DRIVE NEAR END FOR AMBULANCE

INDICATIONS FOR SUCCESS ON SCHEDULE

Receipts Total $1,825 With Many Returns Missing; $2,600 Asked

SMITH IS OPTIMISTIC

Generous Response Shown By Citizens of Town and Entire Community

Encouraging indications that the drive being conducted by the Newark Community Ambulance Fund Committee would successfully reach the allotted goal of $2,600, were given when returns on Tuesday night showed a total of $1,825 contributed and pledged.

With only $775 needed to reach the top, Chairman J. Q. Smith held that the campaign would probably be ended on Wednesday night, the stated time. None of the ten teams had completed their assignments, some had not reached the half-way mark in their solicitations, and others had made no report of collections when Smith issued the latest figures Tuesday evening.

While the drive committee hopes to complete its work by Wednesday, the campaign will be continued next week in order that the entire sum requested can be subscribed.

Team captains and workers report that citizens of the town and entire community are responding generously to the plea for funds to continue the ambulance.

All hands—members of the special drive committee and the personnel of the general committee—are concentrating on raising the money necessary for a new ambulance.

Details Come Later

While two important details—one to be considered by the Council of Newark the other by the Aetna Hose, Hook and Ladder Company—remain unsettled, they will not be brought out for discussion until after the new vehicle is assured.

Partial maintenance and the subject of drivers will be laid before the town's governing body at the next regular meeting scheduled for December 7, while Dr. J. R. Downes, general chairman of the community set-up, will discuss the important matter of housing the ambulance with officials of the fire company at the December session on Friday night of next week.

OLD AGE ACT COVERS 1255 INDIVIDUALS

Rittenhouse Bases Estimate On Reports By Sixty-Five Local Employers

SHY SIXTEEN FIGURES

Approximately 1,255 workers in Newark will come under the benefits of the Social Security Act, Postmaster Cyrus E. Rittenhouse estimated this week.

Basing his estimate on reports turned in by 65 employers, Mr. Rittenhouse stated that 955 persons are employed by Newark industrial concerns alone. Reports are missing from sixteen local employers.

Failure to comply with the request to file reports at the postoffice on or before Monday of this week means that the sixteen tardy employers will have to file their statements with the Social Security Board, Baltimore.

Individual Applications

Employers here have already started receiving application blanks for individual employees. Five ways of returning the blanks to the postmaster have been provided: (1) It may be handed back to an employer; (2) it may be handed to any labor organization of which an employee is a member; (3) it may be handed to any letter carrier; (4) it may be delivered to the postoffice in person or by messenger; (5) it may be mailed in a sealed envelope addressed to—Postmaster, Local. In no case is it necessary to prepay postage.

Account numbers will be assigned to every worker and a card certifying that an account has been set up will be forwarded. This card will come through the same channel used in filing applications.

Further Instructions

Upon receipt of the account card which will bear the date of issue, workers are instructed to sign it immediately. The signature, as usually written, is important and will be required for validation of the card.

In cases where cards are given out by employers, numbers will be recorded. Workers receiving cards through other sources are to inform their employers of individual account numbers.

'Account numbers will be changed at any time when application is made to the Social Security Board, providing good and sufficient reasons are shown for such a move.

Employees' applications for benefits will be required in all cases with nine exceptions.

Cases Are Specified

The exceptions are: Self employment; employees of the railroad industry who are subject to the Carrier's Taxing Act approved August 29, 1935; agricultural labor; domestic service in a private home; casual (Continued on Page 8)

COLLEGE HEAD APPROVES AID FOR ATHLETES

Inclusion of Sports Ability In Scholarships Is Feasible—Hullihen

ONCE DONE AT U. OF D.

Although the University of Delaware has no plan of assistance to athletes, there is no reason why the much-discussed plan just announced by Sewanee University should not work well, in the opinion of Dr. Walter Hullihen, president of the local institution. Dr. Hullihen was formerly faculty director of athletics at Sewanee. The Sewanee scholarship plan takes various factors including athletics into account.

Dr. Hullihen gave his views last night commenting on a report that the Carnegie Foundation for the Advancement of Teaching will conduct another investigation of collegiate football such as that conducted nearly ten years ago.

Must Agree

The Carnegie Foundation will serve no real purpose in such an investigation, Dr. Hullihen said, unless the colleges throughout the country "face the situation that prevails and agree on an open and above-board plan."

Such a policy was adopted this year in the Southern Conference and was brought forcibly to attention when the board of regents of Sewanee announced its scholarship system, considering athletic ability as well as other qualifications.

As a matter of fact, Dr. Hullihen said, the University of Delaware had some such system a few years ago when it had a few scholarships that took athletic ability into account.

The only reason it was dropped, he said, was a severe ruling adopted by the Middle Atlantic States Association of Colleges and Preparatory Schools. Under this ruling, if athletic ability figures in the award of a scholarship in any way, Dr. Hullihen explained, the college is withdrawn from accredited scholastic rating.

No Connection

Why scholastic accrediting should be withdrawn for a matter of athletics is not clear. Dr. Hullihen commented that the scholastic standing has nothing to do with the problem.

The same principle announced by Sewanee is used in the Rhodes scholarship plan, Dr. Hullihen said, and it works out very well. He said he recommended his plan along the Rhodes scholarship system to the Middle States conference, but it was not accepted. The question is not likely to come up at a meeting of the conference to be held at Atlantic City in the near future, Dr. Hullihen said.

"Before they can solve the whole vexing problem of professionalism in athletics or assistance to athletes," he said, "the colleges must come to (Continued on Page 8)

POLICE WORKING ON AUTO THEFTS

"Soliloquy" Costly To Delaware Professors

While Dr. Walter Hullihen, president, and members of the English Department faculty of the University of Delaware, "soliloquized" on "Hamlet" for the elucidation of students Monday evening, a thief made off with the prey's overcoat—and the coats of seven of his contemporaries.

