

William Walston

James Leathrum

Scott Paper Company Honors Two Students

William Walston, Jr., sophomore from Salisbury, Maryland, has been awarded the first Scott Paper Company Foundation Scholarship offered at the University of Delaware.

Announcement of his selection by a special student-faculty committee was made recently by Dean of Students John E. Hocutt, who disclosed that James Leathrum, of Dover, runner-up in the competitive selection, will also receive an award for the 1957-58 academic year.

Minimum Award $500

The Scott Foundation Scholarship is granted on the basis of scholarship in combination with traits of character, personality, native intelligence, physical well-being and social adaptability. The minimum award is $500 and should the student need additional financial assistance, up to $1,000 may be granted each year. Funds not disbursed to the recipient may be distributed by the university to other qualified students majoring in mechanical or chemical engineering. Both Walston and Leathrum received $500 awards.

An outstanding student at Wilcomoo High School, Walston entered the university in September, 1955. At present, he is the top ranking sophomore in mechanical engineering. For the first semester of this year, he ranked first in his class of 478 students with a straight "A" record. He was one of thirteen students in the entire student body to achieve a perfect record for the first semester of this year.

Inter-Fraternity Men Choose Lou Morris As New Prexy

Louis Morris, junior Arts and Science major from Theta Chi will be the Inter-Fraternity Council president for 1957-58.

Morris moves from the office of vice-president into the presidency. He has also held the offices of secretary of his fraternity, IFC representative and organizer and president of the Young Democrats on campus.

Morris was a delegate to the National IFC Convention in New York City last fall, and he will again attend the convention in Colorado next year. A veteran of the Marine Corps, he is active in intramural sports.

Bowman Vice-President

Urban Bowman succeeds Lou Morris as new vice-president. A sophomore education major, he is a member of Sigma Nu and is rushing chairman for next year. Bowman plays varsity football, and he was on the sophomore class executive committee this year.

Taking over the office of secretary is Robert Bailey, Sigma Phi Epsilon, a junior. The new treasurer is Robert Mifflin, a junior from Phi Kappa Tau.

Baldt Outgoing Proxy

William Baldt, outgoing president, issued the following statement: "Speaking for the retiring officers and members of the IFC, I feel that the new IFC under the leadership of Lou Morris will continue the policies of keeping the fraternities the strongest group on campus and continue the high fraternal ideals of brotherhood. Also I feel that the new IFC will continue fraternity leadership in the fields of scholarship, athletics and school spirit."

Wilmingtonian Will Sponsor Three Students

Three students from Iceland will attend the university next year.

Thomas Brittingham, prominent Wilmington businessman, announced recently at a university Inter-Fraternity Council meeting that he would sponsor the three students. He explained that he is interested in drawing the attention of the fraternities to these men.

Mr. Brittingham said that he hopes that these Icelandic students will be pledged by fraternities on campus. He added that he wished to see each man pledge a different house.

The objective of this program, Mr. Brittingham explained, is to provide a means for foreign students to broaden culturally and socially on an international basis.

Mr. Brittingham added that he feels that the college fraternity systems offers an excellent opportunity to accomplish this. The Wilmington benefactor has for the last five years sponsored Scandinavian students at the University of Wisconsin.

Each year he has gone to these countries and has personally selected twelve students on the basis of their intelligence and personality.

Those whom he sponsored, both men and women, have been pledged to a sorority or fraternity at Wisconsin.

Panel to Highlight Discussion Of Psychological Problems

"Criminal Responsibility and Mental Illness" will be the subject of a panel discussion scheduled for tonight at 8 p.m. at the university as part of the observance of Mental Health Week.

Principal speakers in the discussion, to be held in Wolf Hall, will be Family Court Judge Elwood F. Melson and Dr. Jerome Kay, Wilmington psychiatrist.

MacPhee To Moderate

Panel members will be Mrs. Samuel S. Arshat, a member of the board of directors of the Welfare Council of Delaware, and Dr. Joseph Jastak, a Wilmington psychologist. Dr. Halsey MacPhee, chairman of the department of psychology at the university, will be moderator.

Highlights Behavior

The discussion will be centered on the question of responsibility and the definition of criminal behavior.

Judge Melson, a native of Selbyville, has had long experience with the legal aspects of criminal behavior, particularly juvenile delinquency. Prior to his initial appointment to the Family Court in 1945, he served for two

Elizabethan Verse Topic of Meeting

Dr. Robert Hillyer, prominent poet-critic and professor of English literature at the university, will give his final reading for the year on May 6 at 7:30 p.m. in Brown Hall lounge.

Dr. Hillyer will center his presentation around Queen Elizabeth I, Edmund Spenser's "April" from "The Shepherd's Calendar," George Peale's "Farewell To Arms," Sir Walter Raleigh's verses to the queen and Shakespeare's tributes will be among the readings. Dr. Hillyer has chosen his selections "not primarily for their historical interest, but for their poetic merit."

