

CLAZZEZ

SENIOR INCR SUPHOMORF FRISH AND

Class Officers

Margaret Elizabeth Bicking	President
Agnes Lucille Tharp	ce-President
MILDRED HARTZELL HORROCKS	Secretary
HELEN AGNES BOYCE	Treasurer
MISS EMMA CHARLOTTE EHLERSFacu	dty Advisor

SENIOR CLASS HISTORY

PEOPLE make news. They also make history, including that of the Class of '32.

It all began in 1928. For it was then that—
We arrived at W. C. D. all enthusiastic for—well, it was something, anyway. For a while we were all one. Then gradually we began to assume individualism.

Louise Smoot became captain and later president.

Mary Vinson, all bedecked with hair-ribbons, sang at Stunt Night; and ever afterwards we all pushed red cats on long sticks.

Pat Anderson first told us about Jack, and Elizabeth Harrar wore her hair in an eight knot.

We won two class championships: hockey, with Phoebe Steel as captain, and basketball, with Willa Dawson as captain.

It was during the winter that the commuters learned their first naughty words while tramping down the muddy paths.

And our Formal radiated its importance in Old College. Remember how Eleanor Jamison took Aub Tunnell, and Louise Smoot fell for Frank Gladden?

In the spring Fran Jefferis, Mary Davis, and Dorothy Calloway added their beauty to the May Court.

Marjorie Brodhun coached our competitive play.

Finally we all took exams and wished that we were Seniors who neither studied nor worried.

But in 1929-

We returned, earnestly determined to make ourselves a name.

We introduced the first cooperative Freshman-Sophomore Stunt Night entitled, "The Freshman Follies." Jeanne Kuselle trained her famous, sensational ballet, and we all joyfully blessed the Freshmen with green frogs to dangle around their necks.

Phoebe Steel was chosen president, and illustrated the correct way in which to conduct parliamentary meetings in Chapel.

Doris Nichols represented us on the Student Board and Alice Heilig led us through to winning the song contest.

And Pat's Jack (confidentially) went to Maine.

In May, Louise Burke was duchess in the May Court and was attended by Fran Jefferis and Mary Davis.

Soon afterwards we entertained our "Big Sisters" at a farewell luncheon in the Hotel Bayou, in Havre de Grace, Md.

By Commencement, Mitchell Hall was completed so that we all sighed "ahs" and "ohs" of appreciation.

But the commuters still ate, and slept, and played at bridge in the room next to the chemistry lab.

And again we took exams and passed-some of them.

And in 1930-

We returned (mostly from Rehoboth) neither enthusiastic nor determined, but all set for a good time.

Mary Hellings was president and stood in line at the Junior Prom in the Hotel du Pont-Biltmore, while Peg Bicking, in a long, blue dress, led the grand march.

Anna Dougherty was president of Forum and Glee Club.

It was this term that Myra Johnson became Mrs. Kerslake, and Fran Pierson announced her engagement.

Marjorie Brodhun was in France with the Foreign Study Group.

Dorothy Baker was transferred from Bridgewater, Virginia. Mary deHan became the first Junior president of the Dramatic Board.

And Dortha Hill's poem won a place in an "Anthology of Best College Verse of 1931."

Mr. P. S. du Pont entertained the whole University at the Playhouse, seeing the production of "Twelfth Night." We went on a private train and were served a midnight luncheon on our return!

In the spring the paths were paved so that the commuters forgot (?) their naughty words.

The new gym was built but not used! We offered to give up our Saturday night baths, and to carry a cup of water each morning in an attempt to fill the empty pool. All in vain!

Under the direction of Lucille Tharp our competitive play, "Finders Keepers," received first place.

We once more won first place in the song contest under the supervision of Alice Heilig.

Mr. Berry took his English class for an early morning breakfast on Iron Hill. Will we ever forget!

And again we were exposed to "finals."

In 1931-

We entered upon the final lapse.

We had at last come into our own. We were the "illustrious us."

We were over-run with presidents. Phoebe Steel was president of the Student Board; Peg Bicking, president of the class; Lucie Hickman, president of the Glee Club; and Jean Fullarton, "Le Cercle Français"; Willa Dawson edited Pambo, and Jeannette Thoroughgood led the Math Club; Alice Heilig became president of the Y. W. C. A. Cabinet; Dorothy Baker, head of the Athletic Association; Mary deHan, editor-in-chief of the Blue and Gold; Jeanne Kuselle, chairman of the Social Committee; and Lib Sirman of the Home Ec Club.

The new gym was opened and the old one repainted and furnished as a lounge for the commuters.

With Becky Cohen as captain and manager we recaptured the basketball championship.

And of course, we were "free" guests-of-honor at the Junior Prom. After "mid-years" the faculty met and chose the new members of Phi Kappa Phi. Ruth Phelps had the honor of having the highest scholastic average for the four years.

And now we are all preparing to take our last exams and wishing that we were Freshmen who study, and worry, and have four years ahead of them. Finally, we leave as we came-not individuals, but one-the Class of '32.

ELEANOR VIRGINIA ANDERSON

Arts and Science

Wilmington, Delaware

Competitive Play I.

"A frivolous soul—light and gay." Pat is the heart of gaiety, the soul of chatter, and a commuter. At all times and to everyone—professor and student alike—Pat laughs and chatters. Sometimes it is of the date she had the night before, sometimes of some humorous incident, but usually of a certain young gentleman who spends his time in the Maine woods. And at the end of the day, when the rest of us are weary and blue, Pat is still the essence of perfect style and eager enthusiasm.

DOROTHY LOIS BAKER

Arts and Science

Wyoming, Delaware

President Athletic Association IV; Outing Club III, IV; Math Club III, IV; College Manager Baseball III; Hockey III, IV; Class Manager Volley Ball IV; Baseball III; Basketball III, IV; Soccer IV; Phi Kappa Phi.

Dot is dependable. One knows that by looking into her face, Why couldn't she have been with us all four years instead of only the last two? But she did much for our campus in her short time here. Athletics began a new life cycle with her arrival. Dot is a friend to all, and one well worth having.

MARGARET ELIZABETH BICKING

Arts and Science

Wilmington, Delaware

Class Secretary II; Class Vice-President III; Class President IV; Junior Prom Committee III; Advertising Staff Pambo II; Staff Blue and Gold IV; Vice-President Y. W. C. A. III; Y. W. C. A. Cabinet IV; Drill Squad I, III.

It's hard to say anything original about Peg because everyone knows and loves her. Despite the fact that she has kept her headquarters in Wilmington, we suspect that her family doesn't see much of her, for Peg is on campus for all activities. She even found time to come an evening every week for Glee Club. The Senior class showed good judgment when they chose Peg as their president. She has a real talent for friendship, which will carry her on no matter what she attempts.

HELEN AGNES BOYCE

Home Economics

New Castle, Delaware

Glee Club I, II, III; Home Economics Club I, II, III, IV; Program Committee Home Economics Club IV; Vice-President Class II; Secretary Class III; Treasurer Class IV; Photography Editor Blue and Gold IV; Y. W. C. A. IV; Supper Club IV; Choral Club III; Old English Christmas Dinner III, IV; Drill Squad I, II.

Helen—is just Helen. We know there was never another quite like her. She does everything from playing a pipe organ to teaching cooking. Indeed, she does too much for others—but that is why she is so fine and has so many friends and admirers. Helen is in demand everywhere and always will be. May this old world be blessed with many Helens!

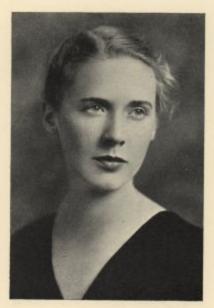

Margery Charlotte Brodhun

Arts and Science Forty-Fort, Pennsylvania

Junior Year in France; Competitive Plays, director, I, II, IV; Hilarium Plays, director, I, II, IV; "Uncle Vanya," director, II; "The Taming of the Shrew," director, II; "The Importance of Being Earnest," prompter, I; "Bird-in-Hand," property mistress, IV; French Club Play, director, IV; Glee Club, I, II; Press Club, I, III, IV; Puppets; Dramatic Board, I, II, III, IV.

When Marge first joins a group, one is immediately aware of her presence; her "apartness" makes her individual. One feels her keenness, her understanding, her assurance; her opinions matter. Self-sufficient, Marge does the things she enjoys and the things set up by herself as mental discipline. She writes well, and is outstanding in dramatics. As a member of the Foreign Study Group in her Junior year, Marge did distinguished work. Marge is a figure of importance, a stimulation, an experience, a mystery.

LOUISE BURKE

Arts and Science

Newark, Delaware

Treasurer and Business Manager Press Club III; May Day Court II, III; Blue and Gold Art Staff II, IV; Chairman Bulletin Board Committee IV; Social Committee IV; Class Hockey Manager III, IV; Hockey I, II, III, IV; Basketball I, II, III; Volley Ball III; College Manager Tennis III.

Burkey is a "gal" you naturally like. When you're blue, she laughs plenty, and you're cheered up; and when you're silly, she scolds plenty, and you're bawled out. She's that combination of boyish enthusiasm, feminine beauty, and genuine good cheer which makes a "pal what is a friend forware". is a pal, a friend what is a friend forever."

DOROTHY LOUISE CALLAWAY

Home Economics

Laurel, Delaware

May Court I; Chairman Social Committee Home Economics IV: Chairman Costume Committee "Liliom" IV; Class Competitive Play I; Footlights Club Play I, II; Home Economics I, II, III, IV; E 51.

Those black eyes of Dot's can portray merriment as well as thoughtfulness. She is gracious and charming when the need arises, but she is also ready to enter into any fun that may be afoot. She is quick to sympathize with one, and she can always laugh at one's most cherished joke. Dot has her ideals and sticks to them, but she is tolerant of others at the same time.

REBECCA COHEN

Arts and Science

Wilmington, Delaware

Press Club I, II, III; Class Competitive Play II; Manager Baskethall IV; Hockey I; Volley Ball I, II, III, IV; Basketball II, III, V; Honor Basketball I; Track I, II.

Beck is one of these scholastically brilliant girls who is a good sport ready for any kind of crazy fun. She has a broad scope of knowledge so that she can always meet an intellectual recitation and at the same time plan some hilarious prank or scribble a witty remark along the edge of her notes for the appreciative approval of her neighbors. But beneath her carefree air, she's sympathetic, understanding and quick in originality. She's the one and only Becky—some one whom we'll never forget.

ELEANOR MIGGETT CRAMER

Home Economics New

New Castle, Delaware

Home Economics Club I, II, III, IV; Athletic Association I; Y. W. C. A. I; Dramatic Club I,

Eleanor is very quiet—but there are millions of thoughts going on behind that serious smile of hers. Some people have thought Eleanor a demure little thing; but just let her have a chance, and she will crack the world open. Quiet people are like that. And maybe Eleanor isn't planning just to teach the home economics subjects she has been studying.

MARY JANE DAVIS

Arts and Science

Laurel, Delaware

May Court I, II, III; Hockey I; Baseball II.

Calm and sure of herself, easy going and rarely excited, Mary is the sort of person one remembers for a long time. Sometimes she appears to be sophisticated and worldly, and then we come upon her as she masters a rollicking dance step in the Hilarium. You can never predict from one day to the next in just what way Mary will react to things, but this serves to make her all the more interesting.

WILLA VIRGINIA DAWSON

Arts and Science

Newark, Delaware

Secretary Press Club II, President IV; Blue and Gold Staff II; May Day Committee II, III; Freshman Formal Committee I; Class Manager Basketball I, II, III; Class Manager Volley Ball II; Hockey I, II, III, IV; Track I, II, III; Basketball I, II, III; Volley Ball II, III.

"Scril" is athletic, artistic, and literary. What more could one ask a girl to be? In addition to that, she is interested in people and ready to do everyone a good turn; Willa isn't chary of her talents. She is always willing to make posters for whatever occasion may arise. And we would feel left out of affairs if she didn't ask us at least once a week, "Know any news for the paper?"

MARY JOSEPHINE DEHAN

Arts and Science

Wilmington, Delaware

Secretary and Treasurer Dramatic Board II; Advertising Manager Press Club II; Class Editor Blue and Gold II; Secretary Student Council III; President Dramatic Board III; Social Committee III, IV; Editor-in-Chief Blue and Gold IV; President Puppets IV; Student Advisor Dramatic Board IV; May Day Committee II; Outing Club II, III; Press Club II, III, IV; Dramatic Board II, III, IV; Forum II, IV; Puppets II, III, IV; Y. W. C. A. Leadership Club IV; Curriculum Committee II; Y. W. C. A. Supper Club IV; Class Competitive Plays I, II, III; Thanksgiving Play I; Sherwood I; Christmas Play I; Coach Christmas Play II; Shakespeare Play II; One-act Plays II, III, IV; Dover Road III; E 51; Drill Squad II.

