Mayor Seeks C. of C. Review Of Five-Year Capital Budget

Newark Chamber Of Commerce Recommendations Urged
By Mayor Joseph A. Shields For Proposed Municipal Capital Budget; Annual Banquet Scheduled Jan. 12th

Mayor Joseph A. Shields addressed the monthly meeting of the Newark Chamber of Commerce directors last Monday night at 131 East Main Street, and requested review of the city's proposed five-year capital budget with recommendation from the Newark chamber, and assistance for establishing a summer youth employment program for city beautification.

Shields also urged the Newark Chamber of Commerce to consider a "general licensing procedure" for local business operations—not as a revenue producer, but as a control measure for the protection of legitimate businessmen and local residents.

The directors approved membership application for the Discount Center, with Irving Blatt, manager, and P. Racine Stafford of the banquet committee, reported that the annual ladies night and banquet program would be held Tuesday, Jan. 12, in the Aetna Hall on Ogletown Road.

Exhibits in the banquet hall are to be provided by members of the industrial section of the Newark Chamber of Commerce, Stafford said.

Main Street Lighting
In reply to the chamber of commerce request for improved Main Street lighting, Mayor Shields asked that a formal request with specifications, be submitted for Newark City Council consideration.

Secretary Carroll W. Stamford reported receiving 33 visitors; 63 telephone calls, and processing 165 pieces of mail for the Newark Chamber of Commerce during the past month, and cited "excellent cooperation" received from City Secretary Charles D. Long.

President Samuel L. Diehl, Jr., conducted the meeting, and directors present included Robert D. Angstadt, Harold J. Meade, Robert Rowlands, Raymond W. Weimer, Wm. H. Wagman, Jr., and Harlan C. Williams.

High School Pupil Careers Day Event Planned At Ag Hall

Program To Be Offered
For Careers In Science,
Agriculture Application

A careers day on "The Sciences—Their Application in Agriculture" being planned by the school of agriculture at the University of Delaware, to be held Saturday, Nov. 7 in Agricultural Hall on the Newark campus.

Dr. William E. McDaniel, director of the school of agriculture at the university, says that the day is designed to inform high school students interested in a college education in the biological, physical or social sciences, on ways they can prepare for employment in agriculture.

Application of science to the growing of food is only one of the professional goals of those involved in agricultural study and research, McDaniel said. The broad field of what he calls "agri-industry" provides opportunities in research, development, manufacture and sales of machinery, chemicals, feed, and supplies.

According to McDaniel "interests in the sciences can be developed by students to prepare them for employment opportunities in the processing and marketing of foods as well as for careers in education. Careers day is offered especially for high school juniors and seniors, but other high school students are welcome.

High school administrators, counselors, science and vocational agriculture teachers, and parents of students attending also are welcome.

The program starts at 10 a.m. in Agricultural Hall with tours of exhibits covering agricultural economics, agricultural engineering, animal science, entomology, horticulture, plant pathology, poultry science and soils.

At 11:30, Dr. George M. Worrlow, dean of the school of agriculture and vice-president of the university, will discuss the sciences and their application in "agri-industry."

Visitors will also have opportunity for informal discussion with school of agriculture faculty members during a box lunch immediately following the formal program.

Deadline for registering for careers day is Oct. 23. All inquiries should be sent to Dr. William E. McDaniel, University of Delaware school of agriculture.

Rylander Invites Local Boy Athletes For U. D. Therapy

Trainer, Tennis Coach
Reviews Sport History
As Speaker At TD Club

Reviewing the history of sports medicine and physical training as guest speaker for the Newark Touchdown Club luncheon meeting last Monday, Dr. C. Roy Rylander—physical education instructor, head trainer, and tennis coach for the University of Delaware—extended an invitation for all local boy athletes in need of therapy, to make use of university athletic department facilities.

"If you know of any boys who need help," Rylander said to the club members, "let us know."

From primitive man's need for skill in sports for survival—running, jumping, and throwing—athletic contests were developed by Greek civilization and progressed to the ancient Olympics, Rylander reported, with the need for coaches and trainers.

He cited a complete lack of interest in sport after the fall of the Roman Empire, until the Renaissance. Today's professional trainers are well qualified persons, Rylander said, with 50 per cent of them also teaching.

The National Athletic Trainers Association was organized in 1929, and established standards in cooperation with the American Medical Association, and in 1954 the American College of Sports Medicine was established. With some 500 members, its emphasis has been to improve protective athletic equipment, Rylander continued.

"Helmets, particularly," Rylander said, "have been developed by this group, but the best ones, no one wants to wear."

He cited the use of stimulants for athletes as "unethical, illegal," and of no benefit to a top level athlete. President Paul Jaquette conducted the luncheon meeting; Vice-President Albert S. Priestley introduced the speaker; and former Yelawacket athlete Don Armstrong won the football pot for the second consecutive week, Bill Murray reported.

15-Year-Old Youth Fractures Skull In Auto Accident

Richard McGuire, 15, of 28 Kollman Drive, Brookside, suffered a fractured skull Saturday when a car driven by his sister went out of control on Sunset Lake Road.

McGuire is listed in fair condition today in Wilmington General Hospital, where he, his sister, Carol Ann, 16, and a third passenger, Mary Ann McGowan, 16, of 37 Millbrook Road, Fireside Park, were taken. The girls were treated and released.

The accident occurred about 4:45 p.m., one mile south of Newark. State police said Miss McGuire lost control of the car as she pulled out to pass a group of cyclists. The auto sideswiped a tree, then hit a utility pole head-on.

The injured were taken to the hospital in the Aetna ambulance.

Evangelist To Return

Planetarium Featured In Annual Report Of Newark School District For 1963-64

The annual report of the Newark school district for 1964 was published this week—a 28-page, two-color booklet with highlights of the 1963-64 school year, including installation of the planetarium in the new Christiana High School.

The report notes a total of 255 lectures of 45-minutes each, and more than 7,500 people visiting the planetarium during its first year of operation.

All district students from grades four through eight were scheduled for at least one session, and upon request, second and third grade groups were given time in the planetarium chamber.

