Dr. C. I. Candee Will Give Baccalaureate Sermon Tomorrow

Pastor of Wilmington Westminister
Presbyterian Church To Speak
at Eleven A.M. in Wolf Hall

Prominent in Church Work

Dr. Charles I. Candee, pastor of Westminister Presbyterian Church, Wilmington, and for many years prominently identified with ecclesiastical work in various parts of the world, will deliver the Baccalaureate Sermon Sunday morning, June 10th, at eleven o'clock, in Wolf Hall.

Dr. Charles I. Candee

The University has been especially fortunate in securing one of Delaware's most prominent men of affairs to deliver the Baccalaureate Sermon. The Wilmington Morning News tells of Dr. Candee's accomplishments in the following manner:

ALUMNI DAY PROGRAM PROMISES BIG TIMES

President Harding to Visit Alumni Day was officially started this morning with a meeting of the Trustees in Old College at 11.30. The Delaware graduates who arrived this morning have amused themselves by inspecting the improvements on the campus and by swapping yarns about "College Days."
The morning was finished with a whirl by luncheon at the Women's College, where the "old grads," both men and women, got together and wondered whether the present students were having as good a time as in the days of yore. It was finally decided that the "present students" had a little more experience than they appeared to have, though they were careful about hiding it.

At 2.15 this afternoon President Harding will stop at the Red Men's gate and give a five minute talk to the graduating class. The President is unable

GOVERNMENT TELEGRAM

Washington, D. C.
June 8, 1923.

To:—Prof. of Mil. Sc. & Tactics
University of Delaware
Newark, Delaware

War Department has designated your institution as a distinguished college. The Secretary of War directs that we convey his congratulations in which the Corps Area Commander joins.

Conrad.

The above telegram was received late yesterday afternoon.
Immediately an announcement of the fact appeared on the bulletin boards. Students in the throes of their examinations were informed of the honor by the more fortunate ones, who had finished their final tests.
Papers were finished hurriedly and the recently industrious writers were soon out on the campus discussing this much hoped for distinction as a reality. The offices of the Military Department were besieged by eager questioners, whose queries were, for the most part, unanswerable. Examinations, heat, everything was forgotten

for the time.

Next year every member of the R. O. T. C. at the University of Delaware will wear on his blouse sleeve a gold star, indicating that this institution has won the highest military honor that it is possible for a college that is not entirely given over to military instruction to win.

With the exception of the telegram from the War Department no further definite information has been received.
Whether or not there are any other special rewards, except the privilege of wearing the gold star, is not yet known.

The Review wishes to extend its congratulations to Major Row and to his assistants and to the student body upon their mutual success in winning this award.

Barker Will Captain Tennis Team; Akin To Be Next Manager

Henry S. Barker was elected to captain the tennis team next year at a meeting held last Thursday afternoon. The appointment comes as a reward of three years' service on the courts and recognition of proficiency at the game. Barker has been one of our most prominent exponents of tennis ever since his Freshman year. M. A. Akin was elected manager of next year's racket wielders, and A. H.
Turner assistant manager.

When the victory slips were given out this spring for tennis, it seems as though Delaware was forgotten. Manager Granville Robinson, in his report, shows that out of six matches with Hopkins, George Washington, Rutgers, Swarthmore, Haverford, and Drexel the Blue and Gold failed to win a match.

Six Rehabilitation Men Received Their Diplomas Last Week

The Rehabilitation School held its second Commencement exercise of the year in Wolf Hall on May 31st. The program lasted from 11 a. m. to 12. Dean C. A.
McCue addressed the members of the graduating class. During the program the Buddies Orchestra, under the direction of Mr. Vail, played several selections. Six former service men received their certificates in three different schools.

General Agriculture: William J. Gorski and Joseph R. Smith;
Horticulture: Melville K. Green, Ellwood C. Detterich and Edmund A. Owen; Poultry Husbandry: Michael J. O'Boyle.

Fifty-seven Seniors To Be Graduated Next Monday Morn.

Arts and Science School Again
Leads With Twenty-five
Graduating Students

Several Post-Grad. Degrees

The School of Arts and Science again sends forth the majority of the graduating class, there being twenty-five men to be graduated in this course at the Commencement Exercises on Monday, June 11th. This is according to the tradition of the past few years. The next popular course seems to have been the electrical engineering which is turning out eleven future Steinmetzs and Einsteins. Then comes the famous agricultural course for which the college is distinguished and much endowed. This school produces nine men to supervise the tilling of our nation's soil in the years to come. This number constitutes fifteen per cent of the class and the school of agriculture is perhaps the most heavily endowed of any in the university. Mechanical engineering contributes eight men, and civil engineering four. There is one lonely chemical engineer and one arts and science student who has majored in chemistry.