Mary just revels in work. If it isn't lessons, it's play practice or, "Let's dance in the Hilarium." Mary knows all of the new songs and she sings three-quarters of her answers to your questions. Just try asking her something. We never see her out of humor, and for that reason it is always our best disposition that Mary sees. Mary's a leader under whom all committees have to work. Another quality of Mary's that may occasionally annoy the more inquisitive is her ability to keep things to herself. She can be as secretive as your big brother.

Anna Mildred Donalson

Arts and Science Kennett Square, Penna.

French Club I, II, III, IV; Forum III, IV; Athletic Association I; Y. W. C. A. I, II; Dramatic Club I.

Did you ever see such a wee little thing in your life? But what "Mil" lacks in size of body, she has in capacity of brain. Why, even Mr. Clement can't discourage the tiny lady—and she tells him what is what, en français, too. Fine goods often come in small packages, and little Miss Donalson is no exception.

Anna Elizabeth Dougherty

Arts and Science Wilmington, Delaware

Vice-President Forum II; President Forum III; Hostess Forum IV; President Glee Club III; Student Council III; First Vice-President Student Council IV; Chairman Library Committee IV; Y. W. C. A. Supper Club IV; Glee Club I, II, III; French Club I, II, III, IV; Forum I, II, III, IV; Outing Club I, II, III, IV; Choral Club III, IV; Math Club I; Press Club IV; Library Committee I, IV; Shakespeare Play III; Committee Competitive Play III; Baseball III; Hockey I, II, III, IV; Drill Squad I, II.

Had Anna lived 2000 years ago, she would have been classed as a prophetess, for she has that quality of foresight that feels things in the air: "Something's going to happen"; and it always does. Anna's manner is a leisurely one, but there is power and conviction behind it that makes her a good leader. Her varied interests account for her presence at almost all of the campus functions. Since her summer trip to New England, Anna has developed a critical attitude toward our speech which keeps us busy with our ing's and a's.

Julia Margarite Edgell

Home Economics Federalsburg, Maryland

Home Economics I, II, III, IV; Committee Class Play III; Press Club I, II, III, IV; Hockey I, II, III, IV; Volley Ball III,

Judy is such a positive little character that you like her or dislike her. She is so frank that she cannot conceal her true feelings. If your hat is not becoming, or if it is, you can depend on Judy to tell you. It's nice to have some one like her around. Judy is confiding, too. She is impulsive and acts without taking time to weigh things out; but she never seems to regret her action. She has found that we usually do what we please even if there is a test on Monday. Week-ends were meant for recreation.

EUNICE ANNA ELLIS

Home Economics

Delmar, Delaware

Home Economics Club I, II, III, IV; Archery Club II, III.

Here is a girl from whom little is heard, but when speech is heard, one is always able to recognize Eunice's voice. In her slow, drawly manner, Eunice talks, walks, and acts; but she always manages to get things accomplished, although she stays up until two o'clock or so to finish a dress or a problem. One clever trick of hers is to save all of her "cuts," and then go on a spree and enjoy a real week-end. Eunice is one of the Home Ecers who manages to get a bit of the air and sunshine that is so exclusively given to the arts and science students.

ELEANOR LOUISE FRIEDEL

Home Economics

Felton, Delaware

Secretary and Treasurer Home Economics Club II; Treasurer Outing Club II; Vice-President Outing Club III; Secretary and Treasurer Glee Club III; Chairman Dining Hall IV; Dramatic Board IV; Freshman Prom Committee I; Freshman Play Committee I; Committee Competitive Play I, III; Program Committee Home Economics Club III; Old English Christmas Dinner III; Choral Club III; Home Economics Club I, II, III, IV; Glee Club I, II, III, Outing Club I, II, III, IV; W. C. A. Supper Club IV; Dramatic Club I, II, III, V. W. C. A. Supper Club IV; Dramatic Club I, II, III, IV; Athletic Association I, II, III, IV; Head College Hiking III; Class Manager Volley Ball III; Hockey I, II, III; Baseball I, II, III; Archery I; Volley Ball I, II, III; Track I, II, III.

Who is that laughing? Well, of course, it's Eleanor. Everyone knows that jolly laugh. And even when Eleanor isn't laughing aloud, you know she's enjoying a joke all to herself—inside. Those wicked eyes give her away. Once in a while the sparkle isn't there, and we believe Eleanor is day-dreaming. But soon the life comes back into her eyes, and Eleanor is off to play hockey, or to manage the dining hall, or to dance all evening. (Somehow she does her lessons, too—usually.)

JEAN DARLING FULLARTON

Arts and Science

Wilmington, Delaware

President French Club IV; French Club I, II, III, IV; Forum I, II, III, IV; Y. W. C. A. I, II, III, IV; Leadership Club IV; Y. W. C. A. Supper Club IV; Press Club IV; Dramatic Club I; Property Committee Competitive Play II, III; Phi Kappa Phi.

To hear Jean talk or even to look at her, you might think her the most studious person on campus. She really does get results, but anyone who has lived near her doubts that she is a bookworm. If she starts out on an errand down the hall, she doesn't get back for several hours because she stops to visit at every room along the way. There are very few meetings or entertainments that she misses, but just before a term paper is due, she puts out a sign and the rest of us keep out of the way. French is her major, but she can carry on a conversation in Spanish, German, or Latin—she can also translate the accents of Scotland and New Zealand. We all save our Scotch jokes to pull on her, but she takes them in good part.

ETHEL MAE GREENLEE

Education

Felton, Delaware

French Club IV; Outing Club IV; Forum IV; Volley Ball II; Honor Volley Ball II; Varsity Rifle II.

Ethel joined our class as a senior after a few years' experience as a teacher. Although quiet in a group, she can be strikingly entertaining when approached as an individual. Sympathetic, attentive, conscientious, Ethel has opinions we respect. She has a quality of self-sufficiency and is inclined to retire into herself, but we value the moments Ethel has spent with us.

ELIZABETH LAURA HARRAR

Arts and Science

Wilmington, Delaware

Chairman Program Committee French Club III; Chairman Ring Committee III; Choral Club III, IV; Glee Club II, III, IV; Outing Club I, II, III, IV; Y. W. C. A. Supper Club IV; French Club I, II, III, IV; Forum I, II, III, IV; Math Club I; Debate Team II, III; Thanksgiving Play I; Shakespeare Play II; Arms and the Man III; One-act Plays III, IV; Coach Christmas Play IV; Committee Competitive Play II, III; Drill Squad I, II; Phi Kappa Phi.

Elizabeth has one of the quickest minds in college, not only for bridge, but also for those elusive things called lessons. Whether she studies for two days or for two hours (be they from 2 to 4 A. M.!), Elizabeth always upholds the standards of the Phi Kappa Phi. In dramatics she shows her exceptional versatility, now in the rôle of the sprightly young lover, now as the dutiful wife. She likes pleasure and generously includes others in her fun. We will not forget soon those chocolate cakes from Wilmington or the rides in "Chickie" the Ford.

ALICE HEILIG

Arts and Science Downington, Pennsylvania

Y. W. C. A. Cabinet I, III, President IV; Social Committee II, III, IV; Assistant College Song Leader III; College Song Leader IV; May Day Committee III, Chairman IV; Sussex Fire Captain III; Head College Bookstore IV; Press Club I, II, III; French Club I; Glee Club I, II, III; Choral Club III; Debate III; Orchestra III; Supper Club IV; Leadership Club III, IV; Class Competitive Plays I, III; Shakespeare Play II; Volley Ball III; Phi Kappa Phi.

Do gentlemen prefer blondes? Some do anyway, it seems—otherwise Al's presence wouldn't be so persistently drawn back home each week-end. In Al we have a combination of the scholar and the happy-go-lucky, worldlywise young lady. At the end of four years spent with her, we will long remember her hearty laugh, her abundant store of jokes, her clever impersonations, and the many songs she wrote for our class.

MARY CHRISTINE HELLINGS

Arts and Science

Wilmington, Delaware

Vice-President Class I; Student Council I; Treasurer Student Council II; President Class III; Freshman Formal Committee I; May Day Committee II; Junior Prom Committee III; Glee Club I, II, III, IV; Baseball II.

During her Sophomore year, Mary Christine was familiarly known as "the little girl in lavender." Although a history major, she has quite a mathematical turn of mind, as shown by those trips to the bank during the inaugural year of the Sinking Fund. This cheery little lass is ever as busy as a bee, rushing here and there, singing at the top of her voice (there would be no Glee Club without her!), or sitting by the hour translating from the classics (truly reminiscent of those Friends School days). Many thanks are due to Mary from the class of '32 for her services as Class President during our Junior year.

DORTHA EVELYN HILL

Arts and Science

Georgetown, Delaware

Vice-President Press Club III; Literary Editor Blue and Gold IV; Glee Club II, III, IV; French Club II, III, IV; Library Committee IV; Outing Club I, II, III, IV; Press Club II, III, IV; Choral Club II, IV; Forum III, IV; Y. W. C. A. Supper Club III, IV.

Dortha, as literary editor of the Blue and Gold, deserves ereat credit for her strenuous work this year organizing the write-ups. She has already had experience in the literary field as a contributor to the success of Pambo, not to speak of her poem "Sam White," which was published by Harpers. She is always willing to help someone and yet manages to do her work, even though she often slips down home for the week-end. Nature is the inspiration of her poetry, but characterization is the subject-matter. When Dortha is a great poet or novelist, we shall be proud to say that she was a member of the class of '32.

MILDRED REBECCA HOBSON

Education

Newark, Delaware

Undisturbed by the strife and turmoil which seems to bother most of us, Mildred strolls happily through life. She is quiet and unassuming, yet she has such a sense of humor that there is no one who more fully appreciates the wit of the commuter's room than she. And sometimes we wonder—"Is she laughing at or with us?"

JENNIE HOFFMAN

Arts and Science

Newark, Delaware

Math Club I; Forum I, II, III; Hockey I; Baseball I, II, III.

Jennic delights in thoroughness. She can always be depended upon to know the exact decimal point or history date when the rest of the class is anxiously wishing it did. She is a quiet sort of person and except for occasional moments of indignation is usually silent. Yet there is no one with a more appreciative sense of humor and no one more fond of frivolous company.

MILDRED HARTZELL HORROCKS

Arts and Science Norristown, Pennsylvania

Secretary Class IV; Y. W. C. A. Cabinet I; Treasurer Y. W. C. A. II, Vice-President III; Fire Captain IV; Vice-President French Club IV; Dramatic Board IV; French Club I, II, III, IV; Choral Club III, IV; Outing Club I, II, III, IV; Y. W. C. A. Supper Club IV; Glee Club I, II, IV; Shakespeare Play II; Dover Road III; Competitive Play III; E 51; Drill Squad I, II.

Mildred has a weakness for pink ribbons and Yardley's. Unser kleines Mädchen is overflowing with wit and humor in spite of these four years of hard work. She has a questioning mind as to the "why" of things, which can be satisfied only when she finds a definite answer. Although she does not wear the official uniform of the fire chief, we suspect that she sometimes pictures herself in the regalia of the red and navy. Mildred is a good sport, and we like her.

ALICE LYSLE McGLINN HUNTER

Home Economics Wilmington, Delaware

Quiet and unassuming in a crowd, who would know Lysle for the noisy fun-maker she is behind closed doors? She accomplishes tasks quickly and always has time for fun. Her chief rainy-day sport is going to Wilmington. Closely rivaling this is reading or playing solitaire, but she always responds to the cry, "Let's go somewhere."

Frances Jefferis

Arts and Science Cragmere, Delaware

May Day Court I, II, III; Social Committee IV; Prom Committee III; Glee Club I; Press Club II, III, IV; French Club II.

Fran—the enigma! Black and white certainly cannot do her justice. Her lovely blue-black curls and inscrutable green eyes have graced our May Court for all four years of her W. C. D. career. Her witty articles and tales have been very important factors in the success of Pambo. But most of all her unique personality and charm have been a delight to her innumerable friends. Always ready for anything—a walk, a bridge game, an intelligent discussion or bull-fest, a dance in the Hilarium—her company is being sought every instant. But alas and alack! That much-prized companion is too evidently attracted elsewhere. A "Squeek" out of nowhere, and all else is tossed lightly aside!

Louise Dougherty Kane

Arts and-Science Wilmington, Delaware

Freshman Formal Committee I; Sun-Up I; Hockey I, II, III, IV.

