NUMBER 14

PLANS COMPLETE FOR SCHOOL BOARD ELECTION

Two Candidates Run For Vacancy On Board In Election, Saturday; Election Judges Appointed

BOARD REVIEWS YEAR

At a meeting of the Board of Education, Newark Special School District, held last night in the school office, arrangements were completed to hold the annual school election, on Saturday, May 4, in the new school building, from 2 to 5 p. m., standard time. Two candidates are running for the vacancy on the Board, and one will be elected to serve a term of three years. The candidates are R. S. Gallaher, whose term expires June 30, and who has filed for reelection, and Mrs. F. A. Wheelless. The term of the new member will commence July 1.

H. Harrison Gray, president of the Board, presided at last night's meeting, and with the approval of the other members of the Board appointed an election board to conduct the election. The board is composed of Harvey Hoffecker, judge, and Orlando K. Strahorn and Charles Colbery, assistant judges. The Newark Board of Education is composed of three elected members and the Superintendent of Schools. The holdover elected members are H. Harrison Gray and Edward L. Richards.

Qualifications for voting in a school election are the same as those for a general election, that is, the voter must be 21 years of age at the time of the election; shall have resided in the School District for a period of 30 days in the county for three months, and the state for one year.

The ballots have the names of both candidates printed on them, and the name of the candidate, for whom you do not want to cast a vote, should be crossed out in pencil.

Mr. Gallaher has served 19 years on the board, having been elected in 1910 for the first time. In 1921, at the time of the reorganization of the board, he was appointed a member by Governor Townsend. Mr. Gallaher has served the school district during the period of the most rapid growth of its school system, which included the construction of the new building.

Mrs. Wheelless has been a resident of Newark for three years, having come originally from California. She has two children in the Newark Schools. Mrs. Wheelless was urged to become a candidate by friends, who believed that there should be a woman representative on the board. She has a vital interest in school problems and feels a woman's interest and experience would be an aid in solving many of them. She has gone on record as favoring a five member board. Mrs. Wheelless was active in Y. W. C. A. work during the war.

At the meeting last night, the board considered fiscal and activity reports on the school for the current year, and debated problems facing the school. The chief problem is that of additional classroom space. Since 1919 the enrollment of the schools has increased 50 per cent, and this has produced an overcrowded condition. The Newark Board has reapplied to the State Board of Education for an additional wing on the new building to alleviate this condition, and to add to the curricula courses in manual training and commercial arts. This request is to have the addition built out of funds appropriated by the State Legislature, and will place no bond issue burden on taxpayers in the school district.

A financial statement showed that current funds available for the present school year were $80,406, and probable expenditures up to and including June 30 would be $75,000, leaving an estimated balance of $5,406.

The board noted with gratification that the percentage of unsatisfactory grades throughout the schools was decreasing, while the percentage of perfect attendance was increasing. They were also pleased to note that the Newark Schools were on the accredited list of the Association of Colleges and Prep Schools.

A report from the University of Delaware showed that students from the Newark Schools stood well above the average in a test observation examination.

The board noted that the teacher salary schedule in the Newark Schools is somewhat higher than the state average, thus insuring the local schools of a higher type of teacher.

Dr. Walter Hüllihen, who has been abroad for several weeks is returning this Friday on the Aquitania of the Cunard Line.

Firemen Uniforms

A tailor will be at the Aetna Hose, Hook and Ladder Company, Friday night at 8 o'clock, advanced time, to take the measure of all members who wish uniforms. The Company is anxious to have a large number of uniformed members to take part in the annual convention parade and ceremonies, next July.

DRUNKEN DRIVER GETS $100 FINE

William Sampson Arrested By Officer Cunningham Pronounced Drunk By Doctor; Eighteen Other Cases

William Sampson, of Newark, was arrested Tuesday night by Town Officer Cunningham, charged with driving an automobile while under the influence of liquor. He was arraigned before Magistrate Thompson, yesterday, and fined $100 and costs, which he paid. His license was automatically revoked.

Sampson was stopped by the officer for driving on the wrong side of the road, and the officer suspecting his condition took him before a physician for examination. The physician signed a statement declaring Sampson under the influence of alcohol and unfit to drive a car.

