State Poultry Show Landed By Newark; Opens January 12

Two Local Fanciers Report Success In Their Efforts To Bring Event Here CUPS BEING OFFERED

Newark has been officially designated as the scene of the biggest event in Delaware among poultry raisers—the Diamond State Poultry and Pigeon Show, it was announced yesterday.

The show, which is scheduled to open on January 12th for a five-day run, was landed for Newark principally through the efforts of two well known local fanciers, Samuel Little and William E. Renshaw. These two men attended a meeting of the Diamond State Association at Fell's store in Wilmington, Monday night, and placed their proposition before the officials.

Between 500 and 600 birds are normally on exhibition during these shows, and hundreds of fanciers from this and nearby states attend the affair. This will mark the first time Newark has played host to so large a number of poultrymen.

Cups Are Being Offered

In anticipation of the decision Monday night, Mr. Renshaw has personally arranged for the use of Battery E Armory on Delaware avenue for the show, and it will make an ideal show room, he says.

Twelve silver loving cups have already been promised by business and professional men of Newark alone for the big meet. Before the show opens, the local committee will no doubt have plenty of prizes and cups for the classes exhibited.

In undertaking the handling of so large a venture, the Messrs. Little and Renshaw will have the active cooperation of every poultryman in the vicinity, and plans and already being made for a meeting to talk over details.

Officers already elected are: J. Lannon, show secretary; Samuel Little, superintendent of the poultry; W. E. Renshaw, assistant superintendent of poultry; A. F. Wahl, superintendent of pigeons; executive committee, R. L. Cloud, J. S. Wilson, J. M. Phillips, B. J. Kelly, N. J. Lannon, Samuel Little, W. E. Renshaw, D. Curlett and William Lannon.

ENGINES BREAK DOWN IN RACE TO FIRE

Straw Rick On D. O. Hanes Place At Iron Hill Destroyed Monday

Just as the threshermen were pulling their machinery away at the completion of their work at the D. O. Hanes farm, better known as the old Davis farm, near Iron Hill station, the straw rick caught fire and was totally consumed. Hard work on the part of neighbors and firemen saved the barn and other buildings from destruction.

Calls were sent to Elkton and Newark for help. The latter company responded with their pumping engine and helped save the buildings.

Two engines from the Singlerly Fire Co. of Elkton broke down on their way to and from the fire and had to be towed in, according to reports. Flames ate into the piled straw so fast that there was hardly a chance to save it.

OBITUARY

Samuel W. Gray

Samuel W. Gray, one of the best known older residents of this community, died at his home on Chestnut Hill, near Newark, on Sunday last after a lingering illness. He was 73 years of age.

The funeral services were held this afternoon from his late residence at 2 o'clock. Interment followed in the Newark M. E. Cemetery. The funeral was largely attended by friends and relatives of the deceased.

Mr. Gray moved to Marshallton from Rowlandville, Md., about 47 years ago and became an employee of the Marshallton Iron Company. Among others he was a founder of the Methodist Church at Marshallton, held in the old school house long since done away with by a modern building. About 21 years ago he moved his family to Newark, and took there with him the same spirit of cheer and

SEVERE DROP IN MILK PRICES FORESEEN; FARMERS TO GATHER HERE TO MAKE PLANS

Dairymen in this vicinity who supply perhaps the major share of Delaware's milk output to the Philadelphia markets, are not a little worried over the gradual falling off in the city consumption of their product, with the resultant drop in price.

The outlook for the future is none too good, either, according to R. O. Bausman, county agent.

Mr. Bausman, in a recent interview, pointed out that an unlooked for wave of unemployment and a general let down in business this summer, has greatly affected the milk consumption in Philadelphia and its environs. The Interstate Milk Producers Association, whose rules govern this section, have been working valiantly for the interests of the farmers in this respect, but the 1924

August market is much lower than that of the corresponding period in 1923.

Meet To Talk It Over

The producers, providing this slackening of consumption continues, will shortly be faced with a surplus of milk on their hands and no market. The prices paid for the product are said to be lower than usual. The production must go on, however.

To take steps for the solving of this vital problem among local dairymen is the aim of a meeting called for next Wednesday evening, August 27th, in County Agent Bausman's office in Wolf Hall, at which time a representative of the Milk Producers' Association will be on hand and explain the situation thoroughly to the farmers. At that time, some measures will be discussed for the relief of a possible surplus in milk production in this part of the county.

Maryland Physician To Succeed Dr. Blake

Dr. Raymond Downs of Preston, Md. To Accept Invitation

Newark and community will be interested to know that Dr. Raymond Downs, of Preston, Md., will locate in Newark. The announcement was definitely made this morning by Mrs. Blake, in conversation with a representative of the Post.

Interesting, too, is the knowledge that Dr. Downs is a personal friend and professionally associated with Dr. H. C. Davis, of Baltimore, well known in Newark, both socially and professionally. Dr. Davis was an intimate friend of Dr. Blake and was in consultation here with him quite frequently.

Dr. Downs and Dr. Davis were medical student friends at the University of Maryland. He is a practicing physician of several years successful experience. The name is familiar in Delaware, he being related to the Downes' of Dover and a nephew of Carroll Downes, president of Durant Motors and Liberty Bank of New York City, and of the late Dr. Mary Downes, of Baltimore.

Dr. Downs, it is understood, decided yesterday to accept the invitation and will proceed to make the usual professional arrangements for making the change. It is not known at this time just when he will arrive.

GRADUATE 18 REHABS HERE ON AUGUST 29th

Exercises Close Work of University Division; C. A. Short to Speak

The final commencement exercises of the Rehabilitation Division of the University of Delaware will be held in Wolf Hall on August 29th next, at 11.00 a. m.

Director Tomhave, of the Division, announced today that Major Clarence A. Short of Newark will be the chief speaker on the program. Further arrangements are now being made by the University officials.

In graduating the 18 men this month, the Rehabilitation School will end its work begun four years ago. Scores of wounded service men have been given special training along agricultural lines for their life work.

