

VFW Steps Up Drive Seeking Purchase Of Portable Iron Lung

To Canvass Local Industries, Business Firms; Civic Clubs To Be Approached

The local Veterans of Foreign Wars stepped up their drive this week to provide Newark with a portable iron lung for free community use with plans to canvass local civic clubs and industries.

About $212 was contributed by the public during the 3-day demonstration of the chest respirator here last week. This added to the $100 contributed by the VFW Post as the drive's start leaves some $1,000 still required for the purchase of the artificial respirator.

Many Newarkers inspected the device during the demonstration here last week-end in a trailer parked before the Newark Newsstand. They found the respirator to be a compact, easily transported mechanism, useful not only for polio victims but for cases of suffocation, smoke poisoning, drowning, electrocution and the like.

Donations from the public will still be gladly accepted and may be mailed to the VFW Post, Barksdale Road, Newark, or taken out to the "VFW Iron Lung Fund."

Under terms of the purchase contract, a factory technician will deliver the equipment and conduct a school of instruction for all members of the fire and police departments. Once purchased the iron lung will be centrally located and quickly available in an emergency. Every doctor would have access to it at no charge to the patient.

Curtis Morrison, who heads the VFW committee, said that letters are being sent this week to local civic and fraternal groups and to the Newark schools asking for contributions. Members of the committee will also canvass Newark industrial plants and business firms.

Hoover Commission Report Endorsed In Century Club Vote

Panel Talks On World Federation Held Monday; Spring Luncheon, March 20

World Federation was the topic of a panel discussion held Monday by the Newark New Century Club. Participants were Albert Smith, John Brosius, and Gordon Tierney, with Howard Handelman as moderator. All are members of University of Delaware political science classes. The discussion following was open to the audience.

Mrs. Henry Weitz conducted the business meeting. A formal resolution was passed endorsing the Hoover Commission Report. Members were invited to attend the University Extension short course on flower gardening on March 6, 7, and 8 from 9 a. m. to 3:15 p. m.

Mrs. George Haney will accept reservations for the spring luncheon on March 20, at any time up to and including the next club meeting on March 6.

Mrs. L. A. Grettum announced that the club is cooperating in the project of sending local youth representatives to the Herald-Tribune Youth Forum to be held in New York City on March 4.

Members are asked to contribute bath towels and woolen or corduroy skirts for sewing and remodeling by University Home Economics students. The garments are remade and distributed to needy children.

The display on the art table featured blue glass and silver from the home of Mrs. Carleton E. Douglass.

Mrs. W. H. Adams, Sr., presided at the tea table. Mrs. E. L. Mattison was hostess, assisted by Mrs. Russell Hardy, Mrs. Chester Hiltz, Mrs. Paul Hodgson, Mrs. F. W. Johns, Jr., Mrs. Frank Jamison, and Mrs. E. B. Milburn.

Barnes Loses Control Of Car, Rams Into Home

Kenneth Barnes 26, of Lumbrook, lost control of his car at Christiansburg 1 a. m. Monday, ripped across lawn and into a private house, demolishing the front porch.

State police, who said they were making him at the time, claimed he was driving along Route 7 at high speed, and lost control when he failed to negotiate a curve.

The damage to the house was estimated at more than $300. The crash, which not only wrecked the front porch, but shattered the front windows well, proved a rude awakening for James Gaddis, the owner, a shoemaker who lives alone.

Barnes was arrested on charges of driving to halt at a stop sign and of speeding. He was fined $25 by Magistrate Clarence Foster. Damage to the car was put at $300.

No Riots When NHS Classes Left Alone

Used to be when teachers left the classroom it was a signal for bedlam to break loose, and there was no let-up until some alert student look-out yelled, "Cheese it, she's coming back!"

Not so anymore—at least not at the Newark High School, where you can now find classes without any faculty supervision whatsoever acting in a quiet, orderly manner, every head bent industriously over a book.

At least so Principal Frederick B. Kutz claims. He says it's all a part of a new honor study hall plan, which he adds is "working fine." How he knows is a mystery, since, apparently, neither he nor any other faculty member is in a position to check on it first-hand.

Adopted by only a relatively few high schools in the country, the plan, which was introduced here recently on an experimental basis, is aimed at encouraging qualities of self-discipline and good citizenship in the pupils.

Students are permitted to join an unsupervised study group only after they have been selected by a faculty member who regards them as trustworthy and have further been approved by the Student Council.

