ARREST NEGRO IMPLICATED IN MOTE ROBBERY

William Clark, Arrested Sunday For Drunken Driving, Is Recognized As Man Sought For Year On Larceny Charge; Fined $200 And Given 30 Days For Driving Drunk, Will Be Rearrested On Expiration Of Sentence

HAD CAUSED ACCIDENT

William Clark, alias Johnny Jackson, was arrested here, Sunday, on a charge of driving while intoxicated, and during his examination was recognized as the man wanted for the larceny of a number of tires, taken from the garage of Henry F. Mote, over a year ago.

Clark was fined $200 and sentenced to 30 days imprisonment by Magistrate Thompson on the charge of drunken driving, and as soon as his sentence expires will be rearrested on the charge of larceny. It is likely that he will also have to serve out his fine, which will add another 60 days to his present sentence.

Clark was arrested on New London avenue by Town Officer Cunningham and State Highway Officer Workman, following the report of an accident on the highway. Clark driving wildly down the highway had rammed a car driven by Daniel J. McCarthy, of Chester, Pa. When Mr. McCarthy got out of his car, Clark is said to have used threatening language, and putting his hand on his hip pocket, intimated he had a gun and would shoot anyone who interfered with him. Mr. McCarthy came to Newark, notified the police, and signed a warrant for Clark's arrest. Mr. McCarthy said that Clark had run into his car while attempting to pass from the rear.

With a description of the negro and car, the two officers went out to hunt for him, and found him on New London avenue. They closed in on him from opposite sides of the car and arrested and searched him. They could find no gun. He was taken to a physician, who pronounced him drunk. During his examination, he was recognized as the negro wanted for the Mote robbery, and finally confessed that he was the man.

At the time of the Mote robbery, in which a number of new tires were stolen, the tires were traced to a room rented by Clark on New London road. Clark escaped as the officers were on the way to his room and was trailed to Wilmington, where the trail vanished. All the tires were recovered. When he was taken to the Workhouse, Sunday night, he was recognized by the warden as a negro who had served a term there under the name of West.

NEW STORE MANAGER

John W. Bulger, of Wilmington, has recently been appointed manager of the Newark branch store of Reburn Radio Stores, and has come to Newark to assume duty.

Mr. Bulger has had a number of years experience in the radio field, and offers the community of Newark every angle of radio service. A truck has been added to the service department and repair service on all makes of sets is available. The store will be open from 9 a. m. to 9 p. m., daily, and until 10 p. m., Saturday.

Mr. Bulger is looking forward to large increase in business during the coming holiday season, and is selecting his stock in anticipation. While radio is the specialty of the store, it also carries electrical appliances, phonographs and records.

PRESBYTERY MEETS

At a meeting of the New Castle Presbytery, held on Monday in Hancock Presbyterian Church, Wilmington, a number of changes in the district were announced. The Reverend I. P. Wagner was released as pastor of the Elkton Presbyterian Church, and will go to Wilmington to reside. The Reverend Samuel L. Irvine, of White Clay Creek Church, is retiring, and will make his home in Wilmington. The Reverend John Moore was released from the Pender charge, and the Reverend T. S. Armentrout will take his place as the stated supply.

CORRECTION

In a story published in The Post last week, reporting the progress of the Town Library Campaign, Mrs. A. S. Eastman's name was accidentally omitted from the list of committee members.

Mercantile Landmark Passes Into History

One of Newark's oldest mercantile institutions passed into history, this week, when the stock of the Motherall Store was sold and shipped away, and the business closed out. The store was started by Nathan M. Motherall and Robert Motherall, in 1875. The two brothers bought the store from the late Charles Evans, Sr.

The Motherall brothers ran the store together up to last January, when Nathan died. Since that time Robert Motherall has been trying to wind up the affairs of the firm, and the liquidation was completed last week.

ABSCONDS WITH COMPANY CASH

Frank Eckles, Diamond Ice Company Cashier, Disappears With Over $800; Had Two-Day Start Before Shortage Discovered

It was discovered on Sunday that Frank Eckles, cashier of the local branch of the Diamond Ice Company, had absconded with over $800 in cash of the company's money. Eckles, who had been in the local office since last July, disappeared some time Thursday night, and on Sunday a check of his books disclosed the shortage. The supposition is that he is on his way to California. He was not bonded.

Eckles did not come to work on Friday or Saturday, and after hearing no word from him, company officials became suspicious and checked his accounts. It was found that he had taken the money from cash that he was supposed to deposit in a local bank each day. He had filed deposit slips with the home office in Wilmington, but had pocketed the cash instead of placing it in the bank. All the money was taken out of cash receipts from the first of the month until the day of his disappearance.

Eckles, who was about 26 or 27 years of age, was a trusted employee and had come to the Diamond Ice Company from the Industrial Trust Company, of Wilmington. While in Newark he lived at Powell's. His room there was found vacant on Friday morning. From remarks which he had dropped it is thought that he planned to go to the West coast.

TO OPEN GIFT SHOP

Tomorrow, Miss Millicent Lyons will hold the formal opening of The Newark Gift Shoppe in the west store in the State Theatre Building. In conjunction with the gift shop, Miss Lyons' mother, Mrs. A. W. Lyons, will conduct a cleaning, dyeing and tailoring and repair business, which she has purchased from the former occupant of the store, the Newark Wardrobe System.

Novelties, antiques and unusual gifts for all occasions are being unpacked and placed on display for the opening of the Gift Shoppe, tomorrow. Mrs. Lyons and Miss Lyons are from New York City, where they were in art work. Mrs. Lyons is the sister of Mrs. S. J. Smith.

K. A. PLANS NEW HOME

Plans are being prepared for a new Fraternity House for the Kappa Alpha Fraternity on the University of Delaware old campus. This would make the third fraternity with a chapter house on the campus, the Sigma Phi Epsilon and Sigma Nu Fraternities having already built.

It is said the Kappa Alpha has already raised about $15,000 by subscription and that as soon as that amount is doubled the work of moving Purnell Hall which stands on part of the site of the proposed Chapter House, will be started. It is said the proposed house is to cost about $60,000 including furnishings and it is hoped to have work started by the first of the year or shortly thereafter.

RETURN FROM TRIP

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph M. Brown, Jr., and Mr. and Mrs. Amos Norton, all of Newark, have returned home after a week's motor trip through the Middle West and Canada. Some of the many points of interest they visited were: the J. O. U. A. M. Orphanage Home at Tiffin, Ohio; the Pontiac factory at Pontiac, Mich.; Niagara Falls and the Delaware Water Gap.

MISSIONARY MEETING

The Young Women's Home Missionary Society of the M. E. Church will hold a Halloween masquerade social in the Sunday School room, Monday, October 28, at 8 o'clock. Admission, waist measure. Refreshments. Everybody welcome.

BOGGS' INJURIES ARE IMPROVING

Delaware Center, Suffering Dislocation And Fracture Of Vertebrae In Football Game, Is Still In Serious But Not Critical Condition; Expect Full Recovery

It was reported at the Homeopathic Hospital, this morning, that the condition of Caleb Boggs, injured in Saturday's football game between the University of Delaware and Susquehanna, was favorable, but unchanged. He is allowed no visitors but his immediate family.

Boggs, who was playing center for the University of Delaware, suffered a dislocated neck and a fractured vertebrae during a scrimmage in the third period of the game. Dr. Wallace Johnson ordered him carried from the field, and in an investigation made in the gymnasium, diagnosed the injury as a dislocated neck. The Newark ambulance was called, and Boggs was taken immediately to the Homeopathic Hospital, where Dr. James C. Spackman, who had been notified, was waiting for him. A number of specialists were called into consultation on the case, when the X-ray pictures showed a fracture of a vertebrae in addition to the dislocation. Yesterday a brace was fitted to his neck, but no attempt will be made to straighten the dislocation until the fracture heals. This will take about two weeks. Fortunately the spinal column appears to be uninjured. Boggs did not lose consciousness at any time. The physicians connected with the case feel that conditions point to a complete recovery.

It is not known just how the injury occurred, but it is thought that Boggs was struck in the neck by the knee of another player. Boggs dove in to stop a Susquehanna drive at the line, and was at the bottom of the heap when the two teams piled up. He had been playing a great game and had been a tower of strength on the defense.

