Production Begins For Aldyl A. Pipe At Pencader Plant

DuPont Plant At Newark
Producing Polyethylene
Piping For Natural Gas

The DuPont Pencader Plant at Newark, has started producing Aldyl A polyethylene pipe, which is used primarily in transmission of natural gas.

When operating at full capacity later this year, the new section will employ more than 60 people and will produce several million feet of pipe annually. The eastern and southeastern pipe sales force will continue to work out of the district sales office in the new building, which has been their headquarters for the past two months.

Construction of the plant began last May, and was completed one month ahead of schedule. The facilities will improve service to East Coast customers, and meet growing demand for the product by eastern public utilities.

According to Robert A. Keller, pipe marketing manager of DuPont's plastics department, the company's rapidly expanding pipe business has been largely the result of its ability to supply a complete piping system, plus the product's lower installed cost and ease of installation.

Although the new plant will manufacture only the pipe, supplies of fittings and tools designed and manufactured by DuPont for installation of Aldyl A pipe will be stored in the 25,000 sq.-ft. building, ready for delivery to area customers by rail or truck.

Also located on the 20-acre Newark site is a plant for production of DuPont Vespol precision parts and abrasive products. This facility, which began operation in January, 1968, produces precisely-designed parts for use in severe environments encountered in electrical, mechanical, and aerospace applications.

Diamond-filled abrasives are used in grinding and finishing machine tools produced primarily from tungsten carbide.

Instruction Improvement Program Offers Dividends After First Year At U. of D.

A University of Delaware instruction improvement program is paying dividends after its first year of operation.

Development of new courses, revision of old, and modern approaches to class presentation and methodology are results of the program.

Last summer, 11 faculty members were awarded grants to evaluate current methods and materials and develop more effective instruction programs.

Dr. William E. Pulliam, assistant professor of education, developed a course to prepare students to teach high school social sciences through more extensive use of audiovisual materials and less reliance on lectures and textbooks. Special attention is given materials and strategies for teaching in inner-city schools.

Dr. Frank B. Dille, chairman of the philosophy department, analyzed organization of courses to make philosophy more applicable to contemporary problems and designed an introductory course to meet this end.

Dr. W. Brice Finnie, assistant professor of English, revised a course on the history of the English language to encourage learning, the nature of present-day English, and earlier periods in the language.

Dr. Kenneth J. Ackerman, assistant professor of anthropology, developed a course on anthropology of American culture, stressing relevance and use of cultural perspective in examining our own culture.

Dr. Charles H. Bohner, professor of English, revised structure of a student survey, revised structure and content of a course in American literature, including use of audiovisual aids and seminar sessions to improve presentation. The course is being taught this semester.

Dr. Samuel Borton, associate professor of languages and literature, developed a new modern language course taught this semester. It consists of three 20th Century works in translation from French, Spanish, German, Italian, and Russian.

TWO SOME

Torch (left) and Rosy Future (right) are two newcomers to the roster of Zenth zinnia varieties. Torch has rich orange flowers; Rosy Future's blooms are bright rose-pink.

Two giant cactus flowered zinnias, Rosy Future and Torch are bronze medal winners for 1969 in the All-America Selections trials. Both are new members of that popular zinnia strain, Zenth.

You may have grown some of their relatives, Firecracker, Princess, Bonanza or Yellow Zenth. If so, you know their performance in your garden.

The same mild resistance, hybrid vigor, bushy plants about 2 1/2 feet high and profuse flowering over an exceptionally long time may be expected of the two new medalists.

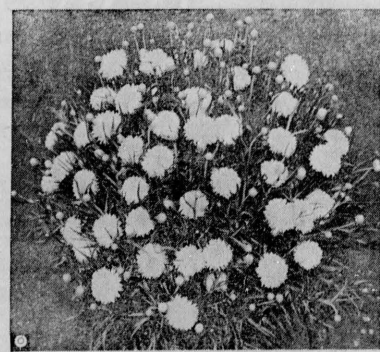

The difference, of course, is in their flower colors. Torch is a rich orange, an improvement over Bonanza, which won a silver medal from All-America Selections a few years ago. Rosy Future has flowers of bright rose-pink. Both varieties have enormous blooms, 5 to 6 inches in width, as do the other Zenth zinnias.

