Police Raid Speakeasy Here Saturday Night; Reckless Driver Caught

Magistrate Thompson's Court Kept Busy Hearing Cases Over Past Weekend

CROW OUT ON $1000 BAIL

Homer Jones Fined $200 and Gets Six Months for Part in Collision

Friday and Saturday were busy days around Magistrate Thompson's police court here. Following a very quiet Christmas period, punctuated by little or no trouble in the community, three cases of varying importance were called during the last four days.

Ellwood "Bazz" Crow, was arrested by Town Officer Lewis, Constable Ellison and County Policeman Jones Saturday afternoon, at his shack between East Main Street and East Delaware Avenue, charged with the illegal sale of intoxicating liquor.

According to eyewitness of the raid, Crow was in his house when the officers arrived, and had barricaded the doors and windows, evidently fearing such an intrusion. When the place was forcibly entered, however, he offered no resistance to arrest.

Officers claim they found about a gallon of alleged liquor, which will be used as evidence against Crow.

The prisoner was immediately given a hearing before Magistrate Thompson, who fixed his bail at $1000. Scores of people, attracted by the news of the raid were in and near the Magistrate's office.

George Moore, of Newark, became bondsman for Crow and the former was released until the January term of Court.

This is the second time within two years that Crow has been arrested on the same charge. For months past, it has been pretty generally known that he was selling liquor at his place in Renshaw's alley; but no definite complaint had been handed to the police, they say.

It was reported Monday that Crow, following his release on bail, bought several empty bottles, and indicated to listeners that he was going to continue the sale of alleged intoxicants until his case comes up at court.

Jail Sentence And Fine

One of the heaviest penalties handed out here in some months was given Homer Jones, young white man of Glasgow, Delaware, when he was fined $200 and ordered to serve a sentence of six months in the Workhouse, when he was convicted of reckless driving and operating a car under influence of liquor.

Jones, it is alleged, ran into the auto of Adjutant General J. Austin Ellison, along the Lincoln Highway east of Newark, while the latter's car was standing at the side of the road, Christmas Eve.

MISS ANNE RITZ TO DIRECT SCHOOL SINGING

Music Society's Annual Meeting Scheduled for January 13th

Newark Music Society is again becoming active in prospect of a new year. The Society is making a drive during 1925 for new members. On the evening of January 13th, at the home of Dr. and Mrs. Hulihan, the annual meeting for the election of officers will be held. A short concert featuring local musicians will follow the business meeting.

It has been announced that Miss Anne Ritz, well known here for her splendid voice, will conduct classes in music at the High School after the holiday vacation. This work will be sponsored by the Music Society, and will probably culminate in the formation of a High School Chorus. School singing became very popular last spring here and a very creditable concert was given.

Doctor Recovering

Dr. G. B. Pearson, who has been laid up with an attack of grippe for the past week, is very much improved.

MAJOR ROW PAYS A VISIT Stops Off Between Trains During Holiday Trip

Major Lathe B. Row, former head of the Military Department at the University, was a visitor in Newark between trains on Monday of this week.

Major Row arrived late in the morning and left Trenton, N. J., early in the afternoon. His visit was a surprise to everyone here. He is attending the Staff and Command School at Fort Leavenworth, Kansas, and will conclude his course there in June. He spent Christmas in Chicago, and made a flying visit East for a few days.

Over 600 Expected At Dinner Here Jan. 7th

H. Rodney Sharp Will Be Host to Gathering at That Time

Plans are rapidly progressing for the first "father and son" dinner to be held at the University on the evening of January 7th next. H. Rodney Sharp, an alumnus of Delaware College, and warm friend of the student body, will be host to about 600 fathers and sons, and invited guests.

As far as is known at this time, there will be no elaborate program for the evening. A sumptuous meal is being planned and the diners will be seated in the Commons of Old College. From reports received yesterday, nearly every student at Delaware College is expecting to bring either his father or some male member of his immediate family to the affair.

