PURPOSES OF ODK

ODK's purposes, as stated in the ODK Handbook are; first, to recognize men who have attained a high standard of efficiency in collegiate activities and to inspire others to strive for conspicuous attainments along similar lines; second, to bring together the most representative men in all phases of collegiate life and thus create an organization which will help to mould the sentiment of the institution on questions of local and intercollegiate interest; third, to bring together members of the faculty and student body of the institution on a basis of mutual interest and understanding.

Membership is as much an obligation and responsibility in citizenship as it is a mark of

High School Students To Inspect University Thru Annual Program

One hundred and fifty school students will visit the campus tomorrow in response to the High School Program jointly sponsored by the classes of 1962 and 1963.

Don Child, AS2, and Isabel Cadwallader, AS3, head this year's program. Members of the class of '63 are the guides for these high school students.

The visitors will register in Mitchell Hall, after which they will be greeted by Dr. William G. Fletcher.

TOURS PLANNED

Two fraternity houses, Sigma Phi Epsilon and Sigma Nu will be open to the visitors for tours.

SPECIAL CLASS

As a highlight of the day, a special class, conducted by Dr. Mosher, chairman of the chemistry department, will be given for all students, to give them a better understanding of college lecture classes.

Time will be provided for lunch and campus tours. To conclude the day, Warner Hall will hold a tea. Many professors and members of the Administration will be present to chat with the students and give them a better understanding of the opportunities offered at the university.

First Top Band In Many Years To Play at UD

'Tis the season to be jolly, so put on your glad rags and dance to the music of the Billy May Orchestra featuring Frankie Lester at the annual Christmas Ball tomorrow night. The Ball will be held in the Dover Room of the Student Center from 8-12; it is open to all students and their guests.

The Billy May Orchestra is the first really "name" band to appear at a university-wide dance in several years. Their popularity is attested by the fact that they have appeared at many major colleges and universities in the country.

Tickets are on sale at the Student Center Information Desk and will also be on sale at the door. However, purchasing tickets in advance is encouraged as the price in advance is $3 per couple while the price at the door is $3.50. Poffenberger Studios will be on hand to take souvenir pictures for all of the couples. The dress for the Ball is semi-formal.

Lynn Stein, AS '62, is the Social chairman of the Student Center. Miss Stein and the Social Committee have planned the decorations which will consist of green wreaths decorated with

E-52's 'Twelfth Night'

Ends Run Tomorrow

E-52 offers its last two Mitchell Hall performances of William Shakespeare's "Twelfth Night" tonight and tomorrow night at 8:15 p. m. in Mitchell Hall.

The play stars Kay Salvatore as Viola, Peter Fisher as Sir Andrew, William Harper as Sir Toby, Jack Erthal as Malvolio, and Juliet Whittman as Maria. "Twelfth Night" is derived from cases of mistaken identity, but comes alive with the comedy scenes pitting Sir Andrew, Toby, and Maria against Malvolio.

Directed by C. Robert Kase and designed by Alan Billings, "Twelfth Night" has been well received both by the theatre party attending Tuesday's dress rehearsal and the very large opening night audience.

Advanced ticket sale necessitated the refusal of theatre party orders for tonight's performance. Last night's attendance indicates the need for students and faculty to act quickly in order to obtain tickets for the remaining nights.

Armstrong Circle Theater Film Presented at Warner Dorm

"35 Rue Au Marche," one of Armstrong Circle Theater's film series, will be given at 7:30 p.m. on Sunday, Dec. 11, at a co-ed showing in Warner Hall.

The theme of this film concerns the Nobel Peace Prize winner, Father Pire, who assisted refugees behind the Iron Curtain. Through his efforts, Father Pire helped many people establish new homes as well as regain their previous way of life.

Dr. Purcell, from the Political Science Department, will speak briefly on the significance of the film. Afterwards, coffee will be served, giving interested students an opportunity to speak with Dr. Purcell at greater length.

This series of films, on various topics of general interest, is being co-sponsored by the MRHA and WEC. Armstrong Circle Theater showed this film series on television last year.

The films will be shown in the men's dorms on Monday and Wednesday evenings and in the women's dorms on Tuesday and Thursday evenings. Special co-ed showings will be given on several Sunday evenings.

Frosh Officers Urge '64 Unity

Officers of the freshman class discussed their duties and obligations at the freshman meeting held Monday, Dec. 5, in Wolf Hall.

Unity, the class goal, was stressed and participation on all committees was urged.

Blazers for the class will be the same for the boys and girls. A contest for the best insignia will be conducted. Entries are to be in Dec. 14 and the three best will be chosen. Members of the class will have the chance to vote on the one they want. The Blazers will cost between $21 and $28 for the girls and $29 and up for the boys. Orders should be given to dorm representatives.

Dean Hardy is the temporary advisor of the class. A larger attendance is urged for the next meeting.

'College for Coeds' Released by Pitman

Leo C. and Ouida Gean Muller, authors of "College for Coeds", which was released this month by the Pitman Publishing Corporation, explain and illustrate every phase of college from the freshman year to the senior year.

"College for Coeds" is designed to give juniors and seniors in high school and freshmen in college an opportunity to explore college life.

Mr. Muller, who is assistant to Vice-Chancellor for Planning and Development and Director of University Relations at the University of Buffalo, and Mrs. Muller, who is teaching English and studying for her doctorate at the University of Buffalo, are, as a result of their occupations, well qualified to write such a book.

The book, which includes a pictorial introduction and a picture from this campus, provides an excellent look into college life, not only for students but also for parents, teachers, and guidance counselors.

Noted Philosopher To Speak Topic: 'The Inescapable God'

BY RUTH BEATLY

Philosopher Paul Weiss will speak to the Philosophy Club on "The Inescapable God." Everyone is welcome to attend and participate in the questions after the lecture, on Sunday at 8 p. m. in the Morgan Room.

Dr. Paul Weiss is Professor of Philosophy at Yale University and an internationally known scholar and teacher whose provocative lectures and discussions have made him a popular speaker not only at Yale but at other institutions.

Professor Weiss has played an important role in promoting the exchange of philosophical ideas. He is the founder of The Metaphysical Society of America, founder and editor of the REVIEW OF METAPHYSICS, author of eight books, and co-author of many more.

POPULARITY

Professor Weiss' popularity and effectiveness also stems from his ability to communicate not only with intellectuals but also with artists, businessmen, doctors, lawyers and theologians. He has had a one-man show of his paintings, has published poetry, and written a play. He is continually in demand as a lecturer before industrial groups, and has lectured on the PHILOSOPHY OF SPORTS AND COACHING to the Yale athletic coaches, at their invitation.

Professor Weiss was born in 1901 in New York City's Lower

East Side. His father was a laborer, and he himself was one of four boys. He attended public schools in New York City, and then the High School of Commerce there, where he studied, "quite badly," as he recalls, subjects such as bookkeeping, commercial arithmetic, shorthand, and typewriting. However, two things he learned at that time—shorthand and typewriting—he still uses; even today he writes notes to himself in shorthand, and he is still able to type at a good speed and with "some accuracy."

NEVER GRADUATED

But he never graduated from high school, because at the age of 16 he began to work. Among the jobs he held was that of a stenographer, assistant bookkeeper, and secretary in a fountain pen concern, in a gymnasium, in a hardware store, in a company that manufactured fingernail polish, and in a lawyer's office. For a brief period he and a brother ran a freight forwarding office.

Even in this period, he read voraciously, prompted by a keen desire for knowledge.

At the age of 22 he enrolled in the New York City College evening division, where he astounded the register by signing up for three courses in philosophy. After his classes, he had to endure a one-hour subway ride to his home.

WON ESSAY PRIZE

After he won a City College essay prize, one of his instructors urged him to enter the regular college program. Acting on this advice, he quit his job and enrolled as a full-time student. He financed his education at that time by teaching English to foreigners and by tutoring youngsters.