The men who will be graduated include 9 poultry men, 2 horticulturists, 4 in animal husbandry, and 3 in general agriculture. They are A. J. McDonough, Erwin F. Seimes, Carl A. Carter, Patrick J. Shovelin, Harold M. Thompson, Anthony Galli, R. W. Hippensteel, George W. Jones, Henry S. Fretz, Harry H. Harrington, John S. Leslie, Ira Hinebaugh, Ward W. Carey, Ernest P. Schneider, Charles H. Wieland, D. L. Webb and W. A. Recknor.

Newark Man Hurt

John Macgrader, of Newark, who was seriously injured recently by the falling of a scaffold on which he was at work, and who was taken to the Homeopathic Hospital, Wilmington, where he was operated on for a fracture of the skull and a broken nose, is resting easy according to reports. His recovery is expected, although his condition is still regarded as serious.

Wright Promises Aid For Mill Creek Roads

Levy Court Commissioner From That District Says Highways Will Soon be Made Passable

BY T. R. DANTZ

Delaware S. Wright, representative of the Mill Creek Hundred district in the Levy Court, stated last evening that the terrible conditions of the roads in the hundred will be rectified, as soon as the $4400 fund from the State is granted the Court.

"When these funds are exhausted," said Wright, "the tax payments from the hundred will be rolling in, and before Winter sets in, we expect to have the Mill Creek roads in the best possible shape."

Continuing, Mr. Wright said, "Engineer Grubb and myself have recently been on a tour of the entire 46 miles of dirt roads in the hundred, and have noted the conditions carefully. We have already made provisions for the expending of the money, and even have our orders for supplies made out and ready. We are only waiting for authorization to draw on the fund promised us."

When we reached Mr. Wright by phone Monday evening, he stated that he would not have anything to say until after the Levy Court meeting yesterday, inferring that something would likely happen at that session.

The expected didn't occur, evidently, for the road situation was barely mentioned in the meeting, according to Mr. Wright.

The commissioner stated that he was going to put a much larger force of men at work on the roads, and hurry things with all possible speed.

Claringbold In For It

Efforts to reach Thomas Claringbold at his residence as listed in the phone directory failed Monday last. We were informed that he was at present "staying in Newark."

All of which brings up another issue in the minds of Mill Creek farmers.

Claringbold is avowedly a candidate for the Levy Court from White Clay Creek hundred, they say, and yet he holds down a job as road supervisor in Mill Creek hundred. Well founded reports indicate that Claringbold is now living on Prospect avenue, in Newark, completely out of his road district.

This turn of affairs doesn't rest very well on the minds of the Mill (Continued on Page 8.)

HURT WHEN CAR PASSES OVER LEG

Queer Accident Injuries Mrs. Gregg In Front of Her Home Monday Evening

While alighting from the car of P. M. Sherwood in front of her home here Monday evening, Mrs. John Gregg, of Cleveland avenue, in some manner was knocked down as the auto pulled away, and the rear wheel passed over her leg, inflicting severe bruises. Mrs. Gregg also suffered slightly from shock. She is much better at this time, and her injuries are not serious.

It is believed that the car was started by Mr. Sherwood, who is partially deaf, before Mrs. Gregg was clear of the fender, and that he did not hear her cries. The Sherwoods had Mrs. Gregg out riding in the evening and were returning home when the accident occurred.

Buys Old Farmhouse

Prof. Martin and family, of Delaware City, have moved into the Wellston farmhouse near the Women's College buildings, recently purchased by them. Prof. Martin will join the staff of the Newark Public Schools early in September. Extensive alterations are being made to the house by the new owners.

Improves Property

A great improvement has been noted about the residence of Jonathan K. Johnston, local brick manufacturer, following the completion recently of a large enclosed porch around one side of the building. Mr. Johnston has one of the neatest homes in the east end of town.

Workmen are busy this week replacing parts of the roof on the home of Samuel J. Wright on East Main street.

FIREMEN GET PRIZE

The Aetna Hose, Hook and Ladder Co. of Newark won a $15 special prize for the best appearing company in line at the Firemen's Parade in Oxford, Pa., last night. Between 40 and 50 Newark firemen marched in the procession.

The Singlerly Fire Co. of Elkton won a silver cup for having the oldest fire fighting apparatus in line. A great number of Newark people went to Oxford with the firemen to see the Carnival in that town.

DRAWS HEAVY FINE HERE

Andrew Archer, Negro Farm Hand, Convicted of Driving While Intoxicated

Arrested Saturday afternoon by Highway Officer Jones, at Main and Choate streets, and charged with operating a motor vehicle while under the influence of liquor, Andrew Archer, colored, aged about 35 years, was fined $100 and costs by Magistrate Thompson here on Monday morning. Archer plead guilty to the charges.

According to local police records, Archer had been fined on a similar charge before. He had been employed for years on the farm of Thomas J. Green in Pencader Hundred, and is reputed to be an excellent farmhand. Mr. Green appeared at the hearing Monday and went over the evidence with Magistrate Thompson.

Archer, according to Officer Jones, had a companion in the car with him at the time of the arrest. The latter was said to have been intoxicated. Archer, it is claimed, swerved his car back and forth across the road coming into Newark from Wilmington, and when halted, was on the wrong side of the highway.

The fine was paid and the case settled.

JOINS FATHER HERE

C. Harold Sheaffer, of Philadelphia, has recently joined his father, I. Newton Sheaffer, in the latter's painting and paperhanging business here. The Sheaffer business has grown steadily in the last year and the younger Sheaffer is relieving his father by taking care of some of the out of town work.

TWO NEW HOMES

Ground has been broken for a new home to be built by Fred Strickland, Overland dealer of this town on Elkton Road near the southern limits of Newark.

Ernest Jamison is reported to be building a new dwelling along the Lincoln Highway, near Roseville.

APPOINTMENT MADE

Miss Mildred G. Waddleton, of Washington, D. C., has been appointed teacher of grades five and six in the colored school instead of Mrs. Beatrice Smith, resigned. Miss Waddleton is the sister of the Miss Waddleton, teacher at the school some years ago.

NAMED SURGEON

Dr. G. Burton Pearson, of this town, has been appointed a surgeon for the B. and O. Railroad, taking the place of the late Dr. Charles Blake.

