New Complex Cost Demands Board Hike, Application Fee

The University expects to have another five-unit dormitory and dining hall available for occupancy in Sept. 1963, to meet the needs of its rapidly growing student body.

Announcement of plans to accommodate an additional 550 resident students was made following the semi-annual meeting of the university's board of trustees.

To finance construction of the new dormitory and dining hall which will be comparable to the recently completed Harrington Hall complex, the university has applied to the Housing and Home Finance Agency for loan assistance in the amount of $2,520,000.

President John A. Perkins explained that the university is utilizing this method of enlarging its dormitory accommodations on a self-liquidating basis to keep to a minimum requests to the state for additional capital appropriations or further drain the all-too-limited educational funds available.

Total costs of the new building and its furnishings is estimated at $3,200,000. It will be located on the East Campus adjacent to Colburn Hall and approximately opposite Harrington Hall.

Several fee changes were authorized by the trustees affecting room and board for all university students and room rentals for out-of-state students to help self-finance the new structure.

Allan Goldman Fills IFC Post Stetson Veeps

ALLAN GOLDMAN

In a special election meeting, the Inter-Fraternity Council elected Allan Goldman, AS2, president to fill out the expired term of the resigning president, Ken Sutton.

Lee Stetson, AS3, was elected vice-president, replacing John Stieglitz. Stetson had opposed Goldman for the presidency.

Carl Blumiller, AS2, retains his post as secretary. A new treasurer will be chosen at the next IFC meeting on Tuesday to replace Goldman. Nominees for this office are Richard McCarthy, EC3, and Carl Thompson, AS3.

The new president is a member of the Alpha Epsilon Pi fraternity and has represented his fraternity for two years in the Council. He was selected treasurer last year. He is a residence hall adviser and was a Junior Counsellor last year.

Stetson is a member of the Sigma Nu fraternity and served as his fraternity's alternate to the Council this year. He chaired the IFC constitution committee and the president of his freshman class,

Annual Concert Voices Music Of Bach, Britten

By DAN GUTZKE

CONCERT CHOIR

Mitchell Hall will be the scene of the annual Christmas concerts by the University Concert Choir with orchestra, on Wednesday and Thursday evenings at 8:15.

Have Bus, Train Will Travel Home

The office of the Dean of students and the Student Center Travel Committee have announced that special transportation for Christmas Recess has been arranged for students desiring to return home by bus or train.

Similar return arrangements have been made for the return to school on New Years Day. A train will stop in Newark at the Pennsylvania Railroad Station on Friday and Saturday afternoons. Buses to the Wilmington Railroad station, to the Newark Railroad Station and a special bus to lower Delaware will leave from the Student Center on both days.

Reservations must be made by Monday. Both information and reservations can be obtained at the Main Desk of the Student Center or in the Office of the Dean.

Annual Holiday Dance Features Lee Vincent

By DICK JOHNSON

The Lee Vincent Band will set the pace tomorrow night at the Holiday Ball, this year's annual Christmas dance. The ball will be held in the Dover Room of the Student Center from 8 to 12 p.m. Dress for the dance is semi-formal. Tickets for the ball will be on sale at the S.C. Main Desk and at the dance for $2.50 each.

For six consecutive years, Lee Vincent Band has been chosen to open the season at the famed Steel Pier in Atlantic City. Eddie Fisher, The Ames Brothers, The Four Aces, Bill Haley and His Comets, George Shearing, Nat King Cole, The Fontaine Sisters, Joni James and many other outstanding stars have been featured with the Lee Vincent Band.

Boasting all types of music, from jazz to rock and roll, the band is a favorite on many campuses. Lee Vincent has played at Cornell, Colgate, Temple, Bucknell, Lehigh, Penn State, Maryland, and many other colleges.

He and his band have cut several records including his well known album "Collector's Club." The Lee Vincent Band has a crew of twelve. The band features Howard Williams, trombonist; Conrad Kish, pianist; Johnny Tearpock, Trumpeter; Lenny Sabel, saxophonist; and Frank Casty, clarinetist. Vocals are done by the Vincent Choir, and Vincent himself.

Lee graduated from bass man with such bands as that of the late "Hot Lips" Page to baton man of his own band. He and his band have appeared on Paul Whiteman's "Best Bands of the Land" Show.

Tom Rodgers, who replaces Don Schnetzer as social committee chairman of the Student Center council wishes to emphasize that the invitations mailed to all resident men students for the Holiday Ball are exactly what they say—invitations, not free tickets. They have been mailed by the S.C. publicity committee to remind the men of the dance.

Aid Recipients

Students who will need financial assistance in order to return for the second semester may secure financial aid applications from the Office of the Dean of Students.

UD To Represent India In Assembly That Calls For Student Diplomats

By GAIL THOMPSON

Competition for diplomatic university students to represent India at the model General Assembly held in New York City on March 22-25 has been opened to the entire campus.

Under the direction of Dr. Ralph Purcell, Political Science department chairman and assisted by Carol Patlan, president of the inter-national relations club, briefing sessions will be held weekly in the Faculty Lounge of the Student Center. The first session is Dec. 14 at 8 p.m. A special background in Indian affairs is not necessary to qualify.

"Because varied backgrounds of delegates is wanted, every student at the university is eligible to compete," stated Miss Patlan. Selection will be based on participation in briefing sessions, attendance and performance on a paper concerned with Indian neutrality. The final selection of eight students will be made in February. Overall, Miss Patlan stressed the need for good diplomats.

The briefing sessions will include a special high level briefing at the Indian Embassy in Washington, D.C. which has been arranged by D.N. Chatterjee, Political Minister of the Embassy.

The Assembly will be held in the United Nations and the Hotel Commodore in New York. During the three-day Assembly, a delegate should forget that he is an American and assume the attitude of the nation he represents, both in committee meetings and plenary sessions (general sessions), stated Miss Patlan.

LEE VINCENT and his band will entertain tomorrow evening at the Holiday Ball.

HOWARD H. SIMON

AEPI Elects Simon As Master Of House For Coming Year

Howard H. Simon, AS3, has been elected master of the Alpha Epsilon Pi fraternity for the coming year. He is presently Business Manager of the Review and served as Lieutenant master for the past year.

The election was moved up from second semester to allow new officers an opportunity to formulate policy and to receive training from the old executive board according to Mr. Simon.

Elected to executive positions in the fraternity are: Joel Knispel, AS3, lieutenant master; Sheldon Weintraub, AS4, exchequer; Steven Mallis, AS4, scribe; Robert Handloff, AS4, member-at-large; Michael Cohen, EG4, will serve as pledge-master.

Also elected were: Jerry Federlein, AS4, alternate to IFC; Alan Liebman, AS4, corresponding scribe; Jeff Friedhoffer, EG3, house manager; and Robert Lovinger, AS3, sentinel.

Wilm. Playhouse Features James Thurber's Scenes

A special bus will take those students interested in seeing "A Thurber Carnival" at the Wilmington Playhouse tonight, Sandy Blank, Student Center Travel Committee Chairman, announced.

The bus will leave the student center parking lot at 7:15 p.m. Tickets for the trip and play can be purchased at Mitchell Hall.

Starring Imogene Coca, Arthur Teacher and King Donovan, "A Thurber Carnival" is a play of sixteen scenes and skits by the late American humorist, James Thurber. The unrelated comical skits include "If Grant Had Been Drinking at Appomattox."