He says that he did "fairly well" in college. By this he means that by the time he graduated in February, 1927, he had made Phi Beta Kappa, and received his degree cum laude.

NOTICE

Students who will need financial assistance to return to the university for the second semester are reminded that University financial aid applications are available from the Office of the Dean of Students.

Applications for the limited funds available will be reviewed at the conclusion of the present semester. Students whose financial need, academic record and citizenship qualify them for an award will be notified about February 3, 1961.

Indian Exhibit Features Crafts

"Handcrafts of India" is the title of the exhibition which is being presented in the Student Gallery area through Dec. 17.

This exhibition was purchased by Dr. and Mrs. N. B. Allen during their recent stay in India and includes handwoven cloth, hand made jewelry, metalwork, and wooden carvings.

"The handcrafts of India are an important phase in the livelihood of the poverty-stricken Indian people. It should be of special interest to people interested in handcrafts," stated Mr. James Gervain, instructor in the Art Department.

Center to Play 'The Messiah'

On Wednesday, Dec. 14 at 2:30 p. m., George Frederick Handel's oratorio "Messiah" will be played in the Gilbert Room of the Student Center.

The 3 hour recording is that of Herman Schorch and the London Symphony Orchestra. He is assisted by the London Philharmonic Choir with Margaret Ritchie, Constance Smacklock, William Herbert and Richard Standen as vocal soloists. Instrumental soloists include Thomas Matthews, violin and George Eskdale, trumpet.

This recording is based on the original Dublin performance of April 13, 1742, and is acknowledged to be one of the best available.

All students and faculty members are invited to attend.

'The Boyfriend' Tour Holds Future Tryouts Must Sing, Dance, Act

Dr. C. Robert Kase, director of E-52's forthcoming production of "The Boyfriend," has requested further information on the acting, singing, and dancing abilities of those people who tried out on Nov. 30 and Dec. 1.

As a result of the coming tryout, scheduled for Wednesday, Nov. 14, at 3 p. m., a company will be selected for January rehearsals of "The Boyfriend's" songs and dances. The final company used to tour military bases in France, Germany, and Italy in the coming summer will be selected from this group.

Dr. Kase emphasizes that the Dec. 14 tryouts are not limited to those who have previously tried out. Applications for any of the male roles and for musical accompaniment will be strongly considered. "We are especially interested in instrumentalists who can play such instruments as the saxophone, trombone, banjo, and clarinet. There would be an advantage for someone who could double on several instruments," states Dr. Kase. Interested students should contact Dr. Kase in Mitchell Hall.

Folkmusic Singers Appear in Vicinity

Folkmusic will be the theme of two entertainment programs in the greater Philadelphia area this month.

The Shanty Boys, Electrica recording artists from New York, will appear in an evening of folk music at the Moorestown Community House, Moorestown, N. J. on Saturday Dec. 17 at 8 p. m. The Shanty Boys, recently appeared on the Dean Martin Show, at the Newport Folk Festival, and at Carnegie Hall.

The International House, 140 N. 15th St., Philadelphia will be the scene for the presentation, by the Philadelphia Folksong Society, of Kenneth S. Goldstein, folklorist, ballad scholar, and anthropologist.

All Dormitories To Close Sat.

Residence Halls will close at 2 p. m. on Saturday Dec. 17 and reopen at 1 p. m. on Sunday, Jan. 1.

Classes will begin on Monday, the second. This date is a correction of the error in the Student Handbook.

During the vacation, the rooms will be thoroughly cleaned. To assist the cleaning personnel, Mr. Robinson, Director of Residence, requests all resident students to remove everything from window sills and from under beds and to store linens in dressers.

Storage rooms in each residence hall will be open between 7 and 9 p. m. on Dec. 15 and 16 for students who wish to store their bicycles during the vacation period.

What's Christmas?

Christmas is not an everyday occasion. For the Christian world this is considered one of the most important and celebrated holidays.

While this holiday is celebrated by so many throughout the world, the methods and meanings of the celebration are very diverse. For some this is a time with purely religious significance; other are interested in just carrying on the tradition with trees, trimmings, and gift giving; others are interested in the joyous social occasion. Few keep within the boundaries of any one of the methods of celebration. Rather, people often try to achieve a mixture in order to attain their own ideal Christmas.

There are some individuals, however, who are fanatically emotional about meeting the holiday only on one level. These are the "soap box shouters" who want to set their own ideal Christmas up as a shining example to all of us.

They are not only sure that their way is right for them but they are sure that it is right for all others in the Christian world.

Is Christmas the same thing to all people? Should every person react to the holiday in the same manner? Is it wrong that all don't strive for the one ideal? We answer these questions in the negative.

The meaning of Christmas to each person should be clearly thought out in the individual mind. After this clear value judgement the individual must decide how he wants to react to his thoughts. He should then form in his mind his own ideal Christmas. This end result should be firmly cemented in the mind and a conscious effort should be made to have a Christmas season that lives up to one's own particular ideals.

For some the "Christmas spirit" of friendliness and love, completely detached from the religious birthday, is the true meaning of the holiday. In cases such as this and other such examples it seems silly to take part in actions of religious significance which mean little to the individual. Then, again, for those who are deeply religious this is very appropriate at the time. We feel that the important thing to remember is that one should celebrate in the manner in which one sees fit and worry little about other modes of celebration.

Be strong in your convictions, but don't try to convince all to your side.

We wish all a Merry Christmas and Happy New Year.

Keeper Of The Flame

By BILL HAYDEN

The views and opinions expressed herein at any time are those of the writer and do not necessarily reflect those of THE REVIEW, its staff or its editors.

THE MAIN PURPOSE of this column, no matter under whose byline it appears, is to point out and highlight things that would otherwise be missed in the coverage of news. As the title indicates, this column serves as a light in an otherwise dark world. It provides a light touch in time of serious and grim tidings. It provides comment on items and events that otherwise are overlooked.

This column was originally instituted to provide comment and constructive criticism and not to crusade. It is our intention to continue this column on that premise.

THERE ARE STILL a few students who do not fully realize some of the opportunities that are available on campus. Perhaps the only places where you can see big name bands and jazz groups locally are New York and Philadelphia. At the majority of clubs in these two cities, you face a cover charge of about five dollars. Add to this the small fortune you spend on refreshments.

A couple of weeks past, the Four Freshmen appeared on campus, and the price for seeing them was only three dollars per person. Earlier in the semester, the IFC had the Richard Maltby band on campus for its big Fall dance. Tomorrow night, the Billy May band will play for the annual Christmas dance, and the price of tickets is only three dollars (three-fifty at the door) per couple. Why not go?

HAVE YOU EVER LISTENED to the reasons the guys around here give for not getting haircuts? They never admit that they do not have the money. Their alibis follow two patterns.

First, that the haircuts here cost too much compared to the prices at home. Second, that they only have the haircut by their favorite barber at home and so they have to wait until Christmas vacation.

Albeneri Trio Plays Mitchell; Features Haydn, Beethoven

By Cynthia Keen

When can only three instruments produce such full harmony that you think you are listening to a full orchestra? Those who attended last Friday's Artists Series can give you a quick answer to that. The Albeneri Trio came as close to the full, rich sound usually associated with larger ensembles as any trio in my listening experience.

Opening the program with Haydn's "Trio in C Major," we soon realized this was no ordinary group of musicians. The piano was especially outstanding in the first and third movements of the Trio, although the violin was much in evidence. The cello was unfortunately not featured very often; however, from its few solo passages, we got a taste of what was to come during the rest of the program. Especially brilliant were the virtuoso runs of piano and violin in the third movement. Rhythm, intonation, and dynamics were all coordinated beautifully in these passages, as they were throughout the evening.

Ravel's "Trio in A Minor" provided a change of pace from the quiet, classical style of Haydn. Here we at last heard the cello in all its glory, both in solo passages and in unison with the violin. The play on harmonics in the second movement was truly an amazing feat, perhaps more so when one sees it done in person, rather than hearing it on an impersonal record. Again the violin and piano combined for unison runs, which again were flawless. The Spanish flavor of the composition was perhaps strange to some listeners, but certainly was enjoyed by all.