These plants make splashes of color in the garden and marvelous cut flowers for the house. They're easy for a beginning gardener to grow and a joy to the experienced person who will realize what an improvement the newcomers represent.

SAFE AT HOME

WHITE AS SNOW

Round as a ball is the little bush of a plant and round as a ball are the white flowers. So, what better name than Snow Ball for this new centauria (or cornflower or bachelor's button)? Plant it alone or with blue-flowered Jubilee Gem.

At long last there's a dwarf, white, double-flowered cornflower to complement the dwarf, blue-flowered variety, Jubilee Gem. The new arrival is appropriately called Snow Ball, since the plants are almost as rounded in form as are the individual blossoms.

Because of its form and floriferousness, its heat and disease resistance, it is a 1969 bronze medal winner in the All-America Selections trials.

For 2 years it has been grown side by side with similar varieties already on the market in locations with varied climates: in Canada, across the United States and in Mexico. It has proven itself superior to these varieties in the ways mentioned above.

This centauria (or bachelor's button or cornflower) grows only 12 to 16 inches tall. The leaves are silvery-green; the plants well branched.

Flowers appear early in the season, are 1 1/2 inches in diameter and are evenly distributed over the entire plant. Thus Snow Ball, alone or with its blue-flowered companion Jubilee Gem, is a perfect choice to "face-down" taller annual flowers or seeds may be sown in a row so the resulting plants form a border.

Buy the seeds as soon as you can for this is one annual that can be planted whenever the soil is workable. Even in the North the seeds or seedlings will prove quite hardy. Both will survive winter temperatures down to 10 degrees below zero.

Native Of Newark
Gaylord Tweed,
N-J Printer Dies

A native of Newark, Gaylord Tweed, a printer with the Newark Journal Co. for 30 years, died of a heart attack last Friday morning at his home in the Parklyn Apartments.

He had returned from his night shift with the Morning News and was preparing for bed about 8:30 a.m. when stricken.

He was pronounced dead on arrival at Wilmington General.

Mr. Tweed began employment with the Newark Journal in 1939, as a printer with the Morning News. He shifted to the Journal-Evening in 1943 and returned to the News in 1959.

Born in Newark, Mr. Tweed served in the U.S. Army during World War II, and was a member of Atterbury Post 3420, Veterans of Foreign Wars, of Wilmington Typographical Union 123, and the Brandywine Rod and Gun Club.

Mr. Tweed is survived by his widow, Elizabeth Usilton Tweed; two sons, Gaylord L. of Oak Hill and William F. of Allentown, Pa.; a daughter, Elizabeth A. Tweed of the Parklyn Apartments address; two grandchildren and a sister, Mrs. Annie Dwyer of Heritage Park.

Services were conducted Monday morning at the Robert T. Jones & Son Funeral Home, with interment in Newark Cemetery.

Best Calorie Buys

There's a strange paradox about dieting—it often costs more to eat less because the nation's food processors, quick to sense the trend toward a Slim Society, have stocked supermarket shelves with specially prepared, low-calorie items at high-calorie prices!

For the wise weight-watcher who wants to lose in the waist, but not in the wallet, here are ten reasonable foods, each under 100 calories: a one-egg omelet, a medium size banana, two whole tomatoes, 1/2 cup of yogurt, 11 green olives, half of a cantaloupe, 5 large shrimp, 2 cups of spinach.

Now, of course, two cups of spinach aren't going to make dieting easy, especially when the rest of the family is munching lasagna with relish. But the trick for the weight watcher is making tasty low-calorie combinations that will keep you on the straight and narrow, yet let you feel satisfied.

