UNIVERSITY HOUR WINTER PROGRAM ANNOUNCED

Mrs. Bella Fromm
First Speaker At
Mitchell Hall
On December 1

The College University Hour Committee of the University, under the leadership of Dr. Augustus H. Able, of the Department of English, has announced a winter program. The features of the University Hour consist of lectures by eminent personalities on subjects of contemporary world interest, will alternate, approximately every two weeks, with the concerts of the Newark Music Society. All events of the University Hour are entirely free to the public without ticket. The Newark Music Society events are by subscription.

The first speaker for the University Hour will be Mrs. Bella Fromm, well-known author of the book "Blood and Banquets" that last year gave the American public an intimate view of the Nazi Regime. It is from the same experience of Nazi Society that made possible her book, that Mrs. Fromm has chosen her subject for the Mitchell Hall meeting. Her title will be "I Saw the Rise of Nazism." She will speak on the evening of Wednesday, December 1, at 8:15 p. m.

The University Hour Committee also announced two other speakers for the fall meetings. On January 21, Mr. Robert Norton, Far Eastern Specialist, will speak on the title: "How Strong is Japan?" and on February 25, Dr. Clyde R. Miller, Professor at Teachers' college, Columbia university, and founder of the Institute of Propaganda Analysis, will speak on: "It Is More Than to Know."

Other personalities of equal caliber will be announced later.

CONCERT ARTIST ENJOYED

Miss Magnes
Well Received
By Audience

The 1943-44 series of concerts sponsored by the Newark Music Society opened in Mitchell Hall on Friday night, November 19, with Miss Frances Magnes, violinist, as the artist.

Miss Magnes, winner of many prizes for young artists, presented a rather ambitious program, well arranged and well calculated to exhibit a performer's musicianship and technical attainments.

The introduction of "Five Studies in Jitterbug" into a serious program was an innovation which found a ready response in the audience, and which in these days does not seem at all out of place. Written by an old man of sixty, one can only say that the composer was at least young in spirit.

Miss Magnes was at her best in her opening number, Sonata No. 3 by Beethoven, and in the Adagio movement in Beethoven's Concerto in G minor. Her Jitterbug was well executed, but lacked the abandon and general aimless life of the confirmed jitterbug.

In her more serious numbers she displayed a clear, full tone, intense earnestness, and a general stage presence. She should go far in attaining her ambition to become a top-ranking artist.

Miss Sara Paetzl at the piano gave painstaking support in the thankless job of accompanist.

NO COAL INCREASE

Coal dealers have been warned that they are not permitted to increase their prices on any kind or size of coal at this time. Although price increases to the mines or producers are presently being considered because of the recent wage increase, neither the mines nor the dealers are permitted to make any increases unless and until the adjustments are actually granted. Furthermore, it was announced by OPA, the war price control agency, that any price increases will not be retroactive on coal already produced and delivered.

Pending any possible adjustment of producers' and dealers' prices, all sales must be made at the current ceiling prices. Likewise, retailers are not permitted to pay over ceiling prices to the producers or suppliers.

MRS. KASE DIRECTS BENEFIT PRODUCTION

Reservations
Being Made
At Rhodes
Drug Store

The University Drama Group, Newark's Community Theater, will present "You Can't Take It With You" by Moss Hart and George S. Kaufman in three performances at Mitchell Hall, November 25, 26 and 27. Thanksgiving night the play will be presented for the soldiers stationed at the University of Delaware. The following two nights will be open to the public for the benefit of the Newark Visiting Nurse Association and the Boy Scouts. The curtain is scheduled to go up at 8:15.

Dr. Charles Lanier, Jr., business manager, reports that the advance ticket reservation is very encouraging but states that there are still many good seats for both performances available at Rhodes Drug Store.

The cast includes many members already well known to Newark audiences and there are also several newcomers to the Mitchell Hall stage.

The following have parts in the play: Mrs. Marion Keyes, Mrs. William Sapper, Mrs. W. Southgate Martin, Ned Allen, John Lacher, E. Clair Mahanna, John Standen, G. Taggart Evans, Mrs. Joseph Shields, Robert Rohm, W. Southgate Martin, George T. Boli, Mrs. E. Clair Mahanna, L. Parker Thomas, Mrs. Murray Mannos, Edmund Prince, Leon Ryan, William Northrop and Mrs. John Standen.

The production is under the direction of Mrs. C. Robert Kase who has so successfully directed other Mitchell Hall offerings.

STORES OPEN LATE NOV. 24

Holiday Foods
Not Too Scarce

Although reported scarce, turkeys will undoubtedly grace just as many Thanksgiving tables this year as in the past—local stores have a fair supply of the Thanksgiving birds priced not too high to be prohibitive.

Newark home-owned stores and both the A. & P. and Acme Market will remain open until nine o'clock Wednesday to accommodate late Thanksgiving Day shoppers and all stores will remain closed all day Thursday in observance of the holiday.

Unrationed cranberries, mince-meat, celery, chickens and even fruit cakes are among the more prominent holiday items advertised for the Thanksgiving week-end—to say nothing of golden pumpkin, nuts, red apple cider, grapes and fruits provide abundant supplies for the most fastidious repast.

