Chrysler lines up with Durango

By MARY PETZAK
NEWARK POST STAFF WRITER

IN THE END, THE FIRST Durangos rolled off the line at Chrysler Assembly last week with little advance warning in front of hundreds of workers and invited guests.

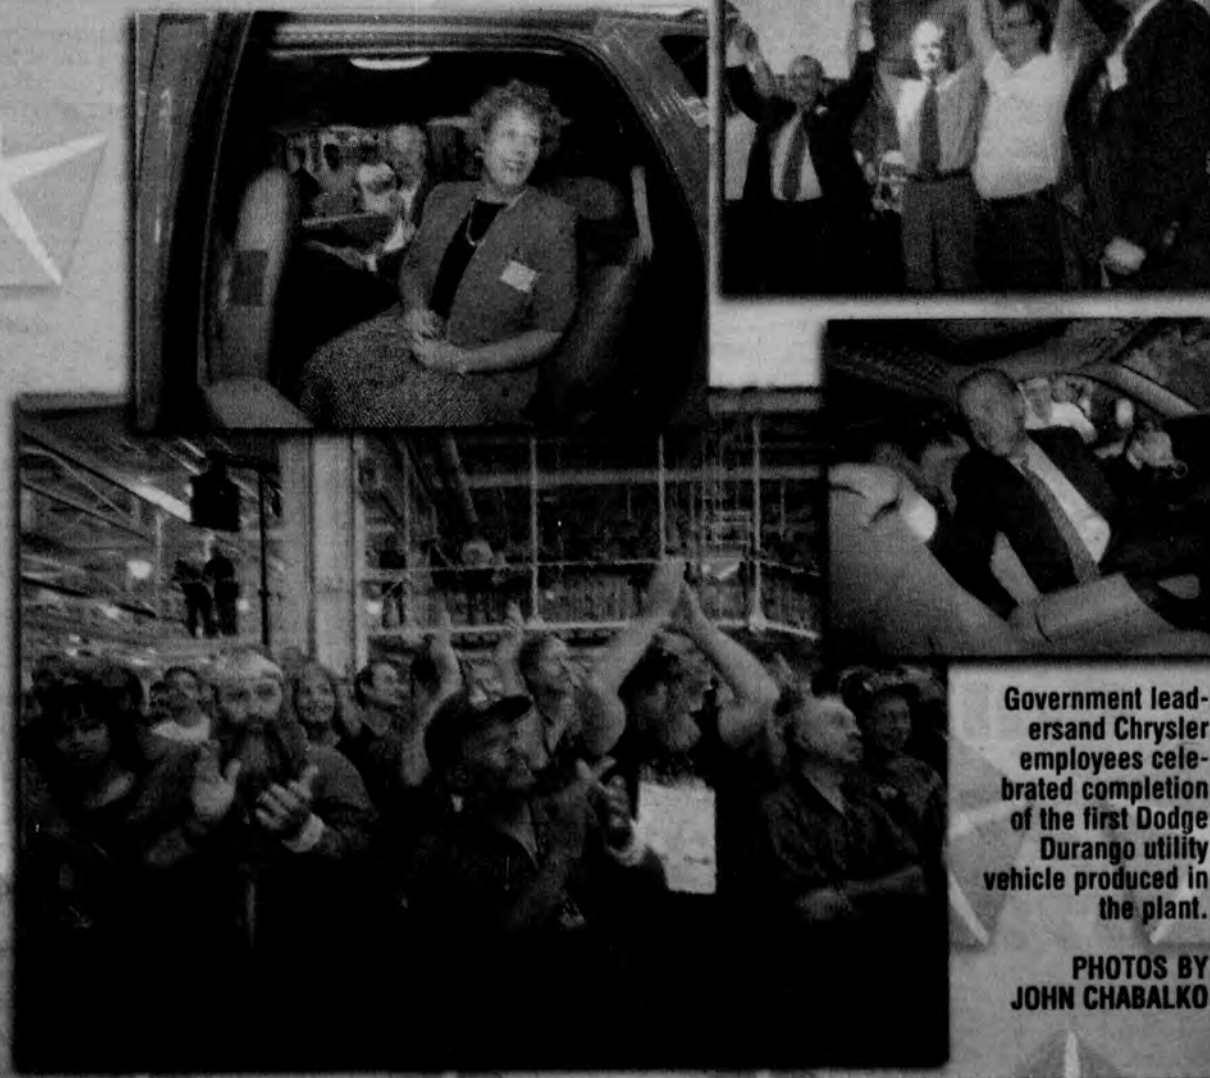

"Thank you for coming," said plant manager Jim Wolfe stepping up to the podium. "Here they are."

Two gleaming red Durangos rolled into view from behind the stage set up on the plant floor and almost a dozen local and state legislators and Chrysler officials jumped out amid cheers and applause.

Chrysler chairman and CEO Robert Eaton said that the new sports utility vehicle, first to ever be produced at the Newark site, is evidence of the success

AFTER MORE THAN a year of discussion, and while still awaiting promised work by the Delaware Department of Transportation, the Western Newark Traffic Relief Committee has decided to consult the community about changes at the CSX railroad underpass on Casho Mill Road.

Committee member Harold Godwin suggested that the group schedule a meeting so the public can have access to the committee and give their opinions. "There is a pent up need for public input on this," said Godwin at WNTRC's regular monthly meeting

THE SYLVESTER story continues to have at least two sides in the Christina School District.

According to acting school superintendent Franklin Rishel, "the investigation into the matters surrounding the appeal of the grade by a Newark High School student has been concluded."

However, Pat Sylvester, mother of student Tanasha Sylvester, said on Wednesday that she and her husband have turned the matter over to an attorney.

Acting school board president Michael Guilfoyle said at Tuesday night's board meeting that a letter had been sent to all parties regarding the investigation but no one in the District

City gets tough on permit abuse

WITH NO OPPOSITION and little discussion, Newark city council passed an ordinance upping the penalties for misusing or altering Guest parking permits.

According to Newark Police Chief William Hogan, city resident Steve Kobsa asked him to look into establishing the penalties. "Mr. Kobsa and parking enforcement officers have reported numerous incidents of misuse/abuse of the Guest parking permits," said Hogan in a memo to the city manager.

One of the most commonly noted abuses occurred when residents altered

Man dies after fall from moving car

A 21-year-old University of Delaware student has died after jumping from a moving car in which he was a passenger on Sept. 5 around 2:35 a.m. Police said Eamonn Miller was intoxicated when he "voluntarily exited" the 1989 Chevrolet Cavalier driven by resident Heather Harrison on Park Place near Beverly Avenue.

Harrison told police that she was driving Miller to the Park Place Apartments from the Deer Park when the incident occurred and there was no argument going on in the car. Suffering from severe head and neck injuries, the student was taken to Christiana Hospital where he died on Sept. 8. Police said no charges will be filed.

Carjacking reported

Newark Police report that a 28-year-old woman was carjacked at McKees Lane and East Cleveland Street around 10:40 p.m. on Sept. 8. The woman told police that a black male, approximately 5 feet, 8 inches tall, wearing a dark hat, and sneakers, approached her while she sat in the 1989 Toyota Corolla, pointed a handgun and demanded the vehicle. The suspect fled in the car which had a Delaware temporary registration tag. Police are investigating.

Chrysler vender charged

Newark Police have charged Thomas Leamer Jr., 33, of Morrisville, N.Y., with theft following an investigation at the Chrysler Assembly Plant. Leamer was employed by American Food & Vending Corp. as the food service manager for the cafeterias at the plant. According to police, an investigation revealed that Leamer was embezzling money from American by removing cash from the operating account. He allegedly stole over $13,000 from American between March and August of this year.

The party's not over

Newark Police were called to more than a dozen incidents of alleged noise violation between Sept. 2 and 7. Some of the incidents were listed as "unfounded" because the disturbance was not occurring when police arrived.

Among the incidents observed by police: Sept. 2, loud party with 50 people at an apartment on Lehigh Avenue at 12:40 a.m.; Sept. 3, loud group at residence on Cleveland Avenue at 1:22 a.m.; Sept. 5, loud stereo music and 25 people at residence on Prospect Avenue at 12:30 a.m.; loud stereo and more than 300 people in yard and house on New London Road at 11:40 p.m.; Sept. 6, police return to same location on New London Road for third time in same night when approximately 40 people were cleared out of the house and yard at 2:40 a.m.; loud radio at residence on East Cleveland Avenue at 2:10 p.m.; loud party with DJ at residence on East Cleveland Avenue at 5:05 p.m.; Sept. 7, loud music at apartment on Lehigh Avenue at 12:40 a.m.; loud music at another apartment on Lehigh Avenue at 12:55 a.m.; loud music at apartment on Lehigh Avenue at 1:15 a.m.; band music at residence on East Park Place at 1:10 p.m.

Alcohol overdose

On Sept. 5 around 11:35 p.m. Newark Police were called to a medical emergency for a 21-year-old Maryland woman in a hallway of the Galleria on Main Street. Police report that a witness told them that the woman had consumed approximately seven shots of liquor and eight beers in the Brickyard Restaurant before she was "flagged" and denied further drinks. According to police, the woman had 18 penciled "hashmarks" on her arm to keep count of her alcoholic beverage intake.

Residence burglarized

On Sept. 3 around 4 a.m. a purse was taken from a residence on Terrace Drive. Police report that it appeared unknown persons reached through an open window and unlocked the door of the residence to gain entry.

