LOCAL AID NEEDED FOR FINNISH RELIEF

Mayor Collins Heads Newark Committee To Raise Funds

Newark will cooperate in the annual drive to raise funds for relief of war-torn Finland.

Mayor Collins last night announced that he had been appointed chairman of the Newark committee which also includes J. P. Wright and Dr. J. H. Wright.

Actual plans have been made for local participation in the campaign according to Mayor Collins.

The committee will meet this week to plan for the raising of funds to meet Newark's quota.

Working in cooperation with the state and national committees, as well as local THE NEWARK POST, the committee will receive contributions to the Finnish Relief fund.

Contributions may be mailed through the newspaper. All contributions received will be turned over to John B. Jessup, treasurer of the state committee.

Contributions made to this fund will be used to alleviate sufferings of citizens of Finland which is a small but mighty nation.

Mr. Crane, chairman of the Newark committee, wishes to see that funds donated to the fund will not in any way come with the work being done by the Red Cross.

The Finnish Relief Fund, Inc., is a national organization headed by Mrs. Hoover and is devoted to relieving the distress of civilian populations caused by a shortage of food, clothing and transportation.

It is the duty of the Newark committee to see that the funds donated to the fund will not in any way come with the work being done by the Red Cross.

According to Mr. Crane, Newark's quota is placed at $50,000, of which a goodly share has already been raised.

Millions of Finland are badly in need of the forced movement of thousands of non-combatants, women and children, under conditions of acute cold which create a tremendous relief problem.

Persons are responding to this help because of our sympathy for this truly democratic nation and their appreciation of the patriotic efforts they have taken in the face of overwhelming odds.

Roger Attick Heads New Chatham Supply Company

Local Resident Takes Over 55- Year-Old Concern

Roger E. Attick, president and general manager of the Attick Supply Company, has announced the acquisition of the James L. Pennock Company, at Chatham, Pa., effective January 1.

Negotiations were completed on New Year's Day and the Attick Supply Company began operations from that time. The personnel of the former firm, consisting of four employees, will be retained, Mr. Attick said.

A resident of Newark for the past sixteen years, Mr. Attick is well known in the lumber, coal and building supply business. Beginning his career in 1921, he served as a field inspector at the National Vulcanized Fibre Company going there to the old Delaware Lumber where he was employed as advertising salesman for four years.

Entering the fuel and supply business, Mr. Attick became associated with the local branch of E. J. Hollingsworth Company and was connected with them for nearly four years when he transferred his services to the Hockessin Supply Company, in the same line of business, where he served for more than eight years as a salesman.

The newly acquired Attick Supply Company was formerly known and operated as the James L. Pennock Co., in the same location and under the same name for fifty-five years. The firm gained an enviable reputation for fair dealing and honest merchandising which will be maintained by Mr. Attick and his associates.

The varied experience gleaned by Mr. Attick through virtue of his past years of service with Hollingsworth and Hockessin Supply companies ideally fits him to head the new enterprise. His many friends throughout the state and environs foresee success of the Attick Supply Company and predict a brilliant future for the former Newark head of the enterprise.

Mr. Attick is married and has one son, Roger H. He will move his family to Chatham on Friday leaving Roger H. (more familiarly known as Bud) in Newark to complete the present term of school. Bud is a senior and expects to graduate this June.

FIREMEN TO MEET
New Castle County Volunteer Firemen's Association will hold their regular monthly meeting at the Aetna Hose, Hook and Ladder Company headquarters here Thursday night, Jan. 11.

Department Of Elections To Arrange Voting Districts

In accordance with the authority vested in it by the last session of the Legislature, the New Castle County Department of Elections will begin the task of reorganizing, merging, or adding voting districts throughout the county.

A detailed map outlining all the voting districts so that the members of the department will be able to rearrange districts wherever required so as to give all voters the opportunity to cast their ballots conveniently is being prepared by Thomas E. Peeney, secretary.

It is indicated a number of changes will be necessary in the rural county and probably some in Wilmington. There are 44 voting districts in the rural area.

Personal visits will be made by members of the department to acquaint themselves with the needs in any sections where changes appear to be called for.