Ninth grade classes in science from both senior high schools, and mathematics classes from Christiana High School studied in the planetarium.

Students from other buildings were transported by bus.

Lectures to science classes covered phases of astronomy, and were made to tailor lectures for other classes to their particular interests.

Ancient history classes studied the ancient skies; English literature classes attended while studying Milton's "Theories of the Universe" and observed special stars of poetry and literature.

A lecture on the "Social Implications of the Space Age" was presented to the social studies classes. Duplicated literature pertaining to the planetarium sessions was distributed to the classes prior to their visit. Other literature was sent out as it became available.

The modern space science class met regularly in the planetarium, and were trained to operate the instrument, assisting with minor maintenance.

At a Parents' Night, four students took turns at the controls and presented portions of the evening's lecture.

Classes from other school districts, service and professional, civic, and scientific organizations, from within the Newark District also made use of this facility.

Students Conduct Voluntary Program Of Bible Reading

Newark Christiana High
Pupils Devote Free Time
To Prayer, Bible Period

Newark and Christiana High School students have followed a suggestion from the attorney general and are beginning the school day with Bible reading and prayer.

David Hartnett and John Martin organized the first group at Newark High and Hartnett said the idea of having voluntary exercises before class time came to him while reading News-Journal papers.

Buckson said the court order left the door open to exercises if they were completely voluntary and during free time.

Hartnett said he talked with members of his Newark Evangelical Presbyterian Church, and with students from other churches and then asked Principal Frederick B. Kutz, for permission to use a corner of the cafeteria.

Since tardiness for roll call would be unapproved if caused by attending the exercises, only about 40 are able to attend at Newark High School because of bus schedules.

However, several hundred took part when voluntary sessions began at Christiana High last week.

Hartnett said voluntary exercises are better than mandatory, because a person does this from conviction.

"Our country was built upon the Bible; our culture and civilization were built upon it. Family relationship, respect for elders—everything is centered around the Bible," he said. "In order to have a stable society in America, we must keep these things."

Buckson, on hearing of the activity, said "I'm glad to see that someone some place is attempting to substitute for what has been taken away. I grew up with prayer in school, and I'm in favor of it. As long as it is organized by the students and done on free time, it is permissible."

Supt. Wilmer E. Shue said the Newark and Christiana innovations "have given us continued confidence in the students. It shows they're thinking soundly. There has been no change whatsoever in school schedules."

Central Welfare Food Collection, Tag Day Planned

The Newark Area Welfare Committee held its regular fall meeting at the home of Mrs. Donald L. Dutton last Thursday, and plans were made for the food collection on Dec. 12; Tag Day on Dec. 16; and the distribution of Christmas baskets under the supervision of Mrs. J. Harvey Dickey.

Kenneth C. Lambert, NAWC chairman, announced that Dr. Gerold Cole, in charge of special activities for the Boy Scouts of the Capital Trail District, will direct the food collection drive.

Mrs. John S. Cray will be Tag Day chairman, and volunteer solicitors are urged to call Mrs. Cray.

Lambert emphasized that there is a continuing need for volunteer workers at the Thrift Shop in the basement of the Academy Building; and those interested in assisting with this work should get in touch with Mrs. Donald L. Dutton.

It was also pointed out that the Thrift Shop is in great need of children's clothing.

On the second trip—Nov. 1—135 uniformed firemen will make collections. Residents not at home or otherwise missed in the canvass, will be asked to mail their contributions during November.

"The fund drive is needed to supplement money provided the Aetna fire company through city, county, state, insurance appropriations, members' dues and hall rental," President Olan R. Thomas said.

"The total budget for 1965 has been set at $31,500.00, including $12,000 for Station No. 2, and $12,000 for replacement and additional apparatus," Thomas continued.

1964 Parents Day Scheduled In Lieu Of Old Conference

Invitations have been mailed to parents of more than 1,000 freshmen and new transfer students at the University of Delaware for a Parents Day on Saturday, Nov. 14.

The special day for parents is being planned in place of the annual Parents Conference at the university. Held for 13 years—from 1951 through 1963—it was canceled this year because no meaningful morning program could be arranged for the large number of parents who would attend.

Although there is no formal program planned for the Nov. 14 date, parents can make arrangements to have lunch with their sons and daughters in student dining halls.

Parents also are invited to attend the Delaware-Rutgers football game in newly-enlarged Delaware Stadium that afternoon at 1:30. Students will be able to obtain tickets so the family can sit together at the game.

Deans and representative members of the faculty will meet parents at luncheons in student dining facilities.

Chicks Vs. Egg-Size Research Reported In New University Of Delaware Bulletin

Do chickens hatched from small eggs perform as well as those from normal or large eggs?

This question was studied in a research project at the University of Delaware and reported in a publication released by the university entitled "Effect of Hatching Egg Size on Subsequent Broiler Performance."

Daniel H. Palmer, research associate in poultry science in the school of agriculture, says that during periods of egg security, Delmarva hatcherymen have used small hatching eggs to meet demand for chicks.

Whether or not this practice is justifiable, is questionable. Palmer says earlier research indicated that there was a definite relationship between the weight of hatching eggs and the weight of the chicks at hatching time.

One researcher observed that chickens hatched from eggs weighing less than 22-oz. per dozen, were not as profitable as those from larger eggs.

Other research indicated that the weight of hatching eggs influenced the body weight of the chicks up to at least eight weeks of age. Palmer's research was designed to help clarify conflicting reports on relationship of hatching egg size to performance. Special emphasis was placed on use of modern commercial available broilers and feed as well as growing periods similar to those used by commercial producers.

After analysis of the records of 3,700 broilers produced from eggs of varying sizes, Palmer draws these conclusions:

Weight differences existed at 10 weeks of age between broilers from the 18-19-oz. per dozen group and the larger egg groups.

At 10 weeks, birds from the 24-25-oz. group were significantly heavier than all other groups. Birds from the 22-23-oz. group were heavier than those from the 18-19-oz. group.

Feed conversion rates were not significantly different between any of the groups.