MINNEHAHA BAND PLAYS TOMORROW

The Minnehaha Band will give the weekly concert on the Academy lawn this Thursday evening, August 21, at 7.30 o'clock.

The program arranged is as follows: March, "The Moose," W. L. Skagg; Overture, "King of Diamonds," Charles J. Rockwell; Novellette, "A Whispered Thought," Charles L. Johnson; Fox-trot, "Aready," Al Johnson; Waltz, "Love Blossom," Lucien Denni; March, "Our Director," Bigelow; Serenade, "After Glow," C. C. Hought; Operatic Melody, "Echoes from the Opera," Arranged by Mackie-Beyer; March, "On the Job," C. C. Hought; "Star Splangled Banner."

Improvements

The home of Arthur L. Beals on East Main street is resplendent in a new coat of paint.

Considerable time and money has recently been spent on improving the interior and exterior of Fraternal Hall, the headquarters of several local lodges on East Main street. Extensive repairs, new tin roofing and painting has been done on the building, preparing it for an active fall and winter season. William S. Armstrong has been supervising the work being done by local contractors.

FIRE SWEEPS BARN AND BUILDINGS ON GRAY LOMAX FARM

Disastrous Blaze Destroys Everything Except Chicken House; Neighbor's Horse Dies In Stall

LOSS MAY REACH $10,000

In the worst fire this section has seen in several years, the barn and house on the Gray Lomax farm, along the Cooch's Bridge-Elkton turnpike, about four miles from Newark, were totally destroyed late Monday afternoon.

Two large silos, a granary, implement shed, and other outbuildings were also consumed. After the smoke had cleared away, a small chicken house was all there remained of the group of buildings. A motor truck was saved.

A horse belonging to an Italian, J. Pattuli, which was tied up in the horse stable, perished in the flames. All the crops, including shocked wheat which was to have been threshed yesterday, were destroyed.

Mr. Lomax was unable to state at the time how much his loss would be but neighbors estimate that it will run not less than between $8000 and $10,000. The buildings were partially covered by insurance but the crops were uninsured.

Cause Undetermined

At this time, no one knows exactly what caused the disaster. Some witnesses are of the opinion that it might have been started by spontaneous combustion, the result of hay "steaming" in the mows. There are many opponents to this theory, however.

Mrs. Lomax was alone in the farmhouse about 4.15 Monday afternoon when the first wisps of smoke and a tongue of flame leaped out from the topmost part of the barn roof. Mr. Lomax was almost a half-mile away in his woods, and was unaware of the fire until he returned and saw his property beyond salvation.

In the meantime, Mrs. Lomax called the Newark firemen and, aided by neighbors who rushed to the scene, managed to get the stock out of the barn. The Lomaxes have three horses, and the Pattuli horse was not known to have been in the barn, as they usually tie it up in the yard. When rescuers discovered the Pattuli wagon, it was too late to reach the horse. It died in its stall.

Before the firemen could reach the scene and get their bearings, the barn was in ruins and the flames were sweeping the farm house. Had they arrived ten minutes earlier, it is said, they might have saved that building by their chemical apparatus.

House Goes Next

As it happened, there was no stopping the hungry maw of the flames as they ate their way through the house. A few pieces of furniture, a stove and clothing which had been hung out on the line in the yard, were saved. Everything else was destroyed. From the house the fire spread onward to the smaller buildings, and the firemen could only save the chicken house.

The Pattuli family were on a blackberry hunt through the Lomax woods at the time of the blaze and did not get back until it was nearly over.

The circular arrangements of the farm buildings played into the hands of the fire, according to neighbors. Short distances prevailed between them, and the flames jumped the gaps with amazing speed. Neighbors and friends for miles around rushed to the scene attracted by the dense clouds of smoke, but their efforts were of no avail.

Mr. and Mrs. Lomax are stopping with neighbors until arrangements are made for the rebuilding of their home.

Entertains Visitors

H. Warner McNeal was host the past week-end to a party of industrial visitors to Newark, at Rehoboth Beach.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Steinbruche, of Florence, N. J., and F. W. Cox, of Newtown, Pa., joined Mr. McNeal on the outing. Mr. Steinbruche is superintendent of the Austin Co. operations at the Continental Fibre Co. plant here, and Mr. Cox is assistant.

Many Gather At Old Whiteman's Grove;
Harvest Home Is Better Than Ever
Ball Game, Speeches, Big Open Air Dinner, and Band
Music Make Things Lively
Last Thursday

Whiteman's Grove, that historic old piece of woodland on the farm of Arthur Whiteman in Mill Creek Hundred, about three miles north of Newark, welcomed again the Harvest Home, last Thursday. The tall trees, and the sun-swept hillsides around them have welcomed like crowds for years upon years, and as long as there remains a tree, the custom will continue. Generations have passed since the first Harvest Home, and the old days, when literally thousands used to come from three states to the all-day outing, have passed forever. But the descendants of famous families still come, and the crowd this year, although slightly smaller than usual, was nevertheless, attractive.

The Grove is ideal for such an affair. Tall trees offer shade to everything. A well of sparkling spring water is always flowing. In a large open space, long white clothed tables are set with china and silverware, forming a pretty picture under the shifting shadows.

Booths beautifully decorated, especially the lemonade and candy stands, enhanced the scene. Chairs aplenty, but more people than all the chairs in the vicinity could hold. And anyhow, who wanted to sit on chairs. Benches confronted the speakers' rostrum, stumps and logs made fine places to eat ice cream, and along the edge of the wood was an ideal "grandstand" where one could watch a rousing ball game between Ebenezer and the Whiteman's Grove Bearcats. We didn't get the final score, for as we left just before suppertime, the two teams were still at it hammer and tongs. It appears that the Bearcats considerably surprised the Ebenezer outfit by keeping the score tied and then going into the lead late in the game. The Bearcats were said to include stars from Cranston Heights, Wilmington, Newark and points east, south, north and west in their lineup. Anyhow, they had enough to make it a hall game. The "stands" were cheering impartially, and the umpire had his troubles, as all good umpires do. Bad ones invite trouble.

Politicians? Yes Sir!

The candidates had a fine time, thank you. In fact, they hated to leave. A farmers' picnic is a second heaven for politicians and after the Mill Creek roads got their recent airing the candidates pounced on Whiteman's Grove like a small army.