In France

Professor George E. Brinton
left recently for New York, where he will embark for France. Professor Brinton will be on the continent all summer and return to the University in time for the fall session.

E. A. Hoey Elected Captain of Track Team Next Year

"Pat" Hoey, at a recent meeting of the track team, was unanimously elected Captain of next year's squad.

Since coming to Delaware,
"Pat" has proved himself a valuable asset to the team. Many are the times that he has helped carry the Delaware colors to victory. He was a member of the cross-country club, and was rated by his coach as being "one man would never give up."

Last year, "Pat" broke the two-mile record and he has successfully defended it this year.
He ran in two of the hardest races in every meet this past season, the mile and the two-mile, and he always placed in one or the other, or both of them.
On this year's squad he was looked upon as a "sure point maker."

Football Squad May Hold Early Practice At Augustine Beach

There is probability that the early football training will be done at Augustine Beach, Delaware, this year. The candidates have been notified to report in Newark on September 12th, as the opening game is scheduled for September 29th. The complete schedule follows: September 29th, St. Joseph's, at Newark; October 6th, Muhlenburg, at Newark; October 13th, Ursinus at Newark; October 20th, City College of New York, at Newark; October 27, St. John's at Newark; November 3rd, Haverford, at Haverford; November 10th, William and Mary, at Williamsburg, Va.; November 17th, George Washington, at Newark, and November 24th, Dickinson, at Wilmington.

HAVERFORD BALL GAME ENDS SEASON

Ten Men Receive Letters

The baseball nine will line up against their old rivals, Haverford, on Frazer Field, at 2.30 this afternoon. This last game of the season promises to be a warm battle for both teams.
The boys from Walton Field will probably line up with Brown on the mound. He is their best bet as a pitcher and a consistent hitter. Lund will be McAvoy's most likely choice of a pitcher for the Blue and Gold.

At the beginning of the season, Representative Collins announced that he would give a prize for the member of the baseball team getting the most runs and for the one having the highest batting average at the end of the season. The Athletic Council decided at their last meeting that these prizes should be gold baseballs. The winners will be rewarded at the Commencement exercises.

Letters will be awarded to the following men: Captain Nutter, Mannix, Hoch, McCormick, Murray, Underwood, Hunt, Carlon,

GOOD BYE

Four short years within the walls of Delaware and the Senior finds himself facing the world without. Four short years of preparation for a life's task and the task is at hand.

Have you ever stood on the bank of a stream, your gaze subconsciously rooted upon the perpetual moving of the water, your attention suddenly attracted by a floating twig or leaf and you are again awakened to realization and thought? That is the way the college student is placed in the world. For four years he looks upon the stream of life. All the while he is subconsciously gazing at its moving waters. Suddenly commencement floats around and he is awakened to the realization that he must go into the stream. He must decide whether he is to wade along the shore or venture into the deeper waters in search of grater rewards.

His awakening is a happy one, however, for he has gained the confidence that comes to a man with an education behind him.

We have one message to you who are about to set out. Do not forget Delaware during your future voyage. Carry her traditions with you, and by all means return to renew your impressions of your Alma Mater as often as you can.

May your voyage be a pleasant one. May the diligence and application that has won you success here continue to win you success in the future.

We do not say farewell. It is good bye until you return again. The parting guest must speed away, but there is always a welcome awaiting the return of one on Delaware's sons.

ALUMNI DAY

Alumni Day should be a big day for both the alumnus and the student. The alumnus will feel again the throb of youth through his veins, when he returns to visit his Alma Mater. Old times are brought to mind. A thousand episodes that drive the wrinkles from the face and clear the mind of dull care spring into being as the one time student reviews his college days. The student has much to gain from contact with the "Grads." He will learn more, and derive a greater benefit from the days festivities by observance of the "old timer's" methods, and patient apprehension of his many experiences.

There is a lot of inspiration in a day spent at the old institution. The many improvements will be of interest, and it is a lot of fun to tell the younger men how things were done in the old days. By dropping your cares, forgetting your troubles, and coming back on this day, you not only help yourself, but also help the University by manifesting your interest in it.

