of business, which has exceeded our expectations," Smith said.

"The new rooms will bring our capacity to 100, making it possible for us to accommodate 310 guests at one time. It also will mean the addition of six new employees to our staff," Smith added.

The contractor for the new wing is Cantera Construction Co., and construction is scheduled to begin this week with completion expected by next March.

The new DuPont Research Center is being built on the site of the old DuPont Research Center, as University of Delaware, Newark.

A New Look

Printed by letter press every Thursday for the past 56 years since the late Everett C. Johnson established this newspaper in 1910, the Newark Post appears today with a new look in its first offset edition.

We hope that the Post retains something of its old look, too, with its emphasis on news of Newark -- for reading of good news mostly, of people you know.

And there is good news in this edition, with Coach Harold Raymond's Delaware winning big over Hofstra in the season opener for Mr. Raymond's debut as Dave Nelson's successor in the head coaching job, and Coach Bob Hoffman's champion Yellowjackets taking the curtain-raiser over a strong Conrad crew.

Letters To The Editor

Gentlemen:
On Sept. 12, 1966, I was a passenger in an auto involved in a collision in your city. We were on the first day of a vacation trip and it was a frightening experience to be a stranger, far from home, and in trouble.

Your city police department took over. One policeman located the insurance agent. Another made a call to a garage and arranged for our car to be taken care of. Then, the investigating officer escorted us to a motel and made sure that we had a room. Most people are nice when some one needs help, but your efficient and courteous police department surpasses them all.

We thanked them that night, but I do think that your Chamber of Commerce should know, from us, how much we appreciated everything.

Because of them, we shall always remember Newark as a friendly and lovely city.

Sincerely,
Mrs. Harriette B. Gustafson

"more compatible with the facts of life," Solicitor England said in summary.

Councilman Folsom introduced three amendments to the already amended law -- requirements for structurally sound "accessory buildings; and exempting fraternity houses, dormitories, and other sleeping decks from the 35-sq-ft. of floor area minimum for each sleeper; and requiring electric lights to illuminate all public halls and stairways, rather than restricting such lighting to dwelling units.

Concerning exemption of fraternities from minimum sleeping space, Councilman Mayer said "If this is not approved, only one fraternity can qualify -- because of low membership."

And Doehliert's amendment to that governing ceiling height -- a 7-6 requirement that "got lost" in first floor stipulations -- was approved, along with the ordinance in its entirety.

"I think we ought to go on record as freeing the staff from restrictions on enforcement of this ordinance," Folsom resolved, and Neide observed "You are going to make my staff real happy."

RESCIND ASSESSMENT

Frank O'Donnell, attorney for Park 'n' Shop, Inc., requested council to rescind some $14,000 levied with assessments for Apple Road construction, citing the city managers written opinion of July, 1964, that "Since Apple Road is designed to serve the entire community and is not intended for the development of abutting properties, I believe that abutting properties should not be assessed."

Neide said that O'Donnell was "quoting one sentence in my memorandum. I would like to exercise a woman's prerogative -- of changing my mind."

O'Donnell also cited Solicitor England's written opinion of last Aug. 25, that certain "parcels of land are not enhanced in value by the improvements since they have virtually no frontage in the first place and therefore, the assessments should be stricken..." in the amount of $5,420.

England recommended that the Park 'n' Shop attorney "be given a chance to present evidence at a special hearing" and a special meeting with council is to be scheduled to decide on requested rescindment of assessments amounting to some $14,000.

THE HOUSING AUTHORITY

The solicitor ruled against the Newark Housing Authority request for city return of $4,676.75 paid by the NHA in building permit fees, less $1,500 budgeted for such expense, and council agreed to provide the Authority with a copy of this opinion based on Delaware law that "All projects of an authority shall be subject to the building laws applicable to the locality..." and that "while the Authority is tax exempt...the fee paid for a building permit is not a tax."