Underage drinker on roadway

Newark Police charged a 20-year-old New Jersey man with underage consumption after he was observed in a verbal altercation on North Chapel Street on Sept. 2 around 1:45 a.m. Police detected a strong odor of alcoholic beverage on the man while questioning him about the argument. Police also said the man also attempted to give officers a fictitious ID.

Chrysler workers deserve newly remodeled plant

By MARY E. PETZAK

NEWARK POST STAFF WRITER

For local residents of Newark, the dramatic improvements in the landscaping and frontage of Chrysler's main building on South College Avenue are the most visible evidence of a massive financial investment.

Built in 1951 as a tank plant, Chrysler converted Newark Assembly to an automobile plant in 1957. Between that time and July 1996, 6,820,186 cars were built there.

In all that time, few improvements were made to the main building although the company expanded and built around it.

"The offices were not part of the investment in vehicles," explained secretary Jo Ann Willis standing in her airy work space in the plant manager's office. "Nothing had been replaced or even painted in years."

Inside, the offices have been opened up with glass walls that line the halls and allow two-story views of South College Avenue.

In front of the building, the company added a patio with umbrella-covered tables outside the cafeteria and removed some of the ugly cyclone fencing which blocked the entrance to the main lobby. "The employees use the patio everyday," said Willis.

Willis said the employees are thrilled with the remodeled offices, bathrooms and cafeterias in the building. "Some people who are only 50 years old have been here 30 years and said this is the first time it's been done," said Willis. "I'm a 'new hire' because I've only been here since 1984!"

Plant manager Jim Wolfe said it cost $5 million to remodel the office building inside and out. "The company really didn't want to do it," said Wolfe, "but I said, 'as long as we're shutdown, we might as well do this, too. The workers deserve it.'"

Seeing a vision of downtown Newark

CITY OFFICIALS are hoping a large number of Newark residents will turn out for the town meeting on Monday night at the Municipal Building on Elkton Road.

"This is part of the Economic Development Study being done for the city by consultants from HyettPalma," explained city planning director Roy Lopata. "We're calling it a visioning session."

Lopata said the consultants are spending a week in Newark, meeting with government officials, business leaders and others with a stake in the future of downtown Newark.

Sponsored by the city of Newark, the Newark Business Association, and the University of Delaware, the town meeting runs from 6 to 7:30 p.m. on Sept. 15 in the city council chambers.

First Durango rolls off the line

that comes when business and government work together. "It also helps when the right people are picked to work on it," said Eaton, referring to the local workforce.

According to Eaton, Chrysler and the state of Delaware put more than $623 million into refurbishing the facility, building a new paint shop and training the workers to build the Durango. "We were never quite sure in the last few years what the next vehicle would be here," said Eaton. "But this plant is key to Chrysler now, and the only place in the world where we will build the Durango."

Gov. Thomas Carper, introduced by Wolfe to tremendous applause, said, "This is the kind of day the governor lives for!"

Carper noted that there was a time when people didn't think the Newark plant would be around for 30 years, let alone 40 years, after the first cars rolled off the line in the 1950s.

According to Carper, he promised Chrysler officials that Delaware would accelerate the state permitting process if Chrysler would build their next new line in Newark. "We said, 'if you invest here, we will step up to the plate also,'" explained Carper. "The state permits which normally take months, even years, got done in less than 90 days."

Carper said the new line represented secure futures for 1000's of people and 6,000 more jobs rippling through the region as a result. "There is a first shift now and a second shift coming soon," said Carper. "God willing, maybe a third next year - can you believe that?"

Newark's Mayor Ronald Gardner said he doesn't think the community recognizes the significant investment Chrysler has made here. "The paint shop is the largest structure ever built in Newark, and they're pushing a $1 billion investment," said Gardner. "No company, even Chrysler, makes those choices lightly."

Chrysler carries an estimated payroll of $203 million at the site, with another $12.1 million going out in state and local taxes.

Wolfe confirmed that the plant which has been shutdown for retooling for over a year was calling back its full workforce this month. "We went out at 3,400 and we will have 3,200 workers when the two shifts are back," Wolfe said, noting that retirements contributed to the lower number.

Approximately 116,000 Durangos are expected to roll down the line in the coming year. By the model year 1999, Wolfe said the plant will be producing its capacity of 200,000 vehicles a year.

Christina School District Board faces tough decisions

By MARY E. PETZAK

NEWARK POST STAFF WRITER

Decisions, decisions loom for the Christina School Board in the coming months as they must choose a new board president, new board member, and a new school superintendent.

Acting president Michael Guilfoyle will preside at the group's meetings for at least one more month since the shorthanded board could not select a new president on Tuesday night.

Guilfoyle was nominated for the position together with George Evans who has served longest on the board. Neither received a majority vote, with Guilfoyle getting three votes and Evans, two, from the six sitting members. Board member James Kent abstained.

Guilfoyle said two persons applied "at the very last minute" for the board seat vacated in August by Charles E. Hockersmith. The board will vote on Oct. 14 for either Spring Davidson-Milford of Windy Hills or Jimmy Flynn of Roseville Park to complete the year until the May school board elections.

This year the general elections formerly held on Saturdays will be held on a Tuesday, May 5, 1998. Board members noted that most districts in New Castle County have switched to Tuesdays. "Maybe we'll have more people come out," said member Charles Mullin. "At my last election we had about 48 voters."

Meanwhile, the board has begun advertising for a new school superintendent to replace Iris Metts who became Delaware's first Education Secretary last April. Guilfoyle said applications for the superintendent position will close in November and the board hopes to begin interviews before Christmas. "We are inviting the same people from the community who participated in our earlier search, to participate in this interview process if they wish," said Guilfoyle.

The board narrowed their selections to two in the previous search before one of those candidates removed his name. The board could not agree on the remaining candidate, William Moloney of Calvert County, Md.

"I'm not sorry we did not choose to go with him," said Guilfoyle this week. "We found out afterwards that he had applied for other jobs and did not let us know."

"It could have been difficult to work with someone who was not forthright with you."

District may face lawsuit

was permitted to comment on the matter. Guilfoyle cited the provisions of Delaware Code, Subsection 4111, regarding the confidentiality of student records.

Pat Sylvester said that the letter sent to her daughter from Rishel told the family that the decision to name her daughter to the Honor Society had been "reversed" as a result of the district's investigation.

Pat Sylvester said the Honor Society is not the point. "This about a numbers game and the paper with the 89," she said. "Right now that testpaper is with our attorney."

Wilmington attorney Elwood Eveland Jr. confirmed that he represents the Sylvesters and has been in contact with the school district. "I spoke with the district's attorney again this morning and an ongoing process is in place," said Eveland on Wednesday.

Eveland said he had sent a copy of the privacy act to the district and discussions were continuing.

Eveland said although he and the Sylvesters are not bound by the confidentiality law, he would not comment on the matter of the grades. In regard to future legal action, Eveland replied, "A lawsuit has not been filed at this time."

Rick Gwinn, the Newark High School teacher involved in the dispute about the student's grades spoke to the school board on Tuesday night: "What especially hurt me was my name being brought into this and making it appear my incompetence caused this," said Gwinn in a voice choking with emotion. "I love to teach and I hope to come back from this - I have a few good years left in me."

Gwinn said he also had received a letter from Rishel concerning the investigation but could not reveal the contents because of fears of a lawsuit. "The public does have a right to know the contents of the letter," said Gwinn. "Some people who used the media to demean me are now hiding behind the law."

Pat Sylvester said she was very hurt by Gwinn's remarks. "We're concerned parents and this teacher refused to meet with us," said Sylvester. "The first time we ever saw him was at (Tuesday) night's meeting."

City toughens parking permit abuse law or "wrote over" the expiration dates on the temporary Guest permits. Hogan said residents not entitled to a Residential parking permit also used the Guest permits on a daily basis to circumvent the regulations.

Previously the city penalized violators by denying Guest permits where there was evidence of intentional abuse of the system, said Hogan.

Under the new law, persons who use, lend, display or possess a fictitious Residential or Guest parking permit are subject to a fine of not less than $50 nor more than $100 on the first offense. Parking permit privileges will also be revoked for one year from the date of the violation. In the event of a second offense, the fines are doubled.

"In response to a question from councilmember Nancy Turner, Hogan explained that the parking permits already list the city regulations and penalties on the back.

UD students enjoy renovated dorms

By MEGHAN AFTOSMIS

NEWARK POST CONTRIBUTING WRITER

The University of Delaware began bringing some of the oldest residence halls on campus into the 21st century this summer.

Located on the north and south central Mall, the ten oldest of the University's 65 halls will not lose their traditional look. "These projects are being undertaken with the idea of modernizing while preserving," said Barbara L. Krepel, assistant vice president for administrative services.

Both exterior and interior modifications are part of the upgrades. New outdoor lighting, paved walkways, bike racks and increased accessibility for the physically disabled are being added. However, the building facades will not be affected.

The tennis and basketball courts next to Smyth Hall were refinished this summer and a hockey court was added for student use.

Inside the completed buildings, new carpeting, windows, tiling, paint, and lighting have brought the student rooms, hallways, bathrooms and common living spaces up to date.

"When you walk in, you will see (the difference)," said residential and facilities director Ralph Johnson. "It's that obvious."