Ed Mullins (left) guest actor, will portray Stephan Douglas in the Lincoln-Douglas debate scene of the Pulitzer Prize winning play. Abe Lincoln in Illinois. Jack Erthal, senior drama major, plays Lincoln in the ES2 production that plays tonight and tomorrow starting at 8:15 p.m. in Mitchell Hall.

Problems Committee To Maintain Standards

Maintaining and preserving high standards of conduct and assisting in the development of character are functions of the Student Personnel Problems Committee, in addition to its familiar disciplinary function.

Dr. Albert Branca, Associate professor of psychology, committee chairman, states that the disciplinary service includes reviewing infractions of all university regulations and punishing offenders to prevent the recurrence of the nonconforming behavior. A counseling service is also provided to make adjustment more successful.

"Since University of Delaware students are not a random sample of American youth, their behavior should not be just OK," He adds, "The committee has the obligation to maintain high standards and to preserve the campus for present and future students to enjoy. We are called upon to define and set conduct." He also included that providing rules helps to speed up maturation of the students.

PROBLEMS

Confronting the committee most often, Dr. Branca says, are students suspected of plagiarism. "There is no room for academic dishonesty on this campus," he declares.

Students who are found disobeying the clearly stated rules concerning drinking are frequently before this body. The committee believes the purpose of these rules to be protecting the students and the reputation of the university.

Stealing, misuse of university property, girls leaving the dormitory at improper times, and violation of auto regulations are still more problems which confront the committee.

NEW PROCEDURE

To insure better student-faculty communications, the committee has initiated the practice of notifying the faculty advisor of student offenders to attend the hearings.

Dr. Branca states that this policy allows the advisor to hear the student testimony and to make a statement of the offender's past record at the university. In this way, the advisor and the committee are better able to understand the particular case.

Committee action may range from a reprimand to expulsion from the university. Once judgment is passed, Dr. Branca reminds us that a case is not closed. Students who are suspended may be readmitted after a stated length of time if the committee feels they have matured sufficiently to benefit from college.

COMMITTEE MEMBERS

In addition to the chairman, faculty and administrative members of the committee include: John E. Hocutt, dean of students; Bessie B. Collins, dean of women; Mary E. Wines, associate professor of clothing; Paul L. Bolgiano, associate professor of electrical engineering; Milo R. Lude, assistant professor of physical education and athletics; and William E. McDaniel, chairman and professor of agricultural economics.

Student committee members are Barbara Starzmann, HE2; Barry Riebmman, AS2; Sandra Salzenberg, AS3; and Hayler Osborn, AS4.

Faculty members are chosen by the university committee on committees while student representatives are nominated each year by a branch of S. G. A.

Results Announced In Bridge Contest

Results of last Friday's bridge tournament in the faculty lounge were: first place north-south pair Henry Richmond, GR, and Robert Megill, GR, (102 match points); east-west Mickey Leving, AS3, and Jerry Kissel, AE4 (87-1/2 match points).

Ray Johnson, 4-H, Awarded $400 Leadership Scholarship

Ray Johnson, junior agriculture major, was honored with a $400 scholarship from the national 4-H leadership program.

The program was sponsored by The Sears-Roebuck Foundation. The scholarship was awarded at the 40th National 4-H Club Congress in Chicago.

Ray has worked in 4-H for 11 years. He has completed projects in home improvement, beautification of home grounds, electricity, health, safety, financial records, leadership and citizenship.

In 1956 he was a delegate to the National 4-H Club Congress as a Delaware state winner in home improvement. In 1957 he was a delegate to the National 4-H Conference in Washington, D.C. He has twice been state leadership winner and was state citizenship winner in 1959. He is the current state 4-H vice president.

Beverly King, daughter of J. Robert King, associate professor of music at the university, was Delaware's dress revue winner and participated

'Roman Holiday' Next S.C. Film

The Academy Award winning picture, "Roman Holiday," will be the Student Center Film Committee's flick for next week. It will be shown in the small cafeteria of the S. C. on Monday and Tuesday night, Dec. 11, and 12, at 8:00 p.m. Donation admission will be ten cents.

"Roman Holiday" stars Audrey Hepburn, whose part in the film won her an Emmy, and Gregory Peck. The film will be shown two nights because of the success of the last S. C. movie "Mr. Roberts."

Seminar Hosts Two Lecturers

The Philosophy of Science seminar at the university hosted two distinguished lecturers this week.

H. Bentley Glass, professor of biology at Johns Hopkins University spoke on "Physics and the Life Sciences: Their Interrelation" Tuesday, and Antony G. N. Flew, professor of philosophy at the University of North Staffordshire, England, discussed "From Malthus to Darwin" Thursday.

Dr. Glass is recognized as one of the leaders in the study of biology and genetics in this country. He recently addressed a meeting of American scientists in Washington, D. C. on the genetic hazards of radiation, and last July attended an international conference of scientists on topics of international cooperation and disarmament.

Dr. Flew is instructor of honors students in philosophy of science. The Britisher has taught in this country at the Minnesota Center for the Philosophy of Science, and at New York University. He received the John Locke Scholarship in Mental Philosophy in 1948.

RAY JOHNSON

in the 15th anniversary National 4-H dress revue.

She modeled a suit of green Botany wool. The straight waist-length jacket with elbow length sleeves and two large buttons closed at the left side front below a collarless neckline. A scarf added interest, wrapping around the neckline. The easy fitting skirt and soft inverted dart pleats at the side front and side back. The scarf and jacket were lined in a beige cotton-acetate blend with green polka-dots. Beverly chose long beige gloves and bone colored calf pumps as accessories. She has participated in dress revues for five years and plans to major in home economics at the university next year.

Grange Banquet Hears Caldwell

Dr. John T. Caldwell, chancellor of North Carolina State College and president-elect of the American Association of Land-Grant Colleges and State Universities, was the featured speaker at the University of Delaware - Delaware Grange banquet on Wednesday.

Grange members from all parts of the state joined representatives of home economics, agriculture, engineering, education, and government in recognizing the centennial celebration of the Morrill Land-Grant College Act of 1862 which brought public higher education within the reach of all Americans.

Attending the meeting were Governor Elbert N. Carvel, members of the General Assembly, and members of the university's administration and board of trustees. Dr. George M. Worrlow, vice president for university relations was toastmaster and President John A. Perkins introduced the speaker.

Among the highlights of the program was the presentation of Community Service, Future Farmers of America and 4-H Club awards to statewide winners by Paris C. Kirby, master of the Delaware State Grange. Other Grange officials participating were Charles Maske, lecturer, and Elwood Coulbourn, chaplain.

Dr. Caldwell has headed North Carolina State since 1959, having previously served as president of the University of Arkansas and Alabama College at Montevello. He holds degrees from Mississippi State College, Duke, Columbia and Princeton.

Dr. S. Prove

Dr. William S. Caldwell, U.S. Army, after a long career in the military, settled Tuesday in the Mid-Atlantic region.

Dr. Caldwell is rest, the Forestry proved Institute of the leading Pennsylvania quar university yield iting Scho hands sponsored pass- ence and parments, Colonel R.

Dr. Kintner Describes Protracted Conflict

Dr. William R. Kintner (Colonel, U.S. Army, Retired) spoke to faculty and students last Tuesday on the Communist threat.