Following dinner in the Commons at Old College, Dr. Hullihen, his assistants and charges repaired to the lounge for an informal discussion of Shakespeare—and coffee. The idea was an innovation.

Thieves added to the novelty of the evening by nabbing eight overcoats from an adjacent cloakroom, according to police. College officials have offered a reward of $20 for information leading to the arrest of the culprits.

MORTGAGE LOANS ON LAND SHRINK

Bank Commissioner's Report Shows Delaware Farms Are Improving

Favored this fall by good returns from their truck, fruit and general farming industries, Delaware farmers who are borrowers from the Federal Land Bank of Baltimore and the Land Bank Commissioner are meeting their installments more promptly than at any time since the beginning of the depression, according to a statement made here today by the bank's president, Charles S. Jackson.

Approximately 84 per cent of 300 Delaware farmers carrying first mortgage loans with the Federal Land Bank of Baltimore in a total volume of more than $813,000 had their loan installments fully paid on October 1, according to Jackson, compared to about 83 per cent on June 30.

Payments Regular

Payments on land bank commissioner loans outstanding in a volume of approximately $495,000 stood at 85 per cent on the same date.

The total number of farm mortgage loans in Delaware now outstanding on the books of the Federal Land Bank aggregate $1,308,000. Of this sum more than $1,107,000 had been disbursed since the Farm Credit Administration was established in May, 1933, said President Jackson. He added that approximately 4 per cent of the farm mortgage debt in the state is held through the Federal Land Bank of Baltimore.

Square and Round Dance Scheduled For Saturday

The Kenmore Mills Benefit Association and the Providence baseball club are sponsoring a dance, both square and round, to be held Saturday evening in the State Armory, Elktion. Music for the occasion will be furnished by Christian Sander-son's Pocopson Valley Boys, Kennett Square.

Women's Auxiliary Plans Covered Dish Supper Tues.

The Women's Auxiliary of the First Presbyterian Church will hold a covered dish supper on Tuesday evening, December 1, the next regular meeting night.

An invitation has been extended to any one caring to attend. In addition to a small cash fee, a covered-dish meal with the necessary eating utensils will be required for admission.

Following the supper, the group will pack two barrels for distribution in the mission fields. Contributions for the barrels are in order.

PROMPT WORK BY EMPLOYEES SAVES WRECK

Stolen Machine Stranded On Pennsylvania Tracks At Chapel Street

CARS RANSACKED HERE

Negro Held Following Crash On Elkton Road Sunday; Claims Innocence

A smashed automobile and a possible train wreck were averted Tuesday night by an alert Pennsylvania Railroad locomotive engineer, who discovered a car belonging to J. H. Rumer, 63 E. Delaware Avenue, reported stolen a half-hour earlier, stranded on the tracks at the South Chapel Street crossing.

Piloting an express train on the northbound tracks, the engineer notified railroad officials of the abandoned vehicle. Workers employed in the local signal tower pushed the car off the tracks barely eight minutes before a southbound express was scheduled to pass the point.

Rumer and police were searching for the missing machine when the tower operator notified Officer James E. Morrison that a car had been found.

Stolen on Main Street

Theft of the car took place shortly after 11 o'clock. Rumer parked it in front of the postoffice while he rode around to the State Armory at Delaware Avenue and Academy Street with another party. Keys left in the car when it was parked were found by the railroad workers. Although ransacked and its contents of photographer's equipment scattered over the floor, nothing is believed to have been stolen from the machine.

Private Claude Beswick of the State Police and Officer J. LeRoy Hill, both of whom were on duty at the time, assisted Morrison in an immediate investigation.

Gang Thought Operating

Ransacking of several cars parked in the lot behind Old College, University of Delaware, was also reported to police Tuesday night.

Another case was reported Saturday night when a car belonging to H. L. Wollens, parked on S. College Avenue, between Main Street and Delaware Avenue, was robbed of a woman's purse containing cash and two gold rings.

Wollens and his family were attending a motion picture show when the bag was pilfered sometime between 9 and 11:30 o'clock. Officer Hill is handling the case.

Police are of the opinion that a gang of petty thieves is operating here and in Cecil County, Md., where a number of similar thefts have been reported in the last week.

Parked Car Wrecked

A car owned by Lewis Fell, E. Park Place, was damaged to the extent of $135 Sunday night while parked on Elkton Road. Officer Morrison arrested Ellsworth Conkey, New London Avenue Negro, and charged him with operating a motor vehicle while under the influence of alcohol. He was charged also with damaging Fell's machine.

Conkey, who has served time on similar counts in the past, had his operator's license revoked less than a year ago for motor vehicle violations.

Jailed following the accident, Conkey claimed that another Negro, Walter Johnson, who is unknown to the police, was driving the car when Fell's machine was hit. Hearing has been postponed until Monday when Conkey will be asked to present the alleged driver of the car.

Official Arrested

Joseph William Taylor, 1223 Market Street, Wilmington, who is thought to be a representative of the Delaware Automobile Association, same address, was arrested Monday night by Chief of Police William H. Cunningham for operating a car without license and reckless driving. Magistrate Daniel Thompson fined Taylor $10 on each count.

A three-reel moving picture was shown to the Krebs school pupils Friday afternoon, including one on "Safety," "Animal Life" and "The Story of a Boy and His Dog."

The Minquas Fire Company is making plans to again entertain the children of the town of Newport and vicinity at their annual Christmas party. The affair is held in the fire house on Christmas morning, at which time a program of entertainment is arranged, and there is a treat for the children. The committee arranging the party includes Everett Swanson, chairman; assisted by Horace Livergood and George Weber.