Improvements to heating systems, plumbing and electrical systems will be made in buildings as needed and Squire, Kent, Sypherd and Sharp Halls will have air conditioning installed. New fire alarm systems are also installed in each building.

Johnson said the University is also converting under-utilized spaces in the residence halls to student rooms, classrooms, offices, fitness centers and laundry/lounge areas. Rooms with private baths will be made available for handicapped access and visiting professors.

University officials believe that students benefit from renovations, not only by having a nice place to live, but by a better attitude about where they live. "It does a lot for their emotional well being," said Ralph Johnson, director of residential and conference facilities. "When people are in a very pleasing environment, they perform better and that is all part of supporting the educational mission of this institution."

Under the estimated $24 million project, renovations will be completed by the year 2002. "The construction schedule is aggressive," said Johnson. "It's a challenge to renovate ten buildings in five years."

Johnson said the architect from Burt Hill Kosar Rittlemann Associates, a Philadelphia-based architectural and interior design firm, will also supervise construction.

Renovations are nearly complete in Brown Hall and phase one of Smyth Hall has been completed already. The last two phases in Smyth are scheduled to be done over the next two summers, although Johnson would like to combine both phases into one summer.

Currently Sussex Hall is closed and will reopen for the Spring 1998 semester at which time New Castle Hall will be closed for renovations. Students now in New Castle will be transferred to the newly-reopened Sussex at that time.

Other renovations are to be completed as follows: Warner (summer of '98); Sypherd (1998-99 academic year); Kent (summer of '99); Squire (1999-2000 academic year); Cannon (2000-01 academic year); and Sharp (2001-02 academic year).

According to the executive director of housing and conference services, David G. Butler, during renovations the University will be able to continue its practice of housing all students who apply by the room assignment deadline each year.

Under a different project, all seven buildings in the Gilbert complex were also completely renovated in a similar manner over the summer, according to Johnson.

Public offers concerns to officials at underpass meeting on Tuesday.

Some members of the committee chaired by city councilmember Nancy Turner questioned whether a public meeting would be appropriate when WNTRC and DelDOT have already been working on a plan for the underpass for over a year.

However, Godwin said the rubber cones had been up for some time and drivers were expressing opinions to council and in the community about the situation. "Some folks say it's a great idea but others have different ideas about what should be done," said Godwin. "We need to hear from our neighbors about this."

Because of pedestrian safety concerns, DelDOT proposed putting a five-foot walkway with an eight-inch curb for pedestrians in the underpass. A light would also be installed under the bridge for illumination purposes.

DelDOT engineer Ralph Reeb told the committee in June that the project was moving quickly. Striping and orange, rubber cones were installed to create a temporary walkway while plans were made for the permanent work to be done.

Drivers have knocked down some of the cones since June, and some residents have complained that the underpass is more difficult to maneuver than ever. "Now that the path has been installed, narrowing the single lane underpass even more, drivers must slow down to five or ten miles per hour to pass through, which, of course, causes longer backups," said resident Susan Pini.

A fatal accident, still under investigation by the New Castle County Police, which occurred on Aug. 9 at the underpass raised more questions and concerns.

According to police, Anthony Olenderski, 37, of Elkton, Md., drove on the shoulder of Casho Mill Road for at least 100 feet before crashing into the bridge abutment at the underpass entrance a little after 10 p.m. that night.

Police have not determined the cause of the accident although they have stated that alcohol might have been a factor.

Newark resident Robert Bennett appeared before city council following the accident and asked that the traffic cones be removed. "The underpass is now, in a way it has never been before, unsafe for bicyclists and pedestrians, and motorists," Bennett told council at that time. "None of the civic associations in the area of the underpass were consulted before the realigning of the traffic through there."

Godwin said DelDOT told him the light at the underpass would be installed in the next few weeks. The city of Newark is also cutting back underbrush to help improve visibility at the site.

On Tuesday, WNTRC member Becky Herman suggested that a petition demanding quicker action from DelDOT be drafted for people attending the public meeting to sign.

However, State Senator Steven Amick (R-Newark West) said DelDOT would perceive that as a rally to get the work already promised. "What we want is an information gathering," said Amick.

WNTRC members passed a motion to schedule the meeting on a date to be announced when DelDOT officials are available to attend.

Store closing sad

MILLER FURNITURE Industries' decision to sell its two New Castle County furniture stores to the owner of Good's furniture is the latest chapter in a depressing pattern of consolidation that seems to be taking place across all industries.

The Miller's family will retain its CarpetOne operation and real estate firm, but will be out of the furniture business after nearly a century.

In addition to its longevity, Miller's was known in the area for having a large number of long-time employees. That's quite a compliment in the difficult world of retailing.

In a way, the sale is understandable. As the number of big manufacturers dwindle, it becomes easy to comparison shop and buy on the basis of the lowest price.

That puts the big company in the driver's seat when it comes to buying in bulk, securing lines of credit etc.

At the same time, it would be wrong to predict that all stores will end up as part of large chains. At the same time the Miller's sale was announced, signs seemed to indicate that the once high-flying Levitz chain was again encountering financial problems.

In many areas of retail, including furniture, the "one size fits all" approach doesn't work. Otherwise a Levitz or the like would dominate the business.

To date, regional tastes and other patterns have not allowed a Wal-Mart Toys 'R Us or other category killer to set up thousands of stores. And the largest furniture retailer has less than 900 stores, a figure that hardly spells domination.

Indeed, the company that runs Good's has stores operating under other names in other parts of the country.

It has also been encouraging to see new furniture retailers spring up in fast-growing areas such as Bear-Glasgow.

The loss of a well-known name in local retailing is troubling, but don't count the little guys out yet.

NEWARK POST CONTRIBUTING WRITER

THE DAILY BUSINESS journals and weekly magazines of commerce make it clear: those waters of the mercantile world may look placid, but immense and intense battles are going on just below the surface.

Whether it's the big sea of acronyms, i.e., ALC swallows up RVO, or an unnamed backwater pond or creek of business, those roils of movement that merely ruffle the silent surfaces are the outward and visible signs of fights-for-life "down there" where this time's pursuers will be the pursued next time.

Whether it be sharks out for an honorable nosh and acting alone — or with immoral porpoises — or tortoises working their version of the old shell game—winners in business emerge and the losers submerge or disappear down the maw of the higher, more powerful commercial pieces.

Power is the point in business—if you make waves but don't have the power (some refer to power as "jaws"), you are in trouble.

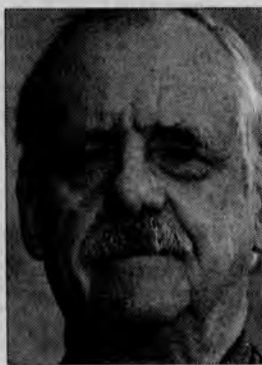

My late brother seemed to have had it made in the banking business — he was a young legal officer in one whale of a banking chain. The firm gave every evidence of being so huge and powerful that the sharks stayed away, seemingly intimidated.

One day as my brother went to lunch with a client, he went by the bank officers' desks where he saw an unseemly looking man in the waiting section — the fellow's hair was beyond unkempt and tousled, his eyes were red and rheumy above an untrained, sprawling shag of facial hair, and his torn shirt and greasy trousers looked held together by sweat and dirt. One boot sole had a hole in it — the other probably did, too, under a chewing gum wad. But he was not my brother's business, though Lee did tell the security officer to "keep and eye on that fellow."

Two hours later, Lee returned from his bank-profitable lunch, and "he" was still there, still unwashed, still trying to keep awake, still attempting to hail blind, deaf bank officers passing by him on their way to anywhere else.

My brother introduced himself, asked the man into somebody's vacated office, and said, "What can I do for you?" The man took out a wad of money the size of a chewing tobacco pouch and said, "Here are 117 thousand-dollar bills. I've been on the road for two days, non-stop. Can I open an account here?"

Hummel

My brother tried to wave down an officer to take the money — no one would "see" him or "hear" him. He wrote it up himself and felt obliged to sign his name. Lee went back to his third floor office, a little smelly from the hug he received from "him!"

Two nights later, he noticed a nasty divot in the door jamb of his home. In the den was the biggest television set the Orient made back then — it was his reward for having won the contest for the biggest account opened that month. Two nights later, there was a matching divot on the other side of the door jamb — the television set had been removed. Barnacle Bill, head of the officers on the first floor, had complained "upstairs" that my brother had no "business" opening the account for the man — so the television set was taken by Barnacle Bill!

Twice more the television set was given and taken away from my brother, as the argument raged throughout the Big Bank whale about the cold refusal to take the money of a valuable client because he wasn't dressed "appropriately" — or my brother's "insolent" refusal to mind his own business.

Finally, it got all the way to the president who spouted spume all over everybody. The television set found its final resting place in my brother's den; in addition, he was sent a case of Scotch so old that it was malted way back when Braveheart was giving the Brits fits and was first drunk in the Highlands to

Age of committees

If a man wants to know what he thinks, he starts a club; and if he wants to be very sure, he calls a convention.

Every idea we have is run into a constitution. We cannot think without a chairman. Our whims have secretaries; our fads have by-laws. Literature is a club. Philosophy is a society.

We cannot mourn our mighty dead without a Carnegie Hall. We remember our poets with trustees and the immortality of a genius is watched by a standing committee.

Theology is a set of resolutions. We awe the impenitent with crowds, convert the world with boards and save the lost souls with delegates.