Thus Americans, while deprived of some of their luxuries of life, still have plenty to be thankful for in this land of freedom.

MEAT CUTTING EXHIBIT PLANNED

Government Expert
To Give Demonstration

Farm people and others who plan to kill and cure pork for the first time this year will be given expert advice on this subject next Monday night, November 29 at Wolf Hall on the University of Delaware campus when K. F. Warner, specialist from the U. S. Department of Agriculture, Washington, D. C., will give a demonstration on the cutting up and sugar curing of pork.

Dean George L. Schuster, director of the extension service and Miss Pearl MacDonald, nutrition specialist at the University have made arrangements with the Department of Agriculture at Washington to have Mr. Warner sent to Delaware next week to conduct a series of demonstrations.

Ralph L. Watson, New Castle County Farm Agent and Mrs. Kate Henley Daugherty, Home Demonstration Agent have made plans for Mr. Warner to give three demonstrations for New Castle County farm people.

The first one will be held at Wolf Hall on Monday night, November 29 at eight o'clock; the second demonstration will be given in the Clayton High School cafeteria on Tuesday, November 30 at 1:30 p. m. and the third will be held in the Middletown High School cafeteria on Tuesday night at eight o'clock.

GLASGOW HOLD-UP NETS $62

Brooks Service
Station Robbed
By Armed Trio

Three men, one a soldier, held up a 16-year-old service station attendant at Glasgow Sunday night and robbed him of $62 after he had been bound and gagged. Fifteen minutes after the hold-up state police arrested two of the suspects.

William T. Brooks, the attendant who was in charge of the station operated by his father, Claude Brooks, was in the building at 8:30 o'clock when the three men entered. One drew a .38 calibre revolver and told young Brooks that it was a "stick-up."

The latter was bound with rope and a towel thrust in his mouth to prevent an outcry. The robbers then rifled his pockets of the day's receipts and fled.

Robert Onkes, 19, of Lakewood, N. C., who police said handled the gun, was apprehended a mile from the scene walking along the road. Later, Frank H. Carney, 21, who police said is absent without leave from Camp Barkley, Tex., was caught after a short chase. The third man has not been found.

FUTURE FARMERS ELECT OFFICERS

Annual
F. F. A. Fair
To Be Held
Dec. 2, 3, 4

At the regular meeting of the Newark F.F.A. Chapter held Wednesday, November 17, 1943, the officers for the coming year were elected. They are as follows: President, Richard Swan; vice president, Harry Crossan; secretary, Robert V. Davis; treasurer, William Crossan; reporter, Herbert Murphy; sentinel, Burton Campbell.

To develop responsibility among the greenhand members of the chapter the members selected Burton Campbell, a greenhand, as the chapter sentinel.

William Murray, the retiring president, presided over the election and the business meeting that was held just before the elections. The treasurer, William Crossan, gave a report as to the state of the chapters finances. Due to the absence of the regular secretary, Vernon Connell, Robert Davis was appointed to act in his stead.

William Crossan reported that 23 members had paid their dues and were therefore members in good standing and entitled to vote and hold office. John E. Lawrence, the chapter adviser, presented the information that a sum has been made available through American Vocational Association for use in the F.F.A. chapters throughout the state, provided a constructive project be instigated by each chapter. Newark's share based upon last year's membership amounts to $13.34.

William Crossan gave a report of the Fair committee. The annual Newark F.F.A. Fair is to be held December 2nd, 3rd, and 4th. Many classes have been set up and plans are being formulated and carried out in order to have an enlightening and educational program as possible.

A motion picture entitled "Guardians of Plenty" was presented after the business meeting, after which the meeting was adjourned.

CHRISTMAS SEAL SALE STARTED

Originated by Emily P. Bissell
37 Years Ago

Monday, November 22, marked the opening of the thirty-seventh annual Christmas Seal sale of the Delaware Anti-Tuberculosis Society, when thousands of direct mail appeals containing Christmas Seals were delivered by Delaware postmen throughout the state.

The first Christmas Seal sale in this country was originated by Miss Emily P. Bissell in Wilmington, Delaware, in 1907. This was a Delaware seal sale for tuberculosis funds to maintain a shack for tuberculosis patients that was about to close for lack of maintenance funds.

Today there are nearly 2,000 tuberculosis associations throughout the United States that depend for their funds upon the annual Christmas Seal sale.

Activities of the Delaware Anti-Tuberculosis Society that are made possible by the annual seal sale include the maintenance of Sunnybrook Cottage, Delaware's preventorium for children who have been living in contact with tuberculosis; nursing service for indigent patients; x-ray and fluoroscopy service; rehabilitation; and a year-round health education program. The sale will continue until Christmas.

Community Thanksgiving Service Wednesday Night

Rev. Andrew W. Mayer, rector of St. Thomas' Episcopal Church will be the speaker at the annual community Thanksgiving worship service held in the Newark Methodist Church on Wednesday night at 7:45. Rev. Mayer will use as his topic "The Unspeakable Gift".