At the Education Week Program arranged by Mrs. C. O. Bratton, chairman of education of the Newport Woman's Club, she gave a very interesting paper on "Education," contrasting the American Schools with those of England, France and Germany giving a list of the subjects taught in the Delaware Public Schools, as well as naming the requirements of the Delaware Teachers. Mrs. Bratton also gave a report from the Citizens Service Section of the Delaware Education Association meeting held in Wilmington recently.

Mrs. Raymond B. Massey who was removed to the Delaware Hospital this week following a heart attack, is slightly improved.

Michael Brojois, son of Mr. and Mrs. Nicholas Brojois of Silverview, who is a patient in the Delaware Hospital, suffering from pneumonia, is convalescing.

Sidewalk Extension To Be Made Along Highway

Included in a list of specifications for bids advertised last week by the State Highway Department is a sidewalk to run from the Newark town limits at Quality Hill to the residence of Leon A. Ryan. The walk will be .298 of a mile long.

Six families living in that section, beyond the town limits, petitioned the highway department for the walk as a means of keeping school children off the road.

The work, which will probably start about the middle of December, will include the draining and covering of an open ditch that now borders the highway.

Seek To Place Workers Dropped From WPA Rolls

In the reduction of WPA rolls in Delaware as ordered by Washington, no worker who is released will be "set adrift" without every effort being made, through the various Federal agencies set up for that particular purpose, to secure employment or aid for their support.

This was made public at WPA headquarters this week by Bankson T. Holcomb, State Works Progress Administrator, who pointed out that definite plans for every case dropped from WPA rolls are being made by the Temporary Emergency Relief Commission and WPA.

BRANDING DANGEROUS CARS

In a European country, the cars of motorists convicted of flagrant violation of traffic laws are painted with an emblem, as a warning to other drivers. It is said that this practice, newly started, has caused an appreciable decline in dangerous driving, as motorists naturally want to avoid the embarrassment and publicity the emblem gives them.

We'd like to suggest a similar plan for Newark, especially in the cases where drivers endanger the lives of others by refusing to obey common traffic laws laid down by the Town and State. Failure to halt at intersections marked plainly with "Stop" signs is probably the greatest fault to be found with drivers here—that and speeding—and double parking.

Drive down South College Avenue at any hour of the day or night, depending upon fellow drivers to give you the right-of-way privileges afforded by law, and you'll find some dim-wit behind a wheel trying to chase you to Kingdom Come.

If you don't have a close call at Delaware Avenue, you'll find the gauntlet grows tougher as cars rush at you with undiminished speed out of the Women's College.

And last, but not least, the greatest danger lies at Park Place, where they come at you from two sides, without thought or cognizance of "stop buttons," rights of others, or laws regulating right of way.

Newark police aren't miracle men and it is impossible for them to thoroughly check every portion of a growing town at the same time. Authorities at the University of Delaware can help the situation at the Women's College; and individual members of the Council of Newark, instead of ostentatiously disregarding their own ordinances, can start obeying the dictates they are sworn to uphold. A good example instead of a poor one might help.

The idea of branding cars might be a good one in Europe, but it would be a better notion to brand a lot of damned fools who drive cars in the United States.

AUTOCIDES ON INCREASE

Murder on Delaware highways is reaching such alarming proportions that it constitutes one of the most serious problems confronting our citizenry today, according to the Delaware Safety Council. For the first ten months of this year no less than an average of 7.4 persons have met untimely deaths due to unsafe practices on our streets and highways. The total number of autocides for the year to date is 74. This compares with 55 for the corresponding period of last year, leaving a fatality increase of 19. Even the increased automobile registration and greatly increased gasoline tax receipts fail to provide an adequate explanation for the increase. If the present fatality trend continues to the end of the year a conservative estimate of Delaware autocides will be beyond the hundred mark which will establish an all-time high. In view of this estimate it is interesting to note the fatality figures for the past five years: 1931—77; 1932—85; 1933—79; 1934—85; 1935—72. The Council's statistics prove conclusively that November and December are the peak fatality months due to the fact that many motorists are unable to quickly change their driving habits so as to meet the seasonal hazards.

THE QUESTION BOX

Starting next week, THE NEWARK POST will contain a new feature in a "QUESTION BOX" for its readers. We have asked the members of the Agricultural Extension Department at the University of Delaware to answer question on problems of farming, home management, agricultural practices, and, in fact, anything having to do with rural life. These questions, together with the answers, will be published weekly in a column headed "QUESTION BOX."

If you have a question which has been bothering you, write it out on a post card or letter and mail it to "QUESTION BOX," THE NEWARK POST, Newark. We will refer it to the University to be answered and publish the answer as soon as it is returned. Be sure to give your name and address so, if a detailed answer is required, the answer can be mailed to you from the university.

Watch for the "QUESTION BOX" next week.

John Ford To Direct $2,000,000 Film

For the past two months, John Ford, the Academy winning director, has been cruising the South Seas in his yacht, quietly looking over possibilities for a big picture. This week he wired "Okay" to Samuel Goldwyn and the producer immediately called in Harry Wurtzel, Ford's manager, and signed a deal under which Ford will direct Goldwyn's $2,000,000 special, "Hurricane," written by the authors of "Mutiny on the Bounty," James Norman Hall and Charles Nordhoff. Margo has already been tested for the role of the native girl but nothing definite has been established as to her choice for the role. Two Goldwyn white-hopes, John Payne, the Virginian six-footer, and Frank Shields, the noted tennis star, have had the fun of playing "Terangi," the big male role, in tests thus far but Goldwyn is waiting for the return of Ford before making a selection. Ford's signing for the direction of "Hurricane" marks his return to the Goldwyn banner for the first time since they collaborated on the making of "Arrowsmith," with Ronald Colman and Helen Hayes, one of the important films of 1931.