He is 20 years of age and in his junior year in the University. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Boggs, of Cheswood. He is one of the most popular men in Delaware College and served as president of his class in both his freshman and sophomore years. He is a member of the Kappa Alpha fraternity and a member of the Druids and Blue Key Society, honorary fraternity. He has represented his class on the Student Council ever since he entered college. Boggs has been out for football for three years and gained a varsity berth this year. He had played in all of the first three games on the schedule and had made an excellent showing.

SOJOURNERS WILL HOLD JANUARY MEETING HERE

At the meeting of du Pont No. 78, National Sojourners, held at Fort du Pont, Delaware, on October 16, it was decided to hold the January, 1930, meeting of the Chapter, at Newark, Delaware, for the convenience of the members who live here and in the vicinity.

The Chapter, whose members are scattered throughout the State of Delaware, has no regular meeting place, but chooses each month, as nearly as practicable, a town or city convenient to the greatest number of members.

Lieutenant Victor E. Devereaux, chairman of the National Defense Committee and secretary of the Chapter, is scheduled to speak on the work of that committee in combating subversive activities, at the January meeting. It is possible that the public will be invited to hear this lecture, though nothing definite has been decided as yet.

Wilkinson was elected Lieutenant Governor of the sixth division of the district, which is newly created and includes Wilmington, Baltimore, Towson, Havre de Grace, Seaford, Rehoboth Beach. Mr. Wilkinson is a past president of the Wilmington Kiwanis Club. He is business administrator of the University of Delaware.

MUSIC SOCIETY OPENS SEASON

Newark Organization Hold First Musical At The Home Of Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Cann; Will Bring Curtis Artist-Student Here Next Month

Mr. and Mrs. John Pearce Cann were hosts to the Newark Music Society for its first musical of the season, last Thursday night in their home on West Main street. Miss Eleanor Edge, pianist, and Mr. J. Frank Huss, baritone, provided the musical portion of the program, and Dr. W. Owen Sypherd gave a reading. About 50 members and their guests were present.

Miss Edge gave three selections in her usual finished manner. They were: "Fantasia Impromptu," Chopin; "Melody in A," Dawes; and "May Night," Palmgren.

Mr. Huss gave two groups of songs, with several selections in each group. He was very well received.

Dr. Sypherd read excerpts from John Brown's Body, which concerned Robert E. Lee, Abraham Lincoln and John Brown. The Society will hold its next musical on the evening of November 14, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Holton. Dr. George H. Ryden, president of the society, announces that on November 21, the Curtis Institute of Music, of Philadelphia, will give the first fall concert of its artist-students, in Newark, under the auspices of the Newark Music Society. This will be given in Wolf Hall, and the general public will be invited.

On Saturday night, from 8.30 to 12, the Lt. J. Allison O'Daniel Post, Veterans of Foreign Wars, will hold an Old Time Barn Dance in the Newark Armory.

Everything which goes with a barn dance will be provided, and there will be plenty of fun both in watching and in dancing. There will be two styles of the old time dances, square and round.

Mike Monahan's Fiddlers, popular radio broadcasters, will furnish the music, and during the evening Heinie Lee will sing a number of selections.

HALLOWEEN DANCE

Ivy Crow Temple, No. 4, Ladies of the Golden Eagle, will hold a Halloween Dance on Saturday night, November 2, at Fraternal Hall. Prizes will be awarded to the best dressed, most original and comical.

CLUB INSTITUTE CONVENES HERE

New Castle County Women's Organization Held Annual Meeting At New Century Club Yesterday; Miss Witherlie, Guest Speaker

The New Castle County Club Institute met in the Newark New Century Club on Wednesday of this week, with about 100 members present. A morning and afternoon session were held, with a luncheon served by Mrs. Reynolds, of the Blue Hen Tea Room, at the club house, at noon. The morning session was presided over by Mrs. Newlin Booth, of New Castle, who is vice-president of the New Castle County organization.

After the meeting was called to order music followed. The members were next led in prayer by Reverend H. Everett Hallman, after which the Club Collect was read. This was followed by Greetings from the Newark Club by Mrs. J. Irvin Dayett, to which a response was given by Mrs. Wolfe, of Delaware City. Next on the program was "Essentials to a Successful Club Meeting," by Mrs. W. H. Beaumont, followed by a discussion; "Club Ethics," by Mrs. A. D. Warner, followed by a discussion; "Purposes of the Club," by Mrs. R. W. Heim, also followed by a discussion. This concluding the morning meeting, luncheon was served.

The afternoon program was as follows: Motion Pictures, by Mrs. Edmund M. Barsham, of Wilmington; "The Club in the Community," by Miss Anna C. Witherlie, followed by two solos by Mrs. Paul K. Musselman, and "Cooperation with the Rural Clubs," by Mrs. H. McKinley.

Miss Witherlie, who is from Maine, is General Federation Chairman of the Club Institutes. The club women feel that they had a drawing card in being able to secure Miss Witherlie for their meetings. This would not have been possible except for the fact that she has been attending the State Federation Meeting of Pennsylvania Women held the past week in Erie, Pa.

SEAT OFFICERS OF LEGION UNIT

Officers Of Local Auxiliary Unit Are Installed With State Officers At Wilmington Meeting; Mrs. Little Is President Of Newark Unit; Mrs. Rhodes, State Chaplain

At the last meeting of the American Legion Auxiliary, Unit No. 10, J. Allison O'Daniel, Mrs. Orville Little was elected president. She succeeds Mrs. A. E. Tomhave, who organized the Unit in February and carried on the work during the past year. Mrs. Fred J. Strickland was elected vice-president, succeeding Mrs. Lester Scotten.

On Monday evening, all of the newly elected officers were installed in Wilmington, at which time the First Annual Installation of Department and Unit officers was held in the du Pont-Biltmore Hotel. Preceding the installation was a dinner in the DuBarry Room, at which Congressman Robert A. Houston, Dr. Richard C. Beebe, State Commander of American Legion, and his Adjutant, and National Vice-Commander J. Dugan were distinguished guests.

A dance followed the dinner and installation.

The officers of the Newark Unit elected and installed were: Mrs. Orville Little, president; Mrs. Fred J. Strickland, vice-president; Mrs. Clarence Hopkins, secretary; Mrs. John R. Fader, treasurer; Mrs. Conrad Lewis, historian; and Mrs. Frank Balling, sergeant at arms.

Mrs. Leonard Rhodes, of the local Post, was also installed as chaplain of the Department of Delaware.

The Legion and Auxiliary have bought a piano and they are planning a Halloween party for Tuesday, October 29. The chairman of the committee are: Decorations, Mrs. Harold Sheaffer; entertainment, Mrs. J. Harvey Dickey; refreshments, Mrs. J. R. Fader.

LACKED FINE, COMMITTED

On Monday Richard Barnett, colored, was committed to the Workhouse for 30 days in default of fine on two charges, improper registration of motor vehicle, and operating without an operator's license. Officer Cunningham made the arrest.

LOCAL SCHOOLS APPROACH PEAK OF CAPACITY

Survey Shows That Buildings Are Crowded To A Critical Point; Board Hopes For Building Assistance From State Body; Plan Halloween Parties

EDISON ASSEMBLY

The Newark School authorities are at present engaged in an exhaustive survey of the physical equipment of the schools, in an effort to determine what means can be resorted to to accommodate the increasing enrollment. So far the findings auger anything but an optimistic outlook for next year.

At present the schools are operating on a 95 per cent efficiency of their plant, and a large part of this plant is more or less makeshift. It is quite possible that next year's enrollment increase will take up the extra 5 per cent, and in that case the schools will be crowded to their utmost physical seating limit. As the physical limit of a school plant is approached, the efficiency of instruction necessarily declines so that such a contingency will be critical.

In anticipation of these conditions, the local Board of Education has been petitioning the State Board of Education, vigorously, for an increase in the plant. These petitions have been in the hands of the State Board for more than two years, and it is possible that something will be done during the coming year.

What the local board asks, specifically, is the south wing on the new building. As this wing is planned, it would not only give the schools sufficient room to bring the instruction schedule to its highest point of efficiency, but would provide for regular gymnasium facilities and for the addition of much needed courses in manual arts, and in business training.