The study groups, limited to 25 pupils or less, are left strictly on their own for an entire period, with only a student coordinator in charge to check attendance and report infractions of the rules.

Rotarians See Film On Recreation Plan

Dr. Henry Weitz, director of the psychological services center at the University of Delaware, was welcomed as a new member of the Rotary Club of Newark at its meeting on Monday evening.

Hugh Gibb as program chairman showed a motion picture film on an extremely timely subject, that of Recreation as a Community Program. The film portrayed the wide range of recreation possibilities that are present in a well-rounded plan that caters to persons of all ages and tastes. It also showed the success of such a plan in Decatur, Illinois.

Announcement was made by Mr. Gibb that the program next Monday evening would mark the 45th Anniversary of Rotary International and would be a historical review of Rotary through the years. The first Rotary Club was organized in Chicago in 1905. From this modest beginning Rotary has grown to the point where today there are over 334,000 business and professional executives who are members of more than 7,000 Rotary Clubs located in 82 countries throughout the world.

A large group of merchants was on hand at Tuesday's meeting to reserve booth space for the show. Don Savitch, general chairman, reports that little space remains.

Scout Leaders Are Honored At Annual Dinner On Thursday

Eight Receive Awards At Blue And Gold Banquet; About 100 Attend

Eight scout troop leaders received awards at the annual Blue and Gold dinner for Newark scouts and cubs in the First Presbyterian Church last Thursday evening. The event was a part of the local observance of the 40th anniversary of scouting.

Leaders honored at the affair were: Arthur Ayers, Francis Reinhart, E. C. Battenbender, Troop 55; Alfred Ploger, William O. Skold, Wayne D. Peoples, Troop 56; John Dorral and Fred Brown, Sea Scout Ship Admiral W. H. P. Blandy, No. 250.

About 100 attended the banquet and heard the principal speaker, Robert D. Smith, assistant scout executive of the Del-Mar-Va Council, Boy Scouts of America, stress the fact that the chief aim of scouting is to build better citizens. His topic was "Scouting as a Vision."

The Del-Mar-Va Council has grown 37 per cent since Jan. 1, 1948, the speaker said, with 1,210 boys joining troops the past 12 months. The council membership now totals 6,436 boys with 2,616 in the adult leader group.

The speaker told of plans for the coming jamboree at Valley Forge where 40,000 boys will assemble on the site where George Washington and his troops camped during the fight for American liberty.

Troop 56 staged the tenderfoot induction ceremony, a court of awards was in charge of Troop 55, and the ceremony of "piping the skipper aboard" was presented by Sea Scouts of Ship 250. Guests were introduced by Paul D. Lovett.

The Rev. Theodore L. Ludlow gave the invocation and group singing was led by Prof. E. R. Wilder of Newark High School.

The committee arranging the affair included F. Allyn Cooch, Jr., Jay Hershelman, John Z. Miller, and Glenn S. Skinner. Dinner was served by Groups 4 and 6 of the church auxiliary.

Horse Show To Aid Recreation Program

Kiwanis Sponsored Event Set For May 20

The Newark summer recreation program will benefit from a horse show to be held this spring under the sponsorship of the Kiwanis Club.

Plans for the event were discussed at the group's weekly meeting last Wednesday in the Chimes Restaurant. The show will be held May 20 on the estate of William duPont, Jr., Fair Hill, Md.

In announcing plans for the benefit, the club cited support for the summer recreation program as one of the town's greatest needs.

At the meeting, the members also heard a talk on the urgency of aggressive citizenship by Herbert Weidman, of Wilmington, Lieut.-Governor of the local Kiwanis district.

John L. Frick, 90, Succumbs; Last Aetna Charter Member

One of Newark's oldest and best-known residents, John L. Frick, 90, died on Monday at his home, 356 South College Avenue. Services will be held tomorrow at 3 p. m. from the Jones Funeral Home. Interment will be in the Newark Cemetery.

Mr. Frick, who was active until about a year ago when he was confined to his home, was the only living charter member of the Aetna Hose, Hook and Ladder Company. He was also a member of the Eagles, Red Men and Knights of Pythias. He attended the Baptist Church.

His only survivor is his wife, Mrs. Bessie F. Frick, 80.