The grand prize, $25, offered by the State Theatre last Thursday night was not claimed. The number drawn was 5,555. The winners of the $1 prizes were: Robert Slack, Samuel Aiken, William McKay, Norman Boulden and Guy Wharton, all of Newark.

State Theatre House Notes Friday and Saturday.

"Give Me Your Heart," a poignant screen drama based on the famous stage play by Jay Mallory, "Sweet Aloes," has been booked for these two days with glamorous Kay Francis in the stellar role. The picture is said to give Miss Francis the finest dramatic opportunity of her screen career, presents her as an ultra modern young Englishwoman who seeks happiness in glorious surroundings in London, New York and Italy. The plot is daring, the situations novel in the extreme, but most striking of all is the treatment which is frank and brilliant, but clean and in good taste. The unusually talented cast supporting Miss Francis includes George Brent, Roland Young, Patrick Knowles and Henry Stephenson.

A double feature will be presented on Saturday only, George O'Brien in "Daniel Boone" along with Kay Francis in "Give Me Your Heart." The former picture tells the story of one of America's great men of the great outdoors.

Starting this week, all Saturday shows will begin at 2:30 and run continuously all day.

Monday and Tuesday

Do you remember, Movie Fan, when you had to stand in front of the class and recite Tennyson's "The Charge of the Light Brigade"? It may not be so long ago either, for, throughout the more than 80 years since the poem was written, teachers and parents have consistently made it a part of a youngster's education. This same poem is the background on which Warner Bros. have made a motion picture. Reunited in the most exciting story of all time, daring, swashbuckling Errol Flynn joins with Olivia de Havilland to bring you the gallant charge that has echoed through the years as mankind's supreme gesture.

Wednesday and Thursday

The funniest husband and wife in films, Charlie Ruggles and Mary Boland are together again for the eleventh time in a delightful comedy of a great love which almost goes wrong, "Wives Never Know." Aiding and abetting in the general merriment is suave Adolphe Menjou cast as the serpent who comes into a Topeka, Kansas, Garden of Eden with some novel ideas on married happiness which he induces Ruggles to try. He does, with results that are almost disastrous to his happy marriage. The climax comes when Charlie turns the tables on Menjou by tricking him into a marriage, clears up the situation for him and Mary, and restores him as the Number One Husband of Topeka.

"The Roof" To Be Presented By E 52 Players, Dec. 10

John Galsworthy's "The Roof," which the E 52 Players plan for December 10, is the last play that he wrote before his death. In keeping with its policy, the players have again chosen a noteworthy work, seldom offered on the amateur or professional stage. Their past productions include such dramas as: Autumn Crocus, The Green Cockatoo, The Doll's House, The Cradle Song, Peer Gynt, and Hell Bent For Heaven.

Galsworthy, well-known as a novelist and dramatist, has written many stage successes. One of his novels was adopted for the screen as "One More River" and had a notable career.

One of Best Dramas
"The Roof" contains some of his best dramatic writing. The plot, centering around the happenings in a Parisian hotel during one summer night, gives the audience a glance at the ordinary lives of six different sets of people. As the play progresses, the characters are brought together by a single disaster affecting them all.

How do people act in a crisis? The answer is found in "The Roof" as that great master of character portrayal, John Galsworthy, knew how to give it. Humor and pathos vie in this exciting drama.

ROAMIN' WITH RUTLEDGE

When Washington College's gridiron representatives settled down to playing football last Saturday they showed a decided edge over Delaware's forces. Why the tactics resorted to by the Shoemen in the first two periods were brought into play, is hard to understand.

Giving a "THE ROAMER" "rackety" demonstration of a gang of boiler-makers bent on mayhem, the Washington team was pushed all over the field by the Blue Hen delegates, who, by strict orders from Coach Clark, stuck to the more orthodox style of football.

George Ekattis must have recognized the soundness of Clark's theory because the Shoemen looked less like a gang of thugs and more like a football team in the second half. The change brought them three touchdowns and a triumph that was merited in every sense of the word.

Unnecessary rough stuff subtly done can be looked for and often is forgiven in football contests. The crude and open display of slugging, ankle twisting, scratching and general rough stuff put on by the Chestertown crew in the first half last Saturday, however, cannot be passed without complaint.

Worst Ever

This writer started looking over athletic affairs in 1909 and has been at it regularly ever since. We have covered the country from coast to coast and have observed the growth of football from the days of padded elbows, shin guards, flat topped helmets and leather body jackets that laced over high-collared sweaters.

For a short period we were connected with a league in Youngstown, O., that consisted of teams recruited from various steel mills in the territory. The brand of play wasn't exactly similar to that expected in a Yale-Harvard game. It was crude and rough in every detail.

We have seen some rough and tumble scraps in Army circles, have watched a couple of bruising battles between Davis-Elkins and Villanova that went down in history, have been tempted to blush at a couple of bitterly fought Pitt-Carnegie Tech affairs and have been present at several Maryland-Western Maryland meetings that didn't feature pink tea, but the imbroglio last Saturday during the first half was the worst exhibition we have ever seen anywhere.

Blind Men

Despite warnings and pleas by Clark, the rough stuff wasn't entirely confined to the Washington side of the line. The Blue Hens grew ruffled over their reception and retaliated in kind. Ware kicked himself out of the battle by flattening Huffman, Shoeman fullback, and Roberts made several unfriendly gestures toward Young before limping off the field. In each case, and they weren't the only ones by any means, the offending Hens could show plenty of scars that weren't received in ordinary and legal phases of the contest.