Annual Honors Day Lauds Leadership, Academic Ability

Awards were presented to over forty individuals yesterday in Mitchell Hall at the Annual Honors Day program.

Students who excelled in a variety of fields including leadership, scholastic excellence, engineering, prose and poetry, foreign languages, accounting, dramatics and home economics were award recipients. Members of the university's eleven honor societies were also recognized.

Man's unique nature and his problem in this atomic age was the subject of the address by Norman Cousins at the Honor's Day Exercises.

Mr. Cousins, Editor of the Saturday Review of Literature asserted that for the first time in history man has it within his power to change significantly his nature and his appearance. This is possible through the effects of radiation.

Fall Registration

May 6 Through 9

Pre-registration for the fall semester 1957-58 will be conducted May 6 through 9, from 1:30 to 4:30 p.m. in Brown Lab Auditorium. Preliminary schedule of classes are presently available in the Records Office.

Students will register in alphabetical order according to the following schedule: Monday, A to D; Tuesday, E to K; Wednesday, L to R, and Thursday, S to Z.

Procedure to be followed for pre-registration is as follows: cards are to be picked up in the registrar's office, signed by the advisor, and taken to Brown Lab Auditorium at the appointed time.

It is for this reason, continued Mr. Cousins, that a decision must be made on the further use of atomic weapons. The ignorance of all people of the wants, hurts and hopes of their fellow men stands in the way of a sensible solution to this problem.

Education's Role

It is here that education, by broadening the individual scope must play its role in this solution.

Mr. Cousins concluded on an optimistic note. He feels that the American people will recognize the dangers inherent in the effects of radiation and will act with the rest of the world to alleviate the danger.

Mr. Cousins received degrees, honors causa, from eleven colleges and universities in literature, humane letters and law. He received the Thomas Jefferson award in journalism, citation from the Benjamin Franklin Magazine Awards for his editorials, the Quilston Plan Award for the Year's Outstanding Service to Education in 1952 and the Wayne State University Award in Education in 1956.

Awards Announced

Dean Carl J. Rees announced the awards for the program. Academy of American Poetry Prize-Hillel Handloff, Alpha Zeta Prize-George Hastings, American Association of University Women Award Irene Haldas and Joan Osowski, American Association of Teachers of Spanish Medal — Theresa Sobocinski, American Chemical Society Prizes — Velta Petersons and Jerry Goosenberg, American Chemical Society Prize in Collins, American Institution (Continued on Page 8)

Coeds to Compete In State Pageant

Tomorrow is the big day for three Delaware coeds.

Nancy Cathcart, Carole Cumpston, and Elaine Labour are three of the fifteen contestants entered in the annual Miss Delaware pageant.

The scheduled events will begin with a parade up Market Street in Wilmington from 9:30 a.m. to 10:30 a.m. At noon luncheon will be served in the Du Barry Room of the Hotel duPont, after which the judges and contestants will be able to converse together informally.

The evening events will begin at the Wilmington Playhouse, where the girls, escorted by marines, will model fur stoles over their gowns. Following this will be the talent portions of the program. The exact nature of the talent to be presented will not be disclosed until tomorrow evening.

After the contestants parade in bathing suits, the judges will select the three finalists on a points basis. These three will then be asked three questions, and they will be judged on the manner in which they answer as well as on what they say. The judges will then announce their decision.

Al Walters Installs Senate Members

Recently elected Senate members were installed in their offices Wednesday at 4:15 p.m. during a solemn ceremony in the Old College East Wing.

Al Walters then gave the oath of office to the new president, Jean Ashe. Following this, Miss Ashe administered the oath to the other members of the new senate.

Natalies Vladimir Bohdan Represent Ukraine At Del.

Two people from the Ukraine are attending the university now and they are brother and sister. Their names are Natalie and Vladimir Bohdan.

The Bohdan family spent four years in a displaced persons' camp in Austria under American occupation. Natalie and Vladimir feel fortunate that their family was allowed to come to America and establish a new home here.

The family had a great desire to come to America, and in 1949 they were finally permitted to do so. Mr. Bohdan found he was best qualified for farm work; this brought them to the Newark area.

Both Vladimir and Natalie said they immediately felt at home with their newly acquired friends at Newark High School. They agreed that "the Americans were not only friendly but helpful and generous."

Naturally many things baffled them at first; Vladimir said he was particularly confused by the American vending machines; but before they knew it they "had slid into the American way of life." Natalie and Vladimir proudly boast now that they are American citizens.

Vladimir is presently a chemical engineer major and Natalie is a Medical Technology major. As brother and sister they share many common interests—sports, music and their own special love of dancing. Natalie also specializes in Ukrainian embroidery, and Vladimir proudly wears a shirt of this extremely intricate stitchery, made by Natalie. The shirt is worn as part of his authentic dance costume; Vladimir does the choreography for all their dance routines. In Europe he attended a ballet school and Natalie learned to dance from school and her family.