Edison Assembly

The schools held Edison Assembly, yesterday, in honor of Thomas Alva Edison and the Golden Jubilee anniversary of his invention of the electric light. The science department, under Mr. Gillespie, had charge of the program. The program was as follows: "Life of Edison," Alden Collins; "Inventions of Edison," Donnell Pierce; "Light," Charles Pie; "And There Was Light," Bernard Dordian.

Hallowe'en Parties

The schools are holding Hallowe'en celebrations, this week, and each class is having a party. On Friday night, the Junior High School will hold a party in the school auditorium. Mr. David McMenamin is faculty chairman. On Saturday night the Senior High School will hold its party in the school auditorium. Mr. David McMenamin is faculty chairman. On Saturday night the Senior High School will hold its party in the auditorium. Miss Ann Gallaher is faculty chairman. (Continued on Page 4.)

NEW CENTURY CLUB

The Newark New Century Club met in regular session on Monday afternoon at half after two o'clock. Mrs. Barnard, chairman of the day, introduced Mr. Elliott Moses, Librarian of the University, who sang very pleasantly, two solos, entitled "Barefoot Trail" and "A Gift To You." Pro. Elisha Conover read a very interesting paper on "The Fear of Knowing Too Much." He showed a wide range of knowledge in other subjects as well as that of his major ones, Latin and Greek. He said he was teaching more students in these subjects now than he had ever done before at one time.

ELECT STATE OFFICERS

At a session of the Great Council of Delaware, I. O. R. M., this morning in Wilmington, the following officers were elected for one Great Sun:

AMBULANCE CALLS

The Newark ambulance was called twice during the week. On Saturday it took Caleb Boggs, the injured University of Delaware football player, to the Homeopathic Hospital. Horace Null and Bert Crow made this trip.

On Monday Joel Williams, colored, was taken to the Delaware Hospital in the ambulance, by Edward Shuckepare and C. Claringbold. He had been injured Sunday in a football game in Chester.

NEWS OF THE NEIGHBORING TOWNS

AS TOLD BY OUR CORRESPONDENTS

Elkton

Miss Estelle Haines, of Montclair, N. J., is spending some time in Elkton.

Edward M. Taylor, of New York, was the week-end guest of his mother, Mrs. Elizabeth M. Taylor, in Elkton.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank G. Pratt, of Elkton, are entertaining their son, Edmund Pratt, and wife, of South Dakota.

Sergeant and Mrs. D. Roy Perkins returned to their home in Frederick, Md., Sunday, accompanied by their little daughter, Lorene, who has been spending two weeks with her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Sparklin, in Elkton.

Miss Jessie Snow, executive secretary of the Maryland Branch of the League of Nations Association, was the principal speaker Tuesday night at the Elkton Rotary Club at the Howard Hotel. Her subject was "The Influence of the Kellogg Pact on the League of Nations."

The Elkton Volunteer Fire Company was summoned to Red Hill, about a mile east of Elkton, on Monday, to fight a fire in a small frame dwelling owned by Harry Vandegrift. The flames had gained such a headway by the time the firemen arrived at the scene, that there was no hope of saving the building.

George Bartholemew Fischbach, Jr., and Miss Regina Veronica Wright daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry A. Wright, of Elkton, were married in the Church of the Immaculate Conception, Elkton, Monday afternoon at 3, the Rev. P. P. Arnd, the pastor, officiating. A reception followed at the home of the bride's parents, after the ceremony. Upon their return from a wedding trip, Mr. and Mrs. Fischbach will reside in Wilmington.

Omar D. Crothers, of Elkton, has been appointed counsel to the Board of County Commissioners for Cecil County, succeeding Albert D. Mackey, resigned.

Sheriff G. Clinton Logan, his deputies and three prohibition enforcement officers from Baltimore, Monday, raided and destroyed another moonshine whiskey plant in the Carpenter Point Neck section near North East River. A 200-gallon still which was in operation and about 800 gallons of mash were destroyed. The operators of the plant had disappeared, evidently having been tipped off that the officers were in that section. Several stills have been seized in this county in the last few weeks.

MRS. E. R. CROTHERS DIES IN OHIO

Mrs. Maud H. Crothers, aged 45 years, wife of Emerson R. Crothers, of Elkton, who is secretary of the Maryland Senate, died Sunday afternoon at 1 o'clock at the home of her sister, Mrs. C. W. Wille, in Cleveland, Ohio.

Late in the summer, she went on a visit to her sister and shortly after her arrival was stricken with paralysis, from which she never rallied.

She was a daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Thomas D. Hague, of Elkton, and was twice married. Her first husband was Samuel W. Holt, of Philadelphia. Besides her second husband, she is survived by two daughters by her first union, Misses Helen W. Holt and Catherine C. Holt, and one son by her second husband, Lane Crothers; also by three sisters, Mrs. Helen Wille, of Cleveland, Ohio; Miss Henrietta Hague and Mrs. Anna Mitchell, of Elkton; and one brother, T. Mr. and Mrs. Howard A. De Groft visited relatives at York, Pa., during the week-end.

Miss Florence Walton, of Iron Hill, was the guest of Miss Alice Hawthorne on Monday evening.

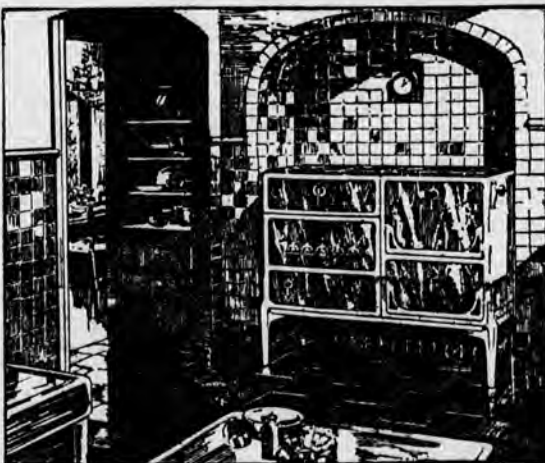

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Morrison, Jr., were Sunday visitors at the home of Mrs. Morrison's parents, Mr. and Mrs. George W. Davis, of Christiana. Mr. and Mrs. Cordery Slaughter, of Wilmington, were recently the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Howard A. De Groft.

Mr. Wilmer S. Hawthorne hopes to have the recreation hall, which he is building on the lot adjoining his store, completed in time for a Halloween celebration. This will, no doubt, be good news for the young people of the neighborhood.

HALLOWE'EN PARTY

Fairview Parent-Teacher Association is planning to hold a Halloween party at the home of T. Harold Little, on Tuesday evening, October 29, at eight o'clock. Everyone is requested to be masked.

OCTOBER 24, 1929

Our School Needs

The Newark Schools are again approaching a critical point where the registration almost equals the seating capacity of the buildings. It is quite possible that enrollment for the year 1930-1931 will exceed the seating capacity. In that case measures will have to be taken that will seriously reduce the instruction efficiency of the schools.

Last year the schools approached a point of overcrowding, and the old Main street school building was pressed into service as a makeshift. However, this was the last emergency space available, and another point of saturation will have to be met by a two session system or some other equally unfortunate means.

The obvious and best solution to the problem would be to complete the new building by adding the south wing. The local board of education has been petitioning the State Board of Education, consistently, for several years to have this building completed. It is hoped that within the next year the petition will be granted and the building will be completed.

Should this wing be added, the Newark Schools will be able not only to distribute classes to produce the highest efficiency of the instruction schedule, but will be able to add to the curricula courses that are lacking to make the school system entirely up to date. The modern educational system requires vocational courses in the manual arts and in business training. Newark, cramped for room in its plant, now lacks these courses.

The Newark Schools, located in the educational center of the State and acting as a laboratory for the training of the State school teachers, should be lacking in nothing to make the system a model one in every respect. The State Board of Education should certainly appreciate this, and take immediate steps to make it a fact.

Edison, Master of Light

At Dearborn, Mich., on the evening of October 21, a grateful people paid homage to the genius of a man who imprisoned a radiant glow within fragile glass half a century ago, and thus directed a darkened world along a magic pathway of light.