Dr. Arthur Jackson, pastor of the Newark Methodist Church will preside at the service and will be assisted by Rev. H. Everett Hallman, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church of Newark.

CENTURY CLUB WOMEN TO MEET SCULPTOR

Miss Newcomb
Speaks Monday
On Soybeans As Food Value

American Home Department chairman, Mrs. Joy Robinson, was in charge of the program this week at the regular meeting of the Newark New Century Club and Miss Jane Newcomb, a former home economics specialist at Penn State College and at the present time a member of the Better Homes Committee of the local club gave an interesting and informative talk on composition, food value and use of soybeans.

At the close of the meeting cakes and cookies made with soybean flour were served, with tea by Mrs. Charles E. Grubb and her committee. Mrs. Robert J. Boyd, president of the club presided at the business session of the club and gave a brief talk about the Herald-Tribune forum held last week in New York City.

The club voted to make their usual contribution to the Delaware Anti-Tuberculosis Society and a Christmas box to be sent to the Stockley Colony.

Mrs. F. W. Jahns, chairman of the international relations committee gave a resume of "My India, My America", and Mrs. David Eastburn, art chairman had on display at the meeting several water colors of familiar Delaware scenes painted by Jack Lewis.

Mrs. Eastburn announced that the club members had been invited to visit the exhibit of Bolivian sculpture at the College art gallery on Tuesday and meet the sculptor, Miss delPrado.

The club will not meet again until December 13 when there will be a combined Christmas meeting commemorating Delaware Day and Pearl Harbor Day.

MOVIES AT ROTARY

George Cook Gives Talk

The Newark Rotary Club held their regular weekly meeting on Monday night at the College Inn with Newman Rose, vice-president of the club in charge of the business session.

Painter second class George Cook, a former member of the Newark Rotary Club who is now in the U. S. Navy stationed at Panama and home on furlough was a guest of the club and told some of his experiences since his induction into the Armed Forces.

H. B. Hendricks of the Dover Rotary Club was also a visitor at the meeting.

Entertainment for the evening consisted of the showing of moving pictures by Dr. Thomas F. Manns. The picture was titled "Loaded For War".

Professor Allen L. Jones directed the singing for the evening with Miss Mary Alice Hancock at the piano.

Sunday Services at White Clay Presbyterian Church

The regular services will be held at White Clay Presbyterian Church on Sunday, November 28.

NEWARK ACADEMY CELEBRATES FOUNDING

Dr. T. C. Pears
Guest Speaker;
Documents
Exhibited

Plans for the observation on Tuesday, November 23, of the two-hundredth anniversary of the founding of the University of Delaware have been announced by Dr. Walter Hallihen, president of the University. The program will be sponsored jointly by the faculty and trustees of the University and by the Board of Trustees of Newark Academy, both of which institutions owe their origin to the academy founded at New London, Pennsylvania, by Francis Allison in 1743.

All friends of the University and the general public are invited to attend the celebration which will be held in Mitchell Hall on the University campus, beginning at 8:15 P. M., November 23. The Rev. Dr. Thomas C. Pears, Jr., secretary of the Presbyterian Historical Society, Philadelphia, and biographer of the founder of the University, will talk on "Francis Allison, Colonial Educator." After the speech, an exhibit of documents connected with the history of the Academy and the University will be shown in the Memorial Library. Dr. Pears is manager of the Department of History of the Office of the Presbyterian General Assembly and has charge of the Library and Museum of the Presbyterian.

LIONS HEAR DR. JACKSON

Pastor Addresses Service Group

Dr. Arthur A. Jackson, pastor of the Newark Methodist Church, was guest speaker at the weekly dinner meeting of the Newark Lions Club, held Tuesday evening, at the Country Club. Introduced by Daniel Stoll, program chairman for the evening, Dr. Jackson brought the attending Lions a worthwhile and timely discussion which was well received.

President E. A. Curtis conducted the dinner session before turning the program over to Mr. Stoll. Louis T. Staats led the group in the singing of "America" and those present repeated the Pledge of Allegiance.

The program for next Tuesday will be in charge of T. D. Smith. Although the topic has not been announced Lions are assured of an interesting evening and a 100 percent attendance is urged.

Let's Talk Turkey—

Our supply of turkey is limited. Yet, we have good selections of chickens and other suitable meats for your holiday dinner, wartime considered. We, along with other patriotic food retailers have foregone a large part of our usual supplies of turkey to Uncle Sam—so that he can provide Thanksgiving Dinners for the members of our Armed Forces, no matter where they may be.

SURE SHOT

The Senior Class at the Newark High School presented their annual class play at the school last Friday night. Sureshot has heard a lot of conflicting stories about who had the leading parts in the production. As far as I could see after being a witness of the show, that Joseph McVey fellow who took the part of Rastus was Red Hot and he really stole the whole show.

Possibly one of those two Suddard boys were supposed to have the lead or then it might have been that Eugene Campbell or even Bob Eissner, but no—Joe McVey carried the audience and proved that he is a real actor. He was very good.

