

Red Cross Bloodmobile Visits Delaware Campus Jan. 16

Blood Donors Needed Urgently; Volunteer January 11, 14, & 15

Members of the student body will be given the opportunity to show their patriotism when the Red Cross Bloodmobile sets up its equipment in Carpenter Field House on Wednesday, January 16, Milt Roberts, Coordinator of Student Affairs, announced in a special interview. The mobile unit can accommodate a maximum of 200 donors, he said, and it is fully hoped that many students will volunteer. "The need," noted Mr. Roberts, "is obvious, and the Bloodmobile is more likely to return in March if the response is good."

This campus Blood Drive is sponsored by the I.F.C. and planned through Milt Roberts' office. Members of the committee have distributed fliers, pledge cards, instruction sheets and permission slips to the 1500 student mail boxes. They have also placed posters on all bulletin boards and put publicity notices in the campus calendar.

Students desiring to be blood donors may sign for their appointments on January 11, 14 and 15. The registration stand in the library basement will be manned by two Red Cross girls and several I.F.C. members. This will be the only opportunity for students to give blood at the present time, since the Bloodmobile is "booked solid" until some time in March.

In order for a prospective donor to qualify as an acceptable volunteer, he must follow several simple directions. First, he must (if under 21) secure the written consent of his nearest relative (i.e. parent, guardian, husband or wife) on the permission slip supplied with the flier. Second, he must eat his last regular meal no later than four hours before the time of his appointment. In the four hour pre-donation period the volunteer must avoid most fatty foods. However, he may eat such things as fruits and juices, crackers, ham, dry toast, black coffee or tea, etc. More detailed information is given on the General Donor Requirements instruction sheet, also included with the flier.

There is no limit on donations as to sex or race. In addition, anyone between the ages of 18 and 39 is welcome to participate in the program. Help make our Campus Blood Drive a success. Remember your blood may save the life of a soldier in Korea!

Parent Conference Set For Jan. 19th

President John A. Perkins, on behalf of the university, has invited the parents and guardians of freshmen students to attend the First Annual Parent's Conference on January 19.

The reason for arranging this conference is to provide parents and faculty the opportunity to know one another and to discuss the programs of the freshmen students.

President Perkins will speak at the opening session in Mitchell Hall immediately following the morning registration. Parents and faculty members will then reassemble for group discussions of the student program. The outcome of these group discussions will be reviewed and summarized at a luncheon in Kent dining hall.

After lunch the parents may continue their discussion in private or in small group meetings with the faculty members.

Two Noted Dancers Perform Here On Mitchell Hall Stage

The Cultural Relations Committee, in cooperation with the Department of Health, Physical Education, and Athletics, is presenting a program featuring two noted modern dance artists, January 16 in Mitchell Hall at 8:15 p.m. There will be no charge for admission and the public is cordially invited.

Emily Frankel and Mark Ryder have been acclaimed as the most gifted and engaging duo among America's young dancers. In their extraordinary approach to choreography and theatrical presentation, they bring to the public a brilliant combination of drama and dance.

Miss Frankel, formerly a soloist with the Charles Weidman Dance Theatre and major television networks, is the youngest and one of the most rapidly rising among the new generation of dance choreographers. Mr. Ryder, a prominent member of Martha Graham's company, brings much directness and dramatic imagination to the dance. He is a combat veteran of World War II with five battle stars, along with being a great artist, and

Tau Beta Pi Honors Dorothy Walsh at Banquet Tuesday

Dorothy E. Walsh, electrical engineer, will be the guest of honor at a banquet given by Tau Beta Pi, honorary engineering fraternity, next Tuesday night, January 15.

Upon her graduation this February, Miss Walsh will receive an honorary pin in recognition of her outstanding ability in the field of electrical engineering. She is the first woman to be presented with this honor since the origin of Tau Beta Pi on this campus.

This field is limited almost entirely to men. Only a few (slightly over 100) American women can claim this distinction.

Miss Walsh stated her reasons for selecting this profession were, "On the basis of an aptitude test which said I was fitted for the music world, I entered the engineering field. Actually, it was probably a matter of chance."

At present, she is the house mother of the Knoll and is Secretary of A. I. E. E.—a position which she has held for the past two years. In addition, she has been a member of the Dean's List every term of her 3½ years.

Her future plans include a position in the laboratory of the Bell Telephone Co. of New Jersey. Certainly a great deal of credit is due this hard-working young lady who has devoted time and effort toward furthering her ambitions.

Dr. Donald O. Hebb, Visiting Scholar, Speaks To Students

Dr. D. O. Hebb, chairman of the department of psychology at McGill University, Montreal, Canada, will be on campus today and tomorrow as a visiting scholar, sponsored by the Cultural Activities Committee.

Dr. Hebb, author of a recently published book entitled "Organization of Behavior," will speak in the lounge of Old College at 10 o'clock this morning on "The Psychology of Hocus-Pocus." At 3 o'clock this afternoon, also in Old College lounge, he will discuss "Phylogenesis of Emotion."

Tomorrow morning he will be available in Recitation Hall for informal conferences. All students and interested persons are invited to attend Dr. Hebb's talks. Students of biology, in addition to psychology students, will be especially interested, as Dr. Hebb is considered an expert in neuro-psychology.

Campus Chest Drive Seeks $1700 In Week-Long Fund Campaign

Omicron Delta Kappa Organizes Project

By DON KIDDON

A new venture in campus charity campaigns began early this week—the Campus Chest Drive. Sponsored jointly by the Student Government Association and Omicron Delta Kappa, the men's honorary leadership society, the drive is intended to provide funds for seven different charitable associations. A goal of $1700 has been set.

The campaign formally began on Tuesday with door-to-door canvassing of the men's and women's dormitories, and fraternity houses by student representatives chosen from each living group. To provide a place for donations from non-residents and faculty, a box has been placed in the basement of the library in the position often occupied by ticket sellers.

The goal of $1700 was set anticipating an average donation from all students of one dollar per person. The sponsors of the campaign are hoping that (1) everyone will contribute, and (2) everyone will contribute at least one dollar, so that no one will have to contribute more than his share.

7 Charities Benefit

The seven charitable organizations who will benefit from the receipts of the drive are the World Student Service Fund, the Red Cross, the Cancer Society, the Heart Society, the Tuberculosis organization, the Infantile Paralysis organization, and the Red Feather charities. The Red Feather contributions will be in turn divided among the many community charities that benefit from this central collection fund.

Joe Lank, president of O.D.K., is chairman of the campaign, assisted by all the members of the society. Dick Foster and Bill Nicoll were in charge of the poster construction.

The climax of the week-long campaign will be a record dance held after the Ursinus basketball game in Carpenter Field House on Saturday night. This dance will be sponsored jointly by O.D.K. and the Gold Key Society, the athletic managers' association. Orton Shupp III, of the Gold Key, is managing the dance. No admission will be charged, but donations will be invited for the Campus Chest Drive.

Students Asked to Contribute

ODK Sponsors Informal Dance

The Ursinus basketball game this Saturday night will be followed by an informal record dance sponsored jointly by Omicron Delta Kappa, the men's leadership society, and the Gold Key Society, the athletic managers' association.

No admission will be charged to the affair, but donations will be accepted for the Campus Chest Drive. Joe Lank, president of O. D. K. and chairman of the drive, has expressed the hope that collections from the dance will climax the week-long campaign and put the receipts above the $1700 goal.