These findings are being studied on a larger scale in an experiment at the university's Georgetown station.

The complete research report is available from the Mailing Room, Agricultural Hall, University of Delaware, Newark. Ask for Bulletin 350.

Incentive Pay Plan Cited For Hired Men On Farm

The way a hired farm worker performs his job affects profits on that farm, yet the hired man's earnings are seldom related to the work he actually does or the profits made on the farm.

Although many farmers have considered the possibility of some kind of incentive payment plan to reward workers for superior performance, few have actually tried such a program, and W. T. McAllister, farm management specialist at the University of Delaware, thinks they should.

The school of agriculture has a publication "Incentive Payment Plans for the Hired Man," and copies are available from the Mailing Room, Agricultural Hall, University of Delaware, Newark.

a Dog's Life CHEWING PUPPIES

By Bob Bartos, Manager Friskies Pet Foods Division Center

The bane of most every new puppy owner is the puppy. It's a phase all puppies go through, particularly at teething time, which begins at about four months of age and continues through to the sixth.

While there's no quick cure, there are some precautions you can take to divert the chewing into undestructive channels.

Never give a pup an old slipper or shoe to play with or chew. He can't distinguish between it and your Sunday-best footwear.

Supply him with plenty of chewable items that bear no resemblance to anything else in the house. Teething chews, sticks which come in various shapes and knuckle bones are good pacifiers, safe and worth their weight in gold.

If your puppy still prefers to sink his needle-sharp teeth into household effects or your hands, what to do? If all depends on the puppy's temperament. Scoldings delivered in stern tones, will eventually get the sensitive puppy to cease and desist from off-limit chewing.

The bolder fellow may need the scolding accompanied by a firm whack on the backside with a rolled up newspaper. If this fails to make an impression, try holding his muzzle, squeezing, slightly and blowing in his face. Of course, in every instance, the puppy must know what he's being scolded or punished for, so try to catch him in the act.

Many smart puppies catch on quickly and after a ripping-up session while you're out of the house, will duck under a bed or other "unreachable" spot the minute you get home. Such deliberate misconduct calls for firm discipline. Better still, confinement in a small area, such as a regular dog crate or box, when left alone.

Feeding tip: Be sure your puppy always has an available supply of hard, crunchy food such as Friskies Puppy Food or Friskies Mix left dry. They're an aid in teething.

Council Approves New "RT" Zoning For Arbour Park

Newark City Council rezoned Arbour Park from RS (9,000 sq. ft. lots to RT (15,000 sq. ft. lots) at the request of residents at a special meeting on Tuesday night last week.

An ordinance to permit barber shops and beauty parlors in BL (limited business) areas was sent back to the planning commission with the suggestion that the size of such establishments be considered. The number of chairs in a barber shop might be limited, council agreed.

BL is specifically designed to permit owners of houses to rent part of them for offices. It also permits medical clinics, banks and undertaking establishments.

The city's proposed pension plan was adopted except for life insurance. Mayor Joseph A. Shields said that bids for this portion should be resubmitted.

Career Conference For Coeds Planned With 10 Speakers

Mrs. Evelyn Lord, Peace Corps Official To Speak For Careers For Women

A candidate for political office in Delaware and an administrator in the Peace Corps in Washington will be among the 10 speakers at the University of Delaware Women's Career Conference on Saturday, Oct. 31.

Delaware coeds will gather in the Student Center that afternoon to hear about career opportunities open to them after graduation, and invitations have been sent to some 1,900 women students at the university.

The program arranged by a committee of faculty members and students, is divided into two sections. Each section will feature speakers on three general topics — personal service, public service, and science and research.

Speaking at one of the public service sessions will be Mrs. Evelyn Lord, Republican candidate for mayor of Wilmington; and Fannie Sedgwick, a member of the Peace Corps since 1962.

Mrs. Lord's topic at the conference for coeds will be "Block Blight," an organization she helped incorporate in 1956. She was executive director from 1957 to 1962.

The Lords were named Delaware's All-American Family for 1957-58 and were featured in a national magazine in 1956 and in "Delaware Today" two years ago. Mr. and Mrs. Lord have five children.

Mrs. Lord received her bachelor of arts degree from Boston University and a master of arts degree in political science from the University of Delaware.

Miss Sedgwick, Nepal operations officer for the Peace Corps, is a native of Boston. She received her bachelor's degree from Wellesley (Mass.) College, and in 1954, went to Washington as a staff assistant to Sen. Paul Douglas, D-Ill. She was a research assistant for presidential candidate Adlai Stevenson in 1956.

From 1958 to 1961, Miss Sedgwick was with the Research and Education Committee for a Free World—a non-profit writing and research group on national and international affairs.

Ashton Cites Center Line As Safety Aid For Driver

Motorists can improve their driving by making full use of the center line, Manager J. James Ashton of the Delaware Safety Council said yesterday.

The center line is "one of the simplest and yet one of the most effective traffic aids in existence. It helps you stay on the right side of the road," he said.

Being on that side, he continued, is one of the first principles of safe driving. "Not staying on your side is a step toward suicide," Ashton advised.

Paul Catts Presents Paper In Rome On Parasitology

Dr. E. Paul Catts, assistant professor of entomology at the University of Delaware, presented a research paper at the First International Congress of Parasitology in Rome, Italy.

The paper dealt with behavior and ecology of rodent bot flies, which Dr. Catts has been studying for five years. This large group of flies include the human bot fly, an important economic pest of livestock in Central and South America and a bothersome parasite of man as well.

Dr. Catts is the first entomologist to maintain a laboratory colony of any rodent bot fly, which, he explains, is a necessary prerequisite to detailed understanding of the biology of any insect. He has published four papers on this research work and is preparing six more.

Asters For Autumn Bloom Advised By Dave Tattall

The arrival of autumn is heralded each year by the colorful blooms of native asters. And one of the best beautiful and probably the best known of this group of wildflowers is the New England aster, says Dave Tattall, assistant agent in ornamental horticulture.

The plant reaches a height of five feet, and bears numerous deep purple, daisy-like flowers in large, showy clusters. The blooming period extends from late summer through early autumn.