As far as the show went—the fellow who wrote it must have had a bad dream but those seniors who took the various parts acted like veteran actors. Ollie Suddard had quite a getup. But many of the spectators were heard to remark that both the Suddard boys and Eugene Campbell just acted natural.

Bob Eissner took a very difficult part and played it very well. Richard Swan also played a good role and played it very well. Gerald Laubach made a real good sheriff, even if he was using a Fireman's badge to denote his office. Oh, yes, Raymond Kennard was the villain but we are pleased to say that he reformed in the end and became a nice old man.

The girls in the play—Yes—Yes—there were some nice young girls in the play. There are several versions of just who was the female star. It could have been the PEST as portrayed by Doris Bell, but it was not. She was very good and just acted natural. I mean the way she always does when she is not acting. Dottie Marrs also was real good although she did not have much to say. (Who ever heard of a woman or girl not having much to say?) Barbara Musselman looked real Chic. She is a real good looking girl anyway.

Peggy Nichol's acting was very good in a more or less difficult part. Then there was Vera Gould as "a sweet young thing"—that was the way it read on the program and she looked the part. Ann Baker was cast as a moving picture director. She is very cute and her acting was excellent.

Now that leaves Mary Frances Anderson and Catherine Lebergern. Just a minute, Catherine now spells her name with a K. My mistake. I am not sure which of these two were the leads. When I see their pay envelopes I will be able to tell which one takes the leading part. They were both good.

Folks, the class play was as good as any that have been at the local school for a long time and while the various committees that helped in making the play the success it proved to be, deserve a lot of credit there was an important character who did not appear on the stage as an actor. There is the director, Dr. Robert E. Kern, (master of both Spanish and French)—To Dr. Kern goes the credit of producing another Senior Class Play.

There is only one great fault that I could find with the entire evening's performance—I mean two faults—The first was that the girls selling candy ran out of supplies before they reached the row where I was—I like chocolate fudge and the second was that the High School Band, under Prof Frederick B. Kutz played so many overtures or what ever you call them. Me—Well, I just like marches and no matter how good a rendition (25-cent word) I don't like that other kind of music.

While speaking about the Band—Everyone was wondering at the football game on Saturday if those boys and girls in the band were out of wind and could not play two days in succession or was it just another idea of not having any music at the ball games. We like the band and feel that it creates a lot of school spirit.

That was not a football game on Saturday. It was a field day for Brandon Davis. (This should be worth another pint of ice cream.) With Len George hurling the pigskin and with Davis trotting across the goal line the Yellowjackets went to town and chalked up 32 points before they eased up and let the visitors have a small score. No folks—even if Brandon did make three touchdowns, he was not the whole team. There were some other fellows on the field at the time who kept the game going. As I have said before there are a lot of fellows on a football team who work just as hard as the fellow that carries the ball to pay dirt and gets all the glory. Those cheer-leaders never cheer for boys on the line unless they get hurt but they are in there playing their hearts out. So folks, just read the lineup and the list of subs and you will find the names of fellows who never get their names in the headlines. They are all good boys and all played a swell game on Saturday. Let us hope that they bring home the bacon on Thanksgiving Day when they play the Conrad Indians.

3,000 Auto Licenses Expire December 31

More than 400 of the 7,000 motorists in Delaware with auto registration tags which expire Dec. 31 have obtained renewals. In New Castle County, 3,000 registrations expire Dec. 31, and fewer than 100 have been renewed.

Frank L. Reed, manager of the Wilmington office, Motor Vehicle Department, Eighth Street and Bancroft Parkway has requested that motorists apply for renewal of registrations immediately.

It is suggested applications be made by mailing the present registration card with fee in check or money order. In this way, time, fuel, and tires will be saved. Application may also be made in person.

INTEREST SHOWN IN BANQUET FOR RATS DEC. 7

Farmers Aid Campaign To Kill Vermin

Much interest is being shown in the December 7 rat banquet planned by the Delaware Agricultural Extension Service. According to Harvey L. Chada, Extension entomologist, more than 2,000 farmers have already inquired about how they can assist in making the banquet a success, so it is expected to be quite a feast.

Chief speaker and spell-binder in each banquet hall will be zinc phosphide. The sucker guests will be a large percentage of Delaware's 480,000 "so sorry" rats, who are much effective 5th Column Axis partners. In fact, agricultural leaders are hoping that almost all of the local rats will be able to accept invitations to this gala affair.

The banquet committee has appropriately arranged to hold the celebration on the anniversary of the Japs' sneak attack on Pearl Harbor.

Every rural family who has not already offered help to make this banquet a success is urged to assist by serving varieties of tasty food to appease the rat's lusty appetite—to appease it to the point of complete elimination. Some of the favorite dishes of the guests are fruits, meats, vegetables, and feeds mixed with the main attraction—zinc phosphide. And as a further touch of hospitality banquets should be served in such favorite haunts of the Axis partner as cornerbills, chicken houses, feed houses, and barns.

