Aetna Issues Call For Help; Banquet Donations Sought

Annual Feed Only Few Weeks Off But Funds Low Because Of New Engine Purchase

The Aetna volunteers, who are in the habit of answering distress calls all year round, this week issued one of their own.

They want donations of turkeys and cash for their annual banquet on Dec. 15.

If they don't get any, the table is likely to be little bare, since the committee's treasury is pretty much in the red right now because of the purchase of a new fire engine and some 1000 feet of new hose. The engine is expected to be delivered around the first of the year.

Well-fed, healthy firemen make for a safer community, so all home owners in this area who are anxious to see that the volunteers keep up their vital reserves are advised to notify the firehouse that they are willing to make a donation toward the annual feed.

Contributions may also be mailed, attention of the Banquet Committee under Harold Grant.

The firemen themselves are going to send a flying squad around the country to seek donations. If they knock on your door, don't send them away empty handed. You may want them back sometime—in a hurry.

Fire Recorder Charles E. Moore reports only two fire alarms here the past week. The first came around 8:30 Saturday morning for a chimney blaze at the home of Raymond Cochran on the estate of Hallock S. duPont at Millford Crossroads. There was no serious loss.

Fire caused extensive damage to an automobile here shortly after 2 a. m. on Sunday. The car, owned by William Bird, was parked on Corbett Street. Origin of the blaze is unknown, but the flames caused considerable damage to the car's interior.

Unions and Rotary In Joint Meeting Hear Ford Sales Manager

District Head Traces Development of Automotive Industry

Harizon Smith, assistant sales manager of the Ford Motor Company's Chester District, gave a talk on the automobile industry at a joint meeting of the Newark Rotary and Lions Club on Tuesday night in the Country Club.

About 100 attended the session, the first combined gathering of the clubs here in many years.

Mr. Smith said that the growth of the U. S. automotive industry paralleled the growth of this nation.

He said "it couldn't be done." The same may be said for the pioneers of the automobile.

Mr. Smith went on to trace the history of the industry from its early struggles through the pioneering of Henry Ford in mass production and lower prices.

He sketched the difficulties of the manufacturers up to the recent coal and steel strikes. With peace in the steel mills and a truce in coal, he predicted that the industry can start a new year with hope of new records in production.

60 Per. Of NHS Pupils Use School Buses

Over fifty per cent of the students attending the Newark schools live outside the town limits, according to Eusebio Bilitz, who operates the bus service.

Fifty-six of the 1556 students enrolled use the buses each day.

NHS Boys Train To Be Model Husbands; Start Cooking Class

In a historic scene one day last week, Newark High School boys, in ginghams and aprons trimmed with pink, gathered in the school kitchen for their first cooking lesson.

All were deadly serious, as befits young men conscious of the fact they are launching a social and educational revolution. For centuries men have been able to duck out of the family work by claiming they lacked know-how around a kitchen. These young men were about to strip themselves of this defense.

Their aim, by graduation time, is to become expert home-bodies and "wonder-men" to have around the house. They also will be well grounded in how to be a bachelor and like it.

They don't intend to stop at cooking, either. They expect to move on to other involved subjects, such as the fundamentals of sock darning and elementary curtain stretching. It's all part of an elective home economics course for boys, which school authorities say will make them better husbands and citizens by teaching them to appreciate the problems of the weaker sex. The school intends later to expand this revolutionary movement by giving girls monkey wrenches and screw drivers and turning them loose in the school shop to learn a few male mysteries.

Oh, yes, the first cooking lesson. The boys made Toll House cookies. The only person known to have tasted them is Principal Frederick B. Kutz, a man who constantly accepts assignments over and above the call of duty. He pronounced them "superb"—as he turned a mottled green.

Dr. Rees Speaks At Dedication

Dr. Carl J. Rees here addresses the audience at the ceremonies dedicating Newark's new war memorial last Sunday. Behind him on the speaker's platform, right to left: Col. Layton A. Zimmer, Mayor Ford H. McBerty, the Rev. Leo W. O'Neil, Rabbi Jacob Kraft, the Rev. A. J. Jackson, Renard George, William Coverdale, William Beswick, George Wilson, and Curtis Morrison.

A citizenry physically strong and soundly educated, conscious of its personal responsibility in democratic government, a healthy economy and adequate military resources are essential if this nation is to be prepared to meet any emergency, Dr. Carl J. Rees said Sunday at the ceremonies dedicating the new war memorial here.

Dr. Rees, former state commander of the American Legion, was the principal speaker at the services, climaxed by the unveiling of a granite monument to Newark's 29 dead of World War II.

A sizeable number of townspeople, including a contingent of Gold Star Mothers, were on hand for the program which opened with music by the Aetna Band. The Rev. Leo W. O'Neil, pastor of St. John's Church, gave the invocation, which was followed by the singing of "The Star Spangled Banner."

Mayor Expected To Sign Light Contract After Few Changes

LOCAL TRADITION SHATTERED

It's news when Rhodes Drug Store doesn't advertise in the Newark Post, and that's what happened last week.

One of the store's proudest boasts is that it is the Post's oldest consecutive advertiser—never missed an issue since the first appearance of this paper in pre-soda fountain days.

That record was snapped last week through no fault of Rhodes Drug Store. The Post's make-up man simply forgot to put the ad in the paper. For thus fouling up local tradition, the luckless fellow was given a tongue lashing by C. Emerson Johnson, Rhodes' proprietor, and was further sentenced to down a cup of Rhodes' coffee straight—a horrible fate.

"Liberal" Education Described In Talk Monday At Century

Dr. Cyrus Day, speaking before the Newark New Century Club at its regular meeting on Monday, Nov. 14, defined "general education" as the study of the art, literature, and general philosophy of the past to understand the problems of the present. This "liberal" type of training, said Dr. Day, fits the individual to take a responsible role in a democratic society and to lead a satisfying personal life.

Dr. Day pointed out that American college graduates have always been well prepared from the technical standpoint but the war emphasized the need for a broader background and deeper understanding of human relationships. Based upon the recommendations of the Committee on Educational Theory and Practices, a set of new curricular requirements is being built up at the University of Delaware designed to give students a broad cultural background without interfering with professional training. Dr. Day was introduced by Mrs. Barton H. Mackey, chairman of the education committee.

Near Compromise Gained In Stormy Session Tuesday; McBerty's Objections Are Cut To Few Minor Points

A compromise was reached Tuesday night in the dispute between Mayor Ford McBerty and the Town Council over the new 5-year contract with the Delaware Power and Light Company, when the Mayor gave a tentative promise to sign the pact provided certain clarifying changes are made in the present draft.