We should have enjoyed knowing Louise better, and we wish she could have been with us more instead of commuting to Wilmington every day. Hers is a happy spirit, willing to help any friend in distress and to cheer her during the process. She has a sense of humor that is delightful and makes her an entertaining companion. One scarcely ever sees her depressed for longer than five minutes at a time. She can be a staunch friend and true.

Myra Johnson Kerslake

Arts and Science Wilmin

Wilmington, Delaware

For a busy commuter that is busy—lo, Myra. She keeps house, holds down a job, and keeps up (and we mean up) with all her classes. And as if that weren't enough for one person to do, she finds time to regale her companions with various stories and anecdotes collected in the course of her three occupations. When loud shrieks issue from the commuters' room, one is pretty safe in guessing that Myra has the floor. Long may she flourish!

JEANNE CARLYN KUSELLE

Arts and Science Havre de Grace, Maryland

Radio Committee II, III; Social Committee III, IV; Junior Prom Committee III; Press Club IV; French Club I, II, III; Competitive Play II; Class Manager Soccer II; Class Manager Track II; Hockey I, II, III, IV; Baseball I, II, III; Track I, II, III; Volley Ball III.

Jeanne is just about the most friendly soul on campus. Her ready smile, her quick wit, her vitality, and her abounding good nature are the qualities which win her her host of friends. May Days wouldn't be complete without her dancing, and the Hilarium would wear a surprised look if she didn't appear at least twice a day. Athletics is one of her major interests, also. But withal, Jeanne has quite a few A's and B's stowed away on her report cards.

MILDRED NARVEL MCNEMAR

Arts and Science

Wilmington, Delaware

Freshman Formal Committee I; Song Contest Committee I; Stunt Night Committee II; Outing Club I, II.

Micky is one of the cleverest girls in our class. She not only manages to get A's without being caught studying, but she also has a dry subtle humor that never fails her. Looking at Micky you never know that she is planning to set you laughing, for her face never gives her away. And Micky is as clever on paper as in speech—in fact, she enjoys writing. We feel that as a teacher of history, Micky will add an interpretation that will amuse as well as make more vivid mere historic facts.

MARGARET WRIGHT MELSON

Home Economics

Bridgeville, Delaware

Class Secretary I; Secretary Home Economics Club II; Vice-President Home Economics Club III; Social Committee I; Home Economics Club I, II, III, IV; Baseball I; Volley Ball I, II, III; Phi Kappa Phi.

At the first glance one can easily read Peg's outstanding characteristics—a staunch friend and an ever ready helper. She spends a great deal of her time on academic work, yet she is always ready to contribute her share to a good time.

Peg and the Packard will always be thought of when the Home Ec girls recall their Junior year and its many tours. Here is the young lady to whose judgment we appeal when in doubt as to what will probably be included in an exam. Just as she has been successful during her college career, so we are confident of her success after graduation.

MABEL KATHRYN MILLER

Arts and Science

Wilmington, Delaware

Math Club I, II, III, IV; Tennis I, II, III, IV.

Kathryn the ubiquitous, Kathryn the omnipresent. Her engaging grin has been for four years one of the most familiar sights on campus. The time she devotes to tennis, to clothes, to social activities, and to being among those present would more than fill any ordinary girl's schedule. But what matter? Kathryn simply has more time than most people. Whether she makes it, finds it, or takes it, we don't know, but we certainly would like to have her formula.

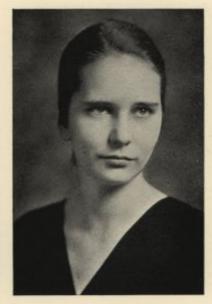

MARTHA MORRIS

Arts and Science

Newark, Delaware

Forum I, II; Y. W. C. A. I, III; Committee Class Competitive Play II, III.

Here we have proof that noise and bluster aren't necessary to accomplish everything. Martha is quiet, but she certainly does work. Anyone who has worked with her in dramatics knows that. If the play calls for pictures, pillows, or poles, we call on Martha. It is convenient to have in the class a Newark commuter who is willing to help out with properties. She doesn't limit her activities to this field or to lessons; whenever there is a party or some other current event on campus, we see that Martha has found time to come over.

DORIS VERA NICHOLS

Arts and Science

Wilmington, Delaware

Athletic Council I; Student Council II; Third Vice-President Student Council III; Junior Prom Committee III; Forum II, III; Leadership Club III; College Manager Hockey III; Hockey I, II, IIII, IV; Baseball II, III; Volley Ball III; Drill Squad I, III.

Everyone knows Doris. She has held so many important positions in college one can't help knowing her. But even if Doris had never been in the college political lime-light, she would have been popular. We have missed having Doris on campus this last year—she always had something to eat in her room. And then there are other reasons why we miss her, too. But why rave on? Doris is all right, and that's that.

RUTH PHELPS

Arts and Science Christiana, Delaware

Class Editor Blue and Gold IV; Press Club I, II, III, IV; Hockey I; Phi Kappa Phi.

"Scholar and jester; These two make the world roll on."

Commuters are of necessity long-winded, and of all the "carpet-baggers" Ruth excels. Whether in spicy narration or humorous argumentation, her voice goes on and on until all others withdraw in graceful defeat.

But Ruth is not an idler. There are hours when she

But Ruth is not an idler. There are hours when she pours over all manner of fiction from the ancient philosophers to the New York Times. An alert, brilliant mind, a bit of puck, beneath all a dreamer, dependable, reliable, Ruth looks upon the world with curious eyes and reaches confidently toward success.

SHELBY RICE

Arts and Science

Newark, Delaware

Junior Prom Committee III; Hockey I, II, III, IV; Honor Hockey I, II, III.

We can remember how shy Shelby seemed when she arrived at college. During Freshman week she scarcely said a word; but, is she different now! In our college years she has gained interests, especially at the other end of campus, and has been converted into a true Delawarean. (Shelby originally came from Texas.) The fact that her home is in Newark keeps her rotating between the college and Orchard Road, but the distance is so short we scarcely realize that she is one of the carefree commuters. She misses but few of the dances and is continually on the go; so we think that although Shelby has a southern background, she has plenty of northern pep.

BERNICE CLEMENTINE ROE

Arts and Science Rochester, New Hampshire

Math Club I; French Club I, II; Baseball III.

When we think of Bernice, we picture her close-clipped curls and her good looking tailored sport outfits. She is interested in sports and likes baseball immensely; but somehow or other, she will throw the bat. You can't blame her when she has just struck a "homer," can you? Quiet but not studious, she usually goes to class prepared. But ach das Deutsch!

DOROTHEA FRANCES ROTHWELL

Arts and Science

Newark, Delaware

Dorothea is just Dorothea—an individual, not a type. When she says or does a thing it is said or done, "and there's an end on't." We like to hear her express at great length her opinions on divers subjects; opinions which are very decided no matter whether they are of ten years' or ten seconds' standing. Her thinly veiled sarcasm, which she seldom uses seriously, is most amusing. It should be a valuable asset when she starts to teach Latin in "the sticks of lower Delaware," or wherever.

ELIZABETH ADELAIDE SIRMAN

Home Economics

Laurel, Delaware

President Home Economics Club IV; Secretary Home Economics Club III; Home Economics Club I, II, III, IV; Glee Club I, II.

Most of the time Lib is quiet, but it is the sort of quietness that has efficiency behind it. When she sets out to accomplish a task, she performs it thoroughly. She adheres to the motto, "Duty before pleasure," but she manages to obtain her full share of pleasure. Lib is a dependable person, and one to whom any sort of work can be assigned with the happy feeling that it will be completed to the satisfaction of all concerned.

MARY ADELE SMITH

Arts and Science

Wilmington, Delaware

Press Club I, II, III, IV; Math Club I; Outing Club I; Glee Club III, IV; Forum III; Freshman Formal Committee I; Junior Prom Committee III.

Adele may seem shy and retiring to the uninitiated, but be ye not deceived by outward appearances. The variety of her interests makes her associates numerous and assures her a welcome wherever she goes. If she has any but smiling moods, she keeps them well hidden from most observers by a cheerful countenance. However, we suspect a busy seething brain under that bland exterior, and indeed bits of evidence in support of this contention have not been lacking.

EMILY VIRGINIA SPARKLIN

Education

Hurlock, Maryland

Y. W. C. A. Cabinet II; Supper Club IV; Glee Club II, IV; Forum IV; Choral Club IV; French Club IV; Outing Club III, IV; Y. W. C. A. I, II, III, IV; Hockey I; Honor Hockey II; Teacher Training Ring Committee II; Library Committee IV.

It was a treat for the class of '32 that Virginia decided to take her last two years at this particular time. When, in the middle of our Junior year, she moved on campus, we really came to know her. She's jolly good fun, and whenever a plan is suggested, she's enthusiastic to carry it out. Her room has been the center for any number of vigorous talking sessions. In college we haven't been well aware of the fact that Virginia has an excellent voice and is training it, but in the future we will probably hear her and be glad she was in our class.

PHOEBE ELIZABETH STEEL

Arts and Science

Newark, Delaware

President Class I, II; Treasurer Class III; President Student Council IV; Glee Club I, II; Forum I, II; Freshman Formal Committee I; Junior Prom Committee III; Curriculum Committee I; Competitive Play Committee I; Competitive Play II, III; Sherwood I; Class Manager Hockey I; Hockey I, III, IV; Baseball I, II, III; Basketball III; Track III; Drill Squad I, II.

Phoebe has the qualities of a leader: firmness in her convictions and courage enough to carry them out, readiness to listen to and to ponder over the ideas of others, and an abounding interest in the affairs which go on about her. If you have the impression from her speech that her actions are rather slow, you should watch her on a hockey field! Phoebe is interested in every one.

DOROTHY ROTH STRADLEY

Arts and Science

Wilmington, Delaware

Advertising Manager Blue and Gold IV; Secretary and Treasurer Math Club III; Math Club II, III, IV; Prom Committee III; Phi Kappa Phi.

Dot is a puzzle hound—be it calculus, algebra, or cryptograms from the Sunday paper, she'll untangle it in next to no time. Behold in her, furthermore, a potential engineer who will one day build great bridges, the first six of which are already named. (If she doesn't build bridges, she's going to work in a bank, or else get into the insurance game—or she might teach!) But whatever she does, she'll make lots of friends doing it, because—oh, well, because she's that way.

AGNES LUCILLE THARP

Arts and Science

Harrington, Delaware

Vice-President Class IV; Outing Club II, III, IV; Dramatic Club I, II; Y. W. C. A. Supper Club IV; Library Club II; Forum III, IV; Sherwood I; Class Competitive Play II; Coach Competitive Play III; E 51 IV; One-act Plays III; Hockey III, IV; Baseball III, IV; Honor Hockey III; Honor Baseball II, III.

Lucille's laugh is the most contagious one we ever heard; and to go along with it, Lucille has a broad sense of humor. She has a quality of sympathy, too, that leads us to confide in her. To those who do not know her so well, she appears blunt, for she always says exactly what she thinks. Lucille has faith in her own ideas and holds to them until she is convinced that she is wrong; no one can more graciously acknowledge defeat than she. She is actively interested in dramatics. It is to her ability as coach that the Juniors of '31 owe thanks for the success of their competitive play.

Anna Jeannette Thoroughgood

Arts and Science

Newark, Delaware

Treasurer Class I, II; Vice-President Math Club II, President IV; Freshman Formal Committee I; Budget Committee I; Press Club III; Class Manager Swimming IV; Basketball I, III; Volley Ball I, II, III, IV; Phi Kappa Phi.

Do you want something done efficiently? Call on Jean; she's efficiency itself. And that isn't all. Jean's a grand combination of dependability and good sportsmanship. When everyone's ready for fun, Jean's there with her ability to laugh at the most obvious and the most subtle. Yet at more critical moments she always lends a sympathetic ear to our trivial worries. And with it all she is among the first of the group in scholastic ability and leadership.

Eva Matilda Twigg

Home Economics

Greenwood, Delaware

Vice President Athletic Council III; President Outing Club III; Second Vice-President Student Council IV; Track Manager I, II; Home Economics Club I, II, III, IV; Outing Club I, II, III, IV; Committee Competitive Play II.

Here's another member of the class of '32 who has decided that Home Economics is to be her career—for a while at least. A never failing sense of humor, an optimistic outlook on life, dancing feet, and friendliness for everyone—that's Eva. She has a method all her own of studying for exams, and the least we can say is that it's unique. It consists of thumbing rapidly through the text and exclaiming on one page "I don't think that's important" and on the next "I don't think he'll ask us that." She might look serious—but we know her.