It was unfortunate that Huffman happened to be the victim of Ware's offense because that particular member of the Washington team was the one Delaware opponent who stood out for his sheer ability.

Why Herb Armstrong, who refereed the game, limited his dismissal of players to Ware is hard to understand. We have no criticism to offer anent Ware's exodus, but how, in the name of heaven, could Armstrong permit Young, Anderson and Collins to remain in Washington's line-up? If their work was so plainly evident in the grandstand, why wasn't it noticed by a supposedly capable official?

This is no alibi for Delaware's showing. The Shoemen had everything necessary for victory and trotted it out in the second half. They deserved

N. H. S. SPORTS PROGRAM EXTENDED

Sixth Defeat Brings To Close Delaware's 1936 Grid Campaign

MAY INTRODUCE INTRAMURAL BOXING - WRESTLING THIS YEAR

Intra-Class, Faculty, and Junior High Basketball Schedules Also Arranged; Prospects For Strong Varsity Cage Squad Good; Practice Starts Dec. 7

With the culmination of the Newark High School's 1936 grid campaign on Saturday, an extensive winter sports program has been arranged by Coaches W. K. Gillespie and Ralph "Irish" O'Connell.

Besides varsity basketball, an intra-mural cage schedule has been drawn up for both girls and boys. It is also hoped to introduce intra-mural boxing and wrestling this year due to the demand for these sports in the past. Mr. O'Connell will instruct the boys in these arts of self defense.

A junior varsity basketball team will again represent the high school and a Junior High School schedule has also been arranged. The juniors will engage in four contests, two each with the New Castle and Claymont junior high teams.

Faculty Joins League

A faculty team representing the local school is also entered in the newly formed New Castle County League which consists of eight teams including: faculties from high schools at Delaware City, Conrad, Newark, Middletown, and Claymont and teams representing Battery H, Newcastle, Newport town team, and Worth Steel.

Due to the fact that the latter three groups were introduced into the league in order to round out an eight team circuit, a rule permitting the use of non-faculty players was adopted. The faculty teams must have, however, at least three members of the teaching staff on the floor at all times. The local club is planning to add several former high school stars to its roster.

It is planned to play as many of these games as possible as one of the preliminaries to the varsity contests. When played separately, the proceeds will be turned over to the General Association of the high school. The Newark faculty will be represented by R. E. Kern, Ralph O'Connell, W. K. Gillespie, John Phillips, Massey Tonge, Stanley Gibbs and Jack Mohr, besides those players enlisted from the town.

Varsity Prospects Bright

With Egnor, Douglass, Skillman, Butts, Ewing, Doordan and George forming the nucleus for the 1936-37 cage squad, prospects, according to Coach Gillespie are bright for a successful season. All of these men, with the exception of Doordan, are well over six feet so local basketball followers will probably see a tall, rangy team representing the Yellow Jack-ets on the court.

The season will open Friday, January 8, against Wilmington High School. The initial practice will be called next Monday.

In discussing the Yellow Jackets 19-0 route of Wilmington's Red Devils on Saturday, Coach Gillespie was high in his praise for the entire team. "I have never seen such perfect coordination and timing," he said, "and the line plunging of Skillman was especially outstanding." Brooks and Harrington were also cited for their shifty broken field running.

Tri-State Wheel
Formed For Star
Billiard Players

Outgrowing the name of the Tri-County Pocket Billiards League inaugurated last season, a new organization to be known as the Tri-State Pocket Billiards League was formed last week at Port Deposit. Eight leading players in neighboring sections of Delaware, Maryland and Pennsylvania filed entries.

Newark will again be represented by Jimmy Martin, proprietor of the State Academy and regarded as the outstanding exponent of the game in New Castle County. Jack Fossett, another local ace and one of the early leaders in the 1935-36 campaign, failed to join the loop.

Champion Files

Fred (Sarg) Brown, title winner last year and a former Newarker who now lives in Port Deposit, will defend his crown against Tommy Riale, venerable Rising Sun artist; and Horace Ringler, Oxford, both of whom participated in the Tri-County set-up.

New members of the outfit are: Chester Huss, Oxford; Carl Hanna, Rising Sun; William Kirk, Aberdeen; and Donald Cunningham, Champion Brown's 17-year-old protege from Port Deposit. Phil Kurg, Aberdeen, a starter last season, did not join the new loop.

Stephen Lamm, who refereed matches at Port Deposit last year, was named secretary-treasurer of the circuit. The playing season, consisting of a double round robin on a home-and-home basis, will open about December 1. In addition to a cup being offered the winner, prizes will be awarded for the season's high run and best individual game.

TONIES MEET
SOLDIERS IN FLAG BATTLE

Fort Du Pont Gridsters Face Two Major Opponents In 4-Day Period

TITLE GAME THURSDAY

Fort DuPont's gridiron aces, undefeated in ten starts this season face the iron-man task of hurdling two major opponents in title games within a space of four days this week. Counting the Fort Hoyle contest last Sunday, which saw the artillerymen giving the Red Devils sterner opposition than was expected, the Engineers are playing three games in 8 days.

On Thursday morning, Captain Chadwick's charges hope to whet their appetites for a Thanksgiving dinner at the expense of the St. Anthony's team from Wilmington. The Delaware State title hinges on the outcome of that test.

At Brooklyn Sunday

On Sunday, the Delaware City aggregation will tread big-time sod at Ebbetts Field, Brooklyn, where a powerful Fort Jay team will battle to the last man in an effort to avenge the recent 6-0 setback suffered at Fort DuPont.

Thursday's game should be a bitter battle. The Italian gridsters, who earned their crack at the soldiers by defeating Price Run on Sunday, are well equipped to give the Engineers a tough morning. The festivities start at eleven o'clock, with the usual half-time display of entertainment being afforded spectators.