The right to work

A free America has the right to labor without any other's leave. It would be no less an abridgement to deny men to bargain collectively.

Governments cannot tolerate any domination through force. It will be a sorry day when group domination is reflected in our laws.

The laws in which government is charged with enforcing must be for all the people, ever aiming at the common good. The foremost thought in the Constitution is the right to freedom and the pursuit of happiness.

Liberty is gone in America when any man is denied the right to work and live by that work.

President Harding.

Continuing traffic problems at the intersection of Nottingham & Casho Mill Roads and Delrim Drive may force installation of a traffic light at that location.

State representative John G.S. Billingsley, the state Div. of the highways has scheduled a traffic signal survey for the intersection during peak hours.

Newark school designs draw national kudos

The Newark school districts Ramon C. Cobbs Lower School and Middle School have been selected for special recognition at the architectural exhibits of two national associations during the month of October. These two schools along with Martin J. Gauger Middle School were designed by the architectural firm of Richard Phillips Fox, A/A, of Newark and built by the William C. Ehret Construction Co. of Wilmington.

These buildings are being praised because of the economies worked in the design of the building without hampering the educational program.

Water company gives reasons for shutdown request

To: The Editor:
From: Joanne C. Rufft
United Water Company
Manager Customer Service and Communications

IN RESPONSE TO YOUR August 29, 1997, article entitled "Watching Water Use" we would like to clarify inaccuracies included in the article. The article quotes conclusions by an official of the City of Newark's water department stating "United Water has been struggling to supply their customers with water." This commentary had to do with that official's explanation of why the Newark treatment facility had been shutdown on several occasions recently. What the article does not tell you are the actual reasons behind United Water's request to shutdown the City of Newark's treatment facility. We would like to outline the reasons for this request, one of which is the State of Delaware's mandatory "flow-by restrictions" that we must meet. In addition, our Water Allocation Permit from DNREC gives us first draw on water flows from the White Clay Creek.

First, it is important to note that United Water must meet mandatory flow-by restrictions of 17.2 million gallons per day at our Stanton Plant located on the White Clay Creek. With stream flows unusually low this summer we have had to adjust our operating procedures to ensure these flow-bys. Because United Water has "first draw" on the White Clay Creek, we may request that City of Newark to shut down their treatment facility. This is only required when UWD cannot meet the mandatory minimum flow-by restrictions. Though our Water Allocation Permit from DNREC gives us the first draw on water, we strongly believe in cooperating with neighboring water utilities. Our relationship with the City of Newark Water Department is a valued one. We have been coordinating our efforts with the City of Newark so as to allow them to continue to draw from the White Clay when feasible.

Secondly, additional steps have been taken by United Water to meet flow-bys while still allowing City of Newark to operate. United Water has purchased raw water from the City of Wilmington Hoopes Reservoir. This purchased water flows into the Red Clay Creek and then to the White Clay where our Stanton Plant is located. These draws have allowed us to meet flow-by restrictions as well as allow the City of Newark to continue to draw water.

Thirdly, we brought our Christiana Plant on-line to provide us with additional source. This gives us the ability to draw less from the White Clay Creek, resulting in greatly minimizing the down time for City of Newark's facility.

Further, under an agreement with the City of Newark, we can sell them enough water to provide them with adequate source by which to service their customers. They are currently purchasing water from us and do have the opportunity to purchase more if they choose. United Water continues to have surplus water available to sell to the City at a reasonable rate. In other words, the conclusion that we are "struggling to supply" our customers is inaccurate. Rather, we are working to ensure that we meet the State flow-by mandates, which does not necessarily effect the water supply availability to our customers.

New train has drawbacks as well as positives

To: The Editor
From: Bob Ruck, Bear

Recently we've seen publicity on new train service from Newark/Wilmington. I'd be interested in using it, but see several problems in the service.

If I begin work at 7 a.m., (catch the 6:23 train out of Newark, which allows time to arrive downtown, and catch Route 51 to be at my desk by 7 a.m.), I don't have an option to go home until the first train out in the evening at 5:18 p.m. This means I can only use the service if I work a 10-hour day. If I'm on an eight-hour schedule, I can't begin work at 7 a.m. Return trips should be provided so people have the option to come home at the end of eight hours.

I don't understand the daily parking fee. I can understand this if someone was going to leave a car in the lot overnight or for several days while on a business trip. I think daily commuters should have free parking. If our local government wants to encourage use of mass transit, then give us free parking.

to celebrate the separation of Charles the First's torso from his head. Precious stuff!

Ongoing petitions were made to the bank's board about the whole business, and my brother took his television set and Scotch and moved on. I was shocked! "How can you leave a whale of a firm like that?" His answer was simple: "It wasn't a whale at all - it was a minnow with a supreme dose of gas!"

The sharks got a whiff of the situation - they surrounded the dyspeptic, maxi-bloated minnow and gobbled it up, gas and all. The last sounds from the creature were much like a whimper; some claim they heard Barnacle Bill blubbling, "You have no right!"

Anyway, it's gone.

Net resources for families

■ This weekly feature on the Lifestyle page is authored by the staff of the Newark-based Cooperative Extension Service.

ONE OF THE most frequent topics of conversation these days is developments in electronic technology—the Internet, the World Wide Web and so forth. I thought it might be interesting to take a look at some family related resources available that would be of use to Post readers. The best sites I found are:

National Parent Information Network by Educational and Informational Clearinghouse (<http://ericps.ed.uiuc.edu/npin>). This organization provides information and communications capabilities to parents and those who work with parents. For parents there is a question-answering service. This organization has developed material for many years and covers lots of topics.

Facts for Families by the American Academy of Child and Adolescent Psychiatry

By Maria Pippidis

(<http://www.aacap.org>). This resource provides brief factsheets on important topics such as the depressed child, teen suicide, step-family problems and child sexual abuse.

The WonderWise Parent by Charles A. Smith, Ph.D., Kansas State University (<http://www.ksu.edu/wpparent/wonhome.htm>) is for parents and professionals who work with parents to learn about parent-child relationships. There are on-line courses to complete, publications to view and related sites to visit. You can also visit the Reflecting Pool for a quiet moment of thought about your wishes and dreams as a parent.

Since two-thirds of the users of the Internet are men, so I looked for information especially for fathers. There were not as many resources in this area as I expected, but there were several very good places to talk with other fathers and to answer some of the questions that may be important to fathers.

FatherNet by the Children, Youth and Family Consortium at the University of Minnesota (<http://www.cyfc.umn.edu/father-net.html>). This resource has a variety of different parts. Father to Father is a national effort to unite men in the task of being a strong and positive force in their children's lives. There are many different resources for expanding father support programs. There are also lists of other sites that may be of interest to fathers, sample messages from the FatherNet discussion group, and an online newsletter for fathers.

Fathers' Forum by ParentsPlace (<http://www.parentsplace.com/read-room/fathers/index.html>). This resource is designed to offer new and expectant fathers opportunities to explore the many facets of parenthood.

Elizabeth M. Simmons, youth services librarian for the Kirkwood Public Library recently named to the Newbery Medal Committee, said the medal is like a Oscar for books.

Kirkwood librarian named to Newbery Medal committee

Award bestowed by American Library Association

By MARY PETZAK

NEWARK POST STAFF WRITER

ELIZABETH M. SIMMONS, professional storyteller and youth services librarian for the Kirkwood Public Library, has been elected to the 1999 John Newbery Medal Committee by the American Library Association.

Established in 1921 by the R.R. Bowker Company, publishers of the Library Journal and Publisher's Weekly, the Newbery Medal is named for the first known Englishman to exclusively publish and sell children's books.

"This award is to a children's literature author as an Oscar is to a movie star," explained Simmons.

Her task together with 13 other national representatives, is to read several hundred children's books published during the year 1998. In January 1999, the committee will convene to evaluate the field and to select the publication that best represents quality in children's literature.

Some of the children's books receiving the Newbery Award have been: The Voyages of Dr. Doolittle, 1923; Roller Skates, 1937; Johnny Tremain, 1944; Carry On Mr. Bowditch, 1956; Island of the Blue Dolphins, 1961; Roll of Thunder Hear My Cry, 1977; Sarah Plain and Tall, 1986; and View From Saturday, 1997.

Working in the New Castle County community since 1985, the Newark resident has been actively involved in library science professional organizations since 1979.

“*This award is to a children's literature author as an Oscar is to a movie star.”

ELIZABETH M. SIMMONS
KIRKWOOD PUBLIC LIBRARY LIBRARIAN

"It brings me great pride to emphasize that Elizabeth is the only nationally active youth services librarian in the entire state of Delaware," said library coordinator Anne Hampton.

Simmons holds a bachelor of arts degree in creative writing and English literature from Juniata University and a masters in library science from the University of Pittsburgh. She is a member and past president of the Delaware Library Association and served as the state's Library and Information delegate to the White House in 1991.

Her memberships also include the American Library Association, the National Storytelling Association, and the Wilmington Storytellers.

In 1986, Simmons served on the Randolph Caldecott Medal Committee for the most distinguished illustrative children's book. Winners of that award since 1938 have included: Cinderella, 1955; Frog Went A-Courtin', 1956; Where The Wild Things Are, 1964; Drummer Hoff, 1968; Jumanji, 1982; Polar Express, 1986; and Golem, 1997.