Sufficient quantities of the main ingredient, the zinc phosphide, to assure the success of the banquets should be reserved through the county agricultural agent before November 26. Poison ordered and complete instructions for mixing and using it will be available from local distributors December 4 to 6, so that there will be plenty of time to prepare a tasty meal by December 7.

the other day and we are told that he used up a lot of shells but NO BUNNIES.

Between halves at the football game last Saturday spectators were given a treat when Harold Grant's little son Wally put on a fine exhibition of football playing. When he grows up he will be all right. Harold thinks he is all right now.

Then after everyone got through applauding young Grant—Admiral Joe Moore, Red Henderson, General Bob Stewart and Doyle McSpadden, who is also slated to become a soldier, went out on the field and gave another exhibition of the has-beens.

The kids at the high school are upset because they were told that they could not have the use of the school gym for a Thanksgiving dance. Well, why cry about that. There are other places where you can have a dance. Why not hire the Century Club, the Country Club or the Red Men's Hall.

The editor of the Newark Post doesn't need to go gunning. His friends seem to take care of that. The other night Mike Dayett stopped around and left him a brace of bunnies. Dick stated that "My This Were Good". We are sure that this is no reflection on his shooting ability. We have been told that the last time he went gunning he got lost in the woods and that is why his friends are doing the shooting for him.

YELLOWJACKETS DEFEAT BOOTHWYN HIGH SCHOOL 32 TO 6 LAST SATURDAY

Brandon Davis Scores Three Times; Cataldi and McKenry Also Tally; George's Passing Proves Sensation—Nelson Lee Dropkicks Goal

The Newark Yellowjackets romped over the Boothwyn goal line at will on the local school athletic field last Saturday when they piled up a 32 to 6 victory over the Pennsylvania team.

Scoring in every period except the last, the Jackets added another victory to their string to make their record four wins and three defeats.

Shortly after the kickoff an exchange of punts gave the Jackets the ball on their own 35 yard line. Roddy Holton and Brandon Davis carried the ball on a series of first downs to the Boothwyn 39 yard line. On the next play a pass from Len George to Buddy Cataldi was good for the first score of the game. A few seconds later another pass from George to Cataldi was good for the extra point.

The Jackets added six more points to the score in the same period when Brandon Davis sneaked off tackle and ran 35 yards for the second score. A pass from George to Vansant for the extra point was no good and the quarter ended with the Jackets ahead 13 to 0.

The Yellowjackets turned on the power again and marched down the field to the 2 yard stripe. Brandon Davis then marked up his second touchdown when he plunged over for the score. Nelson Lee dropkicked the extra point giving the Jackets a 20 to 0 lead over the visitors.

Coach Roland Jackson began sending in his second string men at this period of the game and even the younger boys could not be stopped as a series of first downs by Jay Williams and Gerald Gilston carried the ball to the Boothwyn 17 yard line where Lou McCormick tossed a touchdown pass to McKenry and the half ended with Newark on the long end of a 26 to 0 score.

The local boys slowed up in the rest of the game but not before the Jackets made another tally. This time a 38 yard heave from Len George to Brandon Davis was good for another six pointer. Lee attempted to kick the extra point but it was blocked.

In the final period the Boothwyn team made a valiant attempt to come back. Eugene Brand, Negro captain of the Boothwyn team, put on a display of fine football playing and marched his team on a series of first downs to the Newark six inch line. Ed Pendergast, starting as guard had been shifted to the backfield in the final period and on the next play he carried the ball over for the lone score of the game for the visitors. On the play for the extra point Pendergast fumbled, and the game ended with Newark the victors, 32 to 6.

Highlights of the game were the passing of Newark fullback Len George who heaved two touchdowns passes, while completing many others for substantial gains. Brandon Davis was the running star as well as the scoring leader of the contest. Davis carried the ball for plenty of yardage in addition to chalking up 18 points. Buddy Cataldi, Lou McCormick, Bob McKenry and Nelson Lee also showed up on the scoring end of the game and all members of the squad worked well in helping to pile up the score.

Joseph Talucci, Newark's captain and one of the best centers in scholastic football was out of the game due to injuries but was of invaluable assistance to Coach Jackson from the sidelines. Bill Hamilton, Newark's flashy quarter was also out due to injuries but was put in the game at times to kick for the Jackets.

Newark will end their season on Thanksgiving Day when they will oppose Conrad High School at Richardson Park. The game is scheduled to start at 10 o'clock.

DELAWARE BASKETBALL

30 Players On Squad

Although no official decision has been made regarding basketball for the 1943-'44 season, informal practice started last week at the University of Delaware with a squad of 30 players, most of them with little previous experience.

Numbered among the players are Jerry Bowhus, former Salesianum School athlete, who won individual scoring honors in the Philadelphia Catholic High School League last season; Jim O'Neill, a center from Smyrna High School; Larry Prucino, former Wilmington High School griddier; and Newell Duncan, former William Penn High player.

Ed Prince is supervising the drill and will coach the team in the event a decision is made to play a regular schedule of games.