Eighteen other traffic offenders were arraigned before Magistrate Thompson during the past week. The charge in most cases was speeding and the fine $10. Twelve prisoners were presented, Saturday, by State Highway Officials for speeding on the Glasgow road. Two arrests were made by Officer Cunningham for speeding in the Town of Newark.

SIGMA NU INFORMAL

The Sigma Nu Fraternity held its spring informal dance in Old College last Saturday night. The room was attractively decorated in the three colors of the fraternity, which are black, yellow and white, carried out in lattice work which covered the walls and which formed a false ceiling. The music was furnished by George Kelly and his Orchestra, and the patronesses for the evening were: Mrs. W. E. Hüllihen, Mrs. G. E. Dutton, Mrs. J. R. Downes, Mrs. F. A. Cooch, Mrs. H. L. Bonham, Miss Margaret Clerihew, and Miss Edith McDougle.

Among the members of the Alumni who returned for the dance were: Leslie Stein, Kenneth Crothers, Joseph Cherpak, Herbert Murphey, Walter Gilbert, John Lynch, Joseph Frear, Clarence Underwood.

HAS NEW TEACHING POST

Miss Harriet Wilson, who has been the demonstration teacher in the primary grades of the Newark Schools for several years, will not return to Newark next fall. Miss Wilson has been elected a member of the faculty of the Moses Brown School for Boys at Providence, Rhode Island, a school of old established reputation which was founded one hundred and three years ago by Moses Brown, who was also the founder of Brown University. The Newark Schools are most unfortunate in losing Miss Wilson as she is considered as at the head of her profession in her particular line.

The Newark High School Alumni card party for the benefit of the Alumni Scholarship Fund, held last Thursday night, was a pronounced success. The committee wishes to thank every one who contributed or was present. Dr. P. K. Musselman won the first prize for bridge, and Morris Ewing first prize for 500.

ABANDONED CAR FOUND IN CREEK

Lincoln Sedan Driven In White Clay Creek, Stripped Of Plates; Police Tracing Owner

At noon today no report could be had from the State Police on the identity of the driver who drove a Lincoln Sedan into White Clay Creek early Tuesday morning. The accident occurred at the bridge at Claringbolds on the Lincoln Highway, just east of Newark. The car, apparently traveling at high speed, could not negotiate the turn approaching the bridge and crashed through a wire fence, torn down several saplings and dove off the bank into the creek. When the car was found the license plates were stripped from it.

Persons in the neighborhood, heard the crash sometime early in the morning, and saw another car standing on the bridge. The car was found hanging on the bank with the front smashed. The windshield was shattered and blood was found in the interior of the car. There was a pronounced smell of alcohol about the car, and cigarette butts and a ladies' cigarette holder were found on the floor. The initials E. M. M. were on the doors.

A man, who is said to have represented himself as a prohibition agent from Washington, called at the Porter Motor Company, Wilmington, and ordered the car brought in to the Porter garage and kept until he called for it. The State Police, however, are holding the car and tracing its ownership through the engine number.

SCHOOL CHILDREN ON CENTURY CLUB PROGRAM

The Newark Century Club held its regular weekly meeting Monday afternoon. Mrs. W. A. Wilkinson, who had charge of the affair, put on an educational program. Professor W. A. Wilkinson, of the University of Delaware, gave an enlightening talk on the "Educational System of Delaware." He told the history of the public school in Delaware contrasting the beginning with the present day conditions. He mentioned the recent legislation in regard to education, and the increase in appropriations for public education. Professor Wilkinson mentioned needs of the system for money and the uses it will be put.

A demonstration given by the school children of grades 1 to 6, was on under the direction of Miss Mary Gillespie, of the University faculty, to show the development of the teaching of music through the grades from 1 to 6. A point was made of the fact that the teaching of music in the school system here stops at the sixth grade. The need for further instruction along this line is felt by those interested in the problem.

Miss Harriet Wilson, who had charge of arranging the program, paid a tribute to the aid that the co-operation of the music department of the Women's College is giving school music here.