Other prestigious committees on which Simmons has served are the Video Evaluation Committee, 1993-94, and the Recording Evaluation Committee for the years 1988-1993 and 1995-97 for the most notable children's video and audio recordings.

The devotion Simmons applies to her work is appreciated in New Castle County. "Elizabeth is extremely dedicated to the library sciences," said County Executive Thomas P. Gordon. "We are honored to have her and excited about her most recent accomplishment."

Calvacade of Cars comes to Hagley Museum

IT'S COMING BACK again next week at Hagley Museum and Library. It is the event that celebrates the industry that put our nation on wheels and the instrument that did it, the car. Next Saturday, the 20th, Hagley's Cavalcade of Cars will be open to the public on the grounds at Hagley from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m.

Hagley is the perfect spot in our area for such a show. It is one of the world's great industrial museums and libraries and that industry certainly does include the automobile. The show will include over 400 cars, trucks and motorcycles! It is so big that we can't even park on the Hagley property. Shuttle busses will operate from the visitor parking site which is at du Pont's Barley Mill Plaza, Delaware routes 141 and 48.

You will see cars from before the turn of the century and many outstanding cars of our own century. Particularly interesting cars from this century include a 1910 Haynes Runabout and a 1914 Biddle Phaeton. Among auto aficionados cars from 1925 to 1945 are referred to as "Classic Cars." Among the earlier ones in this category you may see a 1928 Day-Elder Truck, a 1933 DeSoto Custom Rumble Seat and a 1939 Ford Weapons Carrier.

During the time when yours truly was becoming interested in cars (more interest in driving than in collecting) many gems came on the market. The period of the 50s and 60s was marked more by refinement and improvement than by any single important invention. To show case this era we can see a 1950

A car that has always interested me a great deal is The Stanley Steamer. I have had the good fortune to visit the Marshall Magic Age of Steam Museum and find this car fascinating. The Stanley dates back to 1897 and is still very much alive, used in rallies across our land. When the automobile loomed on the transportation horizon in the 1890s, inventors obviously had much more experience with steam engines than internal combustion engines. It was therefore logical they would turn there for their motive power.

The Stanley twins, Francis E. and Freelan O., built the first car in 1897. Within two years they were building them and beginning their auto empire which was to last until 1924. By that time improvements in and working knowledge of the internal combustion engine were widespread and that engine became the standard of the industry.

The Stanley twins built about 12,000 cars between 1897 and 1924 of which about 600 remain in operating condition. On these 600, 21 will be at Hagley next Saturday. Among those on display will be a 1902 Model B and 1922 Stanley 740 Broughm. As of deadline for my column, I haven't been able to find out if the very rare Mountain Wagon that has been at Hagley in previous years will be back. I hope so.

There will be Stanley Steamer demonstrations and an excellent exhibit on the history of the car company to enjoy as well. Many young people are fascinated by the thought of a steam operated car. When they actually see one the result is usually good. Last year a young lad near me said to his father, "Cool heap, Dad." That is praise indeed!

Also receiving special attention at Hagley will be the Oldsmobile.

That history begins in Lansing, Michigan, in 1895 with Ransom E. Olds and Frank Clark. The company only built four cars during its first year of operation. They built a few more this year. Olds on display will include a 1903 Runabout, a 1908 REO Model A Touring, a 1936 Sports Coupe, a 1955 Super 88 and an undisclosed 1988 model.

Admission for the Hagley Cavalcade of Cars is $5 for adults, $3 for children six to 14. A family ticket is only $12. For information you may call 302-658-2400.

Lastly, I looked for sources of information that help people deal with work and family issues directly. I think one of the best source for information is the Ohio State University Extension OhioLine (<http://www.ag.ohio-state.edu/~ohioline/lifetime>). There are many articles on many important par-

I also found a site where parents can talk about stress: Forum on Stress, By Redbook (<http://homearts.com/discussion/rb/main/rbcnvste.htm>). Labor Day is now past;
Parents strangely aghast;
Their wild kiddies are now back at school.
There are less heated quibblings
Between quarrelsome siblings.
Mom and Dad find this respite quite cool.

A tedious teacher,
Frustrated outreach,
Found his calling was clearly amuck.
So, he packed up his books
Amidst students' harsh looks
And chalked it all up to bad luck.

How can a car get anemic?
When it's tired and exhausted.

If the king of ancient Troy were to reappear today when would he be interviewed on TV?
Priam time.

Kind words to the downtrodden may shorten one's time in Purgatory.

The "Have a good day" farewell from a supermarket cashier can, at times, lack sincerity.

Newspapers put on microfilm

THE UNIVERSITY of Delaware Library recently completed a 13-year project funded by the National Endowment for the Humanities to film Delaware newspapers.

Among the newspaper issues put on microfilm were recent years of the Newark Post, Wiadosci (a Polish language newspaper), Il Fuoco (an Italian language newspaper) and Airlifter (published for Dover Air Force Base personnel).

Also filmed were: the Delaware Abolitionist, published by the Delaware Anti-Slavery Society; The Advance, a newspaper that claimed to be Republican in politics, Christian in religion and devoted to the moral and industrial advancement of African Americans; the Delaware Reporter; and the Wilmington Herald Times.

Library staff picked up copies of the newspapers at various locations throughout the state and brought them to the University's Morris Library where they were prepared for microfilming. The actual filming was performed by IMR, of West Hazleton, Pa., a professional filming company.

There is a complete copy of all newspapers filmed as part of the project available for use at the Morris Library. Participating libraries and repositories in Delaware received a microfilm copy of the newspapers they provided.

The complete print master, consisting of approximately 796 reels of microfilm, is available at the Delaware Bureau of Archives in Dover where staff can produce microfilm copies on demand for a fee.

According to director of libraries Susan Brynteson, the project owes its successful completion to the willingness of the participants to provide newspapers for filming. "More than 280 newspaper issues were filmed, in whole or in part, depending upon the availability of print copies of the newspapers," said Brynteson.

Participants who provided newspapers for filming included Delaware Agricultural Museum, the Delaware Bureau of Archives, the Georgetown Public Library, the Hagley Museum and Library, the Historical Society of Delaware, the Laurel Public Library, the Milford District Free Public Library, the New Castle Public Library, the Newark Free Library, the Rehoboth Beach Public Library, the South Coastal Library, the University of Delaware Library, the Wilmington Institute Free Library, the Winterthur Museum and Library and the offices of various newspapers.

THE SENIOR McGOLF TOUR

Ronald McDonald and 120 area golfers turned out on Monday at the Newark Country Club for the Newark Senior Center Fourth Annual Benefit Golf Invitational. According to organizer Gene Trivits, sponsors underwrite the expenses of the event and all proceeds earned go to the senior center. Golfers competed for prizes including a set of golf clubs and vacation trips. Trivits said the this year's goal was $16,000. Almost $35,000 was raised through the previous three benefits.

The first step is the easiest for eyeglasses

USED EYEGASSES start a long journey once they're placed in the Lions Club collection boxes throughout Delaware — a journey out of the state that starts in Newark and ends in Mexico.

First, Newark Lion Al O'Neill collects the glasses and sends them to James May of the Rehoboth Lions Club. There Mays enlists the help of the "Pioneers," a visually impaired group, who wash and clean the glasses.

The glasses are taken to the Sussex County Correctional Institution where prisoner-volunteers instructed in the use of a lensometer read the various prescriptions. Then the glasses are stored at Kent-Sussex Industries.

Two weekends a year, Lions Club members of DELVOSH (Delaware Volunteers for Optometrical Services for Humanity) help to catalog and pack the glasses for shipment to El Paso, Texas.

Finally, Lions Club members from the city of Parral in the state of Chihuahua, Mexico, make the 10-hour trip to Texas to pick up the glasses.

Why Mexico you may wonder? Dr. Carl Maschauer, now with an optometry practice in Georgetown, was a medical student in 1980 when he and some of his classmates received grants to serve clinics in Mexico. Discovering a huge need there, Maschauer presented the idea of sending eyeglasses to Mexico through the Lions Clubs.

Parral is in an area of poverty with the average wage of $20 a week. People wait in line for hours in hopes of receiving the gift of sight. O'Neill said he remembers not only a gentleman who was thrilled to be able to see the surrounding mountains for the first time, but also the child who cried when receiving glasses.

Through an interpreter O'Neill learned the child said, "My mom doesn't love me — she won't let me play sports now because I might break my glasses."

Discarded eyeglasses have a long journey but are accepted with great appreciation by less fortunate neighbors. Please stop by the Newark Lions Club display at Newark's Community Day on Sept. 21, and help your used eyeglasses begin the journey. Any donations are gratefully accepted, especially children's as theirs is the greatest need.

At anytime during the year, glasses can be dropped off at the Newark Senior Center or call Al O'Neill at 834-4091.

German folk dancing is always a favorite at the Delaware Saengerbund's Oktoberfest celebration.

Oktoberfest coming to Delaware Saengerbund

The largest Oktoberfest in Delaware will burst forth with Bavarian entertainment, food, and of course, beverages, next weekend at the Delaware Saengerbund on Salem Church Road near Route 4.

First celebrated as a wedding party for the Bavarian Crown Prince in 1810, Oktoberfests have grown into large folk festivals which are not necessarily held in October. "We hold ours earlier to ensure milder weather," said Simon Schock, chairman of the local event which has been held for the past 18 years.