Born in Hartford County, Md., Mr. Frick came to Newark about 70 years ago, and for some time operated a livery stable here. He also drove the old station hack. He lost an arm in his youth and took great pride in his ability to handle horse teams with his one hand.

Later, he was employed by the National Vulcanized Fibre Company, retiring there about seven years ago when he was 83. He remained active after that until last year when he was confined to his home.

No Classes In New Grade School Until Dedication, March 16

Building Will Be In Full Operation Before End Of Month, Officials Say

Classes will not start in Newark's new elementary school building until after the dedication ceremonies on March 16, school officials said this week.

Originally, the district's primary pupils were scheduled to move into the 26-classroom structure around March 1. The building, construction of which is now practically complete, will not be furnished in time to permit the early opening. However, the school will be in full operation before the end of March, it was said.

The dedication exercises will bring a number of prominent state officials here, including Gov. Elbert N. Carvel, Sen. J. Allen Frear, and Rep. J. Caleb Boggs. The speaker will be Dr. George R. Miller, Jr., state superintendent of schools. The program will begin at 8:35 p. m. in the high school auditorium.

The local district took in $900.06 in taxes the past month, it was reported at the February meeting of the Board of Education last Friday.

Mary J. Gray, Newark High senior, was appointed school office clerk, effective in June. She will succeed Miss Alice Viet, who resigned last November.

The board also authorized the purchase of a 3-gang lawn mower to replace worn out equipment.

State To Check On Town Fluorine Plan

Full Details On Experiment Go Soon To Health Board

Action on the embattled fluorine front simmered down here the past week as officials prepared to submit plans for the experiment to the State Board of Health.

Dr. P. K. Musselman, head of the fluorine committee, said the complete plans will be presented to the board in the near future. He added that a state health expert will also inspect the fluorine installation when it is completed at the town pumping station.

The plans to be submitted to the board will include not only an engineering draft of the equipment being installed here but also a complete outline of the procedure the town will use in conducting the experiment, including the precautions to be adopted, and the administrative methods to be used in checking on the effectiveness of the fluorination.

The experiment will not get underway until the entire project has been okayed by the state board.

NHS School District Valued At $1,263,000

The buildings and grounds of the Newark school district are worth well over a million dollars.

The official appraisal figure on record with the State Board of Education is $1,273,000.

The high school building is appraised at $1,000,000 and the grounds at $300,000. The old main street building, now used for shop and agriculture classes, is valued at $20,000, while the estimated worth of the grounds is $30,000.

The breakdown for the remainder of the district: Delaware Avenue School, $50,000, grounds, $8,000; New London Avenue School, $75,000, grounds, $5,000. The district also has an estimated $50,000 invested in furniture and $25,000 in books.

Coal Shortage Over At U. of D., Grubb Declares

The University of Delaware surveyed its fuel situation yesterday and decided that there is virtually no need to consider suspension of classes at any time this term because of insufficient heat.

At a meeting of the university's Administrative Council, Business Administrator Charles E. Grubb reported enough bituminous coal on hand or in transit to last until March 8, and enough anthracite en route to Newark to extend the coal supply until the middle of March if an anthracite-bituminous mixture can be burned successfully.

Since the regular spring vacation begins Saturday, April 1, and continues for nine days, the university now is anticipating that enough coal will be obtained in the coming weeks to keep the furnaces hot throughout cold weather ahead.

"We are past the crisis which loomed at the beginning of this week," Mr. Grubb said, "and the outlook is much brighter."

7-Year-Old Is Hurt Fatally By Car On South College Ave.

Katherine Lare, Newark First-Grader, Hit After Dashing From Between Park Autos

Seven-year-old Katherine Lare, a first grade student at the Newark schools, was killed Monday afternoon when she darted from between two parked cars on South College Avenue, directly into the path of an oncoming automobile.

Thrown to the ground and knocked unconscious, Katherine was rushed to the nearby University of Delaware hospital, where she was given emergency treatment by Dr. Robert H. Duennier. She died about a half hour later from what police said was a broken neck.

The driver of the car was Mrs. E. L. Symington, 85 West Park Place. The accident occurred a short distance below the Delaware Avenue intersection.

At a hearing before Magistrate Clarence Foster on Monday night, Mrs. Symington was held on the technical charge of committing manslaughter with a motor vehicle and her case was referred to the Court of General Sessions pending a coroner's investigation.