To celebrate the golden anniversary of Thomas Alva Edison's epoch-making invention, Henry Ford, for many years an intimate friend, prepared a fitting stage where the drama of the incandescent lamp was again enacted. The original laboratory at Menlo Park, birthplace of the electric lamp, was transferred by train to Dearborn, along with the earth on which the laboratory originally stood when Mr. Edison first demonstrated the practical value of his discovery.

Mr. Edison himself traveled to Dearborn to show the multitude how an idea finally burst into fulfillment fifty years ago. Banners of golden light thrown from a network of electric towers floated upon the lanes of the sky, while distinguished citizens representing several nations mingled their voices in a chorus of praise, their words caught up by microphones and sent hurrying into hundreds of thousands of waiting homes. It was Mr. Edison's gala night, the golden climax to a career devoted without reserve to the happiness and well-being of his fellow-man.

Perhaps no more appropriate word may be spoken of Thomas Alva Edison at this time than that penned by his biographer, Arthur J. Palmer:

He has led no armies into battle—he has conquered no countries—he has enslaved no people—yet he wields a power the magnitude of which no warrior ever dreamed. He commands a devotion more sweeping in scope, more world-wide than any other living man—a devotion rooted deep in human gratitude, and untinged by bias of race, color, religion or politics.

To this tribute the thousands who have benefited by Mr. Edison's invention of the incandescent lamp will gladly give their indorsement.—Christian Science Monitor.

Thoreau's "Cape Cod"

For some readers of Thoreau, Cape Cod appears to be his most satisfactory book. Walden, to one side for the moment. Within certain definite limits it seems one of the best to me also; for, by virtue of the theme, it conveys most vibrantly the sense of wonder underlying all Thoreau's works. When he was sailing the Concord and Merrimack Rivers, and when he was penetrating the wilds of northeastern Maine, he was in the midst of country not unlike that of Concord. On those excursions he was dealing in trees, flowers, birds, ponds, and hills; only the proportions and the details differed. At Cape Cod, however, he encountered the sea, a land dominated by the surging ocean, strange to a landman, who, as he said, "having come so fresh to the sea, I have got but little salted." Looking back to his tight little world of Concord, he continues, not without pride: "My readers must expect only so much saltiness as the land breeze acquires from blowing over an arm of the sea, or is tasted on the windows and the bark of trees twenty miles inland, after the September gales."

Let us reflect for a moment upon the approach to Cape Cod of a man like Thoreau. For several months he had lived on Staten Island, a New York suburb, as the tutor to Judge Emerson's children; otherwise his experience of the sea had been thoroughly casual, as an arrogantly inland man comes to observe it. . . . During his three excursions to Cape Cod, however, totalling in all about three weeks, he discovered the ocean and the shore, with its natives, its commerce, its natural history, a fresh phenomenon, serving another master entirely—the ocean. He had not expected that much difference. As Cape Cod records his excursions, his emotions were, at first, amusement and contempt, patronizing and inquisitive. Why do these brine-drenched men of the sea build their houses like New England farm buildings! How ridiculous their attempts at agriculture! How scrawny and pinched their woodlands! In the space of three weeks Thoreau could scarcely readjust his perspective to match theirs exactly; here, at least, was a landscape in which he did not blend. Under the circumstances his curiosity, which was the mainspring of his existence, ran rampant until every moment was spent in observation; and he humbly apologized to his readers for not having tasted the water of one brook that he crossed and for not being able to report, as a careful writer should, whether it was sweet or salt. With his usual passion for performing every task thoroughly, if only to satisfy himself, he went to all the sources on Cape Cod, publications of the historical society, agricultural reports, old gazetteers, the chronicles of early explorers; and armed with this ammunition, some of which at least he carried himself, he walked through the townships, knowing more of their history and natural produce than the natives. . . .

He described the inhabitants, with their dominant traits, the customs, the details of the fisheries, the cut of the surf, the problems of the light-house keeper, the action of the sand, the habits of the clam, the profits of clamming, the full flavor of the old "petticoat rule," the gruesome romance of the wrecks, the mackerel fleet, oddities such as fill the back columns of country newspapers, the tides, the sea—it is all there in plain "homespun prose." Thoreau, traveling in a foreign clime, one hundred miles from Concord, sought to bring home all the really significant details of this unaccountable landscape so that all might understand it and taste the full savor of its salt. On the beach near Nauset he began to experience the inner meanings of this region: "There I had got the Cape under me, as much as if I were riding it barebacked. It was not on the map or seen from the stagecoach; but there I found it all out of doors. . . . Cape Cod! as it cannot be represented on a map, color it as you will; the thing itself, than which there is nothing more like it, no truer picture or account; which you cannot go farther and see, I cannot remember what I thought before that it was."—From "Henry Thoreau," by J. Brooks Atkinson.

4-H JUDGING TEAM RETURNS

Delaware Team, Coached By George Worrlow, Made Good Showing At National Dairy Exposition, At St. Louis; Trip Financed By Contributions

Delaware 4-H Club work was again represented by a 4-H boys' dairy cattle judging team at the National Dairy Exposition, held for the first time in its new home in St. Louis, Missouri, from October 12 to 19. The following 4-H Dairy Cattle Judges made up the team—Robert Armstrong, Middletown, New Castle County; Harry Stapleton, St. Georges, New Castle County; John Keller, Milford, Kent County; and Norman Collins, Middletown, New Castle County, accompanied the team as alternates. The team was coached and accompanied to the Exposition by G. M. Worrlow, of the University of Delaware Agricultural Extension Service.

There were teams from twenty-seven states competing in the National 4-H Cattle Judging Contest, making a total of eighty-one individual contestants. The Delaware team placed among the upper half, which is a very good showing in an event of this size as this is the second year Delaware 4-H Clubs have been represented in this National Contest.

The contest is the largest of its kind in the country and these young dairymen have to be almost experts in cattle judging to gain a place on the team. Each individual contestant places a ring of aged cows and one of heifers of each of the four dairy breeds—Holsteins, Jerseys, Guernseys and Ayrshires, and four animals constitute a ring, thus making a total of eight rings placed.

The training of 4-H Club members in the right methods of dairying is going to have a very marked influence for the good of the dairy industry of the future in Delaware.

This trip to the National Dairy Exposition was financed by business men and dairymen in the State, who are interested in the dairy industry of the future and who wish to see 4-H Club work continue to grow in Delaware, and train the farm boys and girls of today in the fundamentals of good dairying.

The following individuals and firms contributed to the National Dairy Exposition expenses: Mr. W. C. Coyne, Wilmington; Mr. A. D. Warner, Wilmington; Dr. Louis Levinson, Middletown; Mr. C. P. Hearn, Blue Hen Farms, Newark; Mr. Hoagland Gates, Broadland Jerseys, Elkton, Md.; Mr. Paul Mitchell, Woodside Farms, Hockessin; Supplee-Wills-Jones Milk Company, Philadelphia, Pa.; Clover Dairy, Wilmington; Wilmington Dairy Supply Company, Wilmington; Sharpless-Hendler Ice Cream Company, Wilmington; Newark Lumber Company, Newark; Crothers Brothers, Mt. Pleasant; Hockessin Supply Company, Hockessin; Dennison Motor Company; Newark and Kent County Levy Court, Dover.

For the first time Delaware competed in the Essay Contest, open to 4-H Dairy Club Boys and Girls. This contest is sponsored by the Dairy and Ice Cream Machinery and Supplies Association of New York, and directed by the Advisory Committee of the 4-H Club Department of the National Dairy Exposition.

A minimum of twenty-five contestants in each state must submit essays written on the following subject: "What Happens to Milk in its Various Forms and Products between the Farm and the Consumer's Table?" The object of this contest is to direct the attention of farm boys and girls to the part played by the milk processing and milk products manufacturing establishments of the country in the maintenance and prosperity of the dairy industry.

The prize essay in Delaware was written by Edgar F. Isaac, Jr., of Greenwood, Sussex County, who was awarded a free trip to the National Dairy Exposition in St. Louis, including all expenses from his home to St. Louis and return. The winner of the Essay prize accompanied the Cattle Judging Team and stayed with them at the Exposition 4-H Club Camp.

