Council Arranges For Concerts Here; Accept Band's Offer

Minnehaha Musicians to Play Series of 11-Weekly Concerts on Academy Lawn, Beginning July 17th

REPORT DELINQUENT TAXPAYERS

That the community's bandstand on the Academy lawn will be put to use this summer was assured at the regular meeting of Town Council Monday evening, when an offer from the Minnehaha Band was accepted by the councilmen.

The band offered to play a series of eleven weekly concerts for the sum of $100, necessary for expenses. A representative of the band declined the plan Monday night, and after a brief discussion, it was accepted. The first concert will be held on Friday evening, July 17th, and each Friday thereafter until the season ends. Due to the death of Norris N. Worrall, drummer in the band, the band was moved up one week.

Many people have expressed their assurance since the meeting that the bandstand will be put to use this summer.

Little Business Transacted

The July meeting of Council was held by little important business. The routine reports of committees were approved, and the treasurer's report was read.

Letter was read from J. P. Wright regarding plans for the new street to run through adjacent to the Koller residence, from Main Street to R and O tracks. It was stated that the tract of land is as possible, and the tract of land is ready for the laying of water lines, to be done by Council. For Frazier and Councilman Beales appointed a committee to handle town's interests in the work.

A list of delinquent taxpayers of town was ordered placed in the hands of an attorney for collection by suit. Action will likely be taken on this matter immediately, in order to clear the town books of back taxes. Alderman Thompson reported fines licenses to the amount of $12.00 the month.

The treasurer's reports showed a balance of $138 in bank.

Lancaster Man Fined $200 For Crazy Driving

Leach Picks Up Visitor On Chapel Street; Following Unsteady Course

After a stormy voyage down Main street, following which he was forced to put in at Chapel Street, J. H. Leach, of near Lancaster, Pa., was picked up by County Officer Leach Friday evening and charged with operating an auto while intoxicated. Leach averred that Sherrid was driving all over the streets. Leach pursued the teetering car until it turned in Chapel Street, where the arrest was made.

After hearing the evidence in the case, Magistrate Thompson later in the evening levied a fine of $200 and ordered Leach to appear in court.

Police Inspectors, Looking For Greens, Cause Man To Throw Away His Good Scotch

A strange autoist with a very evil face of embarrassing questions and perfectly good quarts of whiskey yesterday morning at bridge in Marshallton, when some beetle inspectors, stationed at bridge poking into the back seat of the car.

The autoist, whose name was forgotten in the excitement, stopped at the signal of the inspectors. In looking through the tonneau of the machine they perceived a small black

PARENT-TEACHER DAY

State Organization To Meet Here July 15

On Wednesday, July 15, Parent-Teacher Day will be observed at the University of Delaware. While the program has been arranged primarily for the teachers at the Summer School, invitations have been sent to the Presidents of local associations and many are expected to attend. The session will be held at 2:00 p. m. standard time, and will be devoted to the discussion of the Illiteracy Program which the State Association is planning to carry out next year. While there will be short talks by Dr. H. V. Holloway, State Superintendent of Public Instruction, and Dr. R. C. Helfenstein, of Dover, the principal address will be given by Miss Wil Lou Gray, Director of Adult Education, State of South Carolina. South Carolina has done pioneer work in stamping out illiteracy and Miss Gray will tell of the methods and results there.

REVIVAL OF FIREWORKS

Sky Ablaze With Color During Early Evening Saturday

The fellow who declared that fireworks were going out of fashion might well have spent an hour or two in Newark early Saturday evening. From nearly every home in town where children dwell, a goodly number of pin wheels, Roman candles, rockets and other night pieces were turned loose for the benefit of the youngsters. Dealers in fireworks here did a big business last week. The big red cannon crackers, however, were absent this year, to the great relief of the nervous citizenry.

WRIGHT WINS GOLF PRIZE

Many Enter Handicap Medal Play Saturday

Norris N. Wright with 81 minus his handicap took down the first prize in the Independence Day medal play match Saturday at the country club here. He was closely followed for second and third prizes by Harry G. Lawson, of Wilmington, and F. Courtland Houghton of Newark. Between thirty and forty golfers teed off in the match, the low net score for 18 holes forming the basis for the awards.

Albert Strahorn Enters U. S. Naval Academy

Albert, son of Mr. and Mrs. Orlando Strahorn of East Main street, recently entered the Naval Academy at Annapolis, Maryland, as a member of the fourth class. He is a graduate of Newark High School and continued his studies at the University here until he qualified to enter the service.

On Sunday last, his mother and father and Misses Florence and Gertrude Strahorn, of Boston, motored to Annapolis for a visit with the young man.

Girl Fights Off Negro Attacker; Suspect Is Held

Laura Francks Assaulted By Stranger In Iron Hill Home Monday Night; Latter Escapes As Parents Arrive

GOOD DESCRIPTION IS GIVEN

While she was getting her three little sisters and brothers ready for bed Monday evening, Laura Francks, aged 16 years, who with her parents, live about a mile south of Iron Hill station, was brutally attacked by a Negro, who in some manner had entered the house unheard. Fighting desperately and screaming at the top of her voice, she held the intruder at bay until the arrival of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Francks. At their approach the Negro, said to be a giant in stature, fled through a rear entrance and took to the woods.

Sheriff Pierson at Elkton was notified, and immediately headed a posse in a search through the surrounding territory. The hunt was in vain, however. Early yesterday morning a Negro answering to the Francks girl's description, was arrested in Wilmington and is being held there under the name of Edward Lloyd.