Student Speakers

John G. Leach, president of the Student Council, and Richard Torbert, a Senior, will make brief addresses at the completion of the meal. Mr. Sharp is also expected to make a few remarks, and several men prominent in the affairs of the State will be on hand to enjoy the evening.

The father and son dinner originated with Mr. Sharp, and was announced the latter part of November at the annual Thanksgiving dinner at the College.

THOMAS LYONS BURIED HERE MONDAY LAST

Veteran Railroader Met Tragic Death on Christmas Eve; Was Retired Recently

Thomas Lyons, a life long resident of Newark, and a veteran employee of the Pennsylvania Railroad, met sudden death on Christmas Eve last, while running along the tracks of the P. R. R. to catch a southbound train waiting at the station.

At first it was believed Mr. Lyons was struck and killed by a passing freight, as he stepped into its path. It later developed that death may have been caused by extreme exertion combined with heart failure. No marks were found on his body when he was picked up, and the engineer of the freight which passed at that time is reported to be positive that his locomotive did not strike the injured man.

General opinion is divided apparently between these two views.

Returned Few Years Ago

Mr. Lyons, who was sixty-nine years of age, had been employed by the railroad all his active life. He was pensioned recently and retired to live at his home near the "y" east of the station here.

At the time of his death, he was rushing to catch a train for Perryville, where he expected to spend Christmas Day with a daughter and family living there.

The funeral was held on Monday, and interment made in the Catholic Cemetery here.

Deceased is survived by a widow, two daughters and four sons.

Autos Collide Here

Two automobiles collided head-on at the corner of Main and Chapel streets on Christmas eve about eight o'clock. No one was hurt in the accident, but both machines were pretty badly battered up, according to witnesses. One car bore a New York license and the other a Delaware license. The latter was a Ford.

WATCH NIGHT SERVICES

Watch night services will be held at the St. Thomas Episcopal Church here tonight, with special music and program to usher in the year 1925.

Auxiliary Meets

The Ladies Auxiliary of the Presbyterian Church will meet at the home of Mrs. J. R. Fader, 122 Prospect Avenue, on Monday evening, January 5, at 7:30 o'clock.

Newark's New Public School Building Almost Ready; Modern Facilities And Equipment For 600 Children

NEWARK'S $280,000 PUBLIC SCHOOL

Opening Ceremonies Are Not As Yet Announced

Appropriate Celebration and Public Inspection May Be Held in February

BUILDING DONE JAN. 15

From an educational viewpoint, the entire community is interested in the forthcoming opening of the new $280,000 Public School building, on Academy street.

The builders will have finished the building inside and out by January 15th, according to present estimates, and already preliminary plans for the opening of the school are under way in current meetings of the Newark Board of Education.

Superintendent Owens of the local schools, in speaking of the new edifice yesterday, stated that it will take from a month to six weeks to gather together and install the equipment for the building. Practically everything is new, particularly the equipment for the Scientific departments, and plumbing fixtures. A great deal of work remains, said Mr. Owens, following the actual completion of the structure.

As a result, there have been no definite plans made as yet for the opening of the building. It is confidently expected, however, by members of the Board, that the school will be ready for the conduct of classes at the close of the first semester, late in February. At that time, an appropriate celebration coupled with a public inspection of the plant will be held.

Accommodates 600 Pupils

According to present plans, 600 pupils will be accommodated in the new building. As is generally known, the present structure is about two-thirds the size of the ultimate consolidated school, as shown on another page of THE POST this week.

The entire High School group and the pupils of the Primary School from grades 1 to 4 inclusive, will be housed in the new building. The entire third floor and parts of the second floor will be given over to High School classes.

The present Grammar School will be continued in use for the present, while the Primary School will be closed along with the old High School building.