MERYOM COHEN YELNER

Arts and Science Wilmington, Delaware

Meryom is a French major, and the language flows so swiftly and smoothly from her that we admire and marvel. She is interested in all the better shows that might be playing in New York or Philadelphia and is always willing and eager to discuss their merits. With her keen mind, her sophistication and style, she is that sort of girl who will inevitably be a woman of the world.

Class Officers

CATHERINE ELIZABETH BROAD	President
HELEN EVERETT SWEETMANVic	e-President
Margaret Morris	Secretary
Velma Elizabeth Hallowell	. Treasurer
MISS EMILY ANNA KING	ty Advisor

JUNIOR CLASS HISTORY

WE, the class of nineteen-hundred and thirty-three, although realizing that our end is still in the dim future, do hereby bequeath the following:—

- 1. Janereed Anderson leaves her reducing apparatus to Pat Matlack.
- 2. Frances Richards leaves her demureness and silence to Helen Eckert.
- 3. Mil Simon and Marguerite Sterling leave their giggles to Janith George, who in her chemistry and math classes will need them.
- Margaret Beck leaves anything except that most important male at the other end of campus.
- Kitty Darrel leaves her songs and good humor to the sophomore commuters.
- Sarah Downs leaves her hi-jinks to anyone but Mary Ingram and Ann Pennock—they're already masters.
- 7. Velma Hallowell leaves her experience as treasurer to Marguerite Wentz with a warning that Peg doesn't depart from the sophomore-senior luncheon, taking the checkbook with her so that the rest of the class has to scrape up the money to pay the bills.

- 8. Spud Harrington leaves her "good notion to swear" to Mary Lynch.
- 9. Sally Lefferts leaves her speed in catching buses for frequent trips to Wilmington to Betty Brookes.
- 10. Alice McCormick leaves her pep and punch to the whole sophomore hockey team—not that they need it.
- 11. Jennie Morris leaves the advice that unless you don't mind being disturbed in the middle of the night with the request to sell candy, not to room opposite to Sussex kitchenette.
- Peggy Morris leaves her stately presence and sparkling eyes to the next head of the dining hall, for no matter who she is, she won't be able to reach Peggy.
- Annabel Morton leaves her dancing to those at the other end of the campus who desire it or need it.
- Jinny Rawlins leaves her artistic ability, at least some of it, to the Biology majors who really need it and never have it.
- 15. Helen Sweetman leaves her scientific mind and indifference to Marie Bishop.
- Wiz Wilson leaves her dogs to Harrington to guard the campus, and her passion for Hershey bars to the next business manager of the Blue and Gold.
- Pauline Dolby leaves her stately walk to Dot McLane, who hasn't yet had time to be stately.
- 18. Kitty Broad leaves her skippity-hop to Helen Hackett and her chemistry outfit to future generations of chemistry students with the suggestion that one can always let down long hair in the lab.
- 19. Ethel Merritt, in the will of the Class of 1930, left her proficiency at tripping over what wasn't there to Patsy Reeves, provided that it wasn't passed on to Dot Deiser, who was already proficient enough. Now especially after a year abroad, Dot has become even more skilled, so she passes on this art of tripping over what isn't there to Florence Walker, with the earnest request that she doesn't pass it on to Helen Comly who is already proficient enough.
- 20. Aileen Pyle leaves her stein to Mr. Aiken to water the flowers.

JANEREED ANDERSON

Home Economics

Washington, D. C.

Assistant Circulation Manager Blue and Gold III; Freshman Formal Committee I; Junior Prom Committee III; Glee Club I; Home Economics I, II, III; Drill Squad I, II.

Janereed is a temperamental sort of person, full of whims, and decided tastes, used to carrying things before her in her own way. She is always perfectly groomed and self-confident. Not only is Janereed popular socially, but she stands high scholastically, as a result of hard studying. When Janey wants to work, no one dares to annoy her; she works in solitude. We'll remember Janereed for a most distinctive personality.

CATHERYN EUGENIA BABB

Home Economics

Oxford, Pennsylvania

Home Economics Club II, III; The Circle II; Committee Ivory Door III; E 51.

Kitty came to Delaware from Hood College in her Sophomore year. She really didn't know whether she was taking more Sophomore courses or more Junior courses, since her credits were so varied at Hood, She is the blond girl in the Home Ec course, who is taking the course so as to make her future home purely economical. Is there ever a day when Kitty does not know her lessons, or is unprepared, or hasn't stayed up late the night before in order to be prepared? Everyone admires, and is perhaps envious, of the diamond Kitty wears. We wish her the best of happiness.

MARGARET LOUISE BECK

Arts and Science

Denton, Maryland

Secretary Dramatic Club II; Dramatic Club II; French Club I, II; Glee Club I; Volley Ball I; Junior Prom Committee III.

Red hair and dancing feet! Beck is a bright spot on campus on May Day and every other day. She doesn't talk much; but when she does, it's in a slow drawl that seems to contradict that gorgeous red hair.

> "Who is 'Beck'? Who is she That all the swains commend her?"

Ann Elizabeth Björnson

Arts and Science La Moure, North Dakota

French Club I; Press Club I, II, III.

After her Freshman year at Delaware, Ann took up a business course. Last year she returned as a Sophomore—a stranger to many of us. We have since learned to know Ann as a capable girl. This year she alternates her lessons with housekeeping and stenographic work. Ann is a pal who will do anything for you, and withal she is a marvelous dancer.

CATHERINE ELIZABETH BROAD

Arts and Science Wilmington, Delaware

Student Council I; Secretary Class I; President Class II, III; Secretary-Treasurer Dramatic Board III; Freshman Formal Committee I; Junior Prom Committee III; Competitive Play II; Uncle Vanya I; The Circle II; Shakespeare Play I; Liliom III; Student Director Arms and the Man II; Committee Outward Bound II; Thanksgiving Play I; Christmas Play II; Hockey I, II; Basketball I, II.

Kitty is a paradox. In plays she is always cast as an ingénue (much to her sorrow) because she is little and dainty and graceful, with an appealing something calculated to inspire the most hard-hearted male to protect from the buffets of the cold, "crooell" world. On closer inspection, however, there is poise and assurance in the set of her small dark head, sureness in the movements of her slight hands; she has about her a most refreshing air of knowing where she is going and what the score is. In the two years she has been president of her class, Kit has proven her capability beyond a doubt. She has her own opinion about things, and it's a good opinion—sane and intelligent. In fact, we think that the word intelligent describes Kitty better than any other except one—charming.

NINA AMELIA CALVERT

Arts and Science Perryville, Maryland

Math Club I; Volley Ball I, II; Baseball I, II; Tennis I, II.

Nina is one of those dual personalities we read about but seldom see. If she is in class, her mind is entirely on the subject (especially chemistry); whereas if she is in the De Luxe, well, she can contribute to any conversation even though it's far from studying. Nina's recipe for making honor points seems to be "never let an opportunity for talking or asking questions slip by."

DOROTHEA CHALMERS

Arts and Science

Newark, Delaware

Dorothea has a positive passion for work. She spends her free hours in the library; and even during the few minutes before chapel, we see her head bent over some huge, awe-inspiring book. She reads more during the summuge, awe-inspiring book. She reads more during the summer than most of us do in a year. Her history reports are from twenty to forty pages long, while the rest of us are elated if ours reach the ten-page mark. She seems perfectly able to get along by herself. Nature is one of her hobbies, and history another. She's quite willing to explain her philosophy of life, and we dare any one to convince her that she's wrong.

MARY ELIZABETH CLOUD

Arts and Science

Wilmington, Delaware

Secretary Student Council III; Secretary Y. W. C. A.; Chairman Vesper Service II; Class Editor Blue and Gold III; Advertising Staff Blue and Gold III; Press Club II, III; French Club I, II, III; Student Council II; Uncle Vanya I; Taming of the Shrew I; Christmas Play II; Coach Thanksgiving Play I; Properties Outward Bound II; Business, Arms and the Man, Lilliom, Ivory Door; Hockey I, II, III.

Libby has a mind like a microscope; it gives her a clear minutely detailed analysis of everything that comes be-neath her notice. Although at present she is majoring in French with chemistry and biology thrown in as minors, we feel safe to predict that a few years hence she'll be doing social service, or some other work that gives her a chance to study human nature.

Her flair for the psychological and her ability for imper-sonal analysis have also made Libby a character actress of the first water in college dramatics. These traits combined with an understanding heart have won her many staunch friends.

AUDREY RUDOLPH CROSSGROVE

Arts and Science

Newark, Delaware

Audrey has a sense of humor that makes her good company no matter how low we're feeling. Anyone who sits next to her in class knows just how dangerous she is. Her clever wisecracks have more than once bent her neighbor into fits of silent laughter. If you don't know Audrey, you can pick her out in a small crowd quite easily. She's the girl with the big blue eyes and soft black hair. Outdoor camping is her hobby, and you should see her paddle a canoe!

ELIZABETH KATHRYN DARREL

Arts and Science Wilmington, Delaware

Glee Club II, III.

Kitty is the songbird of W. C. D. When the first line of the hit of the week is heard enlivening our halls, you may be sure Kitty is the motivating power. If songs of one line ever become popular, Miss Darrel will be a featured headliner on the N. B. C. network. Kitty is also to be found at all the dances. Not that she is frivolous, understand—she has been known to study with excellent results.

VIRGINIA ANNE DAVIS

Home Economics

Rehoboth, Delaware

Home Economics Club I, II, III; Committee Arms and the Man II.

"Gin" Davis is one of the "Red-Heads" of the class. She combines her natural ability and her learning in the Home Ec course to make a colorful appearance. Though quiet and demure at first appearance, Gin is ready to burst into a giggle or a hearty laugh. Her ever-increasing ring of friends will always recognize her as a good, thorough, hearty comrade.

DOROTHY JENKINS DEISER

Arts and Science Philadelphia, Pennsylvania

Foreign Study Group III; President French Club II; Dramatic Board II; French Club I, II; Press Club II, III; Director Competitive Plays II; Competitive Plays I, II; E51 II; "Taming of the Shrew" I; "Arms and the Man" II; "Uncle Vanya" II.

Dot supplies the campus with the exciting element of temperament. While the rest of us go on our prosaic, placid way, Dot shoots about like a comet. Just now she is blazing away in Paris with the Foreign Study group. When she is interested, her energy is dynamic and indefatigable; when she is not, her indifference amounts almost to apathy.

There are so many things she wants to crowd into her short life—languages, music, dramatics, a bit of writing—everything that intrigues her. Her sense of humor borders on the cynical with a dash of Welsh and a dot of Deiser thrown in for good measure. And of one thing she may be sure—wherever she is, she will never be bored, and the people with her will never be bored so long as she keeps her zest for the colorful and intriguing.

PAULINE DOLBY

Arts and Science

Seaford, Delaware

Outing Club I, II, III; Hockey III.

Pauline has such a cool, indifferent air and such a serene unhurried walk that unless you know her well her engaging giggle comes as a surprise. That giggle has been the cause of much mockery and many jokes, but she still brings it forth unashamed. However, she fulfills the promise of her appearance by never allowing anything to ruffle her. She intends to be an aviator—it's not just an ambition; it's a passion—and this quality will be a splendid help in the skies.

SARAH ELIZABETH DOWNS

Arts and Science

Wilmington, Delaware

Vice-President Press Club III; Secretary-Treasurer Puppets III; President Dramatic Board III; Humor Editor Blue and Gold III; Treasurer Athletic Council II; Treasurer Social Committee III; Dramatic Board II, III; Puppets II, III; Social Committee II, III; Press Club I, II; Glee Club I, III; French Club I, II; Thanksgiving Play I; Christmas Play II; Class Competitive Plays I, II; Outward Bound II; Liliom III; Arms and the Man II; Circle II; Hockey I; Drill Squad I, II.

When Sarah came to Delaware with her nonchalant air of self-confidence, more than one of her freshman class-mates thought her an upper classman. This self-confidence rested on ability, for we soon found in Sarah a regular contributor to Pambo, and one for whom there was a part in almost every dramatic production. Then, too, there are the songs she wrote, the way she played fullback, and her passion for being scratched in class while she asked a question to start a heated discussion (for Sarah's questions were always that kind). Sarah doesn't want to take life too seriously, but she has definite opinions on most subjects, and can defend them well.

Anne Benette Green

Arts and Science

Denton, Maryland

French Club I, II; Glee Club I; Outing Club I, II, III; Committee Christmas Play I; Christmas Play I.

