Woods Fires Rage Here; Firemen Out All Day Sunday Fighting Flames

Two Homes Burned to Ground Early Sunday Morning—Many Properties Threatened By Sweeping Blazes

Newark firemen worked heroically from dawn Sunday last until nightfall combating a series of woods and timber fires in this vicinity. Perhaps in no single day in recent years were there so many alarms sent in to the local headquarters.

The firemen battled all day long, using both engines at times, while they fought two house fires and three brush fires.

The first call came at 3 a. m. Sunday morning from Chestnut Hill in Pencader Hundred, about two or three miles from Newark. The scene of the blaze was the Toy farm in that vicinity. Fanned by a stiff wind the flames had eaten their way through the dwelling before the fire-fighters could get into action. Other buildings were saved, however.

Hardly had the firemen returned to their base, when another alarm sounded, this time on the Dayett farm at Cook's Bridge. A grass fire, fanned by the wind, destroyed a small frame building and burned over several acres of ground.

Perhaps the most destructive fire of the day occurred early in the afternoon, when the big dwelling on the farm of the late Dr. J. C. McCoy, near Summit Bridge, caught fire and burned to the ground. This was one of the best houses in the vicinity. The loss is estimated as well over $10,000. The local firemen responded, as did the Middletown company, but the building was beyond salvation.

Wind Increases Danger

As the day wore on, the breeze increased to almost gale-like proportions. Combined with the tinder-like condition of the brush and leaves, due to lack of rain, the situation became critical, and every available fireman was called into service.

Two more ground fires, each of which threatened valuable farm property, kept both engines going late in the afternoon. The fires were on the Linsie Bowers farm and the A. C. Heiser place, both farms being about a mile from Newark along the Elkton road. After hours of laborious work, the fires were checked before they reached any buildings. It was dark before the engines were housed for the night.

Early evening found the blazes still smoldering, but they were confined to small areas.

The Elkton firemen spent a greater part of the day running down fires, also. Perhaps the worst one was a woods blaze near Leeds along the Singler road north of Elkton. It was reported that another blaze broke out near the Victory Sparkler plant, along the same road but this could not be confirmed.

It was a day of dread for most farmers, especially those living near railroads, as the high wind fanned sparks into the dry brush and leaves.

WEST MAIN ST. HOMES THREATENED BY FLAMES

Barn at Rear of C. A. Owens' House Destroyed; Curtis House Afire

A stubborn blaze which destroyed the barn on the property of C. A. Owens, West Main street, and for a time threatened the Alfred A. Curtis home adjoining, gave the Aetna firemen a hard fight this morning.

The firemen responded quickly to the alarm and were soon on the job. The flames had gained considerable headway in the meantime, however, and efforts were exerted to save the adjoining buildings.

Sparks from the fire caught the roof of the Alfred A. Curtis house during the excitement, and threatened for a while. The firemen soon extinguished it.

Great excitement was caused by the fire. Had it gained more headway, the consequences could have been serious, as the section is surrounded on three sides by dwellings.

WEDDING FOLLOWS AIRPLANE VISIT TO LOCAL FRIENDS

Mineola, N. Y., Couple Speed to Newark In Plane; Thence to Elkton for License

An aeronautic wedding trip with Newark as the base and Elkton as the ultimate objective, created considerable interest in the community Saturday last.

The intrepid flyer and his bride are Mr. and Mrs. J. King Wallace, of Mineola, N. Y. Mr. Wallace is a brother-in-law of W. R. Yeats, the Chicago office manager for the Continental Fibre Company of this town. His bride was formerly Miss Madeline H. Wells, of New York.

The couple flew here from Mineola Saturday afternoon and were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Norris N. Wright. Their plane landed near town and was met by Mr. Wright. After a visit of a few hours, the pair were whisked over to Elkton where a marriage license was secured from Deputy Clerk of the Court Pratt and the ceremony performed by Rev. W. R. Moon.

Shortly after their return to Newark, Mr. and Mrs. Wallace entered their plane and in an hour were back in Mineola safe and sound.

TYSON'S HORSES SWEEP TO VICTORY IN SOUTH

Newark Reinsman Returns From Campaigning With Great Record

Herman R. Tyson, premier trainer and driver of this State, returned Monday of this week from Tarboro, North Carolina, where his string of horses rounded out one of the most successful invasions of the Carolina circuit ever made by a northern driver.

Mr. Tyson drove his charges at five meetings in the southern state, each race being worth $1000 to the winners. A Tyson horse swept under the wire first fourteen times during the campaign, and finished second in eight other races. At every track, the story was the same. Mr. Tyson, of course, is well pleased with the work of his five charges which toured the state. His work was a sensation throughout the circuit.

Mr. Tyson's string this Fall included Zombro Dillon, 2.04½; Cherry Willis, 2.06; Groveton, 2.07½; Alicia Dare, 2.07½; Carmelita Hall, 2.06½ and Peter W., 2.10½.

Each one of these horses carried the brown silks of the Tyson Stable to victories, and stood the long campaign nicely. Cherry Willis stepped some remarkable miles and proved a great favorite with the fans in the South. Mr. Tyson brought back with him from Tarboro, Mable Grit, 2.11½. "She has been a good winner this year," said the Newark reinsman, "and looks like a comer."

The Tyson string will be wintered as usual this season at the Huber farm, east of Newark. Next Spring, however, new training quarters will have to be procured. It is hoped by followers of the horses that Mr. Tyson will not be forced to move his stables from this locality.

Buys Wright Home

Lester W. Tarr, formerly State Chemist and now employed at the Continental Fibre Company here as chemist, has purchased the Norris N. Wright house on Orchard Ridge. He will take possession upon the completion of Mr. Wright's new home on West Main Street.

Mayor Warns Against Burning of Leaves

Mayor Frazer, following an investigation of the Owens barn fire this afternoon, issued the following request to the public:

"Owing to the extreme danger resulting from continued dry weather, property owners and tenants in Newark are requested to refrain from burning leaves or brush on or near their premises."

The danger of fire at this time of year is great, and every precaution should be taken to avert a catastrophe.

To Unveil Memorial Here On Armistice Day

College and Town to Join in Celebrating Anniversary of War's End

BATTALION TO PARADE

UNVEILING PROGRAM ANNOUNCED TODAY

The memorial marker on the boulder in the upper campus of the University will be unveiled at 10.45 a. m. next Tuesday morning, according to the official program made public today.

