Told By Vet

Sam Handloff opened the regular Monday meeting of the Newark Rotary Club by announcing that the at-the only visiting Rotarian. Outside visitors present were Sergeant Buck Beers, Ralph Smith, Harold Tiffany, Jr.,

the Pacific, which were both tragic and amusing. He participated in the landings on the following South Pacific islands: — Kwajalein, Eniwetok, Saipan, Guam, Iwo Jima and Okinawa.
Lt. George was wounded twice, once

APPOINT WAR FUND WORKERS THIS WEEK

Solicitation
By Volunteers To Raise Local
$10,000 Quota

Newark's slowly organized participation in the United War Fund drive is gathering momentum this week as zone captains, announced last week, are selecting volunteer workers to conduct the house-to-house canvass in their respective home areas.

Mervin S. Dale and Frank K. Simons, co-chairmen of the local phase of the campaign, met Friday evening in the Elliott Building with zone captains and distributed materials to them for re-distribution to their zone workers, to be appointed this week.

With eleven days of the official campaign time already elapsed, Newark workers will have to extend a vigorous effort in order to complete their house-to-house canvass and raise the $10,000 Newark quota allotted this community by the time the drive ends on October 31.

Milton L. Draper is rural New Castle County chairman of the drive. Wearing of the blue feather indicative of having contributed to the campaign is urged of all those who make a contribution.

Residents of the community are urged to give this campaign careful consideration and their full cooperation. A contribution to the United War Fund is a contribution to many agencies and should be made as large as possible as many other local campaigns for funds are combined in this one national effort. Money contributed to the United War Fund may be specified as to which agency it is to be devoted.

Post-War Is HERE and Mullin's Go Back to Regular Store Hours
9 a. m. to 5:30 p. m.
(Friday Included)

The greatest and best news of everyone's lifetime, and that should and will include our enemies, is that of the ending of history's most destructive war. . . . Those who THINK realize that as world leaders United States can and will help her people and ALSO do her utmost to help the world out of chaos and to keep it out of another war of destruction, both home and abroad. . . . This is post-war NOW . . . not next week or year—not "sometime"—not "who knows when?"—but NOW. With this thought in mind MULLIN'S are returning to their former business hours. Our employees as a convenience and war necessity, served Friday evening, and we know it was appreciated, but we and they think that the sooner we can and will assume post-war customs the better we will all share. . . . May time prove we are correct.

WareAbouts

The thought has been advanced by one of the older residents of our town that it would be a splendid move to spruce up the Newark Academy building, brighten its appearance and make it a tribute to the educational cornerstone it represents — not only in Delaware but in the entire United States.

Now, having lived here only a mere ten years and still considered a foreigner by most of the rock-ribbed gentry of the First State . . . we wouldn't think of suggesting any changes in our historical background. BUT, it would seem that perhaps this gent has something. Getting the Academy governing board to do anything about it is another matter . . . and one with which the less we have to do the better pleased we are. The squirrels playing around the Academy lawn would probably resent any change in the environment anyhow so we imagine that's as far as the matter goes . . . if past performances are any criterion.

Bub's Eubanks is home — looking pleased and fit but a little thin around the edges. It's good to see you back, Bub. We hope you soon gain back those 31 pounds — that's a lot of meat off a little man.

Bubs arrived in Seattle last week, flew to Fort George Meade, arriving there Monday, and was home the next day. Wednesday he was in 'civvies'. The town is beginning to take on some semblance of its former appearance now that there aren't so many boom-boom girls floating around and we are gradually seeing more familiar faces of men returned from the services.

While we're on the subject of armed services, etc., we are requested to publish that former non-commissioned officers of the Army who have been discharged on points, since May, 1945, and who wish to reenlist and obtain their old grades, MUST act before October 20. Don't imagine there'll be too much of a stampede.

If you're figuring on doing Broadway during the next couple of weeks, better be sure you have a place to lay your weary head. Delawareans have been warned that hotel accommodations will be virtually non-existent in New York between October 15 and November 6. The reason — the Navy has requested Gotham hostilities to be prepared to take care of thousands of men, officers and their families, when 35 ships of the Pacific Fleet put into New York Harbor.

You Sunday afternoon quarterbacks who follow professional football may hear a rip-snorter this weekend if you tune the Boston-New York fracas. Boston upset the appreciable last week in coming from behind to beat Sammy Baugh & Company and we predict they'll give Stout Stene Owen's New York aggregation a stomach-fall on Sunday. Don Hutson and the Green Bay Packers will likely romp over Cleveland.