The students are happy to welcome you here today, and express the hope that you will feel again, as you did of yore, that Delaware is still your own.

BON VOYAGE!

Professor Kirkbride and his class of foreign extension students will soon set sail for France. Those of us who remain behind are putting all our faith in the students who are making the initial trip. They have the opportunity to reflect credit on Delaware in a foreign field.

The Review shall anxiously await news from the students in France next fall.

Bon voyage!

CHEER LEADING

The matter of cheer leading was brought up at the last meeting of the Student Council. A suitable reward for, and recognition of the cheerleader was discussed. It was decided that the council should elect three leaders at the beginning of each year. Applications are to be handed into the Secretary upon Registration Day in September. From the list of applicants, three men will be selected—a head leader and two assistants. The Council recommended, in a letter to the Athletic Council, that the head cheerleader be awarded a minor letter. The leaders will be furnished with caps, chest bands, and megaphones.

Cheerleading has been an unwelcome responsibility at this University for some time. The men who had the initiative and Delaware spirit enough to volunteer their services have been obliged to carry the whole burden of leading both songs and cheers at all athletic contests, smokers, and other student meetings. The cheerleaders position has always been one which required exceptional ability, yet it has carried but little reward. They have been the recipients of criticism liberally offered from all sides. The old order is changing, however, and it is hoped that the new system of selecting cheerleaders and providing them am-

FAREWELL HOP
IN THE ARMORY
MONDAY NIGHT

Seniors Guests of Honor

"Hey kid, you goin' to the Farewell Hop?" is the question that one hears on every side as the date for that momentous affair approaches. For the last time our esteemed Seniors will grace the dance floor as students at Old Delaware. Under the guidance of the master hand of "Pete" Shockley, who is assuredly an authority on all matters pertaining to the art of dancing, everything is prepared for the "biggest ever" Farewell Hop that Newark has seen. From nine o'clock on the evening of Monday, June 11th, until two o'clock the next morning the cohorts of Joy will hold full sway—and then the dance will be over—the hour for parting will have come.

Maddens Orchestra will do their best to make everyone forget the lingering regret which the loss of the present Senior class occasions, and certainly they are capable of doing it.

There will be eighteen dancers divided into two halves with refreshments in between. The patronesses are Mrs. G. E. Dutton, Mrs. W. H. Hulihan, Mrs. W. H. Steel, Mrs. N. N. Wright, Mrs. H. E. Tiffany, Mrs. Wilson, Miss Parkhurst and Dean Robinson.

Highest Honor Goes
To W. S. Jackson
In Weekly Events

At a meeting of the Athletic Council last Tuesday night, Coach McAvoy announced the winners in the twenty-four weekly track events during the past year, as follows: W. S. Jackson, 158 points, gold medal; William McKelvie, 153 points, silver medal; L. H. Kramer, 136 points, silver medal; W. B. Boyce, 112 points, bronze medal, and H. Price, 101.5 points, bronze medal.

Last year Betzmer captured the highest honors. He was, however, closely followed by Keith and "Ike" Elliot. In 1921, the honor medal went to Fred Harmer.

ple reward will add the necessary dignity and responsibility to the post.

We are glad to have this opportunity to express an appreciation of the accomplishments of "Charlie" Green, "Pete" Shockley, Ralph Siegrist and "Mom" Nutter. These men have been instrumental in producing, and responsible for, the cheerleading at every athletic contest, smoker, celebration, send-off, or welcome to a team which has occurred this year.

COMPANY C WINS
THE ROBERTS MEDAL

Nutter Appointed Captain

Company C won the Roberts medal for being the best drilled company in the battalion during the inspection held Thursday, May 24th. This is the first time that Company C has won this distinction for many years.

Next year Company C will be the color company, and the first sergeant of this company will wear the Roberts medal during all the drills.

Captain John F. Challenger, commander of the winning company, will be awarded a handsome sabre offered by Governor Denney. This award will be made on Commencement Day, when the winners of the Lieutenant Clarke Churchman Memorial and of the Colonel J. Ernest Smith Prizes will be announced.

Captain Charles A. Nutter will receive a sabre for commanding the best drilled platoon, which was the first platoon of Company B.

Cadet Major H. R. Cole is likewise honored by being one of the men to be presented with a sabre.

Basketball Schedule

Business Building

THE selling of commodities is fundamental in every business, and selling life insurance affords the maximum of satisfaction and remuneration. For the life insurance salesman is a business builder and finds innumerable ways to serve the community and make himself indispensable in the conduct of modern affairs.