For breakfast, consider the delicious possibilities of tender, ripe chunks of Chiquita brand banana topped with several spoonfuls of yogurt. A half a melon for lunch filled with sliced banana rounds is both fine—and filling. And you can feast (not famish) scrumptiously at night on a crisply broiled chicken, with tasty banana which has been liberally brushed with lemon or lime juice. In each case the addition of the nutritionally high but calorically low (a mere 85 calories) Chiquita Banana means the difference between dull diet food and gourmet fare.

The lazy dieter who lets others do the counting of calories for him and opts for the specially prepared, premium-priced diet items is getting thin at his own expense. With so many good fresh foods available, it's the wise weight-watcher who eats inexpensively!

Women IN THE KNOW

By Jean Kingsley, Women's Consultant, The Travelers Companies

Galloping Inflation

No husband will ever admit it—when his wife shows him the bills—but we live in an age when money is around in rather astonishing amounts. The New York Stock Exchange estimates that thirteen percent of the U.S. Population now owns stock. Or, about 26 million Americans are "having a dollar."

There are actually ninety-seven million hundred dollar bills in circulation! So, why do you find yourself on the short end of the Affluent Society?

A mean little genie called Inflation. Economists muddle and huddle over the dollar see-saw—like so many surgeons pouring over the X-rays. And it's all just about as confusing to the man in the street. (And the woman in the super market.) The cold facts are that in 1939, the dollar bought one hundred cents worth of commodities. And at the present level, you take home forty cents worth of anything you purchase. Despite the fact that products are bringing top prices... worker drawing top salaries... and there's a full roster of employment—the up, up, UP spiral can be dangerous.

When it comes to discretionary income (the money left over, after the monthly bills are settled)—discretion can be the key! If you aren't sure just which channels your future planning should take, don't hesitate to turn up an expert and learn.

The Travelers Companies have scores of intensively schooled qualified Financial Planners. Whose advice is yours for a phone call.

So, the next time you feel like flinging all those inflated dollars to the winds—don't! Give a little thought to all the tomorrows. For you and those you love the best!

Delaware String Quartet Sunday Unitarian Feature

Red Cross Recruitment Offers Job Opportunity

Ripe Olives Enhance Buffet Supper Dish

California ripe olives, with their nut-like taste and meaty texture, flavor accent this perfect buffet supper dish. Originally a Russian creation, California's native fruit — the ripe olive — gives this version a delicious and appealing accent.

RIPE OLIVE BEEF STROGANOFF

1 (2 lb.) flank steak
2 onions, sliced
1/4 cup cooking oil
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/4 teaspoon pepper
1/2 cup water

2 beef bouillon cubes
1/2 teaspoon nutmeg
1 cup canned pitted California ripe olives
1 tablespoon cornstarch
1 cup commercial sour cream

Cut meat diagonally into 1/8-inch thick strips. Heat oil. Brown meat and onions. Add salt, pepper, water, bouillon cubes, nutmeg to meat. Cover; cook over low heat 10 minutes. Cut ripe olives into chunks. Mix cornstarch with 2 tablespoons water. Add to meat and cook, stirring constantly, until thickened. Stir in ripe olives and sour cream. Heat thoroughly; do not boil. Makes 6 servings.

I didn't join the Peace Corps for the greatest reasons. Not what you'd call altruism.

If you want to know, I joined because I had this idea of doing something I wasn't supposed to do. I mean, go far away. See things. Expand my mind. That stuff.

What I was supposed to do was marry a split-level house. I never exactly intended to teach.

Maybe what I really am is, different. And maybe I wouldn't ever have married a split-level house. Maybe.

But I couldn't give up after college. I wasn't ready, if you could say that. I joined the Peace Corps and I went to Sinoe, Liberia.

It was so wild and new and, you know, definitely scary. A small plane with no landing field. People packing my gear on their heads, like a safari.