The dance will begin immediately following the varsity contest and is open to the public, couples and stags alike. It will be the first of these dances for the current basketball season and is expected to be as successful as the series of similar dances held last year.

6th Annual Military Ball Marks Presentation of Queen Tonight

Door Prizes, Grand March are on Agenda

This evening the Cadet Regiment of the University will present its sixth annual Military Ball in Carpenter Field House to the music of the Second Army Orchestra.

The affair will extend from eight until midnight, and will be highlighted by a Grand March and presentation of the Queen of the Ball immediately before intermission. During intermission, the Delaware Rifles will give a marching exhibition.

The Ball is being managed jointly by the Delaware Rifles and the Scabbard and Blade Society. Paul Catts, captain of the Rifles, and Nelson Wilcox, head of the Scabbard and Blade, are co-chairmen.

Door prizes will be awarded to several fortunate couples during the evening. Tickets for the ball have been sold through the members of the advanced course in the R.O.T.C. program. Decorations are being handled by a committee headed by Jack Ralby.

There are 151 men enrolled in the junior and senior courses of the R.O.T.C., and about 480 freshmen and sophomores.

The success of the Military Ball has grown steadily during its six-year life and was held last year with great success in the Women's Gym. It was highlighted by the selection of Miss Shirley Cannon (now Mrs. Dean Toda, wife of Lt. Dean Toda) as Queen of the Ball.

Chaperones for this year's ball will be Lieutenant Colonel & Mrs. C. Dombrowski, Major & Mrs. J. E. Arthur, Jr., Major & Mrs. G. K. Anderson, Captain & Mrs. R. B. Elliott, and Captain & Mrs. S. A. Grayson.

PARKING

The Military Department requests all car owners from the training house, and nearby fraternities to leave their cars outside the (Carpenter Field House) parking lot today, January 11. An assemblage of special guests is expected. Since some of these guests will be late arrivals, convenient parking will be necessary for them.

No one will be admitted to the inner parking lot without a pass or proper identification. Other parking facilities for the Military Ball will be in Old College Parking Lot and the lot across the railroad tracks (Watch out for the bump).

Your cooperation will be appreciated by the Military Ball Parking Committee.

Mayer, Presnell, Krusberg Shine As Swimmers Romp to 50-32 Win

Once again the Delaware Mermen forged on to swamp its opponent, Franklin and Marshall, by a score of 50-32. This makes the third triumph out of three meets for the Taylor pool frogmen. The meet, which saw two more pool records stricken from the boards, was held last Saturday, January 5.

The first record to be wiped from the slate was the 220-yard free style. The new mark was hung up by last year's frosh sensation, Lorin Krusberg. Lorin knocked off the 220 in 2:21.5.

The second time to be ripped off the records was in the 150-yard individual medley. Art Mayer, the most promising backstroke ever to come out of Delaware, put up the new time at 1:45.

Lorin Krusberg also finished far ahead of the field in the 440-yard free style and Art Mayer finished up the 200-yard backstroke well ahead of his competition.

Charlie Presnell, who has increased the difficulty of his dives to 2.1 degrees or over since last season, virtually flew away with the diving event.

The summaries:

300-yard medley — Delaware (Presnell, McDaniel, Ester) 2:21.5.
220-yard free style — 1, Krusberg, D; 2, High, F&M; 3, Keogh, D; 2:21.5.
50-yard free style — 1, tie between Goodley, D; Brother, F&M; 2, Dorman, F&M; 24.8.
150-yard individual medley — 1, Mayer, D; 2, Dunn, F&M; 1:45.
Diving — 1, Presnell, D; 2, Freeman, F&M; 3, Gilbertson, F&M.
100-yard free style — 1, High, F&M; 2, Ester, D; 3, Goodley, D; 55.5.
200-yard back stroke — 1, Mayer, D; 2, Ognor, 4; 3, Dunn, F&M; 2:26.
200-yard breast stroke — 1, Knoll, F&M; 2, Demario, D; 3, Forman, F&M; 2:26.
440-yard free style — 1, Krusberg, D; 2, Brothers, F&M; 3, Solosky, F&M; 5:21.8.
400-yard free style — 1, Delavie (Keogh, Goodley, Mayer, Ester); 3:51.3.

Chick'n Chat

Here we are back once more at the usual routine of work and play. Sometimes I wonder which is more strenuous, but then that is another matter.

First of all, I should like to call your attention to the basketball article in this section written by the manager, Nancy Goynes. She and Mary Lou Pinder, newly appointed assistant manager, are planning a really bang-up tournament. All they need is your support. How about it?

Would you like to earn some extra money? Would you like to become a rated official for hockey or basketball, or both? Would you be interested in a club or class which would provide actual instruction and experience in officiating?

Need for Officials

There has long been a need for good sports officials throughout the schools of Delaware and other states. The Delaware Board of Women's Officials has done a lot in the past few years to help fill this need here, but there is still a long way to go.

You have probably noticed that most of the officiating for W. A. A. is done by the P. E. major stu-

3 Lettermen Return As Track Practice Starts For Spring

All men interested in coming out for the 1952 track team are invited and urged to report at once to Coach Steers or Mr. Bernauer. Practice sessions are held daily, Monday through Friday from 4 to 5:45 p.m. in the hangar.

There are three letter winners back from the 1951 team—Bill Dick in the discus and javelin; Bill Evans in the 440 and 220 and Bill Fisher in the broad jump. Tom Baylis, last year's captain elect, has left school to join the Coast Guard. All positions are wide open. It is expected that the point winners from last year's team, aided by a group of capable freshmen, will develop to enable Delaware to field a good team in this Olympic year.

An attractive indoor schedule has been arranged in preparation for a rugged outdoor season starting on April 12 with the University of Pittsburgh here. AAU meets in the Baltimore Armory will be held on February 2 and 6. These affairs leave little time for preparation since AAU registration and entries must be completed by January 25. Practice meets will be held in the hangar here as follows:

February 23 — University of Pennsylvania
March 8 — Temple University
March 22 — Albright

There is a possibility of sending a mile relay team to the Carolina Relays (outdoors) at Chapel Hill, N. C., on Saturday, April 5.

The outdoor schedule:

Sat. April 12—Pittsburgh—Home
Wed. April 16—Lehigh—Home
Sat. April 19—Johns Hopkins—Away
Sat. April 26—Penn Relays—Away
Wed. April 30—Swarthmore—Home
Sat. May 3—F & M—Home
Sat. May 10—Muhlenberg—Away
Fri. May 16
Sat. May 17—MACTFA—(Lehigh)—Away
Sat. May 24—Delaware Interscholastics Home

All candidates for the team are required to report to Dr. Drenner at the University Health Service for examination 9 a.m. to 11:30 a.m. daily, Monday through Friday and 2 p.m. to 4:30 p.m. Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday and Friday. The certificates are to be turned in to Coach Steers in the Athletic Office.

dents. This is primarily so because they are anxious to get the experience and because they are easily drafted. However, this does not mean that only majors can be officials.

It has been suggested that some sort of class or club in officiating be started for non-majors who are interested in sports and an officiating rating.

Earn Extra Money

This would mean partial fulfillment of the existing need for good officials and money in the pockets of those who do it.

If you are at all interested in such a program or have any ideas concerning its organization please contact either Miss Waltz or me.

Keep playing your table tennis games. The deadline is coming closer.

Remember your bathing suits for the nights of co-recreation. It is Friday, January 18.