Struggles With Intruder

Miss Francks was at home with three younger sisters and brothers, her parents and brother having driven to Elkton. She went into the kitchen about 8:30 o'clock and was caught by the Negro who sprang upon her from back of a door. How he got in or how long he had been there she did not know. As he clutched at the girl's throat he said: "Now I have got you."

The girl fought with the man and began to scream. The other children, all of them small but courageous, ran into the kitchen and caught hold of the Negro in an effort to do what they could to help their sister. The assailant was tearing off the clothing of the girl and trying at the same time to smother her screams when he heard an automobile stop in the lane and he fled.

Miss Francks was found minus much of her clothing, badly bruised and scratched and the marks of the man's fingers in her throat. She was badly frightened and very nervous as a result of her experience. She described the man as about 35 years old, about 6 feet tall, wearing a wide rimmed western hat, checkered shirt and overalls. She said that last Friday while going home she saw the same man following her down the lane.

SCHOOL BOARD SETS BOND TAX RATE AT 32c

Considerable Reduction Noted Per $100 As Compared To Last Year; Board Reorganizes.

The Newark Board of Education met for reorganization on Friday evening last in the new school building. All the present officers were re-elected and took their places for another year. The Board now comprises John S. Shaw, president; Harrison Gray, vice-president; J. Herbert Owens, secretary; and Robert S. Galaher, Miss Hannah Lindell was re-elected clerk to the Board.

The only important item of business was the fixing of the tax rate on the Newark special district school bonds for 1925-26 at 32 cents on the $100. A reduction of eight cents per $100 over last year is noted, due to the regular retirement of the bonds each year.

The appointment of Miss Madeline Johnson as teacher in the fourth grade of the schools here next year was announced. Little business came before the meeting and an early adjournment was taken.

To Relieve Overloading

While there is no cause for alarm in the condition of the pumps of the town water plant, Council has deemed it advisable to purchase more equipment for the plant to take some of the load off the motors there. The water supply is ample for the needs of the community and there is no danger of a shortage.

Norris N. Worrall Dead Following Long Illness

Many Mourn Loss of Prominent Citizen; Funeral Held This Afternoon

Norris M. Worrall, aged 48 years, chief engineer at the Newark plant of the National Vulcanized Fibre Company, passed away at his home Monday of this week, following a long illness, caused by a complication of diseases. Although critically ill but a short time, Mr. Worrall was unable to give his best efforts to his work for nearly a year. In the later stages of his sickness, he was almost blind.

Deceased was a native of Newark, and had lived here practically all his life. He was one of the most valued and trusted employees of the fibre company, and worked his way up through the ranks to the position he held at his death. He took an active interest in civic, fraternal and political affairs of the community, and won for himself a host of friends.

The entire power department of the National Company attended the funeral in a body. Services were held from his late residence, on Choate Street, this afternoon at two o'clock, and were conducted by the Rev. Frank Herson, his pastor. Superintendent McClintock, of the local fibre plant, and a group of officials also attended the funeral. Mr. McClintock, T. C. Taylor, assistant superintendent, and Mr. Cobb were among the pall bearers. Officials of the company here paid a high tribute yesterday to Mr. Worrall and expressed keen regret at the loss of an able associate and a warm friend. He had been associated with the firm about 25 years. The funeral services (Continued on Page 4.)

Two Score Firemen Off To Smyrna Conclave

Hope To Take Down Prizes At State Convention Parade; Boost Newark For 1926

Accompanied by the Continental Band, between forty and fifty members of the Aetna Hose Company, the State's oldest volunteer fire fighting unit, left this morning for Smyrna in a fleet of buses to take part in the State Firemen's Convention being held there. The big pumper, all shined up for the occasion, was also taken down.

Today's feature at the convention was the firemen's parade. Over $100 in cash prizes, and the coveted President's Cup are being offered for the best appearing units in line. With their flaming red shirts taking the breeze, and stepping along briskly behind their band, the local firemen are hoping to bring home several prizes.

Senator Bayard To Speak

Immediately following the parade, United States Senator Thomas F. Bayard of Delaware, addressed the throng of firemen and visitors from the reviewing stand. He was the guest of honor at the convention today. Following his speech, the various prizes will be awarded.

Newark's official delegates to the Convention are Ira Shellender and Chief Elmer Ellison. Both these men, before departing this morning, announced their intention of working through every channel to land the 1926 convention in Newark. This decision will be made at the meeting of delegates this afternoon.

CHANGE AMONG BARBERS

Local Shop Reported Sold; Roberts To Open New Business

Thomas Roberts, for several years a barber in the shop of Benjamin Eubanks, of East Main street, will shortly open a new shop being erected next to his home on East Delaware avenue. While the shop is being completed and the fixtures installed, "Tom" is handling an already growing trade in an improvised tonsorial parlor on his back porch.

Mr. Eubanks is reported to have sold out his business recently. He has kept a high grade establishment here for many years, and is well known to hundreds of former residents.

Local Guardsmen Off To Camp August 1st

Battery E Preparing For Annual Outing And Training Period, With Rehoboth Hike Added

Announcement has been made at the State headquarters of the Delaware National Guard that the annual encampment of one week will take place again this year, beginning August 1st, when the several anti-aircraft batteries of the State will proceed to the rifle range at New Castle for training. The encampment will close with a trip to Rehoboth Beach in trucks. Stops will be made in several down-state towns, and an exhibition will likely be given at the ocean resort.