But then the Hollywood part of it comes to an end. It ends, I think, when you can't wash your hands, when you want to. Or go to a nice john.

Or you feel tired when you go to bed. A nice tired. I never worked before. Really worked.

And then something different starts. I taught kids. I taught teachers. Me. I went home with them.

I'd sit and we'd all worry about something. A pickup truck with a busted fuel pump. Could I get some American lipstick. Maybe mention that a woman wouldn't have to have a million kids if she didn't want to. Malaria.

Then the next day I'd think I was just a teacher. Except there'd be fried plantain for breakfast.

And you get a magazine. And you think about America. Martin Luther King. And you don't know. I never seriously thought I would change the world. Does anyone believe it any more?

Then I came back. And I'm a teacher. And I've been seeing this guy, Ronnie. He's a teacher. We teach at P.S. 201. It's in Harlem.

MIRACLE OF THE ACORN

SEED MONEY

The miracle of springtime and the budding of tiny green shoots that started from seeds so small you could hardly see them might be likened to our nation's growth.

If you think of money in terms of a seed planted for growth, you can trace the flowering of America.

If you have a savings account, pay life insurance premiums, own securities, such as stocks and bonds, participate in a pension fund, have an equity in home or farm, you are a capitalist — and these are all investments in America.

Through investment in business and industry you have not only contributed to your family's independence, but at the same time helped to provide jobs for others and to make a worthwhile contribution to our national economic growth.

This great reservoir of fluid money is never static, but is always searching for new and profitable outlets. It provides the basic ingredient for the nation's expanding growth and affluence. The week (April 28-May 4) — Invest-in-America Week — is a good time to reflect on creative ways to help America grow.

Let's continue to put our money to work — Invest in America.

NATIONAL LIBRARY WEEK

The period April 20-26 is National Library Week, and next week, the peculiarly human characteristic that accounts for all of man's accomplishment is to be commemorated — the ability to store the sum total of his knowledge and build new knowledge upon it.

Our libraries preserve the written word that records faithfully all that the wisest and most gifted among us have learned of the arts, of literature, of science and technology, of life, the world and the universe.

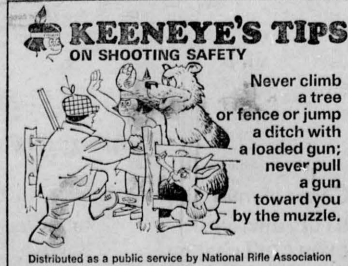

In great libraries the record of civilization is being kept — in movies, in the sound of stereo tapes, on microfilm.

The purpose of National Library Week is to create awareness of the need for a better-read, better-informed America, and to encourage the habit of reading and library use.

Libraries have been the cornerstone of civilization throughout recorded history, and were never more so than now.

Knowledge, especially in scientific fields, expands at a fantastic rate, and an education can truly never be completed but must be constantly sought throughout a lifetime of learning.

Libraries remain a primary tool of learning. During National Library Week, let us strengthen the habit of using our excellent Newark Free Library often.

A NEW ANNUAL GROUND COVER

Bright red Polka Dot(s) in the center of single white flowers distinguish this myrtle or vinca from others. They are the reason for its name. Low growing, wide spreading plants make it a "natural" for extensive ground cover use.

Ground cover plants with attractive flowers are not common. That's why the All-America Selections perform medal winner Polka Dot, a procumbent vinca or myrtle, will prove to be so popular. It's easy to grow from seeds, performs equally well when planted in full sun or light shade, is not fussy about soil, and plants form such solid mats that weeds cease to be a problem. Also, since it's an annual and not a perennial, it can be used in areas such as where you plan paving for another year but need a ground cover for just this one year.