The unveiling will be in charge of one representative each from Newark High School, Delaware College, The Women's College and the local Post Veterans of Foreign Wars.

Delegations from each industrial plant in town have been invited to participate in a parade prior to the unveiling. The Continental Band has been asked to head the parade. The battalion of the University will also be in line. Following the unveiling a short speaking program will be held from a platform at the boulder.

As a fitting ceremony in recognition of the sixth anniversary of the signing of the Armistice, ending the World War in 1918, Newark—Town and College—will join together in memorial exercises at the boulder on the college campus next Tuesday morning.

At that time, a bronze memorial tablet, marking the spot upon which the selective service men of New Castle County were sworn into the service of their Nation in 1917, will be unveiled with appropriate exercises.

Funds for the erection of the tablet were raised by voluntary subscription, on July 4th last, and represented contributions from every quarter of the community.

Town and University officials are now working on the program for the day. From early indications, it appears that there will be a short parade with the College Battalion, school children, and town bands in line, to be followed with a speaking program at the Boulder and the unveiling ceremony. Committees of the Chamber of Commerce and University officials are in charge of the affair.

Students May Parade

It has also been announced that there is a possibility of the R. O. T. C. Battalion of the University joining the big Armistice Day parade in Wilmington Tuesday next.

This question came up at a Faculty meeting Monday afternoon here. The chief obstacle seems to lie in the financing of the expedition. It was suggested that the students pay their pro rata expenses for a special train to carry them to and from the city, but no definite decision has so far been reached.

AWARDING SILVER CUP

State Bankers To Offer Prize For Best Corn Judging Team

The Educational Committee of the Delaware State Bankers' Association, of which J. E. Dougherty, of Newark, is chairman, has authorized the awarding of a silver cup for the best boys corn judging team in the State. The contest is scheduled for sometime the early part of next year. It will be held in either Lewes or Laurel. R. W. Heim, director of Vocational Education in the State, was instrumental in bringing the project before the bankers.

Geists' Win Suit

The suit brought by Geist and Geist of Newark against William Toy of Iron Hill, came up at Magistrate Thompson's court here Thursday evening last.

After hearing evidence in the case, the magistrate decided in favor of the plaintiff. The case hinged around the sale by Geist and Geist of a mower to Toy, payment for which was withheld by the latter, as he claimed the machine did not work properly.

CATTLE INSPECTOR BUSY

Nearby Farmer Loses Several Head of Cows After Test

Another good-sized dairy in this vicinity was depleted recently, when George McConaughy, a farmer living along Elkton Road, a mile west of Newark, lost all but two of his herd, following a Federal tuberculosis test made under the direction of Dr. Creedon, a Federal tester. Dr. Creedon has been working in this vicinity for some weeks. The herd of George Frazer, on the Bowers farm in the same section, was found to be free from the disease.

Hastings Beats Crow By 157 Votes Here

Pencader and White Clay Hundreds Set Records in Balloting Yesterday. Full Vote is Recorded

White Clay Creek Hundred went to the polls with a vim yesterday.

Coolidge, Dawes, du Pont, Robinson, Houston and the entire Republican ticket were returned victors at the end of the day's balloting over their respective Democratic opponents. The majorities were as large, if not larger than ever before in the hundred.

Aside from the du Pont-Tunnell fight for the Senatorship, chief interest lay in the contest between James C. Hastings and Robert J. Crow for representative in the General Assembly from this hundred. The former won decisively by 157 votes, creating what is believed to be a record in this closely-contested hundred.

In Pencader Hundred, du Pont beat Tunnell, 360-315, and Robinson won from Bancroft, 360-314. Deputy defeated Leek for the Assembly by 24 votes, and Frank R. Pool, candidate for the State Senate, won from J. L. Davis, 361-311. Davis won the seat, however, in the district by 416 votes.

Heavy Vote Polled

Newark men and women polled a heavy vote at the two district here, and Christiana district was right behind with a big electorate.

Nation Piling Up Huge Pluralities For Coolidge and Dawes

So-Called "Doubtful States" Swept Into Fold During Early Morning Hours—Senate is Republican

With an unprecedented majority ranging up to 17,945 for Coolidge and Dawes, and about 16,580 for General Coleman du Pont for United States Senator, the Republicans swept Delaware for their National and State ticket yesterday, carrying Wilmington, rural New Castle and Sussex Counties decisively, while the Democrats carried Kent County, where the heavy Democrat majority of past years was cut down to a lead ranging from 100 to 500.

The Legislature apparently will be divided, the Democrats gaining control of the State Senate, nine to eight, and the Republicans winning control of the House on the face of the unofficial returns by 21 to 14.

The Republicans retain a majority of the New Castle County Levy Court and gain control of the Sussex County Levy Court. The Democrats lose control of the Kent County Levy Court, which the Republicans win two to one, although the Democrats carried the county for State and county offices.

Sweeping onward, hour by hour, with each State's returns swelling the ultimate total by the thousand, the Nation is piling up a huge vote of confidence in Calvin Coolidge and his administration today.

Beginning as early as 10 o'clock last night, the trend of the balloting could be foreseen. As the night wore on, Davis and La Follette dropped further behind, and before midnight, New York newspapers conceded the election of Coolidge and Dawes by a tremendous majority.

With Maryland in the fold, and Kentucky, another doubtful state, wavering on the brink, Republican leaders throughout the country were satisfied that the fight was won. It was a victory for the preservation of the veriest law of the land, the Constitution, against the attacks of modern reformers.

When dawn broke this morning the only change in the situation was the rising of the Coolidge tide. New England, New York, the Middle West, Northwest and even scattered districts in the "solid south" delivered their votes to Coolidge. From present indications both the Senate and the House will be strongly Republican next session.

New York, N. Y. (Wednesday)

Governor Alfred Smith, polling one of the largest votes ever recorded in Manhattan, swept aside the 400,000 plurality obtained by Theodore Roosevelt, his Republican opponent for Governor early this morning, and was returned to the capital by an estimated majority of 100,000.

Roosevelt made a game fight and carried every major rural district in the State. Going into the Smith stronghold, New York City, with everything at stake, he was beaten by New York's greatest popular figure. The election of Smith was conceded shortly after midnight.