Mr. Peeney announced that the department intends so far as possible to use natural boundaries, such as public roads or streams, in outlining the districts, instead of property lines and markers as appearing in surveys and deeds.

In this way, there will be no likelihood of any boundary line passing through any individual home, especially where lands marked off many years ago have been cut into developments and new houses constructed. The plan is to make it possible for any voter or election officer to recognize without confusion in which districts he resides without having to resort to maps and deeds in the recorder of deeds office.

COUNCIL VOTES $750 PAYMENT TO FIREMEN

New Aeration Equipment Is Expected This Month

Mayor Frank Collins presided over the regular monthly meeting of the Town Council held at the council office Tuesday evening with Councilmen C. C. Hubert, C. Emerson Johnson, George Ferguson and George Ramsey present.

Payment of the second installment of the $1,500 appropriation to the Aetna Hose, Hook and Ladder Company this year was authorized. The payments being made semi-annually in the amount of $750 each represent a $1,000 increase over last year's appropriation.

Mayor Collins designated Wednesday and Thursday, January 17 and 18 as clean-up days. Chief of Police William H. Cunningham submitted a report on police activities for the past year which showed 193 arrests made.

Town Treasurer Vernon Steele reported a balance on hand Dec. 1, of $7,295.73, with receipts for the month of $12,829.98, and disbursements of $11,066.72, leaving a balance on hand as of Jan. 1, of $8,249.99.

Engineer George C. Price reported that the sewer trench on Amstel Avenue was repaved during the month. An order for two aerators has been placed with the International Filter Company and the necessary pipe changes for the installation of these aerators has been made. The new equipment is expected to be received and placed in operation within the next few days.

Water consumption for the month increased 6 per cent over the corresponding period for 1939. The consumption for the month was 12,322,000 gallons, or a daily average of 413,433 gallons.

Chief of Police William H. Cunningham reported his department made six arrests during the month. Two prisoners were committed to the County Workhouse in default of fines totaling $200. Six accidents were investigated and two bicycles reported stolen were recovered. Eighty police calls were received and over-night lodging was provided for 37 transients in the town jail.

SCOUTING PROGRAM REVIEWED

Scoutmaster Is Praised By Committee Head
"Organized in 1912, Troop No. 55, Boy Scouts of America, was without a parent institution until 1927 when J. Allison O'Daniel Post No. 10, American Legion, assumed sponsorship," Gerald M. Gilligan states in an article discussing the work of the local troop during 1939.

"O'Daniel Post was fortunate in assuming this obligation for the program of the Boy Scouts closely coincides with the civic and patriotic program of the Legion and particularly so since the Troop was a going concern which had already established a record of which it could be justly proud."

The Troop Committee
"The Troop Committee which lends legal status and acts in an advisory capacity to the scoutmaster, his aids, and the troop is composed of representative citizens of the city, about half of whom are Legionnaires."

"Under the direction of the troop officers," Mr. Gilligan continues, "a definite program of community service was arranged, the success of which is attested by the record of achievement."

"The civic activities of the troop include the collecting, repairing, painting, and distribution of toys to the less fortunate children of the community—nearly 300 toys were distributed last year; collection and distribution of baskets of food to needy families at Thanksgiving and Christmas. Two truckloads of clothing were collected by the scouts and en route to the flood areas of Ohio and Pennsylvania, within a day, in the years 1935 and 1937."

"The troop is so organized and trained that they are on the job shortly after a call is received from the welfare organizations and they have been highly commended for the services rendered the police department."

Fader Motor Company Marks Twenty-Seventh Anniversary

Ford Products Handled More Than 25 Years

President and founder of the Fader Motor Company, A. Franklin Fader celebrated his twenty-seventh anniversary as local dealer for the Ford Motor Company last Thursday, December 26.

One of Newark's pioneer and most progressive merchants, Mr. Fader is also one of the oldest dealers in the Ford organization, in point of service. Only five other dealers along the entire Atlantic seaboard have been handling Ford products for more than twenty-five years.