Popularity is Anne's middle name. Varied tempered, happy-go-lucky, she has won the hearts of each campus. And yet her work somehow manages to get done. Anne is one of our budding celebrities. We will all remember her beautiful drawings, and especially Nephretiti!

MAUDE MADELINE GRICE

Arts and Science Wilmington, Delaware

Math Club I, II, III; Advertising Staff Blue and Gold III.

Maud has been one of our commuters for these three years, but promises to live down with us next year. Maud has not only commuted, but has worked as well. Along with ambition, perseverance, and willingness, Maud has a comfortable sense of humor—all of which make her a good student, fine friend, and engaging companion.

VELMA ELIZABETH HALLOWELL

Arts and Science Federalsburg, Maryland

Treasurer Class I, II, III; Vice-President Y, W. C. A. III; Secretary Athletic Association II; Vice-President Athletic Association III; Chairman Program Committee French Club III; Chairman Program Committee Math Club II; French Club I, II, III; Ring Committee III; College Manager Volley Ball III; Hockey I, II, III; Class Manager Hockey III; Class Manager Baseball II; Baseball II.

Jolly, full of fun, and full of efficiency too, Velma is one of those fortunate people who gets things done—and does things too! What would our class do without Velma. with her sane advice and her red-headed fighting spirit? She's a born leader, both in work and in fun. We all know her; we all love her.

CAROLYN YATES HARRINGTON

Home Economics Port Norris, New Jersey

Home Economics Club I, II, III.

Spud would rather talk than eat. While the rest of us are frantically writing up physiology and physics notebooks, Spud is wandering about indifferent to it all. May it be added that she is clever at dodging books and pillows. And mystery of mysteries—her work is always in on time. She is a delightful companion. Academic work has failed to make her take life seriously.

Anna Elizabeth Heald

Arts and Science West Grove, Pennsylvania Outing Club; Hockey I, II, III; Basketball I, II; Soccer III.

Every Wednesday afternoon someone shouts, "Anne, your folks are here," and we all dash madly down to the car to be there for the ride, or at least, for her mother's famous oatmeal cookies. Those cookies and the peanut fudge, which is as much a part of Sunday nights as the talk of week-end adventures, are a part of Anne's equipment; and don't her friends make the most of it! She looks as if she'd be good in athletics, and she is. She's majoring in Biology and will, no doubt, make out well with it, but it would seem a bit more sensible if she'd taken up Home Economics.

GERTRUDE BERNICE HUTT

Arts and Science Richardson Park, Delaware

"Got anything to cat?" and Hutty's inquisitive brown eyes peer into the room. She learned the phrase during her Freshman year and has found use for it ever since. She is a constant source of amusement to her friends who used to razz her about her short skirts and who still laugh at her bad humors and her passion for beads. She owns a big police dog named Pepper, and has more respect for the brute's intellect than she has for ours. She intends to be a doctor and, strange to say, has the confidence of her friends in her ability to be one. Clever, jeering, kind-hearted Hutty and her green and orange room—the rendez-vous of her gang!

ELEANOR ALMA JAMISON

Arts and Science Wiln

Wilmington, Delaware

Freshman Formal Committee I; May Day Poster Committee I; Volley Ball I.

Eleanor is one of our lively crew of commuters—one of the liveliest, in fact. Her ready laugh and jovial conversation make her an entertaining companion. When she remembers her studies, she takes them very seriously, but most of the time other matters occupy her attention dressmaking, for instance, or the latest movies Wilmington has to offer.

ESTHER VIRGINIA KELLEY

Arts and Science

Wilmington, Delaware

Esther's cheerful disposition seldom fails her even in the most trying circumstances. Esther came to us from Salisbury Normal, and she has told us several entertaining tales of the days she spent there. Although she never neglects her lessons, she can be relied upon to make a good fourth at bridge.

SARAH FRANCES LEFFERTS

Arts and Science

Leesburg, Virginia

From the most homesick Freshman in our class, Sarah has become one of those rare individuals who expresses her wise observations frankly but kindly, and then proceeds with a funny story. If you want a good laugh, find Sally; if you want to know the newest jokes, find Sally. She's a sure tonic for the blues—just a whole-hearted, comfortable, jolly pal.

VERDA ELSIE MASSEY

Arts and Science

Wilmington, Delaware

Math Club I; Outing Club II, III.

This gentle maiden is really enthusiastic about being a teacher, and waxes indignant on the subject of girls who become teachers because there is nothing else to do. If smiles have anything to do with gaining success, Elsie will be successful. She doesn't talk all the time, but when she does, her speech resembles a speed car on Daytona Beach. It's all worthwhile speech, too, if we judge from her grades.

ALICE TACIE McCORMICK

Education

Newark, Delaware

Page in May Day Court I; College Soccer Manager III; Class Soccer Manager III; Hockey I, II, III; Baseball I, II; Competitive Play II.

Little Alice with her big blue eyes and curly brown hair is a familiar figure on campus. She is into everything, and a great little sports woman, too. Her dramatic ability has been greatly appreciated by her class. She made a splendid crony of the devil in the Sophomore class play.

OLIVE REED MOORE

Arts and Science

Wilmington, Delaware

Mrs. Moore passed her Freshman and Sophomore years at summer schools and extension courses, but now that she is spending her Junior year with us we find her interesting. She is one of those delightful people who can slip into the mood of her companions—cheerful when we are light-hearted, sympathetic when we are grieving over a D. She can be as enthusiastic over a lowly toasted sandwich as over some lovely work of art—which reminds us that she is an Art major and has a keen sense of appreciation.

HESTER COVINGTON MORRIS

Home Economics

Newark, Delaware

Y. W. C. A. Cabinet III; Y. W. C. A. I, II, III; Home Economics Club II, III.

One simply can't imagine Hester with a wrinkled dress or mussed-up hair. She's one of the neatest girls we know, Although she may have a little trouble with English or history or other unnecessary things, she's a straight A student in Home Ec and Art. Hester's dresses are really masterpieces, and her cooking is an art in itself. She's a very independent person and inclined to let the rest of the world shift for itself. But we envy the man she will marry. He should grow hale and hearty, and we're positive there will never be any buttons missing from his shirts!

JENNIE LOUISE MORRIS

Arts and Science

Harrington, Delaware

Secretary and Treasurer Math Club III; Math Club I, II, III; Outing Club II, III; Volley Ball I; Baseball I, II, III; Hockey II, III; Soccer III.

Jenny is one of the most dependable girls in our class, whether it's for lessons or for a sympathetic ear in which to pour all our woes. She is always sincere and efficient in whatever she does, and we are sure she'll be a success in her life's occupation. Those who can claim her for a friend may well be proud. Her interests are wide and varied, and no one ever grows bored in her presence.

MARGARET MORRIS

Home Economics Bryn Mawr, Pennsylvania

Secretary Class III; Treasurer Home Economics II; Chairman Junior Prom Committee III; Athletic Council I; May Day Committee I; Curriculum Committee I; Glee Club I; Home Economics Club I, II, III; Class Manager Volley Ball I, II; Class Manager Archery II; Hockey I, II, III.

Hear, hear, all ye suffering from the blues. Take two brown eyes—nice and twinkly, one contagious chuckle, garnish with a riotous sense of humor, sprinkle with pep, take in large doses and watch your troubles roll away. In spite of her carefree exterior, Peg has her troubles. For one thing she just can't make her eyes behave. When she thinks that she's finally succeeded in acquiring a poker-face, they insist on speaking for themselves and giving her away at the crucial moment. Then, too, she seems to be taking Home Ec quite seriously. Still, she manages to rise above these troubles nobly, and, to borrow one of her pet expressions, the three years we've known her "hardly seem enough."

Annabel Morton

Arts and Science

Laurel, Delaware

Vice-President Forum II, President III; Class Song Leader I, III, III; Assistant College Song Leader III; Freshman Formal Committee I; Junior Prom Committee III; Glee Club I; French Club I, II, III; Math Club I; Director Competitive Play I; Competitive Play II; Thanksgiving Play I; Christmas Play II; Shakespeare Play I; Committee Arms and the Man II; Committee Outward Bound II; Liliom III; Assistant Director Ivory Door.

Annabel radiates enthusiasm. She's always ready for something, whether it be a hockey game, merry-making, lessons, or dancing, for wherever there's music, Annabel's there too. A fine ability to listen and understand has made her one with whom we talk over various experiences. Annabel's unfailing supply of pep, vigor, and grin will take her far.

MARY URSULA O'NEILL

Arts and Science Wilmington, Delaware

Math Club I, II; French Club I; Christmas Play II.

Mary is built like a Tom Thumb golf champion. Her favorite expression is, "I'm taller than she is," and her favorite pastime is comparing her size with that of other diminutive young ladies. When she found out that there was another member of her class smaller than she, her joy knew no bounds. Her ancestral nationality is evident in her many witticisms. Many apt nicknames and titles of campus characters can be traced to Mary.

ROBERTA VIOLET PHILLIPS

Home Economics Middletown, Delaware

Secretary Home Economics Club III; Home Economics Club I, II, III.

Bert is a mixture of the sophisticated lady and the demure little girl. In the classroom she manages to look demure, but when she goes to a dance, she always appears sophisticated. Bert is idealistic and has a deep appreciation of the finer things in life. We are certain that no matter what the occasion may be, Bert will meet it with a calm and point tools her seen. a calm and poise truly her own.

AILEEN PYLE

Arts and Science Avondale, Pennsylvania

Art Editor Blue and Gold III; Art Staff Blue and Gold I; Vice-President Class I; Secretary Class II; Press Club II, III; French Club II; Glee Club I, II; Chairman of Freshman Formal Committee I; Committees Competitive Play I, II; Committee Arms and the Man II; Committee The Ivory Door III; Committee Liliom III.

Een never hurries or gets excited, and she always comes out on top. What with designing and painting scenery for plays, working on her art, doing lessons, cutting out favorite movie stars, and reading what she wants, Een can always be found at the bottom of some mischief. We'll long remember her casual, amusing questions in class with reference to some great personage as Mr. "What's his name?" Here's to our artist and her affable nature.

VIRGINIA CELESTE RAWLINS

Arts and Science

Seaford, Delaware

Press Club III; Scenery Committee Ivory Door III; Scenery Committee Liliom III; E 51 III; Art Staff Blue and Gold III.

Gin's crowning glory is the envy of all of us—it has a grand wave and is just the right color auburn. Sometimes, too, she lives up to the color of her hair and tells people just what they can do in no uncertain terms. Maybe she's also living up to her reputation as an artist when she is occasionally temperamental. Gin has real talent in that direction—she did all the buildings in the famous campus map—and that's a feat. 'Spite of the temper, Gin's adorable, and everybody likes her.

FRANCES ELIZABETH RICHARDS

Arts and Science

Elsmere, Delaware

Assistant Photographic Editor of Blue and Gold; French Club I; Mathematics Club I; Outing Club II; Leadership Club II; E 51 II; Thanksgiving Play I; Competitive Plays I; Prompter Competitive Play II; Committee Dover Road II; Committee Outward Bound II; Committee Footlights Play I; Footlights Play I; Drill Squad I, II.

Fran is a model example of an old-fashioned girl gone modern. She reminds you of hoop-skirts and parasols, hats that tie under the chin and lace mitts; she has about her the peace and charm of an old-fashioned garden. Tidiness is Fran's household god; and as a result, she is always fresh and dainty and her room is always spick and span, to the envy and mystification of some of us who are less successful at college light housekeeping. In spite of this, Fran is in many ways strictly 1932. She has that most enviable trait, self-sufficience; there is something in her that has more effect on her than public opinion, something that keeps her from running eternally with the pack. And after all, that is perhaps the most old-fashioned thing about her, her sense of peace with the world and with herself.

Lois Minette Shomo

Home Economics

Wilmington, Delaware

May Court I, II; Home Economics Club I, II, III; Freshman Formal Committee I; Junior Prom Committee III; Hockey I, II.

Lois gets the things she wants, and who wouldn't with her appearance? Lois' expressive eyes, her coloring, and personality show clearly her French blood. A decorative appearance, self-possession, charm, and conversational ability make Lois outstanding as a social leader.

MILDRED HARRIETT SIMON

Arts and Science

Wilmington, Delaware

Vice-President Math Club II; Student Council III; Math Club I, II, III; Glee Club III; Outing Club I, II, III; Y. W. C. A. I, II, III; Y. W. C. A. Supper Club III; Tennis Manager III; Class Track Manager III; Baseball I, II; Volley Ball I; Hockey II, III; Track II; Soccer III; Drill Squad I, II.