A preliminary investigation was conducted by Chief William Cunningham and Sgt. Leroy Hill, of the Newark Police. Sgt. Hill said that Mrs. Symington was traveling at no more than 18 to 20 miles an hour when the accident occurred and did not have time to apply the brakes when the child darted suddenly in front of her. The speed of the car, he said, was determined both by the skid marks plainly visible on the street and the word of eye witnesses. Also the body of the child was not thrown by the impact, he pointed out.

Katherine, who was on her way home from school at the time of the accident, was the foster child of Mrs. Maude S. Thornton, 396 South College Avenue. The child's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Lare, of Bridgeville, were notified of the accident by the State Board of Welfare.

One witness, Bruce Laird, 132 West Main Street, said he was following the child along the sidewalk and saw her dash suddenly between the two parked cars.

Two others, Robert McHenry, South College Avenue, and Donald R. Miller, a university student living in Brown Hall, were in an automobile approaching Mrs. Symington as the fatal mishap took place. They assisted in taking the child to the infirmary.

Expert Advises PTA Audience On How To Organize Play Plan

YMCA Aide Outlines Practical Approach To Community Recreation Problem

What it takes to make a well-rounded community recreation program and how a town does about getting one organized was described by Norman Ford, community secretary of the Wilmington YMCA in a talk at the February meeting of the Parent-Teacher Association last Thursday in the high school auditorium.

The audience came away with a clear-cut, practical approach to what is now a much discussed problem in Newark—the need for a year-round recreation project.

Mr. Ford stressed the fact that an adequate program must not serve one particular age group but must meet the needs of every member of the community. He said that the three basic requirements for organizing a community project were: widespread interest, an obvious need, and adequate financial backing.

Following his talk, he exhibited two films. The first, "Playtown U. S. A.," described how Decatur, Ill., a typical small community, went about developing a community play program. The second outlined procedures by which other communities have organized a program on a long-term basis.

Later, Mrs. Grace Gibb, physical education instructor, announced that a drive seeking funds for an enlarged summer recreation program here will open March 27. Mrs. Gibb has volunteered to direct the campaign.

The PTA sponsored library movies series, offering selected films for youngsters on alternate Saturday mornings at the State Theatre, was reported to be working out successfully. Attendance has been high, according to Mrs. C. M. Cooper, who heads the committee.

The last film, "Stablemates," will be shown March 4 at 10 a. m. The series of five was aimed at improving the type movies shown local children.

Trustees At U. of D. Maintain Stand On Negro Admissions

Nine New Applicants Are Turned Down; Issue May Go To Courts

Trustees of the University of Delaware last Saturday sustained their action of two years ago which, in effect, admits Negro students but only in the engineering school or for graduate work.

In a special meeting at Newark, the Board of Trustees affirmed previous decisions by the university's administration in withholding application forms from nine Negro students enrolled at the Delaware State College.

The applicants were identified as Irving J. Williams, 709 Wollaston Street, Wilmington; Lillian F. Coleman, 412 North Clayton Street, Wilmington; Helen M. Handy, Seaford; Roy E. Holland, Lewes; Homer W. Minus, Felton; Brooks M. Parker, Laurel; Thomas M. Paul, 718 Bennett Street, Wilmington; Jane M. Robinson, 715 North DuPont Street, Wilmington; and James C. Scott, Felton.

The trustee's decision may bring court action on the part of the nine students. Their attorney, Louis L. Redding, of Wilmington, indicated this shortly after the ruling was announced.

He said it was "immoral and unjust to discriminate between citizens in this manner in the expenditure of public funds. It is unfair even to require the applicants to incur the expense and delay of a court proceeding."

He added that the nine students sought admission to the university because "Delaware State College . . . is not an accredited college" and that they wanted to pursue courses to obtain a degree at an accredited college (Please Turn to Page 8)

YELLOWJACKET HIGHLIGHTS

Newark High School

Student of the Week— Betty McCommons

This week's Student of the Week is Betty McCommons. Betty, a junior, is sixteen years old, five feet, one and one half inches tall, slim, dark, and very pretty. She has a dynamic personality and is liked by all especially by Tom and Jack life guards in Wildwood, of whom she is also quite fond. She originally came from Oxford, Pa., but moved to Newark where she has lived for seven years.