Battery E of Newark, Captain James C. Hastings commanding, is preparing diligently for the encampment. The Battery has been recruited up to the approved strength, with the prospect of several more men before camp opens. Captain Hastings is being assisted in the work of training the men by 1st Lt. Wallace Cook and 2nd Lt. H. R. Cole, the latter a new appointee.

Sergeant Sullivan is in charge of the Armory here and it has never looked better. The appeal for books and magazines for the newly-equipped reading room met with hearty responses on the part of the townspeople, and the members of the battery are comfortably quartered in every particular. Drill is held every Thursday evening.

THREE IMPROVEMENTS IN ROADS PLANNED

New Bridge Over Creek At Kiamensie Approved By Levy Court Yesterday.

The Levy Court yesterday authorized County Engineer Grubb to prepare plans and specifications and advertise for bids for a concrete bridge to replace the present wooden structure over Red Clay creek at Kiamensie, for the building of the remaining unimproved gap of the Summit Bridge-Chesapeake City road across Guthrie's run basin in Pender hundred, and for the placing of 90 rods of fencing on the Pleasant Hill-Corner Ketch road.

The construction of the gap in the Summit Bridge-Chesapeake City highway will complete work on that road. While the road was being rebuilt with concrete in 1923, the government advised the Levy Court to delay construction of .58 of a mile pending elevation of the roadway in connection with the rebuilding of the Chesapeake and Delaware Canal. The government has now advised the court that elevation of the roadway has been completed and the action of the court permits Engineer Grubb to have the .58 of a mile of the highway completed with concrete.

Charges Are Dismissed

Charges of illegal possession intoxicating liquor, preferred against Ottavia George, an Italian baker living on the north side of town, were dismissed by Magistrate Thompson at a hearing last Friday evening. Lack of evidence was given as the reason for the dismissal.

ENTERTAIN TOMORROW

Professor W. A. Wilkinson, director of the University of Delaware Summer School, and Mrs. Wilkinson will entertain the Summer School faculty at a reception at their home tomorrow afternoon.

Sweeney Family Picnic Rudely Jolted When Lone Car Smashes Up Their Caravan

The Sweeney family, of Newark, some twenty strong, all comfortably packed in three cars, were off to a week-end picnic. 'Twas Friday night. The moon was up, the weather was auspicious. The Sweeney family was exceedingly happy.

The peaceful caravan was rudely jolted, however, before they reached Middletown, on the way to a downstate resort for the holiday. A lone car struck the pathfinder in the group. Not contented, the interloper swerved away, straightened out, and headed

The committee heads appointed today are as follows:

Treasurer, Owen K. Moore; auto division, George W. Rhodes; auto booth, John R. Fader; blanket booth, Harry Hill; miscellaneous, T. Ralph Jacobs; bingo booth, Morris Ewing; candy booth, Irvin Durnall; soft drinks and ice cream, William Bolton; hot dogs, George Dobson; dart board, C. E. Mrs. L. E. Hill was appointed chairman of the Ladies' Committee, which will likely have several booths on the grounds.

New Hudson Offered

A new Hudson coach will be given away the closing night of the Carnival.

Mr. Fulton stated this morning that there would be a band present each evening during the week. The Continental Band of Newark will play several times, and it is being arranged to have one out of town organization here for two concerts.

Many Attend Services At Old Ebenezer Church

101st Anniversary Celebrated With All-Day Meeting; Rev. Herson Speaks In Afternoon

Over 100 people, many of whom were from Newark, attended the all-day celebration Sunday marking the 101st anniversary of the founding of Ebenezer M. E. Church, in Mill Creek Hundred, near here.

The morning service was to have been in charge of Rev. Otis, but, owing to his illness, Rev. Gehman, the pastor, preached the sermon. At noon, basket picnics were held by visitors throughout the church grounds and many old acquaintances were there renewed.

Rev. Frank Herson of Newark, preached the sermon in the afternoon. Music for the afternoon services was rendered by the senior choir. Mrs. Emma Buckingham sang a solo.

The Junior Choir under the direction of Mr. Orville Little sang at this service. Miss Anna Mary Little sang a lovely solo, "At Evening Time I Shall Be Light."

The Ebenezer Church was built in 1824, and rebuilt in 1859. Last year, at its hundredth anniversary, $5000 was raised and it was remodeled. A new church register has been installed where all guests of the church may sign their names.

Summer School Program For The Current Week

On Thursday evening, in Wolf Hall, University of Delaware, at 7.30 standard time, the Summer School and guests will hear Dr. G. Clyde Fisher lecture on "How Life Begins," illustrated with motion picture slides. Dr. Fisher was born in Ohio and was graduated from Miami University in 1905. The next five years he spent in teaching botany and zoology in high school and college. In 1913 he was granted the degree of Doctor of Philosophy in Botany by Johns Hopkins University. For eleven years he has been a member of the Scientific Staff of the American Museum of Natural History, in which institution he is Curator of Visual Instruction.

He is a member of the Phi Beta Kappa, Tau Kappa, Explorers' Club, American Ornithologists' Union, Linnaean Society of New York, Wilson Ornithological Club, Torrey Botanical Club, President of the New York Bird and Tree Club and a Fellow of the New York Academy of Sciences. He was also a close friend of the great naturalist, John Burroughs.

His lecture "How Life Begins" tells the story of how new plants and animals come into existence in the most wonderful series of motion pictures ever made on this subject. The pictures were planned and taken by Mr. George E. Stone of the University of California. The changes in the butterfly, the frog and the chick from egg to adult, together with the life histories of the other plants and animals make a fascinating lecture which thrills both youth and middle age. During the past five years Dr. Fisher has given this lecture more than one hundred times. He appeared at the Tower Hill School, Wilmington, last winter and made an exceedingly favorable impression on both students and faculty.