It will do well in any good garden soil of moderate fertility. It prefers full sun, but will thrive in partial shade. Since it is moisture-loving, it should be kept well watered.

It is good practice to divide the clumps in the spring about every third year. Only the vigorous outer shoots from each clump should be replanted.

Passenger Fare Reduction Of 31% Scheduled By B&O

The Baltimore and Ohio Railroad has announced that it will reduce passenger coach fares on all its trains by 31 per cent, effective Oct. 25.

This action follows closely a similar B&O reduction in first-class fares earlier this year.

In announcing the latest rate reduction, Paul H. Reistrup, director of B&O's passenger service, said, "This is, frankly, the start of a frontal attack by B&O on the private automobile, which has taken over 85 per cent of intercity travel in this country. In most cases, it will now be even cheaper to ride a B&O train than to drive the family car," Reistrup said.

More Hog Farmer Profit Predicted By McAllister

More profit for hog farmers in 1965 is the prediction of a University of Delaware Agricultural Economist, W. T. McAllister.

Farm management specialist at the university, McAllister says fall pig crop reports submitted by farmers in the 10 states that grow 75 per cent of the hogs, shows farrowings during the year to be down 6 per cent from a year earlier—good news for Delaware hog producers.

Reduced supplies should cause rising prices for pork marketed during the winter of 1965. Price improvements should be at least $1 per cwt and could be as much as $2 above current prices.

Dean Eldreth Completes Army Vehicle Training

Army Pvt. Dean Eldreth, 18, whose wife Eleanor, lives in Newark, completed an eight-week light vehicle driver course at Fort Jackson, S. C., on Oct. 8.

During the course, Eldreth received instruction in use and maintenance of vehicles, and in motor pool organization.

He entered the Army last June, and received basic training at Fort Jackson, S. C.

MULTIPLE SCLEROSIS DRIVE Response to the National Multiple Sclerosis Society drive this year was good according to Lt. Col. Clifford E. Hall, chairman. A total of $10,000 should be realized from the drive which was concentrated between Mother's and Father's Day, Hall said.

OFFICER CANDIDATE Naval Aviation Officer Candidate David W. Vermilyea, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph A. Vermilyea of 392 South College Avenue, Newark, recently graduated from basic naval aviation officers school at Pensacola, Fla.

'SAVE THOSE LEAVES' Instead of discarding those fallen leaves, homeowners should put them to work improving the soil and protecting garden plants, advises Dave Tattall, assistant agent in ornamental horticulture. Tattall says that leaves are an important source of organic matter, which in time becomes humus, the life-giving element of soil.

Great opportunities come to all, but many do not know they have met them.

During its Oct. 19-31 special observance, this newspaper congratulates the food industry on the fact that food is a bargain.

BIRDS UNLIMITED

The fear that the use of pesticides in agriculture may be creating menaces to human and animal life which far outweigh any advantages has been exceedingly well publicized in recent times. A common charge is that birds in great numbers are being destroyed.

Now an analysis has been made of figures compiled by the Audubon Society which keeps track of the bird population through the counts of bird watchers. The substance of it is that, over a period of about 20 years, there have been large increases in the birds counted. Specifically, in 1940, 2,200 counters listed a total of 2 million birds; in 1961, there were 9,677 counters and their total was 37.8 million.

In the words of the Portland Oregonian, "Inescapable conclusion is that the chemicals used by farmers to kill pests, a major factor in the phenomenal production of U. S. agriculture, are not at the same time killing birds on a larger scale. Nearly everyone will be happy that noisy, rather than silent springs are in prospect in America."

Here is another significant contribution to the mounting pile of evidence that criticism of pesticides use, no matter how well-meant, has reached totally unjustified dimensions. It's high time this important matter was seen in proper perspective.

CHILD TRAINING

In a release on child care, the American Medical Association observes that discipline is training for living. It must start early, be constant and consistent, and guide the child in what to do as well as what not to do. Children need a discipline that sets limits for them. They must learn to accept authority, but it should be firm, reasonable, kind authority that deserves respect.

CHOOSING A HAIR STYLE
THAT'S RIGHT FOR YOU

Barbie says "it's" to elaborate and complicated coiffures. She picks a hairdo that is, first of all, neat and easy to keep. And styles that drop all over your face or flat at the first touch of a raindrop.

Sweet, simple, and styled for the shape of your face. Barbie's rules for selecting the right hairdo for you.

Start out by outlining your reflection in a mirror with lipstick. (Lightly, please, and don't stick to clean the mirror when you've finished.) Now study the outline. Do you have a heart-shaped face? If so, your hair looks prettiest brushed back off your forehead, falling into a soft fluff below your ears where your face narrows.

If you have a round face you need a style that will lengthen and narrow your face. Keep your part slanted or on the side (never in the center) with soft off-center bangs to add height. Keep your hair short or square straight bangs. Keep waves large and around the face.

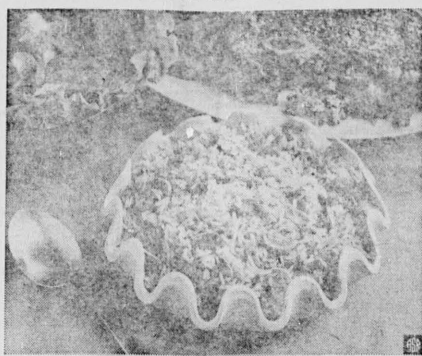

Give a rectangular-shaped face an oval look by adding width to the forehead and fullness along the cheeks and brow. Fluffy curls extending over the ears will do this.

Both height and width should be added for a triangular face. Try a slightly off-center part, or none at all, with a softly curled side bang.

You're a lucky girl, indeed, if you have an oval face because you can wear almost any style. But always remember to keep the style simple to show off that perfect shape.

Perfect Partner for Steak

Families in the rice producing states (Arkansas, Louisiana, Mississippi, and Texas) like big, thick, juicy steaks just as much as families in other parts of the country. But what they like to eat with their steak may differ from the steak accompaniments served elsewhere.