Nearly 20,000 visitors from Delaware and nearby states come to the tent and fairgrounds set up at the Saengerbund in Ogletown each year. In addition to Bavarian bands and dancers, German food, beer and other beverages, amusement rides and games provide fun for the entire family.

The Oktoberfest runs 5 to 11 p.m. on Sept. 19 and on Sept. 20 from noon to 11 p.m. and Sept. 21, noon to 6 p.m. Tickets, which included unlimited amusement rides, are $5 for adults and $4 for children under 12 years accompanied by an adult.

ST. MARK'S WINS REGIONAL TOURNEY

Spartans shut out New York teams

By MARTY VALANIA

NEWARK POST STAFF WRITER

THE ST. MARK'S High soccer team couldn't have asked for a better way to start the season.

The defending state champions rolled to the championship of the National Soccer Hall of Fame Mayor's Cup in Oneonta, N.Y. The Spartans knocked off Holy Cross (N.Y.) 3-0 in Friday's semi-final and returned Saturday to blitz Bishop McNamara 10-0 in the championship game.

"We do feel good about it," said St. Mark's coach Tom DeMatteis. "They were quality teams and it's a great way to start the season."

DeMatteis felt especially good about his team's win over Holy Cross.

"They've won the New York City high school championship five of the last six years,"

The St. Mark's soccer team poses in front of the net after capturing the National Soccer Hall of Fame Mayor's Cup championship in Oneonta, N.Y. Saturday afternoon.

DeMatteis said of Holy Cross. "And they had four of their players on St. John's University team that won the NCAA championship last year. It's really a good program."

Luke Dilworth got the Spartans started on the right foot with a goal just eight minutes into the game.

"We really put a lot of pressure on in the first 20 minutes,"

DeMatteis said. "But in the second 20 minutes I would say they really put the pressure on us."

"Our defense, though, did a great job in not letting them really finish any of their plays."

The Spartans came out and dominated the second half, scoring two goals within a minute of each other.

Brian Lenz scored the first about 15 minutes into the second half. Jeremy Doucette, who replaced Lenz immediately after the goal, then got the second goal just 32 seconds later.

"We really just wore them down in the second half," DeMatteis said. "We played a steady game."

Pete Ferrante and Jeff Burress earned the shutout in goal for the Spartans.

Saturday's championship game romp over Bishop McNamara had its roots in McNamara's overtime penalty kick shootout win on Friday.

"We watched them play the whole game and then two overtime periods," DeMatteis said. "You could tell that they weren't ready to play again in less than 18 hours."

Rob Ballas scored twice to lead the Spartans' barrage while Warren Hughart, Joe Lazorick, Lenz, Doucette, Matt Rifino, Will Hohman Adam Stuller and Jason Dzielak each scored once.

Spartan player details victorious tournament trip

By DAN KEANE

ST. MARK'S SENIOR CAPTAIN

St. Mark's senior captain Dan Keane, a returning first-team All-State player, took the time to document the Spartans' successful trip to the National Soccer Hall of Fame Mayor's Cup. The following is a first-hand account of the team's journey.

Friday, Sept. 5

Early in the morning the St. Mark's High varsity soccer team left school and headed to Oneonta, N.Y. for the National Soccer Hall of Fame Mayor's Cup.

The tournament gave us the opportunity to play some of the top teams from the region. As we started out on the five-hour ride, everyone was excited about this rare opportunity for us to travel such a great distance in order to play in a high-level competition. However, we were a bit unsure how we would perform, since these games were our first two of the season.

After checking into our hotel and changing into our uniforms, we took a short bus ride to the Wright National Soccer Campus. The picturesque gathering of well maintained fields and the surrounding hills and mountains was the sight of the tournament.

Our game that afternoon was against Holy Cross, a team that had won five of the past six New York City high school championships.

The game was sure to be a tough, physical battle. We started the game strong and sweeper Luke Dilworth slammed in a goal just eight minutes in. Our play remained steady for the rest of the first half, and the score stayed 1-0 at halftime.

The team's play remained consistent throughout the second half and goals by Brian Lenz and Jeremy Doucette improved the lead

Newark rips Sallies

By CHRIS DONAHUE

NEWARK POST STAFF WRITER

Four days after Newark High's 31-0 demolition of Salesianum School in the season-opener for both teams last Friday at Baynard Stadium, the Yellowjackets' spirits still seemed to be soaring.

There were whoops and hollers for great catches and tackles, high-fives and slaps on the back on the Yellowjackets' dusty practice field.

And with an open date this weekend, Newark will have several more days to savor its victory before playing Caesar Rodney next weekend in Dover.

Now in his 21st season coaching at Newark, Butch Simpson has seen just about everything, from state championships and conference titles to heartbreaking losses.

As far as season openers go, Simpson called it one of the his most memorable. And well it should be, as his offense produced 394 offensive yards, including 306 yards rushing, while the defense limited Salesianum's offense to an average of 1.6 yards per play in 47 attempts.

Senior halfback Corey Wallace paced Newark's attack with three touchdowns and rushed for 127 yards on eight carries, while junior halfback Richie Parson scored one TD and rushed for 62 yards.

But despite all the glory, Simpson said his players are well aware that the road ahead is long and filled with potholes. Keeping his players' feet on the ground, especially the younger ones, is something he and his coaching staff stresses every season.

"We have a Monday meeting while the JV game is going on and we discuss practice, who the next opponent is, how the season is developing," Simpson said. "We try to keep things in perspective, and in the first meeting we discussed the idea that, 'OK, that's the start of the season.'"

Simpson said he'll try to use the

Blue Hens set for Villanova

By MARTY VALANIA

NEWARK POST STAFF WRITER

ALL PRESEASON the University of Delaware football team talked of the urgency of getting ready for its rugged early season schedule. The Hens have passed one test but will find out Saturday if their preseason preparation was enough.

After handling New Hampshire 27-10 last week, Delaware will face archrival Villanova Saturday afternoon at Delaware Stadium. The win over New Hampshire vaulted Delaware from sixth to fourth in the I-AA national rankings this week.

The Wildcats, ranked No. 18 in the country, are coming off an incredible 64-0 victory over West Chester in a game that was called because of severe lightning just thirty seconds into the third quarter. Couple that with the fact that they ripped Delaware 27-0 last season and it's not hard to see why it's a big game.

The Blue Hens are well aware of the fits that West Chester has given them over the years and realize this year's Villanova team must be a good one.

"Either West Chester is horribly inept or Villanova is as good as the 1946 Army team," said Delaware coach Tubby Raymond. "And that was a good team with [All-Americans] Blanchard and Davis."

Raymond feels good about his team's performance last week but isn't quite sure of how good it is yet.

"We past one test but now the question is who are we?" he said.

"And who do we play? Is New Hampshire is good as they were suppose to be and are we?"

"We'll find out some more this week."

What Delaware will have trouble finding out before the game is how good Villanova is.

"It was an aberration," said Villanova coach Andy Talley. "I've never been in a game like that. It was one of those days where we did everything right and they did everything wrong."

"They came in wanting to blitz and left some of their people one-on-one with our skilled people and it was a mismatch."

"We really didn't get anything out of the game except a win. It was just too easy. We didn't have any

ATHLETE OF THE WEEK

LUKE DILWORTH ST. MARK'S HIGH

TEAMS never know quite what to expect when they travel to regional tournaments. During those games the players look to their team leaders more than ever.

That's why Luke Dilworth's performance was so important to St. Mark's in its two-game sweep of the regional Soccer Hall of Fame Mayor's Cup last weekend.

Dilworth, a senior captain, scored the first goal of the Spartans' semifinal contest against New York City champion Holy Cross. St. Mark's never looked back again.

The Spartans went on to a 3-0 victory over Holy Cross and a 10-0 win over Bishop McNamara (Md.) in the championship game.

"Luke got the first goal of game and that was big," said St.

Mark's coach Tom DeMatteis. "He has great leadership qualities and as a player he might be the best we've ever had at breaking down a player from a defensive standpoint."

Dilworth, the team's sweeper, also anchored a strong defensive effort.

"We expected good competition," Dilworth said. "We played well though. Once we get that first goal we really settle down and play defense."

Dilworth also noted the satisfaction of representing Delaware high school soccer so well.

"We were happy to be playing for Delaware," he said. "Delaware doesn't get the respect of some bigger places. I think we opened some eyes that we have some strong competition down here in this state."

Glasgow, Newark earn x-country wins

The Newark girls' cross country team opened its season with a victory over William Penn Tuesday afternoon at White Clay Creek State Park's 3.1 mile course.

The Yellowjackets won 21-43 with Mary Politowski winning the race and Kim Woods finishing second to lead the way.

Bernadette Politowski finished third while Nicole Luft finished seventh and Rachel Kendziersk eighth.

The Yellowjackets' boys team, however, fell 25-30 to the Colonials.

Macky Harder was Newark's high finisher in third place while Clark Ridge finished fifth and Claron Ridge sixth. Jeff Woolridge seventh and Brian Ashby was ninth.

"I'm happy with the way we're running," said Newark coach Hilton Cohen. "We ran a lot of our best times."

The Glasgow boys and girls teams both defeated Christiana in action Tuesday over the same course at White Clay Creek State Park.

Rachel Schluetter won the race while Melissa Pettee finished third. Amanda Terry placed fourth and Kate LaShomb fifth and Renae Staton sixth. Kellye Hines finished seventh.

Christiana's Jenny Clark came in second place while April Dunn finished eighth.