Dr. Kintner, a member of the Foreign Policy Research Institute of the University of Pennsylvania and visiting this university as part of the Visiting Scholar Program co-sponsored by the Military Science and Political Science Departments, was introduced by Colonel Ragsdale, Professor of Military Science and Tactics.

COMMUNIST STRATEGY

According to Dr. Kintner, the Communists are waging a "protracted conflict," whereby a weaker power supplants a stronger power in a long period of time. They have blended theories of revolution and military tradition into a sophisticated force that has gained much since World War II. Communism plans to destroy the West by non-military means, attempting to confuse the purposes of free countries by alternating periods of peace and tension. The Communists will not risk all-out nuclear war, but will rather try to overcome the West piecemeal by inciting internal wars of national liberation such as the Cuban revolution.

WHAT CAN WE DO?

Dr. Kintner stated that our cause was not hopeless, but that we faced a long difficult struggle that will call for all of our resources. We must maintain a materialistic power position, that is, economic superiority over the Communists. Presently the United States is too idealistic in foreign policies, and within the country there is no consensus on what needs to be done. The Communist threat must be realized, and the American citizen must want to do something about it.

Mortar Board Fetes Dean's List Women

Mortar Board tea for sophomore and junior dean's list women was held on Tues., Nov. 21, in Thompson Lounge.

Sharon Cohen, sophomore biology major from Bridgeton, N.J., was awarded a $25 check by Jean Cozza, Mortar Board president, for having attained the highest cumulative index in the Class of 1964. Miss Cohen is a member of Beta Beta Beta and Hillel.

Miss Pat McPherson, instructor in philosophy, led a discussion of leadership pertaining chiefly to the importance of the individual whom one is serving within the organization. Miss McPherson pointed out that the purpose of any system or organization is to serve best the needs of the individuals who compose the system, and that when the system itself becomes more important than the individual, when persons or individual rights are being neglected, the system has lost its value.

Miss McPherson graduated from Smith College in 1957, and obtained her Masters Degree at the University of Delaware in 1960.

Faculty To Hold Christmas Dance

The University of Delaware faculty club will hold its annual Christmas dinner and dance Saturday evening, December 9 at the New Harrington Dormitory.

Music for dinner and dancing will be provided by George Madden's orchestra. A program "Christmas Dolls" will be presented by the university's modern dance group, under the direction of Mrs. Janet Pholeric, instructor in women's physical education.

Christmas decorations will include a tree, table arrangements, and candles. Faculty members who have not made reservations should contact Mrs. Elizabeth Bohning, department of modern languages and literature.

SCAD Reps Go To Dover Lobby For Civil Rights Bill

By BETSY PILAT

Nine representatives from the Student Committee Against Discrimination (SCAD) traveled to the State Legislature in Dover Tuesday to lobby for the passage of a Delaware Civil Rights bill.

Banding together with the SCAD group were 66 students from the predominantly Negro Delaware State College. A joint petition was drawn up, signed, and presented to state lawmakers. It reads:

"We the undersigned students of the University of Delaware and Delaware State College asked the Revised Statutes Committee to report House Bill #422, the 'Delaware Civil Rights Law,' to the floor of the House of Representatives with a favorable recommendation. We further ask both the House and the Senate to pass this bill."

Introduced by Representative Paul Livingston and co-sponsored by the entire Wilmington delegation, the Civil Rights bill calls for equal accommodation in almost all sectors of public life: from beer gardens and ice cream parlors, to barber shops and shooting galleries.

Nora Sutton, senior history major and corresponding secretary for SCAD, "gained the impression that chances were extremely good for the bill being reported out of committee and onto the floor this session." Miss Sutton urged a student letter writing campaign to state legislators in support of the bill.

NSA Sponsors Student Seminar On Civil Liberties

The United States National Student Association will sponsor a conference for students on civil liberties in Philadelphia, December 9, 1961. The conference theme will be: Civil Liberties, The Individual and Society.

The conference, co-sponsored by the Pennsylvania-West Virginia Region and the National Office of USNSA, will be open to all college and high school students who wish to attend.

SCAD delegates and the membership of an NAACP Interest Group from Delaware State College managed to buttonhole four out of the five members of the Revised Statutes Committee, as well as "dozens" of other congressmen, Robert Davidson, Chairman of the Revised Statutes Committee, held a half hour meeting with the 75 member student pressure group.

Jim White, chemical engineering graduate student and chairman of SCAD, reported that Representative Davidson "seemed to realize the problem of discrimination in Delaware."

Concluding their lobbying stint, all 75 students packed the spectators gallery of the House in the State Legislative Hall.

Students representing SCAD were invited to dinner at Delaware State College and plans were made there for a statewide collegiate organization to eliminate discrimination in Delaware.

Duane Nichols, graduate student in chemical engineering, said that "contracts have also been made with Wesley College in Dover, and a joint meeting of students from all three schools is hoped for next week."

Education Society Initiates Pledges

Kappa Delta Pi, the national education honor society initiated twenty-two new members yesterday. The initiation in the Warner Faculty Lounge was followed by a dinner at the Colony Inn, Newark.

The initiates had been pledged November 30 at a tea also held in the Warner Faculty Lounge. They are: seniors in education, Virginia Burbridge, Barbara de Courcelle, Sylvia Du Ross, Judy Frederick, Judy Jewett, Patricia McNertney; seniors in arts and science, Jean Cozza, Becky H. Scarborough, Ann Simpson.

Seniors in home economics include: Anne Nelson; juniors in education, A. Jane Barker, Patricia Coyne, Roberta Kappel, Pamela Stavrou, Alice Hall; juniors in arts and science, Phyllis Batten, Elizabeth Cassidy, Emily Fish, Penny Hummer, Judy Mullan, Jean Wooten, Kay Salvatore.

Freshman ROTC Cadets Receive Marksmanship Expert Honors

As part of the marksmanship program of the basic ROTC course, 294 freshmen cadets fired the M1 rifle on the familiarization course rifle range at New Castle during the weeks of November 6th and 13th.

This program was designed to further acquaint the freshman with this rifle and show him what it will do. For most of the cadets, this was a completely new experience. 18 cadets qualified as experts, 21 as sharpshooters, and 56 as marksmen, while the remaining 199 made excuses.

RIISING COSTS

The university recently announced plans for building another five unit dormitory and dining hall similar to the Harrington complex for occupancy in the fall of 1963.

In addition to an application for loan assistance in the amount of $2,520,000, the trustees have asked for increases in the room and board charges for state as well as out-of-state students to help self-finance the project. Residents must pay an additional $20, and non-residents, $70 per year, starting next year.

Increases in fees are to be expected of any growing university and in fact many institutions periodically make substantial increases in tuition rates as well as room and board charges. This is something that must be tolerated by students who in reality do not incur the full expense of their college education.

Delaware students especially should be understanding in regard to the increase in charges. This university is among the least expensive in this area, even for out-of-state students. For example Columbia University recently announced a tuition increase for most of its branches from $1450 to $1700 per year. This change for tuition alone tops the total cost of fees, tuition, room and board at Delaware for non-residents by $400 and for residents by $750.

We are aware of the great period of growth in which the university finds itself and recognize the need for expansion of the physical plant. This is seen as a necessary concomitant to increased enrollment if instruction and facilities are to be improved. In view of the pressing need for funds for financing these projects it is noteworthy that student fees have remained at a relatively constant level and that the trustees have exercised restraint with regard to the rising costs to students.