As you may have guessed, rice is a frequent partner for steak in the southern states which produce most of the rice used in this country. For example, Mushroom-Almond Rice, a favorite recipe from the files of a Texas homemaker, is often served with steak and with roast beef, too. It is a savory mixture of rice cooked in beef bouillon with onion then mixed with sautéed almonds and mushrooms, and it takes less time to prepare than it does to broil a thick beef steak.

Indeed, families of the men who produce rice in the country like to eat rice in every conceivable way and rice is kept on hand at all times, uncooked and cooked — the latter stored in their refrigerators and home freezers. They know how easy it is to cook rice and how simple it is to reheat refrigerated and frozen rice. The magic 1-2-1 method of cooking rice, originated in the well. Heat to boiling. Combine 1 cup regular milled white rice, 2 cups water, and 1 teaspoon salt in a saucepan. Heat to boiling, stir once, cover, lower heat, simmer 14 minutes. Do not peek. To reheat cooked rice, add 2 tablespoons liquid to each cup and cook, covered, for 4 to 5 minutes.

Mushroom-Almond Rice
1 cup chopped onions 1/4 teaspoon pepper
4 tablespoons butter or 1/2 cup sliced almonds
margarine 1 can (4 1/2 oz.) sliced mushrooms
1 cup uncooked rice 1 can (4 1/2 oz.) sliced mushrooms
2 cups beef bouillon

Cook onions in 2 tablespoons butter until tender. Add rice and continue cooking until golden. Add bouillon and pepper. Stir. Heat to boiling. ## Summit Aviation Inventors Honored For Safety Hoist

Two employees of Summit Aviation, Inc., Middletown, have won aviation mechanic safety awards in nationwide competition sponsored by the Federal Aviation Agency.

Everett M. Smith, service manager, and Paul J. Cartwright, shop foreman, were named winners in the nationwide competition for the development of a span-type airplane hoist. At a luncheon to be held at the Howard Johnson restaurant in Newark next Tuesday, the two Summit employees will be presented with an FAA certificate inscribed with the agency seal and citation.

Representatives of the FAA who will be present for the ceremony include Kenneth Kress, regional manager of maintenance, and Severus S. DeLeo, maintenance inspector.

The span-type hoist, designed and constructed by Smith and Cartwright, is adaptable to all Cessna aircraft.

Its purpose is to overcome aircraft jack rocking, a problem that has concerned mechanics for some time.

The Delaware winners' hoist enables the mechanic to perform inspections and maintenance more thoroughly and with much greater safety to personnel and the plane. The complete airplane is suspended, thus eliminating the need for airplane jacks and related equipment which might cause hazardous conditions.

Smith and Cartwright are eligible for further awards, as the hoist will be judged in FAA regional mechanic safety competition.

Summit Aviation Award-Winning Hoist

Utilizing large hooks under leading edge of wing, hoist developed by Everett M. Smith and Paul J. Cartwright of Summit Aviation, holds Cessna airplane securely suspended. Posts under wing and tail stabilize the aircraft.

The two Summit Aviation employees won the Mechanic Safety Award of the Federal Aviation Agency for their invention.

SPECIAL WASHINGTON REPORT

U. S. Food Surplus Helps Keep The Peace

By U.S. Sen. George S. McGovern (D-S.D.)
Member, Senate Agriculture Committee

Ten years ago a Democratic Congress passed a law designed to use our food abundance to fight hunger and misery in other nations. President Eisenhower signed the law and it became known as PL 480.

Either because of lackluster administration or lack of imagination to use the program's full potential, the PL 480 program coasted along for six years unnoticed and all but forgotten.

Within a few months after the Kennedy-Johnson Administration took over, the entire nation became aware of the Food for Peace program. What happened was that PL 480 was given the personal attention of the President and it became officially known as the Food for Peace program. New life, new vitality, new emphasis was given to it. We are now sharing our abundance with people in more than 100 nations. Shipments abroad reached a record high in 1963 of more than $1.6 billion.

Hundreds of thousands of jobs on U.S. farms and in towns and cities are created wholly or substantially by the production, processing, and transporting of commodities for Public Law 480 export.

Not only are such shipments putting food and fiber into the hands of needy foreign friends and accelerating their growth programs, but also they effectively serve our farm and business communities by building future foreign markets.

The programs, operating in more than 100 nations, have begun to make a dramatic contribution to economic growth. Nearly three-quarters of a million workers in 22 countries are partially paid in U.S. food under Public Law 480 food-for-work programs. Many thousands more are employed as a direct result of the use of local currencies for economic development projects.

Secretary of Agriculture Orville L. Freeman has estimated that if these less developed countries could increase their per capita incomes by $100 a year, the additional market created would double U.S. export sales of farm products.

During this Administration several steps have been taken to increase the effectiveness of Public Law 480 operations. These include:

1. Began using a dormant PL 480 provision which authorizes long-term credit sales of U.S. farm products for dollars — up to 20 years at low interest rates. Currently, 18 countries have signed long-term dollar credit sales contracts totaling $264 million.

2. Increased food shipments under PL 480 to an average of about $1.6 billion annually during the past three years, or about 17 percent higher than in 1960. During the same period, commercial agricultural exports increased substantially — rising this past fiscal year to a record $4.5 billion, or 41 percent above 1960.

3. Increased food donations under PL 480 to include 100 million persons, a 60 percent increase in three years.

4. Introduced major innovations by emphasizing PL 480 projects which provide employment and education. In Tunisia food-for-wages projects provide full-time employment for 200,000 workers. Roads, water conservation structures, schools, and health clinics are being built. School lunch is now served to more than 40 million children in an international school lunch program.

5. More of the foreign currencies received from sales under Title I of PL 480 are being used to pay U.S. government expenses overseas. Such foreign currency use is currently saving a U.S. dollar outflow of about $200 million a year.

Queen Empress Tops List For Laurel Selima Stakes

Wheatley Stable's Queen Empress, strong candidate for the title of two-year-old filly of the year, is one of the top eligibles for Saturday's Selima Stakes, highlight of the week's racing at Laurel.