Councilman Robert Lewis, who has been in charge of the contract negotiation for the town, agreed to approach the company regarding these changes and, once they have been worked into the draft, turn it over to the Mayor for signature. Should the Mayor still refuse to sign, Council is expected to hold a special meeting tomorrow night on the issue.

The contract, approved unanimously by Council a week ago, has been held up because of the Mayor's refusal to sign until he could be assured of its legality under the charter. The agreement calls for erection of a new $90,000 substation here double the capacity of the present unit.

The session was a long and stormy one in which the Mayor's objections to the contract were whittled down one by one until only a few comparatively minor points of dispute remained.

Temper flared on several occasions when the Council took offense at the Mayor's attitude on the contract. They felt he was challenging their good faith as representatives of the town and, on one occasion, the meeting almost broke up in a heated argument.

At another point, the Council attempted to override the Mayor by appointing Councilman Norman Battersby as President of Council pro tempore for the purpose of signing the contract. They finally decided against this, however, because of its dubious legality.

A sizeable contingent of townspeople, including members of the Newark Civic Association, were present and entered into the discussion.

The Mayor's chief objection to the contract on Tuesday was the method Council had used in approving it. He felt that to conform to the charter the contract should be handled as an ordinance with public readings instead of by simple Council resolution.

The objection was removed by a statement from J. P. Cann, who was appointed special Council attorney in place of Town Solicitor John P. Sinclair. The latter had asked to be excused from giving an opinion on the contract because he is employed by a law firm which is the legal representative of the Delaware Power and Light and, therefore, might be accused of bias on the question.

Mr. Cann said that in his opinion the contract was legal and "not in conflict with the provisions of the charter." He also said that the procedure for its approval was no different than that followed with previous contracts. He

Santa Claus Coming To Newark On Dec. 3 For Extended Stay

St. Nick To Make Town His Headquarters During Christmas Season

Santa Claus is coming to Newark. The merry old gent will arrive via the Baltimore & Ohio Railroad on Dec. 3.

He will be met at the station by a welcoming committee of town dignitaries. A sleigh will also be held in waiting for him, and he will be escorted down Main Street in a gala parade.

Reports from his Arctic workshop say he will bring gifts of candy for every youngster who meets him at the station. He is planning an extended stay here, long enough for every Newark youngster to meet him personally and tell him exactly what's wanted under the tree on Christmas Eve.

He will make his headquarters in various stores on Main Street under a schedule yet to be announced. The exact time of his arrival on Dec. 3 isn't known yet but will be announced soon, along with details on where he will make his headquarters while here.

The jolly old fellow has agreed to come here in response to a request from the Junior Chamber of Commerce. Local merchants are also co-operating in sponsoring the visit, which is expected to make Christmas 1949 one of the merriest Newark has seen in many years.

Volley Of Shots Rouse Residents Of S College Ave.

Residents of South College Avenue were roused by a fusillade of shots early Sunday morning, and many tousle-headed, pajama clad homeowners turned out to defend their loved ones from what, in these times, could have been anything from another jailbreak to a foreign invasion.

Turned out some college students had picked that hour to celebrate the Washington and Lee victory by getting off some firecrackers on the campus.

They fled back into the dormitories when the police arrived.

St. Thomas' To Hold Special Service Sun.

Thanksgiving Service At 11 A. M.; Food Offering Sought

There will be a special Thanksgiving Service at St. Thomas' Church this Sunday at 11 a. m. This will be a Family Service, and children will sit with their parents.

Food offerings for St. Michael's Day Nursery will be received at the parish house on Saturday, and will be presented at the altar as part of the Thanksgiving Service on Sunday.

Arrangements for the service are being made by Mrs. Emmett Kauffman, and Mrs. Charles Maddock, and the Junior Choir will sing under the direction of Mrs. Arthur Johnson.

The service will be conducted by the Right Reverend Arthur R. McKinstry, Bishop of the Diocese of Delaware.

Contest Maintains Fast Pace; 2nd Period Opens

HOW TO GET 1,000,000 VOTES

Here's an example of how quickly and easily votes pile up in the Post's subscription contest.

Twenty thousand votes are issued during the second period on each five-year subscription (only $8.00 during the contest).

Just 25 such new or renewal subscriptions would entitle contestant to 500,000 REGULAR votes, and, as 50,000 EXTRA votes are issued on each club of $20 turned in, that many subscriptions would constitute ten clubs on which 500,000 EXTRA votes are given.

Therefore a mere matter of 25 such subscriptions NOW would add up to 1,000,000 votes or enough to place any contestant in the race well on the way to winning one of the major awards. It's that easy.

Listen, wide-awake contestants, haven't you at least 25 good friends who would lend their support to the extent of a "full-limit" subscription toward helping you win the beautiful, new Buick Super Four-Door Sedan? Surely you have! Just try and see!

Contestants Racing Toward Finish Line In Fight For Prizes

Riding high on the threshold of victory, with the thought of "now or never" hovering in their minds, contestants for highest honors and attendant awards in the Post's big "Everybody Wins" subscription contest have reached the turn and have maneuvered themselves into position for the final spurt and, from now until the finish, will be battling for supremacy under whip and spur.

In a horse race the jockey who makes the best get-away usually has a better than even break with the others for final success—IF his horse has the speed or stamina, or what ever it takes, to spurt ahead of the others and cross the finish line first.

And, of course, it is the finish line that counts!

As in all life's games—be it sports, business, politics or contests like this—many "players" make a fine start but with that their race is run. So, no matter where any or all of the contestants in this subscription race stand at the half-way mark, no race is ever won until the finish line is crossed.

Likewise, not one of the leading contenders can afford to slacken their pace and rest on past efforts if they hope to finish "win, place or show." Too easily some contender might forge ahead with a brilliant show of strength and win the "purse" that might have been theirs.

Present leaders should be well prepared against any such eventuality. They should take no chances of being out-distanced at the finish by merely a few subscriptions. It would be far better to win the prize you most desire by a million votes more than enough to win.

Now, yourself fully, we counsel, of the advantages now offered to get BIG votes for that extra reserve power during the "second period" which terminates on Saturday, November 26th. Work and plan systematically, ceaselessly and relentlessly while yet you may or before it is forever too late.