Confidence in himself, his community and the Ford products he sells has helped Mr. Fader gain a place of distinction among automobile dealers throughout the state. The Fader Motor Company is one of the most prominent and popular agencies in Newark. It is well staffed by an efficient personnel whose courtesy, understanding and desire to be of service reflects further credit upon the head of the firm.

A member of the State Highway Commission, a former president of the Newark Lions Club, The Newark Country Club and a prominent democrat, A. F. Fader is an exemplary citizen and ardent booster for Newark and its enterprises.

Proof of his belief in his product, Newark and THE NEWARK POST is well evidenced by a fifty week advertising campaign which begins in this issue. The advertisements are in the form of personalized program which individuals the weekly messages to be published over Mr. Fader's signature.

The campaign is one of the most effective released recently. It embodies personal views and opinions. It is attractively written and designed and has a punch that should insure its success.

THE NEWARK POST is happy to cooperate with Mr. Fader and the Ford Motor Company in publishing this series of advertisements. They will be run, one each week for every week during the year. They vary in size and content that is different and designed to promote good-will between the dealer and his community.

Annual Report Shows Rise In Infantile Paralysis Cases
A thin significant red line serves as a motivating factor in the 1940 "Fight Infantile Paralysis" campaign. This line appears on the epidemiology chart in the office of Keith Morgan, chairman of the committee for the celebration of the president's birthday.

The course on that chart is governed by weekly reports on infantile paralysis in this country. And, based on the latest available figures, it discloses that, for every one case of the disease in the United States last year, there have been reported more than four cases thus far in 1939.

The exact figures, covering the 49 weeks ending December 9, show a national total of 7,130 cases as compared with the 1,857 cases for the same 49 weeks in 1938. The distribution of those cases by states in order followed Arizona, with 197; Minnesota, with 150; Michigan, with 132; California, with 152; Utah, with 152; and Colorado, with 115.

No single state escaped a visitation for the dreaded malady in the course of the year. These state totals ranged from the three and four respectively in lightly-hit Rhode Island and Maine to the 1,063 reported in New York State.

Delaware, with a total of 6 cases or an average of 1.9 per 100,000 population, ranks thirty-first in the 48 states.

"Such totals, Mr. Morgan points out, do not give a true idea of the intensity of the unwelcome visitation. That is revealed only through an adjustment of the cases on a per capita basis.

Balancing state by state, the population figures with the infantile paralysis totals, it is discovered that New York, with the highest total, ranks but ninth in per capita victims.

The record high for the year was registered in New Mexico, that state showed 25.6 cases of the disease for each 100,000 unit of its population. South Carolina, with 23.1 cases average was second. Then in order followed Arizona, with 19.7; Minnesota, with 15.0; Michigan, with 13.2; California, with 15.2; Utah, with 15.2; and Colorado, with 11.5.

Other states with case rates above the average were: Vermont, with 8.1; Iowa, with 6.7; New Jersey, with 5.5, and Kentucky, with 5.3.

CHAMBER TO ELECT OFFICERS THURSDAY

Full Attendance At Dinner Meeting Is Requested

Full attendance of all Chamber of Commerce members is urged by President George M. Haney at the annual dinner meeting of the organization to be held at the Deer Park Hotel at 6:30 Thursday evening, January 11.

"This is an important meeting and every member should make a special effort to attend," said Mr. Haney yesterday. Officers and directors for the year will be elected to replace those whose terms have expired and other vacancies caused by resignations.

Officers whose terms expire and whose successors will be named are George M. Haney, president; Wm. S. Hamilton, vice president; and J. E. Daugherty, treasurer. The office of secretary was vacated this month by the resignation of C. H. Rutledge.

Four three-year directors will be elected to succeed R. J. Boyd, G. M. Haney, George F. Jackson and Herman Handloff whose terms expire. One director will be elected to serve the remaining two years of the term of C. H. Rutledge resigned.

The nominating committee, appointed by President Haney, is composed of Robert J. Boyd, Chairman, Dr. Clyde M. Cox and Daniel Thompson.

Nominees who will be submitted by the nominating committee and considered for election to the directorate for three year terms are Alfred Deek, C. R. Donovan, R. T. Ware and George M. Haney. Samuel Handloff has been nominated to fulfill the two year unexpired term caused by Mr. Rutledge's resignation.