Former Councilman Avery H. Goddin, an official with the NHA, urged council to refund the money with "Council has a tendency to overlook building fees," and Doehliert said "It becomes a matter of whether we want to hamper the Authority to extend to $4,600. I propose that we refund $4,676.75 less the $1,500 budgeted as demonstration that we do want the Authority to do the work as planned."

Thomas observed that the NHA project would benefit about "one per cent of the people" and cited past debate with the Authority that the project would cost the city "$175,000 if we cancel it -- nothing if we continue," and added that some $65,000 had been spent by the city.

Steele objected to "taxing twice" with the project, and Doehliert said that the NHA "needs the money to do the job we asked them to do."

But the money was not refunded and the meeting was adjourned at 10:30 p.m. in a 3-4 vote against Mayor Handloff and Councilmen Doehliert, and Folsom to extend the deadline to 11 o'clock.

weaker, too, at that point -- and after a line-whistling strike and a sulking stalemate, the hook pulled out. The angler was as relieved as the fish at this development.

Baby amberjack were observed schooled around various buoys that we passed, and we went up forward with a light spinning rod to cast to them from the bow as Cap'n Dick threw the big diesel into neutral.

As a small spoon sank flashing into the blue water, a half dozen buoy jacks could be seen following it -- one of them suddenly opened the throttle and struck -- and we enjoyed the novel experience of catching a baby amberjack while spin-casting with a wand of a rod far in the ocean.

"Best fish I ever ate," Newark's Fred Brown, an ardent amberjack admirer advised.

Word, McDonough, Stengari Score Newark TD's With Win Over Conrad

With Co-Capt. Dick Kelley out of the lineup because of a twisted knee, Coach Bob Hoffman suffered along with his star halfback last Saturday as Newark trailed Conrad 6-0 at the half; and then after leading 21-6 in the fourth quarter, the Yellowjackets were shocked to see their advantage shrink to a slim two points as Conrad scored a pair of touchdowns and an extra point in the final period. But the two points were enough, and the Newark champions won the day 21-19.

Kelley, who scored 13 touchdowns as runner-up to teammate and conference scoring champion Dick Fulton last season, is expected to be back in action this Saturday as Newark meets the Green Knights at Mt. Pleasant with a 10 a.m. kickoff.

The Mt. Pleasant offense is centered around Nick Donofrio, "a real runner," Hoffman said Tuesday night.

Mt. Pleasant was defeated 7-0 at Dickinson last week. Conrad's Riley put the Redskins out in front in driving five-yards for a first quarter touchdown last Saturday, but after a scoreless second period, the Yellowjacket champions rolled to a 14-0 lead in the third quarter.

Halfback Davey Word ran 13 yards for Newark's first touchdown, and kicked the first of his three extra points -- and two of these conversions provided the Yellowjackets' winning margin.

Fullback Jim McDonough drove five-yards for the second TD, and early in the fourth quarter, Co-Capt. Lou Stengari at quarterback, ran five yards for a touchdown to put Newark on top by 21-6 with Word's third conversion.

Conrad rallied with last period touchdowns by Tasker, who took Riley's pass for 10 yards, and Smith's 10-yard scoring jaunt -- and Smith also ran for the Redskins' one extra point of the game.

Dave Graybeal, a 155-lb. bantamweight defensive end, starred against Conrad by making seven tackles, including a big one that prevented a Redskins touchdown.

And Sophomore Pedro Swann, substituting for Kelley at halfback pleasantly surprised Hoffman with his excellent execution of play patterns, particularly the crisscross, and with a booming 50-yard punt out of the end zone when the chips were really down.

Orville Wright and Larry Tucker were the offensive ends for Newark last Saturday, with Graybeal, George Toulson, and Sam Jackson playing a lot of defensive end; Conway Hayman and Gerry McCormick played the entire game at tackle; and Bob Russell and Tom McDonald were the offensive guards, with Tom Bratton and Bill Fletcher on defense.

Ken Woodward was the Yellowjacket center, and Stengari, Swann, Word, and McDonough were the Newark backfield.