Of course, they all try to pick out their own party followers on sight. Like everyone, they make mistakes sometimes, but that doesn't worry them. Their cards seem to be inexhaustible; they come from every pocket. Maybe they even keep some in their shoes. Democratic candidates are just as sweet to Republicans as ever, only sometimes they only give out one card, where two often find themselves in the hands of Democrats. However, they were good sports and joined in the fun. When dinner time arrived and the long white tables began to fill up, and the ladies of Old Ebenezer brought on the goodies, politics just naturally climbed the tallest tree and stayed there for a couple of hours.

Band Music and Speeches

Custom was followed to the letter again this year. There was no chance of being bored. The Harvest Home people know human nature, all right. For instance, a ball game and speaking program were going on most of the afternoon. Those who tired of base ball could hear plenty of oratory, and vice versa. In between the two centers of activity ranged the ice cream, candy and soft drink booths, and banked on all sides were all manner of opportunities afforded to "pass the time of day" and talk things over. There wasn't a dull minute.

Everybody present gave the ladies of Ebenezer Church great credit for the arrangements at the outing. The efficient hard-working women who prepared the meals can't be praised enough. It was hot work and trying work, but they always had a smile left.

The men had plenty to talk about—Mill Creek roads, politics, the price of wheat, threshing reports—these are only a few. The air was surcharged with timely subjects. The only thing lacking to put a little pep in the meeting was a delegation from the Levy Court.

The Minnehaha Band of Newark never played better. Must have been the good old country air which made the horns toot a little better under the leadership of Director Hahn. The folks like the band and the band like the old grove, you can tell that in a minute. Many of the musicians come from out that way.

The speaker in the morning was the Rev. T. R. Vandyke, of Wilmington. In the afternoon Rev. John Bickford, formerly of the Pittsburgh M. E. Conference, and now of North East, Md., was the speaker. In the evening the Rev. Frank Herson, of Newark, preached.

Other speakers were as follows: Rev. J. A. Leach, of Union M. E. Church, Wilmington; Rev. O. J. Collins, of Charlestown, Md., and Rev. Ivanhoe Willis, of Marshallton.

About 1000 to 1200 people attended the Harvest Home.

RELATION OF WILSON LATEST IN SPEED NET

Two Washington Men Caught By Officer Wardle Friday and Fined

The speed net being strung along the Lincoln Highway between Wilmington and the Maryland line has snared within its meshes some very interesting characters. Ambassadors, Consuls, Barons and Princesses have been meekly led into nearby Magistrates' courts and caused to deposit various sums as fines in the past few weeks.

The latest case involves one who claims close relation with the late Woodrow Wilson, former President.

An expensive car, piloted by Lieut. John P. Jackson, U. S. N., and accompanied by the Wilson relative, was halted Friday last near Marshallton, by Highway Officer Wardle. The chase commenced at Buckingham's garage, north of Newark.

When informed of their arrest, according to Wardle, the two men took opposite sides in the issue as to whether they were going 45 miles per hour, as charged, or were under the speed limit. Finally, Magistrate Tinsman settled the matter by fining Jackson $25 and costs.

The driver paid his fine and departed for northern points. It was reported that the name of his companion was lost in the excited arguments in Magistrate Tinsman's court.

Colored Elks Jubilee

New London avenue was the scene each night last week of a rip-roaring carnival all its own. The local lodge of colored Elks staged, managed and otherwise put across the affair, and made a right nice profit, it is said.

Leader Simpser and his ear-splitting band were in splendid condition and kept up the pace remarkably well. Various booths and novel features made the carnival grounds colorful and lively. Large crowds attended on the opening and closing nights.

In Memoriam

Just one year has past, dear brother, Since you were called away. But peaceful be your sleep, dear brother.

'Tis sweet to breath your name, I loved you very dear in life, In death I do the same.

No one knows how much I miss you, No one knows the tears I shed, But in Heaven I hope to meet you Where no farewell words are said.

Corn Coming Soon

Several nearby growers are ready with their sweet corn crop, according to officials of the United Packing Co. here. The canning plant will likely start up for the packing of corn late this week or early next week. Edward L. Records, who is in charge of the "corn line" at the plant, has been making a tour over the territory, getting a line on the amount which is ready to be hauled.

County Farmers' Picnic To Be Held Tomorrow

Fifth Annual Outing at Delaware Beach to Include Many Lines of Entertainment

Under the direction of Frank F. Yearsley, resident of the County Farm Bureau, assisted by R. O. Bausman, county agent, plans have been completed for the fifth annual Farm Bureau picnic of New Castle county farmers at Delaware Beach, near Port Penn, tomorrow.

Estimates by local leaders in the movement indicate that about 1500 people are expected to be present if the weather is favorable.

The speakers who have been engaged by County Agent Bausman and who will address the picnickers on timely topics of interest to their business, are well-known as successful business men, men capable of discussing in detail matters of co-operation are Dr. Thomas F. Manns, Charles M. Banks, president of the State Fair Association, David Snellenberg, prominent merchant, and Benjamin Getzoff, of the Delaware State Fair.

The athletic program, which will be a big feature of the day's outing for both young and old, will consist of baseball games, a tug-of-war and obstacle races. These will all be under the supervision of A. D. Cobb, State director of club work.

Jacob Jaquette, an artist in barnyard golf, and one whose word is law in the game, will have charge of that part of the athletic program. Jaquette states that the contestants must conform to the rules as laid down for that State Fair tournament, so far as conditions will allow, and that no contestant can have any hope of putting across any regulations as to how they score "down home." The referee will insist at least that the distance pitched shall be forty feet, that the game shall consist of fifty points and the contestant first scoring this number after all shoes have been pitched shall be declared the winner.

A ball game between two picked teams of farmers is also scheduled.

Common Sense and Men

National Slogan is Delaware Opportunity

Common-sense is an interesting word. There is a plain honest ruggedness in the very sound that appeals. Difficult to define, void of frills, it is recognised and understood everywhere; at home in any society, on the farm, on the street, in the mart and bank, in affairs of big business and personal dealings—an interesting word. "A man of Common-sense" is a worthy tribute to any citizen and a term that can be the aspiration of any rank or station.