MACHINERY AUTHORIZED

The war food administration has authorized manufacturers of farm machinery and equipment to distribute 40 percent of production of rationed items through normal distribution channels. They are required first to fill quotas issued them by WFA—which were designed to place rationed machinery and equipment where needed to satisfy state and county quotas established under last year's program. This program will be in effect until a permanent program is completed for distribution of rationed machinery and equipment being produced under Order L-257. These items are still rationed at the dealer's level.

New 13 Pct. Newsprint Cut Confronts Papers

A further curtailment of 13 per cent in the use of newsprint was proposed last week, confronting the nation's newspapers with the prospect of starting the new year with allowances 23 per cent under their 1941 base tonnage.

The curtailment, which will bring some larger papers down 28 per cent under their 1941 base tonnage, was recommended for the first quarter of 1944 by the newspaper industry advisory committee to bring newsprint consumption into balance with the estimated supply, the War Production Board announced.

The recommendation, made at the close of a two-day meeting, was believed certain to be adopted promptly by WPB.

ROTC TEAM CAPTURES GRID TITLE

Samonisky Makes Winning Touchdown

The ROTC team won the University of Delaware intramural football crown this afternoon as they beat the 2-A grid squad by a score of 6-0.

Going into the final minutes with the score tied at 0 to 0, an intercepted pass and run by Seymour Mattusoff put the winners on their opponents 10 yard stripe. Two plays later Bryon Samonisky took the ball on an end run for the winning touchdown.

The ROTC aggregation made up of former Delaware junior ROTC students sent back in the Army Specialized Training program, went through the regular intramural session, plus two play-off games, undefeated and unscored upon.

Continuing its program, the Army Athletic Council at the University has scheduled a basketball tournament and a cross-country run.

SLAUGHTER INCREASED

Great slaughter of beef accounted for two-thirds of a 6,000,000-pound increase in the nation's meat output last week as compared with the preceding week, the War Meat Board reported this week.

The total meat slaughter for last week was 325,000,000 pounds, up 6,000,000 pounds from the previous week, and 18 per cent greater than the production for the corresponding week of 1942.

Of this total beef production amounted to 111,000,000 pounds, as against 107,000,000 pounds the preceding week. Last week's output, however, was 18,000,000 pounds below that of the corresponding 1942 week.

Pork production remained unchanged from the preceding week—186,000,000 pounds—but was 56 percent above that of last year. Lamb and mutton output was 19,000,000 pounds, 19 per cent above the same week last year, and veal was 9,000,000 pounds, down 3,000,000 pounds from the same week of 1942.

Substitutes: Boothwyn: Wimble, Cassidy, Faverio, Heas, Fenimore, Whitby, Chance, Fugs, Newark: W. Hamilton, Lomax, Caskowicz, Crossan, Table, Gilston, McKenry, S. Talucci, McCormick, Williams, Lucas, Lee, Walker. Referee, Kelleher, Mt. St. Mary's, Unipire, Reitzes, Delaware: Head linesman, Russo, Delaware.

PIMLICO WAGERING BREAKS ALL RECORDS

Betting For 50-Day Maryland Racing Totalled $38,373,055

All Pimlico wagering records were broken during the 50-day meet which the four major Maryland tracks jointly conducted at the Baiting track, as the average daily handle reached $870,421, which was per cent higher than the handle during the spring meeting, official figures disclosed last week.

Prior to the five-week meeting which closed November 14, Pimlico had averaged relatively few days on which the betting passed $1,000,000, the largest being the 1921—or Man O'War—Preakness year. But in the season which just closed, the handle surpassed $1,000,000 on six days—five Saturdays and one Thursday.

Because of transportation problems, mile-track racing in Maryland was down from 100 to 50 days during the current year. Total wagering for the 50 days of racing at the Maryland Jockey Club oval in spring and fall meetings was $38,373,055, compared with $42,000,000 in 100 days at four tracks in 1942.

Since the state collects two per cent of the total wagering at the major tracks, this tax in 1943 amounted to $767,461.10, compared with $841,842.42 for twice as long a season in 1942.

Pimlico normally has only 25 days of racing each year, but the legislature permitted 50 days this year since the three other tracks could not operate at their own plants.

Saturday, the closing day, was the biggest betting day with 18,900 persons pouring $1,414,956 through the main windows. That day and the previous Saturday surpassed the 1921 Preakness handle, which had stood as a Maryland record for 22 years.

Attendance at the fall meeting averaged 12,221, a slight decline from 12,424 average of the spring meet, which included a Preakness day which 29,381 persons crowded track.

The final 10 days of Maryland's racing season got under way last Tuesday with Marlboro opening its annual fall meeting.

LILY BOWL GAME

BERMUDA, (Delayed)—Here's a "bowl" game that's not worried about manpower shortages. The second annual Lily Bowl game, between Army and Navy units stationed here, will be played January 2, 1944. It has been announced.

The Army won last year's inaugural game, 19 to 18.

Uniforms for this season's contest have been donated by Fordham University.