Many people who have subscribed for one or three years would like to know how they can give their favorite further help. That can be done very easily and profitably by giving this contestant the balance of a five-year subscription. The votes earned in this way are known as "extension" votes and your subscription will earn as many votes in this manner as though the whole five years were given at one time. Also, if the first contest subscription were given during the first period and the extension is given during the second period, the extension will still earn first period votes. However, there are no extension votes given during the third period. Therefore, you can help your favorite contestant most by giving your subscription before November 26th.

The whole contest will come to a roaring close on Saturday, December 3rd.

May we suggest, therefore, that you get in touch with that friend right now—this very minute—and tell him or her that your subscription is awaiting them; or better still, send them a check to cover in the mail today.

DO IT TODAY! YOUR FAVORITE WILL BE FOREVER GRATEFUL!

Letters To Editor

Is This Russia?

At Tuesday night's session of Council, the Mayor brought a group from the Civic Association (recently formed for political reasons) to the meeting and openly demanded a hearing on an issue which had at a previous meeting been passed by the Council unanimously, the electric contract.

Your Council hired independent counsel to serve as solicitor for the meeting, who ruled that the contract was legal and in accordance with the town charter. Mayor McBerty still refused to sign the document that will mean so much to Newark.

The Mayor then insisted that his people in the Civic Association, who packed Council, be given a chance to talk. This was done to try to pressure your elected representatives to vote to appoint a committee to re-negotiate another contract with Delaware Power and Light Co. At one point he called for a show of hands from his packed Council chamber to which your Council strenuously objected. This is not Russia, and the Council will not condone such methods at anytime.

Your Mayor also cast insinuations that we as a Council were not mentally equipped to negotiate a fair contract, and that he was the only one of us duly qualified to function in this capacity. I would like to tell the people of Newark that the Electric Chairman, Mr. R. Lewis has given this contract hours of study and presented three drafts until the Council finally decided we had what we wanted. He is to be highly commended for the careful study and time spent on this contract.

You will remember that Newark very nearly lost its electric contract in May, 1948, and in a subsequent negotiation; Mayor McBerty told the Council they could sit in on the meeting but they could not talk. I ask you is that democratic? The new contract has been hanging fire ever since.

Newark needs a new substation and we do not want to spend $60,000.00 or more of the taxpayers money, when by direct negotiations, we have accomplished what we have through Mr. Lewis' hours of deliberations with the Power Co. Your rate in Newark has never been raised, there will be no rate change, in spite of the rising cost over the past 10 years of all commodities.

The Delaware Power & Light Co. has never refused to let us extend our service to out-lying districts when we requested such, and there is no reason to assume that they will in the future.

We will get all the free expert and technical advice, use of special equipment needed from time to time, which after the fiscal period of May, 1948, was denied us due to the manner in which the previous Light Committee tried to brow beat the Electric Co. into a contract.

The citizens now have a Utilities Commission created by the last session of legislature to protect you and the Council when any controversy arises between the two parties, which has never happened through the years previous to Mayor McBerty's administration.

Queries On Social Security Answered

Address all Queries to Social Security Administration, Customs House, 6th & King

Sts., Wilmington, Delaware.

Q. I am 78 years old and a citizen. I have never worked in a job covered by social security. I did some nursing companion work but I understand this work is not covered. Am I entitled to any social security benefits?

A. Unless you have work in a job covered by social security and were paid at least $50 in each of six calendar quarters since Jan. 1, 1939, you are not entitled to old-age benefits under the Social Security Act. If you go to work now and earn these six $50 quarters, you may become fully insured and become entitled to benefits. The nursing companion work in a private home is generally not covered and may not be counted toward the necessary six quarters.

Q. Please settle this dispute. Jones claims no matter what day of the month you attain the age of 65, if you are fully insured and file an application in that month, you are entitled to a check for the full month. Smith claims that you do not become entitled until 30 days after your birthday.

A. Jones is right. The Social Security, having attained the age of 65 and filed an application in the month in which you attain age 65, you are entitled to a primary insurance benefit "beginning with the month in which such individual become so entitled to such insurance benefit." There is no prororation where the individual attains age 65 late in the month.

Q. My husband deserted me about a year ago. I have been unable to locate him. Would it be possible for me to trace him through the social security records?

A. All records of the Social Security Administration are confidential and

Q. I am a public school teacher age 35. During the past 10 summers I have worked as a counselor in a camp. Social Security taxes were taken out of my pay. Will I be entitled to social security benefits at age 65?

A. If you will be paid at least $50 in each of at least 40 calendar quarters, you will be eligible for old-age benefits at age 65. A calendar quarter is any three-month period beginning January 1, April 1, July 1, and October 1. It appears you have 10 such quarters and need 30 more. The fact that you may be eligible for a teacher's retirement pension will not affect your right to social security benefits.

Q. I am receiving old-age insurance benefits. I expect to take a part-time position soon. Must I notify the social security office before beginning to work? How long does it take to get benefits again after I have stopped working?

A. As soon as you earn more than $14.99 in any one month in a job covered by social security, you should notify the social security office. As soon as you stop working you should also notify the social security office. Generally, you will receive your monthly checks the 3d of the month following the month in which you did not earn more than $14.99, if you have properly notified the social security office of that fact in writing or in person.

Store Robbery

One of the largest robberies of the year started the town last week, when the men's furnishing and clothing store of Clarence H. Hopkins at the corner of Main and North Chapel Streets, was entered by thieves Friday night. Estimates made by Mr. Hopkins indicate that between $350 and $400 worth of sweaters, socks, shirts, overalls and other men's wear were taken. Mr. Hopkins had just taken over the store on the corner next to Cornog's grocery. He is a member of the office staff at the Continental Fibre Company.

Aged Rabbit Shot

Billy Morgan shot a 200-year-old rabbit out Ogletown way. And least that's his story, and he can prove it by showing you an Indian arrowhead found in the skull of the rabbit in

Typhoid Victim

Robert P. Major, 23-year-old son of D. M. Major, North College Avenue, is lying dangerously ill with typhoid fever in the Salisbury, Md. hospital.

Personals

For the first time in many years a deer has been seen within a few hundred yards of the town limits of Newark. The animal was last seen Monday of this week grazing in T. F. Mann's tract of land south of Elkton Road.

Walter Powell, Newark restaurateur and sportsman, spent part of last week on a gunning trip in the vicinity of Millsboro.

Several little friends of Miss Eleanor Crompton were guests at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Pierce

K. Crompton, on Monday. The affair was given in honor of Eleanor's second birthday. Those who attended were: Virginia Cooch, Miriam Lewis, Frank Belling, Francis Cooch and little Billy Belling.

Mr. and Mrs. M. Pilnick will have several guests from Kennett Square and Philadelphia over Thanksgiving.