Sunday Services

PLENTY OF CANNON, NO FODDER, PLIGHT HERE

Oxford, Pa., Firemen Receive Beautiful Relic; Doubt If It Ever Went Off.

There is a cannon in the rear of the Oxford Fire House. It has neither wheels, mountings or touchhole, but it is a cannon just the same. We can prove this by letters from the United States Government. Learned antiquarians, who have investigated this piece of iron, have insisted that it was a sash weight for one of the windows in King Tut's tomb, but this is not correct. It is a cannon, pure bred and entitled to registry. Papers can be procured from the War Department. Just because it has no other fruitful years as special religious writer for the "Washington Star" and as industrial director of the largest Y. M. C. A. in the world have equipped him for his now distinguished career as an inspirational speaker. Dr. Grafflin will be assisted by Dr. E. B. Crooks of the University of Delaware, who will have charge of the service.

Special music will be given under the direction of John A. Thoms, Jr., by Mrs. Florence Lewis, Soprano, and Harry E. Stauebach, Violinist, both of Wilmington. The order of service follows:

Invocation.
Hymn—"Onward Christian Soldiers."

Violin Solo—"Ave Maria," Schubert-Wilhelm; Harry E. Stauebach. Accompanist, John A. Thoms, Jr. Scripture Reading.

Prayer.
Soprano Solo—"The Lord Is My Light," Allitsen, Florence Lewis. Accompanist John A. Thoms, Jr.

Sermon—Dr. Samuel W. Grafflin, Religious Work Director, West Side Y. M. C. A., New York City.

Hymn—"Now the Day Is Over." Benediction.

touch hole is no reason that it is not a cannon any more than because a cow has one eye, it is a grizzly bear.

This, however, is not the only cannon at the fire house. Early one morning last week, Jom Murdaugh and Brint McNeil learned that George Rudolph or Lew Collins, or some of the desperate characters on the south side of Market street, were planning a sortie on the house, so they hurried down the old machine gun belonging to the American Legion and placed it on the front lawn, pointing directly across the street. This gun is mounted on an inverted peach basket. It bears the date of 1889 and evidently was used in the Homestead riots or the Fourth of July celebration in Keokuk. Unfortunately, this latter cannon is not to be allowed to remain there, but is to be transferred to some more suitable locality. As for the cannon without a touchhole, it is being kept in the hopes that Israel Whissell will raise the price of old iron.—Oxford News.

NEW APARTMENTS FOR DOVER IDEA OF ALLEE

James F. Allee, Jr., who recently acquired ownership of the old school building on New street, Dover, will soon start remodeling the structure into an up-to-date apartment house. He plans to provide 16 apartments to be eased at unusually reasonable rentals.

One of the features of the apartment house will be a playground in the rear for children of the tenants. In the rear will also be a string of garages, to be so arranged that none of the beautiful trees on the property will be disturbed. A tree expert is at work this week on the trees, putting them into the finest condition possible. Another feature will be the large community laundry in the basement of the building.

The date upon which the apartments will be ready for occupancy has not yet been determined.

Permits For Dairymen Issued By State Now

Sanitary Engineer Begins Work Of Listing Accredited Producers This Week; 20 In County Not Passed

That Delaware dairymen as a whole are striving to keep the milk they sell pure and free from contamination, and their barns and stables, milk coolers and other necessary apparatus about the dairy as it should be from a sanitary standpoint is proven by the result of the last survey of State dairies which was completed last week by R. O. Beckett, sanitary engineer with the State Board of Health.

Beginning this week the State Board of Health will issue permits to dairymen throughout the State. These will be of two classes—the permanent, that is those whose dairies have reached the standard called for by State regulations, and those who are making improvements but who have not completed the job. The latter will be known as temporary permits.

Those dairymen, and whose number is few, who have refused for obvious reasons to attempt to make any improvements to their dairies will be refused permits until they meet the State law requirements.

Of the number who will receive permanent permits the number is 54. There just happens to be 54 others who are in process of improving the dairy conditions and they will receive temporary permits.

Of those who, because they have been dairymen in so small a way that they do not think it will pay them to make needed improvements, there are

Four Legged Duck Makes Appearance

Mrs. D. R. Rees has a freak of nature in the form of a four-legged duck that was hatched at her home, "Willow Grove Mill," near Middletown, last week. The little duck has four distinct legs and, at present, shows all indications of living and thriving. The duckling walks and swims with the other little fellows and seems unaware that he is of any more importance than the other members of his brood. Mrs. Rees may find that she has a valuable prize in this little freak as there are many shows willing to pay handsomely for such as he for exhibition purposes.

about 30 who say they are going to quit the business.

There are about 20 others, who are located, it is stated, in New Castle county, who have not been at all ambitious about complying with the State law.

To the credit of the dairymen of Kent and Sussex counties, it is stated that practically every herd has had a test for tuberculosis, so that the lower counties seem to be out of it as far as the necessity for testing goes, but there are some dairies that need attention from a sanitary standpoint.

Wherever the owner of cows or a herd has signed up asking the State Board of Agriculture to examine the herd for tuberculosis, these have or will be granted licenses to continue in business pending the tests. But wherever the owner arbitrarily flaunts the fact that he will not comply with the law, he will not receive any permit.

All of the licenses to be granted by July 1 will be to dairymen outside of Wilmington.