STATEMENT FROM JAMES C. HASTINGS

James C. Hastings, successful candidate for the General Assembly from White Clay Creek Hundred, issued the following statement to the public this morning:

"It would be useless for me to try to express my sincere thanks to the people of White Clay Creek Hundred who gave me their support. But I realize that it was not for Jim Hastings that they gave such a large majority, but to a representative candidate going to Dover to represent this district. I realize that the job ahead of me is not an easy one; I shall go to Dover to not only represent the people who supported me, but to represent all the people of the Hundred—and I go pledged to no person and to no issue or measure.

"I would appreciate and will consider any and all suggestions offered, which, in the minds of the people, will make for the betterment of our District, County and State."

Signed: James C. Hastings.

Rally Day Services last Sabbath were eminently successful. Dr. Benham, of Baltimore, preached a fine sermon on "Glorifying in the Cross;" in the evening he gave an illustrated lecture on the "Pilgrim's Progress." The offering was nearly $265, which provided for the deficit on the cemetery gates, the incidental expenses of Rally Day and left $23.50 to the trustees for the Cemetery Association. Some, not present Sunday, have since subscribed in addition to the above amounts.

The preachers for the Evangelistic meetings yet to come, will be:

Wednesday, 7.30 p. m.—Rev. John McElroy, D.D., Elkton.

Chevrolet Celebrates Thirteenth Birthday

The Chevrolet Motor Company last week celebrated its 13th anniversary. The company was founded on November 3, 1911.

From that date to November 3, this year, the company has produced nearly a million and three-quarter vehicles with one exception, the greatest production record in the motor car industry in this period. To be exact, there have been produced 1,744,870 Chevrolet motor cars and light delivery trucks.

It is in the last three years, however, that Chevrolet has had such phenomenal growth. More than 1,000,000 Chevrolets have been produced since January 1, 1922, to November 3, 1924—a 34 months' period.

OBITUARY

Mrs. Henry George, an old and respected resident of Strickersville, Pa., was buried from her late residence last Thursday noon. Interment was made in Bethel M. E. Cemetery. She is survived by her husband and the following children: Mrs. Leona Dean, Bethel; Mrs. Fanny Batten, St. Georges; Mrs. Linda Ginn, Middletown; Ernest, Landenberg; Harry and Leslie, near Kemblesville, and Miss Anna at home.

BUILDING AND LOAN FOR CENTREVILLE, MD.

Business Men of Town Are Ready to Launch New Project

Announcement was made this week that a number of Centreville business men are working on the organization of a Building Loan Association. While the names of the organizers are not for publication as yet, it is understood that actual selling of the stock has begun. The shares are in one hundred dollar denominations and are being sold on the basis of payments amounting to twenty-five cents per week on each hundred dollar share.

Such an association has been contemplated for a long while and the organizers say that they feel confident of the success of the venture. It is to be run on the same principles as all other similar institutions that exist in Maryland.

OYSTERS REPORTED PLENTIFUL THIS YEAR

Tongers Working In Increased Numbers On Chesapeake Bay Shores

According to old oystermen along the upper reaches of the Chesapeake Bay, prospects for a fine oyster season are brighter this year than they have been for quite a good many years. The oysters seem to be plentiful and they are in fine shape.

Evidently those who have followed the water for a good many years seem to think that this will be a banner year and this condition is evidenced by the number of Tonger's licenses issued by the Clerk of the Circuit Court for Queen Anne's County to date.

Up to October 31st six hundred and forty-five Tonger's licenses have been issued as against four hundred and twenty-five issued in 1923, and four hundred and forty-one in 1922.

News Oddities

Lincoln said: "The money we spend at home comes back to us."

If all of us sent away for all the things we need, who would support our schools, build our roads, improve our streets? But why ask such questions? There would be no town, and so no need for streets or roads or schools.

All that man ever did to deserve such honor was to write a few simple lines, "Home, Sweet Home."

LOWLY FRESHMEN MUST PAY SOME PENALTIES

Sophomores Hold Court and Pass Judgment On First Year Boys

Plenty of fun and a good laugh for everybody is the result of the penalties inflicted upon various and sundry members of the Freshman Class at the Men's College, by the Sophomore Court recently.

The Court sat in executive session in Old College Thursday night last, and one by one, recalcitrant Freshmen were brought in, charged with various violations of Freshman Rules and sentenced.

Two of the boys were sentenced to wear snow shoes during college hours on the campus and as the shoes were furnished and put on by the convicted youths yesterday they have been attracting much attention.

Another Freshman will be required to wear hair ribbons. One Freshman who broke a rule will have to carry a large rubber ball around with him and also a tin whistle which he will be required to blow every time he meets an upper classman.

The sentence imposed on another student was for him to wear long white stockings over his trousers with orange colored garters. One Wilmington boy who commutes on a motor cycle will be required to run his machine in "second" while going through town. Other sentences imposed were for one Freshman to have a baby's bottle filled with milk around his neck at all times on the campus. Another must carry his books in a peach basket and two boys will be required to skip and clap their hands going to and from classes and when passing upperclassmen.

Elkton's seventh annual Halloween parade, held in the Cecil county seat Friday evening last, was, as P. T. Barnum was wont to say, "bigger and better than ever."

Almost given up as an impossibility a few weeks ago, interest in the parade project grew tremendously during the few days preceding Halloween, and the young men of the town, in whose charge the affair lay, decided to go through with it.

Eight thousand people as spectators, two hundred or more contestants, and a long evening of jollity and excitement was the result of this decision. From all outward appearance, the 1924 edition of the annual custom was the best of all.

William C. Feehly, Frank Davis, and William Fenton were in active charge of the big event. Taylor W. McKinney was back at his old post as Chief Marshal, and all the familiar figures associated with past parades in the town were there.

The preliminary work in arranging the parade was left to younger hands this year, and a group of boys, some of them still in High School, went to work on the prize list. But several days before the event was scheduled, Messrs. Feehly, Davis and Maloney, and several other older heads, jumped in and helped out with their experience.

Many Features Noted

Long before parade time, North and Main streets were jammed with spectators. Cars were parked as far as the eye could reach on all side streets, and High street held another large quota of people.

The judges stand was erected at the Court House on North street. The judges of the parade were Miss Anderson, supervisor of Cecil County Schools; Miss Cleaves, of North East High School; Miss Stoll, of Elkton High School; Cecil M. Squires, of Port Deposit, and Theodore R. Dantz, of Newark.