Messrs. George and Henry Townsend of this town will attend the Bachelors' Ball in Wilmington this evening.

Wedding

The marriage of Miss Emily B. Williams, daughter of the late Senator Frank E. Williams and Mrs. Williams, of Brantwood Farm, near Elkton, to Frederick Martenis, will take place at the home of the bride on Tuesday, December 11.

Mr. Martenis is well known both in Cecil County and about Newark. He is a graduate of the University of Delaware and has been engaged in testing milk and other agricultural work in this vicinity.

Poor Old Julia

She strolled out on Route 18 and tangled with a shiny 4-door. Bodily injury + car damage + one dead cow cost Julia's owner plenty.

Too bad he didn't have Farmers Comprehensive Personal Liability Insurance. It's a new policy that covers almost everything.

Customers' Corner

Why will food prices go up if the anti-trust lawyers win their suit to put A&P out of business?

Here is just one of a number of reasons:

We manufacture many of the quality foods we sell in our stores, such as Bokar, Red Circle and Eight O'Clock coffees, Ann Page foods, White House Milk, and many others.

Because this saves us money we are able to pass along these savings to our customers in the form of lower prices.

The anti-trust lawyers have asked the court to order us to get rid of our manufacturing facilities, which would put an end to all these savings.

Make no mistake about it. If the anti-trust lawyers succeed in putting A&P out of business you will find your food bill is higher.

FOOD FOR THOUGHT

Points Out Endless, Unusual Ways of Serving Liver

If liver with bacon and onions is the homemaker's automatic combination, then there's a whole new field of cooking and eating enjoyment in store for her and her family, points out Reba Staggs, home economist.

French fried liver stands out in the parade of unusual and delicious dishes. Either beef, pork, veal or lamb liver is cut into 1/2-inch wide strips, rolled in seasoned flour, then fried in deep hot lard at a 300 degree F. temperature. When richly browned and thoroughly cooked, the strips are removed from the lard, drained and served. For a slight variation, the liver may be cut into 1 1/2-inch squares.

Liver casseroles present even more variation. For preparing one tasty combination the liver is sliced, simmered in water for about 10 minutes, then cubed into bite-sized pieces and combined with chopped celery, sliced olives, hard-cooked eggs. Paprika and Worcestershire sauce add a distinct taste to the liver cooking liquid which is thickened with a flour paste and added to the liver mixture in a baking dish. Buttered bread crumbs are sprinkled over the top and the casserole baked in a 350 degree F. oven for about 20 minutes or until the ingredients are completely heated.

The endless opportunity for satisfying liver dishes includes liver in ground form. For simple grinding, the meat is browned in a small amount of lard or drippings just until firm—about five minutes, then run through a food chopper. Leaves or individual patties may be formed or the ground meat is rightly combined with chopped onion, about 1/2-cup of sausage for added fat, beaten egg, milk, soft bread crumbs, chopped carrot and packed in a greased ring mold. It is baked in a slow 300 degree F. oven for about one hour, unmolded and the ring temptingly filled with a creamed vegetable.

Traffic Death Toll Is Highest At Night

"Afraid of the dark?"

According to the Delaware Safety Council, you have a right to be, because of the high proportion of fatal traffic accidents occurring at night in comparison to daylight fatalities. "Traffic deaths at night," said Mr. John D. Reeder, president of the Delaware Safety Council, "are two to three times more numerous than during the day. Over a period of a year this means that three out of every five fatal traffic accidents take place at night—in 1948 this totaled nearly 19,000 lives."

The chief causes of night traffic accidents cited by the Delaware Safety Council and the National Safety Council included: reduced visibility, excessive speed, fatigue, drinking drivers, and failure on the part of pedestrians to realize how invisible they are from a driver's seat.

"As a means of combatting the high cost of night traffic accidents in human lives, the Delaware Safety Council has outlined several ways in which such accidents can be reduced," Mr. Reeder said. These, he said, include:

1. Providing adequate street lighting.
2. Increasing the visibility of signs, signals, and pavement markings.
3. Lowering night speed limits.
4. Educating drivers to the special caution needed in night driving.
5. Educating pedestrians as to where and how to walk safely in darkness.
6. Strictly curtailing speeding, drinking, and recklessness among night drivers.
7. Insisting on safe and courteous use of headlights and dimmers.

Used Cars

Investigate Before You Invest!

Dependable dealers will not object to thorough examination of a used car, nor to a reasonable test drive. The dealer who discourages this should be avoided. However, few people can determine the true condition of a used car and must depend on the dealer's integrity. Sound judgment on the condition of a used car cannot be formed on the basis of appearance or speedometer reading alone. "How was it used?" is more important than "How many miles."

Here Are The Facts About The Transit Strike

The regular average wage earned by operators at the present time is $75.52 per week or $327.25 per month.

The Union demands wage increases and other benefits totaling about $183,600 a year.

The Company offers wage increases and other benefits totaling $50,193 per year which leaves the Company an estimated net operating income of $34,889 for the coming year.

The Company's offer to the Union of $50,193 is $15,304 more than the Company expects to receive in estimated net operating income for the next year.

The Union refuses the Company's offers.

The Company is willing to arbitrate the points in dispute on the basis of increases in the cost of living since October 1, 1948, and the ability of the Company to pay under existing fare rates.

The Union refuses to arbitrate on this basis, and by insisting upon unlimited arbitration without regard to increases in the cost of living, or the Company's ability to pay, seeks a re-negotiation of the entire contract which does not expire until October 1, 1950.

For the first time since its organization two years ago, the Capt. Wm. McKennan Chapter, D. A. R., had the opportunity to entertain a national officer Monday afternoon when Mrs. Van Cort Carwithen, of Malvern, Pa., historian general was a guest. The chapter met at the home of Mrs. T. Clarence Marshall, at Yorklyn. The regent, Mrs. Henry P. Wilson, presided, and welcomed Mrs. Carwithen, state officers, and regents of other chapters.

In speaking before the group, Mrs. Carwithen stressed the work of each individual member which makes it possible for the national organization to accomplish the type of programs in the DAR schools, the junior American citizen groups, the girl homemakers, and raise funds for the bell tower at Valley Forge and the new building in Washington. She stated there are 166,300 members in the United States.