Another View Of The Elkton Carnival Row

"News" Comes Out Against Further Affairs, In Answer To "Democrat" Editorial; May Make Test Case

From a casual survey of the situation it appears that Elkton and Cecil County people are decidedly apart on the Carnival issue this summer. That the two opposing camps are expecting to stand their ground has become more and more evident with the passing days.

It is reported that the Rising Sun firemen will open their annual carnival with no change from the practice of past years. In the event that it is closed by county officers, a test case will likely be made in the courts.

It has also been reported that Elkton firemen will not give their carnival this year. On the other hand, it is reported that they will. State's Attorney Clayton is said to have aligned himself with the anti-carnival group, and is bent on cleaning up what are termed the "gambling evils" in relation to the affairs.

A strong broadside against the carnivals came to the attention of the county in an editorial appearing in the Cecil County News, W. D. Bratton, editor. Mr. Bratton's stand is as follows:

"The News has no quarrel with anyone in regard to the excellent work done by the Volunteer Firemen in this county. They are engaged in an unselfish and extremely dangerous work for the protection of the property of our citizens, and they should be supported in their work.

"But they should not be compelled to gain that support by violations of the law. For several years we have heard the methods pursued in the carnivals condemned, and not by fanatics or reformers, but by level-headed citizens who believe that this letting down of the bars and permitting violations of one law weakened the enforcement of all laws. And no one need be reminded how the matter has worked out and that carnivals were not held for the benefit of the Fire Companies only.

"As to the harmful effect of gambling on any youthful mind, there is nothing to be said. If persons with eyes to see and ears to hear do not realize the extent of this evil, there is no use to talk to them.

"The argument that the end justifies the means never holds together in the light of experience, nor is the licensing of an evil ever fraught with beneficial results. That is done in the case of race-track gambling in Maryland, but unless all signs fail the people of this State are going to end that at the next session of the Legislature. There was talk of a race track in Cecil County a couple of years ago—but corn is again growing where the grandstand was to have stood.

"The harmless (?) slot machines have been broken up, innocent (?) crane games have been interfered with, yet law abiding citizens of this county ask the prosecuting officer to wink at a form of gambling that is doing more harm to the youth of this county than all the others, because it apparently has the sanction of the law.

"The question simply reduces to this—Do we want a wide open county, or do we not?

"So far as we are concerned, we vote no."

CECIL COUNTY WOMAN FIGHTS OFF BURGLAR

Miss Diederich Puts Negro To Route After Struggle In Bedroom of Rowlandsville Home.

Equalling the old version of "fighting tooth and nail," Miss Elsie Diederich fought off a negro intruder whom she discovered under her bed in her home at Rowlandsville, Md., near Elkton early Friday morning and inflicted such damage to his personal appearance that he was apprehended soon after his escape from the house. Felix Baynard, 27, is the negro, who was captured by the Maryland State Highway police a short distance from Rowlandsville. He was identified by the scratches which Miss Diederich inflicted on his face. He was taken to the Elkton jail and held for a hearing before Magistrate Scotten.

Miss Diederich is a daughter of an official in the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad. She was alone in the house at the time of the attack, the servants having taken the evening off.

Norris Worrall

Norris Worrall, whose death is recorded in another column, was a good fellow, a good sportsman, a good citizen. Fraternal organization, old Aetna, The Band and Friends were his hobbies and he served well. We shall miss him in his unassuming personality, miss his interest, his energy and work.

Aside from his civic interests, his quarter century at the Old Mill made him a real part of that organization. In all he did, he was what we think of when we say a Man was "Worth-while." The chair at the Lodge is vacant, his absence at the Fire Company is noticed, the roll of his drum is silent, the hand on his engine is still—some one must take his place. To fill that place worthily and with honor will require a good fellow, a good sportsman, a good citizen. With "Doc" Worrall in mind and the example and incentive of his quiet but effective life, it should inspire.

The muffled roll of drums is always sad but the drummer inspires and gives us courage for tomorrow's march and parade. So does the life of "Doc" Worrall.

TOM DALY DELIGHTS LARGE AUDIENCE HERE

Pays Tribute To Modern
School of "Grubb Street"
Poets; Reads Many Poems
In Humorous Vein.

T. A. Daly, "Tom" Daly, as he is better known among writers, poet and humorist, delighted a large audience in Wolf Hall last evening by his well known lecture, "Poets, Wild and Tame." Despite the intense heat, the auditorium was well filled, and everyone seemed to thoroughly enjoy the talk.

Quite contrary to most lectures, Mr. Daly's was a series of humorous poems and jokes, interspersed here and there by some really serious talking.

In particular, the speaker drew attention to what he called the modern "Grubb streeters." Grubb street, in the days of Samuel Johnson, was, Mr. Daly said, the habitat of "poor poets and ex-counterfeiters." While their squalid existence is not approached in this era, their Human poetry has real value.

Today it is different, said Mr. Daly. There are plenty of "Grubb streeters" riding in limousines and drawing munificent salaries. Their poetry is often forgotten, and sometimes not very seriously discussed.

The speaker then mentioned among some of the really splendid poets of the present day in America, Don Marquis of the Tribune, Franklin P. Adams of the World, both of New York; Eugene Field, now deceased, and others. He paid high tribute to their work, and directed the attention of the audience to them through a series of readings of some of the poems they wrote. He said insufficient attention was being paid them by educational institutions.

Marquis's "Noah, Jonah and Captain John Smith" drew a burst of laughter from the audience. He read several other interesting and humorous verses.