The life insurance salesman is not only a business builder but he is in business for himself, creating a competence permanent and continuous. It is the best paid work for those who are ambitious and willing to work, and who have the character and stamina necessary to stamp their individuality upon the business and on their community.

The traditions and practices of the JOHN HANCOCK are such that the college graduate can take a peculiar pride in representing this company. You are liable to remain in the business you enter on leaving college. Before making a definite decision inquire into life insurance as a career. Write, "Agency Department."

"Oh; Nature's noblest gift—my grey goose quill: Slave of my thoughts, obedient to my will."

National Education in the United States of America, by Du Pont de Nemours, Translated from the Second French Edition of 1812 and with an introduction by B. G. du Pont. 161 pages. The University of Delaware Press, Newark, Delaware. 1923.

At no more appropriate time than today, when the problem of properly educating the child is the concern of serious educators and thinkers, could there have been published so valuable a study of education as is this excellent translation of Du Pont de Nemours' National Education in the United States of America.

When it is noted that these comprehensive, amazingly modern ideas were written in 1800 at the request of Joseph Jefferson; whose own theories evidently coincided with many of Du Pont's; and that the suggestions for Primary School methods have not, for the calm wisdom of their outlook and progress, been superseded by the Montessori or other systems of today, it will at once be admitted that Du Pont de Nemours has, in his own field, left as much for education as did Alexander Hamilton in his in the amazing foresight of his economics of banking.

Of especial interest to the teachers of today; no less than to the parents; is the profoundly adequate system of primary school education outlined in this volume.

While some of a few of the suggestions may savour strongly of the modern kindergarten methods, there is, however, a sanely practical form of primary instruction outlined, which, if followed, would undoubtedly result in minds of a far more logical calibre than is usually found in far too many of the college men of today.

The suggestions for a plan of university education, and for its financial support, are mixed with much characteristically shrewd common sense, and, compared with the advanced ideas of today, not a little naïveté.

In the printing and binding is that fineness now looked for in the publications of the University of Delaware Press which are sent out under the seal and sign of the Craftsmen at Kells.

Willard R. Triggs, '22, and Letitia R. Wilson will be married this evening at 6.30 in the First Presbyterian Church. The mother and father of the bride-to-be will hold a reception in honor of the young couple at their residence on Main Street at 7 o'clock.

A Typical American And True Delawarean To the Editor.

Five years ago a little short man of English descent came to Delaware College. He was assigned to a position that had never existed in the institution previous to the advent of his arrival. He became an organizer and made Delaware stand out as an institution operated upon a business basis. He had the hardest position in college. He collected and spent all funds. He has shown his shrewd ability in performing his duties, and at the same time has befriended a large number of students by his timely courtesies.

A. G. Wilkinson

During his period of administration the college has grown in many ways and now it is a University. He is an ardent booster of Delaware. I wonder how many students or alumni cherish Delaware interests and progress as much as does Mr. Arthur G. Wilkinson. Coming to us from the outside and having had a very broad experience, Mr. Wilkinson has been able to analyse and remedy situations that we could not even see were present.

He has been instrumental in keeping the "Sons of Delaware" interested in the University. He has made their annual trip a real outing. Last year he started the Kiwanis Club of Wilmington on the boosting path. This year the Rotary Club has been added to the list. Thus an endless chain of Delaware interest and spirit has been started.

Mr. Wilkinson was elected Vice-President of the Kiwanis Club and through his activity has had the club establish a yearly scholarship of $250.00 for some worthy Freshman wishing to enter Delaware. Last year he gave two prizes to the baseball players who had the largest number of hits and the largest total number of runs during the season. This year Representative Collins followed the administrator's example and doubled both prizes. This all goes to prove how he is fostering a desirable spirit and investigating many good things.

We must give due credit to Mr. Wilkinson for the fine Thanksgiving dinner which we have each year.

He has saved large sums of money for the Athletic Council by insuring all of the baseball games against rain.

In closing I should like to express my sincerest appreciation, as a Senior, of Mr. Wilkinson's "Delaware Spirit," loyal support, and genuine friendship to every student in the University.

Signed: C. A. NUTTER.

Rev. Dr. Jones Speaker at Memorial Ritual on College Campus

Major Clarence A. Short and his committee presented an excellent Memorial Day program on the campus last Wednesday a week ago. Dr. Edgar Jones was the principal speaker, and he delivered a splendid speech on "Three Epochs in the Nation's History." Following the address by Dr. Jones, representatives from the various organizations and clubs present placed wreaths at the base of the boulder, which serves to mark the place where the drafted men took their oath of allegiance in 1918.