Mrs. Glenn Skinner, of Newark, state regent, extended greetings and told of the state conference last month. Other state officers present were: Mrs. James Scott, president of State Officers' Club; Miss Helen Scott, state press chairman; Mrs. Ralph McCloskey, state treasurer; Mrs. J. E. Fuller, parliamentarian; Mrs. Walter Williams, chaplain; Mrs. Gordon Rugg, president of the Caesar Rodney Juniors; all of Wilmington; Mrs. Robert T. Jones, corresponding secretary; Mrs. John R. Justin, state president, CAR; Miss Anna Frazier, regent of Cooch's Bridge Chapter; Mrs. Leon Gilmore, state chairman for Valley Forge Bell Tower fund; all of Newark.

The chapter brought donations of used clothing to be sent to the Kate Duncan Smith School in the southern mountains. Donations of money were sent to the Crossnore School, Tappansee School, bell tower at Valley Forge, Ellis Island, and the national building fund.

Officers nominated for the next three years whose election will take place in January, were: regent, Mrs. James Marjoe; vice-regent, Mrs. Donald Woodward; recording secretary, Mrs. James Webb; corresponding secretary, Mrs. H. B. McVaugh; treasurer, Mrs. Sara P. Evans; registrar, Mrs. T. C. Marshall; historian, Mrs. Leslie McCormick; chaplain, Mrs. Louise Dempsey.

Tomorrow evening at 7:30 p. m. on WDEL, the chapter will have its first radio broadcast in charge of Mrs. Donald Woodward. Dr. John Munroe, of the University of Delaware, will speak on "Captain William McKennan" for whom the chapter was named. Capt. McKennan was the son of the Rev. William McKennan, who was pastor of the Red Clay Creek Presbyterian Church in Revolutionary days.

FILLIN' IN

A sure sign that Newark is a progressive, wide-awake community is the movement now underway among some of our Town Councilmen to purchase a new and larger Council table. They feel the town has outgrown its present table. They want more space for the mass of reports and records they must consider each month. They have not gone so far as to order a new table, but there is talk.

Before embarking on this unprecedented step, we hope the Council gives the matter thorough study. As we see it, expansion of the Council table either lengthwise or across its breadth will add certain complications to the Council's monthly deliberations. For one thing, it will require that all black looks directed at the Mayor carry over a greater distance and thus lose some of their effectiveness. It could also mean that Mr. Durnall and Mr. Diehl, who are fond of a quick bit of caucusing across the table, will be moved out of whispering range. Another distinct possibility is that the Mayor's withering witticisms, usually uttered in a low monotone will, not carry to the far corners of a bigger table. This, however, might be considered a boon in some quarters.

On the other hand, there would, we admit, be a number of definite advantages in a roomier table. The lawmakers would be less likely to blow smoke in each other's faces. They would be in less danger of setting each other afire when flourishing cigars. They would also be in a better position for muttering to themselves without being overheard by their colleagues.

One thing, however, should be avoided and that is a higher table. The present table comes almost to the Mayor's chin. Go any higher and he will disappear altogether from the meetings.

There are reports that this is the secret aim of those backing the campaign for a new table. They hope by this sly maneuver to remove the Mayor as an effective force in local politics. If this be true, let them be warned that there is a counter movement afoot. We have it on reliable authority that the Mayor's supporters stand ready at any moment to launch a fund drive to buy him a high chair.

Although it hasn't burst upon the public yet in all its artificial snow-capped brilliance, the Xmas season is already beginning to ferment behind the scenes, especially in local stores.

We talked with several managers the past week and noticed an unmistakable Xmas glint in their eyes, a tense, feverish look that will soon infect the general public.

We sympathize with these fellows because they are involved with the Xmas spirit more deeply and for a longer period than most of us. They are already unpacking rolls of tinsel, sprigs of holly and stacks of "Shop Early" signs. They already know how many shopping days there are until Xmas, something the rest of us will not long be allowed to overlook.

On golden autumn days they may be found in dingy stockrooms, dusting off placard Santa Clauses beaming with premature merriment or unrolling large "Merry Xmas" banners, hold-overs from previous Xmases. We found it a cheerless business to watch Xmas cheer in the making.

We'd better put out here, as we do every year, that the Xmas spirit should not be confused with the Christmas spirit. The two operate on different plans. The difference is aptly indicated by the amputated syllable, Xmas, as we see it, is not an observance but a deadline, and the Xmas spirit is a strained effort to meet it.

We did learn something, though, from our peek behind Xmas stage. Toyland managers have as much trouble assembling the latest Xmas toys as do run-of-the-mill fathers on Xmas eve.

We dropped in on one high-ranking store executive who was trying to put together a model gasoline station. When we found him he was poring over a book of instructions, and he looked completely baffled. He shook the book under our nose and called it a subversive document. His hair was askew, and his eyes were wild.

A few days later we saw the assembled toy displayed on his counter. It was a fascinating thing in perfect working order, with model pumps that really squirted water and tin attendants that came popping out. There was no hint of the shattered nerves and broken health of the man who had put it together.

We intend to keep an eye on it during the Xmas rush. We are certain it will prove an irresistible lure for some unsuspecting father who will take it home and spend an irritable Xmas eve setting it up under the tree.

Hens To End Season Against Unbeaten Rams On Saturday

Delaware Favored In Wilmington Park Clash Despite West Chester's Unsullied Record; Murray Rejects Bowl Bid

Back in the home roost after four consecutive week-ends on the road, Bill Murray's University of Delaware Blue Hens will be trying this Saturday to accomplish a trick that no one has turned this season, defeat the Rams of West Chester State Teachers College. The kick-off will be at 2 p. m. in Wilmington Park.

Glenn Killinger's Purple and Gold are flying along on a thirteen game winning streak, a skein that began after they lost to Delaware last year, and if they can top the Hens this Saturday afternoon, it will seal their second undefeated season in three years.

Clippers Edge Out Bulldogs, 2-0, Thru Last Minute Safety

Triumph Comes After Two Clipper Scores Cancelled By Penalties

The Cleveland Avenue Clippers topped the Jackson Street Bulldogs, 2-0, in a hard fought game Sunday at Wilmington. The contest, originally scheduled for the local athletic field, was switched at the last moment.

The first quarter settled into a punter's duel between Tom Burke of the Clippers and Stellini of the Bulldogs. The best run in the first quarter was made by Buchanan. With fourth down and one yard to go, he smashed off tackle for 17 yards.

At the start of the second quarter the Clippers drove from their own 40 yard line down to the Bulldogs' 9 yard line where the latter recovered a fumble. The Bulldogs tried power plays, but the sturdy Clippers held. The Bulldogs were forced to punt from their own 10 and the ball went out of bounds on their 40. The Clippers then began advancing the ball, only to have Jackson Street intercept on their own 15 and move up to the 42. The ball changed hands several more times before Stellini, fleet halfback of the Bulldogs, intercepted a pass on the Clippers 45 and ran to the 7. On the first down Stellini tried a center plunge but the hard-hitting Clipper line forced him to fumble. The Clippers recovering at the half ended.