Following intermission, the Trio resumed with Beethoven's "Archduke" Trio in B flat major. Perhaps the best word to describe this piece would be "contrast," for there was plenty of that. Loud to soft, fast to slow, full harmony to singing melody — all were present throughout. Beethoven provided equal work for all three of his players, with an active piano part becoming almost pyrotechnical in the second movement and plenty of melody and activity for cello and violin. Solo cello introduced the second movement and ended it, as we heard an easily recognizable three part composition form. The greatest contrast perhaps was between the coda of the third movement and the fourth movement, which followed without a pause. More than a few listeners were shocked into greater wakefulness by the unexpected burst of activity on stage.

An enthusiastic audience gave the Trio four curtain calls before they responded with an encore. Unfortunately the title of this was not announced and the style was not easily recognizable; nevertheless it was enjoyable to all. Three more curtain calls were forthcoming before the Trio could retire from a hard and, for the audience, most enjoyable, evening's work.

Value of Gold Discussed In Capitol C of C

Washington, D. C. . . . Gold rings bind marriages. Gold blocks support the American dollar. For neither is gold essential. Without gold, however, would either be quite the same?

Remove many of the gold blocks supporting the dollar and the chance exists that the dollar would tumble, knocking down currencies of other nations in a worldwide financial panic, the Chamber of Commerce of the United States says. For many countries use the dollar as a reserve for their own currencies.

Right now the dollar is sound. For 35 American dollars the U.S. government will sell an ounce of gold to another government.

DOLLAR 'GOOD AS GOLD'

For 145 West German marks you can buy 35 American dollars. For 171 French new francs you can buy 35 American dollars. For 437 Mexican pesos you can buy 35 American dollars. For 166 Indian rupees you can buy 35 American dollars.

What this means is that as far as all other countries in the world are concerned, the American dollar is as good as gold, according to the National Chamber.

With about half the free world's gold supply, it seems unlikely that the U. S. would renege on its pledge to redeem dollars with gold, the National Chamber believes. But suppose some countries thought there was a possibility of the U. S. renegeing. Then they would profit (Continued on Page 9)

Greek Column

A fraternity as a glorified many, will be initiated into PKT social club is the image formed by some students who observe it from the outside.

Independents, bewildered by this endorsed image, are leery to commit their precious indices to this influence. The true picture of a fraternity can only be seen from the inside. Any brother realizes that he gets more from his fraternity than just a well-rounded social life.

He gets a comradeship from the Brotherhood that can only be evaluated through his better adjustment to the different kinds of people with whom he will come in contact.

A better spirit prevails among fraternity brothers than does in the dorms because of common interests and shared experiences.

Fraternity membership is a decision that should be seriously considered in enriching one's college life.

Phi Kappa Tau

Tonight Phi Kappa Tau will hold its annual Christmas party. The special feature of the evening will be surprise gifts for the dates of the Brothers. PKT house was opened on Nov. 20 to the parents of the brothers and pledges to familiarize them with the workings and facilities of PKT. The Guest of honor was Dean John E. Hocutt. Pledges Chester J. Tyson III, AG3, Howard A. Murray, AG2, cillities of PKT. The guest of and Frederick W. Schilly, a Brittingham Scholar from Bonn, Ger.

Scratchin' From The Henhouse

How many of you male Blue Hens like to dance to a GOOD band for a change? Do you know that there are scads of girls sitting in the dorms with this same feeling who would be only too happy to go with you to the "Christmas Ball tomorrow night? This is the first really NAME band which has played at a Student Center function. Don't we all want to see more and better name bands in the future? If "big name bands and groups" are not supported, how will we ever improve our social offerings? The Billy May Orchestra plays very danceable music, which was played every night this week over the PA system. Green and gold decorations will make the Dover Room unrecognizable. You will be surprised to see how Hula Hoops can be used in decorating for a "Christmas Ball". Screens will be put in front of all the decorative elements of the Scrouge.

You might be interested to know that the Dover Room has a greater capacity for people than the Field House. So come on fellows, get a girl (it is never too late) and really have a blast at the '60 "Christmas Ball". The girls all are dying to go but it is a well-known fact that 2 girls at a semi-formal are . . . well, socially unacceptable.

The Student Center is sponsoring a Carol Sing in the Lounge on Sunday beginning at 7 o'clock. If you really want to get into the spirit of Christmas come and join in the singing.

Want to be remembered in everlasting immortality? If this corresponds with your heart's desire, turn in a clever, original "nickname" for the Student Center. This means the Student Center as a whole. After all the Student Center is a rather cold forbidding title and we all know Delaware is certainly not a cold forbidding campus.

Leave all entries in the Suggestion Box.

"Til next week, Big Blue Chick

Placement Office Shifts Site Serves Senior Job-Hunters

PLACEMENT OFFICE has moved into its new, modern offices in the College Inn Building. Mrs. Geraldine Wyatt and her staff are ready to help seniors and undergraduates in their search for employment.

BY STEVIE HINGSTON

If you are a senior or a grad student you should already be familiar with the content of this article.

If you are a junior, sophomore, or freshman, read it now.

And if you are independently wealthy or plan a career as a professional tramp, skip to the next article. Because this is the story of one of the most vital and up-to-date of Delaware Student services, the Placement office.

80% REGISTER

Every May, Mrs. Geraldine Wyatt, director of placement, and her staff of two secretaries send a personal data form to every student in the handbook who will graduate in June of the following year. The 80% of these students who register with the office by returning the completed forms, receive a number of important aids in their search for a job. These services are supplied free of charge to seniors and grad students; alumni may obtain the office's help for a nominal registration fee.

The purpose of the Placement Office is not only to help graduating students obtain a job but to make sure, as far as possible that each student takes a job which he can successfully fill, and which will take into consideration his individual needs.

The office operates in two separate areas of placement. Bulletins are published annually listing: 1) Industrial companies and governmental agencies sending representatives to Delaware for student interviews; and 2) Teacher vacancies in Delaware and surrounding states.

PERSONAL INTERVIEW

After returning the registration form each student attends a group meeting during the early months of his senior year, with others in his field of interest, i. e. engineering, teaching, AS men, AS women, home economics, etc. In these meetings the Placement office's services are more fully described and time is provided for extensive question and answer sessions.

Following the group meetings, Mrs. Wyatt interviews each of the students personally. Out of this interview and earlier information given by the student, an individual folder is compiled, including character and achievement references from professors and former employers. At this time the student is advised to keep himself posted on companies coming to campus for interviews. He is also given a copy of the "College Placement Annual".

At this point, the Placement office's newly renovated facilities become extremely important to the job-hunter.

NEW LOCATION

The office, which was formerly located in Purnell Hall, was moved to its modern quarters on the first floor of the College Inn (Continued from Page 5)

Campus Y Organizes Monday Exchange Programs Offered

There will be a meeting of the new Campus Y group Monday at 6 p. m. in the Student Center for the purpose of planning future meetings. The next regular meeting will be held the first week after Christmas vacation.

On Monday, Dec. 5, the first meeting was held. Jim Aull, recently of the Princeton Campus Y, spoke to the group and told them about the Y organization on a typical college campus. He mentioned some possibilities for programs, discussed groups, and forum topics and also told of the opportunities as part of the National Y.

A Russian exchange program for interested students is held each summer as well as work camps all over Europe. In spring, there are National and International Conferences. During spring vacation there are study groups in Puerto Rico. The National Y offers scholarships and financial aid for these foreign programs which are available to members of Campus Y groups.

Shelia Taynton of Lebanon Valley College also spoke at the meeting, telling of her experiences in Russia. She was one of a group of student representatives selected from Student "Y" Associations throughout the country who spent 21 days in a Russian Camp as a part of a 6 week Russian tour.