SATURDAY'S SEMINAR

Congratulations to the SGA Senate for its Seminar program organized by the Cabinet. The three-hour intellectual exercise was most successful. Approximately 100 people attended.

Several students commented that the individual discussion groups deviated from what they had anticipated. In fact, almost all of them turned out to be bull sessions disguised by dress-up clothes. But what's wrong with that? How could any student lose with two qualified members leading an informal discussion? To paraphrase Wayne Callaway, "The challenge to glean every bit of information from these faculty members was the success. Good planning was also evident by intelligently having the discussion kept generalized, and likewise having the discussion groups deal with specifics."

What did the seminar mean to those who attended?

It was an opportunity to exchange opinions and have them either reaffirmed or stifled by qualified persons. It opened a way to creative thinking, formulation of ideas and making critical judgements on expressed opinions!

As for improvements in the future, we suggest that seminars deal with more specific topics. It would be significant to see more Saturday morning programs organized where students can discuss with the faculty on an equal footing. The status quo of informality, no special preparation and good keynote speakers is most conducive to student participation.

Letters To The Editor

TO THE EDITOR

In The Review of Nov. 17, your Sports Editor stated that the Lambert Cup balloting showed Delaware trailing "Amherst, Lehigh, and Albright, whoever they are."

I would like to point out that on the gridiron Albright now dominates the Northern College Division of the Middle Atlantic Conference. They not only captured the division championship the last three years, but also sported a perfect season in 1960, and remained undefeated through 1961. Their undefeated streak, the longest in the nation, now stands at 21 games.

Your Sports Editor may continue to refer to Albright as a small, small college, but don't wonder who we are.

TO THE EDITOR

Allow me to introduce myself. My name is Hiroshi Kawamoto, aged 22, and I am a Japanese student aspiring to correspond with Americans.

I have been prompted to write this letter to you by a sincere desire to do my share toward strengthening even further the ties of friendship that keeps your nation and mine united as brothers.

I am particularly interested in American life, how Americans live at home, how they think, what they wear, the kind of music they listen to, the types of programs that are telecast, the books they read, the hobbies they pursue, etc.

I sincerely beseech you to help me in my quest for knowledge, as well as in my attempt to improve my knowledge of the English language.

This letter--poor that it is--was written with the aforementioned ideals in mind.

Trusting that you will kindly write to me, and offering you my lasting friendship, I remain,

Status of Women Changes As Wives Turn Professional

By DENISE GRANKE

Gone are the days -- of hand washing, horse and open carriage transportation, one-room school houses, and women whose place was in the home.

This was the conclusion of a panel discussion held in Harrington Lounge on "The Working Wife." The panel was sponsored by the organization of "Professional Purpose of Women and the Harrington Dormitory Committee."

Today's world is getting smaller and becoming more modern. It is changing, and so are the roles and status of its women.

Slowly disappearing is the belief that the female is inferior. This is the result of changes in the popular ideas concerning her intellectual capacities and her emotional traits.

Women now constitute an essential and distinctive part of the manpower source. It is no longer a disgrace for a woman to work outside of the home, in fact, it is expected that young women work until they are married and possibly even afterwards.

This change has been brought about by changes in economy, technical advances, education, growth in urban population, world wars and the Korean Conflict, as well as the changing marriage and childbearing patterns.

One of the main concerns with the working mother is the effect of her absence on the children. The panel agreed that the high incidence of juvenile delinquency was not a result of the increase in the number of working mothers. Just as many delinquent children come from home where the mother is at home the entire day.

Holiday Marks Syrian Defeat In Jewish Love

By KENNETH LUTZ

HANUKKAH MEMORIAL

In 168 B.C.E. the Syrians and their Hellenite allies, under the orders of King Antiochus IV, took over Jerusalem and erected an altar to "Zeus Olympians" in the Temple. Any Jew who would not worship this idol was executed or forced to flee into the hills for protection. In their desire to conquer all of Judea and Palestine, similar moves by Syrian soldiers soon took place in the smaller towns. Finally in a small town when a few Syrian troops began to erect an altar in the Temple, the priest Mattathias and his five sons led the townspeople in revolt, killing all the Syrians there. Mattathias organized a small army, winning many victories and increasing rapidly in number, strength, and courage. Mattathias, however, died and was succeeded by one of his sons, Judah, the Maccabee, who soon led the army in driving out the Syrians and Hellenites from Jerusalem, exactly three years after the Syrians erected their altar. They immediately purged the Temple and erected a new altar. Only one small cruse of consecrated oil could be found still intact - enough to burn in the Temple menorah for only one day. Miraculously, however, it burned for eight days until the priests could prepare some more.

Judah and the elders of the congregation declared that their day of victory would be celebrated annually with joy and merriment as a memorial of the dedication of the Altar and the purification of the Sanctuary. Although Hanukkah marks an important event in Jewish history, it is not a purely religious holiday because of its military significance.

Every sundown during the eight day celebration, Jews light candles in a Hanukkah menorah (Candelabrum) on the first night, two the second, and so on until eight candles are lit. This increasing order of kindling reflects upon the faith of Israel in a brighter future. In addition, every night another candle is lit first, and then used to light the other tapers, thus creating other flames without losing any of its own brightness. This ceremonial signifies that man can give his love to his fellow men without losing anything of himself.

As Christmas vacation draws near, it is time for the freshmen to start doing some serious thinking about fraternities. The Christmas vacation is an ideal time to talk over fraternities with your parents.

Fraternities at the University of Delaware offer a number of advantages. The first of these is brotherhood; but scholarship, social gatherings, and the many other aspects of fraternity life should not be overlooked.

The fraternity system is always striving to improve itself. One method of improving is to obtain capable new members. Remember get that index. We'll be looking forward to seeing you next semester.

ALPHA EPSILON PI

As the veil of social dormancy is finally lifted and the big blue door swings open, AEPI promptly closes it to keep out the winter winds. Inside, the Apes start planning a social calendar to bring joy and spirit back to its rightful home. The brothers feel it is their duty to inform the campus that they have several months of twisting stored up inside them and will be rocking when they will officially open their social season in order to enthrall the freshmen girls with their effervescent charms. The time is Sunday,

Dec. 10, 2-4:30 p.m.

This has been an unpaid propaganda announcement.

ALPHA TAU OMEGA

Last Wednesday night the Taus serenaded Fran Whitaker, HE3, and Barbara Hay, AS4, who are pinned to Alumni Brother Eric Mayhew and Chip Crellin, AS3.

Congratulations to Brothers Sam Allen, Captain of this year's team; Rich Jones; King

Boynton; Roby Roberson; and Pledge Brother Buddy Gordon, for their fine play on the Soccer Team.

This Wednesday night the Taus will hold their annual scholarship dinner. Each semester the brothers are paired off, matching indexes, and the one coming out with the highest index next semester gets a free dinner. Brother Dallas is this week's winner of the ATO poetry contest.

DELTA TAU DELTA

The Delts will present a concert by the "Highwaymen" on January 6 from 8:30 to 11:30 p.m. at the Student Center. The "Highwaymen's" record "Michael" is climbing to the two million mark in sales, and their release "Gypsy Rover" shows signs of being an equal success. Tickets for the concert will go on sale today.