Both Natalie and Vladimir belong to the Cosmopolitan Club and consider themselves American members, although their contribution is mainly the sharing of Ukrainian culture and spirit.

Recently Vladimir was elected President of the club and Natalie secretary. "We are very glad we do belong to this club and always enjoy ourselves immensely at its various functions," they stated.

Natalie is interested in foreign services and hopes that she can help to spread American good will abroad and create an understanding between America and other countries. She would like to go back to Europe some day but only to visit.

E-52 Lab Theatre to Present Plays by Kaufman, Scott

Two original one-act plays and a group of new faces will usher in the last presentation of the E-52 University Theatre. The last event of the season will be the laboratory theatre to be presented Thursday, May 16, in Mitchell Hall.

The evening's program will consist of three one-act plays two of which were written by Jack Scott, a junior English-drama major. The third production will be G. S. Kaufman's "The Still Alarm." Scott's two shows are "The Catalyst," a fantasy, and "Call Forth the Dragon," a drama.

"The Catalyst" is being directed by Elaine Labour, a Senior drama major.

In her cast of five, four of the members will be making their university stage debut. Maryann Smeida, has been active on backstage committees but never before a Mitchell Hall audience. Other newcomers include Edward Dunning, John Stone and Dean Caras, all sophomore Arts & Science students.

Deveraux McCarthy, who appeared in the last major production, "The Gilded Hoop," completes the cast.

Scott is directing his own play, "Call Forth the Dragon." Casting for Mr. Scott's play has not been completed.

G. S. Kaufman's comedy is being directed by Bernie McInerney. Besides carrying the role of director McInerney is also taking one of the roles. Others in the show include Daniel Robertson, who has been extremely active in all dramatic events at the university; Andy Craft, who is now appearing in the Children Theatre production; James McGuinness, and Dick Swartout.

A man who knows he knows it all never fails to tell a little more.

Social Season Ends For Five Fraternities

The social season will come to a screeching crescendo for five fraternities on campus starting tonight as each opens its annual spring weekend.

The five fraternities to hold parties this weekend are Alpha Epsilon Pi, Kappa Alpha, Phi Kappa Tau, Pi Kappa Alpha and Theta Chi.

KA, OX Cannon Sponsor Children To E-52 Production

By Dick Stewart

Seventy underprivileged children had a thrilling experience last Thursday, when they were guests of Cannon Hall, Theta Chi and Kappa Alpha at the E-52 Children's Theatre production, "Rapunzel."

The idea of sponsoring underprivileged children to the show was first mentioned by George Spelvin in his weekly Review column, "Offstage Notebook." Cannon Hall, Theta Chi and Kappa Alpha quickly responded with financial help; fifty children were sponsored by Cannon Hall, and Theta Chi and Kappa Alpha both sponsored ten.

Tickets were distributed to fifty underprivileged children in the Newark area and the remaining tickets were given to the Girls' Club of Wilmington. For most of the children it was the first time that they had ever seen a children's theatre production. After the show, the children had an opportunity to meet the fairy tale characters on the Mitchell Hall stage.

Next week-end the university theatre will continue its custom of presenting the children's theatre to the children of the Governor Bacon Health Center at Delaware City.

Delawarettes Hold Banquet Tonight

Mrs. Geraldine Wyatt, director of the Placement Bureau, will be principal speaker at a Delawarette banquet this evening at the Hollow Inn, Cecil County, Maryland.

The organization which consists of wives of university students, will climax the year's activities with the dinner. Husbands will attend.

The past year has been one of reorganization. The club recently adopted a new constitution and has been renamed the Delaware Students' Wives Association.

Purpose of the organization has been to promote sociability and cultural interests among students' wives.

The "Apes" will start their "orgy" with a party tonight at the home of Leonard Leeds in Wilmington after which they will hold a dinner dance at the Kent Manor Inn, near New Castle. Jack Garnet and his orchestra will play for the dance. Afterwards the group plans another party.

Friedman Party

Joe Friedman, new executive of Alpha Epsilon Pi, will be host for a dinner at his home in Milford on Saturday. Following the dinner the Queen Belle Combo will be featured at a houseparty. Announcements will be made here of the fraternity sweetheart, the best pledge, the outstanding brother and the brother who helped the pledges most.

Sunday's picnic will climax the weekend for the Apes.

The Old South Ball will feature Kappa Alpha's weekend activities. It will be held tonight at Kennett Square country club in Kennett Square, Pennsylvania. George Madden, a brother, and his orchestra will supply the music.

The new KA rose will be crowned and awards will be given to the outstanding seniors, the outstanding pledge and to the champion feller of tall tales. After a houseparty on Saturday night, the "Rebels" will hold a picnic on Sunday afternoon.