Highlighting the third quarter was a run by the Clippers' Jack Smith, who took the ball on the Bulldogs' 45 yard line and galloped down the sidelines into the end zone, only to have the play called back because Leahy was off side. Thomas added to his Eastern College statistical honors in pass receiving by snaring one on the goal line for the other score. Jack Gallagher, Delaware's crack defensive end, gave another sterling performance, and it was his continual pressure on Quarterback Gil Rocetti that was credited with putting a crimp in the potent W. & J. passing attack.

The University of Delaware, which has lost only one of eight games so far this season, removed its Blue Hen football team from the prospect lists of bowl promoters today with the flat statement it would accept no bids.

Athletic Director William D. Murray said that after receiving a bid from one bowl promoter he had presented the issue to the Board of Trustees' Committee on Health, Physical Education and Athletics. Murray said the committee's vote, in which he concurred, was against playing any post-season game. The ruling, he added, will apply as a principle and was not directed at any single bowl.

The decision was based, according to Murray on several factors, including the prolonging of the season for the large squad at the expense of the players' studies. Delaware's undefeated team of 1946 played in the Cigar Bowl at Tampa, Fla.

Jerusalem is the capital of Palestine, which has an area of about 10,249 square miles and a population of 1,466,536.

Jackets Prep For Turkey Day Contest With Conrad Redskins

Newark Is Idle This Week-End Following 33-7 Triumph Over A. I. duPont Here Last Saturday. First Win Of Year On Home Field

Newark High's Yellowjackets, somewhat gladdened with victory following their 33-7 triumph over A. I. duPont last Saturday, are sleeping it off this week-end and expect to have their appetites back by Thanksgiving. When they meet Conrad in a tradition laden setto on the Redskins' field, anything can happen in this ancient rivalry, and no one this week-end will be heard quoting the past records of the teams. Newark, of course, always has a fine edge on for the clash, the result of pre-game pep fests, and this time they have even deeper motives. A victory will balance their record for this season at four and four and will also give them sweet revenge for last year's defeat by Conrad.

The Jackets' triumph here Saturday was the first time this year that fans actually saw their off-season thrown into gear. In three previous home games, Newark was on the end of the score.

It was obvious from the start Saturday, though, that the Jackets were going to receive their guests with World courtesy. Scarcely had the festivities begun than they punched a score, and they went on in that fashion most of the game, consenting in the final quarter to permit "A. I." to pick up a few scoring crumbs.

Newark's first TD was set up by a pass from Bernard Blaney to Phil Harrison which landed them on the five, where after a bit of backfield sleight of hand involving a deceptive double reverse, Jack Lehman slipped over.

The second period, while scores were even, the duPonters had the affrontry to intercept two Newark passes and foil possible scoring marches. They also went so far as to stage a daring thrust of their own, moving from the Jackets' 40 to the two, where the latter finally had a call a half to the high-handed proceedings.

Newark regained a firm hold on the situation after the half. Taking the kick-off on his own 30, Bernard Blaney slithered 70 yards through blundering duPonters to the pay-off stripe.

In the final quarter, the Jackets hit the scoring jack-pot, checking in with 20 more points. A. I. also produced its lone score then. A pass put them on the two, where fullback Angelo went over.

"Democracy At Work"

Homeroom 7A, taught by Miss Ann Hayden, created a display based on the theme "Democracy At Work," which was placed in the front window of the Newark Drug Store. It remained there throughout Education Week.

The front of the display showed two globes with the flags of the United States in the background was a map depicting democracy in foreign countries, while on the right of this were two treaties, the Declaration of Independence and the Mayflower Compact. On the left were some encyclopedias of American history and booklets made by the students of 7A. Behind the map were pictures of famous men expressing the different forms of freedom.

More About Our Seniors

Keeping in pace with the State Theater, the seniors are running a candy booth at the two evening performances of their production, "Mother Is a Freshman," on November 17 and 18. If you get a sweet tooth between these, there will be plenty of candy in the hall.

To bring to a joyous close, what has been a hectic month for the cast and for the various committees, the entire senior class will hold a party in the gym, immediately following the final production on Friday evening.

Jim Towers.

Seniors Take Tests

During the past two weeks Newark High School has provided tests for the seniors. There were two types of tests given. The Delaware State Employment Service Test, for those who plan to work immediately after graduation; a college test for those pupils who plan to enter college. These tests do not count on the students' grade and serve only to determine which type of work the students are best suited for. Eighty of the ninety-nine seniors have taken the tests. These tests were given under the direction of Miss Markert.

Dairy Council To Give Program

Harvey Kaufman, a humorist and lecturer from the Philadelphia Dairy Council, will speak to us on Monday morning, November 21, 1949. Due to his popularity throughout this area, his services are limited, thus he can come to Newark but once every two years.

George Martin.

The 1950 Krawen

The 1950 Krawen staff is planning their year book at this time. They hope to succeed in having a much better yearbook than in previous years.

The editor, Marion Mayne, the co-editors, Theresa Duffy and Betty Timmons, as well as the rest of the staff are now working particularly on the theme of this year's yearbook, Mr. Gibbs, who is the staff's advisor, is helping to prepare the committees and getting them started.

Senior Play Skits

The class of 1950 presented a preview of their senior play last Wednesday morning, November 9, during the assembly at Newark High School. The preview consisted of short skits taken from the play, "Mother Is a Freshman."

The main characters in the play are: Milton Draper, who plays Professor Michaels; Betty Ann Timmons, who plays Mrs. Abbott; and Dick Nagle, who portrays the Dean.

The senior play will be presented next Thursday and Friday, November 17 and 18. A matinee was held Wednesday, November 16, for the high school students.

Breakfast Blitz

A breakfast blitz is being held in Newark High School in cooperation with the breakfast campaign set up by Miss Gertrude Holloway, State Home Nutrition Specialist. The home economics girls with Clara Wilkins as head of the committee, handed out questionnaires to all homerooms, 8-12. These questionnaires are to be used to find out if the average student eats breakfast. If he does not, why? The final question on the questionnaire is "How many failing grades were on your report card this last time?" This question is to find out if the fact that you "skip" breakfast has anything to do with your marks. This campaign includes placing posters in the halls, handing the questionnaires, tabulating them, and trying to impress on the minds of the students and parents of Newark that breakfast is important.