The Delts are happy to announce the pinnings of Brother Jay Balder, EG3, to Barbara Verlane, AS5, and Brother Richard McCarthy to Patricia Christain, HE3.

KAPPA ALPHA

Tonight the annual Christmas Party will be held at the KAastle from 8 until 11:30 p.m. As in previous years, Santa will pay us a visit distributing gifts to the girls.

Recently the brothers and pledges of Beta Epsilon have been busy completing the addition to our basement. Most of the paneling work has been done and soon we will have the additional room for our parties.

PHI KAPPA TAU

Our fall pledge class will be initiated today. The brothers proudly extend their welcome to J. Robert Crossan, AG4, Wayne L. Currey, AG4, Theodore J. Pochinski, AG4, and Hans E. Skirstad, AS, an exchange student from Norway. These are the sleepy looking young men you see walking around campus in tuxedos today.

Congratulations to Bob Voorhees, AS3, who replaces Nick Vouras, AS2, as Social Chairman. Brother Vouras is now enjoying a stay in the US Navy.

PI KAPPA ALPHA

Last Wednesday night the Pikes pledged John Felten, EG4; John Melson, AG4; and Charles Pie, AS3.

Tonight the Pikes will hold their annual Christmas Party at the Peak from 8 to 11:30 p.m.; a hayride was held last Saturday night.

Our amateur musicians were given a lift this week, as we received a piano compliment of Brother Jamison's parents. They also donated a television set for our T.V. room.

SIGMA PHI EPSILON

The Red Door swings open tonight for a house party in the Christmas spirit. The combo will be "Vie and the Versatiles".

Henry Maier, AS3, has been appointed as the Junior member to the pledge committee.

Congratulations to Bobbin Kelly and Harold Smith, AS3, on their recent pinning.

WHITNEY AIRCRAFT

Almost every scientifically trained man can find stimulating and rewarding career opportunities within the broad spectrum of Pratt & Whitney Aircraft activities.

From the solid foundation of 36 years as a world leader in flight propulsion systems, P&WA development activities and research investigations today are far ranging. In addition to continuing and concentrated development effort on air breathing and rocket engines, new and exciting avenues are being explored in every field of advanced aerospace, marine, and industrial power applications.

The reach of the future ahead is indicated by current programs. Presently, Pratt & Whitney Aircraft is exploring the fringe areas of technical knowledge in magnetohydrodynamics . . . thermionics and thermo-electric conversions . . . hypersonic propulsion . . . fuel cells and nuclear power.

To help move tomorrow closer to today, we continually seek ambitious young engineers and scientists. Your degree? It can be in: MECHANICAL ■ AERONAUTICAL ■ ELECTRICAL ■ CHEMICAL and NUCLEAR ENGINEERING ■ PHYSICS ■ CHEMISTRY ■ METALLURGY ■ CERAMICS ■ MATHEMATICS ■ ENGINEERING SCIENCE or APPLIED MECHANICS.

The field still broadens. The challenge grows greater. And a future of recognition and advancement may be here for you.

For further information regarding an engineering career at Pratt & Whitney Aircraft, consult your college placement officer or write to Mr. R. P. Azinger, Engineering Department, Pratt & Whitney Aircraft, East Hartford 8, Conn.

YOUNG DEMOCRATS

Mr. Earl Henderson, Democratic Chairman of White Clay Creek will speak on local Democratic politics at the Dec. 11 meeting of the Young Democrats to be held at 8 p.m. in the Blue and Gold Room of the Student Center.

Future plans of the organization will be discussed at the close of the talk by Mr. Henderson. All interested students and faculty are invited to attend.

KIRCH

Dr. Max S. Kirch, associate professor of modern languages and literature, will speak at the graduate lecture Monday, Dec. 11, at 4:20 in 220 Hulihan Hall. In his topic "Goethe's Faust: Hero or Villain" he will discuss internal evidence bearing on the question whether the character of Faust shows improvement or retrogression in the course of drama.

COLBURN

Colburn's third program in their cultural series will be held in Colburn lounge Thursday, Dec. 14 between 2 and 3:30. The speaker will be The Reverend Ronald Starns. His topic is "Proof of God". Refreshments will be served.

MODERN DANCE

Members of the Modern Dance Club will entertain at the Faculty Club's Christmas Dinner Dance, Dec. 9, under the leadership of Anita Ciconte, President.

The theme of the program is "Christmas Dolls." The girls that are participating are: Ellen Herd, Gina Borinsky, Sue Pratt, Sandy Kimbal, Unda Becker, Jeanne Robinsen, Joyce Chang, and Anita Ciconte.

LA MAISON FRANCAISE

The French House will entertain foreign students at an open house, Sunday from 3 to 5 p.m. Mrs. Virginia Pruitt, adviser to foreign students at the university, and several professors will be present.

HOME EC CLUB

Mary Ellen Ellwanger, HE2, will present a Christmas gift wrapping demonstration at the December Home Ec. Club meeting Thursday at 7 p.m. in 200

Alison Hall

Each member is encouraged to bring a package and wrappings to test her originality after the demonstration.

Refreshments will be served.

COSMOPOLITAN CLUB

An international Christmas party will be held in the Morgan-Vallandigham Room of the Student Center tonight at 8 p.m.

Everyone is invited to attend this unusual Christmas program representing the many Christmas traditions of the world. Refreshments and dancing will follow the program.

PHILOSOPHY CLUB

Allan R. Anderson of Yale University, one of the outstanding logicians of the country, will speak in the Morgan-Vallandigham room Tuesday, Dec. 12 at 4 p.m. His topic will be "Reason, Inference, and Argument."

Santa Claus Visits Colburn Hall In First Campus Appearance

Santa Claus makes his first campus appearance of the year tonight at Colburn Hall. Tom Reale, AS5, Colburn's version of Old St. Nick, will play host to 24 underprivileged children at a gala Christmas party in the Colburn lounge.

Dorm president, Bill Kollock, AS2, and Bill Tewelow, AS2, head the committee making preparations for the event. The girls of Cannon Hall assisted in preparing refreshments and wrapping presents for the youngsters.

Gifts were provided through the courtesy of Mr. Thomas Barbour, manager of W. T. Grants on Main Street, and Mr. Reale of Wilmington, father of Santa Claus, and Colburn Hall. Following the party, Colburn and Cannon will hold a joint Christmas Party.

As a part of Colburn's expanding cultural program, historical movies were shown in the dorm last Thursday. The movie program will be continued periodically throughout the year.

Bright futures in data transmission at W. E.

New engineers with initiative who can meet Western Electric's high standards are offered many exciting career opportunities with our company in data processing development work as it relates to communications.

For example, Western's engineers—working closely with Bell Telephone Laboratories—have solved development and manufacturing problems connected with the Bell System's new DATA-PHONE Data set (made by Western Electric). DATA-PHONE service lets business machines, such as computers, "speak" to each other in a language of numbers and symbols over existing telephone communication networks. This represents a tremendous boon to business; and consequently, it is estimated that some day there may be more machine talk than people talk using telephone lines.

Of course, data communications is only one of many rewarding career areas that await you at Western Electric. Here are just a few of the others: electronic switching...solid state electronic devices...microwave radio relay...computer-programmed production lines...solar cells...optical masers...futuristic telephones.