Aside to roly, excuse it, please — Rol to Taylor. What are you waiting for?

Lt. Freddie Mitchell back on furlough and in hopes of being released from the Army soon. A former university student here, baseball and basketball player and sports writer for Newark and Wilmington papers, Freddie hasn't changed much — in appearance.

Although he was one of the first Delawareans to join the service and go overseas. Action? Yep, he saw plenty of it.

Mike Popplitt, another former University lad who used to frequent our office and knock out sports stories when the Blue Hens had their best football team, arrived in New York this week on the SS Frederick Victory. Mike is a Major now. He went overseas three years ago as a lieutenant and saw action in the African and European campaigns.

Harvey Johnson told us to keep his name out of this paper. We won't mention it, but 'that man' found a pair of shell-rimmed glasses around the B & O station the first of this week and brought them to this office. The loser may have them by calling for them.

Awakened rudely by raucous voices and a terrific clanging early Sunday morning, what we thought was the 'end of time' proved to be only Mousey Reed delivering the milk. . . . Boy, he really sounded like a one-man band — off-key.

Billy-doo to Frank Megargee in Hawaii — Hurry home, Corporal. Good men are still scarce in the States . . . so the gals say.

We regret the omission of bowling scores from this issue of The Post . . . seems that some of them were ashamed to be seen in print and just walked off when Hubert wasn't looking.

One of the good things about being an editor is that occasionally someone gives you a complimentary ticket to something-or-other. As our predecessor always said, it isn't the value of the thing, it's the gesture that counts.

Course wanting front-page publicity sometimes enters into calculations, too. Then again some people are 'regular'. We received complimentary ducats to two functions this week from what-we-call 'regular' guys. Thanks, J. H. and S. G.

Local Boy Scout and Girl Scout organizations aren't permitted to solicit funds — but, they wouldn't insult you by refusing a donation . . . if you felt big-hearted about it. Guess we better include the Brownies too, or we might hear repercussions.

EASTERN BEAGLE CLUB'S RECORD BREAKING FIELD TRIALS END ON SUNDAY

Owners And Handlers From 10 States Tax Local Club's Facilities During Seven-Day Running Of Largest A. K. C. Sanctioned Trials Ever Held Here

Ideal weather conditions, overcrowded classes and some dissension between officials marked the seven-day running of A. K. C. sanctioned field trials sponsored by the Eastern Beagle Club over the S. Hallock duPont estate at Milford Cross Roads, which were concluded last Sunday.

With 145 entries, constituting a club record, in the 13-inch all age bitches class, which opened the trials, other classes were also well-filled as owners and handlers from ten states jammed hastily built kennels thrown up to accommodate the several hundred hounds here for the events.

Renewals Of Licenses For This Period Start

Cars whose registrations expire Dec. 31 are now eligible to be registered. Frank L. Reed, manager of the Wilmington office of the Motor Vehicle Division, announced yesterday. Cars may be renewed three months prior to the expiration date of registration, he said.

There are 3,697 cars in New Castle County whose tags expire in the current period and a total of 7,693 in the state.

Mr. Reed also announced that the sale of permanent operators' licenses has now reached more than 2,000 for the county. Application for the licenses may be made during the office hours 8:30 to 4:30 p. m. Monday through Friday and up until noon Saturday.

REDUCTION PREDICTED FOR FARM PRODUCTS

Survey Shows Prices Decline At Termination Of Past Wars

If history repeats itself prices of farm commodities will fall as a result of the termination of War II, according to a report by Dr. R. O. Bausman, head of the Department of Agricultural Economics, University of Delaware. During the last three wars in this country, the War of 1812, the Civil War and World War I, commodity prices rose sharply followed by a marked decline. In each instance says Dr. Bausman, the prices of farm commodities fell more than industrial commodities (the things farmers had to buy) and farm conditions were depressed. Prices of different commodities fell disproportionately. Prices of grains fell more than the prices of dairy and poultry products.

If there is a decline in prices following War II there is little clue as to whether the decline will come soon or after some two or three years. Prices started to decline immediately after the War of 1812 and after the Civil War. After War I there was a lapse of approximately three years before prices began to fall.