Phi Tau Affair

A dinner dance tonight in the Starlight Room of the Hotel Rodney will open Phi Tau's weekend. The Serenaders will play for the dance. At its houseparty on Saturday night, the group will name its outstanding pledge. The weekend will close with a picnic on Sunday.

The Pikes will travel to the Northeast County Club tonight for a formal dinner dance. A houseparty Saturday night and a picnic Sunday afternoon will bring the weekend to a close.

Queen Belle will appear at the Theta Chi house tonight for an evening's blast with rock 'n' roll. Tomorrow the organization will have dinner and a dance at Schaeffers Restaurant in Chesapeake City. Jack Dougherty and his orchestra will play. Names of the OX Sweetheart, outstanding pledge and outstanding fraternity senior will also be announced here.

The Theta Chi's will also hold a picnic on Sunday afternoon.

Director of Extension Request NAEB Topics

Gordon C. Godbey, Director of Extension, has announced that the National Association of Educational Broadcasters is awarding grants this year to educational institutions for the development of radio programs which can be recorded for national distribution.

Funds totaling $100,000 will be granted during the next three years to accredited schools for the development of programs by the Educational Television and Radio Center, Ann Arbor, Michigan. The programs will be made available for broadcast by the 136 radio stations of the NAEB network.

"The American in the Twentieth Century" is the general theme upon which the programs must be based. This broad topic can include any aspect of life relating to Americans. Mr. Godbey stated that the university extension will be glad to work with interested faculty members in preparing material for submitting a request. This must be done on or before June 15.

LINE BY LINE — These Delaware students are learning the office skills that may prove to be the key to successful placement in business or industry. Practicing in the typing class conducted by Miss Sarah M. Wiley, supervisor of the Stenographic Services Center, are (left to right, foreground) Nancy Jones, Mary Desmond and Mary Dennis. In the background are Marguerite Tierney and Sue Hepton.

Co-eds Should Utilize Stenography Courses

Three little-known courses offered at the university may reap large benefits for women graduates seeking career opportunities, according to Miss Sarah M. Wiley, supervisor of the university's stenographic services center.

Miss Wiley and her assistant, Miss Marguerite Miller, are instructors for courses in typing, shorthand and office practices offered for undergraduates as part of the university's regular curriculum.

"We have been concerned," says Miss Wiley, "that more students, especially the women, do not take advantage of these courses. Job openings for women often depend on stenographic skills regardless of their major.

Miss Wiley points out that there are two stenographic programs at the university. One, a two-year certificate program, is designed especially for students intending a secretarial career who wish some college background. The certificate students take the normal first year courses in English, history and other

Bauer to Dedicate P. S. DuPont Hall

Cornerstone laying ceremonies for P. S. duPont Hall, the $2,150,000 engineering building now under construction on campus, will be held next Saturday at 11:00 a.m., during the alumni spring reunion program.

Named for Benefactor

The building is being named in honor of the late Pierre S. duPont, who, for a period of 40 years, was responsible for many benefactions to the university.

Although poor weather conditions have hampered the construction workers in recent weeks, December of this year remains the target date for completion of the new building. The actual cost of the structure is $1,319,226. Furniture and equipment will cost an estimated $600,000 and the remaining funds will be used for the extension of utilities, architectural and engineering fees, a parking lot and miscellaneous items.

Long noted for its strong engineering program, the university will take a significant step forward with the completion of P. S. duPont Hall. Not only will the broad, up-to-date programs emphasizing current engineering practices and problems be improved, but the additional facilities will permit a broadening of course offerings to prepare students for the scientific developments of the future. The present engineering enrollment of 519 undergraduates and 172 graduate students also is expected to increase.

Bauer Places Stone

The stone will be laid by H. Clifford Bauer, Most Worshipful Grand Master, A. F. and A. M. of Delaware with the assistance of other members of the Grand Lodge.

Lethargic, Apathetic

--DEAD

Two weeks have passed since the Junior Musical was called off. Two weeks have passed and the cancellation apparently has caused little furor and less discussion. Perhaps this might be expected since it was a lack of interest and participation that killed the Musical.

The story of the 1957 Junior Musical is an interesting and involved one. Last year, the Juniors, at a class meeting, elected Jack Scott Musical Director. The other three candidates were chosen to assist the director in various important positions. Weeks passed. Only one script, written by the director, was submitted for consideration. Committees were drawn up, try-out dates were set, wheels were ponderously put in motion. Result—nothing.

Trouble had begun early. Rumor had it that no matter how many scripts were submitted, only the director's would be used. Indignation and denials flew from all sides, no one had started the rumor, the rumor was false. At the first reading, sparsely attended, it was obvious the script was too long and not too well adapted to music. As the script was being revised, rumors circulated again. The script was much too long and not at all adaptable to music. More denials, more indignation. Even less people attended the second reading, almost no one tried out for parts. Result—the director resigned and the principal class officers asked Nancy Stewart if she would direct the Junior Musical.