Betty is taking the commercial course, but, at present, is undecided as to her future career. She says it will probably be that of a secretary or an interior decorator. She is active in the Twirler's Club, Driver's Course, basketball, and the band. Betty's hobbies are collecting popular records and reading novels. Also, she is fond of good food. Her favorite dishes are steak (well-done) and salads. She hates hot dogs!

And now for the important question. What does Betty think of going steady? Well, her answer is "Don't approve—especially in high school." Then she added—"because I've had experience along those lines."

If you ever want to find Betty, just stop in at the DeLuxe and you'll be accommodated, as this is her favorite hangout. Betty says she reads "Buzz" and likes it except that it does not have enough humor and gossip columns. There's a good suggestion, you Buzz writers!

Betty is an all-around girl and I know she'll be a great success. Good luck, Betty!

Students Ask Questions

Since students seemed to be interested in our questions and answers, entitled "Students Ask Questions," in the Post of Feb. 9, we have decided to include a few of the questions and answers in this week's Post.

The questions are:
Q—Do you read the Yellow Jacket Highlights? If so do you find it interesting? Why?

A—Yes, I think the articles have good information—ought to be changed to gossip instead of facts; they're OK. I guess—I think they're good—I love it, especially "Introducing a Student" column.

Q—Do you like the "Buzz"? Why?
A—Yes, I like the sport page; paper gives a lot of information—I scrape up a dime every once in a while; ought to have more about school kids and more gossip—I enjoy it! Especially the fashion column and Stingers; ought to try a comic strip—yes, I like it, especially the Stingers.

Q—What do you think of the new traffic squad?

A—Officers think they're too big; liked first one better—seem to be doing OK—liked other one better though—best one we've ever had; kids more friendly.

Q—What do you think of the candy machines and coke machine in the cafeteria? What do you think of the new teachers room?

A—I don't use the machines; it's OK with me about the teacher's room. If they want to eat in private, let 'em—I think the machines are "neat." They make you feel more at home; I think the teachers have more privacy and students, too—machines are OK; I'm satisfied with the teacher's room. I do think they should have paper cups instead of glasses at the fountain, though.

At the university the architectural design was done by Carl F. Brauer, Elder, Raymond, Breck, Reiser, Urbahn, and Edward D. Stone; the landscape design was by Evelyn Poehler and James Rose and the interior design was by Bertha Schaefer.

Permanently Fresh Bread— New Scientific Goal

The Commerce Department reported a Federal research project to find a way to keep bread fresh still has "two major hopes" of achieving its goal.

It said scientists at Purdue University, working on an Army Quartermaster assignment, believe the two best means of preventing staleness now appear to be the use of hydrolyzed flour or the addition to dough of amino acids, proteins, wetting agents, or sugars.

The progress report said researchers failed to find a wheat strain with naturally waxy properties which would retard staleness.

They also found bread made from potato dough resisted decay longer than that made from wheat or corn. Scientists, it added, still hope to prepare a wheat strain by X-ray treatment that will have the desirable waxy characteristics.

The Time The Anti-Trust Lawyers Killed Their Own Case!

For ten years the anti-trust lawyers have been attacking the business methods that make it possible to give the public the best quality food at the lowest prices.

In our last ad we told you how Federal Judge W. H. Atwell, at Dallas, threw the anti-trust lawyers and all their inflammatory charges against A&P right out of his court.

But the anti-trust lawyers were not satisfied with decisions against them by three federal judges.

They still wanted to destroy A&P.

They Appealed to New Orleans

So they appealed Judge Atwell's decision to the three-judge Circuit Court at New Orleans.

One of the three, Judge Curtis L. Waller, agreed with Judge Atwell that the case should be dismissed.

The other two members of the Circuit Court, Judge Joseph C. Hutcheson, Jr., and Judge Allen Cox, although saying the case should be tried, agreed that the indictment was vague and contained many allegations which were inflammatory.

They decided that Judge Atwell at Dallas should protect A&P from these inflammatory allegations and could order the anti-trust lawyers to supply the defendants with a bill of particulars.

So the case was back in Dallas again.

Judge Atwell, carrying out the decision of the Circuit Court, struck out the inflammatory matter.

He said that without this inflammatory and prejudicial matter the Grand Jury might never have returned the indictment.

Judge Atwell said to the anti-trust lawyers:

"There are many statements in the indictment which are not at all in violation, and are highly prejudicial and inflammatory."

The anti-trust lawyers objected. They advanced an amazing argument. They said that the removal of their inflammatory allegations (which all four judges had agreed did not belong in the indictment) destroyed their case.