The government guarantee to support the prices of specified farm commodities at 90 percent of parity does not afford great relief for Delaware farmers. For example, the farm prices of most fresh vegetables in 1945 ranged from 40 to 60 percent above the guaranteed support prices. If the prices of fresh vegetables in Delaware were to fall to the guaranteed support, vegetable growers in general would be in a distressed condition. Furthermore, many farm commodities produced in Delaware have no guarantee support. There is little farmers can do to forestall falling prices but there are two things they can do to fortify themselves. (1) reduce production costs, (2) reduce debts. For example, following War I, it required more than twice as many bushels of wheat to pay the interest on the same mortgage as it did during the war. It was the low-cost and low-debt farmers who weathered the backwash of the fall in prices following War I.

chapter would be written if some of those nags would condescend to run . . . let alone fly.

Newark High School versus Wilmington High School, on the local athletic field Saturday afternoon, at 2:15, will be the best football game seen here this year. DON'T MISS IT. If the Jacks-ets get past these Red Devils, they're going to be hard to hold for the rest of their schedule.

The first class completed was the 13-inch all-age bitches trial which saw Jay's Nancy, owned and handled by Joseph H. Herahberger, of Crafton, Pa., returned the winner over the 145 competing hounds. Other winners in this class were: Second — Grimm's Dixie, owned by H. W. Grimm, York, Pa., handled by Joe Freed; Third — Pen Raven Belle, owned by E. Wadsworth, Baltimore, and handled by Joe East; Fourth — Covington's Suzie, owned by Dr. S. M. Stupenski, Glen Lion, Pa., and handled by Harvey Herb. Reserve hound was Black Jack Lil, owned and handled by Glenn Sturgis, Salisbury.

Dungannon Rock, owned by Charles J. McConnell, Belmar, N. J., and handled by Harry Campbell, was returned the winner in the 13-inch all-age dogs class. Second place in this event went to Ihlers Marksman, handled by Jos. Freed; Third — Cunningham's Captain, owned and handled by Carl Cunningham, Baltimore; Fourth — Montour's Monitor, owned by John Orvitz, with Locust Lane Drummer, owned by Curt Blinsinger, reserve hound.

Red Martin Miss Muffett, owned by Wm. S. Martin, Salisbury, outsmarted four sets of braccimates to win the 13-inch derby class which was completed on Wednesday. Other winners in this trial were: Second — Worrell's Magic, owned by Penrose Worrell, Lima, Pa.; Third — Sunstone Snappy, owned by Harry Springer, Wilmington; Fourth — Balvilla Captain, owned by Jos. Ellis, Bellemore, Del., with Combs's Red Lady, owned by Willard Combs, Temple, Pa., as reserve hound.

Champey, Quarryville, Pa., and handled by Danny Robinson; Fourth — Rothwell's Bee Line Wrinkles, owned and handled by Arthur Able, Lenwood, Pa., with Fisher's Skeet owned and handled by George H. Bowman, Havre de Grace, and, Third — Glenwires Grey Flax, owned by Harvey Rothwell, Wilmington, Littleton's John R., owned by Roy E. Amber-Colored Water Sold As 80-Proof Rye

The labels said "80-proof rye whiskey," and the brand was fairly well known, but when several Wilmington customers opened fifths for which they paid $3.75 they found nothing but amber-colored water.

When the Delaware Liquor Commission investigated, it found that several bottles bearing government seals were completely non-alcoholic. The brand had been sold without complaint in the past.

Commissioner James L. Luke, Jr., assigned inspectors to investigate. The bottles were turned over to the Federal Alcohol Tax Unit, whose agents are seeking the origin of the substituted bottles.

Many of the stores have removed the liquor in question from their shelves.

JR. LEGION BALL TEAM IS HONORED AT DINNER

County Ford Dealers Fete Newark, State Champions

Newark's American Legion baseball state championship team was tendered a dinner at the Newark Country Club Thursday night by the Ford Motor Company dealers of New Castle County, at which the featured speaker was Charles Albert (Chief) Bender, famous baseball pitcher of the days of Christy Mathewson, Rube Waddell, and others of the 1920's. About 40 persons were present. The team, sponsored by the J. Allison O'Daniel Post, won the Delaware championship during the past season under the leadership of William S. Hamilton, post athletic officer.

John R. Fader presided in the absence of C. Harold Sheaffer, post commander, who only a few hours before had been notified by the War Department that his son, Newton Sheaffer, reported missing in the European theatre 18 months ago, had been declared dead.