HOLIDAY DECORATIONS FEATURE SEASON HERE

Window Displays and Lighted Lawns Strike New Note At Christmastide

Some of the best Christmas decorative displays seen in many years were Newark's contribution to the holiday season now waning.

Merchants of the town took greater pains than ever to decorate their stores and windows for the occasion. The display window at the Fader Motor Company, combining a detailed picture of a modern farm, with buildings, shrubbery, a pond, all manner of animals and fowls, lights, and modern farm equipment, caught many people's attention as they passed by. The attractive display was the work of C. C. Reynolds, local carpenter, and was deserving of many favorable comments. The "farm house" was furnished down to the smallest detail.

The window displays of the L. Handloff Store, Rhodes Drug Store, Fulton's, and Pilnick's shoe store were also greatly admired.

Lighted Christmas Trees

The lawns of J. Pilling Wright, on Orchard Ridge, and H. Warner McNeal, on South College Avenue, were greatly brightened by electrically lighted Christmas trees throughout the holiday week. These displays were admired by all who passed by and next year may find many other home owners following the example.

REFEREES SETTLE SUIT

Judgment Found Against J. W. Suddard For $27.50

A Referee trial in the suit of William Sweetman vs. J. W. Suddard, senior member of the firm of J. W. Suddard and Son, of Pencader Hundred, was held in Magistrate Thompson's office here recently. The suit arose over the sale of a quantity of straw.

Referees selected were Walter Geist, John F. Richards and John Denison. The referees decided in favor of the plaintiff.

ATTENDING CONFERENCES Many Members of Wolf Hall Staff In Washington

Several members of the Experiment Station staff here are attending various sessions of the Association for the Advancement of Science, the convention of which body is being held this week in Washington.

Dean C. A. McCue and Professors Detjen and Gray are attending the Horticultural division.

The attendants at the Agronomy section will include Professors George Schuster and C. R. Runk.

Dr. T. F. Manns, Dr. Charles C. Palmer and Dr. Adams are also attending the pathological and physiological sessions of the convention.

FORMER FARMER DIES

John McCarns, for many years in charge of the Misses Wilson farm, near Newark, and a well-known figure in the community, died in West Chester, Pa., recently, and was buried at Head of Christiana Cemetery today. Mr. McCarns was the father of N. Clarke McCarns, who died early last year.

LODGE NOTES

American Flag Council, No. 28, J. R. O. U. A. M. will attend divine service at the Newark M. E. Church, Sunday evening, January 4th. Members will meet at the lodge room at 7 p. m.

About twenty members of American Flag Council, No. 28, will attend a class initiation at Harrington, Delaware, on Tuesday night, January 6, when the initiatory work will be performed by the degree team of Caesar Rodney Council, No. 27, of Dover, Delaware.

EVERY COMFORT AND CONVENIENCE IS MANIFEST IN NEW HIGH SCHOOL

With every sanitary and safety precaution incorporated into the structural design, it is evident that Newark's new school building is the last word in educational construction.

From the base of the foundations to the massive roof, the building is modern in every respect. Every effort has been made to give the pupils the greatest possible advantages from fresh air, proper lighting, ventilation, sanitation, and attractiveness. Nothing has been included to mar the architectural beauty of the exterior, and conversely, there has been no comfort for the pupils neglected in favor of ornamentation.

Colonial Design

As can be readily seen from the reproduction of the architect's drawing above, the building is of modified Colonial architecture. While quite unbalanced at present, due to the fact that only a part of the ultimate structure is completed, the general impression is very pleasing to the eye.

The school was built by the Northeastern Construction Company, and designed by Gilbert and Bettelle, architects of Newark, N. J. Money for the erection of the building was raised by the sale of an issue of special district bonds, and by the income from special district taxes.

Three Stories High

The new building is three stories high, exclusive of the heater room, lunch room and store rooms in the basement.

On the main floor are six grade rooms, a gym, 45 x 51 feet, with a small balcony, boys locker room and toilet, medical inspection room, a student teachers' room, and offices for the staff and Board of Education.