The Campus Y has not elected officers yet as they are still trying to contact all interested persons. A questionnaire is being circulated to find all those interested and to see which programs the students would like to have in the future.

The organization is essentially a Christian group but is not at all limited to persons of the Christian faiths. All those interested are urged to attend the coming meetings.

Council Offers Cuban Vacation

The project tour is part of the Fair Play for Cuba Committee's program to acquaint students with the truth about Cuba. The Committee was established last April by a group of distinguished writers, artists, journalists, and professionals. Prominent members include C. Wright Mills, Simone de Beauvoir, Truman Capote, John Killens, I. F. Stone, Leo Huberman, Kenneth Tynan, Norman Mailer, and Jean Paul Sartre.

Students who wish to make the Cuban trip should make reservations immediately with the Student Council, Fair Play for Cuba Committee, Room 536, 799 Broadway, New York 3, N. Y.

SGA Assumes World Service Project For '62

The Student Government Association has taken over the World Service Project which was previously conducted by the class of 1962 under the leadership of Roy Adams. The project is a competitive program to enable well qualified college students to broaden their points of view through foreign experience.

Under this project the class of 1962 on campus has sponsored a summer trip for Vernon Abbott to Alaska in 1959 and a trip for JoEllen Lindh in 1960 to France for a summer in a work camp.

This year's goal of the S.G.A. in this World Service Project is to sponsor a student trip to either Russia or Africa. These countries were selected because of their significance in the world situation.

The approximated expense of a trip to either destination is $1300. In order to sponsor a student the World Service Committee of the SGA must solicit the cooperation of all student organizations on campus plus the individual classes. Each organization has been asked to contribute $25 to this project.

Students in all classes may apply for this trip. A chosen campus board will make the final selection. Further information may be obtained from Shani Weaver, '62; Jack Hammond, '62 and Tina Formarotto, '62.

Blue Fish Drown Leopards To Open Swim Season, 67-27

By JIM THOMPSON

Coach Harry Rawstrom's 1960 edition of the Delaware Blue Fish successfully opened its season with a 67-27 drowning of Lafayette in Taylor Pool last Saturday. The yearling mermen also defeated the visitors' frosh 62-27.

Co-captain Dan Roosevelt, a junior, and sophomore John Malone paced the victory, each with double wins. Roosevelt's triumphs came in the individual medley, 2:31.8 (three seconds off his record set last year) and in the 440 yard free style. Malone, out for swimming for the first time, achieved his victories in the 50 and 100 sprints.

TEAM EFFORT

Co-captain Newt Wattis teamed up with Roosevelt to give the Hens a sweep of the individual medley. Wattis also swam on the winning 400 free-style relay team. John Miller, Art Webber, and John Wozniak rounded out the team.

Other winners for the Blue Hen mermen were Charlie Derrick in the butterfly and Dutch Holsinger, diving. Holsinger just missed the record set by Pete Georges last season by 3 points. Second place finishes went to Don Dillon in the 220 and 440 free style; Pete Georges, diving; Gary Otwell, breast stroke; Cal Horn, back stroke; and Howdy Giles, 50 free style.

The 400 medley relay team of Wozniak, Otwell, Derrick, and Horn got the varsity off to a 7-0 lead with a victory in the most exciting race of the meet in which the home forces came from behind to take the lead and almost lose it again.

ROOSEVELT EXCELS

Exceptionally outstanding performances were turned in by Roosevelt in the individual medley and the 440, Derrick in the butterfly, and Holsinger in diving. Coach Rawstrom had praise for all the swimmers but was especially pleased with his divers. "I'm very fortunate to have two such interested and talented divers," are the remarks Rawstrom has for his two specialists.

He also mentions that Roosevelt performed on about the same level as his top efforts last season and that Derrick, Wattis, Otwell, and Horn are making great strides toward filling the gaps vacated by Dan Grant, Dick Cheadle, Jerry Harrison and J. D. Quillin.

Rawstrom feels that the key

Courtmen Dump Lehigh For 60-43 Opening Win As Baly, Wagamon Star

By SAM JACOBS

Saturday night, the varsity quintet defeated Lehigh, an rival, 60-43, in the season's opener at Carpenter Field House.

Tomorrow, the Delaware hosts Pennsylvania Military College at 7:15 p. m. The Blue Hen Chicks will precede the varsity, also playing against PMC, at 5:30 p. m.

The game looked as if it would turn into a rout during the first few minutes, as Bob Happ (8 points during the period) led Lehigh to a 12-4 lead. Then this time, the Hens started clicking and tied the game at 13-13. The highlight of the half came with one second left, as Captain Jack Baly hit on a forty foot push shot. This put Delaware ahead, 22-20 at halftime.

BALY ADDS

At the start of the second half, Baly added 5 more quick points to bring Delaware to a 27-22 advantage. After that, Lehigh's quintet gradually faded. Bill Wagamon and Nate Cloud started hitting on shots and rebounded strongly, giving the Hens a 38-30 lead.

The action was momentarily halted in the second half as Dick Greenhill and a Lehigh basketball player exchanged blows. Both men were ejected.

John Barry did an excellent defensive job covering Norm Brandl, one of the nation's top scorers last season.

DEADLY SHOT

High man for the Hens was captain Jack Baly, who hit for 18 points. It was his deadly out-

Grid Team Names Grossman For Spirited Aggressiveness

JUNIOR TACKLE Bill Grossman will serve as Blue Hen captain for the 61-62 grid season, succeeding end Mickey Heinecken.

Bill Grossman, junior tackle has been elected captain of the Delaware 1961 football team, it was announced last week by David M. Nelson, director of athletics and head football coach.

The selection was made by the players and approved by the university's athletic council.

2 Awards Go To Heinecken

Mickey Heinecken, Delaware's 1960 football captain and starting end, was honored last week by the Wilmington Touchdown Club for his leadership and outstanding playing during the season.

The 6-2, 210-pound end received the club's annual award to the senior player voted most outstanding by members and press and radio sportscasters covering the games.

He also was awarded the Taylor Memorial Trophy, presented by the families of two native Delawareans who starred in athletics at the university. It goes each year to the senior player selected by his teammates as the one who, throughout his college career, has made the greatest contributions to team morale.

A graduate of Central High School, Philadelphia, he is a three-time football letterwinner. He excelled defensively for the Blue Hens in 1960 and was the squad's leading pass receiver with 10 grabs for 130 yards and a touchdown.

Heinecken has been selected to play with the small college all-stars under Delaware Coach Dave Nelson at the All-American Bowl at Tucson, Arizona, later this month. In 1959, he received Little All-America honorable mention.

Grossman was considered the Blue Hens' most improved lineman during the past campaign. He moved from second level guard to tackle early in the year due to injuries, then was elevated to a starting position midway through the season when injuries further depleted the Hens ranks.

DEFENSIVE WORK

His defensive work was largely responsible for victories over Hofstra and Temple and a tie with Marshall as Delaware completed the season with a 2-6-1 record. It was Nelson's first losing season in ten years at Newark.

Nelson said Grossman is a "spirited and aggressive competitor." It is expected he will instill a winning attitude in his teammates, who suffered through a year of inexperience, bad breaks, and injuries in 1960.

Grossman is the tenth successive lineman to serve as Blue Hen captain. He succeeds Mickey Heinecken, starting end, and Delaware's leading pass receiver in 1960.

HARD HITTING

Line Coach Mike Lude said Grossman, hardly noticed as a sophomore, began to show promise in drills last spring and in the fall. Lude said he improved through his own determination and desire to play, and now calls him one of the Blue Hens' fastest and hardest-hitting linemen.

At Delaware, he is a business administration major and has ambitions to be a marine aviator.

Hen Grapplers Open Season With Haverford, Tomorrow

Gene Watson will make his debut as Delaware wrestling coach tomorrow when his team opens a nine-match schedule at Haverford.

It will be the second coaching start for Watson who took over for Whitey Burnham, soccer and wrestling mentor at Delaware for 12 years and now at Dartmouth.