President Hulihan presided at these exercises, and Mr. William P. White, of Wilmington, led the singing. Veterans of the Civil War, the Spanish American War, and of the World War were present in a body. Previous to the exercises on the campus, the soldiers and the school children marched to the cemeteries where they decorated the graves of the dead soldiers.

The University classes were suspended from 10 to 12 on the morning of May 30th, to permit the students to attend these services held in honor of the soldier dead.

Review of Coach Keyes' Track Accomplishments

Delaware finished her track schedule on Saturday, May 26th, with an overwhelming victory over Drexel Institute. For the first time in four years, Delaware has had but an average track season.

The season opened with a decisive victory over Stevens Institute. Pitman and McKelvie were the star performers with 15 points apiece to their credit in this meet.

At the Penn Relays our team consisting of Pitman, Evans, McKelvie and Miller did not place among the winners, but Pitman ran the fastest quarter of his career in 51 seconds flat.

The Swarthmore meet was another defeat for the Blue and Gold. As usual, Pitman led the field in the dashes.

The surprise of the season was the decisive setback received at the hands of Haverford. Everyone looked for a Delaware victory, but the team was defeated by a 20 point margin. In this meet Baxter, a Freshman, broke the college high jump record when he went 5 feet 7 1/4 inches in winning his event.

At the Middle States Championships Baxter was the only man who placed. He tied for second place in the high jump. Pitman reached the finals in the dashes, but could not place against such opposition as Le Coney of Lafayette, Clark of John Hopkins and Carol of Lehigh.

The Lehigh meet was close and exciting all the way through. Lehigh was finally declared the winner. Pitman relieved his first defeat in a duel meet when he was headed by Carol in the dashes. The season closed with a victory over Drexel Institute.

Great credit must be given to the new coach, "Pat" Keyes, for his continual plugging in an effort to develop a winning aggregation from latent material. Viewing the season from the standpoint of material developed by Coach Keyes for future years, the season has been a success. Moreover none of the defeats that Delaware suffered were by overwhelming scores and with practically all of this year's new material available next year, the foundation of a successful season is securely laid. The letter men this year are Pitman, Hoey, McKelvie, Jackson, Baxter, Prettyman, France and Elliott.

SIR ISAAC NEWTON

James II is Dead—NEWTON Lives

IT has always been known that free bodies fall. The earth has a strange attraction. How far does it extend? No one knew before Newton, sitting in his garden, one day in 1665, began to speculate.

"Why should not the attraction of gravitation reach as far as the moon?" he asked himself. "And if so, perhaps she is retained in her orbit thereby." He began the calculation, but overwhelmed by the stupendous result that he foresaw, he had to beg a friend to complete it.

In Newton's Principia were laid down his famous laws of motion—the basis of all modern engineering. The universe was proved to be a huge mechanism, the parts of which are held together in accordance with the great law of gravitation.

James II was reigning when the Principia appeared in 1687. He is remembered for the Bloody Assizes of Jeffreys, for his complete disregard of constitutional liberties, for his secret compacts with Louis XIV and the huge bribes that he took from that monarch, and for the revolution that cost him his crown; Newton is remembered because he created a new world of thought, because he enabled scientists and engineers who came after him to grapple more effectively with the forces of nature.

When, for instance, the Research Laboratories of the General Electric Company determine the stresses set up in a steam turbine by the enormous centrifugal forces generated as the rotor spins, they practically apply Newton's laws in reaching conclusions that are of the utmost value to the designing engineer.

JULES JUSSERAND TO ADDRESS THE SENIORS AT COMMENCEMENT

Wayfaring Life" are, perhaps, second in popularity.

Of M. Jusserand's diplomatic career in this country it may be briefly said that he has many times overcome obstacles which no other man would have dared to meet so directly and frankly. At a time during the late war, when the word "propaganda" was in everybody's mouth, and even the most energetic of propagandists talked of it as a reproach, the French Ambassador simply stated what the relations of France and America had been and were. Respected and admired by all the Presidents of the United States whom he met, he was most intimate with President Roosevelt, who believed absolutely in his integrity, enjoyed his vast knowledge of books—and had a high regard for him as a tennis player!