Boasting a first-rate forward wall featuring Marconi at center and a durable Irishman named Dougherty at guard, the Tonies carry plenty of defensive strength.

Many Elusive Backs

The Orange and Black have an adequate supply of elusive backfield stars in Carucci, Penna, Luciano, Adamski and Concord.

Carucci, besides being a whirlwind in a broken field, is the receiving star of a dangerous passing attack. Adamski, the tosser, is expected to match the talented Larry Fath at heaving aerials.

Down at the fort, the Engineers are nursing bruises and aches suffered in the hectic fight that brought them a 7-0 win over Fort Hoyle. Wapples, with a dislocated shoulder, may not see action on Thursday, while Rynbrand is limping with a troublesome "charlie horse."

Drawing Attention

New York sports writers are making the forthcoming DuPont-Fort Jay contest headline news. A capacity crowd is anticipated when the rivals swing into action on the baseball layout occupied by the Brooklyn Dodgers of National League fame and fun.

Many Delawareans are planning to board the B. & O. excursion to New York for the Brooklyn battle.

A party of Newark gunners consisting of Walter Clark, Bill Barrow and John Singles left Monday night on a bird hunting trip in Virginia and North Carolina.

BLUE HENS REGISTER TWO WINS AGAINST STRONG TEAMS

Randolph-Macon and P. M. C. Fall Before Blue and Gold When Chickens Click; Daly and George, Newark Boys, Developed; Prospect Considerably Brighter for 1937

By Bill Fletcher

Washington College turned on a heavy barrage of running plays and aerial attacks in the Blue Hens' finale to turn Coach Lyl Clark's men back for their sixth defeat this year.

Other setbacks came at the hands of a powerful Georgetown team, an indifferent Mount St. Mary's eleven, a well-balanced St. Joseph's aggregation, an under-rated St. John's club, and the lucky Drexel Dragons.

Limited Material

With the gigantic task of molding limited and inexperienced material into an efficient functioning unit, Head Coach Lyl Clark and Assistant Coaches "Bud" Shilling and "Ed" Kirschner began drilling approximately twenty men on September 15. At the opening of school these ranks had swelled to thirty-five, the greater number of which was green material in need of college experience. Returning from last year were Captain Jack Hodgson, Joe Scannell, Jim Dillon, Swede Drozdov, Lew Carey, Fenton Carey, Tommy Ryan, Teddie Wilson, Charlie Schwartz, Kirby Preston, Frank Frankowski, Horace Payne, Clark Lattin and Bruzz Wilson. Of these, seven had played in varsity games before and only five were regular performers last year.

Hampered by injuries all season, the Blue Hens progressed slowly.

Georgetown First

An underdog eleven journeyed to Washington and took the expected 39-0 submerging at the hands of the extremely powerful Georgetown gridsters. The game served as nothing more than a wrecking machine to the Hens, a number of the men receiving injuries that have perpetuated, through aggravation, all season.

Playing on a field that bore a striking similarity to Chloe's swamp land, the Blue and Gold ushered in its home season in an indifferent skirmish with Mount St. Mary's. Poor punting was characteristic of Delaware kickers all afternoon, a liability that led to both the Mountaineers' scores and the Hens' defeat by a 14-0 count.

After shunning the last white line in the first two tilts, Coach Clark's men got their first taste of that savory morsel in the third contest when Jack Daly succeeded in throwing Cole, St. Joseph's back, behind his own goal line for a safety. Drozdov's blocked kick, recovered by Scannell, paved the way for Delaware's first touchdown of the year, and placed the Hens at the helm 8-0. The lead was short-lived, however, for the Hawks started ravaging and wound up with a 25-8 victory. Smale, fleet St. Joe's back, provided the biggest thrill and the turning point of the contest when he returned Delaware's kickoff, following the Chickens' score, 82 yards for a touchdown. It was the beginning of the end for the Hens.

Hens Come Through

Surprised spectators witnessed the smooth flowing offensive and good defense of the Clarkmen who succeeded in lopping the ears off a highly touted Randolph-Macon crew by a 19-6 count. Dick Roberts, Tommy Ryan and Jack Daly carried the ball over for the Hens to end in registering Delaware's entrance into the win column. The work of Ernie George in his first varsity game was the outstanding feature of the day.

Under-rated and looked upon as the lone soft spot on the schedule, St. John's College of Annapolis, took over the Hens by a 13-6 count. The inability to maintain a sustained offensive drive resulted in the fourth defeat for the home club. Roberts scored the lone tally for the Hens.

Heights were ascended when P. M. C. fell before a fighting, coordinating, flock of Hens which succeeded in downing the Cadets by a 6-0 count in the best played game of the year. Fenton Carey tallied the lone touchdown of the contest from the 14 yard stripe. Work done by the entire team was outstanding. Viden's exceptionally fine punting kept P. M. C.'s offense checked while the entire line cooperated in stopping the much-talked-of Spang.

That Extra Point!

Hopes for a 4-4 season were squelched as Drexel captured a heartbreaker in the Home Coming classic. A last quarter score by the Dragons and conversion of the extra point wiped out the 6 point lead established by the Hens in the first quarter. Although outplaying their opponents the greater part of the game, the local club failed to exert offensive pressure when needed and the fifth defeat was registered on the books.

A 21-6 trouncing at the hands of Washington College closed the 1936 campaign. Although taking the lead in the first half, the Hens were unable to check the Shoremen's second half splurge and the University of Delaware (Continued on Page 7)

IT'S ALL OVER now—another football season fades into the background, and the Blue Hen followers, at least, look forward to the winter sports program, a layout that will see Coach Ed Bardo's men in eleven dual meets and the E. S. A. championships and the Blue Hen dribblers in "BILL" FLETCHER's scheduled contests. Lyl Clark will take the basketball helm, replacing Gerald P. Doherty who has resigned because of extra duties connected with the graduate manager-ship.