Mil is such a modest person that it takes people a long time to get around her shyness and discover what a grand person she really is. When you do know her, you discover that she has a perpetual twinkle in her eye. When there is a sound of revelry by night, the proctor can usually trace it to Mil's room. A little thing like a proctor doesn't daunt Mil, though. She asks her in, gives her enough to eat to ward off starvation for many days to come, and thus cleverly removes all chances of getting a black mark.

ELIZABETH BERTHA SMITH

Arts and Science

Wilmington, Delaware

Freshman Formal Committee I; Junior Prom Committee III; Glee Club I, II, III; Thanksgiving Play I; Committee Ivory Door III; Committee Arms and the Man II; Committee Competitive Play I, II; E 51 Sub-group III.

Betty is one of our nicest looking girls. She adds to her natural attractiveness by being carefully groomed and well dressed, and there's a lot of good common sense and practical ability with this winning appearance. On these points, a certain young man from Penn thoroughly agrees, and it is he who has occupied Betty's week-ends these college years.

ELIZABETH ANNE SNEDEKER

Education

Wilmington, Delaware

Freshman Formal Committee I; Hockey I, II.

Lib's combination of sun tanned skin, white teeth, and blond hair makes one turn and look a second time. She gave us a pleasant surprise when she came back to school this year instead of teaching like the rest of her T. T. classmates. Happy-go-lucky and preoccupied, Lib goes through life with a grin and a "huh?"

JOSEPHINE MILDRED STAATS

Arts and Science

Wilmington, Delaware

Volley Ball I, II.

Jo is always ready to go places and takes great delight in doing the extra-ordinary. She has an amusing way of sticking to what she believes is right. A major in science, she has developed an outlook on life that is to a degree skeptical. Jo demands the reason for things.

EVELYN FLEETWOOD STEIN

Arts and Science Cape Charles, Virginia

Outing Club II; Baseball III; Volley Ball II; Basketball III; Swimming III.

What a good natured, unselfish girl Steiny is! She is an entertaining as well as a loyal friend. We never find her too busy to talk and we always feel merrier for having chatted with her. Steiny is interested in everything that goes on about campus, but most of all she enjoys sports and is no mean hand as a player.

MARY ELIZ. MARGUERITE STERLING

Arts and Science Wilmington, Delaware

Vice-President Math Club II; Math Club I, II, III; The Doctor in Spite of Himself I; Baseball I, II; Volley Ball II; Hockey III; Tennis II.

Marguerite is one of the greatest paradoxes to be found anywhere—a giggling math major. She even giggles while taking math finals. A's are such a common sight to Marguerite that they have failed to excite her. Added to all this—believe it or not—she is a blonde (preferred by athletic gentlemen especially, so we have heard). All of which makes a pretty good record for this minister's daughter.

HELEN EVERETT SWEETMAN

Arts and Science

Wilmington, Delaware

Vice-President Class II, III; Treasurer Y. W. C. A. II; Treasurer Dramatic Board II; French Club I, II; Math Club III; Hockey III.

Sweetie would be more in her element as the moving spirit of a feminist league than as a member of a sheltered women's college. Woman's obligation to the race and its future, and the superiority of the male are red flags to this young modern. How her friends would chuckle if one day a husband and six children descended on her! With those brown eyes and cloudy black hair she'll have a time preventing at least a part of this from happening. She's a crack chemist; for that matter she has no trouble with anything she tackles. Her friends all envy her gift for concentration.

Sweetie can, however, abandon herself to the craziest fun ever conceived and excels in acting the three parts of a poignant melodrama entitled "Our Nell." Turbulent Russia would suit her, and Russia needs crack chemists. If the straws fall that way, we may see Sweetie striking out for Moscow.

Frances Margaret Tharp

Home Economics

Seaford, Delaware

Vice-President Home Economics Club III; Assistant Chairman Dining Hall III; Home Economics Club I, II, III; College Manager Tennis II; Class Manager Track I; Basketball I, II; Outing Club II; Christmas Dinner Committee II, III; Prom Committee III.

Peg Tharp is a fine, quiet, well-liked girl, who has won the admiration of a large gathering of acquaintances. She is taking the Home Economics course, and has proven that it is not such an indoor course after all. The hours are long and tedious, no doubt, but Peg has been able to get her work done in time to allow some free hours for recreation. In her Junior year, Peg was assistant head of the dining-room. Peg is a fine girl, and she has certainly made a success of herself. Best of luck to her in the future.

CHARITY JANE VANNOY

Home Economics Lincoln University, Penna.

Home Economics Club II, III; Volley Ball I.

"Smile and make another friend" is "Chatty's" motto. Her car is never so full that there isn't room for one more. This attitude of generosity is manifest even in her subjects of study. Ask her professors—they will tell you.

MILDRED FLORENCE WHEELER

Arts and Science

Harrington, Delaware

French Club I; Math Club I; Outing Club II, III; Thanksgiving Play I; Class Competitive Plays I, II; Hockey I, II, III; Baseball I, II; Soccer III.

"Skinny" is a typical happy-go-lucky collegiate whose good disposition has remained after a three year battle with exams. She is never on time for anything, but is always expected sooner or later. Quite a collection of art designs and men's photographs adorn the walls of her room. Will you ever forget the night "Skinny" yelled "Pop" in our class song and threw us all into convulsions?

DOROTHY JANE WHEELESS

Arts and Science

Newark, Delaware

Senior-Sophomore Luncheon Committee II; Glee Club I, II; Committee Class Play I, II; Christmas Play II.

Dot may be expected to become the first bridge builder, steamboat captain, or Fuller Brush saleswoman from Women's College. She believes there are still many masculine fields that women should invade. She is very strong in her likes and dislikes. Among the former can be found Guy Lombardo, Coon Sanders, and a good dancing partner. Among the latter, prominent places are given to Gym meets and boys who dance on Dot's feet instead of their own.

MARGARET SANGSTER WHITE

Arts and Science Richardson Park, Delaware

Margaret is one of the girls who came to us last year. She is slow in making friends and slower in changing them. This young lassie is a good student and a firm believer in the humorous side of life. Her agreeable frankness and open-heartedness lend a zest to her amazing energy, and fire everything she says or does with charm and vitality. We're expecting great things from you, Margaret.

MARJORIE WOLF WHITE

Arts and Science Bala-Cynwyd, Pennsylvania

Secretary-Treasurer French Club II; Secretary-Treasurer Press Club III; Circulation Manager Blue and Gold III; Social Committee II, III; French Club I, II; Press Club III; Christmas Play II.

Marge is one of those easy-going souls who always accomplishes what's expected of her when it is expected with the minimum expenditure of energy and the maximum result in accuracy. A's just seem to gravitate to her naturally, and woe unto him who accuses her of being a "greasy grind." There is no midnight oil in Marge's lamp. She rakes in tricks at bridge with some nonchalance, but we think that the secret of her success there is that at the crucial moment she always takes her opponent's mind off the game by her side-splitting remarks, naïve and otherwise.

Marge is a good comrade; a book, bridge, or a gab-fest are all the same to her. Her room is a veritable haven for the hungry, and whenever life begins to look a dingy gray, we make for Marge's room to fortify the inner man with a cinnamon bun and to relieve our minds by her utter refusal to take anybody's trouble, her own included, very seriously for long.

MARGARET ESTHER WILKINSON

Arts and Science

Newark, Delaware

Glee Club II, III; Committee Competitive Play I; Junior Ring Committee III.

Everybody likes Peg. She loves many, grins a lot, and plays bridge whenever there are three people and a deck of cards available. Another of Peg's long suits is dancing. She is one of the assets of the Junior Class, not only because she is good-looking, but also because she has charm and a gracious manner. The next time you see Peg, ask her if she ever had measles.

ELIZABETH HELEN WILSON

Arts and Science

Wilmington, Delaware

Freshman Representative Y. W. C. A. I; Secretary Y. W. C. A. II; Treasurer Student Council II; Third Vice-President Student Council III; Business Manager Blue and Gold III; May Day Committee I, II; Committee Competitive Play I, II; Committee Thanksgiving Play I; Christmas Play I; Taming of the Shrew I; E 51; Hockey I, II, III; College Manager Baseball II; Baseball I, II; Drill Squad I, II.

When Wiz arrived in Women's College, she had an engaging way of reminding you of your little brother. She had the same forthright manner of expressing her undiluted opinion—not as though she expected you to profit by it, but simply as her opinion, and the same habit of unmaliciously calling your bluff in a hurry. She had a scorn for such sissy things as hairpins and compacts. She had other things, too,—a code by which she measured what was sporting for her to do and what was not, the ability to get things done without any hurry or fuss, an easy camaraderie that made friends wherever she went. In the three years of college, the eternal feminine has caught up with Wizzie, superficially at least. She has let her hair grow into a neat bun at the nape of her neck. She has acquired a compact, of all things, and she uses it, too. But Wizzie has never lost her most engaging trick of reminding you of your little brother.

ELLEN ESTELLE WOLFE

Arts and Science

Laurel, Delaware

Ring Committee III; Math Club I, II, III; Y. W. C. A. Supper Club III,

Those who are not acquainted with Stel are met with languid indifference. But may we hasten to add that this indifference is a mask hiding a truly loyal friend. Stel believes in the motto "Work while you work; play while you play." You never catch her wasting time during quiet hours. She is one of the few girls who really delights in solving a difficult math problem. But when quiet hours are over, bring on the fun—Stel will be waiting.

ESTHER KATHRYN WRIGHT

Arts and Science

Cheswold, Delaware

Junior Prom Committee III; Math Club I; Outing Club III; Glee Club I, II, III; Y. W. C. A. III.

Has anyone ever seen Esther flustered? Nonchalance reigns supreme under that shiny black head. She may get excited and thrilled and hurried like the rest of us, but she never shows it. Dates and dances are certainly not lacking in Esther's régime. One wonders when she can do any work, but in her unhurried way, she manages work and play equally well.

SOPHOMORE CLASS

SOPHOMORE CLASS

Officers

MARY LOVE MATLACK	President
ISABELLE HASTINGS ELLIOTT	ice-President
KATHLEEN RUTH CLAYTON	Secretary
MARGUERITE TOWNSEND WENTZ	Treasurer

SOPHOMORE CLASS HISTORY

OH Sophomores! Oh Sophomores! Oh Allah! No, it is not the Mohammedan O salaam, but the noble voice of our class raised in exultation one very early, one very crispy morning in November, 1931. The class of 1933 certainly gave us good disciplinary training for enduring things not entirely to our liking. By now can't you see that we, the Class of 1934, are the splendid product of it all? That backbending morning was a crucial point in our careers. Up to that time we had been mere babes in arms and as hampered with those picturesque???? red, green, and purple mortarboards upon our heads as ordinary infants are hampered with long dresses.

Before that, we had accomplished but two noteworthy deeds. First came our spectacular circus under the direction of the Sophs. We had a parade with an elephant, a bareback rider, an ostrich, and even a flea. Guns-or were they cap pistols-fired terror into the hearts of the spectators of the Wild West show. The grand side show featured a mermaid, a bearded lady, and what else?

Our second feat was the selection of Mary Matlack for captain and Ethel Lou

Brady as sub-captain of the Freshman Class.

By December we thought we were rather important beings. With some relative of dramatic genius we had presented the farce, "A Dress Rehearsal of Hamlet," after the Thangsgiving Dinner. Our hockey team, headed by Ruth Lawson, had not done anything miraculous, but we had a complete and active

one. Some of our archers could hit bulls' eyes, too.

Second semester found us with real officers. Verna Rayner was our president. Ethel Lou Brady our vice-president, Marian Kee our treasurer, and Bertha Harrar our secretary. Our Board member was Anne Pennock, reelected for this year, and desired for next year if she were coming back for four-year work. Then came the glorious Freshman Formal. How sore our fingers were from cutting and stringing all those pink paper flowers! Did Old College ever look lovelier?

Although we did not win in the class play competition on March 27, people didn't seem to think "Gloria Munda," our drama concerning insane characters, at all bad. Helen Clayton was made our song leader in April and was reelected this year. That trumpet of hers has been useful in many affairs. Nor must we fail to mention Dorothy Hudson and Ruth Bell, our violinists. Helen Hackett was our Duchess in the May Court last year and has been given the same honor again. Betty Weber and Sarah Wyatt attended her, while Isabel Elliott acted as the charming page to the Queen.

To make a grand finale to the year we had a picnic supper at White Clay Creek two days before exams. As the fire for the wieners became too hot we all went wading and established a very good record for possessing the wading abilities of herons.

September, 1932, found us no longer Freshmen. It was up to us to teach the children in the class below how to behave. We decided they should wear celluloid ears tied on with green hair-ribbons. They thought us so brutal that there will be no Freshman insignia or workout next year.