ALUMNÆ MEETING

The Newark Chapter of the Alumnae Association of the Women's College will meet at the home of the president, Mrs. R. O. Bausman, 91 Park Place, on Monday evening, October 28, at 7.30 p. m.

Miss Junia White, of the Women's College faculty, who has spent most of her life in China, will tell some interesting things about that country.

There is a glare about worldly success which is very apt to dazzle men's eyes.—Hare.

To rejoice in the prosperity of another is to partake of it.—William Austin.

LOCAL SCHOOLS APPROACH PEAK OF CAPACITY

chairman. Decorations and programs for all parties will be in the spirit of Halloween, and the various committees of the General School Association are busily engaged in the preparations.

Gift To School

Dr. P. K. Musselman has presented the Newark Schools with several hundred microscopic slides, showing cross sections of animal tissue. These slides, which were made by Dr. Musselman during his pre-dental and dental college work, will be used by the classes in biology.

As the last Delaware General Assembly passed a law creating a legal holiday on November 11, Armistice Day, the schools will be closed on that date.

In order to check cases of chicken-pox, appearing among primary pupils in the Newark Schools, all children in families where a case exists are being kept from school. All school buildings will be thoroughly disinfected tonight.

TAX SUPERVISOR WINS ASSESSMENT PROTEST

The assessment of $3,744,000 on the Conowingo Dam, as levied by the County Commissioner of Cecil County, was upset last Friday when the State Tax Commission supported the protest of Murray J. Ewing, supervisor of assessments for Cecil County, Md.

The commission ordered an assessment of $8,234,929, which is more than double the original levy placed on the dam in 1928.

The increase on the dam and power plant in the assessment for Cecil County is the result of a long contest of two years' duration between the Susquehanna Power Company and County Commissioners on the one hand and Murray J. Ewing, the supervisor of assessment for the county, on the other.

The contest made by Mr. Ewing was in the interest of an equitable assessment on that concern in the interest of tax payers of the county. The County Commissioners were represented by A. D. Mackey, as defendants, with Murray J. Ewing as plaintiff. The decision of the commission increasing the Cecil assessment is the outcome of this hearing, thereby reversing the assessment and upholding the protest of the supervisor and the interest of Cecil taxpayers.

ATTEND OPENING OF OPERA

Mr. and Mrs. M. M. Daugherty, Miss Shelby Rice and Professor Carl Rees last night attended the opening of the Opera season in Philadelphia by the Philadelphia Opera Company.

The opening selection was "Carmen," with Chief Caupolican and Sophy Breslau in the leading roles. Chief Caupolican, a Chilean Indian, is a friend of Mr. and Mrs. Daugherty and has visited here. Two years ago he was persuaded to sing at the University College Hour. It is interesting to know that his home is in Northampton, Mass., where he is the next door neighbor of Mr. and Mrs. Calvin Coolidge.

BRIDGE CLUB MEETS

Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Rothrock, of 48 Delaware avenue, entertained the Sigma Nu Alumni Bridge Club, Thursday evening, October 17, from 9 until 12 p. m.

The members of the club other than the host and hostess are: Mr. and Mrs. J. Edward Murphy, Mr. and Mrs. Milton Draper, Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Collins, Mr. and Mrs. Perce Alexander, Mr. and Mrs. John H. Schaefer.

THOSE FANTASTIC IDEAS

When Fritz von Opel roared through the air for a mile and a quarter in the first flight ever made in a rocket-propelled airplane, he presented a picturesque contrast to another rocket which astonished Europe just one hundred years ago. The performance of the earlier day was that of the locomotive designed by George Stephenson. It was named the "Rocket" because of its ability to thunder along at the stupendous rate of twenty-six miles an hour.

It is doubtful if even the most sanguine observers of that time could have envisaged the developments which were to follow in the subsequent century. Stephenson's "Rocket" demonstrated a working speed three times greater than the experts had estimated was possible. It laid the foundation for satisfactory railroad operation in England. Today it is a prized museum possession and a reproduction of it has just been made for Henry Ford's industrial collection.

How difficult it must be, then, to properly assess von Opel's flight. It is a performance which seems at present to be both hazardous and impractical. But it presents a method of propulsion that undoubtedly is capable of important refinements.

Some of the experimenters in this field seriously discuss the possibilities of using rockets to shoot mail across the Atlantic in thirty minutes. They already are well on the way to the development of a rocket fuel which eliminates the danger of fire. Radio may some day solve the problem of directing the rocket in flight, while parachutes can readily be designed to enable it to land properly. It may sound fantastic, but so was the thought of the Trans-Siberian Railroad or the transcontinental air mail service one hundred years ago.—Christian Science Monitor.

THE BOOK-A-YEAR CLUB

Our Constantinople correspondent reports a strange state of affairs in Turkey—it has been discovered that only one new book was published in that country during the past twelve months. Bearing in mind the prodigious figures, revealed to use at the close of every December by the Publishers' Circular, of new books annually issued in England, this solitary Turkish volume would seem almost incredible—until one remembers that Turkish authors may be still struggling to master the new Turkish alphabet. But if authorship languishes, the allied trades must be in no very flourishing condition.

What happens to reviewers in a year when there is only one work for them to praise or blame? One fears that the competition to secure this solitary volume must have been savage in the extreme. And how did the writers of literary gossip manage with only one active author on their lists? Or clerks in circulating libraries who had but one "success of the season" to recommend to their subscribers? It is perhaps consideration for these humble but necessary creatures that has induced the Turkish Government to institute a new sort of "press" gang or system of enforced authorship; literary men, it is reported, are being commissioned to write books or, failing that, to translate "leading foreign works." It is an extraordinary situation and most unlike anything in the recent experience of other countries, which are far more likely to complain, as did the Duke of Wellington on one occasion, that they are "much exposed to authors."—Manchester (Eng.) Guardian.

WORLD'S QUITE ALL RIGHT

The establishment in this city of a branch of the National Plant, Flower and Fruit Guild meets a benevolent need that has long been manifest. . . .

The mission of collecting plants, flowers and fruits and of carrying them to where fruits, flowers and plants are really needed, where there is always a dearth of them, is exceedingly worth while. Let the cynics say that the world is wobbling, if they please. The truth is that there never was a time when people who have, took more thought of people who haven't than they do now. And, of course, this means that the world is quite all right.

To love one's neighbor as oneself isn't really so difficult—to all practical purposes, at least.—Portland Oregonian.

D. A. A. ERECTS 200 SIGNS

With the erection of hospital signs, the Delaware Automobile Association, Eleventh and West streets, A. M. A., has completed a program of sign-erecting that has embraced the entire state in its scope.

Under the supervision of Ralph T. Kenton, Manager of the Road and Patrol, and upon the suggestion of interested motorists of the State and members of the Association, the Delaware Automobile Association has placed more than 200 signs in position since the first of the year. Of this number 32 are school signs admonishing motorists to "Go Slow" and 44 are hospital signs cautioning the public to make no noise.

In co-operation with Director of Public Safety, of Wilmington, George Black, the Delaware Automobile Association has recently utilized the blinkers for directing motorists. These blinkers, which are placed in important positions throughout the city, have been found to be a valuable aid in directing out-of-town traffic. An innovation that has been approved by the Civic Association is the directing of visiting motorists to the business district of Wilmington by the use of the blinker at Sixteenth and Market streets.

Lodge Notes

K. OF P.

Oseola Lodge, No. 5, Knights of Pythias, at a regular meeting on Monday evening decided to make a visitation to Diamond Lodge of Marshallton, on Friday evening, October 25. All members are requested to be at the lodge room no later than 7.30, and it is the wish of the lodge that as many as possible attend.

At the Grand Lodge session held in Wilmington last Thursday, Oseola Lodge was honored by having one of its members, A. T. Abernathy, of Cherry Hill, Md., elected to the office of Grand Inner Guard.

J. R. O. U. A. M.

The stay at home members of the American Flag Council, No. 28, Jr. O. U. A. M., were denied a royal night on Monday; Councilor John E. Lewis always has a witty way of presiding and wielding the gavel. Brother Durnall, who is quite ill in the Medico-Chi Hospital, Philadelphia, is showing improvement. Brother Frank Mote gave the first talk in a series on Punctuality and Loyalty. These talks are very inspiring and interesting to all the members. It is hoped for a large turnout to hear the second address.