The Glasgow boys also won with Josh Adams finishing in first place and Fawad Nasir in second.

to 3-0. Our solid defense secured the victory and gave us a spot in Saturday's final.

After the game we headed back to the hotel to wash up, and then were off to nearby steak house for dinner. Everyone seemed satisfied with our performance that afternoon.

We went to bed early in order to rest for the championship game.

Saturday, Sept. 6

The entire team was up by 8 a.m. to head to McDonald's for breakfast. Then it was off to the fields once again for a match against Maryland's Bishop McNamara at noon.

Bishop McNamara advanced to the final with a shootout victory over Elmira (N.Y.) Free Academy Friday. The two teams played to a 3-3 tie in regulation and, following two overtimes, went to a penalty kick shootout.

The lengthy game may have hurt [McNamara] because the team appeared tired and sluggish.

We capitalized on that sluggish play and pounded in five first-half goals. Our team's depth also enabled us to make numerous substitutions without experiencing a drop in play. With fresh legs always on the field, we put five more goals away in the second half, making the final 10-0.

After we received our trophy, we drove into Oneonta to take a tour of the National Soccer Hall of Fame. The Hall of Fame was filled with various college, professional and international soccer displays.

From there we drove to nearby Cooperstown — home of the Baseball Hall of Fame. Some members of the team toured the Baseball Hall of Fame while others walked through town and ate dinner.

It was then time to head back to Delaware. The ride home allowed us to reflect on our trip. It was a success in every way. We won both games and had plenty of time to relax and have fun with teammates.

It was a great way to start the season and are now looking forward to the remainder of the year.

adversity, no goal line stuff, not much of anything."

Villanova does have some stand out offensive talent in split end Brian Finneran and running back Curtis Sifford. Finneran is 6-5 and is a pro prospect and Sifford possesses outstanding speed.

"They're skilled people are exceptional," Raymond said. "Finneran is a very fine receiver."

Despite the easy win over West Chester, Talley isn't sure how good his team is.

"We'll see how they react to the step up in competition," he said. "This is a good Delaware team. It looked like they went back to fundamental Wing-T football last week. It was Wing-T 101."

"They know they have a good defense and some good receivers and are going to be looking not to make mistakes on offense. I think they want to be fundamental and let their defense win some games for them. They have a quarterback in Brian Ginn that will let them do that. The thing I was most impressed with on the tape is that he really plays within himself. He takes advantage of his strengths and all the strengths of the system."

Kickoff is at 1 p.m. at Delaware Stadium.

Riley returns with honors

Former Glasgow High product Shannon Riley returns to Newark with Villanova on Saturday afternoon.

Riley started all 12 of the Wildcats' games last season and led the team with interceptions with five and was second on the team in tackles with 102. He was named third team All-Conference.

Last year he was named Yankee Conference Defensive Player of the Week for his efforts against Delaware. In that 27-0 Wildcats' victory, Riley had four tackles, recovered two fumbles, broke up a pass and blocked a field goal attempt.

This year he is being touted by Villanova as an All-Conference candidate. He was picked to the second-team All-Atlantic 10 preseason team.

Kirkwood Avalanche earn tie in Tri-County league opener

The newly-formed Kirkwood Avalanche, an under-14 girls soccer team, opened its season with a 1-1 tie in a match against the Brandywine Tsunamis Sunday in Tri-County Girls' Soccer League action.

The Avalanche scored the first goal of the game on a penalty kick by Tara Soper. Mindy Kittle centered the ball from the left after receiving it from Rachel Chadderdon. A hand ball was called on the Tsunamis, which resulted in the penalty kick.

The Kirkwood team controlled much of the game with good defense by centerbacks Kristen Ross and Devon Cheeseman. Goalkeeper Rachel Beatty made several outstanding saves to keep the game tight.

The Tsunamis tied the game on a self-goal, which came after wild scramble in front of the goal.

Maria Metcalfe and Kristen Perry contributed to the Avalanche's offensive attack.

Vikings top Jackets in field hockey

By CHRIS DONAHUE

NEWARK POST STAFF WRITER

Christiana High's field hockey team has its sights set on a berth in the state tournament.

Although that might seem like a small hill to climb for some schools, it's a lofty one for this year's version of the Vikings, who haven't made the tournament for more than 10 years.

As a member of Blue Hen Conference Flight A, there is little margin for error with such perennial powers such as William Penn and Brandywine, who have dashed the tournament hopes of more than a few teams over the years.

But even though it was only one game, Christiana took a step towards achieving that goal - and sticking it to a neighborhood rival in the process - when it beat Newark 3-1 in the season-opener for both teams last Friday.

Christiana will find out even more about itself today when they host Brandywine at 3:45 p.m.

"We want to win every game, especially against Newark," said junior right wing Anna Germain, who scored once and assisted on another goal for the Vikings.

"I don't know when the last time Christiana ever made the tournament, if they ever did, but that is our goal this year," Germain added. "But there aren't any games we can relax in."

Christiana took command of the game in the opening 10 minutes, but Newark collected itself to gain two consecutive free hits around Christiana's goal about 12 minutes in. The Yellowjackets failed to convert on either chance, however, and it proved costly, as Germain gave Christiana a 1-0 lead a short time later.

Following a corner taken near Newark's goal, Germain, who was left unguarded about five yards from the left post, one-timed a centering pass behind Newark goalie Rachel Sklut.

Christiana's lead lasted until the final seconds of the half when a quick counterattack by Newark resulted in a goal by freshman Jessica Coombs, who beat Vikings goalie Jennifer Robinson with a low shot inside the right post.

Newark began the second half by carrying the bulk of the play, but its efforts were wasted when sophomore Valerie Stephens scored off another corner and Valerie Swain also scored in a three-minute span to put the game out of reach.

"I'm absolutely happy with our play today," said Christiana Coach Gayle Gibson. "They definitely showed that they were thinking and not just reacting, like they've done previously; helping one another, using one another for outlets. Our wings very clearly have speed and that what's going to help them if they can just use a little bit of their sticks to help them along.

"Today, our links really did a lot of work. They were everywhere they needed to be - backing up, helping out up front.

"(The backs) were a little sloppy in the beginning. There a few things to work on. Overall, as a unit, they did a good job helping each other out. A few little breakdowns, but it's still early."

Gibson may have to face Brandywine without the services of senior right wing Hollie Knowles.

As of Monday, Knowles was expected to be out of action for about five days after injuring her left ankle against Newark.

Despite the loss, Newark Coach Jennifer Rowles said she saw some positive aspect in her team's play.

"I thought we dominated (the first half)," Rowles said. "I was afraid they were going to let down after the first goal, but they didn't. They really came back, and scored.

"I think they let down after the second goal, and that's why (Christiana) scored another one real quick."

POST PICKS OF THE WEEK

THE 1997 HIGH SCHOOL FOOTBALL SEASON got off to a quick start last week with three of the four local teams playing and winning.

That's the same record we had in picking the games. We picked all four locals to win and only Hodgson, which lost a tight game to Archmere, came up on the short end.

There are four more games this week. Newark, after its huge shutout win over Salesianum, has the week off but Christiana and Glasgow get to take their first shots of the season. Here's a look at the four games.

GLASGOW (0-0) VS. CAESAR RODNEY (0-0) - Friday night at Newark's Hoffman Stadium (yes Newark because Glasgow's new field and track are not ready), 7 p.m. The Dragons lost a bunch of very close games last year, otherwise their 3-7 record would've been a lot better. Caesar Rodney is a perennial playoff team and always seems to have the best team in the Henlopen Conference. This year is probably no exception.

Glasgow very badly wants to get the year off to a good start. The Dragons have very good skilled people while CR always seems to keep coming up with talented players. Expect a good game. The Pick: Caesar Rodney 21, Glasgow 20.

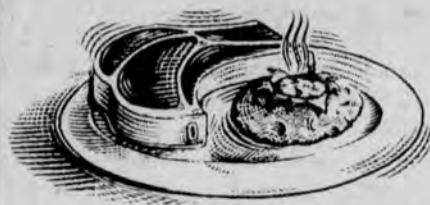

CARAVEL (1-0) VS. MCKEAN (1-0) - Friday night at Caravel, 7:30. The Bucs ripped Cardinal Gibbons in their opener last week and appear to have one of the strongest teams in the state in Division II. McKean, on the other hand, lost all 10 of its games last season. The Highlanders, though, defeated Tower Hill 22-18 in their opener and are hoping for a strong year.

They may have a much better year than last but that won't necessarily make them good enough to top the powerful Bucs.

The Pick: Caravel 28, McKean 13.

Newark rolls past Sallies in opener

► NEWARK, from 19

fact that his team faces another road game against CR to its advantage.

"This is something I will address very much, the fact that we just won a big game on the road, and if we can do this again, then we have three straight home games," Simpson said.

Against Salesianum, junior line-backer Dan Strengari helped set the tone for Newark's defense by intercepting a pass by Sals' quarterback Andy French at the Yellowjackets' 35 on the opening drive.

After the teams traded punts, senior quarterback Bobby Johnson rolled to the right sideline and lofted a 43-yard pass to Wallace, who outleaped Sals' defender Tony Mecca to make the reception in the end zone.

Rob Brennan's point-after made it 7-0.

After Brennan gave Newark a 10-0 with a 32-yard field goal early in the second quarter, Parson capped a 45-yard drive with 2:07 left in the quarter by scoring on a 3-yard run.