Following the dinner meeting, at which time all business and other matters within the jurisdiction of the organization will be discussed, the newly elected directorate will meet and elect officers to serve during 1940.

The outgoing officers have served the organization and community well during the past twelve months. This is especially true of President Haney who has been tireless, efficient and highly satisfactory in the discharge of his duties.

Holdover directors who retain their status are George Danby, J. E. Daugherty, W. S. Hamilton, John K. Johnston, M. Pilnick and Weldon Waples.

There will be no charge for attendance at the meeting. All prospective members or persons interested in the activities of the Chamber are invited to be present.

LIONS TALK

THE CHRISTIAN'S CONFESSION OF FAITH

LESSON TEXT—Matthew 16:13-24. GOLDEN TEXT—Thou art the Christ, the Son of the living God.—Matthew 16:16.

Many outstanding miracles had been performed by our Lord during His ministry in Galilee, and now as that period of His earthly work was drawing to a close He went with the disciples north into the great northern center, Caesarea Philippi. Here He asked them life's greatest question, "What think ye of the Christ?" and Peter, blessed of God with true utterance, became the instrument for that confession of Christ upon which He could found His Church. Then there came from His blessed lips the prophecy of His death and resurrection which would make it possible for all who believe to become the sons of God and members of that Church.

I. The Question—Who is the Son of Man? (vv. 13-17).

The question of Christ was general at first, and in the answer we find that the people of our Lord's own day had a very high opinion of Him. They saw in Him the combined merits of the outstanding characters of their generation. They knew that He was no ordinary individual. He had made a striking impression on His own age, as indeed He has on every age of human history.

Observe carefully that such a confession of Christ is not sufficient. It is not enough to acknowledge Him as the great teacher, the perfect example, or the way-shower. To deny His divinity, to take from Him His place as Son of the living God is to make of Him an impostor and a fraud.

The personal question which follows, "Whom say ye that I am?" is the supremely important question from which no man can escape. Neutrality is impossible. Whatever we do or fail to do declares our position. "What think ye of Christ?" is the touchstone which determines character, condition and destiny.

Peter by the grace of God had come to the place where he recognized the one with whom he was having blessed fellowship in service as the Messiah, the Anointed One, the Son of the living God. We too should be so responsive to the guidance and control of the Holy Spirit that He may be able to teach us spiritual truth, which flesh and blood can never reveal.

II. The Church—Its True Foundation (vv. 18-20).

Christ, the Son of the living God, is the rock upon which the Church is built. The confession by Peter of this fact is in response to the question of Christ, "Whom say ye that I am?" and hence clearly relates to Christ, not to Peter, or to anything in Peter's personality. He was indeed blessed in his confession of Christ, but it is Christ who is the rock upon which the powerful and glorious Church is founded.

It follows without possibility of denial that only that organization which truly represents Jesus as the Christ, the Son of the living God, has any right to call itself a church. Countless are the groups calling themselves churches which are nothing but social or intellectual clubs with possibly a slightly religious flavor, for they deny the deity of Christ. Why are they not honest enough to take their proper names and their rightful places in the community? Is it because they wish to have the financial support of God's people and bear the good name of the Church?

III. The Cross—For Christ and for Me (vv. 21-24).

The shadow of the cross falls across the little gathering of disciples as the Lord tells them of His impending death on the cross. Note that He rightly counted with the fact of His death the truth of the resurrection, which gives it true meaning and which carries us beyond the darkness of Calvary to the light and beauty of Easter morning.

Peter who had a moment before spoken for God, now becomes the mouthpiece of the devil. From confessing his Lord, Peter turned to tempting Him to avoid the cross. That he "meant well" does not excuse Peter's folly, nor does it excuse the blundering though well-meaning misdirections which many are giving to the souls of men in our day. Had Jesus yielded to the solicitation of the Evil One through Peter, there would never have been any redemption from sin wrought out on Calvary's cross.

But we observe in verse 24 that there is a cross for the Christian as well as for Christ. Obviously we can never bear His cross, He alone could do that, but we are to take up our own cross and deny ourselves and follow Him. Self on the cross—Christ on the throne—such is the secret of real discipleship.