PRESS MEETING SOON

A three-day outing and business meeting of the Delaware Press Association and the Maryland Press Association combined, will open next Sunday, July 12th, at Ocean City, Maryland, to continue three days. The city officials, hotelmen and Board of Trade have joined together as hosts to the visiting newspapermen, and the resort will be turned over to them.

At the convention, an innovation and a feature will be a printing exhibit of members of the associations. George Carter, editor of the Evening Journal, urged this move at last winter's meeting; a committee will have charge of the exhibit. There will be also an exhibit of the various publications represented in the Association.

C. L. Vincent of the Snow Hill, Md., "Messenger," is chairman of the Reception Committee. Late reports indicate that his usually genial temperament is become actually savage in preparing for his eccentric associates. The attendance is expected to be large, due in part, no doubt, to the famous Maryland hospitality.

NEWARK, PAST AND PRESENT

A Series Of Sketches, Written In 1882 By James L. Valandigham, Jr., Of The Old Delaware Ledger, In Collaboration With Egbert Handy, And Released For Publication In Serial Form By The Newark Post.

Where the Exchange building now stands, was located, until a recent period, a very old tavern called the Newark hotel. Tradition asserts that General Washington passed a night here when reconnoitering in the neighborhood, about the time Lord Howe landed at the head of Elk, to march on Philadelphia.

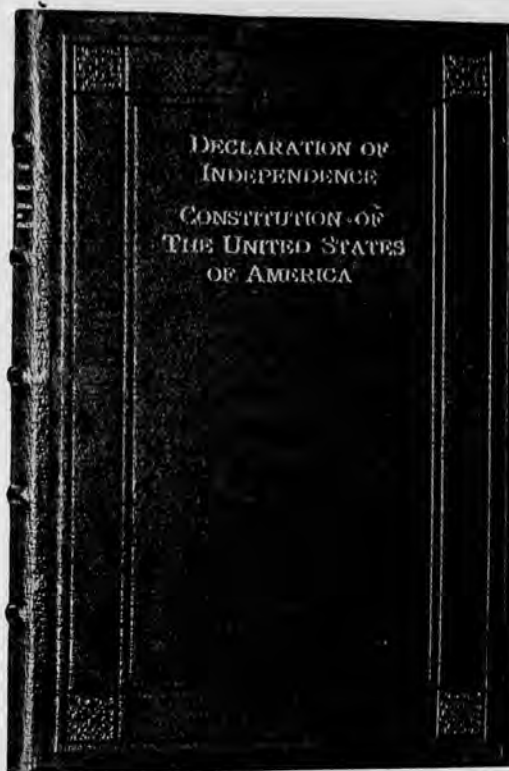

A few years before the Revolutionary war, probably about 1760, a race course was established at Newark, no doubt in connection with the fair which was held annually. It was known as the "Central" Race Course, and was patronized by the gentry of all the neighboring counties of Maryland and Pennsylvania, and sometimes by "sporting men" from Virginia and New Jersey. It was situated some place between Allen's foundry and the Rathmell Wilson residence. It was patronized to a considerable extent until the close of the eighteenth century, when on account of the hard times, and the depressed condition of the currency after the war with Great Britain, it was allowed to go down, and was never revived. Reliable tradition says that large amounts of money were won and lost on this race course.

In 1877, however, a very neatly constructed race track was laid out on the old Holtzpecker place, now owned by Mr. William Homewood, and races are frequently held there, unattended by the objectionable features generally ascribed to such gatherings.

Among the family name which appear frequently in the early records, or in old documents in the early history of the town and neighborhood, are Crawfords, Clarks, Armstrongs, Coochs, Evans, Gillespies, Griffiths, Hawthorns, Hossingers, Herdmans, Kerrs, Pritchards, Rankins, Springers, Steels, Whanns and Whiteleys. The representatives in descent of these families, still remain in the vicinity, but the descendants of the McMechans, and Eynons, and of some other families who were once large land holders and influential citizens, seem to have entirely disappeared. We have in our possession, through the kindness of Mr. James Jefferis, an old account book of a wheelwright who lived in this village in 1796. We notice among the names recorded in it those of Thomas Caldwell, Thomas Duff, William Derrickson, Stephen Faulk, Solomon Hersey, John Justice, John Lynam, Samuel McElwee, James Stroud, and Mary Walraven, most of which are still familiar names here. All these are mentioned prior to the year 1800.

THINK

The old saying, "An ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure," applies to the situation in regard to possible infection of our drinking water.

Our supply is adequate but the source is getting more and more liable to contamination as building projects without proper sewage disposal get closer to our town well.

In the past few years a population equal to at least one-tenth of those living in the town limits have become residents of that section which has natural drainage toward the town well, and as there is no method of sewage disposal other than cess pools, there is every possible opportunity for soil pollution.

While there may not be an outbreak of typhoid fever or other disease to which bad drainage or soil pollution whereby water contamination is a contributory cause the very fact that there is even a possibility of such should cause everyone interested in the welfare of the community to think these matters over.

We have at present a sewer system to take care of a limited area, and while all those who are in town limits have the advantages of possibility of sewer connection it is understood there are some of the influential members of the town who are still using cesspools and thereby adding to the possible sources of contagion, for it is an admitted fact that the proper means to take care of sewage is by a properly conducted disposal plant.

It is suggested that every one connected with the welfare of the town, including the mayor and all members of the organization including also the Chamber of Commerce as well as the Board of Health and Board of Education, give this matter serious attention before the matter becomes serious.