The parade itself was full of novel features and displays. One of the best was the handsome turnout of the Men of the county. This organization in past years arranged most attractive floats for the occasion and early missed a prize. This year, the Men decided to march in a body, their beautiful costumes, set off by the red fire, made their section a beautiful feature of the procession.

Another novelty was a comedy "operation" performed about every twenty feet, by nurses at the Union hospital. The "patient" lost arms and legs with distressing regularity, and seemed well provided for the ordeal. The clinic was aboard a well decorated float, and carried off a first prize.

The "Little Elk Fire Co." manned by a group of youngsters, and equipped with a hose which squirted water to a distance of at least ten feet; the "Toonerville roller," another product of youth, which Powerful Katrinka fell on sundry occasions, only to be picked up again in the most approved strip manner; "Barney Google," irrepressible, and his sheeted mate, the ZK-3 (on wheels); an antiquated high-wheeled bicycle; the "Ghosts of 1924," embracing a shapely figure from the Victory Sparkler and Beauty Co.; witches, tramps, Goblins, human pumpkins, Colonial dames, Aunt Marthas, Mexicans, gamblers, devils, black cats, and one of other bewildering costumes and the attention of the big crowd over an hour.

Three Bands in Line

Following the Marshal came two bands of Company E of Elkton as guard for Old Glory, and "Bob" dressed gloriously as Uncle

The Elkton Band followed and led the parade and Comic Sections. The Elkton Band of Newark was in line, and further back in the long procession was the Rising Sun Band. The Newark musicians gave quite a hit in their clown costumes. All three bands were liberal in their music and greatly added to the enjoyment of the evening.

A great number of youngsters stood in their parents along the line of march, not being equal to the long parade as inside.

One of the real features was the appearance of tiny Miss Salinda, hardly three years old, dressed

"Well, will anybody deny now that the Government at Washington, as regards its own people, is the strongest government in the world at this hour? And for this simple reason, that it is based on the will, and good will of an instructed people.—John Bright.

Fellow-citizens: Clouds and darkness are around Him; His pavilion is dark waters and thick clouds; justice and judgment are the establishment of His throne; mercy and truth shall go before His face! Fellow citizens! God reigns and the Government at Washington lives.—James A. Garfield.

History, Days and Opportunities

Yesterday was a Great Day in American History. It dates the beginning of a new chapter, the title of which can well be named—"America still lives in the hearts and deeds of Men."

The campaign just closed was unusual. Platforms, men, parties, creeds, sects and sections, with all their usual enthusiasms and prejudices, were swept aside, political success gave way to discussion of government, personalities were submerged before an issue which challenged conscience, duty, and civic existence, and for three months a nation's study, thought and discussion has been whether this Government as conceived in our Declaration of Independence and experienced and enjoyed under our Constitution should prevail. Constitution, Government, Law and Order were the dominant issues. Clear cut, vital, serious, severe, they would not down. Propaganda or campaign oratory could neither confuse nor deceive. There was no smoke of conflicting thought—the issue was clear. Never has there been such a study and discussion of this issue as in the campaign just closed.

"Common Sense" wins. The Government of the People, by the People, for the People prevails, the Constitution is, and by voice of the people is still to be. America lives. We believe in the work of our fathers and approve History.

So yesterday was a Great Day. Today there is an enthusiasm of quiet satisfaction all over the country—nothing hilarious, nothing glaringly rampant—just a sincere gratitude. A Great Day, that the future historian will reckon as unusual.

When Jefferson, Adams and Franklin who had been out all night penning that wonderful parchment, appeared at Independence Hall, it was a Great Day and Liberty was proclaimed. On that December 7th when the statue of George III was burned on Dover Green and our State ratified the Constitution—that was a Great Day. It was a Great Day when in tattered Blue, the Army of the North passed in Review on Pennsylvania Avenue and Lincoln saluted a saved Union. It was a Great Day when the Stars and Stripes were raised over Moro and reflected Freedom in Havana water. Great Days! It was a Great Day when we heard the shot of an American boy in shell-torn Arbonne; a Great Day was Armistice Day. We all remember the smiles and tears of that consecrated hour. And then, America laid a wreath on the grave of the Unknown Soldier—A Great Day. The Arms Conference followed.

Then mingled with prosperity came greed; with success, dissatisfaction; with liberties, violations of law; with peace disrespect for order. Truth and Ignorance clashed and Fundamental Law itself was threatened.

But now, History with its lesson, conscience with its judgment, and Common Sense with its force, have decided that the order of things that were, are and shall be.

A Great Day! And with it comes the greatest, gravest responsibility ever given to a Party. Delaware leads in that success and shares in that responsibility.

TREASURE HUNTERS TO SCAN BOTTOM OF SEA OFF CAPE CHARLES, VA.

Treasure hunters who left New York early this month to recover gold, silver, copper and jewels, which went down with the steamship Merida off the Virginia Capes in 1911, have been successful in the first phase of the expedition. The sunken ship has been located. Divers now will be sent down after the treasure, the value of which is estimated at $2,000,000 to $5,000,000.

The trawlers, Foam and Spray, dragged the waters in the vicinity where the Merida sank, with a mile-long iron sweep. Ten days after the work began, the sunken ship was discovered. Leaders of the expedition refused to reveal the exact location for fear that hijackers may be attracted to the spot. Roughly she lies 200 feet down, 55 miles east and half a mile north of Cape Charles.

The Merida was sunk in May, 1911, when she was rammed at night by the steamship Admiral Farragut.

SPIVUS BETRAYED

The last-minute betrayal of the candidacy of Mr. Joe Spivus, through a deal entered into by his campaign manager, A. T. Gawp and "Tom" Green, the famous man's name was left off the ballot. He, therefore, received no votes. In the meantime "Tom" was up in Newark, hanging around the polls—said he had contemplated, Lord knows what else he had—in his head. Said he's going to move away from Cooch's. Wish he'd a moved last spring. Full details next week.

Signed (J. Spivus).