Judge Atwell instructed the anti-trust lawyers to furnish the court with a bill of particulars. In short, he wanted specific charges instead of vague generalities. He set the deadline for furnishing this material at January 15th, 1944.

When the anti-trust lawyers twice asked for more time, pleading sickness among their staff, Judge Atwell extended the time to February 25th because he believed that they were honestly trying, in good faith, to prepare the material he had requested.

Actually, it developed, they were using the time to get ready to drop the case in Dallas and start it in another court.

They Quit in Dallas

On February 26th, while the judge was still waiting for his answer, and without any previous notice to him, the anti-trust lawyers gave a story to the newspapers in Washington, announcing that they were dropping the case in Dallas.

They said that it was their intention "to file a substantially similar suit in an appropriate jurisdiction at an early date."

The "early date" turned out to be the same day.

As soon as one anti-trust lawyer killed the case in Dallas, another anti-trust lawyer filed a new case in Danville, Illinois. This new case made most of the same allegations that had been made and dropped in Dallas; and that are being made against us today.

So now, according to the anti-trust lawyers, all four judges who had ruled on the Dallas case were wrong.

Despite defeats in three federal courts in widely separated parts of the country, they continued their campaign to destroy A&P.

When Judge Atwell heard of their action he ordered the anti-trust lawyers to prepare an order for his signature dismissing the Dallas case.

In signing this order he said to the anti-trust lawyers:

"This nolle prosequi does not have the sanction or approval of this court. That is not necessary, nor that the government ask for the court's approval."

"It is, however, a matter that may be presented to the other court and may be of interest to the people at large."

So after their efforts to destroy A&P had failed in Washington, D. C., Wilson, North Carolina, and Dallas, Texas, the anti-trust lawyers moved on to Danville, Illinois.

They were still determined to destroy this company which had brought more and better food at lower cost to millions of American families.

They Were Wrong Three Times Before!

Three times the anti-trust lawyers went into federal courts and made serious and damaging charges against A&P.

Three times federal judges said the anti-trust lawyers were wrong and rendered decisions against them.

In previous ads in this series we told you about these other anti-trust "cases" involving us, which the judges said were not cases at all.

We think you should know about these previous cases, because once again the anti-trust lawyers are making damaging "allegations" that could seriously affect our business if they were believed by the public.

There was the time in Washington, D. C., when they said we and other good American citizens conspired to fix the price of bread in that city.

This was the time Federal Judge T. Alan Goldsborough ruled that A&P and the other defendants did not even need to put in a defense. He instructed the jury to bring in a verdict of "not guilty".

It was the time Judge Goldsborough said to the anti-trust lawyers:

"If you were to show this record to any experienced trial lawyer in the world, he would tell you that there was not any evidence at all."

"Honestly, I have never in my over forty years' experience seen tried a case that was as absolutely devoid of evidence as this. That is the honest truth. I have never seen one like it."

There was the time in Wilson, North Carolina, they said we and other good American citizens conspired to fix prices paid farmers for their potatoes.

This was the time Federal Judge C. C. Wyche directed the jury to bring in a verdict of "not guilty".

It was the time Judge Wyche said to the anti-trust lawyers:

"In my opinion there is no testimony produced from which it can reasonably be inferred that the defendants entered into a combination to depress or lower the price of potatoes."

"I might say that I never tried a case in my life where a greater effort, more work, more investigation had been done, combing almost with a fine-tooth comb to gather evidence."

"But, as was said a long time ago, you can't make brick without straw, and you can't make a case without facts."

There was the time in Dallas, Texas, when they made practically the same "allegations" they are making today.

This was the time Federal Judge W. H. Atwell ruled that the case should not even be tried. He said that the indictment contained inflammatory statements that he would not permit to be presented to a jury.

It was the time Judge Atwell said to the anti-trust lawyers:

"I know of no American rule, and I wish I had the power to underscore the word 'American,' which permits us to try a man because of his size."

"If I thought I was presiding over a court and that I might have to sentence some person because he was a great big fellow, or because he was a Lilliputian, I would feel like resigning. God knows we don't want it ever to occur in America that the size is going to determine whether a man is guilty or innocent."