With only three returning lettermen from a team that won six and lost three last year, Watson is faced with a tedious rebuilding job, particularly at the light and heavy weights.

The following are the leading contenders for the various weight classes. The Review went to press before the final eliminations Wednesday, and therefore could not list the starting lineup.

The Blue Hens appear well set at 167 pounds where Co-captain Bill Cornwell, who led the squad with a 6-1-2 record in 1959-60, returns. Watson also has veterans at 137 in Dan Lanning, and at 157 in Tom Stanton, senior co-captain.

Stanton, a transfer from Arkansas State, had an outstanding year with the Blue Hens last year when he compiled a 7-2 record and ranked third in team scoring.

Watson, attempting to make the most of limited personnel, hopes to move Stanton down to the 147-pound class, and let Jerry Beaman and John Strode, grapple for the 177 slot. Both men were dependable with the frosh a year ago and will attempt to uphold the record of graduated Don Osmun, who was undefeated in two years of dual matches.

A veteran non-letterwinner, Tony Jeffcott, a junior is available at 147-pounds. Jeffcott, former scholastic star from St. Andrew's School, wrestled occasionally last year.

Elsewhere Watson will have to rely on sophomores. Al Schmidt is the leading candidate in the heavy weight spot while Jeffrey Friedhoffer is the only 123 pounder. Dave Taylor has the lead at 130 pounds, and Bob Brayer, a junior, is Schmidt's challenger in the heavyweight spot.

Tomorrow's match at Haverford will be preceded by a freshman match at 2 p.m. The Hens defeated the Fords, 18-10 last year. The freshman opened their season with a match against St.

Andrews last Wednesday, at St. Andrews.

Delaware will face three opponents away from Newark before the first home match at Carpenter Field House on January 11 with Albright. The season will end with participation in the Middle Atlantic Conference championship on March 3 and 4 at Moravian College in Bethlehem, Pa.

Harry Rawstrom Starts Year As Mentor of Swimming Team

by ROBERT BURGE

This is the first in a series of articles introducing the coaches of winter sports at the university. Coach Harry Rawstrom began his fifteenth campaign at the head of the Delaware Bluefish with an overwhelming victory. Optimists look forward to an improvement over last season's record of 6-4.

Mr. Rawstrom graduated from Springfield College with a B.S. degree, and returned during the summer to Springfield where he received an M.S. He has served as physical director of the Rochester and New York YMCA, and began his work as instructor here in 1946.

Mr. Rawstrom was a captain in the Ordnance Department of the Air Force, where he helped formulate the Air Force aquatic program in the capacity of physical training instructor.

After a term as aquatic director in Rochester, the present swim mentor joined the Delaware staff as assistant professor of physical education.

He was the first to coach lacrosse at Delaware, and is presently head of the intramurals on campus. He has coached the varsity and freshmen mermen since he began teaching in 1946.

Coach Rawstrom is a member of the American Association of Health, Physical Education, and Recreation; the Delaware Association of Health, Physical Education, and Recreation; the College Swimming Coaches Association of America; and the 9498 Air Reserve Squadron in New Castle. He is also active in church youth activities.

Playing before packed stands the Blue Hen basketball and swimming teams opened the 60-61 winter sports season with overwhelming victories at Delaware. The wrestling squad begins competition tomorrow.

Showing good balance the mermen scored an easy 67-27 victory over Lafayette, following a similar freshman whitewash 62-27. The swimmers have probably their toughest meet tomorrow when they host Dickinson at Taylor Pool.

Turning in outstanding performances for the Hens were Dan Roosevelt and John Malone, each with two victories, Charlie Derrick and Dutch Holsinger.

Roosevelt, a junior, won the individual medley and 440, while the sophomore Malone triumphed in the 50 and 100 sprint events. Derrick, a junior, took the 200 butterfly and Holsinger topped the divers, just missing the Delaware record set last year by the other varsity diver, Pete Georges.

The Hens won both relay events. Swimming in the medley were: John Wozniak, Gary Otwell, Derrick and Cal Horn. Captain Newt Wattis, John Miller, Art Webber and Wozniak competed in the freestyle relay event.

Getting off to a good start and almost sure to surpass the 7-16 record of last season, the Hen courtmen won both of their outings of the new season. Following up the convincing 60-43 win over Lehigh in the opener was the complete whitewash of Johns Hopkins Wednesday night, 87-64.

Leading by a slim 38-34 margin at halftime, the Hens came back with 50 points after intermission. Continuing with the accurate shooting that was evident in the opener in which Delaware hit on 42% of its shots from the floor, the home forces connected on an even 50% against Hopkins.

Captain Jack Baly again paced the club with 23 points. Nate Cloud, soph center, followed closely with 21 and Tom Adams scored 19, mostly in the second half. Off the boards, the Hens had 47 rebounds, Cloud collecting 17.

After a close first half, Delaware pulled away with eight straight points on the fast break. The squad worked the ball well and the game was highlighted by many assists.

Delaware completely dominated the game, and the close first half is attributed to an excess of violations through which the Hens lost the ball.

Tomorrow Delaware hosts PMC in a game scheduled for 7:15. The preliminary freshman tilt begins at 5:30.

Wrestling season opens tomorrow with an away match against Haverford. The pre-game coverage in this issue went to the printer before final eliminations were completed.

As it now appears the following men will compete in the various weight classes:

Jeff Friedhoffer, 123; Dave Taylor, 130; Tony Jeffcott, 137; Dan Lanning, 147; Tom Stanton, 157; Bill Cornwell, 167; John Strode, 177; and Jerry Bieman, heavyweight.

Value of Gold

by changing dollars into gold as fast as possible. If a run of gold occurred, the U. S. actually might be forced to halt gold payments for dollars.

1929 CITED

In other words the U. S. would go almost completely off the gold standard (this country went part way off in 1933).

Other nations rightfully might fear a rapid drop in the value of the dollar. (The dollar fell in 1933.) There is the chance that a financial panic might result. In financial panics people lose jobs. Remember 1929.

These then are reasons why America needs gold to support the dollar. Our gold hoard helps assure confidence in the dollar.

The chance of this chain of events occurring and leading to a panic might be small, the National Chamber says. But it exists. And the U. S. government plainly is concerned and is taking several steps to maintain confidence in the dollar. For example, consider the government's drive to boost exports or its efforts to get other governments to help pay for overseas, military expenses.

Sigma Nu

Tonight, Sigma Nu will sponsor its annual Christmas party. There will be a buffet supper followed by a party featuring the combo of "Richie and the Romans." Later in the evening, Santa Claus will arrive bearing gifts from the junior to the senior brothers.

Maurice Littlefield, a representative of Sigma Nu National, visited the Delta Kappa on Dec. 4. Mr. Littlefield discussed existing problems and plans for the fraternities of the future.

Theta Chi

Last weekend, the brothers and pledges of Theta Chi celebrated their tenth Annual Christmas party with the Levy family at Hy-Meadow Farm. Everyone ate heartily of turkey with all the trimmings.

The affair was ended with the singing of Christmas carols and fraternity songs which were enjoyed by all.

Other guests will be Joy Vandever, alto, a member of the staff of the music department at West Chester State College, Pennsylvania; and Hugh O'Meara, harpsichordist and member of the faculty at Peabody Conservatory in Baltimore.

REMAINDER OF PROGRAM

Other works on the program will include "O Magnum Mysterium," by Victoria; "Carol of the Bells" by Leontovich, and traditional French, Spanish, and American carols, including, "Here, 'Mid the Ass and Oxen Mild," with solo by Winifred Buzinski; "Ya Viene La Vieja," "Carol of the Birds," with solo by Judy Breme; "Fum, Fum, Fum," and "I wonder As I Wander," with solo by Gerrold Knotts.

The Gloria received its first contemporary performance in 1939 at the Vivaldi Week celebration in Siena. It had been gathering dust in a collection of works by Vivaldi, generally known for his instrumental masterworks, at Biblioteca Nazionale di Torino.