Teams are being organized for winter indoor sports. Frances Hall, chairman of quoit team; Amos Norton, chairman, checker team; Raymond McMullen, chairman yard tables. These teams will be ready for challenges soon.

Brothers Amos Norton and Joseph Brown told of their trip through the West, visiting the Junior Home at Tiffin, Ohio, and also going through Canada.

State Councilor Henry Mole announced two official visits to be made, to Diamond Council on November 4, and to Industry Council of New Castle, on November 26. He has also accepted an invitation to Rossmore, Md., on November 7. It is hoped that a large number will take these trips with Brother Mote.

State Treasurer Hoffecker was present and gave a short talk, after which he presented cigars to all those present.

Let us give Brother Frank Mote a glad hand next week by a large attendance.—A. Neal Smythe, Chairman Publicity Committee.

Newark Eleven Shows Great Improvement, Scores Easy Victory; Mayer and Sommermeyer Star

The Newark High School football team, which so far in the season had shown more power than precision, suddenly co-ordinated itself, Friday, and ran roughshod over du Pont High School to the tune of 26 to 0.

Newark's four touchdowns were made by Mayer and Sommermeyer, each accounting for two. Mayer scored one extra point, and the other was scored by a forward pass, Mayer to Sommermeyer. Sommermeyer's two touchdowns were made when this speedy end caught forward passes from Captain Mayer and sprinted over the line with them. Mayer scored his touchdowns on plunges.

Newark's defense held like a rock wall, and du Pont was never allowed a chance to penetrate dangerous territory. On the offense, the Newark forwards and backs worked together in tearing holes in the opposing line for large gains. Newark's backfield finally found itself and clicked off its plays without a hitch. The play of Captain Mayer at fullback, and Sommermeyer at end, stood out.

Lineup:
Newark du Pont
Rittenhouse L.E. Milstead
Wallis L.T. Medill
Zammy L.G. Goodwin
Ford C. Geary
Webb R.G. Chickadee
Coverdale R.T. Ball
Widdoes R.E. Frederick
Smith Q.B. Smith
Dean L.H.B. Walbel
McCully R.H.B. Ruggerio
Mayer F.B. Fish

Substitutions — Newark: Sommermeyer, McDonnell, Furratt, Barrow, Schwartz, Gallagher, Willis, Johnson, Jackson; du Pont: McKinley, Larkin, Toulson, Jones, Torrell, Weatherlow, Touchdowns—Sommermeyer, 2; Mayer, 2. Points after touchdown—Mayer (drop kick), Mayer to Sommermeyer (forward pass), Referee—Huntingdon, Umpire—Loomis. Head Linesman—Bradshaw.

J. V. LOSE TO SALESIANUM

Failure to make an extra point after touchdown cost the University of Delaware Junior Varsity football team a game played against the Salesianum High School, in Wilmington, last Friday. Delaware lost 6 to 7. Both scores were the results of sensational runs. Haney ran 50 yards for Salesianum's touchdown, and Steel carried the ball from Delaware's 5-yard line to Salesianum's 3-yard line in the play just preceding Delaware's score. Orth took the ball over for the Jay Vees.

NEWARK WINS SOCCER GAME

Newark Junior High School defeated Mt. Pleasant Juniors, yesterday, 1 to 0, in a soccer game.

Newark's line-up was Jordan, Deers, Perry, Knauss, Doordan, Mayer, Love, George, Smith, Daley, Milliken, Leverage and Hoffman.

DELAWARE LOSES TO SUSQUEHANNA

Drops Game 6 to 0; Team Appeared Lost Without Taylor; Blue And Gold Made Its Only Bid In Last Quarter

Lost and bewildered without the leadership of its brilliant captain, "Ace" Taylor, the University of Delaware football team went down in a slovenly 6 to 0 defeat before Susquehanna, on Frazer Field, Saturday afternoon. Taylor was in uniform and on the bench as a threatening gesture to Susquehanna, but injuries received in the Ursinus game had not healed sufficiently for it to be safe for him to go into the game.

Susquehanna made its score in the second quarter on a pass from Wall to Malasky. The ball was on Delaware's 30-yard line and the play took Delaware by surprise. The kick for extra point went wide of the standards.

Susquehanna had Delaware on the defensive for the first three quarters, and did not allow the Blue and Gold a first down until the last quarter. In the last period, with Loveland and Hopkins carrying the ball, Delaware started a bid for a score, and carried the ball close to the enemy goal. A fumble, however, killed the chance, and Susquehanna worked out of danger.

While Susquehanna outplayed Delaware for the first three periods, its surprise touchdown was the only serious bid it made for a score. Wormley and Moser made consistent gains through the Delaware line, and the Susquehanna aerial tactics had the Blue and Gold guessing, but none of these was sustained long enough to be productive.

Coch Ziegler started "Butch" Riley as fullback in an attempt to add strength to Delaware offensive, but Riley was shifted back to the line, and Craig went into the backfield. In the absence of Taylor, Sloan did the punting for Delaware, and made a good job of it.

"Biff" Hopkins, former Newark High School athlete, was the only Delaware back who was able to dent the Susquehanna defense. He played a great game both offensively and defensively. Besides smashing the Susquehanna line for sizeable gains, Hopkins figured many of the enemy plays and was through to stop them before they were well under way. He gave Delaware its chance to start its last quarter drive when he intercepted a pass, which gave Delaware the ball in Susquehanna territory. Walker's work at guard was the other outstanding Delaware performance of the day.

In the third quarter, Caleb Boggs, Delaware center, was seriously injured when he tackled a Susquehanna back. Up to that time Boggs had played an excellent game. Susquehanna eleven played rather robust football, using their knees and elbows whenever an opportunity offered itself.

Line-up:
Delaware Susquehanna
Hill L.E. Wolf
Henning L.T. Miller
H. Walker L.G. Auchmutty
Boggs C. Garman
Mudron R.G. R. Garman

SCORES VIEW WOMEN'S PRISON ON INSPECTION

Many persons last Thursday inspected the new Women's Prison of the New Castle County Workhouse, Greenbank, and expressed their approval of the new building.

Visitors were greeted by Warden Elmer J. Leach, Mrs. Leach, who will be in charge of the new unit, and members of the board of trustees. Judge J. Frank Ball, president of the board of trustees, made a short address.

The new building is located a short distance from the main structure. The first floor has an office, supervisor's room and bath, first assistant's room and bath, women's dining room, officer's dining room, kitchen and pantry. On the second floor is a long dormitory which will accommodate about eight persons, four rooms each to have three beds. There are also 10 double cells. Most of the activities will be carried on in the third floor where there is a work room, a store-room for materials, a hospital and dispensary, a recreation room and four bedrooms, each to accommodate three persons.

At the present time there are 41 women prisoners at the workhouse, and it was said there are a number serving long terms. Miss Eleanor Tharp will be the supervisor of the women's prison and Mrs. Moore will be one of the assistants.

Workmen have completed a court in the rear of the building. Part of this will be used for gardening and grass seed will be planted in the remainder.

The new unit is of brick as is the main prison building, and faces the Greenbank road. The women inmates have for some time been quartered in one portion of the workhouse building and the men and women, averaging 525, were crowded into accommodations designed for only 480. Single rooms have been used for two and some of the corridors had cots in them. With the removal of the women into their separate building, congestion will be greatly relieved in the main building.

The new building was erected by James H. Hutchison, Newark contractor.

ORDER 50,000 FOLDERS
WITHOUT ASKING PRICE

Without asking for a bid, a local concern ordered 50,000 folders from William E. Taylor, Inc., printer, at Twelfth and Orange streets, Wilmington, last week. The reputation that this printing firm had earned with this customer resulted in this large contract. At the same time, a smaller order for 500 billheads was also received without any price being asked. While many small orders may be placed without asking a price, the placing of a contract for 50,000 impressions, without any quotation or competitive bidding, is rather unusual.

In addition to these awards, Mr. Taylor received the order to print 400 salesmen's trade reports for a Wilmington company. The plant is operating at capacity and the amount of business is so great that employees are working overtime.