The exact content of the Ambassador's speech has not been announced. His acceptance comes as a pleasant surprise to the University and is of especial interest to the members of the Senior class, whom he is to honor.

Division of Academic Extension Has Made Progress This Year

The Division of Academic Extension of the University of Delaware has conducted, during the present year, nine extension classes at five different centers—Georgetown, Dover, Wilmington, Newark, and Elkton. About one hundred and fifty teachers, desiring either a standard teacher's diploma or a college degree, were enrolled.

Because of the lack of funds and the scarcity of instructors the courses have been restricted to public school teacher only. And these, to meet the actual cost of instruction, travel, and necessary incidentals, are required to pay a small tuition fee.

Students Prepare For Trip to Plattsburgh

Thirty-one students from the University are making ready for the six weeks R. O. C. T. training camp at Plattsburgh, N. Y., this summer. All men must be in camp on June 14th.

Most of the students are going to New York by train, take the night boat up the Hudson to Albany, and complete the trip by rail to the camp. Several are going to motor up and some few expect to "beat" their way for the sake of the experience.

Major Row, Captain Morse, and Sergeants Green and Davis of the University Military Department will also be at Plattsburgh this summer. Major Row is to have charge of the Rifle Range.

The following men have signed up for the trip:

E. R. Barnard, H. L. Cockran, J. H. Donalson, C. B. Downing, I. S. Elliott, W. M. Ewing, W. R. Foster, W. M. Gilbert, A. O. H. Grier, Jr., G. H. Herman, G. V. C. Houghland, W. E. Howard, Jr., E. H. The Footlights Club held their annual banquet at the Deer Park Hotel on Thursday evening, May 20th. Nine new members were officially taken into the organization. FIFTY-SEVEN SENIORS TO BE GRADUATED NEXT MONDAY MORN.

Of this class there are but very few who have not already secured positions which they will fill immediately upon their departure from college. In fact, most of the engineers have had more than one offer and several of them have had a hard time to decide which firm they shall accept positions with. Among the firms that have offered positions that have been accepted are: Westinghouse Electric Company, General Electric Company, West Penn Power Company, and the Bell Telephone Company.

Of the arts and science men the majority are men who have majored in business courses and will naturally locate in the offices of companies and corporations in this part of the country. Many of the engineers are going to Pittsburgh, where already there are many Delaware engineers. There are already thirty-six Delaware alumni in Pittsburgh and the nearby vicinity, and plans are being formulated for the formation of a Pittsburgh Delaware Alumni Association, which will be a judicious and beneficial move, both for the purposes of fostering closer bonds among Delaware graduates and for the purpose of propagating Old Delaware in distant parts of the nation.

In addition to the regular graduates there will be several post graduate degrees awarded to men who have completed their work towards their master's degree.

COMPANY C WINS THE ROBERTS MEDAL

bre. Major Cole receives his trophy for his all-around efficiency in military work during the last year. The last two sabres are offered by General T. Coleman duPont.

The members of Company C will be the guests of honor at a banquet given by the Military Department the first of next term. Each year the winning company is entertained in this manner.

Lieutenants Henry G. Lambert and Bernard S. Steams, U. S. A., of the Coast Artillery, Fort duPont, were the judges who decided which was the best drilled company.

Major Henry P. Perrine and Captain Stanley E. Reinhart, U. S. A., composed a special officers' board assigned by the War Department to inspect the R. O. T. C. Unit at Delaware and to decide whether or not to recommend the University of Delaware for the honor of being a "Distinguished College."

Efforts are being made by the Military Department to get a special uniform English style, for the local R. O. T. C. for next year. The new uniform will probably be an olive green.

The first part of the inspection, which lasted all day, was given up to close order drill and special exhibitions by members of the three lower classes. During the inspection in the morning an airplane from the Aberdeen Proving Grounds did a few stunts over Frazer Field.

The second part of the inspection was a sham battle, which took place in the afternoon. This was held on the grounds of the Newark County Club. Three more airplanes arrived and went through some war formations during the "battle," lending a yet more realistic atmosphere to the already real enough appearing scene. Finally the army, under the command of "Dick" Cole, overcame the enemy and silenced the barking of the machine gun. Then the announcement of the winning company was made, and the battalion, lead by the band, marched back to Newark.

Out of consideration of loyalty and distinguished military service this year, Lieutenant C. A. Nutter was promoted to the rank of captain. This promotion marks the reward for a year of concentrated effort in behalf of military at Delaware. It followed his excellent work during the inspection.