On the second floor are six class rooms including two laboratories; a combined study hall and library seating 70 students, and a girls' locker room with toilet and showers.

The third floor holds five class

Methodist Christmas Entertainments Greatly Enjoyed By Large Audiences

Sunday School Frolics, and Saturday Evening Musicals, Highlights of Celebration—Replies Coming In to Appeal for Funds

Christmas at the M. E. Church in both Church and Sunday School was a marked success this season.

The Sunday School on the 23rd held the annual treat for the Primary and Beginners and the "White Christmas" for the various departments and classes. Cash results for the building fund amounted to about $325.00. To the Delaware Children's Society about $80.00 and to the Riverview Home about $34.00. There were also a number of gifts in the way of clothing and dolls for the little folks distributed to various needy and charitable institutions.

The entertainment by the Beginners and Primary Departments was especially interesting, featured by a great speech from "Billy Morgan." The little folks succeeded in getting everybody happy and ready for the entertainment. White gifts for the King, the Adoration Pageant. This portrayed the coming of Christ and the various scenes attending His coming. An "honest to goodness" real live baby boy was placed in the manger and gave a good account of himself. Gifts of Substance, Service and Self were emphasized.

Replies Coming In

Up to the 26th replies from the church envelopes sent out for the raising of funds for payment on the new church lot on Academy street, showed that 64 replies had been received totaling in cash and pledges about $1,000.00. This represents less than one-fifth of the letters sent out. Many have indicated their intention of returning their envelopes about the first of the year. Several who were not solicited have subscribed. The purchase of this property is receiving the hearty approval of a great number of friends members. The fast team of the Du Pont Advertising Club of Wilmington was too much for Bill Foster's Company "E" team of Elkton in the Armory there last Saturday night, and walked away with the game, score 24-13.

The clever shooting of Doug Proud, star of the visitors, really won the game for them, as Elkton held the rest of the team safe. Proud slipped past for five two-pointers, and played a good defensive game.

Foster and Taylor were the best scorers for Elkton, getting ten of the thirteen points between them.

The game originally scheduled between the Du Pont Girls and Elkton Girls was not played Saturday night. Score:

BLACKBIRD TRAPPERS BUSY WITH MUSKRATS

Marshlands Make Dangerous Travel These Days, However

Reports emanating from Blackbird district in the lower end of the county point to an unusual muskrat season, so unusual that the price of the skins has dropped almost 50 cents in the past two weeks.

The catches of the rats by the nearby trappers are becoming heavier each week. The only handicap is the difficulty in getting around to the traps. Thin ice covers most of the marshland now, and it is a dangerous procedure to venture far out on the marshes. High tides, and the resultant backwash has made this situation.

Many of the trappers are holding their skins for a higher price. The local and city dealers are reported to be little interested at this time, due to the abundance of skins on the market. The price quoted a few days ago was $1.15 per skin, as against $1.50 a week or more ago. The price is looked to take a jump during the early weeks of spring.

ACCEPT THE THANKS OF THIS STORE FOR 1924 AND OUR BELIEF WHY IT WILL CONTINUE TO THRIVE IN 1925

For 1924, our grateful acknowledgments go out to the generous public which has heapingly rewarded our earnest efforts to give styles that are right up and quality that is upright, together with a type of service that counts no trouble too great and no hours too late and prices that represent the lowest we can set, never the highest we could get.

For 1925, we re-affirm the principle of this store that we think more of our hard-won reputation than of "easy money". While we are in business for gain, we are also in business to remain; to be a public-serving institution, not just a profit-earning organization; to take deep pride in the welfare of this community to which we shall never say "Farewell!"

We clasp hands with you, Mr. and Mrs. Reader, across the frontier of the old and the new year, mindful of the motto of the ancient Huguenots—"One for all; all for one."