The little plants grow straight upward to a 3 inch height. Then they grow outward, creeping gradually until each plant forms a mat, 2 feet across. Thus a spacing closer than 2 feet will result in a complete covering of the area with glossy, dark green leaves. Seemingly to lie flat on top of the foliage are the flowers — single, white with bright red "eyes". Sometimes so many are open at once that the green foliage is hardly noticeable. The characteristics described make Polka Dot not only a desirable ground cover but useful in window boxes, hanging baskets, rock gardens and as a wide edging for a path, driveway or lawn area.

Lawn Preparation Cited By Mitchell For This Weekend

This weekend is an excellent time to get your lawn in shape for the coming season, reports Dr. William H. Mitchell, extension agronomist at the University of Delaware.

Begin by liming and fertilizing the lawn, he suggests. Applying 50 pounds of ground limestone and 12 to 15 pounds of complete fertilizer should help grass off to a fast start.

Use a regular lawn spreader or a cyclone spreader to apply fertilizer and lime.

Next, rake the lawn with a heavy steel garden rake. This will help incorporate lime and fertilizer into the soil and remove dead leaves and grass which may smother new growth.

After the lawn is reseeded, rake again lightly, this time with a grass rake. Raking will help cover the seed and work it into the soil resulting in faster germination.

This is also an ideal time to eliminate unwanted onion and garlic from the lawn, notes Mitchell. An application of 2,4-D should rid lawns of these undesirable weeds for the entire season.

When applying 2,4-D with a hand sprayer or hose proportioner, be careful not to allow the spray to drift onto nearby shrubs. This herbicide can cause a great deal of damage to most ornamental plantings.

MAKE AMERICA A BETTER PLACE.

LEAVE THE COUNTRY.

Of all the ways America can grow, one way is by learning from others.

There are things you can learn in the Peace Corps you can't learn anywhere else.

You could start an irrigation program. And find that crabgrass and front lawns look a little ridiculous. When there isn't enough wheat to go around in Nepal.

You could be the outsider who helps bring a Jamaican fishing village to life, for the first time in three hundred years. And you could wonder if your country has outsiders as rough. In Watts. In Detroit. In Appalachia. On its Indian reservations.

Last year, for the first time, Peace Corps alumni outnumbered Volunteers who are now out at work overseas.

By 1980, 200,000 Peace Corps alumni will be living their lives in every part of America.

There are those who think you can't change the world in the Peace Corps.

On the other hand, maybe it's not just what you do in the Peace Corps that counts.

But what you do when you get back.

The Peace Corps, Washington, D.C. 20525.

WEE SWEET WILLIAM

This is Wee Willie, a 4 x 4 inch sweet william.

In every garden there are tiny places that would be assets if only they were colorful. Yet they're often so small that the gardener neglects them. A miniature plant that fairly glows can soon set things right.

Such a one is Wee Willie, a 4-inch-high sweet william. It is available in gay shades of light and deep pink, scarlet or a combination of red and white. There's also plain white, which often is the best color to use.

The little plants are only 4 inches wide; flower in a mere 7 weeks from the time you sow the seeds. Scatter them in early spring, thickly, in the place you want the flowers to bloom.

GARDEN PLUMES

From mid-summer to frost you can have the brightest, gayest celosias in your garden if you plant plumy celosias.

Celosias are the plumy relatives of cockscombs, and, because of their more open, lighter form, give an entirely different effect in the garden. Because of the same attributes they are generally more useful for indoor arrangements. They're as easy to grow as any annual you can name — just plant the seeds where you want the blooms and thin seedlings to allow the mature plants room to expand. What could be simpler?

You should see their beautiful colors: from greenish-yellow through pale and deep yellows to gold, orange-red, scarlet and crimson!

How can you resist such an array? And why resist? A few celosias in your garden will make you very happy.

Gary Ludwig Strikes Out 10 DeLaWarrs As Fulghum's Yellowjackets Win Shutout

Co-Capt. Gary Ludwig threw 10 strikeouts and gave up but four hits in a pitching 2-0 win for Coach Francis Fulghum's Yellowjackets over the visiting DeLaWarr Lions last Tuesday afternoon at Newark High School.