Ways In Which To Kill the Church

1. Don't come.
2. If you do come, come late.
3. When you come, come with a grouse.
4. At service ask yourself, "What do I get out of this?"
5. Never accept office. It is better to stay outside to criticize.
6. Visit other churches about half the time, to show your pastor that you are not tied down to him.
7. Let the Pastor earn his money; let him do all the work.
8. Sit pretty well back, and never sing. If you have to sing, sing out of tune and behind everybody else.
9. Never pay in advance especially for religion. Wait until you get your money's worth.
10. Never encourage your preacher; if you like a sermon, keep mum about it. Many a preacher has been ruined by flattery.
11. It is good to tell your pastor's failings to any stranger who may happen in; they might be a long time finding them out.
12. Of course you can't be expected to get new members for the church with such a pastor as he is.
13. If your church unfortunately happens to be harmonious, call it apathy or indifference or lack of zeal, or anything except what it is.
14. If there happens to be a few zealous workers in the church make a tremendous protest about the church being run by a clique.

Delaware Has It Easy
With Stevens InstituteBlue and Gold Runs Into Soft Spot Saturday; Team Looks
Much Better

By T. R. Dantz

But a shell of its former powerful self, Stevens Tech invaded Frazer Field Saturday last, and after holding McAvoy's men on the defensive the first quarter, promptly curled up and died before the Delaware attack.

The final score was 21-0. It might have been increased to some extent, but it was a good victory at that, and one much needed to restore the morale into the student body and team.

The first two Delaware touchdowns came on breaks, and Delaware men were right there at the proper time. Turbert scooped up a fumble deep in Stevens' territory late in the first period and ran across the goal. In the second period, Weggenman trotted over with another fumble, as Stevens foolishly tried to rush the ball inside its own five-yard line.

The last score game, as the result of a sustained offensive by Delaware in the third period, Weggenman again making the score.

Game Was Slow

From the viewpoint of the spectator, the game was exceedingly slow, and at times productive of no interest whatsoever.

Fumbles marred the play of both teams, with Stevens this time the chief offender. Delaware played a defensive game during most of the first period, evidently under orders. The strategy worked pretty well, as the big beefy Stevens team was tottering badly at the end of the game. Hubert, Lohman, Jackson, Wooten and Kramer were the best for Delaware. Hopkins, entering the game in the waning minutes, made several rattling good plunges.

Both teams seemed out of condition, and injuries kept the water bucket rig-tagging across the field with persistent regularity. The injury to Captain Callaghan, of the visitors, on the very first play of the game, appeared to take a lot of fight out of them. Callaghan is the one star on the team, and a remnant of the splendid Stevens' eleven of a year or two ago.

However, nothing should be deducted from the Delaware victory. It sets very well on everybody's mind. The team is far from perfect, and has a lot to learn, but they were a greatly improved outfit last Saturday.

NEWARK STRIKES WINNING STRIDE AT LAST;
LOCALS DOWN HIBERNIANS HERE, 45-0Jim Keely, Sparks, Cornog Brothers and Hopkins Star In Great Victory Saturday

Newark's "Redjackets" came out of their lethargy last Saturday with a whoop that could be heard at Chestnut Hill.

The local footballers finally struck the harmonious chord of teamwork and punch, and what they did to the Hibernian team of Wilmington can only be told by reciting the score—45-0.

The locals scored at will throughout the game. Every play gained ground, and sometimes when the signals went a little awry, a back just picked up the ball and went through without signals. The Newark team played an entirely different brand of football than has characterized its work so far this year. Every man was in line doing his part with a vengeance. Line held the backfield and backfield strengthened the line of defense. The Wilmingtonians never had a chance.

Jim Keely, the town's veteran footballer, rose to new heights Saturday by his all-round playing. He was a tower of strength both on attack and defense. His mates in the backfield, Sanborn, Hopkins and Claringbold, were also better than ever before this season. Two weeks ago, these teams met and Newark barely nosed out the visitors by a touchdown or two. But there was not stopping Newark Saturday.

On the line, the work of Crow, Smith, the two Cornogs and J. Keely featured the game. Sparks, who came in after the start, made a 35-yard run after intercepting a forward.

Quite a crowd attended the game, which started late in the afternoon, to allow the townspeople to see the Delaware-Stevens game. The lineup:

HIGH SCHOOL WALLOPS
DOVER HIGH AGAIN, 13-0Locals Outpoint Capital City
Boys and Win Upper Half
Title Friday

Newark High is now undisputed leader of the secondary schools of the upper half of the State, and will defend the hills against the swamp men of Laurel or Georgetown in the play-off for the title in about two weeks.

Coach Nunn's boys ran over Dover High for the second time this year, last Friday. The final score was 13-0.

Marked at times by much rough playing, and several near battles between players, the game was close enough to provide the fans with some real thrills.

Newark was handicapped by lack of scrimmage and a long rest and were not in their best shape, according to spectators at the game. On the other hand, Dover fought hard and consistently and it was always a good ball game.

Patchell and Davis and the entire line starred for Newark. The Branner boys, Holloway and Hammond were best for Dover. Lineup:

SOCKS and TIES

ALSO NECKWEAR AND HOSIERY

There are some ties that are so smart that one feels like giving them a title—hence, Neckwear. The same is true of socks—there are some that really are Hosiery.

That's especially true this season, for men are going in more for color. You will find them wearing shirts that would have seemed pretty vivid two years ago. Socks and ties are the same way.

It's a change that nearly everybody likes, because it does give men more individuality. At best, a man's attire is rather sober. In the matter of suit fabrics, the inconspicuous thing is still the correct thing. Here is the cut that counts. But how smart that can be nobody knows till he has worn a suit of Society Brand.

FIREMEN HOSTS TO COUNTY ASSOCIATION

Over Fifty Members of Other Companies Met Here Last
Thursday Night

With every rural volunteer fire company in New Castle County represented, over fifty firemen gathered in the handsome club rooms of the Aetna Fire Company here last Friday night and discussed important measures for the betterment of the fire service in this section.

The Aetna boys acted as hosts at the occasion, and made the evening a very pleasant one for the visitors.

Want Fire Marshal

The principal object of the meeting was to further plans for the introduction into the next Legislature, bills aiming for the building up of the work of rural companies throughout the State.

The meeting here went on record as favoring the creation of the office of County Fire Marshal for each of the three counties in the State. Pennsylvania counties have these officials, and they devote their entire time to the improvement of the rural fire organization. A great deal of the sentiment in the meeting seemed to favor this office. The discussion on this and other subjects was led by Edward Jones, of Middletown, president of the State Firemen's Association. Mr. Jones presided over similar meetings in Kent and Sussex during the past few weeks.