NEWARK TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO

From Issue of February 18, 1925

Workmen began today to tear down the old College Library at Main and South College Avenue, an historical building that during its long career has seen service as an inn, a tavern, the birthplace of the Newark Post, a livery stable and a commercial store. Originally, the "Delaware House," it was a well-known hostelry and coach stop. John Lemmon was the last proprietor, the hotel finally going out of business in the 1880's. Later it was turned into a livery stable, then the building passed into the hands of George Evans, father of Charles B. Evans, who rented it for various business enterprises. For a while, Leonard Lovett conducted a furniture business there.

At that time the plot of ground in the rear under a willow tree containing the old town pump was famous as the community meeting center.

Next George and Charles Strahorn again turned the building into a livery stable.

When the Newark Post was found in 1910 by Everett C. Johnson, its headquarters was in a parlor of the residence part of the building, the power being printed by the Cecil White, Elkton, Md. Several wings were added, the last in 1912, as the Post grew.

In 1915 the building became the property of Delaware College, and became the library.

In celebration of Brotherhood Week and George Washington's Birthday, the pupils at Harmony Rural School gave the following program yesterday afternoon: A story, "The Little Cook," by Daniel Barlow; a quiz, by William Roark; dances, "The Minuet," and "Pop Goes the Weasel," by Maryann Springer, Beverly Cannon, Addie Case, Sallie Evans, Francis Farmer, Billy Roark, Oliver Schuler, and Francis Annand. Mrs. Elsie W. Stradley, the teacher, spoke on "Brotherhood, An Answer to the Atom Bomb." Tomorrow afternoon, Mrs. Eugenia Mats, New Castle County music supervisor, is going to make recordings of the children in the primary chorus, the Glee Club, and the entire school chorus. She will then play these songs so that the children may profit by this experience through their future musical training. The Harmony School Parent-Teacher Association plans to hold a card party in Harmony Grange Hall on March 18th. Mrs. Rollin Farmer is the chairman.

Harmony Juvenile Grange will initiate a class of new members on March 3. At its meeting last Saturday, the members were told of the National Grange Forest, Farm and Garden Contest beginning now. There will be state prizes as well as national awards. The grangers gave a money donation to the March of Dimes.

Plans were announced for the annual roast chicken supper for Harmony Grange on April 13th in Ebenezer Methodist Church social hall at the grange meeting Monday night. Delegates named to the Pomona Grange on March 2 were: Mrs. Leroy Packer, Steele Atwell, Mrs. Harvey Ball, alternates, George K. Ball, Mrs. Marvin Klair, and Mrs. Walter Marshall. The Worthy Master David Rambo appointed Marvin Klair as the health chairman for 1950. The project of urging better roads and more road markers was placed with the community service committee, headed by Edward Naudain. The patriotic program planned by Mrs. Marion Gilmore Wilson, included songs and readings by Miss Hannah Mitchell, Mrs. Joseph Mitchell, Miss Sue Brackin, William Bartels, Mrs. George Ball, Mrs. Walter Marshall, and Edward Naudain.

The grange remembered Past Master and Mrs. Lawrence H. Pennington with cards, yellow roses, and an African violet in celebration of their fifty-fifth wedding anniversary on Monday. The anniversary slipped by unnoticed by Mr. Pennington as he was stricken with a slight cerebral hemorrhage Saturday afternoon and was removed to the Memorial Hospital on Sunday evening where he is quite ill. The Penningtons also received many gifts and cards from their other friends.

One of our local girls made her radio debut over WCOJ, Coatesville, last Friday. Shirley Boggs was a member of a "Double Trio" from the Kennett Square High School, and this group made such an impression during the Christmas program that they were invited to sing over WCOJ.

The Honor Roll has come out at Kennett, and again we have several representatives on it. Among them are Milly Gouge, Laura Connor, Shirley Boggs and Charles Wallace.

Valentine's Day, Jack Boggs had the bad luck to slip off a plank runway which connected the millhouse and the barn, and struck his back on the edge of the truck. He was "knocked for a loop" as the saying goes, and there were some anxious moments before he got on his feet under his own power. A thorough taping seemed to get him functioning again, but, of course, it takes a while to get over a shaking up like that. Take it easy, Jack!

Mrs. Emmett Jones is at present in Virginia taking care of her mother for a couple of weeks.

Monday was "Bee" Boggs' birthday, and Beverly Boggs' time to shine in the birthday department was Tuesday. Jimmie Akerman was 13 on the same day. Last Thursday, Timmie Knauer achieved the august age of six, and the day after that his little brother, Jeffrey Knauer, copy-catted by reaching the ripe old age of six months. Congratulations, all of you.