I should like to remind you of the fabulous dance recital to be presented by Emily Frankel and Mark Ryder at Mitchell Hall on Wednesday, January 16. They are an enthusiastic couple with a refreshing program. Hope you can make it.

Crawford Leads Hens To 90-60 Victory

Sparked by rampagin' Ray (Skip) Crawford whose collection of layup, drive-in and push shots resulted in an amazing 31-point total, Coach Fred Emmerson's Blue Hen courtmen removed much of the sting from their disastrous 85-44 LaSalle College defeat on December 29 by downing Swarthmore's quintet with a one-sided 90-60 score in Carpenter Field House last Saturday night. In a contest marred by the slightly over-zealous blare of the referee's whistle in calling what may have been a near record for fouls, the Hens displayed much of the class which has been predicted to land them the Middle Atlantic States Championship this year. They continuously swept the backboards and penetrated Swarthmore's zone defense to run up their highest single game score thus far this season.

Victory over Swarthmore was sweet to Delaware since the Garnet copped the Middle Atlantic title last season by whipping Delaware at Carpenter Field House in a rough and ready game.

While Crawford, Woodbury, N. J.'s gift to the campus, amassed his array of points which now stands as a new Delaware record, dumping in the field goals and connecting on eleven out of twelve tries from the foul line, Captain Bill (Hot) Utt, besides playing a fine floor game, matched eight field goals and three out of five foul shots to be second in Hen scoring with 19, followed by 6'6" Matt Lamkin whose deft exhibition under the boards paid off in 16 points. Highly-touted Joe Carroll of the Garnet fell a little below his lofty 22.6 average over Swarthmore's first five games by racking up 19, tallying nine in the first half and then ten in the second period.

Following Tuesday and Wednesday's away games against Drexel and Penn, the Delaware eagles again will hold forth in the Carpenter Field House Saturday night, meeting Ursinus.

White sinks another one as a Swarthmore man vainly attempts to block him.

Utt blocks an opponent's attempt as White stands ready for action and Crawford races up to the fray.

Joe Lank Receives Football Trophy

Joe Lank was awarded the Taylor Memorial Trophy at the annual Fall Sports Banquet. The Taylor award is presented to the senior member of the Delaware football team who contributes most to the morale of the team. Lank was the first Delawarean to receive this award.

Since entering the University in 1948, Joe has won six varsity letters. The 21 year old senior has lettered three times in football, twice in baseball and once in track. For his outstanding play on defense Joe was nominated for All-East defensive halfback.

As a Blue Hen baseball player last year, Joe achieved a batting average of .311, led the team in runs batted in and had 14 stolen bases to his credit.

Outside of his athletic activities Lank has received many high honors. He was appointed executive officer to the regimental commander of Delaware's R. O. T. C. unit with the rank of lieutenant Colonel. He is treasurer of the S. G. A. and of Kappa Delta Pi Honorary Educational Society and president of Omicron Delta Pi leadership fraternity. He is a member of Sigma Nu, and the Allison Associates.

Joe will be honored again January 16 when the Milford Lions Club will sponsor a dinner in his honor.

The Way

The Ball Bounces

By Neal Robbins

Delaware's swimmers cleaned up in the annual Y.M.C.A. meet held in Wilmington over the Christmas holidays. All but two of the events in the Senior and Unlimited classes and all the special events were won by Hen men, headed by Art Mayer who took firsts in the Leroy Sparks 100-yard backstroke, and the 50-yard backstroke and 100-yard freestyle in the Senior division. Bob Wagner, ineligible this year because of his transfer from Lehigh, took the News Journal 100-yard breaststroke and the Senior 50-yard breaststroke. Lorin Krusberg, Dick Goldberg, Tony Demaro and Jack McDaniel also turned in wins in various events, and Charley Presnell took the Lions Club Class A diving.

The Intramural basketball league is well under way now with hard-fought games being played every night in Carpenter Field House. It's a little late to drag out our old crystal ball, but here's how things are shaping up. Theta Chi, Sigma Nu and Sig Ep have yet to taste defeat and are favored in the frat league. Theta Chi should go all the way with Bob Shockley, Jerry Kehoe, Paul Mueller, Bob Hagerty and Don Miller. Sigma Nu, lead by Jim Money-maker, John Kinter, Bob Challenger, Bill Nicoll and Fred Brown, has a well balanced combine with lots of depth. Sig Ep is striving to repeat last year's championship, and could go all the way with players like Bob Miller, Bill Shockley, Ducky Carmichael, Bill Valler and Monk Evans. The rest of the fraternities have strong teams and may spring some upsets, but these three should fight it out down to the wire. The other two leagues are pretty much of unknown quantities. In the Eastern league, the Down-Homers have a tall, high scoring aggregation of former lower Delaware high school stars who are as yet undefeated. Jay Bullock, Dale Wilhelm, Don Willigis and George Chulupha are the main stays of this team which might take their league. Harter Hall also has a good club, with lots of hustle but not much height. Their line-up includes Nick Paxson, Dave Leorne, Skip Hoffman and Howie Seebach.

Blue Hens Trounce Swarthmore

In the Western league, the Hustlers seem to be the team to beat. Warren Boyer, high-scoring frosh captain two years ago; Sid Balick and Jumping Joe Larkin are carrying the scoring load.

Coach Emmerson can certainly never be accused of "shoving" points after that Swarthmore massacre. Only eight players saw action, as the score continued to go up and up after all pretense of a contest was over. Even after three men fouled out, only the subs who had already seen action returned to the game, even to the point of a guard having to play forward a lot. We realize a Monday morning quarterback is as welcome as a brass slug in the collection plate—but are all our subs that bad? LaSalle (oops! said a dirty word) cleared the bench in that fiasco up in Philadelphia and still was not weakened considerably. Leaving aside the question of running up the score, who is going to be playing next year??? Certainly not those five seniors, and those three sophomores will need a little help.

Schultz, Catts Star As Hen Grapplers Defeat Lafayette

Amassing a total of 23 points to their opponents' 13, the Delaware matmen notched their second victory of the season last Saturday against Lafayette.

Led by Capt. Paul Catts in the 137 lb. class, the Blue Hens won 5 out of 8 bouts against Lafayette, and 7 out of 8 from Haverford in the season opener. Catts looked impressive in pinning his man with a near fall, and finally a winning body press. The win gave "Pablo" his second in as many starts.

Jim Michael in the 177 lb. class forced his man to the mat and clinched the contest for Delaware. Jim has pinned all his opponents this season.

In the 147 class Jerry Angure maintained his undefeated season record with his pin hold of a body press.

Mighty Tom Schultz outpointed his Lafayette foe, who outweighed him. The bout pitted two nearly matched boys against each other, and Tom edged his man 4-2 for the decision. In his first bout of the season Tom pinned his opponent from Haverford.

Winning his first bout of the season by default was Lenny Clapp in the 123 lb. bracket, however, Lenny was pinned in the over-weight exhibition match that followed.

Against Haverford, Don Rumer pinned his man after 5 minutes and 45 seconds. In the Lafayette match, however, "Snowball" Rumer lost a decision after a grueling fight.

One of the most promising grapplers of the squad, Vince Stallone, 167 lbs. dropped his bout to W. Downing, of the Leopards. After missing a takedown, Vince fell into a double arm-lock, and also had his breath cut off. Downing pinned Vince for the first time in Vinnie's collegiate wrestling career.