Guests included Dr. J. Norman Winter, E. E. Borton; Department of Delaware adjutant; A. P. Loewe of Delaware Post, No. 1, of Wilmington; J. Paul Green, department commander-elect of the Delaware State Legion; Alec Gallaher of New Castle; Norman McClaine, of Lancaster, Pa., owner of the Lancaster Roses ball team; Gordon Johnson of the Ford Motor Company; Austin Porter, E. L. Priest and Ray Barnes of Wilmington; R. J. Quillen and N. C. Quillen of New Castle.

Mr. Johnson presented George Haney, commander-elect of the O'Daniel Post, with a plaque for the winning team, and also presented the members of the team and their coaches with individual pins commemorating their success.

Those receiving individual awards were: James Faulkner, Daniel Hamilton, Jesse Malinowski, Lewis Whalen, William Foster, William Steele, George Benson, Eugene Schaefer, Robert Gregg, Richard Reed, Harvey Gregg, Thomas Silk, Harry Struskowski, Edward Lewis, and James Fox, members of the team, and Howard Cage and Dick Roberts, coaches.

Chief Bender, who was introduced by Mr. McClaine, spoke at length on his baseball career, which was begun in 1902, and told of incidents in various games. He paid a high tribute to Connie Mack, with whom he has been associated during most of his major league career, and gave the boys advice on characteristics to avoid as they advance in their athletic careers.

YELLOWJACKETS DEFEAT DOVER 19-0: WILMINGTON TO PLAY HERE SATURDAY

Boasting 6-0 Win Over Collingdale, Wilmington's Red Devils Will Offer Strongest Competition Newark Has Faced So Far During This Season

Coach Stanley Gibb's Yellowjackets kept their slate clean by defeating a highly touted Dover High School eleven on the local athletic field, Saturday afternoon, 19-0. Played on a wet field in a light rain that fell during the entire game, the undefeated Jacks showed an improved offensive type of game over their initial appearance and exhibited the same stellar determination when forced on the defense.

Only a small crowd was on hand to witness the locals chalk up their second consecutive win of the season. Dover, undefeated last year and boasting three backfield combinations, lost their second game of the season, having been beaten 6-0 at the local gridiron Saturday afternoon, 2:15.

The Wilmington aggregation won their first game Saturday by downing a tough Collingdale combination 6-0. The score, however, fails to represent the true strength of the Wilmington Red Devils as they were in some territory on several other occasions only to be belted by penalties and breaks.

When the Yellowjackets met Dover last Saturday, it was the first renewal of their football rivalry for six years. Don Griffin scored the first two touchdowns with Tommy Silk plunging in the extra points. Silk plunged in the last quarter for the Jacks' final tally when Schaefer missed the attempted conversion.

Newark put over their first win in the second period after a game starting at midfield carried to Dover 25. A pass from Tommy Silk to Gene Schaefer put the ball on the five yard mark from where Don Griffin scored. The Yellowjackets hit paydirt again in the third period when Bobby Greig blocked McNeil's kick on the victory 25 yard line. On the next play Silk went through center and carried Dover's nine and a pass Faulner/Griffin registered the second touchdown. Silk again hit the center of the line for the extra point.

Following an exchange of punts early in the final period Newark took over at midfield and a pass from Silk to Tucci put the oval on Dover's 18 and the next play Silk again hit the middle of the line and carried on for the third and final touchdown. A pass Silk to Schaefer failed to add the extra point.

The local high school athletic field has long been woefully inadequate in seating capacity, with only an ancient set of wooden bleachers seating about three hundred available for home games, many hundreds of spectators have been forced to stand in order to witness games.

This season the seating capacity has been increased several hundred through the generosity of Coach Wm. D. Murray and the University of Delaware, who loaned the high school five section of portable bleachers which have been erected on the Yellowjacket field.

Acting for the 1945 Class, President Wm. B. Pie and Secretary Margaret A. Miller have contributed a balance of $243.77, left in the class treasury, to the high school with the specification that it be used for new grand stand seats and no other purpose.

With this for a nucleus, other contributions should be forthcoming to swell the fund. By the time enough money is available, new bleacher seats should be readily available and the 'Jacket field equipped to compare favorably with other schools in the state.