We need high-caliber, forward-thinking engineers now to help us transform these plans into realities or to work with us in scores of other key communications areas. Your future, the future of Western Electric, and the future of America's communications—could well depend on your first career connection.

Challenging opportunities exist now at Western Electric for electrical, mechanical, industrial, and chemical engineers, as well as physical science, liberal arts, and business majors. All qualified applicants will receive careful consideration for employment without regard to race, creed, color or national origin. For more information about Western Electric, write College Relations, Western Electric Company, Room 4106, 222 Broadway, New York 38, New York. And be sure to arrange for a Western Electric interview when our college representatives visit your campus.

Principal manufacturing locations at Chicago, Ill.; Kearny, N. J.; Baltimore, Md.; Indianapolis, Ind.; Allentown and Laureldale, Pa.; Winston-Salem, N. C.; Buffalo, N. ## Bundling: Bed to Wagon

By DICK CROSSLAND

Bundling has existed for ages dating back to the Celtic tribes of pre-Roman Britain. Bundling, in its traditional form, died out in the United States during the early part of the 19th Century; however, a vestige of this custom lingers on in such forms as hayrides.

Bundling was practiced in two forms. It existed as a necessary arrangement between strangers and as an endearing pleasure between lovers. Bundling has been defined as "a man and a woman lying on the same bed with their clothes on; an expedient practiced in America on a scarcity of beds, where, on such occasions, husbands and parents frequently permitted travelers to bundle with their wives and daughters."

The early Britons were accused of promiscuous polygamy resulting from the practice of bundling. Caesar believed them to hold all women in common with the king exercising free choice. Other Romans claimed they exchanged wives yearly or even more often. In the highlands a related custom of handfastening was practiced. Two kings would agree to have the heir of one live with the daughter of the other as husband and wife for a year and a day. If an heir was produced, the wedding was affirmed. Otherwise, the couple parted to marry hand-fast with another. From time to time, clerics were dispatched on rounds to solemnize such unions.

The Puritans, amazingly enough, brought bundling with them to New England. On a Sabbath night, the country swain would arrive at the home of his favored lass. Rather than sit up all night and waste candle and wood, the old folks allowed approved suitors to continue the wooing of their daughter in the warmth of her bed. This was an admission of confidence in the young folks. Influenced by early religious training, the young had a strong incentive for doing right. However, if their training proved inadequate, a marriage was easily contracted. It was not until three generations later when Jonathan Edwards attacked bundling from the pulpit, that the practice ended in New England.

In fact, bundling was often the product of necessity. It was confined to the humbler classes (the elite preferring the joys of the sofa), and it generally died out by 1800. A girl did not bundle with any fellow who called upon her; it was a special favor granted to a favored lover.

Teaching Machines Benefit All But Will Not Replace Teachers

Teaching machines are being used at the university in connection with a course in physiological psychology, and are winning plaudits from both students and instructor.

Dr. Lawrence Gulick, associate professor of psychology, programmed the course during the summer, with the aid of a research assistant, Jeanne Thomas, of Lancaster, Pa., a grant from the university and several volunteer guinea pigs.

The program underwent five revisions before put in use on an experimental basis in a regular course. Answer tapes of students were analysed to determine the strengths and weaknesses of the program.

BENEFITS STUDENTS

Dr. Gulick, who began his study by attending a workshop on programmed instruction at Columbia University last summer, explains that teaching machines are self-teaching devices which benefit both the student and the instructor.

Like textbooks, they present material step by step in logical sequence and allow students to proceed at their own pace, in contrast to lectures which are not always organized logically and do not always define terms.

The principal advantage to the student is that he may be continuously informed of his progress. Experience has shown that this is the most efficient teaching method, according to Dr. Gulick.

ANSWER TAPES USED

The machine provides questions which the student may answer on a tape, then provides the correct answer which he may check with his own. The answer tapes, Dr. Gulick explains, are not intended for use in grading the student, but will be used in judging and improving the effectiveness of the program.

"For example," he said, "if all or most of the students miss a particular question, probably the program is moving too rapidly for comprehension. On the other hand, if all of the students answer correctly a certain question, the program probably is moving too slowly and is boring the students."

The teaching machine is not intended to replace the teacher, Dr. Gulick is quick to add, but in some ways places additional burdens on him. It forces him to organize his work for the programmed course, and enables him to cover more material in lectures.

COURSE MATERIAL INCLUDED

Dr. Gulick explains that his physiology program may be compared to an "outside reading assignment." It covers only about five per cent of the course material, which will not be included in lectures but for which students will be responsible on regular examinations.

A student may run through the program in about 30 minutes. Many students go over the program several times during the semester.

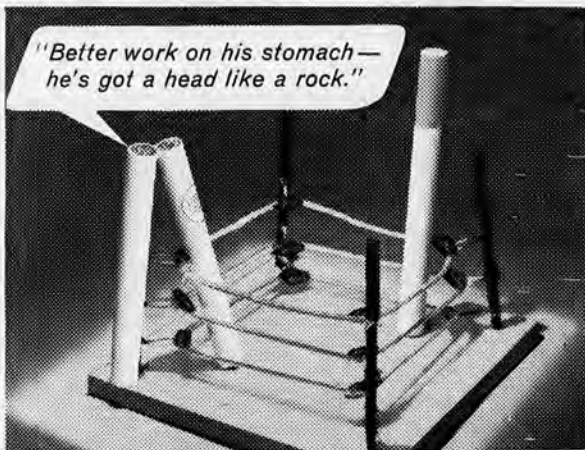

Dr. Gulick is keeping notes on the comments of his students, for use in judging the merits of the teaching machines and his program. So far students appear pleased that they are accomplishing so much work outside the classroom.

New Complex—

Effective in 1962-63, room and board fees will be increased from $640 to $660 per year. The board also authorized an additional room charge of $50 per year for out-of-state students.

Other fee changes, all comparatively minor, include a non-refundable application fee of $5 for each applicant for admission and each formal application. The president of the university also was authorized to determine an appropriate orientation fee which each year will be charged to freshmen and transfer students.

Also recognized by the trustees was the possibility that future enrollments may have to be limited unless the university's requests for appropriations are met by the State in the critical years ahead.

During the meeting, which was held in the Harrington Hall lounge so that the trustees might inspect the facilities of the new building, the board accepted with appreciation the report of President Perkins covering the 1960-61 academic year.

Heim Scholarship To Assist Male Future Teacher

Donald P. Hardy, assistant dean of students, announces that a scholarship has been established at the university in memory of the late Raymond W. Heim, prominent state educator.

The grant, made to the university by Mrs. Heim, will provide a $250 renewable scholarship each year to an entering freshman man who plans to pursue a program of study which will prepare him for a teaching career.

Academic merit and financial need will be the major criteria used in selecting the recipient, Dean Hardy said. Residents and non-residents of the state will be eligible under the terms of the award.

Dr. Heim received the honorary doctor of letters degree from the university upon his retirement as professor of vocational education in 1952 after 33 years service.

Student Life Compared in Italy and USA

By Dick Felsing

According to Anna Carchedi, a sophomore French major, Italian students differ from their American counterparts most significantly in their attitude toward school.

Anna, who has traveled all over Europe, lived in Italy up to a few years ago. At Delaware she's minoring in political science and is living at the French House. Interested in traveling and languages she hopes someday to become an interpreter.