Charlie Rodriguez put up a game fight before he succumbed to R. Downing, the Middle Atlantic Conference Champ in the 157 lb. class.

Girls Basketball Tournaments Start Early In February

Girls basketball will begin on the first day of classes second semester (Tuesday, February 5). The season will open with a demonstration of new rules, common fouls, etc.; one demonstration will be given at 4:00 on Feb. 5, and a second demonstration will be given at 7:00 that evening. Attendance at either demonstration is strongly urged. The demonstration will count as one practice, two others being required for eligibility to play. Teams may sign up for the gym for practice hours at either demonstration. At the end of the practice period, there will be several general practice hours set aside for those who missed any practices.

This year we will again have two basketball tournaments: (1) an inter-dorm tournament to be held at night in which any dorm may enter one or more teams as long as there are six players and two or more substitutes on each team. (Each team is independent including all those within one dorm.), and (2) an open tournament to be held in the afternoon in which any eight or more players who wish to play may form a team and give themselves a name. (This tournament includes clubs, commuters, and combinations of girls from various classes). It must be remembered that an individual can participate in only one tournament.

Early next week application slips to be filled out by the various teams before the end of the semester will be sent to all dorm sports managers and will be posted on the bulletin board in the Woman's Gym.

Engineer's Starting Salaries Are Higher Than 1951

New York, N. Y.—(I.P.)—Engineering graduates are receiving starting salaries approximately 16 per cent higher than a year ago, according to a survey conducted by the New York University College of Engineering. The figures compiled indicate that salaries are continuing to rise after a slight increase in 1950, following almost constant levels in 1948 and 1949.

The average starting salary for the entire class, it was reported, is $301 a month, as compared to $260 in 1950, 253 in 1949, $252 in 1948 and $227 in 1947. A summary of starting salaries in six major engineering fields follows:

	1947	1948	1949	1950	1951	Pct. Incr.
Civil	235	255	245	264	313	18.5
Industrial	198	230	238	242	309	27.6

Mechanical	228	228	236	262	308	17.5
Chemical	235	264	294	248	306	23.3
Electrical	237	251	248	275	288	4.7
Aeronautical	211	245	254	273	287	5.1
Overall*	227	252	253	260	301	15.7

(*Overall totals are not averages of the six items in each column but are averages of all salaries reported by those answering.)

BLUE HEN

Sales for the 1952 Blue Hen will start Monday, January 14th and will continue until Friday, January 18th. The price will be $4.00, one dollar deposit required with the order. Orders will be taken in the Blue Hen office from 10:00 a.m. until 3:30 p.m. daily.

Parking II

An Experiment in Self-Government

Before the recent Christmas vacation the Town Council of Newark was proposing to limit parking on four streets adjacent to the campus, namely, Kent Way, West Delaware Avenue, Amstel Avenue, and Winslow Road. The effect of such a parking restriction would have been a severe parking inconvenience for many students and university personnel. Since we left for the holiday, the Council met and decided to withhold action on the proposal, pending an improvement in the parking conditions on these streets.

In delaying the passage of the parking regulation, the Council is in effect giving the people of the university an opportunity to improve conditions themselves, without the regulation of civil authority. If conditions do not improve, the Council will surely adopt their original proposal and declare these four streets one hour parking zones.

The conditions which concern the town, and especially the residents of the streets in question, are the blocking of driveways, parking vehicles so as to obstruct the view of oncoming traffic, forcing collecting and delivery trucks to double park, and littering adjacent lawns with papers and lunch waste.

It is up to the drivers who regularly park on these streets to recognize the dissatisfaction of the residents and to correct any and all of the situations to which they contribute. Nobody else can do it. If these drivers do correct the conditions, the residents will be happy, the Town Council will be satisfied, and the university will be in better favor with civil authorities. If they do not, we will all suffer the unwanted consequence of extremely difficult parking.

One very simple and obvious solution to the parking problem was proposed and carried out by the university in constructing the parking lot behind the Knoll. But it is not used. It has capacity for at least 50 cars, and is seldom occupied by more than five. It is only a very short walk to central campus and should be used much more than it is.

Another partial solution to the problem would be the redesigning of the Wolf Hall parking lot to add more capacity to it by making an exit lane to Delaware Avenue, and by using a small part of the grass between Wolf and Evans Halls for parking area.

But the most important thing to be done is on Kent, and Delaware, and Winslow, and Amstel. Simply obey the laws of the town and of thoughtful decency.

Frosh, Wake Up!

The Parents' Conference

On Saturday, January 19, the President's Conference for Parents of Freshmen will be held. This is an entirely new undertaking for the University of Delaware, and one that can be very worthwhile and valuable to both the university and parents.

A fundamental in education is the important role of the home and family in a person's learning process, and this conference is an attempt to bridge the gap between home and school in a manner often done at the elementary and grade levels but seldom done at the college level.

The faculty has planned a busy and interesting day for all freshmen parents who attend. The stage is set for a successful conference, but the only way that it can succeed completely is for all freshmen to support it by inviting and requesting their parents to attend. The details will be made available to freshmen soon, and their most important part in the affair is their cooperation in inviting their own parents.

May we strongly urge freshmen to cooperate, because the success of this conference will determine whether future similar conferences will be held for the upper classes, and future freshmen classes.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Good Sportsmanship?

Gentlemen:

I am not writing this letter as one of complaint but as one of suggestion. Last Saturday night we had a basketball game with Swarthmore up at the Field House. Most of us enjoyed watching the game very much, but there were a few present who tried their darndest to spoil the game for everyone else by continually heckling and jeering the opposing players and referees. The boys from Swarthmore were playing the best they knew how and I think it's up to us as hosts to treat them as we would want them to treat our boys when they play at Swarthmore. I make the suggestion, then, that those who vent their cries on the opposition and referees, would put a little of that enthusiasm into cheering for Delaware.

Sincerely,

FRANK WOOD.

Marco Millions

By HELEN LILLEY

In line with the increasing crescendo in Eugene O'Neill productions, E-52 undertook a few months ago the very ambitious job of presenting one of O'Neill's most difficult-to-stage plays Marco Millions. Theatre groups are judged, of course, not on their original lofty intentions but on the final result, and, judging from the performances of December 12, 13, and 15, E-52 has lived up to the high goal it set for itself.

Marco Millions, in its message, is akin to the Pulitzer Prize play, Death of a Salesman. Technically the two plays could not be more diametrically opposite, but in philosophy Arthur Miller and Eugene O'Neill were perturbed by the same problem. In Marco Millions we see the birth of a great businessman and the lowly things to which he stooped in order to attain his goal. In Death of a Salesman we see the decline of the modern businessman who, having devoted his life to superficial pursuits, is left in meaningless vacuity at the twilight of his career. Both are, assuredly, moving attacks on our materialistic culture and our misplaced sense of values.

Each playwright has attacked the problem from a different angle—O'Neill with a tongue-in-cheek attitude; Miller with melodramatic, sentimental impressionism. Many contrasts could be made between these two modern plays, but the parallelism lies essentially only at the core. Their kinship would seem to suggest that there is an issue of contemporary importance in their mutual message.

Plot Stresses Personality
 The spotlight of the play was on the development (or degradation, as you will have it) of personality. In the beginning Marco Polo is an idealistic, love-sick, naive youth, not unlike another O'Neill character, Richard Miller, in Ah, Wilderness! But Marco soon learns the ropes and can swing with skill through the jungle of life. Thoughtless, overbearing, pig-headed, insensitive, Marco Polo reminded you, despite the period costumes, painfully, of businessmen you have known. So factual and hard-boiled has he become that he is impervious to the beauty, wisdom and culture of the East.