Introducing a Student—Ralph Barrow

Ralph Barrow, one of our quieter boys, is a very active boy in sports, hunting, and fishing right now. He plans to enter barbering school after graduation and then work in his father's barber shop.

Ralph is seventeen years old, weighs one hundred and seventy pounds, and is five-feet nine inches tall. He is in the twelfth grade.

His favorite sport is baseball but he has played on the football team for four years.

In his spare time Ralph hunts for quail, fishes for bass, and talks of past experiences with other hunters.

A Trip to the Water Works

Mrs. Nichols and Mrs. Martin's fourth grade classes visited the Newark Water Works on October 28, 1949. They walked from the school building to the plant on Academy Street.

The children requested a chance to see just how our local water can be drawn from tank right into their homes. The keeper of the plant was quite busy answering the many questions that were fired at him. The visitors listened to the explanations of the way the machinery is run at the plant.

Mrs. Nichols' group drew pictures of the plant when they returned to school. When Mrs. Martin's class returned, they held a discussion about their trip. Comments of the pupils proved the trip to be well worth while.

Fire Drill

A fire drill was called November 11 at 2 p. m. by student fire chief, Phil Harrison. The time for emptying the building was one minute and twelve seconds. This is the fastest time ever clocked at NHS. Members of the fire patrol are: Phil Harrison, Dick Nagle, Bill Reybold, Frank Porter, Clifford Moore, Milton Draper, Jair dos Santos, George Boone Merritt Buchanan, Allan Lee, Bill Meeds, Earl Schaan, and Martin Murphy.

Orchestra

The orchestra will be playing for many events of the school this year. It will be playing between acts for the matinee and the two night performances of the senior play. At Christmas time the orchestra will also play for the Christmas Program. Later on, when the dramatics class puts on plays, the orchestra will supply music for them. The orchestra has several new members this year and is larger than last year's. Rehearsals are held in the auditorium on Friday mornings during third period under the direction of Mr. Ernest R. Wilder. Orchestra members will be awarded pins this year for the first time.

New members this year are: Jeanette Wagner, William Spenser Mary Nelson, and Lois Alderman.

Judith Kase in "The Little Foxes"

Judy, a senior at NHS, is president of the school Thespians Club and active in dramatic activities as well. Recently she took part in a program entitled "Democracy That Works," presented for broadcast.

Her role in the university's production of "The Little Foxes," given in Mitchell Hall, was that of Alexandra.

O'Daniel Unit Plans Christmas Gifts For Hospitalized Vets

Will Join In Setting Up Gift Shops In VA Hospitals

With each day bringing Christmas closer, the women of the American Legion Auxiliary are now at work on one of the longest Christmas shopping lists in the world, according to Mrs. Harold Sheaffer, Rehabilitation chairman of J. A. O'Daniel Unit, No. 10, of the Auxiliary here.

"On the Auxiliary's Christmas list are the more than 100,000 war veterans who will be forced to spend Christmas in Veterans Administration hospitals," Mrs. Sheaffer explained. "Each one will receive a gift from the Auxiliary. In addition, Auxiliary sponsored Christmas parties and entertainments will help to bring Christmas cheer into many of the hospitals."

"The Auxiliary also will make it possible for the hospitalized veterans to do Christmas shopping themselves," Mrs. Sheaffer continued. "In nearly every veteran hospital throughout the country Christmas gift shops will be established and operated by the Auxiliary. Here the veterans will be able to select gifts for their families at home, and lack of money will be no drawback because the gift articles are donated by the Auxiliary and everything is free to the veterans."

The local Auxiliary Unit is taking part in the Auxiliary's Christmas preparations. It is cooperating with the Delaware Department of the Auxiliary in providing Christmas gifts for the veterans in Perry Point, New Castle and Farnhurst.

NEPPCO Cites A & P Program As Boon To Poultry Trade

The Northeastern Poultry Producers Council, with thousands of members from 13 states assembled at the recent annual convention at Harrisburg, Pa., unanimously passed a resolution commending The Great Atlantic & Pacific Tea Company for a "major contribution to the progress of the poultry industry."

Through recent improvements in poultry management and breeding efficiency, the industry now accounts for one-tenth of the nation's agricultural income. NEPPCO is the largest poultry and egg producing group in the country, with members from Maine to Virginia.

Leaders and authorities in the poultry field—college professors, geneticists, representatives of major poultry organizations and poultry experts in the U. S. Department of Agriculture—have cited A & P's Chicken-of-Tomorrow program as one of the outstanding developments in the industry's history. It is a nation-wide breeding program originated and sponsored by the food chain to encourage development of superior meat-type chickens. Thousands of poultrymen have participated since the work began in 1946, producing improved poultry meat for consumers' dinner tables.

The Northeastern Council is one of many organizations and individuals who have spoken up for A & P since anti-trust action calling for the dissolution of the company was filed in mid-September. Producers, processors and suppliers as well as labor groups, competitors in the grocery field and thousands of consumers all over the country have protested the Government's threat to break up A & P.

Newark Woman Wins 4-H Trip To Chicago

Mrs. John Redding Honored For Work As Adult Leader

Mrs. John A. Redding, local volunteer leader of the Green Leaf Girls 4-H Club, near Newark, has been awarded a trip to the National 4-H Club Congress in Chicago, Nov. 27-Dec. 1, announces Miss Jean Lee, state 4-H Club specialist.

Mrs. Redding organized the Green Leaf Girls Club three years ago in a neighborhood that had had no 4-H Club. She has encouraged the girls to take part in activities such as canning, sewing, food preparation and home improvement.

Mrs. Redding and her husband together organized the Mt. Nebo Boys Club, composed of 12 boys interested mainly in dairying, gardening, soil conservation, field crops and tractor maintenance. Both clubs have carried on active farm and home safety programs, and together they held a series of project classes in chair caning.

Also making the Chicago trip are 10 4-H state contest winners, Maurice B. Field, New Castle County 4-H agent, and Miss Lee.

Light Contract

later clarified this to say that the authorization of the contract by simple resolution was a proper and legal method for handling it.

The Mayor then agreed to sign, provided certain clarifications could be worked into the contract draft. The most important of these was a change which would leave the door open for negotiating for a more favorable rate at any time or at least for an appeal for such to the Public Utility Commission. The contract as drafted allowed only for such negotiations based upon an unusual increase in Newark electrical requirements.

Among the other changes the Mayor requested were the assurance the town will be permitted to serve current to the proposed Kadow development outside the town limits and clarification as to just what rights of way the power company would require for laying primary lines for the new substation.