There should be an extension of sewage disposal facilities, then enforcement of the protection to our drinking water. We have now some of the finest buildings in any state for education, but our education along the line of sanitation is being neglected when we leave the matter of sewage drainage so close to the source of our drinking water to its present state of possible contamination.

As a suggestion, it would be well to look into the matter of sewage disposal all over the area in and surrounding the town, more particularly that adjacent to our source of supply.

Thinker.

SCIENTIFIC NOTE

9252 Autos Counted By Young Patient At Farnhurst Sunday

Just as a pastime, Earl Barcus, a crippled lad, patient at the County Hospital at Farnhurst, spent the major portion of Saturday counting the number of automobiles passing the gate of the institution in both directions along the State Highway.

Starting at 9 o'clock in the morning Earl noted with a pencil on a pad of paper, each machine as it passed up until 8 o'clock in the evening. The young man enjoyed his exercise in rapid calculation, particularly at the end of the 11-hour period when he had added up a total of 9252 pencil marks, each representing a passing motor vehicle.

His rapid calculation might be further reduced to plain talk by long division. To save you trouble, it figures to 841.01 cars per hour.

From all reports, local baseball history dates from the team whose picture is herewith reproduced. Twelve or fourteen years ago, according to Elmer Ellison, who then guided them to many victories, this Newark team pranced about to the utter delight of fans here.

Baseball men still talk about this team. For three seasons it grew and prospered. In the old Delmar League composed of Newark, Elk Mills, Elkton, Rising Sun, Aberdeen and Havre de Grace, Ellison's pets ran through for a championship. The following year, they entered a Delaware league composed of industrial teams from Wilmington and Maryland and Delaware towns. This season they tied with Bancroft of Wilmington for the pennant, but lost the play-off series.

Three Still Playing

According to reports, three men in the above pictured club are still playing an occasional game of ball—just to keep their hand in the old game. They are Marsey and the two Beattys. The balance of the lineup have retired from the game and are scattered far and wide.

All the men were local products and made Newark and adjoining community their homes.

The home games were played on a diamond along Delaware avenue adjoining the New Century Clubhouse. The field boasted a roomy grand stand, part of which can be seen in the photograph. The games were always well attended and some exceptionally good ball games witnessed. President Grant and his vice-president, Mr. Steel, handled the financial affairs of the club while Manager Ellison had charge of the team on the field. Most Newarkers will remember these men and the enviable record made by the team.

How They Lined Up

During the season when this picture was taken the team lined up on the field as follows:

Catches—Marsey and Ritz.
Pitchers—Hogan and Whiteman.
First Base—Gregg.
Second Base—Al Beatty.
Third Base—Charley Beatty.
Shortstop—Jackson.
Outfield—Ferguson, Morris, Ellison and Roberts.

THE POST welcomes any communication relative to this team which would be of interest to the community. There must be many incidents which can be recalled concerning the players and some of the important games. Let's have them.

ELKTON BEATS "SUN" IN HOLIDAY GAME 9-1

Watkins, Newark Boy, Holds Upper Countians Down With But Four Hits; Woolman Stars At Bat.

Two big innings, the fourth and fifth, were enough to ice away a perfectly good ball game in Elkton Saturday, when the County Seat boys hooked up with their old rivals, Rising Sun, in a holiday fracas.

There wasn't much to the ball game when the Elkton bats began to find the range. Watkins, Newark pitcher of note, held the enemy safe at all times. He was found for but four bingles during the afternoon and never was in real danger. His mates strove mightily to place the game out of reach. This they accomplished in the fifth when four runs came in. From then on the game was all washed up and ready for delivery.

Rube Dunbar at shortstop had a busy day, accepting nine chances without a slip. Woolman led his club with the bat, getting three healthy wallops. The score:

"Whiskey" Tries Farming

Passersby on Main street, who have recently noted the absence of the little brown streak dashing after a Ford coupe, may have their fears put at rest by the announcement that "Whiskey," Robert C. Lewis's Irish terrier, and cock-of-the-walk among West Main street canines, has taken up farming. "Whiskey" may be found any day on a farm near Newark where his energetic talents find an outlet in exercising everything on the place, from milk can lids to horses and cattle. His playmates here are greatly relieved.

PROVIDENCE WINS GOOD GAME SATURDAY

Beats Bay View and Leads Cecil County League.

Providence defeated Bay View Saturday and tied for the League lead. Arrants' pitching in the pinches was too much for the home team, while the visitors bunched their hits in the first and sixth innings, scoring all their runs in these two frames. Vansant was the hitting star for the victors while Crouch was the leading stickler for the Bay View boys. Arrants struck out thirteen men, fanning both A. Armour and E. MUST "STEP ON IT" TO QUALIFY IN BIG RACE AT LAUREL

Every racing car permitted to compete in the dedication race Saturday, at the Baltimore-Washington speedway, near Laurel, Md., will first have to demonstrate that it can make the 1 1/2 mile around the oval track in 36 4/5 seconds—a rate of 110 miles an hour.

Qualifying tests will be held Thursday afternoon. Speedway officials have ruled that cars, that do not lap the bowl within the 36 4/5 second limit will be eliminated from the contest. Three trials will be permitted.

All holders of tickets to the dedication classic will be permitted to witness the preliminary event.

The unusually high minimum speed of 110 miles per hour is an indication that those in charge of the speedway are convinced that new world records will be hung up by the famous racers in the hectic competition for honors and the $25,000 purse in the local 250-mile run. A minimum speed of only 100 miles an hour was required at the opening of the board track at Altoona, Pa.