SCHOENBORN RESIGNS AT UNIVERSITY

Takes Post At N. C. State November 1

Dr. E. M. Schoenborn has resigned from the University of Delaware faculty to accept an appointment as head of the department of chemical engineering at North Carolina State College, Raleigh, N. C.

Dr. Schoenborn, associate professor of chemical engineering at Newark, joined the staff here as an instructor 10 years ago. He came from Ohio State University of which he is an alumnus and where he later obtained his doctor's degree.

During his affiliation with the university, Dr. Schoenborn has published several works in the fields of rotameters, plastics and distillation. In addition, he has served as consultant for Pratt and Whitney aircraft manufacturers, and Koppers Corporation of Pittsburgh, Pa. He played an important part in laying out the chemical engineering laboratory when the new building was erected in 1937 and is well known throughout the state as an extension course instructor.

Outside his professional interests, Dr. Schoenborn has been active in community enterprise, as has his wife, the former Miss Virginia Harrington of Dover, a University of Delaware alumnus. He has been prominent in the Newark Music Society and president of the University Faculty Club, while Mrs. Schoenborn is head of the university's drama group. The couple has a 2-year-old son, Edward M. Schoenborn, III.

Dr. Schoenborn will assume his new duties at North Carolina State College on Nov. 1. His successor on the University of Delaware staff has not been named as yet.

appearance except that he was last seen at his position in the aircraft at the time of the attack by enemy fighters.

The family has learned from some of the crew members who are now returned from German prison camps that Lieutenant Sheaffer was acting as bombardier as well as navigator because the bombardier had been killed.

Lieutenant Sheaffer had received his bombardier's wings at Deming, N. M., in March, 1943, and his navigator's wings later the same year at San Marcos, Tex. With his crew he flew to England in October 1943. He had flown 17 operational missions before he was reported missing. On Christmas Eve, 1943, his plane was badly damaged, coming in with two engines and a wing shot away.

Lieutenant Sheaffer had received a special commendation on Jan. 21 and his unit had the Presidential Unit Citation. He also had received the Air Medal with three Oak Leaf Clusters and the Purple Heart.

He was graduated from Newark High School in 1939 where he played football and basketball. He attended the University of Delaware and then attended Goldkey College. While at Goldkey he was president of Phi Theta Phi, international commerce fraternity.

He was a member of the First Presbyterian Church. At the time of his enlistment in the Army Air Forces he was an accountant for the Continental Diamond Fibre Company.

In addition to his parents he is survived by a sister, Miss Doris Sheaffer of Washington, D. C., a brother, Lieut. (jg) Robert Sheaffer, a Navy pilot who has been serving in the Pacific for more than a year, and a young brother and sister, Thomas, and Ella Jane, who live in Newark. His grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. I. Newton Sheaffer of Newark, also survive.

TWO BOYS INJURED

Youth Shot Here Sunday

John Attix, 15 years old, of Clearview Avenue, Woodside Hills, narrowly escaped serious injury here Sunday morning when he was accidentally shot by a 22 calibre rifle, near the Country Club.

Reported to have been gunning in the Country Club area, young Attix fired his rifle at a rock. The bullet barely grazed the rock and ricocheted directly back at him striking him in the stomach and burying itself in his ribs.

A local physician was summoned and administered emergency first aid. The lad was taken to the Wilmington General Hospital in the local ambulance. He was later transferred to the Memorial Hospital and operated on to remove the bullet. His condition was reported as good the first part of the week.

Richard Ivins, 16, of Newark, was treated for lacerations of the face at the Delaware Hospital on Sunday as a result of injuries received when thrown from a motorcycle at Christiana.

OPERATION COSTS CUT

Ration Boards Consolidated

As a result of the consolidation of the 11 War Price Boards in Delaware into four boards, operating expense will be reduced more than 50 per cent, it was announced yesterday by Charles W. Hardesty, state OPA director. Further reductions will be necessary between Nov. 1 and Jan. 1.

In stating that everyone is looking forward to the time when complete controls will be lifted, he added: "Through-out its existence, the OPA has constantly reiterated that restraints would be removed as soon as it was possible to do so."

Due to the closing of boards at New Castle, Newark, Middletown, Smyrna, Harrington, Georgetown and Frankford, surplus property in these boards will be sold at private sale.

Arrangements for purchase may be made beginning next Monday but in some cases possession can not be obtained before Nov. 30. The items to be offered will consist of desks, chairs, and filing cabinets.