AMERICAN PREMIER IN 1949

The first American performance was at Queens College in May, 1949, under the direction of Dr. Edward Lowinsky. A year later, it was presented as the final offering of a Vivaldi festival by the Little Orchestra, and has since become a favorite Christmas work.

Vivaldi, the cleric, approached the holy text as a religious creative musician. His work includes powerful choral numbers and lyrical arias, polyphonic movements and sections of transparent simplicity, dramatic passages and examples of pastoral tranquility.

The work includes solo parts for soprano and contralto. It is scored for oboe, trumpet, strings and harpsichord, and consists of eight choral selections, one duet, and three solos.

Blue Fish

to success this season lies in the strength of the sophomores. Although Watts, Roosevelt, Webber, and Georges are letterwinners the remaining positions are filled by sophs Derrick, Maloney, Giles, Otwell, Horn, Wozniak, Dillon, Holsinger, Miller, and Kent House, a breast-stroker.

STANDOUT FROSH

The freshman meet was highlighted by a standout performance from John Little, victor in three events, the individual medley, butterfly, and breast stroke. His performance was even more spectacular as he achieved the triple in what are considered the toughest events. Jeff Lossee, winner of the 220 and 440, also stood out for the yearlings as did Haylor Osborn, who won the 50 but was disqualified from his winning effort in the 100.

Bob Webster won the diving, beating the pride of Lafayettes' frosh squad by several points. Jim and John Wagamon finished 1-2 in the backstroke displaying good potential in that event. The relay team of Bill Whitney, John Osborn, Al Kuger, and H. Osborn won the free style relay.

Rawstrom feels the freshmen have good potential and should do well this year. Hugh Cochran, Jim Greco, J. Osborn and Whitney give the team good back up strength. The coach is especially high on John Little, calling him a very good prospect with tremendous potential.

Tomorrow the varsity is host to Dickinson in Taylor Pool at 3:00. Dickinson is one of four schools to hold a victory over the Hens in 1959-60. Coach Rawstrom feels that his team will need great effort and determination to top this team which has defeated the Hens the past four seasons. Rawstrom states that while Dickinson was hard hit through graduation, its strength is unknown since freshmen are permitted to compete on the varsity level at that school.

In the preliminary game, Coach Ed Maley's Chick quintet beat their Lehigh counterparts by a score of 77-67. The first half was close all the way with Delaware finally pulling away to a 39-36 halftime lead. In a strong second half showing, the Blue frosh pulled away to their final ten point lead.

Pete Cloud, brother of varsity center Nate Cloud, led the frosh in scoring with 23 points. He was backed by Mike Wilson, 17 points; Ron Smith, 13; and Bill Haggerty, 12 points. Smith also recovered 17 rebounds, the team high.

A MODEST PROPOSAL

A movement is afoot—a shocking, startling movement—to solve the problem of overcrowded colleges by the simple expedient of refusing admission to women at coeducational schools!

It is argued by proponents of this plan that in today's world a college education is absolutely essential for a man, while for a woman it is merely a pleasant interlude between adolescence and housewifery. There is simply not room enough for both men and women in our overburdened colleges; therefore, in all fairness, women who have far less need of a degree than men, must yield their places.

Well sir, when I heard this drastic proposal, I was so shocked that I sat right down and lit a Marlboro. I always sit right down and light a Marlboro when I am shocked. I also always sit right down and light a Marlboro when I am not shocked. There is no time, no condition, no mood, no estate when it isn't a source of soul-deep gratification to settle back and have a full-flavored smoke—Marlboro, the filtered cigarette with the unfiltered taste—Marlboro, the jewel of cigarettes—Marlboro, the pinnacle of the tobaccoist's art—Marlboro, my comfort, haven, and snug harbor.

Well sir, I sat smoking my Marlboro and thinking over the shocking proposal to keep women out of coed schools, and hoping fervently that another solution can be found. If the calamitous day ever comes when women are banned from coed colleges, I will gnash my teeth and rend my garments and take to my bed without supper. Like any other Marlboro man, I love women. I love the sight and sound of them, the cut of their jibs, their beauty and grace, their cunning little spitecurls, their sleek dimples, their middy blouses, their aura and effluvia. Moreover, I freely admit that when it comes to brainpower, they can give the average man cards and spades and big casino too. It would be a shame, a disgrace and a catastrophe to keep these beautiful, intelligent creatures out of college.

However, it is always wise in time of fair weather to prepare for foul. What if the advocates of keeping women out of college begin to gather strength? We who abhor this fiendish plan must be ready with a substitute . . . and it just so happens I have one—and a mighty ingenious little plan it is, if I say so myself.

Granted that classroom seats are in short supply, and granted that men need degrees more than women, it is still not necessary to bar women from college. Let them go to college but—here is the beauty part of my plan—don't let them go to class!

I love the sight and sound of them...

This solution, it seems to me, answers every requirement. It releases hundreds of thousands of classroom seats to needy males. At the same time, it does not deprive women of the rich and varied benefits of campus life. They can join sororities, shoot pool at the Union, build bonfires for Homecoming games, pour at the Dean's tea, plait daisies in their hair, organize drag races, sculpt in ice, hook rugs, walk their cheetahs, play Monopoly, find love—in short, they can do anything except go to class.

Machines Replace Professors As Teachers of UD Students

Within the next several months, university faculty and students will test the new theories of "programmed education."

The university has purchased six teaching machines from Foringer & Company, Inc., of Rockville, Md., one of several companies marketing these experimental educational aids. At present, four are assigned to the school of arts and science and one each to the schools of engineering and education.

Acknowledged leader in the field of machine teaching is Harvard psychologist B.F. Skinner who presented his theories to Delaware's deans and directors at a special meeting more than two years ago. Other pioneers in the field are Dr. James G. Holland, also of Harvard, and Norman A. Crowder, a former Air Force psychologist now employed by U.S. Industries' Western Design Division at Santa Barbara, a producer of teaching machines and machine programs.

ALREADY TESTED

The new device, which already has had some success in experimental trials at both high school and college levels, is about the size of a portable typewriter. In the machine are several small windows, one which shows a question, another which permits space for the student's answer. After the student has written his response, a flick of a lever reveals the correct answer and, if successful, the student proceeds to the next question. Most machine programs presently available are designed to stimulate the student to continued achievement through successful responses, each correct answer offering encouragement and leading him at his own pace to the next problem.

Best results in machine teaching thus far have been achieved in basic course in English, mathematics, foreign languages, logic and spelling. For the professor this means relief from routine instruction in fundamental areas which the student can grasp for himself. For the student, the incentive to master routine material at his own greatest possible speed is the important factor.

LACK OF COURSE MATERIAL

Foremost among the problems facing educators at all levels is the lack of course material at

Debate Group Plans Forums On Two Topics

The Delaware Debate Society presented a forum on the affirmative side of "Each Speaks His Job" on Tuesday, Oct. 11.

Another forum was presented on Thursday, Oct. 13, on the negative side. On Tuesday, Oct. 18, there will be a demonstration debate on the national debate question, especially for new debaters. The required practice round of debates for novices will begin on Thursday, Oct. 20, and on Oct. 25 an announcement will be made of pairings and sides for the first semester of debating. An announcement will also be made then of the names of students to go to Lehigh University on Saturday, Oct. 29 for a debating tournament which includes only novice debaters.

The Debate Society held its first meeting on Thursday, Sept. 29, in the Agnew Room of the Student Center from 3 to 4 p.m. The program of debating at the university was explained to new students and plans were set up for future meetings.

Upper classmen new to debating this year include William J. Cohen, Carl B. Munroe, and Mark Emmett, all of whom are arts and science students. Freshman students interested in debating include: Jane Clifton, in ele-

A.B.C. Opens Essay Contest Winners Over Inauguration

"What Do You Most Want the United States to Do Home and Abroad in the Sixties" is the title of an essay contest sponsored by the American Broadcasting Radio Network, in connection with its journalist-broadcaster Edward R. Morgan.