In order to emphasize Marco's insensitivity to spiritual beauty, O'Neill has had Princess Kukachin fall in love with him. Failing to see the love in her eyes, which he thinks is only the fever, Marco misses his last chance to redeem himself through the Princess's love. He returns home, completely oblivious to the immaterial prize he has lost, and marries a bovine, passive bourgeois, reconciling himself by saying wives shouldn't think.

O'Neill Contrasts Two Cultures
 The contrast between the two cultures—between the bustle and superficiality of the Renaissance West and the serenity and maturity of the ancient East—was one of the most impressive themes of the play. Here O'Neill has been obvious again in his un-

Saturday's Hero

By GIL KOFFLER

If you're looking for an entertaining way to spend two hours (and four bits) Saturday's Hero will fill the bill as well as anything, but the feature that makes it a "must" for college students is its subject matter: the corrupting influence and false values of "amateur" football as played at some colleges.

Along with an alluring title, Saturday's Hero has a few other attributes that separate it from the run-of-the-mill college pictures. For one thing, it records what is probably the fastest scholastic career on record. John Derek, the rising young backfield star, zips through a year of high school and three of college before you know what's happening. He also carries the ball on absolutely every play photographed, and there are many, many plays in the picture. This will undoubtedly come as a shock to most football players, who are used to a four-man backfield.

In addition to all this action, John manages to be inspired by English; fall in love with a rich alumnus' niece; satisfy his father's ambitions; turn down an attractive offer from a school wishing to "steal" him (apparently there were no "dead time" rules affecting transfers); and look unhappily intense throughout what are supposedly the happiest days of his life.

The picture is at its best when it records the seemingly endless hours of repetition on the practice field, and when it peeks in on the dormitory chatter and the chow hall banter. This informal raillery is very amusing and very condensed—every sentence is packed with good-natured fun, wit, and sarcasm. One gets the impression that the script writer stayed up nights, knocking himself out to pack the wit of a life-time into five minutes' conversation. The effect, although exaggerated, is nevertheless good.

Probably the most impressive thing to college students brought up on a diet of romantic college pictures: the absence of co-eds and the presence of books. If nothing else sinks in, the moviegoer will undoubtedly remember one line, "Well, I guess I'd better go hit the books now," which is repeated endlessly.

derhanded jab at the American breadbasket. Nowhere was the contrast more strikingly apparent than in the banquet scene. Marco's attempt to deliver a dinner speech on the commercial value of worms is made inaudible by the noisy mastication of food by his inattentive, gluttonous companions. In the background sat the Khan majestically, staring unbelievably at their bestial conduct.

E-52 omitted the prologue and the epilogue. The prologue helps bring the play full circle and artistically is an addition, but it may have detracted from audience interest if the solution were known from the beginning. For the de-

Frosh vs. Sophs

Arthur G. Phillips, associate professor of English at the University of Miami, Fla., recently wrote a guest editorial for the Miami Hurricane, in which he made the following observations about the species Freshman and Sophomore:

1. Freshmen believe that all of their professors are smart; Sophomores believe that one or two of their professors are smart — the ones that give them A's.
2. Freshmen are in college to get an education, sophomores are in college because their fathers refuse to pay their fare to Las Vegas.
3. Freshmen aren't dry behind the ears; sophomores are always dry.
4. A freshman will take a wooden nickel; a sophomore will take a wooden nickel too, and five minutes later put it in the slot machine.
5. Freshmen write home once a week; sophomores write whenever they're broke.
6. A male freshman is looking for a girl like his mother; this is also true of the sophomore, if his mother happens to be Jane Russell.
7. A freshman believes the way to get good grades is to study hard; the sophomore has decided that a better way is to sit next to someone who studies hard.
8. A freshman's ambition is to get into "Who's Who"; a sophomore just wants to get called before the Kefauver committee.
9. Freshmen suspect that professors aren't human; sophomores know it.
10. Freshmen kiss their dates goodbye; sophomores kiss them hello.

Concludes the professor: "Everybody loves a freshman. What makes life so disillusioning to a professor is the thought that this year's freshmen will be next year's sophomores. Sic transit gloria mundi."

Reading Knowledge Tests

The reading-knowledge tests in French, German, and Spanish will be administered by the modern language department on Friday, January 18, at 4 p.m. in room 220 University Hall.

The passing of a reading-knowledge test is required of all students in arts and science and secondary education, except those who matriculated in an accredited college before September, 1945.

Students who are completing or have completed the second-year college course (104) and others judged competent by the modern language department for special reasons are eligible for admission to the tests.

Information concerning the requirement may be secured in the registrar's office or in the modern language office, 214 University Hall. Arrangements for taking the tests one hour late because of conflicts with regularly scheduled classes may be made in the modern language office.

THE FALLEN REVUE

It seems long ago, September 16, when 478 Freshmen tiptoed on to our lovely campus as 200 departed with degrees at Convocation. The freshmen enrollment was higher than had been predicted. Phil Dynan became new publicity director for the Athletic department. He hails from out Missouri way. . . . Book Store justified their high prices after student probing. . . . Although the seating arrangement was changed at the Dining Halls, the food wasn't. . . . Mrs. Josephine Hewes became the new manager of the Student Union, succeeding Tom Livizos. . . . Dr. John Munroe left our hallowed halls to accept the Ford Fellowship to study Educational techniques in the Western U.S. . . . SGA's new advisor for this year is Bernie Clements.

Gov. Carvel laid the cornerstone for the new Ag building which is now nearing completion. . . . "Life With Father" was presented by the E-52 Players at the end of October with Dr. Cyrus Day of the English Dept. playing father. . . . Jimmy Dorsey and his band opened the social season at the Harvest Ball on Oct. 26. . . . Kappa Alpha Fraternity captured the Cheerleaders' Cup for the best Homecoming Decorations. . . . Inaugurating a new annual contest, Polly Goller, the Cheerleaders candidate, was elected the 1951 Football Sweetheart at the Annual Grain Game. . . . The question of unchaperoned week-end parties arose and as yet no final faculty decision has been rendered.

Who painted the Lafayette campus before the Delaware-Lafayette game? Lehigh students had been suspected. . . . For the first time in two years, we had Fall Fraternity Rushing; 142 men pledged the nine social fraternities on our campus. . . . The unsolvable Parking problem arose; our only comment: "too many cars". . . . E-52 presented very successfully "Marco Millions" on Dec. 12, 13 and 15. . . . Football team, under the guidance of the new coach, Dave Nelson, completed a very successful season. . . . Paul Mueller was elected next year's captain. . . . SGA voted "thumbs down" on a student petition for an extended Christmas vacation. . . . Flanagan's band closed the social season at the Christmas formal but Ralph was snowed in and couldn't make it. . . . The administration should be ashamed of its complete lack of the care necessary to clean the icy walks. In case it slipped their minds, one girl broke her ankle—not to mention the countless number of bruises. . . . The honors for "picture of the year" went to the blonde in the picture with Joe Lank taken at the NAM conference in New York. . . . Coach Fred Emmerson's basketballers riding high at present with a 6-2 record. . . .