Common-sense in business affairs means sure conservative prosperity. A Common-sense Idea means development and action. Common-sense may or may not have a College Education—very often hasn't, nor have wealth, nor social standing, whatever that is. Common-sense may be a First Citizen or a rank and file ordinary man. It may or may not have these but it has honesty, ruggedness, Truth, Ideas with Ideals a-distant and sentiment with heart a-feeling. Common-sense is a great trait in men and nations. The Pioneers had it. So did the men of the Revolution and America's Great everywhere. Lincoln had it. We speak of him as the Master Man of Common-sense. It's a great and interesting word.

The dictionary gives, too, an interesting definition:

"A sense supposed to unite the sensations of all the senses in a general sensation or perception."
"Good, sound, ordinary sense." Horse sense; normal intelligence."

But even these words do not tell the completeness of its luring meaning as every one thinks of and interprets the word.

Just now it has a new meaning and as the Slogan offered by President Coolidge in speaking for his party, it is the topic of the hour. It is on the lips of a Nation's thinking. And well—for both the term and practice has been pushed into the background by vague theories, academic and ambitious. Change, heralded by red-flag has contested History and Common-sense. "Life, Liberty and Pursuit of Happiness" won by sacrifice and Common-sense, have been and are being challenged by Sneers and Preachments against Law and all the Liberties under Law.

But thanks to reason, History with its glories of achievement, prosperity and opportunity, we are coming back—and Common-sense is the word of the hour. Common-sense in Government is the Slogan of our campaign.

"We point with pride" and fact to its record in a Nation's past and the hope and only hope of a Government under Law of the future is in complete return to its thinking practice.

Common-sense appeals to us—and appealing in a National way, brings us home to local issues and men in Delaware.

Common-sense at Dover at the Convention next Tuesday promises not only mere Success, but Honesty, Truth, sturdiness and civic integrity. Let us have ideas, ideals, actions of common-sense and men of worthy examples.

Common-sense is a great word when applied to Government and Men. The Republican Party has the word and the men for our National Ticket. May Delaware both lead and follow by doing likewise.

Common-sense and Men is our Platform and Ticket for Delaware.

NEWARK FOOTBALL BOOSTERS TO MEET MONDAY NIGHT FOR ORGANIZATION

A football meeting has been called by the manager of last year's team, for next Monday evening, August 25th, at the Newark Armory. The team last year enjoyed the most successful season any team ever had in Newark, regardless of the fact they didn't get started until October. This year they are going to start the ball rolling early and see if they can't raise a good sum of money before the opening of the season.

The splendid success of recent Newark teams is all the more remarkable in that none of the players receive money for playing. Expenses of the season, however, must be met. These include guarantees, stationery, advertising, tickets, officials' salaries and other necessary incidentals. To raise a fund to meet these expenses is the aim of the forthcoming organization. With a well equipped, well financed team on the field, Newark will see some real football this season.

Last year's men are expected back with the exception of "Doc" Steel who is in Hawaii. His absence will greatly affect the team, but it is expected that "Griff" Moore and Claringbold will be able to hold down the fort on that position, with Herb Henning, a new man out, showing them hard for the position. "Dick" Cole, former U. of D. star, is also expected out for a berth, also several others.

Another question which will come up Monday night is the selection of a Coach, Manager and Captain of the Newark forces. Last year's hard-working trio, Coach Dick Holton, Manager Jester and Captain Jim Keeley, are all present again. They worked hand in glove for the team then, and no doubt will do the same again this year, in whatever capacity they can.

Following Monday's meeting, the plans for the season will be made public, and efforts to get an early start in practice started.

"DOG DAYS" ARE HERE; WHAT IT'S ALL ABOUT

Star Is Said To Be the Seat of All the Trouble and Fuss

Dog Days began according to the calendar on July 29th this year.

The parental injunction "Hang your clothes on a hickory limb, but don't go near the water" is seasonable once more.

Astronomers at the United States Naval Observatory at Washington, announced that "dog days," traditional time of rabid canines and poisoned ponds, began July 29.

On that date Sirius, the dog star, rises with the sun for the first time during the year. It will continue at dawn until September 1. The star will be visible in the early morning hours. The naval scientists, however, assured the public that there is no occasion for alarm at the proximity of the muggy season. The fear of "dog days" is an ancient bugaboo, born long before old King Tut's ascendancy.

For, in conflict to the popular belief, the season's name is not attributable to the fact that dogs are prey to rabies at that time. It is named for the bright star Sirius who eternally follows Orion, the Hunter in his heavenly chase.

The ancient Egyptians thought the rising of the dog star was responsible for the torrid heat of the Nile country during the late summer. They attributed the variations of the season to the position of the planets. Accordingly, the late summer was "dog days."

McKINSEY-TYSON REUNION WILL BE SCENE OF LARGE GATHERING ON 21st

The thirteenth annual re-union of the McKinsey-Tyson families will be held at Shellpot Park, Wilmington, Thursday, August 21st, 1924. The re-union last year numbered approximately two hundred persons, representing numerous places in Pennsylvania, New Jersey, Maryland and Delaware.

The officers of the McKinsey-Tyson Association are: Honorary President, Charles Henry Tyson, Quarryville, Pa.; President, Harry Tyson, Philadelphia, Pa.; Secretary and Treasurer, Fred E. McKinsey, 26 Champlain avenue, Richardson Park, Del.; Vice-Presidents, William H. McKinsey, Chester, Pa.; George Addison McKinsey, Quarryville, Pa.; Mrs. Elizabeth Folger Adams, Tampa, Fla.; Mrs. Frances Emily Bratton, Elkton, Md.; Oliver Evans Tyson, Philadelphia, Pa.; Harry Bungard, Chesapeake City, Md.; Harry Kerr, Bryn Mawr, Pa.; William Tyson, Singery, Md.; Mrs. Eudney Morton, Chester, Pa.; Edward E. Pierson, Elkton, Md.; Mrs. Anna Frances Chesley, Chicago, Ill.; Mrs. S. J. De-Fontes, Washington, D. C.