HOW TO SOLVE A CROSS-WORD PUZZLE

When the correct letters are placed in the white spaces this puzzle will spell words both vertically and horizontally. The first letter in each word is indicated by a number, which refers to the definition listed below the puzzle. Thus No. 1 under the column headed "horizontal" defines a word which will fill the white squares up to the first black square to the right, and a number under "vertical" defines a word which will fill the white squares to the next black one below. No letters go in the black spaces. All words used are dictionary words, except proper names. Abbreviations, slang, initials, technical terms and obsolete forms are indicated in the definitions.

Poultrymen Complain Of Embargo Violations

Claim Delaware Was Swamped With Turkeys from Quarantined Districts

That western turkeys from states already quarantined were dumped upon city and town markets of Delaware last week, despite an embargo order recently issued by Governor Denney, is the firm conviction of several nearby poultrymen, according to one of their number, interviewed Saturday.

This fancier, one of the leaders in this community, stated that he was confident that "bad" turkeys were openly sold on the Wilmington markets for as low as 25-30 cents a pound the day before Christmas.

"Delaware has laid down an embargo on out-of-the-state fowls, by order of the Governor, and it looks to me as if the State Board of Health has the power to check up on city retailers and examine their offerings to the public," said our informant.

Along this line he went on to state that he has attended the holiday markets in Wilmington for years, and this was the first season he did not see a Board of Health inspector patrolling the markets. He added that he saw turkeys sold that not only looked diseased but were rapidly becoming putrid.

Absence of State Turkeys

As is generally known, the turkey flocks in Delaware the past year suffered considerably and the home dressed birds were scarcer than usual. As a result, the prices on unquestionable birds remained at consistently high levels.

On the day before Christmas these turkeys were selling both in Wilmington and Newark for as high as 70 cents a pound.

On the other hand, several shops, according to our informant, situated near the Wilmington street markets, were selling the birds for 35-40 cents, and in some cases lower.

The Newark poultryman is authority for the statement that two solid carloads of Western turkeys, mostly from quarantined states, were dumped on Wilmington December 23 and 24, and distributed to city dealers. This, according to the stand taken by the Governor, creates a rank violation of the embargo proclamation.

From the chicken man's standpoint, the situation revolves not around the sale of the dressed birds as much as it does around the influx of live turkeys from diseased areas, with the resultant danger of infecting Delaware flocks with the dread epidemic which is sweeping parts of the nation.

One turkey having the disease is known to infect a whole flock. Once the disease gets started in a given area, it is almost impossible to check it before serious losses are felt by both the amateur and the professional fancier.

On this account, the Newark poultry show was called off, and many other exhibitions were postponed until the last vestige of the epidemic is stamped out.

Many poultrymen hereabouts are incensed over the apparent loose enforcement of the embargo against foreign fowls on this basis.

DOLLS MADE BY COLLEGE GIRLS

The girls of the Women's College, University of Delaware, under the supervision of Miss Rachel Taylor, art instructor, made several pretty dolls and toys last week. These toys were brought to the Associated Charities on Christmas eve by Miss Peggy L. Connor.

The main purpose of this work was to make some little child happy with a hand-made toy. The girls considered this work an act of kindness, and were only too sorry that they couldn't give more. The girls who made the dolls were the Misses Loetta Jester, Mildred Bennet, "Wid" Roberts, Bert Cooper, "Bill" Williams, Elizabeth Brady, Margaret Brady, Mary Garbutt, Mary Melvin, Thelma Sheldahl, Pauline Widdoes, Helen Pierce, Peggy L. Connor—Sunday Star.

CHURCH NEWS

The revival meetings at the Methodist Episcopal Church are proving to be highly interesting and very successful. The evangelists are specialists in this line of work and are putting forth great efforts to make the services helpful.