LEST WE FORGET: The Blood Drive, which is scheduled for Jan. 18, calls for everyone's cooperation; Let's give now because we may need it this time next year. . . . Military Ball tonight, featuring the 2nd Army Swing Band. Any advanced military student has tickets. . . . Don't forget the Campus Chest Drive which is presently under way. One buck from every student will do the trick. . . . Our congratulations to all of you that got pinned or engaged before or during the holidays! . . . Oh, by the way! Remember finals will soon be with us. My how the time flies around the quad! Vive La Campus A-Man (A for activities).

S. G. A. Proposes Referendum On Changes In Its Constitution

The S.G.A. has passed on an amendment to its Constitution that must be ratified by the Student Body to become law. Voting will be held on February 14 and 15. The following changes have been suggested.

Article IV—Legislative Powers

Section B, Membership of the Student Government Association

Paragraph 1.

Is now stated:

The President, who shall be a Senior elected by the Student Body at large, shall preside at all meetings of the Association. He (She) shall see that all provisions of the Constitution and by-laws are faithfully executed.

Recommended Change:

The President, who shall be a senior man or woman, elected by the Student Body at large, shall preside at all meetings of the Association. He (She) shall see that all provisions of this constitution and by-laws are faithfully executed.

Paragraph 2.

Is now stated:

The Vice-President, who shall be a senior receiving the second highest vote in the election of the President, shall act as presiding officer in the absence of the President.

Recommended Change:

The Vice-President, who shall be a Senior man or woman, elected by the Student Body at large, shall act as presiding officer in the absence of the President.

To be stricken from the Constitution:

The Vice-President, who shall be the Senior receiving the second highest vote in the election of the President. . . .

To be added to this paragraph:

The Vice-President, who shall be a Senior man or woman, elected by the Student Body at large. . . .

Sigma Phi Epsilon

Sig Ep certainly hopes everyone had a happy and prosperous Christmas vacation. Here's to a successful 1952!

The vacation found brothers Boris and Grier again enjoying civilian life on a leave from the Coast Guard.

Pop Hewlett is fretting because Larry Dalton and Giff Nowland received sweaters from two lovely campus queens. As you know Pop received one several weeks ago from the Astronomers Club.

Don "Ducky" Carmichael was elected president of the Hustlers Club for 1952.

Friday night found brothers Jester, Joy, Gebhart, Hoopes, Kern, Browning and pledges Knoll and Craumer journeying to Wilmington through the deep snow to see "Westward The Women." Denise Parcel could be the next Sig Ep pin-up girl.

Congratulations are in order for Sabby Russo who recently pinned Barbara Lewis.

Many thanks to the girls who made our Christmas party such a success.

Alpha Tau Omega

The ATO basketball team traveled to Philadelphia last Saturday afternoon for an inter-province game with the ATO's of the University of Pennsylvania. Our boys returned home with a 49-38 victory.

On Sunday afternoon, from 3-5, a tea is being held for all of the parents in Epsilon Rho. It is a "get-acquainted" tea for the parents of the actives and the parents of the new pledges. Arrangements are being made by the Mothers' Club, under the direction of Mrs. Albert H. Hammond, president.

The quartet from ATO, composed of Bob Hopkins, Elbert Chance, Dick Chappell, and Russ Myers, with Roy Soukup at the piano, sang Christmas carols on Christmas Eve, on station WDEL, as the guest of the Red Cross.

Congratulations to our new letter men from ATO: Jair Dos Santos, Bob Jamison, Dick Chappell, and George Long.

Sigma Nu

As the last vestiges of Christmas vacation pass away into the New Year, the brothers of Sigma Nu turn their attention to the field of sports.

At the F. & M. swimming meet Saturday, brothers Art Mayer, Charlie Presnell, George Ester, Dick Goodley and pledges Jerry Keogh and Jack McDaniel helped the Hens to record their third straight victory. Record-breaking Mayer won the individual medley in 1:45 flat, while previously on New Year's Day, Art broke the pool and event records in winning the state backstroke championship at the YMCA. The same meet saw Presnell become the new state diving champion.

Led by high scorers Jim Money-maker, Lief Nicolaisen and Don Rumer, Sigma Nu is still fielding two undefeated teams in intramural basketball.

The best wishes of the brothers of Sigma Nu go with the announcement of the engagement of Margaret Seavy and Paul Catts, and the pinning of Pat McCall by Bob Wilcox.

Phi Kappa Tau

After a very gay and entertaining Christmas vacation, we again return to the peace and serenity of South College Avenue. One of the things that keeps returning to mind was that terrific party given by Jack Beatty on New Year's Eve. Our thanks for a most enjoyable time.

Cupid seemed to go on the rampage over the holidays. Diane Lease was pinned by Bob Moore, Margaret Smith by Gene Lent and Carol St. John by Ronnie Watson. Our sincere best wishes to all of you.

Of the many tales the brothers returned to tell after the vacation, Jim Maxwell had one of the most interesting. He was Delaware's representative to the Coconut Bowl at Palm Beach, Florida. This was the first annual lacrosse bowl game and was sponsored by the American Lacrosse Coaches Association. Congratulations to our star athlete.

Delta Tau Delta

No sooner did the Delts return to the campus and our newly-painted Shelter than did the news hit us. Jack Stowers coyly let us in on the happy event of his pinning to Sarah Ruffner, a transplant Texan, now living in Woodbury, N. J. and who's one of the gals from Windsor Hall. George Adkins added to the celebration by announcing his engagement to Edwina Rosser of Millsboro. Gene Wooten was engaged to Frannie Boger. Campus beware: if you see a shocking sight ambling toward you, don't be alarmed—it's just (7), the sight of which is sure to blind anyone at thirty paces. Another new item around the house these days is our former crew-cut champion, Al Scala, who's sporting a regular haircut now. Oh, well, must be those New Year's resolutions. See you at the Military Ball.

Kappa Alpha

The Christmas recess was a time for vacation from books for K. A.'s, but not for cupid. Where one left off the other began. Three engagements were announced by the brothers, Dick Harris and Ellen McQuaid, Jim Gordon and Susan Legates, Joe Warren and Alice Martin and one pinning, that of Art Lewis to Ann McGee.

Brothers Bill Utt, "Kruzer" Kruinski, and "Skip" Crawford have really been turning in good performances on this year's varsity basketball squad. "Skip's" 31 points at the Swarthmore game was the highest individual score for the year.

Brother Draper's Christmas open house was very successful, but we hear the punch and eggnog began to be very active and "high-spirited" about midnight.

One would think the Dutch had invaded the Kastle from all appearances. Certain brothers, namely Dodd, Hukill and Corrin, are suddenly flaunting clay pipes everywhere.

Theta Chi

Bygone are the happy days of 1951 that brought the OX house an excellent '54 pledge class, the softball championship, second place in intramural football, the largest '55 pledge class on the campus, a very successful social season, and a batch of new furniture for the house.

Ahead is the challenge of 1952, and the OX house is ready for it. Carnations to Andrew Schmidt, who recently pinned Mary Lou Phillips. Charley S. has asked for time extension until May. Question of the week? To whom is Bob Shockley losing his office as Mayor of the Student Union?

A. E. Pi

Rho Deuteron chapter was happy to welcome into pledgeship the following men before the holidays: Paul Seidenstat, Mary Berman, Bob Goodman, Gene Holland, Sid Stein, and Harvey Porter.

"New Orleans or bust" was the motto of our three gypsies Sunday when they took off for the long trip. . . . but they just couldn't stay away from Ma Johnson's home cooking and were back at the house late that night slightly bedraggled.