In announcing the contest, Mr. Morgan referred to President-Elect Kennedy's appeal to America's youth to express their ideas on the United States policy, both domestic and foreign. He cited Kennedy as stating, "I think they have some provocative and responsible ideas on the subject which need listening to."

Timed to climax with the winners' participation in coverage of President-Elect John Kennedy's Inauguration Day, the contest runs through Dec. 28. Each contestant may submit any number of entries, each with a maximum of 600 words.

The judging panel, in addition to Mr. Morgan, will include former Presidential Assistant and distinguished author Emmet J. Hughes; nationally syndicated columnist John Crosby; and Dr. Paul A. McGhee, Dean, General Educational Division of New York University.

WINNERS TO TRAVEL

The winners, one man and one woman, will be flown to New York on Jan. 18, to lunch with industry leaders, visit the United Nations and meet officials there, attend a Broadway hit and participate in other events. The following day, winners will leave for Washington and meet with government and labor leaders and take part in covering Inauguration Day ceremonies as part of the ABC news team.

Mr. Morgan will work with the young people and will use the winning essays as part of subsequent radio broadcasts.

Official rules may be obtained at The Review office.

CONTEST RULES

All students interested should heed certain rules pertaining to their entries. Entries must be the original work of the contestant submitting them and submitted in the contestant's own name.

The subject, "What Do You Want the United States to Do Home and Abroad in the Sixties" should be written in 600 words or less on only one side of each sheet of plain paper. The contestant's name, college, college address, and class must be plainly printed on each entry.

Each entry becomes the property of ABC Radio Network to use as it sees fit; none will be returned.

Entries should be mailed by AMERICA IN THE '60S CONTEST

HAVE ALWAYS HAD an abiding hatred for the bottom crust of rye bread. There is no particular reason for making this point, except that whenever I think of Fort Lauderdale, I think of rye bread. There is no particular reason for that either, but I have been thinking of Fort Lauderdale. Fort Lauderdale is "where the boys are." Right now, that is. Most of the time, serenity reigns in Fort Lauderdale. (The Chamber of Commerce will hate me; they say it never rains in Fort Lauderdale.) But, for two weeks, twenty thousand collegians descend on this peaceful community and take it apart, peace by peace. They call it Spring Vacation, but it's more like amateur night at Cape Canaveral. They capture Florida and throw the Keys away. But I shouldn't joke—not while people are holding mass prayer meetings for an early hurricane season.

This is "where the boys are." And girls, too. Such girls, it makes you dizzy to look at them. If you look long enough, you reach an advanced stage of dizziness called aphrodisiac. It's like being in love. That's what happened to me, and it will happen to you, too. Everywhere you turn—beaches full of them, motels and hotels full of them, cars full of them, pools full of them, bathing suits full of them. Ah, bathing suits... when the man said, "It's the little things in life that count," he must have been thinking of bathing suits. But mostly, it's the girls. Girls in love, girls in trouble, bright girls with a future, not-so-bright girls with a past, rich girls in the lap of luxury, poor girls in any lap that'll have them, girls of every size and discretion. It isn't any wonder that this is "where the boys are." And the things that happen are wacky and wild and wicked and warmly wonderful "where the boys are." Someone should make a movie about it. Hey, someone did! M-G-M calls it "Where The Boys Are," starring Dolores Hart, George Hamilton, Yvette Mimieux, Jim Hutton, Barbara Nichols, Paula Prentiss, with Frank Gorshin and introducing popular recording star Connie Francis in her first screen role. You'll want to see all the things that happen "Where The Boys Are."

LUCKY STRIKE PRESENTS: DEAR DR. FROOD:

DR. FROOD'S THOUGHT FOR THE DAY: "Life ain't all beer and skittles," as the saying goes—but if enough students got together, maybe skittles could make a big comeback.

Dear Dr. Frood: I just don't understand the men in this college. Not one of them has ever asked me for a date. I am intelligent and easy to get along with. Enclosed is my snapshot. What do you think is wrong?

Left Out

DEAR LEFT: After considering this problem from every angle, I can only conclude that you have enormous feet.

Dear Dr. Frood: According to my figures over ninety-five per cent of the students here are below average. What is wrong?

Math Major

DEAR MATH: You are obviously going to a below-average college.

Dear Dr. Frood: I don't speak from personal experience, but I understand all the men in this college are wolves. What do you think a respectable girl like me—with a good old-fashioned upbringing—should do about this situation?

Strait Laced

DEAR STRAIT: Drop your handkerchief.

Dear Dr. Frood: When I entered college as a freshman this fall, my father gave me a very large sum of money to cover room, board, tuition, books and all other expenses for four full years of college. Because of an unfortunate series of poker games, however, the money is now completely gone. How would you suggest I handle this situation?

Ten High

DEAR TEN: I feel confident that your father will give you another chance if you go up to him like a man, tell him you are sorry, admit your mistake and promise him that your luck will change.

Dear Dr. Frood: Do you think it is safe for a girl to walk home alone from a college dance?

Nervous

DEAR NERVOUS: Safer.

DON'T BREAK TRADITION, WARNS FROOD! One of the proudest traditions on the American campus, reports Dr. Frood, is smoking Luckies. Today college students smoke more Luckies than any other regular. According to Dr. Frood, "Any student who breaks this tradition not only robs himself of the full pleasure of smoking—but also could, conceivably, bring 'the Curse of Frood' down upon the entire student body."

CHANGE TO LUCKIES and get some taste for a change!

The new sign-up room is designed to improve the services to the student and save him time. Each organization's schedule will be in a clip on the sign-up counter and these will be arranged chronologically in accordance with the posted interview calendar. The date and name of organization will appear on the chalk board on the wall behind the specific schedule. Literature sent by the company for distribution to students will be in the box behind the chalk board. (If literature has not been received for students to take away with them, a statement will be in the box advising the student to read the literature in the reference library.) On the bulletin board immediately above this will be posted information pertaining to the recruiting schedule.

Please read the instructions carefully and sign only for interviews where the company is interested in people with your special background. If it is a company in which you are especially interested and your classification is not listed, see the Placement Director regarding being on the schedule. The schedules will be checked regularly by the placement staff to see that they are in accordance with instructions received.

If a schedule in which you are interested is filled, print your name on the stand-by list. (A sheet for this purpose will be attached to each company schedule). You should then check with the Placement Office a day in advance to see if there has been a cancellation which you may have or what other arrangements may have been made.

REFERENCE LIBRARY

The Reference Library is divided into five sections as follows:

- 1) General industrial, business and service organizations. Literature is arranged alphabetically.
- 2) United States Government Literature arranged as follows:

- a) Examination announcements according to the monthly Civil Service bulletin, which is posted on Placement Office bulletin board, and application forms.

- b) Literature by Departments, Bureaus, and Agencies.

- 3) Specific employment openings received by letter and telephone for which there will not be a campus interview. These will be in loose leaf binders, arranged alphabetically according to academic background requested by employer.

- 4) General career information.
- 5) School literature arranged alphabetically by state.

The office staff is composed of Mrs. Wyatt, Mrs. Elizabeth Z. Frost, secretary to the director, and Mrs. Bernese Cotton, secretary responsible for reference library and sign-up room.

The University Placement office was begun in 1936 by Col. Ashbridge, Mrs. Wyatt's predecessor. Mrs. Wyatt, who worked in advertising in New York City until 1948 began as assistant to

RECOMMENDATIONS

In regard to signing for and attending interviews, the Placement Office issues the following recommendations:

- 1) Sign only for interviews where the company is interested in people with your special background. If it is a company in which you are especially interested and your classification is not listed, see Placement Director regarding being on schedule.
- 2) Arrive five minutes ahead of your scheduled appointment.
- 3) Never miss an interview for which you signed up. When for the second time a student fails to keep an interview appointment without a satisfactory explanation, he will be warned. If it occurs a third time he will be denied the services of the Placement Office. If some unforeseen circumstances (illness) prevents your being present, telephone the Placement Office as soon as possible. An employer's time on campus is limited. Therefore when a student fails to keep a scheduled interview, he not only creates an unfavorable impression of the University of Del-ware but deprives a classmate the use of the interview period.