Newark Notes by GIBBY YOUNG

BIG WINS!
Congratulations to Tubby Raymond and his Hens for their big victory over Hofstra in Raymond's opener as Delaware head coach -- Harold will never experience a more satisfying win -- and to Coach Bob Hoffman and his Yellowjacket champions for turning back a powerful Conrad squad in their Blue Hen Conference starter.

The Yellowjackets won without their ace halfback Dickie Kelley -- and with a sound Kelley back in the line-up this Saturday, the Newark coach should experience considerably less strain than last week.

Albacore Andy Biasotto should have been aboard Sunday before last in a torrid tug-of-war with these 10-lb. dynamos of the tuna clan.

Some years ago, Mr. Biasotto finally boated one of these block busters with Gibby Young in some tireless trolling aboard the Young Un III out of Lewes, and the fish that almost pulled Andy over the stern, was variously identified as tuna, bonito, and albacore, all wrong.

Andy Biasotto referred to Francesca LaMotte's treatise on fish when he returned to his library at home in Newark, and came up with the information that his catch was a "false albacore." That's a poor name for a grand fish, but he was right. The genuine albacore is a Pacific prowler that also occupies the interior of better grade tuna cans.

Anyway, we missed Andy Biasotto as a member of the Young Lady's crew with Capt. Dick Pleasanton, Bob Squier, and Gibby Young in trolling over a calm Atlantic Ocean out of Dave and Babs Porter's South Shore Marina off the Indian River Inlet.

The Pleasanton - Squier-Young trio was still tired and muscle - sore after boating 17 false albacore the day before while trolling with Bill Drueding and Reg Rockwell on board, and the newcomer to the crew on Sunday had six rods all to himself.

After battling two successive albacore while the rest of the crew enjoyed spectator sport, he was more than willing to share the action.

Far, far offshore in the blue, blue ocean, the first fish hit a line trolling from a portside rod, and the line whistled from the spool against a heavy drag while the rod whipped into a straining semicircle. It took a bit of doing to wrest the butt of the rod from the gunwale socket, and the albacore took things from there with a surging rush that peeled yardage into the sea.

Sulking strong and deep down after the initial run, the fish resisted all early effort at pumping the rod and reeling -- the line simply refused to build up on the spool -- The reel handled turned, but the spool didn't. And the star drag was set tight, too.

An albacore is unbelievably swift and strong -- and almost tireless. But after awhile the 10-lb. fish began to give a little and bit by bit we pumped the albacore toward the boat until it loomed up in shimmering blue-white iridescence from the depths of cobalt clarity.

Dick Pleasanton sprang down from the flying bridge to grasp the wire leader with a gloved hand and swing the big fish aboard and the first albacore was beating a tattoo in the fish box astern.

And then a starboard rod whipped into an arc as another albacore attacked with Skipper Pleasanton's careful coverage of the area on a reverse course -- and we had the same struggle all over again.

Commodore Bob Squier took over the next fish; Gibbo wrestled with one from a handline straining from a stern cleat; and Bobby boated a fifth fish.

Shearwaters, petrels, and gulls dipped over the ocean, and a big loon arrowed by surprisingly far from shore.

And in less time than is required to type it, Dick Pleasanton had rigged a rod with a big hook and an albacore steak filleted on the spot, in effort to attempt an 8-ft surface - cruising shark as we trolled by the potential man-eater. But the shark went down, ignoring the redfish steak yawing on the surface in the wake of the boat, and we trolled on.

There was plenty of company on the ocean, too -- 20-miles offshore -- with 41 other boats in range at one time.

Heading westward toward Delaware in the afternoon, we hooked into the biggest and strongest albacore of the day -- the fisherman may have been

Horney's Vikings Face Champions In Saturday Test

Defeated 39-7 by Conrad a week ago last Saturday in the season opener, Coach Bill Horney's Christiana Vikings meet the Blue Hen Conference champions of Wilmington High School this Saturday at 1:30 p.m. in Wilmington.

Wilmington walloped Brandywine 18-6 last Saturday, as the Vikings had an open date with rescheduling of their game with P.S. duPont for Oct. 29.