Other measures slated for the Legislature were a law providing for the use of red headlights on fire apparatus when going to fires as a warning for other traffic to give them the right of way and also a law providing for the turning over to the fire companies of two per cent of the premiums paid for fire insurance.

Refreshments Served

Following the business meeting, the visitors and their hosts enjoyed tasty refreshments, consisting of cakes and draughts from a barrel of home-made cider.

Several of the firemen repaired to the bowling alleys in the basement of the building and indulged in spirited games. All in all it was a most successful meeting, and served the purpose of bringing the firemen of New Castle County into line for the urging of new legislation favoring their work.

The companies represented included: New Castle, Newark, Bellefonte, Cranston Heights, Newport, Five Points, Elsmere, Christiana, Holloway Terrace, Delaware City and Middletown.

STOCKLY FIELD DAY TO DRAW MANY VISITORS

The members of Delaware Auxiliary Board of Visitors, cordially invite all the citizens of Delaware to be present on Field Day, November 8, at Delaware Colony at Stockley. One thirty to two thirty will be the hours for inspection of the buildings. At 2:30 the program arranged by Mrs. Coleman du Pont, Chairman of the Commission, will be given.

The day will be observed as "Pound Party," so that all who may desire to do so may have this opportunity to send gifts of groceries or canned goods to the Colony.

OWN YOUR HOME

Bellevue Farm Lots Bring About $1300 Per Acre

W. A. Layfield and Wm. P. Wollaston Are Heaviest Buyers; Mrs. Tyson
Wins Ford Car

One of the most successful real estate sales ever to be held in Newark took place at Bellevue Farm, the estate of John P. Armstrong, just beyond the town limits on West Main street, last Saturday.

One hundred and twenty building lots, each 25 feet front and from 100 to 150 feet in depth, were sold by S. E. Dameron, of Bel Air, Md. Auctioneer Freeman had little trouble in disposing of the property, for the bidding was spirited, especially on the lots from Nottingham Pike, the extension of Main street.

From this vantage point, a splendid view is afforded of the Country Club golf course, and the hills lying beyond. General opinion has it that the property will soon be built up and form another residential district of the town.

Lots Go At Good Prices
Mr. Dameron, after reading the terms of the sale, and announcing the personnel of the sales force, turned the sale over to Mr. Freeman.

The first lot went to Walter A. Layfield for $500. Since the auctioneer had the right to compel the purchaser to buy at least two lots, some were sold singly. Mr. Layfield and Mr. Wollaston both bid spiritedly for the first block, perhaps the choicest on the ground. The former, following his purchase, took six in a block along Nottingham Pike. His total purchases amounted to 20 lots, and he was the largest individual buyer.

Other new owners along the pike are William R. Lynam, Guy R. Ford, William P. Wollaston, Armand Dameron, James D. Davis, Jr., and Mr. Armstrong. The sale brought a total of about $18,000 and lots ranged from $50 to $500 each.

Ford Car Given Away
Mrs. Herman Tyson was the winner of the new Ford touring car given away by the auctioneer. Previous to the drawing for the car, Mrs. Tyson's name was drawn as winner of a dollar bill. Since she was not present, the card went back in the box. When it was drawn the second time, she had just arrived on the grounds after a trip down town.

Quite a laugh was elicited from the crowd when Mr. Freeman offered a brand new dollar to any married lady who would admit a quarrel with her husband during the past 24 hours. It remained untaken. While the crowd at the sale was not as large as similar affairs in this vicinity in the past, they were in a buying mood, and the lots went fast.

Mr. Dameron To Move Here
Mr. Dameron announced to friends here last week, and repeated the statement at the sale Saturday, that he intended moving to Newark. He is the owner of the Huber Farm lying east of Newark, having purchased it recently from Guy R. Ford, Wilmington.

Mr. and Mrs. Dameron have two children and it is their intention to enter the Women's College here when the family moves to Newark.

The term payment for lots sold at the sale are being handled by the Newark Trust and Safe Deposit Company.

LOCAL AGRICULTURISTS TAKE PART IN SUSSEX FARM TOUR

Forty-five Autos Carry Farmers About County; Students Also In Tour

The "Better Farming Tour" held in Sussex County last week, under direction of the Extension Department of the University of Delaware, with Malloy C. Vaughan, county agent, was the first of its kind ever held in the State, and pronounced a decided success, from which better and more profitable farming is expected in that county. Between 125 and 150 farmers, business men and agricultural students from the Seaford and Greenwood high schools, traveling in 35 automobiles, made the trip, which started from the Seaford High School building, Thursday morning last.

Those from the Extension Department of the University of Delaware on the tour were: Dean C. A. Smith, Dr. T. F. Manns, Professor George L. Schuster, County Agent Mr. M. O. Pence and County Club leader A. D. Cobb, who were accompanied by Harvey Hawthorne, of the Agricultural Department, Washington, D. C., and County Agents R. O. Smith, New Castle; Russell E. Smith, Kent; Malloy C. Vaughan,

REPUBLICAN RALLY DRAWS BIG CROWD

Ex-Governor Stokes, General Du Pont and Members of State Ticket in Last Big Meeting Here Thursday Night

In the largest political meeting held here, said old residents, since the late '90's, Republicans of Newark and community packed the Opera House Thursday night and enthusiastically added a final push to the entire National and State ticket on its way to victory.

Seldom has a platform in Newark held so prominent an array of speakers as were grouped on that occasion. A former Governor of a neighboring State, a United States Senator, and every leading candidate for office from this State in the campaign just closed, were there and did their bit to roll up a splendid majority for Republicanism.

Long before the local escorting committee met the visitors at the edge of town, the crowds were filing into the theatre. College, Town and Country, men, women and children, people in all walks of the busy life of the community were there. The interior of the theatre was tastefully decorated with the nation's colors, large portraits of Coolidge, Dawes, and du Pont, and on one side of the stage was a splendid photograph of Abraham Lincoln, draped on all sides by an American flag.

Prominent local Republicans occupied seats of honor on the platform. Below them on the floor of the hall sat the Continental Band.

The streets outside the Opera House were crowded by people awaiting a glimpse of the candidates as they left their cars to enter the building. Senator Ball was an early arrival and was on hand to welcome the rest of the group.

Fifteen cars piloted by local men met the speakers at Leak's Garage and, headed by the band, a parade formed for the march into town. Arriving at the theatre, the cars drew alongside the rear entrance and the candidates held an informal reception on the street.