Nancy accepted and began the same round of activities that her predecessor had gone through. Script, try-out dates, committees, rehearsals. She got a little further than Jack did; she managed to schedule rehearsals. Result—no cooperation, no interest, no Musical.

We cannot believe that the class of 1958 is essentially different from other classes. We are led, to be brief, to conclude that class activities per se—not as dances, parties or picnics, but as class activities are doomed. Despite brief flurries of revitalization, such things as freshmen rules, Junior Musicals, Freshmen-Sophomore Field Days, etc. are doomed. Class spirit as such, does not, apparently, exist at Delaware.

Letters to the Editor:

To the Editor of the Review:

I have just read your editorial on "Intellectual Reluctance" appearing in this week's edition. With the points you mention and, indeed, with the whole theme of that piece of writing, I cannot agree, and therefore, have decided to state my own views to you concerning intellectual conformity and the dangers of subversion.

Your ideas as expressed in your editorial seem to be: (1) that the Senate, in attempting to investigate communist subversion, is creating an atmosphere of intellectual conformity, (2) that this atmosphere of conformity is reflected among college students and (3) that all this is very unfortunate.

Questions Accuracy

How can it be said that guilt by association is indicative of the suspicions of "American officialdom" of anything else but Communism? This suspicion is shared by our entire society, and rightfully so. How can it be said that aiding and abetting a world conspiracy designed to destroy liberty is akin to sincere investigation of the human predicament? To say so is ridiculous, of course. Our society, despite the onslaughts of the slipshod "no objective truth" school of thought, still conforms to broad moral order of things which considers as one of its tenets that individual freedom and individual dignity are absolute truths. I believe this assumption necessary to the preservation of our way of life. Given then the right of individual liberty is absolute, as I believe it is, we cannot grant to any person the freedom to destroy freedom; for if this were done, freedom would, in time of peril, soon consume itself. The alternative to this is simply the jailing of all communists and the social isolation of all those who give them aid and comfort. This may seem hard and cruel, but Communism is a hard, cruel thing. In this way the government is encouraging conformity, but it is a conformity to that great concept of the human mind known as liberty.

Questions Statements

Your statement that the poor evidence used in the Norman case is indicative of our "suspicious officialdom" is not accurate. As a matter of fact, the Internal Subcommittee merely disclosed that Norman had been affiliated with known communists. This is true beyond doubt, one of his acquaintances having been Frederick Vanderbilt Field, who was influential in the Institute of Pacific Relations when it was in our State Department during the war. He was not "accused" of being a communist. That point, I thought, should be cleared up. It is an interesting question whether his suicide was a protestation of innocence or an admission of guilt. As I see it, a man with a clear conscience would not take his life.

'Neath the Arches

By Nancy Stewart

Judging from the tired but smiling faces, the past weekend was a good one. Looks like I guessed right when I said there should be plenty of news cupid-wise after the fraternity weekends. Here goes: Congratulations to Bill Orlando and Marian Smith, Jack Ellis and Barbara Kille, Dick Atkinson and Marilyn Palomba, Dave Hudson and Kay Wilkins, Charlie McCauley and Anne Lavery and Pete Green and Nancy Alvarado, all of whom were pinned recently. Best wishes also to the new engaged couples: Ron Hilley and Jean Mate and Betty Knoff and Perce Ness. Also a belated congratulations to Bev Storck and Robert Young, a Newark policeman, who became engaged recently.

This coming weekend, Theta Chi, Pi Kappa Alpha, Alpha Epsilon Pi, Phi Kappa Tau and Kappa Alpha will put on their final "blast" starting tonight. It looks like another great weekend—one of relaxation for those who went last weekend and three days of fun for those who will attend tonight Saturday and Sunday.

"Rapunzel" was a real treat to see last Friday afternoon. The play was terrific, but the kids stole the show as they boomed and threw paper at Connie Goodman as the witch, and little boys waved "hello" to Suzanne Kozak as Rapunzel.

The warm season is bringing with it short hair for the girls. It seems as if everyone is taking to the shears for cool comfort.

About 150 freshmen attended the "Bermuda Ball" on Friday and from all reports a good time was had by all.

OFFSTAGE NOTEBOOK

By George Spelvin

The late Eugene O'Neill, currently Broadway's hottest dramatist, had another of his plays premiered yesterday, when "A Moon For the Misbegotten" opened at the Bijou Theatre. The cast (under the direction of Carmen Capalbo)—"The Three Penny Opera"—"The Potting Shed" includes Wendy Hiller, Franchot Tone and Cyril Cusack. The play was first released in 1947 but closed before it reached Broadway. Carmen Capalbo requested permission from Mrs. O'Neill to revive "Moon" in 1954, and received some—his reasons being that both the American Theatre and O'Neill were being done a great injustice by her (the author's widow) refusal to release O'Neill's plays for Broadway productions. She agreed.