The nature of the reunion is that of an old fashioned picnic. A dinner is enjoyed at the noon hour. In the afternoon a program is rendered and refreshments served.

Shellpot Park is on the Philadelphia Pike, just on the edge of Wilmington, Del., and is accessible by automobile and trolley line that connects with the Wilson Steamboat Lines and railroads entering Wilmington City.

There are too, at Shellpot Park, abundance of shade, good water, plenty of shelter in the event of rain, and amusements galore, in addition to the pleasures this reunion occasion always affords.

Famous Writer Pays Childhood Home Annual Visit; Loves To Go Fishin'

Mark Sullivan, considered one of the foremost political writers in the country, is home again.

Neighbors, old playmates and relatives on Landenberg way were mighty glad to see Mark back from his busy desk in New York. But there wasn't much fuss made over him. The folks out there don't make a fuss over anyone, especially an old friend. And it follows that the best way to spoil Mark Sullivan's home-coming would be to stage a parade, make speeches or present flowers "on behalf of the Town Council and Citizens of this Community." That sort of things just doesn't go with him.

Comes Back Every Year

Rarely a year slips by that Mr. Sullivan can't find time to come back to his old haunts along the White Clay around Landenberg and Avondale. He was born and raised on a big farm between these two villages; he knows every foot of the dusty old roads, every rock in the creek, and every hole where an eel or sucker might be found.

He was one of many children. He worked every day of his young life on the farm. He knows what work is, and if ever a writer knows the farmer's mind, Mark Sullivan knows it.

Everybody's glad to see him back. There's nothing reclusive about him. To be sure, he likes to get away from everybody and go down to the creek fishin' some time, but he's plain Mark Sullivan nevertheless, to all his friends in Avondale. He'll be up in "Billy" Blittersdorf's barber shop, swapping stories before he goes back to the city, and he'll talk to any and all on summer evenings on the hotel porch. He loves his folks just as much now as he did twenty years ago.

Not everybody agrees politically with Mark. And it's not unusual to see him arguing away for dear life with an old friend of boyhood days—arguing as earnestly as if he were before the Supreme Court. He takes everything seriously, does Mark; but there's just one time in the year when Politics will bring his wrath down on your head. That is when he's fishin' down along the creek.

He is a devoted angler, and a good one. He's caught the gamest of fish in the wildest of streams and lakes. He will fish just as patiently and faithfully in quiet old White Clay Creek, where nothing bites save a few fall fish and eels, as if he were after mountain trout. It's a beautiful stream above Landenberg, and it makes little difference if you don't have luck. Everybody who has ever wandered along the shady banks love them.

He was born and raised near Landenberg, educated in the little district school near his home, and in West Chester State Normal School. He has been in the thick of every big political fight in fifteen years or more. He has edited Collier's Weekly, contributed to every leading magazine, and is also a member of the staff of the New York Herald-Tribune. He knows the Game, and he plays it hard and clean. His articles are authoritative, and his political judgment is muller over in high places.

Born and Reared There

Somehow the visit of Mark Sullivan to his old home is consistent with one of the greatest instincts in humans. There's hundreds of places he and his splendid family might have gone. Life, gayety, crowds—all those things could be found.

But he came back to the sleepy old villages, the quiet hills and the gurgling creeks of Chester County. And if we know Mark Sullivan at all, we know that he'll come back every chance he has; that when his active and useful life has been completed and he has finished the race, the hills and valleys of old Chester will open their arms and welcome him back again forever—just as they gave him up years and years ago.

Jackson Democrats!

Andrew Jackson said in 1824 in the United States Senate:

"Providence has filled our mountains and our plains with minerals—with lead, iron, and copper—given us a climate and soil for the growing of hemp and wool. These being the greatest materials of our national defense they ought to have extended to them adequate and fair protection, that our manufacturers and laborers may be placed in a fair competition with those of Europe; and that we may have within our country a supply of those leading and important articles so essential in war. We have been too long subject to the policy of British merchants. It is time we should become a little more Americanized; and, instead of feeding the paupers and laborers of England, feed our own; or else in a short time by continuing our present policy (that under the Tariff of 1816) we shall all be rendered paupers ourselves. It is my opinion, therefore, that a careful and judicious Tariff is much wanted."

Would it be indelicate to commend these excerpts to those who drafted the tariff plank of the Democratic party?—National Republican Committee.

good will that characterized his life at Marshallton.

Mr. Gray is survived by his wife and four children, as follows: Mrs. B. C. Hollett, Mrs. John W. Powell, Mrs. L. S. Ellison and grandchildren of Newark; Joseph, the Rev. Howard Gray, D. D., of Nanticoke, Pa., a minister of the Congregational Church.

Hilda Louise Foard

Hilda Louise Foard, aged 19 years, died at her home in Marshallton early last week.

Funeral services were held from her home last Friday afternoon at 3 o'clock, with Rev. Ernest Rich, pastor of St. Barnabas' Church, officiating, and Rev. Ivanhoe Willis, pastor of Marshallton M. E. Church, assisting. Interment was in the St. Barnabas' cemetery. Surviving, besides her parents, John H. and Anna E. Foard, who keep a general store at Marshallton, are a sister, Roberta, and two brothers, Franklin and Hilton Foard. A sister, Elizabeth, died during the "flu" epidemic.

Deceased was prominent in church work, being a member of the Guild of St. Barnabas' Church, the Girls' Reserve, organist, and sang soprano in the choir of St. Barnabas'. Sunday school, however, she attended at the Marshallton M. E. Church, and had hardly missed a Sunday since starting. Miss Foard attended the public schools of Marshallton, and went to the High School in Wilmington for two years, but had to give up on account of her poor health. Music was her hobby and she was quite an accomplished pianist. Born in Newport, she was taken to Marshallton while a young girl and had been living there ever since.

Newark Assured Of Cellar Championship

Local County League Team Offers Yorklyn Hard Tussle, but Loses 7-6—Watkins Pitches

Unless a miracle happens, Newark will be crowned the cellar champions of the County League for the second half of the season, as a result of Saturday's game with Yorklyn, in which Kwing's men lost again, 7-6.