Rightfielder Dave Chapman's double drove Co-Capt. Dick Bauer home with the first run, and Chapman scored on Catcher Jim Ford's next.

"The mackerel are NOW running," Mrs. Frances Hilsinger writes on a postcard from Sea Isle City, N.J., and postmarked April 14.

The 60-ft. headboat Starfish accommodating 49 passengers, leaves the dock beside Mrs. Hilsinger's Sea Isle Fishing Center snack shop and tackle store at 42nd Street and Bridge at 8 o'clock in the morning to cruise south on the Inland Waterway and out through Townsend's Inlet onto the Atlantic Ocean where the spring run of Boston mackerel may provide a bonanza for fortunate fishermen jiggling an assortment of appropriate lures in the cold, blue-green seawater.

"Charlie died Oct. 19," Mrs. Hilsinger wrote sadly at the bottom of her postcard in response to a letter that we had sent of the mackerel run off the South Jersey Coast. And the gallant lady, a teacher at P.S. du Pont High School in Wilmington, is attempting to carry on the waterfront business that her husband and she established at Sea Isle City.

We last saw Charlie early last summer, when the World War II Army battle veteran of some of the toughest going in the European Theatre of Operations, produced photographs taken of boatloads of beautiful Boston mackerel gleaming in satin splendor, fresh from the sea during the previous spring run.

"The fishing was superb — but few people showed up for it," Charlie Hilsinger said wistfully. "The headboat was leaving the dock with just a sprinkling of fishermen aboard. But those who were on board had a ball. Big Boston mackerel — and plenty of 'em!"

We along with his many friends will miss Charles E. Hilsinger, a genial host at his snug Sea Isle harbor which he had so little precious time to enjoy.

"I never saw so many fishermen!" Pete Dukewitz said concerning his drive to Buffalo last weekend.

Seven Lettermen Return At Newark For Ray Ciesinski

With seven returning lettermen Coach Ray Ciesinski's Yellowjackets open the track and field season this Saturday afternoon at the Bridgeton Relays in New Jersey.

Ciesinski's lettermen are seniors Chris Dunn, Neil Garner, Eric Mayer, Gregg Rolfe and John Thompson, and Juniors Marc Strauss and Bruce Weber.

Dunn is the state high jump champion, clearing 6-1 1/2 to break the state meet record in 1968; Garner runs the 100 and 220; Mayer is a pole vaulter; Rolfe, a two-miler; and Thompson, a jumper.

Strauss runs the high hurdles, and Weber, the 440 and mile relay.

Letterman Keith Melin, who pole vaulted 12-ft. last season as a junior, is lost to the Yellowjackets in moving to Ohio.

Other leading candidates for varsity honors are Bob Thurman, top cross country runner, in the one and two-mile events; Coy Purcell, and John Rolfe, cross country lettermen; John Squier, 440 and 880; Miller Phil Williamson; John Hrycak, who threw the discus 135-ft. in the inter-squad meet; and Gary Hobday, a senior transfer from Michigan, in the 120-yd. hurdles, the 440 and 880.

Other bright spots on the Ciesinski horizon include Len Savage, a senior out for the first time, as a hurdler and sprinter; Ron Brooks, junior cross country letterman, in the mile; Allen Guizetti, 220; and Steve Strumbeck, hurdles and dashes.

Outstanding sophomores include Jim Barwick, high jump; Dan Brady, shot and discus; Bruce Buckton, 100 and 220; Tim Galvin, pole vault; Ken Hart, broad jump and 440; Steve Hudson, hurdles; Bob O'Brien, 440, 880, and broad jump; Larry Stafford, sprints; and Jumpers Ed Warren and Dave Whitman.

Flynn's Flyers Defeat LaSalle; Face W.Va. Relays

Coach Jimmy Flynn's Delaware track team won its second dual meet of the season, by downing Middle Atlantic Conference rival LaSalle 88-57 on the Blue Hens' track last Saturday.