A youthful impresario named Joseph Papp is convinced that the smash musical success, "My Fair Lady," is an angel. Mr. Papp is attempting to offer free Shakespeare programs in the New York City Parks this summer. What's the theatre coming to? And last week the management of "Lady" decided to give him one pair of tickets a week for a three month period to be disposed of to persons willing to contribute $200 (tax deductible) to the Festival. Mr. Papp figures there should be lots of folks in and around New York who (a.) ain't seen the show and (b.) who have 200 tax deductible bucks to correct their deficiency.

"SCAPEGOT": Miss Daphne du Maurier made a proviso last year that her latest best selling novel, "The Scapegoat," would be sold for filming only if Alec Guinness would star in it. He is. Filming starts some time before Christmas.

For anyone who missed the $64,000 Question? Tuesday before, 10 year old Robert Strom's father took the $192,000 and they both went home.

SHORT SUBJECTS: "Boy On a Dolphin"—Sophia Loren and variety of Greek Islands great scenery in an adventures story with no adventure.

"The Buster Keaton Story"—Donald O'Connor great in the Keaton routines—show wet and dull and that's a shame. Keaton was a great contributor and Hollywood has done him dirt!

Don't forget! This is the last day to cast your vote in the George Spelvin award ballot. If you haven't a ballot, get one from the REVIEW office. Tell us who you think was best actor and actress, both lead and support, on the campus this year. Till—eh, well.

NOTICE

Phi Kappa Tau

Tonight the annual Phi Kappa Tau weekend starts out with a bang with a formal dance and dinner at the Hotel Rodney in Wilmington, featuring the Serenaders. Tomorrow night the Bobby Goodman Sextet will play at our barn party at Bob Wood's farm. Sunday we will hold a beach party at Salem Cove in New Jersey.

Recent elections held around campus saw honors go to several Phi Taus. Leo Cotnor, our faculty advisor, won the Featured Teacher award in the school of agriculture. Gene Thomas was elected president of the Delaware 4-H club and Richard Howell received a commendation for being elected president of the Ag club. Ross Lanlus was elected treasurer of the Engineering Council.

Best of luck to Charles McCauley and Anne Lavery who became pinned last Friday.

Tonight starts Alpha Epsilon Phi's Spring Weekend. The festivities will begin with a dinner dance at the Kent Manor Inn, after which there will be two parties. Tomorrow, a journey to Joe Friedman's home in Milford will be followed by a house party with the Queen Belle Combo supplying the music. A picnic will highlight Sunday's activities and will close a very great weekend.

At the end of the first two weeks, the softball team has registered a 4-2 record, with victories over Sigma Nu, ATO, Phi Tau and the Ozarks. Last week the Bowling Team beat ATO.

Brothers Strauss and Aaronowitz and pledges Soss, Melvin Fine and Horowitz were recently initiated into Beta Beta Beta.

The brothers of Theta Chi extend their heartiest congratulations to the Pledges who became brothers Wednesday night. Also congratulations to Russ Trimmer and Guy Morocco for leading them through their pledge training.

Last week Ron Helley announced his engagement to Jean Mate. The congratulations and best wishes of the fraternity are yours.

Last week it was Buck Jones who represented Theta Chi in securing victories for the University of Delaware. He was a member of the winning Delaware relay team at the Middle Atlantic track meet.

Sigma Nu's weekend this year will be remembered as one of the best. The dances Friday and Saturday were highly successful. Saturday night's fabulous house party brought participation from other houses and initiated dancing on the lawn with the hot jazz of the Infirmary Five.

The annual weekend work project sponsored by the house will take place tomorrow. Saturday night the senior farewell house party will be held with the Sigma Nu girls in charge of the decorations and entertainment. This event will conclude scheduled social activities for the Father and Son Banquet May 8th for this season.

Congratulations this week to Jack Ellis and Miss Barbara Ann Kille on their recent pinning.

With their weekend just past, the brothers of Alpha Tau Omega are struggling to get back down to earth. Many thanks go to the social committee whose planning made this weekend a complete success. Not to be overlooked, also, are the pledges who did a fine job arranging the house party Saturday night.

and in presenting their hilarious entertainment.

Congratulations this week go to Brother Perce Ness and Miss Betty Knoff who became engaged during the weekend, and to Brother Bill Orlando who pinned Miss Marian Smith.

Congratulations to Brother Ben Lane who was selected this week as winner of the James W. Myers award for extraordinary scholastic achievement.

Sigma Phi Epsilon finally had a weekend. And a good one it was too.

Among the highlights of the weekend was the naming of the "Girl of the Golden Heart" which was awarded to Miss Jackie Wolfe who is pinned to brother Marty Simmerman. One of the casualties of the festivities was brother Dick Atkins who proved to be a happy victim when he lost a pin to Miss Marilyn Palomba. Congratulations to both.

With one week to go in the intramural softball race, the Sig Ep "A" team is supporting an undefeated record in its quest of the softball trophy and the overall intramural trophy.