FARMERS TO MAKE DECLARATION

Tax Assistant
In Newark
December 1-2-8

Samuel Collison, Collector of Internal Revenue for this District, today issued a notice to all farmers of Delaware, that if their gross income is $1,000 or more, they are obliged to file with the Collector of Internal Revenue a 1040ES Declaration of estimated income for the year of 1943 and to make payment in full on or before Wednesday, December 15, 1943. It is estimated that about 10,000 farmers are obliged to make this declaration. The purpose of the declaration is to get all people on the "Pay-As-You-Go" current tax payment basis. People who are required to make a declaration but fail to do so will find a percent added to their tax. The penalty for failing to pay this tax when due is an additional $2.50 or 2-1-2 percent added to the tax, whichever is greater.

There is also a penalty for making a substantial under-estimate of the amount of tax due. Farmers are given a lee way being allowed to be 33 1-3 percent off before the penalty is asserted. But care should be used to make the estimate as nearly correct to avoid the penalty.

The Collector urges every farmer to study carefully the instructions, with a view to make certain whether or not he or she is obliged by the law to file December 15, 1943 declaration and make payment at that time.

The U. S. Department of Agriculture through the county agents are endeavoring to assist the farmers with their tax problems, together with the assistance of deputy collectors.

Collector Collison has set up a schedule of deputy collectors to sit at the following places to assist the farmers in filing their declarations on time: Dec. 1, 2, 8, Newark; Dec. 6, 7, Middletown; Dec. 1, 2, Harrington; Dec. 3, 8, 10, Dover; Dec. 6, 7, Smyrna; Dec. 8, Clayton; Dec. 1, 2, Delmar; Dec. 3, 4, 10, Laurel; Dec. 6, 7, Seaford; Bridgeville, Dec. 8, 9; Lewes, Dec. 1; Rehoboth, Dec. 2; Selbyville, Dec. 3; Millsboro, Dec. 4; Dagsboro, Dec. 6; Frankford, Dec. 7; Georgetown, Dec. 8, 13; Milford, Dec. 9 and Milford Dec. 10, 11.

NEW ORDER LIMITS COAL

Two-Ton Limit
On Deliveries

Delaware is one of 13 states in the East affected by an announcement today in Washington by the Solid Fuels Administration that stringent new controls over the retail distribution of anthracite which became effective at midnight, November 17.

Consumers using less than 12 tons annually are prohibited from accepting any deliveries if they have two tons or more on hand. Deliveries to eligible recipients will be limited to two tons. The order also specifies that dealers must supply consumers having less than one ton on hand before filling other orders.

The previous controls over anthracite deliveries were exercised by the Office of Price Administration but that agency relinquished this authority to the SFA to centralize responsibility for distribution under one federal agency. The War Production Board approved the transfer of authority.

ELKTON MAY BAN FRAME STRUCTURES

Plans For Rebuilding
Under Way

Adjustors from a dozen fire insurance companies gathered in Elkton last week to view the ruins of 11 business places that were destroyed in Monday night's disastrous fire, the biggest that the town has suffered in the past 25 years.

Groups of visiting telegraph and telephone linemen have arrived in Elkton and are working on restoring their lines, and making temporary quarters for the Western Union Telegraph Company, the office of which was in the fire.

The town authorities are also consulting with those who are planning to rebuild, as it is the intention to permit no more frame structures to be erected on the site of their former place of business.

Plans are being made as soon as insurance adjustments are made to clear up the debris, rebuild and get back into business as quickly as possible—with more modern buildings to replace the frame structures.

The fire was a special blow to three houses which had received much of their Christmas goods on which they carried no insurance.

The 50 war workers who had rooms on the second and third floors of three dwellings, had to seek quarters in other towns as there is not a vacant house or room to be obtained at any price in Elkton.

Many people feel that this winter will prove to be one of the most critical stages of the war. Your continued cooperation in the Conservation Program is more important than ever!

At the present time we have an adequate supply of gas and electricity to take care of all foreseeable needs. But, any reduction which you can safely effect in your use . . . reduces the amount of fuel needed to make them. This means fewer freight cars needed for hauling—fewer man hours for handling. Cars and men are thus released for the war effort. This is why our Government has asked seven major industries—coal, petroleum, transportation, communications, gas, electricity and water to cooperate for wartime conservation. This is how you help when you conserve electricity and gas.

What YOU save—multiplied by millions of other Americans makes a real contribution to the war effort. Help win the war—by Saving More!

HOCKESSIN GIRL WINS 4-H TRIP TO CHICAGO

Hannah Mitchell To Attend The National Club Congress Nov. 26

Miss Hannah Mitchell, local leader of the White Oak 4-H Club at Hockessin, has been awarded a trip to the National 4-H Club Congress in Chicago, November 26 to December 4, for her outstanding leadership work, according to a recent announcement from C. E. McCauley, county club agent supervisor for the Delaware Agricultural Extension Service.

The activities of Miss Mitchell's club members are proof of the fine contribution she has made to the national war effort as well as to the lives of the boys and girls whose work she guides.

There are twenty members in the White Oak Club. Ten of them raised gardens for their families and canned for winter use. Seven of the girls canned a total of 818 quarts of food. Seven girls learned to make their own clothes, saving manufacturing facilities as well as money, in sewing projects. Three participated in the State Dress Revue, and one was New Castle County winner. Several members raised poultry for meat and egg production, swine for meat, and corn for livestock feed. The club had 100 per cent completion on records.