The local team has consistently managed to keep in the cellar for the past several weeks. At the beginning of the race, they occupied some of the amble positions at the top of the heap, but the pace was too fast and they dropped back into the reek. To date they have yet to win a game in the second half of the pennant struggle. The defeat Saturday was the eighth straight.

Newark fought manly for the game with Yorklyn, and their last desperate rally in the ninth lacked one run of sewing up the struggle. Fans present believe that if they could have forced the game into extra innings, the long losing streak would have been smashed to bits.

As it was they led for seven innings, 3-1, only to see the Yorklyn sluggers pound out three runs in their half and then go out in front to stay in the eighth. Scoring two in the eighth and one in the ninth put Newark right on their heels, however. A good crowd witnessed the game and were well pleased at the article of ball put up by both teams.

Our old and trusted friend, Bobby Watkins, ascended the mound for the locals Saturday, his first venture in many weeks.

Watkins has been cavorting about the center of the diamond for the New London, Pa., team and made a great name for himself out in the country side.

His return to the mound for Newark was welcomed by many local fans in the proper manner.

Behind Watkins was a nearly new team. Many faces seen in a Newark uniform for the first time graced the various positions on the team. Henry Mote and Watty were said to be the only local boys in the lineup.

Both pitchers were rather stingy with hits, especially Stokes. The sixth inning was the big one for Yorklyn, and saved their cause, for Newark climbed steadily to the front in the later sessions. The score:

NEWARK HOME TALENT LOSES

Local Boys Downed 7-3 by Five Points Academy Saturday

A group of local ball players styled the "Newark Fibre Co." team lost a hard fought game to Five Points Academy last Saturday afternoon here, score 7-3.

In winning their sixth straight victory the Academy boys had to push over three runs in the ninth to tuck the game away. Consistent pecking away at the delivery of Gregg, local pitcher, combined with some unfortunate lapses on the part of Newark fielders, helped their cause along.

Numbered in the Newark lineup were several well known young ball tossers, Chalmers, Malone, Vic Armstrong and Crowe. Beers distinguished himself with three hits for his day's work, and played a nice game at first base. The locals nipped Taylor for six hits, but the last minute rally of the visitors was too much to overcome.

Ho—The Mighty Nimrods

Fortified with several lengths of rubber boots, two blunderbusses, plenty of ammunition and a tried and trusted "fox hunting" Ford, Dewey Plummer and H. R. Cole, ambitious hunters of this town, essayed a punitive expedition among the plovers over in the Cecil county marshes last Saturday. From meagre details received to date, progress was slow and uncertain. The Law said that plover could be shot that day, but the Law can't compel them to stay home. There must have been a plover family reunion in some other state, say the mighty nimrods.

However, a most interesting and awe-inspiring collection of blackbirds, killdeers, hawks and sparrows were proudly exhibited when their Ford nosed into her berth back home. Which is, of course, beside the issue, but mentioned in due fairness to the earnest young hunters.

BATTERY "E" HOME FROM ENCAMPMENT

Bronzed and Hardy from Experience Down State; Promotions Announced

Swarming over two big Army motor lorries, with their officers in a car ahead, the members of Batter "E", 128th Anti-Aircraft regiment of Delaware, arrived home in Newark about 9 o'clock Friday morning. The final leg of the journey from Rehoboth was made from the Rifle Range below New Castle and was without incident.

Captain Davis and Lieutenants Mote and Cook were in charge of the Battery. The men looked very fit after their outing and were bronzed by the sun and wind.

Several promotions in the local battery were announced at the close of the encampment through Regimental Orders No. 16, as follows:

"Upon recommendation of the battery commanders, the following men are ordered promoted and reductions are announced:

- Battery E
- Corporal J. W. Smith to be sergeant, vice Bader, discharged.
- Corporal John L. Sullivan to be sergeant, vice Jester, discharged.
- Private Burton A. Reynolds to be corporal, vice Smith, promoted.
- Private Harry Sunborn to be corporal, vice Sullivan, promoted.

Perryville Drops One In Susquehanna Race

Elkton Loses Bitter Battle to Bel Air Boys, Score 3-2—Leaders Stopped

The race for second half honors in the Susquehanna League perceptibly tightened as a result of Saturday's games.

Perryville, hitherto unbeaten, lost rather handsily to their old rivals Elk Mills, while Elkton was dropping one to Bel Air. The Railroaders are still three games in the lead, but are being pressed hard by the team from the upper end of the county.

A brace of runs in the last stages of the game with Elkton in Bel Air Saturday gave the local team a well-earned victory over the County-Seaters, 3-2.

It was anybody's game until the last man was retired, with Elkton fighting mightily for a tie in their last chance at bat, but that one run was too big for them to overcome.

What they did get was mostly on account of Bel Air errors afield, for the Elkton hitters were absolutely impotent before the twisting shoots of Baldwin. The hurler had them tied in knots all afternoon and pitched one of the best games in the league race to date. Elkton's two runs came in a bunch in the third. Thereafter, they kept their distance from first base. Dutch Robinson and Rube Dunbar were the only boys to get hits off Baldwin.

On the other hand, Bel Air nicked Arrants for nine safeties, and were in scoring positions most of the time. Dunbar had an unusually bad day around second, making three misplays. The score:

Elk Mills Climbs

By stepping all over the prostrate forms of the Perryville players Saturday, Elk Mills climbed a notch higher in the second half race and went into a tie with Elkton for second place.

The Weavers had no trouble whatsoever in solving the offerings of Gillespie, and had the railroaders on the run from the very first part of the game. Their runs came in big bunches, much to the delight of their royal rooters present. Allen kept his nine hits well scattered and was in danger very seldom.

McAvoy Is Pessimistic Over Football Prospects

Delaware Coach to Take 23 Men on Preliminary Training Trip - Backfield Loses Felt

"The old punch is gone. We've got to find another one somehow or other."

That's the nearest thing to a statement to be gotten from "Bill" McAvoy, of the Delaware football team this week.

"Mac" is notorious for his pessimism, according to old graduates of the University. Many think the prospects for the season forthcoming are as good as ever, but the coach thinks otherwise, and by means of a pencil and paper, puts up a most convincing argument.