The compromise came after a number of the Mayor's original objections had been removed. He first had objected to such features of the contract as the 5-year rule and the use of tax free town property for the erection of the substation. These were dropped when they were shown to be normal practice and legal under the charter. The present contract, it was pointed out, started with the same 5-year provision, and the existing substation is located on tax free town property. Taxing the company for either the substation or the land it occupies would be impossible under the charter, according to special attorney Cann.

Although he agreed to approach the company on the final points raised by the Mayor, Councilman Levis said he could see no reason for their insertion in the contract. He insisted that the company had always acted in good faith towards the town and had, in fact, made no issue of an incident which occurred some time ago when the town had clearly violated its contract with the company by laying lines outside the town limit in the Kadow development.

Mr. Levis went on to point out that the existing substation here is being used to 80 percent of capacity and that it is important that the larger one be built as soon as possible. Any further delay, he said, was a threat to the town's power system. He added that the question of a new contract had been under discussion for two years here and that the company could not be expected to embark on a large scale expansion program here without a new contract.

The Mayor, an electrical engineer, minimized the danger of overloading the present substation in the near future. He pointed out the contract involves half a million dollars, and he said it would be good business judgment to seek expert help in negotiating the contract.

The Mayor took his stand, he said, because he felt the new contract stripped the town of certain rights it now enjoys in the resale of power to consumers here. He seemed to question the good faith of the utility in drafting the contract and said that his studies indicated that municipalities throughout the state were given progressively less favorable contracts every time they renewed an agreement with the power company.

Banner."

Col. Layton A. Zimmer, who presided at the ceremonies, introduced Dr. Rees, who said that one of today's principal danger signs in this country is the growing centralization of government.

"The trend of shifting local government to higher levels is a sign of weakness in our government structure," he stated. "It is a danger signal that must be heeded. Too frequently this tendency encourages the flabby desire to have something done for us while, at the same time, it denies us of the privilege and the opportunity to do these things for ourselves."

"A democratic form of government should be built squarely upon the individual citizen, upon the people. The mass of government control must always be local, close to the people."

Saluting the war heroes, Dr. Rees said that "we who remain must carry on the struggle for freedom, justice, and equal opportunity. This shall be our quarrel with the foe, that our democracy be ever secure and that it long endure. We appreciate the magnitude of our comrades' sacrifices, and this we shall show not only in words alone, but in our acts striving constantly for the security and preservation of our democracy."

The speaker said that these acts should assure that "we, the people, may be physically strong and soundly educated; that our economy be healthy; that our military resources may be adequately, a nation prepared to meet any emergency, and that we, the people, may know about our democratic government and accept a personal responsibility to insure that it does work."

Mayor Ford H. McBerty pulled the string unveiling the monument and Renard George, representing the Veterans of Foreign Wars, called the roll of names appearing on the monument.

Rabbi Jacob Kraft gave the prayer and after the playing of "America" by the Aetna Band, a firing squad composed of members of the American Legion and Veterans of Foreign Wars fired over the monument and buglers sounded "taps." The benediction was given by Rev. Arthur J. Jackson, pastor of Newark Methodist Church.

Century Club

Mrs. J. Pearce Cann presided at the business meeting. Mrs. Daniel Lanning, Mrs. T. D. Runnels, and Mrs. A. R. Jurkik were welcomed into the club.

Mrs. J. Fenton Daugherty, reporting on the Girl Scout program, sponsored by the club, recalled that 15 years ago 15 girls constituted the nucleus of the Girl Scout movement in Newark. Today the Century Club sponsors eight active troops. Two hundred and eighty girls and mothers crowded the Methodist Church last week for the Girl Scout Mother-and-Daughter Banquet, according to Mrs. Daugherty.

Mrs. L. A. Grotium, international relations chairman, invited members to join in the Pen Friends movement, which fosters friendly correspondence with women of other countries. Members wishing to join in this program may call Mrs. J. S. Gould, 24 Kentway.

The New Century Club is sponsoring a rummage sale and bake at the former Silco Store, 46 East Main Street, on Friday, November 18, from 9 a. m. to 9 p. m. Persons having clothing to contribute or baked goods to donate may bring their contributions to the store on Nov. 16, 17, or 18. Arrangements may be made to pick up contributions by calling Mrs. Herman Handloff, Mrs. Thomas Batchelor, Mrs. Chester Ewing, Mrs. Fred Kutz, Mrs. Frank Jamison, Mrs. J. Harvey Dickey, Miss Anna Frater, or Mrs. E. B. Milligan. Proceeds of the sale will be used for the purchase of a new stove for the club kitchen.

Mrs. Delmar Young was tea hostess, assisted by Mrs. David Eastburn, Mrs. Arthur B. Eastman, Mrs. John Erwin, Mrs. Chester Ewing, Mrs. Edward Elliott, and Mrs. K. R. Walt Mrs. Y. mer E. Shue, presided at the tea. Miss Elizabeth Ridgway, director of occupational therapy at Delaware State Hospital, will discuss volunteer work at that institution at the next club meeting.

WITH THE EXCLUSIVE NEW 100 H.P. FORD

ITS QUIET WHISPERS QUALITY

It's the quiet of new super-fitted pistons, new "hushed" timing gear, new fan designed for better cooling at slower, quieter speeds. And what power! It's a full 100-h.p. V-8 that delivers more power than any other car anywhere near Ford's low price and sells for less than most conventional "sixes." And Ford offers a Six, too—an advanced Six with 95 horsepower.

NEW sound conditioning

New "sound conditioning" in floor, doors and body panels insulates Ford's "Life-guard" body against road noises. More extensive soundproofing in 41 areas gives additional interior quietness and protection.

There's a Ford in your future

...with a future built in

NEW "hushed" ride

Ford's famous "Mid Ship" Side is now so quiet you can talk in whispers at highway speeds. So smooth (with its great team of "Hydra-Guid" and "Para-Flex" Springs) that it virtually erases every bump.

NEW quality features

New quality is easy to find in this 50-way-new Ford. You find it in the new push-button door handles, in the new rotary door latch that needs only a feather-touch to open and close securely. You find it in new sparkling upholstery colors.

NEW driving comfort

Not only does the 1950 Ford offer you more hip and shoulder room than any other car in its field—it offers you the long-lived driving comfort of a new foam rubber front seat cushion over new non-sag seat springs. You drive relaxed.

But see it for yourself. Drive it so you can feel and hear the difference. And price it and see how much less it costs than any other really fine car.