Good luck is extended to Miss Nancy Cathcart who is a candidate for the Miss Delaware title under the sponsorship of Sigma Phi Epsilon.

Last Saturday night the members of Pi Kappa Alpha had a "Monte Carlo" party.

Everyone started with $300 (play money of course). Some ended up broke on Walt Timm's fixed roulette wheel, but others got quite rich. Brother Cassoboon and his date Barbara Allen ought to be professional gamblers, for winning the most.

All the Pikes are eagerly awaiting tonight when we go to the Northeast River Yacht Club for a dinner dance. Saturday and Sunday we will continue to have a good time and let's hope we all get to class on Monday.

Congratulations from the brothers of Kappa Alpha to Brother Dave Hudson who recently pinned Miss Kay Wilkins. Best of luck to both of you. Also congratulations are in order for Brother Bob Roberts who was awarded a scholarship to the Haystack Mountain Studio in Liberty, Maine.

The bowling team defeated Phi Tau last week. Brother Chuck Richards bowled a 190 game which is the highest game bowled this season by a KA.

Tonight the KA Weekend gets underway. The Rebels will be out in full force with the spirit of Robert E. Lee present.

The brothers congratulate Brother Dave Tompkins who did such a swell job as REVIEW Editor this year. Also the same for Brother Scott Wilson who was the sports editor. Scott is now news editor.

A belated congratulations goes to Brother Mike Carlton who was initiated into Scabbard and Blade. Also to social member Russ Tatman who recently pledged the same.

The men of Delta Tau Delta could be found at Schaeffer's Restaurant in Chesapeake City last Friday night dining and dancing for the first round of the annual Delt Weekend. Chief event of the evening was the presentation of awards. These were: Outstanding Pledge, Paul Wellborn; Outstanding Delt, Chuck Heckert; and the crowning of our new Delt Queen, Ann Tatnall, wife of Brother George Tatnall. The girls of DTD were in the spotlight on Saturday evening when they presented one of the most fabulous house parties the Shelter has ever seen. We were pleased to see the large turnout of alumni at the weekend. We're sure they enjoyed it as much as we did. Wednesday night the Brothers journeyed to Cannon Hall to serenade Miss Elaine Crittendon who was recently pinned to Brother Rudrow. Tomorrow afternoon we will sponsor a tour of the Delaware campus for high school seniors. Our annual send-off for the senior Brothers will be held Sunday afternoon.

Sports SLANTSby Dave Heeren
Sports Editor

"It's the greatest game there is!" said Bob Cossaboon. He was referring, of course, to lacrosse. For Bob is one of the stars of coach Milt Roberts' Blue Hen lacrosse squad. "Coss" expounded upon his statement by declaring that lacrosse is a mixture of many sports but particularly soccer, football, and hockey.

Bob's teammates are in complete agreement with him concerning lacrosse. Their only regret about the game is that baseball publicity shoves it into the background. Nevertheless, they feel that lacrosse will gradually grow in popularity until either taking its place beside the diamond sport or surpassing it entirely on the campus sports scene.

Bob Seaman, ace scorer for the team this season has plenty to say on behalf of lacrosse for, as he puts it, "I'm in love with the sport."

Bob Koyanagi, star freshman player, is not much for words, but the way he plays the game speaks for itself.

Defenseman Ed Bennett, like many of his teammates, believes that body contact is what makes lacrosse such a good sport.

So it goes, with nothing but praise for the game from anyone from coach Roberts on down to the hard working team manager, Ellsworth Wakefield.

The lacrosse rules are liberal in most respects. Body blocking and stick checking are allowed if the man blocked or checked has the ball or is within fifteen feet of a loose ball. The man with the ball has the option of running, passing to a teammate, or using any other means convenient to him, except touching the ball with his hands, to move the ball across the field and into a position from which it can be maneuvered past the opposing goalie and into the goal.

There are ten players on a team; three attackmen, three midfielders, three defensemen and a goalie. Of these, only the midfielders are free to play on either side of the mid-field line, the defensemen and attackmen being restricted to their respective zones. Unlike most goal sports, however, when the goalie is drawn out of the crease, one of his teammates may replace him in the goal.

The lacrosse ball is made of resilient rubber. It is 2 1/4" in diameter and weighs about the same as a baseball. The most amazing thing about it, however, is that it bounces better than an ordinary rubber ball although possessing the hardness of a hockey puck.

Coach Roberts thinks that the main things that make lacrosse such a popular sport and such a challenge to the individual players are "the contact of football, the speed of track, the condition of a boxer and more brainwork than is required in any other sport".

Varsity, Frosh Trackmen Win

By Cliff Heeren

The Delaware track team will take to the cinders at Lancaster, Pennsylvania, against Franklin and Marshall, today and next Tuesday the Blue Hens will entertain Muhlenberg at Frazer Field.