Special war activities of the club included collection of 4,900 pounds of scrap, 360 pounds of rubber, and 16 pounds of fat. The group has bought a total of $1,197.25 in War Bonds. Two girls have helped make Red Cross surgical dressings, and one member sewed for the Needlework Guild.

The club held a fair in September, with exhibits by 19 of the 20 members, and a special program for the public.

Social activities have included presentation of a play for parents' night, a program this month for the Harmony Grange, and an entertainment for the Southern Chester County 4-H Club from Pennsylvania.

In these and the numerous other activities of the club, Miss Mitchell has given freely of her time and energy.

terian Church in the Witherspoon Building, Philadelphia.

The subject of Dr. Pears' address, Dr. Francis Alison, was born in Donegal County, Ireland, in 1705, and was educated at the University of Glasgow, Scotland. At the age of thirty he came to America, settling first in Talbot County, Maryland, where he was a tutor in the family of Samuel Dickinson. Moving to New London, Pennsylvania, he married Hannah Armitage of New Castle, Delaware. At New London in 1937 he was licensed to

Movies Shown At High School Assembly Program

The regular weekly assembly program at the Newark High School this week consisted of the showing of three moving picture films. The titles of the films were: "A Ring of Steel"; "Tanks" and "The U. S. Marine Hymn".

Carlton E. Douglass, superintendent of Newark Schools spoke at the opening of the assembly and made several announcements.

CHILDREN COLLECT SCRAP

Carlton E. Douglass, superintendent of Newark Schools has announced that about ten tons of scrap metals were collected in the recent drive for scrap materials. The collection was made by school children under the direction of Mr. Douglass.

prouch, and he remained there until 1752, when he was called to Philadelphia.

Dr. Alison was later chosen vice-president of the College of Philadelphia, now the University of Pennsylvania. A contemporary, President Stiles of Yale, described him as "the greatest Classical Scholar in America, especially in Greek."

The New London Academy was officially adopted by the Synod of Philadelphia and was granted special recognition by Yale University. After Alison's departure it was continued by the Rev. Alexander McDowell, by whom it was moved first to Cecil County, Maryland, and then to Newark, Delaware. In the latter place it was granted a charter in 1769 by Governor John Penn. Among those donating money to it were Dr. Samuel Johnson, the lexicographer, and King George III. In 1833 New Ark College was chartered by the Delaware General Assembly and in the next year the Academy and College were merged as one institution. The collegiate department was temporarily closed in 1859 but the preparatory department continued to operate until 1870 when it was again established as the independent Newark Academy upon the reopening of Delaware College. The Women's College of Delaware, founded in 1914, and Delaware College were incorporated as the University of Delaware by action of the Delaware legislature on March 28, 1921. Newark Academy was closed in 1898, but a Board of Trustees still functions for the purpose of administering the Academy's property. The members of this board are Daniel Thompson, chairman, J. Pearce Cann, A. Frank Fader, John K. Johnston, and Howard K. Preston, all of Newark. Minutes of their meetings are still entered in a minute book in which entries were begun in 1783.

Among the objects which will be on exhibit for the public in the Memorial Library on the evening of November 23 are the 1789 charter of the Academy, the original appeal for funds addressed to "all pious and charitable Christians in Great-Britain and Ireland" in 1773, portraits of Alison and many of his distinguished students, a rare pamphlet written by Dr. Alison, old Academy and College Catalogues, manuscript account books and day books of the Academy, and various other manuscript and printed materials illustrating the history of both the Academy and the College.

CORRECTION URGED FOR FLOCKS OF EGG EATERS

Habit Often Becomes Serious Fall Problem To Poultrymen

"Egg eating is often a serious fall problem of the poultryman," says Edmund Hoffman, assistant research poultryman for the Delaware Agricultural Experiment Station. "It may force him to take a large daily egg loss or to slaughter his flock."

Some flocks begin to eat eggs when the shells are extremely thin. Either feed or housing conditions may cause the thin shell. The amount of calcium and ratio between calcium and phosphorus in the diet should be checked, as should the vitamin D intake, which plays an important part in proper calcification of the egg shell. High temperature may cause thin shells in summer. If the house can be opened in the back to provide cross ventilation the inside temperature of the laying house can be lowered and shell thickness improved.

Egg breakage in the nests also encourages the habit of egg eating. Supply one nest to every five layers, and keep them full of clean litter. If egg breakage occurs year after year, the nests should be darkened.

Whether or not the cause of egg eating can be determined, Mr. Hoffman recommends one or both of these two correction measures. The leaders can be removed and isolated—they can be recognized by the dried yolk on their beaks and head feathering. Or the entire flock may be debeaked so that they cannot break the egg shells. This operation is performed by cutting one side of the end of the beak with a penknife and pulling off the tip of the beak so that the "quick" of the upper mandible is exposed. By the time the birds grow new tips to their beaks they will have forgot the habits.