MYSTERY SURROUNDS DEATH OF STOREKEEPER

Frank Campbell of Near Rising Sun, Murdered In His Shop.

Police and detectives of Chester County are still mystified and unable to run down the alleged murder of Frank Campbell, proprietor of a roadside refreshment stand along Route 12, about a mile west of Nottingham, near the Maryland line.

The murder occurred some time on the night of June 28th last. Campbell's body was discovered by a cousin, W. Smith Campbell, of the same district, early the next morning. The dead man's head was battered and body a small wrench and a hatchet are believed by the police to have been the weapons used in the assault. Robbery was one motive it is reported. Several hundred dollars locked up in a trunk in the shack were taken.

Campbell, who was 62 years of age, was well known to the police. He recently was released from the county jail after serving a term for bootlegging.

Witnesses at the inquest asserted that a car with two occupants was seen standing near the store on the night of the murder. A light was burning in the building at the time. An hour later, passersby said they saw the light but the car was gone. No other information of a helpful nature has been uncovered.

APPLETON WOMAN'S CLUB MEETS

The Appleton Woman's Home Demonstration Club met at Lofland's Hall, Coventown, on Wednesday evening June 24, with a good attendance. The meeting was opened by singing "Onward Christian Soldiers," followed by the Lord's Prayer. Mrs. A. Baus, the President, presided. The minutes of the previous meeting were read. Reports given by the delegates who attended the "Rural Woman's Short Course" at the University of Maryland, were very interesting. Miss Mary Moore gave an illustrated reading on the tastes of the family to music. The illustrations were delightfully rendered by Misses Ida and Evelyn Kimble and Miss Lillian Brown both in vocal and instrumental solos. A song by Miss Moore was also much enjoyed.

The members decided to hold their annual picnic at Delaware Beach August 20th. The club adjourned to meet at the home of Mrs. William McCloskey on Wednesday, July 15, at 8 p. m. Roll call, "The make of shoes I buy." Subject, "Well-fitting Under Garments," of which Mrs. Bayard Perry, of Newark, will give a demonstration. Miss Lillian R. Grimm and Mrs. A. D. Short will be leaders. Hostesses will be Mrs. Robert Mathias, chairman; Mrs. William McCloskey, Mrs. E. B. Milburn, Mrs. John R. Moore and Miss Mathilda Moore.

MUST HAVE OUR BATH

"A bath to every room." This is the proud boast of hostesses that advertise themselves as most up-to-date. Would you lease a house in the suburbs or country? The agent will enumerate the excellencies of the plumbing. Small matter if the bedrooms are dark or the chromos on the wall particularly atrocious, so long as the bathroom is shiny and altogether delightful. There is a certain snobishness about plumbing. Owners of houses with four baths look down upon those with one, just as the traveling American is contemptuous of barbarous Europeans. Furthermore there are refinements of snobishness—he who has only three bathrooms done "in the new American note" will hold his head higher than the owner of four bathrooms of the early nineteenth-century.

The American people seem to have taken to heart the schoolbook text about cleanliness. We glory in water, and are beginning to believe in fresh air and sunlight. For the Englishman's famous tub we would have more respect if we did not realize that he has enshrined the old-time tin tub of the last generation. At the same time, we are conscious that these differing instruments of sanitation are symbols of the two races. The true key to civilization today lies in the phrase, "By their bathtubs shall ye know them!"—New York Times.

Several Additions To Wolf Hall Staff Reported By McCue

Additional Funds Through Purnell Bill
Will Cause Enlargement Of Several Departments In Experiment Station

NEW ECONOMIST IS SLATED

Through the added impetus of the Purnell fund, which allows the University Experiment Station the sum of $20,000 for the fiscal year starting July 1st, to be increased $10,000 each year until the total yearly fund will be $60,000, the work of the station here will be greatly broadened in scope, according to Dean C. A. McCue, director. While not all the contemplated programs will be started this year they will come with the additional funds.

Dean McCue, before starting on his vacation this week, announced several appointments to the staff at Wolf Hall, and outlined the scope of work to be undertaken at once. The appointments and outline of work follow:

In chemistry—Prof. L. E. Blackman, formerly professor of chemistry at Highland College, Highland, Kans., has been added to the staff to assist Prof. Myers in his researches on "The Factors Underlying Jelly Formation in Fruit Juices," and in researches on "The Factors Which Cause Certain Reactions When Lime Is Added to Various Soils."

In horticulture—F. C. Lagasse will be added to the staff on September 1. Mr. Lagasse will investigate the problem of "The Factors Underlying Fruit Bud Formation in Tree Fruits, Particularly the Apple and Peach."

Marketing of farm products is always an important problem for Delaware farmers. Dr. Claude E. Benner, of the Institute of Economics at Washington, D. C., has been secured to study some of the economic phases of marketing Delaware products. Dr. Benner will devote one-half his time to this work and the remainder to be given over to teaching economics in the university.

In poultry husbandry—Prof. H. R. Baker will devote one-half his time to investigations of certain poultry diseases. Prof. Baker will have two problems under way. First, a study of the efficiency of the vaccine treatment for roup and pox in poultry and secondly a study of fowl typhoid and its eradication.

In animal husbandry—Prof. A. E. Tomhave will continue his studies on certain phases of animal feeding.

Under the provisions of a new appropriation made by the last Legislature, extension work in poultry will be undertaken by the agricultural department of the university, it was announced by Dean C. A. McCue.

Hoke S. Palmer of Cornell University has been employed as extension specialist in poultry husbandry and began his work on July 1.