With Pat Matlack, Cecelia Gordon, and Helen Eckert as actresses, and Ruth Herring, Elizabeth Harris, and Bertha Harrar as scenery experts, our participation in dramatics has been splendid.

Our officers were elected as follows: Mary Matlack, president; Elizabeth Harris, vice-president; Bertha Harrar, secretary; and Marguerite Wentz, treasurer. When the vice-president and secretary left for art schools the second semester, we elected Isabelle Elliott and Kathleen Clayton to fill their respective places.

Establishing a new custom at Women's College was the singing of Christmas carols by the entire class. Although the Glee Club has done this for many years, no class has participated in it as a unit. May each succeeding one carry out the tradition!

Our swimming team with Wentz, Walker, Shrader, and Hunter won the first relay ever held in the pool. This event took place at the Gym Meet on February 27. Despite the enthusiastic efforts of Captain Lawson, Hunter, McLane, Wentz, Vansant, and Ingram in basketball, we missed the championship—but better luck next time!

Of course we have several girls in training for Phi Kappa Phi, but we shall wait two years before disclosing their names. We are going to use those two years to become more dignified, intelligent, and famous. Until then, ADIEU.

SOPHOMORE CLASS ROLL

BAILEY, FLORENCE MARY TEACHER TRAINING Mauricetown, N. J.

"It's the songs you sing and the smile you wear
That's a-making the sunshine bright and fair."

Bell, Anne Wilbraham Wright arts and science Newark, Del. "But me, no buts-"

Bell, Ruth Eileen teacher training Wilmington, Del. "She's a quiet miss—but then, Still water runs deep."

BISHOP, MARIE MATILDA TEACHER TRAINING Harrington, Del. "Of manners gentle, of affection mild."

Brady, Ethel Lourinda Arts and science Wilmington, Del. "Thou hast so much wit and mirth and fun about thee."

Brasure, Electra Anne Teacher training Selbyville, Del.

"A dancing form, an image gay,
To startle, haunt, and to waylay."

Brittingham, Pauline Elizabeth teacher training Selbyville, Del.

"A quiet lass—there are but few
Who know the treasure hid in you."

Brookes, Elizabeth Dorsey Home economics Bel Air, Md. "A giggle is worth a groan in any market."

Brown, Edith Education Carteret, N. J. "Can she debate? . . . Ask anyone."

Casperson, Vivian E. Lyle ARTS and Science Wilmington, Del.
"When lessons and tasks are all over
She's always ready for a bit of fun."

CLAYTON, HELEN LOUISE HOME ECONOMICS Chester, Pa. "Nature made her what she is, and never made another."

CLAYTON, KATHLEEN RUTH ARTS AND SCIENCE Glassboro, N. J. "Kind, ever helpful—a true friend."

CLOSIC, YETTA TEACHER TRAINING Wilmington, Del.

"Kind words produce their own image in men's souls, and a beautiful image it is."

COHEN, HILDA ARTS AND SCIENCE Wilmington, Del.
"Wit is of the true Pierian spring,
That can make anything of anything."

Conway, Ethel Hey ARTS and Science Philadelphia, Pa. "She doesn't say much, but my dear, just get her started."

CURTIN, ROSALIND MORRISON ARTS AND SCIENCE Wilmington, Del.
"There's no art,
To find the mind's construction in the face."

DILL, LILLIAN AVIS TEACHER TRAINING Felton, Del. "Sweet, quiet, and oh! how absent-minded."

Dodd, Dorothy Marie teacher training Lewes, Del.
"For she is just the quiet kind
Whose nature never varies."

DRYDEN, MARY BELLE TEACHER TRAINING Elsmere, Del.
"A girl who's quiet in her own sweet way."

Dunn, Helen Marie teacher training Bear, Del. "Good nature is worth more than knowledge, money, honor."

Dwyer, Lenora Anne Arts and science Newark, Del. "No woman dares express all she thinks."

Eckert, Mary Helen Home economics Columbia, Pa.

"There's difficulty, there's laughter,
There's the dear spirit of contradiction in her."

ELLIOTT, ISABELLE HASTINGS ARTS AND SCIENCE Laurel, Del. "True to her word, her work, and her friends."

Elliott, Martha Leah Home economics Newark, Del. "Not too bright nor good for human nature's daily food."

FLEMING, ELIZABETH JACKSON HOME ECONOMICS Perry Point, Md.
"It's nice to be natural
When you're naturally nice."

George, Janith Mildred Arts and science Elkton, Md. "Finding much to do for others, but not overmuch to say."

GORDON, CECELIA ARTS AND SCIENCE Wilmington, Del. "The real object of the drama is the exhibition of human character."

GRIFFITH, ANNE HILL ARTS AND SCIENCE Wilmington, Del. "Coolness and absence of heat and haste, a lady is serene."

HACKETT, HELEN CARTER ARTS AND SCIENCE Wilmington, Del.
"It is a great art to be superior to others without letting them know it."

HALL, MINERVA ARLENE HOME ECONOMICS North East, Md. "She, the maiden of much laughter, gay and joyous, ever talking."

Handloff, Dorothy Arts and science Newark, Del. "Her talents were of the more silent kind."

HERRING, RUTH RHODES ARTS AND SCIENCE West Chester, Pa.
"Sincere and true, I strive in all my best to do."

Holloway, Margaret Gertrude Home economics Berlin, Md. "Good nature and good sense are good companions."

Hudson, Mary Dorothy teacher training Laurel, Del.
"The fitful strain of a sweet violin
Will tame the wildest heart."

HUMPHREYS, THELMA LUCILE ARTS AND SCIENCE Westover-Hills, Del.

"O spirit gay, and kindly heart,
Precious the blessings ye impart!"

Huggins, Elizabeth James Arts and science Upper Darby, Pa. "What would the congregation say?"

HUNTER, IRENE MAY ARTS AND SCIENCE Claymont, Del. "Quiet, studious, and devoted to athletics."

INGRAM, MARY POYNTER HOME ECONOMICS Lewes, Del.
"Love is better than fame and fortune."

Jacobson, Dorothy Marie Arts and Science Wilmington, Del. "Studious, fun-loving, dependable."

JAQUETTE, MARTHA MATILDA ARTS AND SCIENCE Newark, Del.

"Really a worker who'll never complain,
Best of ability, words can't explain."

Katz, Beatrice teacher training Wilmington, Del.
"Speak boldly, and speak truly,
Shame the devil."

Kee, Marian Burge Arts and science New Castle, Del.

"A friend to truth, of soul sincere,
In action faithful, and in honor clear."

Lawson, Ruth May teacher training Millsboro, Del.

"A friend as she is like a rare book,
Of which but one copy is made."

Lynch, Mary Margaret Home economics Cochranville, Pa. "Never idle a moment, but thrifty and thoughtful of others."

MATLACK, MARY LOVE ARTS AND SCIENCE Norristown, Pa. "I am myself; my own commander."

McLane, Dorothea Weir Arts and Science Wilmington, Del.
"Now when I caught my twenty-ninth mouse—"

MINNER, DOROTHY TEACHER TRAINING Felton, Del.
"Life is a comedy and we all play a part."

Morgan, Dorothy Anna Arts and Science Bridgeville, Del. "Blessing him who invented sleep."

O'DAY, SUSIE ELEANOR TEACHER TRAINING Seaford, Del. "Her hair is not more sunny than her heart."

Pennock, Catherine Ann teacher training Wilmington, Del.

"Honor maintaining, manners disdaining,
Still entertaining, engaging and new."

PHELPS, LOIS

"Better be small and shine
Than be large and cast a shadow."

Christiana, Del.

Shrader, Margaret Elizabeth arts and science Westville, N. J.

"A swimming match,
A baseball catch,
A day of sport for Peg."

SMITH, ALBERTA ESTELLA HOME ECONOMICS Washington, D. C. "Always active, always gay, Small wonder so much comes her way."

SORTMAN, BEATRICE ETTA TEACHER TRAINING Wilmington, Del.

"I like the laughter that opens the lips and the heart, that shows at the same time pearls and the soul."

STACK, ELIZA ALICE TEACHER TRAINING Seaford, Del.
"Not too serious, not too gay,
But a jolly good fellow in every way."

Tyler, Margaret Price Home economics Middletown, Del.

"She is small; a sunny smile;
A cheery word; her spirits never fall."

VANSANT, ELEANOR KATHERINE ARTS AND SCIENCE Newark, Del. "Amiability shines by its own light."

Walker, Florence Laird Arts and science Philadelphia, Pa. "Always 'bobbing' around in a different dance step."

Wallace, Ellen Virdin teacher training Smyrna, Del. "We envy her her world of dreams."

Wallace, Mary Riday Teacher training Smyrna, Del.

"And best of all, along the way,
Friendship and mirth."

Walton, Margaret Home economics London Grove, Pa. "Independent, reserved, full of fun—the kind of a girl one wants for a friend."

Weber, Elizabeth Anne Arts and Science Wilmington, Del.

"If satire charms, strike faults,
But spare the man."

Wilmington, Del.

Wentz, Marguerite Townsend arts and science Wyoming, Del.
"I love my duty, love my friend,
Love truth and merit to defend."

Wilson, Helen Rebecca Arts and Science Newark, Del.

"No one ever sowed the grain of generosity who gathered not up the harvest of the desire of his heart."

WYATT, SARAH ELIZABETH TEACHER TRAINING Lewes, Del. "Men are but moments in a woman's life,"

FRESHMAN CLASS

Officers

Frances Louise McGee	resident
Virginia Eliza Graves Fice-P	resident
HAZEL BRAND WATSON	ecretary
Gertrude Emily Virdin	reasurer

OUR FRESHMAN YEAR

EXTRACTS FROM A DIADY

DEAR DIARY,

September 17.

Well, the Freshman class is here—104 splendid examples of the bubbling youth of today. A girl named Sally Wells in a Panama hat hailing from Fifth Avenue in Wilmington; Hildegarde Hagen, trotting around with a jug of beer and pretzels tucked under her arm; Vera McCall, a vivid flame in a red dress; Little Elizabeth Stein, who doesn't feel lonely because of Janet Gaynor; and Betty Craig with a Paris red mouth and grey gloves. Splendid examples of the rushing age!

November 26.

This morning at four o'clock the Sophomores hauled us out of bed and dragged us out on Campus. Did we go through our calisthenics? Did we ruin our pillow cases and did we get them back? And are we sore?

December 16.

Mary Vinyard's business is growing; Miss Still got a wave last night and Mary is hoping for an A in Biology. Now Wilson Walker wants to shine Miss Larson's shoes. Anna Gaventa is waiting the electric chair for slamming Emma Lodge through the panels of Dot Hughes' door. The nurse is a good mechanic, but Emma's parts are not fixed up yet.

January 22.

Mildred Jeffries was seen tripping like a fairy across the green at early dawn. The thin gaunt creatures wandering around at present are the results of exams. However, we emerged from the Battle of Waterloo with flying colors and the next crisis is too far away to be interesting.

February 23.

At last Mr. Barkley has clamped down on his classes. Twenty-three received limit of cut notices in the mail this morning. Beulah Bryan, Ruth Hitchens, and even Mike Ebner received them.

March 13.

Freshman Formal has come and gone. Everybody had a gorgeous time—in fact we're still talking about it. Mary Lee Jones wore pink and blue. Jessie Phillips fell down in the middle of the third dance, but she didn't seem to mind. Whoever picked her up was good-looking. And Fran McGee had the loveliest poist I've ever seen. We were all proud of her. Kay Richards was the last one back to Residence.

May 17.

Somebody hooked Katherine Lynch's grasshopper—the cute little creature that hopped around in a fish bowl by her bed. Won't someone bring the poor thing back? Marie-Louise Griner says Angelbert is an interesting conversationalist. Who would have thought it?

June 2.

Final exams soon! I'm afraid I won't be writing much more—too much study. I wonder what we will look like when we're Sophomores. I'm not so anxious for vacation as I though I should be; I shall miss the girls.

FRESHMAN CLASS ROLL

- ALDEN, ELIZABETH BURNS HOME ECONOMICS Wilmington, Del.

 "Spry as they make 'em and ready to race,
 Set for a battle and fit for a chase."
- Anderson, Sue Bartram Teacher training Wilmington, Del. "Gentle of speech, beneficent of mind."
- BADER, ROSALIE TEACHER TRAINING Wilmington, Del. "She mixes joy with reason and knowledge with mirth."
- BAUGHMAN, DOROTHY SMITH ARTS AND SCIENCE Wilmington, Del.

 "A daughter of the gods, divinely tall—
 And a darn nice kid."