The program follows: Solo work on the miraphone by two pupils from Miss Sarah Glass' sixth grade, Roberta Spencer played "America" and Ott Widdoes gave "Taps"; two-part music, alto and soprano, by Miss Fannie Medill's six grade; vocal duet by Billy Ford and Jane Roberts, Miss Madeline Johnston's fourth grade; a chorus with triangles, Miss Harriet Wilson's third grade; and a selection by the primary symphony orchestra, comprising sticks, sandblocks, drum, bells, trombones, triangle, Chinese woodblock, cymbal and horn. The members of the club received the demonstration with enthusiasm.

An interesting meeting is promised for next week. The club members will be guests of Dean Winifred J. Robinson, of the Women's College, at the college. The State officers of the Federation of Women's Clubs of Delaware will be present. Mrs. A. D. Warner, of Wilmington; Mrs. John D. McCabe, of Rehoboth; Mrs. T. Newlin Booth, of New Castle, and Mrs. W. H. Beacom, of Wilmington, will speak at the meeting. The Choral Society, under the direction of Mrs. J. O. G. Duffy, will sing a few selections. Mrs. Emmet F. Hitch and Mrs. G. Mulford Taylor, of Wilmington, will entertain with piano duets.

FINE MARE LOST IN BARN BLAZE

Saddle Horse Burned To Death In Fire Started By Children; Automobile Also Consumed

"Slipper," a fine saddle mare belonging to Miss Lilly Willis, was burned to death, Saturday morning, in a fire that consumed a barn owned by A. B. Foote on the Lincoln Highway, a half mile east of Newark. An automobile belonging to J. M. Barnes and a quantity of hay and feed were also lost in the blaze.

The fire, which it is thought was started by children building a bonfire in the barnyard, had gained considerable headway before it was discovered. Those who arrived first did not know the horse was in the barn, so no attempt was made to rescue it until Miss Willis' mother arrived on the scene and attempted to enter the barn. The fire by that time was at the height of its fury and drove Mrs. Willis back, singeing her hair. She was prevented from making another attempt to enter the blazing building by bystanders.

The Aetna Fire Company was summoned, but the fire had gained such headway that nothing could be done to check it, particularly in the absence of an adequate water supply. The wooden portions of the barn were completely consumed, leaving only the brick walls and foundations standing. Earlier in the morning the Aetna Company was called to Kemblesville to fight a fire in a room in the McMullen residence. Two Pennsylvania companies were also called and the fire was quickly extinguished.

W. C. BREWER GIVEN STATE APPOINTMENT

Made Chief Of Auto Operators' Examiners; Appointment Questioned On Constitutional Ground, Governor Asks Ruling

TEST QUESTIONS

Last week State Representative Wayne C. Brewer, of Newark, was appointed chief of examiners of automobile operators by Secretary of State Charles D. Grantland. Yesterday a protest was lodged with Governor Buck, questioning Mr. Brewer's appointment on constitutional grounds. The department which Mr. Brewer heads was inaugurated under the new motor code passed by the present Legislature, of which Mr. Brewer is a member.

Opposition to Mr. Brewer's appointment is based on section 14 of the State Constitution which reads: "No Senator or Representative shall, during the time for which he shall have been elected, be appointed to any civil office under this State, which shall have been created or the emoluments of which shall have been increased during such time."

Secretary Grantland contends that the code did not create the specific office to which he appointed Mr. Brewer, and that Mr. Brewer's appointment is constitutional and does not fall under Section 14. Governor Buck has asked Attorney General Reuben Satterthwaite, Jr., to present an opinion on the status of the office to which Mr. Brewer was appointed.

Mr. Brewer assumed office yesterday and announced three stations, one in each county, where applicants for operators' licenses will be examined. They are: Tenth and Wilson streets, Wilmington; State House, Dover; and the State Highway Department Building, Georgetown. The offices will be open to applicants daily except Sundays and holidays. No examinations will be given by the State Highway Police as heretofore.

Mr. Brewer explained that the examination was for chauffeurs and applicants applying for their first operator's license in this state. In cases where an applicant has been licensed in a state where an examination similar to the one required by the new motor law of Delaware is required, examination will be waived. The test will be in three parts. First an eye test to determine possibility of color blindness and ability to read road signs. Second, an oral test on the (Continued on Page 4.)