Those of you who are inclined to mean, fret and enshroud yourself with gloom because of the unsuccessful attempts of the Blue Hen football team to register wins on the gridiron this fall need only to think of the victories over P. M. C. and Randolph-Macon to inspire at least a grin, if not a smile to appear on your handsome and beautiful countenances.

We don't always look on the rosy side of things, nor do we believe, as sport idealists, many in the local circle, that if the boys have had a good time punting and grunting that the season has been a success. We like to see a team win, just as much as you do—and our cheers, we admit, are a lot more frequent and possessive of much more volume when the home club is "going to town." Nevertheless, criticism should be tempered with at least a small degree of understanding which should serve to mellow those derogatory statements so easily forthcoming.

COACH LYL CLARK faced a tough proposition when he tackled the 1936 schedule with the limited and inexperienced stock of material on hand. Injuries served to blotch the landscape and even Michael Angelo could have daubed out nary a comic strip with adequate equipment.

The two victories were performances of a team rolling under full power—a team that gave a display of offensive and defensive work worthy of the highest commendation. Games were lost—sure—a lotta games were lost—but any man, woman or child who says they didn't get their eight bits worth out of any one of the ball games ought to be roasted instead of the turkey on Thursday.

Coach Ed Bardo's swimming team also began practice this week. Five veterans returned to the tank including: Captain "Sonny" Kenworthy, Olaf Drozdov, Randall Carpenter, and Heimie Swartz. The loss of Marty Howard, holder of records in the 50 and 100 yard dashes is a severe blow to the Blue Hens' prospects this year.

Coach Bardo announced yesterday that a new event, the 300 yard medley, had been added to the swimming program.

AWAITING THE APPROVAL of the University of Delaware Athletic Council is a football schedule sporting plenty of trouble for the Hens next year. Opening with Ursinus, the campaign will carry the Hens into one of the toughest schedules in several years. Just take a look—Rutgers, American University, Dickinson, St. John's, P. M. C., Drexel and Washington College. Plenty tough—maybe too tough.

Why not Haverford, Swarthmore, Galludet, etc.

JACK HODGSON, Blue Hen grid leader wound up a brilliant football career Saturday with a fine performance against Washington College. For the past three years, one of the main line cogs at the guard and center posts, Jack has proved himself to be one of the pluckiest and ablest line-men to wear Blue and Gold togs, despite a lack of ozone penetration and avoidpouse.

Jack started his football on the Junior High team at West High School in Muskogee, Oklahoma at the tender age of thirteen. Despite the fact that he barely pushed the needle around to eighty pounds the Hen's retiring head attracted statewide attention by being selected on the Junior All-Conference team of Oklahoma. Jack entered Wilmington High School in 1932 where he captained the Cherry and White team from the wing position.

In his freshman year at Delaware, Jack was a member of the varsity track and football squads. He missed a letter in varsity football by a matter of a few minutes.

During his sophomore year, Jack proceeded to win a letter in track and football season found him holding the center position down on the grid team. Even then he was attracting attention for his fighting defensive tactics.

Blue Hen Cagers And Tank Stars Commence Drills

Preliminary practice for the University of Delaware basketball squad was held Monday under the direction of the Blue Hens' new coach, Lyl Clark. Clark succeeds Gerald P. Doherty at the basketball helm, due to increased duties of the graduate manager.

Twenty-seven dribblers reported to Coach Clark for the initial practice. Of this group, six are lettermen returning from last year: "Teedie" Wilson, who will captain the Blue Hens this year, Tom Pennock, Lew Carey, Jack Kerns, Bruce Lindsay and "Bruzz" Wilson. Jack Daly, who received his numerals last year, is also expected to report.

Coach Clark is limiting the opening workouts to cutting and passing drills in order to accustom the men to handling the ball. Practice last night was the last session before Thanksgiving. St. Joseph's will provide the opening opposition on December 10.

Other candidates include: Guy Wharton, Alex Cobb, and Bill Dawson all of Newark, and Hughes, Vano, Shafer, Davis, Kee, Preston, Anderson, McCord, Sheats, Hayman, Johnson, Anderson, E. Wilson, Black, Viden, Ware and Harkins.

Coach Ed Bardo's swimming team also began practice this week. Five veterans returned to the tank including: Captain "Sonny" Kenworthy, Olaf Drozdov, Randall Carpenter, and Heimie Swartz. The loss of Marty Howard, holder of records in the 50 and 100 yard dashes is a severe blow to the Blue Hens' prospects this year.

were closed one of the most unsuccessful seasons since 1929.

The fine work of Lou Hayman, Ed Graham, Bob Ramsey, Bill Hammell, and Viden gives the Blue Hen mentor promising material with which to work next year. Jack Daly and Ernie George, Newark products who earned themselves starting berths are deserving of praise for their work this year. Dick Roberts, also a graduate of Newark High School proved himself, again, to be one of the best offensive backs on the team with his thrilling broken field running. Roberts will close his gridiron career next year while George and Daly have two remaining seasons under Blue and Gold colors.

Graduation will deprive Coach Clark of Captain Hodgson, Jim Dillon, Teedie Wilson and Joe Scannell, old standbys who closed brilliant careers Saturday.

THE DEPARTING LEADER has been eating, sleeping, breathing and living football since he was a babe in arms and so Jack's fond farewell to the gridiron is a sad parting, indeed.

DIGRESSING FROM SPORTS for our parting remarks, we wish to extend to every one of you a sporting time at the table on Thanksgiving Day. May those with the longest reach get the drumsticks and the short armed unfortunates take the hindmost.