Freshmen Women Drown Sophomores In WAA Marathan

By Barbara Jenkinson

No news is good news or so they say. I hope that old adage is true concerning WAA sports. Haven't heard much that is new about the spring sports. Notice, I said spring. The general consensus of opinion around campus is that spring never arrived. Summer came instead.

Tennis is thriving in this weather and all those lucky gals who signed up for the tournament are having a grand time.

The swimming meet was this past Wednesday. The results will be posted next week.

The Marathon was won by the freshmen who splashed ahead of the sophomores. Towards the latter part of the week the pool saw many fresh jumping in and swimming laps for their class. Everyone was real glad to see their class spirit.

Elections will be held this week and the first part of next week. A quick rundown again on the candidates: Lynce Most-eller and Barbara Jenkinson, for president; Jane Lotter and Jean Healy, for vice-president; Pat Seni and Nancy Spahr for secretary, and Carol Turner and Nancy Williams for treasurer.

Blue Hen Of The Week

By Jay Braderman

Bob Seaman is one of the mainstays on Delaware's lacrosse squad. In fact, of the stickmen's total of 24 goals, Seaman has accounted for 12.

Seaman plays the midfield position for the stickmen and can also be remembered for the wrestling abilities he displayed for the Hen grapplers this past season.

Age 19, Seaman stands 5' 8" and weighs 150 pounds. He is a member of Theta Chi fraternity and is in the school of Arts and Science at the university.

The fifth singles man, Tom Jenkins, and the second doubles team consisting of brothers Alan Woodruff and Bob Woodruff, were the most successful for the Blue Hens, compiling 2-1 records for the three matches.

Delaware travels to Collegeville, Pa., tomorrow, where they will meet Ursinus and on Monday the Hens are at home to LaSalle.

best. Last Wednesday PMC defeated Haverford.

The Blue Hens spotted Washington College two first inning runs on Wednesday and then rallied to a 3-2 victory. Right fielder Dickie Duerr, starting his first game of the season for the Hens, belted a home run in the eighth inning to break a 2-2 tie.

Tony DeLucas held Washington College scoreless after the first inning in registering his sixth victory of the season against two defeats.

Righthander Tony DeLucas coasted to his fifth victory last Saturday as Delaware baseball defeated Haverford, 19-3.

Jim Breyer, Jim Smith, and Joe Thorp paced the Hens' 15-hit attack, contributing 12 runs, a double, two triples, and a home run. Breyer drove in five runs with a homer and a double, the former coming in the first inning with one on. Smith collected four RBIs and a pair of hits, including a two-run triple in the Hens' wild 11-run eighth inning. Thorp accounted for three runs in that same inning with a bases-loaded triple.

DeLucas, Delaware's leading pitcher, worked only the first five innings as he picked up his sixth win in eight decisions. Dick McKelvey (1-2) followed DeLucas to the mound and was touched for two runs and two hits in a two-inning stint. Bill Patterson (1-0) finished the game and allowed the Hens only one hit.

The victory kept Delaware in contention for a playoff berth in the Southern Division of the Middle Atlantic Conference.

"Business and pleasure do mix..."

ROBERT H. WENTORF, JR., Ph.D., University of Wisconsin, 1951

"Until I joined General Electric's Research Laboratory in 1951, I never realized science could be such a challenge — or so much fun. My job involves research in physical chemistry — the investigation of new ideas which can lead to new and better products people can use. In a company of this size, I have the unique advantage of having the tools and facilities I need and the experience of others close at hand. And in return, of course, I'm expected to apply myself to the best of my ability in each new job. As I see it, if a big company like General Electric invests time, money and faith in my creative ability, and if I respond by creating, then we both benefit. To me, at General Electric business and pleasure do mix."

created borazon — a completely new, diamond-hard substance which promises far-reaching effect on industrial processes and everyday living.

There are more than 27,000 college graduates at General Electric. Each is provided the opportunity for self-development in the hope that his creative ability will bring forth new ideas. As General Electric sees it, these new ideas, stemming from man's native curiosity, will lead to the development of countless products as yet undreamed of for our nation's defense, industries, and homes.

Sticklers!

DON'T JUST STAND THERE . . . STICKLE! MAKE $25

Sticklers are simple riddles with two-word rhyming answers. Both words must have the same number of syllables. (No drawings, please!) We'll shell out $25 for all we use—and for hundreds that never see print. So send stacks of 'em with your name, address, college and class to Happy-Joe-Lucky, Box 67A, Mount Vernon, N. Y.

MILLIONAIRES: do your friends yawn at yachts? Do they think diamonds are dreary? Here's a present that would make even a banker hanker: introduce him to Luckies! While you're at it, be a sport: give him a whole Startin' Carton! A Lucky is all cigarette . . . nothing but fine tobacco—mild, good-tasting tobacco that's TOASTED to taste even better. Invest in a carton yourself. You'll say Luckies are the best-tasting cigarette you ever smoked!