Tommie Filippi is home with the old gripe symptoms.

Mrs. Fred Peterson has been ill since Friday.

Harry Swain has been on "sick bay" for a week.

Kurt Kalb has had a relapse and is in bed again.

"Hen" McVey had to take some time off and engage in battle with a few assorted germs last week. She is feeling better now, and thinks she'll be in good shape shortly, what with Bob driving the bus in the morning. That morning pressure is hard on us "stay-at-home" mothers, let alone on someone who has to hustle out to meet a schedule!

Friday evening at 8 o'clock the Methodist Churches of the Kemblesville, Flint Hill and New London divisions, will hold a Union Service at the New London Methodist Church under the auspices of the WSCS, to mark the World Day of Prayer.

Next Sunday is Layman's Sunday. At the New London Methodist Church, Harold Hilbeck will be the layman selected to preach. At Kemblesville, S. P. Cox will give the sermon, and at Flint Hill, the Laymen's Sunday is under the direction of Mrs. Swain.

Mr. Samuel Williams died suddenly Sunday night. His funeral was from the Maxwell Funeral Home in New London. Interment will be in the Presbyterian Cemetery at the New London Presbyterian Church.

Mr. Oliver Russell has passed away following a lengthy illness. His funeral was held Wednesday at the New London Methodist Church and interment will be in the New London Cemetery.

Mrs. Ella Lee, of Strickerville, received a week-end visit from her son, H. Andrew Lee, of Washington, D. C. Mr. Lee is employed in the Riggs National Bank of Washington.

The H. Leslie Cornishes, of Philadelphia, called on the George Kalbs and the John A. Kalbs last week-end.

All the kiddies liked the Laurel and Hardy comedy sponsored by the Kemblesville PTA last Friday night. There will be another at the hall this coming Friday.

February 23 marks the occasion of a card party at the Landenberg Hall. Barbara George has been ill for a week.

The Elbert Pooles visited the William Wallaces Sunday.

At the Landenberg Methodist Church this Sunday, Vernon Connell will be the layman to preach the sermon. Various others will participate in the services.

The fourth of the newly initiated monthly prayer meetings will be held at the parsonage of the Landenberg

A most unfortunate accident happened at the Knauer home last Saturday. Baby Jeffrey slipped out under the tray of his highchair, and somehow cut the every center of his tongue badly enough to require its being stitched at the West Chester Hospital. He is at present in the hospital for further observation, but is doing very well. The Knauers are really puzzled as to how the toothless little gentleman, who seemingly struck nothing but the floor in his fall, could manage to get that kind of a cut in the very center of his tongue. Paging all detectives!

E-52 To Stage Drama By Graduate Student

"Party Line," a new satirical musical comedy with book, music and lyrics all written by a University of Delaware graduate student, Bruce G. Laird, will be the next presentation of the university's E-52 Players. The dates for the production at Mitchell Hall, Newark, have been announced as March 7, 8, 9, 10 and 11. This will constitute the longest run of any E-52 show in history.

"Party Line" is the second musical ever attempted by the Players, last year's "Again It's Yesterday" being the first. Rehearsals now are underway for a cast which includes a dancing chorus, a ballet, and singing chorus, in addition to the speaking parts. Crew members for the production also have been assigned. Dr. C. R. Kase, director of dramatics, is director for the musical.

Tickets will go on sale at the Mitchell Hall box-office Tuesday, Feb. 21.

"The trustees' decision was that the nine 'do not come within the scope of the resolution adopted by this board on Jan. 31, 1948.'"

That resolution made it possible for Negro residents of the State of Delaware to enroll at the university for "courses of study leading to a degree for which a course of study leading to the same degree is not furnished in any educational institution provided by this state within this state."

The trustees pointed out today that the State College "has authority under section 3787 of the Revised Code of 1935 to confer degrees and grant diplomas."

The trustees also approved the exchange of the dwelling at 102 Bent Lane, Newark, now occupied by President William S. Carlson, for John D. Hildreth's residence at 203 West Main Street. The Hildreth family will occupy the Bent Lane property about three months after Dr. Carlson leaves in April to assume the presidency of the University of Vermont, and it was indicated that the West Main Street property will become the residence of Dr. Carlson's successor when he is chosen.