Horney's starting line-up for the Wilmington game is slated to feature the all-letterman backfield, and the same forward wall as in the Conrad opener, with the possible exception of John Drendall, left end. Drendall has been handicapped with a knee injury, and Sophomore Glen Thomas may be called on for a starting assignment in Saturday's set-to.

Capitol Trail Junior Football Season Begins

The Capitol Trail Junior Football League season opened last Sunday on two new fields -- at Dickinson High and at Central Junior High School, with the Central and Crusader seniors battling to a 12-point tie; the junior Crusaders stopped Central 12-6; the senior Green Raiders beating the VFW 7-0 and the junior VFW stopping the Raiders 19-6.

Dave Holmes returned a punt for a 60-yard TD, and Jeff Brenegan recovered a fumble on the two-yard line to score the Central seniors' 12-points, while Crusaders Bobby Henry ran 15-yards for a TD, and Allen Guizzetti scored on a 50-yard pass play.

In the junior game, Crusaders Steve Ford and Jack Ferro scored touchdowns, while Central's Paul Jones tallied on a quarterback sneak.

Mrs. Walter Ingram Wins Ladies Day Golf

Mrs. Walter Ingram won the Ladies Day golf event last Tuesday in the rain at the Newark Country Club, with a handicap-stroke play. Mrs. Robert H. Osterloh finished second, and Mrs. Major Gasper won third place honors.

The senior Raiders scored in the second quarter to defeat the VFW 7-0 when Randy Spinks fielded a blocked punt to run 35-yards for a touchdown, and Ricky Runkle ran for the extra point.

In the junior test, Bill Coolidge scored a pair of VFW touchdowns with runs of nine and 30-yards; Steve Coolidge passed to Jim Bray for a 25-yard TD; and Steve Kerster ran for the extra point.

Raider Leonard Cannatelli returned a punt for a 65 yard touchdown. This Sunday at 1 p.m. the Crusaders face the Green Raiders at Central Junior High.

Billy's Freshmen To Meet Lehigh In Oct. 7 Opener

Delaware's freshman football team will play four games this fall, starting with the Lehigh freshmen at the south campus athletic field on Oct. 7 at 4 p.m.

Coach Paul (Bear) Billy, starting his first year as head freshman coach after assisting Jimmy Flynn as frosh mentor for three years, has a squad of 49 players working out on the field next to the new field house.

"The squad is in good physical condition," Billy says. "But it will be at least another week before we can assess them individually."

The rest of the freshman schedule includes a home game with Bullis Prep on Oct. 14 and away contests with the Temple frosh on Oct. 28 and the Lafayette freshmen on Nov. 4.

Delaware Roms Over Hofstra 35-13 In Raymond's Debut As Head Coach

Coach Harold Raymond's debut as Delaware head coach couldn't have been more successful as the Fighting Blue Hens romped over Hofstra 35-13 in the season opener last Saturday at Delaware Stadium.

And Halfback Stu Green, 25-year-old senior father of three, ran for three touchdowns of two, four, and six yards, that were enough to provide the Hens a victory margin without additional scoring.

Delaware plays this Saturday at Gettysburg -- and the Bulldogs were beaten 16-10 by Bucknell last week after stopping Hofstra in the opener.

The Hens moved into a 7-0 first quarter lead with Green's first touchdown and Hank Luby's kick, and Delaware led 13-0 at the half after Fullback John Spangler took Quarterback Frank Linzenbold's pass for three yards and a six-points.

Delaware pleasantly stunned its fans in the stadium -- and less pleasantly shocked the Flying Dutchmen of Hofstra -- by rolling up 15 more points in the third quarter with two and six-yard touchdowns runs by Halfbacks Brian Wright and Green; Mike Purzycki's catch of Linzenbold's two-point pass in the end zone, and Luby's second successful placement.

Trailing 28-0 in the final period, Hofstra struck back with touchdowns by Gault on a one-yard plunge, and by Williams who recovered a Delaware fumble in the end zone, while Perrell's kick was good for an extra point. And then Greenscored again, from six-yards out.