"The backfield is shot to pieces by graduation," said McAvoy in talking over the situation yesterday. "We've got to plug up those holes left by the graduation of Williams and Elliott."

Three other footballers lost by the diploma route are Akin, Capt. Donaldson and Magaw, the former star guard and the latter ends of great ability. All these men have in the past three years been towers of strength to the Blue and Gold, and their absence will be keenly felt. Williams and Elliott will also be missed on the offense.

Three experienced men will be out again for the backfield berths this year. Weggenman, Hubert, of Newark, and Jackson. They promise to develop into stars with more experience. Coach McAvoy says they are a little light for heavy duty but looks for them to help solve his problem.

Line Looks All Right

With Torbert, Lohman, Kramer and Captain McKelvie back in the line this year, McAvoy's worries on that side of the fence seem to be less bothersome. McKelvie is reported to be in splendid condition and capable of leading his team through an admittedly hard schedule. An unfortunate injury crippled him for the most of last season.

As things stand now, Mac is looking for two heavy, versatile backfield men, one of whom must be a punter of real ability, and two or three husky lines men. This sort of men don't grow on collegiate trees, however, and the coach is haunting the Dean's office, hoping for some prospective footballers to enter college before the preliminary training trip is taken next month.

Leave For Camp Training

The Delaware squad of 23 players, coach and manager, are scheduled to leave the gymnasium here on the morning of September 11th, for a seven-day training grind at Delaware Beach, a few miles from Odessa. The boys will be put through their paces at two sessions daily, consisting of muscle harding exercises, elementary practice and kicking and passing. No heavy work is contemplated until the regular practice starts on Frazer Field. Reservations have been made for the squad at the Delaware Beach Hotel.

The first game of the season is with St. Joseph's College on Frazer Field on October 4th. According to McAvoy, the St. Joe boys have over twenty letter men back for the team this year and expect to be stronger than ever. It will be a hard game, and everything depends upon the first few weeks of training to place the Delaware athletes in good condition.

Manager Crothers has completed the schedule for the season.

PERSONALS

Bunting, of Dagsboro, Delaware. Mrs. Bunting is a sister of Mrs. Roland Herdman, of this town, and has made many friends on her visits here.

Mr. Ralph Edmanson and family spent last week at Neshaminy Falls, Pennsylvania.

Miss Louisa Medill was the guest of Miss Frances Wilson, at Rehoboth last week.

Mrs. Clarence Keyes of Farmington, is visiting her mother, Mrs. Jennie Campbell.

Miss Hannah Marsey spent last week-end at Rehoboth.

Merwyn A. Akin returned to Newark yesterday, making the trip from his home in Joplin, Mo., by auto as far as Wheeling, W. Va., where his chariot broke down.

Mr. and Mrs. W. Grube and daughter, Clara, of Philadelphia, were week-end visitors of Mrs. Rodger R. Lovett.

White Clay Church

All services at the White Clay Creek Church have been suspended until the first of September.

Mrs. W. R. McElroy and son, Kenneth, motored to Washington to spend a week with Mrs. McElroy's daughter.

COAL DEALERS CRUISE

Forget the Price While They Walk the Deck of the "Elfin II"

Edward L. Richards, H. Warner McNeal and Chester Ewing, the coal barons of Newark and vicinity, joined other members of the Delaware Coal Dealers' Association in a cruise on the upper reaches of the Chesapeake Bay last Thursday. They were the guests of Edward R. Pusey aboard the motor yacht "Elfin II."

The party, about 20 in number, motored to Georgetown, Md., where they boarded the yacht. After a delightful afternoon cruise, the boat docked at Betterton where dinner and several bowling matches consumed the evening. The local yachtsmen said they enjoyed the trip very much, although they didn't sell a bit of coal.

SUNSET LAKE

The operations at Sunset Lake are about completed. The engineer, Prof. P. D. Smith, expects to turn in the water Thursday or Friday. The dam structure as it now stands is practically new, the only remaining portion of the old dam is the top of deck extending down about five feet. An approximate estimate is that 500 tons of stone have been placed under the structure. Each pocket is now being sealed from the front and dirt filled over the lower portion, which will be filled completely today.

Membership, which is limited to 150, is still short about 15 and books are open for a few days for any one desiring to become a member. From present applications it is likely many applicants will have to be turned away soon. All members have had the privilege of witnessing the work, and it is to be hoped all have witnessed and passed upon it and are satisfied as to its durability.

Those who has assumed the responsibility of rebuilding, believe it will withstand any force of water that will come against it.

To Conduct Services

Col. Samuel C. Smith, of Newark, National Chaplain of the Veterans of Foreign Wars and a retired Army chaplain, will conduct services in St. Thomas' Episcopal Church here for the next two Sundays, beginning August 23rd.

No evening services are being held at St. Thomas' this month. The 11:00 a. m. services constitutes the Sunday program.

REHOBOTH FISHING PIER IS COMPLETED

Rehoboth Beach.—The fishing pier being erected by the members of the Rehoboth Beach Anglers Club is completed. The last thirty or forty feet, including a thirty foot casting platform, was finished last week. A custodian has been employed and nobody will be allowed on the pier without first showing his membership card. This list of members now aggregating 300 is almost completed and when

However, we refuse to get into the political squabbles. These articles are written by one who cares a little less than nothing about Mill Creek politics. We are talking roads, not "deals."

But, to express one farmer's viewpoint, "Claringbold can't live in White Clay Creek and hold a job in Mill Creek. That's all there is to it."

If Mr. Wright and Engineer Grubb can get those roads in good shape before heavy frosts come along, they will have made a host of friends in Mill Creek; they will have actually done something worth while, and they will have saved the Levy Court once more. If they don't get the roads fixed, there's no telling what will happen out there. Frankly, we would rather be in anyone's shoes than the ones they wear. $4400 plus Tax. Money plus Claringbold plus 46 miles of awful dirt road—what's the answer?

Have You Thought of Him?

You are responsible for another individual—the man you will be in ten years. If you spend everything, he will be penniless. If you save even five a week, he will have thousands of dollars. Doors of opportunity which money alone can open will swing wide for him.

Consider this man carefully. His destiny is in your hands. Build your savings account and give him a fair opportunity to prove his worth.