EGG CLUB REPORT

One hundred sixty-seven farms with over 67,000 chickens represented, reported in the Delaware Farm Egg Record Club for the month of March, according to the summary for that month, recently compiled by Extension Poultryman H. S. Palmer and mailed to all club members by County Agent Ed Willis, Jr.

This number of farms reporting is twelve less than during the previous month, while the total birds reported for March was about 7,000 more than in the February report. As expected, the production per bird, when compared with February, was considerably higher. During March the pullet flocks averaged 18.1 eggs each as against 13.5 in February, and the hen flocks averaged 16 eggs each with the February hen production 11.1 eggs each. The production in March of last year was 16.2 eggs per pullet, 15.5 for hens and 16.5 for mixed flocks.

NEWS OF THE NEIGHBORING TOWNS

AS TOLD BY OUR CORRESPONDENTS

BABE SURVIVES AS KIN DIE AT CROSSING

Train Hits Truck, Dealing Death To Five Of One Family; Man, Thought Confused At Signal, Drives Auto Into Path Of Express

A baby girl, 18 months old, whose condition was reported as fair in the Union Hospital, Elkton, was the lone survivor of the family of Frank McCumsey, a farmer, of Shillington, Pa., near Leslie.

McCumsey, his wife and their three children were killed late Monday afternoon when a Baltimore and Ohio Railroad passenger express train struck a small truck in which they were riding. The scene of the accident was the grade crossing at Leslie Station.

The dead are: Frank McCumsey, 35; Mrs. Bessie McCumsey, 31; Lawrence, 11; Benny, 9; Hazel, 5.

Alberta, the lone survivor, was thrown clear of the wreck and was found on a bank unhurt, except for numerous bruises and possible internal injuries. It was said at the hospital that she would recover.

The bodies of the two boys and girl, who were riding on the back seat, were horribly mangled. The father, mother and infant were riding on the front seat. McCumsey's head was crushed, while his wife in addition to being badly mangled had her clothing burned off her body and her body badly burned when the gasoline tank of the wrecked truck caught fire. With the assistance of the train crew the flames were extinguished.

McCumsey was the owner of a farm near Quarryville, Pa., and as was his custom at this season of the year, was on his way to North East for a load of fish. The family had spent the morning at their farm and had only another mile to go when they met with the fatal accident.

Thought Track Clear

When the truck approached the crossing, which is protected by J. J. Tully, crossing watchman, an east-bound freight train was passing over the crossing, with Tully on the side of the crossing next to the freight. Immediately after the freight had passed Tully observed the fast west-bound train tearing down the track at the rate of 60 miles an hour. When he noticed McCumsey starting the engine of his truck he waved frantically to the latter to stop, but McCumsey failed to heed the signal and started across the tracks. No sooner had the truck made the crossing when it was struck.

The engineer immediately applied his brakes and brought the train to a stop, but the lives of five human beings were already crushed out.

The scene of the accident is considered a dangerous crossing. The grade is steep, and approaching motorists do not have a very clear view of west-bound trains, owing to a high bank and some houses which obstruct the view. This is believed to have confused McCumsey, who did not realize his danger until it was too late.

Coroner Howard W. Green, of Elkton, was immediately called, and after summoning a jury, which viewed the bodies, ordered them turned over to Joseph Grant, North East undertaker, to await the arrival of relatives.

The bodies of Frank McCumsey, his wife, Bessie McCumsey, and three of their four children, Lawrence, Benjamin and Hazel, will be buried in the North East Cemetery Thursday afternoon.

Relatives came to Elkton from Quarryville, Pa., where the McCumseys lived, and explained that they were in poor financial circumstances and could not pay funeral and burial expenses.

The lone survivor of the accident, Alberta, 18 months old, is in the Union Hospital and attendants said her condition was good. Her grandparents expect to take her to their home in a few days.

The bodies of the mother, father and children are being buried at the county's expense, since there were no relatives or friends to supply funds and the only property McCumsey owned was the truck in which they met their death and which was demolished in the accident.