How States License Drivers

THE above map indicates the lack of uniformity in the driver licensing regulations of the various states, as revealed by a recently concluded study conducted by the cooperative driver research project of Yale University and the Esso Safety Foundation. This study, sponsored by and carried out under the direction of the American Association of Motor Vehicle Administrators, is endeavoring to bring about the nationwide adoption of the minimum driver licensing standards which has recently developed at Yale.

Under these standards, driver license applicants would be given four tests: A road sign reading test; a vision test; a law test; and a road test. In the above map the states marked in black give all four tests in one form or another. The states containing the dots use only three of the four recommended tests. Those with an unbroken diagonal line give two of the four tests. No test is given in the states marked with broken diagonal lines and no drivers' licenses are required in the three states left blank.

About a dozen states now have driver license regulations which either conform to or exceed the recommended minimum standards, and a number of states are currently studying the minimum driver license standards with a view to their ultimate adoption.

I'M IN BUSINESS FOR MY HEALTH!

I guess you've heard some one say, jokingly, "Do you think I'm in business for my health?"

Well, I am in business for my health—and I'm not joking!

I have noticed that my health suffers when I don't eat—and if I wasn't in business, I wouldn't eat. Not very often, anyway! I make my living selling cars and trucks, products of the Ford Motor Company, and I might say that it not only enables me to eat three "squares" a day, but it is a mighty fine business to be in.

The reason I like being a Ford dealer is that I am selling a product I can be proud of! I know, when I take a man's check, that he is getting just about the greatest value ever. I don't ever think "Maybe I'm selling the wrong car," because I know about automobiles, and I have staked my whole business career and reputation on the rock-ribbed quality that Henry Ford builds into the cars he sends me.

If you're a merchant, you'll know what that means—to sell the product you believe in. It's the best way I know of to keep the wrinkles out of your stomach, your forehead, and your conscience! I thank you!

Here is Walt himself with figurines of the principal characters which he has developed, from the famous childhood classic, with an eye to charming all adult minds as well. He holds Pinocchio; and, ranged, left to right, are The Fox (J. Worthington Foulfellow), The Cat (Gideon), Gepetto the woodcarver, Stromboli the puppeteer, Cicero the Kitten, and The Cricket (Jimmy Cricket) who shares all of Pinocchio's marvelous adventures. The picture will be internationally released by RKO Radio after January 1.

HOME EDUCATION

TOYS WHICH ARE CONSTRUCTIVE
EMMA GARY WALLACE

Many older people take it for granted that children of the same age are almost certain to enjoy playing with the same sort of toys. By way of proof of this, they remind us that the baby likes to play with a rattle or a squeaky rubber dog or doll or a ball, while older little girls, for instance, are interested in dolls, the clothing of which can be taken off and put on, and little boys are sure to be pleased with wheeled toys.

There is no denying these facts. Nevertheless, young children of today are admittedly farther advanced mentally in a great many cases, than children of the same age were fifty, thirty, or even twenty years ago. The reason for this greater development, age for age, is changing times. The child of today accepts the automobile, the radio and the telephone as a matter of course. He is not astonished by the least by what would have amazed his grandparents or his father or mother when they were his age.

The five-year-old is no longer content, for long, to sit on the floor and play with blocks which can be pushed over very easily, wrecking the structure even before it is completed. He wants something with which he can make more lasting forms. A new kind of block has come on the market which has a locking device so that the pieces stay where they are put. This is more satisfying.

The head of a retail toy department recently explained to the writer that toys which sold readily even two or three years ago, now have less appeal, while certain kinds of toys, which were not bought for young children a year ago, are now in demand. He explained that in his experience, it was the parents themselves who were delighted with electric trains and things of that kind. The children liked to see them work a few times, and then they were ready to go back to the sets with