The Selima is one of the country's richest races for young fillies, and this year will be worth approximately $100,000.

Wheatley Stable has won the Selima three times, and a win this year would give them more victories in the race than any other stable.

Post time for the first race is 1 p.m.

'Little Gal of the Golden West' Is National March of Dimes Child

A blue-eyed lady of four years, known affectionately in her home town of Denver as the "Little Gal of the Golden West," is the 1965 National March of Dimes Child. Her name is Michaeline ("Mickey") Lea Heinicke.

Mickey symbolizes the quarter-million American infants born every year with severe birth defects on whose behalf contributors to the March of Dimes have financed programs of research, medical care and education.

Mickey's mother, Maxine, tells of the tragedy that today befalls one in ten families in the United States.

"Like tens of thousands of other couples, Paul and I were heartbroken and numb when we learned the truth a few days after Mickey was born. I am a nurse, and I had had some experience with babies born with an open spine, which was the case with Mickey. I was under no rosy illusions that this third child of ours would ever walk.

"But," asks Maxine, "do you remember that song, 'Did You Ever See a Dream Walking'? The refrain comes back to me every time I see Mickey walking on her crutches and braces, or furiously riding her hobby horse in the parlor, or doing an Indian war dance to her phonograph records. I say to myself, 'that's my little dream walking'."

"But my husband and I would never have experienced this real-life dream without March of Dimes help."

Mickey, whose spinal rupture was repaired when she was only three days old, is now midway through a tour that precedes the coast-to-coast March of Dimes campaign in January. Although severely handicapped, this four-year-old thrives on the long days, tedious strolls between cities, appearances at conventions and the strain of meeting Senators, Congressmen, Generals, stars of stage and screen and other public figures.

Mickey is already a veteran trouper, unimpressed by the mighty in high places. Her mother says, apprehensively: "In January, when we expect to have the privilege of visiting the White House, I know I will faint dead away when Mickey will undoubtedly bubble over to the President, 'Hiya, Podner,' or something awfully familiar and western to the First Lady."

WHOA! Aboard her pony, Mickey Heinicke, 4, Denver, 1965 National March of Dimes Child, reins in for benefit of photographers.

Birth defects are the greatest medical problem threatening the nation's children. To help provide patient aid in this area, contributors to the March of Dimes now support 50 treatment and study centers at leading medical centers and university-affiliated hospitals.

Basil O'Connor, president of The National Foundation-March of Dimes, says that the need for many more such centers is acute.

"Birth defects," he adds, "are a much more serious problem than polio ever was."

"To attain the same successful end that was achieved in eliminating polio, we need not 50 birth defects centers but fully 150 centers to help these afflicted infants and children. Funds are also needed desperately to support research inquiries into the many scientific problems involved."

"I sometimes look at the crippled Mickey's around our country, at children born without arms or legs, at other tots doomed unnecessarily to lives of mental retardation—all due to birth defects; and I wonder how many of our warmhearted citizens can fail to demand and to finance a means to end this shocking destruction whatever the cost."

Steve Mitchell, Dick Fulton Get 4 TD's As Hoffman's Champs Defeat Colonials

Coach Bob Hoffman's Blue Hen Conference champions knocked off Billy Cole's Colonials out of an undefeated first place tie with Brandywine in the conference crown contest last Saturday afternoon, defeating the visitors from William Penn in New Castle by a 33-14 count on the Newark High School field. And the Newark Yellowjackets face the unbeaten Bulldogs this Saturday at 1:30 p.m. at Brandywine.

William Penn powered to a 7-0 lead in the first quarter of last Saturday's game at Newark, as Windish plunged two yards for the touchdown, and the Colonials' Mitchell kicked the conversion.

But Hoffman's Yellowjackets took over from there, with End Steve Mitchell scoring on a 19-yard pass play from Quarterback Norris Saunders in the initial period, and Halfback Dick Fulton breaking free with a Saunders pass for 43 yards and a second quarter touchdown for a 13-7 halftime advantage, as Fulton kicked the extra point.

It was Fulton again in the third quarter, with the hard-running Newark halfback scoring on a 15-yard run, and again his kick was in there for the extra tally.

Steve Mitchell scored his second touchdown of the game for the Yellowjackets with Norris Saunders firing the ball in an 11-yard pass play in the final quarter to give Newark a 27-7 lead as Saunders kicked the conversion.

The Colonials countered with a touchdown of their own, as Greene bucked the line for a yard into the end zone, and their Mitchell kicked the extra point for a 27-14 score.

Newark dragged yet another touchdown from their football bag of tricks, as Halfback Charley Hayman broke away for 15 yards and the final 33-14 count.

Early in the game, Fulton sustained a blow on the head which re-

"Filler" boiler plate," Sportsman Len Fossett said of last week's column on this page. And Mr. Fossett not only recognizes the cued product, but knows a thing or two of the Fourth Estate's terminology.

Len Fossett is one of the few we know who remembers the outdoor columnar creations of Bill Wolfe, one of the best in our book. Bill wrote his "Outdoors" column for the Philadelphia Record, and had moved on and up as a free lance outdoor writer for the top magazines in the world until his death as a still-young man. That Billy Wolfe did not write in vain, is evident with Len Fossett's warm memories. And the fact that Leonard noted the boiler plate here last week, is most gratifying to an outdoor editor who had been spending an indoor but delightful weekend during a birthday anniversary celebration with his father and favorite outdoorsman in Virginia.

Mastering the model 1911 automatic 45 pistol is like Marine Corps boot camp training — tough, plenty tough, and has gotten shotners from the game should stay away from this cannon until after they have learned to fire the 22 and 38. So recommends the National Rifle Association, a non-profit membership organization recognized as the governing body for shooting in the U.S. There are comparatively few pistol marksmen in the country who can say before he goes to bat on the service pistol, what he will do on the service pistol — and then deliver the goods.

One exception is 34-year-old Sgt. William B. Blankenship, Jr. of the U.S. Army, the nation's No. 1 pistol champion for five consecutive years. To him, the 45 automatic is his slave and he is its master, in no uncertain terms. Whether it be slow fire at 50 yards or timed or rapid fire at 25 yards, Blankenship has few peers when it comes to consistently high scores with the big gun.