Commercial users operating large fleets of Essex cars say that service and maintenance costs, covering millions of miles of operation, are lowest of any car ever tested.

ESSEX challenges the performance, the style, the luxurious roomy comfort of any car at any price, on the basis that no other gives you back so much for every dollar you put in.

That is why the big buying swing is to Essex. That is why motorists by thousands are switching from past favorites, and trading in their old cars for the big values Essex the Challenger gives. Essex challenges:

IN SPEED—challenging anything the road offers up to 70 miles an hour. IN FAST GETAWAY—any car regardless of size or price. IN RELIABILITY—60 miles an hour for hour after hour.

Essex offers a completeness of fine car equipment formerly identified only with costly cars, and available, when at all, only as "extras," at extra cost on cars of Essex price.

Check these items when you buy—they represent easily above $100 additional value in Essex.

Wide choice of Colors at No Extra Cost. The variety is so great you have almost individual distinction

Standard Equipment Includes: 4 hydraulic shock absorbers—electric gauge for gas and oil—radiator shutters—saddle lamps—windshield wiper—flare proof rear view mirror—electro-lock—controls on steering wheel—all bright parts chromium-plated.

The Duty of the Newspaper

It happens not infrequently that the newspapers print reports of happenings against the wishes of persons concerned therein, and, sometimes, against the wishes of the editors and publishers themselves. Indiscretions and thoughtless pranks sometimes bring distasteful notoriety to persons who normally are of good repute. Naturally the publication of such occurrences is not pleasing, either to the persons directly concerned, or to others who are interested in them.

When such incidents are trifling, especially where youthful offenders are concerned, the newspapers often voluntarily make no mention of them, with the hope that the guilty parties have learned a lesson and will not offend again. But when there is actual violation of law, or when public attention has already been drawn to the incident, the newspapers cannot omit publication of such occurrences.

The newspapers, it may be well to point out, do not make news. It is their business, however, to print the news that is made by others, and when they fail to do so they are lax in their duty to the public. That is why, if we want to be fair with ourselves and our readers, we find it necessary to decline requests, often received, to refrain from printing what are legitimate items of news.—Wilmington Every Evening.

STATE THEATRE OPENS TUESDAY

equipped with scenery and mechanical devices for stage productions. Back of the stage are four dressing rooms, each with running water.

The interior walls are tinted a mottled rose color and will be draped along the sides and over entrances and exits. A flowered silk drape will hang from the proscenium arch. The organ chambers, which have bronze grills, will be draped with Spanish shawls.

There are four 5½ foot hanging lights coming down from the ceiling, made of wrought iron and colored glass, and numerous side and dome lights. The theatre will be heated and cooled by a system of blowers which keep the air constantly changed, using cold or hot air, depending on the season.

The seating capacity of the balcony has been reduced to enlarge the projection booth, which contains five pieces of apparatus and will be manned by two operators. Besides two new projection machines, the booth contains the Vitaphone apparatus, a spotlight and a multi-color light machine. Back on the stage is a new model dimmer for controlling the house and stage lights.

The second floor contains a promenade with two rest rooms and a manager's office opening off it.

The new theatre will be serviced by four ushers and a doorman, all uniformed.

The architects were Hoffman and Henon, of Philadelphia, the designers of the Masbaum Theatre. The building was erected by J. C. Willis, local building contractor.

Newark High School failed to make good its D. I. A. pennant aspirations on Monday, when it played Middletown for the leadership of the Northern bracket. Rawley, Middletown pitcher, let Newark down with three hits, and with support would probably blanked the local boys, but errors were responsible for Newark making 5 runs. DELAWARE BEATS ST. JOE'S, 4-2

Max Glasser Turns Tide Of Victory With 2 Triples

Two smashing triples by Max Glasser turned the tide for the University of Delaware, Saturday afternoon, and decided the margin of a 4 to 2 victory over St. Joseph's, in a game on Frazer Field. Each of Glasser's smashes drove in a run, and Max dusted the pan himself for the other two Blue and Gold tallies.