STANTON WOMAN IMPROVED

Funeral Rites
For Former Resident Held

By Miss Emma S. Maclary
Stanton, Jan. 4.—Mrs. Jane Fisher of Stanton, an elderly woman who fell about a month ago in her home, breaking her leg just below the hip, and who is still a patient in the Wilmington General Hospital, is reported to be much improved, and now able to be in the wheel chair.
The Epworth League of the Stanton M. E. Church presented a program in the church on Thursday evening entitled "The Abiding Christ" which was under the direction of Mrs. Nona Rice.
The Rev. David W. Baker, Pastor of the Stanton M. E. Church, had as his subject Sunday morning "Life's Decisions." At 7:30 there was a program on music, at which time the pastor spoke on the Christmas Hymns, relating the story in connection with their composition, as well as the life of the composers. Sunday evening at 11:15 there was a Watch Night Service, with the Rev. Baker in charge.
Funeral services were held Saturday morning for Mr. William Van-nort, aged 59 years, a former resident of Stanton, but later of Wilmington. Interment was made in the St. James P. E. Church, cemetery, Stanton.

BIRTH OF A SONG

"Back Home Again In Indiana"

by James F. Hanley and Ballard MacDonald

James F. Hanley was born in Rensselaer, Indiana, of distinguished ancestry. His early creative efforts were directed to drawing, but he soon turned to music.

He studied the piano, wrote college shows, and went into vaudeville. He was playing a London Music Hall headline engagement early in 1914.

Eventually, Hanley found himself stranded in London, "quit writing home for money and began writing songs." It was there that he first gave expression to the nostalgic melody which became a State song.

Jimmy managed to make his way back to New York before the war broke out, and made straight for the music centers, where he began to write in earnest.

Back in America he wrote for Ziegfeld, George White, Al Jolson—he wrote "Just A Cottage Small By A Waterfall" for John McCormack—and many other tunes.

Hanley is proud of his membership in the American Society of Composers, Authors and Publishers, and prouder of the fact that his "Back Home Again In Indiana" has been adopted as the State song of his native state.

After the Armistice, Jimmy Hanley wrote and staged the 82nd Division soldier show "Toot Sweet," while waiting to go home. It was a huge success.

America entered the war, and Hanley went overseas again, this time with the 82nd Division, "K-K-K-Katy" by Geoffrey Chas. A.S.C.A.P. was the doughboys' favorite song then.

HOME OWNERS FORUM

By ABNER GORDON

WATER should be drained from all pipes before vacating summer homes or camps in localities subject to freezing temperatures during the winter months.

Remove whatever remains in sinks, water tanks, showers, etc., by opening traps and faucets, pumping, or through the use of siphon hose.

Shut off main water supply. Fill traps with some non-freezeable liquid such as a kerosene alcohol mixture to prevent escape of waste-pipe odors. Kerosene will rise to the top, preventing alcohol evaporation.

Empty water closets by flushing. Squeeze out any surplus.

Open cock in piping at top of hot water tanks to drain them through bottom faucets.

Before draining steam or hot water heating systems, extinguish fires. Draw off water at lowest point in system. Open boiler water supply valve, draining trapped water above.

In hot water system, open radiator air valves starting at top and working down as water level lowers.

In single pipe system open all valves to release condensation.

Q.—Can linoleum be painted and what formula do you suggest?

Another hunter, proceeding with poor eyesight, fired from behind a tree and shot the horse.	An anecdote concerning Father Abram Ryan, famed poet-priest of the Confederacy, has been revived. It seems that he was once accused of refusing to officiate at funerals of Northern soldiers. The poet-priest denied the charge, adding: "On the contrary, I would gladly

Throngs Visited Townsend Road Home Last Week-end

That Newark is actively interested in home building was proved conclusively by the throngs of residence who visited the new Townsend Road house, constructed by Thomas A. Ross, during the "open house" period last week-end.

Hundreds of people inspected the home, located in the Greater Newark Development Company section. Built of brick veneer, the Cape Cod Colonial residence attracted favorable comment in its debut to the local public.

CONTRACTORS OMITTED

The Newark Post, in publicizing the new Townsend Road home, constructed by Thomas A. Ross in the Greater Newark Development Company section, inadvertently omitted the advertisements of Samuel Little and Clinton Tweed. Mr. Tweed filled the plastering contract for the construction while Mr. Little was in charge of the masonry and brickwork. Both advertisements appear in this week's issue.