Bob Morsch of the Hens was the meet's only double winner, taking the shotput with a heave of 47-3/4 and the discus with 139-6.

Flynn's Flyers ran in the West Virginia Relays this Saturday and host Gettysburg at 4 p.m. next Tuesday.

Scottish Games Scheduled At Fair Hill Near Newark

Traditional Scottish musical and athletic competition and a variety of exhibits and demonstrations will be featured in the day-long event beginning at 9 a.m.

OFF AND RUNNING by John I. Day Hermitage Heritage

Thanks to the "Ladies Hermitage Association" of Nashville, Tennessee, The Hermitage, Andrew Jackson's home on the city's outskirts, is kept as a showplace and an interesting example of the decay, dress, furniture and general living conditions of the period. Not only the rooms such as Old Hickory left them, but the gardens too are kept blooming.

Only the stables, where Jackson's Thoroughbreds were under the management of that picturesque sporting cleric Rev. Hardy M. Crier, are empty, but not they too may "come to life."

Mrs. Fred Russell, wife of the Nashville Banner Sports Columnist, and an active official of the Ladies Hermitage Association has come up with a novel idea—a retirement home for descendants of General Jackson's Thoroughbreds. Assisting Mrs. Russell in the search of Thoroughbreds tracing back to Truxton, Doublehead, Decatur, Paoli, Stump-the-Dealer and Bolivar, the Jackson studs, is Col. Canbrell H. Brown, Historian of Williamson County, Tennessee, who notes that there will be accommodations for ten horses to spend their declining years in ease and the surroundings of their ancestors.

Newark's Conway Hayman In Guard Shift Puts Pressure On Delaware Linebackers

Pressure is the key word for Delaware's spring football practice. "We are trying to put pressure on all of our returning starters and the men in the running for the other positions," Blue Hen Coach Tubby Raymond explains. "Pressure of competition for their jobs will make everybody a better player."

Raymond's Blue Hens — winners of the Lambert Cup, the Middle Atlantic Conference championship and the Boardwalk Bowl last year — are in the second week of spring practice and the pressure is already evident.

Tom DiMuzio, quarterback who guided the Hens through last season and put on a brilliant passing show in the Boardwalk Bowl, is one of the players being pushed by newcomers. DiMuzio is being pressed by Sophomores Jim Colbert and Bob Smith and Junior Sonny Meikel.

Colbert, a multi-talented athlete, is also putting pressure on Ron Withelder, the Hens' returning starter at spread end.

Newark's Conway Hayman, All-Middle Atlantic Conference offensive guard last year as a sophomore, is applying pressure to the Hens' linebackers. "The 240-pound Hayman is playing both guard and linebacker this spring and has been outstanding at both positions."

"Hayman's ability to play linebacker will make better linebackers of our other men at that position," Raymond notes. "The same thing is true at tackle and in the offensive backfield."

Sophomores Ralph Borgess and Junior Chuck Avery have impressed the coaches at defensive tackle this spring. Borgess was the top tackle for the freshmen last year and Avery was an occasional starter for the varsity.

The offensive backfield, which led the nation's college division in rushing with 319.9 yards per game last year, returns intact. But Raymond says all starters are in battles for their jobs.

Halfbacks Bill Armstrong and Sonny Hayman and Fullback Garry Kahoe have been making their presence felt this spring. All three started for the freshmen last year and had impressive seasons.

"We have healthy competition at a number of positions and this will help us reach our goal of being a better football team," Raymond says.

Capt. Rick Hale's Homer, Five RBI Pace Hen Victory

Co-Capt. Rick Hale was the Blue Hens' top run-producer Saturday as the Hens won their first Middle Atlantic Conference game with an 11-3 verdict over Lehigh, at Bethlehem, Pa.

Hale socked a triple and home run, good for five RBI, as the Hens banged six Engineer pitchers for 11 hits.