St. Joseph's made its two runs in the first, when they got to Crossgrove, who started on the mound for Delaware. Coach Rotterock hurriedly sent Hall to the bull pen, and then yanked Crossgrove and put in Hall. Hall kept the visitors runless. Score:

OLDSMOBILE-VIKING PLANS NEW BUILDING

In line with the continuous expansion program which has been in force for the past two years and the addition of the Viking, a companion car to the Oldsmobile Six, the erection of a new administration building is announced by Oldsmobile-Viking officials. It will be located on a city block just purchased, making the third city block of land added to the Oldsmobile-Viking property in Lansing, Mich., within the past six months.

The administration building will have a frontage of 316 feet and an average depth of 85 feet. It will be four stories in height and will contain 94,168 square feet of floor space. The construction will be of Limestone and face brick with stone colonnades on each side of the center entrance.

A distinct feature of the new administration building will be a large auditorium and display room which will open off the main lobby. A permanent exhibit of Oldsmobile-Viking products will be maintained in the display room and the auditorium will be used for dealer meetings.

The new administration building will serve to concentrate under one roof administrative offices which are now scattered in four buildings. Some of these buildings date from the early days of this veteran company of the automotive industry. The new building will house approximately 350 employees and affords more than double the facilities heretofore available to the administrative departments.

Work is now starting on the new structure which will be completed about December 1, according to I. J. Reuter, president and general manager of the company. With this latest purchase of land, the Oldsmobile-Viking factories now occupy a tract of 87 acres of ground a small part of which is the original plot when the first one-cylinder Oldsmobiles were built more than 31 years ago.

The growth of the company's activities during the past two years has been outstanding. In that time the company has erected or is now erecting new buildings which have increased its floor space 62 per cent, or by 935,198 square feet. The total floor area two years ago was 1,369,092 square feet as compared to the new figure of 2,331,290 square feet, including the new administration building and the recently announced addition to the warehouse and shipping building which now is under construction.

All of this additional space is being used to capacity. Production of both Oldsmobile Sixes and the new Viking 90 degree, V-type eight is proceeding at the rate of better than 17,000 cars a month, factory officials report.

on the poultry question, gives the following hints for poultry raisers.

Select a location that has natural drainage away from the building.

A dry, porous soil, such as sand or gravelly loam, is preferable to a clay soil.

In most localities the building should face the south, as this insures the greatest amount of sunlight during the winter.

Allow at least two square feet of floor space per bird. Proper ventilation and sunlight mean a dry house and healthy birds. The partially open front is conceded to be the best type for most sections. The colony plan of housing poultry may be adopted to good advantage on many farms. This system does away with the danger of tainted soil.

The roosts should be built on the same level, 2 feet 6 inches from the floor, with a dropping board about 8 inches below them. Good roosts may be made of 2 by 2 inch material with upper edges rounded.

The nests may be placed on the side walls or under the dropping boards. It is best to have them darkened, as the hens prefer a secluded place in which to lay.

Marketing

Uniform products command the best prices. Pure bred fowls produce uniform products.

Begin marketing the cockerels as soon as they weigh 1 1/2 pounds or attain a marketable weight.

Della and Jim, who find life very very good in a furnished flat on a twenty scanty dollars a week.

"Of all their few possessions, Della prizes most her glorious brown hair, Jim, the gold watch that his father and grandfather have carried before him.

"It is the day before Christmas, and Della has only $1.87 with which to get a present for Jim. So she sells her hair that she may buy into a watch chain.

"Jim, when he returns home that evening and sees his wife so short, is sorely perplexed, for he is the owner of a most useless gift—jeweled combs of tortoise shell that Della has admired for weeks.

"And when he receives his gift—the watch chain—he confesses that he has sold his watch in order to purchase the comb.

"Here is the essence of the giving spirit: Attention—thoughtfulness—sacrifice if need be.

"In ancient times, through the dawn of history, throughout the Middle Ages, and as late as the seventeenth century, men of all stations—prince and peasant, scholar and fool—believed in the tallamancy and therapeutic virtues of precious stones.

"Among the Greeks the diamond was known as 'the invincible,' and was thought to bring victory to the wearer by endowing him with strength, courage and fortitude. In medieval times, as well, it was credited with marvelous virtues—the power to avert insanity, to render poison harmless, and to act as a peace-maker between husband and wife."