Newark's defense turned the tide of the game for good on the opening drive of the third quarter. After the Sals recovered a fumble by Wallace on Newark's 25, Parson recovered a fumble by Kevin Cohen near the Yellowjackets' 12. Salesianum never threatened to score again.

On the first play of its next possession from its own 42, Newark took a 24-0 lead when Wallace broke a tackle, cut up the middle and ran down the right sideline into the end zone.

Wallace closed out the scoring with 5:52 left in the fourth quarter on a 29-yard TD run.

"We were hyped for the game," Wallace said of his performance as well as his teams'. "The (offensive) line did a great job."

As for his running ability, Wallace said it's simple. "Whenever I get the ball I have it in my mind, I'll do whatever it takes to score."

Said Simpson: "He took plays that weren't well-executed and he was Corey Wallace. But that's what he does as well as anyone I can remember wearing our jersey. He can make as many great plays as all of our other great ones have."

Simpson said the victory was Newark's first against Salesianum at Baynard Stadium, but the approach his coaches took toward it was similar to every season-opener.

"First you have to look at the opponent," Simpson said. "Maybe more importantly, you look at the experience-level. We were pretty much able to jump right into our offense this year. We have four experienced players in the backfield, so we were able to accelerate the process of running plays."

"We also expected Salesianum to be in more multiple defenses, but they weren't."

After the game, Salesianum Coach Jim Brazill looked as though he'd gone 10 rounds with Mike Tyson.

"You can't win anything if you turn the ball over and don't tackle well," Brazill said. "Those are the two things we went into this thing saying we had to do."

Christiana opens against St. Mark's

► PICKS, from 22

HODGSON (0-1) VS. ACADEMY-NEW CHURCH – Saturday afternoon at Academy-New Church, 1:30. The young Silver Eagles dropped a tough game to Archmere last week. This is a week they desperately want to get a victory with North East and Caravel up next on the schedule. The thought here is that Hodgson will get it done this weekend. The Pick: Hodgson 14, Academy 6.

CHRISTIANA (0-0) VS. ST. MARK'S (1-0) – Saturday afternoon at Christiana's Coder Field, 1. The Spartans opened their season with a resounding 41-6 romp over Brandywine. The going should be a bit tougher this week against Christiana. This will be the Vikings' opener and they should be clambering to hit somebody besides themselves. St. Mark's showed a powerful offense last week but Christiana's defense should be the strong point of the Vikings' team. This should be a very good high school football game with the winner taking a big stride toward the state tournament.

Having a game under their belts already should help the Spartans and that may be all the edge they need in what appears to be a very tight battle. The Pick: St. Mark's 15, Christiana 14.

Moderate income families will have more buying opportunities

MODERATE income Delawareans looking for an affordable way to buy a home will now have more opportunities available to them. The Delaware Housing Partnership, a private-public effort to spur the construction of affordable new homes in Delaware, recently announced new partnerships that will afford homeownership to 175 families.

Home builders and the Bank of America will share in a pool of $877,500 which will be used to offer settlement assistance to their home buyers. Qualified moderate income home buyers may access 6% interest rate loans of up to $10,000 which they can use to pay down payment and closing costs.

The program ties its financial assistance for buyers to only those communities and scattered-site homes that pass the Partnership's high standards for quality construction, and hold affordable price tags, according to Susan A. Frank, Director of the Delaware State Housing Authority, which has invested $1 million in the program.

According to the Partnership's chairman of the board Robert Matarese, "The financial contributions of 48 Delaware businesses, banks, foundations, and governmental entities are what fuel this program. Their participation has created this valuable loan pool that offers an incentive for developers and banks to get involved in the affordable housing industry."

In New Castle County, 23 townhouses in the Forest Glen community in Bear, and 30 townhouses in the Middletown Village community are now under construction to become eligible for buyers in need of Delaware Housing Partnership's settlement assistance.

On a statewide level, Bank of America received approval to work with qualified builders on scattered-site homes in any of the counties.

Since the Delaware Housing Partnership was organized in 1991, more than $4.8 million has been raised from the private, public, and nonprofit sectors to make the settlement assistance loans available to moderate-income buyers. To date, the Partnership has set aside funds to make it possible for 441 moderate-income Delawareans to reach the American dream of homeownership.

Interested homebuyers should call the Delaware State Housing Authority's public information office at 739-4263 in Dover, or at 577-3720 in Wilmington, for more information.

Open space will be preserved for the future

Landowners, farmers, and ranchers who donate conservation easements on land within 25 miles of a metropolitan area, national park, or wilderness area can now exclude $100,000 and, after five years, up to $500,000 from federal estate taxes thanks to a bill that was signed into law by President Bill Clinton on Aug. 12. This landmark provision of the Taxpayer Relief Act, Section 508, "will help ensure that thousands of acres of natural areas and farmland will remain open and productive," noted Michael Riska, executive director of the Delaware Nature Society. "The Act is the Federal government's first tax incentive for voluntary land conservation in 20 years and will encourage owners of natural areas, wildlife habitat, endangered species sites, scenic open space, and farmland to preserve their land forever."

An unexpected bonus in the bill is the provision that heirs can decide within nine months after the landowner has died to place an easement on the property and qualify for the exclusion. Section 508 (formerly the American Farm and Ranch Protection Act) could double federal estate tax savings for the typical easement donor when fully phased in.

For the past two years, the Delaware Nature Society has urged lawmakers to pass this provision and has encouraged support by its members and other regional conservation organizations. The Nature Society applauds Delaware's Senator Bill Roth for his key role in successfully shepherding the bill through negotiations with Congress and the Administration. The Nature Society also commends Senator Joe Biden and Congressman Mike Castle for their staunch support of this legislation.

Boost for low income housing

Delaware families looking for affordable rental housing will soon have a reason to celebrate.

The Delaware State Housing Authority recently announced that $780,000 per year for 10 years has been earmarked in federal Low Income Housing Tax Credits for housing sponsors to begin construction on rental housing sites in Delaware.

Among the projects receiving awards is an 18-unit site at Christiana Farms II in Newark sponsored by Gilman Development Company. Construction for the site is anticipated to begin by the end of this year with a late 1998 target date for completion.

Used Cars For As Low As $88*

Local Auto Dealer says, "Slash It!" and will conduct a massive used car Slash It Sales Event™.

With prices starting AS LOW AS $88* DOLLARS,

Friday & Saturday, Sept 12 & 13, 1997. Rain or Shine.

ELKTON, MD - Advantage Autoland, has announced its plans to have a $88* dollar used car & Slash It Sales Event™ this Friday & Saturday, Sept 12 & 13, 1997.

Steve Boyd, of Advantage Autoland says, "This sale is necessary due to the fact that during recent years, new vehicle leasing has exploded. This explosion has resulted in a record number of low mileage lease returns that the dealership must now sell." "That fact," Steve continued, "when combined with robust recent retail sales has resulted in a greatly expanded used car, truck, van and sport utility inventory." During this $88 dollar Used Car & Slash It Sales Event™ most used cars, trucks, vans and sport utilities will be sold for thousands of dollars below their original price!

All cars will be on display in the secured and tented area at Advantage Autoland, RT 40, Elkton, MD. At 5 pm Friday and 8 am Saturday most all vehicles will be opened so that buyers may inspect the vehicles for two hours. On the windshield of each vehicle will be its normal retail selling price. When the sale begins between 6:30 and 7 pm Friday, 9:30 and 10 a.m. Saturday, whoever is sitting behind the wheel of the vehicle when the posted price is slashed will have the first right to purchase the car at the slashed price. Prices will be slashed one time and one time only to the rock bottom price, including cars for only $88*! We will continue to slash all vehicle prices until 9 pm Friday, 12: noon Saturday! Then the sale will be concluded and the store will be back to "business as usual".

I Got Mine For $88!
at a Slash It Sales Event™

Steve stated "customers can expect the slashed prices to be very close to and in some cases below public auction pricing without any auction fee. Values should be substantial, better than the Fairhill Fairgrounds Sale because "the sale is conducted right on our existing lot. We don't have to transport all of our vehicles, computers, personnel, etc.. We are passing on the savings, to our customers".

Mr. Boyd has requested and expects representatives from the areas most liberal lenders and the areas most aggressive wholesale buyers to be available to offer the best financing and the most possible money for your trade in. Steve also said, "If you've had credit problems in the past, no problem."

During this event, everybody can get a car they want for a great price without anyone telling them they have to pay more because of their credit situation. If you've had problems in the past, simply bring in a current payroll stub, utility bill, and valid drivers license to SAVE!

We have a multi-million dollar inventory available for this tremendous event. Our total inventory will be over 500 new and used cars, trucks, vans and sport utility vehicles. Hot dogs, popcorn and refreshments will be served, with all proceeds generated from their sale being donated to a local charity.

Steve further stated "this is the absolute best opportunity for anyone seeking a used car, truck, van or sport utility to get the best deal ever. It's a win-win situation for the dealer and the customer. It allows the dealer to reduce his inventory and negates the costs associated with sending vehicles to dealer auctions." Any questions can be directed to Steve Boyd at Advantage Ford (800) 899-3673, Bill Cleary at Advantage Dodge, Chrysler, Plymouth, Jeep, Eagle at (800) 394-2277 or Jake Cleary at Advantage Chrysler, Plymouth, Jeep, Eagle at (800) 420-5337.