Welcoming in '52 at Chuck and Stacey Gross's quiet New Year's party were Dave Goodman and Carole Kaufman, Alfie Isaacs with June Gross, and Ralph Keil escorting Shellah. . . .

Starting Leap Year out right, the girls from Boletus invited some of the boys to their annual party including Don Cherr, Hank Bertuch, and George Chamlin (?).

Schwab donated his usual gallon of blood this week.

Pi Kappa Alpha

'Twas the week before Christmas vacation when the Pikes held their annual yuletide party. All in attendance were eased into the spirit of Christmas by old fashioned eggnog, singing carols, and by "sweet nothings" whispered into the ears of the dainty sex by "Santa" Taylor as he passed out the loot.

During the vacation our members scattered to the four winds. Brothers Shannon and Alexander and pledges Ryan and Markowski hustled mail: brother "Zilch" Cowan and pledge McKee played haberdashers; pledge Taylor sold oil burners; brothers Garmize and Keyser passed out 'phone books. . . . others just passed out; brother Mountain took his elbow to the hospital, and Pete took Irma to a show.

Christmas lovers: Miss Joanne Fritz, pinned by brother Bill Keyser, and Miss Peg Collins, presented with an engagement ring by pledge Bill Sanderson.

IVCF Announces New Officers For '52

At a recent meeting, the Inter-Varsity Christian Fellowship group held its annual election of officers. Those elected are: president, Jack Wilberg; vice - president, George Griggs; secretary, Doris Crouch; treasurer, Bob Swain.

The new officers will assume their positions at the beginning of the second semester. The retiring officers are: president, Biddle Foster; secretary, Barbara Oehlers; treasurer, Florence Houston.

"There—but for the grace of God, go I!"

Delegates Attend Religious Conclave

During the Christmas vacation four delegates representing the Inter-Varsity Christian Fellowship attended the five day International Student Missionary Convention at the University of Illinois in Urbana. Those attending from the University of Delaware were Barbara Oehlert, Florence Houston, Biddle Foster and Jack Auwetter.

Spanish Students Elect New El Patio Officers

At a recent meeting of El Patio the following students were elected: Don Bardo, president; Jane Reigart, vice president; and Sally Goldman, secretary-treasurer. Senor Moises Tirado is the club's faculty advisor. The next meeting of El Patio will be held Monday, January 14 at 5:00 p. m. in the Sussex Hall Lounge. El Patio is interested in stimulating student interest in various phases of Spanish culture. Students who desire extra-curricular experience in Spanish are cordially invited to attend the meeting.

Contract Bridge Group Planned

A meeting of those faculty members and students interested in forming a Contract Bridge Club will be held on Tuesday, January 15, at 8:30 in Brown Hall lounge. At this meeting an organization will be effected, and plans made for the club's program. A tournament director will be appointed, and eight players will be selected by the club to compete in the local play-off of the Intercollegiate Bridge Tournament, sometime during the week of February 17-23.

Undergraduate students, graduate students, and faculty members are invited to attend the organizational meeting, whether their interests are in learning how to improve their bridge, to compete in social play, or to compete in tournament competition.

Fashion in the Making

Shown above are girls of the Home Economics Club preparing clothing to be exhibited in their fashion show, which will be held in Mitchell Hall, January 18.

Home Economics Classes Merge Result? A Fashion Show!

The annual Home Economics Fashion Show will be presented in Mitchell Hall at 8:15 p.m. January 18, 1952. The show, entitled Visions in Vogue is planned by the junior tailoring class with the aid of the freshmen elementary clothing sections. Various types of dress will be seen, such as campus casuals, date dresses, evening gowns, and tailored suits and coats. The student co-chairmen of the fashion show are Elaine Ough and Mary Jane Gueneveur. The various committee chairmen are: Elizabeth Badertscher, invitations; Roberta Taylor,

Members of the junior tailoring class are: Susan Anderson, Beaver, Pa.; Elizabeth Badertscher, Pitman, N. J.; Mary Jane Gueneveur, Wilmington, Del.; Jane Hollingsworth, Centerville, Del.; Laura Kish, Harrington, Del.; Diane Lease, Ridley Park, Pa.; Dorothy Melick, Collingswood, N. J.; Jean Mitchell, New Castle, Del.; Elaine Ough, Lansdowne, Pa.; Jane Pogue, Wilmington, Del.; Doris Sadowski, Greenwood, Del.; Roberta Taylor, Perryville, Md.; Joyce Winter, Wilmington, Del.; Helen Zebley, Wilmington, Del.

Cooperating in this endeavor are: Mr. Ben Pegg, director of production; Mrs. Margaret Allen, posters; Mr. Daniel Wood, voice recordings; Miss Jean Wilson, modeling; Miss Elizabeth Crook, music selections; Miss Elizabeth Kelly, faculty advisor; and Miss Florence Reiff, instructor in home economics.

Class Begins In Theatrical Publicity

Dr. C. R. Kase, head of the school of Dramatic Arts and Speech, has begun classes in theatrical publicity. The classes are one hour sessions held every Tuesday afternoon from four to five. Eight students have signed to date. More are welcome. The class is an informal one and is held in Mitchell Hall so far, and more classes will be added if the demand is great enough.

The course is a non-credit one and serves a twofold purpose. The first is to develop and enlarge the present publicity facilities of the E52 Players, and secondly, to present to those interested a basic knowledge of publicity, public relations, and promotion.

Anyone wishing further information on these classes should contact Dr. Kase, Roberta Sloman, Chairman of E52 publicity, or Ted Marshall, president of E52 Players.

Well Known Guests Invited To Annual Varsity Banquet

January 17, 1952 is the date announced by Don Bardo, president of the Varsity Club, for this year's banquet. Letter winners of all sports here at the University, who constitute the body of the Varsity Club, will be on hand for the cherished, once-a-year steak dinner.

Toastmaster for the occasion is Whitey Burnham. The featured speaker of the evening is Coach David Nelson.

Enlightening the evening will be the Men's Chorus of the U. of D. with several vocal selections.

The following individuals have received invitations for the dinner: Governor Elbert N. Cole Shows That Average Students Can Succeed

Amherst, Mass.—(I.P.)—College records reveal many instances in which students who received below-average or mediocre grades became outstanding leaders later on in business and the professions, according to Dr. Charles W. Cole, president of Amherst College. Some persons reach their peak performance in secondary school, others in college and graduate school and still others after school, he added.

Dr. Cole noted that one Amherst student had a barely passing grade in his sophomore year, increased it to 79.85 in his junior year and attained an 83.40 in his senior year. "But before he was 35," he said, "this person was head of a most important government agency and today, still under 40, he is executive vice-president of a great corporation."

In addition to the "late-bloomer," there are other types that present even more difficult problems, Dr. Cole emphasized. "One is the 'under-achiever'." He is the able lad who drifts through college, passes his courses and enjoys the life around him, but never acquires any of the training, skills, discipline, insights or interest that education should give.

"Then there is the 'half-achiever'." He, with great gifts, makes only a respectable record of development and is like a six-cylinder engine, sputtering along because the ignition system is not functioning in two of the cylinders."

Among the other questions raised by this phenomenon, Dr. Cole said, were: Does the college admission system favor those who mature early? Does it put a premium on precocity? How can a college detect the candidate who has still within him the potentiality for further growth? How can the colleges distinguish him from the applicant who has already developed as far as he ever will?