ITALIAN STUDENTS

Since college entrance in Italy is so difficult, students are more serious. They work very diligently at their studies, and have no time to participate in extra-curricular activities. In matter of fact universities do not offer such activities. Some popular interest politics, dating, and sports.

Students in Italy have a great interest in politics; often holding mass meetings and demonstrations. Most support the West, but a few favor Communism. The Communist party in Italy is gaining strength through the use of propaganda since World War II.

Popular dating activities include dancing, attending movies, and going to cafes. Sports activities include playing soccer and attending races. Sports car, motorcycle, and bicycle races attract students.

ITALIAN UNIVERSITIES

The Italian system of higher education differs greatly from the American system. College comes after a very difficult and demanding five year high school, called the "liceo." Admission standards are so high for the universities, only a small percentage attend. Facilities are expanding and more and yearly. Very few of the students "flunk out," however. more students are admitted

The universities are all supported by the state and are located in large cities.

THE GIFT HORSE

I know how busy you are—studying, going to class, catching night crawlers—but let me interrupt your multifarious activities—studying, going to class, helping old grads find their dentures after Homecoming—to remind you that busy as you are—studying, going to class, searching for meat in the dormitory stew—time and tide wait for no man, and the Yuletide will soon be upon us. Busy or not, we must turn our thoughts to Christmas shopping. Let us, therefore, pause for a moment in our busy schedules—studying, going to class, rolling drunks—to examine a number of interesting gift suggestions.

We will start with the hardest gift problem of all: What do you give to the person who has everything? Well sir, there follows a list of gifts which I will flatly guarantee the person who has everything does not have:

1. A dentist's chair.
2. A low hurdle.
3. A street map of Perth, Australia.
4. Fifty pounds of chicken fat.
5. A carton of filter-tip Marlboros.

"What?" you exclaim, your young eyebrows rising in wild incredulity. "The person who has everything does not have a carton of filter-tip Marlboros?" you shriek, your young lips curling mockingly. "What arrant nonsense!" you gasp, making a coarse gesture.

... endear yourself to your Girl's Roommate

And I reply with an emphatic no! The person who has everything does not have filter-tip Marlboros—not for long anyhow—because if he has Marlboros and if he is a person who likes a mild, mellow, hearty, flavorful cigarette—and who does not? eh? who does not?—why, then he doesn't have Marlboros; he smokes them. He might possibly have a large collection of Marlboro butts, but whole Marlboros? No. An emphatic no!

Now we take up another thorny gift problem: What do you buy your girl if you are broke? Quite a challenge, you will agree, but there is an answer—an ingenious, exciting answer! Surprise your girl with a beautiful bronze head of herself!

Oh, I know you're not a sculptor, but that doesn't matter. All you have to do is endear yourself to your girl's roommate, so she will be willing to do you a favor. Then some night when your girl is fast asleep, have the roommate butter your girl's face—quietly, so as not to wake her—and then quietly pour plaster of Paris on top of the butter and then quietly wait till it hardens and quietly lift it off—the butter will keep it from sticking—and then bring you the mold, and you will pour bronze in it and make a beautiful bust to surprise your girl with!

Remember, it is important—very important—to endear yourself to the roommate, because in case the plaster of Paris won't come off, you don't want to be without a girl for the holiday season.

© 1961 Max Shulman

Your gift problem is no problem if you will give Marlboros to your filter-smoking friends and the new king-size Philip Morris Commander to your non-filter smoking friends. Try a Commander. This Yuletide season, or any other season, you'll be welcome aboard.

IBM WILL
DECEMBER
12

Candidates for Bachelor's or Master's Degrees are invited to discuss opportunities in:

Engineering and Science

This is a unique opportunity to find out about the many career opportunities at IBM. The IBM representative can discuss with you typical jobs, various training programs, chances for advanced education, financial rewards, and company benefits—all important factors that affect your future.

SOME FACTS ABOUT IBM

An Unusual Growth Story: IBM has had one of the exceptional growth rates in industry. It has been a planned growth, based on ideas and products having an almost infinite application in our modern economy.

Diverse and Important Products: IBM develops, manufactures and markets a wide range of products in the data processing field. IBM computers and allied products play a vital role in the operations of business, industry, science, and government.

Across-the-Country Operations: Laboratory and manufacturing facilities are located in Endicott, Kingston, Owego, Poughkeepsie, Vestal, Yorktown, N. Y.; Burlington, Vermont; Lexington, Ky.; San Jose, Calif.; Bethesda, Md.; and Rochester, Minn. Headquarters is located in New York City with sales and service offices in 180 major cities throughout the United States.

The Accent is on the Individual: No matter what type of work a person does at IBM, he is given all the responsibility he is able to handle, and all the support he needs to do his job. Advancement is by merit.

Well sports fans, we see today that the Green Bay stumbling block I mentioned last week could turn into the seasons biggest catastrophe for the New York Giants. Most of you need not be told that the Giants and the Eagles are tied for the Eastern Conference lead and that a Maverick-type showdown is due this Sunday in Philly.

Both teams are "hurting" as far as personnel is concerned. The Eagles have already lost all-pro halfback Tom Brookshire and are now without the services of guard Stan Campbell and possibly defensive specialists Don Burroughs and Irv Cross. The Giants, on the other hand, have lost back Dick Nolan and guard Jack Stroud and now may lose its all-pro safety Jim Patton.

The Giants will probably be slight favorites, but with the game being played in Philly, anything is liable to happen. It would be a cryin' shame if the rabid Giant fans were disappointed in their teams showing when the chips are down this Sunday. I'd probably lose two nights sleep over it.

Think this one over. . . the Giants beat the Eagles. . . the Browns beat the Bears and the Giants. . . the Eagles beat the Lions. . . result. . . a three-way tie! In this situation a two game playoff series would have to be instituted. And you tell me what chance any Eastern Division winner will have against Green Bays Western titlists after completing the rugged end of the regular season and one or possibly two playoff games.

Earlier this week Floyd Patterson polished off, as usual, his "patsy" opponent, Irish Bob McWhatshisname. It seems the longer Patterson remains Champion the cheaper becomes the quality of his "challengers". The only man of consequence he has ever beaten is Archie Moore, who at the time, was a sprightly 42 years of age, or thereabouts.

Meanwhile, the "peoples choice" and "public enemy number 1", Sonny Liston dusted off one left jab and one right cross in the first round, thereby annihilating an equally unknown pugilist. No doubt, sooner or later the Champion will be backed into a position where he will have to put his title on the line against the Philadelphia slugger. Then one will be able to see how good Floyd really is and how much of Liston's rating is based on reputation.

Speaking of fighting, I think I would take Pittsburgh Steeler lineman, "Big Daddy" Lipscomb over both Liston and Patterson after watching the 288 lbs. monster stand off three Eagles last Sunday. Lipscomb, an undefeated wrestler in the off-season, was quote "just havin' hisself a good time" unquote. I'd hate to see him when he wasn't havin' hisself a good time and he got hisself a "little" mad.

Schroeck Honored For Crack Defensive Effort

Ken Schroeck, crack defensive halfback and three-time varsity letterwinner was saluted as the University of Delaware's outstanding senior football player at the annual banquet of the Wilmington Touchdown Club on November 30. Governor Elbert N. Carvel, presented the Touchdown Club Trophy to Schroeck, who was chosen for the honor by club members and representatives of the press and radio.