The NRA, of which Sergeant Blankenship is a life member, recommends that before anyone begins firing the 45 automatic, he first makes sure that he has an accurate gun. The as-issued service pistol is peculiar — one will shoot relatively tight groups, while another will deliver groups you can't cover with a beach umbrella. This surprising difference between pistols is due to the fit of the barrel and slide, the slide and receiver, and other less important parts of the gun.

Contrary to popular notion, it is not necessary to purchase a new 45 automatic in order to possess a good gun. Buy a used one and have it "accrued" by a competent gunsmith who specializes in such work. If the barrel is not in absolutely perfect condition, order a brand new barrel immediately, specifying national match grade (cost: about $12).

Rare indeed is the 45 pistol which does not need the trigger pull lightened or smoothed up somewhat. The NRA is of the opinion that a good trigger pull is a must for accurate shooting. An expert attempting to prove the trigger pull on the 45 automatic. Very few persons, including many gunsmiths, know much about the complicated mechanism which is a part of the trigger on the service pistol.

By far the best type of sights for the 45 automatic are the regular Partridge, or square notch type, rear sight — either adjustable or fixed — and the ramp-type, non-adjustable Partridge front sight.

The secret of successfully shooting the 45 automatic lies in the ability of the firer to grasp the gun in points the same manner each time. Not only must the identical grip be taken, but the pressure applied by the shooter's hand must be absolutely constant from shot to shot.

In gripping the service pistol a very strong pressure must be maintained, otherwise it will twist out of your hand like a wounded eel. A grip like the one normally used with the 22 or 38 just won't do — especially when shooting timed or rapid fire.

The NRA points out that far more "dry practice" is necessary with the 45 automatic than with any other gun. Because of the short distance between sights and the short barrel, the pistol must be held perfectly for each shot for a good score.

Just squeeze the trigger, and squeeze some more, and some more — all the while concentrating on the front sight being in the proper place.

Ideally, the gun should fire without your knowing it. When this happens, you are on your way to becoming a Blankenship — more or less.

Capt. John Ludlow Leads NHS Squad In Cross Country

Capt. John Ludlow finished first in last Tuesday afternoon's cross country meet, as Coach Ray Ciesinski's Yellowjackets defeated William Penn's harriers 22-33 at Rockford Park.

The victory moved Newark into a second place tie with Mt. Pleasant in the Blue Hen Conference race, with a 6-2 record.

Last Thursday, the Yellowjackets defeated Mt. Pleasant 25-31, with Ludlow leading the Newark runners in finishing second.

Newark Co-Capt. Ricky Stearns took second behind Ludlow against William Penn; Mike Goeller copped third place, and Wayne Hurd, ninth, for the Yellowjackets.

Against the Green Knights on Thursday, Goeller, Stearns, and Bill Kremer finished in that order behind Ludlow.

Folk, Hunt Play For Coach Flynn's Blue Chick Squad

With Newark High School's Harvey Folk as a halfback, and Christiana High's Doug Hunt as an end, Coach Jimmy Flynn's Delaware freshman football squad is scheduled to play Bordentown Prep this Friday on Frazer Field at 4 p.m.

Last Friday, the Blue Chicks dropped a 31-19 decision to the Lafayette frosh at Easton, Pa.

Halfback Art Smith romped for an 89-yard touchdown to give the Blue Chicks an early lead, but the Leopards Yearlings held a 24-7 advantage at the end of the third period.

In the final quarter, Guard Paul Camp recovered a fumble in the Lafayette end zone for a Delaware touchdown, and the Chicks scored another on a pass from Quarterback Frank Roebeling to Halfback Ed Mason, who lateraled to Fullback John Miller for a 30-yard counter.

OFF AND RUNNING by John I. Day "To The Winner..."?

An old adage applicable in more fields than Thoroughbred racing is that "to the winner belongs the spoils." However, this is an axiom to which the 6-year-old gelding Garwol might be excused for lifting a quizzical equine eyebrow.

Bred by John W. Hannes and Leslie Combs II, Garwol by My Babu — Piece, was bought by Louis B. Wolfson at the 1959 Keeneland Spring Sales on a bid of $32,000. Wolfson named the colt for his son Gary, Garwol won but two of eighteen starts at two but one of these was the Pimlico Futurity, and in the money portions of other stakes brought his earnings last year to $148,125. Garwol did not win another stakes race until this June in Augustus Nassau County Handicap. In the interim, however, he was decidedly better than an empty stall. In 73 races between his stakes victories he won only eight but was placed in 15 added-money events and piled up $201,875. Last year, as a 5-year-old, Garwol won the post 17 times and failed to win but he did add $51,365 to the plus side of the ledger. So, while Garwol is not too well represented in the Harbort View trophy room he's popular in the accounting department.

Dave Nelson Forecasts Same Hen Lineup For Lehigh Despite 34-0 Villanova Loss

Delaware Coach Dave Nelson doesn't foresee any lineup changes for this week's game with Lehigh despite the 34-0 shelling by Villanova, the worst defeat ever for a Nelson-coached Delaware team.

"They are a good team and they had a good day," Nelson says. "We didn't play well, but we are still going with our best football players and they are the boys who have been playing."

The loss dropped the Blue Hens to ninth in the weekly balloting for the Lambert Cup and practically out of sight nationally, but they still have a chance to retain at least part of the Middle Atlantic Conference title.

"We are still in the picture for the league title," Nelson notes. "If Temple beats Gettysburg, then we still have a chance."

Gettysburg is leading the conference with a 4-0 record, but the Bulldogs must play Lafayette and Temple. Delaware has league contests remaining with Lehigh, Temple and Bucknell.

Temple collected all but two first place votes and kept its lead in the race for the Lambert Cup after clobbering winless Lafayette 38-18 last Saturday.

Bucknell is ranked second following its 37-0 win over Kines Point. The Lehigh football team that has hosted Delaware in Bethlehem, Pa., this Saturday is vastly improved over the Engineers of last year.