 Wilmington, Del.
- Bishop, Ruby Jean teacher training Wilmington, Del.
 "She's not a flower, she's not a pearl,
 But just a noble all-round girl."
- BOYD, ALICE GERTRUDE ARTS AND SCIENCE Rising Sun, Md. "Alice, where art thou going?"
- Breuer, Marjorie Dorothy Arts and science Wilmington, Del. "Airs and manners are more expressive than words."
- BRYAN, BEULAH ALICE TEACHER TRAINING Lewes, Del. "A friend to all, an enemy to none."
- Burlingame, Mildred Ola teacher training Milford, Del.

 "Tart words make no friends; a spoonful of honey will catch more flies than a gallon of vinegar."
- CHALMERS, VERNONA JOSEPHINE ARTS AND SCIENCE Newark, Del. "A quiet mind is richer than a crown."
- CHAMBERS, PHYLLIS ROSE ARTS AND SCIENCE Pennyhill, Del. "So conscientious and responsive to the call of duty."
- CHEADLE, ALTON CLIFFORD HOME ECONOMICS Oxford, Pa. "You are the stars that are steadfast."
- CHEAVENS, ANNE EASBY ARTS AND SCIENCE Wilmington, Del. "By sports are all her cares beguiled."

CLARK, ETHEL JENNIE EDUCATION Hockessin, Del.
"A smile for everyone and everywhere."

CLEMENTS, SARA REBECCA ARTS AND SCIENCE Dover, Del.

"There's something nice about everyone
But there's everything nice about you."

Cobb, Caroline Julia Arts and science Newark, Del.

"For this is a jolly good world
And I must be jolly, too."

COHEN, LENA ARTS AND SCIENCE Wilmington, Del. "She was harmony, content, and quiet."

COMLY, HELEN LAMBERT HOME ECONOMICS Atlantic City, N. J. "Youth comes but once; let's choose a merry part."

CORNELL, EVELYN MARTHA ARTS AND SCIENCE Wilmington, Del.
"Our sensibilities are so acute
The fear of being silent makes us mute."

Cox, Nannie Sue Home economics Landenburg, Pa. "Virtue is like a wish stone, best plain set."

CRAIG, BETTY ARTS AND SCIENCE Wilmington, Del. "All the world's a stage."

CUMMINS, MILDRED FLORENCE ARTS AND SCIENCE Wilmington, Del.

"My mother calls me Mildred; my sister calls me Mill;
My brother calls me Milly; but the girls all call me Bill."

Daisey, Rosalie Elizabeth teacher training Dagsboro, Del.
"The time has come—the walrus said—
To speak of many things."

Descher, June Home economics Brookline, Pa. "Her open eyes desire the truth."

Doordan, Eleanor Ann Home economics Newark, Del.

"A touch-down, a tackle, a home run, a goal,
A jolly good player in contests so bold."

DUTTER, VIOLETTE LILLIAN ARTS AND SCIENCE Wilmington, Del.

"She that was ever fair and never proud
Had tongue at will and yet was never loud."

Eastburn, Katherine Buehm Home economics Newark, Del.
"Humor is the harmony of the heart."

EBNER, LOUISE ANN ARTS AND SCIENCE Wilmington, Del.

"Is there a tongue like Delia's o'er her cup,
That seems to run for ages without winding up?"

Edge, Alberta Elizabeth Arts and science Wilmington, Del. "Do well and right and let the world sink."

ELLIS, RUTH AGNES TEACHER TRAINING Delmar, Del.

"All the world's a Circus
And life is made of smiles."

ELY, DOROTHEA EVELYN ARTS AND SCIENCE Wilmington, Del.
"A handful of common sense is worth a bushel of learning."

EPPIHIMER, SARA EMMA ARTS AND SCIENCE Claymont, Del.
"A good heart is better than all the heads in the world."

EUSTER, RUTH WILLETTA TEACHER TRAINING Wilmington, Del. "Her pencil drew what's in her designed."

Ferguson, Harriet Katherine arts and science Newark, Del.
"If worry were the only cause for death
Then I should live forever."

FLETCHER, JOAN TEACHER TRAINING Newark, Del.
"Giggle, giggle all day long,
For life is just a funny song."

FREEDMAN, CELIA ARTS AND SCIENCE Wilmington, Del.

"Take the world as you find it,
But do not leave it so."

GAVENTA, ANNE LOUISE HOME ECONOMICS Pedricktown, N. J.

"Since brevity is the soul of wit,
She has decided to be brief."

GOODWIN, ALMIRA RYERSON EDUCATION Milton, Del.
"Laugh and the world laughs with you."

Graves, Virginia Eliza teacher training Lewes, Del. "To be or not to be—that is the question."

Green, Barbara Eloise Arts and science New Milford, Conn. "Nothing great was ever achieved without enthusiasm."

GRINER, MARIE-LOUISE JEANNE ARTS AND SCIENCE Le Havre, France
"A laughing face, a graceful dance,
A wee young miss from sunny France."

HAGEN, HILDEGARDE CORNELIA ARTS AND SCIENCE Lancaster, Pa.

"There is no frigate like a book
To take us miles away."

Hammond, Anne Marjorie teacher training Felton, Del. "Hail fellow, well met!"

Handloff, Frieda Home economics Newark, Del.

"Our youth we can have but today,
We may always find time to grow old."

Hanson, Margaret Lucy teacher training Harrington, Del. "Peaceful, thoughtful, and resigned, Always modest, sweet, and kind."

HICKMAN, ELIZABETH SEEDS ARTS AND SCIENCE Wilmington, Del. "The only way to have a friend is to be one."

HITCHENS, MARY RUTH ARTS AND SCIENCE Milford, Del. "There will be sleeping enough in the grave."

Hobson, Ethel Mary Home economics Newark, Del. "Not stepping o'er the bounds of modesty."

Hughes, Dorothy Irene teacher training Felton, Del.

"Early to breakfast and early to tea
Makes a girl plump and sweet as can be."

HUTCHISON, LOUISE GIBSON ARTS AND SCIENCE Newark, Del. "The joy of youth and health her eyes displayed."

Jeffries, Mildred Laura Home economics Margate, N. J.

"Hear that jingling in the distance; watch me shake in every bone.

Could it be my buzzer ringing? Seems to me I heard the phone."

Johnson, Cathel Elizabeth teacher training Farmington, Del. "She walks in simpleness and gentleness, and honor and clean mirth."

Jones, Marylee Straughn arts and science Delmar, Del.

"Jolly as you would expect her to be,
Smart in her classes and yet carefree."

Joseph, Charlotte Irene teacher training Hollyville, Del. "A happy-tempered bringer of the best out of the worst."

KAHN, ANNE TEACHER TRAINING Wilmington, Del. "God giveth speech to all, but song to few."

Kennedy, Marjorie Emma teacher training Wilmington, Del.
"Oh, she was all made up of love and charm,
Delight of every eye."

Layton, Helen Arts and science Philadelphia, Pa. "To blame a girl for being in love is like scolding her for being ill."

LEE, VIRGINIA VAN ALLEN ARTS AND SCIENCE Wilmington, Del.
"Tell me, where is fancy bred,
In the heart or in the head?"

Lewis, Helen Strickland Arts and science Downingtown, Pa.

"Like rock engirdled by the sea,
Like rock immovable is she."

Lodge, Charlotte Emma Arts and science Dover, Del. "Always merry, ever gay, the same tomorrow as today."

Lynch, Doris Elizabeth teacher training Selbyville, Del.

"Independent if nothing else,
That's me all over."

Lynch, Gladys Mae teacher training Selbyville, Del.
"An honest girl with a warm heart."

Lynch, Katherine Elizabeth Arts and science Farmington, Del. "A word to the wise is sufficient."

MacSorley, Katherine Arts and science Little Creek, Del.

"Gaze into her eye and you'll see a little angel;
Gaze longer and you'll see a little imp."

MAIER, EMILIE WILHELMINA ARTS AND SCIENCE Wilmington, Del. "The secret of success is constancy of purpose."

Manser, Barbara Disborough teacher training Wilmington, Del.

"She has a smile and never loses it;
She has a frown but never uses it."

MARKOWITZ, ESTHER HOME ECONOMICS Harrington, Del.

"The Titans have told me, I know it is true,
Her hair may be red, but her spirit's true blue."

Mason, Jean Elizabeth arts and science Wilmington, Del.

"Whence thy knowledge? Whence thy toil?

Dost thou burn the midnight oil?"

Matson, Eleanor Preston teacher training Wilmington, Del.
"Come and trip it as you go
On the light fantastic toe."

McCall, Vera Patricia Arts and science Wilmington, Del. "If there before it's over, you're on time."

McGee, Frances Louise teacher training Llanerch, Pa.

"Is she popular? Well, I guess. Is she attractive? Oh my, yes.

Has she personality? I can't say no;

An all-round girl with lots of go—that's Fran."

Moore, Ruth Ann teacher training Harrington, Del. "Come on out, Ruth. We know your laugh."

Morris, Jessie Mae Arts and science Aberdeen, Md. "The world means something to the capable."

Mousley, Elinor Bowman Arts and Science Wilmington, Del. "We play life's game but once; let's choose a merry part."

Nathans, Sophie Teacher Training Wilmington, Del. "Her kind words will bring back kind echoes."

Panariello, Rose Carolina teacher training Wilmington, Del.

"And whenever she spoke, her voice went singing
Like water up from a fountain springing."

PARRY, MARGARET ANNA ARTS AND SCIENCE Dover, Del.

"Laughter on her lips, and soul within her eyes,
Witty little lass, and sunny as the skies."

PHILLIPS, JESSIE ELIZABETH TEACHER TRAINING Millsboro, Del. "Bonnie brown eyes are the eyes for me."

PHILLIPS, VIOLA EVELYN HOME ECONOMICS Hickory, Pa. "Much could be said if one could read her mind."

Pohl, Helen Regina Arts and science Havre de Grace, Md. "Good nature and good sense should ever join."

QUILLEN, KATHRYN MAY TEACHER TRAINING Selbyville, Del. "Worry and I have never met."

RICHARDS, ANNA KATHERINE TEACHER TRAINING Greenwood, Del.

"A girl who's quiet in her own sweet way."

RICKARDS, DOROTHY EVA HOME ECONOMICS Ocean View, Del. "A heart to resolve, a head to continue, and a hand to execute."

Scotten, Hazel Caroline Arts and science Easton, Md.
"So let's be jolly, and cast away folly,
For grief turns a black head to gray."

Seely, Harriet Clara Arts and science Greenwood, Del.

"The world's no better if we worry;
Life's no longer if we hurry."

SLIDER, MARJORIE ARMERLING ARTS AND SCIENCE Oxford, Pa.

"Come tickle the ivories, jingle you must—
And play a snappy tune for us."

STANTON, MARTHA ARTS AND SCIENCE Wilmington, Del.

"View the whole scene, with critic judgment scan,
And then deny her merit if you can."

STAYTON, RUTH ELINOR TEACHER TRAINING Wilmington, Del. "A finished lady from top to toe."

Steele, Mildred Mae Home Economics Newark, Del. "She works to make others happy, and so she is happy herself."

STEIN, ANNA ELIZABETH TEACHER TRAINING Scaford, Del.
"She is bright, she is neat, she is clean and tidy;
Just the same little Steinie from Monday 'til Friday."

TOWNSEND, ELINOR ARTS AND SCIENCE Newark, Del. "Fun and frolic, glee was there—the will to do, the soul to dare."

VINYARD, MARY CATHERINE ARTS AND SCIENCE Milford, Del. "Taste the joy that springs from labor."

VIRDIN, GERTRUDE EMILY TEACHER TRAINING Hartly, Del.

"A quiet lass—there are but few—
Who know the treasure hid in you."

WALKER, WILSON KATHRYN ARTS AND SCIENCE Catonsville, Md.
"I tell you the earth did quake when I was born."

Watson, Hazel Brand Home economics Upper Darby, Pa.

"We fancy she saw something in the clouds above the trees
Which the gold and glory seeker passes by and never sees."

Weldin, Pauline Elizabeth Arts and science Wilmington, Del. "Cheerfulness is the principal ingredient in the composition of health."

WILLS, (Mrs.) ELIZABETH WOOD ARTS AND SCIENCE "Important, congenial, a person worth knowing."

Rockland, Del.

WILSON, DOROTHY EDITH TEACHER TRAINING Newark, Del.

"Indeed, what worries her won't hurt a cat; She finds all things in life just to laugh at."

Wylé, Lillie Barbara HOME ECONOMICS Balboa, Canal Zone

"Canal Zone lost a girl well trained, But think what Women's College gained."