The Rev. Fred A. Mills is an ordained minister of the Southern Presbyterian Church and had held successful pastorates in the cities of the South. He is a graduate of Cornell and of Ithaca Conservatory of Music. Prof. Mills trains the Booster Chorus, children of grammar school age. With tricks and stunts, yells and songs, and recitation of Scripture verses he becomes a great favorite with the children. The Boosters meet at nine o'clock in the morning this week and the attendance is over 100.

The Win One Club meets in the evening before the preaching service. It is composed of young people of High School age. The members of the club learn to pray in public and to speak on their feet and memorize passages of Scripture.

Prof. Mills not only works with the Boosters and the Win One Club, but he trains a large chorus choir, and renders many beautiful and effective solos.

Dr. Goff is a native of Philadelphia, a graduate of the University of Pennsylvania, and of Drew Theological Seminary. He entered the Philadelphia Conference in 1908 and held three successful pastorates. He felt himself called to evangelistic work and was set apart as a Conference Evangelist.

Dr. Goff is a good preacher and has been very successful in his work and is called every year to Ocean Grove, New Jersey, the Mecca for Methodists.

The Program For Week
Friday night will be Boosters' Night. A delegation from Richardson Park will be present. Dr. Goff's subject will be "How God Surprises Us."

Two very good Christmas festivals have been held; one at Ebenezer and the other at Milford Cross Roads. The programs were well rendered, and there seemed to be an unusual manifestation of the Christmas spirit this year.

Schools Open Monday

Thus, it will be seen, a great consolidation of school pupils here will take place upon the completion of the new school. All the white children will be housed in two buildings, instead of six, as now made necessary.

The school staff, and pupils are all agog over the prospects of the new home, and every effort is being bent to hasten the date for the occupancy of the building.

It has been pointed out that the $280,000 cost includes the furniture and equipment.

POLICE RAID SPEAKEASY

Boy Fined For Speeding

A 14-year-old son of Rev. W. R. McElroy, pastor of White Clay Presbyterian Church, was fined $25 and costs Monday last by Magistrate Thompson, for speeding along Main Street here. The arrest was made by Constable Ellison.

Magistrate Thompson later found that the boy had not told his father of the incident; and consequently called Rev. McElroy by phone informing him of the trouble. The latter immediately came in and paid the fine.

Vagrant Picked Up

Claiming that he was out of work and had no home, a man giving his name as Leonard McCormick, of Wilmington, appealed to Town Officer Lewis early last night to commit him to jail on a charge of vagrancy. The man said he had not committed any crime, but that unless he was sent to the Workhouse he would do so as he had to have shelter and food. McCormick said he had a brother and sister in Wilmington but that he did not know where in that city they were living. The man admitted that he recently served a short term in the Workhouse on a charge of getting drunk. Officer Lewis put him in the town lock-up overnight.

GREAT CAST IN "ARGENTINE LOVE"

An Ibanez story with a perfect cast!

"Argentine Love," written directly for motion pictures by the greatest of all Spanish novelists, Vicente Blasco Ibanez, author of "The Four Horsemen," "Blood and Sand," "Enemies of Women," etc., is a picture with a true-to-type cast if there ever was one.

Everything about the picture is Spanish, and how could one start off better than by the selection of Bebe Daniels and Ricardo Cortez for the principal roles.

a lovely Spanish senorita, confronted with the old, yet ever-new problem of making a choice between two men—one, played by Cortez, a wealthy young South American who has helped her parents financially and asked her hand in return for the favor; the other a handsome American engineer Bebe, as Consuelo Garcia, meets while at school in the States. James Rennie has this role.

Cortez within the past few months has risen to an enviable position among the screen's younger leading men. His role in "Argentine Love" is one of his own nationality. Rennie recently seen in the Broadway stage hit, "The Best People," looks every inch the character he portrays.

Miss Daniels and Cortez are featured in "Argentine Love," which will be shown at the Opera House on next Monday and Tuesday. Rennie heads the strong cast playing in support.