Applause Greets Speakers
Enthusiasm was rampant in the audience, and first burst forth when the speakers entered the stage from the wings. Sustained applause greeted them, which, together with the blare of the band, created a noisy welcome.

The speakers for the evening were: T. Coleman du Pont, Ex-Governor Edward C. Stokes, of New Jersey; Robert G. Houston, candidate for Representative in Congress, Robert P. Robinson, candidate for Governor, Clarence A. Southerland, candidate for Attorney-General, and Senator Ball, whose address closed the meeting. This array of speakers held the close attention of the audience for nearly three hours. Everett C. Johnson, former Secretary of State, presided and introduced the speakers.

On the platform behind the speakers sat several local Republican leaders, among whom were Mrs. R. A. Whittingham, Mrs. William H. Evans, member of State Committee; Miss Eleanor Todd, vice-chairman, County Committee; George L. Medill, Daniel Thompson, Harvey K. Steel, John K. Johnson, J. Irvin Dayett, Robert S. Gallaher, James C. Hastings, candidate for Representative, and Mrs. James A. McKelvey. William G. Taylor and Reuben Satterthwaite, Jr., of Wilmington, were also on the platform.

du Pont Speaks Briefly
Due to the fact that he was scheduled to address another meeting in Wilmington that evening, General du Pont spoke only briefly, upon his introduction by Mr. Johnson. He touched however upon one important part of the campaign, that of demonstrating that the Republican Administration has so far saved the nation money at the rate of $1,000,000 per hour. As a business management, the work of Dawes, Mellon and their associates in the financing of the country is nothing to be improved upon. The speaker plaid himself that, if elected, he would work his hardest, first for Delaware, and second for the policies, programs and wishes of President Coolidge. General du Pont was given a rousing cheer as he concluded his brief talk. He left the theatre a few moments later.

Gov. Stokes' Address
In introducing the speaker of the evening, Chairman Johnson called attention to the visit made by Governor Stokes here two years ago. He called the New Jersey man, "our neighbor and friend."

Governor Stokes began his address with repeated bits of his inimitable humor, explaining why he was a bachelor, the advantages of such an existence and the reasons why he wants to remain one. He lost no time in launching into the body of his address, recalling the two occasions when he spoke in a campaign in Delaware, once for Col. H. A. du Pont eight years ago, and

STRAIGHT SHOOTING

FROM EX-GOVERNOR STOKES

"General Charles G. Dawes is the most dynamic personality in America today."

"He (Dawes) may be able to stabilize the United States Senate and make it stop talking and go to work."

"The story of Republican progress since 1920 reads like a story from 'The Arabian Nights'."

"The farmers of this country have been loaned a total of $1,373,000,000 in and by recent Republican legislation."

"When America takes a hand in any enterprise for the uplift of the world, I want her to own 51 per cent of the stock."

in 1923 for T. C. du Pont, he called upon his audience to "help me redeem my past failures in your State by sending Mr. du Pont to Washington with an overwhelming majority."

He brought applause when he said that "while the nation only polled 50 per cent of her vote in 1920, Delaware led the states with a 75 per cent vote."

His address centered principally about the two national candidates, Coolidge and Dawes, upon the tariff, upon the menace of La Follette and his program and foreign policy, and upon the achievements of the Administration. Nowhere in his talk was a line of defamatory or personal bitterness. He chided the Democrats occasionally, but only on main issues and never on personalities.

He dwelt for some minutes upon the character and fitness of General Dawes. He called him "a most magnificent man, with the most dynamic personality in the country today."

If there is anything fundamentally wrong with Dawes, Governor Stokes has yet to see it. He brought at the close of this part of his address, attention to the letter composed by the General and read by a minister at the funeral of his eldest boy.

"No one but a Christian gentleman of a high order could have written that letter," exclaimed the speaker. He read part of it to the audience.

In relation to the foreign policies of the Government under the Republican administration, Governor Stokes took a minute to eulogize the work of Secretary Hughes, calling him "a right-thinking, clear headed, broad minded, Christian man, who knows foreign problems."

He brought to light the conditions existing in our State Department when the Democrats loosed the reins of Government in 1920. Our country was still at war, said the speaker and, in addition, the whole world was in a suspicious, disrupted state. Since Hughes began his work, 47 separate peace pacts have been entered into by the United States, the Disarmament Conference ordered a ten year naval truce, and the relations of America abroad were never better. He took occasion here to slap the Democrats for their policies in Railroad Administration, foreign policies, financial depression, and taxes.

In winding up his speech, Governor Stokes enlightened his hearers on the tariff, tax decline, the budget system of financing the country, Dawes and his reparation work, foreign debts, and last of all, a sweeping denunciation of La Follette and Wheeler, and a warning that nothing worse could happen to America today than to have their ideas put into practice in Washington. He urged a vote for "the whole Republican ticket."

Governor Stokes was applauded vigorously as he concluded his speech and rushed off to Wilmington to catch a train for his home in New Jersey.

Other Candidates Speak

Speeches followed in quick succession by Mr. Houston, Mr. Robinson, Mr. Southerland and Senator Ball. The latter was given a burst of applause as he was introduced. He responded with one of his characteristic speeches in support of the Republican administration and plead for an overwhelming majority for the State and National ticket.

Mr. Houston, in a long speech, outlined the various candidates on the state ticket and expressed his confidence that they would every one be elected on November 4th. The speaker is well known in Newark, being a frequent visitor here.

Messrs Robinson and Southerland limited their talks to brief remarks owing to the lateness of the hour. Following the meeting, many people in the audience had an opportunity to meet and talk with the candidates a few moments.

Another meeting among the colored voters late in the evening, however, caused Messrs. Robinson and Southerland to hurry away shortly after the Opera House meeting was concluded. The band played "The Star Spangled Banner" at the close of the evening, and Newark's biggest political meeting came to a close.

Remarks overheard on the street later pointed to the fact that the speakers had made a great impression upon the voters and everyone was enthusiastic in their praises of the arrangements made by the local leaders and by the wealth of speakers who came down for the meeting.

BUSINESS ADMINIS-TRATOR HONORED
1924 "Blue Hen" Dedicated To Arthur G. Wilkinson

ARTHUR G. WILKINSON

A signal honor was paid to Arthur G. Wilkinson, for the past six years Business Administrator of the University here, when it was announced early this week that the 1924 edition of the "Blue Hen," the official University year book, has been dedicated to him.