Perhaps by studying the backgrounds of applicants for admission to college and by testing their "motivation" it might be possible to help the "late-bloomers," the "under-achievers" and "half-achievers," Dr. Cole suggested.

The Photography Club held its first "Model Night" of the year this Thursday, January 10, 1952 in the Art Gallery of The Memorial Library.

There were two models for this first "Model Night". Miss Rae Stark, a co-ed at the university and Miss Dorothy Haas of Wilmington. Miss Haas has done much dramatic work at Wilmington High School and had the lead in the Senior Play at that school.

Lloyd Teitworth was guest photographer for the evening. He gave pointers to the club members on lighting and posing of the models.

The members will enter their photographs in a contest and the winning prints will be seen in a later issue of The Review.

The next regular meeting of the club will take place next Thursday evening, January 17, 1952 at 7:00 p.m. in Room 6 of Recitation Hall. There will be a Kodak lecture on Print Analysis at this meeting.

There will be no meeting of El Patio on January 14. The next meeting will be next semester.

THE DU PONT DIGEST

New products mean new opportunities for chemical engineers

[FIRST OF A SERIES]

STUDYING "Teflon" tetrafluoroethylene resin insulating material with special apparatus: K. F. Richards, B.S.Ch.E., Cornell '48; and E. K. Holden, M.S.Ch.E., Delaware '48.

CHECKING a multi-stage carbon-monoxide compressor used in semi-works operations: R. L. Stearns, B.S.Ch.E., Yale '49; and H. Peterson, B.S.Ch.E., Northeastern University '42.

CHARGING experimental polymers to spinning machine: O. C. Wetmore, Ph.D. Phys.Ch., New York U. '44; D. A. Smith, B.S.M.E., Purdue '40; and C. O. King, Sc.D.Ch.E., Michigan '43.

To you as a student chemical engineer, what does this statement bring to mind:

Nearly two-thirds of Du Pont's current sales are in products entirely or virtually unknown in 1930.

Likely it suggests years of solving intriguing engineering problems, the designing of unique equipment, the carrying out of reactions under extraordinary conditions.

But it should also suggest the opportunities that will come to chemical engineers in the future. For at Du Pont, new and better products are continually being developed. From today's extended program of fundamental research you can expect more neoprenes, more nylons, more plastics like "Teflon" tetrafluoroethylene resin.

As these products come out of the laboratory, they will bring with them a succession of interesting and challenging problems for the chemical engineer. Problems that will arise out of their very newness.

For instance, take nylon, the first wholly synthetic organic fiber. In working out techniques for its commercial manufacture, there was practically nothing to go on. The compounds of which it was made, hexamethylenediamine and adipic acid, were essentially laboratory chemicals. Processes had to be devised to make them from cheap raw materials—benzene, hydrogen, air and ammonia. Large-scale preparation of nylon salt from amine and acid required going beyond the classical unit operations.

Here for the first time it was proposed to extrude a fiber with extreme accuracy from a melted polymer at 290°C. At this temperature the polymer decomposes slowly. It had to be melted, pumped at 5000 p.s.i. pressure through microscopic holes and cooled in a hurry. Otherwise the fiber would emerge discolored.

The Du Pont chemical and mechanical engineers and other men and women who worked with them ran into one difficulty after another. More than once they thought that the project would have to be abandoned.

However, it is basic in Du Pont people's philosophy not only to take on difficult pioneering problems, but to see them through. With nylon, this persistence paid off handsomely.

Is this the kind of problem you'd like to attack, the kind of people you'd like to work with?

NEXT MONTH—Opportunities for chemical engineers in research and development will be discussed in the second article in this series. Watch for it!

nouement O'Neill had intended to have, when the houselights went up, Marco Polo seated comfortably in the audience fully costumed. The directions were for him to get up unconsciously, walk out of the theatre like any ordinary patron, get nonchalantly into a limousine and drive away. It is as though O'Neill were saying conclusively, "Marco Polo is you and you and you, Mr. Audience; take heed!"

E-52 Players Shine

The acting was really fine, except in a few spots where the costumes seemed to wear the players instead of the players the costumes, and where provincial accents detracted from over-all effect. Although the roles were all quite adequately played, I was particularly impressed with Howard Seebach's (Marco Polo) sense of stage presence, Nancy Schnabel's (Princess Kukachin) lofty, princess-like bearing, Edwin Philip's (the Great Khan) uniform sustenance of majestic attitude and Harvey Porter's (Chu Yin) excellent stage voice. The roles were well interpreted under Mr. Thomas B. Pegg's direction.

Probably no E-51 play in some time has had as much behind-the-scenes work as this production. Credit should be given to all the unseen players, but especially to Mr. Herman Middleton, technical director; Barbara Baker, assistant to the director; and G. Robert Waples, production manager.

New Course Open To Upperclassmen

Agronomy 303, "Conservation of Agricultural Resources," will be offered this coming semester and will be open to all upperclassmen without prerequisites. No agricultural background is needed. It is scheduled for 8:10 a.m., Monday, Wednesday and Friday and carries 3 semester hours of credit.

This course was introduced in the college of agriculture two years ago to provide information on the facts behind conservation of resources.

Further information can be obtained by contacting Leo J. Cotnoir, Wolf Hall, Extension 336.

Women's Faculty Club Honors Jan. Graduates

Mrs. Paulina Forwood was social chairman for a tea given in honor of all the January Women graduates on Thursday, January 10. The tea, given by the Women's Faculty Club, entertained the graduates in the Women's Faculty Club Room in Warner Hall. The social event took place from 4 until 6 p.m. Officers of the Faculty Club are Miss Edith McDougal, president; Miss Mildred Gaddis, vice president; and Mrs. Emma E. Stoll, secretary-treasurer.

Dr. Jackson Addresses Mathematics Club

The Mathematics Club will hold its monthly meeting on Monday night, January 14, at 7:30 o'clock in Warner Hall Hilarium. The featured speaker will be Dr. Robert F. Jackson, associate professor of mathematics. The topic of his talk will be Fourier series.

The Club picture for the Blue Hen will be taken at this meeting. The usual social period in which refreshments are served will follow the formal meeting. Everyone is invited to attend.

SGA Sets Dates For Frosh Elections

Dick Lohmann, Chairman of the Student Government Association's Elections Committee, has set February 14 and 15 for the Freshman elections. According to the Constitution, a petition for a candidate must bear twenty-five names or more to nominate. All petition signers must be freshmen. All candidates to be eligible for election must attain a 2.0 index or better. All nominations must be given to the Chairman, Dick Lohmann, by February 4 to be eligible for the ballot. A sample ballot will be printed in The Review on February 8.

Students Enroll For Next Semester

The university will accept applications for the admission of qualified students at the beginning of the second semester on February 5, 1952. All applications and inquiries should be addressed to the Director of Admissions, University of Delaware, Newark, Delaware.

This opportunity for students to matriculate at the mid-year is representative of the effort of the university to make its program as flexible as possible.

Admission of students in February affords all males who are qualified an opportunity to receive as much college as possible before military service.

The next meeting of the Delawareettes will be held at 7:45, on January 9, 1952, in Old College Lounge. The entertainment, "Style Smiles," will involve a half hour of amusing memories brought back by the contents of an old trunk, recalling some of the extreme fashions and foolish fads of the past fifty years. This program provides a lot of chuckles and some interesting conclusions. At this meeting each Delawarette is invited to bring a friend.