KENYON'S CANDIES IN SCHOOLS, FACTORIES

Since the opening of school, the sale of candies by Harry Kenyon, wholesale confectioner and tobacconist of 203 Market street, Wilmington, has shown a steady increase. Particularly has this been noticeable in stores near to schools and in several of the school cafeterias. Besides supplying confections to schools, Kenyon's send candy to a number of industrial plants.

SHIPYARD SCHOOLING

As said, from the time that young Nat was able to navigate the sea of chips he went to his father's yard to play; and so he began to absorb a knowledge of hulls and spars before he went to school to learn his letters. He stood by while the workmen stretched the keels of the blocks and erected the ribs; and he listened to what they said about the models of the hulls thus begun. He looked on with unflinching interest while other workmen, with endless chipping, shaped long logs of various diameters into masts and yards and booms and gaffs, discussing, the while, the merits of the sticks they worked upon and the general dimensions of spars when compared with the sizes and shapes of the hulls for which they were designed. He learned what was meant when they said a vessel was over-spurred before he learned to work the rule of three.

His admiration was excited early by the men who could rest one end of a slender stick on a rock and then with a keen-edged ax slice shaving after shaving down to within an inch of that rock until he made of the stick a treenail, that was either round or eight-square, and of the exact diameter to drive into its destined augur hole—all this without ever a slip that would endanger the edge of the ax. And then there was the man who could swing in an ax overhead blow and split a chalk line three times in succession. Young Nat dreamed of the day when he, too, should be able to do that as well as any one.

The shipbuilders of that day—the carpenters, the spar makers, the riggers, and so on—were proud of their skill. There was a friendly rivalry between them in the year, each striving to outdo the others, not through any craven fear of the "old man," as the owner was called, but for the love of the distinguished consideration which skill brought to men who excelled. So the shipyard was more than a playground for the towle-headed youngster; it was a good school of the kindergarten variety.

When a vessel was launched, and the people of the borough and the country round about came to cheer her on her way, young Nat was one of the privileged few who mounted the deck to ride down the ways, the click of the mauls as the iron wedges were driven into the keel-blocks; the settling of the hull on the cradle as the blocks dropped to pieces; the final blow that released the trigger and let the hull slide down the ways, all thrilled the boy more than the men and women who cheered the event most cordially.

Most important in the education of young Nat were these shipyard experiences; for they . . . cultivated the bent . . . which led him to design the ships of the Dramatic Line of Liverpool packets and the stately clipper Howqua, Samuel Russell, Oriental, and others which were most efficient and most famous in the China trade. —From "Captain Nathaniel Brown Palmer," An Old-Time Sailor of the Sea, by John R. Spears.

It shows a weak mind not to bear prosperity as well as adversity with moderation.—Cicero.

They who lie soft and warm in a rich estate seldom come to heat themselves at the altar.—South.

The body goes to work a lot more readily than the mind.—Imperial.

Paul Weir, Charles Wilson and Dr. Hurdle was appointed to arrange for the dedication of the new school when opened. Thirty-nine members were enrolled on Thursday evening. Let us make our goal one hundred per cent membership before January 1. It is our privilege this year to participate in one of the most progressive educational programs in the United States. Let every member be present every month in order to derive all the benefits from this rich program.

The Stanton Community Association, at its regular monthly meeting on Friday evening, decided that as the community problems at the present time are of interest principally to the residents of the town, it is best to merge with the newly formed C. A.

The Community Association decided to continue the curb to the end of the town. They also discussed fire protection for Stanton and a committee is looking into the advisability of having Calf Run. They will get in touch with the County Engineer in an effort to secure permission to take the dip. It was decided to place eight fire hydrants these will be placed in the most needed parts, then on the road near the new school, two towards the depot and one in front of the M. L. Church, also two down Mill Lane. The Association donated the sum of $5.00 to the newly organized P. T. A. The meeting night was changed from the third Friday night in the month to the second Friday night. The next meeting will be on Friday evening, November 2.

The St. James Branch of the G. F. A. held their regular weekly meeting on Wednesday evening, at the home of the Branch President, Mrs. J. P. Dickey. Plans are being made to hold the admission services for the class of probationers in December, when the branch will celebrate the month anniversary of the organization. Miss Isabella Wagner will represent the branch at the Provincial conference to be held in Pittsburgh, November 14 and 15.

The Young People's Fellowship held their regular Sunday evening meeting at the Meeting House at Stanton at 8 o'clock. Much interest is being taken in these meetings. Announcement was made of the meeting to be held in Trinity Parish House on Thursday evening at which time the Rev. H. Percy Silver, S. T. D., of New York, will address the Young People. Several of the members have signified their intention of attending this meeting.

The Parish Aid of St. James P. E. Church is working diligently on its plans for the annual chicken patty supper, which will be held in the Masonic Hall, Newport, on November 14.

The members of Diamond State Grange, No. 2, will unite with the members of the other Granges in New Castle County and attend the service at Hanover Presbyterian Church on Sunday evening, November 27, at the invitation of the Worthy State Master Robert P. Robinson and the Pastor of the church, the Rev. Charles D. Bohner.

Mrs. Vernon Lynam was the week-end guest of her mother, Mrs. Appleby, in Christianiana.

Benj. L. Dickey, Sr. of Wilmington, was the guest of his brother, Charles P. Dickey, on Wednesday.

Misses Lora H. Little and Mary Ellen Frederick attended the funeral service of Mrs. Mahlon Lee last Tuesday evening.

Mrs. Robert Goodier and son, of Vineland, N. J., were the week-end guests of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Thos. Jeffers.

Mermaid

Harmony Grange

The variety sale held on Monday evening at Harmony Grange, was a successful affair, members having responded with a quantity of vegetables, fruit, needlework, and candy. A pair of live ducks donated, afforded much merriment to the evening. The proceeds, $33.11, will be used for the heater fund.

The yearly meeting of the Hockessin Branch of the Needlework Guild will be held in Harmony Grange Hall, at the Mermaid, Saturday, October 26. The directors' meeting when the business will be transacted and the annual officers elected, will be held at 10 o'clock. Those attending will bring their lunch and enjoy a social time, until 2 o'clock. At this time garments will be on inspection. At 2 o'clock Miss Clarabelle Winchester, representing the Deaconess Home of Wilmington, will be the speaker. Guests from Newark, Wilmington and Toughkenamon will be present.

A Halloween party is being planned for next Monday evening. Miss Madeline Johnston will be in charge.

The North Star Parent-Teacher Association held their Halloween party on Tuesday evening. Little Dorothy Colmery won the first prize for best dressed. Norman Hichens won first prize for funniest costume. Halloween games were enjoyed and Miss Emilie Mitchell gave some of the high spots of her trip abroad.

During the business meeting the following delegates were elected to the last conference for the State P. T. Association: Miss Adeline Richards, Mrs. Frank Haggerty, and Miss Clara Richards. Plans were made for a bake to be held November 2, at Gehhart's store, Hockessin, the proceeds to be used to buy school supplies.

An entertainment will be held in the Sunday School room of Red Clay Creek Presbyterian Church tomorrow evening under the auspices of the Christian Endeavor Society. A feature will be a one-act play, "Mother Pull the Strings," with the following cast: Miss Amy Hicks, Mrs. Charles Woodward, Mrs. Marvin Shakespeare, Henry Gass, Carl Roehm, and Marvin Shakespeare.

Miss Lora Little will be hostess to the Mite Society of the Ebenezer M. E. Church tomorrow evening at her home in Stanton.

STANTON P. T. A.

The Parent-Teacher Association of Stanton Consolidated School District No. 38 was organized October 17, 1929, with the following officers:

President, Dr. H. D. Hurdle; vice-president, Mrs. H. V. Lynam; secretary, Mrs. Ada B. Helmbeck; treasurer, Mr. W. Paul Weir; chairman of membership, Mrs. Franklin Cooper; chairman of program, Mrs. Mary B. Seasholtz; chairman of recreation, Miss Lora Little; chairman of hospitality, Mrs. Charles Wilson; chairman of publicity, Mrs. Ada B. Helmbeck. Mrs. Charles P. Dickey, Mr. Paul Weir and Mr. Charles Wilson were selected to arrange for the dedication of the new school, November 1st. The organization hopes to carry out all state programs. The Community Association of Stanton donated twenty-five dollars to the new association and an equal sum was promised by an interested member. Equipment for the playground and the primary room will be purchased soon.

