SCHEDULE OF CLASSES CHANGED

TO BEGIN AT 8.15, CLOSE AT 4.05—HOPE TO SECURE TRAIN SERVICE

At a recent meeting of the faculty it was found necessary to rearrange the schedule of classes for next year.

It has long been felt that too much valuable time was lost in the mornings, entailing a lengthy afternoon's work in order to make room for all the classes. Again, the three periods of drill, coming as they did, the fourth hour on Thursday, Friday and Saturday materially affected a regular alternating arrangement of those periods with Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday.

The new system, as worked out very carefully by Prof. M. G. Smith at the direction of the faculty, now provides for seven successive periods, four in the morning and three in the afternoon.

This article aims to present to the student body simply the outstanding features of the new program, details of which will be announced next year.

The morning recitations will begin at 8.15. There will be an intermission of ten minutes between classes with the exception of the time elapsing between the second and third periods in the morning which will be fifteen minutes long. This time will be devoted to chapel exercises. Dismissal at the end of the fourth period will be at 12.10. The afternoon classes will begin at 1.15 and close at 4.05. Military exercises will take place on Monday, Wednesday and Friday at 4.05. This arrangement permits of two vacant periods at 4.05 on Tuesday and Thursday for every student, thus enabling the student body to hold their meeting at a convenient time for everyone.

The faculty has not overlooked the importance of Athletics in making the change in the schedule as it was agreed that in cases where the presence of those who wished to take part in various exercises, under the supervision of the Athletic director and coach, is desired on the Athletic field they shall be excused by the commandant of Cadets from military duty at the request of the coach.

Now, possibly the commuters will wonder where they come in. True, on the surface it seems an inconvenience but there need be no cause for alarm. Both of our railroads have extended every courtesy to Delaware College in the past—indeed they seem to have taken a lively interest in her welfare. Some recall when Dr. Harter was President that the B. & O. ran a "shuttle" train from Wilmington to accommodate commuters and who will say that the number of such students has not increased manifold since that time. It is the hope of the persons interested in arranging the new schedule that the railroads, in view of past and present patronage and cordial feeling between College and railroads that they may find it convenient to arrange a satisfactory train for students.

Delaware is simply keeping in line with similar actions of other colleges and there can be no doubt but that the proposed system will alleviate all defects in past schedules.

First Graduate Of The Women's College

After a lapse of 30 years, Miss Rebecca Churchman of Elsmere has completed her education at the Women's College, affiliated with Delaware College, and the trustees at their meeting on Tuesday, June 13, will confer on her the degree of Bachelor of Science in Education.

For a few years between 1870 and 1885, Delaware College was co-educational. About that year the trustees decided to make it a college for men only, and no more women were admitted. Miss Churchman had two years of the usual four-year course when this action was taken by the trustees, and it prevented her from concluding the courses and receiving her degree. For some years she taught school and had been principal of the school at Elsmere for several years when the Women's College was established two years ago.

She is now completing two years of work and will be given credit for the two years that she spent at Delaware when it was a co-educational institution. 30 years ago and will be recommended to the trustees for the degree. Miss Churchman will have the honor of being the first student to receive a degree from the Women's College and will be the first graduate of that institution.

Informal exercises were held at the Women's College Saturday night in honor of Miss Churchman, Mrs. Alfred D. Warner of Wilmington, Chairman of the Advisory Council of the Women's College, presiding. It was attended by most of the faculty members of the two colleges and some invited guests. It was announced that Miss Margaret Postles of Smyrna, Miss Gene Underhill of Plainfield, N. J., and Miss Miriam Dennis of Preston, Md., having completed their two years courses in Home Economics, will be recommended to the trustees for certificates.

Miss Churchman, who expects to resume her profession of teaching, read an interesting paper on "The School for the Child." Dr. Samuel C. Mitchell, president of Delaware College, made a few remarks and Dr. Charles A. Wagner, State Commissioner of education, spoke on ways and means of increasing the salaries of teachers in the State and thereby improving the standard of teaching. At the conclusion of the exercises an informal reception was held by Miss Churchman, Dean Robinson, Dr. Mitchell and Dr. Wagner.

Delaware Scholarship Awarded

The Robert Bayne Wheeler scholarship has been awarded by Mrs. Wheeler for the coming year to Robert D. Wheeler, second, of Wilmington, who will be a member of the Junior class. The holder of the scholarship this year has been J. P. Maxwell, of Wilmington, who has made an excellent record as a student. The scholarship was founded in June 1915, and consists of $2,500, the interest of which is awarded annually to a student of marked promise.

RELIGIOUS MEETINGS AT DELAWARE

To Be Held In Y. M. C. A. Next Year

A series of twelve Sunday afternoon meetings for the discussion of modern religious problems is to be held next year in Purnell Hall, the Delaware College Y. M. C. A. Mr. Frederick J. Pohl, instructor in English has arranged the program and has secured the co-operation of several members of the faculty.