JACKETS DOWN "RED DEVILS" IN WALK OVER

Black and Gold Whitewashes Old Rival In Easy Style By 19-0 Submerging

LOCAL'S LINE STRONG

By LeRoy Hill, Jr. (High School Correspondent)

Piling up the largest score since the start of the rivalry, the Newark High School Yellow Jackets trounced the Wilmington Red Devils 19-0.

Receiving the ball on the opening kickoff, the Gillespie-coached combine, showing its most powerful offensive this season, marched to the 20 yard line. Here Skillman hurled a pass which Harrington caught on the five yard stripe. The play was nullified, however, when both teams were ruled offside.

Here the Red Devils took possession of the ball and carried it to the 40 yard line for their longest advance of the contest.

Brooks Scores

Opening the second quarter on their own 30 yard line, the Jackets unleashed an effective aerial attack that took the oval to the five yard marker where Melvin Brooks, flashy Jacket back, carried it over.

The half ended with the ball on Wilmington's 20 yard line.

Unable to penetrate the Jackets' powerful forward wall, following the second-half kickoff, the Red Devils kicked to Doordan who returned the punt 30 yards.

Uncovering several tricky reverses and end runs, the Black and Gold worked the ball to the Cherry and White's 30 yard line from which point, Skillman, following perfect interference, crossed the goal line for the second score. Ewing converted with a perfect kick between the uprights. At this point, Ren George, Jacket co-captain, and Hollaran, of Wilmington, were banished from the game for unsportsmanlike conduct.

Harrington Tallies

Newark's final score came in the fourth period when Harrington made the connection of a pass and raced for the score. Bob Egnor failed to convert.

Although it would be unfair to mention any outstanding player, the kicking of Skillman, the running of Brooks, and the passing of Doordan were the features of the game. The Yellow Jackets line was exceptionally strong. Playing their last game for Newark were: Doordan, Crater, Ingham, Skillman, Butts and George.

Despite a tough season of nine games, the Yellow Jackets won five, tied two and lost only two. The high-lets scored 114 points against 32 for the opposition.

Newark Pinsters Down Wilmington Florists

Led by Walter Powell who turned in a 542 score for the evening, the American Legion bowling team represented Newark defeated the Wilmington Florists last Saturday by a count of 2568 to 2427 on the local alleys.

Powell's mark was the high individual tally for the three-game match although Chick of the visitors turned in a 535 score. Out rolled in two of the three games, the Legionnaires turned in a 919 count in the second affair to more than chalk up enough points necessary to win.

Hurley-Powell, also of Wilmington, featuring Maurice Adams, manager of the local alleys, will engage the Legionnaires Saturday night here.

OBITUARY

James P. Smith

The McClellandville section was greatly shocked on Tuesday morning by news of the death of a life long resident of that locality—James P. Smith, in his 75th year.

Mr. Smith was apparently in his usual health as late as Monday evening. During the night he became seriously ill, dying before the doctor reached the bedside. The malady was pronounced neuralgia of the heart.

A wife, Mrs. Emma H. Smith and six children, William Smith, of North Carolina, Mrs. Leon Garrett, Strickersville, Miss Martha A. Smith, Adra, James P. and Gustavus H. Smith, of McClellandville, survive.

HOW I BECAME A RADIO STAR

by
CHARLES BUTTERWORTH

It's always made my blood boil to hear people say, "Butterworth... that absent-minded fellow." And yet as I look back over my career, what else but amnesia could have caused me to drift from the throes of law, through newspaper work, to the musical comedy stage, then to the screen and now to radio.

Believe me, my clients, when I say that I had always wanted to be a lawyer. You will admit the very thought of an English barrister with his rather attractive wig (which I later learned American solicitors never don) might appeal to any youthful imagination. And for some reason, so it was with me. I accepted law as a career. The Butterworth tradition held that the eldest son had always born the torch of his generation, but this time the whiskers of Old Man Time were due to be singed.

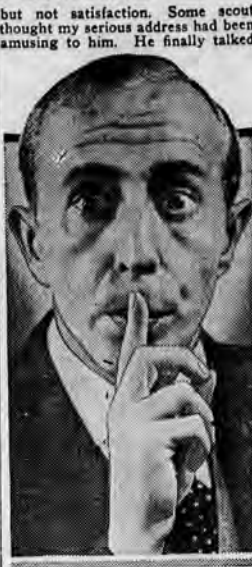

Picture me if you can, after admittance to the Indiana Bar—ready to hurl myself at the doors of justice. And now try to follow me still further. Almost overnight, Fate altered the course of a carefully planned career. In some manner just enough printer's ink had stained my hands, and I was lured into a New York newspaper office which catapulted me on my way towards the bright lights of Broadway, past rows of sardonic critics and up on the American stage of comedy and jest.

of my work as a joke. Things I said and did would dispatch him into gales of laughter. I got pretty discouraged. Then I was asked to make a speech at a Press Club function. I spent sleepless nights preparing it, but I flopped... at least what I said in all sincerity sent everyone into fits of laughter. Now I was really beginning to feel low. The morning brought good news, but not satisfaction. Some scout thought my serious address had been amusing to him. He finally talked me into signing a stage contract. And so I appeared in "Americana," "Flying Colors" and "Good Boy" and woke up one day in Hollywood.

My introduction to radio was provoked by more absent-mindedness. This time it was my old friend, Fred Astaire, who forgot that I was alleged to be a comedian, and engaged me as a talent scout for his Tuesday night series over NBC. But in truth the new assignment was second nature to me for I really discovered such stars as Greta Garbo and Carole Lombard. Say, I almost forgot—it was the Butterworth eye which uncovered Astaire himself.