Regular meetings will be held the third Thursday evening of each month. Dues are twenty-five cents. Thirty-nine are already on the roll. The membership committee has set its goal at 100 per cent before January 1st.

IN MEMORIAM

In loving remembrance of my dear sister, Mary L. Jemison, who departed this life October 2, 1929.

Today recalls sad memories
Of a loved one who has rest,
And those who think of her today
Are the ones who loved her best.

Gone is the face I loved so dear
Silent is the voice I loved to hear.
Too far away for sight and speech
But not too far for thoughts to reach.

Sadly missed by her sister,
Mrs. Margaret Scarborough,
Elkton, Md., R. D. 5.

In loving and sad memory of my dear daughter, Jessie E. Conner, who died October 21, 1922.

I often wander to the graveyard,
Flowers to plant with tender care
On the grave of my dear Jessie
Who is sweetly resting there.

Sadly missed by Mother.

In loving memory of our dear Mother, Rebecca Gregg, who died October 15, 1926.

Oh Mother dear, how we miss you,
Thy hands are clasped upon your breast.

In our aching hearts we know
That we have no mother now.
We watched you day by day,
Until at last, with broken hearts,
We saw you pass away.

Sadly missed by Son and Daughters.

In loving memory of our dear Daughter, Helen Pearl Lloyd, who died October 20, 1918.

Dearest Daughter how we miss you,
In the years that just rolled by,
Since you left us sad and lonely
For your home up in the sky,
Though you're gone, you're not forgotten,
But we hope some day to meet you,
Where we never say good-bye,
Sadly missed by Father, Mother,
Sister and Brother.

PHI KAPPA TAU DEDICATES HOME

Appropriate Exercises Formally Open New House of Local Chapter, Which Is Former Residence of Late Everett C. Johnson; Speakers Pay Tribute To Johnson's Memory

Last Saturday afternoon, the Alpha Gamma Chapter of Phi Kappa Tau fraternity held the dedication exercises which formally opened its new home on Park Place. The fraternity's new house is the residence of the late Everett C. Johnson, and was sold to the fraternity by Mrs. Johnson in the spring. The dedication exercises were followed by a tea, and later in the evening there was dancing.

At a private meeting, just preceding the dedication exercises, Everett Johnson was elected a member of the fraternity, posthumously, and Mrs. Johnson was presented with a jeweled pin. Judge Hugh Morris, of Wilmington, who had been elected an honorary member of the fraternity, was inducted into the chapter.

The dedication exercises were opened with an invocation by Dr. R. B. Mathews. David Andrews, president of the chapter, presided. Dr. George H. Ryden, of the history department of the University, who is a member of the fraternity, made the introductory address and sketched the history of the fraternity and of the local chapter. He spoke of Everett Johnson and his part in the history of the University of Delaware.

Dean George E. Dutton, representing the University, congratulated the chapter on acquiring such a fine home and brought out the fact that the Phi Kappa Tau fraternity had again won first place in scholastic standing in the University. Dean Dutton referred to the work of Everett Johnson in behalf of the University and held him up as an example of a loyal graduate that might well be emulated.

Dr. I. M. Wright, head of the department of Education, Muhlenberg College, and national president of the Phi Kappa Tau fraternity, then dedicated the house and grounds with appropriate remarks. He spoke of the event as auguring well for the future of the fraternity. Dr. Wright made reference to the builder of the house and of his spirit.

The concluding address was made by Judge Hugh Morris, who represented the Alumni Association. Judge Morris felicitated the chapter on acquiring its new home and then told a number of anecdotes about Everett Johnson, with whom he had had a close relationship during Mr. Johnson's life.

Dr. Mathews closed the exercises with a benediction.

The memory of Everett Johnson was given particular tribute throughout the exercises, and before the house was prepared for the event, members of the chapter had asked Mrs. Johnson for a photograph of Mr. Johnson which they might have for the house. She gave them one.

Following the dedication tea was served. Mrs. T. F. Manns and Mrs. C. A. McCue acted as hostesses. They were assisted by Misses Martha Waldon, Elizabeth Worral, Mildred Hite, Dorothy Rogers, and Mabel Culver.

In the evening the fraternity entertained at a house party. Patrons and patronesses were: Dr. and Mrs. T. F. Manns, Mrs. C. A. McCue, Dr. G. Ryden, Mrs. E. C. Johnson, Miss King and Miss Lincoln. A number of the Alpha Iota Chapter from the University of Pennsylvania attended the affair. Alumni returning for the exercises were Ed. Merredith and Paul Hodgson, of New York; Earl Merredith, Wilkes-Barre, Pa.; Richard Hodgson, Newark, N. J.; Roger Cann, Kenneth Given, Harold Clift, Clarence Evans, Franklin VanSant, Harry Kennedy, Alfred Johnson, George Bringham, Marlton, N. J.; Martin Doordam, Bridgeville, Preston Timmons, Selbyville.

LIONS MEET

The regular weekly dinner meeting of the Newark Lions Club was held at the Blue Hen Tea Room, on Tuesday evening. About 25 attended. Ralph Hancy and George Danby were taken into the organization during the meeting. On the same evening four of the Newark club members attended Charter Night of the North Baltimore Chapter of Lions. They were: Warren Singler, Ira S. Brinser, George Phipps and D. A. McClintock.

INSTALL OFFICERS AND ENTERTAIN

A. O. U. W. Has Big Night; Plans For Children's Branch Progressing

On Tuesday evening Anchor Lodge, No. 4, Ancient Order of United Workmen, held the semi-annual installation ceremonies, when the following officers took up their new duties: Past Master Workman, Edith Jackson, Master Workman, Elizabeth Lindell; Foreman, Alice L. Fell, Overseer, Lewis Fell, Guide George Gravenor; Inside Watch, Walter Campbell; Outside Watch, Mrs. David Cronhardt; Recorder and Financier, Robert J. Crow; Treasurer, Mrs. Mary J. Devonshire.

The installation ceremony was in charge of Grand Organizer Joseph T. Smith, and the Staff of the Grand Master Workman, which included the following Grand Officers: E. C. Clark, Elwood F. Melson, Wm. McCracken, Wm. Carrow, H. S. Lawton, A. Nicholson. Past Grand Master Howard F. McCall, who was detained on business, arrived later, and made a short address, as did all of the Grand Officers and a few others.

The feature of the entertainment was a sketch, "Breakfast for Two," with the parts being taken by Miss Elizabeth Lindell and Miss Ruth Benedict. Other numbers on the program included a recitation by Miss Edith Jackson; piano, ukelele and vocal duet, Misses Charlotte Jackson and Vera Melson; solo, "Somewhere A Voice Is Calling," Wesley Dempsey; solo, Mr. Elwood Melson; solo, "I'm Just a Vagabond Lover," Lewis Fell; piano solo, Miss Vera Melson. All the entertainers had to respond to encores. Miss Alice L. Fell was the accompanist.

The evening's entertainment was ended with refreshments, followed by dancing and singing by an impromptu male quartet.

Grand Organizer Smith and others, spoke especially of the Children's Branch of the A. O. U. W. which is now being formed in this State. Past Master Marguerite Balling will probably take charge of the juveniles in Newark.

200 AT WELSH TRACT CHURCH ANNUAL MEETING

Over 200 persons gathered, Sunday, for the annual meeting of the Welsh Tract Baptist Church. Many states were represented in the gathering, including Delaware, Maryland, Pennsylvania, Virginia, North Carolina, Florida, New York, New Jersey and the District of Columbia.

Elder Horace Lefferts, of Lynchburg, Virginia, the pastor of the church, was Moderator. Visiting pastors were: Elder L. H. Hardy, of Atlantic, N. C.; Elder S. S. Prickett, of Balatka, Fla.; and Elder J. E. Harden, of Danville, Va.

This meeting has been held annually since the church was founded. This year it acted as a rest for the ministers, the Virginia Corresponding meeting, and the Salisbury meeting, this week.