The purpose of the meetings, according to Mr. Pohl, is to enable the students of Delaware College to gain religious inspiration from men who believe that complete education means something more than the development of the body and the training of the intellect. Man is a spirit possessing a body and a mind. Any education which does not take cognizance of this fact is a partial failure.

A belief in the will-building power of a sane and manly religion is back of the movement to develop the religious activities of the Delaware College Y. M. C. A. The meetings will be entirely free from any suggestion of denominationalism, and will not give opportunity for a lecture or sermon by the leader in charge, but will allow for a free discussion of a previously announced subject by all students present.

Mr. Pohl has been assisted in this work by Mr. James S. Hastings, '17, Prof. C. A. Short, and Dr. K. R. Greenfield.

The tentative program giving dates, names of leaders, and subjects, is as follows:

"Dandy Dick" Postponed

The Agricultural Club of Delaware College found it necessary to postpone the production of Pinero's "Dandy Dick" until early in the autumn. Rather than fail to do justice to this comedy, which is probably the best one ever attempted here, the cast prefers to wait until they will have more time for perfecting their interpretation of it.

The last two months have been extraordinarily busy ones for everyone in the community. Although the members of the cast and their excellent coach, Mrs. Tyson, have worked faithfully, they have found that a sufficient amount of time has not been available.

Money will be refunded to all

Round-up Meeting Of

The Engineers' Society

On Tuesday evening May 23, the Engineers had their big Round up meeting in Room 2. Mr. Harry Maier '01 of the Street and Sewer department of Wilmington, gave an interesting description of sand used in paving work. He showed a number of samples of the sand after it had passed thru different size filters, and showed that in nine cases out of ten the failure of an asphalt pavement was due to the use of poor sand. The room was filled with interested students and professors. After the talk a "collation" was served, consisting of "Powell's Ice Cream" and cakes. The whole evening proved how important the Society is to engineering students.

Josiah Marvel, Esq.,

Addresses Y. M. C. A.

On Sunday morning, June 11, the Young Men's Christian Association and friends of the college had the pleasure of hearing an address by Josiah Marvel, Esquire. Mr. Marvel has the honor of being the first layman to deliver this annual address.

Under the subject, "Preparedness for Manhood," Mr. Marvel emphasized the necessity of having a purpose. Although we must choose our own purpose, in general it should be to do some one good thing well. In carrying out this idea we will meet many difficulties, but, after overcoming the first, the others will be much easier to pass.

In conclusion Mr. Marvel spoke of the necessity of being a Christian. Since the Christian religion is the foundation of civilization and has been proved to be good for all, then it is good for each and everyone. For this reason we should be as familiar with the Bible as with our text books.

JUNE 13, 1916

1915-1916 The Year of Advancement

The events which will bring to an end in a fitting manner the most remarkable year in Delaware's history are now being witnessed. The advancement which our college has made this year has not been in any one or two directions; nor again has it been in any one of the departments. The events which have occurred are of such significance that one cannot describe, and can scarcely conceive, the wonderful strides which have been made toward placing Delaware among the most adequately equipped as well as the most efficient institutions in this section of the country.

Although everyone is, to some extent, aware of the more recent things that have happened we believe it will do no harm to review in a general way the all around development which has and still is taking place. It may be mentioned in regard to the plans for buildings and equipment that work on Wolf Hall has been in progress several weeks. In this building will be the various laboratories equipped after the most modern methods. Thru the generosity of one of the trustees of the college Purnell Hall has been made possible. It might also be stated that the work of remodeling the "Dorms" has also started.

Though the students have been unable to assist in the work mentioned above it is needless to say that they have not been idle. To prove this statement it is only necessary to recall that the inauguration of student government, the establishment of the honor system, and the organization of the Arts and Science Club, the Engineering Society, the Dramatic Club, and the Mandolin Club are all the result of the initiative of the student body.

An event which brought the college before the eyes of all the adjoining sections of country occurred this spring. This event, which was the Shakspearean Festival, is considered the most spectacular affair which has ever been staged at Delaware.

We make this brief statement of these most prominent events in order that all will pause long enough to grasp the meaning of such an epoch making year. And may every alumnus, undergraduate, and friend of the college be inspired to do something, which will bring greater honor to the institution.

Contributed

"All 1916 men back to Delaware for a 'rousing' reunion at commencement five years hence." Would this not be a good slogan for the Seniors to adopt?

The holding of class reunions at intervals of four or five years after graduation will do more to keep the Alumni interested in Delaware than any plan now in operation by the general Alumni Association. It is needless to dwell upon the necessity of having our active Alumni organization. It is likewise needless to dwell upon the difficulty of arousing and holding the interest of the Alumni in the activities of the college. But, unless there is some practical system of periodic class reunions, chain letters, circulating news bulletins, or the like definitely agreed upon by each class before graduation, it probably always will be as difficult as at present to induce an alumnus of over five years standing to attend general Alumni reunions or to contribute morally or financially toward the advancement of Delaware. Usually, such an alumnus is acquainted with none of the undergraduates and but few of the Faculty; he is not familiar with the new plans and policies of the college; and in some cases, the old buildings about which his memories of the college have been formed are removed or remodeled. Ordinarily, there is little to induce such an alumnus to visit his Alma Mater. However, if this same Alumnus knew that all his classmates were making an effort to attend a class reunion at the time of general Alumni reunion he would make ten times the effort to be present that he otherwise would. He would need little urging to embrace the opportunity to renew acquaintanceships with men with whom he had spent the four happiest years of his life. If every class should adopt such a system, within a comparatively short time, there would be three or four class reunions each commencement. Thus, the total attendance of alumni at commencement would be increased and the Alumni interested in Delaware would be greatly stimulated.