Hale's two-run triple in the third against Lehigh starter and loser Bill Rohrback knocked in what proved to be the deciding runs.

The 5-11 senior then drove a 420-ft. home run to centerfield which added three more runs.

Dave Yates had three singles for the Hens, now 7-5 overall.

Steve Tissot pitched 6-1/3 innings for Delaware, his first victory after two losses.

Sophomore Ted Zink relieved Tissot and pitched out of a one-out, bases-loaded jam, striking out two straight batters.

Coach Bob Hannah's Blue Hens play MAC tests at Gettysburg this Saturday with a twin bill beginning at 1 p.m. and Delaware plays Lafayette away next Tuesday at 3:30.

Coach Mickey Heineken's Stickmen Lose To Lehigh

Lehigh handed host Mickey Heineken's Delaware lacrosse team its second setback in as many games, by scoring a 7-3 triumph here last Saturday.

Lehigh is 2-0 in the Middle Atlantic Conference and 3-1 overall.

Heineken's Hens play at Lafayette this Saturday and at Loyola on Tuesday.

Capt. Charlie Pinto Leads Hen Golfers To Pair Of Wins

Coach Scotty Duncan's undefeated Delaware golf team led by Capt. Charlie Pinto of Newark, turned back Swarthmore 14-1/2 and PMC 13-5 in a triangular meet last Tuesday at the Hollister Green Country Club in Springfield, Pa.

Jim Powell of the Blue Hens won medal honors with a par-71.

The victories provided Duncan with an 8-0 record for the year.

Delaware hosts Bucknell at 12:30 next Tuesday.

Thomas Allan McDonald son of Lloyd K. and Betty McDonald of 909 Baylor Drive, Newark, will leave April 30, for six weeks basic training in the United States Air Force at Lackland AFB, San Antonio, Tex.

Alman McDonald will be trained in the electronics career field. He is a graduate of Newark High School, Class of '68, and was a Yellowjacket football star.

Bruce Lentz Hurls 2-Hitter For Vikings; Mosley's 3 RBI Pace Turnberger Attack

Bruce Lentz fired a two-hitter with 13 strikeouts to provide Coach Bob Turnberger with a 5-2 win over Wm. Penn at New Castle last Tuesday afternoon in Christiana High School's baseball season opener.

Viking First Baseman Mel Mosley led the Viking hit parade with a three-for-four performance including three runs-batted-in, while Rightfielder Mike McNulty batted two-for-three.

Blue Hens Provide 100th Net Victory For Roy Rylander

Delaware's tennis team presented Dr. C. Roy Rylander with his 100th victory as a coach on Saturday.

The Blue Hens defeated Drexel 9-0.

The triumph in which the Hens lost only two sets, evened their season's mark at 1-1 and gave Rylander a 100-61 mark in 17 seasons as coach.

The Hens play Saturday at 2 p.m. at Ursinus and host Washington College next Wednesday at 3 o'clock.

Leonard Richards, Kent Stakes Slated For DP Grass Run

Delaware Park's major events for three-year-olds will be run on grass for the first time in 1969.

Bird C. Brittingham, president of the State Thoroughbred racing, made this disclosure in announcing Delaware Park's revised stakes schedule richest in the course's 32-year history.

Involved in the transfer from the main track to the turf are the $25,000-added Kent and the $50,000-added Leonard Richards Stakes. Both have been run annually since Delaware Park's opening in 1937, at one mile and a sixteenth, and one mile and an eighth. The move to grass carries a reduction in distance.

The Kent will be decided at one mile. The Richards, due for its richest renewal with added-money increased from $40,000 to $50,000, has been shortened to one mile and one-sixteenth.

Edward T. (Ted) McLean, vice-president and general manager of Delaware Park, explained the changes.

"In view of the great popularity of our turf racing, coupled with limited opportunities for good three-year-olds to run on grass, we decided this move would be welcomed by all concerned."

"We have had many requests from horsemen for races of this type on our grass," McLean concluded.