The Taylor Memorial Trophy, whose recipient is selected annually by a poll of the Delaware squad and coaching staff, was awarded to team captain Bill Grossman.

Grossman, forced out of action after the second game of his senior campaign because of a serious eye injury, was a standout tackle in 1960 and in this year's opening conquests of Lehigh and Buffalo, The presentation was made by the trophy's donor, TD Club member J. Baker Taylor.

Frank Burns, assistant coach at Rutgers University accepted the Middle Atlantic Conference championship trophy, donated by the Wilmington Club. Also on hand were representatives of each of the MAC University Division Schools and conference officials.

Presently, however, Dan is most anxious concerning tomorrow's meet with F and M. "This meet is expected to be close. We were upset last year by F and M and we want to win tomorrow pretty bad," stated Roosevelt who feels that student attendance at the various meets is an important psychological factor for victory.

Blue Hen of The Week

By DENISE GRANKE

Outstanding in the Delaware-Lafayette swimming meet was Dan Roosevelt, the Blue Hen captain.

Since "we didn't have to show our teeth very much," according to Coach Harry Rawstrom, Dan participated in only two events, coming out on top in both. He swam the 200 individual medley in 2:35.4 and one-fourth of the 400 yard freestyle relay in 56:8. "His real test will come in the meet tomorrow against Franklin and Marshall."

Principally a backstroke specialist, Roosevelt will swim any event and any stroke called upon with assurance.

Team records are held by Dan in the 200-yard individual medley, 2:25.3; the 440 freestyle, 5:07; and the 200-yard freestyle, 2:18.4.

An able leader, Dan is also important in Coach Rawstrom's opinion, for the training, example, and enthusiasm he gives the other members of the team. Christmas vacation will be spent by Roosevelt, the Coach and two other team members in Florida for the annual College Swimming Coaches Forum. Here Dan will be a member of the East Team for the East-West swimming meet.

Dan hails from Richmond, Va., and is a senior civil engineering major. Last year he was co-captain with Newt Watris

Hens Trounce Hopkins In Home Debut, 88-53

Grapplers To Host Haverford College; Beaman Sidelined

By DAN TWER

Delaware's basketball team extended its win streak to two games by defeating Johns Hopkins 88-53 after a 69-65 opening game triumph over Lehigh.

The entire starting quintet hit double figures in the Hopkins clash. Soph Dave Sysko led the scoring with 17 points. Sophomore counterpart Pete Cloud followed with 16. Big center Nate Cloud and co-captain Bill Wagamon added 13 each. John Berry hit for 10.

The Hens opened up a sizeable 47-24 halftime lead. Pete Cloud brought the crowd to its feet by swishing a 47 foot half court set at the second half buzzer.

The first stringers were given a rest in the second half, but the score continued to mount. Bill Haggerty, Ron Smith and Joe Wilson, all sophomores, added 8, 7 and 4 points respectively. The Hens' 88 points came on 38 field goals and 12 fouls.

In the season opener against the Engineers of Lehigh, four men notched double figures. Sysko and the younger Cloud shared scoring honors with 19 apiece. Nate accounted for 17 and Wagamon 10. Barry and Haggerty with one field goal each rounded out the scoring.

The Hens led 35-31 at the half, mainly on the strength of perfect 13 for 13 shooting from the foul line. They made 16 straight free throws at one point and finished the evening 23 for 30 from the charity marker.

The foul shooting compensated for only 23 field goals. Lehigh tossed in 28 baskets, but could sink only 9 free throws.

Harrington Wins WAA Tournament

Harrington E took first place in the WAA volleyball tournament. Squire Hall came in second, with Thompson A in third position.

The modern dance club will present "Christmas Dolls," tomorrow night for the faculty and their guests at the Annual Christmas Dinner-Dance.

Eliminations this past week placed the following in the eight starting berths: 123 lb.—George Stamos; 130—Archie Hahn; 137—either Russ Childress or Barry Haldman; 147—Bob Young; 157—Dan Lanning; 167—Bob Foulk; 177—Dick Rosenfeld; and heavy weight—Al Slader.

Jerry Beaman, captain will be unable to participate because of a dislocated elbow.

Coach Gene Watson is expecting much from Young this season. Although only a sophomore, Young was the only undefeated frosh last year.

The frosh season this year is most promising with six outstanding grapplers starting: Bill Ashley, 123 lb., Jay Ferrick, 130, Jon Heuberger, 137, Southard Jones, 157, Don Bockoven, 167, and heavy weight, Paul Basehore.

Mermen Face F and M Tomorrow

Coach Harry Rawstrom's varsity swimmers will be after their second straight win on Saturday with Franklin and Marshall at Taylor Pool at 2 p.m., after drowning Lafayette, 68-28, at Easton last week.

Delaware individual winners were Bill Rash, in the 220 freestyle (2:32.3); Captain Dan Roosevelt, in the 200 individual medley (2:35.4); Dutch Hollinger, in the diving (68.2 points); Charley Derrick in the 200 butterfly (3:02.2), and Jeff Losee, in the 440 freestyle (5:49.2).

The freshmen mermen dropped a 49-46 contest, despite record-breaking performance by Lenny Bird, in the 220 freestyle (2:21.2) and John McGinnis, in the 200 individual (2:25.3).

Sports SLANTS

By Bob Lovinger
Sports Editor

Wisniewski and company. . . The most underrated squad in the MAC

Wednesday, while watching the basketball game we got the impression that we were watching a Celtic-Knuck contest, especially when the score was 52-27.

The game, although lopsided, proved many things to us. First, and possibly most important was the fact that the team has an exceptional amount of depth. So much so that any of the men on the bench could start at any given time. In fact, Wednesday's starters didn't see much action in the second half -- they didn't have to. Height is another strong Hen asset. Delaware possesses one of the tallest teams in the Middle Atlantic Conference with four out of its five starters at or above the 6'4" mark.

In the third category we have to consider team balance. So far this season the Hens have not had one man above the twenty mark. The thing that seems to keep the Hens on the road to victory is its well precisioned attack, coupled with confidence and a keen basketball sense.

The Hens have been lucky so far this season with only one loss due to illness. Ron Smith one of the stalwarts on last year's freshman team has been sidelined and seems to be lagging behind the others, however, he is making exceptional progress and is rapidly regaining the form which he had last year.

Looking ahead to P.M.C. tomorrow, the Hens won't find victory easy. P.M.C. has given Delaware some of its hardest fought games in recent years.

Led by junior guard Gino Zuecca, the Cadets defeated Wagner this week while Zuecca scored twenty-one points. The seasonal outlook at this point seems bright for the Hens. They have the potential to become one of the greatest teams in Delaware history, however, as Lehigh showed them, victory can only be achieved through hard work.

Besides basketball, Delaware possesses two other undefeated teams: in swimming and wrestling. The mermen will be going for their second win against F and M tomorrow while the grapplers have yet to begin their season.

One thing which we feel deserves mention is the poor manner in which intramural wrestling was handled by the intramural council. It was unfortunate that notices were distributed one night before the matches were to take place, and thus a few participants were unable to compete due to previous commitments which they were unable to change due to the short notice.

We realize that this was the first time that an incident of this type has occurred and we hope that the council will take definite measures in order that an incident of this type will not occur in the future.