SAFETY HINTS

HOUSEWIVES:—It is time to take down the Christmas tree. Of course, you hate to see Christmas slip into history for another year, but don't let sentimentality delay you in removing the tree. The Delaware Safety Council warns that the tree becomes a fire hazard when it begins to dry.

BOYS AND GIRLS:—Don't forget to put away those dandy Christmas toys when you are through playing with them. If you leave them on the floor or on the stairway, somebody might step on them and get hurt. Besides, you wouldn't want your toys broken. So obey your mother and put them safely away.

MEN:—When you wake up these cold winter mornings to find that snow has blanketed the ground, do you pull the covers up around your neck and wait until the last moment before dashing to your work? Why not get up a little earlier and scoop the snow off the steps and walk? It may save some member of your family from a bad spill. Unless snow is shoveled away soon, it becomes hard-packed and icy. Then, the Safety Council warns, cinders and salt are necessary to prevent falls.

MOTORISTS:—Do you wish you could look into the future? Well, you don't need a crystal ball to predict the newspaper headlines the day after New Year's, the Delaware Safety Council points out. You can see them now, in bold, black type.

TWO DIE IN AUTO CRASH; FOUR KILLED AS CAR HITS TRUCK; HOLIDAY PARTY ENDS IN TRAGEDY

The stories can almost be set in type, leaving blank spaces for the names of the victims. Keep your name out of the list of dead and injured the day after New Year's.

FOOD for THOUGHT

By CHARLOTTE SPENCER
Nutritionist, State Board of Health

"Well begun is half done"—expresses the importance of a good start. The child who begins the day with a good breakfast is much better prepared to start school than the child who is still hungry or the child who has eaten too great a quantity of fried food which is hard to digest.

Fruit such as tomato juice or an apple, cooked cereal such as oatmeal and milk, make an inexpensive, healthful breakfast. This breakfast is usually cheaper than one which would include such hard to digest foods as pancakes and scrapple and doughnuts. Besides being cheaper, it furnishes an adequate amount of vitamins and minerals.

Fried food or foods which are high in fat are not easily digested by children. The indigestible fats remain in the stomach for a long time and prevent the digestion of other foods. Adult stomachs are much more able to handle fried and greasy foods than are children's. Such foods as scrapple, pancakes, sausage and doughnuts should be saved for healthy adult digestions. No parent would willingly handicap his child's school work. Yet many parents thoughtlessly allow their children to begin the day already defeated by an inadequate or indigestible breakfast. The inefficiency which results from such breakfasts can prevent your child from performing his school work with the full ability which is naturally his.

Each of the three meals must be adequate and healthful if your child is to be well fed. One or two good meals a day is not enough. Each meal must carry its own share of vitamins and minerals if the total requirement for the day is to be met.

Frank McCormick is now leading the National League in total hits. Last week he passed up Morrie Aronovich, of the Phils, and Jimmy Brown, of the Cards, who had been ahead of him most of the season.

THANKS

For The Fine Reception Given The New

Townsend Road House

Our appreciation is sincere and we hope we've done the hundreds who visited it on Saturday and Sunday a favor too—by introducing them to the fine type of construction planned for the Greater Newark Development Company section.

With a fair restriction placed on the type of Homes—Residents in this section are assured of a pleasant and attractive environment — an important factor to be considered by any prospective builder.

All modern conveniences, including street lighting on Townsend Road, sewers, gas and electricity combined with its location — make this one of the most desirable Home-Sites in this vicinity.

CONSULT ANY BANK OR LOCAL REAL ESTATE AGENT FOR DETAILS

Greater Newark Development Co.

We Appreciate

The Interest shown and the comments heard at our "Open House" Days for the new Townsend Road Residence on Saturday and Sunday.

The throngs that visited the Home, by their reactions, proved conclusively that Newark People are more than passively interested in good, sound, attractive, and economic constructions—all of which were taken into consideration when it was being built.

We're proud to have erected this attractive Home and we're congratulating ourselves that we chose the High Level Greater Newark Development Co. location.

We'll be glad to arrange an appointment to inspect this Property with anyone unable to attend the "Open House" last week-end.