That's the word from Jimmy Flynn, Blue Hen freshman coach, who scouted the winless Engineers against Gettysburg and Rutgers.

"This is a much better team than the one we played last year," Flynn

Kelley, Strengari, Vance, Roberts Score Jayvee TD's

Behind 13-7 at the half, with William Penn's junior varsity scoring the first points of the season against them, Coach Bill Santo's Yellowjacket Jayvees rallied with three big touchdowns after intermission to defeat their New Castle hosts 27-13 last Monday afternoon.

It was the fourth victory of an undefeated season for the Junior Jays.

Halfback Dick Kelley—and there is an extra "e" in Kelley—scored the first touchdown for Santo's Jayvees with a 22-yard sprint into the end zone, and Quarterback Lou Strengari tallied the extra point on a quarterback sneak, aided and abetted by Big Mike Turner at center.

Strengari tied the score in the third period with a five-yard sneak in the lee of Turner, but Santo's squad on top of a 14-13 count with another extra point in the same fashion.

In the fourth period, Fullback Bobby Vance drove in for a touchdown from the 15-yard line of William Penn, and Strengari passed to End Sammy Jackson for the conversion.

Quarterback Mike Roberts scored the final touchdown for the Newark junior varsity on a 32-yard sprint in the final minutes of the game.

Santo's squad entertains Brandywine's junior Bulldogs on the Newark field next Monday afternoon at 3:30.

Playing for Santo's Jayvees last Monday were Orville Wright, Jackson, Richard Zedney, and Dick Kelley, Strengari, Vance, Roberts, Jim Nichols, and Roger Hermon.

Tackles: John Ingold, Billy Richards, Jim Clark, and Bill Babb, guards: Mike Turner, Bob Curran, and Kenny Woodward, centers: Strengari, Roberts, and Mark Brown.

Quarterbacks: Kelley, Jim McDonald, and George Kearney, halfbacks: Vance and Howard Duff, fullbacks.

VanGrofski Leads Hens In Offense After Four Games

Quarterback Tom VanGrofski leads the Delaware offense after four games.

The 190-pound junior from Bloomfield, N.J., picked up 135 yards in the Blue Hens' 34-0 loss to Villanova last week to move in to second place behind Bill Hopkins.

VanGrofski completed 14 of 27 passes for 118 yards and carried 13 times for 17 yards to give him 544 yards in total offense for the season.

The 14 completions gave VanGrofski a total of 44 for the campaign, and moved him into a strong position to challenge Don Miller's 1952 Delaware season record of 62.

VanGrofski already has broken one of Miller's records, completing 15 passes against Gettysburg to snap Miller's one-game record of 14 set in 1953.

Hopkins, a 195-pound speed merchant from Dover, N.J., gained 62 yards in 20 carries against the highly-ranked Wildcats. He has rushed for 516 yards in four games for an average of 129 yards.

His 516 yards in 79 attempts—an average of 6.5 yards — keeps him within striking distance of Jack Turner's 1953 Delaware season rushing record of 874 yards.

Hopkins must average 71.6 yards per game as the Blue Hens' final six contests to the Turner's mark.

Senior End Wes Flute finished down five passes against the Wildcats and has 18 receptions for 200 yards and two touchdowns.

The 197-pounder, who set a game record with eight catches against Hofstra, is threatening Jimmy Thomas' 1949 season record of 30.

Coach Mosteller's Varsity Scores Field Hockey Win

Susan Hawthorne and Deborah Burke scored goals for Coach Lynne Mosteller's varsity field hockey team, as Newark tied Sanford 2-2 on Oct. 8.

Jody Roberts and Erica Wilson scored as the Newark Jayvees defeated the Sanford juniors 2-0.

Last week, Kathy Johnson scored the lone goal as Newark's varsity defeated Middletown 1-0, and Jayvee play, Erica Wilson tallied all of Newark's points in a 3-1 win.

Six Teams To Play Golf In NCC Sunday Tourney

Six teams will compete in the Newark Country Club's second annual Delaware Invitational Golf Team Championships this Sunday, with golfers from Hercules, DuPont, Cavaliers, Brandywine, Concord and Newark.

A team trophy will be awarded, along with four individual trophies for the two low net and low gross scores.

Clayt Adolph Wins Trip To Pebble Beach Pro-Am

Clayton J. Adolph—employed at the DuPont Louvers Building near Newark—won a trip to Pebble Beach, Calif., as a spectator for the Pro-Am Golf Tournament.

The DuPont Country Club golfer won the Class B Division of the Beat Bing Golf Tournament at Tucson, Ariz., last Saturday, firing net scores of 71-69-140, to edge Bob O'Brien of Tucuma, Wash., by three strokes.

Adolph had eight pars.

Lanes last week, with a 15-3 record. The team includes Frank Dunn with a 194 average; Ernie Grant, 191; and Bon Conn, Vince Kotalik, and Bernie Sewell, all with 188 averages.

Bill Horney's Vikings Hold Brandywine Scoreless For Three Periods, Lose 7-0

Coach Bill Horney's winless Vikings held undefeated and Blue Hen Conference-leading Brandywine scoreless for three periods last Saturday, before bowing to the Bulldogs who managed to score a lone touchdown and extra point in the final quarter for a 7-0 win.

Johnny Lipscomb dove off-tackle for two-yards and the Brandywine touchdown after Horney's Vikings had stopped John Modica's Bulldogs for three full periods of play.

Brandywine blocked a punt and recovered the ball on Newark's 20-yard line to set up the winning touchdown.

Christiana plays DeLaWare at 1:30 this Saturday afternoon on the Newark High School field — site for all of the Viking "home" games.

"We can't play at home," Coach Horney said with some sorrow. "The rocks and pebbles are working their way up through the new turf, and we need some sodding."

Playing for the Vikings at Brandywine last Saturday in the near upset were Roger Hunt, Pete Bazell, Greg Kracher, John Belcher, and Don Straughn, ends; Steve Horn, Jim "Dub" Hackney, and Jake Cornell at guards, and Mel Potter, center.