The writer has been told by graduates of the University of Minnesota, University of Missouri, University of Wyoming, Michigan Agricultural College, Kansas A. & M. College, South Carolina A. & M. College, Iowa State College, and Simpson College (Iowa) that similar systems have proved effective at their institutions. Why not give it a trial at Delaware?

W. C. D. Notes

On going down to dinner on Friday evening the students of the Women's College stood amazed upon beholding the dining room bedecked with roses and lighted by the soft glow of candles. Whispers ran thru the crowd that Miss Rich, Professor of Education was sixteen years of age. As the dessert was served a huge birthday cake was borne solemnly toward the Faculty table. None but the wise partook of this goodly repast. The foolish sat by and gazed but felt contented thereby when huge trays of strawberry ice cream appeared.

Many letters have been sent home special delivery, demanding money and then some more since the commencement invitations and the Chemistry Lab. breakage bills have been sent out.

The members of the Women's College take pleasure to note the recent return of Mr. James H. Salevan from his Senior vacation.

Miss Pearl Wilson entertained at her home in Wilmington the members of the Sophomore Class in Residence Hall last Saturday afternoon.

The earlier part of the afternoon was spent in witnessing the Preparedness Parade, the latter in enjoying a delightful picnic supper served on the lawn.

On Monday, June 12, the graduating class of the Rehoboth Beach High School en route to Washington, stopped off at Newark and were the guests of the Women's College for luncheon.

It is a matter of gratification that the fame of our College has spread about to the extent that inquiries and requests for catalogues were received this week from El Paso, Texas, and from Albuquerque, New Mexico.

Attractive handbooks of information for students have been issued by the college covering subjects relative to every phase of College life.

Whence come those sounds of anguish,
Those screams that pierce the air,
Was Teddy nominated?
Did Congress war declare?

Not so, but in the Rest Room
A pushing, jostling crew,
With-auctioneer, Miss Churchman,
Conduct a grand vendue.

A pile of unclaimed merchandise,
A motley whole year's hoard,
In this dramatic fashion,
Must now pay up its board.

And bargains! just ask Peggy Whose voice drowned out the rest,
And Ruth whose center rushes
Obtained for her the best.

Yes, this terrific conflict
Convinced us "war is," well,
The only thing that saved us,
Was that everlasting bell!

COLLEGE ATHLETIC YEAR CLOSES

Financial Report Given
Reports submitted at the final meeting of the Delaware College Athletic Council for the college year just closing last Thursday night showed that all sports were conducted at a financial loss except football. This, however, is the experience of most all colleges. Members of the council are fairly well pleased with the financial showing as a whole. This was the last meeting of the present members, as the alumni, faculty, and student body, the three organizations represented on the council will elect new members before the opening of college next September.

At the suggestion of Coach William J. McAvoy, the council decided to engage C. E. Keyes as assistant coach for both football and track next year. Mr. Keyes, who is a graduate of Lehigh University is taking some special work at Delaware and will return next year. He had charge of the track men this year and both Coach McAvoy and members of the council were much pleased with his work.

The following track men were awarded their "D" for track work this year: Steele, Crockett, Marshall, Craig, Fitzpatrick, Hutton, Alexander, Wilson, Catts, Bratton, Marston, Loose and Manager Smith. The following were awarded gold medals for breaking Delaware College records: Fitzpatrick lowered the half mile run to 2.05 3-4; Alexander, established new broad jump record, 20.4 1-5; Hutton, pole-vault, 10 feet; Loose, discus, 102.6

The following were awarded the "Del" for track: Taylor Wise Gentieu, Smart and Meyers. Class numerals were awarded as follows for track: 1917, J. Hastings, Smart, Steele, J. Heinel, Marshall, A. G. Heinel, and Fidance; 1918, H. Alexander, Taylor, Bratton, and Hutton; 1919, Marston, Wise, Craig, Wilson, Tyson, Fitzpatrick, O'Toole, M. Plam, Weldin and Lindsay.

The baseball and tennis seasons have not closed and letters for these sports will be awarded next fall.

Delaware has an unusually hard football schedule for next fall which is as follows. October 14, Western Maryland at Newark; October 21 Haverford at Newark; October 28, Stevens at Hoboken; November 4, Dickinson at Carlisle; November 11, St. John's at Newark; November 18, Galladey at Newark and Thanksgiving Day, Mt. St. Mary's at Newark.