4) Be prepared to answer questions, some of which, in addition to technical, may be:

a. What influenced you in the selection of your course of study?

b. What phase have you most enjoyed and why?

c. What summer work have you had pertinent to your study, and how do you believe it will assist you after graduation?

d. Why are you interested in a position or training course with "X" company?

e. What extra-curricular activities have you participated in which you believe will assist you after graduation and why?

f. Why have you not participated in extra-curricular activities?

5) Keep a file on each company interviewed. Start at the beginning of semester so that the notes may be reviewed before making a final decision. File should contain:

- a. Notes on the interview.
- b. Company letters.
- c. Student replies.

6) Once you have accepted an offer, you should:

a. Cancel all your remaining interviews.

b. Write all companies from which you have received offers or invitations, advising them that you have accepted a position.

c. After the final decision is made, remain firm and do not consider other offers.

d. KEEP THE PLACEMENT OFFICE INFORMED.

For every Corvette owner who regularly runs in sports car rallies, there's one who uses his Corvette exclusively for bread-and-butter transportation. ■ The Corvette brings a kind of pleasure to each man's driving that he couldn't get anywhere else. It can take the unpleasantness out of heavy rush traffic, just the way it turns an ordinary country road into something very special. Why? Because few cars from this or any other country can come remotely close to it for flashing performance, good handling and hair-trigger responsiveness. ■ Don't take our word for this; drive one. Unless you're accustomed to driving sports cars in the ten to fifteen thousand dollar category, you'll be absolutely astonished. The Corvette is an outstanding combination of performance and luxury that really belies its relatively low price. With extra-cost options like Power-glide and electric windows or with Fuel Injection and four-speed Synchro-Mesh transmission, it's really something! Try one. The feeling it imparts will make you chuckle with pleasure, just driving the son-of-a-gun around the block.

Gold balls that will be hung on the walls and a large Christmas tree trimmed in gold and bathed in spotlights. The bandstand will be trimmed in keeping with the general decorating scheme.

As a special feature of the Ball, Santa Claus's sponsored by each of the girls' dormitories will be coming to town. Dressed in Ivy-League type Christmas attire from head to toe, the candidates will be "capped" by their dates at a special ceremony during the course of the evening.

A Santa Claus has been chosen by each women's residence hall to "reign" at the dance. They are: Thompson, Dan Tripodi, AS1; New Castle, Jim Wagner, AS3; Otto House, Jack Naudain, AG4; Cannon, Don Spence, AS2; Smyth A, Jim Robinson, AS2; Smyth B, Bill McCauley, ED2; Smyth C, Tiny Rubino, AS3; Warner, Bob Brayer, EG2; Squire, Doug Steevenson, EXT; Sussex, Dave Ennis, AS3; and Kent, Fred Jamison, AG3.

To start the holiday season off with a real blast, make the scene at the Christmas Ball tomorrow night and dance to the swingin' sounds of the Billy May Orchestra.

This is the B-52. Advanced as it may be, this airplane has one thing in common with the first war-galleys of ancient Egypt...and with the air and space vehicles of the future. Someone must chart its course. Someone must navigate it.

For certain young men this presents a career of real executive opportunity. Here, perhaps you will have the chance to master a profession full of meaning, excitement and rewards...as a Navigator in the U. S. Air Force.

To qualify for Navigator training as an Aviation Cadet you must be an American citizen between 19 and 26½—single, healthy and intelligent. A high school diploma is required, but some college is highly desirable. Successful completion of the training program leads to a commission as a Second Lieutenant...and your Navigator wings.

If you think you have what it takes to measure up to the Aviation Cadet Program for Navigator training, see your local Air Force Recruiter. Or clip and mail this coupon.

There's a place for tomorrow's leaders on the Aerospace Team.

each year of attendance here (minus any sum that has been paid previously). All those who remain in debt to the senior class have been notified.

Barry Schlecker, chairman for Senior Weekend, has indicated that tentative plans have been drawn which include a day of activities at the new Cavaliers Country Club in Wilmington. Schlecker has stipulated that only upon 100% dues collection can plans be completed.

If cooperation is received, the affair will include a full schedule of events at the country club. The day will be featured with such activities as golf and swimming while the night will see seniors and dates at a buffet dinner. The evening will be capped with dancing.

ready developed for such machines. Only a few courses have been adapted for the machines and threaded into them. Development of an effective course is far more demanding than the conventional classroom approach to the same material. It must be done or the machines stand idle.

The university joins Harvard, Oberlin, Earlham, Hamilton and other forward-looking institutions in testing the merits of this newest educational experiment. It is expected that a number of worthwhile course programs will be developed here.

SPELLING AND GRAMMAR

Dr. G. Bruce Dearing, dean of the school of arts and science, has indicated that programs in spelling and grammar, as a part of freshman English, already are being developed for Delaware undergraduates under the supervision of Dr. Edward H. Rosenberry, associate professor of English. The department of modern languages, which has enjoyed great success in using tapes and records in its language laboratory, also may develop machine programs. Other course programs will be prepared for the machines by the departments of mathematics and philosophy.

With a critical shortage of teachers facing higher education in the decade ahead, every device that will assist the professor must be utilized. Although teaching machines and their programs are still in the experimental stage, preliminary reports are encouraging. It already has been demonstrated that they enable the classroom teacher to be more productive and efficient by putting aside repetitious and routine responsibilities for more challenging assignments.

What would YOU do as an engineer at Pratt & Whitney Aircraft?

Regardless of your specialty, you would work in a favorable engineering atmosphere.

Back in 1925, when Pratt & Whitney Aircraft was designing and developing the first of its family of history-making powerplants, an attitude was born—a recognition that engineering excellence was the key to success.

That attitude, that recognition of the prime importance of technical superiority is still predominant at P&WA today.

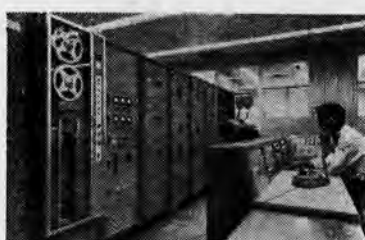

The field, of course, is broader now, the challenge greater. No longer are the company's requirements confined to graduates with degrees in mechanical and aeronautical engineering. Pratt & Whitney Aircraft today is concerned with the development of all forms of flight propulsion systems for the aerospace medium—air breathing, rocket, nuclear and other advanced types. Some are entirely new in concept. To carry out analytical, design, experimental or materials engineering assignments, men with degrees in mechanical, aeronautical, electrical, chemical and nuclear engineering are needed, along with those holding degrees in physics, chemistry and metallurgy.

Specifically, what would you do?—your own engineering talent provides the best answer. And Pratt & Whitney Aircraft provides the atmosphere in which that talent can flourish.

Development testing of liquid hydrogen-fueled rockets is carried out in specially built test stands like this at Pratt & Whitney Aircraft's Florida Research and Development Center. Every phase of an experimental engine test may be controlled by engineers from a remote blockhouse (inset), with closed-circuit television providing a means for visual observation.

At P&WA's Connecticut Aircraft Nuclear Engine Laboratory (CANEL) many technical talents are focused on the development of nuclear propulsion systems for future air and space vehicles. With this live mock-up of a reactor, nuclear scientists and engineers can determine critical mass, material reactivity coefficients, control effectiveness and other reactor parameters.

Representative of electronic aids functioning for P&WA engineers is this on-site data recording center which can provide automatically recorded and computed data simultaneously with the testing of an engine. This equipment is capable of recording 1,200 different values per second.

Studies of solar energy collection and liquid and vapor power cycles typify P&WA's research in advanced space auxiliary power systems. Analytical and Experimental Engineers work together in such programs to establish and test basic concepts.