The decision was arrived at recently during a meeting of the Blue Hen Staff, and has met with accord in every part of the campus.

The dedication is made "to a man of service and of fair-dealing—a friend of the University and of the college man at Delaware." Mr. Wilkinson takes a keen interest in the welfare of the students and many students have been able to continue their studies at Delaware through his efforts in getting them financial aid.

Lafollette-Wheeler Meeting Held Here

Herbert Walton of Iron Hill Presided Last Friday Evening at Local Affair

The first La Follette-Wheeler mass meeting of the campaign in this locality arrived in Newark Friday night last, just in time for the final pre-election drive for votes.

As far as can be learned, the turnout of voters was considerably smaller than had been hoped for. Between 50 and 100 people were in the old fire house when the meeting was called to order by Herbert Walton, chairman.

Herbert, or "Whitey," as he was known while a student at Delaware, graduated here in 1919 with honors. He has since been in engineering work, and has been connected with the Chesapeake and Potomac Telephone Co., with headquarters in Elkton. He is a native of Iron Hill.

Mr. Walton brought two speakers to Newark to address the voters. One was George Hallett, well known resident of Arden, Delaware, and the other Andrew J. Cross, of Wilmington, a member of the Forward State Committee of Delaware. He was a former member of the Legislature from his home district.

Both the speakers dwelt at length on the aims and policies of the La Follette movement, denounced the existing political management of the nation, and charged again that the nation's business appears to be "big business" applied to the Government.

NEW CASTLE OVER-RUN

15,000 Witness Hallowe'en
Parade In Nearby Town;
Firemen March

New Castle enjoyed its biggest Hallowe'en celebration last Friday night. The fun began as night fell and continued until the small hours of the morning, while Madden's Orchestra played at a big masked ball in the Armory.

While thousands of persons both masked and unmasked crowded the city streets all evening, malicious mischief, usually prevalent on Hallowe'en, was conspicuous by its absence. The police were not called upon to make an arrest, and on only a few occasions was it necessary for the police to caution masqueraders because of their conduct.

It is estimated that not less than 15,000 residents and visitors thronged the streets. Both sides of Delaware street, between the Strand and Seventh street, and all intersecting streets between Couth and Harmony streets were crowded with automobile parties who came to see the huge firemen's parade, which was given preceding the Hallowe'en ball held in Van Dyke armory, under the auspices of the Good Will Fire Company. This ball was the seventeenth function of

The new board elected Mr. Brown, president; Mr. McAllister, treasurer, and Mr. Coburn, secretary.

Plans of Rifle Club
At Women's College

An informal meeting of all the girls who are interested in a rifle team has been held. Louise Brooks, who is manager of the rifle team, called the meeting to discover the girls who are interested, and those who shot on the different class teams last year. Two of the members of the team which shot in the matches are out of school; they are Katherine White and Ann Ralston.

The manager has made no definite statement as to the immediate plans for the sport; nor has the practice commenced. However, there have been received many bids for matches. Among those which have been received are the University of Maryland, Drexel Institute, and the University of Michigan, all of which shot matches with the Delaware girls last year.

"CITY SLICKERS" HOSTS AT COLLEGE DANCE

Following the Delaware-Dickinson game in Wilmington on Saturday, November 22, a victory dance will be held in the Gold Ballroom of the Hotel du Pont. The frolic commencing at 9 o'clock, will be sponsored by the "City Slickers," a newly formed organization on the Delaware campus. Music will be supplied by "Johnny" Ash's "Collegians," which is being augmented for the occasion. The frolic will be opened to all followers of the Blue and Gold team. Many Dickinson followers as well as many of the old Delaware graduates are expected back. The committee in charge of the dance is J. Robbins, '27, and J. Grant, '26.

The "City Slickers" dance takes the place of the Student Council dance which was formerly held after the Wilmington game.

its kind held by the firemen.

The armory immediately following the parade was crowded with dancers. The music for the affair was furnished by Madden's orchestra. There were many fancy and comic costumes.

The parade started from Second and Delaware at 8 o'clock and proceeded to Ninth, then to South, to Fifth, to Harmony, thence to Fourth, to Chestnut, then east on Chestnut to Second, south to Harmony, north on Harmony to Fourth, south on Fourth to Delaware, east on Delaware to Second street, countermarching to the armory where paraders disbanded.

HEAD OF CHRISTIANA CHURCH SUPPER WAS MADE ANNUAL EVENT OVER 200 YEARS AGO

On a fall evening like this two hundred years ago, the settlers and pioneers whose readiness and energy paved the way for Newark and the existence of its institutions, a supper was held at Head of Christiana Church along the old Nottingham turnpike. At that time Newark was a cross road.

Tomorrow evening, another such supper will be held in the little church under the same trees that sheltered the first one. In the intervening years there has never been a lapse. The Christiana Church supper in this section is synonymous with Christmas Eve and Easter. It's past the event stage—it's an institution.

Wherefore will gather tomorrow night the descendants of those old families from far and near, from Newark, Elkton, Appleton, from the hills of the White Clay and the Big Elk.

There will be one person missing this year, according to reports. Mrs. Nancy Hall, with ninety-nine summers resting on her frail shoulders, is unwell, and may not get to the supper. Prior to this year she attended every such occasion since babyhood. Think of that! She will be missed. An old face like hers at those suppers is a symbol of the faithfulness of olden days—of the spirit of the pioneer.

Every one knows about the supper. Everybody will be there. So it is useless to write further. Mrs. Bowen Milburn is in charge of the committee this year. The doors open at five o'clock. You know the rest.

Senior and Faculty Teams To Clash Soon

The Senior-Faculty football game, which will be played sometime in the latter part of November, promises to be as exciting and thrilling as last year's game, when the Seniors trounced the Faculty by a score of 27-13. From all indications, however, it seems that the score will be reversed in favor of the Faculty this year. Major Underwood, who has turned out an excellent scrub team for Delaware, is expected to give the Seniors a real fight. Dr. Manns will also be a big factor in the game. The Seniors are not so fortunate this year to have such men in the backfield as "Kanky" Chun and "Johnny" Shaefer.

As for the Freshman-Sophomore match, student opinion favors the Sophomore team, which has a strong defense in Coffin, Manns, McKelvey, Coale, and Beck.

The dates for both of these games will be announced in a few days.
